The New Dollar.

LONDON, Sept. 16 .- A new British trade dollar is being coined for use in the east in the Calcutta mint. It is of the same weight and fineness as the Mexican peso. This will help the Indian authorities to use some of their surplus silver.

Newfoundland's Choice.

LONDON, Sept. 16 .- Sir Terrence O'Brien, governor of Newfoundland, assured a reporter today that a majority of the people of Newfoundland, though loyal to the empire, would, if compelled to choose, prefer a union with the United States to a union with Canada.

Discount Rates.

LONDON, Sept. 16 .- The rates of discount during the week just closed were & for three months and 1 for 30 days. The inflow of gold continues. The only demand is from Germany. Silver becomes harder on the renewal of the easter demand. After a relapse, due to American selling, business on the Stock Exchange became active.

The Queen Invited to St. Petersburg. LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Czar has sent an autograph letter to the Queen re-inviting her Majesty to the wedding of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix of Hesse, in which he urges that himself and his whole family are anxious for the presence of the Queen on that occasion. The Queen is desirous of going to St. Petersburg, and is taking the advice of her Ministers and physicians on the subject.

Missionary Murdered.

News comes of the murder of a Scottish missionary named Rev. James A. Wylie. A New Chang correspondent of the North China Daily News, writing under date of Aug. 20, says: On the 10th inst., at Liaoyang. 50 miles above this port, soldiers en route for Corea from Tien Tsin attacked Rev. James Wylie, a member of the Scotch ion with bnives and sticks. He died soon after.

The murderers of Rev. James Wylie, the Presbyterian missionary recently killed at Liao Yang by Chinese soldiers, have been executed.

The War-200 Soldiers Drowned. London, Sept. 16.-A Shanghai dispatch received here announces that six survivors of the persons aboard the Chinese transport Chean, which stranded in the Che Tung pass recently with 1,400 troops on board. while on her way to the Island of Formosa. have arrived there. It was at first announced that in spite of the panic which prevailed on board the transport after she went ashore, all the troops and crew were saved in the ship's boats. But the six persons who have reached Shanghai say that they estimate that about 200 soldiers were drowned in the Che Tung pass.

LONDON, Sept. 16 .- A dispatch from Shanghai to the Central News says that 21 transports have sailed from Japan, supposed to be destined for China.

A formidable band of robbers, armed with rifles, made an attack in the vicinity of New Chwang upon a number of refugees who had been obliged to flee from Yalv. Mr. McIntyre, a missionary, who was one of the party, narrowly escaped death.

A dispatch from Tokio to the Chronicle says the Japanese won a great victory over the Chinese in a battle fought on Sept. 6. The fighting was very severe. The Japanese scattered the Chinese cavalry and a detachment of Japanese afterwards captured the castlt of Hwan-Ju, 35 miles from Phong-Yang. The losses on both sides were heavy. The Chinese force at Phong Yang num-pers 15,000. The Japanese are rapidly approaching that place and a great battle is mpending. If the Japanese are victorious they will march to Shing King. This position will menace Pekin.

Wagers are being made in Tokio that the Japanese will occupy Pekin or Moukden by Cable Flashes.

Bitter Contest in Kentucky-Breeken ridge, of Pollard Notoricty, Probably Beaten.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 16 .- The campaign between morality and licentiousness is fought out, and the result is still in doubt, both Breckinridge and Owens claiming the victory, while the followers of Settle who wasted their ballots look on in grim silence. The indications are, however, that Owens has won.

A later dispatch says both Breckinridge and Owens claim victory, the former by 113, the latter by 320. The result is very close, and it will take the official count to decide.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

Decision That May Cause a Number of Them to be Dropped.

Toronto, Sept. 16 .- An important point In regard to election petitions was raised at Osgoode Hall, when the defense in the Welland election protest made a motion before Mr. Justice Osler, asking for particulars of the case against them,

The judge refused to make the order for I , few days until a meeting of the Court of Appeal is held, when rules providing that specific charges must accompany each elec-

night Michael Cavanaugh, a well-known character, was almost killed by Benj. Brooks, a former resident, who is well known to the police.

Brooks and his wife returned to the city vesterday, after a year's absence, and arranged to occupy Cavanaugh's house. When Brooks came to the house late last night Cavanaugh refused to admit him. Brooks got a hatchet, broke into the house and attacked Cavanaugh, giving him twenty bad cuts. Cavanaugh escaped to the street, where he fell down. He was discovered and sent to the hospital.

As soon as Cavanaugh left the house Brooks turned upon his own wife, and but for the timely arrival of the police would have killed her. She was sent to the hospital badly slashed with a knife.

Brooks was today remanded one week to wait the outcome of Cavanaugh's injuries. The doctors say he has one chance in ten to recover.

Hemicide at Cornwall-Drewning Acci dent at Plantaganet.

Mr. Mercier is well enough to receive risitors now. Rev. John Burton, formerly of Toronto, on Sunday assumed charge of the Presbyterian Church at Gravenhurst.

Saturday afternoon the barns of John Carmichael, Coldstream, were struck by lightning and burned. Loss on buildings and contents, $3,000. A cow pasturing near by was also struck and killed.

The first fatal accident occurred on the Niagara Falls and River electric railroad Saturday afternoon near Niagara Falls, Ont. A Miss Elizabeth Edgar, of Plainfield, N. J., aged 60 years, was the victim. She was run over.

On Saturday morning a colored prisoner named Herbert was shot by Gilbert Hartley, a Central Prison guard, and is lying in the prison hospital in a serious condition. The prisoner tried to stab the guard, who in defense used his pistol.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the ned at Cornwall on Wednesday last is as "That deceased, Patrick Cosgrove, came to his death from a blow on the head inflicted by Charles Green." Green is under arrest.

Frederick Beaulne, blacksmith, of Plantaganet, lost his only child by drowning on Saturday. The little fellow was a bright, ctive boy, 3 years of age, and is supposed have failen off the head of the boom at the mill, where the body was found three hours after the boy was missed.

Cigarettes Killed Him.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Sept. 16. - Harry B. ohnson, superintendent of the agencies of the Anglo-American Savings and Loan Association of New York, who has been here since April, was found dead on the street Friday night. Death resulted from heart failure, superinduced by excessive smoking of cigarettes, of which he was a slave. Johnson was 35 years of age and a native of Brantford, Ont., where his mother and sister reside.

Fatal Smashup.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Sept. 18 .- An accident of serious proportions happened on the Mechanicville branch of the D. and H. Road just beyond Alphaus, in Glenville, on Saturday. A light engine dashed into a freight train in a dense fog, and as a result eleven cars were wrecked, while Brakeman Kerner was killed at his post. The light engine ran away and dashed through the city of Schenectady, traveling eleven miles before its steam was exhausted. A Canadian's Disappearance.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 15 .- The disappearance of Frank Fisher, a school teacher of Peterbero, Ont., was today reported to the Plainfield police. His wife and three small children and his mother-inlaw, Mrs. Johnston, arrived here from Canada last night expecting to meet Fisher. They said he left home three weeks ago for New York and wrote home from Plainfield telling his family he had found work and instructing them to come on and learn his street address from a letter in the postoffice. No such letter awaits the woman and no trace of Fisher can be found. The family is destitute and is being cared for by charitable people.

Benjamin Brooks Attacks Mrs. Brooks | Saturday's Storm Does Damage at the Fair.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 15.-Last mid- Tents Overturned and Perishable Goods Damaged by Water.

> The Bicycle Races to be Finished Today.

Thousands Drenched-School Children's Day Began Brightly, But Ended Badly-Some Meritorious Exhibits-The Grand Stand Leaked.

"May the weather of today continue," said Saturday evening's ADVERTISER refering to the Fair. In the interests of peace and in the interests of the Fair this early opportunity is taken to express the hope that Saturday's weather may not recur, during the continuance of the Fair, at least. The weather of the morning and early afternoon was all that could be desired, but between 3 and 4 o'clock Queen's Park presented the wildest scone in its history. There were few premonitions of a storm, and an immense crowd was viewing the bicycle races from the grand stands; the cake and coffee sellers and peanut, candy and banana vendors were displaying their goods to the best advantage, children were running hither and thither, and everything was serene, when suddenly the storm was upon them from the west. There was no time to seek shelter. The rain descended in torrents and was swirled along the ground in a solid sheet. The massive pines bent and groaned, tents and stands upset and were carried LIMBS SNAPPED AND FELL among children blinded with the force of the storm and running everywhere, crying piteously and soaking wet. Their clothes hung to their little bodies as if they had been bathing. Small children assisted even smaller ones, and in a short time all had found some kind of shelter. But the rain continued to fall and the wind to beat. In a few minutes miniature lakes formed in the hollows near the fountain, and dealers in small wares who had remained with their goods despite the wet were forced to climb on their counters. But the crowds in the stands fared worst of all. The storm came with such suddenness and fury that it took them by surprise. A rush was made for the covered seats, but the majority of the crowd were wet before they arrived. Those who were not got wet quickly afterward. The roofs of the stands are battened, not shingled, and the storm found its way into every part. The majority of visitors were unprepared for wet weather, and dressed in white and carried sunshades and parasols. After the rain had drenched those on the stands it descended, carrying mud and sand with it, into the stalls and eating se of the man Cosgrove found in a coal places beneath. The stalls faced the west, and, with the front shutters lowered, the occupants thought they were safe when they heard the storm pelt ing against the barrier. When they found the water and mud running in streams down the walls, and began to feel the water rising around their ankles, they were mad clean through.

TENTS BLOWN DOWN. From the general offices the directors and clerks looked on helplessly and assisted women and girls to towels with which to dry their hands and faces. As tent after tent went down before the storm and the occupants crawled out from beneath, it looked very funny to those in shelter. A woman and her husband-persons by the name of Masury, hailing from Welland county-had their stand blown down over their heads. A falling board struck Mrs. Masury on the back of the head and stunned her. She lay for some minutes underneath the debris, and was at length extricated by her husband and assisted. pale and bedraggled to the shelter of the general offices. "We got wet time and again at the Toronto fair," said Mr.

Masury, "but the rain has even followed The tent containing the very valuable picture, "Christ healing the sick," went down before the blast, and general fear was expressed that the painting would be ruined. But the owner, Mr. A. F. Fields, Hamilton, Ont., who is exhibiting the picture, "partly for money and partly for the general good it will do to mankind," had hurriedly placed it in the packing box at the beginning of the storm and laid it face downward on the grass. This act saved it. Ed. Taylor's canvas barber shop also went down and the furnishings received a liberal wetting. The ADVERTISER tent was lown 30 feet and the Free Press tent hung by its centerpole. Massey's tent also went over. There was scarcely a huilding that did not leak. Many exhibits were floating in the agricultural hall and the western end of the main building let in considerable

THE LOSS QUITE HEAVY.

Many of the dealers in perishable articles lost more by Saturday's storm than they will make during the balance of the Fair. Mrs. McDonald, Pall Mall street, was very angry and wet. She made her way to the secretary's office when the storm was over. "See here, Mr. Browne," said she, as she displayed a ruined dress. "I want a new dress, and I mean what I say. A person paying a high rent for a stall is entitled to protection. But the saddest scene of all was when the stands started to unbosom themselves. Ruined dresses, wet feet, bangs all out of curl, lovely hats spoiled, ruffled tempers and general discomfort marked the line of march. The porous quality of the soil quickly asserted itself, and in an hour. save for the ruts washed by running streams, upturned tents and spoiled goods, the scene was much the same as it was before the storm The stands stood the force of the storm thout a tremor. The second heat of the half mile open was finished in the blinding storm, and that finished the races for the day. The track officers were: Judges, R. C. Mc-Bride, A. Talbot, N. S. Williams; referee, J. J. Teetzel, St. Thomas; timers, Thomas Gillean (official by C. W. A.); Dr. A. N. Hayes, Sarnia; John Stacey, St. Thomas; starter, Dr. J. D. Balfour; umpires, Dr. N. Robertson, Stratford; W. A. Karn, Woodstock; scorers, Percy Carroll; W. F. Boughner, St. Thomas; R. W. Atkinson; clerks of course, A. E. Fitzgerald, Petrolea; Walter Mann, James McCormick.

TURNSTILE CLICKS. Calverley was on hand on Saturday getting ready for his work this week. Madam Jarrett, had her face scorched by powder and gun wads fired from the gun that attracts the crowd to the menagerie. "I'll never have anything to say against our track after seeing Toronto's last week," said Mr. Adam Beck, the noted horseman. "The gext event will be a boat race," anounced Mr. Gillean from the starter's post after the rain had ceased to fall and the track presented the appearance of a lake.

NOTABLE EXHIBITS.

Heintzman & Co.'s Planes. At the northeast corner of the main building, on the ground floor, is to be found the display of the famous Heintzman pianos. A special feature of this year's exhibit is a perfect transposing piano, unanimously pronounced by artists and the press to be the piano of the future. By it the pitch can be adjusted to any key in unison with the singer's voice, violin or wind instrument; the keyboard being operated by a lever within reach of the perfe the change can be produced in a second. It simplifies the playing of music, and is perfectly adapted to all the different systems of music. A "Baby Grand" is also noticeable feature of the display. It is finished in oak, and like the several other instruments in the collection, is a marvel of design and finish. The London warerooms (H. W. Burnett, manager) are situated at 236 Dundas street. Visitors to London during the Fair are always wel-

T. B. Escott's Spices.

Housewives visiting the Fair should not ail to see the exhibit of T. B. Escott. It comprises the famous Lion Brand Baking Powder manufactured by the firm, and that well-known article of commerce, Mogul Tea. The display is in the main building, near the west entrance, and is one of the most prominent. In the center of the space is erected a miniature Chinease house, from which a number of pretty girls, dressed in Oriental costume, dispense tasty draughts of ten and coffee. The goods of T. B. Escott & Co. have an honestly acquired and well established reputation and their exhibit is a meritorious one.

Jarrett's Palace of Illusions. A trip to the Fair would be incomplete without a trip to Jarrett's Palace of Iliusions. It is situated just behind the horticultural hall. In connection with the startling illusions shown is a clever exhibiion of marionettes and legerdemain. Mr. Jarrett has been with some of the best companies on the road, and the show is firstlass in every particular and free from any objectionable features. The low price of admission commends it to all.

Williams' Planes.

The thousands of patrons of the Williams pianos are prepared to take their affidavit that the display of R. S. Williams & Co. is the only exhibit of any note in the main building. This company has a name for reliability. As an instance of the number of Williams' sold and the high esteem in which they are held, it may be mentioned that the largest order ever given in America for pianos has just been given the R. S. Williams Company by Willis & Co., Montreal. They are the largest dealers in Eastern Canada, and ordered 1,000 pianos. They say: "Williams' pianos stand highest in the estimation of all the leading artists in Canada." Prof. Zeckel, of Detroit, the finest musician in Michigan, will give daily recitals on the celebrated Williams. C. P. R. Illustrated Lectures.

Mr. L. O. Armstrong, the chief colonization agent and one of the busiest officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who has been at the Toronto Fair, will give illustrated lectures every night this week on the grounds. "Round the World Thro" Canada" is his subject. He shows the advantage to the farmer of being on the shortest line around the globe. viz., that it gives him the cheapest freight rates either to Asia or Europe. in time of war or famine in either country. Just now the Alberta farmer is benefiting by the Japanese war. The lecturer demonstrates very clearly that the Canadian farmer is at least as well off as any other today. He says wheat is worth 75 cents anywhere in the Canadian West if fed to cattle or hogs, because one bushel of wheat is worth for feed nearly as much as two bushels of corn.

Mr. Armstrong is enthusiastic about the future of Algoma, and he has added to his work the colonization of newer Ontario. He is cordially supported in his work by the Provincial Government. Mr. Armstrong says the valley of the Saskatchewan is the best place for the man with a little money who cannot or will not work very Mr. W. J. Reid, the chairman of the hard, and that Algoma is a good country attractions committee, and he consented to for a man with little or no money who can

Opening Up the Chinese Empire to the Gospel,

JAPANESE MISSIONS.

The meeting held on Saturday evening in Dundas Street Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society, proved one of great interest. The Rev. Dr. Potts, of Toronto, presided. He was accompanied on the platform by the Rev. J. T. Pitcher, of the Montreal Conference, also by Mrs. James Gooderham, of Toronto, Mrs. Strachan, of Hamilton, and Mrs. G. N. A. F. T. Dickson. The singing was led by the efficient choir of the church, The chairman, Dr. Potts, paid an elo-quent tribute to the work of the Woman's Missionary Society. Speaking of the Japanese missions Dr. Potts, said that when he was a pastor in Montreal the late Sir A. T. Galt attended a missionary meeting. At the close of the meeting that eminent statesman said "I shall be happy to place a check for $500 at your disposal for any mission you may desire". Subsequently Sir A. T. Galt reminded Dr. Potts of the check, and the latter suggested that it be devoted to the Japanese mission, and that check was the first Canadian donation to the Japanese mission. The chair man concluded his brief address by expressing his pleasure at introducing one of the giants of that great and wonderful mission, Prot. Satch, of the Imperial College.

Prof. Satoh at the outset drew a startling picture of Japan 30 years ago. At that time the penalty for adopting Christianity was death, and the term Christian equivalent to devil. Then pictures of the crucifixion used to be each year placed on the public street in the large cities of Japan and trodden under foot to evince the bitter feeling at that time of the Japanese populace. Then the penalty for publicly adopting Christianity was to be taken to the top of an eminence and hurled to death in the abyss below. Prof. Satoh gave a number of amusing illustrations of the difficulties which confront missionaries in acquiring the language. Speaking of the evil influence of non-Christian traders and government officials of Christian countries, 179 DUNDAS STREET. he stated that these enemies of evangeliza-

Commending the sending of Possible Effects of the Corean War in such well qualified missionaries, Prof. Satoh urged that the Missionary Society continue to send missionaries of education and high ability, the result of the work of the great missionaries named, in addition to the marvelous spread of Christianity in the empire, having been to win to Christ the young men of the highest culture, ability, character and influence in Japan. Of the work of the Women's Missionary Society he could not speak with much personal knowledge except to give his testimony to the conversion through the lady missionaries of some of his personal friends. One of his friends, who was but little affected by argument, was won to Christ by the influence of that ideal lady missionary, Miss Cartmell, of Hamilton. (Applause.)

By request of the chairman, Prof. Satch made an allusion to the Corean war. He that all was in accordance with the divine effect of all war, the ultimate effect of the Corean war would be the opening up of the British missionaries in Japan the right Asia, and especially of the Chinese Empire, to civilization and the spread of Gospel | in that empire. light. It was remarkable that the people of these little islands off the west c. some time. Judge Chesley, Lunenburg, N. S., described his home town in interesting language, and spoke of the education in the East as very similar to the West. He had once been a professor in a ladies' college, and now has a daughter in a ladies' college. He gave valuable advice to the students and urged the importance of home life. The visitors returned to the city on the 10 o'clock train.

COMMITTEE WORK. The temperance committee decided to ville, Barrie, Collingwood, Owen Sound, report in favor of reaffirming the desirability of Sunday school superintendents districts. being chosen exclusively from among nonusers of tobacco; also to enact against the use of fermented wine at the sacrament.

Epworth League affairs was adopted, and is one of the recommendations of the Enworth League and Sunday school committee, the proposed board to be composed of the league officers, and one representative for each conference elected by the General Conference and one elected by each annual conference. The board to meet at such time and place as may be determined by the general superintendent, who is to be ex-officio president of the Epworth League. Any Methodist young people's society at present in existence to secure affiliation with the Epworth League by adopting its aims and principles, and to be represented by persons approved of in the quarterly boards. The local societies to report regularly to the general secretary, and to hold annual conventions in each district and in each annual conference, the conventions to select their own officers, whose functions shall be executive and not legislative. The committee also approved of the book room committee's resolution in favor of the additional space in the denominational papers being devoted to league news.

A prominent member of the committee states that the members will probably recommend the appointment of a general secretary on Epworth League and Sunday school work, to travel through the connexion in the interests of the two departments.

The committee on education recommend that Columbia College, New Westminster, B. C., be given a connexional status and be permitted to retain for its theological students the funds raised in the British Columbia Conference for the educational fund. The committee also proposed a draft of denominational college boards for submission to the conference. The much-vexed question of the redistribution of conference boundaries occupied the committee for a number of hours. The point reached was to recommend a reduction to five conferences for Ontario and Quebec, the three western conferences to be on lines to

> The conference church, Queen's Avenue, was especially well attended yesterday, and the services will be memorable in the history of that church. In the morning Rev. Dr. Hoss preached a powerful and practical discourse upon the "Gospel of Love" as applied to the Christian's daily life. In the evening Rev. Dr. Milligan, of Newfoundland, was the preacher. Eminent ministerial delegates to the conference preached at a number of the other city churches. Monday Morning.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The conference resumed at 9 o'clock this morning.

A communication was received from Mrs. E. S. Strachan, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society, stating: "In view of the fact that many of the mission circles and bands of the Woman's Missionary Society have been inclined to join the Epworth Leagues, with the assurance that the friends of the W. M. S. would not thereby be lessened but rather augmented, we respectfully solicit informaaugmented, we respectfully solicit information as to the probable effect the recent Take no other. Referring to the class meeting it recommended more activity on the part of ministers in the enforcement of the clauses of the discipline, dealing with this part of the church operations. The report enlarged upon the importance of greater attention to the needs of the denomination in the Northwest. The final clause of the report suggested that evangelists be required, unless ministers or local preachers of the denomination, to pass the denominational examination for local preachers.

The reference to duties of ministers regarding class meetings was eleminated, and that regarding evangelists laid over.

Dr. Williamson read the first report of the committee on civil rights, which recommended that a committee to consist of the general superintendent, general secretary said that he had the most implicit faith of missions and general secretary of education, bring to the attention of the Govwill, and that bad as was the immediate ernor-General in council, and to take such steps as may seem advisable to secure to to solemnize marriages of British subjects

The civil rights committee will further consider other matters of like nature, including that of precedence, referred to in general superintendent's opening address; also the proposition to appoint a standing committee on civil rights.

Dr. Carman announced that a communication would be read by the secretary which should command the thankfulness of continuing and sustaining the mission to and deep gratitude of the conference to Principal Shaw, secretary, read the letter in question. It was from Rev. A. Hamilton, Methodist minister, Port Colborne, that the will of the late W. LONDON WEST COMPLICATIONS.

Text of the Defense Filed by W. H Bartram. In the Suit Brought by the Village-

Charges Against Reeve Macdonald-His Vote Pronounced Null and Void in

All Things.

The trial at this assizes of the action of replevin brought by the village against W. H. Bartram to settle the question of who is clerk involves several other matters of vital importance to the villagers, judging from the defense filed by Mayor Essery, as solicitor for Mr. Bartram, of which the following is a copy: In the High Court of Justice, Common Pleas Division. Between the Municipal Corporation of the Village of London West, plaintiffs, and W. H. Bartram, defendant. Statement of defense and counterclaim:

1. The defendant was by a bylaw of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Village of London West on the 25th day of October, 1892, lawfully appointed clerk of the said Corporation of the Village of London West, at an annual salary of $125, and the defendant accepted such appointment and undertook the duties of the office and continued to perform the same until prevented by the execution of the order of replevin in this action on the third day of July, 1894.

2. The defendant became remailed, and is the legal custodian of the said books, papers and documents of the said Corporation of the Village of London West, referred to in the statment of claim. 3. By a bylaw No. 68, of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Village of London West, all appointments to office, except temporarily, shall be by bylaw, stating the terms of such appointment.

4. At a special meeting of the Municipal Council of the said Corporation, not called for that purpose, held on the 14th day of June, presided over by D. C. Macdonald, who had fraudulently and unlawfully assumed and usurped the office of reeve as hereinafter set forth, Councilors Moore and Hammond, on the casting vote of the said D. C. Macdonald, without lawful cause or notice, illegally and corruptly passed resolutions dismissing the defendant as clerk and appointing the said John Simpson against the vote of the two remaining members of the said council.

5. The said Macdonald, Moore and Hammond were dissatisfied with the defendant as clerk because he would not assist and was not likely to assist them in sacrificing the interests of the corporation, and corruptly and fraudulently conspired together to get detendant out of office immediately after the said D. C. Macdonald had taken his seat as reeve in the County Council of the County of Middlesex.

6. At the last municipal election a contest for the election of reeve took place between one William Spence and the said D. C. Macdonald, and the said William Spence received a majority of votes and was duly elected reeve of the said corporation. 7. The said William Spence had been a member of the said municipal council for the year 1893, which council had neglected to levy the sinking fund for the debenture debt of the said corporation, and he was therefore disqualified under sub-section 5 of section 373 of the Consolidated Municipal Act, 1892, as amended by section 9 of the Municipal Amendment Act, 1893.

8. The said Macdonald took quo war-ranto proceedings under section 178 of the said Consolidated Municipal Act to unseat | people's society in Canadian Methodism. the said William Spence by reason of such disqualification. 9. The said William Spence irregularly, because his election was not complained of but in a disclaimer under section 200 of the said act, whereupon the said Macdonald illegally and fraudulently claimed the office of reeve, under section 204 of the said act, and applied to the defendant, under sections 274 and 277, to administer the declarations of office and qualification.

10. The said defendant not being desirous of being personally involved in litigation in which he, being a ratepayer, and all other ratepayers of the said village were equally interested, administered the declarations of office and qualification, which latter turned out to be untrue, to the said D. C. Macdonald, who thereupon fraudulently and illegally assumed the office of reeve of the said corporation, to which he had and has no lawful right.

11. This action, brought in the name of the Municipal Corporation of the Village of London West, was not authorized by the Corporation of the Village of London West or by the municipal council thereof, but Detroit by an electric wire, was a native of has been brought by the said D. C. Macdonald against the interests of the said corporation and for corrupt purposes of himself and the said Moore and Hammond. 12. The defendant submits as a matter of law that this action will not lie by the plaintiffs or by the Corporation of the Village of London West, but could only be brought by a legally appointed successor in office to the defendant after he has resigned or been lawfully removed from the office of

13. By way of counter claim the defendant claims, on behalf of himself and all other ratepayers of the corporation of the village of London West:

(a) That all acts, proceedings and bylaws of the said municipal council and of the said corporation carried by the casting vote of the said D. C. Macdonald, or for which he is solely responsible, be declared null and void. (b) That the said corporation be restrained from issuing debentures or making any contracts to extend beyond the current year until after a reeve be legally elected. (c) That the plaintiffs be prevented from interfering with the defendant in the discharge of his duties as clerk of the said corporation, and that such further and other relief may be given as the nature of the case may require. Delivered this 11th day of September, 1894, by E. T. Essery, of the city of London, in the county of Middlesex, solicitor for the defendant.

A DISAPPOINTED MAN.

Thought He Was Going to Die Before Summer Was Out, But He's Alive and Well and Working Today.

Somerser, Man., Sept. 17 .- "Hard Times" is the cry from farmers in this country. Arthur Coley, a farmer living near here, has had double reason to cry "hard times," for eight months ago he lay on his back in bed, a victim of Bright's Disease. He acknowledges that he expected to be dead before the end of summer, but his expectations have been most pleasantly disappointed, and all summer he has worked on his farm just as though he had never known a day's illness. Last spring he hegan taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and a few boxes completely cured him, as they have every other viotim of this disease who has used them.

IMPORTANCE OF UNION.

Effect of Mr. Rowell's Motion in the London Conference.

Rev. A. M. Phillips on the Future of Epworth Leagues and Christian Endeavor Societies.

Rev. A. M. Phillips, who is a conference representative of the Methodist Young People's Association of Ontario, was interviewed by an ADVERTISER representative on Saturday with reference to the recent action of the General Conference with regard to the Epworth League and the Christian Endeavor movement.

"I am," said Mr. Phillips, "suited with the action of conference, if the permissive legislation contemplated by Mr. Rowell's motion be incorporated in the constitution of local leagues. I mean if it be plainly stated in connection with the article on name that leagues may fellowship in the Christian Endeavor Society by the adoption of the title Epworth League of Christian Endeavor, and that Methodist C. E. societies may affiliate with the league upon similar conditions. The difference between the parties was simply as to whether the joint name should be local and optional, or general and obligatory. So far as the Christian Endeavor Society is concerned the results are practically the same, and all that Methodist societies should ask. "May I ask the cause for your stand on the subject?" "The reason that I took so strong a stand was that I feared the local and optional privilege would be taken away, and that our church would stand before the world as not in sympathy with Christian unity and interdenominational fellowship. I am strongly in tavor of the denominational control of our young people's societies, but want facilities for co-operation in work among the young Christians of all churches. was never a member of a Christian Endeavor Society. Wherever I have been I have always had the young people of my church organize and work under the league constitution, but adopt the name E. L. of C. E. I have always attended Christian Endeavor conventions as a representative of an E. L. C. E. society, and as such am now chairman of the Christian Endeavor executive for the Dominion. "Then what was your stand with regard to Mr. Courtice's motion?" "While I preferred the adoption by the conference of the general to the local title, yet I could not have voted for the resolution moved by Mr. Courtice, as it gave the same status to pure Christian Endeavor societies as it did to Epworth Leagues. As the Christian Endeavor Society requires us to take its name in order to fellowship, so the league should ask the adoption of its name in order to affiliation; and we should only have one official society in the church. This matter of name has been misunderstood. It is not absorption into an organic body. It simply is the designa-tion for a form of Christian work among young people. Christian Endeavor is the universal title of a movement, the same as Sunday School, and Epworth League the denominational distinguishing name as Methodists."

"What will be the outcome of the conference legislation?"

"The action of conference makes disciplinary the local name of the 812 E. L. of C. E. societies, and all Methodist Christian Endeavor societies pure and simple will now, no doubt, at once affiliate with the Epworth League. We only want one young

PUBLIC MEN MUST BEHAVE THEM SELVES.

A noteworthy campaign closed in Kentucky on Saturday. Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Congressman for the Ashland district, zought re-slection, but was hopelessly beaten in the primaries called to select delegates to the Democratic convention, whose candidate is always certain of election. In court, at Washington, a few months since, it was shown that Congressman Breckinridge had been leading a double life with the now notorious Madeline Pollard, while he was pretending to be an exemplary husband and father. Up to that shocking exposure, Breckinridge was the idol of Kentucky-a man who was received with acclaim wheresoever he went. He returned to his constituents. He acknowledged his shortcomings, while pretending that he and not Miss Pollard had been led astray, and he asked to be forgiven and "vindicated." The Congressman had many personal friends, who continued to support him, but the moral sense taining in an eminent position a man who had so far forgotten what was due to his family and to his constituents.

The campaign waged against Breckinridge was unprecedented in warmth. Women took the lead. They formed clubs and adopted rules that made it impossible for the young men to enlist under the Congressman's banners and retain their kill me outright. As the strokes followed good graces. One influential citizen informed his wife that he was one of a committee to entertain Breckinridge at a hotel banquet. "I cannot interfere with my husband's politics," she responded, "but I must maintain our reputation for hospitality. I will meet Col. Breckinridge in tality. I will meet Col. Breckinridge in heal the cuts, which had gone into the our carriage and drive with him to the flesh in five or six cases. The pain was 1873; for 1873 was 111, for 1883 was 82, for hotel. If he is fit for you to dine with, he fearful that night and the next day, the 1893 was 68, for January last 65, March 64, is fit for me to drive with." That man, it need scarcely be added, excused himself from the committee.

The compulsory retirement of so eminent a man as Congressman Breckinridge, because of his flagrant misconduct in private life, is a healthy sign of the times. It shows that southern chivalry, southern with a few knots in each. The prisoner's regard for good morals, is stronger than feet and hands are tied to a frame. Many some people dared to hope. It may be true men are unable to survive 24 strokes at that Breckinridge has repented, that he is once, so the ruffian sentenced on Thursday low truly sorry for his sins, but there was no indication of sorrow till he was found out and exposed, as bad men deserve to be. -The General Conference of the Methodist Church very effectively resented any attempt to belittle the efforts of Mr. Charlton, M.P., on behalf of Sabbath observance. Mr. Charlton has upheld the cause in Parliament with a persistency that deserves all the commendation given to him in the report of the conference committee.

A WARM RECEPTION.

Though the rain fell in torrents on Friday, crowds of citizens turned out in New Westminster, B. C., to welcome Hon, Wilfrid Laurier and party. Among others in attendance were Mayor Hoy and the members of the city council, who in the city nall presented an address to the Liberal leader which was full of good wishes and complimentary allusions to Mr. Laurier. In the evening a crowded mass meeting was held in the agricultural hall, Mr. Kennedy, M. P.P., presiding. On Saturday Mr. Laurier received an address from the farmers of the Fraser River delta, the river Sshermen, and the canners, and subsequently addressed a meeting in the warmly indersed by the populace. Latest Developments in British Political Life.

The Prince of Wales and the Latest Heir to the Throne.

We learn by cable that once more violent orimes and their panishment are occupying public attention in England. At the same hour on Thursday afternoon when the Hatton Garden a judge at the Old Bailey was sentencing four of the greatest ruffians in London to long terms of penal servitude, coupled with liberal doses of the cat. These rascals have been the leaders of a gang worse than any that ever infested New York. They made the Seven Dials district and Drury lane the most dangerous spot in London. For many months they had defied the police, and it was only after a desperate fight, following a highway robbery in broad daylight, that they were captured. The judge announced his intention to make exemplary use of the cat, which put a stop to garroting in London several years ago. The leader was sentenced to 24 strokes and the others to a dozen each, besides hard labor for from eight to fourteen years. 'The prisoners did not seem to mind the imprisonment, but the sentence of the cat terrified them. Their bravado disappeared, and they whimpered and cried like the cowards they are. The cat is falling somewhat into disuse of late in England, and the severe sentences are provokof the people revolted against main- ing considerable discussion. Most of the comment is strongly in favor of a drastic use of this mode of punishment. The Pall Mall Gazette even prints a defense of the cat from one of its victims, yet he describes his experience in the following strong language:

"I cannot express the agony I suffered, for it is indescribable. I thought after receiving three or four cuts that I must have died, and begged them if they were men to each other in what appeared to me fearfully quick succession, I screamed, I yelled, I cursed so far as my breath would allow, and after the fifteenth stroke I was released, as my cries overcame those who were present | 577 in the same period of 1893. completely. "Then some mysterious mixture of a briny nature was rubbed on my back to price of 45 leading commodities, 100 being smarting continuing in a gradually reduced form for a week. During the operation I bit my lip through so ferociously in my agony that the mark is observable to this day."

What the Cat Is.

The cat used in English jails is a rod two feet long, having nine whipcord lashes will probably take his punishment in two doses. Robbery with violence is the only crime punishable with the cat, but the indications are that the bold rascals who half

It is believed that they are the next to the postoffice, so that the postman came with a full bag. When he called they seized him, and after a violent struggle chloroformed him. Hatton Garden is in the center of the London diamond trade, and the rascals who opened the office pretended to be in the same business. When Spiers called they treated him in the same way as the postman, but the police are doubtful if they used chloroform. The men are foreigners in appearance, but there is no other clue. Ghosts.

After the excitement that has taken place in Ontario regarding the Glenelg (Grey county) haunted school house, the 'Census of Spooks" just issued by the British Society of Psychical Research" proves of much interest. The society has been This forenoon the Western Fair directors asking as many persons as it could reach this question in more technical language: "Have you ever seen a ghost?" Out of 17,000 persons interrogated, 15,316 answered in the negative, leaving only a meagre 9 per cent of people who had been favored by extraordinary experiences. But the relative proportion of men and women who saw visions and dreamed dreams is more remarkable. Only 655 males answered in the affirmative, but there were 1,029 females. Mr. Balfour, who is president of the society, is the leading ghost hunter and golf player as well as the greatest Commoner in the Tory party. He discusses some of the finest ghost stories in this interesting census, and makes an earnest appeal to scentific men to drop their attitude of "bigoted intolerance" and face the mass of strange phenomena which the society has gathered so conscientiously.

The spook hunt will go on. British Political Movement.

Underneath a seeming stagnation of politics two highly important movements are progressing. The movement of first importance is the initiative step of Chamberlain "Unionists," dissident Liberals, who are about to merge with the Conservatives, partly with a view of consolidating the anti-home rule forces in the coming general elections. The mere reform of the mechanism of elections is not by any means the biggest change intended to be brought about through this movement. The Duke of Devonshire, the arch "Unionist," and his scarcely less astute coadjutor, Mr. town hall. Everywhere the cause Chamberlain, propose a common programme of trade freedom as against a marking the entire absorption of the "Unionists" by the Conservatives. The Duke of Devenshire is also credited with having urged Lord Salisbury to accede to a reform of the House of Lords reasing the representative element.

with the wirepullers of the National Liberal Federation, aims to recast the Newcastle programme, putting in the foreground the proposals for the abolition of the veto power of the House of Lords and the English labor questions, and keeping in the background the questions of home rule and church disestablishment. The executive committee of the National Federatien are convinced that home rule is no longer a potent party cry, and believe it necessary that the electorate should be agitated upon other grounds. Lord Rosebery will announce the programme of the Government in a speech at Glasgow in November, and in view of this the conference of the Liberal associations, which was to be convened in Edinburgh in October, has been postponed. A section of the Irish party, which has admitted the necessity of first controlling the House of Lords by extracting their fangs before the question of home rule is again submitted, have been great diamond robbery was taking place at | convinced of their error and practically side-tracked.

That Blessed Baby.

The Prince of Wales, looking ten years ess than his age, returned to London from Hamburg on Thursday, paid a visit of condolence to the Countess of Paris on Friday, and started for Scotland today, cables a correspondent, without going to see his baby grandson. The Princess of Wales travels direct to Scotland from Copenhagen in the royal yacht, so that she will not see the baby either, although he is said to be suffering considerably from premature teething. The baby's father and mother are both back, but have been too busy to see much of him, and now they have also deserted needle and vows he will carry the thread him for Scotland. The Duke and Duchess back and tell them it won't fit any needle have been made much of this week at he has got. Then he pulls it out and Birmingham, where they laid the founda-scrapes it down with his knife and tries tion stone of a new hospital, and at Liverpool, where they did the same thing for the new postoffice. The Duke is rapidly improving as a public speaker, but he is too fond of padding his speeches with mat- the old stitches and nobody can sew on a ter culled from reference books. The Duke and Duchess expect to visit Wales next month as the guests of Mme. Patti at | digs it out and plunges the needle vicious-Craig-y-Nos.

State of Trade.

The meetings of the associated Chambers of Commerce and of the stockholders of the Bank of England this week have led to a careful analysis of the trade and financial situation. The prospects of the last two months have not shown the continued improvement which the early summer promised, but most judges consider the present condition rather favorable than otherwise. The settlement of the American tariff is regarded by everybody as most hopeful for the future. The record of the labor troubles is discouraging. There have been 690 trade disputes in the first eight months of 1894, compared with of the fluctuations in the prices of staple commodities is significant. The average and June 63. But this unbroken fall in prices explains that what seems to be the contraction of trade may be due to the diminished valuations, though the volume of transactions may have been maintained or even increased.

Mortality Among Peers. Earl Sondes, whose funeral took place today, is the third peer who has died within five weeks, and the fifteenth in the present year. The mortality among the peers, as compared with the members of the House of Commons lately, has been remarkable, but the average age of the peers who have died this year has been considerable. Ten of the fifteen had lived 70 years or more. Four of the ten were octogen-

The North German Lloyd Company has been repeating with greater success this year the experiment at first tried last seatwo or three years ago. They hired a room | son of lengthening a steamship by cutting it in two amidships and inserting a new section. The steamer Preussen has just been enlarged by this method. The Preussen was 300 feet long, 45 broad and 30 deep. By means of numerous hydraulic machines the two separated parts were shoved 68 feet away from one another in order to be rejoined by an inserted section of that length.

Bogus Degrees.

The trade in bogus American academic degrees, which Labouchere broke up by his exposure in Truth three or four years ago, is again booming in this country. England is a peculiarly rich field for this sort of swindle, for John Bull's pet weakness is his ambition to write a long string of letters after his name. The latest quotations for degrees from the bogus American University are M. D., or LL. D., $150; any other degree., $125.

A BACHELOR'S BUTTON.

When It Drops Off It Develops All the Helplessness of the Lone Man. The button generally comes off when he is in a hurry. That is all the common sense The other movement which originated there is in buttons. And it flies off into unknown cracks and corners of the room. and lodges under the bedstead or the bureau and the man who has lost it peeps and looks and feels around in dark places with his fingers and fishes up carpet tacks stuck to his fingers and comatose spiders and lethargic wasps, and cobwebs, and cigar stubs and everything else except the lost button. Then he gets down on his knees and peeps under the bedstead, and barks the skin on his legs against the carvings on the bureau, scrapes his shins on the rocker of a chair, and gets up with strong language on his lips, and flies at the clothes brush, and dusts of his pantaloons, and knocks over the cologne bottle, and spills $2 worth of fragrance on the landlady's 75 cents a yard boarding house carpet, and wishes the man who invented buttons had been hanged before he invented anything.

And he holds up his garments with one hand and hunts around for another button. He looks in all the drawers, under the bedstead, and in all the vases and in all his pockets, and in various other places-for he knows by experience that he is just as liable to find a button in one place as in another, if he finds it at all. He has a place for everything and every. thing is in its place-the only trouble there is about it is to find the place. At last he sees a button in a box of letters and "billets-doux," and locks of ancient sweethearts' hair, and he seizes on it and grabs a rusty needle and threads the point of it till he is quiet and succeeds in getting the thread in the split condition. He pulls and pulls and cannot get it any further and confounds the party that sold bim that again, and this time is successful.

Then he places the button with mathematical exactness right where it was before. and begins to jab. But he hasn't pulled out button through a half spool of "button cord" left in the cloth. He discovers this, ly into the cloth and gets half an inch of it in his hand, and drops the button and the garment and slaps his hand on his leg and wishes the whole concern elsewhere. Then he hunts up the camphor bottle and deluges himself and begins the job over again. The thread knots at the first stitch-it always does-and he tugs and pulls and gives a "yank," and it breaks and the button flies off at a tangent and the man loses patience and then the spool of thread at the same time; and then he pulls himself together and says he will not be conquered by a trousers button. He will never bend his mighty intellect to such a little thing as sewing on a button and fail.

And he gets the button and the thread and he starts off afresh, and he does the job, and there are knots all around that button, and it looks as if it had been wrecked on a lee shore of ends of linen thread, and it is half an inch below where it ought to be, and the man puts the thread away in the comb case and sticks the needle into the window curtain and closes the drawer with a kick, and tells his male friends that for sewing on buttons and seeing to things he can beat the world of women. And so he can .- [Home Queen.

Canada and Imperial Federation.

Imperial federation is not in accordance with the hopes and aspirations of a preponderating majority of the Canadian people. Intense loyalists and fervid Britons there are who have one consuming thought, and that is to wrap themselves in the folds of the old flag and murmur "God Save the Queen" with uncovered heads. But these do not represent average thought and feeling. If no difficulties or dangers confronted the step nearly every bright young Canadian would declare for independence tomorrow. To be a nation-to feel the thrill of national life-to fling to the breeze a flag which represented Canada, and to obtain recognition among the nations of the world, these are what all true Canadians would like to achieve. And yet the probabilities are rather more with either imperial federation or political union with the States at this moment than independence, for the reason that the overweening power of the United States would be a perpetual menace, while North America has not the family of nations out of which to form alliances and maintain balances of power. As between close political union with Great Britain and close political union with the United States, what is the probability of the issue. To an intelligent citizen of the United States the balances seem to be enormously in favor of the latter. Possibly a candid observer in England might reach the same conclusion. Great Britain is separated from Canada by nearly 3,000 miles of ocean. The United States lies upon her borders. Great Britain has an hereditary aristocracy, an established church, a standing army and great responsibilities in regard to peace and war in Europe and every part of the globe. The United States has institutions almost exactly like those of Canada. Both are framed upon the basis of equality, of popular government, or abhorrence of classes. The United States has no standing army, no European entanglements, no menacing diplomacy, Great Britain and Ireland combined have less than 40,000,000 of people, and their capacity for expansion is about exhausted. The United States has already between 60,000,000 and 70,000,000, and its capacity for expansion is unlimited. Nevertheless, it does not follow that the choice of Canada will be for political union with the United States. - [From "Canada". Political Conditions," by Hon. J. W. Longley, August Review of Reviews.

Exciting Contest Between Domino and Henry of Navarre.

Third Day of the Woodstock Races-A Bicycle Record &mashed-General Sporting News.

GREW PERFORMS THE HAT TRICK. An eleven from the London Cricket Club went out to the asylum on Saturday afternoon for an afternoon match with an asylum eleven, and defeated them by 68 runs. The visitors lost the toss and were sent to the field, and Walker and England started batting to the bowling of Grew and Ross, and the trundling being of the highest order and the wicket favoring it, they were the only ones to do any more than start batting. Tempting as Grew's grass-hoppers looked, only three of the asylum singgers were able to feel them, and he earned a bonnet by taking three wickets in three consecutive balls. Grew's analysis was 5 wickets for 7 runs, and Ross', 4 for 7. Walker and England put together 9 runs before a wicket fell, and then the rest of the batsmen were retired for 6 runs. Before the visitors could commence their inning a small combined cyclone and cloudburst struck the ground and the match was delayed for more than an hour, and was then continued on a marshy wicket. Grew again distinguished himself; he more than doubled any individual score, and his 23 was compiled without a mistake, when he unfortunately played one of Sippi's onto his wicket. Burwell and Ross were the only others to reach double figures, which they did by hard hitting. Cronyn's 9 was valuable, as he was in some time for them. The score: ASYLUM C. C.

for the first time both were under a gentle pull, but were moving pretty fast. In the next eighth the pace was quickened a bit. Then there was a little easing up of the tight rein, and with Domino still a length in front they made the next eighth in 121 seconds. The three quarters was reached in 1:16—the last eighth being reeled off in minutes after his entrance on the stage the 112 seconds. Both jockeys were riding for dear life. Faster and faster they flew, and the next eighth was covered in 112 seconds, the last quarter around the turn being run in 231 seconds. Into the straight they rushed, and when they were straightened out for home it could be seen that Domino was faltering. Up in the air went Taral's whip, and down it came on Domino's flank with a swish, while Doggett had not yet taken to the whip. "Domino's beaten," went up from the thousands of onlookers. It was not all plain sailing for Henry of Navarre, however, as he, too, was faltering, and fourteen seconds was the best they could do for that eighth. Then Doggett went to the whip, for he could not hold the advantage of a head which he had at that point, and the black colt slowly crept up until their noses were even, and so they ran to the end. Time, 1:551. The judges were unable to separate them, and amid the cheers of the crowd the dead heat sign was hung out, and the owners agreed to divide. For the second time Domino ran even with a rival, Henry of Navarre holding him at the distance, as Dobbins had previously done in a match race.

TORONTO, Sept. 16 .- The drawing of the ties in the Ontario Rugby Union's programme was made on Saturday. In the intermediate series the schedule provides for games in the first round as follows: London vs. Petrolea, at Petrolea, Oct. 6; at London, Oct. 13.

The London Rugby Club met on Friday evening merely to consider the financial standing of the organization.

During the past week the Londons have had many good practices, and Capt. Harry they never got before. Barry, of Berlin, will play on the team again this year. Jack Hobbs, who is attending 'Varsity in Toronto, will be greatly missed. ATHLETICS.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL TONIGHT. Sol Smith Russell is a firm believer in easy, natural methods, and his first aim always is to establish friendly relations between himself and his auditors. Within Eve audience seem to feel that they are in his confidence. They never see him do anything in a stagey way, and never hear him speak a line in a stilted fashion, and never see him offend against naturalness and refinement in art. He presents clean plays, and his comedy is of the kind that may, here and there, have a tear in it. Mr. Russell will appear at the Grand Opera House tonight in "The Heir-at-Law" and tomorrow night in "Peaceful Valley."

"THE FENCING MASTER" WEDNESDAY. The Grand Opera House will present as its prime holiday attraction next Wednesday night "The Fencing Master" Opera Company, under the direction of Fred C. Whitney. The company made the greatest kind of a hit here last year, and its return will doubtless be hailed with pleasure by all lovers of good music, picturesque stage settings and clean, whelese humor. Miss Dorothy Morton, the pridonna of the company, has three soles—Ye Gallants Boid," "The Rose and the Nightingale," and a waltz song, "The Will o' the Wisp. Mr. David Torrence, the baritone, has two very strong numbers, a ballad with the chorus and "The Knights Eranta," song. The score has many humorous measures, among which are a money-lenders' cherus, songs for the principal comedians and a Venetian Bravo chorus. A stirring march chorus applauds the entrance of the Duke. The merriment of the piece depends on eight low comedy Shy. occupation, have a variety of songs. "The Fencing Master," as it will be given here, will be staged with unusual splendor. The cast, which is somewhat different from that seen here last year, is in every sense of the word equally strong, if not better.

CLOSE OF THE INDUSTRIAL.

Total Receipts of Toronto's Big Show-A Special Object of Interest. TORONTO, Sept. 16 .- The total receipts for the Industrial Exhibition amounted to $68,937 95, as against $71,962 05 last year, a decrease of $3,024 10. The attendance was actually greater this year than last, but the decrease in receipts is attributed to the falling off in grand

It was situated on the ground floor of the main building, and we would advise all housekeepers who know a good article when they see it to select what they want in this line from these goods. brooms and brushes that it would be almost superfluous to add any thing as to the excellency of these articles. patent cradle churn is of great interest to for this churn may be mentioned that it is a labor saver, is always in order, is easy to clean and easy to operate; it allows a free circulation of air while churning, and is operated with half the labor required by any revolving churn. In regard to the construction, it will be seen that the bottom and ends are one continuous piece of lumber, bent to the shape of the body and let into grooves at the side, and well secured, being held together by rods, thus placing the matter of leakage beyond a possibility. This churn commands the attention of all who use such an article. Their Jersey butter mould was admired by hundreds of visitors, and admitted to be by all odds the most satisfactory article of the kind on the market. Its oblong form is the most convenient shape in which butter race at the distance for the championship can be put up for any purpose, and the patent arrangement of screws at the top, which makes it adjustable and enables one to gauge the exact weight, is another fine feature. All the goods in the exhibit were handsome, neat and useful. Chas. Boeckh & Son are located in Bay street, Toronto.

> Splendid Management. (Winnipeg Free Press,)

Those employes of the Dominion Government whose salaries remain unpaid, and who are driven to the 2 per cent a month gentlemen, are earnestly requested to remember that the Government cannot satisfy everyone. When an official in enjoyment-when he gets it-of a small income is standing off a creditor, himself Pope is giving the kickers some pointers pressed by another creditor, he ought to remember that although his salary has been lost, stolen or strayed, and has not been heard of for some months, the Caraquet Railway has been given another subsidy, and that he has assisted in bonusing the Chignecto Ship Railway for twenty years. He will then feel that he is not so poor as he thinks himself. He will surely find some comfort, too, by reading of the several millions that Sandowe, or to perform feats of strength | have just been voted to other enterprises, gainst him, and offers to deposit a forfeit and all personal inconveniences will disappear on his reflecting that the eminent Australian shipowner, Mr. Huddart, has been encouraged in his fast line enterprise by a subsidy of $750,000 a year for ten years. Besides which the business of lending money at 24 per cent per annum is a home industry, and has an equal claim with others to protection. It is a poor heart that never rejoices, and the inability to pay the baker today is offset by the prospect of getting cheaper champagne under the French treaty tomorrow. A department that is constrained to throw $150,000 into the St. Lawrence River ought not to be further troubled by the importunities of employes who desire their salaries for the frivolous purpose of paying their debts. What properly constituted official will give heed to the non-payment of his own salary when he remembers that money is required to gather in the delegates from other colonies, and increase the honor, glory and knighthoods of the great ones at Ottawa. There has recently been what is called a forced loan of $5,000, 000, but it evidently was not enough to go round. In the commercial world of Canada, the hard times have been met and successfully dealt with. Our banks have stood firm and uninjured while those of the United States and of other colonies have been falling like the leaves of autumn; our Government, however, has, it seems, so poor a sense of proportion that while spending money as if it grew in the treasury, they are un-

LONDON. Saturday, Sept. 15.—The factorymen at the cheese board today refused offers of 10½ cents in many cases, and the outcome was the total absence of sales. Shippers were willing enough to buy, but claim that the market will not warrant any higher prices than they are bidding. The cause of the sellers holding back cannot be determined, as the prices are better than in the same week last year. The offerings were large, factories being represented as follows:

THE NEXT ELECTION. The revision of the Dominion voters' lists is now going on. The preliminary lists will be closed on Oct. 15. These lists are made up by Judge Edward Elliot, the revising officer for this city, from the assessment roll, consequently assessed owners, tenants and those paying taxes on their income will probably be put on the lists by the judge.

All who are not on the assesment roll of the city-that is to say, owners' sons, wageearners not assessed on their income and those coming to the city since the assessors made their rounds should apply by statutory declaration to have their names added. This must be done before Oct. 15.

Any qualified voter who fails to get his name on the preliminary lists will be obliged to attend personally at the court of final revision, which means annoyance and much loss of time. Make sure therefore that your name is on the preliminary lists. A solicitor is to be in attendance every night at the Liberal rooms, Oddfellows Block, to prepare a declaration for voters. The next Dominion election will be held on the lists now being drawn up. If you wish to vote for C. S. Hyman, M. P .- elect, in his next struggle, get your name on the investment of $6,500 of hospital funds. -All incoming trains on the railroads were crowded today. A trainload of Londoners came down from Toronto, their tickets expiring today. The M. C. R. ran a special to the city.

-Mr. C. Stubbs, grocer, South London, lost a trunk that he left on the G. T. R. station two weeks ago and has not heard of it since. He is out about $100. The trunk had not been checked.

-Mr. John Munnock, a most competent teacher, has opened a school for the teaching of drawing, modeling, and mechanical designing, in the Mechanics' Institute, as will be seen by advertisement.

-Mr. Joseph Case has been appointed special roadmaster by the London Street Railway Company, Mr. Case will be stationed at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets and will direct visitors to and from the Fair grounds.

-Mr. J. W. Belcher, who for some time sang with much acceptance in the quartet at the Dundas Street Methodist Church. and who for the past eighteen mouths has been studying with Mr. Harold Jarvis, of Detroit, has returned to the city. His throat has been troubling him, but his many friends here will wish him a speedy recovery that he may be enabled to resume his musical course at Detroit.

-Friday night some party set on fire the hot-water house, a small frame structure to the rear of the ice cream parlor, Fraser Heights, Port Stanley, and before it was seen it was nearly burned down. A large number of the villagers turned out, but as everything was wet the fire did not dancing shed, but it was noticed before the fire made any headway and was put out.

-The death occurred yesterday at his of Mr. Braithwaite Crow, a native of Bolton, Eng., in his 80th year. He came to Canada before the rebellion of 1837, During which he served the crown. For the past 38 years he had lived at the old homestead. A widow, two sons and three daughters are left. Deceased was a kind husband and father and a man of sterling character. He was well known throughout the township.

Police Commissioners Meet.

The full board of the police commissioners-Judge William Ethiot, Police Magistrate Parke and Mayor Essery-met this morning, and considered an application from the Children's Aid Society. It asked seemed the opinion of the commissioners would result in trouble in case the inspector where the cause was not sufficient, and the following resolution was passed: "The board are of the opinion that the application should not be granted, as the best interests of the community can be served by prosecutions in the usual way and having the offenders arrested under awarrant." Mr. F. W. Matthews made a similar request on behalf of the Royal Humane Society. It was disposed of in the same way. The Masonic Temple Company called the commissioners' attention to the lack of police protection in the vicinity of the Opera House. Performances were frequently disturbed by a crowd of boys hanging around the Market Square to the great discomfort of the audience. The police will in future arrest all offenders and not warn them as in the past. A Boy Vagrant (?). "William Ross, vagrancy," was entered on the Police Court blotter this morning, and in answer to the charge a little boy of about 13 or 14 years stood up. Willie's eyes were full of tears, and between sobs he told his story. He had came from Sarnia, he said, with the lion show which has its headquarters in the Fair ground this week. He was walking around the park on Saturday taking in the sights when he was arrested. The youth was poorly clad. He spoke of his past history. "Born in England," he said, "but I have only been in Canada about a year and a half. My sister sings in the Robin Rood Opera Company. She's in St. Louis, now, and I am trying to reach her. It is a long way off-near Michigan some place," concluded Willie, and he again burst out crying. Inspector Sanders, of the Children's Aid Society, tried to get the boy out of custody on Saturday night but did not succeed. Mr. Sanders walked off with Ross this morning and will take him to his own home until something can be done. Chas, Ayars and Frank Forkey fought over some grapes at the corner of Dundas and Clarence streets on Saturday night. Ayars was discharged, but as Forkey appeared to be the offender he was fined $2. Silas Perkins, of London West, was arrested on Ridout street. He was pretty drunk, and was also charged with vagrancy. It was Silas' first appearance for a long time, and he was allowed to go.

Rev. Patrick Cronin Writes a Pungent

Article in the Union and Times. BUFFALO, Sept. 14.-Rev. Patrick Cronin, in the Catholic Union and Times, follows up his open letter to Republican leaders on the A. P. A., with an editorial, in which he says: "As an advocate of clean manly politics in each party we venture again to ask the Republicans and Democrats alike to publicly disown and denounce the un-American monstrosity that seeks to fasten its deadly clutch upon the body politic. It cares nothing for party, only so far as it can use either for its fell designs. Its only sworn purpose is to secretly pursue Catholics to the death politically, socially, professionally, and commercially. Can either party afford to wink returned home after a two-week's visit with at this damnable business, and thereby aid in nullifying the cardinal principle of the American constitution? We appeal to the Canada. Democratic State committee, soon to assemble, to follow the example of their Pennsylvania brothers, who put a stinging denunciation of the A. P. A. in their State platform. We make a similar appeal to the Republicans of the State. Let them remember that, according to the statement of one of their leaders (George Bliss) there are between 70,000 and 80,000 Catholic Republican voters within the borders of New York. Do they wish to recognize the party service of these voters, or will they conville Institute living in this section wil thrue to insult them? It is especially incumbent on the Republican party, which in this city and State is the nest of the con-

The Gensan column threatened the left flank of the Chinese, the Pong San column threatening the Chinese center, while the Hwana-Ju column operated against the right, which had been rein forced the day before by a detachment of marines from the fleet at the mouth of the Tailong River. The Chinese had utilized the old defenses at Ping Yang and had thrown up new works making the position an exceptionally strong one. The battle was opened on Saturday at daybreak by a CORDON AROUND THE CHINESE. At 3 o'clock in the morning an attack was made by the Japanese columns simultaneously and with admirable precision. The Chinese lines, which were so strong in front, were found to be weak in the rear, and here the attack was a perfect success. The Chinese were completely taken by surprise and were thrown into a panic. Hundreds were cut down, and those who escaped death finding themselves surrounded at every point broke and fled. Some of Vicercy Li Chang's European drilled troops steed their ground to the eastward and were CUT DOWN TO A MAN. The Pong San column, swarming over the defenses in front, completed the route. An hour after the attack was opened the positions at Ping Yang were in possession of the Japanese. It is estimated that about 20,000 Chinese soldiers were engaged in the battle. The Japanese captured immense stores of provisions, munitions of war and hundreds of colors.

THE CHINESE LOSS is estimated at 16,000 killed, wounded and taken prisoners. Among those cap tured by the Japanese are several of the Chinese commanding officers, including Gen. Tso Fung, commander-in-chief of the Manchurian army, who was seriously wounded. The Japanese loss is only 30 killed and 270 wounded, including 11 officers. Most of the casualties among the Japanese occurred during the first day's fighting, and very few were the result of the night attack. The Japanese forces are in active pursuit of the fugitives, who have

The band came first-their instruments in rest; then the muffled drum, on which its bearer struck a note now and again. The hearse and three mourning coaches followed, some private carriages, and the soldiers on foot. And that was all; except | turned the subject. some struggling spectators in the rear, with Hepburn the undertaker and his men on either side the black coaches. The hearse was exactly opposite Mrs. Cumberland when the band struck up the Dead March in Saul. Suddenly there flashed across her a recollection of the morning, only a few days ago, when Ellen Adair had been playing that same dirge, and it had grated on Oliver's ear. Her eyes fixed thompelves on the hearse as it passed, and she saw in mental vision the corpse lying within. In another moment, the music, her son, the dead, and the fatal letter, all seemed to blend confusedly in her brain; and Mrs. Cumberland sat down white and faint, and almost insensible. The lady of the house, her eyes rivited on the window, made her comments and suspected nothing of the indisposition.

"Mr. North in the first coach with his white hankecher held to his nose. And well he may hold it, poor berefted gentleman! Mr. Richard is sitting by the side of him. Captain Bohun's on the opposite seat;—and —who's the other? Why! is's young Sidney North. Then they've sent for him from college, or wherever it is he stays at; madam's doings, I'll lay. What a little whipper snapper of a fellow it is!—like no-body but himself. He'll never be half the

"An old gent, upright as a dart, with snow white hair and them features called aquiline! A handsome face, if ever I saw one; his eyes as blue and as fine as Captain Bohun's. There's a likeness between 'em. It must be his uncle, Sir Nash. A young man sits next him with a white, unhealthy face, and the other two-why, if I don't be leve it's the young Dallorys!"

There was no reply. Mrs. Gass turned to see the reason. Her visitor was sitting back in a chair, a frightfully gray shade upon her

"My patience! Don't you feel well, "I am a little tired," replied Mrs Cumberland, smiling languidly as the roused her-"Looking out at passing things always fatigues me.

'Now don't you stir, ma'am; I'll tell it off to you," came the rejoinder, spoken with sympathy. There's only one coach more. And that have but two inside it—the doctors from Whitberough," added Mrs. Gass. "I wonder they didn't invite Mr. Oliver the first called in to the poor young manand Alexander. Jelly tore herself away at last, very unwillingly; gossip and tea drinking formed her idea of an earthly paradise. Night was setting in: a light, beautiful night, the moon sailing majestically in the sky.

Just past the gates of Dallory Hall, in a bend of the road when the overhanging tress on either side gave it a lonely appearance at night; and by day too, for that matter; no dwelling of any sort being within view, stood a bench at the side of the path. It was a welcome resting place to tired wayfarers; it was no less welcome to wandering lovers in their evening rambles. As Jelly went hastening on, a faint sound of voices broke upon her ear from this spot, and she arrested her steps instinctively. The chance of pouncing unexpectedly upon a pair exchanging soft vows, was perfectly delightful to Jelly; especially if it should happen to be a pair who had no business to exchange them.

Dr. Good, a missionary in the interior of Africa, says that the poverty of the native Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for languages is a serious hindrance to missionary effort. In the Bule language, for instance, there is no word for "thanks" or "thanksgiving." "To believe," "to trust." "to have faith," are all expressed by one verb to which there is no corresponding noun. There is no word for "spirit." The Bule have always believed in an invisible god, but they have never given such a being a name. With the Bule a living man has a body and a shadow-the literal shape cast by the living person-which at death leaves the body and becomes a disembodied spirit with a new name which cannot be ased to apply to God and the angels, So Dr. Good is driven to say that God is a 'shadow," and that Christ will send his "hely shadow" into men's hearts, etc.

During the year the students have the privilege of lessons in ensemble playing. At these lessons there are at times as many as three pianos in the "large" room, and twelve students who all play together, but they play exactly the same music. This Mr. Baron considers the best means for teaching time, accent and playing together. These lessons are given free of any charge

In the afternoon at the meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle Miss Lottie McLeod, who is about to leave for the mission field in Telugu, made an interesting and feeling address. In the evening Rev. H. C. Speller, of De Land, Fla., formerly pastor of the Adelaide Street Church, preached to a large congregation from the text, "Where is the God of Elijah?"-II. Kings, ii., 14. The seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost limit, and the earnest, eloquent words of the preacher were listened to with the closest aitention. An interesting incident of the morning services was the singing of a bass solo by the pastor, Rev. D. M. Mihell, who demonstrated that his efficiency is not confined to the pulpit alone.

Mr. Jesse M. Symonds' Funeral. The funeral of the late Mr. J. M. Symonds, of the ADVERTISER business office, held yesterday afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, was one of the largest ever seen in London. It took place from the residence of the deceased, Stanley street, South London, and for an hour be fore the services were begun the crowd

Many people have a wrong impression concerning the manner in which students are taught music at the Conservatory of Music. Some people believe that two students, and even more, take lessons on as many different pianos, and play different music, in the one room, at the same time. Mr. Baron says "no one can teach that way, and students could not possibly play in that manner." The Conservatory has now eleven teachers and nearly 200 students, and nine separate rooms to teach in. The Oddfellows were accompanied by about 75 ADVERTISER employes, and, headed by the Canton, marched to the family residence. The services there were conducted by Rev. Canon Davis, rector of St. James' Church, South London, and at the conclusion the casket was placed on the lawn, where the Oddfellows and former associates of the deceased filed past and viewed silently the remains of their honored and beloved companion. The cortege pro-ceeded by way of Stanley, Thames and Duadas streets to the burying ground, both sides of each avenue being lined with a dense crowd. The order of march was: Seventh Band; London Canton, No. 1; Forest City Lodge, No. 38; Eureka Lodge, No. 30; Chorazin Lodge, No. 190, Dominion Lodge, No. 48; Howard Lodge, Strathroy; Mount Brydges Lodge; other visiting lodges; Harmony Encampment, No. 3; ADVERTISER employes, mourners, and about 150 carriages in which were citizens of every class. Among those in attendance were Mr. John Cameron, President and Manager, and Mr. R. D. Millar, Secretarybrother-in-law, Mr. R. J. Marsh & Marsh, barristers, of Toronto and London, Ont., have written a letter to Bishop Baldwin, of the diocese of Huron, in the case of Rev. G. W. Wye, who was recently tried, found guilty and removed from his rectorship at Amherstburg by a court of triers, for conduct unbecoming a clergyman of the Church of England, under canon 22. The letter begins: "We wrote you on the 30th ult., informing you of our instructions to appeal to the house of bishops and that we had advised Mr. Wye that he need not attend on the 12th inst., in pursuance of your summons, as sentence would not be pronounced until the appeal is disposed cf." They then intimate that they are sending with the letter the notice of appeal for service on the bishep, and continue: "As you have not replied to our letter of the 30th ult., nor notified us that you do not intend to pronounce a sentence on the 12th inst., we suppose your advisers have decided you to take the unusual and improper course of pronouncing sentence, notwithstanding the pending appeal. We must therefore notify your lordship that any slightly crooked, while the bones at the sentence pronounced in this matter before the appeal has been heard and decided, wil be disregarded, and any attempt to enforce such sentence will be resisted, and if necessary recourse will be had again to the civil courts. We give you this timely notice in pulpit of Adelaide Street Baptist Church order if possible to prevent this parish, and the Church of England in this diocese, being again disturbed and scandalized by the injudicious action of those in authority in the diocese. We also beg to point out to your lordship that the sentence recommended by the board of triers could not be enforced against any rector of the rectory in question on such charge as was laid in this case; for this is one of the government rectories, and is subject to the same laws and rules as rectories in England, and its rector cannot be forcibly removed from it except when charged with and proved guilty of crime or immorality.
