I miss you, my darling, my darling,
The embers burn low on the heath,
And still is the stir of the household,
And hushed is the voice of its mirth
The rain plashes fast on the terrace,
The wind past the lattices moan;
The midnight chimes out from the m

ster, And I am alone.

I want you my darling, my darling,
I am tired with care and with fret;
I would nestly in silence beside you,
And all but your presence forget.
In the hush of the happiness given,
To those who through trusting have grown
To the fullness of love in contentment;
But I am alone.

I call you my darling, my darling!
My voice echoes back on the heart;
I stretch my arms to you in longing,
And, lo! they fall empty apart.
I whisper the sweet words you taught me,
The words that we only have known,
Till the blank of the dumb air is bitter,
For I am alone.

I need you my darling, my darling!
With its yearning my very heart aches;
The load that divides us weighs harder;
I shrink from the jar that it makes.
Old sorrows rise up to beset me;
Old doubts make my spirit their own,
Oh, come through the darkness and save me, For I am alone.

To illustrate We find in Ward 1 only three persons rated in respect to personal property to the amount of $500 and upwards, not including stocks in trade, ships, or income, and of these three two of them twelve persons similarly assessed, amounting in the aggregate to $7,025, or an average of about $585 each. From what we have been able to kearn, their task will not be an easy none, as upon examination of the rolls as posted we find that great injustice has been done to some of the wards by the assessments for the year 1888 and 1889 and they were wrongly assessed last year and years previous to it, as will appear from the following comparison of the assessments for the year 1888 and 1889 and seasonand the production of the rolls as posted we find that great injustice was the result. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H.
