WAR IS NOT NECESSARY

To Advancement of Civilization is Decision

IN I.U.D.L. DEBATE

Toronto Vanquished by Speakers from McGill—Attendance Small

The Inter-University Debate between McGill and Toronto was held in Wycliffe Convocation Hall on Friday evening. Owing to several other events the attendance was rather small. This was a great pity as the Debate on both sides was of a very high order, and repeated applause accompanied the closely followed arguments where telling points were made by both affirmative and negative speakers. The Debate was "Resolved that War is a necessary means to the advancement of Civilization."

Messrs. W. E. MacNiven and W. Burt, representing Toronto, took the affirmative and Messrs. Bertram, St. G. French and John MacNaughton of McGill on the negative. The judge was the Hon. J. J. MacLaren.

In opening the Debate Mr. MacNiven referred to the co-operation of tribal and patriarchal primitive peoples creating keen competition which led to war as they advanced in civilization, that the autonomous city states of Greece, the creation of the Roman Empire through the Punic Wars owed their existence to war, that roads built by Rome which had so great a part in the ultimate civilization of the barbarians on the furthest limits of the Empire were constructed primarily to convey her armies. He stated that Roman Law was of a military order, and that without war there would have been no Scipio, no Caesar, no Anthony nor Pompey. In medieval times Christians joined with the Feudal barons to bring in the peace rule. Again, the forces of Christianity and the Crescent opposed one another, and fought out their issues on the battlefield, resulting in the Moslems being driven from Europe by the sword, and the Christians attacking, through the Crusades, their strongholds. As a result the merchants of East and West combined, and commerce was created so advancing civilization; and by the founding of Universities, with all the learning introduced from the East the Crusades justified their existence. And so on through the French Revolution to the present day, war has not become a whitened skeleton in the museums of the past, but is absolutely necessary to the advancement of civilization.

The second speaker for the affirmative, Mr. W. Burt, continued the above argument, shewing that war is constantly being carried on, in the elements, in the vegetable kingdom, and even in the human body itself. That arbitration failed because no power in the wide world would make two nations agree if they were unwilling to abide by the decision of the arbitrators, and that only force of arms would or could settle the difference. It only meant a procrastination of the evil day, when greater bloodshed would be probable because of the delay. He maintained that war freed Christianity of its corruption of the 5th and 6th centuries by the attacks of foes without, which made the Christian forces consolidate themselves, that freedom of conscience was only obtained by war that it stimulated patriotism, and effete manhood was reinvigorated. He held that war is one of the greatest elements in the consolidation of government, class distinctions are removed by the common danger and that the ancient world with all its corruption was destroyed by war. The presence of war stimulates intellect. Inspiration only reached its height when war menaced, that Pericles' dramas were the products of war. War nourishes, peace decimates, a nation. War teaches, peace forgets, war trains, peace betrays.

Mr. French, for McGill ably presented his case by saying that Europe came to think religious wars were wrong, and that

VICTORIA CONVERSAT

Brilliant Event was Held on Friday Evening

Once a year Victoria College is at home to all her friends, on the occasion of the annual conversazione. This event, which is one of the social features of University life, occurred last Friday evening, and was a scene of unusual brilliance and splendor. The College was very tastily decorated throughout, and everything possible was done to ensure the comfort of the guests.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Gibson, Chancellor and Mrs. Burwash and the patronesses, Madames Wright, Coleman, Dunlap, Edgar, Massey, Rowell and Wood received the guests from eight till nine o'clock. The reception was followed by a programme which included numbers from the College Glee Club, college quartette, and selections by Professor Hambourg and his colleagues, at the conclusion of the concert, prom-enading was begun and continued until eleven-thirty. The music was furnished by D'Alexandro's orchestra.

SANCTITY AND PERSONALITY

The Subject of Sermon by Dean DuMoulin—Place of Temptation

Sanctity was the subject of an inspiring sermon at Convocation Hall on Sunday morning by Dean Du Moulin, of Cleveland. Temptation, the speaker declared, was the primary element in sanctity.

Temptation becomes a stepping stone. It offers a rich opportunity, giving man the tools with which he may chisel out character. The place of temptation in life is illustrated by the life of Christ. Temptation also relates itself to responsibility. New temptations mean new responsibilities.

Dean DuMoulin emphasized the romance of the struggle, quoting Paul's great description of the conflict as if it were an athletic event. In the struggle of life, success or failure does not count. The great fact is the struggle. It is the fight of life which develops personality, which can never be annulled. A man's personality is always acting and always producing some effect. It is then for man to see that a personality uplifting in its tendency shall be produced. For this the satisfied life is necessary.

BIBLE STUDY WORKERS

Have Luncheon and Listen to Addresses

That the bible study activities of the Y.M.C.A. are in a flourishing condition was quite apparent Friday evening when a Varsity reporter dropped into their weekly 6 o'clock luncheon. The greatest enthusiasm and presence of mind in the face of danger was displayed by the students in the preliminary wrestle; as if with the presto change of the magician all disappeared;—meats, vegetables, cakes, ice cream and coffee. (As the luncheon was served in the Y.M.C.A. the bible study workers were strictly confined to coffee.)

But the luncheon itself, though important, was by no means the only part of the programme. Under the efficient leadership of Professors Law, DeWitt, Gilmour and Cosgrave the students (some sixty in number) retired to their various rooms where, from week to week, most instructive classes are conducted in the different branches of bible study included in this year's curriculum. The matter which the professors have to impart is most interesting and profitable and the system of bible study as we have it at Toronto to-day reflects much credit on the Y.M.C.A. and every undergrad, whether teacher or student, should take an active interest and so do his part towards the perfecting of the bible study work.

THE ORGAN IS REAL REALITY

Convocation Hall is Actually to Have One Very Soon.

That an organ in Convocation Hall is to be a realization in the near future is impressed upon us by an announcement of the Y.M.C.A. that during January and February next the sermons will be delivered not in the regular place but either in Wycliffe Convocation Hall or the West Hall of the main building, owing to the fact that Convocation Hall will be in a semi chaotic state on account of the work of the installation of the new pipe organ. The instrument will be a large and handsomely constructed piece of workmanship and one that the students of Toronto will have reason to take pride in.

No longer, with such an accompaniment, will the sonorous voices of the Science quartette pass unappreciated by a stormy audience, no longer will the "amen" to the hymns fade in an incoherent hum but will "break out with singing."

Then, All Hail to our Grand New Organ!

WHY VARSITY WON

Some Reasons for Saturday's Victory over Argos

The outcome of Saturday's game is a direct proof of the superiority of swift resourceful tactics and intelligent, fast, open combined play over even the most impregnable defensive play when not backed up by a varied ground-gaining style of offence. There are four good reasons for Varsity's victory. The wings followed up well and tackled so effectively that the whole length of every punt was gained. The halves backed each other up consistently and in this way avoided great losses that might have been incurred from wretched fumbling. The combination of backs and wings forced the play into Argo territory and no matter where the ball was the whole team were induced with the feeling that to cross the Argo line for scores was the object of the game. This made them take advantage of every possible opportunity afforded by the few misplays or exhibitions of bad judgement on the part of their opponents.

On the other hand, the Argonauts paid great attention to their defense but were not daring or dashing enough to stop Varsity's dangerous runs.

The only successful means of attack that they had was kicking and this for the most part was excellently done and the game would have been closer if they had confined themselves entirely to this mode of attack. They could not run and they could hardly hope to back the whole length of the field. Just a little more speed and daring would have given them a chance to take advantage of Varsity's mistakes and that lack coupled with their inability to work together for combined runs are the two main causes for their defeat. It is most unjust to blame any one man for the loss of the game. Such blame has been laid at Dr. Lawson's door, but it is entirely contrary to the facts, Smirle played a consistent steady game and was trying every minute. His retrieving of Binkley's fumble at the dead line and his noble effort to get out was as clever and fast a bit of play as any in the game. The trouble was that he was too well taken care of. Just imagine what a herculean task it would be to elude Jeff Taylor, Rusty Bell and Bobby Sinclair.

KNOX TIE McMASTER

A tie of 2-2 was the result of the final game between MacMaster and Knox for the interfaculty soccer championship on Saturday.

Although the game was continued for twenty minutes over time neither team was able to score again. Knox started to count early in the game and scored twice in the first few minutes. Before half time MacMaster evened up and neither was able to score in the second half or in the overtime.

QUEEN'S HALL DANCE

Dean and Students in Residence Give Delightful At-Home

Midnight came all too soon to fifty happy ladies and fifty infinitely happier men, who danced away four ridiculously short hours in Queen's Hall on Friday night. The Dance was superb. More perfect arrangements could hardly be imagined, and that indescribable, all-pervading atmosphere of youthful glee, sufficient in itself, without the charming surroundings to draw man out of the prosaic, was in Queen's Hall, something to make one happy for many a moon. The sixteen dances passed as minutes of sunshine on a dreary day. Some men, indeed, could hardly realize that the dance was really over, and had almost to be reminded of the hour.

However, the charming hostess, Mrs. Campbell, was indulgent.

The music was pre-eminently good, and the floor and refreshments were indeed excellent. This dance was such a success that it is whispered that—but—sh! its probably a secret!

SOPHS WERE VICTORIOUS

In Debate at the U.C. Lit. Friday Night—Interesting Subject

"Superior! Superior! Potentissimus, IT4!"

At the U.C. Lit, Friday night, Class '14 once more proved their redoubtability on the gory field of debate by defeating '15 who attempted to maintain that the three-fifths clause should be abolished in Local Option elections. Though Messrs. Hill and Kennedy, of '15, followed a strong line of argument the judges declared that in face of the criticism of Messrs. W. J. Preston and Kelly of '14, they had not established their case.

"Gently knocking"—this was the attitude of the two parties in the preliminaries. The attendance was comparatively small and no party measures of consequence were introduced. The Unionist Leader sharply reprimanded the government for what he considered the arbitrary methods by which the inter-year debaters were chosen, the executives of the years being unapproached for any advice. After a short but sharp duel a nebulous satisfaction was gained by both sides in the canny rulings of the chair.

Mr. Gordon introduced a motion abolishing all criticism from a party standpoint of literary society functions. With pungent sarcasm, reminding us of the ancient Bristolian days, Mr. H. S. Patton, the secretary, seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

It was decided to purchase a new shield for the inscription of the names of the winners of the Inter-year debates.

After a few songs, and a much appreciated solo by Mr. Daly, the inter-year debaters became the "men of the hour." Dr. Wallace and Dr. Needler acted as judges.

The debate became general after the speakers had finished. The ardour of all was somewhat dampened, however, by the announcement which was made at this juncture that McGill had won the I.U.D.L. debate. Remembering their reputation for "good sports," however, a clap ensued. The entrance of the genial professors soon raised (as it generally does) the spirits of the students. Professor Needler announced the judge's decision, namely that the negative had won. After a vote of thanks from the students to the judges, and a few words from Dr. Wallace the meeting adjourned with a rousing class yell from the enthusiastic Sophs. "There's no place like home."

MAN OF MASSIVE MOULD

Dr. Simpson will Address Mass Meeting of Students

A man of massive mould is Rev. A. B. Simpson, D.D., of New York. His brow denotes the philosopher yet he is pre-eminently a man of action. Since he entered the work for the "neglected masses" he has followed Paul's example in a life of self support and still manages the publishing house from which issue the products of his facile pen. His latest book "The Old Faith and the New Gospels" shows that he keeps abreast of the times in a wide field of literature. Dr. Simpson has solved the secret of doing many things and doing them well.

"Radiant Lives" the topic on which he will address the Students' Mass meeting in West Hall, on Tuesday at 5 p.m., will be better understood by a study of the genial personality of the speaker.

Some of Dr. Simpson's hymns will be sung by the next generation and when a future church historian writes the record of world movements of the Twentieth Century, those activities which were generated in his hopeful soul will not be forgotten.

SPORT

The School, ever progressive, is the first of our Colleges to put into practice an idea that has long been more or less prevalent about the University. That is, the getting of men into active sport who have not so far taken part in it. The School deserves the thanks of every true sportsman in the University, for organizing as they did the inter-year rugby matches for those who have never played.

Someone said somewhere, at some time or other, that he would rather see bad rugby played at his University than good; because, reasons the ingenious gentleman, bad rugby is a pretty sure sign that everybody, no matter how good—or bad—is having a try at it, while good rugby indicates that the game is left to a few. We do not answer for the reasoning; but the idea is good. It is well known that a man has to know "above a bit" to have a show of making any of the three Varsity teams. The College teams, entered in the Mulock Cup Series, also showed form that practically excludes any that do not know the game. There are about fifteen teams all told playing rugby here; allow twenty men per team—the outside limit—and you have 300 men playing rugby. About one in ten, of the men at 'Varsity. Soccer does not make up to that number; but if it did, that would leave four-fifths of the undergraduates, easily 2000 men, who take part in no vigorous out-door exercise in the fall. In winter it is far worse there are not nearly as many men playing hockey as there are playing rugby or soccer. In the spring, a few lacrosse enthusiasts and the perennial soccerites are our sole campus decorations. The devotees of the track, faithfully working Fall and Spring, are a comparatively small band. Add to this, that not a few men take part in all out-door athletics. There must be at least 2000 men, Fall, Winter and Spring, who take no part in out-door athletics.

We cannot help thinking that if all our Colleges were to follow the example of S.P.S., with not one but many teams in each year, that this enormous number would be greatly diminished. We realize of course that campus accommodation is inadequate. There are only five University fields; Trinity is lucky in having playing-fields of their own; there is not room for more than twelve teams all told. But if a real effort to get everyone playing were to be made, it is possible that more space might be obtained.

As usual, suggestions on this subject are welcome; but we are sure that the undergraduate body is with us in saying that the present system, which is to a certain extent fourteen men playing, and the rest looking on, needs change. Everyone who is physically fit should get into one or other outdoor game, and some sort of organization is necessary to get the thing started. Someone who knows more of athletic organizations and their working than we do will have to supply the details; but we are sure the idea is good, and hope it will be taken up.

A new feature of the Department of Agriculture at Louisiana State University will be a seed-testing laboratory to be installed soon.

CORRESPONDENCE

NEXT YEAR'S RUGBY

To the Editor of The Varsity:

Dear Sir:—It may appear early to offer suggestions for the management of the Rugby matches for the year 1912, but if not done now the matter may escape my memory till it is too late for consideration, and on this account I crave a little of your space.

Although we have, this year, obtained an athletic ground which for accommodation, is second to none in this country, it has already become evident that the demand for seats at the Intercollegiate matches is likely to overtax its resources, and if the demand is so great, is not the Athletic Association justified in increasing its annual income by an increase in the cost of admission?

I quite recognise that the Students should be given certain privileges and would provide for this by allowing every registered student to subscribe for one season ticket at $2.50. For every additional season ticket required the charge should be $3.00. All others should pay the regular fee of $3.00.

Again, if every season ticket is numbered and issued in accordance with priority of application, it would save endless trouble in the allotment of seats, as the person subscribing for the first season ticket would have priority in choice of seats over those who arrive at the last moment with their applications.

These suggestions are not offered in criticism of the methods adopted this year, but rather to assist the Executive in eliminating some of the complaints that have been made, and at the same time to bring forward a scheme for the increase of the Association's Annual Income.

Yours faithfully,
"A SEASON TICKET HOLDER."

ONLOOKER'S CORNER

THE COMMITTEE MAN.

Some people just naturally drift into office, others achieve office, but your true committee man has office thrust upon him—about seventeen times a year. The vulgar publicity that is an inevitable part of executive work is peculiarly disagreeable to him but he is a noble martyr and the clarion call of duty finds him ever ready to bow his neck to the yoke and immolate himself on the altar of stern necessity. [The Editor says that that Metaphor is worse than mixed, it is scrambled and as we have it on good Wall Street authority that an egg can not be unscrambled we will have it as it is.]

The committee man is a strenuous individual. He has a loud voice and he is always in a hurry. No one has ever seen a committee man actually engaged in executive work. You may hear his footsteps as he approaches and you may see his flapping coat tail as he rounds a distant corner but that is all and you are fortunate if you have seen as much for he is usually enveloped in a cloud of dust.

There is another name for the Committee Man, he is sometimes seen in the role of The Man Who is Always on the Inside. You have often asked a man if he has obtained his rooster's ticket or his term marks or some such thing in general demand around the University. Weren't

The Royal Military College of Canada

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instruction in all branches of military science to cadets and officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, lent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and, in addition, the constant practice of gymnastics, drills, and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation, is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same examinations as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years, in three terms of 9 1/2 months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all extras, is about $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the College, takes place in May of each year, at the headquarters of the several military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont.; or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

Words common to Wycliffe that upon a Wednesday they would be a holiday. So ye worthe swymyrs mayked redde to swym at ye Castille Corson, but lo ye castille, towar, and town wer shutten and ther hartes were sad and soar, and they wepynged manie tears.

Wycliffe Rugby Team broke training at 11.46 p.m. on Thursday.
Two splendid addresses were given at morning and evening Chapel on Wednesday by the Rev. C. J. James, M.A., Rector of the Church of the Redeemer, and by Dr. Taylor of Shanghai. The latter spoke on his work amongst Chinese students in Shanghai, and the former on the Call for a Man for India.

Ford, Bythell and Swanson went to discuss the Tripoli Question at Cook's Baths, on Wednesday night. They all rested easily, and got back in time for Lectures on Thursday.

A typical Mexican Ranch episode occurred in Barclay's Room the other evening, in which Eley, Williams, Larter, and Barclay did some random shooting.

It is a case of sitting in the gloamin' to read papers and magazines in the Reading Room after dusk. A few Tungsten lamps would be much appreciated by the student body if the "Lit" will provide them. Lux! light up!

FACULTY OF MEDICINE

Geo. has at last found some justification for his habit of winking at the patients at the Hospital. In doing a general inspection, yesterday, he began to practise his art, but for once met with no response. "Doctor," said he, "why does not her eye respond to the usual test." "Glass eye, may boy, glass eye!"—and the doctor had to take a turn out in the corridor.

Dr. J. H. McPhedran of St. Michael's staff, entertained his clinic to dinner at his home, on Thursday evening. The boys report the time of their lives—though 'tis said on the way home some got lost.

A third year Med is the author of an idea for which the men of all faculties should be everlastingly grateful and also the ladies for they too shall benefit in no indirect way. He suggests that a canvas be held in all years to determine the names of those who would be interested in a scheme to reduce the price of diamond rings. By ordering, in dozen lots, he assures your reporter that it is possible to get $100.00 solitaires for $75.00 or on 4 annual payments of $20.00. It is also stated on good authority that a club started in the Third year yesterday has already several enthusiastic members who have signified their intention to stick to the promises they made this summer. Some have even suggested that by being married on the day they convocate they might save on the minister's fees also but this scheme is likely to fall through as many are opposed to postponing the happy day so long.

Any further information to be had from the secretary—W. J. McL.

APPLIED SCIENCE

Mr. James Aitken '11 kindly invited several members of the Fourth Year to be his guests at the "Chemical Club" dinner on Friday night. The guests availed themselves of this opportunity of thanking "The Shark."

The school orchestra, which has made excellent progress, will hold their next practice on Tuesday, at 4.30 p.m. in preparation for the next big general meeting of the Engineering Society, which will likely be their last appearance before the New Year.

Mr. V. S. Goodeve '10 was a visitor at the School on Friday.

Science men are still in a quandary regarding the Xmas exams. The only thing known is that we are going to have exams after Christmas and a little enlightenment re the subjects to be tried and the dates would be welcomed—and what's more, the sooner the better.

Don't forget the excursion to the "Roman Stone" Factory at Weston, this afternoon. We leave the corner of Dundas and Keele Streets at 2.30 p.m. (sharp). All architects, all IV year men and all III year Civils are urged to come along.

The lectures delivered during the past week by Rev. MacMillan, of Halifax, proved very interesting and were largely attended. His treatment of such subjects as—Immigration, Housing and Industrial Causalities, brought to light some startling facts and he showed very plainly remedies for these existing conditions.

CURRENT COMMENT

THE LITTLE UNIVERSE

NOT SUCH A FOOL, BUT—

There are some people who seem to think the single tax is a kind of anti-bilious pill, a neat little remedy for evils small but depressing. There is one who sees differently. Sir James Whitney knows it is Henry Georgeism, and therefore hates it. So far, so good; it is fair that the issue be placed on its real merits, but is the premier not a little high-handed? Logic, such as Henry George used, would have been too much to expect, but rhetorical bruising is not a satisfactory answer to the well built arguments of the economists.

One of the most interesting exchanges coming to the Varsity office is printed in distant India. It is called "The Collegian," an All-India Journal of Education. It is printed in Calcutta and contains a review of the happenings in all the higher educational institutions in India. The Universities represented are Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Punjab, and Allahabad, besides a number of colleges of various kinds. Besides news of these institutions, scientific articles are published. "The Collegian" indicates that India is not at all backward educationally and that the students are as enterprising as any in the world. The periodical is printed in English although under the direction of Hindu students. Varsity subscribers who are interested in this or any other college publication are invited to the office where our exchanges may be seen by all.

THE IDEAL COLLEGE PAPER

Was Discussed by Members of Varsity Staff—Thursday
 Evening

Problems connected with the publication of The Varsity from the proper amount of space to be assigned to reports of college sermons to the securing of tickets for those connected with the paper at the city theatres were discussed at a dinner attended by the male members of the staff, held at the Royal Cecil Cafe, Thursday evening.

Twenty-five men were present, and the discussion plainly showed that the men had the interest of the college paper thoroughly at heart and were doing all in their power to make it a success. Mr. W. C. McNaught, one of the editors of Varsity last year, was the guest of the evening and gave a most interesting account of Varsity's history and the relation of college journalism to the profession in general. R. L. Campbell, editor-in-chief, and L. R. Johnson, managing editor, spoke briefly explaining some of their ideals of what The Varsity should be and how they believed those ideals could be reached. Mr. Gordon Bole, the Onlooker, was introduced, amid applause as the managing editor for the last half of the year in place of Mr. Lowrie, who has resigned.

Every man present made a short address and many new ideas were expressed. One unfortunate member of the staff declared the Varsity would be fine if only the reports of the college sermons were cut down. This stirred resentment among the theologically minded men, who maintained that "sermons" were a good feature. Much attention was given to the subject of humor, especially in relation to college notes. It was unanimously decided that an announcement to the effect that "Willie Jones had called on a fair damsel the night before last" was neither humorous or newsy. It was felt, however, that the paper needed more genuine humor and "breeziness." Write-ups after the style of "Punch" and "Life" were even advocated. This style may not be adopted, but it is hoped that The Varsity may assume a tone that will make all its pages a regular mental tonic to its readers. Possibilities of a daily paper, a weekly magazine, more good live advertising were also suggested.

Such are a few of the things hoped for in connection with this great college journal. With ideas such as those expressed before the staff and the willingness to strive to attain them, there should continue to be marked improvement in The Varsity.

ARTS DINNER

Students Urged to Attend the Annual Function

College spirit,—that's what the Arts men want; it is enthusiasm that, above all, University College needs. To foster this spirit the College function is an essential, and no institution is more conducive to this end than is the annual Arts Dinner. This is the one night when every available student should turn out with the rah rah soul and the hungry face, prepared to do or die for his dear old Alma Mater. In maintaining this dinner annually, the Literary society are making a big financial sacrifice, as it is impossible to manage this function on a strictly business basis, and the least the student body can do is to show they appreciate the efforts of the society by turning out en masse full of College enthusiasm.

The committee can guarantee that they will return full of other things,—also enthusiasm.

This year the big night will be Thursday and the festal board will groan out it's anguish within the callous walls of the Dining Hall, where everything from poulets beaux to creme de glace a la cranberry sherbet will appear—and disappear. The price of tickets is the handy dollar bill and this is strictly the factory price,—"mill to man" effect, so all should respond.

The committee are in communication with the very best speakers available so that the epicurean who prefers the higher to lower pleasures (see Paulkin's Persistent Problems of Philosophy) will also be amply repaid for his attendance at this great College function. If you "like music with your meals" you will be gratified in this respect. In fact there is something to appeal to every type of College man described by "The Onlooker" in our recent issues.

Avant ye shades of fussing, and for once prove yourselves men! Be there—and don't bring her!

The time is approaching when the Christian nations will believe that all wars are all wrong. War does not bring out that which is best. He illustrated scenes of blood and butchery of wars of last 40 years in which Christian nations have participated. He maintained that wars made nations decline—it caused a reversal of the normal progress of nations. The best men of the nations are destroyed by it. Japan teaches us what 200 years of a peaceful struggle for existence has done. She shows no sign of degeneracy on account of that 200 years of peace. War causes nations to waste their strength. Moreover bloodless revolutions have taken place as in the case of Turkey. War may seem to be speedier, but it is no more effective than education and evolution. Both of which are safer and certainly less costly. Uncivilized nations call for our armies to-day—but the forces they ask for are doctors, nurses, teachers, preachers. War is a barrier to the international spirit—it makes men forget there is such a thing as the brotherhood of man, until we turn to the Hague Conferences, the Students' Congresses, and the Missionary Parliaments.

Mr. McNaughton, his colleague, emphasized the necessity of the affirmative proving cause and effect, that war is the necessary, the only necessary means to the advancement of civilization. Luxury which was the fruit of Rome's wars, led to her downfall, for she endeavored to live on the spoils of war. Napoleon's wars were for his own selfish ends, not in the interests of civilization. War meant large expenditures of men and money which could be used to advance peace in other ways. Lord Salisbury said, "War cannot be settled by arbitration" but within six months of the statement being made, the Venezuela controversy was settled by it. Science, religion, education all advance civilization; therefore, war is not a necessary means. War breaks the security of international interdependence in the modern system of credit.

Hon. J. J. Maclaren, in giving judgment said that it was somewhat remarkable that like a certain animal that obtained its early sustenance from two sources, he happened to have studied Arts at Toronto and Law at McGill, both of which were represented to-night. He complimented both sides on their fine display of true debating skill, and was not a little surprised when he summed up the points to find how very closely the two sides approached one another in the marks obtained. One side had a slight advantage in matter, the other in style, but like a good judge he would give a judgment without stating specific reasons, which would then be accepted without question, and say that he had reached the conclusion that the visitors from Montreal had the decision in their favor.

During the evening Mr. G. B. Frost, of Wycliffe College, rendered two delightful pianoforte solos, and the Trinity Quartette two splendid selections.

The chairman for the evening was Mr. R. J. Marshall, B.A.Sc.

TENORS MUCH WANTED

By the University Glee Club—
 Where are They?

Why the all-wise Providence did not give more undergraduates tenor voices is the puzzle with which the executive of the University Glee Club is laboring. This year more than any other, the problem has loomed up so ominously as to threaten the very existence of the club. Those who have listened to the splendid quality of the productions, since its inception a few years ago, would deplore such a calamity.

The question in reality is not where are the tenors but why do they not turn out and join the club, and uphold the honor of the University. There are plenty of men around Varsity who have good tenor voices but who join church choirs, and then have no time to devote to our own club. Foot-ball is not the only method of gaining honor for the college, let us sound its praises in music as well. Any men who can sing tenor are urged to join the glee club at once.

Don't let matters simply take their course—do something—the finest service is at your command at the "Potter" optical house. Call if you will and Mr. Petry will advise with you—will answer your questions freely and help in every possible way.

Let him test your eyes and supply glasses—the test will be conducted with the utmost care and accuracy, and the glasses will be made as well as it is possible to make them anywhere.
