GERMANS HARD HIT IN EAST AND WEST FIELDS

BRITISH FINANCIERS EXPECT AN EARLY END OF THE WAR

LETTER COMES FROM MEMBER OF PAT'S PETS

Sergt. Wigney Writes Men Have Been in Action at Front of Battle.

A PROUD BUNCH OF MEN

Sister-in-Law of London Man Receives Word From Flanders, France.

The first letter received here from a member of the Princess Pat's Regiment since the notable engagement in which this Canadian Regiment so distinguished itself at the front has been received from Flanders, France. Miss Betty Morton, sister-in-law of Wendell Holmes, manager of Mailagh's book store, this city, is in receipt of a communication from Sergt. R. C. Wigney, attached to Headquarters Company, P. P. C. L. I., British Expeditionary Force, on active service in France. Sergt. Wigney is from Toronto. He is a son of Capt. Wigney.

The letter is to the following purpose:

No. 9, Sergt. Wigney,
Headquarters Company,
P. P. C. L. I.,
British Expeditionary Force;
On Active Service.
December 30, 1914.

Dear Friend,—Well, we have moved at last, and have left Winchester some time now. I can't tell you exactly where we are, as we are not allowed to, and all these letters are censored. Anyway, we are still on the map, and fit and well, and doing O. K. We are billeted about here in different farms, etc. I am sleeping in an old barn in a stack of straw, and beyond being a bit cold at night and a bit ticky (i. e., there are a lot of small bugs about), it is not too bad at all. There are also quite a few rats in the straw, but as long as I once get to sleep, they don't worry me any. We are getting lots to eat. Plenty of tinned "Bully Beef" and biscuits, and jam sometimes, cheese and good tea, and we can now and then buy bread, so it is not at all bad so far. There are miles of trenches round here, and it is pretty hard work digging them and very muddy. There is generally heavy artillery fire at night and mornings, but not much during the day. You can hear the boom of the big guns miles away.

Christmas Day here was bright and frosty, and we were in our billets all day. We made it as jolly as we could around our little camp fires. On boxing day, the Daily News fund Christmas puddings arrived, and they were jolly good. We got half a pound each per man. We also got Princess Mary's present of a pipe, tobacco, and 20 cigarettes per man, and they were very acceptable, as I was clean out of both. It has been raining lately, and there is a lot of mud about. I would much sooner have the frost and dry weather. There is a lot to tell you, but I can't say much in this, as I am afraid it will be censored, and the letter chucked out, so it will have to keep till I see you next, which will be the Lord knows when, but some time next winter, I guess.

First into Action.

We are the first Canadian regiment to go into action, and are, of course, proud of the fact.

The others of the Canadian contingent are still on Salisbury Plain training. We hardly get any news here, of course, and only know what is happening immediately in our own vicinity until we get a stray English paper. So far as I know, Jack Edwards is not drowned yet, but is still out on the Pacific in the submarines.

You must excuse any fingermarks on this paper. I guess my hands are a bit sooty, as I have just been cooking our supper. I made a dandy stew of potatoes, turnips, carrots, leaks, and beef. All except the latter, I am sorry to say, were purloined from an adjacent garden. I can talk French quite a bit, so get on all right here. Thanks very much for the Christmas cards. I hope you got mine. Yours sincerely, E. W.

STOP BOOTH SMOKING

At the next meeting of the council a request from the Epworth Leagues of the city that smoking be not allowed in polling divisions of the city during the hours of voting, will be presented. It is claimed that many of the women voters who at the last election had to spend some time in the booths, were made ill and greatly annoyed by men smoking in the same room.

Type of Red Cross Ambulance Londoners Are Buying

Advertiser Illustrations.

The above photograph shows an ambulance now in service on the battlefields of the same kind as will be purchased with the money being subscribed by Londoners. The sum of $1,100 has been received, and $2,500 is required. The ambulance will be used for the Canadian wounded.

TORY FIGHT IN LONDON IS EXTREMELY BITTER ONE

Beck-Meredith-Moore Party and Gray-Essery-Johnston Battling.

CONVENTION IS CALLED

J. Percy Moore Will Likely Come Out To Oppose "Quicksilver" Bill.

It's a fight to the death between the Beck-Meredith-Moore faction and the Gray-Essery-Johnston faction for the vacant seat in the Dominion House.

An advertisement appearing on page three of this issue, calls a Liberal-Conservative convention for Saturday night at the Conservative Club. It is signed by William Howie, jun., president of the Conservative Club, and W. G. R. Bartram, acting secretary, and calls for a meeting of the divisions on the night previous to the convention.

A meeting was held at the Conservative Club and a final decision made to run a candidate against Mr. Gray. The most likely choice of this convention will be J. Percy Moore, of the firm of Fraser & Moore, the senior member of which is president of the local Tory organ, which has secured slathers of Government advertising since 1911.

William Gray, the choice of the other wing of the party, has been working night and day in preparation for a fight. It is said that Mr. Gray is strongly anti-Glaubitz and there is a chance that this issue will be introduced into the campaign.

No Questions of Policy.

Certainly, if meetings are held the fight will not be on questions of policy. It will be a fight between the long estranged Sir Adam Beck and William Gray, whose quarrel with Sir Adam is of many years, and is attributed to a "snub" which Mr. Gray is alleged to have received from Sir Adam. Mr. Gray has spoiled for a fight with the Beck faction for years. He wanted the Dominion nomination and he would not run while Major Beattie was alive. But since the seat is open, he claims it, and he has shown himself sincere by fighting the desperate effort made to "pull him off."

Threats Fall Utterly.

Threats, offers and every possible means of securing Mr. Gray's retirement have been utilized. He has controlled the patronage for some weeks and those who controlled it for some years are sore.

Chiefly, the fight will be one over patronage. The Gray faction maintains that the patronage has not been properly handled and it will hang on to it.

Mr. Gray is confident of election. The other side will make an appeal to those Conservatives who have been in constant touch with the machine, and ask them to save the party by standing by the candidate. They will call Mr. Gray the "independent" Conservative candidate.

It was stated by authorities that if T. G. Meredith, K. C., had been persuaded to run, he would have given Mr. Gray a hard fight and would possibly have beaten him. The suggestion has been made that Sir Adam Beck may come out, but this is not given credence. He may take part in the campaign against Mr. Gray.

There are many persons still "from Missouri" in the matter. Some say Mr. Gray will be pulled off even yet, and others say that he will have no opposition.

CHILDREN DISAPPOINTED

School Boys and Girls Have Not Received Prizes Yet.

The prizes won by the city school children at the field day sports last year have not yet been given out.

Many of the children have expressed disappointment, as there were between fifty and sixty prizes in all to be distributed.

It was stated this morning that the delay was caused because the medals to be awarded had not yet been finished. It is possible that the prizes will be given next week, if the medals are received.

Fine Type of Men Ready to Enlist In Army Service

Lieut. Arthur Keene Has Received Orders to Recruit Corps to Full Strength—Great Enthusiasm Engendered.

ORDER CALLS FOR 168 MEN

The announcement that Lieut. Arthur H. Keene, Sixteenth Company, A. S. C., has received a request from Lieut.-Col. W. M. McCrimmon, A. A. G., First Division, to recruit men immediately to take charge of a permanent training depot in England, has aroused great enthusiasm. Though recruiting will not begin until tonight at 8 o'clock in the armories, Lieut. Keene has already received between twenty and thirty offers from citizens for overseas service. These are practically all skilled mechanics, and, as a whole, the finest type of men for the work that have yet enlisted. Capt. Irwin, 370 Dufferin avenue, is an officer who has given in his name, and it is almost a certainty that all officers will be accepted.

A well-known expert on motor vehicle mechanism has been recommended for the position of mechanical inspector of motor transports for the company.

The order for recruiting calls for 168 men, and these will go direct to England for training.

The Sixteenth Company, A. S. C., holds the proud distinction of having sent more men to the front, in proportion to its war-time strength (84), than any other branch of the service in London. Including officers, 70 left with the first contingent and 74 more have gone since Christmas.

Lieutenant Keene has wired Lieutenant Frank Millar, Chicago, and Lieut. Barry, Vancouver, to report at London, if possible. Since sending the dispatches he has learned that Lieut. Barry has removed to Seattle, and is finding difficulty in locating him.

Capt. Hunter, who left last night to join Kitchener's army, in which he has been gazetted as a captain, was offered the command of the company that is to proceed at once to England, but had already taken transportation to the old country.

With the above order Lieut. Keene received word from Capt. F. M. Spry, assistant deputy of service and transport, to recruit the Sixteenth Company, A. S. C., to full strength, 106, including officers and men.

Lieut. Keene wants 7 sergeants, 9 office clerks, 4 trumpeters, 4 corporals, farriers, saddlers, wheelers, fitters, blacksmiths, electricians, cleaners, and 100 drivers for each company.

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN VERY LIKELY IN LONDON

Temperance people of London and the district are busy with propositions to present to the Ontario Government when Parliament opens in March. A big provincial convention of temperance workers will be held in Toronto on March 3, and among other delegates from this city will be Rev. W. Boyd, Mr. J. Pack, Prof. James Bowman, Mrs. May R. Thornley, and others.

The London temperance people plan to bring up the matter of abolishing the three-fifths clause. They think that as far as local option is concerned, the three-fifths clause has reached the limit now, and will ask that it be done away with. They also will ask that the hotel hours be changed so that they will be open every day except Sunday from 8 in the morning until 1 at night.

Other propositions are under discussion and will likely be presented before the convention. Now that votes for women have been carried in so many places, the temperance people expect to make prodigious gains, and a local option campaign for London is not at all improbable. If the Government will not reduce the three-fifths clause, a country-wide vote on C. T. A. lines may be taken, similar to that which was so successful in Huron, and the temperance forces are confident of winning.

PROMPT, GENEROUS RESPONSE TO MOTOR AMBULANCE FUND

Citizens Take Pride in Being Represented in So Worthy a Patriotic Donation.

Citizens of London should have reason for pride that they are to be represented by a Red Cross motor ambulance. Other cities of Canada have already raised funds for such an object and in this city several have made prompt and generous response to the appeal. Since the ambulance will accompany our own Canadians to France reasons are most urgent for collecting the required amount at the earliest possible date.

A letter which has just been received by the local Red Cross Society from Dr. Ryerson, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Red Cross, gives the following very full description of the ambulance for which subscriptions are being sent in to Mrs. George T. Brown, 661 Talbot street, and Mrs. E. C. Bowker. The following is the text:

"The motor ambulances which we are buying now cost $2,500, because it has been found that the smaller ones not only carry fewer people, but that the power is not sufficient. If the roads are heavy and muddy, the ambulances are liable to become bogged. The power of the car is 35 h.p. It carries four lying down and twelve sitting in addition to the chauffeur and the Red Cross attendant. These again, which we are now gathering, are specially designated for service with the Canadian contingent hospitals now in England, and will be attached to them under the control of the officer commanding the hospital. The upkeep is paid for either by ourselves or by the war office. It has not yet been settled who is to maintain them. We have in view the upkeep of all the motor cars which we have given and are to give to the contingent. It will, of course, accompany the contingent to France.

"The motor ambulances have been ordered in England hitherto, because it is found that they can best supply the type which is acceptable to the war office."

Concluding yesterday $1,150 had been subscribed for the ambulance in this city. Today the following contributions are noted:

Mrs. Boomer(on behalf of Local Council of Women)	25 00

EXPECTING END OF WAR IN MAY

Financial Circles in London Think Germany Cannot Support Money Strain.

NO OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE

And Teuton Allies Are Not Strong Enough To Provide Funds.

AMMUNITION GIVING OUT

Ambassador Believes Germany Failed To Make Provision For Amount Necessary.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Jan. 28.—A London cable to the Gazette says:

In leading financial circles here the prediction is being made that the war will end much sooner than is commonly believed, owing to Germany's inability to support the financial strain. Next May is mentioned as the probable date of the German collapse.

These predictions are based upon deductions. Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George, as was recently announced in the London papers, will soon go to France to hold a conference with the French and Russian ministers of finance. It is generally understood that a result of the conference will be that Great Britain will undertake the financing of the Allies to an even greater degree than she has already done, though, in respect to Russia particularly, she has already put her hand in her pocket to no inconsiderable extent.

Cannot Get Outside Help.

The argument of these financiers who predict an early conclusion of the war is that, when the three great allied powers find it necessary to combine in order to meet from their common resources the immense

SLAVS REVOLT AGAINST ORDER

"DOWN WITH GERMANS"

Mob Cries as It Attacks Gendarmes and Cavalry at Laibach.

ARMORY IS PLUNDERED

Uncensored Dispatches Tell of Rioting in Many Different Quarters.

[Canadian Press.]

Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 28, via Paris.—The order of the Austro-Hungarian Government for the mobilization of the last line of service has brought about a serious rising among the Southern Slavs, according to uncensored dispatches reaching here from Austrian sources.

The clergy, these advices say, headed the movement of resistance, which began Sunday morning at Laibach, 35 miles northeast of Trieste. After the sermon by a Slavonian priest the crowd is reported to have left the cathedral shouting "Down with the war!" "Down with the Germans!" The rioters attacked the gendarmes, and after shots were fired the cavalry was called out and charged the crowd.

Deaths In Rioting.

During the disturbance the prefect's palace was burned and its furniture and pictures, which were thrown out of the windows, were trampled to pieces.

At Agram, capital of Crowina and Slavonia, bodies of students tore down the mobilization notices, and it is reported that a Hungarian official, a student and a child were killed in the rioting that followed. There was rioting also at Karlstadt, Crowina, where the mobilization notices were destroyed.

At Suzak, near Fieume, the armory of the Hunarian Landwehr is said to have been plundered.

Battle With Marines.

An enormous crowd, these advices from Austrian sources also say, concentrated at Opie and then descended on Trieste and joined manifestants there. All the boards on which the official notices of mobilization were posted were destroyed, and in the fight which followed with marines, two of the rioters are reported to have been killed.

Late dispatches state that the rioting continues, and that general apprehension is felt as to the outcome.

Serious trouble is also reported in Transylvania, where Governor Count Bethlen, it is stated, has ordered that all persons refusing to submit to the decree of the authorities shall be shot.

WRIT FOR $500.—Two county court writs were issued on Wednesday afternoon by Meredith and Meredith. J. Kolesnik has issued a writ against the Central Garage for $500 damages for personal injuries. The Mitchell Garage has issued a writ against the Mitchell Motor Sales Company for $429.83, the amount awarded the garage in a superior court suit in Quebec last summer.

SENIOR MEDICAL SCHOOL MEN TO ENLIST AS ARMY DOCTORS

This Action Is Likely To Be Taken Following Communication From Guelph.

BATTALION NEEDS THEM

Students Talk Matter Over and 12 Decide Will Answer Country's Call.

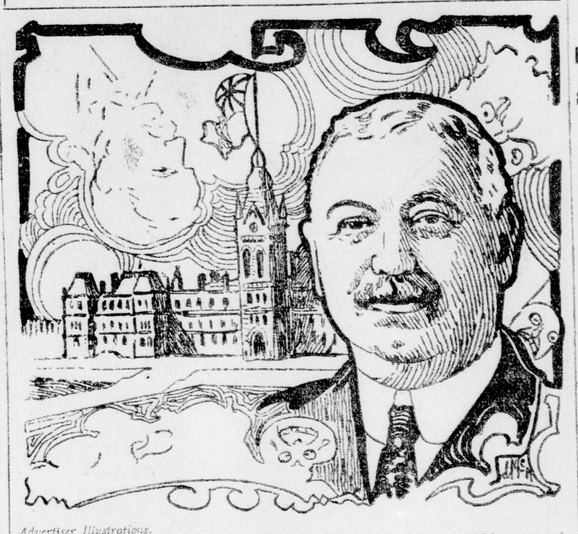

Following a communication from Major Ratz, of Guelph, who is attached to the Thirty-Fourth Battalion, a number of third and fourth year students attending the local medical school will, in all probability, shortly enlist in that regiment as army service doctors.

In a letter to the medical school authorities, Major Ratz stated that there were openings in his regiment for sixteen third or fourth year medical students to enlist in the medical corps attached to the Thirty-Fourth Battalion.

At the medical school today, a number of the students stated that they had talked the matter over and that despite the fact that their term had some three months to run, over a dozen of the men attending were seriously considering enlisting in the medical corps.

It is expected that the students who are thinking of enlisting will hold a meeting in a day or so to determine what action will be necessary in order that they may enlist.

GERMANS TRYING TO PURCHASE SUPPLIES EVEN IN THIS CITY

Offers To Pay $1 Pound For Old Rubber, Delivery Insured For Germany, Have Reached London—Junk Dealer Real Patriot.

The Germans are trying to purchase supplies even in London.

Offers to pay $1 a pound for old rubber, the delivery of which to be insured for Germany, have reached the city.

A local dealer in junk and rubber had a circular sent him from the United States offering to purchase rubber in any quantity. He paid no attention to the circular, except to say that the Germans would get no supplies from him. He is not even shipping rubber to the United States.

THREE GERMAN REGIMENTS WIPED OUT BY RUSSIANS

After Breaking Through Latter's Trenches, the Enemy Was Driven Out By Bayonets and Raked By Machine Gun Fire.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, Jan. 28, via London, 9:45 a.m.—In a stubborn fight in the vicinity of Sochaczew, on the Bzura River, the Germans yesterday broke through into the Russian trenches, from which they were only repulsed after bayonet charges. At Wlanka, two miles north of Sochaczew, in a battle lasting thirty minutes, the Germans lost 500 killed.

A Russian officer, commanding a battery of machine guns gave the following account of this fighting:

Trap Was Laid.

"At dusk our battery was ordered to take a certain position to check the Germans. Within an hour trenches were dug and battery masked. We lay all night waiting for the attack. Before us was a clear space of 2,000 yards to a hill, on which there were trees.

"With the coming of daylight we became impatient and began to fear that the Germans did not intend to attack. Suddenly, at the end of the field we noticed a detachment of cavalry. They rode towards our position and to a point within six hundred yards of it, and then stopped, evidently suspecting that something was wrong. We were in despair when they turned to move away, since we were without firing orders.

Wiped Out.

"Suddenly the crackling of our machine guns, twenty yards to the left, gave the signal for a general play of the battery. Part of the detachment was killed and the rest of the cavalrymen fled. They were caught, however, by shrapnel from our battery further back, and scarcely one escaped.

"Half an hour passed. From the direction of the village there then appeared the expected long lines of the

C. M. R. GRAHAM'S MEMORY FAULTY PRIOR TO JAN. 1

The Advertiser called C. M. R. Graham, former mayor of the city, in regard to the failure of the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission to make the road a "Made in London" line.

"What do you think of it?" was asked.

"I have nothing to say," he replied.

"Did you not refer in your speeches to the number of London men who would be employed?" was another question.

"My memory does not go back prior to January 1," said the former mayor with a telephone smile.

BELGIAN MARVELLED AT MIGHTINESS OF NIAGARA

Mr. Yseux, Who Will Lecture in Tecumseh House Tonight, Interviewed.

[BY MARGARET WALKER.]

"Mr. Yseux?" asked The Advertiser reporter.

The dapper, curly-bearded, foreign-looking gentleman who had just stepped out of the elevator at the Tecumseh House, smiled genially.

"That is my name," he was kind enough to respond, ignoring the bald, Canadian accent of the reporter.

"You wish to see me?" he asked.

The reporter explained the nature of her errand. "You have just arrived?" she asked of the Belgian lawyer, who will speak tonight to a London audience on "Belgium, Her Art and Architecture."

Once again Mr. Yseux smiled, as he requested the reporter to be seated.

"It was very funny. I come to Canada. I would see Niagara Fall. I see it. I come to London last evening. The president of the club, he—Carling, looked for me this morning, and desired the—your burgomaster, what you call him?—to meet me. But I get here too soon!"

"That was too bad," agreed the reporter. "What was your impression of Niagara?"

"It is wonderful—grand! The ice and the snow, and the water—so great. I marvelled," said the little gentleman, with a sweeping gesture of his hand.

Great Country.

"Your Canada is such a great country. I see it for the first time now. I came by New York, and lecture here the first time in Canada. You have such ice and snow. At my home in Antwerp, and in parts of Belgium, we

THIS ROOMERS QUARANTINED

Discovery of Smallpox in Dundas Street House Holds Inmates In.

A case of smallpox of a very mild type was discovered in a rooming-house on Dundas street, near Adelaide, last night, and as a result, the proprietress, who is ill, and ten roomers, are in quarantine. M. O. H. Dr. Hutchinson nearly had a riot on his hands last night, it is stated, when the other occupants of the house tried to scatter, but all are being kept in the place.

Occupants of the house today telephoned the police magistrate and Chairman Somerville, stating that they only had half a ton of coal, and that no one would bring them food. M. O. H. Dr. Hutchinson stated to The Advertiser today that he was sending provisions, and that all would be properly looked after. It is said that many people have been going through the house recently, and an effort will be made to locate these. Dr. Hutchinson stated that two of the patients at the Cove Hospital were discharged yesterday.

HOLDS UP HORSE OF MOSES LEFF WITH GUN

Strange Actions of Holdup—Looking for Animal Victims.

Moses Leff rushed into police headquarters today with a mystery that he wishes the detective department to unravel. "But I offer no reward," says Moses. "All I want you to do is your duty."

Mr. Leff, when he recovered his breath, told Detective Harry Down that today a man rushed into his back yard, pulled his horse out of the barn, and placing a revolver at the animal's head, told Leff he was going to shoot it. Then he said that the horse was all right and he wouldn't touch it this time. He took the horse back to the barn. A few minutes later he came back again, and was going to shoot the horse, when he produced a piece of paper, and saying: "Oh, well, I'll let you go this time," he left Leff's premises.

The detectives are working on the mystery.

BRITISH GUNS HIT ENEMY MILES OFF

Admiral Beatty Tells of the Splendid Shooting in Sunday Fight.

HIT SHIPS AT TEN MILES

Damage to Lion Saved Germans From Even Worse Whipping.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—11:56 p.m.—The Admiralty has received the following preliminary telegraphic report from Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty regarding the naval action between the British and German squadrons in the North Sea on Sunday:

"A flotilla of destroyers patrolling about 7:30 o'clock in the morning, sighted and attacked the enemy, whose force, according to the reports received, consisted of four battle cruisers, six light cruisers and some destroyers. Their position when sighted was approximately fourteen miles east-southeast of our battle cruiser squadron.

"Orders were given by signal to the destroyer flotilla to chase the enemy and to report their movements. As it appeared that they had already commenced to retire to the east-southeast, the battle cruisers were directed to steer southeast with a view to securing the lee position and to cutting the enemy off if possible. The situation developed by degrees into a stern chase.

Hit at Ten Miles.

"Speed was worked up to 28 or 29 knots, and the enemy were gradually being overhauled. At about 18,000 yards a slow and deliberate fire was opened, and we began to hit at a range of 17,000 yards. Our fire was returned by the enemy.

"The Lion and the Tiger, having drawn ahead of the remainder of the squadron, were in action alone for some time, and consequently were subjected to the enemy's concentrated fire, more particularly the Lion, which ship suffered more as a result.

"The other vessels, as they drew up, engaged the enemy. A German flotilla of destroyers was disposed on the starboard beam of their cruisers, and an attack by them was driven off.

Lion's Engine Stopped.

"At about 11 o'clock, unfortunately, a lucky shot damaged one of the Lion's feed tanks, causing the port engine to be stopped. At the same time, enemy submarines were observed on the starboard bow, and a course was steered in order to avoid them.

"The Bluecher (German) was now in a critical condition, with her speed reduced, and the Indomitable, which had now come up, was directed to complete her destruction.

"The rest of the squadron were directed to attack the rear of the enemy. The Lion, with escort, steered to the northwest, steaming with one engine, and I transferred my flag to one of the destroyers and subsequently to the Princess Royal. Through the damage to the Lion's feed tank by an unfortunate chance shot, we were undoubtedly deprived of a greater victory. The presence of the enemy's submarines subsequently necessitated the action being broken off.

Kolberg Reported Sunk.

"The result of the action was that the Bluecher was sunk and two other battle cruisers were heavily on fire and seriously damaged. The German prisoners reported also that the Kolberg had been sunk by over-salvoes from our squadron.

"Subsequently the starboard engines of the Lion also developed trouble from the same cause as the port engines, and the Indomitable took her in tow and brought her into port. The damage to the the Lion and the Tiger is in neither case serious, and repairs can be completed in a short time. The remainder of the squadron were not hit.

"The casualties were very slight. The death of Engineer Captain Taylor, whose services have been invaluable, is deeply regretted.

"The behavior of officers and men was only what was expected, and great credit is due to the engineroom for the fine steaming of the squadron."

Others May Be Lost.

According to a trustworthy authority, the condition of the German cruisers Seydlitz and Derflinger when the pursuit was abandoned, owing to the proximity of the mine field, was dangerous in the extreme, and it was considered doubtful whether she would be able to reach the safety of the mine field.

Two of the German destroyers, it was asserted, were so badly damaged by the British fire that it was impossible that they could long remain afloat.

The earlier reports of the engagement announced that the Lion and the Meteor were considerably damaged. The official report mentions the Lion and the Tiger and omits any mention of the Meteor.

Tiger's Engineer Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 28. — 12:10 a.m. — The list of casualties in the naval action on Sunday in the North Sea shows that Engineer Capt. Charles G. Taylor, of the battle cruiser Tiger, and five stokers and three seamen of that ship were killed. The three men killed on board the Meteor were stokers, while most of the casualties on the Lion and Tiger were stokers.

BRITAIN WILL SEND RUBBER TO STATES

The Products Must Not Be Exported To Germany Or Austria.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—7 p.m.—Through the efforts of the Rubber Trade Association of London and the Rubber Club of New York, arrangements have been perfected for a second shipment of 1,000 tons of rubber to go forward this week to the British Consul in New York. The consul will apportion the rubber among manufacturers who sign a guarantee that the product manufactured from this shipment will not be exported to Germany or Austria.

The Rubber Trade Association hopes that at least 1,000 tons of rubber will be shipped monthly under the same conditions, for the benefit of American manufacturers, other than the large concerns which gave heavy bonds enabling them to procure all the rubber desired. The association felt that some such action was necessary to prevent a few large American concerns from obtaining entire control of the market.

Quarrel With Kaiser May Cause Austrian Emperor to Abdicate

GENEVA, via Paris, Jan. 27.—6 p.m.—According to reports received here today from Innsbruck in the Austrian Tyrol, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is arranging to abdicate, it being said that he is unable to agree with the views of Emperor William on military affairs and also because of the German Emperor's attitude regarding peace.

The Austrian Emperor adopted this course, the dispatches from Innsbruck says, as the result of the recent visit to Berlin of Archduke Charles Francis, the Austrian heir-apparent and of Baron Von Burian, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs. The Austrian Emperor, it is added, desires to leave his successor with a free hand.

It is understood that Roumania will use the money for the purchase of war materials.

BAIL IS REFUSED

Toronto German to Stay in Jail—Investigation May Show Plot.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—The crown will not consent to the granting of bail in the case against Emil Nerlich for treason, said Hon. I. B. Lucas, the attorney-general, when interviewed today.

Apart from the immediate case as affecting Mr. Nerlich, it is believed that the whole circumstances surrounding the creation of a so-called German relief committee or syndicate, with headquarters in Toronto, may be revealed, and the work done is being thoroughly investigated by crown and military officials.

RUSSIA STARTS NEW OFFENSIVE

Again Take Possession of Pilkaten, Occupied in August.

GERMANS IN CARPATHIANS

Proposed Expedition Against the Servians Has Been Abandoned.

[Canadian Press.]

PETROGRAD, Jan. 27.—Via London—The official communication of today indicates a new offensive on the part of the Russians on the north of the Prussian frontier. Here they have occupied Pilkaten, between Tilsit and Stalluponen.

"General Rennenkampf took possession of Pilkaten in August during his raid on East Prussia, developments which were followed by a German invasion of a part of the Russian province of Kovno in September. Since September there has been little activity in this region.

"To the southwestward of Warsaw, a few miles south of Grodzisk, there has been a severe artillery engagement, developed by the German attempt to break through the Russian line.

"In Galicia the Austro-German forces have continued their offensive movement to the northward. They consist of three Bavarian corps and six or seven Austrian corps. The Austro-German offensive line in this locality extends for a distance of approximately 80 miles.

AUSTRIAN CLAIM.

VIENNA, via London, Jan. 28.—1 a.m.—The official statement issued here reports the recapture of Uzsok Pass, in the Carpathians, which has been in Russian hands since January 1. The text of the statement follows:

"Yesterday evening (January 26) the Russians had been driven back in the upper Ung Valley from their position on both sides of Uzsok Pass. This is one of the most important of the Carpathian passes, for the possession of which during the course of the war many violent engagements have been fought. Since January 1 it has been occupied by the Russians. It was strongly entrenched and stubbornly defended in several good positions, one behind the other. It is now again in our possession after three days of fighting.

"To the northwest of Uzsok Pass and in the Laterza and Nagya valleys fighting continues.

"In west Galicia and Poland there have been artillery duels of only minor importance, owing to the snowfalls."

Germans In Carpathians.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—3:22 a.m.—Special dispatches from Petrograd this morning deal with the new Austro-Hungarian diversion in the Carpathians, which is intended to counter the Russian advance through Bukowina. The retirement of Count Von Berchtold, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, and the triumph of Count Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, it is believed, led to the abandonment of the expedition against Servia, and the German forces, which were to have been devoted to this expedition, seem to have joined the Austrians in the new operations in the Carpathians, for which an army numbering 300,000 has been assembled.

Every Purchase of Canadian-Made Goods is A Boost For Canada

THAT CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS are meeting the situation and grasping the unlimited opportunities which have developed in the past few months is demonstrated unquestionably by the fact that most textile mills are running to their fullest capacity, and many overtime. Intelligent, loyal Canadians do not need any flag waving to show them their duty in giving the preference to the home manufacturer. All that is necessary is that competition be fairly met, and at the present time it is being more than met by our Canadian industries. Without exception, Canadian-made goods may be found in every department in this store, and a great portion of the money spent here goes back into the pockets of Canadian artisans. Thirty cents of every dollar's worth is the estimated cost of labor in the production of same, and it is our policy, wherever possible, to give Canada-made goods the preference with the safety of our customers in view always.

GUARD UNNECESSARY

Col. Ogilvie Finds No Need for One on Boundary Line.

[Canadian Press.]

New Westminster, B. C., Jan. 28.—That there is no present need of guarding the boundary between the United States and Canada, as recently proposed by officers of the Canadian National Reserves, is the opinion of Col. Ogilvie, district officer commanding at Victoria.

Col. Ogilvie was recently instructed by the Minister of Militia to investigate the question of maintaining such a force, and today he officially notified C. H. Stuart-Watt, adjutant of the National Reserves, that a boundary guard is not necessary at this time.

KAISER'S BIRTHDAY PROVES GRAND TIME FOR ALLIED ARMIES

"Every German Attack Repulsed and Every French Attack Made Progress," Says Report—6,000 Germans Killed and Wounded at Craonne.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Jan. 28—2:45 p.m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official account of the hostilities, which reads as follows:

"January 27 was the anniversary of the birthday of Emperor William of Germany. Our adversaries announced for this day a very particular effort, but if it was made by them, it did not result to their advantage.

"The day was a good one for us along all the front. Every German attack was repulsed, while every French attack made progress.

"In Belgium, the positions of the enemy were shelled, and several of his trenches were demolished. To the south of Ypres the British artillery shelled the roads over which the German troops were moving, as well as the points where they were assembling.

Enemy Lost 6,000.

"In the sectors of Arras, Albert, Roye, Noyon and Soissons there was intermittent cannonading and rifle firing at various points. The infantry of the enemy endeavored to come out of its trenches to attack, but it was at once driven back by a severe fire.

"In the region of Craonne the total losses suffered by the Germans of the 25th and the 26th of January undoubtedly reached the equal of one brigade (a brigade in the German army totals 6,000 men). The German prisoners in our hands all are under the impression that they have been strongly checked.

Allies' Loss Is 800.

"Our losses in dead, wounded and missing for these two days are about eight hundred men, and they can be explained by two things: first, the severity of the fighting, and second, by a partial landslide at an old quarry, in which two companies of French soldiers had taken shelter during the bombardment.

"As was reported yesterday, these men were shut up in the quarry, and they doubtlessly were taken prisoners by the enemy. During the first part of the attack our counter-attacks resulted in bringing again into our possession all of the territory in dispute.

Six Attacks Repulsed.

"In the sector of Rheims, and from Rheims to the Argonne, there was an artillery duel, in which our heavy artillery mastered the batteries of the enemy. As was set forth in our announcement last night, three attacks in the Argonne, at Fontaine Madame, delivered at 6 a.m., 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., were completely repulsed. There was the same outcome to three German attacks in the forest of Dailly, to the southeast of St. Mihiel. Detachments of the enemy were driven back at Parroy and at Bures.

Four Hundred Yards' Advance.

"In the Vosges we have made perceptible progress to the north of Senones. On the slope of Mount Henri our advance amounts to about 400 yards. We made an equal advance to the southwest of Senones, and in the vicinity of Ban-de-Sapt, near Launois, we gained ground and broke in upon the supplementary defences of the enemy.

"We made progress also in Alsace. In the region of Aparzweiller and Burnhaupt-le-Bas the territory occupied by us was retained. Near Cernay the attack of a German battalion was repulsed.

"Judging from the number of dead found on the field of battle on January 25, 26 and 27, to the east of Ypres, at La Bassee, at Craonne, in the Argonne, in the Woevre and in the Vosges, the losses of the enemy during these three days would appear to be greater than 20,000 men."

STOPPED THE SINGING.

Paris, Jan. 28.—2:55 p.m.—An official announcement reading as follows, was given out at the war office today:

"On the heights of the Meuse, opposite the French position at Eparges, German soldiers, during the celebration yesterday of Emperor William's birthday, began singing the Marseillaise to the accompaniment of fifes and drums. A violent fire from the French troops silenced them."

GERMAN STATEMENT.

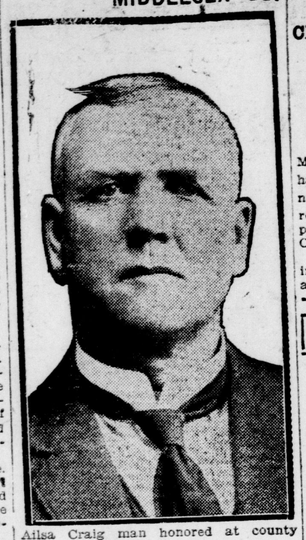

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Jan. 28.—Via London, 3:10 p.m.—The war office today gave out the following statement:

"Western Theatre of War.—The villages of Middelkerke and Klype, on the coast of Flanders, were bombarded by the enemy's artillery.

"In the heights of Craonne, another 500 metres of trenches adjoining on the east the position we captured on the day before yesterday, was taken from the enemy. French attacks were repulsed without difficulty." The statement continues claiming repulses of every French attack made.

NOT ANY SNOBBERY AMONG CANUCKS

Officers and Men Go Arm in Arm When Off Duty.

Andrew Cleghorn, of Montreal, son of Mrs. Edward Cleghorn, formerly of this city, who enlisted in the Royal Montreal Regiment, when the call came for a first contingent, has recently written the following letter exonerating the Canadian soldiers at Salisbury from many of the charges that have been laid against them in a wholesale manner:

"You ask about the reports of lack of discipline, drunkenness, etc., which reach you. I am afraid it is true that a few of our officers are worthless as officers, and also disgraced themselves in London. As to the men, during the first three or four weeks there was a great deal of drunkenness and being "absent without leave." Not surprising when you remember that in the nature of things a certain number of undesirables were included in the contingent, and that they had been closely confined, and with a dry canteen during the last part of the time at Valcartier and on the ships.

"After those first few weeks things steadied down, and discipline and conduct have since been good. From all I can learn they may be said to be extremely good, when the make-up of the force is considered. I am assured by men I have met in town and who have had opportunities of judging from the inside, that both in discipline and conduct and in equipment we now compare most favorably with the new Kitchener army.

No Snobbery Surprised.

One reason for the reports about lack of discipline is that English people were much struck and horrified when they saw for the first time officers and privates arm in arm, eating and drinking together, etc. Hundreds of us have done this when off duty, and will continue to do it. As you know nearly all of my best friends are in this contingent, quite a lot who were at McGill when I was, and many of them were officers in various regiments before the war broke out, and, of course, are now. Seeing us together rather staggered English people at first. However, they are now beginning to get a little of the same thing in their own new forces, and will in time no doubt realize that this army is different from anything the world has ever seen before, and that the old order must gradually give place to the new."

COURTS SHOULD NOT HAMPER ACTS FOR NATION'S SAFETY

Chief Justice Meredith Refuses To Release Military Prisoner.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Jan. 28.—Chief Justice R. M. Meredith has refused to release on habeas corpus proceedings, Rudolf Baernaek, a military prisoner. He was arrested for hanging around the filtration plant. In the course of his judgment, Chief Justice Meredith said:

"It should be plain to everyone that in the stress and danger to the life of any nation at war, the courts should be exceedingly careful not to hamper the actions of those expressly charged with the safety of the nation, careful among other things, not to take up the time and attention of those who should be fighting the enemy in the field, in fighting lawsuits in the law courts over private rights. It is not a time when the prisoner is to have the benefit of the doubt, it is a time when in all things, great and small, the country must have every possible advantage, when it must be the general safety first in all things always, until the final victory is won, even though individuals ma ysuffer meanwhile. Private wrong can be righted then, while final defeat would not only prevent that, but bring untold disasters to all."

BELGIAN MARVELLED

have some—a little, but not nearly so much."

"You were present during the bombardment of Antwerp, I understand?" the reporter commented.

"Ah, yes. It was a terrible time for a day and a night. My poor motor car it was smashed by a German shell. My home was destroyed. Yes, completely. That is why I am here," he added, pathetically. "It is terrible in my country. The poor women homeless, the children crying for food, or because they are lost—I can never forget it, but we shall hear all about that tonight."

Mr. Yseux carries with him many interesting military documents and other papers of great importance relating to the war, negotiations between England and Germany, and a number of proclamations issued by the German commandant in Brussels during the last few months.

German Proclamation.

The reporter was shown one of especial significance, posted in Liege on August 30, 1914, by the German commander, Lieut.-Gen. Von Kolewe. The proclamation reads as follows:

"To the Inhabitants of the City of Liege:

"The burgomaster of Brussels has informed the German commander that the French Government has notified the Belgian Government of the impossibility of their rendering them offensive assistance in any manner, as they are themselves compelled to act on the defensive."

To this statement the burgomaster of Brussels, Adolphe Max, at once posted an emphatic denial, but the next day the following notice was issued by command of the German governor at Brussels:

"Important notice.

"It is strictly forbidden also for the municipal authorities to publish any wall posters without having received my special permission.

"VON LUETTWITZ.
"German Military Governor.
"Brussels, August 31, 1914."

German Unfairness.

In this, and many other ways, Mr. Yseux points out the unfairness of the German authorities. Another interesting proclamation signed by the German commandant at Antwerp, Freiherr Von Bodenhausen, forbids the sale or reading of any literature not pro-German:

"Any person publishing, displaying, selling or buying printed matter, newspapers, pictures, etc., which have not been approved by the censor, will be prosecuted in accordance with the martial law. Severe punishment will in particular be meted out to those who are found in possession of newspapers and such-like publications with anti-German tendencies or whose contents are of a nature to excite the public against Germany. The public is warned against newspapers of this sort imported from abroad, such for instance as the Journal des Refugees."

Can't Leave Homes.

The situation of the Belgian soldiers and militiamen is very difficult, Mr. Yseux states, they not being allowed to leave their homes without special permission. A German military order dated October 7 says: "In future, militiamen must not leave their present places of residence without being specially authorized to do so by the German Administration. In case of infringement, the families of the militiamen will be held equally responsible. The militiamen in possession of orders to rejoin, or of a matriculation medal, will be treated as prisoners of war."

These interesting documents, together with many others, will be exhibited by Mr. Yseux tonight during his lecture, which will also be illustrated with lantern slides.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—General commission house buying lifted the wheat market quick today to $1 50 per bushel, May delivery. Selling was not liberal until that price was reached. Then the market became less one-sided. There were many resting orders to buy wheat at $1 49¼, with July in even greater demand. Advancing prices at Liverpool, war developments near the Suez Canal and the continued tension between Italy and Turkey were chiefly what gave impetus to the upward swing of the market. After opening ⅝c to ⅞c to 1½c to 1⅝c higher, prices receded a little, but soon showed a rally.

SUING RAILWAY FOR $4,276,667

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Jan. 28.—Foley Bros. and the Northern Construction Company, of Sudbury, railroad contractors, have entered action at Osgoode Hall against Mackenzie & Mann and the Canadian Northern Railway, under mechanics' lien proceedings, to recover $4,276,667.64, alleged due on the Port Arthur-Sudbury section of the Canadian Northern Railroad. The plaintiffs say that on November 3, 1914, they completed work to the extent of $17,578,637, of which they have received so far only $13,401,969.36. They ask for an order for payment, or in default an order for the sale of lines of the Port Arthur-Sudbury section.

Soldier Pleaded Guilty to Bigamy

G. P. Smith, Member of Thirty-third Infantry Battalion, Remanded for Sentence.

George Preston Smith, a member of the Thirty-third Infantry Battalion, recruiting here, arrested last night by Plain-Clothesman Philip W. Harpur on a warrant charging him with committing bigamy, pleaded guilty to the charge before Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today, and was remanded one week for sentence.

Smith, in court, said that he was first married in England, but that he had reason to believe his first wife was dead, so falling madly in love with Mabel Crouchford, he married her in Woodstock on August 14, 1914.

Smith's story, that he believed his first wife dead, was shattered when his worship produced a batch of letters which had been sent to the police asking them to locate her husband. In one letter the woman stated that they came to this country in 1911 a happy couple, but after a baby had been born to them, Smith deserted her. The letter also said that on August 6, 1914, Smith wrote a letter to the effect that he was going to join the contingent and leave for Halifax.

The prisoner's arrest was brought about by letters from his first wife asking the police here and at Woodstock to try and locate her husband. Smith was arrested at the fair grounds military camp by Plainclothesman Harpur.

Smith, who has been a resident of this country for some time, formerly re-

Again Refused Work On Their Own Road

25 Men Placed Names On List at the Labor Bureau, King Street, But That's All the Good It Did Them.

Yesterday morning several single men placed their names on a list at the Labor Bureau, King street, on the understanding that they would be among the twenty-five to be employed in the making of the L. and P. S. R. They had to see the foreman at 9 o'clock. This man, a Mr. Hamilton, arranged to meet Mr. Phillips. At 9 Mr. Phillips had not arrived. As Hamilton was leaving, the men, sounding him on the steps of the Labor Bureau, demanded explanation. This is what they heard:

"I have no work for you. I have made no arrangements with the city to employ you. I may want two or three men one day, and two another. I said to the city, that if they were willing to provide the men with rubber boots, and the men were willing to work in a three-sided hole, with water two feet down, and the snow blowing over their heads and down their necks, then I would see what I could do. But as for employing twenty-five, why you would bring the job to a standstill in two weeks. You can't do it: we have to work by the yard, and every yard has to be accounted for, that is why we employ the Russians. As for employing Londoners, we have had no need to. Men come to us for jobs; we haven't to seek the men. I know London is on the map, but I had no idea of conditions prevailing here till it was brought to my notice."

"When was it brought to your notice?" he was asked.

"Last night," answered Mr. Hamilton. "Had I known earlier I might have been able to do something for you. Same as I said to the city, the city had by far better give you the money than provide you with rubber for such work."

"If this work is the other side of St. Thomas, how, if we got a job, are we to get down?" was asked.

"You provide your own transportation. If we can come to some arrangement we will; if you are engaged we will give you sufficient work to buy your boots, but we can't promise you anything."

EXPECTING END OF WAR

outlay required to carry on the war, Germany and Austria together cannot much longer find the sinews of war.

Germany, it is added, cannot hope to obtain outside financial assistance.

In a conversation yesterday with the ambassador of a great power accredited to the court of St. James, a correspondent mentioned these financial predictions. The ambassador expressed no opinion on this phase of the subject, but made this remarkable statement:

Lacking Ammunition.

"I shall not be surprised to find the Teutonic powers collapsing from lack of ammunition. From the information at my disposal, I am of the opinion that Germany made only one great mistake in her preparations for this war. It was, however, a cardinal one. She underestimated the expenditure on ammunition which the contest would entail. Her preparations were enormous. My information is that the whole of the last capital loan she raised before the war was expended, not in railway construction, as was asserted, but in the purchase of stocks of ammuntion, and she employed every possible means to prepare herself in this way. Vast as the German preparations were, however, they were inadequate to the needs of this war, and there is cumulative evidence to bear out the reports that Germany is already feeling the pinch and is husbandig ammunition."

Kitchener's Wish.

In this connection, an interesting story is being told. In the early stages of the war the Germans' lavish expenditure of shells was notorious. A single motor car observed on a road back of the Allies' lines was the target for a terrific tornado from German guns. A British officer, who underwent the experience of being thus shelled, mentioned the incident to Lord Kitchener in the course of a visit to the war office. Lord Kitchener, according to the story, merely observed: "I would like to put motor cars in every road in France for them to waste their money on."

$1,000 FIRE.

Fire early today, which received its origin from an unknown cause, did damage amounting to nearly $1,000 to a barn owned by John Murray, 427 Rectory street. The fire, which started while Mr. Murray was out of the city, had gained quite a headway before it was noticed and a call sent in for the fire brigade. An automobile that was in the barn was destroyed.

ANOTHER STRIP OF BELGIUM REGAINED

Germans Celebrate Kaiser's Birthday By Losing Some Important Ground.

SACRIFICE MANY TROOPS

Enemy Seems Determined To Capture One Special British Position.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 28.—A London Daily Express dispatch, dated "On the Belgian frontier, Wednesday," to the New York Herald, says:

"The German army in Flanders thus far has celebrated the Kaiser's birthday by presenting to the Allies another strip of Belgian territory. The day, as the Emperor desired, was fraught with great significance, but not in the way he expected. As far as it is possible to ascertain on the northern frontier this afternoon, a series of strong preliminary attacks by the heavily-reinforced army of the Germans against several points on the Allies' line everywhere failed.

Want British Positions.

"The fighting, which continues today in even greater intensity, judging by the continuous cannonade heard in Belgian villages, shows the Germans still are determined to gain, by a desperate effort, at least one notable position occupied by the British, but if they continue to sacrifice troops in the same lavish manner as during the last two days in the region of Ypres and La Bassee, their losses will be very heavy and not commensurate with any possible advance.

Give and Take.

"Although strong artillery attacks during the last days of last week gave them possession of two ruined villages west of Roulers-Menin road, which had previously been occupied by the Allies' outposts for six weeks, there was a corresponding loss of ground nearer to the coast, due to exactly the same cause. They were driven from trenches near the Yser, a mile from Schaarbakke, on Monday night, by dashing infantry charges by the Belgians, which came as a climax to a long and accurate bombardment by the Allies' heavy guns, posted behind the Nieuport railway line. Their retreat was hampered by the mud and by pools of water remaining from the floods. Numbers of them were made prisoners, being unable to move quickly in their heavy coats."

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic — remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Ailsa Craig Man Named Warden of Middlesex County

John Morgan Elected at County Council Session Last Evening.

John Morgan, Ailsa Craig, is warden of the county of Middlesex for 1915.

This was decided at the third session of the county council in the county building, Wednesday night, after one of the closest and most stubborn fights in the history of the county. Although stubborn and close, the contest was barred of all bitterness.

Conservative Withdraws.

The council might have been voting yet had not Frank Boyes, Dorchester, the Conservative nominee for office, withdrawn from the contest, leaving John Morgan, Ailsa Craig, and John Stuart, Caradoc, to fight it out.

The Conservatives from the north stood behind Mr. Morgan, giving him eight out of twelve votes. This made it a tie, fifteen all. James Hodgins, representative of London Township, and who represented the largest number of votes, decided in favor of Mr. Morgan.

In the afternoon, the same deadlock that prevailed Tuesday was the order, so the council decided to wait until the evening to elect a warden.

How They Voted.

Following is the way the council voted:

John Morgan, Ailsa Craig—J. J. Poore, McGillivray; D. A. McIntyre, East Williams; R. J. Petch, Wardsville; Sam Oakes, Strathroy; J. Harris, Parkhill; John Morgan, Ailsa Craig; Frank Boyes, Dorchester; J. H. Hodgins, J. L. Robson and T. Clark, all of London Township; J. V. McVicar, Lucan; R. T. Reycraft, Biddulph; J. A. McIntyre, McGillivray, and Fred Barret, West Williams.

John Stuart, Caradoc—D. Gordon, Delaware; A. J. Blaikie, Westminster; L. L. McTaggart, Ekfrid; J. Stuart, Caradoc; T. G. Turnbull, Lobo; D. A. Graham, Caradoc; D. D. Graham, Lobo; John Currie, Adelaide; J. A. McLachlan, Glencoe; D. Smith, Dorchester; W. F. Hill, Strathroy; G. Henry, Metcalfe; Wm. Robinson, Lobo; R. Fitzgerald, Nissouri, and C. Rush, Newbury.

After the wardenship had been decided, it was finally decided that the striking committee for the year be as follows: James Hodgins, R. J. Petch, W. Reycraft, D. D. Graham, J. H. Mair, F. Barrett, R. Fitzgerald, S. Oakes, D. V. McVicar, J. J. Poore, and C. Henry.

Request for Grant.

A number of accounts were referred to the finance committee, among which was the request from the Children's Aid Society, for a grant, and police magistrate. C. W. Hawkshaw's account for $75, the expenses of running his office in Lucan.

The finance committee will also deal with the request of Lt.-Col. Robson, Twenty-Sixth Regiment, for the customary grant of 25 cents per day per man, while the men were in training. Lt.-Col. Robson declared that although a camp would hardly be held this year, yet the money could be used for recruiting purposes.

The agricultural committee will deal with the communication of Secretary A. M. Hunt, of the Western Fair board. He asked that the county send a representative to the deputation that will go to Ottawa, to ask for some assistance re building the grandstand at Queen's Park that was burnt shortly after Christmas.

The board of road directors will look into the case of C. K. Carmichael, Lucan, who alleges that one of his heifers broke its neck falling over a county culvert.

The finance committee will deal with the matter of giving a grant to the Salvation Army.

Patients Need Help.

Dr. Craig, of the Byron Sanatorium, notified the council that there were two patients in the institution that should receive help from the county.

The annual financial account of the West and East Middlesex Teachers' Institutes were referred to the education committee.

A letter from J. J. Kelso, superintendent of the Children's Aid Societies, praising the work of the society was received and referred to the finance committee as was Dr. Routledge's bill for $530 for attending smallpox patients in North Dorchester.

The education committee will deal with the resignations of J. R. McComb and D. B. McVicar, from the Lucan high school board.

The jail committee will consider the application of Turnkey McLeod of the county jail, for a $100 raise.

Grants to the Farmers' Institute and the request of Police Magistrate A. G. McKay, Ailsa Craig, for $75, office rent, were referred to the finance committee.

M. McGugan's resignation as inspector of the House of Refuge, was sent to the House of Refuge Committee.

The committees for the year will be struck at 9 o'clock this morning.

WOULD BLOCKADE N. GERMAN COAST

Suggestion of British Naval Correspondent To Wear Out Germany.

STOP ENTRY OF SUPPLIES

Commercial Blockade Would Prevent Ships Reaching Her Ports.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 28.—The Chronicle's naval correspondent, dealing with the question of international law raised by the Dacia and the Wilhelmina cases, discusses the possibility of Great Britain's declaring a commercial blockade of the North German Sea coast.

"One great object of our naval operations," says the Chronicle expert, "is to exercise compression on Germany with the hope of abridging the duration of the war. It is obvious, however, that if neutral ships should be permitted to carry great supplies of foodstuffs into German ports, as seems to be expected in some quarters, our purpose may be defeated or its accomplishment delayed.

Blockade Most Effective.

"A commercial blockade of an enemy's coast is undoubtedly the most effective way of exerting the compressive influence of sea power. We have precedent, if any were required, for blockading the German North Sea coast in our blockade of the coast from Brest to the Elbe, in 1806, and we have acted in a similar manner at other times and in other localities.

"If the whole German coast on the North Sea was declared under blockade, the enterprise of the Wilhelmina, supposing her to be bound to Hamburg, would not be possible unless she were successful as a blockade runner. There is no longer any idea of a squadron lying off the enemy's ports, as in the old wars.

Difficulties Expected.

"Many difficult questions would no doubt be raised by declaring a blockade of the German coast, but they should not prove insuperable. Difficulties have often arisen from a blockade, and they were not absent when President Lincoln, in the American Civil War, announced his intention of blockading the whole Confederate coast.

"The United States would not be likely to raise serious objections if we declared and exercised an effective blockade. To interfere with the legitimate operations of a belligerent would be an unneutral procedure of which they would not likely be guilty."

GAIETY IN BERLIN.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—7:25 p.m.—Emperor William's birthday was celebrated with enthusiasm in Berlin today, although with a degree of solemnity which would not have been expected in times of peace. A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam transmits a telegram from Berlin describing the celebration. The city was decked with flags. Members of the diplomatic corps, court officials and representatives of the state and municipal governments attended a service at the cathedral. Crown Princess Cecilie and Prince August William attended the service and were cheered enthusiastically. A reception was held later in the city hall.

LUDWIG VISITS TROOPS.

[Canadian Press.]

Amsterdam, via London, Jan. 28.—King Ludwig of Bavaria, accompanied by Gen. Baron Von Kressenstein, the Bavarian war minister, left today, according to Berlin newspapers, on a two-weeks' visit to the Bavarian troops on the western war front. MEXICAN PRESIDENT FLEES FROM CAPITAL

Will Establish New Seat At Cuernavaca—Banks and Stores Close.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Jan. 27.—Provisional President Garza and his Cabinet left the Cabinet early today for Cuernavaca, where a new seat of Government will be established.

This afternoon the last contingents of the army of evacuation are hurrying through the streets. The army of occupation lingers on the outskirts of the city, but is expected to enter soon. All the commercial houses and banks, and even private dwellings are barred and shuttered, although no disorder has attended the fleeing of the forces of Zapata and Villa.

The national palace and the federal telegraph and postoffices and other Government establishments are closed. The incoming Carranza forces are commanded by Gen. Alvarado, former postmaster here. When they enter the city it is expected that some sort of government will be established.

The decision of the Government to quit the capital came after a heated discussion at a session of the convention held Tuesday night. It was decided that President Garza, his Government and the members of the convention should proceed after midnight to Cuernavaca. Col. Garza and Gen. Ernesto Santoscoy are reported to have departed on a special locomotive.

BRITISH DEFEAT TURKISH FORCE

Shell Camps Near Karna, Driving Enemy Back in Disorder.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 27.—Defeat of a Turkish force near Karna by the British army moving in Asiatic Turkey was reported today in a foreign office dispatch to the embassy here. Previous reports said the British offensive at this point had been repulsed with heavy losses.

The Foreign Office dispatch said:

"With regard to recent statement by general official news as coming from Constantinople to the effect that British offensive against Turkish troops near Karna has been repulsed with heavy losses, the true account of these operations is now received. Reconnaissance from Mozera discovered Turkish forces to the south of Ratta Canal. Turks were driven across the canal with severe loss and the British force shelled the camps, driving the enemy back in disorder. British casualties is about fifty."

BELGIANS IN NEED OF 76,000 TONS OF FOOD

Required in Three Months—Million and Half Are Destitute.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A shortage of 76,000 tons of food for the relief of the Belgian refugees must be made up within the next three months by the commission for relief in Belgium, or many people will perish, Vice-Chairman Lindon W. Bates announced today to relief committees throughout the United States. The commission here was appraised of the inadequacy of the food supply by a cable message from London, which read:

"There are now 1,400,000 destitute, and the actual cost of administering and supplying the canteens for the destitute now is $2,800,000 per month. The number of the destitute daily increases."

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt: if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Immigration Superintendent In London Tells of Supposed German Plans.

VANCOUVER CITY NAMED

Enemies, In Uniforms, Said To Be Coming Over From States.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 28.—A London cable to the New York Times this morning says:

A remarkable statement regarding the plans of Germans in the United States was made last night by J. Obed. Smith, superintendent of immigration for the Government of Canada, in a lecture before the Farringdon Ward Club.

"Within the last week or so," he said, "reports have been current that friends of the enemy in the United States have been diligently providing themselves with German uniforms, and they are alleged to have arranged for the invasion of Canada by a swoop on the city of Vancouver, and other cities not too far inland from the international boundary."

Had Heart Trouble FOR YEARS

Weighed 87 lbs. Now Weighs 137 lbs.

Miss Beatrice Lougheed, Staples, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I had heart trouble for quite a few years. I doctored for it, and altogether my bill amounted to $400, and still no cure. One day when very sick I was lying on a couch close to where some almanacs were hanging. I took one down, and was reading about what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured, and thought I would try them. I got six boxes to start with; have only taken three boxes and I never felt so well in my life as I do now. I only weighed 87 pounds when I started to take them, and now I weigh 138 pounds. I hope all poor sufferers will be benefitted by them as I have been."

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will strengthen it and build up a strong healthy system.

THREE REGIMENTS

German columns, not less than three regiments. Again we held our fire for a time, knowing what was expected of us.

500 Killed.

"The Germans gathered on the hill and began entrenching. They did not work long. With three volleys we swept the whole of the German left flank, and in the space of thirty minutes the whole ground within reach of our guns was cleared. The German left 500 killed.

"Later the Germans tried to get around on our left, but here our Siberians met them, and within a few minutes had them on the run again. Meanwhile two German guns, which were covering the movement, were silenced by our artillery, thanks to which we lost scarcely a man."

REVENUE INCREASES.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, via London, Jan. 28—9:35 a.m.—The official report made by the ways and means committee of the Duma last night indicated that, despite the war, the Government estimates of its ordinary income from direct taxes during the coming year will exceed that of last year by 66,457,000 rubles ($33,228,500). The direct taxes will be approximately 342,465,000 rubles ($171,232,500).

This is the first budget in which the income from alcoholic drinks will be eliminated. From nearly a billion rubles ($500,000,000) from this source the Government revenue will drop to a few million rubles, which will accrue from the sale of industrial spirits.

Efficiency Increased.

The Government anticipates no difficulty in raising, by indirect taxes, a sufficient amount to cover the deficiency due to lack of revenue from the sale of liquors. Notwithstanding the great percentage of laborers in the ranks of the army, it is pointed out that the efficiency of those remaining, owing to enforced sobriety, has been increased from fifty to one hundred per cent. The natural resources belonging to the Crown, such as oil fields, coal and copper mines, woodland and prairie, which hitherto have not been exploited, have been given out in free concessions and are about to be developed, and from these the taxes, together with the land tax, it is calculated, will aggregate a total of 694,000,000 rubles ($347,000,000).

DEVELOPING BIGGER SCALE.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, via London, Jan. 28—9:41 a.m.—The battles in Galicia appear to be developing on a broader scale along the Carpathians, for a distance of a hundred miles. Both sides appear to attach great importance to the outcome. The Hungarians, it is said, have been concentrating in the Carpathian passes since December, awaiting the arrival of Bavarian reinforcements.

SEVERAL ENCOUNTERS.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, via London, Jan. 28.—The general staff of the Russian army today gave out a communication of the progress of the fighting with the Teutonic allies. It is dated January 27, and reads as follows:

"In Oriental Prussia, fighting has continued in the region of Malwischken and Lasdehnen.

"On the right bank of the Lower Vistula there took place again an artillery engagement and encounters with advance parties of the enemy. In front of this river, in the neighborhood of Skempe, we were successful in forcing back several German battalions.

Bayonets Did Trick.

"The night of January 26 and the day following, there was no important change on the left bank of the Vistula. The Germans, however, delivered frequent attacks against our front in the vicinity of Bollmow, but in every case they were driven back. During one of these engagements some detachments of the enemy, who have been successful in gaining our trenches, were dispatched at the point of the bayonet.

"Attacks made by the enemy in the vicinity of the villages of Rabskebudy and Kamion also resulted in failure.

Other Successes.

"In the course of January 26, our artillery bombarded with success the lines of the enemy and reduced to silence a German battery located at the village of Atlanka, which is near Sochaczew.

"In Galicia, the engagements are developing on a large scale. The front extends from Mount Dukla to Mount Wyszkow. On the right wing of this front we have captured 100 prisoners and two machine guns.

"In Bukowina, on January 25, in the vicinity of Waleputna, to the southwest of Kimpelung, there was an artillery engagement."

TURKS REPULSED.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, Jan. 28.—The general staff of the Russian army of the Caucasus has given out an official announcement concerning the progress of the fighting in this country, which reads as follows:

"On the morning of January 26, Turkish forces in the vicinity of Sultan-Selim, in the Tchoruk country, delivered a series of vigorous attacks on our positions, all of which we repulsed. In the vicinity of Olti, 55 miles west of Kars, the Turks, following their custom of recent days of taking the offensive, sent forward an enveloping column. This column was, however, thrown back by us and the Turks sustained heavy losses.

Active in Persia.

"In Azerbaijan Province, Persia, the activity of the enemy is increasing. It has been noticed particularly that numerous bands of Kurds, supported by regular Turkish troops, have undertaken offensive operations in the vicinity of Khoi, but they everywhere have been repulsed.

"Along the other Caucasian fronts, on January 26, the military activity was limited to rifle firing."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUPPER

Prior to the annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church last night, between 200 and 300 members of the congregation were served with a supper in the church basement by the Ladies' Aid Society.

Reports presented at the meeting showed that 1914 had been a year of progress in all branches of the church work. The church raised $11,749.69 during the year. Of this sum, the missionary committee raised $2,004.89; Sunday school, $510.44; Young Men's Club, $110; Women's Foreign Mission Society, $194.19; Women's Home Mission Society, $424.75; Proudfoot Circle, $196; Ladies' Aid Society, $220.82; revenue, $5,698.97. The annual collection was $1,557.49; the building fund, $738.72.

C. J. Jarvis, who has been a member of the board of managers for fourteen years, and chairman for seven years, and who had also served for five years as chairman of the music committee, resigned from these offices last night. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Jarvis for his many years' service to the church.

New members elected to the board of managers are: Harry Bapty, T. P. McCormick, R. G. Fisher, R. D. McDonald, Percy Millman, Dr. F. W. Hughes.

John Anderson and W. Turnbull were elected auditors.

WHY BRITAIN HAS STATES' SYMPATHY

Practice of Liberty and Freedom From Autocracy Are Taught By Former.

DEBT OWING TO BRITAIN

President Emeritus of Harvard Speaks Out At Pilgrims' Luncheon.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 28.—"All of the early practice of liberty and the teachings of John Milton about civil and religious liberty; the assurance, finally, that national efficiency can be developed to a higher degree under free than under autocratic institutions."

Such, in the words of Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, speaking at the annual luncheon of the Pilgrims, in the Whitehall Building, yesterday, is the debt we owe to Britain, the reason for American sympathy with her in her present struggle.

Letters Received.

"I have received many letters expressing displeasure at my stand in favor of the Allies," he said. "They ask me if I am an Englishman, and where I was born, and what the British pay me, and what also, we owe to Britain. So I have thought about our debt to Britain."

A memorial was then read by Dr. Manning, of Trinity Church, expressing the sorrow of the society at the death of Earl Roberts, conveying to "Countess Roberts and the members of the family the deep sympathy which it feels with them in their great loss."

Voice of the People

"Made in Canada."

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

A word in reply to Mr. A. Stevenson's letter, appearing in your Wednesday's paper.

It must be a very strong imagination that could see anything political, or even leaning toward politics, in my address to the Canadian Club the other evening.

Mr. Stevenson objected in his criticism to the Canadian Club indorsing any proposition that would boost Canadian manufacturers. My argument throughout was to increase production, not only in manufacturing, but from the farms, from the mines, from the timber lands, and as one of the best means of increasing production I recommennded the support of the "Made in Canada" campaign.

There is a special reason for this at the present time. Last year Canada imported approximately $300,000,000 more than she exported. This difference was paid in cash. Canada paid approximately $150,000,000 interest on her borrowed capital, also in cash. This amount of cash had to be borrowed, which was fairly easy last year, but how about this year, when England and France will need all their money for other purposes? For the honor of Canada these obligations must be met. Increased production or taxation is the only answer.

With Canada's natural resources her production should be sufficient not only to even up her exports with her imports, but her exports should exceed her imports to an extent that would pay the interest on her borrowed capital.

Such men as the Duke of Connaught, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir R. L. Borden, Hon. George Foster, Hon. W. Scott, Dr. Michael Clarke, M. P., Hon. W. T. White, Sir Edmund Walker, and Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor indorse the "Boost Production," "Made in Canada," and "Business as Usual" campaign. They may be wrong, and Mr. Stevenson right, but I doubt it. Yours truly,

ARTHUR W. WHITE.

East Coast Raid.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In reply to Mr. H. Cracknell's remarks in Wednesday's issue, I beg to state that when the reporter approached me with reference to this raid, I informed him that the raid was close quarters to Norwich, a fine city about fifteen miles distant as the crow flies; it is really 19 miles from Norwich to Yarmouth, by the new road, and 20 miles by the old road.

What was stated to the reporter was this: that Cromer was another affected place by the raid, and is a most aristocratic watering place, and was about the same distance from Norwich. This, I say, is correct. Then, again, with reference to the bomb being dropped at Sandringham. I didn't mention that at all, only as I know the district well; what I said was, when asked, how far the bombs were dropped from the coast, I said that from Yarmouth to the affected place in the town was about two hundred yards.

I also stated that during the herring fishing, German buyers purchased the over-day, salted herrings from Yarmouth, no mention of German packers being made at all.

I have lived in Norfolk for 20 years, and am well acquainted with the country, and I am glad that Mr. Cracknell observed the mistakes. Thanking you. Yours, etc., ERNEST MIRRINGTON.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal League, left for New York today to attend a meeting of the promoters of the proposed new minor league in the east, which is to be affiliated with the Federal organization.

"There are fifteen cities in the east which will be represented at the meeting," Gilmore said, "and all of them want a franchise in the eight-club league.

SOLDIERS APPRECIATE Y.M.C.A. PRIVILEGES

No Feature of Regular Drill More Thoroughly Enjoyed by Men of Eighteenth.

No feature of their regular drill is more thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by the men of the Eighteenth Battalion than their march to the Y. M. C. A., where the privilege has been extended them of making use of the gymnasium, shower and plunge baths, for a couple of hours before 4 o'clock each day. One company a day, two platoons at a time, enjoys this genuine boon. Never are the soldier boys in a more festive frame of mind than when they enter the Y. in orderly ranks and advance on the gymnasium. There they enjoy themselves to their heart's content, guided by attendants in performing feats of skill on the parallel bars, the horse, the buck, the travelling rings and the long rope suspended from the high ceiling. The skill in quickly travelling across the gym by means of the uncertain route of the travelling rings, as revealed Wednesday by several who made the attempt, would have done credit to trained acrobats. If their future experiences include escapes from perilous positions by means of scaling walls or climbing ropes, they are putting in a good apprenticeship. The lightning-like rapidity with which one particular Jack Canuck skinned up to the very top of the rope, awakened awed admiration.

Following the strenuous exercise, they are glad to file downstairs and have a shower and dip.

The use of reading-rooms and other privileges of the association has also been extended, many taking grateful advantage.

DECLARE AGAINST SECRECY IN MEDICINE

Penslar Druggists of Western Ontario Banquet in Tecumseh House.

A clear-cut declaration against secrecy in medicine, and in favor of publishing the full formula on the label of every remedy, was made by the Penslar druggists of this section of Ontario at a rousing dinner given at the Tecumseh Wednesday evening, of which Arthur R. Cairncross was toastmaster.

Sixty or more druggists were present, representing the principal Ontario towns west of Toronto, including delegations from Toronto and Hamilton, and visitors from Detroit.

After the toast to the King, responded to by W. J. A. Carnahan, of Toronto, Andrew R. Cunningham, a leading druggist of Detroit, outlined successful methods of operating a city store.

C. A. Lanspeary, of Walkerville, had for his subject, "Why and How I Sell the Penslar Line," which was informally discussed by many of the members.

"Our First Year's Progress in Canada" was the topic of E. H. Nelson, president of the Peninsular Chemical Company, Limited, of Walkerville. F. W. Keyser, sales manager of the company, and J. W. T. Knox, advertising manager, also spoke on selling and advertising methods.

Among other speakers were Robert Ferrah and J. H. Mackenzie, of Toronto; A. E. Drewery, of Hamilton; Alex. Stewart, of Guelph; P. T. McGibbon, of Sarnia; H. G. Hunter, of Walkerton; J. F. Roberts, of Parkhill, and W. G. Smith, of Welland.

The meeting will result in a permanent organization of the druggists identified with the Penslar line in this section of Ontario. This was not at first contemplated, but the benefit derived from interchange of ideas and discussion of methods calculated to give the public a higher order of drug-store service was so evident that steps were taken to perfect a plan of organization.

FUNNY HAPPENINGS AMONG SOLDIERS

Some funny things occur among the men who have signed up to fight Germany and to help save the earth from a plague of autocratic militarism. Reporters, alighting like bees on the most promising flowers, sip the thick honey of information, and with visions of the ogre queen bee who sits at the copy desk in the editorial rooms, hurry back to the office with the cream of the news on their copy paper. The cream of the news is collected, such as the names of the men who enlist, the pivotal facts of routine, which must first of all be had. But often the most interesting is missed.

When there is much military news to be gathered, the reporter longs to mingle with the khaki-coats and hear their human stories. Here's a man who fought with Villa, another who has had a go with the Mad Mullah, a "vet" who knows something about Sir John French (he says that the hero of Mons likes pancakes above everything else), and down the line. Outside of the rawest of the recruits, there's a story in every man if one has the chance to give the honey-collecting apparatus a chance to go deeper than usual.

In the recruiting office a lot of yarns gather. Here's a man who was noticed to be sucking his lower lip.

"Open your mouth," commands the medical examiner.

The applicant hesitates.

"Open your mouth." This time it is obeyed.

"Why, you ass! You haven't any lower teeth. Get out of here." And the tooth-shy man is in disgrace.

The recruiting officer observes that another man—a "shorty"—is trying to stand on his tip-toes. Suddenly the measuring board comes down hard on the runt's head. He gets down on his heels at once. Then he slouches out. "I could keep up with any of the big mugs. They otter form one of these bantam regiments. The little chaps can scrap."

18TH BATTALION MEN HAVE FORMED BAND

Firm Believers in Old Saying, "Music Hath Charms."

The soldiers of the Eighteenth Battalion firmly believe that music hath charms, and on Wednesday night a band was organized.

Lieut. Dillon is the moving spirit in the matter, and yesterday afternoon marched into the barracks with his arms loaded with the most varied collection of small musical instruments imaginable.

The popular lieutenant called for volunteers, and at once there was a stampede for the instruments, and then the fun commenced. The soldiers, of course, thought it only right to try out the instruments, and nearly all the most popular songs and hymns were reeled off. Of course, the funny part was that each member played a different tune at the one time, and it is safe to bet that no such music has ever been heard under a roof.

Some of the soldiers who were not fortunate in getting into the band resented the noises, and in consequence the band had to retire into the open square. Sergt.-Bandmaster Chapman then took the musicians in hand, and in a remarkably short time got the band into tip-top shape. They then marched into the barracks playing "The Soldiers of the King," and so harmonious and patriotic was the music that hundreds of the soldiers cheered them lustily. It was, indeed, a memorable night, and one which will be recalled by the soldiers in the years to come.

Today the boys went on the hike to Springbank to the glorious music of the Eighteenth Battalion Band.

WAR AFFECTS NOT BIBLE SOCIETY WORK

Neither Does It Hamper Distribution of "The Book" in All Countries.

Was has little effect on the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society, nor does it hamper the distribution of Bibles to 27 countries and in 456 separate languages and dialects.

To the Canadian soldiers, the Canadian Bible Society gave 35,000 specially bound Testaments at Valcartier, and 20,000 more are being distributed to the second contingent in camp throughout Canada at present.

A supply of New Testaments is being delivered amongst the men at Queen's Park in this city. The third contingent will be supplied when the men are mobilized.

By way of Archangel, on the Arctic Ocean, the society is sending Bibles from England, printed in the German language, for the use of German prisoners in Russia.

Every detention camp in the world is supplied. In Russia, more than a half-million copies were delivered last year.

The Bibles are sold for two-fifths the actual cost of production, and every missionary field in reformed Christendom is supplied. The three-fifths remaining in the cost is made up by voluntary contributions.

Reports of the Western Ontario Bible Society heard this week in the First Methodist Church, showed last year to be the most successful and progressive in the history of the organization. Rev. Dr. C. R. Flanders is president of the Western Ontario Bible Society for 1915.

BRIGHE GERMAN TRICK

Protest Against Sale of Anything to Allies Circulated Among Americans Abroad.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Jan. 28.—The Germans are trying to influence the peace societies in the United States with a view to preventing the sale of munitions of war or anything else to the Allies. A protest is being circulated for signature by Americans in Germany and Italy with a view to bringing pressure to bear on the Government of the United States. Professor Anderson, of Toronto University, received a copy of the protest, which is now apparently being circulated on this side of the Atlantic. It starts out: "We, the citizens of the United States of American appeal in the name of justice and humanity, in the name of neutrality and future peace to the people, to the law makers, and the Governemnt of our country, to prevent the export from our shores of one single weapon, or one pound of powder to deal death in Europe."

NOT TO DISCUSS LOAN

English Paper Denies This Is Object of Allies' Conference.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 28.—The Morning Post denies that the forthcoming financial conference of the Allies, to be held in Paris, is for the purpose of discussing arrangements for a big joint loan.

"We are strongly persuaded," it says, "that the impending conference is far more likely to be concerned with such questions as the best means for effecting international payments than with the mere question of raising loans."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Hay was coming in plentifully at 9 o'clock on the local market today. It was not thought that the price would drop in consequence of the large supply.

Half a dozen loads of oats sold at $1.84 and $1.85 per hundredweight. The demand was exceptionally good.

Live hogs have gone up 10 cents a hundredweight. The cold weather has probably been the cause of the boost in price. Dressed hog prices remain the same. The sales were fairly brisk this morning.

There was very little butter or eggs sold in the dairy hall. Saturday is practically the only day that there is any produce for sale in the hall.

Wheat is in demand at quoted prices.

Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—Futures opened unchanged. In the first ten minutes of business, however, prices were run up over former records, and at about noon May wheat was $1.45¾, and July at $1.46¼ bid.

The bullish sentiment prevailed, and responsible brokers, speaking on the subject, said it was a difficult matter to explain the basis of these conditions. There were few or no export sales here, but in the south, contracts were being fixed for August exports. Oats eclipsed wheat in record breaking, as yesterday's records were put in the shade this morning entirely. Both months opened at new records, May selling at 68¼c, and July at 67¾c. A further advance took place later.

The cash demand for Nos. 2 and 3 northern wheat was good, but offerings were light. A considerable amount of cash wheat has been sold during the last few days.

Inspections yesterday were 142 cars, as against 351 for the same day last year, and in sight today were 211 cars.

The weather was cold all over the west, 42 degrees below zero being recorded at Qu'Appelle, and 36 degrees below zero at Winnipeg.

Wheat futures closed 1¼c to 1⅜c higher. Cash wheat closed 2¼c to 2⅜c higher on contract grades. Oats closed ¾c to ⅞c up on the futures, and 1c to 1¼c up for cash. Flax closed unchanged to 1c to 1½c lower.

Cash Grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.42; No. 2 northern, $1.40¾; No. 3 northern, $1.38; No. 4, $1.33; No. 5, $1.28¼; No. 6, $1.24¼; feed, $1.20¼.

WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 28—Wall Street, 10 a.m.—United States Steel shares were again the centre of interest in today's stock market. Steel, common, declined at the opening to 43, its new minimum, a fall of 5 points from yesterday's quotation, on offerings of 1,900 shares. This was followed by another lot of 500 and several 100-share lots, all at 43. The preferred stock again sold off to within a fraction of its minimum. Other active stocks, including Pacifics, St. Paul and Reading, were lower, but the list made a general recovery after the absurption of initial offerings. The London market showed numerous advances for Americans, but refusal of the London exchange to reduce the minimum price on Steel caused the automatic withdrawal of that stock abroad.

Noon.—A tendency to break away from the industrial list was the feature of the morning session. Gains of a point from yesterday's final figures were made by many active railway shares. Coppers and Smelting rose a point, while Mexican Petroleum added 3½ points to its recent gain. Steel, common, which supplied about 20 per cent of the first hour's active business, rose ⅝ above its minimum, but was freely offered on the advance and fell back. Individual dealings in Steel were extensive, one block of 4,500 shares changing hands at a quarter-point gain. Bonds were firm.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Jan. 28.—The stock exchange was quiet, with an easier tendency, in sympathy with American securities, which are still affected by the United States Steel statement. Steel, common, touched 50, the English minimum, and dealings were practically suspended. Other American stocks sagged and closed dull.

Germans Throwing Large Bombs and Long Aerial Torpedoes.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 28.—3.40 p.m.—A recital of recent developments in the war by the official observer attached to British military headquarters given out here today, includes a description of new projectiles employed by the Germans.

"In some parts of our front the Germans are firing a new type of high explosive shell, detonating with a cloud of thick white smoke," the report says. "Their mine thrower also occasionally throws a very large grey bomb, or aerial torpedo, three feet nine inches long and nearly ten inches wide. It weighs more than 200 pounds."

MAJOR-GEN. WILLIAMS CABLES HIS RECOVERY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—A cable to the Department of Militia this morning brought word that Major-General Victor Williams, commandant of Valcartier, is recovering.

The message came from General Williams himself.

It is believed from the tone of the message received today that General Williams is well on the way toward recovery, and will be physically fit to lead the Canadian cavalry brigade to Egypt when the war office is ready to dispatch it in that direction.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

Kaiser's Message To Men of Cologne

Expects Them to Return So That "Your Girls May Be Proud."

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 28—12:45 p.m.—Telegraphing from Copenhagen, the correspondent of The Star transmits an address delivered by Emperor William to a regiment of his Rhineland soldiers. These men came principally from Cologne, and, according to the version current at Copenhagen, the Emperor said:

"I expect you Cologne boys to march into your famous old city again with your heads high, so that your girls can be proud of you. When the infantry is attacking with the bayonet and driving the enemy in front of it, it is a fine deed, but to endure artillery for months requires a special kind of courage. You have proved your bravery in this respect, and I am happy that the Cologne boys have justified the high military reputation the Rhine Corps enjoyed in the olden times."

SIX MONTHS OF IT.

IT IS six months today since hostilities commenced with Austria training her guns on Servia. Then the other nations came into conflict, and through the autumn and winter the slaughter on land and sea and in the air has continued incessantly. The detached event of each hour a few months ago would have seemed the most horrible calamity. For instance, the sinking of one great battleship in times of peace would send a shudder through the world. But today the constant slaughter and the running fire of disaster upon disaster seems to have insulated the nerves of the world.

These titanic occurrences are falling into the routine. The wars of the past have lost their tragic attraction. War could never appeal again merely as a spectacle. The wildest fancies of the writers of gory fields and human slaughterhouses, of death in the clouds and beneath the seas, of the heartlessness of the military caste, have been out-fancied by actualities. As a great panorama there is little left in the war. It is grim and ominous and ugly now. It demands the blood of many more men, and there will be places for few of them in the hall of heroes. The individual has been lost sight of.

The slaughter of the war has been estimated at almost three millions of men dead, wounded or sick. Rivers of blood is no mere figure of speech, for the blood of the soldiers who have perished would form a sanguinary stream that would float many ships.

The war has torn the world's body. What has it done for its soul? Are those who fight Germany the better for the high ideal of their cause? We believe that not only the fighting man but everyone has been benefited by this struggle of mankind to dispel the powers of darkness.

Six months of war finds the world grasping no more illusions about armed peace. All nations, even the Germans, must feel that war has had its great demonstration before civilization, and that civilization will have no more of it.

A GERMAN FLEET GONE.

GERMANY has lost 41 warships since the war commenced. In addition to this her shipping has been wiped from the seas as though by a great legerdemain.

This fleet of more than twoscore ships would have made a respectable navy in itself for some small nation. Many a nation has no greater naval equipment. The losses to Germany include everything from the fast armored cruiser to the submarine. The loss to life has been about 5,000.

Britain's losses have been serious, but Britain had inevitably to lose a number of ships, and will lose more through the craft of submarine generalship. But Germany's navy is either uselessly stored in the Kiel Canal or it is faced with the same dangers as the British fleet. And Germany has lost a good-sized fleet at least, and its losses are tremendously greater than those of our Mother Country.

THE AUSTRALIAN PREFERENCE.

THE news comes from Australia that the Commonwealth has been making some changes in its tariff. While it has raised its duties on imports from foreign countries, it has lowered them in the case of Great Britain and some of the British dominions. This would seem to be an imperial preference of a commendable kind. It should certainly facilitate trade within the bounds of the Empire and thus tend to develop an imperial patriotism. Canada might do something of the same kind, at least insofar as the British preference is concerned. A Liberal Government of Canada gave the Motherland a tariff preference. We have now a Government in power which claims to be intensely British, in fact, some of its supporters claim for it that it has a monopoly of loyalty and devotion to the Empire. There is a chance now to give a practical illustration by increasing the preference which the Liberals gave. But as many of the Conservative businessmen did not take kindly to what the Liberals did, we hardly expect Sir Robert Borden and Mr. White to exert themselves overmuch in any further development of British trade.

A peculiar feature of this Australian movement, however, seems to be that Canada is left out in the cold. No favors are shown to this country. How is this? Sir George Foster spent considerable time in Australia, made any number of speeches, and we were told had any number of interviews with the authorities on the subject of trade relations. Was all his eloquence wasted? It seems like it. Still, even without the labors of Sir George, one would think that when Australia was giving a preference not only to its neighbor, New Zealand, but also to distant South Africa, it would not forget this little Dominion of some eight million people, trade with whom ought to be mutually beneficial. Can it be that in the Pacific Commonwealth there is just a little soreness left by Canada's failure to keep its agreement in regard to the naval policy first adopted by us? The two countries agreed to commence the equipment of a navy, not only to relieve Great Britain of some part of its expenses and responsibilities, but for local protection. Especially would there have been some valuable co-operation on the Pacific. Canada on the north and Australia in the south would have been mutually helpful. Australia has fulfilled its part of the contract; and has every reason to be proud of the results attained single-handed. Canada failed to keep its agreement in this case. And Australia may perhaps have grave doubts whether contracts can safely be made with a people who prefer local politics to international good faith.

It is just possible this little slap in the face which our sister dominion has handed us may not feel as bad as it looks. The situation may be better than at first sight appears. And possibly we may hear some satisfactory explanation from Australian sources, even if Sir George Foster is unable to throw any light on the subject.

TEACHING BY MOVIES.

IT WAS inevitable that sooner or later moving pictures would be used in the public schools of Canada for educational purposes, and Winnipeg will be the first to introduce this fascinating aid to the filling of Young Jack Canuck with knowledge and information. Winnipeg plans at first to give a series of "Travellogues," the lecturers to be professors from the University of Manitoba. Nothing short of seeing the actual places will impress so vividly on the minds of the scholars the magnitude, resources and possibilities of this great Dominion. It will familiarize the children with the extent and nature of the land from coast to coast, and from the American borders to the Arctic.

But the educational possibilities of the movies are limitless. Natural science, which in recent years has become such an important item in the public school curriculum, will be one section in particular that will benefit by the films. "Safety First," too, can and no doubt will, be demonstrated by the school movies; and the lesson driven home with a force that months of lecturing could not produce. It will put a romance into "reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic," that it does not at present possess, and will hasten that glad day when to go to school will be a palpitating joy, and the truant officer will vanish from the land.

A NEW WONDER.

THE fact that the telephone, the most widely used of all the wonderful inventions of the last 50 years, was invented in Canada, makes of special interest the latest telephonic achievement, the conversing over a distance of 4,400 miles. Dr. Graham Bell, the inventor, at New York on Monday, was able to carry on a conversation with a friend at San Francisco, a distance of 3,400 miles, while President Vail, of the American Telephone Company, went Bell just 1,000 miles better, also talking with San Francisco from a point on the Atlantic coast.

Forty years ago the telephone was invented at Brantford by Dr. Graham Bell. At that time conversation could be held only at a distance of two or three miles, and it was a one-sided conversation at that. Rapidly under the patience and genius of Bell and his assistants it developed into an instrument of such general usefulness that if suddenly removed the business and social world would be thrown into a state of chaos. So common is its use that it no longer amazes, but some day perhaps some imaginative genius will see the romance in the story of the telephone, and we will realize just what a factor it has been in the progress of the nations, and the uplift of the human race.

The expansion of the talking distance to thousands of miles should be of immense benefit to Canada when the invention is brought into service generally throughout the Dominion. It will assist in the linking up of the great spaces of the Canadian West with the East, and in binding closer political, social and commercial bonds.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In that North Sea fight the German cruiser Seydlitz failed to fizz.

Up to date none of our American exchanges have declared Admiral Beatty's successes due to his having married an American girl.

Cardinal Mercier's fearless arraignment of the Germans for the Belgian atrocities is a stirring demonstration of the church militant.

The Kaiser has promised a memorial sheet for the Germans who have fallen in battle. Just now they are lucky if they get a winding sheet.

With some of the boots that have been supplied the Canadian soldiers its going to be difficult to put the best foot forward when they get on the firing line.

The Germans are boasting about the awful execution their new great gun can do when fired from Calais. But they've got to get to Calais first, and it's such a long, long way, and the gun is so heavy.

At various times the Kaiser has ordered his armies to take Paris, to take Calais, to take Warsaw. Now he orders them to take Thann. But the only place he is absolutely sure of taking is a back seat.

That German fleet turned tail and fled for home under forced draught when Beatty's squadron appeared. Under similar circumstances off the coast of Chili, Admiral Cradock closed in with the superior fleet of Admiral Spee.

THE HIDDEN PERIL TO THE SUBMARINE.

The night had fallen, the stars were clear and bright
Beneath the troubled waters rose and fell,
Danger seemed nigh, with awe they view the night,
They who in lonely vigil, guard the deep;
Yet they knew not what 'neath the tide did creep.

Wake thou weary watch, for thou must keep
Yon bright searchlights shining where
Dark shadows are, between the waves that leap
That hide the serpent there, that's poised to sting
Death to thy noble ship and thou to bring.

Her head is raised, the poisoned dart
Shoots like an arrow from the bow;
The great ship gives a shuddering start
Then rising, sinks beneath the sea
Taking a thousand souls to eternity.

MEMORIES.

[Grand Rapids Press.]

Oh, once I loved a maiden fair,
Who had a wealth of golden hair,
She was a beaut,
There's no dispute.
She ran off with a strange ga'oot
And wrecked my life right then and there.

I fell in love again, I did.
A dark haired maiden caught my eye,
Another beaut,
She spurned my suit
And hooked up with a new recruit.
I felt as though I'd like to die.

Then followed five or six years more,
And I had love affairs galore.
Each one refused,
And was excused,
But still on Romance sea I cruised,
A wondrous ocean to explore.

I knocked around from port to port,
And at each one was wont to court.
And so did you,
Yes, all of you,
If you will make confessions true.
You know you were turned down, old sport.

But then it's bound to be confessed,
We usually find the one that's best;
She's just our style
And by a mile
The kind we favored all the while,
And then we're glad we lost the rest.

"I loved her for that she was beautiful,
And that to me she seemed to be all nature,
And all varieties of things in one.
As many charmful changes had in thought
And sweet caprice as the opal hath of hues;
Would set at night in clouds of tears, and rise
All light and laughter in the morning: fear
No petty customs nor appearances;
But think what others only dreamed about;
And say what others only did but think; and do
What others dared but do; so pure withal
In soul; in heart and act such conscious, yet
Such careless innocence, she made round her
A halo of delight; 'twas these that won me;
And that she never schooled within her breast
One thought or feeling, but gave holiday to all."—P. J. Bailey.

"As the Shepherds Watched"

[London Times.]

It may be that most people will consider this account of Christmas Eve, and Christmas Day and Night in the trenches a sad thing, and a shocking contrast to that other Christmas Eve, "when shepherds watched their flocks by night." But others will think it offers incontestable evidence that the "good tidings" truly were brought by the angels, and that nothing has been able to deprive mankind since of its feeling of brotherhood. The account is taken, collected and abridged, from the blue-covered week'y edition of the Times for Jan. 8. By that time letters had been received evidently in great numbers from the trenches telling of what happened on Christmas Eve. Since the birth of Christ one sincerely does not believe that there ever has been written a narrative at once so astonishing and so moving of human nature and the power of brotherhood and Christ in war. Has this war destroyed Christianity? In Browning's words "See the Christ stand!"

Christmas in Trenches

The first letter begins by saying that on Christmas Eve things were very much as usual. "We sat round the fire all the evening, and about 11 o'clock a very excited infantry officer came along and told us that all fighting was off, and the men were 'fraternizing between the trenches.'" Earlier in the evening the Germans had shouted, "You English!; Why don't you come out?" and "our bright knaves" had replied by yelling "Waiter!" The officer who writes this letter took someone with him and walked "across a couple of fields jumped over the parapet of our first trench and went out beyond our own barbed wire." Every word is marked with the astonishment of actually having walked unscathed over ground which a few hours previously was sown with death. On Christmas morning it appeared that the private soldiers, German and British, had arranged a truce to last till 12 o'clock on Christmas night. "It was all arranged private, and started by one of our fellows going across. I think he was rather brave to be the first to do it. The men had agreed that the only forbidden thing was to make any improvement to the barbed wire. Digging, apparently, went on as usual. If, by any mischance, a single shot was fired, it would not be regarded as an act of war, and an apology would be accepted. Firing was not to be opened without due warning on both sides.

Then the colonel came, and they walked out, and a German officer came to meet them. "We all saluted, shook hands, and exchanged cigarettes. But the Germans knew no French or English, and the British knew no German. However, they were intensely polite, and there was no end of clicking of heels." "Another begged an officer on our side to send his photograph to his sister, who lives in Liverpool. I know that is true, because the officer showed me the photograph. Seems a strange idea to take a stock of one's photos on active service, but there you are."

Lack of Etiquette.

One officer in a Highland regiment was evidently much shocked at the Germans' lack of warlike etiquette. "I was horrified at discovering that some of our men had actually gone out." More exchanging of cigarettes. The private soldiers in this instance also arranged a forty-eight hours' truce, and our Highland friend remarks, "It was all most irregular, but the Peninsular and other wars will furnish many such examples." The Germans sang all night. "It was rather wonderful; the night was cold, clear and frosty, and across out lines at this usually miserable hour of the night came the sound of such tunes very well played, especially by a man with a cornet, who is probably well known."

"Christmas was a misty day, and out came those Germans to wish us 'a happy day.' We went out, told them we were at war with them, and that really they must play the game and pretend to fight. So there you are, all this talk of hate, all this fury at each other that has raged since the beginning of the war, quelled and stayed by the magic of Christmas! Indeed, one German said, 'But you are of the same religion as us, and this is the day of peace.' A staffordshire officer writes the same story. The men on both sides got out of their trenches, sat on the parapets, asked one another to sing songs, exchanged cigarettes and good wishes. The Staffordshire officer walked across and spoke to the German officer in command. "One of his men introduced us properly. He asked my name and then presented me to his officer!" Is not that a delightfully funny touch? The next day they had their photographs taken together.

The last place, the place of honor, must be given to a letter from a Belgian soldier, which will be left to speak for itself. "Christmas in the trenches! It must have been sad, do you say? Well I am not sorry to have spent it there, and the recollection of it will ever be of imperishable beauty. At midnight a baritone stood up and sang in a rich, resonant voice, 'Minuit Chretien.' The cannonade ceased, and when the hymn finished applause broke out from our side, and from the German trenches! The Germans, too, were celebrating Christmas and we could hear them singing 200 yards away from us. Now, I am going to tel you something which you will think incredible, but I give you my word that it is true. At dawn the Germans displayed a card over the trenches on which was written, 'Happy Christmas,' and then leaving their trenches unarmed they advanced singing and shouting, 'Comrades.' No one fired. We also had left our trenches and separated from each other only by the half-frozen Yser, we exchanged presents. They gave us cigars, and we threw them some chocolate. Thus almost fraternizing we passed the morning. Unlikely, indeed, but true. I saw it, but thought I was dreaming. . . . Was it not splendid? Think you that we were wrong? We have been criticized here; it is said that we ought to have fired. But would it not have been dastardly. And then why kill one another on such a festival day?"

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Not a Disciple of Russell.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I do not wish to occupy too much space in your valuable paper, but I will be glad of the privilege of replying to Layman's letter which appeared in Thursday's issue. He seemingly infers from the tone of my letter that I am an "over-zealous disciple of Pastor Russell." He thinks that because I believe the promise made by the "two men in white" to the disciples, that our Lord would come again (Acts 1:11), that I must surely be associated with "Russellism." Allow me to inform Layman that Russell's doctrines never at any time appealed to me, and never will. In the course of my ministry I have spared no effort whenever and wherever I had opportunity, in deprecating "Russellism," as being anti-scriptural and dangerous; and since Layman seeks to identify my letter with the teachings of Pastor Russell, he gives ample proof that he accuses at random, and not after careful investigation. Any honest-minded student of the scriptures, who knows anything of "Russellism" would see at once that the truth which my letter stands for and "Russellism" are as different as day is from night. Moreover, he expresses "surprise and chagrin" on learning that a "Congregational minister" should actually believe the statement made in Zechariah xiv., 9, that "the Lord shall be king over all the earth." Evidently he is not aware that many prominent Congregational divines believe and teach the same truth. This glorious truth was espoused and taught by Dr. Isaac Watts, Dr. Joseph Parker, and the world-famous D. L. Moody. It is being extensively taught today by many Congregational ministers, including that prince among preachers, Dr. Campbell Morgan, and also Dr. R. A. Torrey, the well known evangelist. That beautiful missionary hymn:

"Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Doth his successive journey's run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore,
Till moons shall wax and wane no more"

was written by Dr. Watts in view of the universal kingdom of Christ, after He returns to earth. Dr. Watts was a Congregational minister, and he longed and prayed for the Lord's coming, for he did not believe that "every knee would bow and every tongue confess" to Christ until He came to reign. If space permitted, I could refer to many prominent divines of all denominations, who, if living, would heartily indorse every word I wrote in my letter of last week. If Layman will only take the trouble to investigate a little he will find, probably to his surprise, that the truth which I have endeavored to express is nothing more than that which was believed and taught by Knox, Luther, Wyclif, John and Charles Wesley, Bunyan, Spurgeon and many more whose names are household words, and who were highly honored for their works' sake. Here are a few examples: Martin Luther said: "Some say that the world shall become Christian before the Lord comes. This is a lie of Satan, got up to darken sound doctrine."

John Knox said: "The Lord Jesus shall come, and that with expedition. What were this for but to renew the face of the whole earth, which never was, nor shall be, until the appearing of the Righteous Judge."

John Wesley said: "We are shortly to expect the calamities, one after another, occasioned by the beast—the harvest, vintage, the pouring out of the vials, the judgment of Babylon, the last raging of the beast and his destruction, and the imprisonment of Satan. The thousand years do not precede, nor run parallel with the time of the beast, but wholly follow. The thousand years bring a new, full, and last age immunity from all outward and inward evils, and an affluence of all blessings." Layman states in his letter that I reach the "limit" in my "bizarre heterodoxy" when I make the "startling and thoroughly unorthodox assertion that the gospel is to be preached among all nations for a witness, but not as a means of converting the nations in this age." It is very evident that Layman fails to appreciate the meaning of orthodoxy when he refers to my statement as being "thoroughly unorthodox." Is he aware that he is actually accusing Christ of unorthodoxy? I can point him to the original statement in Matthew, xxiv.,14, in which Christ distinctly says that "the gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world 'for a witness,' then shall the end come"; but neither Layman nor any one else can point me out a single verse in the Word of God which teaches that the world is to be converted in this present age. If he can, let him do so, and I shall promptly take back what I have said with regard to this subject. I don't suppose he is aware of the fact that for every soul won from heathenism through the preaching of the gospel, there are between 75 and 90 born into heathenism! At that rate, when may we expect the conversion of the world. One has only to glance at Layman's letter in order to see that he is no student of prophecy. He is seeking to attack a subject which he knows very little about, and if he is wise he will proceed carefully. Like many more in these "last days" he has not given dispensational truth a specific study, otherwise he could not write in the loose manner in which he has done. He is like the antedeluvian optimists who discarded God's truth about the judgment coming, but their optimism did not prevent the judgment from descending, and our Lord plainly warns us that "as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it also be in the days of the Son of Man," Luke xvii.,26. Surely, our Lord does not lie! but according to Layman's letter, our Lord's words on that subject amount to nothing. Layman speaks about being ashamed of my miserable, crimped-up idea that "Satan is still ruling this world." I wish to remind Layman that the "idea" is not mine, and I do not lay claim to it. I wonder if he is ashamed of Christ or St. Paul! I read in Matthew iv.,9, that when our Lord was tempted by Satan, He was offered the "kingdoms of the world and the glory of them," on condition that He would fall down and worship the owner. Why did our Lord not contradict Satan, and tell him that the kingdoms of the world were not His to give? Because our Lord knew that Satan spoke the truth on that occasion when he gave our Lord to understand that they belonged to Him, and he further recognizes the Satanic power when he refers to the "Prince of this World" in John xiv.,30. I do not read in the Word of that power ever being taken from Satan during this age. I wonder where Layman read it. Again, St. Paul refers to Satan as being the "god of this world" in II Cor. iv., 4, and the "prince of the power of the air" in Eph. ii., 2. He speaks about this "present evil world" in Gal. i., 4, and he reminds us in II. Tim., iii., 1, that "in the last days perilous times shall come." I never read of the order ever being reversed in this age, and Layman never read of it, either. I do not imagine, as Layman states, that we have only to pick up a newspaper in order to prove that the world is getting worse. If Layman will only read and believe his bible, he will know what it teaches about the latter days of this dispensation, and he will see, if he is not wilfully blind, that the world's condition today clearly demonstrates the fulfilment of the prophetic word. In II. Thess. ii., we read that the "man of sin," who is to deceive many, is to be destroyed with the brightness of Christ's coming. If the world is destined to be Christianized, then there would be no necessity for St. Paul's reference to the destruction of the "man of sin," and no sense in it. I am afraid Layman knows, or cares very little about "the great tribulation" that is coming after the rapture of the church. I am afraid he does not regard the appearing of our Lord as "the blessed hope" (Titus ii., 13), and the coming again of the King in "power and great glory," as the true remedy for this poor sin-cursed earth's groaning and travailing in sorrow and death. A knowledge of Daniel's "seventy weeks" and their wonderful meaning (Dan. ix., 24-27) would not only convince Layman that the ideas expressed in his letter are very much anti-scriptural, but would tend to counteract the spirit that seems to pervade it, and cause him to write in a spirit that God could bless. Layman's opinions, apart from the inspired word of God, weigh nothing with me. Scripture never contradicts itself, but the sacred page certainly does contradict most emphatically the arguments which Layman has tried to put forth. His ideas had their origin in the school of popularity and common opinion, but not in the school of truth, and when they are laid bare in the light of the inspired word, their utter emptiness and nothingness can be clearly seen. In closing, I wish to impress on Layman's mind that I am not a pessimist. The "pessimistic outlook" which he evidently thinks I entertain will apply very fitly later on to people like himself, whose hope is in "man" and not in God. My hope is in Jesus Christ, therefore, I am optimistic, and so are all who "love His appearing." It was his strong belief in this great truth that gave impetus to the missionary zeal of the late Dr. Arthur T. Pierson; the same can be said of Dr. John G. Paton, of the New Hebrides, and Dr. Hudson Taylor, of the China Inland Mission. These men were no pessimists; on the contrary, they were giants in hope, for they had faith to believe that Jesus would "see of the travail of His soul, and be satisfied." This will happen when he comes again. All who are looking for His appearing are the world's true optimists, and they shall not be disappointed, for, when He appears "we shall be like Him"; we shall live and reign with Him"; "Israel shall be restored to their own land, and to the favor of Jehovah"; the curse shall be removed from the earth, and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom (literally) as the rose"; "the wild instinct of the animals shall be (literally) changed"; "the nations shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning-hooks"; and all creation shall praise and magnify the Maker and Giver of All. This will happen when the Savior comes again, but not before. "There'll be no dark valley when Jesus comes,
To gather His loved ones home."

I heartily commend Layman to this blessed hope, and pray that the mist may disappear before his eyes, that he may behold wondrous things out of God's law. If Layman will be kind enough to furnish me with his name and address, I shall very quickly convince him that I am no disciple of Russell, but a humble believer in the truth as taught clearly in the Word of God.

I am, faithfully yours,
ROBERT STEVENSON.

Smile when you're sad,
Smile though your heart breaks,

DAILY PAGE FOR ADVERTISER WOMAN READERS

nthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Size of Pillows.

Miss Grey.—Enclosed please find stamped envelope for "How to Knit Socks", so kindly sent in by "Old Country Woman" and "Railroadman's Wife." I certainly appreciate such kindness, as I know it must have been quite a task to write out instructions. I do not understand instructions I will take advantage of "Old Country Woman's" kind offer, and write to her. Would you please enclose her address, Miss Grey? Now for one question: What is considered the correct weight and size to make feather pillows for bed?

I still sign myself,

"ONE ANXIOUS TO LEARN."

Ans.—1. The instructions are gladly sent you; also some sent by "English Snowdrop." I sincerely hope you may be rewarded by "learning how."

2. As to the pillows, some prefer large, others small sizes. Pillow casing generally comes in 42 or 44-inch widths. The pillow-case should be made sufficiently large to admit shrinkage in the cotton. A good size for the pillows is 20-27 inches, and a pound and a half of feathers.

Has Learned To Love.

Dear Miss Grey.—Will you please answer a couple of questions for me.

1. Please give a prescription for taking blackheads out of my face.

I. A boy friend of mine has been writing to me for some time, he knew me when I was small and about six months ago he started to write to me and, of course, I answered, and we have been corresponding ever since. He told me in his last letter that he had learned to love me through writing to me. Do you think I should let him go on writing letters to me concerning his love for me since I don't remember him very well?

Thanking you kindly,

"DIMPLES."

Ans.—1. These dirty-looking little black spots come more often than not from negligence in the matter of ablutions. Women who use a complexion brush, or who scrub their faces regularly with a Turkish washcloth and mild soap and warm water, very seldom are bothered with them. After washing the face well, as indicated above, dry, and rub in any good cold cream that agrees with your skin. Massage it in well around the nose. A few such treatments on successive nights ought to soften the blackheads so that they will yield to pressure.

Never attack blackheads with the fingernails or the round of a watch-key, for the harm you can do in this way may take days to remedy. Take a soft, clean handkerchief and fold it several times loosely, so that it will form a pad under each thumb ball. Then gently force out the "worm," and dab with cold cream. In the morning dash plenty of cold water over face and neck.

2. Well, Dimples, seems to me the best thing to do is just to be frank; you can't ... end a love you do not feel—or at least you ought not to. Write and tell him that as yet you do not return his affection, and that you cannot quite feel sure that it is possible for him to love you just through writing. Say that if he willing to keep up the correspondence on a friendship basis, you will be pleased to.

Re Dying Fur.

Dear Miss Grey.—This is my first visit to the "Mail Box." I enjoy reading your column very much. I have tried several recipes given, and have found them just splendid. Would you kindly give me some information on the following questions:

1. Could you or any of your readers suggest a good dye to use for dying a grey Persian lamb fur? I have a set I would like colored black. Do not care to send to the furriers. Would the dye be injurious to the fur skin? Please tell me how to dye it and what dye to use.

2. What dye to use for a serge skirt I would like colored black?

3. I am to recite at an Epworth League concert in our church. Would very much like to get a good recitation. Humorous, and still all right for a church. Kindly let me know through your column and will send a stamped envelope for same, if too long to print.

Sincerely trust this letter won't reach the W. P. B. or give you any trouble. Will come again with some hints. Wishing you every success, I remain yours, "AGGIE."

Ans.—1. Will some one who has tried dying fur at home please tell us if they had success, and just how they proceeded.

2. I should think any good package dye would answer nicely for this, as serge usually colors well.

3. Request referred to readers. Shall be pleased to send same to "Aggie" if any are received.

The Head and Neck.

Dear Miss Grey,—Trust this might be of some use to "Troubled and Anxious Mother." A sure cure for killing nits; it's very simple, but genuine. Take very strong vinegar and wash the head and saturate the hair for ten to fifteen minutes, and you will find all traces of life gone. This has been thoroughly tested by a medical doctor whom I know, and he watched the results with a strong glass, and found that it killed every vestige of life. Yours truly,

AN ONLOOKER.

Here is a story I heard some time ago: One evening a husband and wife and family were sitting around the tea-table. Some of the family were wanting to go out to a party, but the father objected. The mother gave them a little pity, but the father said, "I am the head of the house, and what I say is law." But the good mother said, "Never mind, I am the neck, and I can turn the head any way I want it." And I really think some of your readers need to be the neck to manage these queer husbands. Don't you agree with me?

Ans.—This is indeed an amusing incident; what do our readers think? Surely a very apt simile!

Nut Bread Recipe.

Here is the recipe I could not find yesterday.

Three cups of flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, tablespoon shortening, scant cup sweet milk, cup chopped walnuts, mix all well, turn into a loaf tin, let stand 20 minutes, then bake rather slowly for an hour or so.

Some Tested Recipes.

Dear Miss Grey.—Here I come again. I am sending you some more recipes, one called marble cake. MRS. O.

Light part—¼ cup butter, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup sweet milk, 1 cup flour, whites of 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Dark part—¼ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup molasses, ¼ cup sweet milk, ¾ cup flour, yolks of 2 eggs, 1 large teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon each cloves and cinnamon.

Spice Cake—3 eggs, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup buttermilk, 2½ cups flour, 1 cup raisins, ¾ cup meat of frytngs, 1 teaspoon soda, cloves and cinnamon to taste.

Dark cake—Yolks of 2 eggs, 3 dessert spoons of sugar, two-thirds cup syrup (dark), 1½ cups flour, two-thirds cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon soda. When making, beat the eggs, sugar, syrup and flour together. Put the soda in a cup and pour the boiling water over it.

Chocolate cake—Grate 2 tablespoons chocolate in a basin, add a little water, just enough to dissolve, set on stove and boil for a minute, then add ¾ cup sugar and 1 cup water, lump butter size of a walnut; return to the fire again and when nearly boiling add yolks of 2 eggs beaten with 2 tablespoons cornstarch and a little salt. Beat white for top with a little sugar and lemon.

Ans.—More splendid recipes! Mrs. O., I have forgotten your address, but if you send it again, will mail you the song you wish; it has already appeared.

One for "Finis."

Dear Miss Grey,—Just to thank you very much for the advice on baby clothes, it is a big help to me. Is there anything so dear as a little baby? I don't think there is. Well, I will send in a good recipe for marmalade; it is good and cheap, only takes 1 orange and 1 lemon. Can anyone help me. My gas oven is very black and can't get it off, can anyone tell me how to get it off and what to put on it so it won't get like it again?

2. Can anyone tell me what way one can use up cold oatmeal porridge? There is a way but have forgotten. Will send recipe later. Hoping am not too much bother, yours truly,

GREENHORN.

P.S.—My, that must have been a dreadful person to write you such a letter for our dear page. They ought to go to the front and get that cranky feeling shot out of them. I am sure we all love the C. Grey page. I don't know what we would do without it.

Ans.—I hardly know just what you mean by the oven turning black; do you mean inside or out? Some clean their ovens with soap and water, dry them thoroughly, turn the heat on a little to remove any dampness, and later, when cool again, paint with aluminum paint. Would this help yours?

2. Perhaps this is the method you wish: Pack the left-over porridge into an oblong dish; when quite cold and solid, cut in slices; dip in beaten egg, roll in cracker crumbs, and fry, may be served with syrup, same as pancakes.

Parents Go Too.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, this is my second visit to you but I hope I am not presuming on your generosity. However, I hope you will kindly answer my questions.

1. I am 15 years of age and am in the third form in high school. Do you consider me far enough advanced for my age?

2. Should a girl of 15 go to a dance? I mean an informal affair, and very near home? Of course, accompanied by her parents.

3. What is the meaning of the following names: Lucy, Agnes, Anna, Marie, Marguerite?

4. I think a girl of 15 is too young to go with a boy. Do you agree with me, Miss Grey?

5. Could you give me a good recipe for maple cream?

Well, hoping I have not taken up too much space, I remain.

A DUBLIN GIRL.

Ans.—1. Yes.

2. Yes, go and enjoy yourself.

3. Lucy, day-spring; Agnes, pure; Anna, grace; Marie, bitterness; Marguerite, a pearl.

4.—I do.

5.—Maple Cream—Two tablespoons maple syrup, two cups yellow sugar, one-third cup milk, small lump butter. Boil all together until a soft ball is formed when dropped into cold water. Stir the candy frequently to prevent sticking. When done, remove from fire, add nuts meats if desired, and beat the candy until smooth and creamy. Pour out onto buttered pans.

Fourteen Too Young.

Dear Miss Grey.—Here I am to bother you, but this being my first letter to you, I guess you won't mind. I enjoy the songs and recipes very much; I also enjoy reading letters written by 16-year-old girls. There are lots of girls who have boys' company when they are 14. Now when is the right time to start going with a fellow? When they ask if they can see you home, what could you say if you wanted them, and if you didn't want them?

2. What does Grace, Louise, Alice, Agnes, Nellie and Marion mean?

3. Is it right to correspond with a boy friend whom you had only known merely two weeks?

Please answer in The Advertiser as quickly as possible, and oblige

MUDDY.

P.S.—Here are some recipes I think are very good. Potato Salad—Boil eight potatoes in their jackets and do not peel until cold. Slice the potatoes in a dish and add an onion which has been in boiling water for five minutes; mince it fine first, season with salt and pepper, and pour five tablespoons of oil and two of vinegar over them; toss and turn and then cup up a few beets in it.

A Cheap Candy—Two cups brown sugar, enough milk to moisten, 1 teaspoon vinegar, butter half size of an egg, pinch of salt; boil well and then add nuts and flavoring.

Answer soon by The Advertiser.

MISS SMUDGE.

Ans.—1. When, indeed? What does your mother say? If I were she, I certainly should not want my little fourteen-year-old girl to be thinking so much of the boys. Better pay attention to your studies for a couple of years, and after that you will have heaps of time to think about beaux.

2. Grace, favor; Louise, feminine of Louis, which means bold warrior; Alice, a princess; Agnes, pure; Nellie, light; Marion, French form of Mary.

3. Hardly, on so short an acquaintance.

The best tea in the world comes from the hill-top gardens of Ceylon and India. The best products of these gardens are in turn selected for Salada. It contains no cheaping dust, stems or coarse leaves.

Old Songs and Poems

"IF I HAD KNOWN."

[Sent by "Salford."]

If I had known in the morning
How wearily all the day,
The words unkind would trouble my mind,
I said when you went away—
I had been more careful, darling,
Nor given you needless pain,
But we vex our own, with look and tone;
We might never take back again.

For though in the quiet evening
You may give me the kiss of peace,
Yet it might be that never for me
The pain of the heart would cease.
How many go forth in the morning,
That never come home at night;
And hearts have broken at harsh words spoken,
That sorrow can ne'er set right.

We have careful thoughts for the stranger,
And smiles for the coming guest;
But oft for our own the bitter tone,
Though we love our own the best;
Ah, lips with the curve impatient,
Ah, brow with that look of scorn,
'Twere cruel fate were the night
To undo the work of the morn.

Want Style? Then Carry Your Head Gracefully!

Lessons from Irene Hough's Beauty (the Most Beautiful "Hello Girl" In America).

Irene Estelle Hough

THE GIRL WHO CARRIES HER HEAD GRACEFULLY IS ALWAYS CALLED STYLISH.

[By Idah McGlone Gibson.]

The girl who carries her head gracefully is always called stylish. But to carry your head gracefully means much more than moving that part of your body that is above your throat.

To carry your head gracefully you must stand correctly. Have you noticed that, since the "Venus slouch" has come in, no girl carries her head gracefully.

It is usually droopy, with the chin thrust forward. If you will stand on the balls of your feet and look out straight in front of you, you cannot help carrying your head gracefully.

People who make a practice of reading character from the face take great stock in the way the head is carried. If it is droopy, with the chin thrust slightly out, they say it means that the person lacks initiative, but is, withal, a bit stubborn.

If the head is held high and the chin back, the person will probably be found egotistical and self-centered.

If the head leans a little to one side, it suggests a variable nature. If it is thrown back, with the chin well up, you can suppose the person to be very aristocratic and snobbish.

However, I will cite you one exception that proves the rule.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth has this carriage of the head, and it has been often commented upon by acquaintances. It seems, however, that Mrs. Longworth has a trouble with her eyes and carries her head in that way to help her vision.

WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB GIVES SIXTH RECITAL

Interesting Program of Music Delivered By Members Yesterday.

A large attendance marked the sixth recital of the Women's Music Club in the Normal School yesterday afternoon, when the program, arranged by Mrs. C. B. Hunt, was composed of American and modern music. The opening numbers, "Spring Song" and "Caprice," were given a beautiful rendition by Miss Dorothy Harvey. Another pleasing selection heartily accorded the applause which it deserved, was the duo, "Pas Des Cymbales," by Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Harris Elliot. The two soloists, Miss Eggleston, and Miss Mitchell, were in excellent voice. Miss Shirley White was in charge of the Current Events, a feature which proved most interesting. Owing to illness, in each instance, two numbers to have been given by Arthur Mitchell and Mrs. A. C. Paterson, were necessarily omitted. The complete program contained the following:

(a) Spring Song .....(Mason)
(b) Caprice .....(Foote)
Miss Dorothy Harvey.

Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Harris Elliot.

(b) Selected .....
Miss Eggleston.

(b) Badinage .....(Victor Herbert)
Miss Mitchell.

A teacher in one of the public schools of Toronto, after telling some young pupils about the appearance of the angels before the shepherd's of Bethlehem, asked them if they knew what the angels were singing. One of the children promptly replied: "God Save the King."

Silicus—That girl I'm engaged to is awfully extravagant.

Cynicus—Well, there are two ways to overcome that. Either break the engagement or get rich.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues, and leads to consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is so successful in the treatment of catarrh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB WILL PROCEED WITH "OLD LINEN" PLAN

Club Has Decided to Send Consignment to Northern France Hospital.

Having been assured by the publication of the credentials of Dr. Brown-Landone, that it will be wise to proceed with the work of collecting linen and cotton, new and old, and other hospital supplies for Northern France, the members of the Women's Canadian Club, whom Dr. Brown-Landone addressed last week, are entering into the task most enthusiastically. Quite a quantity of old linen and cotton has already been donated, together with several webs of new. This will be made up into bandages, handkerchiefs, etc., as soon as possible, and shipped direct to John Osborne, American consul at Havre, who will attend to their transportation to the hospitals in question. The nurses of Victoria Hospital alumnae are assisting in the work of bandage-rolling.

Any donations of old linen or cotton or money to purchase cheesecloth may be sent to Mrs. A. T. Edwards, 133 Oxford street, or parcels may be left at Hyman Hall on Tuesdays and Fridays, addressed to the Hospital Supply Committee.

Interesting Lecture Tonight.

At the lecture to be given tonight in the Masonic Hall on "Belgium, Her People, Art, and Architecture," Miss Lula Laymon will sing the Belgian song, composed by Rev. R. W. Norwood, and set to music by Mr. A. D. Jordan. The lecture, which is given under the auspices of the Arts Club, should attract many Londoners, as it is delivered by a Belgian lawyer, Victor Tseux, of Antwerp, in aid of the relief fund.

The Joy of Good Health Is Now Experienced

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Sleeplessness Are Now a Thing of the Past.

This is a cheerful letter from Mrs. Peacock, and it should bring joy to the heart of many a reader of this paper. Dizzy spells and sleeplessness are symptoms of exhausted nerves, and are the bugbear of many women, who do not know just what treatment to use. You can read Mrs. Peacock's letter and take courage, for she has proven that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a complete cure for these troub's. So pleased was she with the results obtained that she wants other women to know about this food cure.

MRS. PEACOCK.

Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 26 Hiawatha street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states: "I was quite run-down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well, and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally, so that today I feel that I am quite well again."

THE KEEP-WELL COLUMN.

WHOOPING COUGH, CHILD SCOURGE, OFTEN UNDERESTIMATED BY PARENTS!

WHOOPING COUGH.

In most places whooping cough causes more deaths than either scarlet fever, measles or smallpox.

Keep Well

Whooping cough is nearly always underestimated in its importance by parents until it is too late for help.

The high mortality rate from this disease is caused mostly by its after-effects rather than from the disease itself. Children are more in danger of death from whooping cough than are adults.

Because it begins with a cold and displays many of the symptoms of grippe, whooping cough creeps into the victim before its presence is suspected.

Parents can scarcely do better than follow this advice given out by the Michigan State Health Board (an organization which has closely studied the disease):

"Inasmuch as whooping cough, when uninfluenced by treatment, runs a course of two or three months, an average of ten weeks, and is spread by those also with it before the "whoop" appears, it is important that the first symptoms be generally known, in order that its restriction shall be most complete.

"The first or catarrhal stage resembles an ordinary cold. The symptoms are a cough, usually rather severe, with a tendency to become paroxysmal, sneezing, sometimes watering of the eyes, and often a slight fever. Restlessness, with a loss of appetite, and increased thirst, usually accompany these symptoms. It is often necessary to wait for the second stage, which is characterized by the "whoop," before the disease can be distinguished.

"When whooping cough is prevalent in a community any child or young person suffering from a severe cold, with a cough inclined to be paroxysmal, should be isolated and kept so until the character of the trouble is fully determined."

Providing there are no complications, fresh air in plenty is the watchword for children afflicted with whooping cough.

Patients should be well clad at such times—heavy enough to prevent all possibility of chilling and light enough to prevent overheating in play.

But as long as the child has fever or is weak it should be kept in bed.

Shovelling snow is an excellent, though not a very popular, remedy for dyspepsia. If there's no snow to shovel in your part of the country swing an axe for awhile every day or run a footrace or join a bowling club.

Exercise will aid digestion, and if your digestion is all right you won't need a dyspepsia cure.

As far as his own duty was concerned, the Sergeant felt no doubt. Whatever might be the cause, there was no question in his mind but that she was fully justified in her action. Disliking the Lieutenant from the first, and as strongly attracted by the girl, his sympathies were now entirely with her. If one had shot him, then it was for some insult, some outrage, and he was ready to protect her with his life. He stopped, glancing back at the closed door, tempted to return and ask permission to interview Gaskins personally. Then the uselessness of such procedure recurred to him; the fact that nothing could result from their meeting but disappointment and recrimination. The man evidently disliked him, and would resent any interference; he had something to conceal, something at stake for which he would battle strenuously. It would be better to let him alone at present, and try to uncover a clue elsewhere. Later, with more facts in his possession, he would face the Lieutenant and compel his acknowledgment. These considerations caused him to turn sharply and walk straight toward the ravine. Yet his investigations there brought few results. On the upper bank a slender footprint was clearly defined, but the lower portion of the ravine was rocky, and the trail soon lost. He passed down behind the stables, realizing how easily the fugitives, under cover of darkness, could have escaped. The stable guard could have seen nothing from his position, and just below was the hard-packed road leading to the river and the straggling town. There was nothing to trace, and Hamlin climbed back up the bluff completely baffled, but desperately resolved to unlock the mystery. The harder the solution appeared the more determined he became to solve it. As he came out, opposite the barrack entrance, a carriage drove in past the guard-house, the guard presenting arms, and it circled the parade in the direction of officers' row. It contained a soldier driver and two ladies, and the Sergeant's face blushed under its tan as he recognized Miss McDonald. Would she recognize him—speak to him? The man could not forbear lifting his cap as her face as the carriage swept by. He saw her glance toward him, smile, with a little gesture of recognition, and he stood there bareheaded, his heart throbbing wildly. With that look, that smile, he instantly realized two facts of importance—she was willing to meet him on terms of friendship, and she had not recognized him the evening previous as he ran past her in the dark.

Hamlin, his thoughts entirely centered upon Miss McDonald, had scarcely noted her companion, yet as he lingered while the carriage drew up before the Major's quarters, he seemed to remember vaguely that she was a strikingly beautiful blonde, with face shadowed by a broad hat. Although larger, and with light fluffy hair and blue eyes, the lady's features were strangely like those of her slightly younger companion. The memory of these grew clearer before the Sergeant—the whiteness of the face, the sudden lowering of the head; then he knew her! Across the chasm of years her identity smote him as a blow; his breath came quickly and his fingers clenched.

"My God!" he muttered, unconsciously. "That was Vera! She has changed, wonderfully changed, but—but she knew me. What, in heaven's name, can she be doing here, and—with Molly?"

With straining eyes he stared after them until they both disappeared together within the house. Miss McDonald glanced back toward him once almost shyly, but the other never turned her head. The carriage drove away toward the stables. Feeling as though he had looked upon a ghost, Hamlin turned to enter the barracks. An infantry soldier leaned negligently in the doorway smoking.

"You're the sergeant who saved that girl down the trail, ain't yer?" he asked indolently. "Thought so; I was one o' Gaskins' men."

Hamlin accepted the hand thrust forth, but with mind elsewhere.

"Do you happen to know who that was with Miss McDonald?"

"Didn't see 'em, only their backs as they went in—nice-lookin' blonde?"

"Yes; rather tall, with very light hair."

"Oh, that's Mrs. Dupont."

"Mrs. Dupont?" the name evidently a surprise. "Wife of one of the officers?"

"No, she's no army dame. Husband's a cattleman. Got a range on the Cowskin, south o' here, but I reckon the missus don't like that sorter thing much. Lives in St. Louis mostly, but has been stoppin' with the McDonalds fer a month or two now. Heerd she was a niece o' the Major's, an' reckon she must be, er she'd been gone all right."

"Gaskins?"

"Sure; he's a lady-killer, but that's 'bout all the kind o' killer he is, fer as I ever noticed—one o' yer he-flirts. That ain't hardly an officer in this garrison that ain't just achin' fer ter kick that squirt, but ther women—oh, Lord! they think he's a little tin god on wheels. Beats hell, don't it, what money will do fer a damn fool?"

Hamlin stood a moment silent, half inclined to ask another question, but crushed back the inclination. The he walked down the hall to the quarters assigned M troop, and across to his bed in the far corner. There were only a few of the men present, most of whom were busily engaged at a game of cards, and he sat down where he could gaze out of the window and think. Here was a new complication, a fresh puzzle to be unravelled. He had never expected this woman to come into his life again; she had become a blurred, unpleasant memory, a bit of his past which he had supposed was blotted out forever. Mrs. Dupont—then she had not married Le Fevre after all! He dully wondered why, yet was not altogether surprised. Even as he turned this fact over and over in his mind, speculating upon it, he became aware of a man leaving the rear door of McDonald's quarters, and advancing back of officers' row towards the barracks. As the fellow drew near, Hamlin recognized the soldier who had been driving the carriage. A moment later the men entered the room, spoke to the group of card-players, and then came straight across toward him.

"Sergeant Hamlin?"

"Yes."

"I was asked to hand you this note; there is no answer."

Hamlin held it unopened until the fellow disappeared, hesitating between hope and dread. Which of the two women had ventured to write him? What could be the unexpected message? At last his eyes scanned the three short lines:

"You recognized me, and we must understand each other. At ten tonight ask the clerk of the Occidental.—V."

CHAPTER XVI.

The Melting.

Hamlin's first impulse was to ignore the note, trusting his position in the ranks would be sufficient barrier to prevent any chance meeting, and believing his stay at that garrison would be only a brief one. Sheridan was evidently preparing for an early offensive campaign, and it was rumored on all sides that the Seventh Cavalry had been selected for active field service. Indeed, the urgent orders for the consolidation of the regiment from scattered posts must mean this. Any day might bring orders, and he could easily avoid this Mrs. Dupont until then. Except for a faint curiosity, the Sergeant felt no inclination to meet the woman. Whatever influence she might have once exercised over him had been thoroughly overcome by years and absence. Even the unexpected sight of her again—seemingly as beautiful as ever—had failed to awaken the spell of the past. It was almost with a thrill of delight that Hamlin realized this—that he was in truth utterly free of her influence. There had been times when he had anticipated such a possible meeting with dread; when he had doubted his own heart, the strength of his will to resist. But now he knew he stood absolutely independent, and could laugh at her wiles. She who had once been all—trusted, loved, worshiped with all the mad fervor of youth—had become only a dead memory. Between them stretched a chasm never to be bridged.

How To Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. Two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents' worth), pour into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 5¢ cents, 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly-concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Company, Toronto, Ont.

To Remove Blackheads

Sprinkle a little Fo Theoline (procurable at any drug store), on a hot wet sponge, and rub briskly over the affected parts. Then rinse and note how the blackheads have disappeared. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this method. ywt

STRATFORD TRIPPED UP ON WESTERN'S GOOD PLAYING

Local Students Won Northern League Fixture by Score of 10 to 3—Ran Up Big Lead in First Period.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

Western University intermediates again showed to advantage at the arena last night, when they trimmed the Stratford seven in a Northern league contest by the score of 10 to 3. The game was not as one-sided as the score would lead one to believe. Western in the last ten minutes of the first half, suddenly was struck with a mania to score goals and for a time, the visitors, were powerless to stop them. At half time the local students were heading the scoring by 7 goals to 1. The second period was more closely contested and was really the best session of the two. The visitors came to life and played a much better game, holding Western to three goals, while they scored two.

Slim Attendance.

Only a small crowd turned out to witness the game. The exhibition of hockey dished up deserved far better patronage. The local team is playing nice hockey at present, and it still has a chance to bring home the championship of its Northern League district. Last night, it demonstrated that it would put up a good fight before the title was finally settled. As in the game against Ingersoll on Monday night, Western did most of its scoring in the early part of the pastime. Stratford got the first goal of the game in the first minute of play, but during the remainder of the period, the Class city aggregation was very much to the bad in as far as goal getting was concerned.

Forward Line Worked Well.

The game was a clean and well played one with close checking predominating. Western worked some good combination at times, while the visitors also showed flashes of team work. Individual rushes, however, were used to good advantage. Western's forward line played a strong game and the defence looked as good as in any game this season. Ritchie, Edwards and Arthurs accounted for most of the goals London scored, McAvoy being checked so closely to be as effective as he usually is. Ritchie is showing up splendidly at centre every time out and he bores in on the nets, takes passes in front of the goal and plays combination. Arthurs' works like a war horse on the wing, and although he had a hard man to check, he showed up to splendid advantage.

Gus. Edwards did not exert himself as hard as he would have had the game demanded it, but nevertheless he was on the job on frequent occasions, and his stick was just as deadly as ever. He shot two or three goals and assisted in the scoring of a couple more.

Stratford Gets First Goal.

Lowe lifted the lid in the first minute of play when he batted the puck past Chapman from a mix-up. A minute or two later McAvoy notched one for Western, but it was disallowed owing to an off-side. Edwards got Western's first when he scored on a neat shot after eight minutes of battling. Johnny Ross made it two for Western five minutes later on a rush and soon after Edwards notched his second, making the score 3 to 1 in Western's favor. From then on until the end of the period there was a regular riot of goals. Bart had a busy ten minutes in the nets, while the Stratford defence had a lot of work to do. Arthurs notched the fourth on a shot from the boards, after rushing down the wing with the puck, and three minutes later Ritchie took a pass from Edwards in front of the nets and shot the disc into the twine, counting number 5. In 30 seconds more Ritchie again scored on a shot from the wing which caught Bart napping. Arthurs secured the last goal of the half when he made a beautiful zig-zag run down the boards and shot into the corner of the nets.

Visitors Perk Up.

Stratford came back strong after the intermission period. They have the reputation of playing their best game in the last period, and last night they lived up to it. They set a fast pace for Western, but the locals were equal to it. There were times when the collegians were temporarily on the run, but this happened rarely. After two minutes of last work, Lowe scored for Stratford on a lone rush. Stratford kept on after another goal, and the same fast pace was maintained. However, the visitors displayed little or no combination, and Chapman's good work between the goal posts figured in keeping the score down. Varner scored what proved to be the last goal the Classic City septette got. He rushed and shot from 20 feet out. The shot was low and close to the ironwork. After eleven minutes of play Gus Edwards started the scoring again in the second period. A minute later Ritchie helped things along by making one of Arthurs' slow shots into a fast one in front of the nets. Arthurs shot and Ritchie pounced on the puck about the time it reached Bart and poked it in. The final goal of the game was also due to Ritchie's good work in front of the nets. He took a pass from Edwards and shoved it out of Bart's reach and into the goal. The last ten or twelve minutes of the game produced some fast hockey, but good goalkeeping prevented any scores for either team.

Baker Comes Back.

For the visitors, Varner, Lowe, Baker, Boles and Bart were the most noticeable ones. Stratford possesses a heavy team that plays clean hockey. It also shows speed and stick handling ability. Frank Baker, who has been playing hockey for lo, these many years, showed glimmers of his old-time form at intervals. There is a lot of hockey left in him yet.

The game was handled by Jack Shea, of Palmerston. He let a lot of things get away from him in the heat of the play, but on the whole his work was satisfactory. He kept the boys playing good hockey, and that is the main thing. The line-up:

Baker	L. Defence	Ross
Varner	Rover	McAvoy

CURLING NOTES

The weekly bonspiel of the London Curling Club will be held in the Thistle rink this afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock and continuing in the evening. The prizes will be donated by Mr. Hutchinson.

On Friday afternoon, three London club rinks will go to Strathroy for a friendly match.

On Monday next, the London City bonspiel will open at the Thistle rink. Entries for this event are pouring in daily and it promises to be as successful this season as in previous winters.

Monday evening, the London Thistle tankard rinks will go to Toronto to play in the tankard finals.

TORONTO GRANITES VISIT THISTLE RINK

Lose Afternoon Match, But Win in Evening.

BOTH MATCHES CLOSE

Local Clubs Were Two Shots Up in Afternoon, Three Down at Night.

The local curling clubs entertained six rinks of Toronto Granites at the Thistle Rink last night, beating the visitors in the afternoon games by two shots, and losing the evening games by five shots, the Granites being up three shots on the day's play.

The games in the afternoon were keenly contested and exciting. The match was practically won by a draw shot of W. T. Strong's, whose rink was several shots down with one end to play. The visitors needed four shots to win out on the match, and they lay four when Skip Strong started his last stone. It was a beautiful draw and cut-in for shot, giving London a slight margin of two shots on the six games.

In the evening each club won two games, but the visitors won by larger margins than the local rinks.

The Granites captured the Carew cup from Sarnia on Tuesday night. They also played in Windstor and Detroit on Monday, and won their games in those places. They left for Toronto last night.

OTTAWAS AND WANDERERS CAME THROUGH WITH WINS

Senators Ran Away From Quebec, While Wanderers Outclassed Shamrocks — Torontos Beat Canadiens.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—The Ottawas struck a scoring streak in the second period of tonight's N. H. A. game and defeated Quebec by a score of 7 to 2. They did not have to exert themselves after the first period. In the opening session Quebec made a game attempt to stay with the Senators, but they were outskated and Ottawa led at the interval by 2 to 1. In the second period, with Ross on the defence and Duford on the line, the Ottawas played Quebec to a standstill, scoring five straight and leading by 7 to 1 when the third period began. They played a safe defence game in the final period, and the only goal was tallied by Crawford, with Herbert, Gerard, Broadbent and Merrill resting up. Ross starred for the Ottawas throughout. Harry Mummery got five minor fouls, and was on the bench 30 minutes. Ritchie and Malone did not play. Hall charged Benedict savagely and was given a major, while Broadbent also drew a five-minute rest for striking Crawford. Ross rushed from goal to goal in the third period and appeared to have an easy chance to score, but Hall tripped him and hurt his knee. Hall was banished.

In the second period Hall scored a goal for Ottawa against his own team in trying to take the puck out after Broadbent's shot. Another capacity crowd was in attendance.

WANDERERS RAN UP BIG SCORE ON SHAMROCKS

MONTREAL, Jan. 27. — Showing a return to their best form, Wanderers easily defeated the Shamrocks in the scheduled fixture tonight by a score of 14 to 4. The visitors showed marked signs of too much railroad travelling, and were never able to kep pace with their opponents. The locals piled up an assuring lead in the first two periods, and eased up in the next, which enabled the visitors to score their last three goals.

McGIFFEN MAKES GAME EXCITING WHEN HE'S ON

TORONTO, Jan. 27. — Canadiens, who vanquished Wanderers last Saturday, were tonight beaten by Torontos at the arena, 2 to 1. Although the score was close, the play all through was uninteresting. There were a few hard checks handed out, but they were few.

The Blue Shirts had three times as many shots as the Frenchmen, but Vezina, in goal for the visitors, played fine hockey. At the other end, the Toronto defence, Cameron and Carpenter, kept the visitors' forwards at a safe shooting distance, and Holmes was not given very much work to do. The only time there was much excitement was when McGiffin was on the ice. The line-up:

No Trap Shooting Tournament Complete Without Fred Kerr

Crediton Man Has Carried Off Many Prizes At Recent Shoots.

One of the best-known trap shooters in Ontario is Fred Kerr, of Crediton. Mr. Kerr is one of Canada's crack shots, and no tournament would be complete without him. He has just returned from several shooting tournaments with several prizes. At the last St. Thomas Gun Club tournament he carried off the gold watch donated by George McCall, of that city, for the winner of the five bird event, which was open to the world. The Crediton shot scored 14 out of 15.

In a recent tournament at Algonac, Mich., he carried off the biggest cash prize of the tourney in the clay bird event, making only 17 misses out of 396. At Toledo, O., recently, he only missed 8 out of 200. He seldom misses a shooting tournament, and he can always be depended upon to carry off some of the prizes.

Western Ontario is the home of many good trap shooters, but few of them have the reputation and honors that Fred Kerr is credited with.

Taylor's Guaranteed Remedies

Are Deservedly Popular, Because They Either CURE YOU or They Cost You Nothing

Every remedy manufactured by the reliable Taylor firm bears a printed label, which distinctly states that if the article is not entirely satisfactory to you we will return your money without question. We believe this to be the fairest, squarest and simplest guarantee that could be devised, and we live up to every word of it.

Unless our preparations were of the very highest order, we would not dare to sell them under such a rigid guarantee.

The Following Warning May Save You Much Disappointment

To be sure of getting genuine "Taylor-made" remedies, buy them only at one of the 4 Taylor stores, because their great popularity has led many to substitute cheaper preparations of little, if any, real medicinal value. Below is a list of a few of our leading preparations:

Taylor's Throat and Lung Balm

This reliable old remedy has been curing the worst coughs, colds and bronchial irritations since 1868. It is altogether different from ordinary cough mixtures, syrups, etc. It acts not only upon the Throat and Lung Passages, but also upon the eliminating organs of the body, thus enabling the system to quickly throw off the worst cough or cold. It will quickly relieve Asthma and Bronchitis, and will not upset the stomach. The first dose gives relief. Price, 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle.

English Rheumatism Capsules

This is the only remedy that can honestly be guaranteed to cure Rheumatism in any form. These capsules are harmless, and act directly upon the blood, eliminating the uric acid, which is the direct cause of all forms of Rheumatism.

They are guaranteed to relieve the worst Rheumatic Pains inside of six hours, and to cure permanently if given a fair trial. Sold only at our 4 stores for 50 cents a box. Mailed, prepaid, to any part of Canada.

Taylor's Stomach and Liver Cure

The safest and best remedy for Constipation, Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Bloating, etc. It will quickly clear the skin of blotches, pimples, etc., caused by blood impurities. Stomach and Liver Cure is entirely vegetable, and contains no mineral poison. It is laxative, but, unlike pills, does not weaken the system, but acts as a powerful tonic. Try a 25-cent bottle on our guarantee.

Taylor's Cream of Roses

The best antiseptic healing lotion for the cure of rough, red, chapped skin. It is delightfully fragrant, and as it contains nothing oily, it cannot promote growth of hair on the face.

One application will work wonders in healing all skin irritations.

Sold in bulk, and we supply the bottles, at only 5 cents per ounce.

TAYLOR'S BEEF IRON AND WINE

A strong, reliable product, useful as a quick tonic and blood builder. It is equal to any of the high-priced preparations, and far superior to most. We sell the regular $1.00 size for 49 cents. Try it.

There Are Many People

—young and old—who would be benefitted by a good tonic, and there is no better tonic than

Vinol

This delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic is a wonderful body builder and strength creator.

For Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis it is especially good.

Try it on our guarantee. If the first bottle does not help you we will cheerfully refund your money.

That Is Why the Four Busy Taylor Stores Give You the Lowest Cut Rates Every Day in the Year

Begins His Canadian Trade Expansion

Bad Spells With the Heart

Mrs. A. D. Cameron, Birch Brook, Pictou county, N.S., writes:—"For two or three years I was in a run-down condition, very nervous, lost strength, and was drowsy and sleepy. Then I began to have bad spells with the heart, and cold feelings would creep over me until I felt like death and as if I were sinking away. I would smother, and my hands would become stiff and cold, and windows and doors would be thrown open to bring me back to life. A year ago I read about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and began its use, and can now say that I am practically cured. As I am still gaining strength I shall continue its use for a time. During my illness I had two different doctors, but as I could see little benefit I turned to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, with great advantage. I will gladly answer anyone who wishes to hear direct from me."

Weak Heart—Palpitation

Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, P.E.I., writes:—"At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means go, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine."

Blood Weak—Nerves Exhausted

Miss Effie Bancroft, Longwood, Ont., writes:—"A year ago I was very much run down in health. The blood seemed to be weak and the nerves very much exhausted. Having heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and of its success in curing cases similar to mine, I began to use it, and was very greatly benefitted by continuation of this treatment. Two of my sisters also used this medicine, and found it to be a splendid means of building up the system.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with good results. One of my brothers had pneumonia twice, and we always use this medicine for him, as we find that it breaks up a cold the quickest and best of anything we can get."

Stomach Trouble—Fainting Spells

Mrs. A. A. Currie, ladies' tailoress, Bideford, P.E.I., writes:—"I had stomach trouble and fainting spells, and the gas would form on my stomach, so that I would feel like smothering. Often I could not sleep at nights without being propped up in bed, as I couldn't get a breath. For about five years I was like that, and consulted four doctors, without being benefitted. By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I have obtained the greatest benefits imaginable. No medicine I ever took did me so much good, and I want to recommend them."

Chorea—St. Vitus Dance

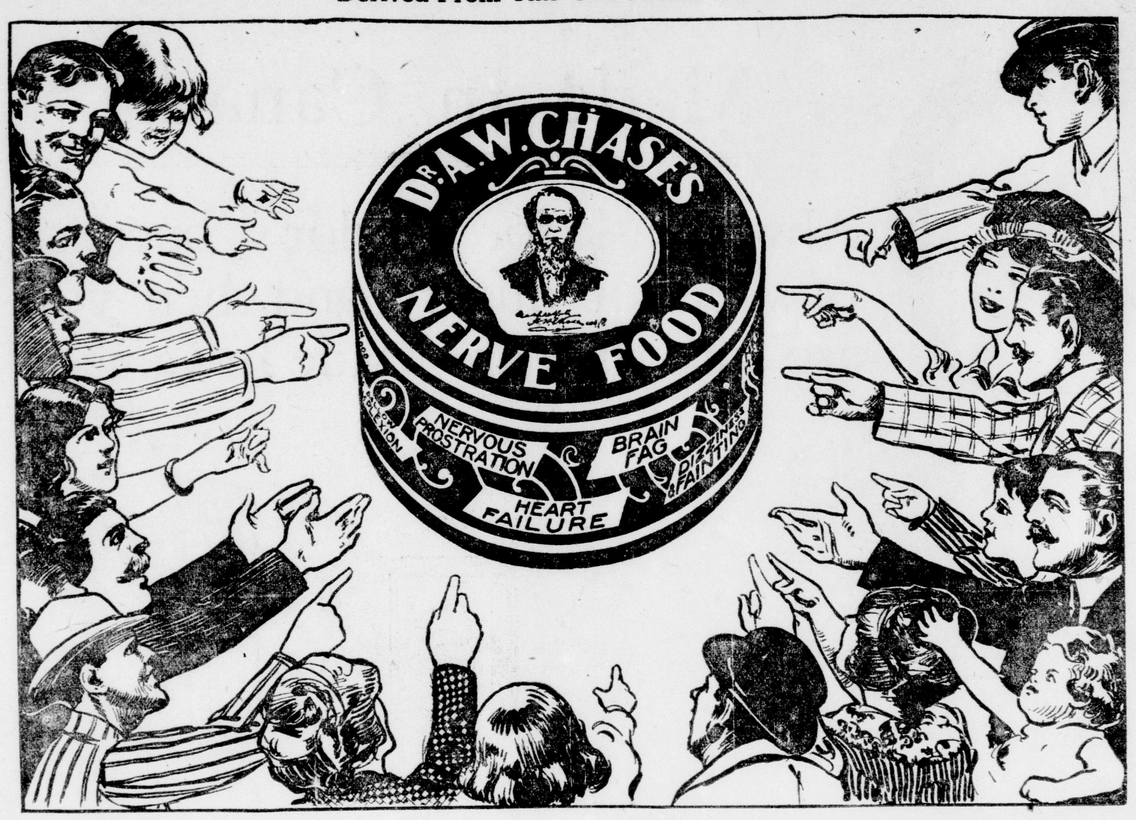

Mrs. Geo. Chisholm, R.R. No. 1, Grafton, Ont., writes:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for my little girl for what the doctors pronounced Chorea, a disease of the nerves. I consulted our family doctor, and he gave her a liquid medicine, but do what we would, we could not get her to swallow it. A neighbor advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and, being in pill form, she took it without any trouble. She was about seven years old, and got pale and run down. The muscles of the face were affected, and she became a pitiful sight. She seemed to improve right along under this treatment, and was entirely cured by using six boxes. She is nine years old now, and you cannot find a larger, healthier-looking child for her age. I shall always be grateful for what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for us, and I can recommend it to all nervous people. You are at liberty to use this letter, so that others may benefit."

Old and Young Pay Tribute

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

From Ocean to Ocean Come Letters of Gratitude to Tell of the Benefits Derived From This Great Food Cure.

Cheering Messages to Nervous Sufferers

Throwing aside all prejudice, the real test of any medical treatment must after all be, "Will it Cure?" Apply this test to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you find the answer on this page from men and women who have no other object in writing these letters than the benefitting of their fellow men and women.

From bitter experience they can sympathize with all who are run down in health, nervous, irritable and discouraged. They know how slow and tedious nervous diseases usually are, and how difficult it is to find a real cure. They are grateful for benefits received, and anxious that others may know about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great food cure.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is for sale at all dealers at 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Chronic Indigestion Cured

Mrs. Herbert Arbuckle, Deschene, Que., writes:—"I had a bad attack of Chronic Indigestion after the birth of my baby, and though I went to three doctors they all failed to cure me. I read about a lady being cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and began its use. It was only a short time until the trouble was overcome, and I can eat anything I want now without ill effects. My weight now is 180 pounds, and I am writing this so other women may know of the Nerve Food and get well and strong.

"My brother had piles and was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Anaemia—Extreme Weakness

Mr. T. Hyndman, farmer, Rupert, Que., writes:—"I had been gradually failing in health for two years and tried many remedies. Among others I used Dr Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them doing me good. Some neighbors told me the doctors said they were dangerous, so I quit their use and went to the doctor. Under his treatment I got so weak I was unable to raise my head from the pillow, and he told me that I had anaemia of the blood and could never be better again, so I sent for another doctor, and he told me the same. I could not take their medicine and was continually vomiting, so I gave them up and said, 'Kill or cure, I will again try Dr. Chase's medicines.'

"I used altogether fourteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and six boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and now I can work from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 at night, and I don't poke at it either. Any man that works a farm knows what kind of a job it is. I honestly believe that I owe my life to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Pills, and I praise them everywhere I go. Many of the people here use them to keep the system in good condition and prevent disease."

Dizzy Spells—Peculiar Feelings

Mrs. T. P. Cullen, Fairview Farm, Shepard, Alta., writes:—"My nervous system was so run down and exhausted that terrible dizzy spells would come over me, and I would have most peculiar feelings. Everything appeared as if it was falling on me, and caused me to jump after taking a few steps. While in this frightful nervous condition I heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and began using it. This treatment built up my nervous system and completely cured me, and for this reason I am always glad to recommend it for the sake of those who suffer as I did."

Nerves Exhausted—Feared Future

Mrs. R. J. Billings, nurse, North Bay, Ont., writes:—"I am happy to be able to say that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is fully worth all the praise given it. I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for some time, and would not be without it in the house. I know that if it had not been for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I would have been out of my mind. My nerves were so far gone that I had gloomy forebodings of the future, and feared the loss of reason. I feel fine now, and do not lose an opportunity of recommending this treatment to my patients."

Nervous Breakdown—Sleeplessness

Mr. R. B. Hillman, Purbrook, Muskoka, Ont., writes:—"About four years ago I was all run down and could not work, and as to writing a letter, I could not do it on account of my hand shaking so badly. My nerves were unstrung and I was troubled with a nervous breakdown. I could not sleep soundly and would start up so suddenly as to almost jump out of bed. My kidneys were bad, too, and I had awful pains in the back all day. I doctored with our family doctor, but he did not seem to know what I needed. I was recommended to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and could sleep well three nights after starting the use of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I take great pleasure in recommending these medicines, as I have proved that they do all that is claimed for them."

CANADIAN TRADE EXPANSION SALE ON AT TAYLOR'S

Mr. Fred A. Taylor Carries Largest Advertisement That Has Ever Appeared in This District.

HAS LARGEST BUSINESS

First Store Was Opened in London Six Years Ago—Now Has Four Branches in Different Parts of City.

Mr. Fred. A. Taylor, of the Taylor Drug Company, this city, is a firm believer in the value of newspaper advertising. In proof of this statement Mr. Taylor has today in this paper the largest advertisement ever carried in any paper in London or Western Ontario. With this advertisement he hopes to reach the many hundreds of homes in London and district that The Advertiser goes into, and interest the people in his four stores, located at 399 Talbot street, the corner of Central avenue and Richmond street, the corner of Wellington and Horton streets, and 652 Dundas street.

Mr. Taylor, who is a graduate of the College of Pharmacy, Toronto, came to London six years ago and opened the first branch of the Taylor stores at 399 Talbot street. At that time the business was not very large, but under Mr. Taylor's able management it has grown to huge proportions. The first Taylor store was opened in Watford in 1868, 47 years ago, and is still doing business. A wonderful business has been built up by this progressive firm, which is noted for its integrity and its policy of giving a written guarantee with all its preparations.

He has always been a booster for Canadian-made goods, and to put before the people of this district the prominent Canadian firms with whom he does business, he hit upon the idea of a monster advertisement in The Advertiser. He deserves considerable credit for this enterprise, and no doubt will benefit by added patronage during his Canadian Trade Expansion Sale, which will continue during the month of February.

SPLENDID YEAR

Second Sederunt of St. Andrew's Church Annual Meeting Held Last Night.

The year 1914 closed one of the most successful years financially in the history of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, as shown by the reports of the board of managers of the church presented at a continued session of the annual meeting last night in the church auditorium. Weekly contributions to the church were $845.59 in excess of 1913 contributions, and an increase of $2,015.38 over those of 1913; nearly 25 per cent.

The congregation increased the annual salary of the organist, C. E. Wheeler by $100 per annum by a unanimous vote.

While in 1913 the books of the board of managers were closed with a deficit of nearly $1,000, the church this year is able to wipe out this and provide in addition, the sum of $2,356 toward the reduction of the church debt and manse improvements. The mortgage on the church now stands at $9,000.

A special collection will be taken in May to raise $1,125, which is $800 less than the collections taken for the last five years.

The report of the board expressed the appreciation of the church in securing the Rev. D. C. McGregor as pastor of the church, and commended the efficient work of the choir and the leader, C. E. Wheeler.

Following are the six members of the board of managers elected to succeed the six members whose terms of two years have expired: W. F. Darch, J. C. Middleton, and Colin Currie, are new members, and T. A. Rowat, G. N. Anderson and A. G. Calder were re-elected.

The 1915 budget calls for $11,450, while the congregation in 1914 provided over $12,000.

SUGGESTS CLINKERS FROM INCINERATOR IN BREAKWATER WORK

Mix With Cement For Foundation, Says Dodd—After New Wage Scale.

So many matters pertaining to garbage and garbage collection came up at the meeting of No. 3 committee last evening that in order that other business should not be delayed, the aldermen decided to hold a special "garbage night" to try and settle the various problems.

Superintendent Walter Dodd wants a bylaw passed forcing householders to provide proper receptacles for their garbage and ashes. If this were done, he said, the collection could be made much more easily and at far less cost. He cited many instances where the ashes are piled in the yards, and where garbage and ashes are not out for collection. When the matter is not taken away, complaints pour in, and in many cases, he claimed, after personal investigation, he found them entirely unjustified.

New Wage Schedule.

His proposal to establish a schedule of wages by which first-class collectors will receive $2.25 per day, second-class men, $2 a day, and beginners, $1.75 a day, will be discussed at length later. At the present time all the men receive $2 per day.

Superintendent Dodd reported that, in his opinion, tons of clinker from the incinerator, now being used to strengthen the riverbank at places where washouts occur, could be used to the greatest advantage as a foundation, when mixed with cement for sidewalks and pavements and also for building breakwaters. He declared it would be better than gravel and far less expensive, and outlined a plan by which the garbage collectors after bringing a load of refuse to the incinerator, could load up with clinker on their return trip and take it to any part of the city where sidewalk or pavement work was going on. The proposition met with favor by the committee and will be gone into later.

Stop Erosion.

It was also suggested that a trestle bridge could be built across the river in the vicinity of Front street, and quantities of clinker deposited at points where the river has been steadily eating away the banks. This scheme has been tried most successfully on the north bank where the land had been eaten away almost to the foundations. The hospital authorities, the superintendent stated, have asked that clinker be thrown along the bank in the rear of the hospital where erosion is taking place.

Won't Take Trip.

Chairman Lerner stated that in Peterboro the ashes are put through a process by which muriate of potash, until recently imported in huge quantities from Germany, is extracted. He suggested that a delegation from London go to Peterboro, New York, Cleveland and Buffalo and learn what is being done along this line. Mayor Stevenson thought it would be better to write and get the details, and the city clerk will do so.

The matter of installing a blast furnace to melt up all the tin and scrap-iron collected in the garbage and mould it into window weights, for which an offer of $28 per ton has been received, will also be dealt with at the special meeting.

GET ESTIMATE ON COST OF HEATING MARKET HOUSE

Plans Under Way to Improve Accommodation on Square—Cross Stretches of Pavement.

At its regular meeting last evening, No. 3 committee decided to have estimates presented as soon as possible on the cost of heating the market building, improving the accommodation there and also of putting down cross-stretches of pavement to which the farmers can back their rigs up, while citizens walk along and purchase.

Some of the aldermen argued that it would be poor policy to make the market house too comfortable as its occupants would raise the prices of their offerings. Others, however, took exception to this and claimed that more women would come than ever and from longer distances and that as a result there would be more produce offered and prices reduced if anything.

It was finally decided to have the city engineer give an estimate.

Controller Rose stated, in answer to a question, as to what it would cost to have the entire market paved that the estimate was $35,000.

The market report submitted by City Treasurer Bell showed receipts of $348.50, and arrears of $38. This report was considered exceptionally favorable and was adopted.

An application from Charlie Lee, a Chinaman, who wants to purchase property on Wortley road for laundry purposes was dealt with favorably as people adjoining have no objection, according to Inspector McCallum's report.

LADY EILEEN ROBERTS IS HONORARY PATRONESS

Daughter of Lord Roberts, Sends Her Name to Local Chapter of Daughters.

At the monthly meeting of Lord Roberts Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, held yesterday at Cronyn Memorial Hall, official announcement was made of the fact that Lady Eileen Roberts had consented to become honorary patroness of the chapter, following in the footsteps of her father, Lord Roberts, of Kandahar. The announcement was received with much gratification by the chapter.

Great interest was taken in the meeting, at which much business was transacted, with the regent, Mrs. A. B. Smith, presiding. It was decided to send a subscription of $25 to the Red Cross for the motor ambulance to be donated by the city for service in Northern France. Announcement was also made of the musical concert to be given in Cronyn Hall on Saturday in aid of the Soldiers' Comfort Fund, under the auspices of the chapters of the Imperial Order. Every member is invited to attend and bring her knitting. The program will continue from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Many donations have been sent in for the comfort of soldiers, the report of work done since Christmas being most encouraging. Mrs. Norman Turcker entertained the members and visitors at tea at the conclusion of the meeting.

The annual meeting of the chapter will be held on February 22. Officers will be elected and plans made for the coming year.

Question
"It has been asked us several times: How can you afford to give away that beautiful $500 Player-Piano, as you advertise you will do?"
Our Answer
We prefer to sell 100 articles at a profit of ten cents each, rather than 10 articles at a profit of one dollar each. It means just ninety more people patronizing our stores. The only reason for our being in business is to do business. This means that we must bring the people to our stores. Low prices and good values will bring us customers always. Our giving away this piano is simply to bring additional business to our stores and it is doing it every day. It pays you and us. The Piano will be given away on Friday, March 5, to the one holding the largest number of votes.
