

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS OF LOYD GEORGE FULL OF GOOD ADVICE TO THE RUSSIANS

Is Confident Genoa Conference Has Accomplished Much for the Good of Europe as Nations at War Must Cease Under Truce Which Will Last, He Says, for All Time—Advices Russia to Come to the Hague Prepared to Act for Country's Good and in Conformity to Honest Principles of Western Nations.

Genoa, May 19—David Lloyd George the British Prime Minister, in his valedictory in the final plenary session of the Economic Conference today, said the Genoa weather had been sunny and gloomy and that there had been thunderstorms, but all had ended today under a blue sky. "What is the history of the conference?" he added. "We need all kinds of weather to make a good harvest, and if you take a look at the conference you will find we have garnered fine crops."

These crops Mr. Lloyd George listed as the coming meeting at the Hague, the pact for non-aggression and the reports of the finance, transport and economic commissions.

If these reports were adopted, said Mr. Lloyd George, they would help to restore prosperity and vigor to the world. "What are those prejudices?" he asked. "I will just name one or two, because they were all trampled upon in the memorandum of May 11. The first prejudice we have in western Europe is that if you sell goods to a man you expect to get paid for them. The second is this: If you lend money to a man and he promises to repay you, you expect he will repay you. The third is this: If you go to a man who has already lent you money and say 'will you lend me more?' he will say to you, 'do you propose to repay me what I gave you?' and you say 'no, it is a matter of principle with me not to repay,' then there is a most extraordinary prejudice in the west, a mind against lending more money to that person."

"I know the revolutionary temper very well, and the revolutionary temper has got principles, unless he is a revolutionary. But those prejudices are very deep rooted. "Russia must, in her dealings with her, accept the code of honor which is an inherent part of the world. Not even the Russian revolution has split one fibre of a single root of those principles upon which our system depends and as a friend of Russia, I am glad to see that she is taking a step towards peace as a friend of co-operation with Russia, as one who is in favor of going to the rescue of those great, and gallant and brave people, I am glad to see the Russian delegation, when they come to the Hague, not to go out of their way to trample upon those sentiments which are deeply rooted in the very life of Europe. At Cannes, we threw out the lifeline and we have not yet drawn it in, as I thought we might. Neither has it been snatched; neither has it been in danger. "We have signed a pact of peace. It is a provisional one. Is it for months? Ah, no, it is more than that. We have decided upon a peace among warring nations, and once you establish it nations are not going back on it."

"We have decided to give peace a trial in our hearts, and when she has been there for several months we will not turn her out again. The psychological effect upon the peoples of Europe and you are not going to get a nation lifting up hand against a nation again. There has been nothing more striking at this conference than the deep and passionate desire not to have ruptures, not to have quarrels, but to live in peace and unity, all together. Believe me, peace is recovering her gentle sway over the hearts of men, and in this conference, by this pact we have adopted today, we have paid homage to her scepter."

"I would like to say one word in regard to the Russian situation. I am referring to the memorandum which was issued in Russia, but I know the effect outside Russia was disastrous. It produced a reaction against the Russian delegation, and it is the last word to be uttered by the Russian Government. I should really despair of accomplishing much at the Hague, I am referring to the eleventh of May memorandum. "Friendly Word to Russia "Europe and the world need the produce which Russia can contribute. Russia needs the accumulated wealth and skill which the world can place at its command. Russia cannot recover for a generation without that help. If Russia needs help she can get it. But will this Russian delegation allow me in a friendly spirit to say one word? "If Russia is to get help, Russia must not outrage the sentiments of the world. Let them call them prejudices of the world. There is real sympathy for her condition. "What are those prejudices?" I will just name one or two, because they were all trampled upon in the memorandum of May 11. The first prejudice we have in western Europe is that if you sell goods to a man you expect to get paid for them. The second is this: If you lend money to a man and he promises to repay you, you expect he will repay you. The third is this: If you go to a man who has already lent you money and say 'will you lend me more?' he will say to you, 'do you propose to repay me what I gave you?' and you say 'no, it is a matter of principle with me not to repay,' then there is a most extraordinary prejudice in the west, a mind against lending more money to that person. "I know the revolutionary temper very well, and the revolutionary temper has got principles, unless he is a revolutionary. But those prejudices are very deep rooted. "Russia must, in her dealings with her, accept the code of honor which is an inherent part of the world. Not even the Russian revolution has split one fibre of a single root of those principles upon which our system depends and as a friend of Russia, I am glad to see that she is taking a step towards peace as a friend of co-operation with Russia, as one who is in favor of going to the rescue of those great, and gallant and brave people, I am glad to see the Russian delegation, when they come to the Hague, not to go out of their way to trample upon those sentiments which are deeply rooted in the very life of Europe. CIVIC HOUSECLEANING AT NEW WATERFORD

Council Gives Denial to Report They Fired the Volunteer Fire Brigade.

Sydney, N. S., May 19—That although a thorough civic house cleaning is in progress, the New Waterford Town Council has no intention of disarming the entire volunteer fire brigade, is the statement issued tonight, by Mayor James Ling and six councillors.

Denying the report that the whole brigade had been fired they say: "We declare that not one fireman has been dismissed, and that so far as we know the council has no intention of dismissing them. We only desire to reorganize the town staff and regret that in the process some errors have been committed."

The council is intimate that in deciding to resign, en masse, the firemen acted too hastily. All the town jobs, including those of 25 firemen, have now been advertised with the exception of the chief, solicitor and magistrate. The report yesterday was that the firemen had been fired because four of them played forty-five with Dominion Coal Company officials.

NO PROTECTION FOR CANADIANS

State of Michigan Has Gunboats on Detroit River Protecting Its Interests.

Ottawa, May 19—(Canadian Press)—"Is the government aware that the state of Michigan is placing gunboats and armed cruisers on the Detroit River?" that is the question which Thomas L. Church, Conservative member for North Toronto, proposes to place before the government in the Commons. Mr. Church follows that query by asking, "if so, what action does the government propose to take to protect and ensure the safety of the thousands of Canadians and the many Canadian ships lawfully using this river?"

CATHOLICS ARE DRAGGED FROM BED AND KILLED

Buildings at Desertmartin, County Derry, Fired—Outrages in Nature of Reprisals.

Belfast, May 19—Four men were dragged from their beds at Desertmartin, County Derry, early today, and murdered. Half of the village was burned. The men were Catholics.

It is believed here that the outrages were meant as a reprisal for the recent murders of members of the constabulary in South Derry. The victims were John Higgins, 40; Frank Higgins, 18; Henry McCreghan, 27; and James McCreghan, 40. The bodies were found in a heap. The buildings burned included the residence of a Catholic named Wilson, and two saloons. The residence of Magistrate Hemmarty was fired into and a number of other houses were wrecked and their furniture destroyed.

Four armed men held up a southern mail train, bound for Dublin, at County Kildare this morning. More than 100 registered letters and four mail bags, consigned to the Provisional Government, were seized. Detective Constable Henly was attacked and fatally wounded while on duty in Belfast this afternoon.

CAPITAL STILL HEARS RUMORS OF ELECTION

Government Afraid to Adopt Vigorous Policy On Any Single Question.

SWAYED BY THE HOUSE RUMBLINGS

What the Government Advocates One Day It Denounces the Next.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 19—The Parliamentary week during which most of the time the barometer stood at stormy, ended today in dull consideration of estimates. Interest, in fact, centered outside the House and in the statement which E. W. Beatty, president of the C. P. R., made before the Railway Rates Committee on the Crow's Nest Pass agreement. Mr. Beatty's statement, which has considerable political significance, said to Parliament and the country, in effect: "If you go back to the Crow's Nest Pass rates then you cannot have cheaper rates for the rest of the country. It's a choice, therefore, between low rates on the entire country, and a chance for lower rates on a number of commodities for all the country, if you try to get both, the result will be disastrous."

What the committee will do about it, and what Parliament and the Government will finally decide, is greatly agitating the politicians in all parties. The Progressives want the agreement renewed. The Government, influenced by powerful corporatist influences within it, is against renewal, but seeing that they are dependent upon progressive votes in the House, are afraid to say so. Hence the possibility of important consequences, no matter what is done.

Bad Situation.

The situation, had in every respect, is yet illustrative of the strange state of affairs in the House. The Government, in a minority, is afraid to adopt a vigorous policy in respect to a single question and stand by it. It must, as Mr. Meighan has pointed out, "listen" and act according to the rumblings it hears, not only in the House of the Progressives but in its own ranks as well. As a consequence the House never knows what is going to happen. It is a situation which is a disgrace to the House and a disgrace to the Government. It is a situation which is a disgrace to the House and a disgrace to the Government. It is a situation which is a disgrace to the House and a disgrace to the Government.

RETAIL MERCHANTS OF ST. STEPHEN MET

Reports Showed Branch to Be in Good Condition—Officers Elected.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, May 19—The annual meeting of the Retail branch of the New Brunswick Retail Merchants' Association, held here this evening, was one of the largest and most enthusiastic on record. Reports submitted by the various branches were all successful ones and prospects for the coming year exceptionally bright. The provincial secretary, Miss Francis Alward, was present and gave a most inspiring talk on the Association and what had been done for merchants in various towns in the province, during the past year. The report of the treasurer showed a balance on the right side of the ledger at the close of the year. In the absence of the president, James Brown, the chair was occupied by W. G. DeWolfe, provincial president. The election of officers resulted as follows: H. E. Beck, president; Bruce Buchanan, first vice; W. A. Mills, second vice; William Beagard, treasurer; LeRoy Hill, secretary; O'Brien, Parker Grimmer, J. W. Scott, Major McLean, Mr. Todd, A. C. Gregor, Mr. Mulhury, A. Haman, R. E. Hyatt, advisory board.

DELEGATIONS RETURNING TO THEIR HOMES

Satisfied Achievements at Genoa Will Contribute to Reconstruction of Europe.

SMALLER STATES ARE DISAPPOINTED

Some Are Angry That Their Troubles Have Not Been Wholly Settled.

Genoa, May 19—The dominant thought in Genoa tonight as the delegations to the Economic Conference were leaving or packing their trunks preparatory to departing for their homelands, seemingly was that, although the conference was a thing of the past, as far as Genoa is concerned, its achievements would live and contribute much to the pacific reconstruction of Europe. The officials of some of the smaller states undoubtedly will go home disappointed, perhaps angry, because their troubles have not been settled at Genoa. Lithuania, for example, is charged that Genoa has not chased the Polish troops from Lithuanian territory, and the small Russian republics, bordering the Caspian and Black Seas, are grieved because Genoa failed to free them from Bolshevik rule. But, as a whole, the belief prevails that the conference, despite disputes which almost pushed Europe to the edge of a precipice, has resulted in the beginning of better understandings between the nations of Europe, including Russia. Even official France admitted this tonight.

France, which came here reluctantly, almost suspiciously, goes away with more confidence. Louis Barthelemy, vice Premier in the French Cabinet, and France's chief delegate to the conference, in his final words to the press tonight declared it was his conviction that the Genoa Conference, which he called "the Child of Cannes," was to day in good health, and that he saw no reason why the infant could not journey safely to the Hague and there thrive and prosper.

"The greatest danger of all," continued Mr. Barthelemy, "was that it would prove the cause of a split between the godfathers who had come to Genoa as Allies. It was not always so, however, when David Lloyd George, indeed we have had serious difficulties since the first days. But I desire to affirm that the relations between Great Britain and France are better today than at the opening of the Genoa Conference."

The conference solemnly adjourned after adopting a provisional non-aggression pact providing arrangements for the Hague meeting, and adopting the report of the Economic Committee and its recommendations for the rebuilding of disorganized Europe. Admittedly, everything now depends on the Russian communists. If they declare it is their intention to remain in power in Holland as in Italy, there seems little prospect of an agreement with Russia. Meanwhile, the desperate struggle in favor of Russian people are in the minds of all the delegates.

LORRANE STONE FOR MEMORIAL CHAMBER

France Would Make Such a Contribution to the Canadian Government.

Ottawa, May 19—Premier Poincare, of France, has intimated to the Government the desire of the French Republic to contribute a consignment of Lorraine stone to be used in the construction of the memorial chamber in the Parliament buildings. In accepting the gift, King, Prime Minister, wrote that the gift, in addition to its practical usefulness, will serve as a perpetual memorial to the Canadian people sleeping in the soil of France, who gave their lives in defense of those principles of ordered liberty and justice upon whose vindication the future of the nations depends.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT ON REVENUE OFFICER

Customs Official at Grand Falls Beaten Up by An Alleged Smuggler.

Grand Falls, N. B., May 19—Edward Aubin, a farmer living near here, has been sent up for trial at the Supreme Court on a charge of murderous assault upon Ray Price, a Canadian customs officer here. The evidence taken before the magistrate in the preliminary examination showed that Price was going home late at night, recently, when he noticed a team passing, loaded with what appeared to be some new farm machinery. He ordered the driver to stop, and the result was that he received a blow upon the head with the bar of a Hoover digger. The prosecution claims that Aubin was the person who struck the officer, and that he did so in an attempt to evade apprehension while smuggling into Canada, from across the Maine boundary nearby, a quantity of American-made farm machinery.

BITTER TEMPER REVEALED IN DAIL DEBATE

Griffith More Than Usually Determined in His Decision and Language.

Dublin, May 18—The Dail Eireann met, today, expecting to learn something of the progress of the negotiations between Michael Collins and Eamon De Valera on the possibilities of peace and the formation of a coalition government, but although Collins and De Valera were present, nothing was said on this subject. Harry J. Boland, of the anti-treaty group, moved that the House consider and vote on the points on which the committee of ten failed to agree, and this was taken, generally, as an indication that the De Valera-Collins negotiations had been of no avail.

The Speaker ruled the Boland resolution out, and the question of elections was taken up, debate on which soon put peace in the background. Arthur Griffith was more than usually determined in his decision and language, insisting upon the people right to be consulted. This debate revealed a more bitter temper than has been apparent in the Dail for a long time.

The speech of Charles Burgess (Cath. Brugh), opposing elections, reflecting Mr. Griffith's stubbornness. Mr. Burgess divulged how the majority for the treaty in the Dail was obtained. According to him, it was due to the "bastards" of the council of the Irish Republican Brotherhood who canvassed members in favor of the treaty. This brotherhood has always been Ireland's most extreme organization. Burgess denounced the action of these men as a crime which could only be expiated by their dying for Ireland in a future war with England, which he expected.

Interruptions and interpellations were frequent throughout the afternoon, and at six o'clock, Richard Mulcahy and Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork, pressed for information as to what really happened between De Valera and Collins. Then the members began discussing the wisdom of debating peace negotiations before dealing with elections. It eventually was agreed to adjourn until tomorrow when De Valera and Collins will present reports defining their points of divergence.

MINERS HAVE LITTLE CHANGE TO SPORT ON

Family of Seven, After Paying for Absolute Necessities, Had $4 Week Left.

Springhill, N. S., May 19—After deductions for rent, coal, doctor, union and society dues, and taxes, one Springhill miner, with a family of seven, had left for other expenses an average of $4.07 per week from Jan. 15 to May 5, 1922, according to a statement filed by Arthur Bonnyman, local miner's spokesman, before the Scott Conciliation Board which is investigating the dispute between the Nova Scotia coal operators and the miners. Another man, with a family of ten, had, after the same deductions, $2.82 per week, the statement showed.

Chairman Scott expressed surprise that the Springhill contract miners should have smaller earnings than in other parts of the Province, as his inspection of the mines led him to believe that the coal was easy to mine. The miners' said there was a main difficulty was that on many days there was no work for them.

In the pits here the contract miners were required to shovel coal, after it is cut 25 feet without extra remuneration. Their spokesmen said they should not be expected to remove the coal more than 20 feet from the working face. Further removal should be done by dotal men, they claimed.

When a budget of Springhill prices was filed with the board chairman Scott remarked that the miners were charged more for some necessities than people in Upper Canada.

To Spend Million and Half on Quebec Harbor But Nothing for St. John.

STRONG PLEAS MADE FOR THIS HARBOR

Hon. Dr. Baxter and Dr. MacLaren Urged Necessity of Immediate Work Here.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 19—The King Government, which at the behest of Ernest Lapointe is proposing to spend one million five hundred thousand dollars for Quebec harbor, has not a cent for the port of St. John. This fact was disclosed tonight when, on the estimates for public works, Mr. Baxter and Dr. MacLaren made strong pleas that the breakwater between Negropoint and Partridge Island be given some repairs. Both St. John members impressed upon the House that this work was absolutely necessary, but when Mr. King was pressed as to the Government's intention in the matter, he flatly and curtly replied that nothing would be done.

Ottawa, May 19—(By Canadian Press)—The Government does not intend to proceed with any further work on the breakwater at St. John, N. B. this year. This was announced in the House of Commons tonight by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, who was conducting his estimates through committee. The question arose when an item of $1,991,000 was under consideration. Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Conservative member for St. John-Albert, asked Dr. King what he proposed to do about the breakwater. It was an important work and was needed to keep out the heavy seas. The Government had spent millions of dollars dredging the harbor and constructing piers, and this work was now in danger. Mr. Baxter emphasized that some of the berths for vessels, during stormy weather, were exposed to heavy pounding by the seas. Even in moderate severe weather some of the wharves could not be put to their proper use. The construction should be undertaken before fall, he said. Stone could be procured at Partridge Island, near where the work was to be done, and at a minimum of expenditure.

Mr. Baxter was supported by his constituency mate, Dr. Murray MacLaren, who said that he might raise the matter up at the request of the St. John Board of Trade. The need of the breakwater was urgent. In high seas, steamers sometimes suffered damage through being pounded against the wharves.

ALIENIST TO EXAMINE SLAYER OF TRENOLM

Attorney General to Have Bennie Swim Examined As to His Sanity.

Fredrickton, N. B., May 19—An alienist will be sent by the Attorney General's Department to Woodstock in the near future to make an investigation into the mental condition of Bennie Swim, of Rockland, Carleton County, who is under sentence to be hanged on July 15 for the murder of Harvey Trenholm and his wife, Olive, at their home at Beaton Ridge, Carleton County, N. B.

Hon. J. P. Byrne, Attorney General, said today he had received reports from Sheriff Postler, of Carleton County, that called for an investigation of Swim's mental state.

GOVT TO DO NOTHING ON BREAKWATER

When the vote of $66,700 for repairs to wharves and breakwaters in New Brunswick was under consideration, R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sunbury) declared that not one dollar was provided for repairs to wharves on the St. John river.

Hon. John Morissy, (Liberal, Northumberland, N. B.) declared that those wharves did not belong to the Dominion Government.

Mr. Hanson retorted that many of them did, named several, and said that they were all in a state of disrepair.

R. W. Grimmer (Conservative, Charlotte, N. B.) charged that during the last election the Liberal candidate in that county had made extensive promises of breakwaters, and this charge was backed up by Mr. Hanson.

Mr. Hanson said that wharves or breakwaters had been promised for practically every village and hamlet. "What about your own?" retorted Pius Michaud (Liberal, Restigouche and Madawaska).

Mr. Hanson declared that the Liberal campaign had revolved on bribery, but nothing had been done to implement the promises made.

This declaration was greeted with laughter from the Liberal benches and Mr. Hanson came back with: "They laugh because it has been such a general practice—Liberal cries of 'hear, hear!'—by honorable gentlemen opposite."

Hon. A. B. Copp protested strongly against Mr. Hanson's charges, which he said had not been backed up by a single bit of evidence.

Sch. Ada A. McIntyre Is A Total Loss

Fine Tern Schooner Ran Ashore on Point Pringle, Grand Manan, and Pounded to Pieces.

According to information received here yesterday afternoon by Peter McIntyre, owner of the schooner Ada A. McIntyre, which ran ashore on Point Pringle, near Grand Manan, early yesterday morning the vessel is a total loss, having pounded herself to pieces on the rocks, owing to the heavy weather experienced in the Bay of Fundy during the day.

The schooner cost $70,000 when built and was covered with only a small amount of insurance, so that the loss will be quite heavy. Captain Barton and crew of the vessel are at present safe at Grand Manan, and are expected to reach the city today.

The Ada A. McIntyre was a schooner of 423 tons net register, and was built and launched at Moss Glen, on the Kennebecasis river a few years ago. She had finished discharging a cargo of salt from Turk's Island, at North Head, Grand Manan, and left that port in ballast for St. John on Thursday night.

When she rounded the island about six o'clock yesterday morning she struck on Point Pringle just above Gull Cove, there being a heavy fog prevailing in the bay at the time.

A lifeboat from the island stood by all day and everything possible was done to save the vessel, but owing to the heavy seas, which were breaking at the time, the schooner eventually pounded herself to pieces on the rocks and sank during the afternoon.

Insurance Case Before the Court
Resident of Boston Charged With Doing Business Without Authority in This Province.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, N. B., May 19.—The case against Stephen Barton, of Boston, Mass., charged with violating a statute of New Brunswick by doing business as a fire insurance agent without provincial license, was heard today before Police Magistrate Linsell. P. J. Hughes appeared for the Attorney-General and F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the underwriters of the Province. J. B. McNair appeared for the defense. H. W. Frink, of St. John informant. The prosecution completed its case this morning and the defense was begun. Stanley Douglass, of this city, was called by the prosecution. A. A. Colter, of Fredericton, was called by the defense.

In outlining the defense, Mr. McNair took the ground that the defendant had not solicited insurance, but had been approached by persons who desired to be insured by him. Other wise, the defendant could be in the Province of New Brunswick without being liable to prosecution. It also was contended that the tax was unconstitutional. The evidence showed that the defendant had placed insurance on the mill property of S. Douglass, Limited, and that letters had been written to him at Boston with regard to insuring property in this section. This is the first case of its kind and is a test case.

WILL THE WHOLE WORLD GO DRY IN NEAR FUTURE

"Pussyfoot" Johnson, Worker for Prohibition, Is Optimistic Over Its Accomplishment.

By Wm. E. Johnson (Pussyfoot).
Up to a hundred years ago, one of the chief moot questions of the world was whether piracy on the high seas would ever be terminated. Piracy had existed for thousands of years, and in many sections, it was regarded as a vested interest. But because it constituted a blot upon society, society defended itself and piracy was thereby abolished. People now wonder why piracy was ever tolerated at all.

Within the memory of people now living, human slavery existed in many countries of the world, including America. It was defended as a vested interest, it was entrenched in the laws of our land, it was defended even by some religious teachers. Bishop Hoops, proclaiming that the system was authorized by the Bible, had existed throughout the world from the beginning of history. Yet slavery compelled final recognition as an enemy of civilization and it disappeared. Now that slavery is only a horrid memory, the world finds it difficult to understand why the hideous wrong was ever tolerated at all, anywhere.

In just the same way, other established evils, because they constituted a social menace, have been wiped under the ban of law in civilized nations. Public gambling has been driven into the small corners of the earth. Authorized prostitution has been whiped out of the life of most of the nations of the world. The traffic in habit-forming drugs is being slowly strangled by international co-operation and international efforts.

It is true that in each case, these wrongs have not been eliminated without an effort. As in the case of the silversmiths of Ephesus, vested interests fought, fought bitterly. They were eliminated one by one simply because society exercised the right to defend itself, because the idea that an "injury to one is an injury to all" began to be regarded as a fundamental principle throughout the world.

Organized society made war upon yellow fever, smallpox and the various diseases, even though this warfare lessened the income of doctors and undertakers, threw grave-diggers out of employment and reduced the profits of the coffin makers. Society began more and more to understand that it was charged with the duty and with the right of protecting itself against any sinister interests that served to destroy human happiness, demoralize public and private life or to undermine civilization. In proportion as this principle began to be recognized, in just that same ratio did the traffic in intoxicating liquors challenge the attention of law-making bodies throughout the world.

It was the great Gladstone who denounced the drink as "the greater evil than war, pestilence and famine combined." It was David Lloyd George who during the late war declared the drink to be a "greater enemy than Hitler, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Russia and said that the civilizations of Assyria, Greece, Egypt and Rome, each withered away in an orgy of drink. Science said that the drink was rotting the manhood of the best of the nations of the earth. Statistics showed that the drink bill of the world would wipe out the entire cost of the great war within ten years.

The men who make profits out of the degrading business say that they must not be interfered with. The man who, because of his diseased appetite, has no liberty, protests against being deprived of his right to be a slave to drink. Others whose interests are incompatible with the social welfare protest for the drink or another. But the intelligence and conscience of the world grows stronger. The cry of the many who suffer in order that the few may get rich becomes more and more insistent. These growing influences quite naturally find expression in the parliaments of the world, the voices of social power. Since America adopted the Prohibition system, no movement in the history of the world has made such progress as has the Prohibition idea throughout the world. Free peoples resist under the oppression of vested interests and exercise their demands for freedom in every corner of the world. Local and national anti-drink societies have been organized in every civilized country on earth, composed of the best and the patriotic of all lands. PROVINCIAL BOARD OF EDUCATION

Accepts Resignation of Miss Gibson, Teacher in Model School at Fredericton.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, N. B., May 19.—The Board of Education of New Brunswick met this afternoon in connection with the session of the Provincial Government. Much routine business was transacted.

The resignation of Miss I. Marion Gibson as a teacher in the Model School, Fredericton, was accepted with regret. It was due to ill health. Miss Mabel J. Logan, who has been on the staff of the Campbellton school but who recently has been supplying at the Model School, was appointed to succeed Miss Gibson.

The board approved of the following section relative to disability under the Teachers' Pensions Act: Applicants for disability, allowed under the provisions of the Teachers' Pensions Act, shall, within six months after giving up active work of teaching, furnish the chief superintendent with a certificate of total disability obtained from the district medical health officer. A similar disability certificate must be furnished the chief superintendent on or before June 30 for each year thereafter, during which disability may be claimed.

societies will hold its first international convention at Toronto on November 24-29 next. No international gathering of reform forces has ever met in the history of the world that will equal this international demonstration. The movement represents a power that cannot be withstood by the combined forces of evil. Its power will be irresistible because it represents a world-wide uprising against entrenched wrong and fortified oppression. No evil thing in the history of the world was ever able to withstand the aroused conscience of the world.

The hour for the final execution of the arrogant and wicked liquor traffic has struck and it must get off the face of the earth, just as did human slavery, piracy, the ancient practice of skinning alive prisoners of war and boiling heretics in oil. The cohesive power of public plunder is mighty and the struggle will be great, but there can be but one outcome. The liquor traffic must pass away and take with it the vast welter of human misery that it creates.

Stage Door "Beau" Extinct Animal, Says Doorkeeper

Replaced by Species of Young Man Known as Stage Door Johnny.

London, May 17.—Stage doorkeepers of London theatres say the stage-door "beau" is extinct and has been replaced by a species of young man more aptly described by the American term "stage-door Johnny."

The vanished "beau," according to the guardian of one London stage entrance, wore a large silk hat at an acute angle, an elegant cape over his evening clothes and waited, a bouquet in one hand, a tie-ribbon box in the other, gold knobbed swagger-stick under one arm, to greet a chorus girl and, with a graceful bow, to hand her into his private hansom-cab.

Today, Jack doesn't do that. He sits in his automobile puffing a cigarette and when the other party appears he calls from the curb: "Come on, off girl, you've been a long time." The car starts with a jerk and the girl is hurled into a seat.

"I suppose they are more sensible, but perpetual common sense makes stage-doors like most other places these days—they're awfully dull," says one doorkeeper.

STRAINED MUSCLES, SPRAINS CAN BE TREATED QUICKLY

In minor sprains, the muscle is strained a little, and all that is needed is a vigorous rubbing with Nervine. This draws the extra blood away, and permits the muscle to return to its normal condition. The supremacy Nervine enjoys is owing to its penetrating power. It strikes deeply, that is why it removes deep seated pains, and fixes up folks that have Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia and Sciatica. There is about five times the pain destroying power in Nervine than you find in the average liniment. Sold everywhere, 50c. per bottle.

DUNLOP

LOOK TO DUNLOP FOR "CORD" SUPREMACY

A man who owns three cars and who has driven an automobile almost since the inception of the "gas buggy" remarked to one of our directors the other day:

"I have been getting such dandy service from Dunlop Tires that I think your claims about mileage are far too modest. As far as my experience goes, you cannot talk too big."

1922, 1921, 1920, 1919—Dunlop Cord Tires came into existence in 1919, and the transformation in mileage year by year that followed their use by motorists has been most striking. 1920 surpassed 1919 to be, in turn, surpassed by 1921; and here's 1922 producing testimonials like this:

"I have just returned to you a 37x5 Dunlop Traction Cord casing which has gone 24,500 miles. The casing was used on the rear wheel of one of my Cadillac cars, covering 11,000 miles, and was then transferred to the front wheel and covered 13,500 miles after the change was made. I consider this exceptional mileage, indeed, and, needless to say, am more than pleased with the service rendered."

It is important to note that the tire referred to above was on a livery car, and, therefore, could not possibly have been subjected to a more severe test.

"I Am So Tired"

"THIS teaching seems to keep one's nerves at high tension all day long. The children do worry me terribly at times."

"They seem to lose all interest in their lessons in the spring, and how I will ever get that Entrance Class through their exams is more than I can guess."

"If I could only rest and sleep at night it would not be so bad. But I cannot. My appetite is gone, and I feel completely discouraged."

"I believe it is all from my nerves. The strain of this school is too much for me. I wonder if Dr. Chase's Nerve Food would do me any good?"

"Strange I never thought of it before, for I know that lots of teachers depend on it in the spring to carry them through and keep up their energy during this trying time."

"If I could only get the mothers to give it to their nervous, irritable children I am sure that would help some, too."

Make Happy Lives

Uncle Wiggly Long-Ears And The Cow Lady

Uncle Wiggly hopped into the kitchen at the hollow stump bungalow this morning, smiling very strongly of

It must be that you are going out your auto today," said Nurse Jane Wiggly, who was making an apple pie out of carrots.

"Yes, I am going for a bit of a ride in my new automobile," answered Mr. Long-Ears, "and I will come with me, Miss Fussy Wiggly."

"Oh, thank you just the same, but I can't do that," said the nurse lady. "After I take this cherry pie to the table I must wash the beds and make up the dishes. Oh, I don't have time for that."

"There's one little thing that must be carried out overnight since the Babe's suspension is not automatically lifted tomorrow. His bosses have got to send a polite telegram to Judge Landis inquiring if it will be alright for their employes to go back to work."

A reply must come from the judge before the Babe can take his place in the line-up.

New York, May 19.—With plans for the future indefinite, but asserting positively that he will not fight until Labor Day, at least, world champion Jack Dempsey, king of the heavyweights, returned on the Aquitania today, radiating happiness to his home. Dempsey will remain here one or two days and then hustle to Los Angeles to visit his mother.

Before the ship docked, both the champion and his manager, Jack Kearns, spoke the suggested bout with Harry Wells, negro challenger, proposed by Tex Rickard and Frank Flourey for July 1 at Montreal. Dempsey is not really out of condition yet.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"I started to sail across the pond to get to the hollow stump ool," chuckled Billie; "but all of a sudden, the wind died out, and there I was, blowing in the air. I was whistling, for I had heard it said it is what sailors do when they are at a wind."

"What may help some, but I think I have a better way," chuckled Uncle Wiggly, as he twinkled his pink eyes.

"What is it?" Billie asked.

"Well, I'll let out some of the air in the hollow sausage tires of my auto," said the bunny. "I'll bring my pump along, so he wouldn't run over me or the air, which will blow on you of your boat and then you'll get on the pond and can run to school."

"That will be fine!" chuckled Billie.

"Uncle Wiggly unscrewed the cap on an air valve of his auto tire. Out came the compressed air, with a hiss, that of a big snake. The sail of squirrel boys' boat shook and tumbled, and then swelled out as the wind blew. The boat was safe in the hollow stump school of the lady mouse chers."

"Well, I'm glad I could do the squirrel boys a good little turn," thought Uncle Wiggly, as he pumped more air in the tire so it would be flat. "Then he went on a little faster, waiting for the next adventure would be on all of a sudden, a little angle iron boy crawled across the road in the path of the rabbit gentleman, raising the air in the air as far as he could, and cried: 'Stop!'"

"Are you a traffic policeman?" asked Uncle Wiggly, joking like.

"No," answered the angle iron boy, "I'm a traffic policeman. I'm stuck in the boggy swamp and she can't get out!"

"How do you mean stuck?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Stuck in the mud," answered the angle iron boy. "She waded out too far, and she got stuck in the mud. Her legs sank away down in the mud, and now she can't pull them out. She's moaning for help. If you listen you can hear her."

"Moo! Moo! Moo!" cried the angle iron boy. "I must help the Lady Cow," said the bunny, "and she is stuck in the mud. If you'll take me up in your auto I'll get there more quickly," said the angle iron boy. "Through it isn't far from here, but it takes me a good while to crawl distance, as I am a bit slow."

THE KING OF HEAVYWEIGHTS HAS RETURNED TO NEW YORK

Jack Dempsey Will Not Fight Before Labor Day — Will Meet Carpenter Before Next May — $500,000 Offer to Fight in South America.

Baseball fans all over the city, perhaps all over the country, were spinning conversation tonight about the scheduled return of Babe Ruth from exile to the Polo Grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Reverend stats for the game have all been sold, some of the bleachers bugs are likely to line up outside the gates—just as they do for the world's series.

Reading Club Purchases Players

Reading, May 19.—The Reading International League club has asked the purchase of right hand pitcher Al Schacht from the Washington Americans. Schacht will join the Internationals at Jersey City immediately. The club has also signed pitcher and short stop Bill Barrett, formerly of the Philadelphia Athletics.

HALIFAX SWIMMERS. The Halifax Herald reports that Halseonians are already indulging in a dip in the waters of the far famed North West Arm. It is a safe bet that the temperature of waters of the arm are not tempered by Randy's icy lads.

No word has reached us of any swimmer braving seaside or Bay Shore's surf as yet, and it is doubtful if any will until July, and summer warmth have reached St. John.

St. John Dogs Made Good Showing

Twelve Dogs Sent to Greatest Bench Show in Montreal Were in Prize List.

Among the St. John dogs at the Montreal show, not previously announced, who have won prizes are Francis Kerr's English Bull; Roy Gray's Irish Terrier. A very gratifying feature, from a local standpoint, is the fact that every one of the twelve dogs which were sent up from here landed in the prize list, and as this is the biggest show ever yet staged in Canada, that fact speaks volumes for the quality of the animals owned here.

Full if any will until July, and summer warmth have reached St. John.

"Babe" Ruth Starts Playing Today

Will Open Long Home Series With the Yankees on the Polo Grounds.

New York, May 19.—His penance all performed, Babe Ruth the prodigal son of Swat, takes up his bluegown again tomorrow, weather permitting, as the New York Yankees open a long home series at the Polo Grounds with Kenneth Williams, the Ruthian Lochinvar from out of the West, trying to make his 1922 Metropolitan debut at the beginning of a fade-out for George Herman.

Since he has read of the ball-stomping prowess of Williams, since he has been shown that the Yankees are more than a "one-man" club, since he has found that Commissioner Keneaw M. Landis means to enforce the rules and since he has discovered that it means more to be a first-class player, it is reported that Ruth's uniform—including his cap—fits.

But regardless of the better integrity of Mr. Williams, who seems intent upon getting past the Babe's highwater mark of 59 home runs for last season; regardless of the fact that Ruth has a "record"—as a baseball shatterer, if one there was, would term it—the answer to the Yankee owners is still the pride of Harlem and the biggest baseball drawing-card the world has ever known.

In the view of many fans the attitude that Ruth has displayed since receiving his "sentence" from Commissioner Landis, the quiet manner in which he has conducted himself, his willingness to "play the game" and his apparent determination to make up for lost time—all of this will bring as many people to the ballparks to see him this year as did last.

According to those who have the Babe's confidence he has been elated over the fact that the Yankees have set without him in the line-up playing an exhibition game with the Buffalo International League team after the World Series had ended, in violation of the rule that prohibits World Series players from indulging in such exhibitions.

Not only did Ruth and Messers who make the rule but they did it after Commissioner Landis had personally talked with Ruth and told him what would happen in case the rule was violated. After that conversation Ruth expressed his determination to meet the Commissioner, and handle the matter the most severe test of his baseball career, foreshadowed what he will do by saying: "It will be a personal issue between me and me to determine whether or not I am bigger in baseball."

With the 28 days suspension over R looks to baseball fandom as if Landis was convinced that Landis is the bigger and that Ruth also is so convinced.

As soon as he had finished Landis, Ruth was sorry, but he had done it. Full of remorse and headbanging, Ruth hopped back to New York, swore repentance and took a rest. Says the Landis devotees:

Miss Cecil Leitch Suffered Defeat

Lost Her Title As British Women's Open Golf Champion to Miss Wethered.

Sandwich, England, May 19.—Miss Cecil Leitch, suffered the most overwhelming defeat ever administered to a finalist since championship golf matches for women were inaugurated when she lost her title as British women's golf champion to Miss Joyce Wethered today 9 up and 7 to play.

It was in the afternoon that Miss Leitch, seeing that the turn during the morning round was nip and tuck from the start, and at the finish of the first 18 holes, Miss Leitch was down one. At the turn during the afternoon round, she was seven down. The experts were amazed with the collapse of the defeated champion. She stopped twice while putting on the tenth green until spectators ceased talking; then missed a putt and became eight down. The match ended on the next green when Miss Leitch, seeing she had lost, kicked the ball away and congratulated her opponent.

Indian Who Killed His Wife Found Sitting in Park

Had Four Page Written Commission in His Pocket—Both Spiritualists.

New York, May 19.—Key Pendleton Smith, who was arrested last night for the murder of his wife, was found sitting on a bench in front of the new Civic Virtue statue in City Hall Park.

The Indian had in his pocket a four-page written commission, in which he told that he and his wife were both spiritualists, and expressed the hope that her spirit would come back to earth so that she could help him at his trial. However, he did not seem to place much reliance in this spiritualistic defence, for he gave directions in his statement that his body be buried next to his wife's.

The man's wife was a Hungarian girl employed as a maid in the home of Alexander Katz, a wealthy leather merchant. Mrs. Smith went to work after she left her husband on learning that he was a bigamist. She told her employers that she had discovered that he had two other wives, and refused to live with him.

Smith tried to persuade her to return to him, and on the Sunday night preceding the murder brought her some jewellery. She was to give him an answer the following Thursday night. On that occasion, he called and saw her alone in the kitchen. Mr. Katz, who was reading in the library, suddenly heard a piercing shriek, and saw the woman van from the kitchen to see her husband's room. Her husband lowered her, brandishing a long carving knife. She fell on the floor, face downward. Kneeling beside her, the Indian turned her over and saw her throat cut with the knife. Then he kissed her, and exclaimed: "Good-bye and God bless you." He ran out of the house and disappeared before the police arrived.

He was found by Detectives Himes and Ross, of the Bath Beach station, who had been supplied with a good de-

Specialties In Forefront Of Bond Stock Activities

United States Steel and New Haven at Record Quotations—Money Easy.

New York, May 19.—Speculative activity in the stock market was revived on a comprehensive scale today, mainly as a result of easier money rates, virtually all forms of accommodations falling to the lowest levels in almost five years. Aside from call loans, which were freely obtainable at 3 1/2 down to 3 per cent, thirty day money eased to 3 3/4 per cent; sixty days money was offered at four per cent and loans extending almost to the year's end were negotiated on a 4 1/4 per cent basis.

Steels, oils, sugars, motors and copers were in the forefront of the day's broad operations at gross advances of one to almost five points.

Outstanding individual issues embraced United States Steel and New Haven, both at record quotations for two or more years, and closing at 117 1/2 and 114 1/2 points respectively.

Other leaders to show advances of one to over four points included Mexican Petroleum, Bethlehem, Crucible and Republic Steels, General Motors in which the turnover assumed enormous proportions, Schlar, Producers and Refiners, Kelly Springfield, Cuban American Sugar, Industrial Alcohol and United Retail Stores.

Reading made a gain of 1 3/8 and concurrent strength of other coals gave color to rumors that the federal administration, as represented by the Departments of Commerce and Labor, had formulated tentative plans for a settlement of the coal strike. Pacific, Grangers, trunk lines and cotton carriers also made more or less substantial gains. Sales of stocks amounted to 1,175,000 shares.

DOOR NOT CLOSED BY AMERICA TO CONFERENCES WITH RUSSIA

United States Will, However, Continue to Remain Aloof Until Soviet Government Changes Its Policy.

Washington, May 18.—(Reuter)—The United States to attend the meeting at The Hague does not close the door to American participation in a later conference or conferences dealing with Russia. Statements to that effect were made by the State Department at the White House today following the bi-weekly meeting of the Cabinet. They were afterwards repeated and simplified at the State Department. Secretary Hughes was positively interpreted as signifying that the United States has not turned its back on the Russian problem, that, on the contrary, America is ardently desirous of assisting the Russian people in "coming back" and promoting European economic restoration in general. If conferences are called that promise more hopeful results than those held at The Hague, the United States will not be held out of them. It is not likely to be invoked in vain. It is now "up to" Europe and Soviet Russia to supply convincing proofs to that score. Meantime the isolation of America, however, unspelled it may seem to Europe, would be maintained.

It was made plain in Washington today that everything depends on the "feasibility" of America's participation in future conferences. It will not be held feasible by President Harding, Secretary Hughes or Secretary Hoover so long as Soviet Russia adheres to the program laid down in its Genoa memorandum of May 11. If that manifesto remains the Soviet's last word as terms for dealing with the outside world, the United States will continue to remain aloof. America would consider time-wasting, and it would not enter into them.

Rapid-Fire Diplomacy

The rapid-fire diplomacy exhibited by President Harding and Secretary Hoover commends general approval in Washington. There are few cases on record disclosing such speedy disposal of foreign questions as that which was handled within 24 hours of the arrival of the Genoa message at the State Department. America's answer to it was drafted and transmitted to Italy. Mr. Hughes' rapid-fire diplomacy upon the first reading of the Hague proposal. He submitted it to President Harding, received the latter's unqualified assent and called it to Richard Washburn Child, United States Ambassador to Italy, without delay.

Russian Trade Making Most Gratifying Advance

In 1921 Exported Goods Valued at 20,000,000 Gold Rubles—Mainly Flax.

Moscow, April 24.—(By Mail).—Detailed reports of development of trade between Russia and the outside world since the beginning of 1920 have been published in the Soviet press, covering the period since Russia's peace treaty was concluded with Estonia when the blockade against Russia was brought to an end. Chiefly due to lack of system and the chaotic conditions which existed during 1920, Russia exported but little in that time. The imports, however, being valued at 50,000,000 gold rubles.

But as soon as the trade agencies and representative had gained a firm footing in London, Berlin, Stockholm and other industrial centres, an actual system became apparent in the foreign trade of Soviet Russia, all under supervision of the People's Commissar for Foreign Trade, L. B. Krassin.

In 1921, Russia imported goods valued at 124,000,000 gold rubles, equivalent to $124,000,000, chiefly coal, chemical and metal goods, foodstuffs and textiles. In the same year Russia exported goods valued at 20,000,000 gold rubles, chiefly flax, and other raw materials.

England took the lead in supplying Russia with its needs last year, with Germany second. The deliveries consisted chiefly of agricultural requisites. America took third place, having supplied 16 per cent of the import goods, exclusive of relief supplies.

The Soviet press concludes that, owing to the exhausted condition of the country, it is scarcely considered possible to increase the export business during the next few years, at least, unless one paper an improvement in the quality of the goods may well be expected.

Very Ordinary Trade Passing In Winnipeg Market

Steady Opening to Friday's Session After Which Prices Declined to 1-7-8 Lower.

Winnipeg, May 19.—After a fairly steady opening on the local wheat market today, prices commenced to work gradually lower and at the close all futures showed a decline of 1 1/8 from yesterday's figures. Quite a little wheat changed hands in the early part of the session, but this demand soon slackened off. A good amount of October new crop wheat was bought by exporters at around 125, but the foreign operators displayed little interest in the old crop wheat which is ranging too high.

Vessel agents reported only a very ordinary inquiry for tonnage. Liverpool cables indicated a steady market abroad, with a little better demand for wheat in the nearby positions. There was also a slight improvement in domestic demands from Eastern Canada, but not enough to disturb premiums and generally there was a very ordinary trade passing in all positions.

In the course of grain, trade was of a very limited character and little business was being worked in oats, while crushers were taking moderate amounts of flax at a scale down.

In the cash wheat market there was little change in the situation, with only a fair demand and light offerings coming out. Farmers continue to hold their wheat for 41.50 a bushel, but No. 1 Northern. Premiums were about unchanged to a fraction lower on all grades.

Cash coarse grains were all dull without any particular feature.

Interest in Russian People

To be noted is the stress which the latest Hughes' pronouncement once again lays upon America's interest in "the Russian people." It is with their weal and woe, not with the fate of the Soviet Government, that the United States is concerned. The Hughes' note to the Genoa Conference affords no encouragement to those who, like Senator Borah, urge recognition of the Soviet Government. There is undoubtedly a wide division of sentiment on that score in and out of Congress. If the Borah recognition resolution is taken from the table of the Senate and pressed to a vote, there might be a considerable measure of support for it.

Some Democratic sentiment is said to exist in favor of recognition, but no one believes there would be even approximately a large enough number of votes to pass the resolution. It would encounter vigorous hostility from the Harding Administration, unless in the meantime there within Russia which alone, in the estimation of Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hoover, would make American relations with that country feasible.

Early Raw Sugar Market Shade Easier

Operators in Raw Futures Inclined to Hold Off and Await Developments.

New York, May 19.—The early raw sugar market was a shade easier. Cubas are unchanged at 7 1/2 cents, cost and freight, equal to 4.04, for centrifugal, but June shipment for 4.01. Porto Ricans are quoted at 4.06. There were sales of 7,500 bags of Cubas to an operator and 30,000 bags of Porto Ricans to export refiners for June shipment.

There were only a small trade in raw sugar futures, with operators inclined to hold off and await developments in the market. Prices were steady to one point net higher at midday. The market for refined nominal was unchanged at 5.30 to 5.55 for the granulated. The demand was only moderate. Refined futures nominal.

Weakness Developed In Transactions On Chicago Board

Wheat Prices Closed Unsettled at 7-8 to 4 1-4 and Lower

Chicago, May 19.—Pronounced weakness developed in the wheat market today, owing more or less to the announcement that the Kansas State report indicated a larger yield than of late had been looked for. Cheaper Money Favorable Influence On The Bond Market

New York, May 19.—Cheaper money was a favorable influence in the bond market today, brisk dealings being accompanied by gains of one to three points in many of the industrial and speculative rails, industrial and specialties.

Aside from Chile Copper six and seven, at gains, the demand for the metals eased with the reaction shown by stocks of that class. Internationals, Swiss and several of the Scandinavian municipalities were firm, but British and French Government offerings showed no marked changes. Total sales, par value, aggregated $18,493,000.
