NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

The Fort Howe Stars defeated the Strait Shore Viola last evening by a score of 5 to 4. The batteries for the F. H. S. were Hannah and Hannah for the S. S. V., Casey and Stone. A feature of the game was a home run by C. Hester in the last inning. The F. H. S. challenge any team under 18.

The Silver Stars defeated St. Peter's Altar Boys a score of ten to six yesterday in a good exhibition game of ball. The winning team was composed of the following: G. Monahan, catcher; F. Crowley, second base; A. Oyle, pitcher; D. Connolly, first base; D. Sullivan, third base; F. Driscoll, short stop; J. Knudson, right field; P. Moore, centre field, and L. Kennedy, left field.

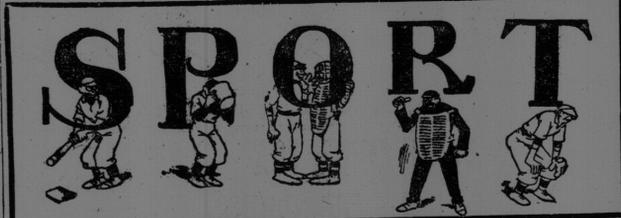

Manager Stallings put Chesbro in to pitch against the White Sox last Saturday because of the veteran's having a chance. "I've got everything," said Chesbro, "and can pitch as well as ever." Then Happy Jack was sent in and quickly demonstrated the fact that he "had nothing"—something the famous boxer could not explain when he came back to the bench.

The impression is gaining strength that Ed Walsh, the big pitcher of the White Sox, is without a superior. Not even the great Mathewson can show more effectiveness, the baseball stars say, at his best Walsh is invincible, and whenever he loses a game Chicago fans attribute it to either bad luck or an accident. Furthermore, Walsh seems big and strong enough to pitch every day. He is a typical Iron man.

Mathewson, by the way, appears to be the mainstay of the Giants, who play better ball behind him than when the other New York pitchers take their turn. Maty has won several games by his hitting, too, which is an excellent indication of his worth. Where would the Giants be without him?

The Chicago White Sox may be "hit-less wonders," but they have a lot of great pitchers and can play a brilliant fielding game. They may appear to be without a star manager, but it must not be forgotten that the owner of the Sox, Charles A. Comiskey, was once a remarkable teary-eyed pitcher when he captained and played first base for the invincible St. Louis Browns. Comiskey's "fine Italian hand" is in evidence still, for the Sox play scientific ball, based upon the classiest team work.

EASY MARKS FOR CHAMPS

Fans Hope Losers Will Try to Improve Some

It was a junior league slaughter that took place on the Shamrock grounds last evening. The St. Peter's played with the Ancient Order of Hibernian team as though they were a crowd of school boys, defeating them in a four-inning performance by a score of 20 to 5.

The North Enders had things their own way after the first inning. The hard hitting members of their team slammed Quigg around the field, for three innings while the A. O. H. team refused to render him any support.

Then in the fourth act, Harrington went into the artist's box and could not settle down before St. Peter's had five additional runs. To add to the hard hitting in the third inning the sphere was lost with three men on bases and the entire number crossed the plate.

The tabulated score and summary of the match is as follows:

KETCHEL HAS EVEN CHANGE WITH NEGRO

In Fact Some are Convinced That Michigan Fighter Can Beat Johnson

When Referee McGuigan stopped the Ketchel-O'Brien fight in the third round at Philadelphia last Wednesday night he said that O'Brien might have been killed outright with another right hand smash on the jaw.

McGuigan stated it and clearly illustrated the mightiness of the Michigan Lion. No fighter, including the once great Fitzsimmons or the bulky Jeffries ever displayed such hitting power as did Ketchel. He tore into O'Brien with wallops right and left that had phenomenal powers behind them.

JOURNALISTS ABOARD.

It has sometimes seemed a matter of no small wonder that fifty-five visiting journalists from over the seas should receive the lavish entertainment that is being accorded the members of the Imperial Press Conference.

That fifty-five journalists should be able to create such a stir is no small matter. The comment runs as follows: "But journalists in this country, and especially London journalists, may be forgiven at raising their eyebrows a little."

That private and professional conversation will, doubtless, help matters out wonderfully. We have no doubt but that these journalists abroad will be able to accept the attention so generously thrust upon them, with the air of social veterans accustomed to the play and the people applauding.

the excuse of pessimism. He has lived the life of faith in the face of doubt, and because of that thirty-seven men out of a company of fifty-five refuse to damn him. Prof. Foster, doubtless, does not utter the last word on Christian doctrine, but we suspect that these thirty-seven supporters unconsciously betray a good deal of the spirit and insight which justifies Christian doctrine.

THE SUSPENSION BRIDGE.

Mr. Hazen has announced that the local government is taking steps to have the Suspension Bridge strengthened in order to make it possible to run the street cars across and connect the east and west side systems.

Now that an election is approaching Mr. Hazen suddenly discovers the need of a strong bridge, and proposes to satisfy this need by strengthening the old structure so that the street cars may be run across it.

In support of the scheme the Standard this morning quotes Col. H. E. McLean, who could hardly be expected to oppose any plan which might give the people a better street car service.

ANOTHER 5000 MILES WERE PAINTED RED

British Control Established in Northern Nigeria. Armed Force Marches Through Territory Inhabited by Cannibals, Where Human Sacrifices Were Customary.

LONDON, June 15.—Details of the expedition lately conducted by the southern Nigerian government, by which some 5000 square miles of hitherto unknown and administered country in the north and on the borders of Northern Nigeria have been brought under effective control, have been received by Reuters Agency.

The operations, which were carried out among tribes who for the most part had never previously seen a white man, proved entirely successful, and were attended with the capture of a large number of slaves.

The British force consisted of 700 men of the southern Nigerian regiment, under the command of Colonel Trevelyan, who had with him thirty officers, six Maxims and 700 carriers.

The Yala people, in whose country the column marched, were reported to have a good deal of trouble. When their villages were entered they were found to be deserted, the women and livestock having been removed.

The men meanwhile had formed large camps in the open grass fields, where they could see the approach of the British, and had also hidden in the branches of trees, whose duty it was to fire signal guns.

MESSINA RELIEF FUND ALMOST EXHAUSTED

Only $15,720 Left of the Money Subscribed in Italy and Abroad.

ROME, June 15.—Comandatore Cotta, acting president of the central relief committee organized to succor the earthquake sufferers, reports that of the $4,860,000 subscribed in foreign countries, only $15,720 remains in hand.

The central committee, said Signor Cotta, had aimed at restoring the small tradesmen to the position they held before the disaster, and had furnished them with sums to re-establish their business and buy stock.

As for the great extending several years, which concerned chiefly students and widows, the latter were paid at once according to their social position, and the number of their children, and payments will be continued to them for four years.

The relief sent by foreign countries was of the value of $4,860,000, the cash subscriptions being divided approximately as follows:

Great Britain $200,000
Argentina 400,000
Germany 400,000
France 200,000
United States 200,000

Not included in these sums is the amount spent abroad in the purchase of provisions and the putting together of huts for the refugees, and the sums represented by relief work by warships on the spot.

The Italian Government voted $5,000,000 for relief, and imposed a surtax on exports equivalent to $1,000,000 (two year period) to be expended on the restoration of the public services of the dead cities.

WRECK SAVED NATIVES FROM STARVATION

Cargo Was Rice and It Came Just in Time for the People of Minikoi Island.

LONDON, June 15.—Six members of the crew of the wrecked Cardiff steamer Dyffryn Manor have reached Colombo, on April 15, and five days afterwards was abandoned.

The wreck proved a boon to the 5,000 natives who inhabited the island, for they were the victims of famine and were half-starved and emaciated.

The best accommodation that could be afforded for the shipwrecked men was the small police court building for the officers and the prison for the crew, but at night the crew preferred to walk about the island rather than endure the bites of the mosquitoes.

A day of thanksgiving for the wreck was ordered by the Rajah of the island, who summoned his warriors. Forming a circle around the crew, they beat their tom-toms, and clad in most gorgeous dress and accoutrements, performed their native war dances.

A salvage steamer arrived at the end of the week and took the crew to Colombo, the natives being left in possession of a valuable cargo and a steamer, which had been out of the builders' yard only about two years.

STOLE HER WATCH. NEWCASTLE, June 15.—While Mrs. Stevens was delivering a lecture on temperance before several hundred children in the Congregational church here she laid a gold watch, chain and charm and a gold pencil upon a table near which she was standing. When she turned to pick up the jewelry, both watches had vanished. A search of the room by the ladies failed to disclose any of the articles, it was noticed, however, that a lad was whispering and with a knowledge of his traits, according to his teachers, they began to hunt for him. He was found and gave up the articles.

BOY KILLS HIMSELF IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

PARIS, June 15.—Tired of life, and hating Latin, a youth of 14, named Armand Nemy, yesterday took his own life. The lad lived at Clermont-Ferrand, in the Midi, and attended a local school. His end was sudden and dramatic, and he contrived to impart to it a classical touch.

At the time of his death he was engaged in writing Latin theme. The task displeased him, and he said to a comrade, "It is hardly worth my going on with this theme. For it will never be graded." Nemy, a few minutes later, left his seat and went towards the door, as if to call the teacher. Before reaching the exit he drew a revolver, and in full view of the assembled school blew out his brains.

On his desk he had written his farewell message in the deserted Latin, a parody on the student's greeting on entering the arena: "Hall, friends. He who is about to die salutes you." Nemy was a promising scholar, has often threatened to kill himself in order to escape school rudery and Latin compositions, through which he had a special aversion, but his threats were not taken seriously.

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE AGAINST A MAGISTRATE

It was learned yesterday that a commission will shortly be appointed to inquire into a number of serious charges that have been laid against Magistrate Hornbrook of Sussex.

A number of the magistrate's friends point to an occurrence of last fall in explanation of the new turn affairs have taken. Judge Hornbrook had occasion to fine a young son of Mr. McAulay's upon his being convicted of a Halloween prank and the animus aroused at that time is held by some to play part in the present trouble.

Factory Employs Men to Read to Cubans—Cigarmakers From the Island Have No Union, But Stand by Their Unwritten Laws.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 14.—Rodriguez Lopez was pleasantly surprised on coming to Cleveland to find here a colony of his countrymen. Lopez is a Cuban. He was even more pleasantly surprised to find that all his countrymen worked in one factory.

That particular grade, enough to make fifty cigars. While he is at work on that "bundle" he will brook no interruption. When finished, the cigars are weighed and inspected, always by the superintendent.

READ IN ENGLISH, TOO.

Lopez was a bit puzzled when in the afternoon he saw another reader in the pulpit. This man did not read in Spanish but in English. It was a translation of "Les Miserables."

The Canadian reciprocity feature has never been popular in the Senate. It was particularly obnoxious to senators from the intermountain states. They insisted that it would admit the coal from Western British Columbia in competition with the coal mined in Utah, Wyoming and Idaho.

THE POLICE COURT

Drunk Had a Wad of $135—Reported for Taking Sand Without Permission.

Two prisoners faced the magistrate in the police court this morning. One was a Finlander named Simon Mattis, and the other a colored woman. Both pleaded guilty to drunkenness. The woman was gathered in on Queen street and was sent to jail in default of paying a fine of eight dollars.

The Fin was fortunate in that he fell into the hands of Policeman Linton. It was after ten o'clock when the officer found Mattis lying drunk on the North Market wharf. On being searched a pocket book with $132.52 was found in one of his pockets. He paid four dollars and departed.

Herbert McAnulty was before the court charged with taking sand from the Sand Point beach without permission from the Common Council. His excuse was that others were taking the sand. Sgt. Rose said that thousands of loads of sand were being taken away, and Harbor Inspector Pollock was the proper person to report such things. However, it was on the complaint of some of the land owners that he reported the matter. The case was stood over until Friday next when Mr. Creighton will be present to answer a similar charge.
