

PREDICT MONCTON AS ONE OF FIRST CITIES OF CANADA

The I. C. R. Shops Consume 2,000,000 Feet a Day Developed at $10.49 per H. P. How City Has Grown.

A staff writer of the Financial Post contributes an article to his paper on the power prices in Moncton and the general advance in New Brunswick. He says: "Canadians in Ontario and the west have become accustomed during the last few months to the considerable boom that is reported as being going forward in the maritime provinces. New Brunswick particularly inspires a growing interest as the part of the immigrants and capitalists to investigate the resources of the province that have been passed over in the past. British papers were taking a particularly active part in the movement. The maritime provinces are settled to such a large extent by English immigrants. St. John, Halifax and finally Moncton seem to be starting the boom. Moncton has several points in its favor that should contribute materially to making it a great city at some future date. At present the population is 18,000. The intercolonial shops and administration offices are situated here and employ from 2,000 to 3,000 men the year round.

Power Prices.

Natural gas has been discovered in very large quantities close to the city and is being developed in large quantities. An estimate made by officials here puts the available supply at present in sight at twenty times the present demand. The pressure appears to be good and the cost of delivering the fuel is not great. The Intercolonial Railway shops consume 2,000,000 feet per day and develop energy therefrom at a cost of $10.49 per h. p. per annum. This compares very favorably with the cost of from $15 to $17.50 paid for water power in Ontario. The rates charged are 15c per 1,000 feet for power purposes, 25c per 1,000 feet for gas engines, and 25c per 1,000 feet for private consumption. Manufacturers claim a saving of 50 per cent over power costs previously.

Transportation Facilities.

Moncton has become a great railroad center situated as it is at the neck of Nova Scotia. Practically all of the transcontinental traffic through Canadian ports must pass through Moncton. It is estimated here that Moncton can compete with Montreal and Toronto in supplying the west, as the rates on the Intercolonial are between Montreal and Vancouver, and Moncton and Vancouver there is only a difference in freight rates of about 10 cents per ton. On Tide Water.

In addition to the transportation facilities with the rest of Canada there is the fact that Moncton is situated on the coast and so within easy access of Liverpool, New York and Boston. At high tide there is 30 feet of water at the Moncton wharves which is sufficient to accommodate practically any craft.

An idea of the advance this eastern city is making may be obtained from the fact that building permits in 1912 were 30 per cent ahead of 1911.

Population has doubled in ten years and the customs receipts in 1912 were $7,000 ahead of 1911. The 1912 assessment figures total $7,000,000 as compared with $5,400,000 in 1912. These facts indicate a growth that justifies the people here in looking for Moncton to be one of the first cities in the dominion.

Anglo-Saxon Peoples Will Never War Again Says J. J. Hill

Railway Magnate Declares Capitalists Are the Arbiters of Peace—Lauds the Great Strides Canada Has Made, and Dwells on the Growth of Trade With the United States in Spite of Tariff Barriers.

(Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, June 12.—Let us hope that as long as the wires of the St. Lawrence flow, we shall be at peace with each other," Premier Borden.

"Whatever may be the fate of the general movement among the nations in favor of peace, those whose mother tongue is English will never again take up arms against one another."—James J. Hill.

Notable for its many pronouncements for universal peace, with particular reference to the coming centenary celebrations between Great Britain and the United States, and with regard to the relations between the two nations and the United States, was the banquet given tonight by the Dominion government to the delegates in attendance at the annual convention of the New York State Bankers Association.

Men eminent in the banking and political life of the two countries were present and, after mutual congratulations and goodwill, and drank toasts to the king, the president of the United States and the Duke of Connaught, the governor-general of Canada.

Notable Speakers.

The toast included the king, the president of the United States, Duke of Connaught, and the president of the United States, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice and administrator, our guests, proposed by Hon. R. L. Borden, premier of Canada, and Hon. J. J. Hill, minister of finance, president of the New York State Bankers Association, J. J. Hill and Hon. Andrew Jackson Montague, the parliamentarian, proposed by Hon. Adolph G. Eberhart, governor of Minnesota, and Prof. Francis Greene, and responded to by Hon. W. T. White, Canadian minister of finance, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, ex-justice minister, and the Canadian Bankers Association, proposed by Hon. L. M. Peaget, chairman of the United States naval academy, and responded to by Col. D. R. Wilkie, president of the Canadian Bankers Association, the city of Ottawa, proposed by J. G. Cannon of the Fourth National Bank, New York, and responded to by Mayor Ellis, Ottawa.

After the toast to the king had been honored, Right Hon. Mr. Borden, the premier, read a reply from the king to the telegram of greetings sent by the association at the opening of the convention in the morning.

A delightful tribute was paid the government by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, who referred feelingly to the reasons why his royal highness had been forced to leave Canada at the present time.

Premier Borden.

"The more we know of each other, the better it will be for both nations. Right Hon. Mr. Borden said in welcoming the toast to our guests and in welcoming the bankers to the capital. "We are met here to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the peace treaty, and although we have had our differences, public men in the United States and Canada have been true to the public trust invested in them and we thank God for it."

"We have shown the world a boundary line of four thousand miles unguarded, and that surely is something worth showing."

"The glory of the citizens of Canada and the United States," declared Hon. Cornelius A. Pugsley, "is that true bravery and devotion to duty are to be found not alone on the battlefields, but everywhere that men and women have tasks to perform."

"War and passion between our countries, I believe have perished. The thought and purpose of our mighty nations has been to develop their magnificent domains, to uplift their citizenship, to uphold their institutions, to create great empires, to inspire men to reach the heights of endeavor."

METHODIST CHURCH HAS MANY PROBLEMS

Rev. Wilfrid Gaetz of St. John, in Pastoral Letter, Deals with Live Questions That Should Be Grappled With—Rev. G. F. Dawson Elected President of the Conference.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 12.—At a meeting of the ministerial union of the Methodist conference today the pastoral letter read by Rev. Wilfrid Gaetz, of St. John, dealt with the most live questions of the day.

Rev. W. Gladstone Watson, professor of Old Testament Exegesis, Mount Allison, gave an address on the Pastor in His Study, dealing mainly with the literature he should read. The minister should not spend too much time over his sermon, which should be the overflow of a heart full of the love of God, knowledge and illustration.

A memorial service is being held tonight for general ministers who died during the year. Only a few committees have yet reported. Education is the first order of the day tomorrow. Dr. Campbell, of Seabrook, will be the principal speaker.

Rev. G. F. Dawson, President.

George F. Dawson, of St. Stephen, was elected president of the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist Conference today and Rev. D. R. Chown secretary; Rev. H. E. Thomas, journal secretary; Rev. S. H. O. Brown and George Morris assistant secretaries. The conference was held at St. John's, P. E. I., and will be closed tomorrow.

A feature of this morning's session was a vigorous address by Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Seabrook, on the question of church union as a question of the honor, efficiency and faith of the church, but not necessarily its fate. He expected the question to be settled one way or another before the general conference of 1914. If the Presbyterians wanted to carry out the start made by the Methodists would be pleased, though there was no crying need. The Methodists were satisfied with their creed, policy and doctrine. They viewed union as a means of general advancement of the Christian cause. They were not seeking or creating anybody and did not feel disposed to press it from their standpoint.

He advised his people to be patient a little longer, but if union could not be consummated the Methodists must look to themselves. It was a question of increasing spiritual power, and he believed in refusing the offer in that direction. Some were still timid on doctrinal lines.

QUEBEC CENSORS CUT OUT PARTS OF 'CLEOPATRA' FILMS

Proprietor of Canadian Rights Takes Out Action in Court Against Them.

Montreal, June 12.—A writ of certiorari has been served on the Quebec Board of Censors in connection with the action of that body in cutting out two of the five parts of the film Cleopatra. The petition is made by Weinstein & Ledoux on behalf of M. Feldstein, who is interested in the company holding the Canadian rights of the film, and will be argued tomorrow.

The request made to the court is to inquire into the jurisdiction of the censors and decide whether they acted legally or otherwise in refusing the owners the right to appeal. It is possible that the question of the powers of the provincial legislature which passed the act creating the board of censors will be brought up and their rights to create a body which can give decisions from which there is no appeal, argued.

According to an official statement, given out by the railway, the indications are that the engine of the second section ran by both the distant and home signals.

The Springfield express was the same train that was in the wreck at Westport (Conn.), last October, in which eight persons were killed and scores injured. This wreck was also caused when the engines ran by signals.

HOW DO YOU VALUE MONEY?

It is not worth while to make money, according to a former New Brunswicker, Walter C. Murray, a graduate of the University of New Brunswick, who is now president of the University of Saskatchewan.

You can make money, but it is not worth while. It lasts but a generation. Ten years hence J. P. Morgan will be but a memory.

The graduates, as Professor Murray reminded them, will have an opportunity to make money, but better still an opportunity "to build themselves into the very framework of our national and social life."

It is difficult to realize that in a century of learning like Princeton in the twentieth century, the head of the university should find it necessary to warn a graduating class against the iron materialism of today in such language as was used on June 8 by the president of Princeton University.

"This is the philosophy of the day—that man has no rights which others are bound to respect, if he cannot defend them by his own might, or his own craft."

Some will be disposed to question the statement that this is the prevailing philosophy of the day in the United States, but any one acquainted with the perpetual war called civilization in the greater American cities cannot doubt that the Princeton professor knows whereof he affirms.

Mr. Christopher Wren is a far better example to set before a graduating class than the late Mr. Morgan. The financier has caused one generation to marvel over his wealth, his business acumen, his purchase of art treasures, and to some extent, his public spirit.

It is noteworthy that these same sentiments, expressed in different words, formed a striking portion of an address delivered in Toronto the other day to a graduating class, by President Walter C. Murray of Saskatchewan University.

I. C. R. FREIGHT RATES.

An increase in the freight rates on lumber on the Intercolonial went into effect on June 3; and this follows a general increase in rates announced a week or two ago.

The Borden government has given no satisfactory public reason for this decision to compel shippers by the Intercolonial to pay so considerable an increase on the old rates.

As has been pointed out previously in this connection, it is not the business of the people's road to earn dividends, but merely to produce sufficient revenue to pay for keeping its roadbed and rolling stock in good condition and to liquidate its maintenance charges.

The government railway system now comprises the old Canada Eastern, and it is to control the Valley Railroad also, and, instead of enjoying the old Intercolonial rates, people living along the Valley Railway will find themselves facing the new Intercolonial tariff, whereas they were virtually promised the I. C. R. rates which were in force when the Valley Railroad legislation was enacted.

THE TRUE PHILOSOPHY. It is difficult to realize that in a century of learning like Princeton in the twentieth century, the head of the university should find it necessary to warn a graduating class against the iron materialism of today in such language as was used on June 8 by the president of Princeton University.

"This is the philosophy of the day—that man has no rights which others are bound to respect, if he cannot defend them by his own might, or his own craft."

It is noteworthy that these same sentiments, expressed in different words, formed a striking portion of an address delivered in Toronto the other day to a graduating class, by President Walter C. Murray of Saskatchewan University.

What about the good, old-fashioned, watering cart? The average citizen prefers that method of laying the dust, and, right or wrong, his idea is that the city should have more carts and more men, and that on any dry day the watering carts should be in evidence all over town.

THE BALKAN SITUATION. A two-fold result was expected from the Balkan war: first, the Turks were to be driven out, and second, the united Balkan states would form a new power in Europe and permanently solve the Eastern Question.

THE REAL POINT AT ISSUE. The real point at issue is not a question of assistance or non-assistance to Great Britain. Canada is practically unanimous in favor of assistance. But there is a decided difference of opinion as to what form assistance shall take.

THE MANITOBA FREE PRESS. The Manitoba Free Press, uses the foregoing language in replying to an indignant Englishman who denounces Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Pugsley, and others, because they have not accepted Mr. Borden's emergency contribution doctrine.

THE LAURIER NAVAL ACT PROVIDED AUTHORITY for building all the ships necessary, whatever their cost. But Mr. Borden, for party reasons, decided to have something "different."

THE LEADING BRITISH STATESMEN, on both sides of politics, have placed their eyes on record again and again as being that Canada should make its own decision as to the form in which it will participate in the Imperial naval defence.

THE WHOLE QUESTION is very complicated and will tax all the resources of diplomacy. But diplomacy promises to be equal to it. The war ends with a chorus of praise for Sir Edward Grey from almost every quarter.

DUST, AND THAT SORT OF THING. The city, it must be clear to everybody, is caused by a great deal more than it is necessary to have flying about in the summer time.

THE WOMAN OF TODAY TO SMOKE A PIPE? Those who regard the question as preposterous or insulting might well pay attention to some news and views on the subject just presented by the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, a man of no little reputation for gravity and responsibility. Hear him:

"Lord Methuen's remarks on the subject of smoking for women have raised almost as great a controversy as that still raging on the new dances. The average citizen prefers that method of laying the dust, and, right or wrong, his idea is that the city should have more carts and more men, and that on any dry day the watering carts should be in evidence all over town."
