OPPORTUNITY AND OUR COAL.

They used to say Opportunity had to be caught by the forelock. But opportunity wears different clothing nowadays. And if you "missed out" in not buying and burning "WALLA WALLA" coal last year, you can reach out this year and grasp Opportunity by the back of the neck.

For we still control the sale of "WALLA WALLA" coal in London. After it comes from there in dry, closed cars, it is 3-times screened—then stored in close, dry, airtight sheds. If you have used it, you know all about it better than we can tell you.

When Dame Nature distributed her gifts to Mother Earth ages ago, she gave the most of the best coal to the section that is now known as the Mammoth Vein region.

That's where "WALLA WALLA" comes from.

After it comes from there in dry, closed cars, it is 3-times screened—then stored in close, dry, airtight sheds. If you have used it, you know all about it better than we can tell you.

MIKADO BUYS OUT TRUST

Japanese Government Now Controls American Tobacco Company.

Tokio, Sept. 27.—The terms of the sale of the interests of the American Tobacco Company to the Japanese Government, under the recently established monopoly, have been concluded. The company objected to the price the Japanese first offered, and appealed to the American government. As a result of the extended representations made by Mr. Grieson, the American minister, the consideration for the transfer of the company's interest has been increased by about one million yen (equivalent to about $250,000 American money). The total consideration has not been made public.

Almost, But Not Quite Sick

You are ailing—robbed of ambition to work—find it hard to think clearly. Not sick enough to think of dying, but bad enough for life to be pretty dull. There is a remedy—Ferrozone—that quickly lifts this half dead feeling. Gracious! but Ferrozone makes you feel good! It sharpens the dull appetite—makes it keen as a razor.

Elbow! Ferrozone makes lots of it, the rich, red kind that vitalizes the whole body. You'll be wonderfully quickened, immensely strengthened, you'll feel just like new after using Ferrozone.

Surplus staying power, reserve energy, buoyant health, all come from Ferrozone; 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

There is a strong movement to restore the practice of corporal punishment in the public schools of New York City.

M'GILL HONORS A LONDON GIRL

Miss Annie Mattinson's Envyable Success—Has a Voice With Great Possibilities.

Mr. James Mattinson, manager of the London Drug Company, yesterday received a telegram from Montreal saying that his daughter, Miss Annie, had been awarded the Exhibition scholarship in singing offered by McGill University for competition among the musical artists who have come from far and wide to attend the new Conservatorium, presented to the university by the generosity of Lord Strathcona. Miss Mattinson had signally distinguished herself, and her family in this city are receiving congratulations on every hand.

The new McGill Conservatorium is destined to be in the forefront of such institutions in America, judging from its fine equipment, and its staff, composed of well-known musical authorities. The institution was informally opened only a week ago, and has already attracted much attention on this continent. The scholarship prizes, which were offered to mark the commencement of actual work, were many cases, had been studying for many years. Miss Mattinson was only visiting in Montreal and had not thought either of taking part in the Conservatorium or of competing for a prize. She decided to do both, however, at the earnest solicitation of her friends in that city. A group of eminent musicians were acting as judges of the singing. Miss Mattinson sang "Calm is the Night," and "Beethoven," winning the $50 scholarship. More than 100 persons were present, director of the institution, stated that she had made a profound impression upon the judges. Miss Lichenstein, the head of the staff, said that she had not heard a voice of such fine quality for many years.

Miss Mattinson has studied under Sippi and Mr. Cyril Dwight-Brown, respectively, in the city of London. She is now a member of the London Conservatorium, and her future career will be watched with much interest by Londoners. In the city of Montreal, authorities Miss Mattinson's voice possesses possibilities which will place her as a lady in the front rank of vocalists.

"AT CRIPPLE CREEK" TONIGHT

"At Cripple Creek" is scheduled for presentation at the Grand theatre, tonight. The play is by the well-known author, Hal Reid, and is written in his happiest vein. The story is unconventional, brisk in action and strong in motive, and appealing human interest. The scenes are laid in the Rocky Mountains and many novel effects and startling sensations are introduced.

"PRINCESS CHIC" SATURDAY

Seats and boxes for the engagement of the "Princess Chic Opera Company," with Caroline Boelen as prima donna, will be placed on sale tomorrow morning, and the date of the engagement here is Saturday next, matinee and night. One of the features of this pretty and romantic opera, which seems to have attracted wide spread attention is the fact that there are few periods of rest in the progress of the performance in which the company is not singing. There are more than twenty songs, and a number of numbers in the three acts of the opera. Julian Edwards is the composer of the music, and in this score he has written a most ambitious and effective work in his long career. Among Mr. Edwards' other successes, were "The Wedding Day," in which Lillian Russell and Della Fox appeared together, "Brian Boon," "The Magis Kiss," and "The Jolly Musketiers."

TOMORROW AT THE LONDON

Allan Villair, Pearl Lums and their clever company produce dramas of the highest class. The theatregoers of the city will have the opportunity of seeing the following of their popular plays at "The London," commencing tomorrow night, "Heart of Texas," "A Woman Worth Winning," and "The Conquering Case." It is doubtful if a selection of stronger bills could have been made. There will also be a number of numbers offered between acts, making a continuous performance. Tomorrow, will be ladies' night, when special inducements are offered.

PHILANTHROPIC EFFORT

Subjects That Are To Be Discussed at the Charities' Conference.

The local committee in charge of the approaching conference of charities, to begin Monday afternoon in the city hall, desire it to be particularly understood that all the sessions will be open to the public. No admission or subscription fees will be charged. It will be essentially a conference of all interested in the subjects to be discussed. These cover a wide range of philanthropic effort, among them being the following: "The Care and Maintenance of the Insane," "Inebriety," "Care and Maintenance of Deserted and Neglected Children," "The Best Method of Aiding Needy and Dependent Classes." It is expected that the discussion of each will be introduced by ladies and gentlemen of well-known experience in this line.

OPPOSED TO REFORM PLAN

Mr. Wyndham Says Unionists Can't Support Drunken.

London, Tuesday, Sept. 27.—The Rt. Hon. George Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, writes to the Times, criticizing the report of Lord Dunsen's Irish Reform Association, especially the recommendation that a statutory legislative assembly for Ireland be instituted. Mr. Wyndham says: "Without reserve or qualification the Unionist Government is opposed to the multiplication of legislative bodies within the United Kingdom, whether in pursuance of the policy generally known as home rule for Ireland, or in pursuance of the policy known as 'home rule for all round.'"

Discussing the proposals dealing with Irish finance, Mr. Wyndham comes to the conclusion that the destruction of the existing departments charged with the administration of Irish finance to make way for the construction of some other, is a matter for speculation, proper enough for private individuals, but outside the sphere of practical politics.

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KLEN)

PSYCHINE

She writes, May 18, 1904: "I have to thank Psychine for my present health. Two years ago I was going in ready to die. I could hardly drag myself across the floor. I could not sleep. I had to lie down when I came back. If I went for a mile or two on my wheel I was too weak to lift it through the gateway, and last time I came in from having a spin I dropped utterly helpless from fatigue. My father would give me no peace until I procured PSYCHINE. Knowing it was excellent for decline and weakness, I must say the results were wonderful, and people remarked my improvement. Instead of a little, pale, hollow-cheeked, listless, melancholy girl, I am to-day full of life, match, or an evening party with anyone, and a few months ago I could not struggle to church, 40 rods from my home. Have never had the slightest cause to fear any return of disease.—Elia Muriel Wood.

Mr. Dunlop Vacates.

Will the Pecksniff of the Opposition explain events in North Renfrew? The sitting member, Mr. Dunlop, resigns his seat rather than face the election court. His excuse is that he wishes to save the cost of a trial. He confesses to "indiscretions" on the part of some of his supporters, which would cost him his seat if the petition were pressed.

Mr. Dunlop's expenses, according to his shown statement, were over £7,000. How much of this came from the "purity fund" has not been disclosed, as he underwent no examination for discovery.

Bob Birmingham and his perambulating machine were invited for the occasion. The paid agents with whom the riding warmed did their work under cover of pious professions from the stump. Among Liberals throughout the country there will be regret that the light was not turned on the shady side of the contest. Mr. Dunlop denies that there was any bargain or saw-off, but the voiding of the North Norfolk election, through an admission of agency by the respondent's counsel, which the petitioner could not prove, will be associated with North Renfrew by the public, in spite of Mr. Dunlop's assertions that he would not be a party to any arrangement of the kind.

There is no desire among the Liberals of Ontario to suppress any evidence of corruption practiced in the interests of a Liberal candidate. They want the bitter truth, so that they may fix responsibility and purge the party. But they are not gullible enough to be caught by the cant of the Conservative press and the leaders of the Conservative party. They are confirmed in this by Mr. Dunlop's surrender in North Renfrew, but Conservative hypocrisy would have been riddled more effectively by a full exposure of the mass of corruption behind Mr. Dunlop's election.

Should Be Encouraged.

Never in its history has the city been more prosperous than it is at present. Anything that any of our public bodies can do to preserve this state of affairs should be done. Mistakes like the disastrous fire of the other night, by which the Builders' Supply Company lost about $40,000, should be prevented in future. There should be some method by which an industry of so much value to the city could be protected. It is said a few hundred feet of hose would have saved thousands of dollars. We are aware that the plant is located outside the city limits, but that is because the clay necessary for the company's business is to be found there. It is always the endeavor of municipalities to help each other when extraordinary fires occur, and when the conflagration is within a few yards of the city limits, and the enterprise a valuable one in building up the city, there is all the more reason why assistance should be furnished.

We understand it is the intention of the company to rebuild, and we hope they will at an early date accomplish their purpose. Should it be necessary to guarantee fire protection we hope the council and water commissioners will aid as far as they can. The importance of independent enterprises such as this is great. The manufacturers here as well as with some other contemplated enterprises. The Builders' Supply Company had its origin in the high prices being charged for bricks, and its existence insures a good article at a reasonable cost. This affects all citizens beneficially. Trusts and combines to put up prices on building material will check the growth of the city. Let every legitimate encouragement be given the company to place again in active operation their magnificent plant.

Canada and American Currency.

Canadians complain of the refusal of Americans to accept Canadian money. Our silver passes at par in Detroit, Buffalo and border cities and towns frequented by Canadians, but in inland places it is subjected to a heavy discount or absolutely refused. Complaints are just now more numerous than usual since so many from this side are traveling to St. Louis. Mr. O. E. Talbot, M. P. of Bellechasse, Que., unburies himself thus:

"I offered a $10 Bank of Montreal bill to the head clerk of the Planters' Hotel, the biggest hotel in the place, but he refused it. 'Did you never hear of Montreal?' I asked. 'Oh, I know there is a town of that name up north, but I never heard they had a bank,' he replied. What do you think of that? There was no one to talk, because he would not listen. In Chicago and St. Paul it is just the same. Out on the coast you can hardly see Canadian money in Canadian places. It is all American."

few Americans have ever heard the name of a Canadian bank, or know the first principles of our banking law. Consequently, it is not surprising that they look askance at Canadian paper money. If we had a national currency a free exchange between the two countries might be arranged; but our banking system is founded upon the privilege of issuing notes possessed by chartered banks. There are those who contend that it is a crime against the public interests—that the state should reap all the profit of note circulation, which now goes into private pockets. This question was fought out and decided long ago. The elasticity of our currency, by which it contracts and expands with the volume of business, and yet is kept within safe limits, is the triumph of the Canadian banking system and its chief claim to superiority over the rigid national currency of the United States. Experience has demonstrated that there are some functions which must be left to private skill, initiative and interest, and banking is one of them.

Candid, at Least.

"The great majority of Canadian manufacturers approve of the principle of an Imperial preference, provided that the minimum tariff shall be high enough to afford adequate protection to Canadian industries. They favor the raising of the general tariff so that when the preference is granted, industries which are now suffering severely from British competition will have their protection. If the plan proposed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and approved of almost unanimously by its members, is adopted, the Canadian tariff against British goods will average considerably higher than the present tariff against British goods."—Industrial Canada, the organ of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

"The manufacturers of Canada, as the association's resolutions show, want adequate protection for their industries and also a tariff preference in favor of the British manufacturer. They have never shown how the two things are to be combined. The combination is practically impossible. Any preference that Great Britain would be justified in agreeing to would be one which would gain for her manufacturers some advantage in Canadian markets. Her statements are not looking for an outlet for foodstuffs."—Montreal Gazette, Conservative.

Dunlop got a bad puncture.

"Don't shoot; I'll come down," said Dunlop; but Liberals would have been more satisfied with the rifle practice.

The postoffice surplus of $304,771 for the fiscal year recalls Sir Charles Tupper's prophecy that two-cent postage would mean the loss of a million dollars annually. Sir Charles' prophecies always end that way.

A Toronto father and mother have confessed to deliberately murdering their child because it was a financial burden. They took the little one out in a row boat and the father killed it with an oar, but the body was washed ashore to tell the tale. There is nothing more horrible in the annals of crime. The parents were dead not only to conscience, but to the instincts of nature which cry out even in the beast.

We refuse to believe the story published in local contemporary that Chatham Conservatives refused to attend the banquet at the opening of the Peninsular Fair because Hon. Sydney Fisher was one of the invited guests. Chatham people cannot be so ill-bred or so lost to ordinary courtesy and hospitality.

Here is what that fine old dyed-in-the-wool Tory, Sir Howard Vincent, M. P., says of the Canadian preferential tariff:

"It has doubled your imports from Great Britain, and over doubled your exports to her. Before the preferential tariff was put on, in 1896, goods imported to Canada from Great Britain amounted to $29,000,000. In 1903, six years after the preference country reached $58,000,000. Here is the blue book. Moreover, your exports to Great Britain, which in 1896 were $62,000,000, in 1903 reached the amount of $125,000,000—more than double."

Come Home, Father.

[Council Bluffs Nonpareil.]
Father, dear father, come home with me now.
For mother is out to the club.
You said you were coming right home from your work.
To get the dear children some grub.
The cook has gone out—her club also meets—
The janitor's gone on a spree.
And poor Brother Bennie has swallowed a nail,
And no one to help him but me.
Father, dear father, come home with me now.
There is a scrubbing and sweeping to do.
While mother is solving the problems of state.
The children are crying for you.
The socks must be darned, the patches tacked on.
And beds must be turned back to air.
And mother's shirtwaist must be ironed tonight.
Or she will have nothing to wear.
Father, dear father, come home with me now.
It's lonely without any man;
And mother will grieve when she comes from the club.
If things are not fixed spick and span.
Don't swear, dear papa, it isn't polite.
The children in hearing might be.
So let business slide, for dear mother, you know.
May bring home a few friends to tea.

of European armies; and no army I have done better than the Russian, whose valor has been extreme during the last few days. There is, indeed, an essential difference between Japanese valor and that of a European force, and combined with the most modern tactics, the Japanese valor is simply irresistible. All the armies Russia relied upon are defeated; all the men who, bedecked with orders and pictures of the saints, went out to hammer into the heathen and Buddhist respect for the Russian god, as the Russian newspapers said, have, at the decisive moment, failed. Lucky, those who, like Makaroff and Keller, found honorable death in battle. All is over with Russian predominance in Eastern Asia. The paramount power there is now Japan.

[Events.]
The leadership has been divided between Mr. Haggart and Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Mr. Haggart, Mr. Patterson, Mr. Clarke Wallace, Dr. Sproule, Mr. E. F. Clark, and W. F. Maclean. The party has not had even a nominal leader. The attempt to secure a nominal leader in the Province of Quebec has failed, owing to the opposition of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, of which he has left a description for history by the name of the "Nest of Traitors." Mr. Haggart and Mr. Montague among the members of their own party. The Hon. Peter Whitehead, M. P., leader of Commons at the time, expressed his great disgust at their conduct, and he reflected the opinion of nearly all the Conservatives in Ontario at that time. Such a state of things occurred that Sir Mackenzie Bowell actually went to the County of Lanark, at the last general election, to assist in depriving Hon. John Haggart of his seat in the House of Commons. The ex-premier also refused to speak to Mr. Haggart, Mr. Montague or Mr. G. E. Foster.

WITH THE "OLD BOYS"

Pleasant Episode in Visit of Two Londoners to Chicago.

Messrs. John Stevely and James Duffield, of this city, have returned from a trip to the west. On their way here they spent a short time in Chicago, where they met, among others, Mr. W. A. Small, the president of the International Association of London Old Boys, and who has done so much to make the reunions here a success. Learning of the presence of Messrs. Stevely and Duffield in Chicago, Mr. Small secured a number of London Old Boys and tendered the visitors an informal dinner at the Union Hotel, the gathering proving to be a very pleasant one, both for the entertainers and those who were entertained.

After a dainty dinner was disposed of, a number of toasts were honored, and short speeches made. Of course, there was no small amount of talk about the semi-centennial of the city next year, when the old boys are expected from far and near, to help celebrate the 50th birthday of the city. ### FAIR, PLEASANT, FOR OCTOBER

Nice Weather Sandwiched Between Storm Periods.

EARTHQUAKE SHIVERS ON 24TH

First Taste of Winter Will Be Given Us About the End of Next Month.

Prof. Rev. I. R. Hicks, of St. Louis, issues the following as his forecasts for October:

As indicated, the effects of the Earth's autumnal equinox last up to the middle of October. Of course its disturbing influences will be in diminishing degrees, fading away entirely by the middle of the month. The storm period in progress at the close of September will be felt the first two days of this month in the eastern parts of the country, while the high barometer and change to fair and colder weather will have advanced eastward beyond the central valley of the Mississippi.

On and touching the 4th and 5th look for return of higher temperature, falling barometer and more fall-like weather. All these October disturbances will wind up with rising barometer, change of winds to northwesterly, and much cooler weather.

The first regular storm period proper for October is central on the 11th, and extends from the 8th to the 12th. The Moon being in perigee on the 7th and on the celestial equator and moving on the 8th, expect very prompt development in the form of falling barometer, change to quite warm, and followed by rain, with even thunder storms as early in the period as the 8th and 9th. Later in the period these storms will spread to the east, and along with the rising barometer behind the storms, an early touch of balmy weather will come out of the northwest, attended by high, autumnal gales over the lake regions. It is possible also that delayed equinoctial storms may reach the southern coasts at this period. Within forty-eight hours of moon on the 8th, seismic disturbances in many parts of the earth need not cause surprise.

The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th. This is a volcanic reaction period and it will bring on a disturbed weather condition that will run, most probably, into the regular storm period following. The Mercury brace shows that a Mercury equinoctial disturbance is central on the 24th, reaching from the 18th to the close of October. This fact will tend to prolong a spell of unsettled, disturbed weather.

During the regular volcanic period, central on the 24th, already in progress, settled elements will return to very degraded storm conditions. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storms may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms first of rain and probable thunder, followed by early squalls of snow and sleet in northern extremes. Heavy northwesterly gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time, and a general and decided change to colder weather will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm area that follows this period. The culminating crisis of this period will fall on and touching Monday, the 24th. On and about this date will also be another period when earthquake shivers will be reported from different quarters of the globe. Look for frost well to the southward, with some freezing to the north at the end of and for some days following this period.

The last period of disturbance in October, blending with Mercury equinox, is central on the 27th and 28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer, with falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and mist, amounting to sleet in many sections northward. The month will go out with anti-storm areas spreading eastward from the west-northwest, causing general change to much cooler.

We have thus outlined the periodic storm movements for October. But those who have followed our forecasts for any length of time know that these forecasts imply that much pleasant and open weather will lie between the perturbed periods. Even in the opening stages of storm periods, much of our finest autumn weather will occur, and immediately behind the actual area of cloudiness and precipitation, cooler but fine weather conditions set in, so that instead of "storms all the time," fair to pleasant weather is to be expected in large measure.

The wise and practical student of nature, in the light of these forecasts, will turn the recurring storm periods to blessings, and be ready the better to improve the conditions and the open weather that naturally follows. Properly understood, storms are only transitory incidents in a sea of settled, economic weather conditions, always preparing the way for more comfortable, more practical and more profitable application of all pursuits and industries.

The reading public need scarcely be told that our forecasts of frost in the month of August were amply verified. All the northern tier of states, reaching from the northwest into New England, were visited by more or less frosts before the end of August. Four to six inches of snow was reported from several points. We did not predict that these frosts would prove very destructive to crops, but reports received just as we go to press show that serious losses have been sustained in several states.

As stated, our forecast of these early frosts were made so much to warn the people of probable losses, but to call attention to important and fundamental facts in nature and upon which we are basing and working out investigations that lead more and more to the solution of vast scientific and commercial problems.

This present instance of practical frosts in August resulted in only thousands of dollars losses, whereas the next time it might run into millions. If there are laws underlying these things, the laws involve wisdom, and woe, in the name of reason, why not find them out and escape the penalty of their violation?

The same is true of our forecasts of earthquake phenomena in August and September, both of which were literally verified. Our earthquake predictions for August were from the 24th to 28th. On the 27th violent seismic shocks visited California and other parts of the globe. Our forecasts of earthquakes for September were on and about the 9th. On that very day many heavy shocks were reported from South America. A fact to be noted is that these earthquakes in South America occurred just at the beginning of the total eclipse of the Sun visible in that region. Do not forget that earthquakes were reported on no other dates anywhere on the globe.

Has Left The Hospital

W. A. Beswick was confined in the hospital for three weeks and suffered severe pains in his back, arms and shoulders. He was advised to try Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pills, and was very soon able to leave the hospital and is now at work again. He naturally feels grateful for the benefit he received, and writes the following letter:

Huntsville, April 10, 1904.
Gentlemen,—Was in the hospital for three weeks with pain in my back, in my shoulders and arms. A friend advised me to take your "Bu-Ju," and I have been taking it, and feel so much better. I am able to do my work again. Yours truly,
W. A. BESWICK.

A PILL FOR GENEROUS EATERS.—There are many persons of healthy appetite and poor digestion who after a hearty meal, are subject to much suffering. The food of which they have partaken lies like lead in their stomachs. Headache, depression, and another day's suffering follow. One so afflicted is unfit for business or work of any kind. The condition Farmelee's Vegetable Pills will bring relief. They will assist in the elimination of the aliment, and used according to directions will restore healthy digestion.

WILL LIPTON CHALLENGE?

New York Yacht Club Expect Another Series for the Cup.

New York, Sept. 29.—Preparations are already being made by the members of the New York Yacht Club for the defense of the America's cup against a possible fourth challenge from Sir Thomas Lipton. The club think that a challenge may be expected by any mail, and that as in former years, the challenge will come from the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. Sir Thomas has not yet announced that he has made the necessary arrangements with a designer, but club members are only waiting to find out what conditions are named for the challenge. The challenge comes it will ask for a race under the same conditions that governed the last time.

According to the deed of gift no race can be sailed later than Nov. 1, and the months' notice must be given when the challenge is made. A challenge received by Dec. 1 would make the date for the first race Oct. 1.

PASTOR'S PLAIN TALK

Some Startling Statements on the Subject of Soul-Rewinning.

New York, Sept. 28.—Rev. John Balmor Shaw, who is leaving the West End Presbyterian Church, to take charge of the Second Church of Chicago, addressed his valedictory today to a large gathering of his hearers at the Presbyterian Ministers' Association. His address was on "Soul-Rewinning," and he took a pessimistic view of the religious tendencies of the time. These are some of the things he said:

"Women who call on me as new people, but you can scarcely here the most pious of them to make per-sonal calls, and about a lost sheep or for one only straying."

"A certain pastor of our city—let his name remain anonymous—has recently that one of the young women of his membership showed suspicious signs of slipping away. He did not like the increasing rudeness of her complexion, and the expensive clothes she was wearing so conspicuously the fragility of her home that he naturally was anxious about her. He went to one of his good friends, a young man, a worker, told her the facts, and asked her to give the young woman immediate and special attention."

"After a whole month, what was the pastor's surprise to learn nothing had been done! His worker said she had been too busy to attend the theater three times a week, since the charge was entrusted to her, nor too busy to go to her church club. He went to two others, and finally in a fourth, who was a young woman, went straight-way upon her mission, only to find that while the pastor had been tarrying and playing with the world one of his children had been lost."

There was much discussion of Dr. Shaw's paper.

FORCED TO EAT WORMS

Punishment for Not Catching Fish

Jersey Shore, Pa., Sept. 28.—As a result of being forced to eat worms, a 10-year-old William Hummer, son of A. B. Hummer, is in a critical condition. The boy, who was caught by several other lads of his own age, had been out fishing a few days ago and was returning home in the afternoon. On the way, Hummer says, he met two other boy schoolmates. These boys were somewhat older than the Hummer lad. One of them said:

"Hummer didn't catch any fish, so we will make him eat worms."

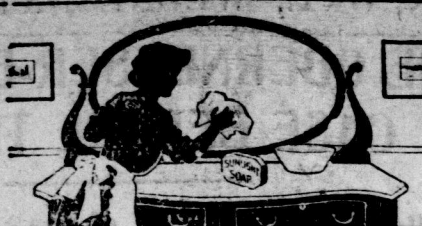

With that the two boys alleged to have pounced on the little fellow and choked a bunch of the fish-bait down his throat. His recovery is doubtful.

MR. ROSS ON HOME RULE

Effective Speech by the Premier at the Redmond Meeting.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Hon. George W. Ross made an effective speech at Mr. Redmond's meeting, on Monday. The Premier said he had no intention of making a speech, but to hear the message of Mr. Redmond and his colleagues. Ireland has given many orators of gifted utterance to the world, and the speech of the Irish leader showed that the gift of eloquence had not departed from Ireland. His oration had been logical, convincing and temperate, and Canada might emulate both his style and moderation. How happy Canadians should be, no members of Parliament in jail, though there are some we must send to jail; no land-lordism, and no land laws to enslave our lives. We have freedom in the widest range of things, and we are shown in the row of 1857. I have often wondered, continued the Premier, why Great Britain, so generous to Canada, should be so dilatory in extending the same courtesy to Ireland. If I were a member of the British House of Commons, though I never hope to be, for I have reached the summit of my ambition, and it is now my anxiety to keep there (cheers). I would treat Irishmen, as everybody else, with reasonable fairness. Next to Scotchmen they look out for everything, and they get it. We have had in Canada some very distinguished Irishmen. Sir John A. Macdonald was a part of the first rank. Hon. Edward Blake, now an honored member of the British House of Commons, whose career has followed with pride and devotion, was the first Liberal Premier of Ontario. It was a good Government, then, and we have never had anything but a good Government since that time. We are a great nation, without Irishmen. (Applause.) The wonder is that more from that country should be so difficult to get, and here and give the sweet liberties which our country gives, without distinction of race or color.

I wish England would see the wisdom of placing the Green Isle, which has given so much of its best blood that British Government might sway the destinies of the world. I am not afraid of sectarianism in Ireland, England gave home rule to Quebec, and Catholics were in a majority of ten to one, and she gave home rule to Ontario, where Protestants are in a majority of seven to one, and there is no complaint.

There are very few cleaning operations in which Sunlight soap cannot be used to advantage. It makes the home bright and clean.

Home rule does not mean separation, but such a federation as would allow Great Britain and Ireland to remain one. I wish success to the mission of Mr. Redmond and his colleagues. As a Canadian I thank you for your hospitality to those who are working for a united Ireland. Had the union of 183 been tested in the courts as in our election courts Lord Castlereagh would have been disqualified and the union dissolved. (Laughter and applause.)

OCTOBER MUST BE OUR BIGGEST MONTH.

WE have before us a hard proposition. To beat our best month will be a herculean task—but we'll do it. No standing still, content with past achievements. We must advance. Last October was the biggest month in our history—October, 1904, must beat it, and beat it big. The truth is there hasn't been a month in the history of this progressive business that hasn't exceeded the same month in any previous year. We fully realize how high a hill we have to climb to be at all former successes, but we've set our teeth in determination to get there. Besides we have the purchasing public behind us—at least all who have ever bought from our stock, and their name's legion. These and many others will be glad to take advantage of the special values to be had at this Great October Sale which we started to prepare for months ago.

While it will be a big month for us, it must also be a big month for our customers and all who come. Keep both hands on your money until Friday's announcement appears, then come and buy the goods you will want for Fall and Winter. Watch our advertisements—read them regularly—visit our store regularly—save money regularly.

Deep sympathy will be felt for the bereaved wife and family, especially on account of the sad circumstances surrounding the death. It is a matter of

Mr. William Hamilton, a brother of the deceased, said today that several conclusive points should be emphasized. In the first place, a man who intended to take his own life would not have conversed with his stenographer about the weapon just a few minutes before his death. Again, the diagonal course of the bullet from the extreme left to the extreme right of the body, where it was found behind the shoulder-blade, showed that the pistol was held in an awkward and improbable position for anyone to use.

The idea was intended to inflict a fatal blow. Furthermore, Mr. Bradshaw, the head of the Imperial Life Insurance Company, in Toronto, yesterday received the regular report from Mr. Hamilton, who had forwarded it on the morning of the fatal Monday. Everything in the report was in good order, and it contained the statement that Mr. Hamilton was too busy to send in all he desired, but that he would forward the remainder the next day. Mr. Hamilton had arranged with his stenographer to be on hand early Tuesday morning in order to cover all the work. Mr. Hamilton would have been working yester-
