THE SUBTLE X RAYS.

PROGRESS MADE BY SCIENTISTS IN THEIR DEVELOPMENT.

Nicola Tesla's Almost Settled Conviction From Results of Recent Experiments...

At first the pictures taken by the X rays discovered by Prof. Roentgen...

And so much progress has been made now in this direction...

INNER SIDE OF RING REVEALED.

erate the flesh from showing the bones in all their distinctive and even causing some parts of the bones to disappear altogether...

In many of the shadowgraphs taken by Dr. Morton the flesh has entirely disappeared from the bones...

The hand photograph was that of a lady, and she had a gold ring on her fingers. The circle of the ring was clearly revealed...

ANDREE, THE POLAR BALLOONIST.

Canadian Indian Warned by Sweden to Watch for His Fair.

The King of Sweden, who is taking much interest in Prof. Andree's projected balloon trip to the North Pole...

Prof. Andree, the Polar Balloonist, is probably holding them yet. The illustration shows her strong features...

A "WOMAN WARRIOR"

A PEN PICTURE OF A MOST INTERESTING WOMAN.

Commissioner Eva C. Booth, who has brought the Salvation Army into line against her Personality, Magnetism and Career.

Commissioner Eva C. Booth of the Salvation Army is a wonderful woman before she had been in the United States ten days she had helped to dispense her brother, Ballington Booth...

The personality of a woman who can do this should be interesting. Eva Booth does not disappoint one's expectations. She is no less interesting and very little less charming than the well-known leader, Maud Ballington Booth.

This woman warrior, whose motto is "Blood and Fire," has had considerable experience with both. Her present active engagement in the so-called holy war is by no means her first. Although she is not yet thirty years old, she has taken part in four great conflicts...

Following her early and humble experience in the selling of War Cry, Miss Booth set out on her first military expedition in the training home in London...

The attack was a particularly bitter one. The leader was a particularly depraved ruffian who had a leaning towards the study of the occult and sticks as missiles. It was during the heat of the conflict...

Her next active work was in connection with the relief of the famine in India. It included the training of officers and much travel and public speaking.

Conflict number three took place at Whitechurch. The issue there was the army's right to hold open-air meetings.

Whittier had none of the pretensions of genius. A little girl who lived in his house, and of whom he was very fond, asked him to commemorate in verse the death of her favorite kitten...

ON CARD ETIQUETTE.

HUMORIST BILL NYE THROWS SOME MORE LIGHT THEREON.

All Sorts of People Elected in the Society Way They Should Go—Novices Particularly Well Attended to With Unmistakable Rules.

Again it becomes necessary to throw more light upon the ever-attractive topic of card etiquette. Where great formality is required visiting cards should not be carried in the pocket with loose smoking tobacco.

When one is making formal calls on one's friends and where there are guests, the hostess should have a card for each one of her own cards for each lady and one of her husband's cards for each person in the house on whom she wishes to make a call.

Where friends call in a hired conveyance, it is better to have a card returned by mailing the usual cards. In cases where callers occupy the time of the hostess, it is better to have their own children instead of listening to the recital of what my children have said.

Where one starts out to make a call in one's carriage and meets the people in the street, it is better to have a card for each one of the party.

It is an execrable taste to put a purple brownie stamp on your visiting cards, as it is also to ask your hostess to return the cards to you.

Where a gentleman calls on a lady and she is not at home, he should put a card on the door with the name of the lady and the name of the gentleman.

A BRITISH NOBLEMAN

FOR WHOSE ANCESTORS AN AMERICAN STATE IS NAMED.

The Twenty-third Baron De La Warr, whose name is a name of noble lineage, is the eighth Earl of the House of De La Warr.

One of the oldest and bravest noblemen in England is that of De La Warr, to which Gilbert George Reginald has succeeded his late father.

The young nobleman comes down from a line of Normans of which there is no better in all England.

He is also the eighth Earl of the House of De La Warr, and Viscount Cantelupe. No family in England, not even the royal, can boast of a prouder lineage or of a finer source of nobility.

CHARLESTON.

SATURDAY, April 18.—Mr. Joseph Clark of Kingston, was the guest of Mr. Edward Duffield, Cleonok Castle, last week.

We are pleased to hear that little Dora Webster, who has been so ill, is fast improving. Dr. Harter of Athens, is the attending physician.

What is looking forward in this district. The roads in this district are in a disgraceful condition at present, and are anything but a credit to the inhabitants of this aristocratic locality.

The roads in this district are in a disgraceful condition at present, and are anything but a credit to the inhabitants of this aristocratic locality.

We are pleased to know that Mrs. Justus Smith is fast improving in health.

We notice a broad smile on the countenance of Mr. Delbert Woods.—It's a girl.

Mr. A. W. Johnston is busily employed hewing timber for his barn, which is to be one of the largest in this neighborhood.

We are informed on good authority that Mr. A. E. Donovan of Athens is standing for M. P. for South Leeds, whether he gets the Conservative vote is seldom experienced.

Mr. A. W. Johnston is busily employed hewing timber for his barn, which is to be one of the largest in this neighborhood.

Wedding bells will ring on Main street in the near future.

SOPERTON.

MONDAY, April 20.—Mrs. Wesley Barber, Athens, was a guest at the home of Mr. John Frey last week.

Mr. Fred Gray is repairing the fences and preparing for an active season's work on the property of Mr. Thomas Sheffield, Athens.

Mr. Robert Morrison is still confined to the house. His many friends hope for an early and complete recovery.

Miss Ella Sexton is again engaged in teaching the young idea how to shoot, "at the old stand."

An enterprising stove agent was making things ring through this section last week.

Milk drawers are monopolizing the highway between the early hours of six and seven.

Robert Chant, Esq., is ill with a gripe.

Mr. James MacLeroy is engaged in cutting wood for N. B. Howard, Esq., on Sunday evening, before medical aid was procured. R. Livingston, stepson of Mr. A. Judd, died at his home here from the effects of blood-poisoning.

Sympathy is tendered the bereaved.

MALLORYTOWN.

MONDAY, April 20.—Miss Luella B. Gibson spent a few days visiting friends in Scotland last week.

Rumor has it that a lodge of the Daughters of Rebecca was to have been organized here last week, but owing to some unavoidable circumstances it was postponed.

Now, if it is owing to the negligence of a committee, we think it time they did something.

Mrs. McDonald had the misfortune to break her wrist a few days ago, but is improving as rapidly as can be expected.

Mrs. A. A. Polly and Mr. R. W. Tennant were called hurriedly away one-day last week to attend a sick relative in Rockport in the person of Mrs. Carnegie.

Miss Jessie Purvis of Yonge Mills was the guest of Mr. A. W. Mallory for a few days.

Miss Asletta Tennant, the Quabbin school teacher, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson on Saturday and Sunday last.

McNulty has again opened his store in the village.

John Raphael is making preparation to move into his new village, and the present day he is in the field.

Mr. Alex. Hodgson is rapidly improving and is once more able to be out.

James Miller left for Chicago a few days ago, where he fills the position of mate on a steamer.

Mr. Alexander Thompson was called on some of his friends on Friday evening last.

Miss Octavia Tennant has been in our midst the most of last week.

LYN.

MONDAY, April 20.—P. Ferguson has commenced his old trick of making improvements as soon as Spring opens.

This Spring it is a new barn on the Deming lot. Pity we have so few people enterprising enough to improve the town.

Mrs. Byron Judson had a narrow escape on her way to church on Sunday. The horse, attached to a two-wheeled road-cart, stumbled while coming down the road through here, and threw the driver out. Her head was out, and she was stunned, but it is hoped, not seriously hurt.

Two weeks ago the sleighing was good; today the cry is, "Have you commenced gardening yet?" Such a sudden transition from winter to summer is seldom experienced.

Mrs. Wm. Neilson of Blink Bonnie is very ill.

FRONTENAC

MONDAY, April 20.—Milk drawers are now beginning their season's work. We here that John Kamloop has been hired to cultivate the "Onion Bed."

Alex. Beaumont paid us a flying visit last Saturday.

Farmers are commencing to think of spring's work.

Dame Rumor says we are to have a hall built in the town on stage talent performances. We would be glad to see the most accumulation of stage talent in this town.

The frog is now heard piping its merry tune, and is vociferous in its greeting to balmy spring.

Some of the members of Fly Creek Junction announce their intentions of resigning their offices in connection with the "Bath."

The season of sweetness is passed and the buckets are laid by for another year.

Visitors: Tom Watson, J. Beaumont, H. Kelsey and the Misses Thurston of Chicago.

FORBAR.

TUESDAY, April 21.—Mr. H. S. Davison, who has been ill for some time, is recovering.

Mr. Fred Morris has returned to Loko to write on his examinations.

Messrs. Will and Fred Mattice left yesterday for Onondaga where they have secured situations.

Mr. Stearns Knapp opened the factory on the 13th and on Monday last took in 15,000 lbs. of milk, so that the annual working has already commenced, putting it in a condition to do first class work.

The Knapp family seem to take naturally to the cheese business, and both the boy and girl are such that patrons can rely upon having a quality of cheese produced that will secure to them a good return for their milk.

A citizen of Colong, who put up at one of the hotels in Lindsay last week, is told in confidence by a waiter that the proprietor kept the china and glassware specially insured, as the lady boarders were so honestly that their looks would crack a mug. He thought was told in confidence by a waiter that the water was jolting him out of bed, when he then wondered why the ceiling didn't fall.

On a farm a few miles from Kingston, there is an interesting phenomenon in the shape of a water buffalo. It is said to be the original buffalo, and there are 17 head of cattle in that herd, and they have tan-colored curly hair.

Two calves have been produced since the herd was collected and they both have the peculiarities of the buffalo. The female is said to be a quiet nature. It is thought their milk will be valuable in the future for the purpose of sleigh robes.

Cost of Feeding Powl. Joseph Yuill, Carleton Place, at the annual meeting of the North Lanark Farmers' Institute, gave the cost of feeding two cows in the month of October as follows:—

Two and a half pounds oat clover hay at 88¢ per ton, which is steamed, and mixed with clover hay, at 84¢ per ton, and 2½¢ per bushel of corn, being in the morning.

Five pounds root clover and leaves only at 25¢ per bushel, and 30¢ per bushel of clover hay, fed at night, at 30¢ per bushel, and 30¢ per bushel of clover hay, fed at night, at 30¢ per bushel.

Cost of feeding 20 hens for one day. The cost of feeding 20 hens for one day is $40.10. The cost of feeding 20 hens for one day is $40.10.

It will be seen that Mr. Yuill feeds his hens based on winter cost, at 52.7¢ each per year. He stated that, taking the whole year round, he does not think the cost would be more than 50 cents.

Cost to Death. On Friday night a serious affair occurred on the farm of McCallum Bros., about three miles from Kingston. In locking up the stock, Alex. McCallum went in with a milk pail weighing about 1,600 pounds, with horns nine inches long and almost perpendicular on the forehead. The animal went into the stable in the manger it broke away from the manger it broke away from the manger it broke away from the manger.

A GENIAL PARISIAN.

IS THE DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF THE PARIS EXPOSITION OF 1900.

M. Delaunay-Belleville, who is an eminent Engineer, Perfectly Fitted to Fill the Important Place Well and Satisfactorily.

One of the most important men in Paris to-day is M. Delaunay-Belleville, who is the director-general of the works of the Paris University Exposition of 1900. M. Delaunay-Belleville is eminently fitted for this very important place.

For many years he has been chairman of the Paris Chamber of Commerce. He is an eminent engineer and has taken an active part in the construction of many important works.

He was born about fifty years ago, and passed through the polytechnic and other schools of engineers. During the war he served as lieutenant of engineers in the national defence. In the Exposition of 1889 he was entrusted with an industrial concern which carried off a gold medal, and he himself was decorated with the Legion of Honor. He wrote a work on comparative legislation on steam navigation.

He is a member of the council of improvements at the Conservatory of the Arts and Trades, and has four times been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. In 1885 M. Andre Lebou, Minister of Commerce, gave him the honor of commander of the Legion of Honor. He is a genial Parisian, a highly cultivated man and he did not decide to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Soon after beginning their use Freddie began to feel better. His appetite began to return and the pains were less severe.

As he continued to use the Pink Pills he regained health and strength rapidly, and in about a month was apparently as well as ever, the only remaining symptom of his trying illness being a slight pain in the leg, which did not disappear for half a year ago since Freddie took his last pill, and in that time he has not had a recurrence of the attack. There is no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured him, and both the boy and girl are such that patrons can rely upon having a quality of cheese produced that will secure to them a good return for their milk.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the medical wonder of the age. In hundreds of cases they have cured ailments all other medicines had failed to cure. It is a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers or by mail, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., at 50¢ a box, or six boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutions against which the public is cautioned.

By a recent act of the Ontario Legislature, hat shops and confectioners will now be subject to inspection by factors, who will see that the sanitary regulations recently enacted, are complied with.

A good story comes from Drumbo, Ont., which is worth repeating. It appears there was a sale of horses there recently, and very poor prices were obtained for the animals. A farmer who, after much bargaining had purchased a steed for $2, asked the seller if he would not return him a quarter, just to see the seller's horse.

"There, I won't be hard on you, take another horse."

A Young Lad's Rescue.

CONTINUED TO HIS ROOM FOR MORE THAN A YEAR.

An Intense Sufferer Through Pains in the Muscles of His Legs and Arms—Reduced Almost to a Living Skeleton.

Mr. T. W. Beckwith is the proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Wolfville, the most important hotel in the town, and is a man well known and esteemed in that section. He has a bright handsome looking son, 13 years of age, named Freddie, who is a lad of more than average intelligence. It is pretty well known in Wolfville that Freddie underwent a severe illness, though perhaps the means to which he owes his recovery is not so generally known and a statement of the case may be of help to some other sufferer. On the 26th of December, 1893, Freddie was taken ill and was confined to his room and his bed until March, 1894. Two different physicians were called in during the illness, but they were unable to relieve his trouble, which was a grippe of the muscles of his legs and arms.

With severe pains through the muscles of his legs and arms, after three or four days was obliged to take to bed, where he lay nearly all winter, suffering terribly from the pains. He became reduced almost to a skeleton and was unable to relish food of any kind. During his illness he suffered a relapse owing to trying to get up sooner than he should. Boy-like he was anxious to get out and enjoy the beautiful spring sun and for several days was confined to bed and taken to a drive. This brought on the relapse. The doctor was again called in and as he continued to grow worse he was ordered once more to bed. Things then looked very dark as despite the medical care he did not get any better. At last his father decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Soon after beginning their use Freddie began to feel better. His appetite began to return and the pains were less severe.

As he continued to use the Pink Pills he regained health and strength rapidly, and in about a month was apparently as well as ever, the only remaining symptom of his trying illness being a slight pain in the leg, which did not disappear for half a year ago since Freddie took his last pill, and in that time he has not had a recurrence of the attack. By a recent act of the Ontario Legislature, hat shops and confectioners will now be subject to inspection by factors, who will see that the sanitary regulations recently enacted, are complied with.

A good story comes from Drumbo, Ont., which is worth repeating. It appears there was a sale of horses there recently, and very poor prices were obtained for the animals. A farmer who, after much bargaining had purchased a steed for $2, asked the seller if he would not return him a quarter, just to see the seller's horse.

"There, I won't be hard on you, take another horse."

A HUMORIST'S EARTH

ONE OF LATE BILL NVE'S HUMOROUSLY SCIENTIFIC ARTICLES.

Whereas He Differs from Professor and the Duke of Argyll—Stevenson's Claim, and His Opinion Thereon—What He Would Have Done, If—

The earth is that body in the solar system which most of us consider the centre of the universe, and from which we regard the sun, planets, and stars, as revolving. I regret to say, modestly desire to own and control, forgetting that the earth is the Lord's, and the wisdom thereof. Some men do not care who owns the earth so long as they get the fullness. The earth is 8000 years of age, according to Prof. Proctor, but also 4000 years old, according to the Bible. It is an ordinary duke know about these things, but as I am concerned I will put Proctor's memory against that of any old-proved duke that I have ever seen.

Newton claimed that the earth would gradually dry up until it became porous, and that water would last become a curiosity. Many believe this and are rapidly preparing their wills, so that they can live for
