The British official statement fol-"The enemy bombarded our first line trenches along the greater por tion of our front south of the Ancre at various times from 7 o'clock last night until early this morning.
"Covered by his artillery fire, he attacked our positions west of Gullemont, between the quarries and the Montauban-Guillemont road. He did not reach our lines at any point, and was repulsed with loss.

This attack was made by troops of the Prussian Guard, and was preceded by a heavy bombard-ment which commenced at 7 p.m. The attack, launched at about 7:30 o'clock, was pressed with determination, but everywhere was repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy, and we maintained all our positions. Steady and Brave.

"The success of our defence is largely due to the steadiness and shires and of the Dorsetshire men, who, in spite of being subjected to very heavy bombardment, steadily pulsed assaults of the enemy. "Opposite Auchy we exploded two

On August 11, Fochs' staff showed it was ready to make a bid for this stronghold, and every day and night since then Maurepas has received a drubbing such as no town has ever before suffered. Horse Power

Almost 34 horse-power from this regular stock Maxwell engine!

34 actual, brake horse-power!

Proved by an accurate dynamometer test, made in the Maxwell laboratories August 10, 1916.

There has been a lot of talk about horse-power, and we just want to let Maxwell owners and prospective owners know that in respect to horse-power, as in most other respects, the Maxwell leads by a comfortable margin. Not that we attach such great importance to horse-power. We don't We never have.

Horse-power - abundant horse-power -is only one of many superior features of the Maxwell.

We are selling motor cars-complete motor cars-not engines or horse-power. Horse-power is a matter that is secondary to motor efficiency and economy. A giant has no advantage if he does not apply, or wrongly applies, his strength. Maxwell cars have horse-power-all you want or need-probably more per pound of car weight than any other automobile in the world. But we don't make any loud cry

Because we have more than horsepower to sell you.

Because you are, and should be, interested in results, the net effectiveness of power.

We challenge competitive tests. We invite comparison.

Because we absolutely know that no car of its class or weight can surpass the Maxwell on speedways, on rough roads, through sand or mud, anywhere.

And because we know, and you will know, that, everything considered, the Maxwell is the World's Greatest Motor Car Value!

London, Ont., Saturday, August 26. CECIL'S CONSERVATISM, ET AL.

OT LONG ago one of the English Cecils, was it Lord Hugh or Lord Robert?-wrote a book entitled "Conservatism." The Cecils are high and dry British Tories, of the finest and silkiest grain, whose ancestors, as Lloyd George was vulgar enough once to remind the House of Commons, were ennobled by the loot of monastic lands -ah, a long time ago, of course. It would be interesting to have the noble Cecil's view of Tory developments in Canada. There would be some curious birds here to be accounted for and classified by the "high-brow" political philosopher.

Sir Richard McBride is very interesting. Of him Winston Churchill once said, at a dinner, that high destiny could be seen written on his forehead. Politics have become high game in British Columbia, to say the least, under Sir Richard's fostering care.

STORIES OF BRITISH NAVAL HEROISM "My Cricket Is Spoilt" Written for The Advertiser by Judge Barron of Stratford Dedicated to the Boy Scouts of Canada. A British sailor must do many fit, which did not add to their good

A British sailor must do many things, but seldom does he turn tailor and make his own clothes. This, however, is what he had to do, and what he did between the date of the Boer ultimatum and four days later, when the Powerful reached Durban. H.M.S. Powerful is a first-class protected cruiser of a displacement of 14,200 tons, and with a speed of 22 knots. Her armament was two 9-2-inch guns, sixteen 6-inch quick firers, sixteen 12 pdr. quick firers, fourteen small quick pdr. quick firers, fourteen small quick firers and four torpedo tubes. Launched in 1895, her first commission was immediately prior to the great naval review of 1897, where, under the command of Capt. Lambton, now Rear-Admiral Lambton, she attracted much attention and a great deal of admiration. In the short space of less than attention and a great deal of admiration. In the short space of less than a year later her decks were "cleared for action," when on the China station, hourly expecting a Russian torpedo attack. It is difficult to measure the hushed excitement and nervous strain in "clearing for action." In a feeble way the youth, who counts the hours ahead of some athletic competition, knows a "wee" bit about it, and he knows too, that once he is "off" then for the first time, the nervous tension drops from him. There is no room afdrops from him. There is no room afterwards for anything but the energy that kept dropping its shells into Ladyterwards for anything but the energy to win. In like manner on board ship, when the order comes "clear for action," the whole system is "keyed up" to a tremendous pitch. It is the older heads alone who preserve an every-day attitude, and can "hobble" excitement. Not until the order comes "Companyed action," does man's something in it. What is it? No every-day attitude, and can "hobble" excitement. Not until the order comes "Commence action," does man's "make-up" unloosen, and the solemn and impressive thoughts of a moment before give way to an all-absorbing sense of "doing." It is the moment of "clearing for action" that is most trying. While one sees everything moved to give free play to the 9-2 guns, when ventilators, stanchions, davits, capstans and every other thing is got out of the way—when with fever heat men matt together ropes, and hang them between guns to shield and protect the men behind them. When splinter nets of wire are hung to protect the upper deck and cables are hung amidships to turn the enemy's shot and the racks and fighting tops are stored with ammunition ready for use, then it is that these silent warnings of what one may expect, tests the nerves of the best of men. So it was

Why pay more for Less Value in some other car

TEVER in the entire history of the motor industry has there been a 6-cylinder car that offered such GREAT value for the price as this Studebaker SERIES 17 Six at $1450. To approach it in POWER and SIZE, you must look among cars priced hundreds of dollars higher. And none of the cars closer to its price give as much power, size, room, luxury of finish and fittings and basic quality of materials.

Here are the essentials of this magnificent "MADE-IN-CANADA" car on which to base comparisons—FIFTY horse power—motor 3 %-inch bore x 5-inch stroke; comfort for SEVEN passengers; 122-inch wheelbase; 34 x 4 tires that give not only tire economy but riding ease; genuine straight-grain, semi-glazed leather upholstery; and quality of materials and workmanship in every detail that are unexcelled at any price.

Why pay a higher price for a car that gives LESS than this? We urge you to let us demonstrate this wonderful SIX before you buy any car.

London Paper Shows Huge Exports of Food to the Enemy.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Aug. 26.-A London cable of her spare food products to feeding statistics of the Netherlands financial department of export, which it pubfor the first six months of 1914 and 1916 is amazing. In butter, Holland's export to Germany rose from 8,000 to 19,000 tons; cheese, 6,000 to 46,000; cocoa powder, 1,000 to 3,000; eggs, 8,000 to 20,000 tons; meat, 6,000 to 40,000 tons; and potato flour from 21,000 to 52,000 "The exports to England in the same period are no less remarkable. The export of butter fell from 3,652 tons to 7 tons; cheese, 9,702 tons to 668; cocoa 591; meat, 84,434 to 1,630; potato flour, 15,585 to 8,982." The Morning Post argues that these figures mean that Holland, which supplied Britain with food in time of taken to feeding Germany instead.

The Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway has been adding steadily to its equipment for fighting forest fires. The top picture shows a tank car ready for action, two of the crew working the pump, one man directing the stream of water and two others available with pails and shovels. Lower picture shows engine coupled to car ready to make speed trip to scene of fire. One of these cars has been stationed at Porquis Junction, one at Nushka, one at Earlton Junction, and one at Osseo, on the Elk Lake Branch of the line. Each car holds between 7,500 and 8,000 gallons of water and carries 150 feet of hose.

The Grand Trunk Railway also operate a series of tank cars over their Ottawa Division running through Algonquin Park. This is preparedness in anticipation of unfortunate fires caused by the matchcigar-cigarette and carelessness of settlers cleaning their land.

An endowment policy for women combines the element of investment with that of protection. Such a policy provides for the years when one's earning power will have decreased.

Financial provision for the future is more necessary for the woman than for the man.

The woman who is protected for years often loses that protection at a time when she is least able to withstand it.

An endowment policy paid for during the years when a small sum annually can easily be spared will safeguard you from disaster at middle life or old age. Consult our Women's Department. Special agents, Mrs. John Stevely, Mrs. B. C. McCann, room 317 Dominion Savings. Phone 5520.
