

BORDEN PROMISES UNION GOVERNMENT IF RE-ELECTED

End of War Yet Far Off, Says Sir Eric Geddes, of British Admiralty

WAR'S END IS STILL FAR OFF

Says Sir Eric Geddes, First Admiralty Lord, in Letter to U. S. FIGHT A LONG ONE Both Determination and Self-Sacrifice Essential To Victory. APPEAL TO AMERICA Nation Must Realize At Once What War Actually Means.

By Courier Leased Wire. P. S. Sept. 19.—Belief that the end of the war is yet far off and that America has not fully awakened to its seriousness is expressed in a letter written by Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British Admiralty, to George E. Becker, a prominent manager for the Pittsburgh Lumber Company at the time the present head of the British navy, as a boy of 13 or 20, was tallying logs and in sporting lumber at Nicolette, near here. The letter in part follows:

"I think we are a long way from the end of the war. I think that America is finding it a little difficult to realize—just as Great Britain did in the early days of the war—that it is a long way between declaring war and putting your whole back into it; and that both determination and sacrifice are called for if the nation is going to meet itself with credit, but I have no doubt at all that eventually America will do so.

"President Wilson is a great man and realises that the world with the nation understands, as it does not yet understand, I have no doubt it will respond.

"It is a disavowal which all democratic and peace-loving people have never planned for a big war, such as Great Britain and the U. S. suffered from, that they realize slowly what war means. We realized it slowly even with the help of our heavy casualties in our small army in August, 1914, but perhaps with the national insinuation it help them which is much stronger than them as America may realize it more quickly."

UNION GOVERNMENT EITHER BEFORE OR AFTER ELECTION

Premier in Letter to Prominent Liberal of Vancouver Avows His Desire For Coalition Cabinet if at all Possible

By Courier Leased Wire. Vancouver, Sept. 18.—That it is both his purpose and his expectation to form a union government before the general election now imminent, but if that should prove impossible, he will certainly do so after the elections if returned to power, is the statement of Premier Borden in a letter addressed to E. P. Davis, K.C., a prominent Vancouver Liberal.

On September 5, E. P. Davis, K.C., who has taken a prominent part in the Win-the-War movement, after consulting with the leaders of the league, wrote to Premier Borden as follows:

"Dear Sir Robert:

"I would esteem it a great favor if you would let me know whether it is your intention to go to the country in the coming elections upon the principle of forming a union government, should you be returned to power? If this is a question which will embarrass you naturally you will not answer it, but personally, as a Liberal, and feeling in this particular juncture as many other Liberals feel, I may say that an answer to this question will be of great assistance to me in deciding upon the attitude to adopt in the election.

"Yours sincerely, (Signed) E. F. DAVIS."

PRODUCTION LOAN IN SASKATCHEWAN Province Plans Unique Loan To People To Aid Rural Credit System.

By Courier Leased Wire. Regina, Sept. 19.—The Saskatchewan Government announced the flotation of a loan to be offered to the people of Saskatchewan. It is known as the Saskatchewan greater production loan.

The object of this loan is to raise money for the province to provide the necessary funds for the carrying out of the scheme of rural credits under the farm loans act.

Ten year Saskatchewan greater production loan bonds will be issued in denominations of $20, $100, $500, and $1,000, bearing interest at five per cent. per annum payable half-yearly. A unique feature of these bonds is that they will be redeemable at par at any time upon the giving of three months notice to the treasurer.

This is the first loan of its kind ever floated in Canada.

FRANCE PLANS TO RESTRICT PAPER TRADE

Confiscation By Minister of Commerce To Follow Violation of Rules.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Sept. 19.—The government has introduced a bill in the chamber of deputies empowering the ministry of commerce to restrict the consumption of paper, paper or raw materials used in its manufacture during the war, and to seize any paper or raw material used in contravention to the orders issued by the ministry.

AUSTRIA TO REPLY Answer to Pope's Peace Note to be Made Public on Saturday.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Austria's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, says the Vienna Allgemeine Zeitung, will be handed to the papal nuncio at Vienna on Thursday, and will be published on Saturday.

The reply will confine itself to a detailed discussion of the Pope's suggestions. The report is that it will contain new and astonishing peace proposals, is absolutely at variance with the facts.

TO SPEAK IN THE SOUTH. Capt. Cornelius of this city, is to deliver illustrated addresses on the war, before three military academies in the southern states. He will speak on the war at Lyndon, Kentucky, Sweetwater, Tennessee and Booneville, Missouri. He expects to be gone about one week.

LIGHT DUNDAS STREET. Nine ratepayers have petitioned the city fathers to have the eastern extension of Dundas street lighted. There are three houses on this part of the street, and it is pointed out that the vehicle traffic is heavy.

SITUATION IN RUSSIA BRIGHTER

Trouble Arising From Arrest of Gen. Kaledines Will Blow Over.

LOYALISTS TO FRONT Petrograd Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Council Resigns.

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Sept. 19.—The provincial government has abolished the post of military governor of Petrograd and re-established the office of commander of the troops of the Petrograd district. Colonel Polkovnikov has been appointed commander with powers to settle questions relating to the food supply and transport.

It was expected that the Cossack incident shortly will be closed in a satisfactory manner, says the Russian official news agency. Cossack officers have submitted to the provisional government a petition requesting that the order for the arrest of Gen. Kaledines, the Cossack leader, be countermanded, alleging that the affair is entirely the work of political agents.

A delegation of loyalists from Moscow has now gone to the Cossack headquarters to make an investigation on the spot.

The Council Resigns. Petrograd, Sept. 19.—In view of the resolution of the Maximalists, which was voted by a plenary session of the Petrograd Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates, demanding that power be assumed by the Council, the whole bureau of the Council has resigned. Among those who handed in their resignations were President Bessonov, Vice-President Anisimov and Gotz and Mr. Skobeleff, Tsereteli and Tcherassoff.

Southwestern Spooks. Petrograd, Sept. 19.—Resignations in the trial of General Seubomlinoff, the former Russian minister of war, who is facing a charge of high treason, having concluded their evidence, the General-to-be was invited to give any explanations he might wish to make. The former minister appeared exhausted by the long judicial proceedings. Speaking in a weak tired voice, he endeavored to prove the necessity of dismantling of Russian fortresses for which he had given orders. He declared that owing to the conditions of modern warfare the fortresses long had lost all their strategic importance.

DEATH PENALTY MAY BE IMPOSED ON DEPUTY TURMEL

Legal Proceedings to be Launched Against Frenchman Suspected of Trading With the Enemy--Money Found in Locker

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Sept. 19.—The procurator-general of the appeals court has addressed a communication to parliament, asking for the suspension of immunity in the case of Deputy Louis Turmel. The procurator points out that Deputy Turmel gave three different explanations concerning the origin of the money found in his locker and further remarked that Magistrate Gilbert, charged with the case served a subpoena on Turmel Monday, but the latter ignored the summons "under conditions from which it is permissible to presume that Turmel's dealings with Switzerland, given by him as the source from whence he drew the money that was found were of a fraudulent nature, coming under the law prohibiting French citizens carrying on economic relations with enemy subjects.

The committee of eleven elected by the Chamber of Deputies to report on the demand for the authorization of legal proceedings against Deputy Turmel met after the Chamber adjourned yesterday. The committee voted unanimously in favor of authorizing legal proceedings, which it held to be the best course even in the interests of Turmel himself. It is expected that the committee's report will be submitted to the court at today's session and little doubt is expressed but that the required authorization will be voted rapidly.

PRIMARY ELECTION IN NEW YORK CITY Unusually Heavy Vote Predicted—Mitchell and Bennett for Mayor.

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Sept. 19.—An unusually heavy vote was predicted by campaign managers at today's primary election in this city. Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, fusler candidate for re-nomination is opposed in the Republican primaries by former State Senator William M. Bennett, Judge John F. Hyfan, of Brooklyn, candidate for mayor, Charles L. Craig, candidate for controller, and Sheriff Alfred T. Smith, candidate for president of the Board of aldermen are opposed in the democratic primaries.

Tammany Hall and affiliated organizations are striving for a heavy vote for the Democratic candidates, to show a united party. Mayor Mitchell is supported by Republican district workers.

The polls open at 3 p.m. and close at 9 p.m.

LABOR ASKS WEALTH BE CONSCRIPTED

Discussion on Compulsory Military Service Waging at Ottawa.

By Courier Leased Wire. Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Resolutions 1, 15, 27, 37, 50, 56 and 57 were the resolutions put forward for discussion collectively at the Trades and Labor Congress here this morning. All these resolutions deal with the conscription of wealth and nationalization of resources as well as the conscription of man power, urge a general strike unless the government sees fit to carry out the dictates of these resolutions, urge greater representation of labor on the military tribunals and legislature, etc., and generally oppose conscription unless the people are consulted.

Chairman Bancroft read the executive committee's report, and stated that the committee favored the amendment of the last two lines of the resolution to read: "Still, under our representative form of government, it is not deemed either right, patriotic or in the interests of the Dominion or of the labor classes to say or do anything that might give the government of Canada from obtaining the result they anticipate in the raising of reinforcements for the C.E.F. by the enforcement of the law.

"This congress is emphatically opposed to any development in the enforcement of this legislation which will make for industrial conscription or the interference with the Trade Union movement in the taking care of the interests of the organized workers of the Dominion."

In the case of resolution fifty,

Half Way Mark of 75 Feet Was Reached Early This Morning. WORK IS CONTINUED Bridge To be Completed Tomorrow Morning. Expectation Held.

By Courier Leased Wire. Quebec, Sept. 19.—The luck enjoyed by the engineers of the Quebec bridge, as regards the weather since they started to raise the central span on Monday held good when work was resumed this morning. The threat of changed conditions did not materialize. The workmen tackled the task of wiping out the 85 feet that separated the span from the foot of the bridge this morning with enthusiasm, hopeful that the enormous task would be completed to-morrow morning.

The half way mark of 75 feet was reached by the central span at 9:55 to-day.

BUILDING PERMIT. A building permit was issued to H. Haktian, 192 Dalhousie street, at the office of the city engineer in the City Hall this morning, for the erection of a verandah, to cost $300 and for some alterations to the front of a dwelling.

FREEDOM OF BELGIUM IS DEMANDED

German Socialists Insist Upon Complete Restoration as Peace Term REQUIRED BY JUSTICE

"Howling of Mailed Fist Politicians" Does Not Affect Vorwaerts.

SWEDISH SITUATION U. S. May Call for Statement on Sending of Messages.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Vorwaerts the Socialist organ of Berlin, holding that complete restoration of Belgium is co-related to the reestablishment of Belgium, declares: "Whether the German Government remains deaf thereto, it is not only a question of power or policy, but justice and conscience. No policy is truly wise that disregards the moral and legal facts in the life of nations. Despite the howling of the mailed fist politicians, Belgium has the right to its independence."

Sweden in Hot Water. Stockholm, Sept. 19.—It is generally believed here that the troubles of the Swedish Government, in connection with the German telegrams forwarded from Buenos Aires through the Swedish legation are by no means over.

It would surprise no one here if Secretary Lansing, of the Washington State Department, were to call for a clear and unequivocal statement to the effect that the forwarding of American communications in a language open to the Swedish authorities and with the knowledge and consent of the governments concerned was in no wise comparable to the services rendered to Germany by the Entente ministers and the American ministers to Sweden. L. N. Morris held one of his customary conferences on Monday afternoon, when it is understood the situation created by the forwarding of German telegrams from Buenos Aires and Mexico City, was considered.

TYPHOON IN CHINA DOES BIG DAMAGE

Over 600 Natives Killed at Amoy; Fishing Vessels Destroyed.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amoy, China, Monday, Sept. 17.—(Delayed)—More than 600 natives were killed by the typhoon which struck Amoy without warning at the end of last week. Eighty-five per cent of the water craft in the harbors nearby was destroyed. No foreigners have been reported lost.

Outlying districts cannot be communicated with, and it is feared great damage has been done there. One village on the island of Amoy reports that only 16 out of 200 sailing boats were saved.

The Japanese steamship Amakuma Maru, of 2,356 tons gross, is on the rocks opposite Kulangsu, and it is doubtful if she can be salvaged. The former German steamship Kooang Wal, of 1,777 tons gross, is in a hopeless position on the Kulangsu rocks. The Chinese steamer Kango was driven ashore at Kulangsu, and the British hulk, Shanghai, was beached at Amoy. Both of these vessels, it is believed, can be saved.

TWO GERMAN SUBS SUNK U-Boat Destroyed by Armed Steamer, Its Mate By Torpedo Boat.

By Courier Leased Wire. Copenhagen, Sept. 19.—Two German submarines have been sunk by British naval forces, reports the Bergen correspondent of The Tidens Tegner. Six men from the boats were taken prisoner.

An armed British steamer in the North Sea sank a German submarine which was shelling a neutral vessel. The second submarine was sunk by a British torpedo boat destroyer while attacking an armed steamer.

dealing with a strike in the event of a conscription of wealth, the committee recommended that the executive of the congress get in touch with the American Federation of Labor to co-operate for the conscription of wealth in the United States and Canada.

Chairman Bancroft read all resolutions through to the delegates following which the debate was commenced.

FIRE IN POLES. A blaze was started in some unexplainable manner this morning in a pile of telephone poles on Brant street, in West Brantford, where the Bell Telephone Company's yard is located. About two dozen poles were damaged, but one line of poles was connected by the firemen and the fire extinguished before further damage was done. A spark from a passing locomotive or from a smoke stack, is thought to have caused the blaze.

WANT CURB. Resident ratepayers along Richmond Street, between Duke and Pearl Streets, have petitioned the city council to have a curbing constructed along the roadway in front of their houses.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS IN SESSION AT OTTAWA

Yesterday's Session Given Over to Transaction of Routine Business, and Discussion of Various Resolutions

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The morning session of the thirty-third annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was devoted principally to the adoption and discussion of various resolutions. The announcement was made that J. P. Williams, who last year represented the English Labor men at the convention had died. The delegates unanimously passed a vote of sympathy.

Following this business the resolution was proposed that there should be a special committee appointed for the purpose of reporting to the Labor Congress on the important questions of separation allowances, patriotic fund matters, pensions, soldiers pay, demobilization, etc., was taken up before the convention.

"I do not see why the convention should waste its time in taking up such a question," was the remark of Delegate Kerrigan. "The Labor movement cannot take up the cudgels for the soldiers and assume soldiers' interests when these soldiers or most of them, are connected as members with organized Labor. Any attempt to take up this matter would be absurd. Is it not a fact that war veterans and returned men are being driven into our factories and workshops so that our wages may be reduced?" Delegate Stevenson. "Such remarks are a direct insult to the principles of organized labor. I do not know how any man can openly make such statements before this congress which is representative of labor in its highest form. Are not the 25,000 men that are fighting now at the front, and are from our ranks as good as we are and entitled to the same privileges and protection? Should we not give them our fullest support?"

Delegate Cassidy, of Montreal, who has furnished the fire works so far at the convention, then sprang to his feet and created somewhat of a commotion by saying that he had not previously insulted the American Federation of Labor it was due to an oversight. He would see to it that this oversight was rectified later. "I oppose the resolution strongly," stated Mr. Cassidy "for I know that in Montreal, union men who are in uniform have been called upon and urged to keep up the fight for the bosses. When a man joins the army and dons khaki he automatically cuts himself off from organized labor and is fighting for something along entirely different lines."

Finally the resolution was handed over to the committee on pensions. Delegate Sullivan of Hamilton was appointed a member of this committee.

A resolution that the congress place itself on record in being in favor of uniform blower laws for all processes of manufacturing employ- ing the use of abrasive particularly in Ontario was adopted on the motion of D. H. Wright of the Metal Polish- ers, Buffers and Brass Workers International Union. The necessity of appointing practical men as blower inspectors will be recommended to the provincial authorities by the congress. The postmen have a resolution to look after their interest; to wit, that the postmaster-general be urged to extend the Saturday half holiday. This resolution was proposed by the Federated Association of Letter Carriers.

The famous resolution No. 15 which deals with conscription, the scription of wealth as well as man power and the declaration of a general strike if the government did not conscript wealth and nationalize industries as well as men, was referred to the committee on officers' reports. It is further decided to re- commend to the provincial govern- ments that moving picture operators apprentices should be compelled to serve not less than two years under properly appointed operators.

Resolution No. 18 which deals with the lack of representation of labor men on the compensation board of Ontario under the Workmen's Com- pensation Act, was referred to the Ontario executive for further con- sideration. A somewhat lengthy argument. The chief argument was that labor should be represented on this board and that such a board should be appointed by the elector- ate.

Resolution 19, making bi-monthly pay days legally compulsory, was covered by the action taken on re- solution 7 yesterday and resolution 20 was then brought before the congress. Resolution 20 asks that all aliens in Canada not naturalized should be made to pay a war tax on their earnings on a monthly basis. It is counting 25 days to the month. This resolution caused a great deal of argument especially when the de- legates from Sault Ste. Marie, where the resolution emanated from stated that in the same town there were employed 1,050 Austrians and Ger- mans who did not pay taxes. Var- ious views were put forth by the delegates some arguing that irres- pective of nationality, all men should be treated as labor men. De- legate Daly stated that such a move would be to discriminate against members of the organization as there were many Austrians and Germans who were labor workers. Another delegate stated that the boys at the front get $1.10 per diem, whereas the aliens were being paid 35 cents an hour. He could not see why the resolution was not fair.

Vice President Riggs, in his state- ment cited an example that had come to his mind, where following a strike of the lighters and the tying up of the Winni- peg building trade, the strikers went to Transcona in an effort to secure the aid of the laborers employed there on the government elevator. The police and militia were called and as result 27 were arrested. Five were sent to internment camps and the remainder were held in waiting trial. These strikers, stated Mr. Riggs, were not aliens, but they were put into inter- nement camps, these builders ex- change in Winnipeg wanted to bene- fit. The resolution was adopted.

Several other resolutions were referred to the committee on officers' reports for consideration and others were not dealt with. The next reso- lution to be carried was No. 28, deal- ing with compensation of Ontario building employees, and making the latter eligible for compensation. Re- solution 30 that the Ontario execu- tive be asked to have legisla- tion provided covering working hours, wages, etc. on the Onta- rio Government or public authori- ties or municipalities in the provin- ce, was carried. Resolutions 31 and 40 were referred to committee on officers' reports and dealt with. Reso- lution 41, dealing with taxation of sheriff's land sales in Montreal, was referred to the Que- bec executive for further report.

Unusually developed among the delegates to a resolution introduced by Delegate A. Gariepy of the Montreal Trades and Labor coun- cil urging the establishment by pro- vincial governments and the Onta- rio Government of a system of agri- culture credit whereby the back- to-the-land movement would be as- sisted, production from the land stim- ulated and the burden of the high cost of living reduced.

Delegate Knight of Edmonton ar- gued against the resolution. He asked how the workers conditions were going to be bettered by sending them back to the land. He pointed to the tremendous development of land cultivation in the European countries and elsewhere as a result of the war. England before the war produced 17 per cent of the food necessary to keep her. To-day she was producing 68 per cent. The same thing applied to France where agricultural development on a huge scale was going on. Outputs of farm produce were being increased in these countries enormously and the result would be that after the war there would be a slump in the market and a very small return for farm products.

As to credits he said they had rural credits in Alberta and Saskatche- wan. He asked what were rural credits. In the past the farmer had been part of a Canada Permanent Mortgage—that was what it was, a permanent mortgage. So difficult was it found to collect the interest from the farmers before the war that the land was not held as sufficient security in this unified system of rural credits established by the two provincial governments, the govern- ments are merely acting as the execu- tives of the capitalists who loaned the money at from six to sixty per cent.

Delegates Simpson, Naylor, Cassi- dy and others also opposed the re- solution. The convention adjourned for lunch at 12.45 p.m.

The Hot Weather Test makes people better acquainted with their resources of strength and endurance. May find they need Hood's Sarsaparilla which invigorates the blood, promotes refreshing sleep and over-comes that tired feeling.

THE SITUATION
 A feeling has developed among certain people in the Old Land that matters at the front are not moving fast enough. A desire for the end of the struggle is natural all round, but impatience should not lead to unreasonable demands. It may be taken for granted that those in authority are making the quickest possible progress under the circumstances, and that the steady and persistent methods adopted are bound in the long run to yield the desired results. Critics of the class named are in reality playing into the hands of Germany, whose prime desire just now is to bring about, if possible, a premature peace.
 It begins to look as if the Korniloff revolution had acted as a needed tonic to Russia. Reports are to the effect that the Muscovites are continuing their advance in the Riga region, and President Kerensky has gone to the fighting lines himself as a further inspiration.
 It is announced from Ottawa that the preliminary arrangements are under way for the speedy enforcement of the military service bill. It is expected that the initial call to the colors will take place the first week in October, when 100,000 will be selected. It is proposed to place 25,000 of them in training at once, so that by November they should be under arms. It is contemplated to give the rest leave of absence, and to call them up in groups of 10,000 as required.

FOOD ENQUIRY
 Toronto, Sept. 18.—At the Food enquiry, Mr. Fox of Davies and Co., said his connection with the company as General Manager dated back five years. He was first asked by Mr. Bain for the details of the company. Mr. Fox said that in 1911 the company had been incorporated under a Dominion charter, and prior to that it had a Provincial charter, issued in 1882. Before the business was carried on as a partnership. In 1907 there was a capital of $1,000,000. In 1911 the authorized capital was $2,000,000, and $1,500,000 of it was issued. In 1892 there was on the books good-will of $100,000. This was wiped off in 1911. Since 1911 there has been no increase of authorized capital. In April or May, 1916, $500,000 of paid-up capital was issued as a stock dividend of 33 1/3 per cent. Since 1911 a number of the younger officers had given their shares in the company. Mr. Joseph Flavell owned 10,067 shares, and J. A. Flavell 190. Mr. Joseph Flavell and Mr. E. Adie hold in trust 268 shares for the younger officers of the company, which were purchased from Mrs. C. W. Bennett of England.
 President Gets $5,000 Per Year.
 The present officers of the company, Mr. Fox said, were: President, Mr. Joseph Flavell; Vice-President, E. D. Adie; Secretary-Treasurer, A. B. Park; General Manager, E. C. Fox. Mr. Fox said he was the only officer of the company drawing a salary of more than $10,000 a year. Since the incorporation, under a Federal charter, Mr. Joseph Flavell never drew a salary in excess of $10,000. At present he draws $5,000 a year.
 "What are his duties as President?" Mr. Bain asked.
 "I suppose the same as anybody else's duties as President are," witness replied, and went on to explain that he only acted as a consultant to the officers, as for the past two years he had been engaged in Government work at Ottawa.
 Figures given at the enquiry showed the following:—
 Net profits in 1917 of Wm. Davies Co., Ltd., $1,345,927.
 Dividend paid in 1917 by Wm. Davies Co., Ltd., $700,000, at 12 1/2 per cent.
 Wm. Davies Co. owned 40 per cent of Harris Abbot's and 60 per cent of Sheath, Thompson Co., their English agents.
 Surplus of Wm. Davies Co. for 1913 without deductions $340,905, and in 1917 $1,723,500.
 Authorized capital stock of the company, $2,000,000.

SOLDIERS RETURNED.
 Three veterans returned to the city yesterday afternoon and were welcomed by delegations from the Soldiers' Aid Commission and the W. Y. A. Privates W. Bacon, 278 Wellington street and H. A. Dillmer, 4 Kennedy street, arrived on the 3:55 Grand Trunk train and Private Pyke of Oakland came in on the five o'clock T. H. and B. He was taken to the home of A. E. Bonham, Oakland, where he was employed prior to his enlistment. The other men, who were expected, did not arrive but were expected to come in later.
 E. Miller, aged 19, who was acting as look-out on the steamer Belleville, as that vessel was coming west through the St. Lawrence Canal, lost his balance, fell into the channel and was drowned.

 No doubt the citizens of Brantford will respond very heartily to the appeal on behalf of the Italian Red Cross.
 The men of the land of Garibaldi are maintaining the very best traditions of that hero, and his forces, and moreover, they are struggling under severe physical hardships. The local committee is in receipt of a letter from the highest military authority in the United States, Brigadier General Guglielmotti, who until recently commanded a wing of the Italian army on the Carso, figuring prominently in the capture of the Austrian fortress of Gorizia last year. He came to the United States several months ago as military head of the Italian Commission and remained at Washington on the diplomatic staff of the Royal Italian Embassy as Military Attache.
 The figures he gives disclose a serious lack of doctors and nurses in Red Cross service in Italy, and states that the pressing need is for funds with which to instruct and equip further Red Cross units. He adds:
 "Concerning information regarding the Italian army, I beg to confirm that Italy has more than 4,000,000 men under the colors, fighting a duel which is probably the most severe fighting of this big war. Our troops, since many months ago, are continually engaged in a struggle against our enemies. As it is also stated in the literature you so kindly sent me, our campaign is not only very hard because of the desperate resistance of the Austrian armies, but also on account of the special nature of the battle lines, which it is almost impossible to describe with words.

"The sanitary services are naturally also meeting great difficulties, and in spite of an organization which has been continually improved since the beginning of the war, there are still many improvements to be made, and every help and assistance from our Allies shall be greatly appreciated and every Italian soldier shall feel very grateful for everything that has been done and that shall be done in the future."
 The call on behalf of these Allies who are fighting so splendidly for the common cause, should certainly meet with a ready and general response.

THE CANADIAN NORTHERN BILL.
 The Winnipeg Free Press (Liberal) has the following to say with regard to the above mentioned bill.
 "This is the first C.N.R. deal on record in which the people are getting the best of the bargain."
 "The howling, referred to above is all about how Big Business is being allowed by Parliament to rob the treasury. Most of it is being done by politicians and newspaper who, in bygone years, were enthusiastic supporters of C.N.R. rats upon the national treasury. By the present deal the people are securing possession of the second best railway of Canada; of the largest telegraph company in Canada; of one of the biggest express companies in Canada. When the people own these public utilities they will be a factor in rate-making in every section of Canada.
 "The people will secure possession of these utilities by purchasing the C.N.R. stock held by private shareholders, having a nominal face value of $60,000,000. The attempt to make it appear that this amount of money is to be paid for the stock is dishonest. The value of the stock is to be settled by arbitration; and if, as the opponents of the proposition insist, the stock is worthless it will be the duty of the Board of Arbitration to make a finding in keeping with the facts. In that case the people will not pay a dollar for the stock. In order to support their gloomy predictions that payment in excess of the value of the stock is to be made, it is necessary to assume that both the Board of Arbitrators and the Government will be parties to a conspiracy to defraud the people of Canada. There is no likelihood of any award giving the shareholders more than a small fraction of the face value of their stock.

"A great deal of the opposition in Parliament and the country is not what it seems. Ostensibly inspired by a desire to protect the Dominion treasury it actually arises from other motives. Some of it is due to a reluctance to see the principle of government ownership extended to a transcontinental railway—a quite legitimate objection if openly avowed, as it was by F. H. Curvell, M.P., and J. A. Robb, M.P. Some of it arose in response to C.P.R. influence. It is, and has long been, an open secret that the C.P.R. wants to get control of the C.N.R. system. This plan can never be realized if the road becomes the property of the people of Canada. Hence much of this opposition in the public prints and elsewhere about the 'iniquitous C.N.R. deal.'

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS
 Pte. Isaac Hopkins Wounded, Sergt. T. Martin Gassed.
 Paris, Sept. 19.—(From our own correspondent)—Rev. D. A. Armstrong, who during the past year has been acting as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. as well as attending to his pastoral duties, has resigned from the "Y" as he felt that it required some one with more time to look after the duties there. Mr. Armstrong is a warm hearted gentleman and has faithfully filled his position and will be very much missed by the boys with whom he was very popular. He will now devote more time to his pastoral duties, but will still be interested in the Y. M. C. A. work.
 Pte. Benjamin Sayles who went overseas with the 84th Battalion returned home yesterday. He has been awarded, having been shot. Pte. James Granton, of Paris Station, who went with the 215th Battalion, also returned yesterday. About 300 soldiers came over on the same boat with the above.
 While returning home from school yesterday afternoon, Elaine Fraser, daughter of Mr. Allyn Fraser, Dumfries street, met with a severe accident. She was playing tennis in the back garden when a little school makes when she fell and struck her head. She was carried over to Dr. Lovell's office when it was found that a deep gash had been struck over the eye brow which required six stitches to close.
 Mrs. Hopkins, River Street, was notified yesterday that her husband, Pte. Hopkins, had been wounded in a gun shot wound in his left shoulder. Sergt. Thomas Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Martin, Clarkville, is also reported as being badly wounded.
 Mrs. John R. Howard and family, have returned to Toronto, after spending the past month at town.
 The following have been sent to the Red Cross headquarters, Toronto, by the ladies of the Methodist Red Cross during the month of August: 30 suits of pyjamas, 2 dozen pillow cases and 24 dozen sheets.
 The proprietors of the local billiard parlors were each fined $10 and costs for selling cigarettes to a minor.

CANADIAN SOLDIER ALONE KILLS SIXTEEN GERMANS

Deeds of Currie's Men at Lens Surpass Anything in War Fiction—Canadian Courage Never Higher Than in Struggle For Coal City

(By Stewart Lyon, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press) Canadian Headquarters in France (via London), Sept. 18.—Awards being made for heroic conduct and sound judgment, indicate that Canadian courage never reached a higher point than in the battle of Lens. Case after case is to be found in authenticated records in which our men performed prodigies of valor or faced death in order that their comrades would be saved by their self-sacrifice. Here is a record, in the incoherent official language, of deeds that surpass anything in war fiction, and that are vouched for in writing by a number of eye-witnesses: A non-commissioned officer of a British Columbia battalion, in the trenches on the night of Sept. 12th, was ordered to lead a section which had the difficult task of mopping up cellars, craters and machine gun emplacements. In one cellar he himself bayoneted three Germans and attacked, single-handed, seven others in a crater, killing them all. On reaching his objective a machine gun was found to be honing up the right flank, causing many casualties. This non-commissioned officer rushed forward, entered the emplacement, killed the crew and brought the gun back to our lines. To-day he again attacked, single-handed, another machine gun emplacement, killed three of the crew and destroyed the gun and emplacement with a high explosive charge. He alone killed at least sixteen of the enemy, and during two days' actual fighting carried on continuously until wounded in the neck, and then he would not go out until all the fighting was over.

The name of this amazing fighting man is withheld for the present. Another hero, of a Saskatchewan battalion, when a bombing party of which he was a member was compelled to retire in the face of a superior force, having exhausted their supply of bombs, covered the withdrawal of his comrades by mounting on the parapet of a trench, and firing at the advancing Germans, and brought such rapid and accurate rifle fire to bear upon them that he alone held back the enemy till the withdrawal was completed. Another indomitable soul, after three attacks in which he took part, had been made against a heavily-garrisoned machine gun emplacement and a strong point, and he single-handedly organized a fourth attack. All his company officers had been hit, but this N.C.O. rallied the survivors, led them against the enemy, and penetrating the wire, personally bayoneted three of the defenders, and killed a fourth with the butt of his rifle. The machine gun was silenced and the position captured. "That was the day," said a determined handling of a desperate situation," says the official record, "our attack would not have succeeded." This superb soldier is

Women are Best Walkers on Artificial Limbs

Their Pride and Perseverance Are Regarded as a Good Example and Are Recommended to Soldiers Crippled by Wounds Received in the Conflicts of War.

"If you could give every returned soldier a woman's sense of pride with his artificial leg, one of the biggest problems we have to-day would be solved," declared Mr. Harry Stevenson, a manufacturer of artificial limbs of years' experience, who is the organizer by the Dominion Artificial Limb factory in Toronto, turning out artificial legs and arms for the returned soldiers in the Military Hospitals Commission command. "If there is any case in which practice makes master and perseverance wins, it is in wearing an artificial limb, and women are more successful than men, simply because they are proud and determined that no one is going to know that they wear one," he explained.

Walking Depends on Man "The boys here succeed in varying degree with their new legs, some wear them well and get great service out of them from the start, and others only half try and in some cases even discard them. "You can't teach every man to walk uniformly well because it is up to the man himself. You can take him out and explain when he walks where he makes his mistake, but only practice and attention on his own part will correct the error. "There are over 60 women in Toronto to-day wearing artificial limbs, and I'd be willing to wager that their friends in many instances are ignorant of the fact. They dance and walk with a natural stride, and show a grace which their sisters with both limbs might envy. "Nearly six hundred limbs "We have turned out 570 pieces of work here since we started, including arms and legs, and we have about 400 men under our charge now. Some of these men have been here a long time, and learn very slowly, others walk off the first day, and pass as

HAS PUT HIM BACK IN OLD TIME FORM

Hamilton Man Says He Would Nearly Fall on Account of Weakness.

"Honestly, this Tanlac has built me up to where I was before my health began to fail, and I am feeling so good I want to tell everybody about it," said W. H. Dyson, an expert cabinet maker in the employ of the National Car Company, and residing at 527 Barton St., Hamilton, the other day.

"I had been going down hill for the last twelve months," he explained, "and was steadily getting worse, in spite of all the medicines I was taking. I didn't have a bit of appetite and just had to force down enough to keep me alive, and many a morning I left home without eating a bite for breakfast, and would get along on as little as I could all day. I was troubled with a fluttering of the heart that alarmed me, and whenever I stooped down my head got so swimming so I would nearly fall. It is such a splendid medicine that I want all the fellows in my shop to get acquainted with it."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson & Co. Ltd.; in Orillia by M. G. Cook & Co. Ltd.; in Elmville by W. J. McGahry; in LeRoy by G. R. Adair; in Stayner by N. B. West; in Coldwater by C. TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

Brantford township council will proceed immediately with the work of installation of their hydro electric plant independent of the Brantford system. This action was decided upon at a special meeting of the township council held in the Court House, when Reeve J. J. McCann and Deputy Reeve Jas. A. Scafe were appointed a hydro electric committee to transact the business of the township in relation to supplying electric light and power to the different sections of the municipality. The offer of the Brantford city system was rejected. The city offered to enter into a five-year contract by which they would deliver the current required at three places on the Brantford city boundary line, most convenient for the township, under the proposed agreement, would provide suitable buildings for transformers and other necessary apparatus to handle and measure the current and protect the Hydro electric plant from damage inside the limits of the city corporation. The rate to be paid by the township was to have been the same as that paid the Ontario Hydro Commission by the city, with 10 per cent added. The cost of installation was to be borne by the township and anything further supplied by the city was to be at cost, plus 10 per cent.

A letter that had been received by Reeve McCann from Private J. F. Singleton, 125th battalion, asking that the T. H. and B. Railway crossing at the Locks be repaired, so that he could secure the delivery of some coal that had been ordered, was presented to the councilors. No action was taken as the crossing has been improved since the letter was written. The engineer was instructed to investigate the Newport culvert, and the matter was left at his discretion. The engineer was also authorized to examine and report upon the condition of the Parkdale drain. This has already been done, but the work is to be continued on the former occasion. A special meeting will be held on Thursday night, when the action will be determined upon and work commenced immediately.

W.L. HUGHES LIMITED Distinctive Ladies' Wear Phone 446 127 Colborne St.

MISS' DRESS. By Anabel Worthington.

A stunning combination for gingham or plaid voile is suggested in No. 8418. The smart new collar gives it an unusual air of distinction which would interest any girl. The waist is made like a shirtwaist, with gathers at the shoulders, and one may choose either of the two styles of sleeve given. The long ones have a very smart flare cuff. An enormous collar of contrasting material is cut in deep points at front and back and the points are buttoned to the belt. The skirt is quite simple, having three gores which are gathered to the slightly raised waistline. Large pockets which stand out from the figure in loops are featured in the skirt. The dress pattern, No. 8418, is cut in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. As on the figure the 16 year size requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material, with 2 yards of 36 inch contrasting material. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

Charlie Jackson Recruit,

Northwest Rookie Bezdek's Aggro

For the past year or so there has been a steady influx of players into Pittsburgh, recruits hallings from the city, but a few of them are still sports and are still sports uniforms.

The latest addition to the Pittsburgh club is Charlie Jackson, who was born in 1914 and he reached Pittsburgh in 1916. He was a three-base hit off Grover Alexander on his first trip to the National League, and travelling in a fast clip, causing the Pittsburgh club to believe that he will stay in show.

Jackson's debut in the major leagues, broke into professional life in the Bloomington club of the Eye League in 1914, and of that season he was the White Sox. The following season he was released to Los Angeles.

Sporting Comm

Hurlers Who Hit Pitches, who not only to hit, but who can take a baseball with some of the hitters, are becoming more and more scarce in the major leagues.

Time was a short time ago when a pitcher merely because it was doing time at bat had to be a good hitter. Now there are eight players in the American League who are .250 or better, and in the National League there are ten. Babe Ruth of the Red Sox is the best hitter of the pitcher league, but Dutch Rueter and Walter Johnson, and Ray Caldwell are excellent batters. Any one likely to be called on for hitting for his club.

Larry Cheney of the good hitter, Dick Rudolph, never hits a ball and has a teammate sort in George Tyler. She of the Dodgers would be game with a hit than pitching performance. Under is considered a danger man. Nearly all of the players are good hitters. Babe Ruth of the Red Sox is the best hitter of the pitcher league, but Dutch Rueter and Walter Johnson, and Ray Caldwell are excellent batters. Any one likely to be called on for hitting for his club.

"Never fails," he remarked. "Though, of course, it isn't safe to work it on anybody in this outfit—not, at least, unless you're pretty sure there's a trace of human humor in the make-up of the specimen. I'm making a collection of those stereotypes; it helps a lot. (Table-talk) where is the sitting when a fellow knows all the answers?"

He rose, set aside the shell of the maltreated melon, and returned with his plunder from the hot-water dishes, to find Sally on the point of leaving.

"Not going?" he protested more soberly. "Don't tell me I offended you, catching you up like that?"

"How absurd!" the infuriated girl replied, smiling falsely. "But—"

"Then, if you've nothing pressing on, keep me company for a little. I want to ask your advice, I'm puzzled. Maybe you can suggest something."

She couldn't well go, then, without betraying umbrage, so she settled herself with a resigned temper, and for want of a better lead contented herself with a conversational stop-gap—"Puzzled?"—spoken in an encouraging tone, as if she were an encouraging tonic.

"Yes, something I noticed this morning. But it veaves into last night—maybe. Maybe not. I'm a slow thinker when it comes to puzzles."

He lifted a cup with coffee from the shining urn and resumed his chair.

"You see—" Some intimation of his gaudier made him stumble. "Of course," he went on, semi-apologetic, "you understand that I'm going on the assumption that you're as human as an."

"Thank you," said Sally sweetly, "human enough," he explained, "not to think I'm a savage because I've reminded you of last night."

"I see no reason," she began with dignity.

"And there isn't any," he argued heartily. "We're both old enough to behave like grown-ups. Ours, a fellow never can tell where he stands with most of these festive dames. I've been forgotten until I'm scared to open my mouth. But with you, well, it's like meeting somebody from home to talk to you."

"But the puzzle—" she reminded him with more patience than he knew.

"Oh, yes. I was going to say when she—traced—myself, what got me up was Lytleton. He has the room next mine, you know. I'd just turned out my bedside light—been reading, you understand—when I heard his door open very gently and somebody roo-pusy-footing down the hall. And for some reason that kept me awake—because it was none of my business I guess—waiting for him to come back and wondering what in thunder took him out on the prowl like that. And when I had wondered myself wide awake I got up and dressed—thought I'd take a walk, since the night was so fine. I honestly had no idea of following him—that was all an accident, my business in the way I did."

Sudden perception of a footstep upon the ground properly taboo even to angels, caused the man to flush bright red. His eyes sought Sally's in hon-

"Well," he said, "I came to me after I had been there awhile that the only way to be was to let her alone so long as she didn't interfere with me. If I set myself bothered by them of course the queer things she does would annoy me all the time. But why be bothered if she doesn't get in my way? I made it plain at the beginning that I wouldn't stand for the inconvenience of her peculiarities. That antagonized her at first but she got over it. And to everything that doesn't personally concern me I keep my eyes shut."

"But doesn't it annoy you even when you don't say anything?"

"No," he said thoughtfully. "It did a little at first. But I guess I keep more than my mouth shut. I try to keep my mind shut too."

"How do you get for a bit of philosophy?"

And not just for his situation either. But for many situations.

Of course when two families, or even two people live together, there are many things which each does which must inevitably concern the other. But there are also many things which don't really interfere if you will close your mind to them.

Stirring Address by at Trades and Labor Third Annu

By Courier Special Wire
Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of the Dominion of Canada opened here yesterday. About three hundred provincial delegates from all over Canada assembled and followed street parade in the St. J. Hall for the formal opening. At 10 o'clock, John Cameron, president of the Ottawa Trades and Labor Council, who occupied the convention and the delegates. In his opening remarks, Mr. Cameron, referred to the great change wrought in the world since the war, and the importance of organized labor in the present world. He pointed out that the war had not only changed the world, but it had also changed the minds of men. He said that the war had shown that the world was not as it was before, and that the people of the world were now more united than ever before. He said that the war had shown that the people of the world were now more united than ever before, and that the people of the world were now more united than ever before.

The chairman then called the Hon. W. T. Crothers, Minister of Labor, to address the delegates. The minister vended his way through the crowd from the rear of the hall, and was greeted by a number of the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates.

Mr. Crothers stated that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates.

The minister stated that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates. He said that he was glad to see the delegates, and that he was glad to see the delegates.

LADY'S DRESS.
By Anabel Worthington.

A very chic afternoon dress which is really simpler to make than it looks is shown in No. 8424. The front of the waist and the skirt panel are cut in one and there is a corresponding panel at the back which only extends as far as the waist line. The waist is quite plain under the enormous collar, which almost hides the waist. The collar reaches nearly to the waistline in the back and gives the effect of revers in the front. The sleeves may be long or three-quarters, but both styles have the deep tucks for trimming. The four piece skirt is gathered to the regulation waistline and the side sections have deep tucks at hip depth. A narrow sash tied at the back is to be worn with this dress.

The dress pattern, No. 8424, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material, with 1 yard of 22 inch silk for sash and 1/4 yard 12 inch contrasting goods for the vest.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

SMOTHERED VEAL
Trim and cut in small, thin slices two pounds veal steak; put three good sized slices of salt pork in a deep frying kettle, add the veal and cover tightly; cook slowly 30 or 40 minutes; about 15 minutes before serving add salt to taste and put on a hotter part of the stove, where it will brown quickly; when a nice brown pat in about three cups of hot water; let it boil up, then thicken with flour stirred smooth with cold water.

Celebrated North Shore Broilers
Clean and split chickens; season with salt and pepper; brown with melted butter and place in dripping pan, skin side down; broil 15 minutes in hot oven and bake 15 minutes; wash apparatus and cook 30 minutes in salted water; have a mould of boiled rice; brush with beaten egg and sprinkle with fine bread crumbs; set in oven to brown; arrange the broiled chicken around the rice and garnish with asparagus tips.

Stirring Address by Premier to Delegates in Attendance at Trades and Labor Congress in Ottawa—Thirty Third Annual Convention Now On.

By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The 33rd annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of the Dominion of Canada opened here yesterday morning. About three hundred prominent union delegates from all parts of Canada assembled and followed the street parade in the St. Patrick's Hall for the formal opening session. At 10 o'clock, John Cameron, president of the Ottawa Trades and Labor Council, who occupied the chair, opened the convention and welcomed the delegates. In his opening remarks, Mr. Cameron referred to the importance of organized labor and the prominent part that it had played and would play in the affairs of the country and empire. Continuing, the speaker spoke of the strong representation that labor had in the legislature, and voiced his opinion that before long that labor representation would predominate. He referred to the great change from autocratic rule to that of democratic rule that had just been effected in two of the world's greatest nations, and emphasized the fact that the good fight which was being waged on all sides and in every country for the benefit and betterment of the working classes, which were so well represented at the convention, would have to be continued and more determinedly than ever.

If something is not done? We must see to it that something is done to avoid such a war in future and render all possibility of its re-occurrence impossible. This will not be accomplished unless the nations possess the power of self control and organization. The means to the end lies in that state which was made by Mr. Lloyd George when he said the democratization of the nations of Europe, etc.

"With democratization and the control of the people, I have no fears as to the future. The people will see to it that all differences and divergencies will be adjusted, not by the horrible means that they are being adjusted now, but by methods entirely different and more humane. Conventions such as this will have a great effect and influence and we must spare no effort until the final end is achieved."

Mr. Cameron then introduced Mr. Emmanuel Kovalevsk, representing the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Kovalevsk received a great ovation. He merely stated that he was pleased to be in attendance at the convention and particularly to be in Canada, as it was his birthplace. Later he would convey the message which he had from the American Federation of Labor, but until that time he would beg to be excused.

On behalf of the city of Ottawa, Mayor Fisher welcomed the delegates. The chairman then called upon the Hon. W. T. Crothers, Minister of Labor, to address the delegates. As the minister wended his way through the crowd from the rear of the hall, one of the delegates arose and remarked to the chairman: "I do not see Mr. Crothers' name on the program. I do not think that we should waste time by listening to that honorable gentleman."

Sir Robert Borden then arose again and stated that he had not been aware there was a representative from the United States. In view of the fact that the United States were now comrades in arms and allies, he would ask the delegates to join in three cheers for the United States. The premier led the cheering, which was done most vociferously.

A storm of protest arose from the delegates, and a point of order had to be established. Upon one of the committee stating that the convention was at present in the hands of the reception committee, it was unanimously decided to hear the Minister of Labor, and the protest was vetoed.

President J. C. Watters of the Trades and Labor Congress was presented and took over the chair. The ovation that Mr. Watters received was probably the greatest ever known in labor circles. Incidentally, Mr. Watters burst the only bottle of champagne of the morning. Upon taking the chair he turned to the representatives of the press and remarked that this great ovation was tendered by the men "who are to chop my head off."

Mr. Crothers stated that it was not his intention to take up the time of the convention. He was glad to have the opportunity of greeting them, and particularly glad that the convention was being held in the capital city, as it would give an opportunity perhaps to learn how things actually proceeded in parliament. He would like to see the people of Canada more familiar with parliamentary procedure, but unfortunately few had an opportunity of visiting the House in session. At these labor conventions, questions of great importance were discussed and doubtless at this convention the questions would be more important than ever owing to the war.

Continuing Mr. Watters stated that in the past he had been the target for many bitter and uncalled-for attacks, attacks which may possibly have been made in the hope that the ranks of organized labor would be split. Labor, however, did not intend to be divided. There might be little trivial divisions and differences of opinion, but when it came down to business, real business labor was united never to be divided.

The minister stated that he desired to say that the wage-earners had played a most important part in the great struggle, about 150,000 of them being overseas fighting the great battle for the right. These men were entitled to the greatest consideration—the men who had gone, the men who were going and the men who had returned. Canada and Canada's people could only have the greatest admiration and pride for these noble sons of Canada. The minister concluded by wishing the delegates every success.

"Sir Robert Borden's remark regarding the democratization of the world," said Mr. Watters, "has particularly impressed me. I have on more than one occasion been taken severely to task because before this war I said that we were headed for one of the greatest and most powerful autocracies the world has ever known. At that time I said that if Germany was crushed it would be crushed by an autocracy that was even more menacing. I referred to Russia which was then my despair, but is now my hope. I have more recently been imbued with the hope that Russia, now democratic Russia, will ally with the western democracies, and I am hoping sincerely that Russia will stay with us, for the can help to bring about a satisfactory solution of our many problems. Democratic Russia, in my opinion, will help to revolutionize the world."

At this juncture Sir Robert Borden arrived. His entrance was the signal for the greatest enthusiasm and cheer after cheer resounded through the hall. President Cameron introduced the premier, who was again cheered as he arose to speak. "It gives me the greatest pleasure," said Sir Robert, "to have this opportunity of greeting you and of wishing you all God speed. I have just come from an assembly that has been sitting for eight months now, but I do not wish you to think that I will make the length of my address on a comparative basis with the session of the House."

"Attacks of this nature will not cause me to change my attitude and I will continue to carry on my work fearlessly. I am quite confident, fully confident, that the workmen of Canada will not desert me when I am endeavoring to the best of my ability to carry out their mandate, and I would not betray the trust that is reposed in me. Before this convention closes I am convinced that the Labor men of Canada will see with their attitude in such a way that it will be clear, so clear that it cannot be misunderstood."

"Parliament is a place for people to talk. (Laughter.) That is, of course, the actual definition of the word. And perhaps it is a good thing that there is a place of this nature for people to talk, for when men from all parts of the Dominion of Canada meet, with different views and ideals, it is good that they can 'get together' as it were."

The president then declared the convention formally opened. Following Mr. Watters' address, the balance of the time devoted to the morning session was given up to the calling together of committees and deciding on the time for late debates. After a lengthy, and in some parts a heated discussion, it was finally carried that the movers of resolutions and amendments would be permitted to speak for ten minutes and all other delegates five minutes, except in special circumstances.

Continuing, Sir Robert paid a high tribute to the great work accomplished by labor in the crisis of the past three years and the magnificent part that the workmen had played in the war. Speaking of the attitude of organized labor, he was convinced that he was voicing the sentiments of the entire populace of Canada when he congratulated the labor delegates on the magnificent effort of the men that they represented.

The convention adjourned at two o'clock and will resume at two when the various resolutions will be resumed.

Speaking further, the premier said that he had come to welcome the delegates. He referred in glowing terms to the boys over at the front, fighting on the "battlefields of France, and the delegates to remember the great sacrifice that the men in khaki were making. "These men know what they are fighting for," said Sir Robert, "and I know that they know, for I have stood face to face with thousands of them. They realize the importance of the cause that they are laying down their lives for. The future of the world is at stake, and I do not know what the result will be unless we bring about some orderly system of dealing with international questions. What will this world come to, with all these terrible devices of war and implements of destruction,

Practical Housekeeping Hints

HOW BEST TO USE CEREALS
Cereals rank first among vegetable foods. They contain in varying proportions all the elements necessary to support life. They contain a great deal of starch, which is needed to keep the body warm and to make it do its work. A bowl of oatmeal, eaten for breakfast, will furnish the average man with all the strength, heat and energy he will need. Cereals with cooked fruits are particularly appetizing.

It is best not to buy cereals in very large quantities, because if they are kept too long insects are apt to develop in them. Cereals should always be kept in glass-covered jars.
Cereals are improved by long cooking. Therefore, oatmeal, hominy and other cereals which are left over can be added next day to the fresh-cooked cereals.
All cereals should be cooked at first for ten minutes directly over the fire, and then put into a double boiler. If you haven't a double boiler, place the saucepan containing the cereal in a larger saucepan that contains hot water. By using a fireless cooker you can prepare your cereal at night, cook it on the stove for about ten minutes, put it in the fireless cooker, and when you get up in the morning you will find it all cooked and ready to be eaten. In this way you save both time and fuel.

Cereals requiring more than one hour to cook should be cooked the day before they are to be eaten and reheated in the morning.
Coarse, flaky cereals should be stirred as little as possible. Fine granular cereals may be beaten,

MAROONED IN A TANK

British Crew Finally Destroyed Car and Regained Own Lines.

How the tanks won a battle by their own cheek north of St. Julien is now old history, though the experiences of their crews, some among the most dramatic in the war, are as yet untold. One of the best of these I heard recently within the body of one of the very tanks that had gone through the battle. The hide of the machine were many of the marks of battle, it was dented and many nuts shaved off, but it had been mended on the field, and went as well as ever, as I can testify after travelling back in it from the old German trenches across rough country and modest bridges. It was a comfortable journey, varied only by one little affair with a pollard willow that caused a momentary retreat, brief excitement produced by a gust of machine gun fire against a low German airplane, and the upsetting of a young officer by the sudden tightening of a steel rope during an interval spent in salving a sister tank.

A motionless Fort. All the tanks, of course, were not so lucky as this. One lies moribund in front of our latest line advance, and the story of its crew's escape is characteristic of the new warfare. Goliath, which will serve for its name, perished forward unattended to attack a German strong place. His approach, and the battle of his shell sent some of the enemy retreating, while a few more during than the rest, vainly attacked him with bomb and rifle. At this crisis some of the crew held their steel fort this dusk in fighting the rival and bigger defence in concrete.

In the Enemy Lines They were marooned in the enemy's territory, but taking out their Lewis guns and destroying the interior of the machine, they slipped out and started on a pilgrimage home. It was dusk. The rendezvous in a certain shell hole was lost by some of the first scouts sent out to prospect, and so it came about that many of the crew were soon separated. Neither force thereafter has a regular trench line, but the Germans were in possession, thickly enough scattered round and about in shell holes.

An Officer's Escape A young officer, scouting alone, found himself in a deadly line. There was nothing for it but to lie dogged in a shell hole till darkness came again. Next night luck was with him. He avoided all Germans, was seen at only once by one of our patrols, and after much trouble persuaded his friends that he was not an enemy. Others had other experiences, but every man of this crew came safely home.
Back Through Ypres I came back from the journey 12

the tank through Ypres, in order to visit that city of sacrifice. Imagination could not paint a more poignant emblem of ruin. The bleaching sun "shattered ribs" of the cathedral and the Cloth Hall shining against a very blue sky have conserved by some miracle of individuality the live beauty of old which the artists gave them, and one rose window in the cathedral keeps intact its delicate tracery to assert the wickedness of destruction else complete.
A little later a thundercloud set-

ADDICTS OF MORPHINE INCREASE

Concerted Action by Doctors and Druggists Might Curb the Evil.

DRUG TRAFFIC EVILS

Physician With Years of Experience in China, on the "Dream Elixir."

Notwithstanding the fact that opium as opium will be finally banished from China this year, morphine is being imported into the country in great quantities. China therefore has taken on the menace of morphine in other words, the hypodermic syringe is taking place of the opium pipe.

Dr. G. L. Tuck a physician who writes under the name of Wu Lien-teh and who spent five years in Manchuria, has written a comprehensive article on this subject for the Lancet of London. It has been summarized in the Medical Record. Dr. Wu, of Tuck, says concerted action by doctors and druggists is needed to combat this new horror that threatens the oldest civilization. The medical profession in China regarding its importation into China, including the last two reports of Shanghai and Canton, will come to an end, so that the British settlement of Shanghai the remaining opium shop will be closed by the month of March. The whole nation will rejoice at this happy termination of a awful vice which once looked as if it might exterminate the Chinese race.

That the drug traffic source may be ascertained by the fact that the present price in Canton is, at least $15 per tael, with a tendency to rise. Except for some smuggling from Turkish and Russia by way of Serbia, the drug traffic in opium will in future find its way into China, through the Government and customs authorities will still have to supervise and control the traffic in opium, and to pay attention to the greatest vigilance over unscrupulous people.

Morphine imports from the East Indies and Java, which are sustained with regard to morphine, for up to the end of last year all statistics point to increasing imports into the country. The supply of morphine comes mainly from two firms in Edinburgh and one firm in London. The declared exports of morphine from Great Britain in 1915 equalled 7 1/2 tons, in 1913 1 1/2 tons and in 1914 14 tons, while in 1916 the Japanese is at least 16 tons. In the East Indies, the Japanese has been importing medicinal purposes in 1914. There is a large firm in Japan which acts as agent for the manufacturing firm in the East Indies.

In 1913 alone this agent in Japan imported 2 1/2 tons of morphine by registered post via Serbia. The two other British firms exported 2 tons by the same method and 1 3/8 tons came from Germany making a total of 6 1/2 tons in 1913. So far it has been mostly from firms in Great Britain. Once arrived in Japan, the morphine is usually made up in small packets or placed in small bottles, labeled in different ways, e.g., Morphine, "white powder," "soothing stuff," "dreamland elixir," etc., and exported openly or smuggled, secretly by way of the East Indies and Formosa.

Almost every Japanese drug dealer or peddler in Manchuria sells it in one form or another, and does so with impunity because no Japanese can be arrested without complaint being first lodged at the consulate. These Japanese agents and sub-agents the drug may be passed on to disreputable Chinese who frequent the coolie depots and inject a solution, usually very dirty, with a hypodermic syringe which may be made with glass, metal, or even bamboo. Rigorous imprisonment for two years is a common sentence for Chinese found with morphine in their possession, but the principal culprit often escape punishment.

Wu Lien-teh reports that during his five years' residence in Manchuria he has seen terrible havoc wrought upon the population by this drug. Thousands of poor people die in the large cities during the months, partly from cold, but principally from inability to work on account of their morphine habits. The evil appears to be spreading. Enormous profits are made by the dealers in the illicit trade. The profits made are six and a quarter tons by the dealers in China in 1913 amounted to about $4,200,000. Unless stopped it is taken by the medical profession in the United States, the Netherlands and China deposited their ratifications so as to act forthwith

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN SLAIN IN CHICAGO

Eccentric Tenant of Unfurnished Flat Found Drowned to Death.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—In the bathroom of an unfurnished flat, in one of the better residence sections, the police last night found the body of a woman about 26 years old, extensively dressed. Tied from her mouth to the gas fixture above, but the gas was not turned on. One of the woman's wrists had been almost severed with a razor which was found on a window sill in the parlor. The walls and the floor of the apartment were spattered with blood and there was a bucket of water with a sponge in it with which efforts apparently had been made to wipe up the stain. A complete trousseau, white satin gown, slippers, and expensive underwear were found in a trunk in the flat.

The only identification was a post card marked Deatur, Ill., and addressed to Miss Josephine Parker.

It was signed Clara and said: "Do not worry your furniture is on the way."

Mrs. Lars Anderson said the apartment was leased the flat a month ago, but had rebuffed attempts of neighbors to be friendly and she had been called "the German spy."

"She was up and down all day and all night watching the mail box," said Mrs. Anderson, "but no one ever saw any mail in the box."
