THE FATHERLAND

Resume of Events of Last Week Throughout the German Empire.

Emperor William Spends a Busy Time Flitting From Town to Town.

Berlin, Oct. 21.-The feverish activity of Emperor William was never better exemplified than during the last week. The early part was occupied with flitting from town to town, attending diverent ceremonies, while he has been, during the latter part of the week, engaged movements was especially shown at the beginning of the week. He spent Sunday at Friederichsruhe, the castle res:dence of ex-Empress Frederick. Monday he arose at an early hour and started for Darmstadt, to visit the grand ducal family. On Tuesday he went to Wiesbaden to unveil the statue of his grandfather, William I., and to open the new royal theatre at that place. After a busy day there, he travelled by special trains and arrived in Berlin in the morning, in order to take part in the ceremony of mailing to the staffs the 132 flags destined for the new fourth battalion of imfantry. Another couple of busy days followed, including the interesting ceremony of blessing and present-

At moon to-day the emperor received a deputation from the Farmers' Alliance of East Prussia. His majesty was attended by Count Eulenberg, president of the council of ministers; Dr. von Lucanus, chief of the emperor's civil cabinet, and Herr Heinrich von Leyden-Cadow, the minister of agriculture. After listening to the spokesman, the emperor made a reply. He expressed his

The conference broke up with the ministry in discord. Since then Emperor William has brought his nfluence to bear, and the dispute was patched up. But Caprivi is still, to some extent, at variance with the Prussian premier, and inclined to resign the chancellorship rather than submit to the reichstag measures with which he has no sympathy himself and which, moreover, he is convinced the reichstag would not accept. Eulenberg, who has the countenance of the emperor, is credited with most comprehensive basis, including a revision of the election laws excluding unfit persons from the polls and raising the voting age, in addition to placing a restriction on the constitutional rights of Vorwaerts, threatens that the party will become out and out antigovernmental at the elections for the diet s well as for the reichstag. Hitherto the socialists have refrained from active interference in the diet elections.

TERRIBLE FLOODS IN CHINA.

How Great Was the Loss of Human Lives Will Never Be Known.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The steamer City of Pekin brought news of a terrible flood in China. When the rains ceased the waters covered a space of the best agricultural land 150 miles long by from 10 to 30 miles wide. The loss was ormous, and in regard to human life the North China Daily News says: "How great was the loss of life caused by the flood will never be known. How many were drowned, how many killed by fall ing houses and what number perished in the attempt to save something of their household effects of these there will be report. Accounts of couriers being lost are coming in, of families tying themselves together lest they should be separated, and so perishing; of some driven from the first to the second story by the rising waters, engulfed by buildings falling upon them, and of others attempting to dip water from the torrent and being carried away by its flood. The loss of life has fallen mainly on women and children, as was to be expected. The those shut up in their village homes, as upon islands, but the relief will be inufficient except for a short time.

"The query whether this great disaster may not be a blessing to the nation is, as announced, the Japanese attempt to make the country round Tientsin the seat of war, since it might happen with them as with the Tai Ping rebellion in 1853-4, the proposed seat of war being too wet to sit down on."

Gompers and Powderly Attacked by Speakers and Writers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—The national organ of the Knights of Labor, as well as the speakers of the organization, are pouring hot shot into President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and Past General Master Workman Powderly because the former in a recent speech said that the late railroad strike was a little hasty and petulant, and because Mr. Powderly at the same meeting said that it was a bad strike, the great sugar strikes at Washington. The organ of the Knights wants to know what these men mean by animadverting upon men who bravely took up a fight in which they participated so long as leaders, and declares that the American Railway Union took up the cudgels for outraged humanity in the face of greater difficulties than either of these two leaders dared to face. It is declared that Gompers never led any strike, and that therefore his courage has never been tested. The attacks of the Knights upon Gompers and Powderly are likely to be resented by the members of the American Federation of Labor, as well as by that portion of the Knights of Labor that still remains loyal to Mr. Powderly. In the latter connection it is said that the ex-General Master Workman has received no less than fifteen requests from as many district assemblies for permis sion to include his name among their delegates to the next meeting of the general assembly, and which opens in New Orleans early in November.

Striking Cloakmakers Attack and Beat Men in Brooklyn.

New York, Oct. 22.—The striking cloakmakers of Brownsville, as part of the 26th street ward of Brooklyn is called, expressed with revolvers yesterday afternoon their determination to accept nothing but unconditional surrender by their former employers to their demands. Five of the riotous strikers are looked up and will be brought up for trial to-day. Bullets flew thick and fast for several minutes, but all went wide of the mark. Brownsville's population includes many of the striking cloakmakers and now that they have nothing but a grievance to occupy their attention they spend the greater part of their days and evenings in the streets talking of their adamantine employers. There was a large gathering of malcontents in the vicinity of Eastern Parkway and Stone avenue yesterday afternoon. Their discussion had become very animated, when George Schoen, of 182 Garfield Place, Brooklyn, who is employed by the Cloak Manufacturers Association of this city, approached the men, who were the leaders of the disputants, and urged them to return to work at the old rates and to urge their friends to do the same. When his mission became known the strikers was furious and there was in a second every prospect that Schoen's life would soon

Two of the strikers leaped on Schoen and began beating him. Schoen strug gled for a while and then began shooting. THE VICTORIAN SITUATION.

The Colonist makes an exceedingly. clumsy attempt to ridicule our conclusion that the freedom of trade idea is gaining ground in Victoria colony because in the of over seven millions in our trade recent election the party with which in three months is certainly not encourthe free trade and tariff reform groups aging. We may also observe that the allied themselves was victorious. It professes to find in this a want of logic, and it advances this very peculiar argu- so the tariff revision has not been so ment on its own side:

the issue was the acceptance or a reject ple, in fact, feel too poor to buy as tion of a railway scheme. Would the circumstance of the free traders voting on one side change the issue from one of railroad or no railroad to that of free minister be able to meet this falling off trade or protection. According to our in the revenue? contemporary's logic it would-and it is strong on logic.

While it is perfectly plain to all people that the raising of a revenue and the framing of a tariff have a very intimate connection, there is nobody outside of the Colonist office who would see any such commissioner of lands and works: connection between the framing of a tariff and the building of a railway. The assumption that there is argues not only want of logic but want of common torian free traders find Mr. Turner's proposed method of treating the finances more favorable to their side of the tariff istry, else they would not have supported Mr. Turner's party. It is equally evident that the success of that party meant to a certain degree the success of the free trade idea. There is more than this, however. The Turner party decidedly favors Australian federation and complete free trade between the colonies, and that measure of free trade would doubtless appear well worth contending for. Further, the most strongly protectionist members of the Patterson ministry were defeated, a circumstance that is not without significance. We respectfully call the Colonist's attention to this portion of the London Times' comments on the result of the elections:

The late parliament included in its political groups a moderate body who have shown themselves wisely prepared to place tariff questions in their proper rank as secondary to the urgent need to re- paid, shall not pay such balance, the establish the finances of the colony on a chief commissioner of lands and works of the vatican, which advises with the best hope of finding a satisfactory solution for it lies, no doubt, in some amalgamation of the moderate views of both parties. It is difficult to believe, in the face of the experience of the last few years, that a reversion to the principle at law or in equity to the land so parof protection, pure and simple, can be The revenue yielding effect of the lower customs duties of New Zealand and New South Wales can hardly be disregarded by a treasurer casting ing "a gigantic bluff" on the New Denabout him for the means of balancing his budget. The average New Zealand tariff is 15 per cent, lower than that of Victoria. It vields in revenue £1 2s. 2d. per head of population more than that of If we calculate this increase as applied to the existing population of Victoria, the result is an extra £1.300,-000 per annum. Had the Victorian treasurer collected that sum in the last financial year, the deficit of £665,338 would have been converted into a surplus of almost the same amount.

This latter consideration is a most important one for Canadians. The Liberals say a lowering of the tariff would tend to improve, not impair, the revenue, while it would lessen the unjust tribute now paid to the favored few. The experience of New Zealand and Victoria most forcibly bears out this contention.

"ECONOMIZING."

Finance ministers are naturally optimistic, and therefore it is not surprising to find Mr. Foster reported as talking in this way to a London interviewer:

"We are satisfied with the general outlook in Canada. We are coming through the depression more satisfactorily than most countries. This is evidenced by the trade returns. The tariff changes certainly were framed to encourage British trade. The fact that British exports to Canada declined is owing to the general tendency to economy and curtailed purchases, which is one of the most notable features of Canadian life just now. Moreover Canada yearly increases her own manufactures. It is emphatically true that Canada desires to strengthen her trade relations with the United Kingdom, the Australian and other colonies. The Ottawa conference emanated from that wish and developed a strong pro-English sentiment. Doubtless the tendency is to look away from the States, although our attitude to them is perfectly friendly. The Behring Sea arbitration happily removed the most debateable question. The tariff changes in both countries must help the interchange of trade and virtually constitutes a reciprocity treaty. Canada has responded as far as possible to every lowering of the United States duties."

Mr. Foster seems to have a little overdone the optimistic business, as the people of the country for which he is supposed to speak will be apt to testify of their own knowledge. Alongside his report of Canadian affairs appears this Ottawa paragraph, giving the results of the last three months' trade: "The trade returns for the quarter are not encour- upon the greater volume for the sake of Detroit Free Press.

As the Slocan Times puts it, this looks as though the department of lands and works had been tryver owners. Was the ex-commissioner making one of his usual blunders when the notifications were sent out, or is the government so very hard up that :t has decided to try a little sharp practice on the purchasers of New Denver le's? One or the other seems to have been the case, unless there is some special provision in the act making the section quoted inapplicable to this particular purchase. Even in that event it would look not a little strange to find the government pressing the purchasers so close-

> ELEVATION OF SATOLLI. Nothing As Yet Definitely Decided Upon.

Rome, Oct. 19.-Information from the vatican makes it possible to give details about the cardinalate to be given Mgr. Satolli and the retirement of Mgr. Satolli's secretary, Father Papi, from the vatican staff in order to join the Jesuit order. There have been denials of the report of Father Papi's move, but the facts are now learned beyond question. Four months ago Father Papi applied here for his exeat. The request was very broad, and contemplated a retirement from official connections with the vatiean's foreign service and the prospective honors it had in store for him. It was made known that he desired to retire from the world and devote his life in the Jesuit order to study and teaching. To this end he applied to the provincial of the Jesuit order in New York for admission, and on the granting of his exeat here he would have been transferred. The plans were modified, however, by the premature reports of Father Papi's intention. It was felt also, by those having the Jesuits' interests at heart, that the accession of Mgr. Satolli's secretary to the Jesuits might arouse criticism, on the ground that the one best informed of the confidential transactions of the ablegate had joined an order popularly supposed to be opposed to Mgr. Satolli. While this criticism would be groundless, pay to the chief commissioner of lands it was deemed advisable to avoid the possible cause of a "Jesuit trick." For this reason, it is believed, the New York provincial will advise Father Papi wait a year or two before making his which time Father Papi's confidential relations with Mgr. Meantime there are seven names under consideration, from which number it is considered certain that the cardinals will be named. Mgr. Satolli among the seven. There are no further American names among those under consideration. It is said the conferring of the red hat on Mgr. Satolli will be celebrated at Cardinal Gibbons' church in Baltimore, and that several noblemen of high rank and distinguished prelates will go from here as the personal representatives of the pope. There is a doubt yet as to whether Mgr. Satolli's cardinalate will carry jurisdiction over a diocese, or will be purely honorary. Cardinal Gibbons is also archbishop of the Baltimore diocese, including Virginia, Maryland and the district of Columbia, which makes him a prominent as well as an honorary prelate. Whether a diocese will be created for the new cardinal is still undetermined, but it is probable that his jurisdiction over questions between bishops and priests and as equivalent to a diocese. Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The renewed reports that Mgr. THE MILITIA FIRED.

Washington Court Flouse, O., Oct. 18. Although Jasper Dolby, colored, pleaded guilty to outraging Mrs. Mary C. Boyd, in order to be rushed off to the penitentiary for protection, he did not get started in advance of the indignant obs. People were swarming into the town all day. The sheriff could not get from the jail to the depot after the prisoner had been sentenced.

Spectators.

A little after six o'clock the first rush was made on the court house. A crowd of determined men attempted to break in the south door, while another party charged on the militia at the north door. Some one threw a stone at Colonel Colt, and he cried out that at the next stone thrown he would order his men to fire. The crowd at the door were unable to effect an entrance. The court yard by this time was filled with people, and cries, "Give us the nigger!" and curses against the militia filled the air. The crowd grew in size every minute. Col. Colt made a speech asking the crowd disperse, but it was received with jeers. The prisoner was prostrated with fear, and lay crying and moaning. Up to this time Dolby and his guards had been kept prisoners in the court yard by the mob, which then made an attack. The militia replied to them without firing at first, but another onslaught was made and the south door was forced

Upon the firing the mob dispersed in all directions, but soon gathered again. Immediately all places of business in the city were shut up. Mayor Creamer peremptorily closed all places where liquors were sold. Every street was filled with people. No time was lost in carrying away the dead and wounded.

Business houses and the engine house were converted into hospitals. All the surgeons in the city were called into ser vice. Mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts crowded around the dead and wounded, and added fire to the rage of the mob by their lamentations.

The feeling against the military is bitter, vicious and vehement. It pervades all classes. As time passed the mob size and fury. All over the graph wire, the news was spread. Everybody was in the street, and all were members of the mob as far as personal feeling was concerned. Going to England in Reference to the Men moved about as if bent on business, but said nothing. There is no doubt of purpose to blow up the court house. Of this the military are aware.

Dolby's crime was committed one week ago at Parrott's station. Mrs. Mary C. Boyd, aged 55, was his victim. He was brought into court at 4 o'clock this afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to twenty years in the penitenti-ary. An angry mob gathered about the jail yard yesterday afternoon, after Dolby had been identified by his victim, and Sheriff Cook called to his assistance the local militia company. This action ineased the fury against Dolby, and Gov. McKinley was appealed to for additional assistance, and troops from Columbus were sent here this morning. Colonel Colt was in command. The mob surrounded the jail and court house, attempting to take Dolby from the officers when he was removed from the jail to he court house for trial, but they were kept at bay by the use of bayonets and clubbed guns. Henry Kirk, brother-inlaw of the assaulted woman, was thrown down the steps of the court house and adly bruised. Another man was bayoneted through the finger, while a bayonet guarded the prisoner in the court room. Dolby cried like a baby and kept looking around for help. Soldiers were marchgrand jury room. ANOTHER SEVERE STORM. Newfoundland Coast Visited by a Storm

Accompanied by Floods. St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 18.-Another severe storm swept over the coast last night, accompanied by rain and floods. The storm has not abated yet. All the shipping in the harbor is tied up, it being impossible for any vessel to move. At the height of the storm the schooner Henrietta broke from her moorings and in the cars and were carried to the union collided with other vessels in the harbor, damaging them in various ways. No reports are yet available from the outports, but it is believed that the south coast suffered considerable damage. Wife of a Chicago Millionaire Charged With Jury Bribing.

Chicago, Oct. 18.-Mrs. Warren Springer, wife of the Chicago millionaire, was indicted this afternoon for attempting to bribe the jury during the trial of a suit for condemnation of some of her husband's property brought by the Metropolitan Elevated road. The witnesses before the grand jury, on whose testimony the indictment was found was George W. FOUR WERE KILLED.

Result of a Mob's Attempt to Lynch a Negro.

Washington Court House, O., Oct 19. This place is as quiet as though rioting and bloodshed had never been seen within its borders. The withdrawal of the last detachment of soldiers acted like a soothing potion upon the halfcrazed people. William Samm died toretreat and many men were cut and night, which increases the list of killed to four. Theodore Ammeran is dying, and F. L. Nitterhouse can hardly survive until morning. Little George Keating, whose injuries were thought at first to be surely fatal, may recover, but he will be horribly maimed. The feeling against Colonel Colt and his troops was so intense this morning that had they remained in town further rioting and bloodshed could not have been avoided. Charges will be preferred against him by responsible citizens, and a court martial will be asked. Indignation against Sheriff Cook is as fierce as against Colonel Colt. Leading Republicans are circulating petitions asking for Cook's removal from the Republican ticket, upon which he is a candidate for re-election. It is believed that there would have been no trouble whatever had the militia not been called out. No words in defence of the guards who fired last night can be heard. They shot without warning into a public street crowded with people, most of whom had been called out by an alarm of fire and were returning home. When it broke out the streets were comparatively deserted, and not more than 150 people were about the court house. The fronts of buildings facing south from the court house show the results of the fusilade in broken glass and shattered masonry.

Twenty-four people were wounded, and among them were two women. One boy was killed outright, four men have since died of their injuries and three more are fatally hurt.

Columbus, Oct. 19.-Jasper Dolby, the negro sentenced at Washington Court House to twenty years' imprisonment for criminal assault on Mrs. Mary C. The prisoner was taken from the train at Dennison avenue and walked to the prison. The military remained station.

A reporter who came with the train says that after midnight things quieted down. The citizens had nearly all gone home, yet many people stood on neighboring corners until a much later hour discussing the affair. The Weekly Times WAS A GREAT CAME

Victoria, Friday, October 26. TUPPER'S MISTAKES.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper has succeeded once more in waking up the wrong passenger. In his letter to Col. Prior he most desperately fell foul of Thomas Ladner under the impression that it was he who presented an address to Mr. Laurier, while it happened to be his brother. This rather amusing blunder would teach anybody else than Tupper a little as to the value of discretion in handling this subject of the Fraser fisheries, but that gentleman seems to be above taking a lesson. His blunder has had the effect of drawing a letter from the gentleman whom he mistakenly and insultingly attacked, which seems all the more severe from being mild in tone. We voired the Royal City team, being Maindo not know how Sir Charles will be able to meet this arraignment from Mr.

Then, about those unanswered telegrams, it would have greatly simplified matters had Sir Charles told us what telegrams he replied to, for it is generally accepted by the public, that, for all practical purposes, those telegrams were not answered, and if Sir Charles peruses the local newspapers, as he tells us he does, he could not fail to have noticed the many adverse criticisms directed against his department for keeping canners and fishermen in continued suspense. Why, right up to the last moment the inspector of fisheries in New Westminster had received no instructions as to whether the sockeye season was to be extended or not. On August 26 (season closing August 25), I waited in New Westminster all day, thinking that the reply telegram might have been accidentally delayed, and believing from my personal knowledge of Sir Charles that he However, Referee Quigley, on Saturday could not have been so discourteous as to refuse an answer to all the telegrams

Victoria Defeats Westminster in the Final Lacrosse Match Played at Vancouver.

Darkness Intervenes But Not Before Victoria Had Secured a Good Lead.

Although the referee has not yet given his decision in their favor-which he no doubt will do-the Victoria l'acrosse team are justly entitled to the title of "champions for 1894." At the Brockton Point grounds, Vancouver, on Saturday afternoon, they met and vanquished the team from New Westminster, who have been their most formidable opponents during the season just closed. There were over 5000 people present and although a majority of them naturally falanders, there were very few to be The match, it is true, was not finished, the umpires declining to act any longer on account of the darkness. The score at the time was three to two in favor of Victoria. It was no fault of the Victoria men that they were overtaken by darkness, as they were on the ground ready to play at 2 o'clock as agreed, while the Royal City men did not arrive until 3:15 and then managed to delay the game for another half hour, because one of their men had not arrived. On these grounds Victoria has formally claimed the match and cite as a precedent the decision in the Capital-Shumrock match which decided the eastern championship last year. Like Saturday's match one of the eastern teams did not arrive on the grounds on time, and darkness overtaking them the match was given to the team that was there on time. evening, told Captain Mackenzie of the Victoria team, that if he could produce telegrams or letters that Westminster agreed to start the game at 2 o'clock, Those telegrams are forthcoming so the enthusiasts can yell Rah! Finally at 3:15 the Royal City bus drove into the grounds. The Victoria team who by this time had returned to the club house, came out on the field again and were given an ovation, but they still had a long wait be-fore them. Ryal, Wesiminster's star with the team, and Gow, the captain of the team, being afraid to start without him, filled in the time until his arrival by refusing to agree upon a referee. He suggested as referee C. B. Lockhart, who he knew the Victoria captain would not accept under any circumstances. Mr. Mackenzie had spent several hours in New Westminster the day before, trying to decide upon a referee but they would not meet him. Gentlemen from Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster used their influence with Captain Gow to have him accept E. A. Quigley, who all admitted was best fitted for the position, but Gow would not and seemed as well satisfied with Mr. Quigley as anyone. It was shown durrough play being forbidden. Spain and Cambridge were responsible for all blows, the former being particularly rough. It, however, spoiled any chance they had for the game, breaking up the combination that had been working well previous to this and placing the other members of the team at a disadvantage as the Victoria defence saw what they had to con-tend against and acted accordingly, keeping the ball in the field and using listen to anyone until a cab drove into their bodies when it came to close quarthe grounds with Ryal. NANAIMO.

Nanaimo, Oct. 19 .- While discouraging news is brought to the city, of poor times in other mining towns, it is fortunate that matters are not so bad in Nanaimo. Operations in the coal mines could be better, but there is no reason to complain. The present month promises to be a big one and the New Vancouver Coal Company's pay roll will be large in consequence. There are quite a number of men out of employment and are looking anxiously forward to other parts of these mines being developed, so they may be taken on. The sports of Victoria Crescent have arranged another match between John Mason and J. R. Wray, for a hundred yards dash. The stakes this time will be $30 a side and the side betting promises to be heavy. Mason gets five yards start.

THE TURE COMING WEST.

New York, Oct. 22.-Only a few weeks remain for the harness horses to race on this side of the Rocky cific coast offers inducements that the east ern trainers are beginning to realize more fully and there is a strong prospect of a general exodus to California, to follow the close of the active campaign on this side of the continent. This will, of course, be confined to the crack stables, which either contain champions at present, or have the material for record breaking in the future.

The immediate cause of this desire to pass the winter on the sunny slope is the marked and continued success of Monroe Salis bury. This experienced breeded makes his home in the Southern part of California, at Pleasanton, where he spends the closing veeks of each year and the early months of the succeeding one, in preparing his annual tour for the summer and fall circuits in the east. It is understood that, after exhausting all the available time for spec ial matches and exhibitions on this side of the mountains, Alix will be taken to Cali fornia. Directum will, of course, go back to his native state, and the two greates trotters should draw immense crowds at San Francisco, Los Angeles and other rac ing centres along the Pacific coast. The Illinois trainer, M. E. McHenry, who has the lightning pacer, John R. Gentry, believes that a winter in California will bene fit the champion stallion. He will probably go there soon after the meeting at Louis ville, where John R. Gentry is Robert J. It will be remembered that Gold smith Maid, Raras, Harry Wilkes and other eastern bred trotters, took kindly to the climate and pure air of California, and there is no reason why the latter generation should not be similarly benefitted by a transcontinental trip and sojourn in that land.

HALF MILE RECORD. The last number of the Breeder and Sportsman says, Quirt's half mile heat record of 0:47 1-4, 0:47 1-2 took the place of the world's record, held jointly, of Eclipse Jr., and Bogus 0:48. 0:48. The first named however, ran three heats in 0:48. Quirt's ers from the different church choirs will be asked to give their assistance. Mr. Barber is of the opinion that there is sufficient talent in the city to build up Presbyterian church but this will not prevent him from carrying out his views. To the Editor:-Explaining econom truths to people pecuniarily interested in matics to a horse simply a waste of time. But when the editorial columns of a newspaper are assiduously employed in the discreditable task, of misleading its readers upon vital questions affect ing their welfare the trick should be promptly exposed. In the Colonist of Thursday, under the head of "The Price," the economic acrobat undertakes to explain to his readers the meaning of Free Trade to Canada, in the follow ing choice extracts:

"In the first place free trade means exposing the manufacturers of Canada to unlimited foreign competition. It means that this country will be made the slaughter market for the protected goods of the United States, France and Germany, and the cheaply produced goods of Great Britain. Is it to be expected for a moment that the manufactures of Canada, which have been during the last sixteen years built up with so much care, can withstand this flood of foreign competition? Free trade for Canada means the ruin of nearly all its

"Then free trade means the sacrifice of the greater part of the customs revenue. If we are to have English free trade, customs duties sacrificed, must be raised by new taxes of one kind or another. Are Canadians ready to submit to an income tax, to a stamp tax, to land and other direct taxes in order that they may have English free trade? This is certainly part of the price which they must pay for that trade policy. They must sacrifice their manufacturing industries, which sacrifice involves many other sacrifices, and they must submit to burdensome direct taxes, which will not even indirectly or incidentally help trade internal or external." The protectionists of Canada are not afraid of either France or Germany (with whom we have very little trade) nor are they really very much afraid of the United States. It is the cheap and good commodities of the old country they are desirous of excluding. Free trade far as social amelioration is concerned does not mean the destruction of manustock in 1892, opened at 132 and rose in that year alone to 226, nearly one hundred per cent. increase in the value one of their own sex in garments of in- was watered to the extent of $90, or 90 per cent., and that watered stock stands Cured by Dick's Blister.

to-day at 146. Is this a legitimate business? Besides these enormous profits which the tariff enables the concern to steal from the people, it made a clear million dollars last year simply by the fall of raw materials, and from which the people failed to receive a penny's worth of benefit. Is this the sort of a swindle the Colonist is anxious to perpetuate? Take the iron monopoly. The duties were enormously increased in 1887 by Sir Charles Tupper (who is reported to be largely interested in the Londonderry mills) but in spite of a duty averaging 70 per cent. there is no practical increase in the output. Staffordshire crown bars are quoted in Liverpool at £5 17s. Od. ton, while bar iron made in Canada (an inferior article mostly manufactured from scrap) sells at $46 per ton. The combine fixes the prices, and as usual fleeces the people to the full extent allowed by the duty of 70 per cent. ad valorem and specific. The entire con cern only employs 831 men. These roll ing mills employing 831 men are manu facturing bars from imported scrap and are charging the people of Canada the price of Staffordshire bars, plus 50 per cent. Is this the kind of swindle the Colonist is afraid will go to the wall under free trade? There are many others of the same sort. The Consumers' Cordage company is an American con cern, of which Mr. John Fitzwilliam Stairs, M. P. for Halifax, is the manager in Canada. A few years ago Mr Stairs was a poor man operating a rope walk in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. Mr. Stairs carried Halifax and had the Dominion government place a prohibitory duty upon binder twine and cordage To-day Mr. Stairs is a millionaire. Where did he get his money? Out of the people, of course. Still the Colonist would have the swindle continue. "If we are to have English free trade fourteen millions must be raised by direct taxation." Admitting the Colonist's figures to be correct, the payment of fourteen millions under an equitable form of direct taxation is infinitely to be preferred to the present system, which robs the people of $78,000,000 by indirect taxation. Is it not clear that the people would save $64,000,000 annually by the arrangement? And the cotton combine, the iron combine, the cordage combine, and the many other combines would, like other people, have to be content with a modest 8 per cent. or so of profits. I say that the Canadian people are ready to submit to any form of taxation which will end the system that robs them of $78,000,000 per year for the enrichment of powerful and grasping corporations which have the government

"It must be remembered that the introduction of free trade will not give the and graziers have now will be the only markets they will have then. The home market, owing to the loss or the great diminution of the manufacturing industries, will not be as good as at pres-

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT. To the Editor:-In the past for a small consideration our citizens at the Mechanics' Institute had access to a library of many excellent volumes, besides the cal journals, the London Evening Mail, Pall Mall Budget, Weekly Dispatch, etc., etc., and more especially the magazines and reviews of the mother country, the emanations of the master minds of the age, with their admirable adaptations to expand the mind, and in colonial life to prevent it becoming parochial and circumscribed. What a contrast does this present exhibit to that past! Doubtless commendable efforts with the limited means available are being made to cause the public library to meet present intellectual requirements, but in this age of progress-in this age of which the manufactures and all that ruin involves. late Lord Brougham spoke of as "the schoolmaster being abroad"-how this present suffers in comparison with the past. It suffers also in comparison with the appetite that formerly prevailed for intellectual gratification. In the past public lectures would bring a satisfactory and appreciative audience-at the present time lectures are at a discount

With a heavy demand upon the public revenue for support of public schools, there never in the meantime in our c.ty was a less desire for intlictual enjoy ment. Nothing is more illustrative of the change that has come over the city than the encouragement given to the sensational character of theatrical entertainments with its pictorial representations of men in all sorts of attitudes, and stage ladies in unbecoming costumes. Such representations are a positive 'affront to a community with any pretensions to intelligence. Notwithstanding our elaborate system of public schools, our formidable array of churches, not forgetting the Y. M. C. A., the W. C. T. In Germany if ten horses are entered in race there are ten judges. In fact, there s always a judge for every horse. Then their races are all handicaps, says Trainer B. Tappan. Suppose a 2:40 class is called. Any horse can enter, but if he has a better for every second better. And the betting is entirely different. There are no auctions, but all mutuals. These range anywhere from 10 to 50 marks, and I have see 000 bet on mutuals in one day. American horses are getting very popular over there. They are by far the best horses on the German tracks, and this fact is caused in a large degree by a new rule adopted. All horses must start from the 2:25 mark. record or no record. This is done to get a better class of horses, and then the Germans don't care whether the Americans "ring" them or not. They admit that the Yankees are too smart for them, and this rule is adopted for home protection.

THE TOILERS OF THE SEA.

Terrible Experience of a Boat's Crew From the Sealing Schooner Fawn.

At Sea in an Open Boat for Five Days, and Three Without Food or Water.

Th seading schooner Fawn, Captain Keefe, arrived home from Behring sea at noon to-day with a catch of 1550 sealskins, 464 of which were taken in the sea and the remainder on the Japanese coast early in the season. Three of her men, Mate J. F. Noal and Seamen O'Toole and Lovely, will have very good cause to remember the season of 1894 in Behring Sea. They were lost from the schooner on Saturday Aug. 11, spent five days on the open sea in a cockle-shell of a boat, tossed and driven about by storms and gales, and were for three of the five days without food or drink. That they escaped death is wonderful. They left the schooner on Saturday, Aug. 11, and the observations of the day showed that they were in latitude 57:50 north and longitude 173:03 west, a point to the westward of the islands. That day a fog settled down about them, and all attempts to locate the schooner were fruitless. That night it came on to rain, and the wind began to blow from the southeast. There was nothing to do but run before it. The weather got very rough, and nearly every sea threw its spray over the boat, wetting the men to the skin. Mate Noal finally decided to unship the mast and use it for a drag to steady the boat. This was done and it was made fast astern. The boat ran seventy miles to the northwest before the gale subsided. The lunch box was empty on Saturday night, and on Sunday morning a crust of bread and water was all the men had. Then the water gave out and Monday morning found them famished with hunger and burning with thirst. Monday morning a sea bird was caught and Noal managed to set fire to the flooring of the boat, but they did little more than warm the meat of the bird. The meat was heartily enjoyed, however. They had a compass aboard, and when the wind subsided made sail to the southeast, hoping to make the islands Tuesday. They could resist the thirst no longer, and scooping up the salt sea water took long, deep draughts of it. They paid for their folly, for it only intensified their sufferings. After that, by the advice of Noal, they only dampened their lips and tongues. They had had of the story being highest art, its fluent two seals on Sunday, but lost them, or evolution and absence of emotional crises they would have had plenty of meat.

Tuesday slowly dragged through, and

They could not live much longer without food, and felt that there was little hope for them ever being rescued or reaching land. No one had slept, and the watch Tuesday night was a terrible vigil. Wednesday was foggy, and they hardly knew where they were. They were making fair progress, holding the boat pointed to the southeast. At 5 that evening the fog lifted and right in plain sight ten miles to leeward were the bold outlines of St. George's Island. The men could hardly credit their senses. But their struggles were not over. The wind and tide were against them and, weakened as they were, they made very little progress rowing. They did tittle more than hold their position, and it was two o'clock next afternoon before they crawled out of the boat on to the beach. Two more seabirds fell victims. huge crackling fire was made, the birds were properly dressed and cooked and the three castaways had a feast. They then rested and that night slept on board the United States cutter Corwin. On the latter they were kindly cared for and taken to Unalaska, where they were placed on the Pheasant. The latter vessel took them out and put them on the Mate Noal laughed a quiet laugh when a Times man talked to him this afternoon. Said he: "It would have been all right if we had anything to eat, or even if we had fresh water. It is terrible to be hungry but worse to be thirsty. It rained the first night, but there was so much salt spray in the air that it spoiled any we tried to catch. I was pretty well pleased when St. George's Island loomed up out of the fog. In another hour we would have been past it and would have had to go 150 miles farther to the next land. I do not know whether or not we would have

A double-barrel rumor has reached Se attle via Victoria from Vancouver, the right-hand barrel being to the effect that there is to be in a few days a reorganization of the traffic departments of the Canadian Pacific, whereby the general freight and passenger departments, in charge of William Brown and George McL. Brown, assistant general freight agent and district passenger agent, respectively, will be consolidated and in charge of one of the two officials, says the Seattle Telegraph. The other barbe put in service and Victoria be constituted one of the terminals of the Canadian Pacific railway in order to placate

William Brown, who is at present in the city, simply laughed when showed the above clipping. He said there was nothing in it.

Mr. Thomas Luscombe Receives Internal Injuries in a Runaway.

A runaway accident, which it is feared will prove fatal, occurred on the Carey road this morning. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Luscombe, who reside on Carey road. Mr. Lus-combe received internal injuries which may prove fatal, and Mrs. Luscombe had her right arm broken. They were driving to town with a young horse, which became unmanageable on one of the hills and bolted. They were removed to their residence and Dr. John Duncan summoned. He set Mrs. Luscombe's arm and decided to hold a consultation on Mr. Luscombe's case. The consultation is being held this afternoon. Mr. Luscombe was formerly gardener at Carey Castle.

He writes of many lands with intimate, sympathetic and accurate knowledge. With Scott he has created a world and peopled it with as brilliant a pageant as passed through Dryburgh Abbey, with dozens of cultivated, clever, and witty men and women, and with George Eliot he has used the dissecting knife upon the human heart. With Thackeray he has made his humor lie beneath the surface, enlivening the dialogue and the story. With Dickens he has opened accurately and transcribed faithfully. He will rank with these writers. HARNESSING THE LIGHTNING. Natural Supplies of the Atmosphere may Be Used.

It is just possible that one of these days, instead of making electricity for ourselves we shall learn to tap the immense store of the electric fluid that pervades the higher atmosphere; that, in fact, we shall be able to "harness the lightning." Professor Trowbridge shows that a discharge keeps in the same path for 300-1000 part of a second, and he believes that a "step-down" transformera device by which the voltage of the charge would be reduced-might render it fit for the service of man. An average thunderstorm is estimated to contain about 300 horse power of electrical energy. A flash of lightning a quarter of a mile long practically means an electromotive force of millions of volts. Reckoning on the basis that a flash occurs when the electrical strain on the air is 1.37 pounds per cubic foot, the total electrical energy in a cubic mile of the strained air just on the point of flashing is about 70,000,000 foot tons, or, in other words, the energy required to raise a ton 70,000,000 feet high. Electricians are now trying to think out how this enormous power can be brought down to earth and utilized, and they talk of employing some modification of Franklin's kite, at all events for experimental work. If they should succeed the coralling of lightning flashes may come to be a pro-A. B. Hendryx, the manager of the fitable business.-Philadelphia Times.

NOT A DRUNKARD'S PARADISE.

Switzerland Visits the Offense With Heavy Punishment.

Renowned though Switzerland be for the freedom and democracy of its institutions, there is no country in the world that is so drastic and severe in its treatment of inbriates. The laws vary in detail in the 22 cantons, but in their essential principles they are very simple, and provide for the punishment of not only those persons who indulge in strong drink to excess, but also for the people who supply the liquor in question. Drunkards are visited with penalties amounting to a maximum of a year's imprisonment with hard labor and three years' interdiction from exercising franchise and from the purchase of any alcoholic drink, while the dealers and innkeepers who permit their customers to become intoxicated or who furnish liquor to interdicted" persons are likewise sentenced to the payment of heavy fines, imprisonment, and forfeiture of license. Alogether Switzerland can scarcely be considered a drunkard's paradise

FAIR AT SAANICH.

Exhibits - Splendid Show of Horses.

The stereotyped expression "better late than never," can be truthfully used in connection with the twenty-six fall exhibitions of the Saanich Agricultural So-Everything was in favor of the fall fair in which every resident of Saanich pen-insula seems to take a personal interest. The weather was fine, which induced many Victorians to take the long but pleasant drive from the city to the fair F. Turgoose, 2; yearling colt, W. Heald, 1; grounds, and also insured an unusually F. The present officers of the society are: President, J. Sluggett; Vice-President, J. T. Harrison; Secretary, H. F. Holden; Treasurer, S. Sandover; Committee-W. Thompson,

The judges were on the ground early yesterday morning and were busy all day awarding the prizes, which was far from being an easy task as the exhib ts were numerous and hard to decide bewas shown by all, there being no less than thirty-five entries in the roadster classes and eighteen in draught classes. The last few years have seen a wonderful improvement in the horses bred and raised in the district, while the increase in the population makes the competition very keen. A splendid example of the mprovement was shown in the entries for the two prizes offered by H. D. Helmcken, M. P. P., for the best six horses bred and owned by one man in the district. Messrs. Thompson, Sluggett, Hagin and Turgoose competed for any farm in the country. Most of the 24 horses in the bunch were of the general purpose class, showing that the farmers are turning their attention to breeding stock that will be of the greatest assistance to them in cultivating their farms. All of the horses were each competitor. Among the cattle the Jerseys were undoubtedly the best, there being several bands of splendid looking animals. There was one fine band of Holsteins, several very good exhibit in the cattle class. A dozen pens of long and short wool sheep gave the judges any amount of trouble to decide upon those entitled to prizes, all of the competitors having traits entitling them to recognition. The same can be said of the swine, of which there were a large number, from the prize fat pig to the tiny suckling.

A temporary building had been erected for the poultry, and although the show in this line was not large it was well worth the attention of the visitors. It included chickens of several varieties, all of which would score high in a poultry show, a lot of fine geese and ducks. The pets were represented by rabbits,

With all the fine exhibits in the yards, not half of the show has been seen until a careful survey has been made of the interior of the buildings, where benches, field and garden produce, and any amount of plain and fancy work, which | sett, 2; pair stockings, darned, Mrs. dies and earned any amount of praise. All of the flowers, and they were numerous, sweet-smelling and handsome, were shown by ladies, who had displayed very good taste in the arrangement of these exhibits, adding much to the appearance of the hall. Bread, cakes and preserves were also among the ladies' exhibits, while most of the butter was also due to the industry of the fairer sex. The exhibition was continued to-day, there being an even larger attendance than yesterday. This evening it will be wound up with a grand dance.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

Henry Clews' Report for the Week Ending October 13.

The stock market as yet shows no vioent change either for the better or for the worse, notwithstanding the "professionals" are likely to remain in control. in the absence of fresh features calculated to attract a substantial demand from the public. The industrial properties continue to absorb more than their share of attention, and still form the disturbing element in the market, inasmuch as they are destroyers of confidence and are causing other securities to saffer unnecessarily and without special reason. Inere are but few unfavorable situations, however, out of which we to not doubt some good will result, and this one is not likely to be an exception, as in the end it will tend towards a revulsion of feeling which will place the industrials in the background, and speculative favoritism will once more be with the good railroad stocks. The movement has been "worked" for nearly all it is worth in connection with the former class of securities, and the tremendous losses which outsiders have suffered as a result of insiders' manipulation are un loubtedly going to prove a lesson not easily forgotten, and one which will naturally turn the current of speculation away from manipulated stocks and towards securities the movements of which are governed by natural causes and not by the machinations of a few men. The situation of the railroads is encouraging as far as the outlook is concerned, and although their present condition is not ail that could be desired or may be expected later on, it is at least a guarantee of better things to come; and earnings are good when the general condition of business throughout the country is considered. It must be remembered that railroad returns now are being compared with those of a particularly prosperous period, when the bulk of the World's fair business was being done. When they are compared with the ordinary traffic returns the showing is not so poor after all; and with the habits of economy now being so well learned the prospects for a marked improvement in net receipts is good when the general business situation begins to seeing that the jury would find him said Mrs. Cloutier to a reporter, "a conmend with more rapidity, as soon it will. The After Effects of La Grippe Developed ammation of the Lung and Chronic Bronchitis—After

Four Years of Suffering Health is Almost Miraculously Restored. From LeMond, Montreal. Mrs. Sarah Cloutier, who resides at

No. 405 Montcalm street, Montreal, has passed through an experience which is worthy of a widespread circulation for the benefit that it may prove to others. Up to four years ago Mrs. Cloutier's health had been good, but at that time she was attacked by that dread scourge, la grippe. Every fall since, notwithstanding all her care to avoid it, she has been afflicted with inflammation of the lungs, which would bring her to the very bronchia for the rest of the year. Her could breathe, and a draught of outme. It was in vain that I tried the doctors, and when I think of all the they must contain the truth, for if they the names and addresses of the persons said to be cured in the public newspapers. I decided to try Pink Pills, and none but those who were acquainted with my former condition can under stand the good I have derived from their use, which I continued until I felt that was completely cured. As a proof that I am cured I may tell you that on the first occasion of my going out after my recovery I walked for two miles on an uphill road without feeling the least fatigue or the least pant for breath, and since that time I have enjoyed the best of health. Last fall I was afraid that the inflammation of the lungs to which I er years might return, but I had not the least symptom of it, and never felt better in my life. You can imagine the gratitude I feel for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I recommend them to all who will heed my advice, and I do not think it possible for me to say too much in favor of this wonderful remedy, the use

He had started with Thomas Hennessy and Geo. Fisher for Big Bend with a boat containing about two tons of freight. Hennessy was in the boat and McPherson and Fisher were lining and just getting through Steamboat canyon, strong eddy was encountered, where the river bank was steep and stony. They were unable to hold the boat by the rope, and were pulled down to the water among the loose boulders. Fisher let go of the line, and McPherson was told to do so, but he did not, keeping hold until he was drawn into the river. Hennessy then cried to him to hang on to the line and he would pull him aboard the boat, but he released his hold and tried to swim, but sank almost immediately, drawn down by the eddy rose once and cried out to his companions, but they could not understand what he said. Had he clung to the rope he could have been saved, as the boat was soon brought to the shore without damage to the contents. McPherson had been working for others during the summer, but Hennessy and he had arranged a partnership, and were just starting out to begin work on a placer claim. Mc-Pherson was from Seattle, and is said to have a family and other relatives there whom he recently visited.

A dispatch from Wi Ju says the commander of the Japanese forces in Corea reports to his government that on October 24th, with a detachment of 1600 Japanese, he met a body of Chinese at Sukochin, across the Yalu river. The Chinese fled, leaving two cannon and considerable arms. The Chinese lost 20 killed or wounded. The Japanese suffered no loss. The Japanese seized the fort near the scene of the engagement. The main body of the Japanese are now

The Japanese force which crossed the Yalu river at Sukochin captured the Chinese works with a rush. The Chinese took refuge further down the river. The passage of the main body of the Japanese across the river will probably be made to-day. A report is current that the emtire effective Chinese force is entremched close to the Yaka river on the Moukden road. The main attack of the Chinese will be made on Sunday.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Call For the Fourteenth Annual Convention Issued by Gompers.

ust issued by President Gompers for the fourteenth annual convention of the Federation of Labor, to be held at Denver, commencing December 10, contains a long introductory treatise upon the recent railway strikes. Among other things the president says: "The judiciary, yielding to the wealth and bidding of avaricious corporations, has, by the flagrant issuance of injunctions restraining union men from exercising their natural and legal rights and punishing them for contempt, practically flung to the winds the right of trial by jury. The right of the masses of labor to organize for selfprotection is placed in jeopardy, * the history of the country, and in contravention of all constitutional laws and rights, the federal troops, in spite of and against the protests of the state authorities, was maintain interstate commerce uninterrupted, but in truth to overawe workmen engaged in a contest in defence of their rights and to aid their fellow-citizens. HUDSON BAY PROJECT. It appears that Hugh Sutherland is at Ottawa endeavoring to secure further government aid for the Hudson Bay Conservative M. P.'s and others from fect the principle in any way. Manitoba and the Northwest is following him, apparently with the same object in view. Our Ottawa correspondent mentions a rumor that the government will be asked to guarantee bonds of the road at the rate of 31-2 per cent., in order that the London capitalists may have confidence enough to advance the necessary funds. No doubt the London men would be satisfied with such a guarantee, regardless of the prospects of the road, for the bonds would be as good as never alter an economic law. Dominion 31-2 per cent. debentures. which are now quoted on the London exchange at over 107, while the three per cents have gone to par. The plethora of funds has led the London capitalists to be content with the modest 3 per cent, of interest, and the 31-2 per cent guarantee would suit them quite well. The people of Canada, however, must look at the matter from another point of view. They will have first to inquire whether the 31-2 per cent. will be recouped to them by the road, and if the answer is to be in the negative they must consider whether they will be compensated in some other way for the carrying of the burden. It would be a grand thing for the Northwest-and for British Columbia too-if a successful route were opened via Hudson Bay, but it is not yet established that such a route can be opened. The weight of evidence is unfortunately against it, and therefore the people of the east, whose interests are against the project, are in a position to bring hostile leverage to bear on the government successfully. The Manitoba press even is not a unit on the question, so the rest of the country is not likely to support the scheme enthusiastically. There is another point to be considered: If Hugh Sutherland and his backers now secure the guaranbee they are after, what is more probable than the whole affair will fall into the hands of the C. P. R.? In that event the company would simply be putting another tax upon itself to bolster up the monopoly which now turns the Northwest people's minds to this fancied northern outlet.

BRITAIN AND FREE TRADE.

When protectionists assert that the ain were built up under a protective policy they commit themselves to a statethirty years of free trade, and the result raiser. is both marvellous and convincing. From 1815, after the close of the Napoleonic war, until 1846, when Sir Robert Peel abolished the Corn Laws, embraces a period of perfect peace, when the prestige of England was never greater abroad, and when the energies of the entire community were devoted to industrial and commercial pursuits. In 1845 the freeign trade amounted to one hundred and eighty million pounds. In 1815 it was one hundred and fifty million pounds. In 1846. after the abolition of the protective principle, the marvellous expansion commenced, and thirty years later-in 1876-it amounted to the enormous sum of five hundred million pounds. Thus we see that while the foreign trade only increased thirty million pounds under thirty years of high protection, it increased upwards of three hundred million pounds during thirty years of free trade, and at in the condition of the masses has been steady and permanent.

MR. LUKES'S TROUBLE.

Mr. Lukes, an English miller, has made an announcement to the public, part of which reads: "Therefore I have decided to cease milling until further notice, preferring the position of an interested spectator rather than be an active participant in such pernicious and senseless competition as now exists between mill ers." This is paraded by Canadian protectionists as an argument against free trade in England. Behold, say these wiseacres, what injury free trade has inflicted on the English miller as well as the English farmer. Now Mr. Lukes seems to trace his trouble to the "pernicious and senseless competition" among millers, not to free trade, and though the Canadian protectionists are in their own sight most wondrous wise we must needs accept his opinion in preference to theirs. And what would protection do to remove from him this evil of severe competition? In only one way could it prove effective, namely, in allowing Mr. Lukes and the other millers a chance to combine, to shut up some of the mills with bonuses, to raise prices level with the "protective" duty and fleece all Britain in order that they might make profits enough for both the active and the idle establishments. That is exactly what the "protective" tariff enables the Canadian cotton lords to do. No wonder an English paper cannot be found with "courage" enough to propose a scheme like this to the people of Great Britain. Verily the protectionist is a strange ani-

London, Oct. 22.-The Daily News correspondent in Berlin says: "The czar walked half an hour in the park at Livadia yesterday. The doctors kept nim out of bed as much as possible so as to maintain his nervous energy and counteract the weakness of the heart, which increased by lying." The correspondent ridicules the rumors that the czar is dead and his death kept secret owing to the czarewitch's refusal to succeed. He admits that it is no secret that the czarewitch never was enthusiastic concerning the succession, mainly owing to the continual excitement and terror in his father's family. "The czarina is better," continues the correspondent, " although her condition is precarious and pitiable. Ambassador General von Werder will arrive in St. Petrsburg to-morrow and is expected to proceed to Livadia. Permit me to put in some rebuttal testimony as to the severe depression of farming interests in England. I have just received a letter from a cousin of mine, who has a farm of about three hundred wores in extent, in which he says "the time for raising wheat in England has passed, but for mixed farming and for cattle-caising the prospects are good, and to-day stock farms or dairy farms are eagerly sought after." This gentleman's farm is in the county of Shropshire. Another cousin of mine, fordshire, visited me here in Toronto a few months ago, and he told me he cleared nearly £2000, i.e., $10,000, last season from his farm; he had no fears for the future; he recognized the fact, though he is a strong Conservative, that | indefiniteness" to dog his footsteps. the farmers of Bugland cannot raise the food needful to keep the people of England, and that therefore the commercial supremacy of the country demanded cheaper food, and he said what he wished to see was not protection for the farmer, which, like Lord Salisbuy, he admitted could never aga'n become law in England, but the putting down of fair rental upon that basis. He further told me he himself sold a small farm for £4000, i. e., $20,000, and the party to whom he sold it has resold it for £4500, i. e., $22,500; inside of four monthly from the time of sale.

As to Mr. Lukes' closing down of the mill, it is not the low price of his raw material that causes the closing down, but because of the "pernicious and senseless competition as now exists amongst millers," re Mr. Lukes' advertisement. In Empland in times past the farmer from self-interest, was in favor of taxing the poor man's bread. In Canada, from the same motive, the manufacturens desire to tax the clothing and machinery of the farmer. The supremacy of England, as a first-class power, depended, not upon her farmers, who could not raise bread enough for the people, but upon the great manufacturing facilities which coal, iron, tin, etc., combined with matural mechanical skill of her mechanics gave sway. The very life of Canada consists, not in her manufactur- tion. Fire trade advocates do have to fight a very hard battle in many not ignore these facts, and I venture to deny your statement that "the English regarded as Tory preserves. Sir John farmer with cheap goods and a near Thompson's government cannot sur market and land for next to nothing, an appeal to the people." but he is steadily going down hill," as being correct. He has cheap goods, he has a near market, but he has not land for nothing. He at present plays an enformous rent, and when land is placed at its real market value the English farmer will occupy a grand position, because of the cheap goods and of the near market, and will realize with other industries the blessing that come from living in a country of free speech, free thought and free trade.

THE OTHER "FAMILIAR."

It is rather amusing to be told of a "demon of indefiniteness" dogging Mr. Laurier's footsteps on his western tour. Nevertheless the Montreal Star has conjured up a fiend of this description from the depths of its imagination, with the aid of the sundry other imaginations of equal femility. Of course the Coloni t with avidity lays hold of the Star's "bogey italk" and adds a little of its own weak imaginings to complete the horrible tale. This round of mutual comfortings among the protectionist organs is British colors. Every incident of cor- seen nothing of any wreckage. We left intensely edifying. First the eastern ruption in the criminal career of the Clayoquot sound at 7 o'clock and promembers of the brotherhood shout incoherently to the effect that Mr. Laurier is too indefite, then the organs further west repeat the cry as the Liberal leader arrives in their respective localities. From the Pacific shore the echo of this extremely parrot-like chamor reaches the ears of the far east organs and they take take it up as something new, whereas it is but a repetition of their own nonsense. This is a funny performance, indeed, but the absurdity grows when the Star's double repetition is once more repeated with owl-like gravity at the Pacifi coast and the Star's endorsement of the western organs' false chamor is paraded by thiose organs as new and fresh testimony. The Star is probably not deceived, for it has intelligence enough to know that the talk of Mr. Laurier's "indefiniteness" in the west comes not from any independent source but from people whose great object is to belie and misrepresent Mr. Lausier and to prevent the Liberal party from securing to the people the relief they need. The western people are quite acute enough to know

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE

Victoria Very Unfairly Dealt With by Referee of Saturday's Lacrosse Match.

All Rules and Precedents Ignored by Mr. Quigley-Other Sporting Events.

When a gentleman from Vancouve on Sunday night told a member of the Victoria lacrosse club that Referee Quigley would allow himself to be influenced by a certain class of Vancouverites, to give an unjust decision against Victoria in regard to the match played at Vancouver on Saturday, he was laughed at. Everybody thought that Mr. Quigley would not allow the prejudices of others to rule him, but he evidently has, for the decision he has given is unfair and unjust to Victoria. He declares the game a draw, but leaves it to the association to say whether the whole game shall be played over or whether the teams shall play 11:1-2 minutes, the time left when the game was stopped. Nothing could be more unfair than was found and examined in Long bay, this. all the time. The tug behaved in a most admirable manner, and too much praise cannot be given Captain Neilson and his crew for their services on the trip. Captain Hatfield gives the following account of the cruise. Surely not Victoria's, who was on the field nearly two hours before the other team. Mr. Quigley claims that he has not the power to give the match to Victoria or to it certainly was amusing. The enginisland at 1.30 p.m., with light southeast decide whether it shall be played all over eers worked nobly but they were cutagain or for only 11 1-2 minutes. After some little discussion the matter was still left with the finance commit-Ald. Ledingham asked, in reference to day work on the sewers, why should not the superintendent be placed in the same position with regard to authority over his men as a contractor has, both in the matter of the number of hours work a day and engaging and discharging men. Some of the aldermen were of opinion that nine hours a day should constitute a day's labor. A resolution was put and carried drawing the attention of the sewer commissioners to the fact that the wishes of the council were in favor of a working day of nine hours, and also recommending that the superintendent have the power of fixing the daily rate of wages.

The council then resolved itself into committee of the whole to consider the procedure by-liaw, which was dealt with by clauses, and was passed, with the exception of a few clauses left over for amendment on further consideration. Ald. Munn suggested the advisability of holding meetings once a fortnight instead of once a week as now. He thought there were many minor questions at present referred to the council which could be dealt with by committee. Such an arrangement would be productive of a saving in more senses than one. A number of the aldermen were of

UNDEVELOPED B. C FISHERIES

Opportunity for Victoria to Become the Gloucester of the Pacific.

Suggestions for the Handling and Marketing of the Different Fish.

The fisheries will always be one of the chief sources of wealth to British Columbia, and at no very distant day promise to assume an importance at present un-dreamed of. Up to the present time operations have been strictly confined to the salmon industry, but there are many other varieties of fish in great abundance which only need placing upon the markets of the middle and Atlantic States to return large profits to the skip-We have, besides salmon, halibut, per. smelt, cod, sturgeon, herring and sar-dines, all excellent food fish, and halibut and smelt are in great demand in the cities of the States and fetch capital It is, therefore, the duty of all who are interested in the progress and prosperity of Victoria to examine this supremely important subject of developing the fisheries with a view of ultimately making Victoria the Gloucester of the Pacific. It may, perhaps, be of interest to your readers to take each variety separately and describe, as near as I can, the methods employed in the east in catching and shipping the fish; and also afford what information I can regarding prices and profits.

As a bait fish for the prosecution of the halibut fishery they are invaluable. There are many other ways in which they could be handled. Smoked round, kippered, spiced and salted there is no doubt a market could be found for them. Seines and traps could be employed in catching them.

It will therefore be seen that nearly every branch of the fishing industry could be developed by a joint stock company, and by placing the shares low enough to be within the reach of all, the capital would be rapidly subscribed. These few suggestions are thrown out with the hope of seeing some move made

STURDY IMMIGRANTS.

The First Contingent of Norwegians for Bella Coola.

If all future immigrants are of the same desirable class as the fine healthy lot of fellows who arrived in Victoria on Saturday, and who are at present domiciled at the Dominion Hotel, the province may safely congratulate itself upon the selection. There are eighty three in the party and they are bound for Bella Coola. During a conversation with the leaders this morning they expressed themselves satisfied with terms and conditions of settlement and spoke in high praise of the kind and counteous treatment received en route. The conditions of settlement are as folows: A settlement must consist of not ess than thirty families, and each family must have at least $300 in money. The government will lease for a period of five years 160 acres of land to each family, rent free. If at the end of five years improvements have been undertaken amounting to $5 per acre each fam ly will receive a free crown grant of 160 acres. The government also pledges itself to construct a wagon road through each settlement. The terms are of the most liberal and satisfactory character. and the advantages which must ultimately accrue to the province will be substantial. Recruiting settlers from the Northwestern States is an excellen move, since families coming from Dakoto, Minnesota and Wisconsin are very much to be preferred to those coming from Europe direct. They are already inured to the hardships of climate and pioneer life, and are, therefore, exactly the material needed to develop the resources of British Columbia. They are farmers, lumbermen and fishermen therefore no more desirable a locality than the Bella Coola could have been selected. Should their new home come up to their expectations-and the Rev. Mr. Sangstadt assures them it will-another batch of three hundred will follow in the spring. They all appear to be "well fixed," and many possess a couple of thousand dollars. Sangstadt held the Lutheran service last the Dominion Hotel, at which several Norwegian citizens attended.

Annual German Socialist Congress Frankfort-on-the-Main.

London, Oct. 22 .- A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that though the Prussian cabinet sat for five hours on Friday, further meetings are expected before a final decision in regard to the repressive measures against Socialists is arrived at. Among the measures likely to be adopted is a strict press law, with stringent provisions against the glorification of rimes and criminals. The dispatch adds that two versions have been published of passage in the emperor's speech devered at the consecration of the flags Thursday, and that these have causalively controversy. One version makes the passage a rhetorical expression of confidence that the half battalions for which the flags were intend would, if required to fight, be as sucssful as whole battalions. The other version makes the passage a definite expression of the hope that the half battalions would soon be converted into whole battalions. If the latter rendition is correct, it foreshadows an immense increase in the peace effective, which would occasion fierce opposition in the reichstag. Unfortunately the offiial papers omit the phraseology, which was mysterious and significant.

The annual German Socialist congress mened Sunday evening in Lillie hall, at Bornheim, a suburb of Frankfort, in the presence of an immense gathering of workingmen. The congress was attended by 200 delegates of both sexes, inluding nearly all the Socialistic members of the reichstag and diets of Saxony, Baden and Bavaria. There were many Austrian, Hungarian, Swiss and English Socialists present. Herr Friedrich Bruehne, a master shoemaker of Frankfort and a member of the reichstag, opened the proceedings.

William Liebnecht, the well known Soialist leader, welcomed the delegates. He gave a historical retrospect of the rise and development and struggles of the party, remarking that fresh repressive measures were being planned against the social democracy. He, however regarded the project with equanimity, and declared that the proposed new epressive measures would be as powerss to check as Prince B'smarck's similar law. Herr Singer, of Berlin, and Herr Schwartz, of Lubeck, were lected presidents. Various questions of ousiness procedure were discussed, after which an adjournment was taken.

The Kreuz Zeitung, ultra Conservastates that the address presented Emperor William by the deputation the Farmers' Alliance of East Prussia, declared that it was far from being the intention of the landed propries to oppose their king, their natural shield and protector. They would joyfully sacrifice their last drop of blood for him. In replying to the deputation ne emperor said he was sincerely gratified to learn that his words at Koenigsburg had been rightly interpreted, and that East Prussia had addressed its king n person, confiding in his paternal care. He added that it afforded him particular satisfaction to know that the prediction that the East Prussians would be the oremost to follow their king in the fight for religion, morality and order was already being fulfilled. His solicitude for the agricultural and landed interests, both large and small, would neve er relax, while on the other hand he trusted to God that, with the help of the well disposed sections of the nation, it serious struggle forced on the country by disintegrating aims. A fierce gale raged along the British coast Saturday and Sunday, causing many casualties. The wind was so strong and the sea so high that the channel boats were greatly delayed. The Warner lightship, while being towed from Spithead to her station, broke away from the tug when near New Haven and was driven ashore. A boat was lowered to replace the tow line, but a heavy sea capsized it and four occupants were drowned. The lightship was soon driven ashore. Two other boats were also driven ashore at the same place. The crews of all were saved by the lifeoat crew and the coast guardsmen. Many other exciting rescues of the crews of vessels driven ashore at various places are reported. The loss to the owners of fishing vessels is large, many of their boats having been destroyed. Much damage was done on land by the storm.

The re-balloting for members of the chamber of representatives, which took place to-day, passed off without any dis-order. The returns thus far indicate clerical success in Brussels. Eighteen

CHIEFS OF THE CLAQUE.

The Method by Which Some Parisians Make their Living.

There is a body of men in Paris who make their living by clapping. They form a section of a body called a claque, which was instituted for the purpose of securing the success of a public performance or a production by bestowing on it preconcerted applause, and thus giving the public, who are not in the secret, a false notion of the impression it has made. This institution first revealed itself at the time of the great Napoleon in the famous struggle between Mile. Georges and Mlle. Duchesnois at the Theatre Francaise, and from that time the use of the claque became almost universal in Paris. The chief of the claque, who is named "entrepreneur de success dramatique," is an official of importance. His business is to attend the last two or three rehearsals of a new play, to arrange the points at which applause, laughter or tears are to be forthcoming, and to communicate his directions to his staff. This is divided into several classes. The main body, whose business is to applaud, form a solid mass in the centre of the parquet, and in various parts of the house are placed rieurs (laughter), pleureueses (weepers), and bisseurs (whose business it is to call bis or encore). More artistic developments of the claque are the sangloteure, a woman who sobs hysterically, the pameuse, who faints.—Buffalo Express.

THE CHARITY BALL

idies' Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital Surpass Their Former Efforts.

Two Hundred and Fifty Couples Enjoyed Themseves at the Annual Ball.

Five hundred ladies and gentlemen attended the annual charity ball held last and hard work. Everything tended to make last evening's ball the most successful yet held by the Ladies' Auxiliary. In the first place the A. O. U. W. came forward and generously offered the use of their hall free of charge, Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt agreed to shoulder the cost of the music, the ladies of Victoria supplied the supper and the members of the James Bay Athletic association decorated the hall. That all did their work well can be vouched for by those who were present last evening. Never has a ball room looked prettier than did the A. O. U. W. hall last evening. A great deal of good taste had been shown by the decorators, and when the electric light was turned on a veritable fairy scene was displayed. The hall affords good opportunities for decorating, the gallery rails last evening being covered with bunting and evergreens, while underneath were hung numerous large and small Chinese lanterns, which always look pretty and lend much assistance in the decoration of a ball room. The orchestra platform was arranged after the style of a hot house, the members of the Richardson orchestra, who supplied the music, being almost hidden from the dancers by the large palms. Other portions of the hall, including the dining room, had been similarly decorated, the decorators having attended to even the

The music was all that could be desired, being played in perfect tune, the programme was well arranged, and the dancers sat down at midnight to a supper that the most noted chef would not have attempted to improve upon. "What about the disposal of offal?" "Well, very likely you know as much sitting.

about it as I do. The new fisheries regulations require that the offal be deposited in the gulf; the canners claim that this is an injustice to them. An effort has been made to extract oil from the offal and also to manufacture a fertilizer. The oil as a lubricant is not a great success. It is too gluey. And, on the other hand, it cannot well be used by loggers for their wagons or skids, it being too thin; they prefer codfish or dogfish oil. In the opinion of many, there is no doubt that the offal can be made commercially valuable. It is rumored that there are a number of men willing to go into the manufacture of oil and a fertilizer from the offal. But they want a bonus, and they think that the cannerymen might give them the bonus. Of course the canners have to pay for the disposal of offal, and the sums so appropriated would be considered a sufficient bonus. The offal, in case any arrangement could be satisfactorily arrived at, would be taken to the oil refinery, conveniently situate for all the refineries instead of out into the gulf and dumped there."

"There are more Japanese on the river this year than last, are there not?" "Yes, that is true. Over one hundred Japs have taken out naturalization papers and are fishing on licenses. This does not include Japanese who may be fishing under cannery licenses. There does not seem to be any complaint of any moment and everything is working smoothly.' "How about the hatchery?" "We will put into the hatchery about 6,500,000 sockeye ova; already five million eggs are in. 'This is an increase of over half a million upon last year. About three thousand ova are taken from one female fish and are fertilized from the milt of one male. The young fish, hatched out during the winter, are turned loose in the spring. The loss in the hatchery is not more than 8 per cent. The percentage of fish that arrive at maturity when turned out cannot be reckoned even approximately, but there is reason for supposing that a large quantity of them grow to be full sized fish. Their natural enemies, the trout great in the salmon, and the young salmon learn how to take care of them selves." "Is there any increase in the output of the other fisheries?" "The supply of 1,000,000 eggs of white fish from the Selkirk hatchery were hatched out and put in the Okanagan lake. This has been of considerable benefit. There has been a good demand for halibut, and the output this year will be large. Deep sea fishing is being paid more attention to, and the persons engaging in the undertaking are receiving good returns."

Rowbotham, looking pale and thin and with hair tinged with white, appeared in court accompanied by a friend. He sat down quietly, and outside of a little nervous twitching of his hands, made no move. An occupant of a seat at the press table said: "This horrible performance would drive an ordinary man to go and finish the job." William Smith. clerk for the accused, and Robert Dudgeon, who at the time kept the saloon next to Rowbotham's grocery store, told the story of the finding of the defendant "The returns of the salmon output have not yet been made up; in fact they are pool of blood with a revolver at his side. Dr. Frank Hall, who attended Rowbotham at St. Joseph's hospital, also gave evidence. At the close of the harrowing recital Rowbotham was committed for trial. Rowbotham's bail was fixed at $500, $250 to be furnished by himself and $250 by one surety. G. H. Brown qualified as the latter, and the accused was released.
