

HON. A. L. SIFTON MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS

Former Minister of Customs Sworn into Office Yesterday — Nothing Definite Regarding Sir Douglas Hazen's Intentions.

OPPOSITION WILL DELAY RATIFICATION

Have Decided to Demand More Explicit Information Regarding Obligations Contracted by Canada as Member of League.

Special to Standard. Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Hon. A. L. Sifton, who since leaving the Government in 1917, has been Minister of Customs, was sworn in yesterday as Minister of Public Works. He succeeded Hon. E. B. Carroll, recently appointed to the chairmanship of the Board of Railway Commissioners. No successor has been appointed to Mr. Sifton in the Dept. of Customs. It is understood that the present Hon. J. D. Reid will be acting Minister. Nothing definite has yet been decided as to whether Mr. Sifton will be re-elected to re-enter the Government. It is believed, however, that he has the offer of a portfolio, and it is not unlikely that another shuffle will shortly be made to arrange for his inclusion into the Ministry. Will Delay Ratification of Treaty. The Liberal opposition have decided to demand more explicit information regarding the obligations contracted by Canada as a member of the League of Nations, before giving their assent to the ratification of the Peace Treaty. It is understood that a number of speakers contended that under article ten of the League, Canada contracts gigantic obligations, and that more information in regard to these should be given by the Prime Minister than was contained in his speech on Tuesday. It is further understood that the caucus concerning the Peace Treaty should be given for examination of the Peace Treaty, and documents connected therewith, before the House proceeds with their consideration. This is likely to lead to controversy. The Prime Minister is anxious to have the treaty ratified as promptly as possible, and, although willing to permit of reasonable delay for its perusal, it is said to take the ground that there is no reason why discussion of it cannot proceed today. The caucus was presided over by Hon. W. S. Fielding and by the new Liberal leader, Mr. Mackenzie King.

CLEVER FORGER WORKS MONCTON BUSINESS MEN

Clever. Three Stores and Successfully Puts Over the Same Old Game.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, N. B., Sept. 3.—Using the name of the Geo. A. Fuller Co., contractors for the T. Eaton building in this city, a young man, whose identity is at present unknown, victimized at least three Moncton merchants last night by passing off forged checks for seventy dollars, purporting to be drawn by the Geo. A. Fuller Co. in favor of Harold C. McDonald. The young man presenting the checks received the goods and about $140 in cash in change. When the checks were presented at the Bank of Montreal, this morning, they were declared to be forgeries. The forger has the Geo. A. Fuller stamp, and had the name of the paymaster, Geo. A. Foster, attached. The Fuller Co. declare no such man as Harold C. McDonald was in their employ. The police, with the meagre description given by the victims, have little hope of tracing the culprit.

HIGH COST CREST REACHED—ARMOUR

Prices Are Already Going Down and Will Continue, Says Chicago Packer.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—"The crest of the high cost of living has been reached, prices have already started downward and will continue. The drop later will be considerable," said J. Ogden Armour, the Chicago packer, in an interview here this afternoon. "Not only will the products of the packers fall but all other foodstuffs will decline in price," said Mr. Armour. "Conditions now point to a considerable drop later on."

DIVORCE COURT SPRINGS NEW ONE IN MONTREAL

MET AT MOVIES, ELOPED TO QUEBEC

Interesting Legal Questions Arise Over the Case Which Finally Goes to Juvenile Court for Settlement.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Sept. 3.—Non-support cases are frequent in Montreal courts, but a record was established here today when the defendant in one case was a fifteen year old husband and the complainant his nineteen year old wife. According to the statements of counsel the youthful Romeo first met his Juliet outside a movie theatre, they went to the movies together, became infatuated with each other and after a swift courtship eloped to Quebec where after a brief stay they were duly married. The honeymoon was short, and the young couple soon returned to Montreal. On their arrival here, the young husband was summoned before the juvenile court, on a charge laid by his mother. He appeared before Judge Choquet, who, on being given the evidence that a regular marriage had taken place advised the mother to put up with it. Then the young benedict went to his mother's shelter and took to making bread as he was a baker by trade. This arrangement did not agree with his wife, who had to go back to her parents. The result was that a complaint for non-support was laid which led to the appearance in court today of the fifteen year old husband before Judge Lanctot. The accused was not given a chance to make any statement, as his lawyer did the talking on his behalf and objected to the hearing of this case as the defendant was only fifteen years old. His case, he claimed, should be before the juvenile court like any other offenders who had not reached their sixteenth anniversary, and he asked that the case be dismissed and that the plaintiff should sue to do so, and take no action before the juvenile court. To the support of his contention the lawyer filed the birth certificate of the husband, showing that he was born on the ninth of September, 1903. Counsel for the bride submitted a different argument. "I submit," he said, "that the accused, in spite of his age, having been married, was, according to our civil law, emancipated by his marriage and finally ruled that he had no jurisdiction to try an offender that was not yet sixteen years of age, and that it was up to the plaintiff to make her case before the juvenile court. The accused was alone, while the plaintiff was accompanied by members of her family. Both the husband and wife walked out of the court, each taking a different direction. Referring to the high cost of living problem, Hon. Dr. Tolmie said shorter hours and higher wages were but a remedial measure for a short time for the great masses of people. Only increased production on the farms could bring down the cost of living in his opinion. Dr. Tolmie announced that the federal government would give prizes at the fair livestock shows in future, by way of encouraging better breeding and feeding. The government was also ready to inaugurate the accredited hours system as followed in the United States, and under it would pay compensation to farmers for diseased animals.

DEATH TAKES WIFE OF JUDGE CHANDLER

Mrs. Chandler Was Daughter of the Late John and Catherine McNamara of St. John.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, N. B., Sept. 3.—Mrs. W. D. Chandler, wife of Judge W. B. Chandler, died at 6 o'clock this morning after a long illness. She was 54 years of age. Her husband had been in fairly good health. She was the daughter of the late John and Catherine McNamara, of St. John, N. B. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Troop, of Moncton, and one sister, Mrs. Kate McNamara. The funeral will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. from St. Bernard's Church.

HALIFAX HEALTH BOARD TO ENFORCE VACCINATION LAW

All Children Who Have Not Been Vaccinated Are to be Expelled from Schools.

Halifax, September 3.—It is stated by the Board of Health that it is the intention to exclude all unvaccinated children from the schools after this week. The law of the province provides that this expulsion can be effected only if parents or guardians do not make a declaration that they conscientiously object to vaccination. The Board of Health have made no provision for taking these declarations, and, in order that no children may be deprived of their school privileges, a citizen, who is strongly opposed to vaccination, announces that he will make a declaration that they conscientiously object to vaccination. The board of health provides the proper facilities.

THRONGS AT SCHOOL SHOPS FOR THE ARMY FOOD

Market basket in hand, thousands of men, women and children in New York hurried to the fifty-eight school buildings in the second day's sale of surplus army foods. The crowds were two or three times as large as on the opening day. The municipal stores were swamped. Most stocks were sold out in the forenoon. Call went out for additional help. Many times the amount of supplies on hand could have been sold if it had been possible to make the distribution. The public was most anxious to get meat and eagerly took up the 200,000 pounds of bacon offered.

Advocates More Cold Storage

Dr. Tolmie Not One to Condemn the Cold Storage System, Believing it a Great Boon to the Farmers.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—"Our interprovincial trade ought to be much greater," said Hon. Dr. Tolmie at the midday luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition today. "It gives me a pain when I hear of Canadians eating good Idaho apples," he added amid laughter. "Deal among yourselves more," the minister urged the farmers. Hon. Dr. Tolmie made a plea for more cold storage plants. "It is necessary to extend and enlarge the cold storage system," he said. "I am not one of those who blindly condemn cold storages. Where would we be in the egg business, or the butter business, if it were not for cold storage systems?" he asked amid applause. Referring to the high cost of living problem, Hon. Dr. Tolmie said shorter hours and higher wages were but a remedial measure for a short time for the great masses of people. Only increased production on the farms could bring down the cost of living in his opinion. Dr. Tolmie announced that the federal government would give prizes at the fair livestock shows in future, by way of encouraging better breeding and feeding. The government was also ready to inaugurate the accredited hours system as followed in the United States, and under it would pay compensation to farmers for diseased animals.

PRISONERS ESCAPE MONCTON JAIL

Make Brutal Assault on Jail Matron and Get Away—One Recaptured Last Night

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Sept. 3.—A sensational and successful case of jail breaking occurred here this morning about 10.10 o'clock. Jailer Sweeney was in Sackville attending to court matters before Magistrate W. A. Gass. Mrs. Sweeney, the jail matron, entered the jail corridors to gather up the breakfast dishes from the cells and left the corridor gate open. Stanley Crossman, an ex-convict, who is serving time charged with burglarizing the stores of the Dorchester Mercantile, struck Mrs. Sweeney a staggering blow and made good his escape, making a complete getaway. Prisoner Joe Melançon, of Moncton, who is serving a three months term for theft, and who had been recently sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for jail breaking, followed Crossman and made his getaway. Mrs. Sweeney, who hears the wark of the cowardly assault, was not seriously injured. Shortly after the escape of the prisoners, Sheriff Kilam organized a posse of men and started in pursuit. About eight o'clock last night Crossman was recaptured near Sackville, and it is expected Melançon will also be apprehended.

LIBERALS OF ONT. HAVE STRONG WORKING BODY

The New Executive Will Take Over the Work of the Reform Association of Ontario Which Formerly Conducted Organization.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—The new Ontario Liberal executive, which in the future will direct the activities of the Liberal party in Ontario, came into existence at a meeting in this city of representatives of the six District Associations, into which the province recently was divided. This executive, in addition to its other duties, will take over the work of the Reform Association of Ontario, which has conducted organizations throughout the province for the past fifteen years. The merging of the two bodies was the result of a mutual agreement, the Reform Association's executive having, by formal resolution, approved the merger. The officers of the new Liberal executive, chosen at today's meeting, are: Honorary President, Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King; Honorary Vice-president, H. Dewar, K. C., leader of the Ontario Liberal party; President, A. C. Hardy, Brockville; First Vice-president, Thomas McMillan, Seaforth; Second Vice-president, W. H. Wright, Owen Sound; Secretary, W. A. Adams, Toronto, for the past five years general secretary of the Reform Association; Treasurer, A. J. Young, North Bay. The new executive will be the governing body for the Liberal party in the province, but will, however, work in close co-operation with the six district associations, and through them, with the riding and urban associations. The district association will have autonomous powers in their respective regions, but the new executive will be practically a clearing house for them all. Its creation was decided upon by the leaders in attendance at the recent Dominion Liberal convention at Ottawa.

FIRST AIRPLANE FUNERAL OCCURS IN TORONTO

Remains of Baby Carried by Airplane to Cemetery, Followed by Undertaker in Another Plane.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—The first airplane funeral in Toronto took place this morning, when the remains of baby Leonard Allen, son of Martin Allen, were carried by the airplane to Mount Pleasant cemetery, four miles from the city's home. After the service at the child's home, conducted by Rev. Canon Dixon, the remains were placed in an airplane driven by Harold Smith, late of the L. A. F. A second airplane, containing an employee of the funeral director, followed. The parents of the child motored to the cemetery.

French Are Discussing The Treaty

Fourteen Orators Have Been Heard in the Chamber of Deputies—Some Opposition to Ratification Developing.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Deputy Franklin-Bouillon, the fourteenth orator in the Chamber of Deputies on ratification of the German Peace Treaty, declared today that he would vote against the treaty. Deputy Franklin-Bouillon is the first member of the Chamber to make known his determination to vote adversely on the document. Taking up the military terms of the treaty, Louis Barthe, chairman of the Peace Ratification Committee, said moral strength was insufficient to enforce peace, there must be collective and organized force. President Wilson, he declared, changed his attitude after January, 1917, when he advocated the creation of such a superior force that no nation would be able to attack or resist it. At the peace conference, however, M. Barthe added, President Wilson laid down only general principles and vague methods. M. Barthe insisted upon the necessity of exacting reparations for German cruelties in countries occupied by them during the war. He demanded that rigid execution of the treaty be required. The treaty as a whole, he added, contained measures satisfactory to the Allies in the matter of financial reparations, but said that the document was lacking in clearness. He announced that he would vote for ratification of the treaty.

SOLUTION OF THE ADRIATIC DISPUTE CONSIDERED NEAR

Signor Tittoni and Lloyd George Said to Have a Compromise Proposition Which Looks Feasible.

Paris, Sept. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—Satisfaction is expressed in Italian circles at the outcome of Signor Tittoni's trip to Deauville, from which place he returned yesterday after a conference with the British Prime Minister, Mr. Lloyd George. While no official communication had been given out, it is learned, from reliable authority, that an agreement had been reached from which a solution of the Italian problem is expected. According to this information the three governments, who were parties to the Pact of London, have decided to send a collective note to President Wilson asking him to give his assent to a compromise which the signatories consider adequate. Some doubt is expressed, however, as to the probability of President Wilson modifying his attitude on the Adriatic question, but it is said that the compromise opens the way for the President to agree without recording from his former position.

PRES. WILSON STARTS SWING AROUND CIRCLE

WILL MAKE THIRTY SPEECHES

Trip a Most Arduous One and Will Take Him West to Pacific Coast and North to Canadian Border.

Washington, Sept. 3.—President Wilson left Washington tonight for a country-wide speaking trip to tell the American people, first hand, of his part in the Peace negotiations, and to make a personal appeal that the treaty be ratified without amendment. The President's special train, on which he will live nearly all of the time for the next twenty-five days, departed at seven o'clock. The first leg of the trip of nearly ten thousand miles, will be completed tomorrow morning in Columbus, Ohio, where he will make the first of his thirty scheduled addresses. Accompanying the President, in addition to Mrs. Wilson, were Joseph P. Tumulty, his secretary, and Rear-Admiral C. T. Grayson, his physician. Nearly thirty newspaper correspondents also were aboard the train, in addition to the force of official stenographers and secret service men. The trip, perhaps the most arduous ever undertaken by a President, will carry Mr. Wilson and his party as far West as the Pacific Coast, almost to the Canadian border on the north, and almost to Mexico on the south. He will speak in every State west of the Mississippi, except four, and will make up for the omission of these by speeches in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. In point of distance covered, the tour will be almost on a par with the President's trip to France and return. In Seattle he will review the Pacific Coast fleet. Although it is expected that the President will devote most of his attention to the Peace Treaty, he probably will also touch on the High Cost of Living and other domestic problems. But the principal message to be taken to the people is expected to relate to the negotiations and treaty of Versailles. After the same manner as he went to the country for his preparedness measures, his advisers say he is prepared to make now the fight of his political life, if necessary, for the Peace Treaty.

LORD FISHER MAKES PROTEST AGAINST NAVY

ATTACK EVOKES MUCH COMMENT

With the German Menace Gone There is a Belief Among Officials That Curtailment in Navy Would be Wise.

London, Sept. 2. (Reuter)—A protest couched in vigorous language in today's Times by Lord Fisher on naval expenditure has evoked interesting comments. Lord Fisher declared against alleged incredible and ruinous waste in the navy which now costs one hundred and forty million pounds sterling annually as compared with thirty-four million in 1904, notwithstanding that the German fleet does not exist. Lord Fisher declares that half the navy is already obsolete and should be scrapped and says that in other half will be equally useless in a few years because of internal combustion engines and oil. Lord Fisher concludes: "If the nation don't sack the spend-thrifts today, the day of crumblings is not far off." Among the prominent naval men interviewed in regard to Lord Fisher's views, Admiral Percy Scott says the day of the three million pound budget is over. Such money could be better used in the air service. Commander Bellaire, after saying much needless naval expenditure originated in Lord Fisher's policy, declared the whole case which led to increased naval armament, namely, the North Sea outlook, is now vanished. Admiral Bridger said: "Of course the German menace has disappeared, but the experience of the war shows the extreme importance of the Empire keeping up a very respectable naval force. In any great reduction programme, we must go cautiously." A well known naval critic who preferred to be anonymous said: "You cannot reduce with safety."

KOLCHAK APPEALS TO ALL RUSSIANS

Urges Them to Join the Ranks as the Destiny of Russia is at Stake.

Bulletin—London, September 2.—Admiral Kolchak, head of the All Russian government at Omsk, has issued a stirring appeal to all Russians capable of bearing arms, to join his ranks, declaring that the destiny of Russia is at stake. He declares that his government will not lay down its arms until victory has been won. A despatch from Omsk says that Admiral Kolchak has called upon the remainder of the population incapable of bearing arms to furnish supplies and munitions.

ENRICO CARUSO RETURNS, LET THE MUSIC GO ON

New York, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Enrico Caruso, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Mrs. Caruso arrived here today from Italy on the Giuseppe Verdi. Mr. Caruso said he was under contract for twelve performances in Mexico City for $34,000, but that if conditions were bad in Mexico he would not go there. Failure to appear, he said, would cost him $500,000 in damages, according to his contract.

HALIFAX FOG HOLDS UP THE CRUISER RENOWN

Halifax, Sept. 3.—The British battle cruiser Renown has been off the Nova Scotia coast all day, held up by a heavy fog. At ten o'clock she had not been able to make her way into this port, and it was not expected she would attempt this until tomorrow. The weather probabilities are that the fog will lift about noon Thursday, and the naval authorities believe the big warship will then make the harbor. She was due today.

LET APPLES ROT ON GROUND BECAUSE PRICES ARE NOT RIGHT

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Reports that thousands of bushels of apples in Michigan are being allowed to rot on the ground because market prices are not right, caused Russell J. Poole, director of the foods market and farm products bureau, to start an investigation here today into the market conditions for fruit growers. It was claimed that growers could not get enough for their apples to make it worth while to pick and ship them.

COMMUNIST PARTY OF AMERICA IS ORGANIZED

Adopts the Emblem of the Soviet Republic of Russia With Motto: "Workers of the World Unite"—Approval of Plan for General Strike in U. S. on October 8 One of the First Acts—Plan for Propaganda.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Three hundred representatives of the left wing faction of the National Socialist Party, which recently withdrew from the parent body, today organized the Communist Party of America and adopted the emblem of the Soviet Republic of Russia with the motto: "Workers of the World Unite." The emblem consists of a scythe and hammer surrounded by a wreath of wheat. A suggestion that a torch be added to the emblem was voted down.

Delegate Zimmerman of Indiana proposed a small majority who wanted the new organization christened the Independent Socialist Party, but his suggestion was overwhelmingly defeated. "I think the word Communist will strike terror to the American workman and we cannot succeed in this movement without this element," he said. "I will go as far in the revolutionary movement as any man in this hall, but I think it unwise to adopt this name. If you think I am a coward, then I am a coward. I am a coward until after the capitalist class had been overthrown."

In urging the adoption of the name speakers declared that the term Socialist had been discredited and that the word Communist fittingly expressed the revolutionary objects of the new political party.

Tomorrow the party will adopt a constitution, which, it is said, will be patterned largely after that of the Soviet of the republic of Russia. Every mention of the Russian Republic and Bolshevism was greeted with cheers.

One of the first acts of the new party was to approve a plan for a general strike in the United States on October 8 to compel release of Thomas J. Mooney, Eugene V. Debs and other alleged class war prisoners.

It was decided to hold future meetings of the industrial Workers of the World Hall several blocks away. This is to accommodate the increasing crowd, it was explained.

"We want to get as far away as possible from the corpse," shouted one delegate, referring to the National Socialist party which was in session in a hall on an upper floor of the same building.

Representatives from every state in the union at the convention, decided to use phonograph records of "The International" and other Russian Soviet songs to spread the radical propaganda.

Among the resolutions adopted was one demanding the immediate withdrawal of American troops from Russia and Hungary.

The Communist group of ultra radicals, recently expelled from the National Socialist party, which is meeting in another west side hall, expects to form another political party before adjourns at the end of the week. This faction consists of foreign language socialists and others who regard the parent body and the left wing faction as too conservative.

The emergency convention of the National Socialist party under the leadership of Congressman-elect Victor Berger of Milwaukee, Adolph Germer of Chicago, Algernon Lee of New York and Mayor O. W. Hoan of Milwaukee, devoted the entire day to committee work.

SUGGESTIONS OF SIR ROBERT MET WITH APPROVAL

An Important Feature of His Address in the House Was the Explanation of the Definite Status of Self-Governing Dominions at Conference.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—An important feature of Sir Robert Borden's address in the House of Commons yesterday was his explanation of the new and definite status of the self-governing dominions at the peace conference.

As a result of a proposal of the prime minister of Canada, it was arranged that there should be a distinctive representation for each dominion, similar to that accorded to the smaller powers, and in addition that the British Empire representation of five delegates should be selected from day to day from a panel composed of representatives of the United Kingdom and the dominions. This led to a further arrangement that the assent of the king to the treaties should, in respect of the dominions, be signified by the signature of the dominion plenipotentiaries. This development involving the assent of the king, as high as the issuance of full powers to the various dominion plenipotentiary delegates. Action was taken at the request of Sir Robert Borden so that it might formally appear of record that those powers were issued on the responsibility of the government of Canada. From this action it came to pass that Canada was recognized as a signatory of the treaty, and as a member of the League of Nations, and of the International Labor Conference.

General Currie.

Toronto Times—Sir Arthur, during his long absence from Canada, was frequently attacked by ignorant and unscrupulous persons. Men do not rise to such enormities without making enemies. He has answered his critics calmly, but completely. The public may accept without question the high estimate of his military and personal character formed by his superior officers, and by the Canadian and British governments. Currie is a great man. He is deserving of a great and notable welcome.

Too Ill to Work

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

St. John, N.B.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bladder and kidney troubles and backache and find it the best medicine I ever took. I used many other remedies with very little result. I had two miscarriages and would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your medicine. I always keep a bottle of Vegetable Compound in the house, and I feel free to do my work for five in the family. I have recommended your Compound to many people, and you may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."

LADY BEATTY'S MESSAGE—HALL ACROSS THE

(By Lady Beatty, wife of A. Beatty.)

London, Aug. 25.—War has been the vision of us all within the past year. Prior to 1914, we were to think in terms of our own slice of the map, England, C. Australia, as the case might be. We are at any rate learning to widen our deeper views, and to look upon the British Empire as a "home," and upon all its scattered daughters as our brothers and sisters. It is not merely the suffering common cause, the sending of the dead to the same sacrifice, that of nature, which makes the world kin, which has had the effect of deepening our sense of comradeship. It is also due in no small measure to the fact that men and women from the uttermost parts of the empire have met in the flesh and mingled in their daily lives.

Before the war a Canadian there was a rarity; perhaps each knew one or two, but not enough to give us any real idea of the life and ideas that animated our Dominion. But for the last five years from foreigners have been a reality in our midst, living our life in our homes, and in a many cases, working and wedded side by side. They have studied us with interest; and we for our part, studied them, liked them, and were parting from them, as the fully paid homeward, with a veritable sense of union and regret.

There isn't much we haven't seen since Kruger cut an' run. 'The same old work, the same old the same old dust an' sun.' The same old chance that laid us down or winked at us in our most amiable way, the same old, the same old life, the same old Good bye—good luck to you. "But 'twasn't merely this an' that (which all the world may see) 'Twas how you talked an' lool' things which made us like y' All independent, queer an' odd most amazing new. My word! you shook us up to Good-bye—good luck to you.

Lines seventeen years old, but er today than when I wrote them. There is very much of feeling in the Old Country in the fact that we would change the sound of that "Good-bye" into a full "An Revolver."

We have seen a Canadian war and recognized for a grand old given freely and gladly by many women alike. It has bred in us a sense of joint hands with Canada peace work, and go forward, not only with our experience and wisdom to guide us, but with that of the young, buoyant and ambitious young, buoyant land, which many social reforms is already making. Sometimes the mother may learn the secret, and let us say that this is true of us and Canada. If England has the virtues, she also the faults of the middle-aged Canada. Canada for her youth, active partner, and both will by a union of work and interest glad to see that under the leadership of Mr. Lloyd Harris, Canada established in London a Trade Union.

And after all, apart from a material advantage of co-operation with Canada in the great problem ahead of us, the natural kinship, strong and leads us in the same direction. Three-fourths of all the population is British-born, that in itself is a fact almost impossible to measure. Formerly disassociated and tended to obscure clear view of one another; but that our inventive wizarid are plying obliterating space, with aeroplanes, their wires, and coming ocean telephony, the understanding that was born on the deserts of France, and hardly in English streets, has been understood because the Car troops are fast going home. Rather we join to our hearty bye, good luck to you, the most true cry of "Hands Across the Canada!"

SPARROWS RAISE FAMILY IN PIPE OF QUEEN'S BIG

M. A. Smith, organist for the Theatre, Dallas, is in a quandary to the fact that a thriving colony of English sparrows are nesting in the big diapason pipes of the theatre. The bird, says "The Tag Picture World."

Smith, a kind-hearted musician, is ripping out a merry little Bach on the other day when an astonishing chorus of tweets and chirps now off tone. He investigated from a bird's nest populated by him he chanced the sharp key an skip octaves until such time as they uttered movie fans are old enough shift for themselves.

WOMAN'S REALM

IN THE HOME AND OUTSIDE

LADY BEATTY'S MESSAGE—HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

(By Lady Beatty, wife of Admiral Beatty.)

London, Aug. 28.—War has enlarged the vision of us all within the Empire. Prior to 1914, we were too apt to think in terms of our own little slice of the map, England, Canada, Australia, as the case might be. Now we are at last learning to take a wider and deeper view, and to look upon the British Empire as a whole. "Home," and upon all its sons and daughters as our brothers and sisters. It is not merely the suffering in a common cause, the sending of our lads to the same sacrifice, that touch of nature, which makes the whole world kin, which has had the effect of deepening our sense of comradeship. It is also due to no small measure to the fact that men and women from the uttermost parts of the Empire have met in the flesh and first-hand in their daily lives for the first time.

Before the war a Canadian over there was a rarity; perhaps each of us knew one or two, but not enough to give us any real idea of the feeling and ideals that animated our great Dominion. But for the last five years men from overseas have been continually in our midst, living our lives, fighting in our homes, and in a good many cases, working and wedding our girls. They have studied us with keen interest, and we for our part have studied them, liked them, and now we are parting from them, as they joyfully sail homeward, with a very real sense of union and regret.

"There isn't much we haven't shared, since Kruger cut an run. The same old work, the same old skoff, the same old dust an' sun. The same old chance that laid us out, or winned an' let us through; The same old life, the same old death. Good-bye—good luck to you."

"But 'twasn't merely this an' that (which all the world may know) 'Twas how you talked an' looked at things which made us like you so. All independent, queer an' odd, but most amazing new. My word! you shook us up to rights. Good-bye—good luck to you!"

Lines seventeen years old, but true today than when piping hot them. There is very much of that feeling in the old Country in 1919, except that we would change the final sound of that "Good-bye" into a hopeful "Au Revoir."

We have seen Canada by work, and recognized for ourselves the things given freely and gladly by men and women alike. It has bred in us a longing to join hands with Canada in peace work, and go forward, not merely with our experience and weight of years to guide us, but with the help of the young, buoyant and optimistic of this young, buoyant land, which is many social reforms is already ahead. Sometimes the mother may learn from the daughter, and in certain respects this is true of us and Canada today. If England has the virtues, she has also the faults of the middle-aged; she needs Canada for her youthful and active partner, and both will benefit by a union of work and interest. I am glad to see that under the chairmanship of Mr. Lloyd Harris, Canada has established in London a Trade Mission.

And after all, apart from all the material advantages of co-operating with Canada in the great problems that lie ahead of us, the natural kinship is strong and leads us in the same direction. Three-fourths of all the Dominion's population is British-born, and that in itself is a fact almost too big for us to measure. Formerly distance separated and tended to obscure our clear view of one another; but now that our inventive wizards are so rapidly obliterating space, with their aeroplanes, their wireless and their coming ocean telephony, the new understanding that was born on the battlefields of France, and hardly less in English streets and lanes, will not be sundered because the Canadian troops are fast going home. Rather we join to our hearty "Good-bye, good luck to you!" the more potent cry of "Hands Across the Sea, Canada!"

SPARROWS RAISE FAMILY IN PIPE OF QUEEN'S BIG ORGAN.

M. A. Smith, organist for the Queen Theatre, Dallas, in a quavering voice, says that a thriving family of English sparrows are maturing in one of the big diapason pipes of his $20,000 jazz thunders, says The Moving Picture World.

Smith, a kind-hearted musician, was ripping out a merry little Bach composition the other day when an astonishing chorus of tweets and chirps threw him off tone. He investigated and found a bird's nest populated by five, now he chums the C sharp key and will skip octaves until such time as the feathered movie fans are old enough to shift for themselves.

SANCTUARY.

Sometimes we lose Him in the streets of town, Where there are noise and people everywhere, But when we go out to the woods and fields I find Him there.

For when I am alone and stand quite still, Where all is quiet, save perhaps a bird. It seems to me His loving, gentle voice Might soon be heard.

It seems to me the trees and flowers and leaves Were silent with the secret of His ways. As if they knew His presence intimate Through all their days.

As if the whispered murmurs of the breeze Were little messages divinely sent, And though I cannot hear the words I am content.

So when I lose Him in the streets of town, Where there are noise and people everywhere, Oh, then I go out to the woods and fields, And find Him there.

HEALTH-GIVING PROPERTIES OF FRUITS.

Of all the summer foods nothing can link us more closely to nature than the fruits because they demand less cooking than most other foods. They are eaten at their best, in the natural unripened state.

Many a housewife has felt during this time of high food cost that she could not afford to buy fruit, so she would make a cake or a pudding for dessert, never stopping to count up the cost of the materials and of the fuel, to say nothing of the time involved.

There are several reasons for the cooling effect of fruits. First, because of the acids present in all types which act directly upon the liver stimulating it and therefore assisting in the more complete disposal of body waste. Second, because the large amount of water found in them all flushes the tissues, acting as a waste elimination by means of perspiration, as well as by increased kidney action. Waste is further carried away by the actual bulk of the cool, moist seeds and many fruits which sweep their way through the digestive tract.

All fruits contain minerals in varying quantities and of differing kinds, and all are more or less acid.

Every fruit, no matter whether it is eaten raw or cooked, contains water, or low as the watermelon, has a definite place in our food repertoire. The raisin is especially rich in carbohydrates and minerals and contains a certain amount of fat. The watermelon on the other hand, is much more bulky and contains only one-fourth of one per cent of fat with less fruit sugar, less mineral and protein than almost any of the other fruits, yet because of these very attributes, and because of the fact that it flushes the entire system, it is one of the simplest of the fruit purifiers.

Roughly speaking, the dietetic value of the more common fruits may be summed up as follows:
Apple—Malic acid is particularly prominent, and as it is a great germ destroyer makes the apple, from this standpoint alone, of tremendous value. Apple-juice or cider, however, have this property. The apple phosphates and other minerals act especially on the digestive organs.

Pears—This fruit has the general characteristic of the apple with a larger proportion of fruit-sugar, considerable iron, and a wider variety of acids, which include malic, tannic and tartaric, together with potash and phosphorus. Its acids are so mild that this fruit agrees with almost any stomach. It is laxative and acts particularly on the kidneys.

Peaches—Roughly speaking, peaches contain about half as much sugar as pears and apples. Their acid is especially valuable for intestinal disorders. Apricots have much the same characteristics as peaches.

Plums—Excepting the bananas, plums contain about as much sugar as any of the other fresh fruits. They are somewhat astringent and are especially valuable for their acids.

Prunes—These are, of course, dried plums, and contain a larger amount of carbohydrates than any of the other dried fruits except raisins, and about half as much protein or muscle-making material as dates or figs. It must be remembered, however, that when any of the dried fruits are soaked in water and then cooked, they take on the nature of fresh fruit and must be considered as such in planning the meal.

Grapes—This fruit is particularly rich in tartaric acid. Its potash salts make it very valuable, and its water and sugar are taken almost at once into the blood, making it a quick source of food supply, especially through the goodly amount of fruit-sugar which it contains. It is considered especially good for the nerves and blood. Grape-juice parishes of these characteristics.

Oranges—this fruit is distinctly tonic. It is a cooling fruit and is soothing in its action so that it is particularly good in cases of sleeplessness. Its minerals feed the nerves and, while they cool the body, they do not thin the blood.

Lemons and Limes—Both these are tonics. The acids of lemons, particularly, act directly on the liver; this makes them of special value in malaria. Lemons are used plentifully in typhoid. They are one of our best intestinal stimulants.

Pineapples—Next to the orange and lemon, the pineapple, when in perfect condition, is perhaps as good for the body from a dietetic point of view as any other fruit. It contains considerable mineral matter, fruit-sugar and water, and not only acts as a purifier but has a direct action as an aid to digestion, because of the active principle, bromelain, which it contains.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES.

New tins should be set over the fire, with boiling water in them before food is put into them. Sprinkle a bit of salt on coffee before pouring on the boiling water and the flavor will be improved. To keep drawings from pulling out of garments sew a small brass embroidery ring to each end and buttonhole it. Flour must be kept in a perfectly dry place. If it is allowed to become damp, heavy cakes and bread are the result. Black lead mixed with turpentine instead of water gives a brilliant and lasting polish and prevents the stove from rusting. When cooking on the gas stove, use cooking vessels that cover the burner. All heat not directly under the vessel is lost. To stretch kid gloves when new, place them between the folds of a damp towel for almost an hour before they are to be worn. Add a pinch of cream or tartar to the whites of eggs when they are half beaten. This keeps them from falling before being used. Never sugar stewed fruit until it has been removed from the stove. The flavor of the fruit will be better and it will not require as much sugar. A soothing application for burns should be in every kitchen. Here is a good one—mix the white of an egg with either olive or castor oil. It is very healing. Wash leather furniture very gently with warm water in which there is a little vinegar, wipe with a dry cloth and then restore the polish by mixing the whites of two eggs and a little turpentine, which is applied with a flannel.

It is also especially soothing to an irritated throat. Pineapple-juice parishes the good properties of the fresh fruit. Berries—Strawberries are decidedly acid and as such are very valuable for an inactive liver and therefore, for constipation. They are used especially in malaria. If eaten with little sugar and no cream or milk they are less likely to disagree. It is often not the fruit itself, but its combination with other foods which causes trouble. The raspberry contains the good points of the strawberry in milder degree and is particularly soothing to the stomach. The blackberry is unusual in that it is astringent instead of laxative. It contains considerable iron and is a good tonic, while its mild acids are cooling. Huckleberries and blueberries contain considerable citric acid, which acts especially on the liver and cools the blood. They are a laxative fruit, but will not prove over laxative if they are thoroughly masticated. They should not be swallowed whole. Currants also contain considerable citric acid, while the black currant has a beneficial action on the kidneys. The gooseberry, too, contains citric acid particularly, and so acts on the liver.

For instance, the raw peach may be peeled, stoned, the halves placed side by side on a fruit plate, together with a slice of cake with a cooked cream filling. The pear may be peeled, sliced and served plain with a little lemon-juice and sugar, or in combination with sliced peaches, pineapple or apples, or all four may be put together. All types of raw fruits may be combined into delightful fruit-cakes and fruit salads or cocktails, even to the muskmelon or watermelon. Often a little lemon-juice, orange juice or cinnamon will heighten the fruit flavor.

MOTION PICTURES OF MATAPEDIA VALLEY

She Couldn't Dress Herself At Times

Had Rheumatism So Bad She Couldn't Dress Herself — Tanlac Ends Trouble.

A great many people, especially ladies of culture and refinement, feel a reluctance in publicly endorsing a proprietary medicine, although they have derived untold benefit from its use.

To a great extent this is the case with Mrs. Stephen Staines, of 28 Marsh street, St. John, N. B. Mrs. Staines, who is naturally of a retiring disposition. However, her deep sense of gratitude and desire to help others will not permit her to remain silent regarding the wonderful benefits she has obtained from the use of the celebrated medicine, Tanlac.

"I had been a sufferer from indigestion for nearly twenty years, and in ways I was really helpless. My stomach would almost smother me. I often felt like I could not live. My head would often spin so terribly dizzy that I would have to shove a chair in front of me as I walked across the room to keep from falling. And nervous; why, even the children playing out in the street would almost drive me distracted. At night I would lie awake tossing and rolling—unable to sleep, and it seemed like day would never come. Then I got to having attacks of rheumatism that affected my whole body. When these spells came on I was really helpless. I could not dress myself or fasten my clothes. After trying almost everything in the way of medicines and getting no relief, I was really helpless. THE PAVING PROGRAMME.
There is something funny in the situation at City Hall, but at the same time something very gratifying.

While it is maintained that the C. P. R. terms, as now proposed, are more than the Valley Road can afford to pay, it must be just as freely admitted that the terms suggested by the Canadian National were very considerably less than any self-respecting competitor would be inclined to accept.

Protestant Orphans.
Fraternal organizations, and other associations of individuals, have during the past few months been devoting themselves to various enterprises for the purpose of raising funds to provide additional shelter for Protestant orphans.

Toronto Times—Sir Arthur, during his long absence from Canada, was frequently attacked by ignorant or malevolent persons.

Who Does Want Him?
Toronto Times—The farmers reject Mr. Mackenzie King because he never showed any interest in agriculture.

France and Prohibition.
London Telegraph—France loses about 40 per cent. on every payment it has to make to Britain and America.

THE VERDICT.
"Have some eggs this mornin', judge?" asked the heavy waiter. "Not this mornin', Ben," replied the man of the bench, adjusting his spectacles preparatory to distinguishing the name of some dish on the menu from the usual jargon.

NOT SO EXACTING.
New York World—The Pennsylvania coal miner demands a 60 per cent. raise in wages, a six-hour day, a closed shop and a two-year agreement.

THE DIFFERENCE.
Employer—For this job you've got to know French and Spanish, and the pay is $18 a week.
"Lord, mister! I ain't got no education; I'm after a job in the yards."
"See the yard boys. We'll start you in at $40."—Life.

GOOD ADVICE.
Sir John Willison advises the people of Canada that if we are to come through the present period of unrest with satisfaction to ourselves we must work more and spend less.

STILL STANDING IDEL.
The Telegraph attempts to exonerate the Foster Government for its failure to secure operation of the Valley Road by explaining that Mr. Foster once wrote a letter to the General Manager of the Canadian National Railway, asking him to arrange for running rights over the C. P. R. from Westfield to St. John.

IT FAILED IN RESTIGOUCHE.
The whole strength of the Provincial Government's organization was utilized on Tuesday in the municipal elections in Restigouche County.

WEDDINGS

Higgins-Brown. A wedding of much interest was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Portland street Methodist church, when the pastor, Rev. Neil McLaughlin, united in marriage Miss Helen M. Brown and George I. Higgins, both of this city. Among the many handsome presents received were a fine mahogany clock from the firm of W. St. Thomas & Co. and a silver service from the employees, the bride having been a member of "Thorne's sales class" a case of silver from Hall & Fairweather, with whom the groom is employed, and an electric table lamp from the staff. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a trip to New York via Toronto and Niagara. On their return they will reside on Portland street.

Dever, of North End, and Miss Sadie Brown, of Public Landing. The groom was attended by his brother, Harry, while his sister, Miss Nellie Dever, was bridesmaid. Many useful and valuable wedding remembrances were received from numerous friends with whom the bride and groom are very popular. Honest Advertising.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained. Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Honestly advertised as such, without a claim for more than its over 30 years of use have amply proven. A Baby's remedy for Babies. And not an adult's remedy for all the family and all the ails that human flesh is heir to.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA Special Care of Baby. That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases. Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food. A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for infants and children? Don't be deceived. Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups. REPRESENTED CUBA IN INDIA; TAKES OVER CONSULATE HERE

Senor Don Jose Orlando Ferrer Comes to St. John as Consul for Little Republic—He is a Great Admirer of British Institutions—Is a Writer of Note.

Senor Don Jose Orlando Ferrer, who yesterday took over direction of the Cuban consulate, comes to this country for the first time from India where he has been representing his government for the last four years. The personality of the new consul is most attractive, his command of the English language is complete, and his tall, athletic figure offers a great contrast to the popular opinion of men of Latin-American countries.

While in India Senor Ferrer spent much of his time studying the country and the characteristics of its inhabitants, and possessing marked talent as a writer, he has painted the mystery, beauty and romance of India in some exceptionally fine articles which have been printed in La Bohemia, El Figaro, and the other illustrious journals of Cuba and South America. His pen name, Do Alha, has appeared over many interesting accounts of Indian life in the papers of Spanish-speaking countries, and his efforts in describing his native land and its customs to the mystic east through the press, have undoubtedly resulted in establishing a firmer attitude cordial between the countries.

In Calcutta, where the consul lived besides the large colonies of British and Americans, there were Mussulmans, Hindus, Parsis, Armenians, Parsees and Jews, the whole making a most picturesque and motley populace, with the Occident and Orient meeting in the great town of over a million inhabitants. Clothing is a very simple question in India, the coolies finding a loin cloth sufficient, the workers getting good protection and long wear from a short or long shirt-like gown and the grade and cost of the garments rising with each class until it reaches the princely robes of the native potentates. Senor Don Ferrer is a strong admirer of the system of British imperialism through the country of the viceroy of India, and the native Indian princes, was given exceptional facilities and opportunities to study the application of that system at first hand. Calcutta and other Indian towns had long held a reputation for being clean and unsanitary, but due to the efforts of the British government, sanitary improvements have been made, though against the opposition of the natives, who still cling to their caste prejudices. For example, the natives will not drink water that comes from a pipe which a white man has used; they will not use the same dish or in every other respect hold themselves aloof from the encroachments of the conquering race.

The differences which mark the social castes also obtain with the labor situation. There is no such person as an Indian general servant. If a European does his work, he is self-sufficient, he must have a man to clean his boots, a man to press his clothes, a man to serve his table, a man to do the washing, the man who cleans the floors will do nothing else and that system holds good for every employment. Except for the castes and the class of money and supplies—which is a pretty big exception—the war has not affected India. The country is immensely wealthy and today finds itself self-sufficient in every respect. Due to the absence of a heating and clothing account, the average workingman can live and do so in luxury, for him, at the wage of three cents a day. The writer in the office of the Cuban consulate was paid 30 rupees, or about $10 a month, and that was above the average for an educated man.

Among his interesting reminiscences of India, Senor Don Ferrer remembers with pleasure a visit to Her Highness the Sultana Nawab of the State of Bhopal. Her Highness is a Mahometan princess who is one of the greatest friends and most staunch supporters of the British government. Her education, and her wisdom with native ideas even beyond those of the ruling classes of India, she has added to the love of her country by the publication of a history of India, several works of fiction, and has just completed a most interesting book, "An Account of My Life." Senor Ferrer expects to publish this winter a collection of Indian folk stories, narratives and local sketches, in Spanish. During his four years in India, he was the only representative of his government in that country.

STANDARD'S SPORTING SECTION

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Catherine Brown is certainly a prodigy of prodigies. Catherine is a New York swimmer of the tender age of nine. She swims a mile each day just for fun, and in the recent three-mile Marathon swim at Riverton she finished twelfth among 32 women who started. A physician, who examined the little miss, was amazed at her condition. "Why, you are not even tired," he exclaimed.

"Ty" Cobb played his first game for Detroit, which was also his fifth major league game 14 years ago (Aug. 30, 1905), at Bennett Park, in Detroit, against the New York Yankees. Of the men who were in the game that day, few are now playing baseball, and only one, Hal Chase, who acted as an emergency runner, being out of the game because of some injury to his hand or arm, is in the majors. First time up in that game "Ty" led off with a double.

Chief Bender, who is with the Richmond team of the Virginia League, has won 37 out of 29 games. Last Saturday he pitched a three-hit game. He is going to remain with Richmond until the end of the post-season series, which will be between Richmond and Petersburg, who captured the pennant for the first half of the season.

It looks as if the West will have a world's series all its own. Only a race can stop the once despised Cincinnati Reds and Joe Gage's particular favorites, the Chicago Whites, from winning their respective championships.

Someone writes: I priced a horse in the market recently, and have since been wondering whether the figure named for it, in this automobile age, was due to demand or to the fact that horses are so scarce they are valuable assets.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announced that he would accept an offer just received from the manager of Georges Carpentier, French champion, for a match in England between Dempsey and Carpentier, for a purse of $150,000.

The offer was received early Monday morning by cable just as the theatrical company of which Dempsey is a member was leaving for Decatur from Detroit.

The Cincinnati Reds now lead the Giants seven and one-half games. They have 20 more to play, the last 15 of which will be on their home grounds. The Giants have 26 games still on their schedule, but most of them are to be played on the road, the majority of which in the West. It should now be easy sailing for Moran.

Apparently Billy Hayes, the New England champion sprinter, does not agree with Horace Greasley's old saying, "Go West, young man." For Billy believes New England is the place for an education and wants to locate at Dartmouth or some other big eastern university this fall. If Billy does locate here he will be unable to compete in the big intercollegiate games his first season, on account of the one-year residential rule.

Billy Quaal made such a hit in his three-mile race at the Scotch games that the former American professional champion regrets that Albo Shubb, George Meade and José Vermeulen, the wonderful French champion, are over on the other side. Quaal is confident that he can take the measure of either of these runners over the three or five-mile distances.

Johnny Mack, trainer extraordinary for Yale athletics, has returned to New Haven, predicting one of the most glowing prospects for the coming football season. "I would rate to be any of those non-service men on the teams this fall when some of the overseas boys tackle them," is the way Johnny expressed the coming prospects.

George Baillon, a commissioner of Australasian Stadiums, Ltd., has left for the U. S. A., to travel through the Philippine Islands, Great Britain and France to draw up contracts with the fistic stars of all countries to go to Australia and show their ability against that country's best. Mr. Baillon was one time manager in England of the famous, Jimmy White and their welterweight champion, Johnnie Eastman. He has been given a free hand to engage the world's leading boxers.

Jimmy Tracy, the young Australian heavyweight, standing six feet four inches high, weighing 210 pounds, with a reach of 82 inches, and who has won 25 contests out of 30 in Australia, is leaving at an early date for the United States to challenge Jack Dempsey. It is said that he will carry a manager who is backing him to the extent of some hundreds of thousands of dollars.

MAKING PLANS FOR THE LOUISBURG BIG DRY DOCK

Representative of Leading Liverpool Firm of Shipbuilders Now on the Ground to Make Preliminary Survey.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 3.—J. H. Smith, a member of a leading Liverpool firm of shipbuilders, spent Tuesday in Louisburg inspecting a site chosen there by local interests for the erection of a dry dock. According to reports Mr. Smith will shortly have engineers at work making plans of, and surveying for the proposed site. Mr. Smith is a member of the International League, and has been active in the enterprise which has construction of a dock at Louisburg as its purpose. Sometime ago, it was reported that Ottawa had approved of the plan, and it has been understood that efforts were being made to interest Old Country capitalists in the project.

NEW YANKEE PLAYER

Bliss A. Smith, St. John, won two firsts in his class at the Toronto exhibition and went to the winners from a field of over sixty entrants.

Sir Nangis, who has cleaned up at New York, Ottawa and Montreal, going to the winners in Montreal last spring and capturing the ribbon at the local bench shows last spring, will be seen at the coming show of the New Brunswick Kennel Club.

PINELLI

The Yankees, of the American League, have just obtained the services of Pinelli, a most promising youngster from the Sacramento club. Pinelli comes very well recommended to Miller Huggins, the boss of the Yankee outfit. It is expected that Pinelli will get plenty of chance to show his wares, as the Yankees intend to give every recruit a chance before the season winds up.

Ultimatum To International

National Commission Demands Payment of a Loan—Protection Withdrawn if Amount is Not Paid.

New York, Sept. 3.—Denying that the new International League is indebted to the National Commission, David L. Fuitt, president of the league tonight replied to an ultimatum of the commission demanding payment within thirty days of $700, alleged to be due on penalty of withdrawal of protection from "those clubs which were represented in the old league."

Mr. Fuitt said the threat to withdraw protection was of "little concern," but that the International "resented the accusation that the league members have failed to pay their indebtedness."

The alleged debt, he said, was a loan of $8,718.85 made by B. B. Johnson and the National Commission to the Old League, to enable it to fight the Federal League. No other club, he asserted, had any responsibility in the matter.

EGYPT EXCITED OVER REPORTS FROM UNITED STATES

Alexandria, September 3.—On receipt of an interesting report from the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate here today, Egypt should be independent, great demonstrations by natives were held in front of the American consulate on Saturday and Sunday.

The Egyptian, magnifying the report into a realization of all the nationalist aims formed processions and marched through the streets.

There were demonstrations also at Cairo, where mounted police dispersed the crowds, arresting several persons.

Local Dog Wins At Toronto Show

Sir Nangis, Owned by Bliss A. Smith, Made Great Showing Against the Best.

COAL MINERS WILL NOT URGE STRIKE NOW

If They Are Unable to Secure Adoption of the Sankey Report, Question of Strike Will Be Decided at Glasgow Conference.

Moncton, Sept. 3.—The National Executive Committee of the coal miners, which resolved today to recommend that delegates attending Wednesday's conference reject the government scheme for dealing with coal mines, declares that a strike at this time is not urged to secure adoption of the Sankey report.

"They assert, however, that the Trades Union Congress, which meets next week at Glasgow, will be invited to declare that 'the fullest and most effective action shall be taken' to secure the government for adoption of the Sankey plan for future governance of the industry."

The committee rejects the scheme of Premier Lloyd George, under which the government would buy out the owners of coal lands who receive royalties from mining companies, give the miners a share in the control of the mines, organize the mines into districts and establish a fund for improving the living conditions of miners, as 'wholly impracticable,' and one creating 'great trouble.'

Justice Sir John Sankey, after considering the question of coal legislation, recommended nationalization of the mines, and a decision to be made as to compensation for the owners. His report recommended the immediate application of local administration of mines through local districts and national mining councils, and legislation for acquiring mines after the plan had been worked for three years, with just compensation to be decided by ballot.

The coal miners declared themselves in favor of direct action, and rejected the idea of such a ballot at tomorrow's meeting of the triple alliance of the transport workers, miners and railway men.

The miners' decision, in its entirety, was adopted, in its entirety, by the recommendation of the National Executive Committee that the government scheme for dealing with coal mines be rejected, and decided to agitate for nationalization of the mines at the Trades Union Congress at Glasgow on September 8th.

Robey Smith, the miners' leader, declared the miners were generally convinced that nationalization of the mines was essential in the interests of the national industry and the poorer consumers.

William Brace, member of Parliament for Monmouthshire, and President of the South Wales Miners' Federation, said that "coal is more valuable than gold." Mr. Brace asked why the government trifled with a product so essential to the reconstruction of the nation, and asserted that the only solution of the problem was the nationalization of the mines.

Chief Bender Still In Game

Has Been Secured by Cincinnati Reds—Expected That He Will Be Used as Advisor

"Chief" Bender is still in his advanced age as a ball player. "Chief" joined the Athletics as far back as 1903 and in 1905 was one of the stars of the World Series of the year, though not of the magnitude of Mathewson. He has been coming back strong with the Richmond club this season. Here is what a fan wrote to Grandstand Rice about Bender's recent performance:

"On Thursday (this being some while back) he beat Petersburg, on Saturday he won the first game of a double-header, on Monday he pitched again and beat Rube Oldring's club; on Wednesday he again won the first game of a double-header, and in the second game he went in pinch hitter, drove out a three-base hit in the 10th frame, scored on the squeeze play, struck out three men in the next inning as a relief pitcher and then scored the winning run. I submit this as an unqualified record."

It may be on account of these things that Pat Moran has secured Bender for the Cincinnati Reds, but it may be, too, that "Pat" thinks the "Chief" may be useful in counsel in case Cincinnati gets into the World's Series.

Postponement In Grand Circuit

Rain Interferes With the Running of Big Races—A Re-arrangement Will Be Necessary in Programme.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 3.—Five early closing events, with purses totalling $23,000, are on the programme of Grand Circuit races scheduled for Charter Oak Park tomorrow. The races were called off again today because of rain.

The Charter Oak stakes for 213 trotters, purse $10,000, is the feature event of tomorrow's card. Mignola and McGregor the Great are entered in this contest. The three races held over from Tuesday are to be held. They are the two-year-old trot, purse $2,000; the 2-year-old colt, purse $2,000; the 2-year-old colt, purse $2,000. Friday's programme also calls for five events.

QUOT CHAMPIONSHIP.
Halifax, Sept. 3.—The Maritime quot championship is creating interest among the quotters. The date set is Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 9th; on the Wanderers grounds. The executives of the different clubs must send the names of competitors to the president of the Maritime Amateur Athletic Association on or before the preceding night. A gold medal goes to the winner, and a silver medal to the second man.

Dunbar, for liquor, also searching every person in the building at the time. No liquor was found. Geo. Crossman, who was included in the search, appeared in court this morning charged with resisting the officer. His counsel, at the hearing, charged that Crossman had been robbed of $25 by the officer making the search. He alleged that Crossman had $25 in his pockets, and after the officer searched him it was missing, being taken by the officer, and a demand made for the return of the money. The case was stood over until next Wednesday when Crossman's counsel promises interesting developments. He also says he can prove Crossman had the money on him when the officer went through his pockets.

Several provincial inspectors have been sent here recently by Chief Prohibition Inspector in an effort to clean up the alleged violations of the Prohibition Act in Moncton.

GOLF EXPERT AND BOY WONDER IN ACTION

FRANCIS OUMET and BOBBY JONES

Chicago's golf pony came fluttering down from the sunshade and was swept away whirled in the wake of that of the Metropolitan district when Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater, the title holder, and Robert A. Gardner, of Oswego, were both eliminated in the second round of the national amateur golf championship on the links of the Outlook Country Club, in Pittsburg. Gardner was the first of the pair to go, falling before "Bobby" Jones, Atlanta's "boy wonder," by a margin of 5 and 4 after a game in which there was both brilliant and sensational golf, while Francis Oumet, of Woodland, Boston, dethroned Evans in a contest that went to the thirty-sixth hole and was decided on the last putt, the margin in favor of the Easterner being 1 up.

SOLDIERS' EXCESSES IN POLAND

Some of the Reformers Miners Advocate.

Mr. Armistead (C. Leads, GL) as the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the House of Commons today whether he was aware the soldiers of General Haller's A participated in anti-Jewish excesses on 16 June in Warsaw in which hundreds of several Jews were out, and that they have also assaulted and injured Jews in other towns.

Mr. Armistead informed the House that the Polish army had presented to the Polish Government to suppress the anti-Jewish excesses which have hitherto failed, he would the advisability of his Government's holding further support either in the form of more equipment or munitions for part of the Polish Army until the latter ceases to commit violence against the Polish people of a different and religion.

Mr. Harnsworth writes in reply to the question. The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. I am not prepared to accept the question contained in the last part of the question that representation addressed to the Polish Government had no effect. I may remind the member that his Majesty's Government are despatching a Commissioner to Poland with the particular object of investigating the position of Jews in that country. It is not in contemplation, therefore, to take action in the sense suggested. I may add recent reports show that the Polish authorities have been punishing Jewish excesses by execution and imprisonments of offenders.—London press.

BODGERS—ANCESTORS OF THE PROFITEER

(London Express.)
In the year of our Lord one and five hundred and twenty-five Elizabeth being upon the throne England, an Order in Council passed against the nimble gentry who were known as profiteers, but the Augustan age of English literature were called by the fine name of bodgers.

In these spacious days methods so spacious also, moreover, her Majesty's Council had no lack of means for restraint of evildoing, apparently, but it is not in the nature of the door what it thought of him.

"We understand," so runs the clamor, "that upon the late day of all kinds of grain and butter, cheese and other victuals in Healm, although Almighty God mercifully withdrew His hand, hand wherewith we deserved our punishment, and hath now yielded a change to the great comfort of sorts of pecuniary gain, but we found a number of wicks are in condition more like to wolvess comorant than to natural men, to most covetous and greedy, and late great prices in corn and all of victuals by increase; the same their private hands, bargaining and hand for corn, and in some grain growing, and for malt before made, and for butter and cheese for it be ready to be brought to every market for to be bought by poorer number.

Against which folk corrupt and malicious greediness there both many good laws and sundry orders of late given to all justices and other public officers to reform a notable abuse, and therefore we do not but charge and command you cause diligent inquiry to be made in all parts of the country as well in towns, of such as do directly or indirectly thus buy or bargain, that you shall apprehend such, take from them such as they shall lawfully buy, and compel them to make their unlawful bargains, and send up to us some of the most notable offenders . . . we do warn you to have a special care not only to sharp apprehension to seek to reform them, but also to certify us of the names, and thereby to avoid the offence of the inferior sort, who are not but be grieved to see such correction in the better sort suffered without restraint." Precisely. That is way to talk to bodgers.

EMPIRE SETTLERS

Liverpool shipping coteries are interested in an important Government scheme involving overseas settlement within the Empire of ex-service men and women.

It is pointed out that there is much likelihood of the Government of the self-governing dominions being able to provide for ex-service men and women from this country as settlers in the land during this year, owing to the need for settling or repatriating their own returning troops.

Under these circumstances it has been arranged that applications for settlement should be sent in at any time up to the end of December, 1920, or within one year from the date of release from service. Ex-service men and women are therefore, be in no hurry to put their applications, and they should their own interests make certain beforehand that openings are not available at home. The largest number of opportunities overseas is likely to be open to men with agricultural experience and to women prepared to do up work as helps in the home or on farm.

Applicants are cautioned that it is desirable not to take any step towards breaking up their household arrangements, etc., to the last possible moment. Arrangements are being made to have approved applications with a document which will take the place of a passport.—Liverpool Post.

SOLDIERS' EXCESSES IN POLAND Some of the Reforms the Miners Advocate.

Mr. Armistead (C. Leeds, G.L.) asked the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the House of Commons yesterday whether he was aware that the soldiers of General Haller's Army participated in anti-Jewish excesses on 16 June in Warsaw in which the heads of several Jews were torn out, and that they have also assaulted and injured Jews in other towns besides Opatow, concerning which the hon. member informed the House on 15 June, and whether as all representations to the Polish Government to suppress the anti-Jewish outrages have hitherto failed, he would consider the advisability of his Majesty's Government withdrawing any further support either in the form of more equipment or munitions for any part of the Polish Army until the latter ceases to commit violence against citizens of Poland of a different race and religion.

Mr. Harnsworth writes in reply:—The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. While I am not prepared to accept the suggestion contained in the last part of the question that representations addressed to the Polish Government have had no effect, I may remind the hon. member that his Majesty's Government are despatching a Commission to Poland with the particular object of investigating the position of Jews in that country. It is not in contemplation, therefore, to take action in the sense suggested. I may add that recent reports show that the Polish authorities have been punishing anti-Jewish excesses by executions and imprisonments of offenders.—London Express.

(London Express.)
In the year of our Lord one thousand five hundred and ninety-seven, Elizabeth being upon the throne of England, an Order in Council proceeded against the nimble gentry whom we now know as profiteers, but who in the Augustan age of English literature were called by the fine round name of bodgers.
In those spacious days methods were spacious also, moreover, her Majesty's Council had no lack of means for the restraint of evildoing, apparently, and no sort of objection to taking the sword what it thought of him.
"We understand," so runs the proclamation, "that upon the late dearth of all kinds of grain and butter and cheese and other victuals in this Realm, although Almighty God hath mercifully withdrawn His heavenly hand wherewith we deserved our late punishment, and hath now yielded us a change to the great comfort of all sorts of people. Yet there are seen and found a number of wicked people in condition more like to wolves or voracious than to natural men, that do most covetously seek to hold up the late great prices in corn and all other victuals by increase; the same into their private hands, bargaining beforehand for corn, and in some parts for grain growing, and for malt before it be made, and for butter and cheese before it be ready to be brought to ordinary market for to be bought by the poorer number."
Against which foul corrupt and audacious and malicious greediness there are both many good laws and sundry orders of late given to all justices and other public officers to reform such notable abuses, and therefore we cannot but charge and command you to cause diligent inquisition to be made in all parts of the country as well as in towns, of such as do directly or indirectly thus buy or bargain, and that you shall apprehend such, as take from them such as they shall unlawfully buy, and compel them to revoke their unlawful bargains, and to send up to us some of the most notable offenders. . . . we do warn you all to have a special care not only with sharp reprehensions to reform them, but also to certify us of their names, and thereby to avoid the just offence of the inferior sort, who cannot but be grieved to see such corruption in the better sort suffered without restraint," precisely. That is the way to talk to bodgers.

Empire Settlers
Liverpool shipping coteries are interested in an important Government scheme involving overseas settlement within the Empire of ex-service officers and men—sea, land, and air forces—and of ex-service women also. Free third-class passages will be provided under specified conditions for applicants and their dependants.
It is pointed out that there is not much likelihood of the Governments of the self-governing dominions being able to provide for ex-service men and women from this country as settlers on the land during this year, owing to the need for settling or repatriating their own returning troops.
Under these circumstances it has been arranged that applications may be sent in at any time up to the end of December, 1920, or within one year from the date of release from service. Ex-service men and women need, therefore, be in no hurry to put in their applications, and they should in their own interests make certain beforehand that openings are not available at home. The largest number of opportunities overseas is likely to be open to men with agricultural experience and to women prepared to take up work as helps in the home or on a farm. Applicants are cautioned that it is desirable not to take any final step towards breaking up their household arrangements, etc., to the last possible moment. Arrangements are being made to provide approved applicants with a document which will take the place of a passport.—Liverpool Post.

SEVEN MILLION POUNDS ON SUNKEN LAURENTIC

One-Third of the Immense Wealth Already Recovered

It is stated that although the naval authorities maintain silence regarding the success of the operations for the recovery of the bullion from the hull of the Laurentic, which was sunk off Long's Point about a million and a quarter of gold in bullion has been brought to the surface.
It now transpires that in 1917, the year the Laurentic was lost, salvage operations resulted in the recovery of a million of bullion from the ship. It was in hundredweight bars, a couple of feet in length, and although the boxes containing it were placed in rows on Duncans Pier no one knew what it was. It was afterwards shipped to England. Altogether, therefore 2 1/4 millions sterling has been rescued.—Liverpool Post.

POPE'S PEACE PLEA

Typical German Hypocrisy and Prevarication.

The full correspondence relating to the peace proposals made by the Pope to the belligerent Powers in August, 1917, were issued last night by the British Government in a White Paper. In his peace proposals dated August 1, 1917, the Pope suggested that before everything the fundamental point must be that the moral force of right should be substituted for the material force of arms, and pointed out that this would entail a general agreement for the reduction of armaments and the institution of arbitration.
His Holiness' proposals also contained a distinct step to the Central Empires by suggesting that "all obstacles to free communications should be removed by assuring the free freedom and community of the seas, which would eliminate the many causes of conflict and open new sources of prosperity and progress."
Mr. Balfour, in the British Government's acknowledgment of the Pope's proposals, asked how far the Central Empires were willing to go in the matter of reparations and restoration.
The reply of the German Government, signed by Michaelis, was a hypocritical disquisition on the love of peace always entertained by the Kaiser and the German people. It subscribed to the idea of arbitrated arbitration and the limitation of armaments, and especially "the true freedom and common possession of the high seas," but said no sign's word on the subject of the evacuation of Belgium and France. On the contrary, it expressed a plain readiness for peace on conditions compatible with justice and corresponding to the European situation.

NATIONALIZATION MUST SURELY COME

For their services on the Coal Commission, thanks were tendered yesterday to representatives of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain by Mr. Duncan Graham, Labor M. P. for Hamilton, speaking at the annual conference of the National Union of Scottish Mine Workers, held at Ayr.
Mr. Graham said the miners did not ask for the Commission. It was thrust upon them, and was evidently the only way the Government could find of getting out of the difficulty they were in. There was no evidence that Justice Sankey was sympathetic to the point of view or the proposals of the miners. Naturally he looked at the matter from the standpoint of the class which he belonged, but the miners could claim they had proved their case to the satisfaction of the man chosen by Government to preside over the Commission (choirs).
It was impossible to stop the nationalization of the mines, although there was something in the nature of a conspiracy among the commercial magnates, who were combining to prevent the recommendations of a majority of the Commission being converted into law.—Liverpool Post.

15,000 EX-OFFICERS IDLE

Lieut. Search for Job as Chimney Sweep—Six Months' Fruitless Quest.

The almost unbelievable difficulties which an ex-officer encountered in looking for work were described to a "Daily Chronicle" representative yesterday by a member of the newly-formed Ex-officers' Union. The union is about to open branches all over the country in the effort to find work for some 15,000 ex-officers now unemployed.
The ex-officer interviewed by the "Daily Chronicle" representative, is thirty years of age, and has a distinguished military record. He was mentioned in despatches, and his Army testimonials speak in the highest possible terms of his efficiency and character. It was his six months' fruitless quest for work which induced him to join the union and to help in its efforts to organize adequately all the ex-officer men who have held commissions.
A meeting of the Hospital Commissioners and members of the County Finance Committee was held at the hospital yesterday, when the plans for the nurses' home were given further consideration, but no definite action was taken in respect to letting of tenders. Dr. Heddon said there were no new developments at the meeting, which adjourned until some day next week.

Dathright, for liquor, also searching every person in the building at the time. No liquor was found. Geo. Crossman, who was included in the search, appeared in court this morning charged with resisting the officer. His counsel, at the hearing, charged that Crossman had been robbed of $25 by the officer making the search. He alleged that Crossman had $25 in his pockets, and after the officer searched him it was missing, being taken by the officer, and a demand made for the return of the money. The case was stood over until next Wednesday when Crossman's counsel promises interesting developments. He also says he can prove Crossman had the money on him when the officer went through his pockets.
Several provincial inspectors have been sent here recently by Chief Probation Inspector in an effort to clean up the alleged violations of the Prohibition Act in Moncton.

There are as many different varieties of tea as of roses—but only ONE Red Rose Tea.

Red Rose is a blend of about a dozen varieties of teas, chiefly hill-grown ASSAMS—the richest and strongest teas grown.

The skilful blending of these teas produces the delightful and distinctive Red Rose flavor.

The rich, strong ASSAM leaves in the Red Rose package are so full of tea essence that three teaspoonfuls go as far as five of ordinary tea.

SPECIALTIES WERE SENSATIONS ON WED'S MARKET

Crucible Steel Made An Advance of Over Seventeen Points—Baldwin Locomotive to the Front.

New York, Sept. 3.—Trading on the Stock Exchange today ran mainly to specialties under control of powerful speculative interests, half a score of those issues contributing extensively to the very active and sensational operations of the session.

Crucible Steel, which scored a further rise to 17 1/2 points to 184 1/2, a new high record and an advance of almost fifty points over its final price of a week ago.

Buying of Crucible suggested something more than a mere rout of the shorts, but so far as could be learned, there was nothing on which to base widely circulated rumors of a "corner" in that stock.

The next most conspicuous issue was Baldwin Locomotive, in which there was an enormous turnover at an extreme rise of 18 1/2 points, accompanied by gains of three to ten points in other equipments, and steels, also affiliated shares.

American Woolen, Barrett Company leathers, shippings and tobaccos participated in the upward movement at extreme gains of two to eight points, extreme gains of two to eight points, a few unclassified specialties at equal benefits.

EQUIPMENTS TOOK SPURT BRIGHT HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT OF COBALT STRIKE

(McDUGALL & COWANS.) New York, Sept. 3.—In the early afternoon a spurt in the equipment stocks spread to the Steel stocks and some other sections of the list.

Today refer to the labor crisis in the steel industry as passed and as these publications are usually conservative, their statements exerted strong influence on the list.

The Iron Age says that bookings of orders generally exceed capacity and that production is held back by shortage of labor.

As far as the two or three spectacular advances in the day's stock market are concerned, however, they appeared to be largely on their way home.

Four Captains Being Sent Home Boast of Their Work in Disabling Engines of Their Ships.

New York, Sept. 3.—Still boasting of the fact that they disabled the engines of their ships, after they had taken refuge in Havana harbor, the captains of four German vessels and twenty-six other members of the crews arrived here today on the Ward Line steamer Mexico on their way home.

The captains commanded the North German Lloyd freighter Ohsant, the Hamburg American liner Constanza, the Schulte Linsse Ardeltite and the Kydena. They were incensed because they were not allowed to ashore here.

GERMANY GETS IN ON FUR BUSINESS

New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation Appoints An Agent in Leipzig.

New York, Sept. 3.—The first move toward re-establishing business in raw furs between the United States and Germany was made today by the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation, when it appointed as its Leipzig agent Willy Eisenbach, of Eisenbach and Stern, of that city.

Representatives of the corporation also confirmed reports current here to the effect that dressers and dyers of furs in Leipzig, in an attempt to get back the prestige that city had in the fur days for the preparation of raw furs, had taken refuge in Havana harbor, already offering in the American market sea dyed muskrats, dyed and dressed foxes, broadtails, caraculs and sea dyed conys.

HARBOR RECEIPTS. The harbor revenue for August exceeded the returns for the corresponding month of last year by $2,073.10. The ferry report for August of this year shows an increase of $106.32 in revenue, as compared with the corresponding period for the previous year. There is also an increase of $796.87 in wages and salaries and a reduction of $1,408.91 in operating expenses, the latter due partly to a drop in the price of coal.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Arthur Coster on behalf of the chapter and Mrs. Coster made a graceful speech referring to the fact that Mrs. Duval had been a valued member, a faithful worker and the efficient treasurer of the chapter for two years. City Official Passed Away

Albert Winchester, Formerly Street Superintendent, Died Suddenly While Visiting in Boston. The news of the sudden death of Albert (Doc) Winchester will be heard with regret by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in the city and province. Mr. Winchester, who accompanied by Mrs. Winchester, left Saturday for a trip to Boston, seemed to be in his usual health and the word that he had passed away came as a great shock to the members of the family here. No particulars have yet been received, only the announcement that he had dropped dead, presumably from heart failure, yesterday morning.

Mr. Winchester, who was 73 years of age, was one of the best known figures around the city and numbered his friends by the thousands. For the past thirty-five years he has been in the city employ, for a number of years as street superintendent. He was a member of the fire department for many years, starting in the days of the "Red shirts," and for many years held the position of foreman of No. 2 Hose Company. He was one of the few surviving "Panic Raid" veterans.

Deceased was an active member of the Ekmouth street Methodist church, a member of Havelock, No. 37, L. O. L., and prominent in the Masonic Fraternity.

He is survived by five sons, J. A. Robert and William, of this city; Sean, of Boston, and Walter, of North Bay, Ont.; one daughter, Mrs. Walter Lewis, of Moncton; four brothers, Charles and Isaac, of Boston, and Stephen and James, of England, and one sister, Mrs. E. J. Macdonald, of Colorado.

The body will be brought to the city on the Boston train Friday at noon, and the funeral will probably be held on Saturday.

Saw Race Riots In Middle West

Labor Matters Caused Much of the Trouble Says W. A. Holyoke of Widy City. "I ran from the Germans in France more than once and also ran after them, but I broke all records in running during the Chicago race riots," said W. A. Holyoke, a native of the windy city, who was in St. John yesterday. "There is going to be a lot of blood spilt in America before we settle the negro question," he added. "I see there is a bishop in Montreal who wants to bring a million American negroes to Canada. I reckon Canada is welcome to them if she wants them. And I dare say there are some people who want cheap labor, who would welcome them here, but the bishop who imagines that he can bring a million negroes to Canada and not make trouble doesn't know much about the world he is living in."

"A few years ago I heard a negro speaker say that the colored folk did not want or expect social equality with the white, but that they were bound to have industrial equality. And there you have the secret of the difficulty America is up against. During the war hundreds of thousands of negroes from the south have been brought to the north where there was plenty of work. There has been a big increase in the colored population of Chicago. While the war was on nobody was worrying about the competition of the blacks. There were jobs for everyone. "But now the situation is different. The white workers see the blacks crowding into their jobs, and they are sore. The American Federation of Labor by one dissenting voice passed a resolution admitting the negroes into unions on equal terms with whites, and promising to offer no opposition to the entrance of negroes into trades and industries on the same footing. No doubt the officials of the A. F. L. feel that unless they get the negroes into the unions they will be used to cut down wages. This action may have been wise, but there are a lot of white workers who are not taking the wise view of the situation; they only see the invasion of their jobs by the negroes formerly reserved for white men, and wops. The average worker does not see any further than his job, and when that is menaced he gets mad."

"Then the war has vastly increased the self-importance of the negroes. They have been called to serve at the front, and they have been taken into all kinds of industries from which they were formerly debarred, but in which they have made good. This new confidence of himself has made the negro somewhat truculent in a childish fashion, and has also increased certain kinds of crime. On the other hand it gets the goat of the whites."

"There will be a movement to get the negroes back in the south or chase them to Canada, but segregating the negroes will not settle the problem. There are people interested in keeping the workers, white and black, fighting one another, and there will for many years be a serious possibility of a savage race war of great magnitude."

RAIN. Just at this time when everybody is looking around for a Coat that will keep the rain out, and not a Coat that merely looks like a Raincoat, it will be wise before purchasing to go in and look over the stock of Waterproof Coats that Dykeman's are offering. They have them in all shades and styles ranging in price from $5.95 to $29.90 each, a good Coat to suit everybody's purse. One special line is a Coat selling for $19.90, comes in Navy, Taupe and Grey, an exceptionally good value for the money asked for it. Another line which is very popular are those priced from $17.90 to $19.50.

Heavy Rainfall Cleans Streets

City Under Heavy Downpour During Last Two Days — Hindrance to Outdoor Activities. That was some rain yesterday, and the prospects are strong for more of it today. The beginning of the downpour was on Tuesday night, but the rain man outdid himself yesterday when at times the dampness came down in sheets. Umbrellas, rubbers and raincoats were in great demand and the stores had a great sale of wet weather goods.

The official figures as given out from the observatory here showed the precipitation to be 1.67 inches; the humidity was 85; the maximum temperature 67, and the minimum 59, while the velocity of the wind was recorded at twelve miles per hour. During yesterday streams of water poured down the hills of the city and washed the streets fairly well. The torrents carried much gravel from the hillsides and deposited it on the lower levels. Of course this will entail some extra work for the city public works department, but the city is much cleaner.

The rain was general throughout the country. It had a dampening influence on outdoor activities and as a result of the storm many of the sports scheduled for yesterday were postponed.

Postponed For Prosecution

Brayley Drug Co. Case Again Set Over—Other Business in the Police Court. John Gabriel appeared in court yesterday morning, charged with exceeding the speed limit at the corner of Wall and Winter streets at 3 p. m., August 27. Samah Sleight, the informant, said Gabriel was driving a Ford truck at the rate of 25 miles an hour and ran over his dog, killing it. The defendant did not remember the incident and the case was postponed until today for further evidence. This much postponed case against the Brayley Drug Company was again brought up and again postponed until Friday, as the prosecution has not been able to go on with the case. One drunk pleaded guilty and was remanded.
