HON. FRANK CARVELL STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF IMPROVEMENTS AT PORT; NEW POSTOFFICE IS NEEDED HERE

Visits Lakeside and Is Impressed by Possibilities of Harbor—Advocates Overhead Bridge At L. and P. S. Tracks—Federal Square Viewed and Minister Says Government Is Morally Obligated To Pay Something.

After carefully inspecting the harbor and the bridge at Port Stanley, Hon. F. B. Carvell, minister of public works, expressed the opinion that the improvements asked for are an absolute necessity, and that the work should be commenced as soon as possible. He also expressed the opinion that the proposed new postoffice and customs house at London, as to whether either work would be commenced this year, he did not say definitely. One could gather from the impression that he made that the work will be commenced as soon as the arrangements and details can be completed. Mr. Carvell spent an hour in the city, inspecting the site for the new postoffice, and he also took a walk around the federal square.

Result of Delegation.—This visit here of the delegation which went to Ottawa two weeks ago to ask that the federal authorities take some action towards improving the harbor at Port Stanley, Hon. Mr. Carvell was stopped off in London for a few hours on his return to the capital.

He was met at the station by Major James Cronin, M. P., Sir Adam Beck, M. P., Acting Mayor E. S. Little and George M. Reid, president of the chamber of commerce. The party then drove to the L. and P. S. station, where a special car was waiting. S. F. Glass, M. P. for East Middlesex, John Bridge,

Misunderstanding.—It was previously arranged for Mayor Horton and City Solicitor W. B. Leary to go to London to inspect the special car there, but through some misunderstanding or blunder on the part of someone these two men were left in St. Thomas, and they stayed over at Port Stanley and returned to London one hour later than that at which it left. Mr. Carvell and Mayor Little, Mr. Cronin and City Solicitor Leary, and Mr. Morrison, Ald. C. B. Drake and Ald. E. R. Sirobok and Naulon, a Canadian town planning expert, were waiting at St. Thomas for the special on its return from Port Stanley.

While a heavy downpour of rain, which began shortly after the party's arrival at the Port prevented any extended trip around the beach and harbor, Mr. Carvell saw enough to convince him of the need of speedy action on the part of the Government.

Referring to the bridge, Mr. Cronin explained that it would be necessary to build a new one that would permit the passage of the smaller craft up the river to the north of the bridge so that it could be used in the winter.

GERMANS COMPLAIN BECAUSE OF DELAY AT PEACE CONGRESS

Situation is Aggravated By Breakdown of Two Direct Wires.

DELEGATION IS CRITICIZED

Some Believe It Too Large, While Others Think It Too Small.

Berlin, May 4.—The delays in the peace negotiations are not being welcomed in official circles in Berlin, although the German government does not seem to be worrying, having been accused of being slow to the slow procedure. From the German standpoint the situation has been aggravated by the breakdown of the two direct wires between London and Versailles.

He expressed the opinion that the treaty, as it now stands, gave honorable and satisfactory terms to Belgium, and recommended that it should be signed. The council unanimously endorsed Mr. Hymans' view, but with one exception, in expressing the opinion that the attention of the powers should be drawn to the financial and economic situation in Belgium and to the necessity that the Allies assure Belgium of a complete support looking to the complete restoration of the country.

The council was further of the opinion that the Allies should be asked to support the initiation of negotiations with Holland regarding the settlement of the question of the freedom of the Scheldt and the waterways of East Belgium.

ALLIES REPULSE FIRS ATTACK FOE GUNBOATS

Bolshevik Warships On Dvina Are Driven Back.

HEAVY FOE LOSSES

Sustained by the Russian Red Forces On the Vaga Sector.

BOLSHEVIK GUNS WERE OUTRANGED.—Archangel, Saturday, May 3.—The Bolshevik flotilla on the Dvina again attacked the Allied positions near the junction with the Vaga on Friday, but were driven off by the guns of the Allied and Russian forces, which outranged the weapons of the enemy.

Archangel, Friday, May 2.—Allied forces succeeded yesterday in repulsing the first attack by Bolshevik gunboats on the Dvina. The enemy fleet attempted to approach the positions held by the British, American and Russian forces on the right bank of the river, but failed, the Allies having guns mounted which covered all parts of the channel.

The ice has broken up in the river, near Archangel, and though the channel is still a mass of swiftly flowing ice cakes, it is only a matter of a few days until the allied gunboats can force their way up stream and go to the aid of the allied land defenses.

On the Vaga sector, the Bolsheviks suffered heavy losses yesterday, when after a long bombardment they attacked the village of Berezenki, which infantry and American engineers.

MANAGER BUCHANAN BACK FROM EUROPE

Had Interesting Trip, With Some Experiences.

GOT SOME INFORMATION

But Is Keeping That For the Ontario Commission Which Sent Him.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan arrived home yesterday after his trip to England, Scotland, Norway and Sweden, and other countries, in the interests of the Ontario hydro-electric project.

He came home on the Metropolitan, which carried many Canadian heroes and their dependents to the front lines. He says that the kids on the boat kept things lively. There was something about the railway train that he would not care to repeat the passage on a boat which carried so many children.

Speaking of labor conditions in European countries, Mr. Buchanan says that the Canadians have an exaggerated idea of the labor unrest abroad. Referring particularly to the riots which occurred in Edinburgh recently, he found that they were not as bad as they had been pictured in press dispatches from there.

Pardonable Mistake.—In Sweden he met a gentleman whom he took to be a Bolshevik, but who proved to be an editor of a Conservative paper there. He tells of his meeting with the man in a railway train. There was no accommodation in the sleeper, and Mr. Buchanan and a mutual friend undertook to make a bed on two seats. They slept fairly comfortably for some time, but the man with whiskers, who was a Bolshevik, left the apartment and returned to his room. Mr. Buchanan and his friend were awakened by the sound of a door opening, and they saw that the man with whiskers was back. Mr. Buchanan and his friend were awakened by the sound of a door opening, and they saw that the man with whiskers was back.

Wanted Too Much.—Eventually the guard succeeded in making the two companion travelers to travel together, but they were occupying too much room. They gave up half of their bed and sat up for the rest of the night. After the departure of the guard they were surprised to hear the new traveler say in perfectly good English, "This is not as comfortable as traveling in America." The conversation was continued on topics of mutual interest until their destination was reached. Mr. Buchanan because he considered the American because he considered the man a place that is not known in America.

Among the other inconveniences of traveling on the continent now, Mr. Buchanan thinks that of getting passengers closed in one of the worst. He estimates that he lost at least five days in waiting for the various authorities to pass his stamp. He invariably had to put up $1.50 in all 32 states were affected. As he made the trip for the Ontario commission, he says that he cannot give out anything of the electrical data he gathered until he has made his report to the commission. He also picked up their information, which he is tabulating to present to the local commission.

"FIGHTING EIGHTEENTH" AND OTHER UNITS OF THE SECOND DIVISION READY TO SAIL

Thomas Geggie, Special Correspondent, Is Informed by Argyle House That the First of the Battalions Will Start For Canada On Thursday.

(Special Cable From Thomas Geggie.) London, May 5.—I am informed by Argyle House that the second division will begin to sail on Thursday, May 8. The 15th Battalion, organized at London, Ontario, consists of the units comprising the second division.

Seventy original officers and other ranks will return with the 15th Battalion, commanded by Col. L. H. Miller, D.S.O. During the war the 15th Battalion, organized at London, Ontario, consisted of the units comprising the second division.

Enthusiastic scenes were witnessed at Liverpool when the 15th Battalion sailed on the Baltic from Prince's Pier. A crowd numbering over 2,000, many of them old country relatives of the home-going veterans, invaded the quayside and their parting cheers were drowned by the music of Aid Long Lane, played by the 15th Battalion's band.

The 20th Battalion has had a particularly splendid war career and earned the distinction of being specially mentioned in Sir Douglas Haig's communication to the war office on the occasion of the battle of the Somme in 1917, when one German officer and 29 other ranks were brought in as prisoners of war.

Among the battalion's list of honors are the Victoria Cross, won by Lieut. Algie and Sergt. Hobson, neither of whom, unfortunately, survive. The other honors include ten D. S. O.'s and three other bars, 40 military crosses and three bars, 18 D. C. M.'s, 121 military medals and five bars, and three foreign decorations.

The 20th Battalion is commanded by Lieut.-Col. E. Hooper, D. S. O., M. C. who came overseas as a junior subaltern in the 15th Battalion. Since its arrival in France the 20th suffered 2,388 casualties of whom 712 were killed. It is noteworthy that only eight prisoners were lost to the enemy throughout the war, six of these coming from the stretcher party, which when carrying a wounded comrade, had ventured straight into the German lines.

The addition of the men and women at the Meat Cutters' Union makes total workers on strike here today 3,142. Chairman P. C. Brown of the Meat Cutters' Union says that their organization was perfect.

General Organizer Harry Harper of the International Machinists' Union said he had word from a number of locals in other cities of Canada advising him that they were ready to strike at a moment's notice as a provincial organization.

LONDON MUST GET BUSY IF CLEAN-UP WEEK IS TO BE A REAL SUCCESS

Hundred and One Things To Be Done To Improve Living and Home Conditions and Beautify the City.

Today is the beginning of London's "clean-up week," when all loose inflammable materials, all disease-breeding matter and everything classed as waste matter is destroyed. All week the folks, young and old, will be attacking the dirt, so that when the week is finished they may say that they have done their share in beautifying their homes and making them better places in which to live.

Each year millions of dollars worth of property is destroyed by fire in Ontario. In the majority of cases it is caused by piles of paper, shavings, or other inflammable goods being left where a match or a cigarette butt could be thrown into them. This is one of the fundamental reasons for the inauguration of a clean-up week. There is not a fire chief in the province who is not a staunch supporter of the movement. Fire insurance companies are also in proportion to the number of fires. Some people, because they have insured their homes, do not care to clean up their homes. They forget that they are helping to pay other people's insurance. If fire is reduced to a minimum, the rate would be very low and many people would wish to build better homes.

Really Reconstruction.

This is the period of reconstruction. When the clean-up work is started, citizens do not stop at cleaning up the yards and houses, but also replace rotten boards on the fence by new ones and make everything as ship-shape as possible.

Clean-up activities begin at home.

The first place that the family turns to as a refuge for rubbish is the attic. There lies all manner of trash. Everything that is discarded about the house is thrust there. "Well, clean it up some day," says the father or brother, but from month to month and year to year the work is postponed, since clean-up week is here, all thoughts are turned towards the attic. The work begins, and before a day has gone the attic is again as clean as when the house was first built. This work, however, has caused much dust, which has spread all through the house. This is a general clean-up about the home.

Get Proper Tools.

To effect this clean-up, the necessary tools must be on hand. No fisherman would think of trying to catch a fish with a broken line. It is just as foolish trying to sweep a house with a worn-out broom or a dilapidated pet-sweeper. New ones must be bought in order that the sweeping be thoroughly done. So in other lines of cleaning, no broken tools will be used, because the best results cannot be obtained from them.

As the father and mother of the house are doing the work, they notice that the carpets are beginning to show. They are used to be. "What is the use of putting old things back in the closet?" Their appearance is such that when you have cleaned you cannot see the results of the work. It is just as foolish taking the wise couple long to make up their minds. They go down town and buy the furnishings that are necessary to brighten the home.

When furniture becomes old it is discarded. When clothes become old they are thrown away. However, many people never think that there is a limit to the time that waste material may be as clean and bright as when it was first put on the walls and ceilings. Every time that the family gets together they place their sticky hands on the family cat or dog, after rolling in the filth of the street, rubs against it. The paper loses its brightness, and the mother wonders why her furniture does not show to as good advantage as Mrs. Brown's. She forgets that there is a Mrs. Brown's furniture, while behind her own there is a background of faded and dirty wallpaper.

Paint a Big Help.

When all interior cleaning is done about the home, there is the outside of the house.

BROTHERHOOD DAY IN CITY MARKED BY STRONG APPEALS

Speakers Ask Aid to Carry Out Movement's Aim.

SPOKE IN CHURCHES

Meeting Was Held in Masonic Temple in Afternoon—Banquet Tonight.

Yesterday was Brotherhood day in London. Officials of Canadian, British, and International Brotherhood movements spoke in several of the local churches during the regular morning and evening services, and a special meeting in the Masonic Hall in the afternoon was addressed by William Howard, international secretary of the Brotherhood Council of England, and William Heil, past president of the London (English) Brotherhood. Both of these gentlemen were engaged in relief work in Europe during the war, and they were yesterday the uniformed officers of the French Red Cross, which they were using their work in northern France and Serbia. The uniforms were practically the same as those worn by officers of the C. E. F., except that the Sam Brodie boots had no shoulder straps to them. The officers' collars had a blue facing with a red cross on it.

Vines Add To Beauty.

Flowers add much to the beauty of the home. London is noted for its flower beds. The dirty bricks on an old house, when painted, can be hidden by creeping vines to good advantage. An old house can be hidden by the climbers and instead of the old boards, beautiful leaves and vines are there. In every yard there is a portion of ground where it is thought that grass grows best. Holes have been dug there by the children at play, and the earth has not been placed back in them. When it rains the water flows into the holes and long after, when all the rest of the yard is dry, a pool of stagnant water or a patch of muddy filth lies there. The bad odor from it fills the house and it is a place where disease may be bred. The sensible man will fill this hole with earth and grass seed on top of it. It will grow if only given half a chance.

Especially is a general clean-up needed in a factory or warehouse.

In a store so many empty boxes and cases are piled up that they can be thrown into a corner of the cellar and be a heap. An excellent place for a fire to originate. Often apples and other fruit rot in the cellar and the odor from them fills the store above. Customers begin to deal elsewhere and the merchant wonders why his business is not so good. In fact, everything that is not being put in a safe place should be placed safely away. A bolt or piece of metal lying on the floor may be accidentally kicked into the machinery, resulting in a great loss of time and money. Where a great number of people are employed there should be no rubbish lying about, for disease spreads quickly where there is a crowd of people. It may be the origin of a great fire.

Everyone in the city did his full share during the week.

There is no doubt that London will be called honestly the city beautiful. It would be a pleasure to walk down the streets, to see the side with the painted houses, surrounded by beautiful flowers and green lawns. There would be no more of the things that were not pleasing to the eye.

Children playing on the streets would endeavor to keep clean.

For their parents would object to them coming out in the mud and the dirt with muddy boots, sticky hands and dusty clothes. Clean-up week, if entered into with the right spirit, will mean more than the cleaning of our surroundings. It will mean a more thorough and greater personal cleanliness and the elimination of disease.

Craving adventure and actuated by a desire to record the manners and customs of the last stronghold of cannibals, Martin Johnson traveled 18,000 miles among the Solomon and New Hebrides Islands, and in the fourteen months of his travels secured some of the most sensational pictures of savage life that have ever been filmed.

They have been assembled into "Cannibals of the South Seas," a nine-reel feature which is showing at the Star Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Johnson set out from San Francisco in 1917, and after stops at Honolulu and Samoa, he arrived at Sydney. Mr. Johnson had accompanied Jack London on the famous voyage of the Shark, and was more or less familiar with the better known tribes of the South Pacific Islands.

His meeting with Chief Negapat, the murderous king of the "Big Number"—the most perilous experience of his trip—where they were led in landing by treacherous native guides, surrounded by savages and escaped only by the timely arrival of a British battleship.

TRAVEL 18,000 MILES IN CANNIBAL ISLES

Months Among Savages of South Pacific To Record Their Customs For Screen.

Craving adventure and actuated by a desire to record the manners and customs of the last stronghold of cannibals, Martin Johnson traveled 18,000 miles among the Solomon and New Hebrides Islands, and in the fourteen months of his travels secured some of the most sensational pictures of savage life that have ever been filmed.

They have been assembled into "Cannibals of the South Seas," a nine-reel feature which is showing at the Star Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Johnson set out from San Francisco in 1917, and after stops at Honolulu and Samoa, he arrived at Sydney. Mr. Johnson had accompanied Jack London on the famous voyage of the Shark, and was more or less familiar with the better known tribes of the South Pacific Islands.

His meeting with Chief Negapat, the murderous king of the "Big Number"—the most perilous experience of his trip—where they were led in landing by treacherous native guides, surrounded by savages and escaped only by the timely arrival of a British battleship.

IN the mud of France and Flanders, and the dreary desolation of war stood a series of little huts where soldiers from the front line trenches used to come. Sometimes it was a dug-out, sometimes it was a shed, sometimes it was the cellar of a ruined house, sometimes it was a section of a chateau or a barn, sometimes perhaps it was a regular "hut". But always the Red Triangle over the door was the sign of welcome—the sign of hospitality and good cheer, the sign of the soldiers' club. And they called it "the Good Old 'Y'."

Help Y.M.C.A. Maintain Red Triangle Clubs Canada Needs "Y" Service During Demobilization

IN eleven of the principal cities of Canada from coast to coast the Young Men's Christian Association is now operating in separate and distinct buildings Red Triangle Clubs for returned soldiers. In other cities similar accommodation is provided in the regular Y.M.C.A. buildings. These clubs are simply large, well managed hotels where transient soldiers are furnished bed and board at nominal rates, and the conveniences of a headquarters and social meeting place while staying over on business connected with the adjustment of their military accounts or their civil re-establishment after their discharge from the army.

Red Triangle Clubs are self-sustaining in part, but in the main they are financed from the Red Triangle Fund. The work is increasing as demobilization proceeds. Three Red Triangle Clubs were in operation last year. This year eleven such clubs are in existence, and in addition similar service is being rendered soldiers in the regular Y.M.C.A. buildings of other cities. To carry out this greatly needed work during the present year, a considerable portion of the Red Triangle Fund is being devoted, and your support is asked in earnest conviction that this service to our soldiers is as deserved as it is appreciated.

Free check rooms for soldiers' dunnage bags and parcels. Reading and writing rooms and free stationery. A "Mother's Corner," where buttons are sewn on, socks darned, and little jobs of sewing and mending are done for soldiers free of charge. Commodious shower baths with hot and cold water. Billiard rooms and other games such as checkers and chess. Information about trains, telegraph facilities, and free motor bus and from railway stations for soldiers and their baggage. An Adjustment Bureau, where soldiers' claims for back pay, war service gratuities, etc., are taken up with the proper authorities and arranged for the returned men. A Social Service Bureau where men are assisted to find employment. First Aid facilities for men whose injuries may require immediate attention. Safety deposit conveniences for money and valuables. Regular musical and entertainment programmes contributed by Y.M.C.A. workers and voluntary talent; religious services on Sunday afternoons. For Red Triangle Clubs and service to soldiers in local Y.M.C.A.'s, Military Hospitals, Camps, etc. the National Council is apportioning the sum of $472,069 in the budget for 1919, and to meet this appropriation a portion of the Red Triangle Campaign objective will be devoted. A sum of $22,000 is also apportioned for possible new Red Triangle Clubs to be opened during the year.

For the wives and children overseas, dependent upon Canadian soldiers, a sum of $175,000 from the Red Triangle Fund will be set aside to cover the work of the Dominion Council of the Young Women's Christian Association. Young Women's Christian Association Secretaries accompany the soldiers' families on all the steamers coming to Canada. At St. John and Quebec and similarly at Halifax in co-operation with the Halifax Committee there, soldiers' dependents are welcomed and cared for. Money is provided in cases of need to those lacking sufficient funds to complete their journey. At the railway stations throughout Canada similar service is rendered by local Y.W.C.A. workers. For the sake of the soldiers' wives and dependents coming to Canada, be generous when you make your contribution.

Everywhere the Y.W.C.A. is called upon for help, and your contribution to the Red Triangle Fund will make response the more nearly complete.

WHEN HE STANDS UP TO PREACH HE HAS HIS FACTS IN MIND AND THERE IS NO HESITATION; HE HAS FINE SPEAKING VOICE

Rev. W. J. Knox of First Presbyterian is Looking On As One of the Coming Big Men of the Church—Education Looms Large in His Views.

KNOWS WHAT HE WANTS TO SAY AND CONGREGATION HEARS IT

Preachers are apt to become known to the populace by the sermons they preach and by the work they accomplish in the church to which they are attached.

When Rev. W. J. Knox, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, stands up in his own pulpit or to address some other gathering, he obviously takes it for granted that the people before him are an intelligent people, and that, like his own, their time is more or less valuable.

Rev. W. J. Knox.

So subdued was the light that for some time after entering it was somewhat difficult to distinguish clearly the features and expression of the preacher.

But there was nothing to interfere with the carrying power of his voice, clear, resonant, firm with the suggestion of tremendous reserve power.

It is a tradition with those who were his classmates in college that he had one of the finest voices in the university at that time, and that he was then quite famous as a singer.

He worked hard and he studied hard then, his loyal friends proudly tell, and he has continued to be the earnest student ever since.

The church for some years past, meaning the Presbyterian Church in Canada, has been awakening to an appreciation of the value of his ideas.

Mr. Knox has had a number of years of experience in the ministry, but he is still young in vigor, in enthusiasm, in the length of his outlook upon the possibilities of service that lie before him.

In point of years, he is among the younger men who are being looked to for leadership in order that the Presbyterian Church may meet the demands of the times in the days of reconstruction in Canada and after-the-war readjustment in the world.

On what phase of church activity has he placed special emphasis in his ministry? Upon education, religious education, the "training up of a child in the way that it shall go, in order that when it is old it may not depart from the way."

Why say in parrot-like fashion: "As a twig is bent, so the tree is inclined." To the question of religious education he has brought a new inspiration, a new conception of its importance and possibilities.

Even such good institutions as Sunday schools can be vastly improved, has been his belief, and before the Sunday school, there must of necessity come the influence and religious education of the home.

In point of years, he is among the younger men who are being looked to for leadership in order that the Presbyterian Church may meet the demands of carelessly with interest only for the moment." At this point, Mr. Knox summarized after the manner of the thoroughly prepared teacher.

Four reasons have been considered for the silence of God: disobedience, rebelliousness, jealousy and pride in the case of Saul; injustice and formal religion, clericalism, the wrong people of his day by Isaiah; unrighteousness of heart and the unrighteous spirit; carelessness, indifference and insincerity.

What is there in your heart or life that is responsible for the silence of God? But perhaps on examination, no such reasons can be found for the failure of God to speak.

Perhaps God is testing, withholding for the welfare of the supplicant. Words of Jesus Christ made possible this explanation: "It was Jesus Christ himself who told the parable of the importunate woman and the unjust judge. Because of her importunity, the judge finally granted her petition."

"Plead on" was the final admonition of the sermon and the day will come when the congregation will draw before the throne of Jesus Christ.

Every Sunday morning in the First Presbyterian Church, the little people in the congregation withdraw before the grown up sermon for a service of their own in the Sunday school room, a service adapted to their understanding and less confining for very small folks than being obliged to sit very still with big people.

Special for Children. Before they go, however, the big minister has something special to say to them. Yesterday, it was a story about a little boy, away out in Honan, China, brought to Dr. Menzies' hospital by his mother, his lip and nose badly injured.

The little fellow's life was saved, and he became robust and strong and while in the hospital, he learned to know Jesus Christ. His mother, too, became a Christian.

Away out in China, the boys like to go swimming on hot days, just as they do back in Canada, so one warm summer day, the lad who had been healed at the mission hospital, went in swimming with other boys.

One went beyond his depth and the boy who had found Jesus Christ in the hospital hastened to the rescue, but he was pulled under water by his drowning comrade and both lost their lives.

So you see, said the preacher, "Jesus Christ can make boys manly and self-sacrificing out in India and China, just as he made them manly and self-sacrificing over at the front in the war."

When Rev. W. J. Knox, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, preaches a sermon, delivers an address, or takes part in a discussion in a meeting or church conference, he speaks with confidence and authority, because he makes sure of his ground before expressing himself.

While there is assurance in his attitude, there is a modesty which is traceable to the silence of God.

Mr. Knox thinks things out for himself. He isn't the man to be satisfied with a superficial view or take the opinion of others, however convincing. But he doesn't choose an arena and call upon the multitude to assemble themselves together to watch him wrestle with spiritual and intellectual problems.

He attends to the results, the knowledge and experience he has gained because a part of the war and his life, and the material of which his sermons are built.

Other travellers may stop into their pulpits to give a practical demonstration of a man trying to digest his own ideas and beliefs for production and substance (for these). But that isn't the Rev. W. J. Knox way.

Owing to the rapidly growing recognition of the importance of adequate religious education, a movement in which Mr. Knox has been one of the most prominent pioneers, it is regarded as only a matter of time by many wise people of prophetic bent, until he is called upon to devote himself more specifically to the work of religious education in the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

NO ELECTION SIGNS, DECLARES MINISTER

Hon. F. B. Carvell Shies At Political Questions.

Political questions caused the Hon. F. B. Carvell, on his visit to London, to shy like an old war horse that had been hit by shots several times, and that jumps every time it hears a shot fired. He did emphatically state, however, that there is no need, and he sees no signs of an impending contest.

Reconstruction in the cabinet and the tariff issue he frankly stated that he could not discuss.

His one regret was that he did not have the funds at hand which he would have expended on public works in the Dominion during the next two years. He sees where twenty millions of dollars could be spent for the general good of the country on public improvements in the next year or two. All of the works he has in mind are essential to the growth and development of the country.

Referring to daylight saving, during the trip to Port, Major Hume Crony intimated that the attitude of the majority of the members was favorable to the new time, but many of them could not support it because they knew that their constituents were against the measure.

TRIAL HALTED AS WITNESS NOT HERE

Bert Stainton Found Guilty On One Charge of Theft.

Bert Stainton, charged with the theft of five bags of wheat from his cousin, William E. Pickel, and a horse and buggy from his uncle, George Stainton, is on trial at the court house before Judge Macbeth. George Stainton was expected to be present as a witness when court opened, but he had not in an appearance up to nearly noon, and court was adjourned until he should arrive.

The accused is alleged to have taken his uncle's horse and buggy, driven over to his cousin's place, and there to have asked the wheat, and proceeded to Ganton, twelve miles away, where he is said to have sold the wheat to Arthur Westman of the elevator company at Granton. He was arrested at Luccan, where he had gone by train from Granton, leaving the horse and buggy in a livery stable at the latter place.

Later the missing witness, whose train was late, arrived and gave his evidence. The accused was found guilty of stealing the wheat, but the judge took the view that he had taken the buggy only for the purpose of transporting the grain and had not intended to steal the vehicle. On the second count, therefore, a verdict of "not guilty" was returned. Sentence will be imposed on Thursday.

PROMINENT DRUGGIST AND SCHOOL TRUSTEE DIES

W. T. STRONG DIED SATURDAY NIGHT; ILL A SHORT TIME

Leading Member of Board of Education Passes in St. Joseph's.

SERVED CITY 23 YEARS Born in London, He Conducted Drug Store For Two Score Years.

W. T. Strong, one of London's best-known and highly-respected citizens, died at midnight on Saturday in St. Joseph's Hospital following an operation, despite every effort of medicine to null him through. Septic poisoning was the direct cause of his death, this disease compelling an operation, after which pneumonia developed. He had been seriously ill for the past couple of weeks.

Mr. Strong has long been identified with the board of education of this city, being a member continuously for the past 23 years. Any child connected with education was almost a hobby with him, and during these many years as a member of the board he has done much for the education of London's younger generation. He was born in this city 73 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anson Strong, who were residents of London in the days when it was a mere village. He had grown up with the city, and taken an interest in its development.

He is best known to the public perhaps through his business as a druggist, which business he had been engaged in for the past 25 years. He was prominent also in Masonic circles.

Mr. Strong studied the drug business under the late Dr. Salter of this city. He was then associated with the late H. A. Mitchell for two years, and later with W. E. Saunders for three years in the retail drug business. The store now known as Strong's on Dundas street was opened by Mr. Strong in 1874 in partnership with H. A. Josselyn. This partnership was dissolved in 1875, Mr. Strong continuing the business in his own name since that time.

Mr. Strong was a director of the Ontario Retail Druggists' Association for 1918-1919, and was one of the members of the London Hunt and Country Club. He possessed a Penion of Merit medal, having been in the 7th Regiment during 1865.

Ministers Object to Time Muddle and Presbyterians Protest Sunday Inspection of Port by F. B. Carvell

Methodist Meeting Passes Resolution Expressing Confidence in License Inspector Ayeerst, Blaming Charges On Liquor Interests.

Business of particularly live and general interest was taken up at the four denominational ministerial meetings held today. Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist.

The question of uniform time came in for discussion owing to the inconvenience of the present dual time from the standpoint of opening time for services, and the question of uniformity of time towards securing uniformity of time to obviate the present confusion.

The Ministerial Association and the Presbyterian Monday Club each passed resolutions expressing disapproval of the present dual time, and the London Child Welfare Association, including the "Child Welfare Week" to be held the first week in June, pledging support in the publicity campaign, and agreeing to commend it to the congregations of their respective churches.

Protest Sunday Expedition. In the meeting of the Presbyterian Monday Club, held at 245 St. James street, Rev. John Hosie, London Junction, vigorously protested was made against the action of a minister of the crown and representative of the government. He made an official inspection of the Port Stanley harbor, necessitating thereby the suspension of the work of the Middlesex and Elgin municipalities. Such action was regarded as unwarranted and highly objectionable. No action was taken by the organization pending more definite information. D. C. McGregor and Rev. W. J. Knox were appointed a committee to get all the information possible in regard to the matter before the London Presbyterian meeting in St. Thomas, Tuesday. It is probable that the matter will be dealt with by the Presbytery.

In addition to resolutions to uniform time and child welfare, the Methodist Ministerial Association passed a number of others of importance. One of these is in the form of a request to the London Methodist conference to take steps to organize a London Methodist council for missionary enterprise and church extension activities.

Anglicans Hear Paper. A paper on "Church Union," given by Rev. W. L. Armitage, was the prominent feature of the meeting today of the Anglican Clerical Association.

Arrangements for a larger number of meetings for the season, for the first Monday in June, it was decided that this should be a larger number of meetings, conducted by the bishop, Archbishop J. P. Richardson presided, and Rev. W. L. Armitage was asked to act as secretary.

DEATH OF MRS. GRAVES. Mrs. Hannah Graves, formerly of Mount Ridge, but for the last few years a resident of this city, died at her home, 111 Maple street, on Saturday, in her 91st year. Mrs. Graves had been in perfect health, despite her age, until a short time ago when she fell and broke her hip. This was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Graves is survived by her daughter, Mrs. M. White, with whom she has resided since her stay in London. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. White, 111 Maple street. Rev. A. C. Bingham will conduct the services. The remains will then be forwarded to Mount Ridge for interment in the family plot there.

DEATH OF MRS. WILKINS. Mrs. Caroline Wilkins, an old resident of London, died at her home, 72 Waterloo street, on Saturday in her 89th year. She is survived by three nieces—Mrs. J. Heal, Mrs. E. W. RED TRIANGLE DRIVE BEGINS WEDNESDAY; MORE COMMENDATION

Veterans Continue To Praise "Y" War Work.

The Red Triangle campaign starts off Wednesday morning. The teams have been appointed and the personnel will be announced tomorrow morning. Tomorrow night one of the members of the organizing committee has invited the campaign workers to a dinner, at his own expense, at the Tecumseh House at 6:30.

Men who have worked with the Y. M. C. A. in France will be present to explain the nature of the work on the firing line, in the various English camps on the troops, and on the trains to the demobilizing centres. This is to inform the canvassers of the reasons for the campaign.

The canvassing commences early on Wednesday morning and continues until Friday, when it is hoped that more than the expected $20,000 will be obtained.

More Commendation. Letters continue to come into the Y. M. C. A. military headquarters expressing the appreciation of returned men for work done by Y. M. C. A. men in France and England.

Sig. Elmer E. S. Fetherston of the 32nd Battery, 8th Brigade, who lives at 225 Queen street, London, writes to the Y. M. C. A. as follows: "It gives me particular pleasure to testify to the fact of thousands of others, regarding the absolutely invaluable service rendered to all ranks of the Allied armies in England and France by the Canadian Y. M. C. A. The work of the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations cannot be too highly praised and the real, tangible results of their service constituted no inconsiderable factor in the winning of the war."

"There is no question whatever but that the Canadian Y. M. C. A. was the strongest and most efficient organization of its kind in the world."

Sincerely yours, (Signed) ELMER E. FETHERSTON. Real Appreciation. Sig. H. Whittle of the 1st Battalion, writes as follows: "It is with the greatest pleasure that I pen these few lines on behalf of the boys who arrived per R. M. S. Adriatic on April 20, 1919, and have been conducted safely to London. We make this inadequate method to try and show our appreciation for the many and generous kindnesses which have been bestowed on us since our arrival in our dearly beloved country. The boys and myself cannot express our thanks and join in wishing you every success in all your different branches. The boys and myself cannot express our thanks sufficiently to the Y. M. C. A. conductor on our train. He has been like a great big brother to us all, and a wonderful source of information for us. He has certainly warmed our hearts as I never thought they could be warmed after the scenes we passed through in the past four years."

"Again let me thank you, and wish you success. Yours very sincerely, (Signed) SIG. H. WHITTLE. Earn and Give Beginning. Today is beginning of the race for corn and give line up. The aim of London Boys is the enlistment of 300 boys in the next few days, who will undertake to support the work of Y. M. C. A. in some way as they did last year, by earning before October 1st, 1919. This race has begun. Three teams are in the flight. They are representing a social race between two continents and the winning party will be the one whose crew enlists the greatest number of fellows during the week. One hundred enlistments will be the crowning number and the crew of that ship will be the winners. The teams are headed by a light commander and three other officers and a crew of eight. The high school, public school, business boys, taking the Canadian Standard Efficiency Program in the churches and Y. M. C. A. boys are all represented in the race."

The Y. M. C. A. team has its engine in motion by the first enlistment. Walter Oberhead was the first fellow in the city to sign up and wear the colors of his team. London boys are out to hold up the record of 1918.

JOY OF THEOSOPHY

Francis G. Hanchett, formerly assistant United States attorney at Chicago, lectured last evening at Theosophical Hall, 212 Dundas street, on "The Joy of Theosophy." He said in part: "We must necessarily be happy when we understand God's great plan for man. Theosophy explains the whole cosmic scheme and order. It teaches the evolution for man is evolution. It shows that an all-wise and all-loving supreme power rules this universe, and that is a scientific fact that, as the scriptures say, 'All things work together for good.' It also teaches that man is a fragment of divinity, that he is immortal, and that his future is one whose glory and splendor are without limit. With such knowledge as this, how could one be otherwise than joyful? Pessimism comes from a lack of faith and knowledge. 'Ignorance is the cause of suffering. As a man becomes wise, he becomes joyous and serene. The divine wisdom which theosophy teaches is destined to regenerate the world. The truths taught by this great philosophy will furnish the basis of wisdom upon which will be reconstructed the more joyous civilization of the coming age. Mr. Hanchett will give his lecture on 'The Middle Path' at the same hall this evening at 8 o'clock."

EXTRA POWER BELTING

Completely Standardized on Belting

ONE of the greatest compliments ever paid Goodyear Extra Power Belting comes to us from Port Arthur, Ont. In May, 1918, the big plant of the Port Arthur Pulp and Paper Company was opened. In six months they had decided to use nothing but Goodyear Extra Power Belts on their Mill machinery.

This decision was not made in a moment. Extra Power received as severe a testing as was ever given belting.

From barkers and grinders, down to cutters and pumps, "Extra Power" was submitted to all the gruelling work and difficult conditions that a pulp and paper plant affords.

"In the six months that we have been in operation," writes Mr. A. G. Pounsford, the General Manager, "we have only had three belt failures, all of which were due to improper riveting."

It is important to remember that belting service in such a plant means continuous service—a breakdown on one machine means a complete shut-down of all production.

To decide, therefore, to standardize on Extra Power Belting, in view of the "very good service" it has given, is a splendid tribute to its dependability and all-round merits.

These time and money-saving features of "Extra Power" are winning for this modern belt a dominant place in Canadian industry.

There are executives in your line of business who keep belt records, who buy on known facts, who balance length of service and performance against price—men whose experience with "Extra Power" will interest you.

Let us send a man trained by Goodyear to discuss your belt problems. No obligation, of course. Just phone, write, or wire our nearest branch.

there might be sufficient room in the harbor to the south to accommodate the large ships. He suggested that a swing or a jacking bridge would solve the difficulty. The subject of the present structure shows signs of being under the attention of the minister. Mr. Carvell pointed out that the bridge was called to this. Mr. Carvell suggested that the dredging had been the cause of this.

Mr. Carvell expressed the opinion that the crossing at the L. and P. S. tracks near the bridge was a bad one and it would be a good chance to eliminate it by erecting an overhead bridge. After taking a brief survey of the ground he thought it would be a comparatively easy engineering feat.

THE LOCAL MARKET

A few loads of hay constituted the local market this morning; the price remained about the same.

Oats are firm at $2.40 2/5 per cwt. The Toronto live hog market is very unsettled; live hogs are now quoted at $21 per cwt. but it is not likely that this price will remain for Wednesday's shipment.

Dairy produce on Saturday's market sold at 55c per lb wholesale and 57c 5/8c at retail. There were no changes in the prices of creamery butter.

Eggs jumped in price, and are now quoted at 24c per dozen wholesale and 45c retail; at country points egg buyers are paying 40c per dozen for them.

GRAIN. Chicago, May 5.—Opening: Corn—May, $1.73; July, $1.70; 72c. Oats—May, 71c; July, 72c.

Chicago, May 5.—Fresh returns in the value of corn received today from 300 continued wet weather, which has both hauled and planted difficult, if not impossible. On the new advance, July delivery touched the highest price yet in this season.

Profit-taking sales, however, led subsequently to a reaction. Opening figures, which ranged from 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c, were the result of a reaction.

Some estimates of that old work, including the erection of the bridge, will cost to the neighborhood of $235,000. This will be $200,000 for the widening of the harbor and the balance for the erection of the bridge.

Engineers of the department of public works are working on the proposed plans to form an accurate idea of the cost.

Noted. On arrival in London, Hon. Mr. Carvell walked around the downtown section of the city, visiting the postoffice, the Federal Square, the city hall and the public building.

That London needs a new postoffice. The Hon. Mr. Carvell, who is not committed himself as to whether it will be commenced this year. The question of an appropriation for the building for all of the customs offices.

There appears to be some difference of opinion as to the location of a new building. S. Frank Glass, M. P. stated that he had been told last week by Dr. Collier, deputy postmaster-general and Lieut.-Col. G. Ross, chief postoffice superintendent of the western division, that at least seven or eight stories building would be required.

Another alternative would be to extend the building on Carling street to take in the London Printing and Lithographing Building. Only Five-Story.

Mr. Carvell said that the department is considering a five-story building. He is of the opinion that this will be the best for the needs of the city for many years to come.

When questioned regarding the statement made by Mr. Glass, the minister said that the postoffice department would have to sanction the plan.

Major Hume Cronyn agreed with the minister that a five-story building is all that is required. He also thinks that a five-story one would be more in keeping with the architecture of the city.

George M. Reid of the chamber of commerce is not at all in favor of the eight-story building. He thinks that the five-story one will be more suitable from all viewpoints.

Some of the local men fear that if there is too much discussion as to the size of the building, London may have to worry about for some years without the new postoffice.

Mr. Glass stated that he was told by Mr. Ross that the London has the means to build a five-story office for its demands of any in the Dominion.

Hon. Mr. Carvell would not say when the work on the building would be commenced. He said that it would be commenced as soon as the money was available.

Moral Obligation. Speaking of the Federal Square proposition, after he had taken a walk around the block, the minister stated that it was a "fool proposition, but that the opinion was most suitable." This opinion was expressed when his attention was called to the fact that London had been promised $130,000 in support of the Federal Square.

He emphatically stated that London had a moral claim on the government for the amount of the promise.

"I would be in favor of paying this to the city," said the minister. "What about the interest which the city has paid out during these years?" queried Aid Little.
