RESTING AT HEADLEY

Health Is Much Improved, But May Require More Blood Transfusions.

Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric power commission, who has been under treatment for pernipital in Baltimore for the past three months, unexpectedly availed himself of his physicians' permit to leave on Saturday evening, and without notice to his London friends, quietly returned to "Headley" on Sunday after-

Sir Adam's condition is much improved as compared with that which caused his admssion to the Baltimore hospital, but he is tired after his journey, and will require a few days' rest before he is able to see anyone here. Despatches from Baltimore quote Dr. Futcher, the specialist who that his case in charge, as saying that Sir Adam is still a sufferer from anaemia after his six blood transfusions, and that it will be necessary for him to continue his treatment here.

Came on L. & P. S. Train.

The increasing heat in Baltimore, which is really on the fringe of the south, is said to have determined Sir Adam to return to the surroundings to which he is better accustomed. He left Baltimore Saturday evening and arrived in Buffalo without change of train yesterday before 9 o'clock. He dressed at once and walked about the platform while awaiting his connection for St. Thomas. He proceeded from St. Thomas to London on a regular L. & P. S. train, and did not arrange for any special accommodation, as had been anticipated. His motor was in waiting, and he was driven at once to Headley.

Sir Adam was accompanied from Baltimore by F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario, who had gone to meet him, and also by Miss Woods of Preston, Ontario, his special nurse. Came on L. & P. S. Train.

FAITH HELPS MAN "FROM MISSOURI

Dr. Bowley Green Preaches on Gospel of John the Baptist.

That John wrote his gospel for the expressed purpose of creating faith in the life of Jesus as the Son of God and thereby giving life to believers was the declaration of Rev. Bowley Green D.D. last night. Preaching in the Talbot street Baptist church on the subject of "Why John Wrote his Gospel" Dr. Green said.

"If you will read the last verses of the gospel you will find he says he has written his book so that the reader might believe in Jesus as the song of God and believing might have song of Got and state of the man from Missouri, who says 'You have to show me.' John had the same difficulty in his day. It is all very well to uphold reason and pay tribute to the use of reason. There are not the day reason. enough people today who do reason. But at the same time there are things in the life of Christ that reason alone will not accept. There must be faith as well.

There are all the miracles, for in stance. Reason will not accept those. But faith will. John tells us that he has made a selection of the things which Jesus dld in order that the reader might have faith and believe. reader might have faith and believe. He says there are enough things left over so that to write about them all would fill books enough to fill all the world, so we have to use our imagination in thinking of the life of Jesus on earth.

"John wrote his gospel because he was imbued and filled with the power wâiand authority of Jesus as the Son of God. There is not a verse in all value of independent action by members elected by farmers.

James Brown, ex-M. L. A. for North Middlesex, advanced the pleathat the farmers' party must broaden out or it would be the death knell of their movement.

Mr. Halbert dealt fully with the tariff and other Dominion issues, and the urgent necessity of sending Progressives to parliament. He explained his official connection with the Progressive party as organizer for Ontario.

Wormell of Metcalfe, if Mr. Drummond knew of this meeting Mr. Halbert that was written for a certain spec-ific purpose and that you are the individual life to which John is appealing it will open a new delight for you in the New testament and a new conception of Jesus."

Mr. Warren in his (Mr. Halbert's) office in Ottawa on Tuesday last. A question from the meeting: "If we organize here, who would be the recognized head?" brought no answer. Fred Rapley of Adelaide asked the organizer why there was the split in the Progressive ranks in Ottawa, to looking to a general dissenting ele-ment of indebtedness. Immediate proposals from all of its debtors are not expected by the government, being that some of them will respond instead with proffers on which preliminary conversations can be initiated. SPECIAL PREACHERS Pupils Receive 200 Raikes'

Certicates For Good Attendance. Two Methodist churches in the city celebrated Sunday school anniversaries yesterday, Dundas Centre and Ridout street. At both churches special musical services had been arranged, and the orchestras of the Sunday schools were used to provide the music. Special preachers also had been secured for the day. There were large congregations at both places, and Ridout street had the satisfaction of having 531 children, the largest number which has ever attended one service in that church.

At the morning service in Dundas Center church, Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., preached on the miracle of the loaves and fishes from the story in John's gospel. Having drawn a word picture of the day spent by Jesus on the lakeside at Capernaum he drew attention to the boy loaves and two fishes were use by Christ to feed the five thousand. Dr. MacGregor said that after the vast crowd had been fed that the boy, whose lunch had been willingly given to Jesus, was himself more han satisfied with food and he ha also had the honor of supplying wha had fed the others as well. Should Lead Child.

To parents and teachers, Dr. Mac-Gregor said: "Remember that it was Andrew in this story who found the boy with the loaves and fishes and wao brought him to Christ. So also was Andrew who brought Greeks to Christ and Peter as well. You may well model your lives and action on Saint Andrew, who was the cause of so many people coming to know Christ. It is your duty to bring your boys and girls to Jesus. not so much what you tell them that matters as what you show them by your lives. In every home there is a seat of judgment, and on the collection of the collection of the collection. it sits a little child. He watches your actions and lives, and you are judged by what you do not by what you say or advise.

"A father is always a hero to young sons. There is always element of hero worship, in the adoration of a small son for his tather, so see that you live up to the very exacting ideals set you. As for the mothers of the children, I would ask them to think of the things that ake the usual conversation at their tables and in their houses. Is it business and money making that are essential topics, or is it the finer the standard in your homes, and you are responsible for what is thought and believed in them by the art.

"As for the teachers, their supreme duty to the children is to lead them to Jesus. A teacher may teach a child all about the Bible and all about his church without leading about his church without leading him to Jesus. Leading him to know Jesus is the most important work that a Sunday school teacher faces." the same way," he said, "you boys and girls in the Sunday schools boys and girls in the Sunday Schools can give your lives to Jesus, sure that you will receive greater and more satisfying life in return. The toy in the story had the honor of giving his lunch to Jesus in order that He might feed the five thousand. You have the opportunity of giving your lives to Christ." Annual Report.

The annual report of C. E. German. Sunday school superintendent for Dundas Center, shows the following figures: Average attendance each Sunday, 312, an increase over 1923. Total amount raised for all purposes $1 255.37 of which $500 was given to missions. The attendance percentage for officers was 90, for teachers 88 the junior department 75, and the intermediate department 73. The Sunday school is made up of 17 officers, 43 teachers and 423 pupils, of which four are Chinese. It was an-nounced at the morning service yesterday by the secretary of the school that two of the Chinese boys had real product of the standard efficiency training. Zones Cut From Seven to Four -Need of Changes Not Immediate.

London's town planning scher will be presented to Edwin Smith a chairman of the town planning commission tomorrow or within the next few days by Horace L. Seymour, Mr. Adams' assistant on this plan. On Saturday, Mr. Adams, Mr. Seymour, the city engineer and Alderman Smith held a consultation on the proposed plan. Several changes in it were suggested, discussed, and will be included in the plan as it will be presented to the commis ally. Mr. Seymour is busy today with these changes and with details of the finished plan. Mr. Adams, who was in the city in connection with laying out the grounds of the University of Western Ontario, has returned to New York.

"One thing which we have done in the plan in the way of a change is to reduce the number of zones from seven to four," said Mr. Seymour this morning. "In this way the plan is considerably simplified. The plan calls for a middle way between elevated tracks and subways on the road and is aimed at the best workable project with the most economical arrangement for the city."

Economic Value is Great.

"You ask if the work is worth while, and I answer that it is. The values are economic, humanitarian and spiritual, and perhaps the economic feature is the one that you can write down with a pencil the easiest. Society Has Developed.

The International Society for Crippled Children is the movement that has grown out of the participation of Rotarians in this work. It has four purposes, the first of which is that the crippled child shall be served as close to its own home as possible. Rotary has here a field of service which has not more than been touched. If Rotary is to assume this responsibility its membership will which has not more touched. If Rotary is to assume this tesponsibility its membership will entertain a vision which extends beyond a local club or an immediate community to a movement that becomes at once international.

The second purpose is to serve as a medium through which all may coperate who wish to assist in preventing and repairing the tragedies of nature and of accident which are registered in the bodies of little children. The third consists of taking the initiative in co-ordinating the interests and work of public health. terests and work of public health medical, hospital, educational and social service authorities with the operative plans and efforts of recognized agencies. The fourth is that ognized agencies. The fourth is that the association must become the spokesman for the crippled child. The goal of the International Society for Crippled Children can be reached in two steps. The first is to bring care, relief, education and cure to crippled children, and the second is to destroy the causes which produce crippled children, and that will prevent their existence. When that goal is reached the society automatically s reached the society automatically comes to an end, for it is only a means to that end. President McHale of the Kiwanis club extended the greetings of the organization he represented and expressed the feeling that there were several problems which called for the several problems which called for the joint action of Rotary and Kiwanis. "The time is ripe for the linking of hands, for there are many things in which we each need the assistance of

Two Firms Tendering For Amusement Concessions At Springbank.

Negotiations are still on between the public utilities commission and interested parties tendering for amusement park privileges at Springbank park.

Both Commissioner T. W. McFarland, chairman of the parks board, and Commissioner Philip Pocock. chairman of the playgrounds commission, stated this fact plainly to The Advertiser this morning. "The commission has not aban-

"The commssion has not abandoned either the idea or the principle of an amusement park at Springbank, serted Mr. Pocock, "though it is COM. DONALD B. MACMILLAN, who will broadcast the story of his Arctic dash, which starts next month possible, on account of the lateness of the season, that the park will not get fully under way this year."

To clear up the question of tenders for the amusement privileges, the commission had City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, K.C., prepare a draft agree-ment covering the wishes of the commission as to the privileges to be passed over to the successful ten-derer. This agreement was then handed to parties desirous of put-ting in a tender, who, feeling that certain clauses in the agreement were certain clauses in the agreement were too strict, asked the commission to make some changes in it. The com-mission met informally and ex-pressed a willingness on several points to meet the desires of those tendering. On other points, however, the commission is not willing to acquiesce, and thus it is on the basis of these "little differences" that the parks board, acting on behalf of the tor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, will be one of 16 Canadian commission, will continue negotia ions, looking to the ironing out of those differences preparatory to making an official report to the com-

> Of course, a first love has a nalo of romance about it that no other love ever has. It is a thing made up of star dust and dawn mists, and dreams and fancies and all perishable things, and when these are brushed away they fade into nothingness and can never be brought back again. No other woman ever looks the angel to a man that his first sweetheart does. No man ever believes a second time that he will perish if he doesn't get the because he has had tangible evidence in his own person that you can not only survive a blighted love, but come to be darned thankful that it was nipped in

Occasionally, of course there is a Day week-end with Mrs. Eberhard's one-woman man, who spends his mother, Mrs. Steele, in Toronto. whole heart on his first love so completely that he has nothing left to give another woman, but such men are very rare. The great majority of men can give to their wives an honest and loyal affection, and still have just as honest and true and loyal an affection to give to their second

Instead, they generally give the best that they have in them to their second wife, because the mature man is capable of a greater passion than the callow boy. There is no more ardent lover than the widower on whose cold hearthstone the fire of love is lighted a second time.

A Hard Day's Work Should Not far greater than they were in the far greater than they were in the first. For one thing, he picks out a wife with more discretion. A boy falls in love with a girl and marries her because she has a pretty doll face, because she has a pretty doll face, because she has a pretty doll face, because she looks cute when she rolls her eyes up at him As for a man's chances of happi when she rolls her eyes up at him and asks him silly questions.

> Then, when a few years have gone by, and the prettiness of youth has faded; when life no longer is a dance, but a hard march over stony ground; when ignorance is no longer cute, but is just plain stupidity; when the boy has grown up to be an intelligent man and the girl has stayed still the simple child she was, why, then, love lies dead between them, starved because it has nothing to feed upon.

That is so often the tragedy of a first marriage, but nearly always a man chooses his second wife with his head as well as his heart. Perhaps he has been through the disillusioning experience of having had a child wife; perhaps he knows how tired a wife; pernaps he knows how tired a man can get who is married to the beautiful but dumb. At any rate, he has the inestimable advantage of having come to himself, of having his taste formed, and of knowing what he wants in a wife.

So if his first wife represented his romantic ideal, the second wife em-bodies his mature judgment. She is the woman he has picked out for a pal and a companion and a real soul

Second marriages are apt to be happier than first marriages, because the widower understands the technique of matrimony and knows how to treat a wife, and the unmarried man does not. A young man thinks because he loves the girl he marries that that makes him a good husband. Nothing could be farther from

He is nearly always overbearing and dictatorial and horrified over the expense of running a home. Hence there are bickerings and quarreling in the homes of the young, and many a first marriage ends in disaster.

Why Orange-CRUSH is Healthful

Orange-CRUSH is more than merely delicious.

It has food value. Do you know that measured in calories a six ounce bottle of Orange-CRUSH has one and one-half times the food value found in a medium-sized orange?

Orange-CRUSH aids digestion and relieves fatigue. It cools and refreshes the body, and is good for invalids and young children.

Read our formula. Here are the six ingredients of Orange-CRUSH: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits; (3) Orange-juice; (4) Carbonated water; (5) Certified food color; (6) Pure cane sugar.

That's why it's pure, wholesome and delicious.. Nationally advertised-sold everywhere. From your dealerthe handy way-by the case of 24 bottles.

Perilous Race Continues Up and Down Milady's Frock.

By AILEEN LAMONT. Special to The Advertiser.

New York, May 18 .- A year ago every vaudevillian and radio songstress was singing "What'll I Do." Today women and dress designers-who mostly are men-are singing "What can't I do-with a Jabot?" They have chased the jabot like a pack of hounds after a fox. They have run it twice around the neck, down the front and up again, have doubled down either side and finally have run the blamed thing into the ground by pursuing it down the back until it has become a bustle.

Nobody as yet has had the courage to sit on the idea, although many are sitting on the jabot. Nevertheless its progress seems due to halt shortly ly for it cannot get much further, in the present skantiness of the present skantiness of the wedding feast was served. view of the present skantiness of skirts, without a transfer. How Much Do You Spend On Dress?

Whether you are a business woman or whether your chief interest is the home, whether you command a large income or a moderate one, you will find it advisable to fix a definite portion of your money to be used in the purchase of clothing.

Having determined how much you can spend on dresses, coats, shoes, hats, and accessories, the next vital question is: How and where shall I spend to the best advantage and with the most satisfying results?

There can be but one answer. Shop with the merchants who offer service, style, and satisfaction through their advertising announcements.

You will find them today in the columns of The London Advertiser, giving some hint of the beauty of summer styles as exemplified in their stocks of gowns, suits, hats, shoes and accessories.

Read these announcements thoughtfully and let them help you to get the most in satisfaction and service from your clothing allowance.

DELIGHTS HEARERS

Large Number Are Turned Away Sunday Night From Capitol Theatre.

A large number were turned away from the Capitol theatre last night when St. Peter's cathedral choir again presented an excellent program for the public, uder the direction of Dr. L. L. Balogh. Those who were a little late in arriving found the doors barred and the house already full. The program was as beautifully rendered as that given previously this season, although the numbers were slightly changed in some in-stances. Mozart's exquisite unfin-ished Requiem and Dies Irae opened the evening as previously. The popu-lar Beethoven string quartet followed but Dvorak's Lento and Finale from the American string quartet took the place of the Mozart second G Major quartet, given previously. This interesting little ensemble of musicians ncludes Mrs. Charles Ivey, first violin: Mrs. E. R. Bluethner, second vio-lin: Dr. L. L. Balogh, viola, and H. Bocock, 'cello. Their number was beautifully rendered.

Paul de Marky again appeared at the piano in Liszt's second A Major piano concerto with the full sym-phony as a background. Following the rendition of this brilliant number, Mr. de Marky respondedfi with several encores.

The Gloria and Credo by J. A. Sil-

PROHIBITION UNIO FOR WEST ELGIN

Prominent Workers Chosen to Head Organization in Riding.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, May 17.—Under the presidency of Dr G T Mitton, West Elgin has organized a branch of the Ontario prohibition union, which has as its objective the formation of a prohibition bloc in all municipal and government election campaigns. Other members of the executive are: Vice-president, Wm. Heard, secretary of the prohibition forces during the recent plebiscite; secretary, Mrs. E. C. Mann; assistant secretary, Mrs. N. D. McLachlin; treasurer, R. Stevenson of Fingal.

Besides raising $600 as West El-gin's share of a total asked by the prohibition union to further the work of temperance, the officers will act as a political actions committee, assisted by a representative from each polling sub-division. Each candidate will be asked his stand on temper-ance, and the support of the temperance forces pledged accordingly.

Where Canada Is Going.

The London, England, Spectator features an article stating that Canada has arrived at the parting of the ways. There are three forks in the Spectator's road, one leading to indepen-States, and the third points west and is marked "secession of the western provinces."

The writer of the Spectator article has been on a trip to Canada, and it is further claimed he has "studied conditions" here, all of which may be quite correct, yet the fact remains that as an interpreter of signposts he has failed to read aright the mind of the Canadian people.

When Confederation became a reality the reduce theories to fact, and blunders and successes are strangely mixed in the cobblestones that pave the way to national achievement. Local Option In Scotland.

The London Observer, a weekly publication of wide circulation and substantial influence, has in Scotland has not been a failure. It produces his own advantage. its evidence because there has been such a determined attempt on the part of interested parties to "pretend that the exercise of local option in no enthusiasm for it now."

"Contrary to the lurid stories," says the Observer. Now You May Leave Your Oven in Perfect Trust

The Moffat Electric Oven Control Has Come to Take Charge

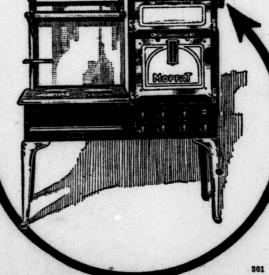

△ LWAYS the Moffat leads the way. Every development, every worthwhile improvement and refinement of the electric range is included in Moffat Electric Ranges.

And now we introduce the latest refinement of electric cooking convenience and efficiency—the Moffat Automatic Oven Control.

This is something absolutely new which we are building into the latest models. You set the control at the heat you want and go away confident that your oven will stay at that heat, no more or no less, until you come back to change it yourself, or switch off the power.

This mechanism positively and automatically prevents overheating. The temperature cannot possibly rise above the point set on the dial. You can leave your oven without fear or uncertainty. You don't have to even come back to look at the thermometer. When the proper time comes, your roast, or your cake, or whatever you put in the oven will be done, or nearly done, so that you may switch off the power and let the accumulation of heat in the oven finish its work.

This wonderful new device adds a new refinement to the conveniences and the scientific accuracy of electric cooking. It's well worth its extra cost, which is approximately 20 per cent of the cost of the range. A Moffat oven, governed by the Moffat Automatic Oven Control, would stay at the temperature set for a year, if you liked, without varying a degree. Please note: The new oven control cannot be added to an old range. Must be built right in at the start. Ask your dealer to demonstrate the Moffat Automatic Oven Control. There are Moffat Electric Ranges for every requirement from the kitchenette to the big hotel. If you send us your name and address, we'll send you our catalogue showing all our different Electric Ranges. Moffats Limited, Weston, Ont.

Six Track Records Tumble Before Wossa Atheletes In Sixth Annual Meet

South Collegiate Senior Runners Gallop To Front For Track Championship

Glencoe High School, With Only Four Men on Team, Provides Big Surprise By Winning Title in Intermediate Class.

DAVIDSON SHINES IN MILE

By J. C. BURNS.

Wossa events of the past, as colorful as they have been, went into the shade Saturday at the sixth annual track and field meet on the new cinder oval at Western University. Six records were smashed, but the feat that stood out above all others was that of St. Clair Davidson of Listowel high school in the feature all others was that of St. Clair Davidson of Listowel high school in the feature mile event. Four years ago Big Bill Thompson of London Central, established a record of 4:51 for the blue ribbon race, but he was pushed hard. Saturday Davidson came within two-fifths of a second of that mark and won by fifty yards, looking over his shoulder. His effort was remarkable, but he did not give all he had.

Ten senior runners of London South C. I. piled up 25 points to give them the championship. Led by Alan Riddell, who captured the senior individual title, they made at least one place in every event but two, the running high jump and the shotput. It was the fighting spirit of the track that won for South, and which lengthened the gap between them and their nearest rivals, Sarnia C. I., who managed to gather 16 points.

Glencoe High Triumphs.

which lengthened the gap between them who managed to gather 16 points.

Glencoe High Triumphs.

The big surprise of the day came in the intermediate class. After being left out of the limelight for four years. Glencoe high, with four athletes, galloped to the front with 16 points and the much-coveted honors. The runnersup for the title, London South C. I., were only one point behind, but they had ten men to carry the burden. The performance of the individual champion. Tommy McCommon of Paris, perhaps outshines that of Davidson when it is considered that besides leading the field he K. O'd two records. Two-fifths of a second was knocked off the century event by this lad, as well as three inches off the running broad jump.

As usual the junior provided the upset. London Central took the team title with 15 points, but at the end of the day four were found to be tied for the individual honors, namely, E. Stroud. Tillsonburg: A. Taylor, London Central, and G. Ford, London South.

Pole-Vault a Thriller.

London South.

Pole-Vault a Thriller.

The spectators did not go away without at least one big thrill. It came in the senior pole-vault. This event started at 1:15 p.m. and did not finish until 3:30. Nine competitors started, but there were only two left when the ten-foot height was reached. Here O. Shugg of Watford and W. McArthur of Windsor-Walkerville were tied. In the next try Shugg raised the height an inch. McArthur repeated. The pole was shoved up another notch, and the two were still tied. Another notch was added. and both falled in three tries. Then it was brought back to the ten-foot two-inch level. In his first try at this height Shugg fell back from halfway up the pole. He had miscued. McArthur did the same. In the next change both came within an inch of going over. Then came the third and last try. Shugg raised in his last chance by the barest margin.

Jack Drew of London Central drew the only unofficial record of the meet in the senior high jump breaking the mark set by George Wrift of Central in 1923. He won the event with a jump of 5 feet, 7 inches, and in his try for the record topped the pole at 5 feet, 7% inches. The officials, however, refused the record. Six feet, 8 inches was added to the distance in the junior shot-put by J. Armstrong of Tillsonburg. He is only a little fellow but he had the style that gave him an advantage over his competitors. Albert Taylor of London Central leaped 17 feet, 3 inches was added to the distance in the junior shot-put by J. Armstrong of Tillsonburg. CHATHAM HARDLY LIKELY TO ENTER O. A. L. A. SERIES

Sarnia, May 17. — With Chatham hardly likely to enter the intermediate series of the O.A.L.A. this summer the district will likely be fought out between Sarnia, Wallace-burg and Windsor. Prospects in this city, so far as players go, are very bright, but the officials are weeks be-hind in their training and other incidentals that go toward putting the team in shape for the season which will be away in a very few weeks. Wallaceburg is stronger than last year, although it will lose Roy Stone-house, and Jack McLean claims he is through with the game. Windsor has rounded up another all-star team and claim to have ironed out all in-ternal strife.

The crowd, however, saw a smart game of ball, and were more than satisfied even without the final thrill the Londoners came through with in the ninth. With two gone, Kernan and Walton both slashed ou singles. Mike Baker, out on the third base coaching line, where he shadow-boxed Lahaie and did everything else but use a prayer rug in an effort to inject a maniacal urge into his help, apparently played a hunch when he signalled Brower to pinch hit for Pete Harris. There were several other alternatives. Coogans and Fields are both more than average pinch hitters. There were probably many who thought that either of these was the proper choice. How-ever, Brower is out of the game because of a nervous temperament, which got him into a slump, and Mike probably played a hunch—and it wasn't bad psychology—that the youngster nerved up to fighting pitch might come through with a triple—his favorite calibre of blow. It proved a wrong guess, as Brower hit into the dirt, after a third strike which would have been a ball.

AR OWNERS by the thousand are equipping with Firestone Balloons—not only for comfort and safety—but to save money.

Everybody knows Firestone Balloons protect the chassis-stop vibration-and reduce repair bills. Your car remains new longer—its resale value is far greater. Another basic feature exclusively Firestone is the Gum-Dipping process which insulates every fibre with rubber and adds great strength to each cord. The Gum-Dipping process is the very foundation of balloon tire success.

Real Balloon Tires must have light, strong, flexible walls. Gum-Dipping gives this extra strength and endures this extra flexing strain.

Equip now for safety on wet pavements and slippery roads-for comfort during the summer driving season-for economy the year 'round. Take advantage of the low prices. Have the Firestone dealer make your changeover to full-size Balloons. He will do it quickly and at low cost.

The Railroaders completed their first half of the schedule on Saturday and so far are unbeaten. The game at Westminster was abandoned and will have to be replayed, and should the Medicos win they will be only one point behind the Railroaders.

behind the Railroaders.

Next Saturday the first round of the injured players trophy series will be injured, and with good weather, some big crowds should be on hand as the draw is interesting. The Thistles play at Westminster, and as both are local teams the game should start early. The tilt between the C. N. R. and London Garrison will be played on the holiday (Monday), probably at Springbank. Owing to the injured players competition being early this season, the second half of the intercity schedule will not start until June 6.

The Railroaders have arranged a benfit game for Bill Hazelwood on May 30, with the C. N. R. team from Toronto as opposition. All football fans should turn out in full force, and give Bill a bumper. He deserves it, and our sympathy is with him also, as it will be some time yet before he is able to leave Victoria. Hospital. The Railroaders will have their strongest side out, as they are anxious to show the Toronto eleven that London has a real team.

We hear that Glencoe has a good soccer team and is anxious to get exhibi-tion games. Why don't they affiliate with the L. and D.?

Harry Latham played his usual good game at back at Westminster on Sat-urday. Red Dewey was at left half and the position suits Red fine.

The Medicos had Jimmy Mair in goal and he made several nice saves. Nuttal plays a nice steady game at center half, while Burgess and Maclay are two reliable backs

What is the secret of good iron club play?

By WILLIE OGG

New England professional and Massachusetts open champion
The three-quarter compact swing wil be found to produce best results for good iron club play, as this causes the arms to remain nearer the body during the back-swing. This combined with an even distribution of weight at the top of the stroke, makes for perfect poise. The ball should be hit firmly, with both wrists firm at the moment of impact. Another point that is essential to god iron club play ig to concentrate the mind on the hole—and NOT the hazards. This will tend to eliminate chances for poor shots because of too much attention to surrounding conditions apd the shot itself.

Stratford, May 17.—Keeling, star
year's Goderich intermediates, and Kelterbourne of the Milverton jun-iors, are three new men who will play for the Stratford senior hockey club next winter.

Despite the strenuous efforts of certain teams to induce some of the Stratford squad to desert the ship, last year's classy team is intact, and with the addition of the new men, it appears strong enough to win the O. I. A. title. Charley Down has lined up a most promising junior squad. Among the local lads he has signed are: Miller, Gordon, Gingras, Allan, Murray, Mann, Wilson, Knechtei, Sproat and Down. The new men are: C. Merry-field, Mitchell; William Briden, Haileyburv, and Lawrence Arbor, North Bay.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, May 18.-Sir William Petersen entertained at luncheon on board his ship, the Rio Dorado, here on Saturday, and explained his plans with relation to the proposed gov-ernment subsidy on his ships to members of the commission which is considering the proposed government shipping subsidy.

If. Sir William said, the subsidy is granted, he will at once put three others vessels similar to the Rio Dorado on the St. Lawrence route and in six weeks time it will be possible for him to add another two to his St. Lawrence fleet. He did not think it possible for him to oper-ate on the St. Lawrence if a subsidy

U. S. Proposal to Create Separate Organization Attacked By Delegates.

Geneva, May 17 .- A spirited defense of the League of Nations charcterized yesterday's session of the interomce, and obtained ciotnes and a rope from the storeroom. With the aid of the rope he climbed over the wall to freedom. He was serving six months for theft and fraud.

Linited States amendment to diverge national conference for the control This came during debate on the United States amendment to divorce the proposed international arms traffic control bureau from the league. The smaller states represented at the conference through the Associated Press Despatch.

Canterbury, England, May 16.—
Brief and simple funeral services for Viscount Milner, former secretary of war, were conducted today in Canterbury cathedral by the archbishop of humanity," and that it would be useless to create a new organization which would only hinder the league. The amendment was eventually referred to a special committee of eight.

CHEESE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, May 17.—The receipts of cheese in Montreal for the week ending May 16 were 26,791 boxes, an increase of 739 boxes as compared with the previous week and an increase of 11,302 boxes with the same week last year, while the total arrivals from May 1 to date have been 35,688 boxes larger than for the same period of 1924. Of the total receipts from May 1 to date, there is included 31,686 boxes of New Zealand cheese, so this amount deducted from the total makes the actual increase in the receipts of Canadian 7,602 boxes.

The feature of trade for the week was the advance in prices of 3½c to 11-16c per pound paid at the boards in the country for white and colored cheese, for which there was nothing in the situation to warrant, as the demand from foreign buyers was of a very limited character, and cable advices generally were of a discouraging nature. The trade on shot was aisoslow, and the market on the whole was quiet.

Tires at Bargain Prices Plus Service

WE, Goodyear Selected Dealers, sell Tires at bargain prices. It doesn't matter what price you want to pay, there is a Tire which gives the greatest value for that price. No matter what size you use, what type, we will quote you the lowest price for a tire of Goodyear quality.

We have 30 x 31/2 Cord 4-ply and Fabric 4-ply Tires between $6 and $8-tires which we have watched for the past two years and which we have seen go 6,000, 7,000, 8,000,

9,000 miles. We have the Goodyear Wingfoot Tire in Cord and Fabric - a tire in road-

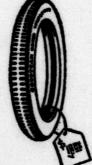

Weather Tread Tire-the largest selling tire in the world-in fabric, cord and Balloon Cord.

The prices we quote are possible only because Goodyears have the largest sale of any tire in the world and are sold all over the world. Goodyear buys raw materials in huge quantities—and gets the lowest prices. Goodyear, through its branches in every part of the world, knows when to buy. Goodyear has lowest overhead costs because they are spread over millions of tires. Goodyear factories operate day and night, further reducing manufacturing costs. Goodyear gets the pick of tire builders because their jobs with Goodyear are full-time, steady jobs.

World-wide Goodyear sales mean lower cost for tire improvements. The cost of research and invention-of better materials and machinery-is spread over millions of tires. World-wide use means that Goodyear can test tires under widely varying conditions.

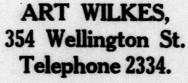

Tremendous sale makes possible Goodyear's own cotton mills. Only because of those mills was Supertwist developed—the wonderful, new,

Goodyear Cord fabric now used in all Goodyear Cord Tires-both Balloon and other sizes. Supertwist adds longer life to tires because it s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s more -gives to the blows of the road instead of breaking.

All these Goodyear qualities we Goodyear Selected Dealers offer you at bargain prices-at prices comparing favorably with the prices of tires built without Goodyear's world-wide advantages.

More! The Goodyear method of distribution saves you money. Goodyear branches carry stocks-save us freight charges-give quick delivery. We are Goodyear men-a part of the Goodyear organization. We are just as anxious as Goodyear to see you get full mileage from Goodyear Tires. We render a service which costs you nothing, but which saves you money and time and trouble. When you consider tire prices, consider this Goodyear service which is rendered free.

For the clean-up position Manager Baker made no mistake in allotting it to John ("Slicker") Cross, the rookie first baseman. In the first eleven games Cross was hitting well over 400, and is away out ahead in runs batted in. At this early stage Cross looks like a real find, and he is almost sure to graduate, as he handles himself perfectly in the field, his tremendous reach coming to the assistance of more than one infielder in making outs which would otherwise be errors.

As runs are what count in base-ball, an analysis of the first eleven games gives some very interesting information. During this period the Tecumsehs had 42 runs scored against them, while they crossed the plate exactly 61 times. In a nutshell this proves that local pitchers have been going nicely, allowing an average of less than four runs per game, and an earned run average of just a little under two, while, on the other hand, the sluggers have been driving in an average of six runs per game.

It has been quite some time since London fans have been as enthusiastic as they are right now. Frankly speaking, local fans are critical: they are keen students of the game, and they are quick at fault-finding; but, win or lose they will give their undivided support to a team that is giving its utmost at all times.

This was well exemplified on Saturday afternoon, when the Tribe came out on the short end of a 4—3 score. Every fan in the park was perfectly satisfied that they had seen a real ball game, and that the Indians had out forth every effort to win. The manner in which Manager Baker took command of the situation on the third base coaching lines during the last two innings, and especially after two were out in the ninth, instilling confidence in his players came mighty close in itself to tieing the game, and the scrappy fighting exhibition he gave certainly did not pass unnoticed by the fans, but rather convinced them that they are following a real hustling aggregation.

The Tribe is now in the midst of a four-game series at Flint, returning here on Thursday for a three-game series with Les Nunamaker, the former Cleveland catcher, and his Saginaw Aces. Sunday will be an off day for the locals, with Bay City as the attraction for morning and afternoon games on the holiday next Monday.

The contemptuous tone of the American press coupled with the deliberate unfairness of Roosevelt in appointing blased commis-sioners was largely responsible for the bitter feeling created in Canada,

"The work was not concluded until 1908, and though there were during the negotiations, one obtwo instances of local uprising between the settlers on both sides of the line, the final issue was in no case due to a display of force. That such difficult matters should have been brought to a conclusion by reasonable negotiation is a great tribute to the character of those whose interests were concernhose whose interests were concern-ed—all the greater because there are so few natural barriers as obstacles in the path of adventurers, who, in their haste to occupy tempting territheir haste to occupy tempting terri-tory, interpret the indefinite to their own advantage. Ashburton Did Best. The lecturer declared that the most fruitful cause of trouble was the ignorance or the carelessness of the original negotiators. This was particularly the case in the settle-ment of the boundary between Maine, New Brunswick and Quebec,

"Even at the present time," declared Sir Robert, "the average Canadian speaks with disappointment of Ashburton's irreparable concession to the United States.

Britain chose men of the province, who were deeply interested in the decision, and the sustained skill of her diplomacy finally won for her a comparatively favorable judgment."

Treaty Was Ambiguous. Sir Robert stressed the ambiguity of the original treaty, and pointed out the difficulties of negotiation. The original treaty provided that the boundaries should be: "From the northwest angle of Nova Scotia, which is formed by a line drawn due north from the source of the St. Croix river to the highlands; along the said highlands, which divide those rivers which empty themselves into the said highlands, which divide those rivers which empty themselves into the river St. Lawrence from those which fall into the Atlantic ocean to the northwesternmost head of the Connecticut river, down along the middle of that river to the forty-fifth degree of north latitude; from thence by a line due west on said latitude untill it strikes the river Iroqueis or Cataraquy; thence down along the award was made but though it is Cataraquy; thence down along the middle of that river into Lake Ontario . . east, by a line to be drawn along the middle of the river St. Croix from its mouth in the Bay of Fundy to its source, and from its source, directly north, to the aforestable blesheds, which divides the source, directly north, to the afore-said highlands, which divide the rivers which fall into the Atlantic ocean from those which fall into the river St Lawrence: comprehending any islands within twenty leagues of any shores of the United States excepting such islands as now are, or heretofore have been, within the limits of the said province of Nova

The negotiators of the subsequent settlement did not know what river settlement did not know what river was indicated by the river St. Croix, declared the lecturer. Neither did they know which islands belonged to his Britannic majesty and which to the United States. "The northwest angle of Nova Scotia" was hopelessly indefinite and almost a meaningless

Gave Compromise Judgment. The commission provided for in the treaty proved abortive and it was not until 1827 that a definite move was made towards a settlement. In that year the king of the Netherlands was approached and, as he was unable to interpret the original agreement, he gave a compromise judgment. A line was to be drawn due north from the source of the St. Croix to the middle of the channel of the St. John: thence the middle of the channel of that river ascending it to the point where the river St. Francis emptied itself into the St. John: thence the middle of the channel of the river St Francis, ascending it to the source of its southwestermost branch; thence a line due west to the point where it united with the line claimed by the United States of America. The president of the United States

The president of the United States recommended the acceptance of this award but the state of Maine opposed it strenuously and the senate rejected the decision.

In 1841, Daniel Webster, then secretary of state, saw the danger of leaving the question unsettled and himself initiated direct negotiations with the British government. Lord Ashburton was sent out in 1842 as plenipotentiary and he and Webster came to an agreement. Substantially the settlement was the same as that suggested by the king of the Netherlands.

Explorers Crossed Rockies. As early as 1818 a boundary was established between the two countries as far west as the Rocky Mountains. This boundary was the 49th parallel. For a decade the further extension of the boundary beyond the Rockies was not seriously discussed, but much was happening that was bound in time to produce trouble.

In 1792 an American named Gray entered the Columbia river, but shortly afterwards an English lieutenant explored it for a hundred miles tenant explored it for a hundred miles and formally took possession of it in the name of Great Britain. In 1811 an American fur company established a fort at the mouth of the river, called after its founder, John Jacob Astor. Declares Disunion of 50 Years Ago Greater Than That of Today.

Fifty years of growth, development The settlement of 1842 was based and progress of the Presbyterian upon a principle which arose out of the war of 1812-15.

Professor J. T. McNeil, Knox College. Toronto, has completed a book on this subject at the request of the general assembly, and Dr. McIntosh discussed it in his address, "Fifty years ago there was far greater disunion among the four Presbyterian churches than there is Presbyterian churches than there is now between the three churches, which are about to enter the union." said the minister. "If they were able to establish such a wonderful record of work and success in spite of their innumerable difficulties, there is every reason to hope that we shall have success and achieve the same and better results. In the days of the old union there were people who found fault with it on much the same grounds as exist today. Yet the union was an undoubted success and union was an undoubted success and carried out the work it was intended

The path of wisdom is to build a progressive policy on the experience of the past. Nothing was ever built to last and achieve great things unless it was rooted in the past. Remember that progression means adaptation and change. Unless we are willing to change and adapt ourselves to new surroundings we shall surely perish. This is the universal law, and cannot be successfully opposed."

universal law, and cannot be successfully opposed."

The sacred cantata Ruth was performed in the evening by a specially augmented choir of forty, and Dr. McIntosh drew an analogy between the adventure of Ruth bravely set-ting out to achieve success and a new and wider life in new fields and the church today entering the great adventure of a new life in new and strange surroundings.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WARNED OF FOREST FIRE HAZARD

Canadian Press Despatch. Victoria, B.C., May 17.-Dry, hot weather throughout the province has resulted in forest, fires increasing rapidly during the week, with the total reported today at 179.

This total, so far, however, is less than last year's record, which on the corresponding date was 305 fires, and in 1923 there had been 193 fires.

Warning was sent out today by the chief forester that conditions in every part of the province are hazardous for forest fires.
