A Scott Act Surplus on Water and the Co. Council Don't Know What to Do With It.
—The Waterworks Question—Some thing about Railway Rates.

I see by the minutes of the county council that Huron is troubled with a surplus, obtained from Scott Act, of some $4,000, and doesn't know how to dispose of it. Now, I was given to understand that one of the objections to the Act was that it would prove self-sustaining, and the county would have to pay a portion of the salaries of the police magistrate and inspectors, but if the minutes of the council are correct—and I have every confidence in my old and esteemed friend, the clerk—then there's a hole punched in one of the chief contentions of the anti-lets in an elephant, and in this case the elephant is a white one, for, as I said before, the sapient county legislature didn't know what to do with it. I'm told my esteemed friend, Pat Kelly, the member from Blyth, wanted it for the purpose of laying the foundation for a county poor-house, but that wouldn't work with a majority of the county daddies. Then there was a proposition made to divide it up pro rata (that's a pretty good term, I think) amongst the municipalities that had contributed to the building up of the surplus in the shape of fines, but John Pollock, of the thriving embryonic city of Bayfield, stood on his hind legs for a minute or two with his face wreathed in a smile that reached from his shirt collar to his hair-roots, and put in his little demer against that scheme being adopted, for in that case his constituency, having fought off the Scott Act constables, and having contributed no fines, would not partake of the distribution.

"But, don't you see, Mr. Pollock," said one of the other representatives, "that Bayfield has paid no fines." "I know that," mildly replied John. "Then, in that case, where nothing was received, why should anything be granted?" "Easy enough," was John's reply. "You see, we had to keep up a standing army in our town to drive off the Scott Act constables, and we want to be indemnified for being put to the trouble and expense of keeping up the standing army."

The laugh that greeted John's closing remarks knocked the bottom out of the opposition to his contention, and up to the time of my latest information no pro rata distribution amongst contributing municipalities had taken place, so far as the Scott Act fines surplus was concerned.

Talking about surpluses, I don't think the town will be able to boast of such a thing for several centuries to come if the waterworks committee are to be allowed to make docks and drains of things, as they have been doing. Up to the time of writing this screed I have been informed that an expenditure of some $60,000 has been incurred in public works by our town council, and the end isn't yet, by a large majority. And the mischief of the thing is that the beginning, so far as the source of supply for water is concerned, has not yet been decided upon. The engineer has been engaged for the next three or four months, at a salary of $750, to superintend the waterworks matters, and now Garthore, one of the contractors accepted, comes forward with an application for an extension of time for his supplies. I haven't heard that the engineer has asked for an extension of time for the beginning of his work. More holes in the ground at the dock are talked of, in the hope of getting a sufficient supply, and if that proves to be a failure, then resort will be had to the broad bosom of Lake Huron; but in the meantime the expenditure on the holes in the ground are swelling the indebtedness of the corporation, and proving veritable graves for town surpluses. The monument of debt that will be reared up to commemorate the waterhole fad, will be rather top-heavy for the bantling that will be buried under it. Of course, now that we have gone into the waterworks scheme, an effort should be made to get a good water supply, but I am convinced that there is only one reliable source at present available, and that is Lake Huron. Some will set up the claim that I am no expert, but without any ego on the part of the old man, I am willing to submit

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Latest Political and General News from Ottawa.

Senator Clew's Fad.—The Rise of the League Club—Goodbye, Mr. McLellan—Lord and Lady Stanley—Matters in Quebec—General Notes.

From our Regular Correspondent.
OTTAWA, June 13.

Senator Clew of this city has a great scheme hatching beneath his massive brow. He will move next session to create a Federal District of Ottawa after the fashion of the United States District of Columbia. The idea is to draw a line 10 or 12 miles out from Ottawa and enclose the city in a circle this distance, at all points, from the Parliament buildings. The territory thus set apart would be governed by Government commission, municipal organization ceasing to exist in Ottawa, Hull, Aylmer and other places in the limit. Under this scheme the Government would maintain roads, erect bridges, and generally replace the municipal machinery at present in existence.

A PROTESTANT UNION.
The League of the Rose, which I have noticed in this correspondence, has headquarters in Ottawa, and Mr. Wicksteed, one of the chief promoters has issued a letter as part of the propaganda in which he urges the following: "The British and Protestant better half of the Dominion should drop their political differences and unite to form one overwhelming British-Canadian political party, whose aim should be to obtain concessions and privileges which the Protestants are entitled to."

HALF A CENTURY AT A DOOR.
It is a saying that civil servants seldom die and never resign. Michael Naughton, inner door keeper to the Privy Council, has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his appointment to this post. For half a century this tall, erect, and stern guardian of State secrets has seen many public men and many ministers pass away; it has been all one to him. His age is seventy. The first Governor he served under was Sir John Colborne.

NEW P. O. REGULATIONS.
On July 1st post-offices in Canada will be divided into two classes; money order offices which will continue to render accounts to the Department, and non-accounting offices which will render no accounts. Hereafter postmasters will not retain their salary from the receipts for postage stamps; it will be paid to them direct from the Department.

GOOD BY MR. M'LELLAN.
Mr. McLellan, Postmaster General, is it is officially known, will take the Lieut. Governorship of New Brunswick. The Hon. Archibald Woodbury McLellan is 64 years of age. He was born in Nova Scotia, in whose Assembly he sat from 1838 to 1850, and was shortly afterwards called to the Senate where he sat until 1881, when he entered the Commons. He has been Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Finance Minister and Postmaster General. As Mr. McLellan was a conspicuous figure in the Finance Minister it is only fair to him to say that he has been the most industrious and reforming Postmaster General since Confederation. This is the tribute of officials of the department with whom I have been in contact.

LORD AND LADY STANLEY.
The unostentatious demeanor and friendly bearing of Lord Stanley has favorably impressed the people of Ottawa, accustomed as we were to Lord Stanley exacting all the homage due to a Viceroy. Stanley's request for a quiet entrance when he first arrived abroad that he felt himself to be in a democratic country, and his driving to the installation ahead of the guard of honor proved him to be above the fuss and feathers of a red coat display with brass band accompaniment. I think Canadians will like this disposition. Lady Stanley has a winning personality and an agreeable manner not tinged with an offensive graciousness. She is of fair complexion, embosomed, or what ordinary folks would call stout or fleshy. The aides and staff are nice agreeable fellows, and to the press at all events this will be agreeable news, as all viceregal information filters through the official staff. Capt. Bagot the military secretary, was in Ottawa with Lorne, and he it was who gallantly stopped the tongue that was wagging with the tongue. Lord Stanley, the Governor's most attached son, has gone to England to join his regiment, the Grenadier Guards. He will, however, again return to Canada in a year or two, and spent the balance of his father's term here.

MATTERS IN QUEBEC.
Ottawa has separated from Quebec province by only a bridge we watch their proceedings closely. Treasurer Sheehy has just delivered his Budget speech in the Legislature. For 1886-7 there was a deficit of $324,000. There is an estimated surplus of $93,000 for the coming year. They will spend $783,000 in subsidies to railways.

THE BRIGADE CAMP.

The Volunteers of No. 1 District Under Canvas.

Arriving on the Grounds—List of Battalions and their Officers—The Commandant's Address—Hot Weather but the Boys in Good Spirits.

From the Stratford Beacon.
The citizens were astir at an early hour Tuesday morning, preparing to give the volunteers a right royal welcome. Flags were floating from all the public buildings, numerous private residences and hotels. On the Downie road a steamer spanned the streets, "God Bless Our Volunteers." Further up on Ontario street the streets were announced a "Welcome to Our Volunteers." The depot was crowded with citizens desiring to see the boys in blue, black and scarlet as they came in.

It was 11 o'clock before the first detachment arrived; they were the 27th Waterloo, three companies, with Col. Hespeler in command. At noon two companies of the 27th Batt. (Lambton), in charge of Lieut-Col. Fisher arrived.

GUELPH FIELD BATTERY.
A and B batteries, 8 guns, Major Nichol in command, arrived early in the afternoon.

LONDON FIELD BATTERY.
Capt. Williams in command, arrived about 2.30. Col. Peters, who is in command of Field Artillery, states that Major Larouer deserves credit for his kindness in forwarding the London Battery and part of the 21st (Essex) by special train.

ESSEX FUSILIERS.
The 21st Essex battalion arrived at 3 o'clock. They number 230 strong. Col. Wilkinson in command.

A FINE BATTALION.
The 22nd Oxford Rifles arrived at half past three, seven companies, Lieut-Col. Munro in command. Their uniform is black, have a fine band and seemed to be a smart lot of fellows.

THE BRIGADE STAFF.
Lieut-Col. H. Smith of London, in command.
Lieut-Col. M. Aylmer of London, Brigade-Major.
Lieut-Col. Dawson of London, District Paymaster.
Major White of Arthur, Quartermaster.
Major Lindsay of St. Thomas, Orderly Officer.
Surgeon-Major Brown of London, Principal medical officer.
Capt. Coogan of Chatham, Musketry Instructor.
Major J.B. Smyth of London, Brigade Supply Officer.

INFANTRY BRIGADE.
The following battalions comprise the Infantry Brigade:
29TH BATTALION, WATERLOO.
Lieut-Col. Hespeler in command; Maj. Beaumont, Quartermaster, Simpson, Paymaster, Surgeon, Surgeon McIntyre, Assistant Surgeon Bothford. No 2 company, Capt. Cowan; No 3, Capt. Laird; No 4, Capt. McCulloch; No 5, Lieut. Cunningham; No 6, Capt. Stoborn.

32ND BATTALION, BRUCE.
Major Boyd in command; Major Scott, Adjutant, Surgeon Scott, Assistant Surgeon Martin, Paymaster Kline, Quartermaster Robertson. No 1 company, Capt. Stafford; No 2, Capt. Locombe; No 3, Capt. Jeffries; No 4, Capt. Anderson; No 6, Capt. Douglas; No 7, Capt. Henderson; No 8, Capt. Yaroes. The 32nd turns out in full strength, with the exception of No 4 company.

COUNTY COURT.

June Sessions—Cases Before Court—The Proceedings.

Before His Honor Judge Toms.
[Owing to the pressure upon our new columns last week we were unable to publish the result of the doings at the county court last week. We do so now.—ED. SIGNAL.]
Court opened on Tuesday with a calendar of six civil cases.

The following were sworn in as the Grand Jury: Alfred Delry, Blyth; John Dunn, Stratford; John Harrison, Norfolk; John Johnson, Ashfield; John Harding, Guelph; Geo. Holland, McKillop; Albert Harding, Thomas Kidd, Seaford; Wm. Kerr, Hailey Park, Wingham; Thomas McLauglin, Daniel Robertson, Grey; Wm. McVittay, Colborne; John Martin, Wroster; Chas. Reid, Bayfield; Alex. M. Ross, Egmondville; Thomas Shipley, John Sinclair, Jas. Young, Tuckermith; W. T. Walsh, Goderich; Wm. Waugh, Hensall; John Walsh, Uxbridge; Jas. Young, Brussels.

His Honor's address to the grand jury contained a very strong appeal for the erection of a county house of refuge. He expressed the opinion that those county constables who refuse to act in this matter could not be reflecting the views of their constituents, but only their own individual opinions.

The first case taken up was Hutton vs. Lennon, an action for goods sold and delivered. By direction of His Honor the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $40 for plaintiff.

Steen vs. Dowdell—Action for breach of warranty of a horse. Messrs Garrow, Q.C. and Dickson for the plaintiff; Mr. E. Campion for the defendant. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $40 for plaintiff.

Reith vs. Hoppel—Action for conversion of horses. Jury dispensed with by consent and judgment reserved. R. H. Collins for plaintiff; Messrs Garrow, Q.C. and J. Elliott for defendant.

Steen vs. Dowdell—Action for breach of warranty of a horse. Messrs Garrow, Q.C. and Dickson for the plaintiff; Mr. E. Campion for the defendant. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $40 for plaintiff.

The charge assaulting against John H. Hyndman, Esq., in which constable Bissett was the complainant, and which was traversed from last session, was disposed of by a fine of $5 on Hyndman.

The following is the GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT
The jurors for our Lady the Queen beg leave to present that in compliance with Your Honor's instructions they have examined the jail and find all the rooms clean and in good order.
There are fifteen prisoners confined in the jail; eleven males and four females. Of the eleven males two are insane and two are vagrants, the latter feeble old men; four are committed for larceny and waiting sentences. Of the females two are insane and two are vagrants, both under sentence. Of the insane persons three of them are quiet and harmless, the other is very violent at times. They have all been reported by the Sheriff, and are now waiting removal to the Asylum, and we regret that provisions cannot be made for their removal at once. Of the vagrants the two males are aged 66 and 65 years, both feeble; and one in a complete state of dotage. The females are both weak-minded, not at all fit to take care of themselves; ages, 65.

We strongly concur with Your Honor's views as to the proper idea of a house of refuge, and we regret to find that it is not in a more advanced stage. All of which is respectfully submitted.
THOMAS KIDD,
Foreman Grand Jury,
Grand Jury room, Goderich, June 13th, 1888.

Major J.B. Smyth of London, Brigade Supply Officer.

INFANTRY BRIGADE.
The following battalions comprise the Infantry Brigade:
29TH BATTALION, WATERLOO.
Lieut-Col. Hespeler in command; Maj. Beaumont, Quartermaster, Simpson, Paymaster, Surgeon, Surgeon McIntyre, Assistant Surgeon Bothford. No 2 company, Capt. Cowan; No 3, Capt. Laird; No 4, Capt. McCulloch; No 5, Lieut. Cunningham; No 6, Capt. Stoborn.

32ND BATTALION, BRUCE.
Major Boyd in command; Major Scott, Adjutant, Surgeon Scott, Assistant Surgeon Martin, Paymaster Kline, Quartermaster Robertson. No 1 company, Capt. Stafford; No 2, Capt. Locombe; No 3, Capt. Jeffries; No 4, Capt. Anderson; No 6, Capt. Douglas; No 7, Capt. Henderson; No 8, Capt. Yaroes. The 32nd turns out in full strength, with the exception of No 4 company.

Lovely, Capt. Williams (acting major), Adjutant Davis, Surgeon Swan, Paymaster McLellan, Quartermaster Capt. Sutherland, M.P. No 1 company, Capt. Queen, Lieut. Knight and Thrall; No 2, Capt. Ross, Lieut. Abernethy; No 3, Lieut. Oliver and Horner; No 4, Capt. Heiler, Lieut. Vance and Knight; No 5, Capt. Blakeley and Thompson; No 6, Capt. Ball, Lieut. Andrew and Anderson; No 7, Capt. Von Baskirk; Lieut. Blampie; No 8, Capt. Day, Lieut. Quinn and McKay, with a band 25 strong.

GUELPH FIELD BATTERIES ("A" AND "B")
Lieut-Col. A. H. Macdonald, major of Guelph, commanding "A" Battery, Major Nichol, Capt. Davison (adjutant), Capt. Murchison, Lieut. Knowles and Ross, Battery Sergeant-Major Snodgrass, Battery Major Hood, Capt. Higginbotham, Lieut. Merryweather and McCrae, Battery Sergeant-Major, John Watson.

LONDON FIELD BATTERY.
"B" Battery, Lieut-Col. Peters, Capt. Williams, Lieut. Fairbanks and Heathcote, Battery Sergeant-Major, T. Hood, Brigade Sergeant-Major, Young, Brigade Trumpet Major O'Neil, of Guelph; Brigade Quartermaster Sergeant, Thatcher of Guelph. There are 4 Armstrong muzzle loading guns to each battery.

WEDNESDAY'S PARADE.
The following Battalions formed lines of quarter column in front of staff parade:
21st Essex Fusiliers.
22nd Oxford Rifles.
27th Lambton Infantry.
29th Waterloo Battalion.
32nd Bruce Infantry.
33rd Huron Battalion.

Then the brigade of field artillery, under command of Col. Peters, wheeled to the left, forming in right angle from original line.
The infantry corps were ordered to close in the right to an interval of two paces.

THE COMMANDER'S ADDRESS.
Lieut-Col. Smith then addressed the men, complimenting them upon their soldierly appearance. He hoped they would feel the responsibility of their position. The district was the first in name and it should be first in fact. He looked to the men to assist him in making it so. In order to do that, every officer and non-commissioned officer should know his duty. In fact, the first thing was to obey, and see that the regulations were carried out. The feeling of every one should be that his battalion was the best in the brigade, his company best in the battalion, and himself the best man in his company, and he could only be the best man in his company by obeying orders implicitly, and if they all would do that, this would really be the best brigade in the Dominion. The men were then dismissed to private parades, where they followed out brigade orders to march with arms.

ORDERS OF SENTRY OF MAIN GUARD.
Surgeon-Major Brown of London, and public property in view of post.
In case of fire, or any other unusual occurrence alarm the guard.
Allow no nuisance to be committed on or near year post.
Challenge all persons approaching post, between Tattoo and Reveille sounding.
Pay proper compliments to all officers and all parties entitled to them.

By order,
BRIGADE-MAJOR.
STRAY SHOTS.
The artillery are provided with two caissons.
The main guard is changed every morning at 10 o'clock.
The clergyman's stand is situated near the supply tent.

Several privates of the 32nd Batt. were suffering from a mild sunstroke to-day. The Young Women's Christian Association have a tent upon the grounds. The officers of the Guelph and London batteries have each separate mess tents.
Mr. Starke's barber shop is now in full swing in the camp, under the management of J. E. Smith.

Major-General Sir Fred Middleton is expected to-morrow.
The 32nd Bruce Battalion is the only rural Batt in camp that received orders to go to the Northwest.
Rations were issued yesterday for 2,015 men, the largest camp in the District for 10 years, it is said.
No 1 company of 29th Batt was out for drill last evening, under the instruction of Lieut. Chrystal.
The opinion of the officers of nearly every Battalion in the Brigade is that the camp rounds are far ahead of those of London.

The gun was fired at 5.30 this morning, succeeded by strains from the 21st Batt band, which resounded on the morning air with pleasing effect.
Private Otto Shoemaker, Wm. Noyes and Otto Hoyer of No 3 company, Princeton, Oxford Rifles, were taken ill at the camp to-day. They will be sent home. If the buglers, when told to sound the "fall in," gave the "grab alarm" instead. There was a general stampede among the Guelph battery men who had nothing to eat from early morning.
Lieut. Wells, of No 1 company, 33rd Batt has met with a sad bereavement by the death of his beloved wife. He has leave of absence from 6 o'clock this morning, till 10 o'clock a. m. to-morrow, for the purpose of attending the obsequies.

HELEN LAFONE

OR THE FOES OF A HOUSEHOLD.

A TALE OF ENGLISH LIFE.

CHAPTER XXXI.

"Do you mean," asked Sir Cuthbert, in a low voice and with a very pale face, "that you no longer love your husband?"

"Yes," with a nervous shiver, "that is what I mean. A woman's love cannot live on nothing. You have seen him; you see his care, attention, indulgence, his utter indifference. In his heart he despises me; he thinks I drag him down. I have forced him to love his life with an inferior being. At first I thought it would be enough to be his wife; then I found that would not satisfy me. I have tried to win it, and I have failed. He will never love me."

CHAPTER XXXII.

THE LAST STRAY.

Alice and Sir Cuthbert walked home slowly and almost in silence; when they did speak it was of matters quite different from the one which had just occupied them. It was nearly dark when they reached Brantwood; the windows were lit up, and as they walked up the garden everything about the house seemed to speak of peace and security.

Just before dinner Alice got Percival's telegram. She read it over and then reread it in her hand, saying— "I wonder what his business is. He says he will explain when he comes home tomorrow. He never mentions any of his business affairs to me; that is what rouses my curiosity."

"Do not think he knows himself," she said. "No, and that makes him all the more strange. The clerical men who wrote to him has been here once. Percival met him by accident in the village; he was then a perfect stranger to us both. What business can be possible have with Percival?"

"I do not know, I might have been spared this awful pain, this feeling of myself being deliberately wrecked by my own life; but there might have been other things, and I suppose I shall get used to it. I have a whole lifetime before me."

upon the lips; it is the only portrait I ever saw upon which a smile did not ruin. It smiled down upon me and said— "That is my secret, and I will not part with it. I alone hold the key to his heart, and no one else will ever hold it. You may look in vain in eyes, voice, and smile; you will never find it, and if I gave it you, you would not know how to use it."

"Now, with a bitter smile, 'I bow to Fate,' and I do not hate her. I no longer come here for that reason. I very seldom come here at all; as my heart became dead, I ceased to come. This picture has no meaning to me. I can look at it without envy and with, out feeling."

"What could you do, you must see that the position is unchangeable. Now let us go home, it is growing cold." "I will take you there this evening, you will understand then."

"I wish I could see you more often," she said. "I know that I shall never see you more than now. The mere acquaintance with whom I have nothing in common—nothing; and to have to pass your life with an acquaintance!"

"I do not know, I might have been spared this awful pain, this feeling of myself being deliberately wrecked by my own life; but there might have been other things, and I suppose I shall get used to it. I have a whole lifetime before me."

"I do not know, I might have been spared this awful pain, this feeling of myself being deliberately wrecked by my own life; but there might have been other things, and I suppose I shall get used to it. I have a whole lifetime before me."

what impulse induced me to pour out all my feelings to you." "I hope it was the feeling that I should understand you, and that we are in sympathy with one another."

"I suppose it must have been," she answered rather slowly, and for a moment their eyes met. "He bit his lip. It was hard to hear her say this, but he did not keep his lips silent, and she went on—

"You listened to me very patiently and kindly. I am one of those people who think less about a thing if they may only speak of it. Speaking of that has been a great help to me, and I do not think I could have spoken of it to any one but you. Is that any comfort?"

"I cannot bear it, I cannot," she muttered. "To leave him, to be out of the reach of those cold, kind eyes, those careful attentions which chill my heart. I would give even my beauty. How he will miss it! I wonder, and how will he be the end?"

"I cannot bear it, I cannot," she muttered. "To leave him, to be out of the reach of those cold, kind eyes, those careful attentions which chill my heart. I would give even my beauty. How he will miss it! I wonder, and how will he be the end?"

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Hot water applied by means of cloths is a sovereign remedy for neuralgia and pleurisy pains.

For burns or scalds apply both well saturated with cold clean water, keeping the injured parts covered from the air.

One quart of flour; two cups of milk, generous measure; one-half yeast cake, dissolved in warm water; four eggs, well beaten; one-half cup of butter. Mix over night for breakfast, and set to rise in the dish in which it is to be baked.

QUICK BISCUITS.—One quart of flour; two heaping table-spoonfuls of lard; two cups of milk warm from the oven, one teaspoonful of salt, two heaping table-spoonfuls of baking powder. Chop the shortening into the flour with a broad knife until well mixed, having first sifted the baking powder and salt together with the dry flour. Wet up with milk, handling as little as possible.

RICE BRAID.—Boil a teaspoon of rice until it is quite soft; drain, and while hot, add butter the size of an egg, one and a half pint of milk, a large half-pint of corn meal, two eggs, and a little salt. Bake in a pan one hour, not letting the butter stand too thick.

BOSTON BROWN BREAD.—Three cups of white flour, one cupful of molasses, one teaspoonful of soda, about a pint of milk, salt. Mix the meal with the flour, add the molasses, dissolve the soda in as much of the remaining ingredients, and stir all well together.

BROILED SARDINES.—Take large sardines, wipe, roll in flour and broil. Serve on toast, with slices of lemon for garnish and relish.

To remove stain from marble, take an egg, a wineglassful of turpentine, and mix into a paste with pipe clay. Put the paste on the stain and let it remain several days.

OLIVE COOKIES.—Into two table-spoonfuls of butter rub one large cup of sugar and two quarts of flour. Season with a good deal of orange peel, well grated, and mix with enough molasses to roll thin. Cut in fancy shapes and bake in a quick oven.

If you have plain boiled rice for dinner, and have a little left, it is by no means necessary that this should be thrown away; it will help to make delicious rice for the better; if you have fruit to put in, so much the better; drop by spoonfuls in hot lard, and fry a delicate brown; a little sugar in the butter helps to give it a brown tinge.

To check premature grayness, the head should be well brushed with warm water, and the hair should be washed with a brush through the hair, rather than over it. Oil rather than pomade, should be used. Common sweet oil, scented with bergamot, can be recommended.

Take a bucket of fresh water into your bedroom every night, and let it remain uncovered. It will absorb all poisonous gases.

To cure warts, take a potato and cut a piece of the end, and rub on the wart two or three times a day, cutting a slice from the potato each time used. Very often one potato is sufficient for the cure.

SALTED ALMONDS.—Shell, blanch and spread them out on a bright tin pie dish, add a piece of butter the size of a hickory nut, and stand them in a moderate oven until a golden brown. Take them from the oven, stir them around, dredge them quickly with salt and turn out to cool.

OMELET.—Beat the whites and yolks of eight eggs separately until light, then beat together and add one table-spoonful of cream; put a piece of butter the size of an egg in a frying pan, and when boiling hot pour in the omelet, shake slowly until it begins to stiffen, then let it brown; fold double and serve hot.

CHEESE SOUFFLE.—Beat two eggs very lightly and mix with them a seasoning of salt, pepper and cayenne, three table-spoonfuls of milk and two ounces of grated cheese. Beat the mixture thoroughly, then pour into a tin and bake in a brick oven. Sometimes a teaspoonful of finely-minced onion is added and by some is considered a decided improvement.

Double-faced Canton flannel in wine colour and olive green is much used for lambrequins, table covers, curtains for archways and double doorways, and also for window, but it is liable to fade when brought in such close contact with the sun and light. The trimming is usually a band of old gold, feather-stitched on, and the edge is finished with fringe or a hem.

The thrifty housekeeper does not throw away her old rags because they are soiled. They are carefully washed as our clothes, well dried and perhaps ironed, and laid away in a drawer reserved for that purpose, or put into a bag. Many housekeepers have dusts large cloths used for rubbing as rag handkerchiefs, and are not as liable to be thrown away.

BEEF SALAD.—Take a pound of boiled fresh beef and cut it into small pieces; take the crisp leaves of two heads of lettuce, cleanse and put them in a salad-bowl; add the beef. To this add a table-spoonful of finely-chopped Spanish pepper; pour over the whole a plain dressing and mix lightly before serving.

TEA BISCUITS.—To each pint of sifted flour add one heaped teaspoonful of baking powder, one half teaspoonful of fine salt and mix with sweet milk. Add milk until the dough can be lifted in the spoon and round up in a mass and "roll itself" in a mass an inch or two above the edge of the spoon and not "run off." Then have a gem or roll pan thoroughly heated and buttered, and with the heat roll each level full. Smooth over with a little melted butter to two table-spoonfuls of sour milk. Bake in a quick oven.

The best stain for very dark brown hair is a mixture of one drachm sulphate of iron (crushed) and one drachm sulphate of quinine in one pint of claret. The iron, of course, stains the hair, but it sometimes tends to strengthen.

ABOUT WOMEN.

Washing the hair carefully at home is a great deal more satisfactory in the end than shampooing. Wash with the yolks of two eggs and an ounce of rosemary added to a quart of hot water.

Those who desire to grow fat should not indulge in acids in any form. Eat frequently, and in small quantities, all kinds of starchy foods, such as potatoes, sago, macaroni, tapioca, and vermicelli; also butter, cheese and oil. Drink milk in preference to tea, especially if you have been in the habit of drinking green tea.

A lady who possesses the rare and distinguishing characteristic of graceful carriage assures me that she never would put upon any girl the necessity of observing half a dozen rules in order to acquire the habit of walking well. She tells me that all the instruction she gave her daughters in this respect was that they should hold their heads well up, and that they might always look squarely at any object of a corresponding height with their eyes without requiring to raise their heads for this purpose.

The careless use of the editorial "we" frequently gets newspaper men into trouble, and the use of word "we" to represent the people of the whole country is sometimes as fatal—at least this is probably the opinion of the editor of the Springfield Union, who recently said: "We ate 3,100,000 bags of peanuts last year."—Rochester Post-Express.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

HINTS FOR NURSES.

The Importance of Having Absolutely Fresh Air in a Sick Room.

Absolutely fresh air in a sick room is as necessary as food and medicine, and often more so. In the ordinary process of respiration an adult person breathes over about thirteen cubic feet of air each hour.

Supposing then that a patient and nurse are in a room and without ventilation, it would not take many hours to breathe all the air up once, and the remaining time these people would have to consume the air that had once been through the lungs, and from which had been abstracted about four per cent. of its oxygen or vital element of air and the vapor of the breath and the disease germs still remain in the room.

But it is not simply by the breath that the air is vitiated, for the EXHAUSTION FROM THE BODY. always unwholesome, and especially so during most sicknesses, contribute more than you would believe to the vitiation of air. It must also be taken into consideration that in most cases the air admitted to the sickroom is not perfectly pure. This is especially so in cities.

It is therefore all the more necessary that the air should be often renewed. The air should be systematically changed, it knowing the laws of supply and demand and the danger of discharging these laws.

How shall air be changed? "Doors are made to shut, windows to open." In a hospital this may not be so necessary. In a private house an open fire ventilates a room with ten persons in it. But a stove does not. Few people catch cold in bed if the temperature is right. There are many disadvantages of small bedrooms. Fresh air is not necessarily cold air. You can bring air in through another room and WARM IT THERE. Did you ever go into a small room where a person had been sleeping for even a short time without detecting bad air? How much more important to a sick person, who cannot leave his quarters, that the air should be thoroughly changed?

Do not leave anything standing in a sick room that can vitiate the air. Milk must not stand in a room. It is a bad custom of burning coffee, rags and pasties. Open dishes with evaporating solutions, such as carbolic acid, etc., do no good.

Do not turn a lamp down low. Do not leave half-washed clothes or clothing to evaporate into the air.

Dimly seen objects and half shadowy appearances within the sick chamber add to the confusion of mind produced by sickness, and torture the patient unnecessarily. Where there is a tendency to delirium the lamps at night should be so disposed that the objects first seen by the patient on awaking shall be distinct.

In conclusion the speaker gave a few hints regarding the furniture, the manner of making the beds and the clothing to be used on the bed in a sick room.—Dr. W. E. Ford.

"That, my dear," young Mr. Highcock remarked to his bride, as he pointed to majestic form of the bronze statue, "that is the famous statue of Jersey lighting the World."

Where a Girl Makes a Mistake.

There are girls who, instead of making themselves useful, and calmly resting in their maiden dignity, think only of getting married, and use questionable means to achieve their purpose.

Forgetting the proverb, "The more haste the less speed," this sort of girl not infrequently assumes a "fast" style of talk, manner and dress, in order to make herself attractive to the opposite sex.

In doing so she makes a great mistake. Fish may nibble at her bait, but they will not allow themselves to be caught. A loud girl may attract attention and have half an hour of popularity, but she is a type of the short-sightedness of some of her sex.

Men of the baser sort may amuse themselves with her, but no man worth having would think of marrying her. There is a liberty that makes us free, and a liberty that makes us slaves, and the girls who take the liberties with modesty of speech and manner, and who cross over the boundary into masculine territory, are not more free, but more enslaved than before.

And the approval of men, which is the end in view, is lost by the means taken to gain it. Whatever men may be themselves, they like gentleness, modesty and purity in act and thought in women.

A Profitable Life. Few men have accomplished the same amount of work and good in this world as the celebrated Dr. Chase. Over 500,000 of his works have been sold in Canada alone.

We want every person troubled with Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Headache, Kidney or Urinary Troubles, to buy a bottle of Dr. Chase's Liver Cure, it will cure you. Medicine and Receipts Book $1. Sold by all druggists.

Rural readers who make their own soft soap may depend on the following: Dissolve three and one-half pounds of potash and three ounces of lime in a bucket of boiling water. Let this mixture stand where it will slowly heat for six or twelve hours. Strain the lye off from the sediment at the bottom, and put it in a cool place till morning.

In the evening put two and a half pounds of clean soap fat in a boiler, and turn the lye slowly over it. Stir this mixture thoroughly, and boil it gently for three or four hours; then add three buckets of hot water, and turn the soap into a small tight keg, and keep it covered.

It is generally conceded that a loamy or even sandy soil is best adapted to the production of a full crop, as well as superior quality of potatoes. Good crops have been grown on a muck soil, but white grubs and other worms in such soil often seriously injure the appearance and quality of the tubers.

Both meadows and pastures require some looking after in the spring. If there be a bare or weedy place, throw on a little seed. If the pastures had been seeded last spring, and the "catch" was not good, it would be a good plan to again go over the whole, giving seed as would seem to be needed.

The Scientific American says that copal varnish applied to soles of shoes, and repeated while drying, until the pores shall have been filled and the surface shall finish like polished mahogany, will make the soles waterproof and last as long as the uppers.

The ashes of very old wood do not contain so much potash as ashes of wood of younger growth.

Asbes generally pass well on all ordinary crops, but are especially adapted to the wants of fruit trees, grape vines and all kinds of vines, clover and peas.

A boy who was kept after school for bad orthography said he was spell-bound.

To clerk: Did you ever realize anything in the German lotteries? Clerk: Yes, sir. I tried five times, and realized that I was an idiot.

"What made the tower of Pisa lean?" "Because of a famine in the land," said a boy who got the tower confused with Joseph's brethren.

"And, Johnnie, what particular pleasure do you deny yourself during Lent?" Johnnie: "I've stopped putting pennies in the box for the heathen."

"I'm going to leave, mum." "What for? I am sure I have done all the work myself in order to keep you!" "Well, mum, the work's not done to suit me!"

"I don't, Mr. Sheokun, I didn't forget to ask you, to take off my hat! I'm actually getting daft about-minded! I ain't got common politeness no mo'."

It costs more to renege wrongs than to bear them. Time, with all its celerity, moves slowly on to those whose whole employment is to watch its flight.

The truly great are humble, as those ears of corn and bunches of trees that are best laden bend lowest.

A Wonderful Organ. The largest organ, and one that plays a controlling part on the health of the body is the liver. If torpid or inactive the whole system becomes diseased.

Dr. Chase's Liver Cure is made especially for Liver and Kidney diseases, and is guaranteed to cure. Recipe book and medicine $1. Sold by all druggists.

My wife suffered for five years with that distressing disease, catarrh. Her case was one of the worst known in these parts. She tried all of the catarrh remedies I ever saw advertised, but they were of no use. I finally procured a bottle of Nasal Balm. She has used only one half of it, and now feels like a new person. I feel it my duty to say that Nasal Balm cannot be TOO HIGHLY recommended for catarrh troubles, and am pleased to have all such sufferers know through its use they will receive instant relief and CURE! Toronto's policemen appear to be built on a peculiar pattern. About this time last year a mob of blackguards were allowed to run riot for an hour or two on the principal business block of the city, in an attempt to do bodily harm to a gentleman named O'Brien, whose chief offence was that he had taken the public platform and exercised the freedom of speech that is the acknowledged inheritance of a British subject, and the Toronto policeman failed to put in an appearance to quell the riot.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

West Huron Farmers Meet at Auburn and Have a Good Time.

The third meeting of the West Huron Farmers' Institute was held in Auburn (Manchester) on Thursday and Friday of last week.

President Kernighan occupied the chair and a majority of the directors was present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The president addressed the meeting in an able but pleasing manner, and then called upon Mr. J. McMillan, M. P., who spoke for an hour on the best means for properly organizing an institute.

Prof. Pantou, of Guelph Agricultural College, was the next speaker, and gave a most instructive and interesting lecture on "Rust on wheat," showing the difference in parasitic and seed plants. He showed how the spores of the rust will settle on the barberry leaf and mature, and return to the wheat another year. Barberry hedges should not be planted. A discussion then followed between the Prof. and Mr. McMillan, on the best method of exterminating the Canada thistle, both agreeing that the summer fallow should be ploughed very shallow through the summer and a deep furrow in the fall. This will prevent the appearance of thistles in the crop following.

Mr. John McMillan addressed the meeting on "Horse raising for profit," the heavy draft bringing the quickest returns to the breeder. In undertaking to raise horses for profit, first secure the best book on the subject that can be got; then consult ones own tastes as to the breed he takes most interest in, and stick to that particular breed.

Mr. James Johnston spoke on the "Best manner of preparing the soil for raising turnips." He sows about the 18th or 20th of June, and harvests in November.

EVENING PROGRAMME.

A lecture from Prof. Pantou on "The Formation of the Soil," was well worth going 50 miles to hear. The Misses Kernighan entertained the meeting with some well-selected music. An address was given by Mr. Jno. McMillan, M. P., on "Why the Boys Leave the Farm." Music then followed by Miss Kernighan on the organ and Mr. Dure on the mouth organ. Col. A. M. Ross spoke for an hour on the "Object of Farming the Institutes." Music by Miss Gordon.

SECOND DAY—MORNING SESSION.

The president opened the meeting with a short speech, and called to the platform Mr. McMillan, who spoke for over an hour. Mr. Norman Kernighan read a paper on the different breeds of cattle. Mr. John Washington spoke on the most profitable mode of farming. Mr. Jas. Johnston addressed the meeting with regard to the propriety of discussing C. U. at our meetings. Mr. Jas. McConnell spoke on the same subject. Mr. C. J. S. Natfel deprecated the idea of any discussion on Commercial Union. Moved and seconded and carried by a majority of the members, that a special meeting be held in Dungsannon in October for a discussion on the subject of C. U. Moved, seconded and carried that the next general meeting of this Institute be held in Wingham. The old officers were all re-elected with one exception, Mr. E. Ransford being elected director for Clinton. The national anthem was sung, the whole meeting joining in full chorus. C. J. S. NATFEL, Secy.

There will be service held in the Episcopalian church here on next Sabbath at 10 o'clock p. m., by Rev. A. McMillan, of Maschester and Smith's Hill stations.

Sabbath school will be held in Episcopalian church, at five o'clock, on hour previous to service.

Dr. Case and his bride returned home on Monday. Your correspondent has had the pleasure of congratulating her on her momentous change of life. She looks and feels as happy as she ought to be.

On Tuesday afternoon last a very interesting and pleasing event was consummated at the residence of Mr. Hiscok of this village, it being the marriage of Mr. William Sproul, youngest son of Mr. Andrew Sproul, who is well known in this village, and Miss Rhoda Etzeck. The important affair was performed by Rev. F. V. Campbell, of this place. We wish the young couple a prosperous and a happy union.

Municipal work in the shape of statute labor is being vigorously performed on our public highway. Pathmasters and all concerned seem to take a special pride in seeing each other to perform good work and in making good roads.

Owing to the timely showers the spring crops are so far making a good report of themselves in appearance.

Still they come. Another citizen has arrived in Dungsannon. Mr. Wm. Bagley our popular shoemaker is the happy father. It is an heir.

It is pleasing to state that Mrs. W. E. Grierson, who has been on a visiting tour to her friends near Parkhill and returned home somewhat indisposed, is now convalescent.

OUR COURTESY PROTECTORS.—On Tuesday Major Joseph Mallough (who in military uniform looks quite a military man) in charge of his company, started for the city of Stratford for annual drill service. Among the company is a veteran volunteer, Mr. Hugh McMath, of whose loyalty to his country there can be no doubt as is evinced by his enthusiasm in military affairs. It most requires a good deal of fortitude and courage on his part, to undertake the journey on such an occasion during this warm weather, as he is pretty well up in years. We understand that he has been for a number of years in connection, in one way or another, with military service. We hope that with a Major and all the members of the company, he will return home safely.

Harry Town, of Brussels, started for Winnipeg last Wednesday per C. P. R., where he expects to make his home for the future.

H. W. BRETHOUR & CO. BRANTFORD.

BRANTFORD, APRIL, 1888.

DEAR SIR,— I take this medium for announcing that on the 10th of August, it is my intention to retire from the Dry Goods Department of the business so long carried on by me under the name and firm of H. W. BRETHOUR & Co.

Having had now a long and very close application to business of over Thirty Years, I feel entitled to at least partial rest and release from the cares of a large business.

In making this announcement, I extend to the thousands of customers and correspondents sincere thanks for their liberal patronage, and the universal confidence bestowed on me.

While retiring from the Dry Goods Department I will, however, continue the Clothing and Carpet establishment on a larger scale than heretofore, and more directly under my own supervision.

Special attention will be paid to the Ordered Clothing Department; also to the Carpet and House Furnishing, so as to make them complete in every particular.

Soliciting a continuance of your patronage, I am, yours respectfully, H. W. BRETHOUR.

FARM AND GARDEN

Raised flower beds suffer from drought. To have extra fine flowers, remove half the soil...

Keep the manure near the surface; its strength will go down. A round basin will hold better in market than a flat one.

Liquid manure would now prove acceptable to many pot plants. Old orchards should be manured and ploughed, using lime and ashes.

The importance of having a finely pulverized seed bed is yet too much underrated.

Wet land ought to be well drained, as it is always late in the spring before such is ready to work.

Courants would give better satisfaction if not so generally slighted. They repay very liberally for planting, manuring and culture.

In quite a number of localities strawberries are reported as being badly injured, if not killed out entirely. The same holds good in reference to peaches.

The Concord, though not the best, is the grape that will stand the best and want of favorable conditions of the general grower better than any other sort.

The Western Rural says that there are better varieties of strawberries than the Wilson, there is none that does any better under inexperienced management.

The tea bushes which are cultivated, cucumber, squash and other similar plants may be kept off by covering them with slacked lime or London purple (one part to twenty) with flowers.

Tomato plants that have been brought along in hotbeds or seed boxes must be transplanted promptly to frames using pots, boxes or not, as you choose before they become drawn in the least.

Origin of Two Famous Hymns. The story told about the origin of the two hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul" may not be true, but it is quite in keeping with the character of the two authors, Toplady and Charles Wesley.

They lived in the same town, the story related, and were warm friends. One day however, they quarrelled and for some time they did not even speak. But such earnest Christians could not long remain in this state, and so they began to think of reconciliation.

They met one day in the street, and each spent the same night in meditation and prayer over this matter, and each came to the conclusion that the best way to bring a reconciliation would be to write a hymn to present to his friend.

Toward morning a white dove dashed against Toplady's window several times, and the words of his immortal hymn "Rock of Ages" came to him. During the same night Charles Wesley had also written a hymn which is equally celebrated, "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

In the morning they could not find messengers to carry their messages of amity, they set out to deliver them in person. And so they met on the street, and the unhappy quarrel was healed. The story is perhaps too symmetrical and dramatic to be entirely true, but it is one of those things that might be true, because in keeping with the deep yet simple natures of the men. Such men do not flourish in this age of science and machinery, and this explains how so few great hymns are now written. But the world does not hunger for hymns as it once did. So much the worse for the world perhaps.

Council adjourned to meet again second Monday in July. JAMES PATTON, clerk.

"He Never Smiled Again" No "hardly ever" about it. He had an attack of what people call "biliousness," and to smile was impossible. Yet a man may smile and smile, and yet be a villain still, still he was a villain, but a plain, blunt, honest man, that needed a remedy such as Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which never fail to cure biliousness and diseases of the liver, dyspepsia and chronic constipation of Druggists.

The Millinery at Home. Teaching millinery is a business which begins to thrive. The demand for milliners to go from house to house to work by the day or the hour at rates which economical folks can afford to pay is at present greater than the supply.

The military schools, run by modistes who originally learned their trade abroad, have sprung up and have a good number of pupils each. The girls who learn the trade of range from 13 years old to 25. They give three months or thereabouts diligent practice under training.

Sims of them fail entirely, for only a girl with the touch of the artist in her can be a milliner, but others succeed. When they are equipped they find circles of employers waiting for them, and they go from house to house, like the perpetual dressmaker, doing up the family millinery by the day. It is an immense saving when the results are satisfactory, for they charge $2 to $4 for time in which to connect four or five $20 or $50 creations, and some of the more clever are established very well paying lines of patronage. The house-to-house milliner is an institution. She has come to stay. N. Y. Mail and Express.

More Trouble May be Expected. If you do not heed the warnings of nature and at once pay attention to the maintenance of your health. How often we see a person put off from day to day the purchase of a medicine which if procured at the outset of a disease would have remedied it almost immediately.

Now if Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills had been taken when the first uneasiness made its appearance the illness would have been "nipped in the bud." Johnson's Tonic Bitters and Liver Pills are decidedly the best medicine on the market for general tonic and invigorating properties. Pills 25c. per bottle. Bitters 50 cents and $1 per bottle, sold by Geoderich the druggist, Albion block, sole agent.

Nature's Cosmetic. No surer preventive of wrinkles or a worn-looking skin can be obtained than sleep at the proper time and the odd moments, but, of course, this does not apply to the sleep obtained by artificial means. Healthful and natural slumber is of all remedies for a skin prematurely aged the best, and the society which has the good of her complexion at heart will contrive a regular rest daily—if possible, at a stated hour. One of the most famous beauties of the day—the wife of a well known artist and whose social life is not altogether one of inclination, since there are actual duties involved in it—told me that she made it a rule to sleep daily after her afternoon exercise from 6 to 7, arising refreshed and ready for the duties of the evening, while she was certain that the delicate texture of her skin had been preserved by this means. Certain it is that at 40 years of age this woman has the peculiar bloom of a girl of 20.

"Beauty sleep" is only so called because among the women of the Orient the practice of early sleep at night was cultivated, and in Paris there are few belles who do not take a siesta before attending a ball. Of course the busy housekeeper will smile at suggestions which her home often her nursery makes impossible, but I am inclined to think that with a little effort even such a one could contrive a brief period of rest which might recuperate not only the complexion but the spirits of the governing head of the house.—Philadelphia Times.

"They have a larger sale in my district," says a well known druggist, "than any other pill on the market, and give the best satisfaction for sick headache, biliousness, indigestion, etc., and when combined with Johnson's Tonic Bitters, Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills will perform what no other medicine has done before for suffering humanity." Pills 25 cents per bottle. Bitters 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Sold by Geoderich, Druggist, Albion block, Geoderich, sole agent.

More Remarkable Still. Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years and that is a medicine which purifies and lately introduced, has made for itself a reputation second to none, the medicine is Johnson's Tonic Bitters which in conjunction with Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills has performed some most wonderful cures of impure or impoverished blood, sick headache, indigestion, weakness, etc., soon disappear when treated by these two medicines.

The First Symptoms. Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Maiden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health remains good to the present day."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price 51; 62 bottles, $5.

Don't speculate. Run no risk in buying medicine, but try the great Kidney and Liver regulator, made by Dr. Chase, Ayer & Co. of Chase's Liver Cure for all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowels. Sold by all druggists.

The distressing paleness so often observed in young girls and women, is due in a great measure to a lack of the red corpuscles in the blood. It is remedied by this medicine, which produces these necessary little blood constituents, and the best yet discovered is Johnson's Tonic Bitters. Price 50 cents, and $1 per bottle at Geoderich's drug store, Albion block, Geoderich. Sole agent.

The HARRIS STEEL BINDER.

Having had about fifteen years' experience in repairing machines and repairs, there are a few important items that I have discovered in regard to the Harris Steel Binder, which to my mind proves its superiority over all others:

1. Repairs can be furnished on short notice than by any other company. 2. Orders left with me at 3 p.m. can be filled by 3 p.m. from the manufacturer. This is the most important point to be considered during the busy harvest time.

3. The machines, though light, is compactly built, almost exclusively of steel, and is therefore better able to stand work and weather than most of the others. 4. I am not a travelling man, and can always be found at my shop, attending to business. Farmers wanting the best machine, the most easily handled, the most durable, the most easily repaired, are invited to leave their orders at my shop. I have the largest stock of repairs for various machines of any agent in the section.

THE FASHION. Scotch gingham in all pretty shades are made up in modes for both small boys and the larger, and the brown and deep blues by little boys.

Simple styles are preferred made all in one piece having baby-waist with yoked and full gathered skirt if plain hem and tucks. Two for girls of from three to six sizes with full pleated or gathered skirts, trimmed and almost always with two or a plain pleated basque blouse with deep collar and embroidery.

Dresses to be worn over a made very simply, either waist with belt of imitation sleeves, or with plain, low-shoulder-straps. Guimpe waist of lawn or cotton, or in clusters of feather-stitch or herring-bone, with Hamburg edging and wrists. The sleeves are full, and box pleated or tufted about one-third their length or fancy stitching colors. Honey-comb, or also much used, and has a effect when the diamonds together with a colored trim.

Wide-brimmed hats in both wash goods, are worn by boys in straw hats, or a wreath of flowers or blue ribbon are in fashion for girls. The sailor-suit continues boys from three to seven or eight of age. The square back collar extends half-way down the blouse, and this may be blue and white, plain blue or white for a navy-blue suit. A plastron representing the man's worn without any finish on the way of a standing collar.

Field gingham sailor-dress up for small boys two or three years of age, and has a wreath of flowers or blue ribbon are in fashion for girls. THE FASHIONS.

Scotch gingham in all the various pretty shades are made up in a variety of modest fashions for both small boys and girls, the pinks, blues, and greens being worn by the latter, and the browns, yellows and deep blues by little boys.

Simple styles are preferred, and dresses made all in one piece have usually the baby-waist with puffed sleeves, and full gathered skirts. Skirted with plain hem and tucks. Two-piece dresses for girls of from three to eight years are made with full pleated or gathered skirts, sometimes trimmed with insertion, almost always with two or three tucks, and a plain pleated basque waist or full blouse with deep collar and cuffs of embroidery.

Dresses to be worn over a gimp are made very simply, either with a baby-waist with belt of insertion and puffed sleeves, or with plain, low-cut waist and shoulder-straps.

Gimp waist of lawn or cambric are tucked solid, or in clusters with rows of feather-stitch or herring-bone, and are finished with Hamburg edgings at neck and wrists. The sleeves are often made full, and box pleated or tucked at the top about one-third their length, with feather or fancy stitching in white or colors. Honey-combing, or smocking, is also much used, and has a very pretty effect when the diamonds are caught together with a colored thread.

Wide-brimmed hats in sailor and Tam-O-Shanter shapes, in both straw and wash goods, are worn by boys and girls. Leathers and straw hats, lined with a wreath of flowers or butterfly bows of ribbon are in fashion for girls.

The sailor-suit continues popular for boys from three to seven or eight years of age. The square back of the sailor-collar extends half-way down the length of the blouse, and this may be striped blue and white, plain blue, pink, or white for a navy-blue suit. The striped plastron representing the middy's shirt is worn without any finish on the top in the way of a standing collar.

Plaid gingham sailor-dresses are made up for small boys two or three years, the skirt being entirely of the gingham and the blouse of white cambric, with deep sailor collar of the gingham; the gingham is also used for a box-pleated front of the blouse and for turned up cuffs on the sleeves. White flannel sailor suits are similarly made.

For boys when they leave off the blouse and kilt skirt, the first suit is the shirt-waist or blouse with kickers or knickerbockers. The "Man-o-war" suits are made with blouse waists, and trousers reaching to the feet, of navy blue flannel, trimmed on collar, and cuffs, and down the outside of the legs with two or three rows of narrow white, red, silver or gold braid. These suits, as well as jersey suits, with blouse, or jersey, and knickerbockers, are worn by boys from four to eight years of age.

Avoid the use of calomel for bilious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

It is Haggar's Sign? A shaft sunk outside the great walls of the city of Jerusalem, near the southwest angle, disclosed an ancient pavement 23 feet beneath the present surface, and 20 feet below that a second pavement. There, amid fragments of pottery and glass, a gentleman's seal was found. It is about the size worn today in gentlemen's rings, and is a finely-grained black stone, inscribed "Haggar, the son of Shebnaiah." The letters resemble those employed during the age of the captivity in Babylon. The prophet Haggar was one of the exiles who returned with Zerubbabel. "He is," says Mr. King, "the only one of the minor prophets who mentions a sign, and one can imagine him holding the ring upon his finger before his leader's eyes to emphasize the words which close the book of the prophecy which has come down to us under his name: 'I will take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shebnaiah, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a sign: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of Hosts.'"

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Sick Stomach, Cramps, Colic, Diarrhoea and Cholera Infantum, that has yet been discovered. Its popularity increases each year. All medicine dealers sell it.

Some of the little gingham dresses are almost as handsome as silk. Many of them are made without linings, even though they are tight fitting and are worn with gimpes. A full vest looks well with revers slope the same width all the way down. The draperies are long and square, with opening on each or one side or the apron is round and drawn up by short strings on each side. Cuffs and collar are of embroidery or of the stripes or plaid cut bias. This is suitable for Scotch gingham in plain, frise or open stripes, or the small checks that are always neat and stylish in appearance. Small figured satens are used mostly for young girls, and are trimmed with embroidery, or a white vest with cuffs and collar of white pique. A drowsy little toilet is of cream muslin veiling, the skirt gathered, a deep hem feather stitched with silk. The full waist has a straight yoke of brown velvet. The neck cut round and large full puff forms the short sleeves. A gimp waist of white embroidered muslin is worn with this.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Valuable Discovery. F. P. Tanner, of Neabing, Ont., says he has not only found B. B. B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he has also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that he has ever been taking. B. B. B. is the great system regulator.

One great reason why the work of reformation goes on so slowly is because we all begin on our neighbors and never reach ourselves.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Kindness is not so much shown in the coat of presents, but in the way of presenting them.

Sorrows are like thunder-clouds—in the distance they look black, over our heads hardly gray.

He who does not help us at the needful moment, never helps; he who does not counsel at the needful moment, never counsels.

To extricate a well, the greatest comfort and blessing is, not that we get rid of the weeds themselves, but that we make it other place for flowers.

The more a man follows nature and is obedient to her laws, the longer he will live; the further he deviates from these, the shorter will be his existence.

To be happy in no selfish indulgence, no favored condition of fortune; it is a duty we owe to others and to ourselves, a state of mind which we should all strive to acquire.

Our neighbors may think of us exactly what they like. Half the string of poverty is gone when one keeps house for one's own comfort, and not for the comments of one's neighbor.

The delights of thought, of truth, of work, and of well-doing will not descend upon us like the dew upon the flower without effort of our own. Labor, perseverance, self-denial, fortitude, watchfulness are the elements out of which this kind of joy is formed.

When a man's conscience begins to get hard it does so faster than anything in nature. It is like the boiling of an egg. It is very clear at first, but as soon as it gets cloudy it hardens rapidly.

Do not grow old too fast. Try to keep your sympathies fresh, and your interests in little things active. Gray hairs and wrinkles you cannot escape, but you need not grow old in feeling unless you choose.

He who complains that the world is hollow and heartless unconsciously confesses his own lack of sympathy, while he who believes that people as a whole are kindly and humane is certain to have the milk of human kindness in his own nature.

Enrich the Blood by the use of Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine, which supplies the necessary blood building material.

Almost all of us live more in the future than in the present. Those who live mostly in the past are on the high road to woe sorrow than they know. To the healthy mind the future has always the treasure to which the present holds the keys.

Quite correct. I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and found it the best remedy I ever used for Dyspepsia and all Summer Complaints among children, and I think no household should be without it. Mrs. A. Baker, Ingoldside, Ont. 2.

There is no such thing as utter failure to one who has done his best. Were this truth more often emphasized, there would be more courage and energy infused into sad and deponding hearts. The compensation may seem shadowy and afar off, but it is not so. It attends every one who is conscientious, painstaking and resolute, and will never desert him, whatever may be the fate of his exertions in other respects.

Give Them A Chance. That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and lung and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is take Roscoe's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. Cowly

Elder Jones: "Well, Brother Smith, how many have you in your new church?" Elder Smith: "Oh, two hundred and some odd. How many have you?" Elder Jones: "Two hundred and all odd."

Not a Book Agent Mr. Goode, druggist, is not a book agent, but has the agency in Goderich for Johnston's Tonic Bitters, which he can heartily recommend for any complaint to which a tonic medicine is applicable. This valuable medicine has been with most astonishing good results in cases of general debility, weakness, irregularities peculiar to females, extreme paleness, impoverishment of the blood, stomach and liver troubles, loss of appetite, and for that general worn-out feeling that nearly every one is troubled with at some part of the year. Don't forget the name Johnston's Tonic Bitters 50c. and $1 per bottle at Goode's drug store, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent.

The walking was especially slippery one day when a Hibernian seems to have had a particularly unfortunate time of it, for, describing his experience, he said in the most emphatic manner, "Faith, the walking was that slippery that I fell four times before I was able to get up once."

Dangerous Counterfeits. Counterfeits are always dangerous, more so that they always closely imitate the original in appearance and name. The remarkable success achieved by Nasal Balm as a positive cure for Catarrh and Cold in the Head has induced unprincipled parties to imitate it. The public are cautioned not to be deceived by nostrums imitating Nasal Balm in name and appearance, bearing such names as Nasal Cream, Nasal Balsam, etc. Ask for Nasal Balm and do not take imitation dealers may urge upon you. Fair sale by all druggists or sent post-paid on receipt of price (50c and $1) by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Ready Recourse.

The ravages of Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoea, Dysentery and other summer complaints among children during the hot weather, might be almost totally prevented by having recourse to nature's sovereign remedy for all bowel complaint, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Some of the new poisons have a Vandeyke panel falling loose at the left side, ending in a handsome beaded pendant. Gathered fichu are arranged on one side, with sleeves for mitts, in thin transparent materials, and lovely lace arrangement on the other. There are also "V" shaped pieces lot in, which, in costly evening dresses, reach almost to the belt front and back. These pieces are made of lace, net or crepe filasse.

The best regulators for the stomach and bowels, the best cure for biliousness, sick headache, indigestion, and all affections arising from a disordered liver, are without exception Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills. Small in size, sugar coated, mild, yet effective. 25 cts. per bottle sold by Goode, druggist, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent. [a]

There are many indications of worms, but Dr. Low's Worm Syrup meets them in every case successfully.

Don't Speculate. Run no risk in buying medicine, but try the great Kidney and Liver regulator, made by Dr. Chase, author of Chase's recipes. Try Chase's Liver Cure for all diseases of the Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowels. Sold by James Wilton, druggist.

COUNTY CURRENCY.

Pencilings and Soisoring from Exchanges.

Items from all over Huron County, Collected and condensed from the Point-the Pick of the Grist from our Exchanges.

Donnan MacArthur, of the 7th Co., Morris, has left a fine out of the 'Prince of Wales.'

A little daughter of Alex Jamieson, Brussels, died on Monday morning and was buried on Tuesday. The parents have the sympathy of their friends.

Joseph Laird has disposed of his house and lot on Flora street, Brussels, to Jno Angus. Mr Laird and family will, probably, remove to California before long.

An unfortunate man named Richard Stuart, from Seaford, has been admitted to the city hospital, suffering from a severe fracture of the knee-cap sustained by a fall. He is progressing favorably.

A couple of Brussels youths were up before the bench for defacing fences with pocket knives last week. This should be a warning to all others as the authorities are determined to put a stop to this kind of work.

S. Dickson, Seaford's worthy post master, has purchased from his father the two hundred acre farms on the 11th con of Grey, near Brussels. They are among the very best farms in the county.

The Seaford Caledonian Society have decided to hold their annual games on the Recreation grounds on Tuesday, 4th September, for which occasion an extensive and varied program will be prepared.

Last Monday Wm Blashill Sr, Brussels, passed away after a brief illness at the advanced age of 75 years. He had enjoyed good health and was a great worker for an old man. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon.

We are pleased to learn that Wm Grieve, of Turckensmith, who has been confined to bed for over two weeks with a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs, and who has been in a very dangerous condition, has now taken a turn for the better, and his medical attendant has good hopes for his recovery.

The air is full of rumors about a big black bear being seen along the Maitland near Alex Delgatty's. The local sportsmen were in hot pursuit but have not succeeded in capturing him. Sandy got a shot at him but the fact of it seems to be that brain enjoys the sport and is supposed to have crossed the gravel road near the town to give some amusement to the people of the 6th concession of Morris. We expect to hear from his bearship again.

John F. MacLaren, who for the past five years has been connected with the oatmeal mills in Seaford, has accepted an engagement with the Messrs Ogilvie and goes to Toronto to manage their business in that city. Mr MacLaren was a general favorite both in business and social circles here and many will regret his removal from the town. Prior to his departure his late employers presented him with a handsome gold watch as a mark of their esteem and appreciation of his services.

The Exeter Times says: John Vail, the young man who has made his name so well known in Exeter as a man of no thought or character, was again arrested in Friday last and placed in the "cooler." He had not been in long when Magistrate Clarke could be seen wending his way up Main street with his lawyer, J. A. Anderson. An admission fee of 25c which will include refreshments will be indulged in. The gathering will be held on the park adjoining the church and will likewise be utilized as a reception meeting to the new minister, Rev J. A. Anderson. An admission fee of 25c which will include refreshments will be charged. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Called Hence—With regret many here learnt of the death of Andrew Cook (formerly a resident here and brother of Joseph Cook), who on Saturday morning last passed peacefully away at his home near Clinton, after a month's illness, borne with Christian resignation. A large circle of friends and relatives mourn for one who was a general favorite with all who knew him. Quite a number from here attended the funeral on Sunday last.

Mr Spence Allen, of Goderich, preached here on Sunday.

Goderich Township.

One of the most pleasing events which has ever been the lot of your correspondent to witness, took place at the residence of Mr Matthew Johnston, on Wednesday evening, June 20th, at 6 p.m., being the marriage of his daughter Emily, to Mr John B. Graham, of Sheperdton. The bride was the recipient of very many useful and valuable presents, and a large number of friends and acquaintances were in attendance from Seaford, Varna, Sheperdton and other local points. Also Mrs John E Johnston, of Port Arthur, and J G Thompson, of Kincardine. Mr William Graham, brother of the groom, and Miss Johnston, sister of the bride, officiated as groomsmen and bridesmaid, in a very efficient manner. Supper being over the guests indulged in the various amusements peculiar to such occasions, until the wee sma' hours, when the happy couple started for their home at Sheperdton, amidst a shower of rice, and followed by the good wishes of all friends and acquaintances.

Liquid Manure.

It is chiefly in the summer time, when plants are in active growth, that liquid manure is applied to them. It is a mistake to give plants that are not well rooted much of it, but when they have plenty of roots, and are growing from everywhere, it is beneficial; but as liquid manure is often a source and always a valuable commodity, it should be used in such a way as to secure the best possible return from it. In the case of plants in pots, when they have many roots they are always apt to become quickly dry in hot weather, and many of them are often so dry that when the water is given them a large quantity of it passes through the soil and runs to waste. It is a mistake to allow manure water to be wasted in this way, it does the plants little or no good. The most economical and advantageous way

Dunlop.

A funny couple, somewhat passed the middle stage of life, took each a side of the road near the windmill, lying at full length somewhat slumped from partaking of something stronger than the pure cold water, from a large black bottle. The chatter of a posse of girls en route to Leeburn, to attend a meeting, aroused them to their feet, which put the girls to flight. A next neighbor, hearing their choice language, stepped over with some kind advice to the Grannie and Robin to cross to the Leeburn borders from which, he said, they would meet a warm reception. Picking up his bundle Robin and Grannie aided by a stick, started northwards, and the church sheds being before them they intended to select quarters for the night. People gathered at the church changed their minds about lodging there. Another house took Robin's fancy, but Grannie showed she was born, and another house was chosen by her. In the morning a good sleep left no effects of last night's potations, and bright and early one of the farmhouses a good breakfast was eaten, to which Robin asked the blessing, remarking to his host he was from Jamaica-St. Glasgow. The black bottle was filled with pure cold water. They proceeded on their journey northward after thanking his host for his kindness.

Joseph Morris, now of Buffalo, New York State, is up on a vacation of several weeks, visiting under the parental roof. During his sojourn from the Bisen city he is visiting and seeing a large circle of relatives and friends, and besides, meeting so pleasant a greeting from the fair one that perhaps one of them may remind him of the important privilege that 1888 gives to them.

The township cabinet were in our burg last week, followed by an immense procession of buggies and horsemen, who halted at every hole and break on the roads, and the reeve, acting as auctioneer, with the hammer, took in the bids of "how much so and so would do the job of repairing for the township."

Wm. Quaid of Port Albert, visited here last week.

Miss Anna Cumming has returned from a pleasant two weeks visit to friends at Kingsbridge.

Garbraid.

The Blue Bend, well known to many who travel to town at the end of the round Dunlop hill, has been much improved, by our genial pathmaster, J. Morris, who has put plank crossings over the pathway where it caved in this spring, with a railing at the far side, fixing the pathway so that scholars coming from the city last Saturday, were not in the least inconvenienced in the morning by running down it in safety. The baby carriage got up it now without a spill, and down it without brakes; also any knight returning home with his fair one need not go Indian file, as they fear to do after dark, so nice and broad the path is now.

Leeburn.

The murmuring waves of lake Huron along the Barton Farm were drowned by the merry shouts and laughter of the Sabbath School children, who gathered with their superintendent and teachers, on the afternoon of Thursday last week, in the tall birch's shade on the lake bank for their picnic. Many parents were present and seemed like the little folks to enjoy the games. In base ball supper batting was made by Jas McManus, J. Shaw and Joseph Maywood, while the little folks had a good time in running races, playing parlor quills and croquet.

One of the prime movers in the Cincinnati Exposition is Mr J F Nicholson, a former Canadian, who collected the guarantee fund of $1,250,000. Mr Nicholson was born in Galt and served time in the legal office of Mr Thomas Hodgins, Q.C., in this city. He will be remembered by the lovers of sport as a prominent athlete and enthusiastic lacrosse player. He is now one of the leading wealthy men of the Southern city.

Mr Blue will have his exhibit completed by the 4th of July, when the grand opening of the exposition will take place. The buildings will cover ten acres, and it is expected that the exhibition as a whole will attract an immense number of visitors, most of whom will be from the west and the extent of Ontario's mineral wealth.

Mr Doney, an Ottawa boot and shoe merchant, has a grievance. He put an ingenious toy in the window of his store, and a large crowd stopped to see it. The merchant has accordingly been hailed before the police magistrate for promoting obstructions to the street traffic, or some such offence. The magistrate contends that a shop window cannot legally be made so attractive that the sidewalk will be blocked by curious spectators. Certainly an interesting window display is an excellent advertisement for a merchant's goods, but it is not nearly so cheap a method of advertising as a dispute like the one now in progress.
