BRITAIN'S AWAKENING.

Premier Balfour Speaks at the Opening of Manchester School of Technology.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 16.—A. J. Balfour, the Prime Minister, opened the Manchester municipal school of technology, which is probably the largest and best equipped institution of that kind in the world, yesterday. Mr. Balfour said the building was an outward and visible sign of the awakening that had come.

In view of the ever changing conditions of international industry the time had passed when they could say they were the first of the industrial nations and the rest were nowhere. That time had passed never to return. The cause was inevitable, but it might not be sad for them. The growth of the wealth of the world must be a benefit to every part of the world. What they had to do was to bear their own share in the development.

Still more important, said Mr. Balfour was the change from the pre-scientific to the scientific of industry. "Henceforth and for evermore," said the premier, "there will be closer connection between the most remote and abstract scientific study of the chemist, of the physicist and of the electrician in their laboratories and the great industries of the community. We must give that complete scientific training which is more and more the basis of our industrial fabric."

ONE SUSPENDED.

A Hot Time in the British Parliament.

An Irish Member Shakes His Fist in Premier Balfour's Face.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Parliament reopened today without formalities, the house proceeding immediately to the business of the day so soon as the speaker took the chair.

Premier Balfour moved that the remainder of the session be entirely devoted to government business, which, he explained, would consist mainly of the discussion of the education and London water bills, while the Indian budget, the Uganda railroad, sugar bounties and the supply vote would enable the procedure to be carried out. The Transvaal, he added, would also require attention.

James Bryce, leading the liberals in the absence of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, made a mild protest, and then came a storm.

Patrick O'Brien, sitting in the place usually occupied by John Redmond, the Irish leader in the house, asked that at least a day between now and Christmas be devoted to the discussion of the serious state of affairs in Ireland.

Mr. Balfour replied that if the request for such an opportunity came from the liberal leaders the government would grant it, but they could not recognize it from the Irish.

TUMULT BEGINS.

William O'Brien then made an impassioned speech, warning the house that Ireland was on the verge of revolt.

Throughout Mr. O'Brien's remarks the Irish members kept up a perfect storm of applause. When Mr. Wyndham, the chief secretary for Ireland, entered the house, the Irish members hissed him loudly, and the speaker was frequently on his feet asking for "order," sternly repressed the demonstration.

Mr. Lloyd-George, backed up by Irish members and T. P. O'Connor, brought the excitement to a fever heat, bitterly upbraiding Mr. Balfour for declaring that Irish matters must only be discussed by favor of the English liberals. Only after a heated colloquy with the speaker was Mr. O'Connor prevented from voicing abuse of Mr. Wyndham and a description of the alarming state of Ireland, which the other nationalist members had not touched upon.

During the afternoon the speaker's ruling raised renewed clamor from the Irish benches.

Members of the house of lords, as spectators, crowded into the house of commons in expectation of a scene, for the threats from the Irish benches came more and more audible. The climax came unexpectedly. Mr. Healey amid intense excitement, said in icy tones:

"I rise to speak as a native of Uganda."

The house was convulsed with laughter.

In a speech which on all sides was characterized as one of the finest satire ever heard in the house of commons, Mr. Healey, always as a Ugandan, thanks the premier for his consideration, which enabled the imperial parliament to devote time to the discussion of native affairs. He complimented Mr. Balfour on being able to sufficiently detach himself as to be oblivious of the vital disturbances prevailing in "that distant and distressful country, Ireland."

William Redmond regretted that the Irish people could not, with arms in their hands, strike a blow against the violent tyranny to which they were subjected.

SHAKES FIST AT PREMIER.

Ultimately Mr. Balfour moved the closure and the speaker broke out again with renewed vigor. John O'Donnell stood up and refused to give way to the speaker. His fellow nationalists shouted encouragement and cheered vigorously.

The speaker repeatedly warned Mr. O'Donnell that he was out of order and the premier followed. Mr. Balfour moved the suspension of Mr. O'Donnell and the latter crossed the floor, stood in front of the premier, shouted defiance and shook his fist in Mr. Balfour's face.

The house suspended Mr. O'Donnell by a vote of 341 to 61.

Mr. Balfour smiled quietly as the Irish member shouted and threatened and other members of the cabinet, fearing that Mr. O'Donnell would actually assault the premier, moved toward him, but Mr. O'Donnell, having concluded what he had to say, returned to his seat and then left the house. Previous to the action of the house in suspending Mr. O'Donnell the speaker made the usual formal request that the offending member withdraw, which drew forth derisive calls of "Call the police," "Muster the horse guards," etc.

The debate was then closed, by a vote of 263 to 148.

Mr. Balfour's motion was then carried by a vote to 263 to 145, and the house went into committee on the education bill.

Mr. O'Donnell's suspension will probably be for only a week, as the new rules, increasing the penalties for disorderly behavior have not yet been passed.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—On the Dominion Line steamship New England, which arrived from Queenstown today, were John W. Redmond, M. P., chairman of the Irish parliamentary party and president of the United Irish League; John Dillon, M. P., for West Mayo, and Michael Davitt.

Mr. Redmond, in speaking of the present condition in Ireland and of matters relating to the United Irish League said: "The United Irish League is the ruling power in Ireland today, as truly as ever the land league was. The government played into our hands, and now the country is aroused. We are on the eve of a settlement of the Irish land question, and after that national self-government will speedily come to Ireland."

"The Irish party now in the house of commons is the only real opposition in the English parliament, and I believe the day is near at hand when it will have the controlling influence in Great Britain."

"Hundreds of the Irish are imprisoned under the coercion act, without receiving any trial by jury. But nobody cares for imprisonment under those circumstances. The more the people are attacked the higher their spirits rise."

The bulk of the New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh delegates will reach here Sunday. New York is sending about 100 delegates and Chicago 70. Philadelphia will be represented by nearly 100 delegates and all the other large centres will also be strongly represented.

In the course of an interview tonight Mr. Davitt said that he was pleased at what had happened in the house of commons Wednesday. He said he had never seen the spirit of the Irish people as it exists today surpassed at any stage in the struggle of the past thirty years. Landlordism, he says, is doomed and with that destroyed, national self-government is certain.

WAR IN HAYTI.

The Fall of Gonaves Ends the Present Revolution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The following cablegram was received at the navy department today from the commander of the U. S. S. Cincinnati:

"NICOLAS MOLE, Hayti, Oct. 17.—I have surrendered on Oct. 14. The national forces occupied town peacefully. Cincinnati arrived at Gonaves Wednesday noon, Oct. 15.

Oct. 15. Firmly evacuated Gonaves and has left by Hamburg-American Steam Packet Company's steamer for Mathestown, Bahama Islands, with 200 passengers, leaving no government at the place. Have landed force for the protection of American consulate and to preserve order. The German gunboat landed force also. National forces are near at hand and it is expected that they will occupy town Saturday or next day. All quiet there. It is considered practically the end of the revolution. I am returning to Gonaves immediately. I shall embark landing party and will proceed to Cape Haytien when affairs are settled at Gonaves. No attempt has been made to blockade ports mentioned in my last telegram. (St. Marc and Gonaves). French cruiser D'Assas arrived at Gonaves Thursday, October 16, eight p. m.

(Signed) MASON."

THE COAL STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The coal strike is over, and while there may be a little delay in settling preliminaries of the arbitration, work will be resumed as soon as possible. President Mitchell furnished an illustration of his confidence to induce the miners' convention to accept the offer of arbitration by informing a delegation of mine blacksmiths that the miners would not object to their immediate resumption of work to prepare for the opening up of business Wednesday or Thursday next. The blacksmiths will begin their preparations on Saturday or Monday.

When it was suggested to Mitchell that the miners' convention on Monday might reject the proposition of President Roosevelt—as the mine leaders style the arbitration plan—he shrugged his shoulders, smiled, but did not make any reply. Asked if there was not a row at the meeting of the district board, he said:

Mitchell, in talking to a friend, expressed the opinion that the strike would be called off and work resumed before Thursday next.

COUNTRY MARKET.

Country beef is now down about as low as it has been for a long time. From four and a half to five cents is offered. Butchers' beef is holding firm at six and seven cents, with a good supply visible. Poultry is coming in a little more freely than of late, but prices are still ruling high, from fifty cents to one dollar a pair. Eggs are selling at from twenty-two to twenty-five cents a dozen.

The class in drafting will be commenced at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening. A. H. Woodworth is the teacher. F. S. Stewart's shorthand class will commence Wednesday evening.

The services at St. Mary's church tomorrow will be of harvest thanksgiving. In the evening the rector, Rev. W. O. Raymond, will speak of the recent convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew held in Boston.

Because he found it utterly impossible to please everybody with his decisions, the mayor of the little French town of St. Emiland has hanged himself with his scarf of office.

ROUMANIAN JEWS

Major Evans Gordon M. P. Discusses the Subject.

Endorses United States Position and Says England Must Follow Suit.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Major Evans Gordon, M. P., a member of the royal commission on alien immigration, who has just returned from a two months' visit to Russia, Poland, Galicia and Roumania, where he has been to study the causes underlying the Jewish exodus thence, speaking to a representative of the Associated Press today, said:

"It would be hardly proper for me to discuss the details of my investigation, for, although I undertook the trip on my own initiative and at my own expense, I must embody my observations in my report to the commission. I can say, however, that the whole question is one of vital interest to England, and no less so to the United States."

"Secretary Hay's Roumanian note admirably expresses the reasonable attitude of the United States towards immigration generally. It is a perfectly just statement of the responsibility of the Roumanian government for the exodus of Jews from that country, and it will have moral, if not certain results. I do not think, however, that the Roumanian is the most vital question to the United States. Roumanian immigration to America has been very thoroughly sifted by several influential Jewish societies. This, coupled with your immigration laws and the fact that a man must have a fair amount of money even to get to New York insures your getting the cream of the immigrants. The Russian question is a more serious problem, for America, both as regards number and class of people involved. You must remember that Roumania has only about 250,000 Jews, while Warsaw alone probably has a Jewish population of 300,000."

"Speaking as a private individual, there is no doubt in my mind that, sooner or later, England will have to adopt restrictive legislation of some sort. The royal commission on alien immigration has not nearly completed its work. I have wanted for a long while to study American immigration conditions and legislation at close range and hope to go to the United States next spring with that object."

"Meanwhile, quite apart from the Jewish side of the question, I believe it will be found that England is being made and has long been made a dumping ground not only for the paupers, but for the criminals and undesirable persons of all Europe. The police of Paris and other continental cities told me frankly that when they want to export a suspected person against whom there is not sufficient evidence to secure a conviction they send him to England. It is so much nearer and cheaper than America and there are absolutely no restrictions upon his landing. Of course, America gets numerically a larger share of European immigrants, but considering America's vastly larger area and population, the United Kingdom is much the worse off."

AMERICAN GENERALS

Have Been Greatly Enjoying Life in England.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Ambassador Choate gave an elaborate dinner to-night at the Carlton Hotel, in honor of generals Corbin, Young, Wood and Merritt. Among those present were Earl Roberts, the Earl of Cardigan, the Earl of Errol, Lord Mount-Stephen, Lord Lawrence, Ambassador White, Admiral Seymour, General French, General Kelly-Kenny, General Fox Hamilton, General Trotter, and Col. Clarke. Lieut. Col. John Stone and Lieut. McKinley and McCoy, U. S. A.; Commander Clover, U. S. N.; Secretary Carter, Major Cassatt, U. S. A., and other members of the embassy staff.

The dinner was a purely social function and a most enjoyable affair. There were no speeches. Ambassador Choate proposed a single toast, King Edward and President Roosevelt.

General Corbin and General Young and their staffs will sail for home on the American line S. S. Philadelphia tomorrow. General Wood will remain over here until November. He will visit in Scotland.

King Edward has invited all the American generals to remain on this side until October 25, in order to witness his procession through London. The departure of Generals Corbin and Young prevents the carrying out of the plan, but General Wood will return from Scotland in time to represent the party on that occasion.

The generals are greatly pleased with their visit in England, especially as the hospitalities extended them have been entirely spontaneous, and as their visit has been devoid of an official character.

THE CHAMBERLAIN WERE WOUNDED.

When Steinitz, the chess player, lived in Vienna one of his pupils in the game was Gustave Epstein, among the richest bankers of the Austrian capital. One day the teacher puzzled over a position as long that Epstein said impatiently, "Well, but soon the banker himself was in a hole and his too prolonged meditations were interrupted with a disrespectful interruption. 'Well, don't forget who you are and who I am,' said Epstein angrily, but Steinitz retorted: 'On the board you are Epstein and I am Steinitz; over the board I am Epstein and you are Steinitz.'"

ON THEIR NERVES.

There is reason to believe that the worthy citizens who are the directors of the Telegraph Publishing Co. are thinking of taking a course of treatment at some sanitarium for nervous patients. Their disease is not believed to be beyond cure if prompt measures are taken, but the constant strain of nightmares arising from the horrible fears that come to them in the night, whenever they think of what they may see in the Telegraph next morning, is said to have very seriously impaired their digestion and got down hard on their nerves. The recent Dare Devil Dug outbreak of the various editors of the Telegraph had an almost startling effect, following hard as it did on the heels of numerous similar offences, and the editors are understood to have heard something drop. Just what the directors said has not been revealed, and is perhaps of no very general interest; but there is a general expression of sympathy for the directors, and there is also talk of a memorial expressive of condolence to be presented by Lt. Col. Tucker, M. P., a former director of the Telegraph, who, it will be remembered, visited Clifton Springs and went later to Lake Penachong, after he had got the job off his hands. No doubt the colonel could give most valuable advice to his unhappy successors. It is possible that the lobster cure might be considered worthy of a trial.

It is not surprising that the organs of the Pugsley-Tweedie combination should criticise Mr. M. McDade for his opposition to the government. That any man could turn against a government as long as it had patronage to bestow is from their standpoint incomprehensible. They discover now that Mr. McDade, who in times past was "eloquent and convincing," is now of no account. The Gazette and Chatham Advance are even somewhat violent in denunciation.

The Irish delegates have arrived in Boston, and the Irish members at Westminster are making it interesting for the government. It is probably safe to say that all these gentlemen are enjoying life more than they have done for a long time. The floodgates of oratory have been opened and there's a "ruction" in sight. No great harm will result.

The welcome to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the expression of hope that his health may be fully restored, are not confined to the members of his own party. All Canadians, however they may regard his political course, have a kindly personal feeling for the eloquent premier.

The American generals in London have enjoyed the king's hospitality, and have been greatly impressed with his charming personality. Their visit and experiences form another link in the chain of good will between the two countries.

It may be taken for granted that if Newfoundland has really arranged a reciprocity treaty with the United States that Canadian interests will not be sacrificed.

There is a grave suspicion that the Telegraph will shortly introduce poster type and red ink on its editorial page.

THE CONSUMPTION SITUATION.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives in Gravenhurst in Urgent Need of $20,000 to Maintain One Hundred Patients in Residence.

(Globe, Toronto.)

Unless one has made himself familiar with the consumption situation in Canada, it is hardly possible to appreciate the greatness of the work that has been undertaken by the trustees of the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. A representative of the trustees chatted the other day with J. S. Robertson, secretary of the National Sanitarium Association, under whose auspices this hospital has been established. We learned that though the doors were opened for the admission of patients only in the end of April last, there are now sixty patients in residence, and the applications on the secretary's desk are so many that the trustees have given instructions to have the accommodation immediately increased to 100 patients. They have undertaken this additional expense purely on faith, and in response to the pitiful calls that are coming to the office every day from applicants.

"Within the past 24 hours," said Mr. Robertson, "I have received applications for admission from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Manitoba. In each of these cases the patients, if they are able to pass the medical examination, will be admitted absolutely without a single cent being paid for their maintenance, and will be kept in the institution as long as their condition makes it necessary. A careful estimate of the requirements of the institution, with 100 patients in residence, shows that at least $20,000 will be required to maintain this number during the year."

"But," the inquiry was, "is there no endowment in connection with this institution?" "Not a farthing," was the reply of Secretary Robertson. "The original building was the grant of two well-known Toronto citizens. But outside of this the institution has been furnished solely by the contributions of the great mass of the Canadian people. The trustees have felt that the money required will be furnished; nevertheless, it is a heavy undertaking for them, and it will be a calamity, with the death rate of consumption throughout the Dominion reaching 8,000 a year, for the doors to be closed against applicants because of insufficiency of funds. Just at the present time, with the building extensions that are going on the patients crowding in as the winter approaches, the financial needs are very urgent."

Contributions for the hospital, in large sums, are being sent to the trustees by Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., vice-president of the National Sanitarium Association, 4 Lamport avenue, Toronto; W. J. Gage, chairman of the executive committee, 54 Front street west, Toronto, or the National Trust Company, treasurer, King street east, Toronto. The head office of the Association is in the Mail Building, Toronto. J. S. Robertson, secretary.

BALFOUR'S HAPPY FAMILY.

Exchange of Compliments at British Cabinet Dinner.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The cabinet last night gave Prime Minister Balfour a demonstration of its solidarity on the eve of the meeting of parliament. The occasion was a banquet given by the Lord Mayor of London to celebrate Mr. Balfour's assumption of the premiership. Two hundred guests were present.

In the chief speech of the evening Mr. Balfour unwittingly furnished an instance of his habitual unconcern for practical arrangements, which, it is predicted, will make the coming session lively for the ministry, despite its enormous majority. He was thanked by the Lord Mayor for the toast to his health when he said that there were subjects on which it was difficult to speak in public. One of these was his relations with his predecessor. He had been associated with Lord Salisbury in all transactions where he had taken a leading part and owed a great deal to Lord Salisbury for the encouragement given him when he was a mere boy. These were debts that he owed to Lord Salisbury. He would not have referred to them except for the sake of private friends.

The Lord Mayor thereupon informed him that King were reporters present. Mr. Balfour was quite surprised at this information, but he declared that he was not ashamed of his words. He would not have said them, however, if he had been aware that they would be made public. He devoted the remainder of his speech to the public business of the coming session.

Later in the evening Mr. Balfour and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain exchanged the warmest compliments. The latter described Mr. Balfour as the soul of honor, who broke no promises, served no private ends and represented the best traditions of the English parliament. Mr. Balfour, in return, declared that Mr. Chamberlain had done more for the British empire than any other colonial minister. Lord Selborne, first lord of the admiralty, also made a speech, in which he referred to the arrangements between the government and the Cunard Steamship Company. He maintained that the government had taken the most economical method of effectually meeting the special emergency of coping with vessels of foreign nations which Great Britain's naval cruisers were not able to catch.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The Boer generals are sorry they did not go to the United States for money instead of making a vain voyage of the continent. General Botha said today that they intended, of course, to go to the United States, but as they had started to tour the continent they would finish their tour of Europe before undertaking the trip to America. The experience of the generals so far has been rather disappointing. There has been plenty of cheers, but little money has been contributed for the relief of the Boers.

The Philharmonic House was filled to its utmost capacity for the Boer meeting to-night. The sale of tickets realised $3,750, some persons paying as much as $250 for a ticket. Military uniforms were almost entirely lacking.

Among your Saturday evening purchases include a package of Red Rose tea.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—With the exception of Timothy M. Healy, who voted to support the government, all the Irish members of the house of commons abstained from voting in today's division on the education bill. Boys' Branch Opened With Reception
—The Work They Will Do
This Winter.

The winter's work of the Y. M. C. A. boys' branch was opened last evening by one of the pleasantest receptions ever held in the association parlors. A big crowd attended, including 180 boys, a splendid programme of speeches, music and recitations was given, and at the close the Young Ladies' League dispensed satisfying refreshments.

D. Donald, president of this branch, presided, and in a brief opening address outlined the work for the winter. H. J. Smith of the committee has just returned from a trip through the eastern states, where he has been observing advanced Y. M. C. A. methods, and he gave those present the benefit of his observations in a short speech. Other speeches were made by John E. Irvine, Secretary S. B. Wilson and the new physical director, F. W. Green.

The rest of the programme was made up of a solo by Arthur Beal, reading by Miss Belle Archibald, reading and solo by H. E. K. Whitney, gramophone selections and whistling solos by Walter Nixon.

The members of the boys' branch will be favored with an unusually good gymnasium course this winter, to which will be added other attractions in the way of entertainments, socials, paper chases, sledding and skating parties, raffles and drives. As an inducement to the boys to help increase the membership of the branch the committee has started a contest which began last Tuesday and runs to Nov. 14. The boy who secures the most new members in that time will receive a ticket to next year's camp, and the second competitor will receive a nickel watch.

Many people are of the opinion that in lead packet teas the weight of the lead wrapping is paid for as tea. Baird & Peters, the packers of Vim Tea, guarantee every package to contain the full weight of tea as specified on the label clear of the lead wrapper.

SOLIDERS' MONUMENT

Will be Unveiled Next Month—Base Will be of Granite and Statue Probably the Same.

The Memorial Park committee met last night in the Portland library for the purpose of arranging for the completion of the park decorations and for devising ways and means to raise the balance of the fund necessary. No plans were definitely settled, but it is probable that another bazaar or something of that nature will be held in the near future.

The memorial monument now being erected of grey granite by Sieeth and Quinlan of Carleton was completed and placed in position early next month with the exception of the statue which will surmount, which will be the figure of a Canadian soldier in khaki. It has not yet been decided whether this shall be made of bronze, as at first intended, or of granite, the same as the base of the monument, but it is probable that the latter will be adopted.

The matter of selecting a suitable inscription and of deciding what names shall be carved on the pedestal has been left with the monument committee.

MORE GOLD.

(Cor. Bangor Commercial.)

Robert Clark, of St. Stephen, has in his possession some rich specimens of gold-bearing quartz. Mr. Clark declines to disclose the name of the locality in which the specimens were found, but intimates that surprising developments may be announced later.

The parties who own the land where the quartz was found are not desirous of selling out to anyone, and should the precious metal be found in paying quantities, will operate the mine without outside aid. The specimens are usually rich with gold, and if the same ratio bears out through the ledge from which they were taken the owners certainly possess a bonanza. A number of persons, who have examined the samples of gold-bearing quartz in Mr. Clark's possession, have insinuated that they were brought from Colorado, but the gentleman insists that they were found within a few miles of St. Stephen, but declines to name the exact locality.

ON THE STREET CAR.

"Squeeze along a little, will you?" said the street car conductor.

"Don't you see I'm right up against a big fat man?"

"That's why I asked you to squeeze along. He can be compressed nearly a foot more. Squeeze along."—Chicago Tribune.

HIS PRIVATE OPINION.

"Ah!" exclaimed the sentimental maid, as she sat on the moonlit balcony in blissful proximity to the man after her own heart, "how I love the beautiful stars!"

"Yes, of course," rejoined the masculine portion of the company, whose thoughts were wandering, "and the chorus girls ain't so worse, either."

MGR. CONNOLLY'S FUNERAL.

Immediately on arrival at Fredericton the remains of the revered priest were taken from the train by Undertaker Fitzpatrick of St. John and conveyed to the hearse in waiting. Then under the direction of undertaker J. D. Hanson of Fredericton the journey to the grave was commenced. The procession order was as follows: Coaches, with clergy and relatives of the deceased; the hearse; delegates of fraternal societies from St. John; delegation of Fredericton A. O. H., parishioners and general mourners from St. John, general mourners from Fredericton. The place of burial was in the family plot at the Hermitage. The Rev. F. L. Carney, pastor of St. Dunstan's, read the burial service at the grave, the responses were answered by the clergy in attendance, the acolytes standing by the graveside. With bared and bowed heads the large gathering assembled in the hallowed spot paid its last earthly respects to the dearly beloved dead.

SHOULD BE STOPPED.

A citizen informs the Star that when he entered the lobby of the Opera House the other evening several boys were there soliciting from patrons of the house ten or fifteen cents to make up enough for to get a ticket. He asked one of the boys his name, but got no satisfaction. It may be the duty of the police to look after the boys on the sidewalk, but the Opera House people have also a duty to perform. The lobby should be kept clear of boys.

SUCCESSFUL CARNIVAL.

The committee of the autumn carnival met last evening to settle accounts. It was generally agreed that the objects for which the carnival was arranged had been accomplished. In all probability this year's week of high class sport is but the first of others which will be held every year. The head committee was informed that R. J. Armstrong had donated the use of his buildings for the different concerts held during the week, with the exception of the incidental expenses.

THE NEXT FESTIVAL.

The Music Has Arrived and is All Operatic.

The music for the Chapman festival chorus arrived a few days ago, and judging from it the next series of concerts will be by far the best yet. Mr. Chapman has, perhaps wisely, decided to omit oratorio and all the music for the next festival will be operatic. Wagner's work is to be taken up and among the choruses received are several especially good ones from Lohengrin. It is also announced that Faust will be studied, but whether as a whole opera such as being done in Bangor, or only in selections, is not yet announced. The musical committee feel that the programme for the next concert is the best that has yet been offered.

The success of the recent festival has done much in raising enthusiasm in musical circles and now, ere before the first practice has been held, fully fifteen additional singers have joined the chorus. Others have spoken of doing so, and it is believed that the coming chorus will be stronger than ever.

The first rehearsal of the chorus will be held in the Church of England, at eight o'clock, on Monday evening at eight o'clock. The board of management will meet after the rehearsal.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE.

No man is born into the world, whose work is not born with him.—Lowell.

Life has more than once been likened to a wall of masonry, which each one, by his share in the work, adds to the world, must help to build. Some there are who seem to have more than their rightful portion of the toll, while others appear to live solely on the efforts of those around them and not to exert themselves for the smallest thing. Though to continue our text—Lowell says that "there is always work, and tools to work withal, for those who will," yet a large number in this world apparently belong to the class of people who—since they are not useful—must of necessity be ornamental. But, like the minor stones in the wall, which serve to fill in the chinks, no doubt they have their own niche somewhere which they fill well or ill as the case may be.

The man or woman in these busy days of the 20th century who has no definite occupation—be it actual labor something to fill in the time with profit to self and benefit to others. Honorable work never harms, but rather ennobles one, and the best men of the world and those who have done most for it, from Adam's day to this, have been among the workers, and it is becoming more and more realized that all true work is sacred; in all true work, were it but true hand-labor, there is something of divineness.

A CLERGYMAN'S OPINION.

Speaking to the Star on the boy problem, a prominent clergyman said: "Eben Perkins' letter to the Alliance was too much to the point. It contained more truth than poetry, and when he told the ministers to take off their coats and get to work they didn't like it one bit. No person ever likes to be told to get to work. Many ministers of St. John like to sit up in the Y. M. C. A. rooms and theorize and discuss the question in a most profound manner, and they are naturally annoyed when anyone points out to them that they are wasting valuable time. Rev. Mr. Raymond has hit upon a good scheme, and if all of us were to follow his example and do less talking it might result in some good."

ATTENTION, PLEASE, ALL.

"The Black Knight"—Rev. J. H. Hector, is expected to arrive this afternoon and to remain in the city several days. He will be often before the public while here. (See Sunday Services column.) Besides his pulpit work on Sunday, Mr. Hector will deliver a lecture at 4 o'clock, at which the grand scribe, S. of T. Col. Armstrong, will preside. Pastors and members of temperance bodies will be seated on the platform. Mr. Hector will lecture also on Monday and Tuesday evenings in York Theatre.

PULP WOOD.

A considerable amount of lumber will be cut for the St. John Sulphite Pulp Co. near Tynemouth Creek this winter. A gang of men has already gone into the woods to get things in shape for the season's operations. The lumber will be cut and brought to the city in scows. This operation will keep a number of scows and a tug pretty busy during the season.

REV. MR. MACNEILL OBJECTS.

Rev. L. G. Macneill is somewhat annoyed over the political capital in the out of his Thanksgiving sermon by the Telegraph. He says that his remarks were not intended in any way as an argument for or against any government or political leaders, and had he known that his words were to have been used in such a manner the Telegraph would never have been given this manuscript.

VITALITY STATISTICS.

Eighteen burial certificates were issued this week. Death was due to the following causes:—Senility, 1; meningitis, 2; typhoid fever, 1; paralysis, 1; heart failure, 1; apoplexy, 1; cholera infantum, 2; old age, 1; dysentery, 1; senile decay, 1; cancer of liver, 1; Bright's disease, 1; consumption, 1; accident, 1; spinal meningitis, 1; prostatic disease, 1. Total 18.

THEY BURNT THE MORTGAGE.

The Free Baptist church at Hartland, N. B., Thursday evening was the scene of a joyful event to the members of that church, when a Thanksgiving service was held at which the mortgage on their parsonage was burnt. The building cost over $1,000, the last cent of which has now been paid.

TEMPERANCE MATTERS.

The usual gospel temperance meeting in the W. C. T. U. hall, North End, on Sunday afternoon will not be held tomorrow, owing to the meeting in the York Theatre at the same time.

POLICE COURT.

Lavinia Goes to Jail—Wanted to Shed Her Clothing.

Lavinia Bantry, who posed as a model of virtue a few days ago, and who gave evidence against the Blood Alley gang, has fallen from grace. She was found having a glorious old time out on Marsh road, in company with Isaac Wilson. Officer Burchill scooped the pair, and they were given two months each this morning. John Shaw evidently imagined he was entered in a hammer throwing contest, for last evening on Mill street he started in to remove the greater part of his clothing. This conduct attracted quite a crowd, but he could not be persuaded to go home with any of them. However, when Officer Semple came along Shaw welcomed him with open arms and walked to jail as happy as a clam. Four dollars.

Jacob Nottell and Robert Campbell, two other drunks, were fined four dollars or ten days each.

LIQUOR SELLING.

Fined for Dispensing the Ardent Last Sunday.

Edward Burke, who keeps a beer shop on Sheriff street, was reported to the police court by Inspector Jones for selling liquor in his shop on Sunday last. For some time frequent reports have been made to Mr. Jones that this was being done, but he took steps to secure information against Burke. His work resulted in the charge made this morning for selling liquor last Sunday.

In police court this morning Burke pleaded guilty to selling last Sunday and wanted to take a solemn oath that he would never do it again. He was not given the opportunity. A fine of one hundred dollars or three months in jail was imposed, and Burke announced that there were others on Sheriff street, who were just as bad as he was. He did not, however, feel disposed to give their names.

UNHAPPY CHILDREN.

Serge Baxter has reported that two children belonging to John and Mary Dugan are living in a destitute condition in their home in Skysail yard, off Sheffield street. This matter has been reported on several occasions, but as yet no steps have been taken to improve the condition of the children. Mary Dugan, the mother, spends most of her time in jail, where she now is, and when out is usually drunk. The father works only when he feels like it, and the responsibility of keeping herself and the eighteen-months-old baby alive falls chiefly on the little daughter. When Serg Baxter visited the house last evening he found that the little girl was trying to keep on a fire with chips she was breaking off a piece of log. There was half a loaf of dry bread and three or four potatoes in the house.

Secretary Wetmore of the S. P. C. A. is looking into the matter.

JAIL IMPROVEMENTS.

The whole of the twenty-four cells in the new wing of the jail have been fitted with beds and are now ready for occupation. As yet only those on the two upper floors have been used, as the lower floor, which is reserved for women, has not yet been required, sufficient accommodation being found in the old jail for all the female prisoners now confined.

There are now in the jail thirty-five available cells, and it is believed that these will be sufficient to prevent any overcrowding. At present forty-five persons are being furnished with board and lodging.

A number of men are at work sawing wood and it is worthy of note that the best pair of workers are two who have only three arms and three legs between them. The one armed man is a hustler with the saw, but what is more surprising is that the chap with one leg is a regular monkey when it comes to climbing a ladder.

LOTS OF FRUIT.

A. L. Goodwin has just received a carload of fancy Jamaica oranges direct from the plantations via Boston. The oranges are very fine and sweet and make excellent eating. They are selling at a low rate. Mr. Goodwin is also landing today a carload of Woodstock Wealthy apples, consisting of two hundred barrels, for the Halloween trade.

The first bunch of chestnuts for the season will be received here next week from Upper Canada. Chestnuts are popular in St. John and the crop this year is said to be a good one. One hundred barrels of Malaga grapes, also the first of the season, have just been received and are fine stock.

WERE OVERLOOKED.

John Wilks, who was caretaker of the isolation hospital from the 6th of December last year until practically the smallpox epidemic ceased, dropped in to the Star office this morning. He said that it appeared as if he and his wife, who acted as cook, had been overlooked in the distribution of extra gratuities. During the term of his services there he assisted in bringing almost every one of the patients from the city to the hospital in the ambulance, helped in burying the dead and generally made himself useful. His duties were arduous and his pay not very large. Mrs. Wilks acted as cook, and during the first few weeks before assistance was obtained, washed all the patients' clothes and linen that had to be purified. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilks feel that if any extra payments are now being made or about to be made by the municipal council, they should not be overlooked. Mr. Wilks is now farming at The Maples, Public Landing.
