ARRANGING 'SAW-OFFS' FOR BRITISH SEATS

Reported Deals of Conservatives and Coalition Liberals.

Lloyd George Called on for Definite Guidance in Glasgow Speech Tomorrow—Papers Vary in Comment on Bonar Law Manifesto.

(Associated Press)

London, Oct. 27.—The latest development in the election campaign is an understanding reported to have been reached in some districts under which the Conservatives have agreed to oppose coalition Liberal candidates under the Lloyd George banner who will pledge themselves to give their general support to Premier Bonar Law.

Several such bargains have been reached in London and neighboring constituencies but in the northern districts it was said that most of the Lloyd Georgians had refused to enter into any such arrangement.

At Dundee, the Unionist association decided to support Winston Spencer Churchill, who was secretary for the colonies in the Lloyd George ministry, and J. A. MacDonald, another coalition Liberal.

Referring to these deals, the Times says that the coalition Liberal party is in danger of breaking in two and attributes this condition to "lack of a decisive lead by Lloyd George."

While in some places the Lloyd George followers are aligning themselves with the Conservative party, others, especially in the north, are seeking a union with Free Liberals. The newspaper understands that Lloyd George has been urged to give his party definite guidance in the speech he is to deliver on Saturday in Glasgow.

Lloyd George made no reference to the question of these new inter-party deals in a message which he sent to the Daily Mirror today.

It is said he had a profound conviction shared by the most experienced and distinguished leaders in the Conservative party that manifest difficulties ahead of the country can best be solved by those who put the interest of the country above party considerations.

"I regret that the only appeal that the distracted state of Europe and the world makes to many is an appeal for further faction and disunity at home. Such a path I cannot follow. The course I intend to take will be dictated by no personal considerations and in no factious spirit. I shall continue to do my best to serve the country regardless of all personal advantage."

The Premier's Manifesto
Comment on the manifesto and speech delivered yesterday by Premier Bonar Law is rather evenly divided in this morning's newspapers.

The Times has no hesitation in commending them to the public's approval.

Declared to be the One Who Has Made Bonar Law Premier

Labor Organ Says It will be His Decisions That will Count—Lloyd George and Birkenhead Honored in Colchester—"Don't Quarrel in Hospital Over Patient."

(Canadian Press)

London, Oct. 27.—The New Leader, which recently took the place of the Labor organ as weekly organ of labor opinion here and is edited by Henry N. Brailsford, author and journalist, declares that Bonar Law would not be premier today, and would probably have retired altogether from politics, but for the eager energy of his friend Lord Beaverbrook.

"That extraordinary product of success in Canadian finance, rising from the most humble circumstances and with a real genius for friendship," says the New Leader, "has been determined on one thing only in politics for the last ten years, and that is to make Bonar Law premier."

"The new government is a Bonar Law-Beaverbrook government and although Lord Beaverbrook may remain behind the scenes, it will be his decisions which will count."

"He assisted in breaking up the Liberal party in the first coalition and while the latter was timorously shivering on the brink, into repudiation of H. Asquith by a majority of his followers. In this last week, when Bonar Law was timidly preparing to resign, rather than make his speech against Asquith Chamberlain, we think it would be found that Lord Beaverbrook took the decision for him."

Worrying the Patient
Colchester, Eng., Oct. 27.—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George, Lord Birkenhead, the Lord Mayor of London and a group of his supporters were welcomed yesterday among a party entertained by the mayor of Colchester.

Lord Birkenhead, introducing Lloyd George at the banquet, said the former premier had been the greatest realization than their opponents of the difficulties of the government's problems, every help within their power and would put the country before party.

Lloyd George followed with a brief speech in which he said that the world's thermometer has not yet reached that mark which indicates health, he said.

"It is nowhere near it, and until it reaches it there is real danger and cause for anxiety. The physicians who have been watching the case and doing their best to promote recovery, have said: 'Don't let us have a quarrel in the hospital until the patient has completely recovered.'"

Said Husband Deceived Her
Wrong Name, Religion and Nationality—Court Orders Marriage Dissolved.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Mr. Justice Coderre delivered judgment in the superior court yesterday dissolving a "mixed marriage"—that of Vera Musgrave, Presbyterian, formerly of North Sydney, N. S., and Harry Yovienky, a Hebrew, who was in Winnipeg when his wife's writ for dissolution of their marriage was served on him. He did not appear.

The marriage was dissolved on the ground that the deliberate deception by the husband as to his name, religion and nationality constituted justification for the wife's action in annulling as provided for in Article 148 of the civil code, which states: "When there is error as to the person, the marriage can be attacked by the party led into error."

In her declaration the petitioner declared she was married on June 7, 1921, to Harry Yovienky, whom she then knew only by the name of Harry Deckovian. The marriage was performed in Halifax by Rev. R. W. Iosb, Presbyterian minister. She said that immediately after she discovered her husband's deception she left him—that was to say, directly after the marriage.

WINS C. N. R.'S NIPIGON TROPHY
It is announced by the C. N. R. that C. E. Abbott, of Bessemer, Alabama, has been declared the winner of the Nipigon Trophy for the season of 1935. This is donated by the railways for annual competition by non-resident anglers, and is held by the disciple of Isaac Walton, who secures the largest speckled trout in Nipigon waters with rod and line. The trout caught by Mr. Abbott was seven pounds nine ounces in weight, twenty-seven inches in length, and fifteen inches in girth. It was caught on a single hook, with cockroach bait.

GARDEN BAN ON CHAMPION JOE

Lynch Temporarily Barred from New York Ring.

Poor Showing in Recent Bout Given as Cause—Greenleaf and Allen in a Match for Championship at Billiards—Late Sport News.

(Canadian Press)

New York, Oct. 27.—A situation unique in Gotham ring annals developed last night when it became known that Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, has been barred temporarily from boxing at Madison Square Garden by the New York state athletic commission as a result of his recent poor showing there in a match with Joe Wolfe of Cleveland. The fact that Lynch is in disfavor with the commission became known when Promoter Rickard sought sanction for a match between Lynch and King Joe Burman of Chicago, on Nov. 16, or Thanksgiving night, Nov. 30.

Chairman Wm. Muldon, of the commission, flatly refused sanction. "Since the Wolfe bout Lynch is no longer a garden attraction," said Muldon. "He will have to box elsewhere and demonstrate his fitness before we will sanction a garden bout with him as one of the principals."

BOY OF FOUR KILLED NEAR HOME BY TRUCK
Montréal, Oct. 27.—Hubert Pesant, aged four, was struck and almost instantly killed by a motor truck yesterday while playing in a yard after seeing his father at the latter's garage. The fatality occurred in front of the child's home.

ABANDON MEASURES FOR VEGETABLES; SELL BY WEIGHT
Federal Department Official Says That is the Intention When New Act Comes Into Force in Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—That it was the intention of the department of agriculture to do away altogether with the gallon and other measures when the new "root vegetables act" came into force, Captain L. F. Burrows, of the department of agriculture, told the Retail Grocers' Association here last night. He said the act could be successfully operated only when the system of measures hitherto in force was forgotten and people got used to ordering vegetables by the pound.

He declared that farmers, hucksters and peddlers could not be compelled to carry scales, but that the consumers could demand that the goods they purchased be weighed. The department of agriculture was trying to educate the wholesalers to quote prices on all produce by weight.

A motion was passed requesting the department of agriculture to issue cards which grocers could display in their stores which would inform customers that vegetables must be sold by weight.

Bluenose Done With Racing This Year; Will Not Meet Mayflower

Committee Considering Protest of Ford—New York Paper Describes Series Off Gloucester as Comedy of Errors.

(Canadian Press)

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 27.—While the protest against the Lunenburg schooner Bluenose, winner of the international fishing vessel championship, was being considered today by the international race committee, Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the Bluenose, announced finally that he would not meet the Mayflower this year. He said he was through with racing and would lay his boat down for Lunenburg as soon as possible.

Late last night Johnstone S. Raymond, part owner of the Henry Ford, had raised a fund of $2,000 of which $500 was contributed by Leslie A. Davidson, Canadian member of the international committee, for another race between the champion and the Ford. Little progress was made, however, towards making the match. Captain Angus Walters of the Bluenose positively refused to entertain the idea. The international committee as such, said its functions had been performed and it could not act in the matter.

Captain Walters' announcement followed a decision last night to have the Bluenose and Mayflower meet. "I'll leave the cup and everything until they finish it all pretty soon," remarked Captain Walters.

Captain Morrissey of the Ford said today that he was "tired of it all and was willing to call it off, relinquishing any claim to the cup, although he believed the Henry Ford the better boat. Award of the trophy was delayed today when the sailing committee voted to refer to the international committee protests against the schooner. H. R. Silvers, chairman of the trustees of the cup, said the trophy would not be handed over until the certificates of award had been signed by the international committee.

NEW YORK OPINION
New York, Oct. 27.—The Times in an editorial calls the fishermen's race series "a joyous comedy of errors" and expresses the belief that, because of the accident to the Henry Ford in yesterday's race, Captain Walters "can hardly be in the mood to accept congratulations." It notes that in the "comedy of errors" there was "one human touch that relieved the agony—that was the friendship of the two rival captains, which no untoward incident could mar."

THE RIVER TRAGEDY
An attempt is being made this afternoon to raise the steamer Dream, contractor R. R. Lee arrived on the scene this morning with a full wrecking equipment in addition to Diver Breen. Purser Gannon of the ill fated steamer was at the scene this morning and will render all possible assistance.

Holgate, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Two girls and three boys were killed when their automobile was struck by a train at a crossing near here late last night. The dead—Cecilia Royal, 14; Frank Royal, 17; Thelma Seimet, 17; Virgin Brown, 18, and Larry Schwab, 17. All lived near New Bavaria.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I hear you have a horse to sell."

"Yes, sir," said Hiram, "I've got a horse that's old and sore with the bone spavin and a blind eye." "Well," said Hiram, "I couldn't get one in his place today for $200. But I'll take $400."

"Easy there," said the reporter. "Where do you get that stuff? I know that old nag. A man who gave you $200 would be spending money like a drunken sailor."

"That horse," said Hiram, "has got $200 worth of oats."

"And if he consumed five times that amount," said the reporter, "he would still be only about two jumps ahead of the crowd."

"Well," said Hiram, "I'll take $400."

"You'll never get it," said the reporter. "I'll arbitrate," said Hiram. "But I don't want the horse," said the reporter. "I can get along without him."

"You're a robber," said Hiram. "You'd rob the widder an' the orphan. You orto be in jail—Gimme that $200!"

Mott Threatens Arrest Of Churchman in New Jersey Murder Case

Said to Have Been Near the Scene of Slaying in His Auto

Is Declared to Have Handed Love Letters of Mrs. Mills to Wife of Rev. E. W. Hall—Widow's Lawyer Denies That She or Her Brother was Present at Murder.

(Canadian Press)

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 27.—Willbur A. Mott, special deputy attorney-general, who has taken over the inquiry into the Hall-Mills murder mystery, expected to interview a prominent churchman today in an effort to allay some of the rumors that have been circulating in the vicinity of the murder.

Mott indicated that he intended to cause the churchman's arrest unless he agreed to become a witness for the prosecution. Mr. Mott believes the failure of the man, said to have been near the scene of the murder, to acquaint the authorities with his alleged knowledge of the affair has laid him liable to arrest.

Mott is said to be in possession of data showing that this man had discovered the letters of Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, slain choir leader, to Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was killed with her, and to have shown them to Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the clergyman's wife.

His car is said to have been parked near the crabapple tree on the old Phillips place at its headlights made possible the murder. The car intruder put a bullet through the windshield of the car that ended in the death of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills.

Attorney-General Puffer, representing Mrs. Hall, denied last night that either Mrs. Hall or her brother, Henry Stevens, was present when the clergyman and his choir singer were killed. He reiterated that Mrs. Hall did not leave her home that night between 8 p. m. and 2 a. m., and that Henry Stevens was fishing in the ocean at Lavallette, N. J.

Mr. Puffer's statement followed a disclosure that Mrs. Hall and Mr. Stevens were the persons named in the sworn statement of Mrs. Gibson, a witness to the murder, that she had seen Mrs. Hall and Mr. Stevens in the vicinity of the murder scene.

Prosecutor Mott indicated that arrests were imminent, but that he preferred to wait until he had an "iron-clad" case. Persons under suspicion are being closely watched.

FASCIST QUICK TO SHOW STRENGTH

Question if Italian Minister Must Not All Resign

Orlando and Giolitti Spoke of Situation Regarded as Serious—Facta Invites Letter to Conference in Rome

(Canadian Press)

London, Oct. 27.—The Italian Fascist seem to have won their battle in the ousting of the quetta ministry, the premier and his colleagues offering their resignations last night in the face of a threatened general mobilization by the nationalist military organization.

King Victor Emmanuel's choice of premier, was believed to lie between Vittorio Orlando and Giovanni Giolitti, both former cabinet chiefs. Whether one of these would be acceptable to the Fascists or whether this powerful organization would be content with anything less than an all-Fascist ministry, was a matter of speculation.

Rome, Oct. 27.—The Messagero indicates that the council of ministers will decide this afternoon whether the Fascist cabinet should go out or only a part of the ministers quit office. In any case, it declares, the crisis will be up edily settled.

The king is expected to return to Rome today.

London, Oct. 27.—An official dispatch from Rome this morning on the serious situation there. The rival elements are apparently tampering with the telegraph, and two sections of the official statement has not been received here, although filed at Rome.

The assault to kill charge came from their attack upon a jailer in making their escape and the robbery accusation came from their commandeering two post office employees' automobiles.

Bonds were fixed at $15,000 each, and preliminary hearings set for October 31. Blasky has been sent to San Quentin penitentiary to begin serving a life sentence.

PIRATES SEIZE SCHOONER IN LOWER ELBE

Jaillbirds Prove Poor Navigators, Run Vessel Ashore and are Captured.

Hamburg, Oct. 27.—A quartette of twentieth century pirates climbed from their row boat aboard the motor schooner Bertha in the lower Elbe yesterday, and in broad daylight subdued the captain and his crew and started down stream with the vessel. They were better pirates than navigators and soon ran the vessel aground, causing its destruction and the loss of its cargo of quatrane, valued at 20,000 marks.

The four pirates bound the captain and, after scaring the crew by firing their pistols, it was easy to imprison them. The four intruders put on seamen's clothing, hoisted the anchor and set off toward the sea. When the ship went aground the prospect of rescues were abandoned. The distressed schooner, the skipper tipped them off to the character of the four men who were seemingly in charge of affairs. They were taken into custody and identified as having escaped from the Hamburg jail.

"Never Again!"
You've heard this expression lots of times. Possibly you've used it when learning by costly experience that attire is proved better by service than by the price ticket; especially when the attire was identified as being "cheap at the price." It was indeed—cheap, too, for you. "Cheap" attire is never good enough for you.
"Not for the lowest prices, but made in the finest way."
This expresses our idea of merchandising since 1859.

A large audience was present at the Natural History Society rooms last evening to hear the address by Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond. The address, which was entitled "Why?" was an appreciation of the work of the Natural History Society and was repeated from last year. This was the first of the fall course of lectures. At the close of the lecture, Mrs. Harold Lawrence, the president, thanked Mrs. Raymond on behalf of the society members. It was announced at the meeting that Mrs. George W. Parker would speak next week on the subject, "A spring-time holiday."

The Dog
(Don Marquis in New York Tribune)
And this is the way that the Dog, With his moist and tender nose, Becomes Man's friend and shadow And the foeman of his foe.
When Adam quitted the Garden, Along with his bosom wife, For to drive and swink and swither And earn his way in life, The Animals stilled about him To grunt and whine goodby— But little enough their grief was, However they piped the eye.
A tear from the rhino trickled, But he did not really care, The hippo mumbled politely, Grumbled the hypocrite bear, One hump of the camel quivered, As a chin that shakes with grief, But his other hump was perky Like it really felt relief. The walrus sniveled dankly In a quite perfunctory way, And the bull was patently anxious To get back to his hay.
And the porcupine and narwhal, The walley and giraffe, Parodied sorrow so broadly They made the penguin laugh.
An Angel stood by the gateway, Twirling a sword of flame, All ready to pink intruders, Whencever they came— (And many's the brave Fancy, Swash-buckling out of hell, He has tickled through the baldric And made the braggart yell; From many a ruffling Vision That swaggered up in mirth He has clipped the ruddy cockcomb And swung him back to Earth.) "Which of you brutes so mournful," The watching Angel said, "Will follow the Man from Eden To toil for daily bread? And which of you brutes so tearful Will give him more than tears, Faithful to his footsteps? Through all his outcast years? Come forward," said the Angel, "Before the barriers close, You friend of all his friendships And foeman of his foes!"
The sly little seal, he sniggered, Chuckled the kangaroo, The chimpanzee pulled a razzerberrie And winked at the cockatoo, His thumb on his proboscis The mangy ape did place, And flickered his ribald digits Right in Adam's face. And they shuffled and lurchered and ambled, Each to his separate den— And that was the honest measure Of what they felt for men.
The Angel smiled in knowledge, He permitted himself a tear, And if he weren't an Angel 'Td say that he sneered a sneer— (They see so much, these Angels, As they ramble here and there, That we must try and forgive them If now and again they wear That manner of sad amusement, That faintly cynical air.)
But a pup there was that lingered In most abject meagre; He lay too broken-hearted Even to bite his flea.
His tail swished desolation, And its swish was his only sound; A playful-foot pup with a belly That griev'd along the ground; His ears were the dragging cypress And his eyes were love profound.
He looked not at the Angel, But of a sudden he rose And he ran and nuzzled Adam, And his soul was in his nose—

G. FRED FISHER'S PLATFORM

No. 1—(a) The completion and signing of the contract with the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission for Musquash Power.
(b) The appointment of an independent Civic Hydro Electric Commission to construct a Civic Distribution System and appropriate name.
No. 2—Completion of Plans and Specifications for a Civic Distribution System.
No. 3—That an offer be made by the city to purchase the entire property of The New Brunswick Electric Power Company, at the sum named by the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, March 2, 1922, $2,577,655.56. This sum to be the maximum and the offer to remain open for ten days only.
No. 4—In the event of the offer not being accepted by the Power Company, in the time specified, the city to proceed immediately with the construction of its own distribution system.

BACKWARD, OR FORWARD?

The civic contest now in progress is to determine whether St. John will go back or forward. It took a forward step in April, when it declared in favor of freeing itself from monopoly, and getting control of its light and power supply, upon which its progress and prosperity depend; for whoever controls the light and power of a city also controls its expansion. The excessive rates charged by the New Brunswick Power Company effectively prevented industrial expansion in the past, as everybody knows. The citizens in April voted for a change. Mayor McLellan has since got in the way. He must be removed, or the will of the people as declared in April cannot be carried out. The most desperate efforts are now being made to persuade the people they were wrong in April, when they declared for civic ownership and distribution. In whose interest are these efforts being made? In the interests of the New Brunswick Power Company, and no other. The advocates of the company say the power needed is not available at Musquash; that in any case a steam standby is necessary; that the company will compete with the city and disaster will result; that the taxes of the people will be greatly increased; that the city should not wreck its credit abroad by pursuing a policy of confiscation; that civic ownership is a ruinous policy; and that the only safe course is to lie down and let the power company rule the roost. The voter, however, needs only to keep one fact clearly in mind to know that the decision of April should be the decision of November, and it is that power is offered the city at 12 cents per kilowatt hour and it will be the people's fault if they do not get the full advantage of that, with freedom from monopoly for all time to come. All objections, all pleas for the power company, all attempts to confuse the issue, are either made in ignorance or are made by those who do not want the city to be free from monopoly, but want the citizens to go on paying tribute.
The contest, therefore, is of vital importance to the city's present and future welfare. The defeat of Mr. McLellan means power at cost. What would his re-election mean?
In Western Canada there are some people who charge that a crime was sweeping over a portion of that country is due to popular disapproval of prohibition. Canadian Finance observes that they "are losing sight of fundamental principles and twisting circumstances to suit temporary arguments," and it adds—"To blame prohibition for a crime wave is to sidestep the real issue which is, 'Shall we obey the law?' Bootlegging is contrary to law; bank robberies are contrary to law; murder is contrary to law. If the majority of the people do not like these laws, we have a democratic form of government which enables us to change them, but until we have changed them there is only one thing for an honest man to do and that is obey the law."

EDUCATION IN QUEBEC

The province of Quebec is paying more and more attention to education, and in this respect sets an excellent example to other provinces. In its review of the speech of the Lieutenant Governor at the opening of the legislature this week the Montreal Gazette says:—"In extension of the work of technical instruction a paper making school is to be established, the province being one of the great pulp and paper producing regions of the continent. A school for forest guards is also proposed, and the events of the past season have drawn attention to the services its graduates may be able to render. An increase in the number of scholarships to enable capable students to complete their education in Europe is promised. Larger grants to primary schools are also on the government's list. The legislature has been liberal to the extreme in the past in aiding advanced education, and has been inclined to leave to the municipalities the duty of providing the education in the public schools which the great mass of the people have to depend upon to carry them through life. This has been the weakness of the system. If the proposed grants are given on conditions that will really improve the general standard of school instruction the return will be of value. A museum of natural history is to be established for the province, and may be included as part of the educational services. A reorganization of the reformatory school is promised.
This is an extensive programme, involving a large expenditure, but it will be justified by the results. It begins with the primary schools, and extends to vocational schools and the higher education.
The following is an extract from the latest speech delivered by Mr. Lloyd George—"I am in favor of making every reasonable concession in order to induce the United States to associate itself with that great body if it can be accomplished. For until you get all the nations of Europe in (and I still think you can get the United States there) the League of Nations will be crippled. Working with the United States ought to be one of the chief purposes of any government. There is more in common between us than with any other land. Our ideals approximate in a way that probably the ideals of no other two countries do. If these two countries would work together it would be a most sure guarantee for the just peace which is the only lasting peace."

PLACE NAMES OF NOVA SCOTIA

The Herald has received a copy of a most interesting as well as unique volume that will answer many a question as to how the towns and capes and rivers of Nova Scotia obtained their names. The author, Thomas J. Brown, of North Sydney, formerly general superintendent of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, has been very much interested in the history of our provincial place names. Now as a labor of love he has crystallized his researches, undertaken as a hobby, into an attractive book that should find a place in every maritime library.
In glancing over the volume we find that Bartons, in Colchester county, was so named in 1817 after the Earl of Dalhousie, then governor of Nova Scotia. Glace Bay was named by the French who found the harbor frozen over. On April 1, 1784, the suburbs of Halifax were called Gottinham after the city of that name in Hanover. Guysboro is named after the Christian name of Sir Guy Carleton, at one time Governor of Canada. The word "Halifax" is probably derived from the words "Holy Hall," the name being accounted for by the fact that centuries ago the head of a virgin who had been murdered was suspended from a tree in the neighborhood of the present English city, Halifax. The name Stewiacke comes from an Indian word, meaning "Whispering It goes on.
The name Shubenacadie comes from a Mic-mac word meaning "the place where the ground-nut (potato) grows."
Yarmouth was given the name of Yarmouth by no less a personage than Champlain himself, in 1604, "inasmuch as its figure was that of a ram." It was named after the Duke of York, then Duke of Albany. Digby, Shelburne, etc., the name Yarmouth was given after an English titled personage of that name.
Even a brief examination of this very valuable work which is dedicated to the memory of Nova Scotia's historians past and present, and is the verdict of the late Rev. Dr. Patterson of Pictou:
"Names of places form an important part of our history. They stand as memorials of men and events in the past. They throw light on the scenes and movements of former times, and therefore cannot be neglected in our study of the developments of our country."

"ROMANTIC, ALSO RACY"

A start has been made with the remedying of the confusion caused by the duplication—in some instances the multiplication—of street names in Glasgow. Hackneyed or flavorless names like Hamilton or Hillhead or Park or Queen are to give place to names redolent of romance and racy of the Scottish soil—Eosdale, Enterkin, Fendla, Fingsha.
A collection of some of the prettiest of the "A" and "B" names submitted for the Mosspark housing scheme reads like a distich from a poem by a Scottish Milton or Drayton—Aros, Balerno, Alva, Avelmore, Balfour, Arngask, Balgonie, Arislaig. Such words have dew and fragrance; they are like wildflowers and leather sprays from that old rural Scotland from which Glasgow hunk in its westward facing vale, and ringed round on all sides save the southwest, tends to be too much isolated. Their distinctive spell cannot fail to influence the imagination and even the careers of the younger generation.
The principle that guides the proposed changes permits also of the retention of names with old associations or local character. Byres road and Cross road and Butterbiggins road are safe, and "Duness street and Landreay street" will continue to be a quaint favorite of time-hallowed corruption.

AN ANTIDOTE TO ANXIETY

(Guelp Herald).
It is characteristic of the Anglo-Saxon race (though not entirely an exclusive possession) that it is able to turn from the writer of war and the nerve-wrecking cautions of modern business, to its games, and it rarely allows anything to destroy the zest with which those games and sports are engaged in.
Rev. John A. Swetnam, pastor of Waterloo street Baptist church, left this morning for Cambridge, Queens County to take charge of a musical programme in connection with the Queens County Young People's rally.

THE JOB

Whether the job be large or small, Splendid or poorly paid; Whether you come at another's call Master or at your trade; Merchant, mechanic, stenographer, clerk, Laborer, salesman, tell— If the work's doing—at all worth doing, It's worth doing well!
Whether the hours be short or long, Lowly or not the work; Whether you're ruled by task or gong, Boss or in waiting on clerk; Whether you labor with joy or awg, Clang of the quitting bell; If the work's worth doing—at all worth doing, It's worth doing well!

Whether the job be large or small, If it's the task for you, Get in your stride, or quit it all, Struggle and strive or do! Honest? Be square! Be not slipshod nor slick; Urging to you, quell! For a job worth doing—at all worth doing, It's worth doing well!

EDMUND LEAMY, in Forbes Magazine, (N. Y.)

LIGHTER VEIN

A Good Beginning.
"What's an ad. 'are you going to burn this winter?' For fear of causing a panic in the business world, we hardly dare to confess that we've already accumulated a pile of 'please renait' that will keep the old barber roaring until well after the holidays.—Buffalo Express.

Vastly Different

A member of the athletic club, after swimming the length of the large tank in the basement of the institution, came out puffing and blowing, apparently exhausted. "You don't manage your breathing right," said the swimming instructor, "it ought not to be the way you're swimming in." "No, sir," gasped the swimmer. "When it comes to saving wood, I use the muscles of some other man."

Just Beginning

Man—"Do you collect pennies?" Teenie—"Yes, sir."

Man—"Well, here are two for your collection. Now, how many have you?" Teenie—"Two."

THEN AND NOW

(From The Telegraph's Report of H. R. McLellan's Speech of April 19, 1922.)

"The question at issue was not the purchase of the assets of the Power Company, but were the citizens to have Musquash power and civic distribution THROUGH A CIVIC PLANT, NOT AN OLD COMPANY one. The matter must be divorced from high finance and convenient legislation."
"The issue was civic control of the Musquash power, and civic distribution WITHOUT TRUCK OR TRADE WITH THE NEW BRUNSWICK POWER COMPANY. That's what we want, and that's what we'll get, Mr. McLellan said."

And today, what says Mr. McLellan? If the McLellan of April and the McLellan of October were to meet today, and either of them had the courage of his "convictions," there would be trouble—sure.

WORLD'S GREATEST RAILWAY DEPOT

"Liverpool Street," London, Handles Seventy-Six Million Passengers a Year.

Seventy-six million passengers, out and in, pass through Liverpool Street Station every year—that makes it easily the greatest station in the world, says the further I went into figures with which the Great Eastern statisticians presented me, the more tremendous Liverpool Street Station grew.
It is one of the most amazing examples of the most common sense in the world, because of the London tradition of hurry and because Liverpool street is more than any, the city's own station, but all its passengers walk in and out at top speed, so that the food, at its morning and evening fullness, produces an actual effect of giddiness if you stare at it long enough.
Apart from clerks in the huge offices which, with their corridors long enough for cycle races, remind one of the County Hall, 873 of the company's staff are required to manage the station.
There are no fewer than 511 men on the platform and station staff 381 handling parcels and 81 booking clerks.
Record Figures.
For instance, the record figures were on that day in 1920, when, apart from season ticket holders there were 32,070 passengers and 19,489 were taken in parcels.
It is heavy going at Liverpool Street Station on all other days, except, perhaps, Sundays. The station covers 16 acres and has 20 roads at its disposal. One of the platforms is 906 feet long, and to deal with the 1,284 trains that are dealt with each day, there are two great signal boxes—the west with 244 levers, and east with 198—and these are magic boxes.
Iron Nerves.
Yet Station Superintendent Joslin, a jolly man, with that same air of solidity which I had noted in the signalmen—very railwaymen would be a public peril—was going about as calmly as if twenty trains an hour, each capable of carrying a thousand people, was rather an idle achievement.
This, too, considering that he and his men have, after that, only a mere 16 other roads to handle.
In came engine after engine, hustling its train, uncoupling itself, while another engine joined up at the other end, putting out into the "dock" then putting back when another train had come in, and hustling off with that.
We hear a lot of American railwaymen, but American experts who stand where I stood exclaimed: "Well, that's taught us something!"
Speed!
"And passengers do ask the most extraordinary questions," he said, "and make the most extraordinary requests. They want you to do everything, from telling them what trains they can catch from Wigan to Putney to minding the perambulator and the baby."
"There was one elderly woman who took a ticket to Globe road, two miles away, and when she had got in a 'non-stop' train to Worton Walsingham, and arrived there, 110 miles away, said: 'I haven't noticed we've come to my station yet!'"
—"W. M." in the London Evening News.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis
Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 139.
RADIO TELEPHONE CIRCUITS.

There are several fundamental circuits for radio telephone transmitters, which vary somewhat in their characteristics and methods of tuning. It is the object of this article to describe the points of difference between some of the most common circuits in a readily understood way. For the sake of clearness the plate circuit with the source of high voltage direct current and the filament battery circuit have been omitted, but both these circuits are connected in the usual way.

Probably one of the most popular circuits employed largely by the amateurs on account of its simplicity and consequent cheapness is the so-called "Hartley" circuit shown in Figure 1. A single inductance coil is required with five clips, two for the aerial and ground and the other for the plate, grid and filament. The circuit is simple to tune and the amount of coupling between the plate and grid circuits is readily adjustable by means of the clips "P," "G," and "A."
Another very common circuit for continuous wave transmission is the "Colpitts" circuit shown in Figure 2. A study of this diagram shows that it differs considerably from the "Hartley" in that the coupling between the inductance coil and the antenna is by means of the condenser, hence it is electrostatically coupled rather than electro-magnetically, as in the circuit shown in Figure 1.
The circuit of Figure 1 may be used without employing any grid condenser, although the radiation may be increased by the use of a condenser and grid leak of proper size.
A transmitting circuit which is coming rapidly to the front is the one shown in Figure 3 and is known as the reversed feed-back. If the ground is connected at point "P" in Figure 1 and the coil bent back at this point so that the lower end of the coil is telescoped into the upper portion, the "Hartley" circuit is converted into the reversed feed-back.
A second coil may be employed in the Hartley circuit to inductively couple the oscillating circuit to the antenna, but the system still remains a "Hartley" circuit. On the other hand, if we take the circuit shown in Figure 4 where there is no direct coupling between the plate and grid although both of these circuits are coupled to the antenna circuit, we have what at first glance appears to be an inductive, but is really a capacitive, coupled "Hartley" circuit. The "Hartley" circuit differs from the circuit shown in Figure 4, since coupling is achieved between the plate and grid circuits in the "Hartley" arrangement by employing a single coil for this purpose, while there is no inductive relation between coils "P" and "G" shown in Figure 4.
Any of the circuits shown and discussed above may be employed for radio telephony using a single five-watt tube or several such tubes in parallel and a suitable modulating system. A potential of about 600 volts usually supplied by a small motor generator set should be employed to furnish energy for the plate circuit. A transformer operated from a sixty-cycle source may be used when the set is to be used for telegraphy, but a rectifier must be connected in the circuit to change the A. C. and D. C. if it is desired to operate on the set while operating from an A. C. source.

The Insanity of Love Letters

(Quebec Telegraph)
—The alleged love letters appearing in some of the American newspapers, that are supposed to have passed between the New Jersey clergyman and the wife of his sexton, whose dead bodies—apparently victims of murder or suicide or both—were discovered recently lying side by side are just as absurd and quite as sickening as those of the humbust and most illiterate lovers.
The New York Tribune discussing these epistolary productions remarks that "volumes of letters passed through the courts year in and year out and we have yet to see one that, when read out in the cold light of day, did not display the same hopeless insanity. Love levels all literary talents, at any rate. There were the Brownings, for instance, who, off the line of their mutual passion, were skilled and admirable craftsmen. The superlative must be that they wrote one another doubtless passed better than would the love letters of a pickle manufacturer in a breach of promise suit brought by a member of a Follies chorus. It had little else to commend it. There seem only two ways to escape these depths of banality. One is not to write love letters at all. The other is to follow the example related in 'The Sentimental Journey' wherein the admirable servant of the traveler produces for his imitation the affectionate letter of the drummer to his corporal's wife. It was not at all applicable to the case in point, but with a few changes it served, and, being based on sound models that had doubtless served many generations of lovers, was couched in excellent and dignified French. The form love letter may seem a reactionary device to a young and active world, but it would certainly protect the reading public from a great deal of trash."
Next to the mild form of idiosyncy that dictates the sending of some of the love missives, that see publicity in the courts or newspapers, is the folly of the recipients in preserving them after they have been read and gushed over, unless Dr. Eschle Leger, the last mentioned, may be they sense their possible usefulness in a future breach of promise case in the courts. What, for instance, just have been the feelings of the young mother who had missed her young hopeful one day for some time, and when he reappeared had asked: "Where have you been, my son?" "Playing postman," replied Willie. "I gave a letter to all the houses in our street. Really, truly, letters, too. Where on earth did you get them? Justified his mother in amazement. "They were those old ones in your bureau drawer, tied up with ribbon. The Telegraph readers have similar bundles of letters without reach of equally bright hopefuls?"
Miss Anna Malfant of Moncton, a contralto singer, passed through St. John this week en route to New York where she will take passage on a steamer for Paris to continue a course of musical studies. She is being accompanied by Miss Laura Gaudet and Dr. Eschle Leger, the last mentioned, may have been read and gushed over, unless Dr. Eschle Leger, the last mentioned, may be they sense their possible usefulness in a future breach of promise case in the courts.

Halifax Detective Centres Berry Inquiry in Guinea

Kennedy Questioning All Inhabitants as to Movements Before and After Time of Murder—The Tramp, Said to Have Been from St. John, is Found Dead.

Clementsport, N. S., Oct. 27.—Official Investigation into the murder of Thomas Berry, an aged farmer, last week, after going ahead for a few days to surrounding districts has centred itself in Guinea. Chief Detective Kennedy of Halifax is calling upon each of the inhabitants of that district to account for his or her movements several days before and after the crime. The detective puts little faith in the theory that the crime was committed by a wandering tramp and also minimizes the idea that robbery was the motive.
He said last night that the murder seemed to have been committed by some one crazed with rage. The body looked, he said, as though it had been brutally beaten after death. He said the case was the most baffling one he had ever been called upon to investigate.

There has been a persistent rumor through the countryside that there is a man missing from the small community. Who he is, white or colored, married or single, where he has gone, how long he has been absent, no clue yet will tell, for no one evidently desires to throw a man under suspicion, when, perhaps, after all, that man is innocent. But the rumor persists just the same.

Stranger Found Dead.

The man who Mrs. Andrews of North Range, near Digby, fed on Saturday, and whom she reported to the authorities on Monday as being a suspicious character, was found dead by children in an outbuilding of a school, at North Weymouth on Tuesday. That avenue, if not the solution of the Berry murder, is closed. Detective Kennedy could find nothing upon him that would identify him in any way with the crime at Guinea. One story is that the tramp had said he had come from St. John.

Mrs. Leander Guy, wife of the negro who first found the body of Thomas Berry lying on the kitchen floor, now says that she heard "chopping of wood" in the Berry yard early on Thursday evening, and after dark. Mrs. Guy mines and forests yielding huge fortunes every year. The picture shows cut naturally attributes that chopping of wood to Thomas Berry—is it possible that what Mrs. Guy heard was the noise of Mr. Berry being done to death by the murderer?

In the meantime the people of Guinea are still going about with hushed breath.
And underneath their hushed demeanor
there is the terrible fear that the mur-derer lives among them, or was one of themselves.

RECENT WEDDINGS
Grant-McClary.
At St. David's church, yesterday at 2.30 p. m., Mary Edna McClary, of Springhill, York county, was united in marriage to Wemyss Fowling Grant, of Kingstons, at present residing at Mc-Adam. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Miller, minister of St.
David's Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Grant will reside at McAdam.

Long-Irvine.
A wedding of interest to many St.
John friends was solemnized in the manse of the First Presbyterian church of Somerville (Mass.) on October 23 when Rev. R. L. Barbour united in marriage, with the double ring ceremony, Christina S., youngest daughter of the late John Irvine and Mrs. Irvine, of Millford (N. B.), to Arthur S. Long, son of A. E. Long, of Cole's Island. Mr. Long formerly lived in St. John.
The bride was attired in a gown of silk crepe-de-chene and georgette, with hat to correspond, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Mrs. Arthur D. MacCavour, who attended the bride, was attired in brown, with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Arthur D. MacCavour, of Boston, formerly of St. John. After the ceremony, the bridal party motored to their future home in Charleston (Mass.), where a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs.
Long have a host of friends who will wish them a long and happy married life.

MENTAL TROUBLE IS BIG PROBLEM

Government Urged to Provide Institution for Feeble Minded.

"There are more beds in this country for people who are mentally sick than for those sick from all other causes," declared Dr. Gordon S. Mundie, of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene, in his address on "Mental Hygiene," given recently at the Child Welfare Exhibit, Montreal.
He added that the machinery at present at their disposal was inadequate to cope with the situation and that the government of Quebec was being asked to assist them in getting more complete equipment.

In commencing, Dr. Mundle explained briefly what was meant by the term
"mental hygiene" and stated that it was only within the past few years that the treating of those mentally ill had been made a scientific study. Insanity, he said, in a large number of cases was curable if taken in the earlier stages, and while complete cures were impossible, "much could also be done for the feeble-minded. They were trying to induce the government to provide an institution for these unfortunate people, and he said "Let them die off, or kill them by some humane method," but that was impossible; they must be cared for and it was the duty of the government to provide such care. The speaker emphasized the fact that the committee had a wide scope. They were interested in the juvenile delinquent, feeling there was a reason for every boy or girl brought before the court. They also took an interest in the young man or woman, a stranger in the city, who began to brood, grew depressed and finally, if help was not forthcoming, perhaps ended in being sent away to an asylum. They were behind the "big sister" movement, providing a "big sister" for all girls who were tending to go downwards. They hoped to also provide "big brothers" for boys. Turning to the subject of immigration, Dr. Mundle said they were urging the government to institute a more strict mental examination. Another need was the organization of public school classes for sub-normal children. Other large cities in Canada had these, but so far Montreal had made no provision for this class of pupil.

PRACTICAL LANDOWNERS

British Gentry Taking More Active Interest in Holdings.

The Prince of Wales has recently made some discriminating purchases of stock for his farm in Devon and Cornwall. These include both rams and ewes of the Kerry Hill (Wales) breed of sheep, of which he is establishing a flock, and some shorthorn cattle, one for which he paid £200.

The close, practical interest which of the latter being a yearling heifer
the Prince is taking in the development of his farm estates is having an excellent effect on British agriculture, practically in its incentive to young men who will one day succeed to great estates to make themselves thoroughly efficient in their management.

At present the great landowners are engaging more actively in agricultural affairs than for long past. The ever-increasing difficulties and obligations of land ownership demand it, and a notable sign of the times is the number of eldest sons of territorial lords who are assuming the practical direction of the home farm and of the agricultural interests in general connected with the family property.

A special committee of the local council of women gave a much enjoyed treasure yesterday afternoon to the boys of the Industrial Home. Mrs. J. D. Seely was convener of the committee and among those taking part in the programme were Mr. Parker, the superin-tendant, Miss Isabelle McBeath, Clinton Regan, Miss Alice Tobin, Mrs. H. B.
Peck, Miss Ethel Cosman and the boys of the institution. An early supper was served by the committee and a thorough good time was spent by the boys and their visitors.

JURY CENSURED BY TORONTO JUDGE

Acquittal on Manslaughter Charge Stirs Indignation - Another, Accused of Bribery, Also Cleared.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—"You have caused the death of the boy. There is absolutely no reason why a death should have occurred. No driver with any kind of care could have been responsible for the death of this youngster. I have no sympathy whatever with you. Fortunately for you the jury has acquitted you and now you are at liberty to go free with the sound in your ears of what I have said to you."

So declared Mr. Justice Lennox with emphasis in the Jury Assizes, when James Blake, charged with manslaughter, arising from the death of eleven-year-old Fred Wenden, who was struck by an automobile driven by Blake, was declared not guilty by the jury. Before dismissing the jurors, whose deliberations occupied several hours, Mr. Justice Lennox said: "Gentlemen of the jury, have you arrived at that conclusion it is not possible for me to find. Personally, I believe judges should speak out on the attitude of juries and the tendency displayed by them in recent years. There must be some reason for the changed condition and it will have to be met. The unsettled conditions following the Great War and the influx of foreigners may account for it."

"Then there is a possibility that the vast amount of propaganda being set forth by this class of the community may be getting too receptive an ear. A few years ago we could anticipate, at least I could, the probable finding of a jury and be sure, despite that sometimes they might be swayed by prejudice, that the verdict would be honestly rendered. That is not the case today in many instances."

As the jurors were about to file out of the jury box, His Lordship remarked: "I will have more to say about juries at this sitting of the Assizes."

Another Acquittal. No sooner had one jury stepped out of the box than another stepped in with a verdict of not guilty in the case of James Bond, who was charged with bribing a police officer. Ordering the prisoner to stand up, Mr. Justice Lennox said: "The jury could have fairly found you guilty and just as fairly not guilty. For the most part it depended on whether you were aware of the position held by the police constables who arrested you. The jury has mercifully accepted that you did not know. If it were known that you were aware of the position held by the police constables who arrested you. The place you were found was no place for a respectable man. If it were known that you were aware of the position held by the police constables who arrested you. The place you were found was no place for a respectable man. If it were known that you were aware of the position held by the police constables who arrested you. The place you were found was no place for a respectable man."

Franklin's Harmonica. One of the most curious musical instruments ever made was a glass harmonica that Benjamin Franklin invented. It was composed of glass discs of different sizes set on a spindle and made by a treadle to revolve in a trough of water.

Launder Your Silk Underwear This Gentle Way It Will Last Twice As Long

Your fine silk things should be laundered immediately after every wearing, and in the very best way. The acids in perspiration attack the fine silk threads and ultimately rot them. Leaving a vest slightly soiled even a single day will cause injury.

Careful cleanings with Lux will make your silks wear twice as long and they will keep their silken sheen, their soft, fine texture.

To launder your dainty silk underthings

Whisk one tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in half a bowlful of very hot water. Add cold water until lukewarm. Dip garment up and down, pressing suds again and again through soiled spots. Do not rub. Rinse in three lukewarm waters. Squeeze water out. Do not wring. When nearly dry, press with a warm iron—never a hot one.

Coloured Silks: Lux won't cause a colour to run if pure water alone won't do so.

Lux stands supreme for washing dainty garments—Sold only in sealed packages—dust-proof!

SAVES LIFE; IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Vienna, Oct. 27.—The courts of Graz in the Austrian Province of Styria have just had to deal with a most extraordinary law suit. A farmer, who went to inspect his field one morning, found a man who had just hung himself on a branch of an apple tree above a road ditch. He drew his knife and cut the rope. The man, who had tried to kill himself, fell into the ditch and soon recovered consciousness. In falling he had broken a leg and had to be taken to a hospital. He was dismissed home after a few weeks, but had hardly regained his liberty when he went to court and sued the farmer who had saved his life for the restitution of the hospital expenses, as, he stated, it was by an unwanted interference of the farmer that his leg was broken.

The first court decided the case in favor of the prosecutor, because it was proved that the farmer had caused the injury by cutting the rope. But the Superior Court quashed the first sentence and acquitted the farmer. Announcing his decision, the presiding judge said that the prosecutor was under no obligation of gratitude, as the farmer had hardly done him a service by recalling him into the wretched existence, which is the lot of so many Austrians nowadays. But from the point of view of a citizen the farmer had acted correctly. It was his duty as a Christian to free the man from the rope. If the peasant had done it in a negligent way he would be responsible for the injury. But such negligence was not proved. It was an impossibility for the peasant to climb into the tree to cut the rope and to stand underneath to catch the man at the same time. The prosecutor can, therefore, not claim any damages.

SUBSTITUTE FOR REFORMATORY

Agricultural and Industrial Settlements Will be Established in Quebec.

Quebec, Oct. 27.—Encouragement to special service workers is given in the Speech from the Throne delivered by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick in opening the session of the legislature today. Intimation is given that legislation will be introduced "to organize agricultural and industrial settlements to take the place of reformatory schools, and to train in agricultural pursuits those who show any disposition to follow them." This is the first step that the government has made towards the prison farm system, and the government is being urged to extend the maximum age for those sent to this new place, 18 being suggested. In conformity with the same idea, Premier Taschereau has given notice of a bill to amend the Juvenile Court Act to prevent the presiding judge must be a magistrate. The amendment will provide that any qualified person may be a judge of the Juvenile Court. It is recognized that to sit in judgment is the Juvenile Court is not a matter requiring a special knowledge, but common sense, and, consequently, such qualified persons will not have to be even lawyers. By means of this amendment it will be possible for two or three persons to be named to provide in the Juvenile Court, each taking turns or dealing with certain classes of cases.

ROTARIANS PLAN WELFARE FARM FOR ERRING BOYS

Prosecuting further its boys' welfare work in Toronto, the Rotary Club announces a project for the establishment of a detention farm for boys at Wilcox Lake. The scheme is in its infancy as yet. It is proposed that the start made this winter will determine the final nature of the new system of dealing with erring lads. It is likely that the Lake Simcoe Ice Co.'s premises on Wilcox Lake will be taken over. This site is of considerable acreage and there is housing accommodation for forty boys. While the farm in a sense will be a detention home where strict discipline will be enforced, the keen edge of that matter will be taken off by the disciplinary schedule which is proposed. Agriculture, of course, will be principal among the various vocations, but for the small boy such delightful training as that of raising rabbits, dogs and other small stock will serve to distract the child's mind from the thought that he is being punished or harshly dealt with for misdemeanors. Should the farm prove successful, it is proposed to establish vocational courses for which special teachers will be provided. A man and his wife will reside permanently on the farm, serving the double purpose of caretaker and governor.

WHIPPED, DROWNS HERSELF Manila Chinese Girl Was Punished for Aping Flapper Fashions.

Manila, Oct. 27.—Wing Ty, a Chinese girl, seventeen years old, committed suicide by drowning herself, according to the police, when her mother punished her for bobbing her hair and cutting her skirts to the height in vogue among the flappers of America.

The sight of her daughter, minus her long black braid and ankle length skirts so enraged the mother that she administered a severe whipping with a leather strap. Wing Ty took her punishment and then jumped into the Lasig River.

ASSAILS PASSION PLAY. Rabbi Calls It an Agency Which Inflames Religious Prejudice.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Dr. Stephen S. Wise of New York, speaking here before a congregation of Jews, assailed the Passion Play of Oberammergau as an agency which inflames religious and racial prejudices against the Jews. Rabbi Wise said he witnessed the revival of the Passion Play after its suspension during the war.

"The Passion Play was first presented by the people of that little German village in 1634—almost three centuries ago," he said. "At that time the Jews of Europe were being widely persecuted. They were pariahs—social outcasts."

"The play reflects the antipathy for the Jew that was so rampant at that time and I hold that its performance is a grave injustice to the Jewish race and only fans the flames of racial and religious prejudice."

A very enjoyable social was held last evening by the members of Waterloo street Baptist church when a special programme was carried out and bounteous refreshments were served by a committee of ladies under the co-operation of Mrs. Parlee, Rev. J. A. Swetnam, the pastor, gave an address of welcome and a musical programme was put on by Miss M. Daley, Mrs. B. Coggan, Miss O. J. Thompson and Miss L. Fanjoy.

WOMEN TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN FOR CHEAPER CURRENT

Ladies' Committees Being Organized from Volunteers in Ranks of Supporters of G. Fred Fisher, the Citizens' Candidate.

Further encouragement for the forces which are supporting G. Fred Fisher, the people's candidate for the mayoralty, is taken from the offer of some of the city's most prominent women to aid in the fight for cheap electricity. Several ladies have already volunteered to assist in the organization work of the campaign and their offer has been gratefully accepted. It is felt that the present fight, affecting as it does the economic operation of practically every household, is one in which the women of the city should be keenly and justifiably interested, and when the final bid is made, it will be found that their votes will assist materially in deciding the issue.

Accordingly there is now being built up a women's committee, which will co-operate with the men's committees in carrying on the good work. The work of organizing the wards is now moving along well, and each evening from 8 o'clock onward, meetings will be held in the Fisher headquarters in Coburg street. A telephone has been installed, Main 4774.

PLAN MARINE RAILWAY AT COURTENAY BAY

St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co. Make Announcement of Importation.

The St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company have had in contemplation for some time the construction of a marine railway in connection with their ship repair operations at East St. John, and they have now made arrangements for the erection of the same on the north side of their dry dock. The foundation work will be started immediately. The railway will be capable of hauling all smaller vessels, tugs and scows, not exceeding 2,000 tons, out of the water, which will enable repair work to be carried on continuously and not be dependent on tide work.

Such a plant would be a great assistance to the dry dock, inasmuch as the dry dock is more suited for the handling of larger vessels.

The machine shop, which will serve for both the dry dock and marine railway, is completed, and the machines are now being installed.

DANCING IN NURSES' HOME

Matter Gets Into Discussion at County Finance Committee Meeting.

The matter of dancing in the nurses' home was one of the subjects that injected itself into the discussion at a meeting of the finance committee of the municipal council yesterday afternoon. The matter came up while a request for the hospital commissioners for money to carry out some improvements was being debated.

The commissioners asked for some $14,000 to remodel the basement of the old boiler house for an out-door department. Warden Thornton opposed the measure at the present time on the grounds that the proposed changes would upset the present heating arrangements at a time when they were needed, and also on the score that the board had incurred heavy expenditures recently, including the work on the epidemic hospital and retaining walls.

Mr. Thornton, referring to the new nurses' home, said that he did not think that the taxpayers had intended that it should be used for dancing. He had heard reports to the effect that dances had been held there as often as once a week. He said that he was not opposed to the nurses having plenty of good recreation, but he thought that, if this was true, it was going too far.

M. E. Agar, chairman of the hospital board, said that the report was news to him; he understood that the nurses had but three dances in the home this year. No action was taken.

A Cedar Chest Is Ample Protection

To pack away garments in one of our Cedar Chests is to protect them from dust and harmful moths.

Government statistics show by actual tests that Cedar Chests really stop the ravages of the moth, the young larvae are killed, and never hatch out to do damage to the articles stored in one of them.

We are now showing a splendid assortment, made of genuine Red Cedar, fragrant and all-protecting. Sizes are plain, some trimmed with copper, various sizes and designs, commencing at $19.80.

A splendid gift suggestion.

STAFFORD SAYS HE WAS NOT NEAR DEPOT

Robert Stafford, charged with assaulting Miss Katie Caplin, took the stand in his own defence this morning. He was represented by J. M. Trueman. He said that he remembered the night of October 16, and that he had been in a pool room in Prince Edward street. The place had been in charge of a man called Johnny. This was about a half mile from the station. He had been there from 7.30 until 11.30 or 11.45, and had not left there in that time. William Clayton and Robert Short had been there also between eight and nine. He had not been near the station that day or night. He did not know where the Grand Central hotel was and had never been in any hotel in Pond street on any occasion.

To Detective Power he said he knew where the Asia hotel was. He had been in Northrup's restaurant in Pond street. He did not know any Mr. Sime. The case was postponed until next Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock.

PUBLIC WORKS MATTERS.

The city public works department has commenced the erection of a wooden bridge and culvert on the Ashburn road near the Three-Mile House, to take care of the water that flows through that district and to improve the highway.

It is hoped before winter to improve the southern entrance to Dufferin avenue by cutting away a part of the stone at the point and widening the roadway, thus making the street easily accessible from both ends. The paving of this street and the laying of concrete sidewalks were recently completed, and at the last meeting of the common council authority was given for the erection of two street lights.

PRESENTATION TO MISS BEYEA

The Willer Workers class of the Tabernacle Baptist church met last night to say farewell to their president, Miss Marjorie Beyea of East St. John, who will leave on the Governor Dingley on Saturday for Boston where she will make her home for a time. Miss Beyea wore to herself a large place in the affections of her class members who on her leaving, were greeted with deep regret by them all. A dainty supper was prepared by the girls and was served by Mrs. A. E. Kierstead, Mrs. H. P. Gardner and Mr. William LaTimer. The teacher of the class, A. E. Kierstead, at the close of the supper, gave a brief address to the effect of the appreciation all felt for Miss Beyea and of their sorrow at her leaving. On behalf of the society he presented to her a folding Brno's camera. Miss Beyea replied modestly and gratefully. After a few remarks by the pastor, Rev. A. I. Tedford, the presentation united in singing, "Best be the tie that binds."

On last Tuesday night friends of Miss Beyea met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Lewis, East St. John, and made her a presentation.

He cited lengthy statistics to show that the Quebec liquor law was preferable to any of the other systems in force in the Dominion.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF YOUNG ICEMAN

Body Found in a Lighted Room—Letters Indicate a Quarrel With Woman.

Glen Cove, I. I., Oct. 27—Puzzling circumstances surround the death here on Sunday of Joseph Mitchell, a youth who delivered ice. His viscera have been sent to a laboratory in New York for analysis because an autopsy failed to clear the mystery.

Mitchell occupied two rooms with a woman who was understood to be his mother. This woman went away about two weeks ago. She is believed to have gone to Suffolk county. Letters found in the rooms indicated that Mitchell had quarreled with a woman who signed herself "Florence" and who begged the boy to take her back, as she was unhappy.

The boy's body was found in bed on Monday when his employers missed him. Lights had been burning since paper. On it was written, apparently in his hand, a "mummy" lullaby in which the Lord's Prayer was interwoven. On the floor near the bed were pieces of candy.

The autopsy disclosed that the stomach apparently had reacted to some irritant. There were signs of a heart lesion, but it was believed that this might have been due to the strain of handling ice.

Death apparently was unexpected; at least Mitchell left no note behind him. The district attorney's office is investigating and hopes soon to learn more about Mitchell from his erstwhile companion.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS IN FORESTRY

Q. What is the latest estimate of the stands of white and red pine in Ontario and Quebec? I saw somewhere that each province contained not less than thirty million feet (30,000,000 million feet) of pine.

A. These figures are a huge exaggeration. Estimates of these most previous of Canadian woods are falling rapidly as exact information becomes more evident. Mr. R. O. Sweeney, a well-known forest engineer, has just issued a statement claiming that Quebec has not more than two and a half billion feet, instead of thirty billions. It is generally accepted that the Ontario pine stands will hardly exceed eight billion feet. Other provinces add little to the total, so that on the basis of these figures, Canada, once the land of "inexhaustible" pine forests, has about fifteen years supply left. This will, of course, be replenished to some extent by the young growth which in many places is abundant.

TO SHOOT SOME SCENES OF "BLUE WATER" IN FLORIDA

It has been found necessary to transport the cast and producing staff of "Blue Water" to Florida to take some scenes for which the local atmosphere is not the proper one. It requires southern atmosphere, hence the journey to Tampa, Florida. The main part of the picture has been completed but there are a few scenes which have yet to be taken. Upon the completion of work in Florida, the directors and camera men will return to St. John and take those scenes which require a little later season for the best effect.

A letter has been received by David Hartford, chief director, with reference to the move to Florida as follows:

"It has occurred to me that moving the "Blue Water" company to Florida may be misinterpreted by the citizens of St. John; in fact, I have been asked a number of times why this move is being made.

"I can only answer the above by saying that in at least twenty-five per cent of the pictures made in California it is necessary to transport the entire company engaged in the production to distant points in order to get proper locations. In a production of a recent picture I built a location at Leadville (Col.) at an expense of more than $10,000 and transported my company and staff from Los Angeles to the Leadville location simply because the particular sequence required scenery which was not obtainable at Los Angeles. In Mr. Wallace's story, "Blue Water," I have written episodes which require southern atmosphere and which could not be obtained except in and about Tampa (Fla.)

"This is no reflection on the weather conditions in St. John any more than if an elevated railway were necessary and I was obliged to move the company to New York or Chicago to secure it. I found excellent locations and atmosphere in and about St. John for the proper pictorialization of "Blue Water" and this city will be referred to in the sub-titles to such extent that it will receive world-wide publicity.

"I sincerely hope that it will be my privilege to return to St. John in the near future to produce another picture."

COUNTY COUNCIL FINANCE MATTERS

The finance committee of the municipal council, in session yesterday afternoon, heard a petition from residents of Simonds for sewers. The matter was referred to the councillors from Simonds for a report.

What causes hangnails?
You need never again have a raw, ragged cuticle

AUTHORITIES agree that hangnails are caused either by neglect or by wrong methods of care. If neglected, the cuticle will grow fast to the nail. As the nail pushes forward, the cuticle stretches until it can stretch no more. Then it splits—and you have a hangnail. Or, if you cut the cuticle with knife or scissors, you are likely to pierce through to the nail root and then you get the same result.

To prevent hangnails, therefore, you must constantly detach the cuticle from the nail—but you must do this without cutting or breaking it, or you will have hangnails just as surely as if you neglected it.

Cutex Cuticle Remover will soften the cuticle, gently loosen it from the nail and take off all hard, dry edges. If you will begin to use Cutex regularly, you will never again have hangnails. Your very first trial will leave your nail rims smooth and even. You will also find Cutex an excellent nail bleach.

WIFE TAKING DRECO

Halifax Man Tells of His Wife's Wonderful Improvement Since Taking the New Herbal Remedy.

Richard Riggs, Purcells Cove, Halifax county, N. S., read about Dreco in the local papers. His wife was in a run-down condition and he determined to try the new herbal medicine. He writes us as follows:

"My wife has been sick since last Christmas Eve. No medicine did her any good. She tried everything for her stomach. She was nervous all the time and could not sleep at night. Gas would form in her stomach after every meal. She had a burning headache most of the time and nothing did her any good until she tried Dreco one week ago. Before she had finished taking the first bottle she was greatly improved, and we are glad to recommend it to all our friends."

It seems every doubt should be removed by now as to whether or not Dreco does what is claimed for it. So many people right in our midst have put it to a test and then speak out publicly and declare it to be the most wonderful medicine they ever took. That is the most convincing testimonial which can be offered by anyone.

Dreco is a liquid extract of roots, herbs, barks and leaves known for their effective action on the vital organs to restore their normal action. Dreco is pleasant to take and prompt to act.

Go today to Ross Drug Co. and ask for Mr. Hanson, the Dreco expert, and let him explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you honestly if he believes Dreco will benefit you.

Dreco is also sold in Moncton by Geo. O. Spencer.

posed by Councillor Thornton. He said that the changes would mean altering part of the present heating system and he thought the season was too far advanced for the work at present.

"The matter of sanctioning the issue of bonds for the erection of a fire station in Fairville was also approved and will be recommended to the council at its meeting on Nov. 3.

The Woes of Having Many Possessions.
(B. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.)
My little boys have just suffered a terrible tragedy. This morning they came rushing to me, crying almost hysterically. During the night dogs had broken into their rabbit house and killed their pets. The little fellows were inconsolable. They assured me that they had looked them up carefully the previous night—which I knew was because I happened to have inspected the place. Their grief probably was intensified because I had told them that if they showed they could look after rabbits properly, I would feel they were fit to have a pony.

What this little boyhood tragedy has brought home to my mind is that possessions bring their responsibilities and, oftentimes, woes. Very small children have few possessions and worry little over them. As we grow up we reach out for more and more things. As men, many of us succumb to the temptation to make the accumulation of possessions our main aim and end in life. The more we acquire, the more interests we pile up, the heavier becomes our burden of responsibilities. The more we have, the greater the room for disappointment, for things going wrong.

How wise we would be to look upon material possession strictly as a means to an end, as a means to the fullest possible development of our better selves.

So Much Depends on the ENTRANCE DOOR which should be of such a character as to reflect welcome, not only to the arriving guest, but to be always attractive to those who use it daily.

AUTO MAKERS BACKING NEW FUEL PROCESS

Ground has been broken for one of the largest and most up-to-date oil refineries on the continent, in Montreal. This is being financed by prominent Canadians associated with a group of Detroit automobile manufacturers headed by Benjamin Briscoe.

These automobiles experts with a group of industrial Canadians have formed the Red Star Refineries Limited with a paid-up capital of $6,000,000, and control the Ramnag process for the refining of petroleum.

It is claimed for this process that a much superior quality of gasoline is obtained than by any of the older processes, and that about double the amount of gasoline is obtained from the crude oil.

Other strong spots were Corn Provisions at 2 1/2, Maxwell Motors, Iron Products, and Reading each up one point.

Montréal, Oct. 27.—(10:30)—Prices generally held up well above yesterday's closing levels. When some of the active issues had registered net gains ranging as high as seven points a fresh supply of stocks came on the market.

PROTEST RAISED AGAINST VICTORY OF BLUENOSE

The Bluenose, Canadian defender of the Fishermen's trophy, emblematic of the International championship, defeated the schooner Henry Ford, United States challenger, yesterday by a margin of seven minutes and fifty-one seconds. She went into the lead at the start of the race and was never headed, outpointing and outstriking her rival. The victory, however, was somewhat marred by two protests made against her by William J. MacInnis, chairman of the American race committee. He claimed that the Canadian boat sailed yesterday without an official observer and used a larger staysail than she had carried in the previous races; secondly, that in the series she used a suit of sails of finer quality than the ordinary fishermen's duck.

NEW CHECKERS CHAMPION.
Boston, Oct. 27. — Asa Long of Toledo, Ohio, won the national checkers championship today by defeating Alfred Jordan, former English champion, in the final round of the fifth American tournament. Long won one game and three were drawn. Long won the Ohio state championship last year.

May McAvoy has one of those roles that all adore. She is sweet, yearning, soulful. Little Pat Moore remarkably fine as the same brother. This led displayed emotional ability that few adult stars ever manage to offer. Mary Jane Irving, another kiddie, was equally good. In fact these two children are as neat examples of what can be taught to youthful actors as one could possibly find. U. S. TO RELEASE THE BRITISH SCHOONER EMERALD
Washington, Oct. 27.—Release of the Canadian schooner Emerald, seized by prohibition officials last week, eight miles off New York, was forecast yesterday by high treasury officials.
While they still awaited a final report on the seizure against which the British government has protested, officials said preliminary investigation indicated that there was not sufficient evidence of intent to violate the U. S. prohibition law to warrant the hold of the craft.
Some damage was done to the st. in the Royal Pharmacy yesterday by a water pipe between the ceiling of pharmacy and the second floor of Royal Hotel sprang a leak.
