CAR SIDESWIPE Abutment Gives Way When Automobile is Forced Against Railing.

(Canadian Press.)
Fredericton, Aug. 13.—Sir Thomas Tait, of Montreal, had a narrow escape from serious injuries if not death on Sunday afternoon when a big touring car in which he was being driven from his summer home at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea to Minto, where the mines of the Minto Coal Co. of which he is president, are located, crashed through a highway bridge in Sunbury county. Sir Thomas' car was demolished by a passing automobile on a highway bridge in Maugeville, although the marks upon the bridge railing where it scraped show that his chauffeur was as far over on his right side as he could possibly get. Then the abutment at the southern end of the bridge suddenly gave way and a pile of driftwood which had been washed up against the structure was rolled over with the attendant serious results. Sir Thomas Tait and his chauffeur escaped with nothing more serious than a severe shaking up.

CONCERNED OVER 3RD PARTY TALK

U. S. Politicians Figuring on Result—Coolidge May Be Called on to Decide.

Washington, Aug. 12.—(By Associated Press.)—With rumors of a third party movement thickening the political atmosphere, Republican leaders are figuring on what might happen should a presidential free-for-all next year result in a deadlock in the Electoral College.

One surprising deduction is the remote possibility, according to a Henry Wallace, that Vice President Coolidge might eventually be called upon to cast the deciding vote to determine whether he himself should step into the presidency.

Still beyond that lies the chance, however far removed from the realm of probability, that whoever is secretary of state on March 4, 1925, may automatically become president without a single vote being cast for him in any state or in any part of the governmental mechanism.

OUR GUIDES SET NO FOREST FIRES

Game Clubs in New Brunswick Set Record For Forest Protection.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The private fish and game clubs of Quebec and New Brunswick have established this season a record in forest fire prevention that may prove an object lesson to other users of the woods, according to the Canadian Forestry Association. Scarcely a fire in either province is attributable to the professional guides and the thousands of experienced sportsmen who are members of these organizations. The rigid club rules and habitual carefulness of guides and members with all forms of fire while in or near a forest has proved most effective. On the other hand, the fires set by amateur fishermen and campers this year have been numerous and destructive. Camp fires, discarded cigarettes, and cigarettes thrown into piles of leaves and other forms of reckless conduct have destroyed hundreds of square miles of the finest forest areas in Eastern Canada.

In a recent interview Dr. C. D. Hill, president of the Canadian Forestry Association, said: "We Canadians are spending less than a cent an acre on an insurance rate on forest lands whose supplies, at the present day, yield as products to the value of 500 million dollars annually. To get real forest protection the public must be willing to invest more money in it."

to become president. But with the Electoral College deadlocked, it first would be the duty of the Senate to choose a vice-president. And in case of a tie, Vice-President Coolidge would have the deciding vote.

7 Trainmen Are Killed in Collision

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 13.—Seven railroad trainmen were killed in a head-on collision between Colorado and Southern passenger train No. 609 from Pueblo and Santa Fe No. 6, through train from the east, at the west switch in Fowler, Colo., early today. No. 609 was derailed over Santa Fe tracks via La Junta because of workshouts at Walsburg on the Colorado and Southern tracks.

SAYS SALVATION A DIVINE GIFT

London, Aug. 13.—That Sabbath observance in the strict sense of the law of Israel whether on traditional or any seventh day, is no concern of the Christian, was the assertion of Rev. J. Macdon Smith, of Emmanuel Baptist church Toronto, in a sermon at Talbot street Baptist church, last night. He pointed out that Christian salvation is altogether a divine gift which has nothing to do with personal merit or personal efforts to obtain merit. "In Toronto, for instance," he said, "there are many who make a great point of Sabbath observance. I do not consider it any part of my duty as a Christian to observe the Sabbath. When Christ came, the old law was fulfilled and done away with. Christ was the only being, as a human, who could and did observe the whole law. Of course, as a Christian, I observe certain rules of conduct and habit. But that is a matter of personal purity."

BIRTH RATE IN FRANCE DECLINES

Only Immediate and Mighty Effort Can Save Nation Says Neury.

(Canadian Press, Via Reuters.)
Paris, Aug. 12.—The effort being put forth in France to check depopulation is, in the opinion of a leading French economist, successful only in a temporary boom in marriages and births which began after the armistice has already subsided. The decline of the birth rate is now more serious than ever, according to a pamphlet recently published in Paris entitled "Death or Life of France," whose author, Paul Neury, has just been awarded the Michelin Natality prize.

The Neury pamphlet says that while the populations of Germany, Britain, Italy and Spain have been increasing respectively by 21, 16, 13, and 4 1/2 millions in the last half century, the population of France has risen only three millions. It gives statistics regarding the shrinkage of marriages and births in 1920 and 1921 as an indication that the population is diminishing by one third in each generation and adds: "It is the race to suicide of a great people. Only an immediate and mighty effort in transforming our laws and manners can save us."

London, Aug. 13.—The German government has announced, says a Central News despatch from Berlin, that the stoppage of reparations contributions to France and Belgium will be extended to all the Allies, as otherwise the financial reform of Germany is impossible.

Fredericton, Aug. 13.—The field days of the New Brunswick Branch of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculture opened today at the experimental station. They will continue on Tuesday. Secretary Fred H. Greenley, of Ottawa, is attending.

Cleveland, Aug. 13.—Approximately 350 general chairmen of the Eastern, Western, Southeastern and Canadian Associations of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers have been called for a special session at Chicago, Sept. 6, "for the purpose of giving consideration to the question of inaugurating a wage movement."

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Aug. 13.—Great Britain today recaptured the British-America cup, for six metre yachts when Golla Third, owned by F. J. Stephens, took the fourth heat, with Reg. (British) second, and Lee, (American) third. This brought the British point total to 90, as against the Americans 48, thus making it impossible for the invaders to win even if they scored the maximum number of points in the final two heats.

PREPARING FOR IRISH ELECTIONS

Nomination Day This Week But Little Sign of Excitement Yet.

POSSIBLE RESULTS Free State Expect 60 and Farmers 40 Seats Out of 153

(Canadian Press.)
Dublin, Aug. 13.—There is little sign of any popular excitement over the approaching elections in Ireland, although the day for nominating candidates has been fixed for August 18. Four or five sections of organized opinion have been holding conventions, but it is not expected that there will be anything like an exhaustive vote in any of the constituencies. Election Day is August 27. According to present indications, there will be four candidates for every seat, and as each voter has only one first preference vote the result will depend upon the distribution of the second, third and fourth choices. De Valera's plan for one Republican candidate in each constituency, upon which the Republicans are expected to concentrate, has been largely modified. In some cases there are two or three Republican nominees, which suggests that the hopes of the sympathizers in this cause have risen. The Free State supporters have been making capital of the irregular outbreaks, suggesting that the Government measures are possible in the future. The Republicans repudiate these charges, reaffirming their principles and offering a programme of educational and social reform. Result Predictions. It is expected that the organization backing the Free State Government will obtain the largest number of seats, but the most sanguine forecasts do not give this faction a majority. In some cases the Government is expected to win the most favorable prediction made in behalf of the Free State party. Next to the Government are the farmers, with probably 40 seats. However, the existing ministry is expected to be able to hold on to the support of the farmers, the independent and the Larkin element, and the other anxious for stable conditions.

SEEK ASSAILANT

Ottawa Girl Brutally Beaten by Unknown Man and Left For Dead.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Practically the whole countryside at Billings Bridge, Ottawa, was out all Saturday night and most of Sunday morning engaged in a man hunt for the author of one of the most dastardly outrages committed in the history of Carleton county, whereby pretty Hazel Mockett, 16 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mockett, well to do farmers of Billings Bridge, lies at her parents' home, almost at death's door. Attacked by an unknown man, but of whom the police have a fairly accurate description, within a quarter of a mile of her home in broad daylight, the girl was terribly battered about the face and throat by her assailant who after dragging her into a shed, again beat her and then apparently left her for dead.

Miss Mockett's plight was not discovered until some time later, when she failed to return home, or support, her elder sister was sent in search of her, found her with her features almost unrecognizable and hardly able to stagger along the road home.

The coast steamer Argyle was sent to scour the coast line and the waters far off shore but without results.

They were accepted by the president, and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of the German People's Party, was commissioned to form a new Government. There was much rioting in Germany over the week-end and several deaths were reported. In one place effigies of Cuno and Hugo Stinnes were hung from gallows erected by the excited populace.

Barber Fined $25 for Extracting Dime Tip Against Customer's Will

New York, Aug. 13.—A tip is either a tip or extortion. If 20 cents is the fixed price of a shave that is all that a barber may charge a customer who asks for nothing but a shave. Law does not support the barber shop assumption that upon entering the chair a customer surrenders all liberty of will. This revolutionary doctrine is implied in a ruling by Magistrate Oberlager in Tombs court wherein Anthony Santore, owner of a barber shop was fined $25 on conviction of disorderly conduct, which charge might have been changed, the court suggested, to one of petit larceny. Santore had been arrested on complaint of A. W. Morf. Morf bought a shave, nothing more, but when he handed over 50 cents Santore returned only 20 cents change. When Morf remonstrated Santore said that when customers failed to tip it was necessary to extract a dime, because barbers would not work without tips.

CLAIM NOTE DISAVOWAL OF ALLIES

Think Premier Will Reply, Though Document Might Be Ignored. LONDON IMPRESSED

Government Action Approved But Fears of Grave Crisis Entertained. (Canadian Press.)
Paris, Aug. 13.—The British note is regarded in French official circles as a positive disavowal of Great Britain's war aim to answer for their efforts. It is thought Premier Poincare will reply in due time, although the Quai d'Orsay it is held the document smacks so much of propaganda it might properly be ignored. This amazing document proposes to haul France and Belgium before a tribunal to answer for their efforts to make Germany carry out her treaty obligations, said an official of the foreign office today. France and Belgium are not ready to answer such a summons, even from Great Britain. The same official, whose statements were made in a strict sense of the tense feeling aroused in the higher French circles said the note obviously was intended to influence American opinion. He was curious to know, however, how the Americans would receive a document which made all settlements of the reparations question depend upon the payments of the debts to the United States, which would amount to throwing the responsibility for the European chaos on the U.S. Franco To Issue Book. Paris, Aug. 13.—The French foreign office will issue tonight or tomorrow a yellow book on reparations, containing all the documents relating to that question that have been exchanged up to the latest British note which arrived too late to be considered. The London View. London, Aug. 13.—The British note to France and Belgium, in which the Baldwin Government says it regards the Ruhr occupation as illegal under the Versailles treaty, but is willing to submit the point to arbitration, has made a very deep impression here. Few are surprised that the note is a plain spoken phraseology of the note caused astonishment, although that astonishment was mingled with satisfaction that the Government used language which he commentators expect.

SHERIFF, 80, THINKS IT'S FOOLISH TO LOCK HIS PRISONERS IN JAIL

Cumberland Court House, Vancouver, B. C., July 12.—The staggering of spectacular murder trials growing out of a long-smouldering feud, has a sheriff 80 years old who offers himself and his longevity as evidence that feuds are not ordinarily a menace to human life.

King Adams has been sheriff for the past 22 years, and his constituents maintain that he can have the job again in this fall.

"People make too much fuss about murders," says Adams, who has been in the spotlight since the trials of the Garrett brothers began, as the result of the killing of Rev. E. S. Pierce, circuit-riding.

The sheriff has his own methods of handling law violators, a method that does not work undue hardship on the county in the matter of jail upkeep.

The county jail has had but one prisoner during the past six years. At present its door swings wide open to all who are to enter. Prisoners are mostly released on their own recognizance or a nominal bail.

"Why should we put 'em in jail?" says Sheriff Adams, "I know everybody in the county, and nobody's in a hurry to leave. I just tell 'em to be in court on such a day, and that's all there's to it. If they don't come in, the judge is apt to be pretty hard on 'em."

"But I reckon I'll quit the job this fall. I've worked hard at it for 32 years, and it's about time I begin to enjoy life before I get old."

"How do I keep so active? Well, just remember that of Virginia grows plenty of tobacco and corn."

Adams, who is a veteran of the Civil War, is the patriarch of the county and has scores of relatives hereabouts. He is talking of swearing in his grandniece, Lucy Adams, as a deputy sheriff.

THE CLAN FEELING.
(Nottingham, Eng. Guardian)
All manner of terrible things can happen in London during a heat wave. The other night a very well-known London dramatic critic, who, like so many Fleet-street celebrities, comes from the country of the late Robbie Burns and Sir James Barrie, could not get a taxi back to his office after an important premiere. So he climbed on top of a crowded motor bus, regardless of his silk-lined evening suit, and found himself sitting next an obvious compatriot. The compatriot was in Highland costume, as worn by London's street minstrels from the romantic North, and carried his well-worn bagpipes with him. Touched by some scraps of Scottish camaraderie, the dramatic critic made a remark about the heat to the itinerant one with the Cameron kilt and the bag o' whistles. The musician responded instantly and full-heartedly. Borrowing a match to light his dejected cigarette end, he said intimately, in a rich Dundee accent, "You chaps do verra weel, I'm thinking." The startled dramatic critic asked him what he meant. "Auch aye! You do verra weel," reiterated the minstrel looking at his compatriot's evening dress suit, "wi' your wages and your big tips and a' that." And the disgruntled Scots patriot felt it was beneath his professional dignity, as a leading dramatic critic on a famous journal, to explain even to a street piper from Dundee, masquerading in an old Cameron kilt, that he was not a wailer at the Trocadero! But these little trials are very hard to bear when the thermometer stands at well over 80.

Yards of Red Tape Added to Woes of Cupid in Europe

Weeks of Hunting for Documents Before American Can Be Married.

Moscow, July 16.—(By Mail).—When the American Congress passed the law annulling the previous rule that a foreign woman automatically became an American citizen by marrying an American, it put Hercules in difficulties in the path of Dan Cupid in the document-cursed countries of Eastern Europe most frequented by a certain fine type of young American men at an age when they are very susceptible to pretty foreign girls and counterfeits.

The American Relief Administration, the Near East Relief, the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations which since the war have conducted relief operations in Poland, Austria, Greece, Russia, the Balkans and the Baltic states, sent hundreds of young Americans, mostly former army officers, in a hurry to get married to the charming girls.

Before the law became effective last week, marriages of Americans to these girls was relatively easy, although even then it involved digging into records for documents, more documents and still more documents. Once this was accomplished, however, all the young American had to do was to go to the nearest American consulate, have his wife's photograph pasted on his passport, and, if he was already married, could take her home an automatic American citizen and show her proudly to his folks.

But today things are different. A few weeks ago one young member of the Russian East Relief Mission in Armenia got a brief vacation and came through Moscow on his way to Warsaw to marry there a lovely girl who had waited for him two years. They had met when he was with the American Red Cross in the way of the Polish battlefields against the Russians.

"I'll be back in ten days, save a room for us at the hotel," the American said blithely and confidently as he left Moscow.

Fifty-two days later he returned, with his bride, having miraculously untangled miles of red tape and overcome the assistance of every official, Polish and American alike in Warsaw and Moscow, obstacles that left both bride and bridegroom too tired to enjoy a honeymoon.

In Poland a woman automatically takes on the citizenship of her husband and, therefore, should lose her Polish passport. American rules, due to the new law, prevent consuls from pasting foreign wives' pictures on husbands' passports. One cannot enter Russia without a passport, and it is particularly difficult for a Polish subject to secure a visa to enter Russia at all. American law required this couple to have two passports, his American, her Polish. Polish law and the Russian law, prevent consuls from pasting foreign wives' pictures on husbands' passports. EUROPE'S ANXIOUS HOUR.
The fall of the Cuno ministry, accompanied by some domestic disorder in Germany, comes just as the British government publishes to the world its second correspondence with the Allies and reiterates its assertion that the occupation of the Ruhr is not only unwise but illegal. These developments, while they would ordinarily indicate a further darkening of the situation, have both been discounted to some extent, and they may actually have a beneficial effect within the next few weeks. The new German ministry, facing a desperate situation at home, may be ready to make concessions to the Allies which Cuno felt unable to do, and there have been indications that France, influenced by Belgium, has of late been more willing to compromise than the official statements of Poincaré have made it appear.

The British statement, which is in courteous and reasonable language while it contemplates the whole French position, still leaves the door open for a settlement. Lord Curzon points out that if France sticks absolutely to its published attitude the result might well be the occupation of the Ruhr for thirty-six years at least and perhaps indefinitely, a situation which Europe could not contemplate without inviting ruin. Great Britain, he reiterates, is ready to waive its debt claims in great measure, being content with a sum from its Allies, and including German reparations, merely sufficient to pay what it owes the United States. Here is a willingness on Britain's part to write off so extensive a part of the money due her by the Allies that they and the world at large must be convinced of her willingness to make great sacrifices in order to avert either general ruin or a prolonged period of suffering and peril the end of which none can foresee.

The British government, Lord Curzon says, "are reluctant to contemplate the possibility that separate action may be required in order to hasten a settlement which cannot much longer be delayed without grave consequences to a recovery of trade and the peace of the world." Here, it is to be noted, is no threat of any definition of the character of such action.
The British have placed their case before the world. Perhaps the language would have been stronger had there been less opposition at home. Much depends upon the attitude of the new German ministry, which can scarcely ignore the fact that even for selfish reasons the need for a settlement is desperate.

FOR A GREATER CANADA.
In extending the scope of its activities the Great War Veterans Association now proposes to carry out plans to make the people in each province in Canada better acquainted with those in the other provinces, with their needs, their problems, and their reasons for any stand taken in national or provincial matters. The object is to promote a deeper sense of patriotism and unity, due to a better knowledge of the resources and advantages of the Dominion.

This will be done, according to the Dominion secretary of the G. W. V. A., by extending the information service of the association to its local branches, and supplying speakers to give addresses on national topics, to return addresses only but seeking to interest the whole community. There are more than 850 local branches of the association, and the secretary finds through reports from many of these that often people in one part of the Dominion misunderstand the motives behind some action taken by people in another part, largely through lack of accurate information of the conditions leading to such action.

With a comprehensive organization covering the entire country, the statement proceeds, "we as ex-soldiers feel that we have a duty to perform in creating a better understanding between the various parts of Canada," thus promoting a greater Canadianism and a more intense loyalty to British institutions. It is proposed to gather at Ottawa information concerning subjects of national interest, such as national resources, governmental institutions, railways, and Imperial relations, for the use of capable speakers to address public meetings under the auspices of local branches of the G. W. V. A. One of the features will be short addresses on the various provinces, "so that people in British Columbia will have an intimate word picture of Nova Scotia," and so on throughout the nine provinces.

This is an ambitious and commendable proposal, and the work embraced in it is more necessary than the average citizen would think at first glance. Misunderstanding and antagonism are too often the result of lack of acquaintance. The Canadian family covers a territory so vast and has interests so varied that close acquaintance among its members is difficult. They have as controlling factors in their lives the fact that they are loyal Canadians, de-

THE MOWER SANG.
(Maurice Morris in New York Herald)
The mower paused to whet his scythe, And whetting it he sang Till to the merry tune and blithe The stretching hay fields rang.

The sweat ran down his sunburnt face, But deep his breath and slow, A wind made ripples in the place Where scythes had to be mown.

The whetstone rasped along the scuff, Which hummed beneath the stroke, The knife that had laid low the swath In ringing triumph spoke.

What words were coupled to the tune He sang amid the hay?
It may have been a wondrous tune The mower sang that day.
But fully did I understand, As though each note the mow spanned,
The song that then I heard,
As though each note the mow spanned,
As though each note the mow spanned,
As though each note the mow spanned.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.
Are We Going to Have Rain?
Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador at Washington, said at a recent dinner:
"Young men in America believe in rain. In America it is different. One day a clerk remarked to his employer, 'I think we are going to have rain, sir.' 'We? I don't know who you are going to have rain! How long have you been a member of the firm?' 'I'm sorry, sir,' said the clerk, 'but I'm not a member of the firm.'"
Once Is Enough.
When Maurice Francis Egan was United States Minister to Copenhagen he made a practice of going through the Province of Denmark once a year, and lecturing on American literature. One night when the present King and Queen of Denmark were dining at the United States Legation the King, who was at that time Crown Prince, said to Mr. Egan:
"I receive agreeable reports of your lectures in the Provinces. Do you use a different lecture every time?"
"I always use the same one, your Majesty," the Minister answered.
"But what do you do if people come a second time?"
"They never come a second time," was the answer.—Kansas City Star.

He was a cab-driver of the old sort, called as a witness in an action for damages. He was asked to state, ignoring the jury, he persisted in relating his version to the judge. Ultimately, the latter stopped him, and obtained a ruling from the court.
"Address yourself to the jury."
"So turning awkwardly to the new in which twelve tradesmen sat scowling, he smiled, nodded reassuringly and remarked:
"Morn', gents; all well at 'ome, 'ope?"

HONOR TO U. E. LOYALISTS.
(Toronto Star)

Not to be outdone in broadmindedness by the British, whose troops recently joined in a fourth of July celebration, the American union has signified their intention of participating in the 140th anniversary, next month, of the foundation of the United Empire Loyalists in Canada.

The U. E. L. celebration to be held in Belleville in 1924 promises to be something out of the ordinary. It will be Canada's tribute to the memory of the brave men and women who left comfortable homes to the south in order that they might continue to live under the British flag.
The migration northward of the Loyalists meant the re-creation of a new life. It gave new character to this country. It planted in the area now known as Ontario the finest of every-day Saxon stock, industrious, thrifty, courageous and law-abiding, with enough sentiment to lift them above the ordinary run of mortals.
The pioneers who cleared the forests for agriculture, undaunted by wild beasts and savage Indian, who made our first roads, who established our school system, who taught their children to worship God and respect the rights of their fellows, who solved baffling political problems, and who laid at great cost the basis of the foundations of Ontario today are worthy of more than passing attention. Their memory should be kept green in the hearts of all.

With the passing of the year people on both sides of the border are beginning to realize the result of the American colonies. We can appreciate that the main stake in the quarrel that raged between the colonies and the mother country was not a matter of territory, but a matter of principle. It was a matter of principle that the people of the colonies declared their independence of Britain stood for political ideals to which they were prepared to die. It was a matter of principle that the people of the colonies were not to be ruled by a distant power, but to be ruled by themselves.

BLOW YOUR OWN HORN.
(Amherst News)

It is unreasonable to expect the people of Vermont, of Campbellton, of Sydney, of St. John or of any other place to laud our central location, our splendid climate, our residential attractions, or anything else that we take a pride in. No sir! Others are not doing it! If Amherst is to be favored of Amherst effort. Let some unfavorable report be sent to the town and it will be heralded from coast to coast in a few seconds, but that which will prove attractive to industry and residents must be proclaimed by Amherstons. You cannot get away from the fact. Such being the case what is the duty of every citizen? How many of us are meeting this demand of citizenship? Don't be afraid to blow the Amherst horn!

A Sunday Afternoon Beside Bay Shore

The long stretch of the Bay Shore lay warm under the August sky. The afternoon sun shone fitfully through a curtain of moving clouds. The receding tide, its surface gently troubled, broke in a regular succession of low swells, now softly and now with a louder note, in an irregular line of tossing foam that melted away before the succeeding wave came rolling in. Seaward the falling waves and Shag Rocks lifted themselves higher as the tide left them. To the right lay the long curve of MacLaren's Beach; and this green of the thickly wooded hill beyond reached down to a point which hissed and bubbled as the waves of the bay rolled over it. A portion of the mainland. To the left Partridge Island showed the white of its roof, and the hills behind Red Head revealed the reddish brown of its soil of red sand.

It was in June, 1891, that two prospectors, Theodore Remington and Julius Hasz, were searching for silver in the famous Last Chance claim. A Rio Grande stream, which they had named the "Last Chance," was the focus of their search. The stream was a mile long and was a mile wide. It was a mile long and was a mile wide. It was a mile long and was a mile wide.

After the great boom the district settled down to a more regular routine. The Rio Grande stream, which they had named the "Last Chance," was the focus of their search. The stream was a mile long and was a mile wide. It was a mile long and was a mile wide. It was a mile long and was a mile wide.

A MILLIONAIRE CHURCH.
(Los Angeles Times)

There are several churches in the country that are not worrying about the paying of the pastor. The richest one is the Trinity organization in New York, which has a budget of $1,000,000. The annual statement of the church, which has just been given out, shows that the income for 1922 was a trifling matter of $1,450,000. Of this $230 was paid rent, so that it may be seen that the church does not rely on its own for its revenue.

THE ARTIFICIAL COMPLEXION.
(Washington Post)

So it will be with the present craze for artificial complexions. Preachers, editors, and men of letters, it will be said, but despite them all, it will run its course. There is no doubt that the artificial complexion is a vulgar and unwelcome thing. It is a vulgar and unwelcome thing. It is a vulgar and unwelcome thing.

One in Angleterre has a population of two hundred, while Te is the name of an island near the coast of Scotland. There are two Be's in Scotland, and one in a lough in Donegal. One of the names of London is "The Golden Key" indefinitely.—Montreal Gazette.

MINING BOOM RECALLED.
Creede Had Great Silver Rush in 1891—$40,000,000 Produced.

A report on the geology and ore deposits of the Creede district in Colorado prepared by W. H. Emmons and E. S. Larsen and issued by the United States Geological Survey reveals the history of the mining booms experienced by the town of Creede and pictures the present situation there. The first mining claims in the Creede district, the report states, were located in 1883, but the great boom which rivaled anything in the early history of other mining districts, did not begin until late in 1891, when perhaps 10,000 persons rubbed to the camp, a railroad was extended to it, and the small amount of flat land available in the deep canyon was built up almost solidly. Early in the following year a disastrous fire swept through and destroyed the greater part of the town. The boom subsided almost as rapidly as it had grown.

It was in June, 1891, that two prospectors, Theodore Remington and Julius Hasz, were searching for silver in the famous Last Chance claim. A Rio Grande stream, which they had named the "Last Chance," was the focus of their search. The stream was a mile long and was a mile wide. It was a mile long and was a mile wide.

DON'T MISPLACE THEM.
(Ottawa Citizen)

According to an authority on Beauty, "the ears should not be placed higher than the eyebrows, nor lower than the nose."

PUBLICITY IN DETECTING CRIME.
(Victoria Colonist)

The essence of detection of a criminal responsible for a murder often lies in the rapidity with which the evidence surrounding the crime can be pieced together and the consequent delay in discovering the perpetrator may often be traced to the expenditure of time in following specific clues to the exclusion of others which in the hands of criminal experts should be of at least equal importance. Where murder is committed there is invariably a motive unless the perpetrator is a lunatic. Where he is a lunatic, the obvious likelihood that before long he will again uncover his insane proclivities and thus draw attention to himself as the author of a crime. When a murderer escapes and for a time covers up his tracks in a matter of fact way, it is a fair assurance that the crime was not the work of insanity.

Regarding a murder mystery such as remains unsolved in this community at this time, there are certain obvious facts that have relevance in the search for the criminal. The murderer, from all appearances, was a cold-blooded person, and it ought to be possible to trace these and ascertain their movements during the period within which the crime was perpetrated. It is likely, according to all the law of circumstantial evidence, that the murderer was of one who knew the woman and her habits. That knowledge narrows the circle within which it is necessary to look for the criminal. It is more than likely that the dead woman's acquaintances knew another. Her life was not one of mystery. She entertained visitors, and it ought to be possible in a small community like this to ascertain the names and the present whereabouts of her acquaintances.

A week has elapsed since the Princeton avenue murder. It is quite natural that the police should wish to withhold from the public the clues upon which they are working, but there are occasions where publicity can accomplish much in the detection of crime and secrecy can carry to a point which tends to defeat the ends of justice. The police sometimes, through misdirected confidence and apprehension that the press exists to hamper instead of helping their operations, refuse to make public the case of a murder, means first-class news, and that is what newspapers are always increasing sources of wealth, declares the report, and thus partly offset the decline in mining.

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, AUGUST 13, 1923

WRECKED EIGHT MONTHS AGO; STILL HOLDS HER LIQUOR CARGO

Tale of the Madeline, on the Coast Near New York.

A whisper goes around the village "The Madeline is breaking up," and out from all the crooked streets and lanes sneak swiftly moving cars toward the beach, where the schooner lies. Out on the highway, says a story in the New York Herald, the race begins with rusty fliers straining every creaking part to keep up with the faster cars for the loot will be small with many to share. The road degenerates into a cinder path and winds across a waste of sand with towering dunes on either side. Above the whirl of the engines can be heard the roar of breakers bringing joy to the hearts of the drivers. The Madeline cannot much longer stand the pounding of the waves. A few more miles and above the sand dunes on Suffolk shore protrude two sloping masts around which whip shreds of rope and rigging. There is a hard race across the intervening sand

BLACK GOLD BRINGS RICHES TO POOR ORPHAN GIRL

Ponca City, Okla.—Sixteen-year-old Dorothy Carmichael has suddenly become so rich she's still dizzy from the change. Money—dollars—millions—hoops of good things—nothing to do but gather 'em in—and little Dorothy alone to enjoy them!

Alone, without a mother—she had left home when Dorothy was a baby in the Philippines. Without a father—she died in a Manila hospital when she was 3. With only her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Pettit, to care for her and direct her, Dorothy came into her strange wonderland of wealth.

Were it not for Michael Koeghan, a buddy of her father's in the Philippines, Dorothy might still be there, a poverty-stricken orphan. But Koeghan brought the girl to the United States, sought her father's relatives and finally settled her on the little family homestead at Tonkawa, near here. That homestead now is valued at $200,000. Oil, that's the reason. Half of it is Dorothy's. The other half has been willed to Mrs. Pettit, her aunt and governess living there when the land was still considered good only for mediocre farming.

Now Dorothy is living with her aunt in a pretty little cottage in town, leaving her oil to the rest of the school girl does, and enjoying life as though she always had been used to the luxuries of millionaires.

Her royalties—estimated at something like $1000 a day—still reel her head when she thinks of the enormous income.

But she tries to forget her riches, burning her mind to work and play and the good things her poor parents could not provide for her.

and down the steep sides of the sand dunes scramble the treasure seekers. There lies the Madeline, not twelve feet off shore, with her nose buried deep in the sand her gun's awash in the first line of breakers. The beach is covered with wreckage and empty cases bearing such magic names as Old Orkney, Dewars, White Horse and Nicholson's Gin.

With parched lips they gaze at the wreck and their eyes search the foaming breakers. A cry goes up, for there, dragging along the sand in a few feet of water is a heavy looking case. Men dash into the surf and wrestle for the prize. It is secured by two husky youths who hustle it off to their waiting flivver.

The Madeline was a rum ship with stowing space for 5,000 cases. Many a cargo of good old Scotch and gin did she bring up from the West Indies, lining her owner's pockets with gold. At the end of a successful trip last December she rode at anchor in safety twelve miles off the lonely Long Island coast not many miles from Montauk. Here she had been captured save for 500 cases of prize Scotch.

There had been bad blood between the skipper and the mate of the Madeline and there was a fight. The owners took the part of the mate and promoted him to the captain's place. "He'll bring her up on the bar," was the skipper's parting shot as he went over the side.

That night the mate opened a case of Scotch and invited the crew to celebrate his victory over the former captain. Then there was a grand and glorious spree. The ship dragged its anchor and drifted in towards the bar. Then a vicious winter storm broke and the mate awoke to his danger. Before the drunken crew could pull a rope the Madeline was a ruin and she had been wrecked on the bar and piled on the beach. News was carried to the surrounding villages and a rush of treasure seekers and the hardy natives drove out in the teeth of the gale to salvage the cargo. Many a case came ashore. The mate and the hardy natives who strode along the beach. The stuff was disposed of to a local tavern. Two landlords in those parts recommend their liquor with the whispered asserion, "Come ashore from the Madeline last night."

That was eight months ago and still the hardy hulk holds together with its hundreds of cases of liquor. As many as fifty cars can be seen parked by the roadside during a storm as the patient natives wait for the sturdy limbers to give way. Fourteen cases came ashore one calm night recently and were captured by two lonely men who strode along the beach. The stuff was disposed of to a local tavern. Two landlords in those parts recommend their liquor with the whispered asserion, "Come ashore from the Madeline last night."

WORK FOR SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES

Cathedral Preacher Speaks on Education at Sunday Masses.

Based his talk on the fact that the principles which form the ground work for the ideal to which a nation may aspire, must be instilled into the minds of the youth of that nation, Rev. D. Kane, vice president of St. Thomas' College, Chatham, spoke at all the masses in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday.

"As its education is, so is the nation," was one of the principles he expounded, giving as an example, Germany, where militarism was stamped on the youth from the first dawning of reason. Christian education, based on sound principles of ethics and morals, he said, was the solution of the world's difficulties and it was therefore to the schools and universities that one must look, for the fostering of right ideals.

The members of the choir of St. John's (Stone) church enjoyed a pleasant picnic party at the summer residence of Mrs. Charles Francis at Ingleside on Saturday, when boating, bridge and a sing-song passed the time de-

RECENT DEATHS

Miss Hattie S. Dickson. After an illness of several months, the death of Miss Hattie S. Dickson occurred on Saturday at her home in Hammond River. Miss Dickson was a daughter of the late James and Frances Dickson and had been a life long resident of Hammond River, where she was an active worker in the Presbyterian church. Many friends will greatly regret her death. She is survived by one brother, Hedley V. Dickson, M.P.P. The funeral took place on Sunday and interment was made in the Presbyterian burying grounds. The service was conducted by Rev. G. A. Ross.

Marshall Macaulay passed away at his residence, 97 Prince street, on Saturday, Aug. 11, after a lengthy illness. Very many friends will bear of his death with regret. He was in the service of the post office department in St. John for twenty-six years but had been retired for the last eight years. He was seventy-two years of age, a son of the late William and Margaret Macaulay and a brother of the late Alexander and the late B. K. Macaulay.

F. Howard Grimmer. The sudden death of F. Howard Grimmer at his home in St. Andrews on Sunday afternoon came as a great shock to many friends throughout the province and will be a source of widespread regret. Mr. Grimmer had held the office of secretary-treasurer of the Charlotte County Council for forty-three years and the sound financial standing of the county today is due to his wise judgment and guidance. He had been ill only ten days, suffering from acute heart trouble and towards the end of last week it was believed that he was well on the way to recovery and convalescing satisfactorily. The end came with tragic suddenness. Mr. Grimmer was a son of the late George Skington Grimmer, of St. Andrews. He was a graduate of the U. N. B. and practised his profession as barrister in St. Andrews. He married Miss K. Gove, of St. Andrews, and his wife and one daughter, Miss Bessie, survive. He also leaves three brothers, J. D. Grimmer, of Chamcook; Judge W. C. H. Grimmer, of St. John, and Dr. George K. Grimmer, of Edinburgh, Scotland. Mr. Grimmer was a man of outstanding ability and sterling character and was held in highest esteem by those who knew him. He made many friends. He was a member of the congregation of All Saints Anglican church in St. Andrews and took an active interest in church affairs. Judge Grimmer was called to St. Andrews by his brother's illness and was with him at the time of his death.

Rev. Atwood Cohoon. The death of Rev. Atwood Cohoon, M. A., D.D., on Saturday at Wolfville, will be heard of with regret by a very large circle of friends. For 28 years he was treasurer and financial manager of Acadia University. He is sur-

CANADIAN PACIFIC HARVESTERS' EXCURSIONS

The Canadian Pacific Railway will run a second "harvesters' excursion" from New Brunswick on Friday, August 17. On the first excursion, August 8, the company handled approximately 2,000 excursionists on three special trains from St. John, all of which trains arrived in Winnipeg afternoon and evening of 8th. The men were quickly picked up and are now at work in the harvest fields. It is expected, on account of the late hay season in New Brunswick, that many harvesters will go west on the second excursion—they are urgently required. The Canadian Pacific will get them to the western destinations in good shape.

High class equipment and lunch counter cars will be provided. The rate from stations in New Brunswick to Winnipeg is twenty dollars. For any further information consult any agent of the Canadian Pacific. 6-16.

SAVANT SAYS SCIENCE BARED INNER SECRETS FOR PHAROAH'S

Great Pyramid of Cheops is Cited as Notable Example.

(New York Tribune.) Paris.—The Abbe Moreux, director of the Observatoire de Bourges, recently published a book entitled "The Mysterious Science of the Pharaohs." He has just summarised some of his chief ideas in an article in "Le Petit Journal." This article is full of astonishment for the pyramid.

"When the savants of the Bonaparte expedition decided to make a triangulation of Egypt, they chose the summit of Cheops as the starting point for their measures and longitude. What was their surprise when they perceived that the diagonals of the great pyramid, if prolonged, included exactly the Delta of the Nile, and that the meridian running across its summit divided the Delta into two equal parts. A coincidence, you will think, but wait.

"We know that the ancient monuments of Chaldaea and Egypt were all oriented. But this orientation was never very exact, owing to manifest difficulties. Tycho Brahe, in 1577, succeeded in orienting his observatory only approximately, being in error about 18 minutes. It is a strange thing that the orientation of Cheops is the best of all. It is exact within five minutes of an arc.

"Another detail. If we carry a meridian through the great pyramid we observe with stupefaction that of all the great circles connecting the poles this one traverses more land and more water than any other, and, what is more extraordinary, this one divides the habitable continents into two rigorously equal portions. The latitude on which the pyramid is constructed is so less remarkable. If we carry a circle parallel with the equator across the top of the pyramid we shall see that this circle crosses more of the earth's land area than any other circle.

"The perimeter of the pyramid at its base, divided by its height, gives 8.1416—the relation of circumference to diameter. The builders of that time used as measures only the pyramidal cubit or the pyramidal inch. The number of days in the year, 365.25— which neither the Greeks nor the Romans could calculate—is deducible from the dimensions of one of the inner chambers.

"If we multiply the volume of the pyramid by the mean density of the stones which compose it, some of which weigh 470,000 kilograms, we find for the first three figures 5.32, the density of the earth, according to the latest determinations.

"The granite trough in the interior of the pyramid is 100 feet long, 10 feet wide, and 10 feet deep. It is filled with water, and its level is exactly the same as the level of the Nile at the time of the inundation.

"The pyramid is oriented towards the star Sirius. The distance from the pyramid to Sirius is 86,000,000 miles. The distance from the pyramid to the earth's pole is 1,000 miles. The distance from the pyramid to the sun is 93,000,000 miles. The distance from the pyramid to the nearest star is 42 light years.

"The pyramid is a perfect cube. The length of each side is 756 feet. The height is 481 feet. The volume is 4,350,000,000 cubic feet. The weight is 5,000,000,000 tons.

"The pyramid is a perfect sphere. The diameter is 1,512 feet. The surface area is 7,068,583 square feet. The volume is 1,471,519,000 cubic feet. The weight is 1,700,000,000 tons.

"The pyramid is a perfect cylinder. The diameter is 1,512 feet. The height is 481 feet. The volume is 1,471,519,000 cubic feet. The weight is 1,700,000,000 tons.

"The pyramid is a perfect cone. The diameter is 1,512 feet. The height is 481 feet. The volume is 1,471,519,000 cubic feet. The weight is 1,700,000,000 tons.

Dutchman Slain Annoying Woman Felled by Blow From Her Husband and Breaks Skull on Pavement.

New York, Aug. 13.—Jarrinn Baggelar, aged 34, a native of Holland, died in Fordham Hospital a few hours after a fatal encounter with Arthur Weyrauch, aged 32. When Mrs. Weyrauch, her sister and a friend were on their way home from a picture show Baggelar, according to Weyrauch's story, came out of Echo Park and accosted them a few doors from the Weyrauch home. Mr. Weyrauch was on his way to meet his wife, and when he heard her scream and saw what had taken place he remonstrated with Baggelar.

A fight followed and Weyrauch, it is alleged, struck the other on the chin, knocking him to the pavement. In falling Baggelar's head struck the curb and his skull was fractured. Weyrauch told the police that Baggelar called his apartment about six weeks ago and asked to see Mrs. Weyrauch when their twelve year old daughter answered the bell. He went to the door himself, Weyrauch said, and Baggelar, feigning confusion, said he was trying to find the apartment of a bartender named Gus.

WILD RUN OVER C. P. R. TRESTLE

To negotiate the C. P. R. trestle at a gallop and then run off the ties to Acadia street with no bad results either to itself, its driver or the express wagon to which it was attached, was the performance of a horse owned by Gordon Selig of Mill street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Selig stuck to the team, when the horse became frightened and bolted. He received a cut on the back of his head when thrown into the body of the express. The frightened animal stopped at Acadia street.

A successful and much enjoyed comedy and entertainment was given by the Y. P. A. of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Fairville at Coronation Hall in Lorneville on Friday under the auspices of the Presbyterian church at Lorneville of which Rev. W. J. Bevis is the minister. The eight-piece orchestra of the Fairville church gave musical selections. Miss May Betts gave a vocal solo and a violin selection and a vocal quartette was given by Miss May Betts, Charles Betts, Robert Lannigan and Miss Stears. Athletic antics were given by Preston Jennings. Those taking part in the comedy were W. J. Somerville, Leonard Betts, Arthur Byers, J. Stears, Robert Lannigan, Preston Jennings, Hudson Cheeseman, Roy Dennison, Miss Evelyn Stears, Miss Olga McGuire, Miss Dorothy Armstrong and Miss Annie Cheeseman. At the close of the performance Mr. Bevis thanked those who had taken part and the Y. P. A. members. The president, William Somerville, made a suitable reply. The ladies of the Lorneville church served refreshments to the performers. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Presbyterian church.

QUICK DIVE SAVES OFFICER FROM MACHINE GUN SHOTS New York, Aug. 13.—Col. William M. Wright, acting chief of staff and post executive officer at the National Guard camp at Peekskill, was unpleasantly reminded recently of his service overseas. He was inspecting a tract of land at Anthony's Nose Mountain which has just been purchased as an addition to the State camp, when he found himself back of the machine gun targets, concealed by brush from the view of the gunners, who suddenly opened fire. Bullets passed him on every side, and some almost grazed his clothing before he could dive into the nearest declivity.

Snake, alcohol, sealing wax and fire offset lucky find New York, Aug. 13.—It would bring him luck to preserve the skin of a black diamond rattlesnake found in his jewelry shop, Max Low was told, and as he thought he needed all the luck available he got a jar of alcohol yesterday and immersed the skin. He then took sealing wax and put a match to it to make the jar airtight. The flame touched off the alcohol and Low's right hand was burned, the snake skin was cooked and $1,000 damage done to the store.

"That skin brought me luck, all right," he said, "but it's all the luck I wish on my enemies. No more snakes for mine."

BRITAIN REGARDS OCCUPATION OF RUHR ILLEGAL

Curzon Issues a Statement Outlining Attitude of Great Britain.

PERILOUS SITUATION

Hopes That Explanation will Convince French and Belgians.

London, Aug. 12.—The British Government, in the publication today of its official correspondence with the Allies since June, placed on record its position with regard to the German reparations problem.

problem, sets forth that the British Government regards the occupation of the Ruhr as illegal and unauthorized by the Versailles treaty, thus supporting the German contention in this respect. At the same time, however, he offers to submit the point to arbitration at The Hague or by some other body.

While still adhering to a tone of the utmost courtesy and saying nothing definite with regard to any separate action on the part of Great Britain, Lord Curzon emphasizes that Great Britain cannot agree with the French policy, which he intimates plainly seems to point to an indefinite occupation of the Ruhr.

His Majesty's Government never contemplated and does not contemplate that Germany should be relieved of all reparations payments. They are determined that Germany shall pay to the maximum of her capacity. What that maximum may be should be decided by an impartial inquiry. It cannot be ascertained by casting up amounts Germany's creditors would like to receive.

To ask more than Germany's capacity can only destroy assets which Germany would be able to offer the Allies. To force liquidation is not the most profitable way of making recovery from a debtor with resources. It is admitted that Germany can only make substantial payments if, by restoration of her finances and stabilization of her currency, she secures a budget available for reparations.

Moreover, this surplus must be in a form which can be made available for external payments over the foreign exchanges. External debts cannot be paid by the collection of depreciated paper marks.

Think Interference Unwise. "In the view of His Majesty's Government, forcible interference with the economic life of Germany, even if consistent with the Treaty of Versailles, cannot assist in the necessary restoration. Not only will it prevent realization of any surplus for reparations, but, by intensifying the disorder of German finance and currency, will have the gravest reactions on trade.

His Majesty's Government, therefore, regard as doomed to failure the method pursued by the French and Belgian Governments to secure reparations. Despite the wholesale seizures, the occupation of the Ruhr has produced at great cost, less receipts for the Allies, notably of coal and coke, than were forthcoming the previous year. Moreover, His Majesty's Government feel that the resulting situation involves a great and growing danger to the peaceful trade of the world, and not the least to that of Great Britain.

Thinks Situation Frightful with Risk. "The Government regards the continuance of the present position as fraught with gravest risk, both economic and political. They consider an impartial fixation of Germany's liabilities at a figure not inconsistent with her practical power of making payment as a matter of great urgency, and they have suggested what appears to them appropriate means to this end.

When steps have thus to be taken to ascertain the real value of the asset represented by Germany's reparations, His Majesty's Government will be ready to deal as generously as circumstances permit, and in the light of their respective capacities to pay, with the debts due to Great Britain by her Allies.

They cannot, having regard to Great Britain's heavy material losses during and since the war and to future tax burdens on its trade, admit that other countries are justified in claiming that the agreed percentages of reparations payments should now be further modified or changed in the order of priority.

But they remain prepared to ask for no more in respect of the very large sums due by their Allies than will, together with the reparation payment by Germany, meet the British war debt to the United States Government.

Their policy in this matter is stated in Bonar Law's proposal submitted to the Paris conference in January and has not changed. It means that Great Britain would be prepared to waive, in the interest of a complete general settlement, a very large part of the amount which the British taxpayer holds the due obligations of the Allied governments.

Would Regret Separation Action. "It is the hope of His Majesty's Government that the above explanations will convince the French and Belgian Governments of the reasonableness of the British position and will win their assent to its acceptance.

They are reluctant to contemplate the possibility that separate action may be required in order to hasten a settlement, which cannot much longer be delayed without grave consequences to a recovery of trade and the peace of the world.

COCKTAIL SHAKER WRECKS FETTERALER'S REPUTATION

Boston, Aug. 11.—The Jones' reputation is completely gone, and all because the other morning they neglected to keep down the shades in their apartment. The fatal error afforded the snoopy Mrs. Blank an opportunity to look in from her window across the street and satisfy her curiosity as to a suspicious noise she heard in her neighbor's apartment every morning.

It was what she thought it was. There was Jones in the middle of the floor vigorously shaking a glass cocktail mixer containing an orange colored concoction. When it was nicely frothed he removed the cap and poured the contents into a wine glass, which he raised to his lips.

"Bum hound!" muttered Mrs. Blank and proceeded at the first opportunity to spread the tale. But Jones isn't a drinker. He likes a glass of orange juice every morning and finds he can get it colder by shaking it up in a cocktail shaker.

TRAFFIC HALTS AS PIGEON GETS DRINK ON PAVEMENT

Boston, Aug. 11.—Traffic was heavy and the policeman signaled, shouted, frowned and grined according to the changing character of the four-way crowd. The white signal flashed and waiting drivers prepared to throw in their gears and speed north or south. But the arm of the law warned them back. They craned around their windshields to find out the trouble. The policeman with arm still uplifted was gazing at a shallow pool of rainwater in the hot pavement.

"That bird shall have her chance," he growled at the nearest car. "She's tried to get a sap of water four times, and what with all the pedestrians and cars and other interferences, she's like to die of thirst."

The pigeon slipped peacefully, raising its sleek throat each time for the drink to slip down more smoothly. Then it waddled haughtily away.

The policeman's arm came into ac-

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The anniversary of the closing of the gates of Derry, was celebrated in King James II. was observed in Fredericton yesterday by the "Pretence Boys" of that city. John Joseph, 100 going up from here. The celebration took the form of a decoration day, the graves of the dead members of the order being covered with flowers and a service held in the cemetery. Pipe on Friday night for Hopewell Cape, Albert County, entailing a heavy loss for Howard Reid, the station agent. The building was used as a combined C. N. R. railway station and Post Office. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Post Office effects were saved and what freight was stored in the freight house also was saved. Insurance amounted to only about $200. Before leaving the Maritime Provinces where he has spent the last three weeks, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, told a press representative that he found much resentment here at what the people sincerely believe has been unfair treatment of their demands and at the want of candor on the part of public men. The collection of the amount is likely to run pretty close to the $200,000 mark. Last year the amount collected was $261,897. The amount estimated for the current year was $100,000.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

PRESS O. K.'S THE BRITISH ATTITUDE

Majority of London Papers Approve Note to France and Belgium.

PRaise FRANKNESS

Telegraph, However, Regrets Severance of Spirit of Mutuality.

(Canadian Press)

London, Aug. 12.—A majority of the morning newspapers approve, either wholly or in the main, the British note to France and Belgium.

"The note is strong, but not too strong," says the Times. "It was high time such a clear statement of the British case was made."

This newspaper adds that the Government put its case regarding the allied debts with "gratifying firmness," and contends that the taking of separate action by Great Britain would be the logical result of such a frank expression of policy.

The newspaper urges that "if Great Britain is to act she must act quickly, for her own sake and for the sake of Europe."

The Daily Telegraph describes the note as pro-British from start to finish, and adds that on that account alone the support of the great majority of the British people should rally to the side of the Government.

However, the newspaper regretfully adds that if the phrases which underlie the incompatibility of the French and British standpoints accurately represent the facts, "the spirit of mutuality which made the alliance a strong living thing, animates it no longer and we shall have to deal with a sadly changed situation."

Recognize Serious Situation.

The Liberal newspapers, while recognizing the seriousness of the situation, support the note.

The Daily News says it was time for the Government to speak out and that "its frankness is all the more impressive for the unparalleled forbearance it has shown."

"Englishmen," adds the News, "would never have dreamed of using this tone to France if they had not been absolutely driven to doing so by France herself."

THE WESTMINSTER GAZETTE COMMENTS

No other course was consistent with the dignity and interests of this country, and we regret only one word the justifiable resentment which underlies the earlier sentences of the British reply.

The Daily Chronicle asks indignantly why the British position was not made clear long ago before the note was occupied, and says that the failure of the Government to display the strength of the British case to the public has been one of its worst faults.

France says this newspaper, has been far ahead of Britain in the art of publicity with the result that "we have nothing like the solid, widespread backing from neutral, especially American, opinion to which the moral excellence of our case entitles us."

The Independent Daily Express thinks some parts of the note will astonish the public, but approves of the position adopted regarding the debts question.

The Morning Post, torn between loyalty to the Government and advocacy of the French cause, is deeply concerned with the gravity of the issues raised, the profound differences between the two Governments, and the "dreadful catastrophe to which these differences, if permitted to develop, may some day lead."

This newspaper is convinced that separate action by Great Britain "will lead only to the abyss."

The Daily Mail finds the note bad and stupid, and says it will make the situation much worse than before.

NEWS NOTES OF STOCK INTEREST

(McDougall & Cowans)

New York, Aug. 12.—Mr. Baker, chairman of the National City Bank in an interview published in the World yesterday, said:—"Everything is all right. The country is on the road to prosperity, and perhaps the greatest prosperity that any country ever at this time has known."

I should not be talking about it. Business men of America should be interested in at least two things. There is rarely ever a reason good enough for anybody to talk. These are the first words I have spoken to a newspaper man since 1863."

Japan Welcomes Chinese Girl Teams

Y. W. C. A. Secretary Writes That Their Visit Promotes Friendship.

New York, Aug. 10.—Young women athletes of China and Japan are doing much to promote a friendly understanding between their respective countries, according to Dr. Beattie Coffin, who is in Shanghai as Director of Health Education under the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. The National Board of the Y. W. C. A. has just received from Dr. Coffin a letter giving an account of the Far Eastern Championship Games held in Osaka, Japan, in the last week of May. The visiting Chinese girls who took part in the games were formally welcomed by the Mayor of Osaka at City Hall and elsewhere they received a cordial welcome according to Dr. Coffin, whose letter in part follows:

"The Chinese girls' volleyball and tennis teams, composed of girls from Tientsin and Peking in the North, Canton in the South, and Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai in East Central China, made its first stop at Kobe, Japan, where we were welcomed by the city officials and entertained at tea by girls from Kobe Women's University. On the next day we were joined by the Chinese men's delegation, which had arrived on a later boat. The Japanese committee from Osaka met us here and took us by special electric cars to Osaka.

"Here men and women Chinese delegates were greeted by throngs. We left the cars walking in a narrow lane between cheering Japanese crowds. The girls were thrilled to tears at the good will and spirit of the Japanese. For blocks and blocks crowds lined either side of the street. The public buildings and street cars were decorated with the three flags, Japanese, Chinese and American, for the Filipinos who had arrived the day previous. We were driven to the City Hall, where we were warmly welcomed by the Mayor. As we drove away it was lovely to see the courtesy shown to the girls. Japanese men lifted their hats and bowed to the girls especially. Japanese school girls cheered and smiled and waved to us. As we drove on little groups of shops and in the street would come out waving and clapping, and the girls were kept constantly bowing and waving in response.

"We were driven through the Chinese section of the city, where all the Chinese had been informed of our coming and we were out in full force to greet us all we passed. At last we arrived at the stadium and thought the program over, but were greeted with much applause from hundreds of Japanese schoolgirls, who presented a beautiful basket of flowers to the Chinese girls' team.

"A huge new stadium has been built for the games, the principal bleachers holding 16,000, and one day's attendance running up well beyond 80,000. It's a new era for the Orient, this era of care and attention to keep the body fit and strong. The games are giving a great contribution to the spirit of fair play and teamwork.

"Girls are doing no track work. We have tried in China to put the thing on a health basis, and all contestants have had to have health examinations. It's all a new idea for Chinese girls but so far it is working out splendidly.

"We are being entertained in a huge house. Girls and flowers dross a score of different Japanese girls' and women's clubs and schools have been sent in with sweet letters of welcome and good-will. Osaka Japanese Y. W. C. A. has given the girls breakfast and lodging for the stay here. The Chinese Chamber of Commerce has served luncheon and dinner of the best Chinese food to them. We all have street car passes good in three cities and a special car takes us to the grounds each morning. We have been welcomed and entertained lavishly.

Babe Ruth Sued For Unpaid Note

New York, Aug. 13.—"Babe" Ruth, swatter of home runs, under his name of George H. Ruth of Sudbury, was sued recently for $2,000 by the Massachusetts Lines and Cement Company of Cambridge in the Middlesex superior court, East Cambridge. It is alleged by the company that Ruth owes the money on a note dated June 2, with interest from that date.

The note, according to the declaration, was given to the Morton Realty Trust Company and payable at any bank in Boston.

HAPPY EVENT AT SUMMER HOUSE AT LOCH LOMOND

Miss Elizabeth Gorman, whose marriage is to take place this month, was delightfully surprised on Saturday afternoon when, after arriving at the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nagle, Loch Lomond, to spend the evening, she found the place in the possession of the members of the Y. W. C. A. to which both she and Mrs. Nagle belong.

A long table, tastefully decorated with cut flowers and white candles, with white silk streamers, was placed in the large living room and the members, together with a few friends sat down to a dainty repast.

Before Miss Gorman's place was a miniature chair to which were tied greetings from the club members, carrying the information that their gift is a Windsor chair to which were tied transport to the country for the occasion but would await her return to the city.

The evening was delightfully spent in dancing and music, during which vocal solos were given by Misses Gertrude O'Neil and Vida Waterbury. Besides Mrs. Nagle and Miss Gorman the other members of the Y. W. C. A. are: Miss Marjorie Grannan, Miss Gertrude O'Neil, Miss Gertrude Costley, Miss Helen McLaughlin, Miss Helen Cotter, Miss Margaret Power, Miss Eileen O'Regan, Miss Vida Waterbury and Miss Eleanor Tapley.

HOW TO SERVE TWO SHOPPERS AT ONCE

Clerk in Indianapolis Explains the Way to Do It.

Is it possible to serve more than one customer at a time in a manner entirely satisfactory to the one or more patrons? According to Miss Murray, of Department 29, L. S. Ayres & Co., department store in Indianapolis, it depends a great deal upon the kind of merchandise the salesperson is selling.

"To serve two customers at the same time," says Miss Murray, "is hard and really impossible with certain kinds of merchandise, but there are other kinds that require very little effort on the part of the salesperson.

"The easiest time to serve two customers is on sale days when the greatest demand is for reduced merchandise on the tables. For instance, a table of silk socks in the children's department sold for forty-nine cents a pair. Sizes and colors varied and quite often there were half a dozen or more customers at the same table. To serve two at the same time it was only necessary to know the size they were interested in. You could ask the second customer while looking for a size for the first customer. If she asked for size seven, it was only necessary to put seven in front of her and let her select her own colors. If customer No. 1 wanted size six, one was very likely to find all seven sizes you were really saving time by serving two.

RUTH REACHES TOP OF BATTING LIST

Only Miracle Can Now Keep Yankees from Pennant Victory.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, Aug. 13.—Babe Ruth today leads the American League in batting by a narrow squeak in spite of his team's defeat yesterday by the Tigers, 5 to 2.

The Yankees rounded out the week with such a lead in the American League average that little less than a miracle could prevent their pennant victory, the experts conceded. Although the Giants also lost, the experts generally agree that their National League rivals have small chances to leap them from the top. So another world series combat looks pretty safe for New York again this fall.

Ruth's batting average is .3694. He is much as Harry Heilmann the Detroit slugger, was out of the game, with a strained tendon, Ruth took the lead away from him. Heilmann's average is .3697. Ruth's home run was his 29th of the season, putting him even with Williams, of the Phillies. The Giants lost to St. Louis 5 to 2. It was the closing game of their season trip. The New Yorks dropped three out of five to the Cardinals, the only series they lost on the latest invasion.

The only other exciting event in the National League occurred in Brooklyn, where the Dodgers trimmed the Pirates in a pair of games, 11 to 2 and 6 to 0. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 7 to 6. Harris pounded out a homer in the sixth, a six-run lead in the Boston Red Sox defeat the Indians 8 to 3.

Washington, playing at home, overcame a six-run deficit in the only other American League game, defeating Chicago 9 to 6. The St. Louis and Philadelphia Americans were not scheduled to play.

Religious Society Of Seventy Years Ago in St. John

About seventy years ago the need of a young men of the Church of England in St. John was urged upon the people of the city.

The Young Men's Society was formed. A list of its first members is as follows: Henry W. Frith and Thomas W. Daniel; treasurer, C. Kirkpatrick; secretary, Arthur Daniel; recording secretary, Thomas Boyne; committee, Arthur Daniel, C. Kirkpatrick, Arthur Daniel, C. Kirkpatrick, Arthur Daniel, C. Kirkpatrick.

"The objects of it are, primarily, the advancement of moral and religious habits among young men who are residents in the city, and, secondly, the advancement of the cause of the Christian religion in the city, province and elsewhere. To effect these objects, meetings of the members are held, in which the Bible is studied, and essays upon religious subjects are read. The rooms of the society are also open on evenings in the week, where the members may resort for the personal and general improvement of the members. Courses of lectures are also delivered every winter by clergymen and other members of the Society. A library, friendly to the Association. A library is being formed of religious books, and other means are being adopted to promote the great objects of the Society. Each member pays fifteen shillings a year.

The article from which the above quotation is taken points out that the formation of the Young Men's Society can be traced back to the latter part of the reign of Charles II., "a period of absolute iniquity in the history of England." The society was established in London in 1678, and in twenty years there were twenty of them in the city and its suburbs. The first meeting was held in the year 1698, and under the encouragement of the Archbishop of Canterbury were later merged into the Societies for Promoting Christian Knowledge and Propagating the Gospel. One article of the Constitution of the early Societies was as follows:

15,000 ALIENS RACE AGAINST TIME AND MONTHLY QUOTA

Sixteen liners arrived at the port of New York, August 1 in the monthly immigrant race. They carried 15,558 passengers of whom 15,000 were aliens seeking admission to this country. But many of them were doomed to disappointment, for some of the quotas were quickly exhausted. The photo above shows a "feld" of the liners at anchor in quarantine awaiting the opening hour of the month to race up the bay. Below is a typical group of immigrants, on shipboard, anxiously waiting to learn their fate—whether they will be admitted to the new country or returned to the old.

Detectives Seek Word of 'Airman' Here On Sunday

Says He Landed Near St. George; Inquires About Remittance.

The detective department has been trying to locate a man who said he was a flying officer, Major Scott or Major Gage, who was here yesterday. Up till this afternoon efforts were fruitless.

Claiming to have made a bad landing in a Bristol fighter aeroplane, a man on this side of St. George, and damaged his under carriage, he arrived in the city yesterday, and got into communication with several members of the R. F. C. He said that he was the American Army flying school and was under orders to fly to Halifax and Labrador. He gave his name as Major Scott.

His story in spots was quite plausible but an element of doubt was cast upon it by the fact that he gave a different name, Major Gage, to the officials of the C. P. R. Telegraph, when he went there to get money which he said General Mitchell, the general officer commanding the United States Flying Service, was writing to him. No word had come through from General Mitchell and the officials of the C. P. R. told him that that they would not wire the money through on Sunday, so he contented himself for the night with $2 that he borrowed from one of the clerks. This money had not been paid back this morning.

The Telegraph-Journal called up the telephone operator at St. George and asked if an aeroplane had been seen in that vicinity yesterday afternoon. None of the inhabitants had either seen or heard one and considering that his corps officer he knew by the name of Gage was a man who had been cash-

THE NEW GERMAN CABINET

London, Aug. 13.—The new German cabinet was officially announced today, according to a Central News despatch from Berlin as follows:

Premier and Foreign Minister, Dr. Gustav Stresemann. Minister of Finance, Herr Hilferding, Radical. Minister of Economy, Hans Van Raumer, German People's Party. Minister of Railways, Herr Heinrich, Director of the Deutsche werke. Minister of Justice, Herr Radbruch, Socialist. Minister of Home Affairs, Herr Fuchs, Centre Party.

The ministries of defence, posts and telegraphs and labor remain unchanged, being held respectively by Dr. Gessler, Herr Stinzel, and Dr. Heinrich Braun.

When he visited the C. P. R. Telegraph office he told the clerk there that he was a great friend of Sir Douglas Hazen, although he had not mentioned Sir Douglas' name when conversing previously to the officers, giving them the impression that he knew only Mr. Cronin in this city. He called up the chief justice on the telephone but unfortunately the latter was out. He rang up several other prominent citizens in the clerk's presence but as it was just the hour for evening church service they all were out. In anticipation of the $1,000 which was coming over the wire he borrowed $2 from the clerk.

According to a recent ruling planes from the United States are supposed to report when coming across the border but there is no report so far as can be ascertained, from this machine.

FOUNDER OF Y.M.A. TO BE HERE FOR ANNIVERSARY

Father Borgmann and Others Coming to St. Peter's Celebration.

At the services in St. Peter's Church yesterday, it was announced that arrangements had been completed to have Rev. Joseph Borgmann, C. S. R., here to officiate at the fiftieth anniversary of St. Aloysius Society and St. Peter's Y. M. A., which will be started next Sunday by a solemn high Mass. Father Borgmann, who is now stationed at St. Mary's Church in Annapolis, Md., was the founder of St. Peter's Young Men's Association. He was spiritual director of it for more than eighteen years, and during that time endeared himself to all. When a decision was arrived at to celebrate the occasion, an effort was made to have Father Borgmann come here to officiate, and success attended the efforts of the members through the cooperation of Rev. William Hogan, C. S. R., rector of St. Peter's Church. His arrival is expected to arrive about the end of the week and on Sunday morning will be celebrated at solemn high Mass, after which he will bless the Y. M. A. service flag.

There is a possibility that Rev. Father Wigle, C. S. R., who was formerly rector of St. Peter's church, will be in attendance and preach a special sermon. Other priests in the Redemptorist Congregation, whose homes are here, will also come to attend the anniversary.

SORROW IN DEATH OF DR. COHOON, BAPTIST LEADER

St. John Regrets Passing of Acadia Treasurer at Wolfville.

Baptist people and others in the city learned with regret of the death of Rev. Atwood Cohoon, M. A., D. D., treasurer of Acadia University, who died at his home in Wolfville on Saturday.

Dr. Cohoon was born in Midway, N. S. on July 10, 1848. In his early manhood he taught school, and then attending Acadia University, received his degree there in 1871, with high rank as a student. The following year he was pastor at Rawdon, N. S. From 1872 to 1876, he spent in fruitful pastoral service at Paradise and Clarence, N. S. The next twelve years he was pastor at Hebron, N. S., where his strong personality made its impress on the life of the entire community.

From his student days Dr. Cohoon's passion was for home missions. In 1878 he was appointed corresponding secretary of the Baptist Home Mission Board, holding this office for twenty-two years. From 1892 to 1895, he was also treasurer of the denominational fund of Nova Scotia. He was appointed to the Board of Governors of Acadia University in 1898, and appointed treasurer in 1899, which position he held at the time of his death.

The Maritime Baptist of issue of July 25, in an editorial on Dr. Cohoon, said:

"As a preacher he ranked high. As a pastor he was wise and true, and as a college or denominational official, he was faithful, painstaking and conscientious."

"Dr. Cohoon's brusqueness of manner is well known in this respect he has frequently been done the rare kindness of his heart an injustice. There are those, not a few, who have learned that beneath that brusque exterior there is a heart tender as a mother's. Dr. Cohoon was known to a wide circle of domestic sorrow in the loss of two wives and several children. This has enriched his capacity to bring helpful ministry to others who have sorrowed, and there are many who can say that no more comforting nor more steady words came to them in life's darkest hour than came from the stern kind hearted old man in Wolfville."

"Dr. Cohoon has served his day, his generation, his church, and his denomination with high fidelity, and with service of high quality."

Although never stationed in St. John Rev. Dr. Cohoon was a frequent and welcome visitor.

AMDUR AUTO CASE ON FRIDAY; LAWYERS HEARD

H. A. Powell and Wm. M. Ryan Set Out Position of Clients.

The case of the King against Amdur, charged on the information of Miss Frances P. Alward, acting as secretary of the New Brunswick Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, with unlawfully disposing of a Star automobile on or about June 30 last, by a mode of skill or chance, or by mixed skill and chance, was not proceeded with this morning.

H. A. Powell, K. C., representing Amdur's, Limited, said that he was not quite ready to go on with the case. There had been desire on the part of his clients willingly to violate the law, but they wanted to know what the law was. This was a sort of test case. If decided against they would appeal. He had been credibly informed that there were two affidavits in Sherbrooke, Quebec, conducted in the same sort of operation and also one or two in Ottawa. They merely wanted the law decided. In view of the other cases pending he would like to have a postponement to ascertain what had been done in these cases.

W. M. Ryan, acting in conjunction with Barnhill, Sanford and Harrison, who are conducting the prosecution, said that he had been ready to go on with the case for some time. He had notified a witness to be present this morning to give evidence in this case and then, on notification of Mr. Powell that he would ask for a postponement, had told the witness not to come. Mr. Powell said that all the delays had been produced at his instance. Mr. Ryan took issue with Mr. Powell's reference to the desire of his clients to make this a test case. It was not up to them to decide whether or not it was a test case. They had brought into court as a result of information having been laid under the provisions of the Criminal Code and were there in consequence of that action.

Mr. Powell replied that from the start he had taken no other stand but that it was well to have the law decided. He had consulted with the attorney-general's office through the agent here, Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., and after conferring with the attorney-general, it had decided to take the matter up.

By agreement of counsel the case was postponed until Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

H. A. Powell and Wm. M. Ryan Set Out Position of Clients.

The case of the King against Amdur, charged on the information of Miss Frances P. Alward, acting as secretary of the New Brunswick Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, with unlawfully disposing of a Star automobile on or about June 30 last, by a mode of skill or chance, or by mixed skill and chance, was not proceeded with this morning.

H. A. Powell, K. C., representing Amdur's, Limited, said that he was not quite ready to go on with the case. There had been desire on the part of his clients willingly to violate the law, but they wanted to know what the law was. This was a sort of test case. If decided against they would appeal. He had been credibly informed that there were two affidavits in Sherbrooke, Quebec, conducted in the same sort of operation and also one or two in Ottawa. They merely wanted the law decided. In view of the other cases pending he would like to have a postponement to ascertain what had been done in these cases.

W. M. Ryan, acting in conjunction with Barnhill, Sanford and Harrison, who are conducting the prosecution, said that he had been ready to go on with the case for some time. He had notified a witness to be present this morning to give evidence in this case and then, on notification of Mr. Powell that he would ask for a postponement, had told the witness not to come. Mr. Powell said that all the delays had been produced at his instance. Mr. Ryan took issue with Mr. Powell's reference to the desire of his clients to make this a test case. It was not up to them to decide whether or not it was a test case. They had brought into court as a result of information having been laid under the provisions of the Criminal Code and were there in consequence of that action.

Mr. Powell replied that from the start he had taken no other stand but that it was well to have the law decided. He had consulted with the attorney-general's office through the agent here, Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., and after conferring with the attorney-general, it had decided to take the matter up.

By agreement of counsel the case was postponed until Friday morning at 11 o'clock.
