Gethsemane. (Ella Wheeler, in Boston Transcript.) In golden youth, when seems the earth A summer land for singing mirth.
When souls are glad and hearts are light,
And not a shadow lurks in sight,
We do not know it, but there lies
Somewhere, veiled under evening skies,
A garden all must sometime see,
Somewhere lies our Gethsemane.

With joyous step we go our ways, Love lends a halo to the days, Light sorrows sails like clouds afar, We laugh and say how strong we are. We hurry on—and hurrying go Close to the border land of woe hat waits for you and waits for me-

The Marchioness of Lansdowne has had considerable experience of Vice-Regal life. During the Vice-Royalty of her father, the Duke of Abercorn, in Ireland from 1866 to 1868, she greatly assisted him in fælfilling the numerous and delicate social duties attached to so dignified a position and won golden opinions from all with whom she was brought in contact. A leading incident of the Duke's reign in Dublin was the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales. Lady Lansdowne, owing to the fact of her father being a widower, presided with grace and dignity over the splendid festivities that marked that occasion. Since then she has visited Ireland several times, especially during the second Vice-Royalty of the Duke from 1874 to 1876. Her father and husband both possess large estates in that country, the Duke of Abercorn holding no less than 89,000 acres in the counties of Tyrone and Donegal. Lady Lansdowne's mother was Lady Louisa Jane Russell, second dughter of the sixth Duke of Bedford, K. G. She thus inherits from her mother the blood of the noble and patriotic family of Russell, while through her father she is descended from the ancient and illustrious house of Hamilton, of which the Dukes of Abercorn is the head. By its use light or red hair may be darkened thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured. It checks falling of the hair, and stimu ates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the VIGOR is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume. agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. Bowen, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction." MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the elebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish ocalists, writes from Boston, Moss., Feb. 6, 0: "Ever since my hair began to give silery evidence of the change which fleeting me procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR 1600R, and so have been able to maintain appearance of youthfulness—a matter of insiderable consequence to ministers, ora-
