VALLEY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Held Annual Session at Kentville Last Week—Dr. deWitt Re-elected Secretary-Treasurer

The seventeenth annual session of the Valley Medical Society was held at Kentville last week. Medical men were present from all parts of the Valley, and listened to some able addresses from prominent members of their profession.

The first session was held Thursday afternoon in the Recreation Hall of the N. S. Sanatorium. President Dr. A. S. Burns, of Kentville, presided.

Following the routine business of the meeting, Dr. H. K. McDonald, of Halifax, gave an address on "Hand Infections," which he illustrated with lantern slides. Dr. A. F. Miller, Superintendent of the Sanatorium, addressed the meeting on "Intestinal Tuberculosis," which was also illustrated with lantern slides. Both addresses were very interesting and instructive. Considerable discussion, invited by both speakers, followed.

A delegation from the Kings County Social Service Council was then heard. President S. B. Chute, of Berwick, introduced the spokesman for the delegation, Rev. G. A. Logan, of Canard, who in a short address urged the Society to pass a resolution favoring the limiting of liquor prescriptions to twenty-five a month. This subject was taken up by the Society and a committee was appointed to investigate and make a report.

The nominating committee then brought in the following list of officers, who were unanimously elected: President, Dr. F. S. Messenger, Middleton; Vice President, Kings Co., Dr. Gosse, Canning; Vice Pres., Annapolis County, Dr. L. B. Braine, Annapolis; Vice Pres., Digby County, Dr. Roberts; Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. C. E. A. deWitt, Wolfville; Executive, Kings Co., Dr. McNally, Berwick; Annapolis, Dr. Armstrong, Bridgetown; Digby County, Dr. F. Reid, Digby.

The members and visitors were entertained at dinner at the Sanatorium. The evening session was open to the public and was held in the Town Hall. Mayor A. E. H. Chesley welcomed the visitors to Kentville. In a short address, he addressed Dr. A. S. Burns, President, who then given, fully covering the work accomplished by the society the past year.

An address on "Public Health" was then given by Dr. Chisholm, of Halifax, which proved interesting and instructive.

The next annual meeting of the society will be at Annapolis Royal.

GREENWICH

Miss Winona Betts, R. N., who has been visiting for several weeks with relatives and friends in New Brunswick, returned last week to the home of her son, Mr. Lilla Forsythe, where she is a guest for the summer.

Mr. Robert Bishop returned home Wednesday, having been a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Banks of Kingston; also accompanied Mr. Banks on a fishing trip in Annapolis County, which they thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Emma Harvey and Mrs. J. E. Forsythe were summoned to New Brunswick last week, to see their brother, Mr. Lantz, who was very seriously ill at his home.

Mrs. A. K. Forsythe spent Wednesday, May 14th, in Kentville, and visited a former resident of this place, Mrs. J. E. Morse.

Mr. Lorne Purdy recently left for Boston where he hopes to secure work at his trade as a carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy and family, of Halifax, recently arrived here to occupy their summer home, formerly the C. C. Brown homestead and property.

The many friends in this place, of Jack Morse, formerly one of our boys, are interested in learning of the birth of a son to him and Mrs. Morse, in Halifax, their home, last Tuesday, their first child; also first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morse, our well remembered former residents.

Mrs. Harry Sleep, Wolfville, who has been a patient here of Mrs. Grace Andrew, nurse, at her home, with her infant son returned to her home on Saturday.

Miss Isabelle Meek, of Upper Perseu, was a week end guest of her sister, Mrs. Dexter Forsythe.

The Misses Pierce, of Wolfville, were guests on Sunday of Mrs. T. Andrew Pearson.

Mr. John Fenwick is busy now with his motor truck hauling supplies from Windsor to the Fruit Company's Warehouse here, making two trips from here each day.

Mr. Dexter Forsythe recently disposed of his automobile and purchased a new and much larger one. Mr. T. Andrew Pearson also recently bought a new car.

Miss Freda Ritcey and Miss Beatrice Fraser attended and enjoyed the Girl Guides demonstration and special work at Port Williams Citizens' Hall last Saturday afternoon, given by the Guides of Wolfville, with their officers, also the Port Williams Guides who are now organized, a few of our girls being members. This is a splendid and worthwhile organization and the girls who become Guides should be helped and encouraged.

VALUABLE BARN BURNED

C. S. Pickford, Grand Pre, Lost Two Barns Tuesday

Through a disastrous fire at the home of Mr. Charles S. Pickford, Grand Pre, on Tuesday afternoon, the owner experienced a very serious loss. Two barns, one a splendid new one modernly equipped, were completely destroyed and it was with great difficulty that the dwelling, greenhouse and implement building were saved. The fire was discovered at about five o'clock in the old barn and spread quickly to the new building, both being destroyed with their contents.

An alarm was sent to Wolfville and in response the new fire engine and a company of fire-fighters proceeded as quickly as possible to the scene of the disaster. Due to their efforts and the splendid efficiency of the new equipment the fire was confined to two buildings as without the help rendered the whole property would undoubtedly have been consumed. The old barn contained a large quantity of hay and a threshing machine. The contents of the dwelling were removed and considerably damaged. While there is some insurance the loss sustained is severe and most unfortunate at this busy season.

The origin of the fire is unknown, the most reasonable theory being that it was caused by a spark from the chimney lodging in the dry mature near the old barn. In this building the hay for the horses was kept and Mr. Pickford previous to the discovery of the fire had removed a sufficient quantity for the evening feeding, opening the door to do it. A few moments afterwards the building was a mass of flames, the fire which had perhaps been smouldering from the previous day burning fiercely when a current of air was admitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickford and family, who have set a fine example of energy and public spirit since coming to reside at Grand Pre, have the sympathy of a host of friends in this heavy loss.

CELEBRATING "CAMO KIRBY" BY BOOTH TARKINGTON AND HARRY LEON WILSON, COMING HERE

Picture lovers who recall the pleasure they invariably get from the screen production of a remarkable stage play, will welcome the announcement that William Fox has built a drama about "Camo Kirby", the lovable Mississippi river gambler, novelized by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. The picture comes to the Orpheum Theatre for two days commencing May 26th.

Originally a stage play, it was produced first at the Hackett Theatre in New York, with Dustin Farnum in the title role. Nat Goodwin also played the character. The production became one of the most popular shows on the road. Now comes the screen version, which obviously incorporates scenes and incidents impossible on the stage.

John Gilbert, a notable screen artist, is realistic Camo Kirby. Gertrude Olmsted, as the belle of old New Orleans, is equally well fitted for her part. Alan Hale, in the role of Colonel Moreau, the river gambler, has a picturesque part and the balance of the cast is well chosen.

Camo Kirby brings the music of the paddles as an old Mississippi stern wheeler plies from Cairo to New Orleans; a yellow moon over the clay banks—negro deck hands strumming banjos and singing quaint melodies on the lower deck; in the cabin a poker game beneath sickly lights from swinging oil lamps—a shot in the dark.

CLEVER HANTSPORT GIRL

Among those who graduated in arts this year at Mt. Allison University was Miss George M. Wall, of Hantsport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wall, of that place. Miss Wall was the winner of the Henry Birks gold medal, for highest standing during the four years course. Miss Wall is receiving congratulations, especially from the friends of her home town.

Mrs. J. W. Vaughn has purchased a lot on Highland avenue from Mr. C. M. Gormley, and intends erecting a residence in the near future. The new dwelling will be located just north of the new home of Mr. Wilbur Duncanson.

BETTER ENGLISH WEEK AT WOLFVILLE

Better English Week was carried on at Acadia Ladies' Seminary with great gusto. Five Provinces of the Dominion and two States of the Union were represented, and two Nova Scotians carried the honors home, although Quebec was a close second. To Halifax, in fact, go first honors on account of the persistence of Miss Dorothy Whyms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whyms, of Halifax. This is the second daughter from this family to do credit both to Acadia Seminary and native town.

Miss Alice Wisdom, daughter of S. G. Wisdom, Shawinigan Falls, P.Q., came second; Miss Luta Wood, Glenmount, King's county, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood, was third in the race.

By reason of the fact that these Better English Drives have been a weekly requirement at A.L.S. throughout the past three months, the winning of points for different corrections each time became a great difficulty. Acadia Seminary is now headquarters for Better English.

Miss Archibald is being deluged with letters containing the returns of the Drive from schools in five Provinces. Upper Canada is especially enthusiastic.

BOYS' WORK IN WOLFVILLE

The Editor of THE ACADIAN Dear Sir,—Will you please give these few lines a place in your valuable paper in order that the people of Wolfville, who have so generously supported the Boy Scout work in the past, may understand why I have given up the direct charge of the work as a whole.

For the past two years I have felt that there were too many boys in each of our groups, i.e. Boy Scout troop and Wolf Cub packs, to meet as one body and that it is impossible to carry out a systematic program under these conditions.

If the work is to be made permanent it must develop leaders who can take their places as the older ones drop out. Surely it is much better to re-organize now while those who have had years of experience are still on hand to advise. Also it seems that with the large groups as at present the leaders do not get into close personal touch with the boys. Again it is very evident to me that to insure permanent success the Boy Scout and Wolf Cub programs must be carried out as an adjunct to the Sunday Schools.

For these reasons, mainly, and believing it to be in the best interests of the boy life of our town, I have handed in my resignation as Scoutmaster of the Wolfville troop as a whole.

Respectfully yours, E. Percy Brown.

Get your flags ready for Victoria Day. Why not keep them flying all through Closing Week and give the town a festive appearance?

WOLFVILLE'S FIRE ENGINE

Successfully Passed All Tests on Saturday and Accepted By Underwriters

Wolfville's new LaFrance fire engine, which arrived last week, was tested out on Saturday in the presence of T. W. Fordham, engineer for the Underwriters, and G. S. Stairs, Town Manager, and successfully passed every test. The engine was assisted by W. B. Murphy, fire chief of Wolfville, and Beverly Schofield, fire chief of Kentville. The tests resulted as follows:

First Test Average net pump pressure 128 pounds, average discharge per minute, 441.35 imperial gallons; guaranteed discharge, 400 imperial gallons; average nozzle pressure, No. 1, stream 45.9 pounds; No. 2, stream 53.8 pounds. Pumped 110% of rated capacity at this pressure.

Second Test Average net pump pressure, 222 pounds; average discharge per minute, 224.4 imperial gallons; guaranteed discharge 200 imperial gallons; average nozzle pressure 83.4—One stream only used. Pumped 112% of rated capacity at this pressure.

Third Test Average net pump pressure, 259 pounds; average discharge per minute, 209.9 imperial gallons; guaranteed discharge, 135 imperial gallons; average nozzle pressure, 72.5 pounds. Pumped 155% of rated capacity at this pressure.

Fourth Test Average net pump pressure, 300 pounds; discharge per minute, 245.8 imperial gallons; nozzle pressure, 100 pounds.

Fifth Test From hydrant of College grounds with static pressure of 38 pounds, and a nozzle pressure of 8 pounds at end of 100 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose with one inch tip, pump was started and a pressure developed at nozzle of 150 pounds, with a discharge of over 300 imperial gallons per minute, throwing water over the flagpole of the Seminary building, which is the highest building in town. Water was being supplied from a four inch main during this test.

This engine is equipped with a four cylinder engine, 5 1/2 inch bore, by 6 inch stroke, with a S.A.E. horsepower rating of 48.4 and will develop 75 horsepower brake test. It is capable of climbing any of the hills in town, as demonstrated, and carries a 33 imperial gallon chemical tank, fitted with 200 feet of 1 inch chemical hose. Other equipment carried includes, hand extinguishers, a 20 foot extension ladder, a 12 foot foot ladder, pole pipe, suction hose, and all of the necessary tools for operation. The engine is equipped with a self starter. The same engine operates the pump that drives the car. Chain drive used gives the car the most powerful type of drive known in the fire apparatus field. This apparatus was built in Canada's exclusive fire apparatus factory at Toronto, Ontario, and from tests and demonstrations, is everything and more than the manufacturers have claimed for it. Five of Wolfville's mechanics have been chosen to operate this machine, and they assisted at the tests.—Frank Murphy, Stanley Murray, Wm. Lynch, Geo. Stevens, Ralph Farris.

FRENCH CANADIAN ASSOCIATION PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

MONCTON, May 16.—A meeting of the Council of the National French-Canadian association was held here yesterday with the President of the Association, His Honor Judge A. E. Arsenault, of Charlottetown, in the chair. Other members of the Council present were Rev. Father A. D. Cormier, Shediac; Rev. Father A. H. Cormier, East Margaree, Cape Breton; Rev. Father J. Gallant, Charlottetown; Dr. F. A. Richard and Mr. Antoine Leger, barrister, Moncton; Mr. A. E. Daigle, Secretary of L'Assomption Society, and Mr. Charles D. Herbert of Dupuis Corner, Secretary of the Council.

The main feature of the business transacted at yesterday's session was the planning of organization for the celebration at Grand Pre, Nova Scotia, in August of this year, the exact date of which will be determined and announced later. In connection with this year's celebration, which will be a large one, there will be a large Cross erected on the sacred spot at Grand Pre, which will play an important part in this year's celebration.

Mr. Justice Arsenault and Rev. Father Cormier gave an interesting account of their visit to the Acadians of Louisiana during the past winter and what had been accomplished as a result of their tour in that State.

Tid-bits on the Tip of Everybodys Tongue

Vol. I, No. 41. Wolfville, May 22, 1924 Free

From Hangchow, China—Comes a brief note from the Rev. Thos. Harwood, of the Apostolic Faith Mission. Referring to Moll's Chocolates he states, "They were fine. We seldom get such luxuries here".

Enclosed in the envelopes were notes on recent converts that make interesting reading. One is from an old lady, Grandma Sup.

"I am a widow with two sons and two daughters-in-law, and three grandchildren. We live four brothers and sisters and we all live in the one home. I began in my youth to smoke and drink, and to commit many sins, and I was an evil sinner, my name was always quarrelling and growling one at the other. If it was not myself and my oldest son it was the daughter-in-law or someone else. We always had somebody sick, and we were always calling doctors and paying medical bills. I used to think and wonder sometimes, well, what is the matter? I must be unlucky."

A LESSON FROM FLORIDA

A citizen of Wolfville who spent the past winter in Florida, and who kept his eyes open to conditions there that might be worth imitating in the home town, was impressed by the almost complete absence of lawlessness in the tourist resorts of that state. Others with whom THE ACADIAN has conferred corroborate the statement that vandalism and disorder are practically unknown and that public and private property is allowed to remain undisturbed. Settees and other conveniences on public squares are never interfered with and the visitor as well as the resident is not disturbed by evidences of rowdiness and disorder. Pedestrians on the streets either by night or day are neither impeded in their progress or annoyed by offensive remarks.

Here is a lesson which our town authorities should take to heart and put into immediate practice. Wolfville is probably no different from other towns in Nova Scotia but here we are unwillingly obliged to confess the existence of a very different condition of affairs for which there is absolutely no need. The town spends annually a very large amount to teach the young people of the community, among other things, a correct appreciation of their duty to society, and we have on our statute books ample laws which if enforced should be productive of results. A little more courage in the administration of our laws and a firmer disapproval on the part of the public towards these offenders might lead to a very beneficial change. As a residential and tourist town and an educational centre Wolfville is naturally expected to gravitate considerably above the average in these matters. From an economic standpoint, if from no other, it will pay the people of Wolfville to manifest a greater interest in good order and decorum than has been apparent during recent years.

DR. BORDEN IGNORED

A notable event in the recent commencement exercises of Dalhousie University was the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Laws upon an honored Kings county man, Dr. B. C. Borden, who recently retired from the presidency of Mt. Allison. Dalhousie has been traditionally conservative, if not sparing, in its bestowal of honorary degrees in recognition of public or educational distinction. Because of such fact the conferring of this honoris causa degree upon Dr. Borden cannot but be regarded with significance. The honor is a fitting recognition and will be so regarded.

Dr. Borden has given half a century of his life to educational work. During thirty-eight years he has been associated with Mt. Allison University and for twelve years filled the position of president. As teacher, minister, professor and finally as president, he proved himself to be a competent instructor, an accomplished scholar and an enlightened leader. He has retired after a life-time of very active and useful service and enjoys the respect and admiration of his fellow countrymen. It is fitting that Dalhousie should have shown its appreciation of his life-work in a common enterprise by conferring upon him its highest mark of honor. The citizens of Dr. Borden's native county are gratified and will join THE ACADIAN in congratulations.

BAND CONCERTS

If Wolfville is to enjoy the advantage of such a series of open-air band concerts as was had last summer it is full time that some action on the part of citizens was taken. There is no question as to the benefit accruing to the town through such an institution and naturally those who reap the most profit should bear the lion share of the expense. Of course the Council should render some financial assistance to such an undertaking but as the membership of the band is composed to quite an extent of those interested in the business life of the community the work will be expected to be largely of a voluntary nature.

Anything that will tend to make the town more attractive deserves the encouragement of citizens and well rendered band-programs should certainly be a powerful factor towards that end. We would suggest a meeting of our business men for a consideration of the proposal and a conference with the band to ascertain if satisfactory arrangements can be made. THE ACADIAN will gladly do all in its power to assist in the good work which, we believe, if properly set in motion would receive the hearty support of citizens generally.

SPEED LAWS

Because there appears no sign-board proclaiming the pace at which motor-vehicles are permitted to proceed upon our streets the remark is often made by strangers that Wolfville has no speed-limit. If a further confirmation were necessary the rate at which cars travel either by night or day might easily lead to the same conclusion. THE ACADIAN has before referred to this condition, and at the risk of being deemed tiresome, and with the hope that by means of a "line upon line" the attention of the authorities may be arrested and the public awakened to the need for action, again occupies its space with the presentation of what we cannot but regard as a timely topic.

No one can view with other than a feeling of alarm the practice of automobile speeding which is becoming all too common and which if not restrained is bound ultimately to result in disaster. We cannot but feel that a better enforcement of the laws governing this traffic, the conditions of which are certainly not unreasonable, is necessary in the interest of public safety and thus justifiable.

TEMPERANCE LAWS

A Comparison Which Furnishes Food For Reflection For Honest Nova Scotians

The claim is sometimes made by politicians that Nova Scotia occupies a creditable position in the manner in which it stands on the temperance question. That such is not the case, and that as a people we have no cause for self-congratulation in this regard those who have looked into the facts are well convinced. The following letter which appeared in the last issue of the Yarmouth Light from the pen of Rev. J. H. Robbins, of Concord, N. H., a former Yarmouth man, presents evidence that should be most convincing that we have yet far to go before any such boast as has been made can be justified: Editor Yarmouth Light:— I observe in "The Light" of May 1st a paragraph to the effect that Nova Scotia had received for revenue from liquor profits $421,879, and that New Brunswick had received even more, while Prince Edward Island had a treasury deficit of $184,000, which is charged up to the lack of sufficient liquor sales.

This is food for serious thought to the patriotic, law-abiding, moral tax payers: $421,879 coming into the Provincial Treasury sounds pretty good to the average tax payer. I urge the tax payers and citizens generally to ask seriously where this revenue comes from into the Provincial Treasury; that is, who pays it. Was it a contribution from someone of wealth, which was in no way a burden to any class of citizens?

If I understand the system of your Nova Scotia prohibition law, there is a provision for the sale of liquor for medicinal purposes through a Provincial Vendor Commission, and local vendors or local druggists. This may also include alcohol for manufacturing purposes; I am not sure about that. I am considering only that part of the revenue which came from the sale to consumers, nominally for medicinal purposes.

The druggist who sells to the consumer must make his small profit in business. The Provincial Vendor Commissioners, I understand, are salaried with office and administration expenses, which must come out of the profits before there is any provincial revenue.

My question is, who pays these profits, salaries, expenses, and revenue? If it is all used for legitimate, necessary medicinal purposes, the patients who need these remedies have to pay this revenue for the relief of the regular tax payers, and an enormous percentage to cover this cost of collecting that revenue, in salaries and expenses.

Are the patriotic taxpayers of Nova Scotia satisfied to impose such a burdensome tax on that class of persons who are in need of medicine, taxing the sick to relieve the well-to-do from ordinary taxes?

Or, I think I hear some well-to-do taxpayer say, with a twinkle in his eye, "Oh, that liquor on physicians' prescriptions is not all sold by druggists and local vendors to relieve the sick."

Very well. Let us accept the insinuation that much of it, possibly the major part of it, if you choose, is purchased through fraud for beverage use to satisfy an alcoholic appetite.

Then we have the proposition that the abnormal, morally delinquent victims of a depraved appetite, many of them taking the few dollars needed by their families, are paying a large part of the $421,879 into the Provincial Treasury, to the relief of the patriotic well-to-do taxpayers in the payment of their regular ordinary taxes.

Again I ask, are the patriotic, law-abiding, moral citizens of Nova Scotia satisfied to have this class of moral and economic delinquents pay their taxes, and the immense cost of collecting that revenue in the item of Vendor Commissioners' salaries and expenses and druggists' profits?

Of course the moral, patriotic, law-abiding, upright business men are none of these criminal evaders of the law of their beloved province, in bribery, or fraudulent doctors' prescriptions on a sham sickness, by direct or indirect invasion to get beverage booze for themselves. Only the low, criminally inclined, morally irresponsible will trample on a law, sacrificing patriotism and decency, to gratify a depraved, abnormal, alcoholic appetite.

I do not believe the law-abiding, patriotic citizens of Nova Scotia are at all proud of the relief of their taxes to the extent of a dollar a head on the population of the province in this $421,879 of revenue paid by either the few who really need medicine, or the moral derelicts who criminally buy booze.

Mr. Editor, I wish to invite the attention of your readers to the methods of dealing with medicinal liquor and industrial alcohol in the State of New Hampshire.

In the adoption of a prohibitory law in 1918, the State Government determined to abandon the policy of revenue from alcoholic liquor. The law provides two State agents for administration, one a Commissioner of Law Enforcement. The State Legislature appropriates from the State Treasury the total amount needed to pay the salary of the Commissioner and his deputies, with their expenses and the office expenses of administration.

Prosecutions are made by the Commissioner and his deputies in the name of the county or municipality, and the fines and costs imposed by the courts, and collected, go into the general treasury of the county or municipality, and all the incidental costs of prosecution are paid under the head of "general court expenses". No special "revenue" account appears as profits from the rum business or the prosecutions of violators of the prohibition law. There are absolutely no financial returns to the State Treasury, and the state pays, as a part of the state expenses, out of the general treasury the entire cost of this state prohibition law enforcement commission.

The other state provision for administration is a State Liquor Purchasing Agent, appointed by the Governor. His salary and all expenses of administration are also paid directly from the state treasury, on appropriations made for the purpose by the State Legislature. Liquor for medicinal use, on physicians' prescriptions, are sold by druggists, but the druggist, before he can thus fill a physician's prescription, must have a legal permit from the government of the municipality, and also another permit from the Federal Government. He must buy all liquor direct from the State Liquor Purchasing Agent.

All wine for sacramental purposes, and alcohol for manufacturing purposes, must be purchased from this State Agent, and the payments made to the State Agent. The State Agent makes the purchase from the manufacturer, or wholesale dealer, and the liquor or alcohol is shipped direct to the customer. 443,000 not differing largely from Nova Scotia. We had a local option, high license saloon system from 1903 to 1918, just 15 years. The total income to the State from license fees and forfeited bonds, amounted to a yearly average of $312,908.19. Out of this total income $20,000 a year went to pay the salaries of the excise commission of three very high grade reliable men, their deputies or inspectors, and all expenses, leaving $292,908.18 revenue to be divided to the counties and municipalities having the saloons; not a dollar to the State. Under this license saloon system the income from the system paid the cost of administration, as stated above.

It is to me a mystery of administration how Nova Scotia can collect a provincial revenue of $429,879, in addition to the expense of administration for the sale of liquor for medicinal use, under a Provincial Prohibition Law, against $292,908.19 in New Hampshire, under an open saloon system for general sale of liquor for beverage purposes, plus a necessary system of sales for medicinal use in the no-license towns. I was not aware that New Hampshire has such an enormous advantage over Nova Scotia as a health resort.

CANADA NOT THE "FROZEN NORTH" Visitors Surprised at Small Display of Furs at Wembley Exhibition.

LONDON, May 16.—Visitors to the Canadian buildings and pavilions at Wembley express surprise and disappointment at the unrepresentative display of furs.

Canada is generally regarded as one of the world's greatest fur producing countries.

When the question was put up to the responsible authorities they stated that a low silver furs were at present en route to the Exhibition although they had not yet arrived. They state further that the small display of furs made entirely due to the expressed desire from all sections of Canada both official and unofficial that there should be no undue emphasis put upon the Dominion as the country of the "Frozen North". In the same way, and for the same reason there is nothing descriptive on the exhibits of Canada's famed winter sports, and that for this reason little attention is paid at Wembley to the question of attracting tourists to the Dominion.

CARD OF THANKS Sergeant Fred Holloway, of the Salvation Army, wishes to thank all who helped him in collecting the sum of $56.25 for the Self Denial Campaign. Most of the money was collected in Grand Pre and Port Williams.

Who has just completed a successful term as Governor of the island of Malta and is now returning to England. When he went to Malta in 1919 the island was in a state of riot with machine guns posted and the town picketed with sailors. His administration is a lesson of what tact can achieve. Guns boomed, crowds cheered lustily and bands played as he and Lady Plumer left.

MIDDLETON WON FROM ACADIA Last Season's Nova Scotia Champions Shutout College Players Six to Nothing

MIDDLETON, May 21.—Middleton won from Acadia 6-0 in a good exhibition of baseball here this afternoon. The excellent work of Richardson and Reagh, in the box for Middleton, held the visitors down to a few scattered hits. They threatened to score in the seventh when second and third were occupied with no one down but Boyne, Phinney and Richardson pulled off a neat double play, the only one of the game.

Middleton found Howatt's offering fairly easy and bunched hits in the third and fifth innings, which, with an error in each, let in five runs. The last run was scored in the seventh on two hits.

The teams line up as follows: Acadia.—Saunders, Howatt, Woodworth, Leighton, Elderkin, Clarke, Brown, Phinney, Russell.

Middleton.—Boyer, Phinney, Goucher, V. Reagh, J. Reagh, Dodge, Richardson, Fisher, Bentley.

Richardson went into the box and V. Reagh to left field in the sixth.

Summary.—Hits off Reagh 4; off Richardson 1; off Howatt 11; sacrifice hit, H. Phinney; stolen bases, W. Phinney, Elderkin, 2; Boyne, H. Phinney, Goucher 2; V. Reagh, J. Reagh. Base on balls, Boyne, Richardson. Struck out, by Reagh, 8 in 5 innings; by Howatt 5; by Richardson 5 in 4 innings. Errors, Middleton 1; Acadia 5. Umpires—Beals and Barteaux.

MRS. ROSS CHIPMAN

The death occurred at her residence, Chipman Corner, May 14, of Sarah Eliza Starr, wife of Ross Chipman, in the 80th year of her age. The funeral service was held from the residence on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. M. Bent. A large number of friends were present and numerous and beautiful floral tributes were given. The interment was at Chipman Corner.

Mrs. Chipman leaves an aged husband, who is the son of the late William Henry Chipman, M.P., also three daughters, and one son, viz. Mrs. Joseph Howe, Winnipeg; Mrs. Howard Graham, Springhill; Miss Reta, Cornwallis and Dr. Leverett Chipman, St. John. Mrs. Chipman was well known when in active life, and very highly esteemed. She was born July 4, 1844, at Starr's Point, King's county, a daughter of Colonel Richard Starr and wife Tamar Troop. She was the seventh child of a family of nine. C. R. H. Starr and Mrs. Patillo, being the only surviving members. Major Robert W. Starr, a brother, died recently.

The Starr family is one of prominence in the history of this county. Colonel Richard Starr was a son of Joseph and grandson of Major Samuel Starr, who was born in Norwich, Conn., and came to Nova Scotia to settle in Cornwallis. The family are direct descendants of the renowned William Brewster of the Mayflower.

Among relatives present at the funeral services were Dr. Leverett Chipman, Mrs. Graham, W. H. Starr, Middleton, and C. R. H. Starr, Wolfville, only surviving brother.

Nearly all people like their tea hot. But some others like it cold, or at least they drink it that way. The coal miners of Cape Breton consume enormous quantities of MORSE'S Tea while at work in the pit.

Last Saturday evening was a particularly busy one in Wolfville. There was a great crowd of people in town and merchants report a thriving business. Owing to Saturday being payday on the college work there was plenty of money in circulation and the business places got the benefit.

The Ladies Faculty club met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Archibald on Monday evening, Mrs. G. B. Cutten being the guest of honor. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

NEW ROAD MAP OF NOVA SCOTIA

Natural Resources Intelligence Service Issues Useful Touring Accessory.

One of the pressing problems of those interested in attracting tourists to Nova Scotia has been the lack of a satisfactory road map. To meet the demand for such a map as well as to bring before tourists reliable information respecting the many natural resources of the province, recreational and otherwise, the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, working in co-operation with the provincial and other services, has issued a map of this province on a convenient scale.

The different classes of roads in the province are clearly indicated, making it particularly useful as a motor highway map. In addition to the above data a vast amount of detailed topography and other information makes the map a valuable one for general purposes.

Copies of the new map may be obtained on application to the Director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Ontario.

HELPFUL HINTS

Rubbers.—Rubbers may be kept soft and looking like new if before they are put away they are rubbed with vaseline.

Silver Stains.—Did you know that the water in which potatoes have been boiled is excellent for removing stains from silver?

Rolling Meat.—Next time instead of rolling meat in flour before frying try toasting corn flakes. It gives the meat a delicious nutty flavor.

Patches.—In my opinion it would be a difficult task to beat this as a time saver. Most of us have a bag in which we keep patches, and the same most of us spend a good ten minutes each time we want to match some material. Why not do this? Put a large safety pin on the outside of the bag and each time a new material is put in cut a small sample off and put on the safety. A glance would then show what the bag contains.

Miss Ruth MacDonald will accept a few more pupils for the summer months.

NEWS OF CANNING

The annual business meeting of the Mission Circle of the Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. R. W. North, May 14th. The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Miss Florence Cook; vice, Mrs. L. F. Blenkhorne; corresponding secretary, Miss Sacharissa Clarke; recording secretary, Miss Constance Adams; treasurer, Miss Margaret Bigelow; mite box superintendent, Miss Geraldine Melvin. The mite boxes which were opened contained $11.88. Amount raised during the year, which was one of the most successful in the history of our organization, $60.00. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president and officers. This organization composed of young girls is doing splendid work in church and community. The Circle, which during the winter has conducted two public services in the Methodist church, will forward $60.00 for mission work to Mrs. Purdy. Amherst, branch treasurer of the Women's Missionary Society of the church. The Mission Circle of Canning Methodist church held a successful pantry sale at the store of Mr. R. W. North. The proceeds amounted to $15.00. The following members assisted: Mrs. R. W. North, Mrs. L. F. Blenkhorne, Mrs. David Borden, Misses Elsie Webster, Amy Webster, Myrtle DeEl, Florence Cook, Margaret Ellis, Muriel Goldsmith, Margaret Bigelow, Constance Adams, Geraldine Melvin, Sacharissa Clarke, Ruby Borden, Laurabel Bigelow, Ruth Bigelow. Canning Boy Scouts, Scout Master, Rev. Thomas W. Hodgson, met at the Methodist church, Tuesday, May 13th, at one p.m., to assist the citizens in observing cleaning-up week. The results are very evident, our town presenting a fine appearance. This is another example of the fine spirit shown by our Scouts.

Miss Helen Lyons, Blomidon, who injured her hand severely, is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holt are being congratulated on the birth of a son. Mr. Gough, Halifax, was a visitor in town last week. Mr. Jack Kane, Canning, left for New York recently.

GIRL GUIDES ATTEND SERVICE AT CHRIST CHURCH

The Annual Girl Guide Service was observed by Canning Girl Guides, Captain Bigelow, Lieutenant Melvin, Sunday afternoon. More than thirty Guides in uniform assembled in the Armory and marched to Christ Episcopal church, where service was conducted by the rector, Rev. Gordon C. Brown. It was a deeply impressive sight, and the church was filled with a representative audience. Rev. Gordon Brown, who chose for thought, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you", emphasized the necessity of putting "first things first", without which life is a failure. True manhood and womanhood mean more than money and wardrobes; virtue more than worldly pleasure; patience more than beautiful pictures. These, if added to the essentials that go to make up a Christ-like character, are greatly to be desired, but alone spell failure. The high ideals for which the Girl Guide Movement stands, its world wide influence, what it has and is accomplishing, and its steady progress since 1909, resulting in more than a million members, were also noted. In view of the loss sustained by the Guides of Canada a letter of appreciation in memory of our Canadian Organizer, the late Lady Pellatt, was read by the Rector, the Guides standing, after which the favorite hymn of the late Lady Pellatt was sung, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind". The hymns throughout the service were those of the Guides, who deeply appreciated the hearty welcome afforded them and the splendid address of the Rector. The sermon was one of help and inspiration and will long be remembered. Canning Guides are steadily growing in numbers and are factors for great good in the community.

G. B. Hudson officiating. The bride, who was lovely in a gown of henna canton crepe, with black picture hat, and carrying a shower bouquet of trailing arbutus and maiden hair fern, was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Burpee MacGowan. The wedding march was played by little Miss Madeline MacGowan, niece of the bride, who made a charming picture in a gown of Nile green organza. Both bride and groom were unattended. At the conclusion of the ceremony a dainty collation was served, after which the bridal party left for the home of the groom, where a reception was held. "Smile!" commanded the photographer—"You look too mournful!" "But, I'm going to use this in my business advertising," the subject protested. "Well, don't you think it would be better for your business if you don't look so solemn?" "No," was the surprising reply. "who in thunder would hire a grinning undertaker?" An officer was showing an old lady over the battleship. "This," said he, pointing to an inscribed plate on the deck, "is where our gallant captain fell!" "No wonder," replied the old lady, "I nearly slipped on it myself!"

DR. COREY ADDRESSES PEREAU MISSIONARY SOCIETY

A public meeting under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society, of Perreau Baptist church, pastor Rev. W. G. Heisler, addressed by Dr. Corey, returned missionary of India, was held Tuesday evening, May 13th, and largely attended. Mrs. Roscoe, president of the society, presided. The meeting opened by the reading of scripture, and prayer by the pastor, after which the speaker was pleasingly introduced. Dr. Corey referred to the fact that Christ came into the world to save the lost, and stressed His great mission in the world, choosing for his text, "As My Father hath sent Me into the world even so send I you." "The scope of the work is a world wide evangelism," said Dr. Corey, and urged that each individual feel his and her responsibility, not only to work in and for the home land, but in and for foreign fields. The speaker referred to the 320,000,000 living in India, in an area one-half the size of Canada, and the wonderful fertility of a country where this was possible, and still food be exported to other countries. The wonderful advancement in education and improvements were also stressed. The great opportunity afforded us to assist in this great work was ably presented, that we may obey the command of the Master, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." An expression of thanks was extended to Dr. Corey for his splendid address, by Rev. W. G. Heisler, after which vocal solos by Mr. Everett Lyons were enjoyed. Special music by the choir added much to a service that will long be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele are held. A delightful supper followed an evening of music and games. Those who assisted were Mrs. Wallace Steele, Miss Leone Tupper, Miss Cloyd Neaves, Mr. Wallace Steele, Mr. Jasper Steele, Mr. Warren Thorpe. Mrs. Thomas Watson and daughter, Deborah, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burbridge, returned on Thursday. Mrs. Rich is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Watson.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

MAY 23 HEAR, O ISRAEL: THE LORD OUR GOD IS ONE LORD.—Deuteronomy 6:4. MAY 24 HE THAT IS SLOW TO ANGER IS BETTER THAN THE MIGHTY; AND HE THAT RULETH HIS OWN SPIRIT THAN HE THAT TAKETH A CITY.—Proverbs 16:32. MAY 25 THERE IS NO MAN THAT hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death; and there is no discharge in that war.—Ecclesiastes 8:8. MAY 26 IS NOT THIS THE FAST that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?—Isaiah 58:6. MAY 27 THE GRASS WITHERETH, THE FLOWER FADETH: BUT THE WORD OF OUR GOD SHALL STAND FOREVER.—Isaiah 40:8.

VERY SCOTCH A young Scotsman, shortly after his graduation from the University of Edinburgh, went to America to teach. Thirty years later he revisited the country of his birth.

On his return to his teaching post he was regaling some of his conferees with an account of his trip. "One morning," related the professor, "as I was strolling along a street in Edinburgh I stopped at a tobacconist's and bought some cigars. Finding myself out of matches, I asked the clerk for some. 'Ha'pence a box,' said he. 'What! Why in America when a man buys a cigar he is given a small package of matches?' 'I'm sorry, sir, but they're ha'pence a box here. And do you know,' added the professor, 'I had to walk eight blocks to my hotel to get some matches'."

NITROGEN FOR THE ORCHARD

How the productivity of orchard trees may be maintained was explained by Professor V. R. Gardner, of the Michigan Agricultural College, at the recent joint convention of the Ontario and Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, at Hamilton.

After explaining the functions of the tree, the speaker discussed the relation of nitrogenous fertilizers both to plant-food manufacture and to fruit setting. Nitrogen speeded up the manufacture of food in the leaves. It caused the tree to retain its leaves for a longer period in fall, and this helped to increase the amount of food manufactured. Furthermore, the application of a quickly available nitrogenous fertilizer to the orchard one spring may increase materially the size of the crop the second or third following summer. Again, trees in weak condition treated with a liberal supply of some quickly available nitrogenous fertilizer two or three weeks before blossoming usually set and mature a good crop of fruit that season.

According to the speaker, too heavy applications of this kind of fertilizer might do injury. There is a limit to what the tree could absorb within a given period. "Surplus amounts," said the Professor, "remain in the soil unabsorbed or are carried away in the drainage water. If they remain in the soil until late summer or early fall and in the meantime the tree accumulates a supply of carbohydrates and other foods, conditions favorable for a secondary or late growth are brought about, and this is undesirable from the standpoint of winter injury. Furthermore, if the tree makes a late fall growth, its growth next spring would ordinarily be made and it enters the winter in a nutritive condition, similar to that where no fertilizer is applied in the spring."

It may seem more or less paradoxical that very heavy applications of nitrogenous fertilizers should bring about nutritive conditions within the plant comparable to those found when it is suffering because of nitrogen starvation, but such is the case. This is because available nitrogen supply is a determining factor not only for carbohydrate manufacture by the plant, but for the later utilization of these carbohydrates as well. Incidentally, this points out still another function of this element in the economy of plant life and further illustrates its outstanding importance in the problem of orchard soil management.

How to tell whether or not nitrogen applications are needed in one's orchard was explained. "Occasionally," said Professor Gardner, "one meets a grower who has tried quickly available nitrogenous fertilizers in his orchard and who has not obtained good results, or at least results have not been striking. There has been no increase in the setting of fruit, no darker color of the leaves, no later retention of the foliage. Such experiences are easily accounted for. In every case no matter how poor, there is a certain amount of available nitrogen, for the most part in the form of humus. The tree can obtain the nitrogen of humus only as certain kinds of bacteria gradually change it over into nitrates. In some soils the humus supply is so abundant and the bacterial action so great that these natural agencies keep the tree supplied with all the nitrogen that it can use. Under those conditions an extra supply in the form of some fertilizer occasions little response. That applied in the fertilizer is simply tolerated, not utilized."

"Probably the best way to tell whether or not an orchard will respond profitably to nitrogenous fertilizers is to try them on a few trees or a few rows. There are, however, two or three other tests which can be applied, two or three ways in which the matter can be weighed in the balance and a fairly accurate judgment arrived at. If the leaves are a rich, dark green, the chances are that the trees are getting from the soil a good supply of nitrogen. On the other hand, yellowish foliage is evidence that the trees would respond to nitrogenous fertilizers. Other unfavorable conditions may give rise to a yellowing of the foliage, but a lack of available nitrogen is one of the most frequent causes. Perhaps a more certain measure of the need or lack of need of nitrogen is the way in which the foliage adheres to the trees in the autumn. If it drops before it should, say in August instead of October, there is reason to believe that in all probability the orchard would respond favorably to applications of nitrogen-carrying fertilizers."

A SECRET

Pussy willow had a secret that the snow-drop whispered her, And she purred it to the south wind while it stroked her velvet fur; And the south wind hummed it softly to the busy honey bees. And they buzzed it to the blossoms on the scarlet maple trees, And these dropped it to the wood brooks brimming full of melted snow. And the brooks told Robin Redbreast as

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

The Port Williams ACADIAN extends congratulations to Mrs. Mary Vaughan on her graduation in the Domestic Science course at Mt. Allison last week.

Miss Hazel Dodge, of Kentville High School staff, spent the week end with her cousin, Mrs. N. Coulstan.

Miss Coleman left on Monday for Aylesford to attend the funeral of a relative, returning to her school work on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. I. J. Mooney, with her son Richard Hockin of Toronto, are the guests of her brother, R. S. Hockin, of the Royal Bank.

Mr. Fred Vaughan was in Sackville last week attending the closing exercises of Mt. Allison.

Mr. Wilfred Burbridge, of Canard, who graduated from Mt. Allison (Theological), occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

His sermon was listened to with appreciation by a large audience.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Newcombe, Miss Rita Hiltz and Miss Claire Cogswell motored to Hantsport on Friday and were the guests of Mrs. Alvin Beckwith.

Mr. N. W. Eaton and Mr. B. O. Davidson, of Wolfville, were welcome visitors to the Lily of Valley Division on Monday evening.

This society that usually closes the last of May for the summer months will hold their meetings during June as on the 14th of that month they celebrate the 46th anniversary of the society.

Miss Dorothy Hilsley has a new sedan. Francis Daniels and Eric Wilson, of the Royal Bank staff, with Grant Murphy, of the D.A.R., motored to Lawrenceton on Sunday, returning on Monday.

They were the guests of Mr. Daniels' parents.

Mr. R. W. Tufts paid a visit here on Sunday the interests of bird protection as some boys had disturbed a wild duck's nest, thinking to bring the wild birdie up domestic. It is hard to make the children realize that even the tiniest birds' nests are protected now with a heavy penalty and Mr. Tufts is always on the lookout for any infringement of the law.

Encouraging word is being received of the condition of Harold Chipman. Dr. Lovitt feels sure that the improvement, though slow, is sure.

Chicken Fox is now visiting Church Street. Mothers are congratulating themselves for if it had to come, there is no better season of the year to entertain it.

Mrs. Edson Griffin is the guest for a few weeks with Mrs. Bezonan at Belcher Street.

Mr. M. K. Ellis has lately installed a fine electric range in his kitchen.

A large number attended the very interesting demonstration of Girl Guide work given in Citizens Hall on Saturday afternoon. Capt. Haley, Lieuts. Harry and Parry, with 44 Guides, came over from Wolfville.

The following program was carried out in splendid style: Roll Call; Inspection; Color Salute; Knot Tying Contest; Physical Drill; play, "A Good Turn" by Wolfville Guides; Enrollment; Sing Song; Tapes; National Anthem. Ice cream and cake provided by the Women's Institute was served at close.

There are now 14 enrolled Girl Guides here and others who will pass the test later. Much credit is due Mrs. G. A. Chase in the efficient way in which she has carried out this work.

Mr. Edward Armstrong, accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Armstrong, went to Mt. Denson on Tuesday to attend the funeral of Capt. Alonzo Mitchener.

Mr. Roy Porter, who has been occupying the corner house at Church Street, has moved to Waterville.

Mr. Price has moved into the house recently occupied by Mr. Roy Porter.

Mrs. Stephen Kidston, Main street, is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Rand, Canard.

Mrs. Bertha Curry, of Port Maitland, spent a few days last week with Mrs. Capt. Eldridge, prior to attending the closing exercises at Acadia, her son, Mr. E. L. Curry, being one of the graduates.

SPLENDID SERMON AT CANARD

Rev. G. A. Logan occupied the pulpit of Upper Canard Presbyterian church Sunday morning, his stirring and helpful address being listened to by a large congregation.

The speaker chose for his text, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Man has two obligations, his obligation to God, and his obligation to the State. God set us an example as to what man should do.

We have a duty to the present world as well as to prepare for heaven.

This morning said Mr. Logan, I shall dwell on man's duty to the State Government. Let us go back and see how this organization came about, and its underlying principles.

Early man staked his claim, fished, hunted and married. All was well. A stronger man came, coveted this man's possessions, and he was driven out. The stronger took possession of what the weaker earned. The weaker sought other men, who entered into a Covenant, and laid out the first principles of Government, namely: (1) We will endure anything to protect our common lives.

Their covenant—the first principle of Government enlarged to (2) The protection of property. A clan, armed, makes these people pay tribute. Then this community joined another community for the protection of their liberty. Regulations must be made for the protection of happiness. The obligation of every government is to render these four basic principles: (1) Protection of our common lives. (2) Protection of property. (3) Protection of liberty. (4) Protection of happiness.

The great progress made along these lines has been the test of Christianity. We have more justice and kindness now than ever before. The world is a cleaner place to live in. The stream that makes for righteousness flows faster than ever before.

It is our duty to interject ourselves in and work for the application of these basic principles, and to environ the life of the young, many of whom by heredity and home conditions are practically doomed. In many places these conditions are a menace to the country. The feeble minded are at the mercy of the adventurers who come along.

The segregation of the feeble-minded must be paid heed to, that the propagation of these be stopped. What is being done to stop the spread of the drunken driver? As long as no effort is being made toward this we are not rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.

Take the industrial life of Canada—in its progress we must be more concerned over the safety of life if they are precious in the sight of God, they must be in the sight of man. We must protect these lives.

Protection of liberty. No principle is more deeply imbedded in our hearts than that of liberty. For this our best gave their lives in the World War, saying, "Canada this is for you."

We have a duty in time of peace, the duty toward liberty of intellect. The mind is greater than the body. How are we to set free the minds of the children of Canada? Through the school system we must give of our best, and to do this we must have the finest type of teacher, given a living wage. If we do not this we are not rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.

Governments have to do with the moral and spiritual things which are basic principles of human life. How can we hope for the fulfillment of these when men and women are losing their souls to satisfy their baser nature? Every man is entitled to the fruitage of his endeavors.

As individuals, if we are not strong for this, we are not doing our duty to the State. Man must not be robbed of the fruit of his brain and hands, but the working man must also measure up, giving to his employer his best happiness. This we are entitled to. God made man to be happy. The smiling sun, the rippling waters, and the joyous bird, whose song bursts forth, all testify to this. Man too would be happy if he rendered to Caesar the things that are Caesar's. If we do not bring smiles to the faces of children, and keep them there, we are not rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. Children must enjoy the things of childhood. Thank God for our Minimum Wage for women. Streams of womanhood have too long passed to the land of the missing because they have not had enough food to feed their bodies, while their employers rushed by in limousines. Happiness is a condition of the heart but it is easier to be happy under proper conditions. If we believe in justice we must give every man, woman, and child a chance to be happy. If we have done this we have not lived in vain.

THE LATE OSCAR CHASE

(From the Presbyterian Witness)

On Easter afternoon, Oscar Chase, of Church Street, Kings County, N.S., was called away from his labors and kindly deeds to higher service. His departure has brought sorrow to many, for he was held in affection by his friends and in esteem by his acquaintances.

An elder of Canard Presbyterian Church for many years, his removal is a serious loss there. Last year, he was a commissioner to the Assembly. He had deep convictions, but was not self-assertive. In all matters affecting the common good he was interested. In counsel, his judgment was sound. In liberality, he was foremost. Every appeal for a worthy cause in Church or State, found him responsive.

The Chase homestead is attractive in its surroundings, but much more in its hospitality. Indeed, hospitality is a fine art there. Many of different lands can testify to this. None are more welcome there than ministers and their families. In his family life, Mr. Chase was happy. Supported always by Mrs. Chase in every good work, they had seen their children launching out on their careers. Miss Lilian, a B.A. of Acadia, is a graduate of medicine of Toronto, and is now connected with the Toronto General Hospital there. She is under appointment for medical work in Korea, and expects to leave soon. Miss Margaret, also a B.A. of Acadia, is a graduate of medicine of Dalhousie, and is now assistant to Prof. Nichols, in pathology. Miss Susie is a graduate of Guelph Agricultural College, and is on the farm home. Robert is also taking an agricultural course in Truro. Mary is at High School in Wolfville. Mrs. Chase was Miss Elizabeth Little, daughter of Mr. Robert Little, formerly of Barrie, Ont., but until his recent death, of Toronto. Mrs. Turkington, the manse, Whitby, is a sister.

Much sympathy goes out to Mrs. Chase and her family in their irreparable loss.

LOGAN CANADIANA AT ACADIA EXCELS IN AUTHORS' MANUAL SCRIPTS

Members of the Arts and Letters Club, of Toronto, who are interested in Canadian literature here, presented the Logan Library of Canadiana at Acadia University, with Canadian authors' autographed volumes and holograph manuscripts, valued at $700.

The manuscript section includes sixteen of Goldwin Smith's articles, and those of other Canadian writers, such as Marjorie Pickthall, Arthur Stringer and Duncan Campbell Scott; also sixty autograph letters and twenty-five autographed portraits of Canadian authors.

The outstanding items are thirty very rare Bliss Carman autographed broadsheets, pamphlets and books, valued at $250. In Carman items, the Logan collection now ranks next to the R. H. Hatheway collection, of Toronto—the excessively rare pirated Toronto edition of "Low Tide at Grand Pre" alone having cost close to $60—while in authors' manuscripts it surpasses all other libraries of Canadiana in the Dominion.

THE NET OF NIPIGON

"The charm of freshwater, the charm of mirror-like surfaces . . . and the sweet smell of the woods."

Like a flower escaped from a garden is the fish-net found in inland Canada. Nets belong to the sea, to the sea-mists of the Atlantic shores and to the salmon-runs of the Pacific. What are they doing inland, out of habitat, "fish out of water," as it were?

But when you chance upon the "inland net" of the Indian, wound around a crude wheel whittled out of sapling, something inside, some inner sense, speaks out saying: "This is the original. The Seacoast nets of America came here long after this! These threads, these meshes—they run back, back, back to the Garden-of-Eden-time of this continent." And recent discoveries of fossil-skeletons are placing that period back much further than that 20,000 years to which we had become accustomed even if we couldn't understand or comprehend it.

The nets of Nipigon need no aid from men in order to write themselves as belonging in that class of simple things which appeal to the heart. When these meshes—they run back, back, back to the Garden-of-Eden-time of this continent. And recent discoveries of fossil-skeletons are placing that period back much further than that 20,000 years to which we had become accustomed even if we couldn't understand or comprehend it.

What a vista of a world of the wild and free, it conjures up. The "Twine" so inanimate written on the page of the Government's "Indian allowance" becomes a thing of life, when you happen upon it changed by the handwork of the Indian into one of these inland nets. News of a lightness of quality to complement the frailty and mobility of the dainty canoe which is the hyper-sensitive fishboat of this world of inland lakes and rivers.

Like some lace veil is this Old . . . Inland . . . Net! You feel you might take it in hand and run it through a finger ring. Compared with it, how crude seems the coarse strength of tanned lengths that is the herring-trap of the Atlantic coast. How rude and strong the thick gunwale and heavy timbers, the long oar-sweeps of the fishboats that work the herring nets! These are fine paintings, jealously hung in an inner room . . . not many of them . . . rare. These others, in the beauty of their strength, are the sculpture in the gallery of Canadian handicraft. There is no question of superiority only an interesting and very entertaining one of difference. Sometimes we are in a mood for the sculpture, for the strength of the sea; and nothing can satiate this hunger when it is upon us, but the way of the Maritime . . . East or West.

But these inland nets that stand for Canadian lakes and rivers, those wonderful water highways, or mere bridle paths, and canoe-trails of water, have their own charm . . . the charm of freshwater, the charm of mirror-like surfaces, the charm of the deep peace and the sweet smell of the woods.

What sort of world's work, someone murmurs, can be accomplished of these toy nets . . . more like feminine dainties than tools of an industry?

The filigree meshes wound about this old, weathered skeleton of a reel do not purport to be a Blue-Book of the immensity and range of the freshwater fisheries of Canada . . . and they are immense . . . so much as a point-finger of the hundreds of miles of lakes and rivers opened up to sportsmen, following the beckoning of . . . "the nets of Nipigon."—Victoria Hayward.

CAPT. ALONZO MITCHENER

The funeral of the late Capt. Alonzo Mitchener was held from his residence at Mount Denison on Tuesday afternoon at 4.30, services having been delayed for the arrival of the express which brought his half-sister, Mrs. William Randall, and his niece Lola (Mrs. Wallace), daughter of Wm. Sutherland, from New York.

Services at the house were conducted by Rev. A. B. Higgins, assisted by Rev. F. H. Beals and Rev. T. W. Hodgson, and were largely attended. Among the relatives were Mrs. S. L. Cross, daughter of the late Capt. Rufus Mitchener, of Kentville, Mr. E. Armstrong, Miss Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Healey, of Church Street, Mrs. J. R. North, of Canning; and close friends, J. E. Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Halle Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Arnon Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bigelow, Mrs. Hiram Coalfleet, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Eaton, of Canning, beside a host of Hantsport and Windsor friends and all the immediate neighbors of Falmouth and Mt. Denison. Concluding services were conducted at the Mt. Denison Cemetery by the brother members of Hantsport Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

Capt. Mitchener, who was seventy-eight years of age, took the large "Canning" when built at Canning in 1874, afterward commanding the barque "Minden" of Hantsport, and in 1881 the ship "Arbela" of Canning and later the barque "Avoca" of Windsor, and leaves an enviable record for energy, ability and resourcefulness as a Master Mariner.

A loyal friend, a true neighbor, a worthy citizen for whom his community and county will mourn. His first wife was Miss Sarah Stoddard, who departed some forty years ago. His widow was Louise Smith, daughter of the late Capt. Alfred Smith, of Mount Denison, to whom her many friends extend their sympathy.

ed in the Great War as captain in the Forestry Battalion of which his son Dick was a corporal. Ralph grew up in Hantsport, when reaching manhood went to Boston, from thence to British Columbia, where he has since resided. His health became impaired about five months ago, and after three months spent in the Hospital, passed to his reward. The many friends of the bereaved extend sympathy.

TEMPERANCE ACT AMENDMENTS, 1924

Progress Made—But Important Amendments Refused

The Temperance Act has been improved by the legislation passed at the recent session of the House of Assembly. Stricter regulations have been made relating to the issuing of prescriptions and certificates for liquor; the power of inspectors to examine records of physicians, chemists, druggists and vendors; the seizure of liquor and vehicles containing the same. These amendments will be of service in curtailing the sale of liquor.

It is to be regretted, however, that the Government has not adequately dealt with the situation. Very necessary amendments, which would have enabled officers to more effectively deal with bootleggers, dive keepers and rum runners, were not passed. Amendments which would have provided for a greatly restricted business by the Board of Vendors Commissioners were refused.

One of the features of the bill introduced by the Attorney General was the provision made to transfer the administration of the Act to his Department. This was struck out in the Legislative Council. The Inspector-in-Chief, occupying another office under the government, has not been devoting his whole time to the enforcement of the Temperance Act. This work calls for the undivided attention of a man with a strong staff of assistants. Now that the Attorney General has not been empowered to take over this work, it will be in order for the government to provide Mr. Knight with all necessary resources in order to demonstrate as the Act states, "that enforcement may be made effective and complete".

The temperance sentiment of the province is being outraged by the fact that enormous quantities of liquor are being disposed of fraudulently for beverage purposes under cover of medicinal use, and citizens are humiliated at the thought of the government having received last year over $380,000 revenue from such a source. And this liquor is sold, and the revenue in large part obtained, because of defects in the Act, and by reason of loose rules and regulations, which have been made by the Board, with the approval of the government.

Over two months ago, Premier Armstrong received suggested amendments which, if incorporated in the Act, would have been of great service in promoting better conditions. Evidently the government could not agree on a policy with reference to the improvement and enforcement of the Act, and hence it has not been sufficiently amended. We are hoping, however, that members of the government who must feel ashamed of such scandalous disregard for the intention of the Act, will soon assert themselves and have these intolerable conditions remedied.

Before next session of the legislature, it would be well for men and women who have influence with the legislators to obtain definite assurance from members of the government, that a determined effort will be made to play fair with prohibition.

TOWN OF WOLFVILLE

Annual Report For 1923

AUDITOR'S REPORT

The Chairman of The Wolfville Electric Commission.

Dear Sir:— We have examined the Books and Vouchers of the Wolfville Electric Commission covering its operations for the year ended 31st December, 1923, also verified the Statements of Receipts and Disbursements, Profit and Loss acct., and the Balance Sheet, which we present herewith and certify to be correct.

In our last report we expressed the opinion that the system of book-keeping designed and adopted by Mr. Ford was adequate for all the requirements of the Commission—being simple, labor-saving and ensuring the exact balancing of all accts. We are now pleased to report that the further test of another year's working has amply confirmed that opinion.

Respectfully submitted,
M. J. TAMPLIN,
H. E. ARNOLD, Auditors.

Water Works Distribution System
Recommendations By Board Of Fire Underwriters.
Abstract From 1923 Report.

SUPPLY MAINS:—

The supply main laid from dam to reservoir is single, 6 inches in diameter and about 2 miles in length. This main is of inadequate carrying capacity and should be replaced by one of at least 10 inches in diameter, and to comply with standard requirements should be laid in duplicate.

The supply main laid from reservoir to commencement of distribution system at Main Street near Oak Avenue is single, 8 inches in diameter and about 2,400 feet in length. This main is of adequate carrying capacity for present demand but should be laid in duplicate in order to comply with standard requirements.

DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM:—

The 8 inch main referred to is of sufficient carrying capacity to furnish water under present maximum conditions of consumption without undue friction loss, but the present arrangement of minor distributors fails to give adequate fire protection. The system is composed of about 21% of 8 inch, 14% of 6 inch and 65% of 4 inch pipe, the latter not standard and too small for hydrant supply. The 6 inch and 8 inch is laid in the principal business and congested sections. A well defined plan should be adopted whereby all 4 inch mains in the distribution system furnishing hydrant supply or forming a part of the gridiron, will be removed and replaced by mains of suitable capacity and dead ends eliminated wherever practicable. Mains in the business and congested sections should not be less than 10 inches in diameter nor less than 6 inches in other parts and always well supplied by others of larger size.

GATE VALVES:—

The distribution system should be further subdivided by the installation of additional gates, so located that no single case of accident, breakage or repair to the pipe system will necessitate the shutting from service a length of pipe greater than 500 feet in important districts, or 800 feet in others.

VENTURI METERS:—

A venturi recording meter should be installed in the supply line at the reservoir or other suitable location between reservoir and distribution system. Records from same to be carefully filed for immediate future reference.

GAUGES:—

An automatic pressure recording gauge should be provided and attached to an independent pipe from the street main in the business district; the daily diagrams from same to be conveniently filed for immediate future reference.

HYDRANTS:—

All obsolete and unapproved hydrants should be replaced by others of approved make, and additional hydrants should be provided in business sections located at all intersections of streets, and not more than 250 feet apart.

THE ROOSTER SAVED THE DAY

Every school boy knows the tradition, famous in Roman history, of the geese which saved the Capitol by quacking an alarm when the Gauls approached in the night. Modern history furnishes an interesting parallel.

One of the famous victories of England on the sea was the battle off Cape St. Vincent, Portugal, in 1797, when a British fleet nearly destroyed a Spanish fleet almost double its numbers. For a long time the struggle was doubtful, and one of the British ships, the Marlborough, was so severely crippled that her captain was thinking of surrender to save further waste of life.

The ship's mast had gone by the board, the chief officer was mortally wounded, and so many of his subordinates were disabled that the discipline of the crew began to give way. They grew sullen under the terrible fire, which they could not return with effect.

Suddenly a shot struck the coop in which a few fowls had been confined. One cock alone was still alive and, finding himself at liberty, he flapped his wings mightily and fluttered upward, perched on the stump of the mainmast and surveyed the scene of carnage about him.

Then, raising his head defiantly, he began a long strident crow. The crew answered with three cheers, and even the wounded smiled. With renewed spirits, the men worked the few remaining guns, and soon a favoring turn of battle drove away the last thought of surrender.

SPRING

There is music in the woodlands,
Not a warbler's throat is still;
Every brook joins in the chorus,
Freed from Winter's icy chill.

Birds are building in the branches,
And the air is full of song;
Joyous in the golden sunlight,
Summer days are not too long.

Where the brooks are singing gayly,
Violets open their eyes of blue,
In each tiny golden centre,
Shines a quivering drop of dew.

Where the sun lies warm and golden,
'Neath their canopy of green,
Filling all the air with perfume,
Sweet mayflowers can be seen.

Soon on every hill and valley,
Clothed alike in living green,
Will be seen the swaying daisies,
Buttercups with golden sheen.

Let us then forget the Winter,
With its days so dark and drear,
Thank the giver of all blessings,
For the joyous Spring is here.

ROBBED

(A Western father presents his twelve-year old son with a new gun.)
Oh where is the game, daddy? Where is the game?
That you hunted when you were a boy?

You've told me a lot of the game that you shot;
No wonder such sport gave you joy,
I'm old enough now to handle a gun;
Let me be a sportsman too.

I'd like my fair share of clean out-door fun
And I want to shoot just like you.

But where are the birds, daddy? Where are the birds?
I can't "put them up" anywhere!

You had your good sport with the wild flocks and herds

And surely you saved me my share. And where is the big game that roamed around here?

When grandfather came here with you?

I don't see one antelope, bison or deer. Didn't grandfather save me a few?

Why don't you speak up, dad, and show me some game?

Now, why do you look far away? Your face is all red, with what looks like shame.

Is there nothing at all you can say? What "The game is all gone?" There is "no hunting now?"

No game birds to shoot or to see? Then take back your gun: I'll go back to the plow!

But, oh daddy, how could you rob me?

The Newspaper Has the Greatest Advertising Influence

The Women's Advertising Club, of Los Angeles, working through the Women's Clubs of that city, conducted a questionnaire on advertising media and their influence, which should be very interesting to the retail advertiser. The computation was made that 90 per cent. of the buying is done by women and that millions of dollars are squandered every year in an effort to gain their attention. All walks of life were covered and the results figured on the basis of one thousand returns.

"Which of the advertising media influence you most?" was the question. The answer was announced as follows:
