

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

It has been stated on very good authority, that there is a great Inland Sea in Africa, about twice as large as the Black Sea. Mr. Rebmann, a missionary at Mombas, is the discoverer. This sea is to be called "Ukerewe." It is situated between the Equator and the tenth degree of south latitude; and between twenty-three, and thirty degrees east longitude. Our young readers may easily make it on the old maps for themselves.

A MONSTER CUCUMBER.—There is now growing, says the Lowell Massachusetts Journal, in the garden of Mr. Pindar, in this city, a cucumber measuring 48 inches in length, and over 12 inches in circumference at the largest parts.

On the Ospray coming up the Harbour on Wednesday evening last, the officers tried to fire the gun as usual; but being damp, she would not go off. The boat was then opposite George's Island; and it was not until an hour and a half after she reached the wharf, that one of the stewards, named Sullivan, attempted to draw the charge when strange to say, the charge ignited and shattered his arm so severely, that no other alternative for relieving him of intense pain than cutting off the limb was available. This operation was accordingly performed on the ensuing morning by Drs. Jennings and Slayter, with remarkable skill and success.—Recorder.

In the London Times of the 11th inst., it is stated that there is a prospect of a steam route being very shortly opened between London and New York in the northern, and Australia and other places in the southern hemisphere, by way of Panama. The project is set on foot by a British Capitalist, largely connected with American trade, and it is proposed to run large Steamers from New York to Panama, and to enter into arrangements with the London West India Mail Company to take the passengers from England to that point. From Panama large Steamers are to proceed to Tahiti, in the Pacific, a voyage of 18 days, where the chief coal depot is to be kept, and where their voyage is to end. Steamers from Sydney and Melbourne, a voyage of 13 days, are to meet them at Tahiti, when the Passengers will transship from the Panama Steamers and proceed to Australia. This plan, if carried into effect, will bring New York within 45 and London within 60 days of Australia. It is calculated that more than one thousand persons per month will take passage in the English and New York Steamers.

Mr. T. Tobias, Annapolis, has this year raised a bunch of squashes from a single seed, weighing in all four hundred and eighty-five pounds! One of the six weighed 112 pounds.

THE WEST INDIA SQUADRON.—Her Majesty's ship Powerful, 84, Captain T. L. Massie; the Cornwallis, 60, Captain Wellesley; the Pembroke, 60, Captain Seymour; and the Rosamond, 6, paddle-sloop, Commander Crofton, are all ordered immediately to leave Spithead, to reinforce the West India squadron under Rear-Admiral Fanshawe. The first-named goes to Jamaica, and the other three to Bermuda. Rear-Admiral the Right Hon. Sir M. F. F. Berkeley, K. C. B., arrived at Portsmouth from the Admiral yesterday, and went out to Spithead in the steamyacht Vivid to inspect the above ships, and impart instructions to their captains, after which he proceeded to Chichester. It is understood that the cause of these reinforcements is the reception of information by the Government of several men-of-war being in course of construction by American shipbuilders for the Russian Government. These vessels, it is reported, are to be intercepted, as the American government refuses to discountenance their construction.—London Paper, Oct. 13.

A heavy freshet was experienced on the Kennebec River on Sunday last, which carried away several bridges, a clothing mill, two saw-mills besides two factories. The river was higher than for several years past.

Lieutenant-Colonel the Honourable Strange Jocelyn, of the Scots Fusilier Guards, has been appointed to the command of the 2d Rifle corps of the British German Legion. Colonel Jocelyn, who entered the army about nine years ago, served in the Rifles in Canada, in Lord Hardinge's staff in India, and in the Crimean campaign from the landing in Kalamita Bay to the assault on the 18th of June. He headed his company of Guards at the Alma and at Inkermann, and was distinguished not only by his gallantry and coolness, but also by his good fortune, for he came out of the two battles without so much as a scratch, and he is one of the few officers who, through the Crimean war, never had a day's illness. In appointing Colonel Jocelyn to the command of the 2d German Rifles, Lord Panmure has, for once at least, put the right man into the right place. Colonel Jocelyn, though only just 30, has seen more of real war than most of our old generals; and he is one of the men to whom we look forward as likely to be among the young generals that are to revive the fame of British strategy.

GENERAL SIMPSON.—The Press says:—As the town of Sebastopol has now fallen, it is probable that General Simpson will no longer think himself compelled to retain his command. He has suffered severely in health, and may not unreasonably desire to be relieved from his arduous duties, before new operations are undertaken. It is reported that General Codrington will return home. The task of finding a successor for General Simpson will be difficult. The names of General Markham and General Eyre are both mentioned; each has a reputation, and either appointment would be popular.

PRINCE MENTSCHIKOFF A MONK.—The Patrie states that a private letter received by a Russian family in Paris, announces that Prince Mentshikoff has become a Monk. He has enrolled himself, it is said, in a monastery near Moscow.

PROGRESS OF DAGUERREOTYPING.—Niepce, the co-laborer of Daguerre, has, after years of study and experience, succeeded in almost perfecting the art which his associate discovered. "I have begun," says he, "with reproducing in the camera obscura, colored engravings, then artificial and natural flowers, and lastly, dead nature, a doll dressed in stuffs of different colors, and always trimmed with gold and silver lace. I have obtained all the colors, and what is more extraordinary and curious, the gold and silver are depicted with their metallic lustre, and rock crystal, porcelain and alabaster are depicted with the lustre natural to them."

PUBLIC FEELING IN ST. PETERSBURG.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Press, writing on the 26th ult., says:—"Since the whole of the Court quitted our capital and the principal ministers accompanied the Emperor to Moscow, there has been received here no news respecting events in the Crimea. Complete uncertainty and melancholy sadness prevail; and it is at St. Petersburg especially, that the boyards most manifest their discontent. Reviews and parades cherished their warlike ardour. These have ceased, and the absence of the high functionaries, civil and military, who have followed the Emperor, leaves the nobles at leisure to consider the difficulty in which Russia has been placed by the war of the East. Hence their discouragement, which manifest itself openly in their words. Moreover, adding to their discontent certain pamphlets pass more easily from hand to hand, and cherish these melancholy feelings. The discontent, it is impossible to deny, has reached the lowest classes of the population, and the peasants are now seeking to escape the conscription. This is not all. A practice which has been rare in the Russian army is extending itself on a large scale. I mean the desertion of soldiers, which has become so marked, that the government has considered it necessary to adopt measures and apply penalties which are quite unusual against those who desert their colours."

Letters from the Finnish coast mention, that several persons, most of them Mayors, have been arrested in Finland, by order of the military commanders in the various districts. The causes of these arrests—80 in number—are stated to be political.

Advices from Tripoli, in Barbary, state that the Turkish reinforcements which had arrived here have defeated the insurgents.

HORRIBLE SACRIFICE OF LIFE ON THE WESTERN WATERS, IN FORTY-FOUR YEARS.—From Lloyd's forthcoming Steamboat Directory, we learn that since the application of Steam on the Western waters, there have been thirty-nine thousand six hundred and seventy-two lives lost by steamboat disasters, three hundred and eighty boats and cargoes lost, and seventy boats seriously injured, amounting in the aggregate to the enormous sum of sixty-seven millions of dollars. It is to be hoped, that this forthcoming work will have the effect of arresting the attention of the U. S. Government, to the importance of Western interests, so far as the great rivers and lakes are concerned.—Montreal Gazette, Oct. 12.

THE ROEBUCK TESTIMONIAL.—The following letter has been received by Mr. F. T. Mappin, the Master Cutler, from Sir E. Bulwer Lytton:—"Knebworth-park, Stevenage, Herts, September 26.—Sir,—I have the honour to enclose you a check for £10 in aid of the Roebuck Testimonial. Permit me to add, that in my slight contribution to this well merited tribute, I waive altogether the consideration of Mr. Roebuck's especial politics. I do not even desire by it to mark my approval of the part he took in the appointment and proceedings of the Sebastopol Committee. I do not ask myself where I have agreed with or differed from Mr. Roebuck in the opinions he has expressed or the line of policy he has adopted. I desire only, as a member of the British Parliament, to convey my sense of the dignity conferred upon the national assembly by any man who, whatever be the party he espouses, brings into its debates commanding intellect and unimpeached integrity. England, it is true, has many men thus nobly characterized, but none in whom more conspicuously than in your representative the regard for her material interests is accompanied by anxiety for her honour and pride in her renown—none who, whether he be right or wrong in the eyes of others, would more rigidly abstain from the wrong or more firmly maintain the right, according to the lights of his own judgment and the dictates of his own conscience. Tributes such as the one now proposed are monuments to living worth more deservedly than those which we devote to the dead. For I know not, why we should delay our tokens of respect to those who deserve them, until the heart that our sympathy could have gladdened has ceased to beat. As men cannot read the epitaphs inscribed upon the marble that covers them, so the tombs that we erect to virtue often only prove our repentance that we neglected it, when with us. I rejoice that in this case, its due appreciation comes before the sense of its loss. I have the honour to be, Sir, your very obedient servant, Edward Bulwer Lytton. E. T. Mappin, Esq., Master Cutler.—London Paper.

ELECTRIC CANNON.—Mr. D. C. Mitchell, of the Dumfries Militia, has invented an electric cannon. It is fired without a touch-hole, by means of electricity. The conducting and non-conducting wires were introduced into the cannon during its manufacture, and cut off close to the surface; so that in the event of the gun falling in the hands of the enemy, they would fail to discover, at least for some time, how the cannon was discharged. Having no touch-hole it cannot, of course, be spiked, and it is said that it will last four times longer than the present ordinary cannon.

Alderman Salomon, a Jew, has been elected Lord Mayor of London for the following year. This is a very strange step.—The Lord Mayor, though not a Christian, will be under the necessity of attending the Established Church.

Lord Stratford de Redcliffe, the very excellent British Ambassador to Constantinople, is to be recalled, owing to some difficulties between him and the Sultan about the Prime Minister. Thus will the Christians of all denominations in Turkey lose an active, conscientious, and pious friend. The Christian population of Turkey is still far from being in a safe and happy condition. This is not so much the fruit of the Sultan, as of his subordinates. Lord Elgin is spoken of as Sir Stratford's successor.

SPAIN has entered into the Western Alliance and is to send 30,000 men to the Crimea forthwith. The government of that unfortunate country seems to be acquiring unwonted stability; and the property of the clergy is selling well—the pope's allocation notwithstanding.

A startling manifesto has been put forth, signed by Kossuth, Mazzini, and Ledru-Rollin, recommending a simultaneous revolutionary rising all over the continent of Europe. The Hungarian, the Italian, and the Frenchman, unite to denounce all reigning dynasties and despotisms; and a gigantic insurrection of the democrats of all these countries is loudly invoked, and the movement faintly shadowed out. Italy is to give the signal of revolt. This is the foolish and premature attempt of effete fanatics. It will lead to no useful result, but rather the contrary, inasmuch as it will induce despots to be still more stringent in their measures.

The Press of the United States is urging upon the Central Government the imperative necessity of encouraging the building of Ocean Steamers, suitable for commercial purposes in time of peace, and for transports in time of war; in short, of a class of Steamers, such as those of the Cunard and other packet-lines, without which England could not have transported her own troops, and those of her allies, to the Black Sea, or supported them while there.

The reader will recollect our having recently reprinted from the Sieck, Paris journal, an article generally supposed to have been at least dictated if not written, by Louis Napoleon, in which, whilst all due praise is accorded to the intrepidity of the French troops in carrying the Malakof, and thereby hastening the capture of Sebastopol, it is frankly admitted, that without the commercial Marine of England, the allied armies could have accomplished nothing in the Crimea. Which in plain English, means that.

Sebastopol was impregnable against either France or England singly, but the combined Military resources of the former in Men, and of the latter in Maritime supremacy, assured ultimate victory to their arms, beyond all question. Arguing from these facts, the New York Courier & Enquirer concludes that "it is the duty of American Statesmen to secure to the United States a Steam Marine equal to that of England," and, in order thereto, that "Government must come to the aid of commerce, abandoning to competition those lines where such extraneous aid is not needed, in consequence of competing lines not being sustained by other Governments." The object of the article from which we have quoted would appear to be to prepare the Government at Washington for an application about to be made to Congress, early in its next session, for another line of Steamships between the ports of New York and Liverpool, to run the alternate weeks with the Collins line. The Courier & Enquirer insists that there "is absolute necessity for such a line," and that "now is precisely the time to organize it." The Cunard line having been suspended for nearly a year, "if we now substitute an American line, says the Courier, for the one withdrawn, there need be no fear but it will be abundantly sustained. We look to its success through Congress, from the fact that those who ask for it will do nothing to build up any bad feelings between them and the Collins' line the great merits of which they concede, and seek not to take from it any of its richly earned compensation."—Halifax Sun.

THE BEST FRIEND IN THE COUNTRY.—At a recent inspection of the Crimean veterans, an artilleryman, named Davis, who had lost both his arms, was introduced to the Queen. She inquired minutely into his case, and expressed a hope that he would get a good pension. "Have you any friends to look after you?" graciously asked the Queen. "Sure, no one please your majesty," said Davis, with that arch gallantry peculiar to his countrymen, "haven't I the best friend in the country, when I have myself?" The Queen smiled, and passed on; but she immediately ordered Davis, a pair of steel arms in lieu of those he lost in the Crimea, and he had a pension of 2s a day conferred upon him, though only two years' service to reckon on.

NICHOLOIEFF.—The interest which formerly attached to Sebastopol is now being transferred to Nicholief, on the River Bug, formerly the second, now the chief naval arsenal of Russia in the Black Sea. Here the Russians have their naval stores and all that remains of their Black Sea fleet. The Czar is now at Nicholief, and it is supposed, that the object of his visit is to concert measures with the Admiralty for making the place another Sebastopol. By some authorities, the river is said to be so shallow, as not to allow of large vessels coming up to the town, except during the spring floods; by others the channel is said to be from four to six fathoms deep. This is a very important question to the allies; for if there should be any signs of Sebastopol rising from its ashes and re-appearing on the Bug; or if the army, when driven from the Crimea, should repair to the country lying between the Dnieper and Dniester, as is prophesied, the allied fleet would doubtless be ambitious to do unto Nicholief, even as they did unto Sweaburg.

THE SUB-MARINE TELEGRAPH.—Since the disastrous termination of the recent attempt to lay the sub-marine telegraph wire between Cape Breton and the coast of Newfoundland, (made in the latter part of August,) the impression has been prevalent, that the project was abandoned. So far from this, the gentlemen engaged in the enterprise are sanguine of success, and only await the return of another warm season to repeat their endeavours, as the months of June and July are the only ones when the wire can be laid with safety. In the meantime, a settlement will be made with the London insurance companies respecting the lost wire, which will either be restored, or its loss be compensated for. As to the ultimate recovery of the wire, there is said to be no question, as one end remains fast to the Newfoundland shore, and with the aid of suitable mechanical apparatus it may be drawn in. Its entire length is forty miles.

The land portion of the line, extending from Cape Bay to St. John's, a distance of 400 miles, is very near completion, so that the next steamer from that direction is expected to bring intelligence that it is done. The telegraphic company expect to incur no absolute loss from their recent misfortune, except in point of time. The present year, however, was expected to be an important one, financially, on account of the value of European intelligence, and the large revenue it might have afforded.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Wednesday, November 7, 1855.

Some time since, a person of the name of McCree submitted to our inspection a mineral pigment, which promised at first sight to be valuable. We submitted it to Mr. Murphy the painter, who had the kindness to grind some of it with oil, and it was found to possess the same useful qualities as raw terra-sienna, or yellow ochre. We roasted, or calcined some of the mineral, and the result was a lively red. Our informant gave us to understand, that it was to be procured in great abundance; if so, it will be a valuable acquisition not only to the man upon whose farm it is found, but to the Island in general. We would advise Mr. McCree to communicate with the owner—he declined telling us who he was—and in conjunction with him sending up a barrel or two to town, many of the painters would, we doubt not, avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing some; and specimens might be sent to the neighbouring colonies and to the United States, and the fact, whether there would be such a demand for it, as to render the working of the vein an object of importance, might be soon ascertained.

We are at all times happy to give our aid and assistance—humble though it may be—to any discovery in art or science, that may lead to develop the natural resources of the Island. It is very possible, that many useful materials, the possession of which might enhance our list of exports, or at all events, be substitutes for articles of import, may still be hid beneath the surface. We are satisfied that a good specimen of potters' clay might be found and we have, no doubt, that a pottery properly managed, would be of great advantage to all classes of the community.

THE NEWS.—by the papers brought by the Lady Le Marchant yesterday, from Shediac, we have only one day's later news from Europe. We understand from a gentleman, who came passenger, that a telegraphic dispatch was received at Shediac, giving one week's later news, announcing that Perceps was in the hands of the Allies, that the Russians had been defeated at Kars, and that they were fortifying their position on the North of Sebastopol. The British Mail will be looked for with the greatest interest on Friday, and we hope to be able to put our readers in possession of some important news, in our next issue.

One Day later from Europe.
The Ariel, belonging to the new Vanderbilt line of steamships, arrived at New York on Saturday evening, placing us in possession of news from all parts of Europe, 1 day later than that received by the Africa.

Consols had improved a shade in London. Austrian finances are reported as in a most precarious condition.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times, writing on October 12, at 6 o'clock in the evening, sends the following by express to London:—

News of the doings of the expedition which arrived before Odessa on the 8th is anxiously expected. 10,000 French soldiers are on board the squadron, and the general belief is, that Kinburn and Oczakoff are to be the points attacked.

Oczakoff or Otshakov, is a seaport town about forty miles ENE. of Odessa. Until 1788, it belonged to Turkey, and was strongly fortified. It has still a citadel, and is a quarantine station, but its trade has greatly diminished, since the foundation of Odessa. Kinburn is a seaport town on the opposite side of the Linau Gulf. These towns command the mouth of the Dnieper, and their possession by the allies would inflict a severe blow upon Odessa.

A report of a popular out-break in Sicily was prevalent.

Rome was dreadfully afflicted with Cholera. At Madrid, also, there were about 50 cases a day, and the civil governor of the capital had died from it.

Russian agents were busily at work in Italy and Switzerland.

Nothing later from the Crimea. The English gun boats had left the Baltic, and were under convoy home.

It is said that the Danish Sound Dues question will certainly be settled in an amicable manner.

The attempt to lay a submarine telegraph between the coast of Italy and Algiers had proved a failure, the cable having ruptured in paying out.

A terrific boiler explosion had occurred at the Walker Iron Works, at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, (Eng.) which killed five men two boys, and inflicted injury on several others.

The Supreme Court finished its Michaelmas Term sitting, on Monday last. There were few cases for trial, but a considerable number of arguments and these of importance.

Our harbours, wharfs and streets, present a lively appearance and betoken a good deal of business.

We, on Monday last, saw the volunteers, or by whatever name they may be called, at drill in the garrison; they present a soldier-like appearance, we must say, and reflect credit on the Drill Sergeant; whether the benefit expected from them will compensate for the expense to which the Island will, undoubtedly, be submitted, we have yet to learn. Both these facts will be communicated, we suppose, about February, to the representative wisdom assembled in Parliament.

JOSEPH B. HALL & Co., Presque Isle, Aronostook Co., Maine, April 24, 1854, say: "We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters..."

Mrs. J. B. HALL & Co.—Gentlemen:—In answer to your inquiries, I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, had been complaining of a pain in her side, for six or seven years, and about the first of January last, was taken down and confined to her bed...

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

ERYSIPELAS OF EIGHT YEARS' DURATION CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Geo. Sinclair, Esq., of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th July, 1854. To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I feel a pleasure and a pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipelas; large purple blotches came all over my body; in addition to the unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which affected me both night and day, rendering life a misery to me, as well as to all around—so severe was the attack. I used several reputed remedies without deriving the least cessation to my misery. At last, I determined to try your Ointment and Pills; after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better;—in three months, by continuing with your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully, (Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS IN THE LEG.—REMARKABLE CURE.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway. Sir,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg; in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, defying the skill of some of the most eminent of the medical faculty, a variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was not any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. At length, she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks she was completely cured, after all other means had failed to afford her the slightest relief. If you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant. (Signed) EDWD. TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854. To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My wife suffered most severely after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it one as large as a hand; all the devices and stratagems I tried would not heal them, but it assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks; at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies for two more weeks, she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the cure effected.

I am, Sir, yours truly, (Signed) HENRY MALDEN.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

- Bad Legs, Cancers, Sore-throats, Bad Breasts, Contracted and Stiff Joints, Burns, Elephantiasis, Scrofula, Bites of Mosquitoes and Sand Flies, Gout, Sore-eyes, Coco-bay, Glandular swellings, Tumours, Chiefo-foot, Piles, Ulcers, Chilblains, Rheumatism, Wounds, Clapped hands, Scalds, Yaws.

Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the Civilized World, in Pots, at 1s 3d, 3s 3d, and 5s each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.

Dr. De Roos, from long practical experience in the most celebrated institutions of this country and the continent, has had, perhaps, unusual opportunities of observing the peculiarities relating to the physiology, pathology, and general treatment of the disorders referred to in the above work, and having devoted his studies almost exclusively to this class of diseases, he is enabled confidently to undertake their removal in as short a time as is consistent with safety!

PERSONS IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD, may be successfully treated by forwarding a correct detail of their case, with a remittance for Medicines, &c., which will be returned with the utmost despatch, and secure from observation.

THE CONCENTRATED GUTTE VIVE, or Vegetable Life Drops, are recommended to all those who have injured themselves by early excesses, and brought on Spentorrhea, Nervousness, Weakness, Languor, Low Spirits, Aversion to Society, Study or Business, Timidity, Trembling and shaking of the Hands and Limbs, Indigestion, Flatulency, Shortness of Breath, Cough, Asthma, Consumptive Habits, Dimness of Sight, Dizziness, Pains in the Head, &c.

THE COMPOUND RENAL PILLS, as their name Royal (or the Kidneys) indicates, are the most safe and efficacious remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges of any kind, and Diseases of the Urinary Organs generally, which if neglected, frequently result in stone in the bladder, and a lingering, painful death. They agree with the most delicate stomach, strengthen the digestive organs, increase the appetite, improve the general health, and will effect a cure when other medicines have utterly failed. Price 4s. 6d., 11s., & 33s. per Box, through all Medicine Vendors.

GUARD AGAINST the recommendation of spurious or other articles by unprincipled Vendors who thereby obtain a large profit. To protect the PUBLIC against FRAUD, Her Majesty's Hon. THE BEST ESTATE.

BY CHARLES SWAIN. The Heart hath its own estate— The Mind it hath its wealth untold; It needs not fortune to be great, While there's a coin surpassing gold.

No matter which way fortune leans, Wealth makes not happiness secure; A little mind hath little means— A narrow heart is always poor.

Stern Fate the greatest still entrails, And Misery hath its high compeer; For Sorrow enters palace halls, And queens are not exempt from tears.

The princely robe and beggar's coat, The scythe and sword, the plume and plough, Are in the grave of equal note— Men live but in the eternal "Now!"

Still disappointment tracks the proud, The bravest 'neath defeat may fall; The high, the rich, the courtly crown Find there's a calamity for all.

'Tis not the house that honour makes— True honour is a thing divine; It is the mind precedence takes— It is the spirit make the shrine!

So keep thou yet a generous heart, A steadfast and contented mind; And not till death consent to part With that, which friend to friend doth bind.

What's uttered from the life within Is heard not by the life without; There's always something to begin 'Twixt life in faith and life in doubt!

But grasp thou Truth—though black appears The rugged path her steps have trod— She'll be thy friend in other spheres; Companion in the world of God.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sambo, is your master a good farmer? "O, yes massa, fust rate farmer—he make two crops in de year." How is that Sambo? "Why he sell all his hay in de fall, and make money once; den in de spring he sells de hides ob de cattle dat die for want ob hay, and make money twice."

"Don't you think I look very young?" said a giddy lady to a gentleman who happened to be a great wag. "Yes," he replied; "you look as if you had just come from a boarding-school; but it is to be hoped that in a year or two you will be able to read, write, sit, stand, walk, and talk."

"Do let me have your daguerrotype," said a dashing belle to a gentleman, who had been annoying her with his attentions. The gentleman was delighted, and in a short time the lady received the picture. She gave it to her servant and asked—"Would you know the gentleman if he should call?" The servant replied in the affirmative.

"Well, when he comes, tell him I am engaged."

"What's that?" asked Mrs. Partington, looking up at the column on the Place Vendome, during her late visit to Paris. "The pillar of Napoleon," was the answer. "Well, I never did!" she exclaimed, and "that's his pillow!" he was a great man to use that!" but it's more like a bolster. And it's made of iron, I do believe. Ah, Isaac! see what it is to be great! how hard his head must have rested on that ironical pillow!"

TRUE DIGNITY.—A mason from Balmoral was examined in the Jury Court. The presiding judge, Lord Deas, spoke rather sharply to the man, who replied, "Just allow me to take time, I'm no accustomed to sic a company." On his leaving the box he said to the bystanders, "The Queen has been in my hut, and speaks pleasantly, and draws the bairns' pictures; I would far rather speak the Queen than to you man wi' the big wig."

A WIFE.—In the play of "Love and Reason," old Gen. Gordon is persuading Adjutant Vincent to marry.

"She is an angel!" says the General.

"I don't want an angel;—I should not know what to do with an angel!" is the reply of the single hearted Adjutant.

"She's all sweetness," rejoins the General.

"So is a bee hive," answers Vincent; "but it does not follow that I should like to thrust my head into it!"

An Irishman giving a description of a toad, said that he was a "baist what lies close to the ghround, has a tendering big side at one end and no tail at all at all."
