The Die is Cast For Better or For Worse.

CHAPTER XXXII. Forgiven! When Lashmore grew strong enough, he and Kittie came up to London. She had written and invited the "boys" to a dinner at the Potted Shrimp, the little restaurant where they had given her her return feast; she asked permission to bring a friend, and she signed herself simply "Kittie." The boys were delighted; they had wondered what had become of her and had feared that she had disappeared again. They all came; there was not one absent. Something extraordinary in the way of a menu had evidently been ordered, for the proprietor of the restaurant was all importance, and Fritz was one beaming smile.

The little room was full; they were all talking of Miss Kittie, of course, and wondering who her "friend" might be, when Kittie entered, accompanied by a handsome, stalwart young man, who regarded them with a smile, as if he already knew them and was very, very glad to see them. The cheer which rose at her entrance died away, and they regarded him curiously.

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sleep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."—Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 54, North Oxford, Mass. Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old-fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition. For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

and the proprietor rushed in with fresh glasses; the feast proceeded; by Kittie's permission, cigars and pipes were lighted; and not till the proprietor reluctantly came to tell them that it was closing-time did the finish come. But it was not to be a finish, Lashmore declared. There were to be ever so many more dinners; "Miss Kittie" was not to pass out of their lives; her husband was now one of the boys; they must come down to Herondyke; and Bickers was made to promise solemnly, almost an oath, that he would bring his mother.

When they got back to the hotel that night, Kittie half-crying, half-laughing, in Irish fashion, drew Lashmore's head down to her and kissed him, murmuring between her happy sobs:

"Oh, Harry, there is no one like you, no one!"

Not satisfied with becoming one of the boys, Lashmore insisted upon making little pilgrimages to the places where Kittie had spent her early years. He not only wanted to see them on his own account, but to show her how completely he had forgiven her for the deceit which had made her his. So they went to the house in Denbeigh Street, to the old rooms, where Kittie shed a tear, and Lashmore almost paralyzed the landlady by the magnitude of his tip. They went to the baker's and saw Hagnes Hevangeline, who screamed with delight at the sight of Miss Kittie, and screamed more loudly when, hugging her in her arms, she heard who she was.

They even went to the attics in the slums where Kittie had moistened her needlework with her tears and explained some of her sin. She was happy at these moments, full of appreciation of his goodness to her; but there were other moments when she was keenly conscious that her expiation was not complete, that some of her punishment had still to be borne. There was the other woman, the girl whose name she had taken, whose place she had so wickedly filled. She had still to meet Eva Lyndhurst, to make confession, to humbly plead for forgiveness.

A Child of Sorrow.

CHAPTER I. No one, however much given to flattery, would have called Carrie—Carrie with her aspiring nose, green-grey eyes, and restless lips—pretty at this period; indeed, as Carrie often said, Maida had monopolised all the beauty in the family. Hers was a face to describe: a clear oval—like that one sees in some of Cosway's miniatures—large blue-grey eyes; lips, not of the "Cupid bow" order, rather large but exquisitely moulded and extraordinarily mobile; dark hair, almost black, soft, and "lit by strange lights"; all these items give little or no idea of the peculiar fascination of the face, and utterly fail to describe the secret of its charm, which probably lay in its marvellous expressiveness. It was literally a speaking face; so eloquent that Carrie had once declared with picturesque emphasis that if Maida were dumb she, Carrie, would always know what her sister wished to say by watching her eyelids. And yet at times her face was capable of infinite repose, repose so perfect and unconstrained that, looking at it, one felt inclined to hold one's breath lest some word or thought should break in on its exquisite calm. There was a difference of five years between the two girls, but in these periods of repose Maida looked little older than Carrie.

Maida's was an ethereal type of beauty, but, notwithstanding its pure and spiritual character there was a hint of that capacity for loving which belongs more largely to women of genius than to the ordinary members of her sex. Alas! that it should carry with it the capacity for suffering as well as loving!

The room in which the girls sat was the sitting-room in a Bloomsbury lodging-house; comfortable enough, though the space was limited and the

Could Not Lift Stick of Wood Would Almost Faint From Severe Pain in Back—Doctors Could Not Get the Kidneys Set Right.

Benton, N. B., May 28th.—A great many people suffer the results of deranged kidneys and do not understand the cause of trouble or the way to obtain cure. The writer of this letter suffered excruciating pains in the back and in vain his physician tried to cure him. For some reason or other his medicines did not have the desired effect.

Mr. Otis' brother was a merchant selling, among other medicines, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and he heard his customers telling about how they were cured of kidney derangements by their use. This led to Mr. Otis putting them to the test, with the splendid results reported in this letter.

Mr. E. C. Otis, Benton, Carleton County, N.B., writes: "I am glad to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered from my kidneys, which at one time were so bad I could not lift a stick of wood without getting on my knees, and then would almost faint from the pain in my back. I consulted a doctor about it, and he gave me some medicine, but it did not help me. My brother, who is a merchant, and carries all your medicines, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got one box, and they helped me, so I got another one, and kept on until I had taken five boxes, which cured me. I have had no trouble with my back since, and am never without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house. Last summer I also suffered from piles. I used three boxes of your ointment, and it cured them. I can certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Pills and Ointment."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills one Pill a dose, 25c. a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

There were the usual half dozen rep-covered chairs, the usual sofa laid in the same material—with the spring broken and sticking up in a lump that brought confusion upon the hapless individual who sat down suddenly and unprepared; the usual lithographs and engravings—one, the Landseer Dog, Carrie had turned with its face to the wall; declared that every time she looked at it she wanted to bark—the usual shiny and sticky sideboard, with the stereotyped electro teapot and salver—the plating much worn off—and there would have been the usual anti-macassars, but Carrie, on the day the family took possession, had rolled them into a neat bundle and hidden them away—under the bed, it was supposed. She could just stand the rep furniture, the pictures—all but the Landseer Dog—and the rest; but she said she drew the line at anti-macassars.

Maida could have endured even them, as she endured most things; indeed, she was only half-conscious of them. Nothing of beauty was unnoticed by her; it was, as Keats says, a joy forever to her; but her exquisitely attuned mind had the happy knack of ignoring the ugly and the commonplace, the vulgar and the vile; those lovely eyes of hers, "fixed on the stars," as Carrie said, walked by them, avoiding them, so to speak, as one unconsciously avoids a puddle or a newly tarred fence, the black, but not necessarily wicked, sweep, and the floury, but useful, baker.

It was the energetic Carrie who not only noticed the ugly and the commonplace in life, but resented them. Maida lived in the clouds, but Carrie, as she herself declared, was not only practical, but of the earth earthy. She it was who, though she was so much the younger, ran the house, and looked after her own and Maida's raiment.

That the two girls were well clothed, with a refinement of taste which filled the other female inhabitants of Colderidge Street with envy, malice, and all uncharitableness, was due to Carrie's undoubted talent for picking up bargains and "enormous sacrifices" at the drapers' sales and her still more valuable capacity for making up the same into frocks, jackets, capes, hats, and bonnets.

Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

AN IDEAL PLAY SUIT AND COMFORTABLE SCHOOL DRESS.

2069—In cool lawn or dimity, serviceable gingham or seersucker, this model will be very desirable. It is also nice for pique, linen, drill, corduroy, repp, and poplin; likewise good for serge, voile and gabardine. It may have a collar or be finished with cool, square neck outline, have wrist-length sleeves with a band cuff or short sleeves. The bloomers are cut with comfortable fullness and will take the place of underskirts.

The Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 3 yards for the Dress and 1 1/2 yard for the Bloomers, of 44-inch material. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A SMART, ONE-PIECE MODEL.

2078—This style is lovely for the new linens, for shantung, foulard, tafeta, gingham and other wash fabrics. It is made in "over dress" style with a guimpe that may be of contrasting material. The sleeve in wrist length has a new shaping. In elbow length, the finish is a neat cuff. The skirt measures about 3 1/2 yards at the foot, with plaits drawn out.

The Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 3 yards for the guimpe and 5 1/2 yards for the dress, of 36-inch material, for a 36-inch size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10-cents in silver or stamps.

Many Think that all Departments of the Government as well as Individuals, Should Practice Economy, But She Thinks They are Not Doing It.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Once again I feel it my duty to drop a line to the Telegram to inform you and the public of a little of the happenings here, with a view to getting the emergency checks put on.

You will admit I feel sure that we are living in an age when economy should be the first consideration of every individual, every organization, and also of the Government in its every department. It behooves us all to set good examples to those with whom we come in contact. Economy is not in any way connected with meanness. In fact the extravagant man is often one of the meanest creatures possible.

There is a house on Victoria Street, whose agent is a Government official of this town. This house was occupied by Constable M. Grouchy when here, but when he left here for Holyrood twelve months ago, some parties went to the agent to hire the house. They were told that the Government had the house engaged for the policeman who would be sent here to take Constable Grouchy's place. Twelve months, I repeat, has elapsed, and still that house is held in reserve for Constable Grouchy's successor who has not arrived yet. The rent of the house is probably $60 or $70 a year, and only the garden at the rear is being used and that by Head Constable Joseph Sheppard as a cabbage garden.

Now, Sir, everybody will admit that a Government that is satisfied to pay $60 or $70 for a cabbage garden (20 x 40 more or less) for its Head Constable is not mean. But I would ask is it economy, or is it a lesson in economy for the public, the taxpayers of this town? When we are taxed to the utmost to feed ourselves and our families, is that the way to spend the revenue?

Of course I do not blame the Government or the M.H.A.'s of this town for this state of things. But surely some person should know when making out the cheque for that house, who is living there. Should not the name of the policeman be on the cheque or on the books or somewhere?

I like to see our Head Constable industrious, and it does me good to see him going up Water Street in civilian's clothes with a fine pair of long rubber boots on and a pan of plants under his arm, making a bee line for the little garden to the rear of his house that the Government, perhaps unconsciously, is paying such a large rent for; they will be expensive cabbage to some person, or department, even if they are cheap to Sheppard. Of course the Head does not neglect his duty while attending to his little farm work; all his friends feel sure.

Speaking of houses reminds me of another house on Harvey Street vacated by Constable Bussey in July last for which in some way the Government was forced to pay up to the 31st December, although for six months the house was unoccupied.

Now, Mr. Editor, you will agree with me and of course when you agree with me you will agree with Thomas as well, that the two instances referred to above are very poor lessons in economy for our people.

Isn't it strange that while the salary of a policeman is miserably small, the department will allow money to leak away in the manner referred to above.

Thomas is working at the site of the new shipyard, and when we remember that this very place was formerly called the old slip, where vessels were taken up for repairs, it is certainly a curious coincidence. Of ten in my younger days I visited the place and watched the men at work, and I hope ere long to be again able to visit the place and see large ships being turned out by the enterprising shipbuilding company whose agent and experts have just taken up their residence here. Tom says they are fine many fellows, and all is wanted is for a man to stick to his work, be punctual and obliging and there is no fear of him. He told me last night that people are constantly coming in from the nearby outports looking for work. One man came as far as 13 miles the other day and secured work. Fairly good wages are paid out, too, and that in a good-natured, cheerful way.

Regards to all my old friends, success to the shipbuilding company and prosperity to Harbor Grace, is the wish of Yours sincerely,

MARY.

Harbor Grace 24th, 1917.

P.S.—Hope Sheppard will have great big cabbages so as the town will reap some benefit for that rent of the house that is unoccupied.—M.

The Flag of England.

The answer to the English Flag, written by an American school boy aged 14, William F. Strachan, 48 Main Street, Everett, Mass.

Flag of England! I admire you.
How proudly you seem to wave
As you float beneath, my flag, the stars and stripes,
In the home of the free and the brave.

And old flag of England do you wonder?
As you wave as proudly here,
What has brought you back in your long lost land?
Among hearts that hold you dear.

Dear old flag I'll answer to you
And "Hil" try hard to explain.
Why you seem to be so welcome
In your long lost land again.

You are fighting for the right, Old Flag,
That this whole world may be free,
And your daughter flag, the Stars and Stripes,
Flies with you "o'er" the sea.

And the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack
Are the flags that I love best
And this land beneath the Stars and Stripes
I love from East to West.

My old flag you are not proud to fly more
In the land of the brave and the true
And I'm proud you are fighting for the right.
That's the thing we all must do!

And I hope dear Flag of the Allies
In honor you will always wave!
And all true hearts will pray, "I'm" sure
That Belgium will be saved.

So down with the tyrant Germans
And, the cruel ruler of our foes!
He has no heart for anyone,
Just see poor Belgium's woes.

And the brave Frenchmen, too, what else can they do
They must fight to protect their land.
So underneath the Allied flags
The best in the world does stand.

So at your country's call, dear flag,
From North, South, East and West,
From all your broad possessions
Marched forth your very best.

To fight for you, and to die for you,
That all men may be free,
Have I made it plain dear old flag,
From your home across the sea?
WILLIAM F. STRACHAN.

White Bay Blocked With Ice

Reports S. S. Prospero, Which Could Not Negotiate It.

The S. S. Prospero, Capt. A. Keen, reached port this morning from the northward. The steamer had to contend with a jam of ice in White Bay and omitted calling at Harbour Deep going north, but called at these places on the return trip. The steamer was also delayed by fog. She brought back a full freight and these saloon passengers:—
D. Carroll, Miss Duggan, Ridout, E. L. Roberts, W. Duder, J. Roberts, L. Butler, Miss Crowell, G. Peckford, J. Blake, J. Bartlett, G. Peckford, Dr. Sweeney, J. Pelley, Miss Chown, Miss Hann, J. Fielder, B. Keen, Dr. Carnell, Mrs. Carnell, Miss Saunders, Reservists Young, Carter, Rogers, Greene, Button in saloon and 44 in steerage.

The ship got as far north as Belle Isle where she landed a Marconi operator and relieved another who had been there all the winter.

The Prospero reports a good sign of codfish along the French Shore, especially at St. Anthony. Hook and liners did well when the ship was in that locality.

Among the full freight brought along by the Prospero are eight hundred seals, which were collected at Conche, Englee, LaScie, Tilt Cove and Little Bay Islands.

Three Dead in Bank Robbery.

Cashier, His Assistant and One Bandit Killed—Midday Attack at Castle Shannon, Penn.—Posse Captures Robbers.

Pittsburg, May 14th—Police to-night had recovered virtually all of the $10,000 taken from the First National Bank of Castle Shannon, a suburb, today by four bandits who shot to death the cashier and assistant-cashier, bound and gagged a patron of the bank and in attempting to escape wounded two persons.

One of the bandits, John Chetch, was killed and another, Sam Berts, was probably fatally wounded by a posse of townspeople. A third bandit, Nick Yecke, was captured and badly beaten by a mob that attempted to take him from the posse. Efforts to capture the fourth bandit were unsuccessful. All of the robbers, according to the police, live in Pittsburg and are young men.

Entering the bank shortly after noon, the bandits opened fire at cashier McLean and assistant cashier Frank Erbe, who died within a few hours. In the meantime the bank officers had obtained revolvers and returned the fire. The robbers forced an entrance to the safe and stopping skills which have paralleled the success of the police, live in Pittsburg and are young men.

Fighting in "No Man's Sea."

Belgians and Germans Often Clash in Boats in Front of Lines.

With the Belgian Army in Flanders, April 30, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Boating to battle is one of the novelties of fighting on this part of the front, where the Belgian and German lines are separated by five miles of flooded land. Trench raids are almost unheard of here. The only thing approximating them are bombing expeditions carried out from the trenches by the Belgians, skillfully under cover of darkness to the enemy's lines.

"Just at the edge of the water in front of our trench," said a Belgian officer, "we have two little 'caches' where our two boats lie hidden, and when darkness has come we set out on patrol. Sometimes with padded oars, sometimes with punt poles—for in most places the water is quite shallow—we creep toward the German lines. At any moment a star shell may give you away and bullets spurting up the water around you or whistling overhead warn you that rowing about in No Man's Sea is not always a healthy game.

"But the crowning excitement comes when you meet a German patrol boat. Once when I was out with a Sergeant and two men we heard the steady splash of a punt pole in the water coming slowly toward us. We took out the safety pins from our bombs and waited until they were almost on us. And then we let fly. Look!"—and he rolled up the sleeve of his tunic to show a deep scar near his elbow—"I got this from a bit of one of our own bombs, so close did we let the Germans come. But not one of them could have escaped, for at least three of our bombs dropped right into the boat, and there were great bits of woodwork drifting about next day. The strangest part of it all is that the fellows in the trenches on both sides are frightened to fire for fear of hitting their own men. As a matter of fact, all four of us were slightly hit in the run for home, but the Boches never got home at all.

"There's only one other way of getting close to the German in the flooded lands. At intervals there are raised roads running east and west between the wide-stretching lakes—unpleasant little ribbons of land, bordered by two lines of broken poplars, connecting us with the enemy. And far out along the roads are Belgian and German hidden advanced posts. There, night and day, men lie in the mud and listen, in case any one should be fool enough to attempt an attack along that road of death."

Science May Trap the Subs.

New York World: Can a submarine be made to give notice of its presence as it passes through the water and register its whereabouts to watchers on shore far away? The intimation that Edison is working in conjunction with French scientists to perfect an electrical device to locate U-boats at sea stirs the imagination. Science is the great detective; it catches the waves of motion set going by an earthquake thousands of miles away and has instruments to record the thoughts that pass through the human mind. But certainly neither the seismometer nor the sphygmometer can match a mechanism so delicate and precise that it can note and register the noiseless passing of an invisible boat under the ocean's surface far off. This is the very wizardry of science. That the invention is within the realms of possibility will appear entirely credible to a generation which has known the wireless and knows Edison. Assuming that it is made practicable, a certain poetical justice will attach to the fact that the country which gave the submarine to the world should provide a scientific defence against it.

The Issue in Canada

Many eyes are turned today towards Canada in the crisis that has come upon her. It is difficult to predict how she will emerge from it. If her newspapers provide any criterion, there is not another country in world so cursed with politics. Hardly a question of public importance ever seems there to be discussed and settled on its own merits, but rather upon those of its champions and opponents and their political and personal records. The Government is proceeding perforce warily and without precipitation. The Constitution and Extension of Parliament measures are being framed carefully and have not yet been presented before the House. It is a pity that they do not come from a source which would have a better claim and be a better warrant for their immediate and whole-hearted acceptance. The Borden Government has not conducted itself during the war in a manner calculated to compel unqualified admiration, and from one cause or another the tide seems to be setting in strongly against it. The difficulties are very great at this time in the way of the formation of a coalition ministry, but that may well be the result of the struggle that is beginning. And as an accompaniment of the threatened conscription of person the demand is growing louder for some sort of conscription of wealth, a demand which the friends of those in power do not particularly relish. But the position and duty of Canada as a whole are perfectly plain, and she will have the fullest sympathy in her endeavour to measure up to them.

The same cannot be said of the spirit that is plainly agitating the greater part of the Province of Quebec. We hope we will be spared, in the messages at least, many more of the type of utterances which we have had to read to-day. They are rank treason, naked and unashamed and utterly contemptible. Lavorgne, an ex-member of Parliament, in a long rhapsody of fustian can prefer no concrete argument against conscription except that Canada's debt has increased enormously through the war. That is a new view of it all. Canadians will fight for liberty, he says, but not for England. And so we learn that it is for England that all the Colonies and all the Allies are fighting. This valiant Cicero speaks thousands of miles from the sound of the German guns, and he knows it. The proper treatment for persons of this ilk is free transportation to Vimy Ridge or passage into Belgium, where they could observe for themselves the blessings of German liberty. Mayor Martin of Montreal presides at another anti-conscription meeting a few days after he has welcomed Marshal Joffre to his city. Everywhere in the United States and elsewhere in the Dominion the hero of France was acclaimed with honor and enthusiasm. It is left to the French Canadians to be deaf to his appeals and to disgrace the lands of their descent and birth. They are evidently spoiling for a fight with the rest of Canada. So much the better, perhaps. It might help the rest of Canada to shift the contempt of spectators outside onto its proper objects.

Supreme Court.

(Before the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Kent.)

The American Mfg. Co. vs. Kennedy, et al.
 This is an adjourned motion by Mr. Gibbs, K.C., of counsel for the Plaintiff, that judgment be entered for the plaintiff company that it is the owner of one undivided half interest in a mining claim situate at Brigus, C.B. The Attorney General, Mr. Squires, K.C., who appeared for the defendants, produced affidavits to the effect that there was a good ground of defence to the action. Counsel were afterwards heard in argument. The Court took time to consider. Mr. Gibbs, K.C., for the plaintiff, Mr. Squires, K.C., for the defendants.

Highlanders' Church Parade.

The Newfoundland Highlanders held their first Church Parade for the season yesterday morning, by attending Divine Service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Rev. Gordon Dickie, M.A., Chaplain of the Brigade, preached an eloquent and impressive sermon which was listened to with deep interest by the laity and other members of the congregation. The singing and music by the choir was rendered in a faultless manner. After service the Highlanders, together with the volunteers, paraded through the city, the pipes playing the latest martial airs.

The L.S.P.U. Meeting

Mr. McGrath Answers "Union Man," St. John's, May 28th, 1917.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir—My attention has been called to a letter in your issue of the 23rd inst., signed "Union Man" in which several statements are made which are entirely out of variance with the facts. As I was out of town the greater part of the week and did not arrive back until Saturday, I was unable to reply to this letter until now.

With respect to the statement that the meeting was a small one, and that men had to be brought up from the club rooms to discuss the subject, I would say that nothing of the kind occurred, and that the writer must have either deliberately made up the falsehood, or (as I suspect) been misinformed by some one present at the meeting. The meeting in question was very largely attended, probably one of the largest in the history of the Union. A few minutes before the meeting started, as there were subjects of vital importance to be discussed, I sent down to members, who were in the club rooms smoking, to tell them that there was likely to be an important discussion upstairs. If any further proof is needed as to the attendance, it is furnished by the fact that at the meeting we collected in the neighborhood of $180 in membership fees. When it is remembered that the per month fee is twenty-five cents the meeting was a large one.

With respect to the sneer at the want of education on the part of members of our Union, I would remark that such a statement is hardly in good taste, and certainly not in keeping with the facts. Even if the members of our Union were not born with the silver spoon in their mouths, but were forced from early youth to earn their livelihood by honest toil, we yet number, in our ranks, men who have received the highest degrees of the Council of Education, and who had the opportunity, would take a prominent part in the industrial and commercial life of this Colony. Unfortunately the education of our members runs along conventional or "fashionable" lines; we acknowledge that unlike the merchants, and other such "Patriots" our education does not lead us to food profiteering at the expense of the public, or to squeezing from the poor, in outrageous profits the few dollars they have so laboriously earned.

As to the sentiment of the L. S. P. U. I would say that the Union to a man is against conscription selective or otherwise in any shape or form. As to our Patriotism, the fact that the Union resolved that all members enlisting for Overseas Service should be kept in good standing, and that the Union has paid over $2,000 in mortality benefits to relatives of members who have made the Supreme Sacrifice, show that we have made as good a showing in this respect as any body of men in this city.

As you, Mr. Editor, have seen fit to give prominence to this letter and to make the assertions of your anonymous correspondent the subject of an editorial, I trust that you will give to this contradiction the same prominence.

Yours truly,
 JAMES McGRATH,
 Pres. L. S. P. UNION.

Milady's Boudoir.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR HAIR.

Even the healthiest head sheds hair all the time, but from such heads the only hairs that fall are the old worn-out ones which have done their work and outlived their usefulness and drop in order that new and vigorous hair may sprout from the follicles they leave.

There never has been a time in the history of the human race when the possession of luxurious tresses was not an enviable condition. Not every woman can have beautiful, long, wavy hair, but if what she has is not glossy and healthy and well cared for, it is her own fault.

To begin with the head should be shampooed just as often as it needs cleaning. The healthy head is the clean head, and just as much dirt and dust and germs settle on our heads as on our faces. There is nothing better for a shampoo than an egg and an ounce of water beaten together and rubbed into the scalp with the pads of the fingers. There is iron and sulphur in the yolk of an egg which feeds the hair roots.

After rubbing in the egg wash it all out with warm water, till there is not a particle left. Then give it a final rinse in cold water. Dry with warm towels, sunlight, massage and air. If there is a dry condition of the scalp, dip the tips of the fingers in olive oil, and parting the hair, rub it well into the scalp.

The hair is so exquisite and so valuable a part of feminine beauty it should be treated with kindly consideration. As a matter of fact, it is often most woefully neglected and abused, covered as it is with hair from other heads and unventilated hats and being burned and scuffed and twisted and raked with harsh brushes in heavy hands and genuine hair splitting combs.

DISASTROUS RAID.

Town on the East Coast of England, Friday, May 25.—The most ambitious airplane raid yet undertaken by the Germans on Britain, occurred here late this afternoon while the streets were crowded with shoppers and workers returning to their homes. The raiders dropped a large number of bombs apparently in a hap-hazard fashion from a mile or two above the town, killing 76, mostly women or children, and injuring nearly 175 more. The first raider to arrive was the leader of a squadron of five. It was flying at such a height that it could not be seen against the brilliant sunlight, which flooded the cloud-flecked sky, except by trained observers with good glasses. It was followed by the other four flying at a slightly lower elevation. They sailed in a bee-line across the town, dropping bombs continuously. Many on the streets learned first of the raid when they heard the explosions of bombs around them. The zone on which bombs were dropped cut a wide swath across the city with the chief damage in the shopping and residential sections. The bombs, which were of large size, demolished completely the houses and small shops which they struck. Scarcely any part of the town escaped injury. At least 60 bombs were dropped here, falling in a shower all over the town. The greatest damage was done in the shopping centre, but many on the crowded streets were able to take cover.

ITALIAN GAINS.

ROME, May 27. (Official.) Heavy fighting continues on the Carso where our gallant troops yesterday carried another strongly fortified enemy position, capturing 3,500 prisoners and much material. After intense artillery preparation lasting until four o'clock in the afternoon the infantry of the Seventh Army Corps vigorously attacked and carried a network of trenches from the mouth of Timava River to a point east of Jamiano and took possession of the heights between Flandar and Medrezza. Further north, after a hard fight, the enemy's defences at the labyrinth east of Boscomale were broken and Hill 220, southeast of the village, taken. The operations on the northern sector of the Carso were confined to artillery actions. Fighting was very heavy in the Vodice area where the enemy made every effort to dislodge us from the important point of Hill 632, which remained firmly in our possession. After violent artillery preparation, dense masses of the enemy yesterday again attempted to repeatedly and stubbornly attack our lines, but the splendid resistance of our troops maintained our position. The enemy was time after time driven back with heavy losses, leaving more than 300 prisoners in our hands. The total number of prisoners captured so far from the 14th to yesterday was 22,719, including 487 officers. Our airmen flew in great numbers over the enemy's back lines yesterday, and bombarded railway works, munition dumps and batteries, and attacked enemy infantry on the march with machine guns. All our airmen returned safely. One enemy machine was brought down.

HEAVY FIGHTING.

VIENNA, via London, May 27. Violent fighting continued Friday on the Italian front, says the official statement to-night by the Austro-Hungarian headquarters. Fighting was heavy yesterday between Plava and Gorizia as well as on the Carso. Never in two years' fighting has the heroic Isonzo had to face greater efforts of the enemy, says the report.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, May 27. (Official.) Intermittent artillery actions occurred along the greater part of the front. An enemy surprise attack on our small posts northeast of Vauxaillen failed. North of Cerny our batteries dispersed enemy concentrations. On the days of May 23rd, 24th and 25th our pilots brought down ten enemy airplanes and seventeen other machines were forced to land inside their own lines. In the course of numerous bombardments carried out by Escaadrilles in the same period, the railway stations at Mara, La Tour, Chamblay, Confans, Veuziers and Apsy and Biveulea in the region of Laon and other places were bombarded with many projectiles. A total of 12,000 kilos of explosives were dropped, causing considerable damage.

BALFOUR HONORED.

TORONTO, May 27. Before one of the most notable gatherings that ever has been assembled in Convocation Hall, the University of Toronto yesterday afternoon conferred the degree of LL.D. on Rt. Hon. Arthur James Balfour, the distinguished British statesman and Minister for Foreign Affairs in Lloyd George's cabinet. President Falconer, introducing Balfour to Chancellor Sir William Meredith, alluded to the many important positions the British statesman filled with great success. Balfour replying expressed his deep thanks for the high honor conferred upon him. He did not accept the honor as entirely personal, but as a mark of respect for the government he represented. Balfour lauded the great part the University has taken in the war, and paid tribute to the valor of the Canadian troops and the generosity of the Canadian citizens. Balfour spent a quiet morning and at noon was the guest of the city at a luncheon. Sir Wm. Hearst and his colleagues of the Ontario cabinet entertained Balfour at dinner at the York Club at 7 p.m. The distinguished guest left later for Ottawa.

BOMB GERMAN DEFENCES.

LONDON, May 27. A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Amsterdam reports that Allied air squadrons, including British and French, bombarded German defences at Hoyst, Blanckenbergh and Zeebrugge, all in Belgium, last night. The despatch adds that many explosions were observed.

BRAZIL.

RIO JANEIRO, May 27. The committee of foreign relations of the Brazilian Congress to-day drafted a measure recommending the cancellation of the decree of April 25th which declared the neutrality of Brazil in the war between Germany and the United States. The President of Brazil, under the bill, would be authorized to take the necessary steps for the carrying out of this law and put into practice acts which would result from the cessation of neutrality. The Brazilian Foreign Minister presented to Congress a message signed by the President, in which he stated the sinking of the Brazilian merchantmen by the German subs, obliges the Government to take measures of defence against U-boats, and in which the utilization but not the confiscation, of the German vessels interned in Brazilian ports is suggested.

torpedoed in the Mediterranean, May 4th, was being escorted by Japanese destroyers. The destroyers engaged the submarine. According to the statement the Japanese rescued 2,390 out of 3,000 troops on the Transylvania, winning praises of Japan's allies by their bravery. The official British account of the sinking didn't give the number of troops aboard, but said 29 officers, 370 of other ranks and eleven members of the crew lost their lives.

LOSS OF LIFE ON SPANISH STEAMER.

LONDON, May 27. Forty-eight of the passengers and eighty-five members of the crew of the Spanish steamer C'elzaguirre are believed to have perished as a result of the sinking of the steamer. A despatch received by Reuter's Telegraph Co. the date and origin of which have not been made public, reported the loss of the steamer. The despatch says, according to the second officer the steamer sank in five minutes. He was awakened by a great noise, rushed on deck and tried to get passengers in his boat, but the boat was swept away, and almost simultaneously the steamer broke in half. He saw no other boats afloat. Among the 58 passengers missing is the Spanish Consul of Colombo, Ceylon.

The Gas Range!

The Gas Range means comfort for the housewife; shorter kitchen hours for her, and a cleaner kitchen. It is a great mistake to think that cooking with gas is expensive. Whenever a woman becomes used to gas for cooking, thoughts of a coal or wood stove fill her with gloom. A Gas range is so much easier to operate, so efficient for all kinds of cooking, and so much cleaner, that the idea of going back to the old style methods is decidedly unpleasant. Yet in winter many housewives think they must use a coal or wood stove, because there is no other way of heating the kitchen. THERE IS ANOTHER WAY AND IT IS FAR BETTER THAN THE OLD. Carry On.

(By the 18-year-old daughter of Harold Begbie.)

There's Tom that drove a ploughshare And now he loads a gun; There's Dick could reap his acre Now soars against the sun; There's Jack that was a cowman Is watching on a sea All dark with death and hatred, But England's still, and free! Yet the harness shan't lie rusty Because of you and me.

Carry on! Carry on! For the men and boys are gone; But the furrow shan't lie fallow While the women carry on.

Who'll grow the bread of victory, Who'll keep the country clean? Who'll reap old England golden, Who'll sow her thick and green? Who'll teach their teams to whinny At another step than theirs? Who'll toil and ache from chilly dawn With love that never spares? Who'll rear another flock of lambs To crowd the lonely fairs?

Carry on! Carry on! For the men and boys are gone; But the furrow shan't lie fallow While the women carry on.

We may not die for England, We'll work for England then; She's our land just as their land— Deserve her like her men! O Tom, we'd give our comfort To stand where now you stand, O Dick, we'd give our safety To swoop at your right hand; O Jack, we may not plough the sea, Well, we will plough the land.

Carry on! Carry on! For the men and boys are gone; But the furrows shan't lie fallow While the women carry on. —Janet Begbie, in London Chronicle.

Fads and Fashions.

Sports blouses are best made of wool jersey or sports silk. Among fur cape-wraps for summer kolkinsky is a favorite. A lacer of color will relieve the white smock from dullness. Natural colored shantungs and pongees are very important. Jabots attached to starched collar-hands are high novelties. A strong Japanese influence is seen again in Paris models. Wool jersey is still the favored material for practical wear. Neutral colors like tan and gray are preferred for tailored suits. Flesh-color and white continue to be most liked among waist colors.

Don't Get Sour.

By RUTH CAMERON.

We were speaking of a very young appearing woman who is rapidly approaching her forties.

"Not in her face," said someone else.

"You mean—"

"That she is beginning to show it in her manner. I am afraid she is getting a wee bit sour. She's always saying sharp critical things about people and there's a pessimistic bitter note about everything she says. I know she's had some disappointments but she'll have more if she keeps on that way. I've noticed already that people aren't so keen about her society as they used to be."

A Danger of Middle Age.

Does that describe anyone you know?

I didn't happen to be acquainted with this woman but my mind went swiftly to another woman whom it fitted perfectly. So I fancy it must be a more or less common danger for people who are approaching middle age.

And especially, I think, for women who are unmarried or married and childless.

Seeing one's youth slipping out of one's fingers without having received due return for it in the life of the second generation is always a sad thing.

Not to be embittered one needs either absorbing interests of some sort or great strength of character.

And yet, to yield to this bitterness is fatal.

HOLD JOINT CHURCH PARADE.

The annual church parade of the Sons of England Benefit Society, which is held on the nearest Sunday to Empire Day, took place yesterday afternoon and was attended by upwards of 400 members of the Society.

At 2.30 the brethren of Lodges Dudley and Empire assembled at Victoria Hall and were addressed by District Deputy Theo. Thompson, who in a brief address explained the object of the meeting.

On the ranks being formed the society proceeded via Gower Street to Cochrane Street Centennial Church, where the Rev. Dr. Don conducted the service, also preaching a very impressive and patriotic address, taking for his text the words: "Because I am Freeborn." The preacher in his remarks reviewed the past and present history of the British Empire and pointed out in a masterly manner the part she is playing in the Great World War. The music and rendering of the special Hymns by the choir were beautiful and befitting the occasion. The collection, which is always devoted to some charitable or patriotic purpose, was taken in aid of the Red Cross Fund and a substantial sum realized.

After service the parade returned to Victoria Hall by way of Military Road and before dispersing passed a vote of thanks to the clergy and choir of Cochrane Street Church, which was proposed by Hon. R. A. Squires, Past President of Empire Lodge, and seconded by Bro. W. J. Pike President of Empire Lodge. At the close the brethren stood at attention and sang the National Anthem.

SENSE.

Sense is an important cog in the human intellect which never strips a gear in the mud or sand. It has enabled many a man to overcome a stiff grudge without knocking or straining his power-plant with promissory notes.

There are several kinds of sense in common use, the most valuable of which is ordinary horse. This is an exceedingly rare variety, and is more precious than beauty, brains or the ability to sing in the English language so that it will not be confounded with a Russian folk song. People who have been endowed by nature with several thick layers of horse sense seldom have to call at the bank to pay a dark, forbidding, eight per cent. note signed for some near relative who desired to engage in the dry goods business without knowing crepe de chine from chinchilla.

WALT MASCH

The country calls for men to fight against a brutal, ruthless foe; the country's cause is just and right; the bugle's sounding — will you go? Forever honored is the man who springs to arms, without delay, impatient to be in the van to lead his comrades in the fray. His breast with noble ardor burns; he grips his sword and thinks no more of all the trivial concerns of workshop, counting room or store. We hear his martial harness clank, we view him with a jealous stare, while we go paddling to the bank and salt down greasy doubtlooms there. "We'd gladly do our bit," we say, "but while amidst the battle smoke, our little business would decay, our bank accounts would soon go broke. War's perils we would gladly court, and meet the foe with dauntless tread, but we have grandsons to support, and uncles who are needing bread." Some day we'll press our iron heels upon the faces of the foe, but we must close up sundry deals, involving money, ere we go. Some day we'll battle on the land, or on the briny ocean foam, but there's no rush, you understand; we'll wait until the cows come home." Forever honored is the man who rises, at the country's need, above the private scheme and plan, the lure of profit, urge of greed.

Unknown

To Balfour to Invictus Widows and Orphans J. P. Morgan & Co. yesterday the receipt of a single check from a donor was not revealed. Invested by the Board James Balfour and his family supporting widows and orphans of Great Britain unusual among the millions grown out of the war in that it is a most distinguished American citizen.

The statement of the Canadian offices said: "Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co. received from one of our foremost citizens a check for $200,000, which I have handed to our committee as guest, the Right Hon. James Balfour, with the understanding that the money be invested for the poor widows and orphans of Great Britain and Scotland in the present war with Germany. The statement also mentioned the memory of the late Mr. Willis James of the United States. The statement said that the purposes of the fund made known to Mr. Balfour pressed great satisfaction and epous action on the part of the Canadian citizen.

Thomas W. Lamont, a New York City banker, who announced that there was no connection between the check and the lectures as to the war, was quoted in the N. Y. Times.

Argentine Embargo

ON WHEAT EXPORTS

Buenos Aires, May 27.—The Government today prohibited the export of wheat.

It was the Government's announcement of an embargo effective early in June, Britain, backed by the United States, threatened to cut off coal to Argentina. The embargo is entirely against imported coal, particularly an enormous quantity of wheat, the same to be in effect from the beginning of the autumn, when the harvest was harvested.

Whether the embargo regard to this agreement, land, or is an independent Republic, was not stated.

Unknown Donor Sent $200,000 Check

To Balfour to Invest for British War Widows and Orphans.

J. P. Morgan & Co. announced yesterday the receipt of $200,000 in a single check from a donor whose name was not revealed, which is to be invested by the Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour and the income used in supporting war widows and orphans of Great Britain. The gift is unusual among the many philanthropies grown out of the war in Europe in that it is a memorial to a distinguished American and his wife.

The statement issued by the Morgan offices said: "Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co. have received from one of New York City's foremost citizens a letter of which the following is an extract:

"I enclose please find my check for $200,000, which I would thank you to hand to our country's distinguished guest, the Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour, with the request that the money be invested for the benefit of the poor widows and orphans of England and Scotland, caused by the present war with Germany. This contribution is given by me in loving memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. Willis James of this city."

The statement concluded by saying that the purposes of the gift had been made known to Mr. Balfour, who expressed great satisfaction at this generous action on the part of an American citizen.

Thomas W. Lamont of the Morgan firm, who announced the gift, said there was no comment to make. "Conjectures as to the giver," he remarked, "are likely to prove incorrect."

Argentine Again Places Embargo

ON WHEAT EXPORT. Buenos Aires, May 17.—The Argentine Government to-day announced a prohibition on the exportation of wheat.

It was the Government's second announcement of an embargo. The first, effective early in April, was held in abeyance through protest of Great Britain, backed by the United States. At that time the British Government threatened to cut off all shipments of coal to Argentine. Inasmuch as the republic is entirely dependent on imported coal, paralyzation of its industries was thus threatened.

The United States was reported to have joined in this application of pressure on Argentine, and in the face of this combination, too powerful for Argentine to resist, the original embargo was changed. "The settlement provided that England should be permitted to purchase an enormous quantity of Argentine wheat, the same to be repaid late in the autumn, when the Australian crop was harvested.

Whether the embargo to-day is with regard to this agreement with England, or is an independent step by the Republic, was not made known.

ge Damaged by Fire.

Shortly after last midnight the Central Fire Station received a telephone message from the home of Mr. F. C. Berteau, Old Torbay Road, asking for the assistance of the fire-fighters to extinguish a dangerous fire caused by the overheating of an incubator. In record time the firemen reached the scene and by the aid of the chemical and a stream from the brook close by, succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, which for close on thirty-five minutes kept the men busy. The damage, which is considerable, is covered by insurance.

The Hindenburg Line

The German General Staff reviewed the fighting on the Somme. And summarizing the result with faces fixed and grim.

They put it up to Hindenburg with fat encomium. The stout Field-Marshal stood and scratched the corners of his head. Wherein the intermeshing cogs continuously sped.

"This thing must stop. We've got to draw the line somewhere," he said.

And thereupon the y started in at once to draw the line. According to the regulations perfect in design;

In fact the Kaiser said it was without a doubt divine. 'Tis done! 'Tis done at last in strict accordance with the law. And tooting loudly all the Teutons back of it withdrew.

The while a wondering universe looks on suffused with awe. But now the British, nice enough but rather stupid chaps. Have cut it up and broken it—completely spoiled the maps. You'd almost think they didn't know the thing was there, perhaps!

—Maurice Morris, N. Y. Sun.

Your Boys and Girls.

The fact that children crave sugar or sweets to a thinking mother should mean something. An instinct that has come down through thousands of years unaltered should have an important place in our plan. A child likes sugar just as it likes air, sunlight, play and sleep, and this desire has nature, "the good old nurse," back of it. It should not be ignored.

When sugar is mentioned it does not mean always the table sugar that you put in your coffee. It is chemical sugar. The mother who has a medical idea that we must refrain from that which we like is doing an injury to her child. Of course the danger of excess is always present. A child may eat too much sugar and in many cases stay too long in the bathtub, sun or air. Why should the ban be put on sugar.

A craving for candy is due to sugar starvation. See that the child gets sugar in some form in all food. The unnatural appetite will be modified considerably. If a child is given plenty of sugar on his cereal, bread and butter, puddings and a regular amount of good, simple cake and fruits, he will not sell his little soul for candy. Sugar is one of the three great foods without which the human being cannot exist.

Serious Accident.

LITTLE GIRL THE VICTIM.

Kathleen, the winsome little five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallivan, of Duckworth Street, had a narrow escape from being killed on Saturday afternoon last. However, as it is her condition is such that grave fears are entertained for her recovery. She was playing with her sisters in the upstairs section of her home. They managed to remove a bolt from a door at the rear of the house. To avoid an accident this door had been barrel a few weeks ago by Mr. Gallivan, who never dreamt that any of his little ones would be able to open it. Suddenly when the door became ajar Kathleen accidentally went out through, falling a height of over twenty feet to the ground below. The alarm was given by the cries of the other children to the distracted parents, who hastened to the aid of their little daughter, who lay face downwards in an apparently lifeless condition. She was tenderly borne into her bedroom and attended by Dr. Scully. No bones were found to be broken, though the skin was badly hurt internally and her chances of recovery are none too bright.

Baseball Meeting

SEASON OPENS JUNE 20TH. PROCEEDS FOR RED CROSS.

Another meeting of the Baseballers was held on Saturday night, Mr. J. O. Hawvermale presiding. After the minutes of last meeting had been read and adopted, the schedule for the ensuing season was drawn, resulting as follows:—

Wanderers vs. Red Lions. Cubs vs. —B. I. S. Wanderers vs. Cubs. Red Lions vs. B. I. S. B. I. S. vs. Wanderers. Cubs vs. Red Lions.

It was decided that one round only would be played, and the date of the opening game was fixed for June 20th. In view of the fact that the proceeds of all games will be devoted to the various hospital funds and the fact that the schedule will consist of only one round instead of two rounds as heretofore, it was considered advisable to charge 10 cents admission for adults, and 5 cents for children. The same club which distinguished the opening games of other years will attend the opening functions this season, and a committee was appointed to interview Mrs. John Browning (the convenor of the Red Cross Branch of the W. P. A.) to ask the co-operation of her committee, and to designate the fund most urgently in need of the receipts. The following gentlemen were unanimously re-appointed League officials to conduct the games:—

Mr. F. V. Chesman, Umpire-in-Chief. Major Montgomerie, Umpire. Dr. H. A. Smith, Umpire. Mr. D. Hanlin, Umpire. Capt. Hector Ross, Umpire. Mr. P. E. Outerbridge, Official Scorer.

Mr. John Stancombe, Ground Keeper. The Wanderers and Red Lions (who will open the series) had their first practice on Saturday afternoon, and their new material promises to shape up well. The B. I. S. and Cubs will begin to-night, and it is thought with the strength of the Wanderers considerably reduced, this season should witness the best brand of baseball since the inception of the League.

Wedding Bells.

FORWARD—BORKE.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at Carboner on the evening of Wednesday, May 23rd, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Forward, when their daughter Kathleen was united in marriage to Mr. James Borke, Jr. The ceremony, which took place in the parlor beneath a rich profusion of evergreen and mayflowers, was performed by the Rev. F. R. Matthews. The best man was Mr. John Borke, Jr., brother of the groom, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Hilda Forward, as bridesmaid. The bride wore a gown of point d' esprit over ivory satin, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas and maiden-hair fern; whilst the bridesmaid was very attractively dressed in pink taffeta and carried pink sweet peas, carnations and maiden-hair. The wedding march was played by Mr. Arthur Taylor, organist of the Methodist Church, and at the conclusion of the ceremony a buffet supper was served, and a very pleasant social time spent by all the assembled guests. The nuptial party left later for Spaniard's Bay where they joined the cross-country express the following morning for Boston and other American cities on a honeymoon visit to relatives and friends. They were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents, testifying in a very tangible way to the general esteem in which they are held. The bride will be at home to receive friends after July 15th.

At the Crescent.

"A Poor Relation," a three reel drama, the greatest stage success of recent years, is being presented at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day; the best actors of the Biograph Company are cast in this great feature and the staging is even better than in the original speaking play. There is also a thrilling society drama, "The District Attorney's Burglar" and a Vitagraph-Drew Comedy: "The Professional Diver" with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew. A great week-opening show, don't miss seeing it at the Crescent to-day.

All possible was done for him, under the circumstances, though, unfortunately, he had to wait for a couple of weeks for the Prospero to come along and bring him to St. Anthony for treatment.

Harbour Grace Thanks Mr. Shortis.

PASSES RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION.
Harbour Grace, Nfld.,
May 21st, 1917.

Mr. H. F. Shortis,
St. John's, Nfld.

Dear Mr. Shortis,—
It is with pleasure that we have read your many letters on Harbour Grace and its commercial possibilities. At a representative meeting of the citizens held this evening, the following Resolution was passed:—
"That we, the citizens of Harbour Grace do appreciate the efforts of Mr. Shortis in bringing the Town of Harbour Grace before the public in connection with the shipbuilding project, now about to be realized, and more especially the words contained in his very able letter on the solution of this vital food and coal question, published in The Evening Telegram of May 19th."

Harbour Grace certainly has the facilities, so capably expressed in your letter, and we think that the Government, business men and engineers should carefully investigate our resources before committing themselves to any action.

Now, dear Mr. Shortis, we know that the town of Harbour Grace has a very warm spot in your heart; if all our citizens were imbued with the same spirit of optimism as you, Harbour Grace would long ago have been the leading City in our Island Home. Who knows what the next decade will bring forth!

Signed on behalf of the Citizens of Harbour Grace,
ROBERT S. MUNN,
E. A. DIXON,
Committee.
H. H. ARCHIBALD,
Secretary.

St. John's,
May 23rd, 1917.
Messrs. R. S. Munn and E. A. Dixon,
Committee.
H. H. Archibald, Esq.,
Secretary.

I sincerely thank you for the Resolution passed at the meeting of the citizens of Harbour Grace, of which you are the representatives, in which you refer to my poor services in writing up, and speaking upon the subject of shipbuilding in my native town. While thanking you I must state that I consider it only my duty as an old Harbour Gracian to do so.

I have seen many Native Town in all its glory with its large and enterprising commercial firms flourishing up to the year 1894, their house-floors known and respected in the great commercial countries of Europe and America. And yet these great firms rose from very small beginnings, until the foreign-going fleet, as well as the fishing fleets could compare favourably with those of any in the Island. By reference to the entries in your Custom House you will find that several hundreds of vessels of all sizes and nationalities entered and cleared from your ports annually, and amongst these entries will be found the largest Labrador fishing fleet, as well as the largest sealing fleet that ever sailed from any port in the world from one firm.

All persons of my age have witnessed, known or heard tell of the building and launching of many beautiful ships in Harbour Grace by the great firms of Danson, Peter Brown, Ruthford Bros., Power & Cody, Mulleney, Joseph Soper & Sons, Thomas Foley, H. W. Trapnell, Neyle & Gordon, John Stephenson, Longwill and Taylor, Thos. Godden, Daniel Green, Paterson and Foster, P. Devereaux, DeQuetteville (Jersey), Wm. Pitts, J. J. Brod, Edward Sike, James Hippley, Squires & Noble, Thos. Lynch, Darby Hartery, George Makinson, Wm. Butt, John Smith, Thorne & Hooper, Nutall & Thoren, John Murphy, Nathaniel Davis, Mark Parsons, William Gordon, Lawrence Keefe, Fox & Henderson, Ridley & Sons, Puxton & Munn and W. Donnelly, amongst which I may mention the "Ruthless," "Naomi," "Arabella Tarbet," "Clithra," "Pet," "Elizabeth Jane," "Indefatigable," "Frederic," "James," "Elizabeth and William," "Princess," "Greyhound," "Adamant," "Reform," "Laural," "Release," "Swift," "Revival," "Harriet," "Jane and Mary," "W. Donnelly," "Maggie," etc. Over eighty years ago George Davis built the "Republie" just below the present shipbuilding premises, in his field, and launched her across the street into the waters of the harbor, and Stephenson and Warren built many vessels in that neighbourhood.

I have seen all this changed and a dark cloud hung over my native town. But I never despaired. I was always convinced and (never more so than now) that with united action upon the part of the citizens, the old town would once more rise, if not to its former glory and position, at least to such a position that our people would remain in your midst, and others would be induced to return from abroad to the old town of their birth, where they could live in comfort and happiness.

Harbour Grace has had many adversities, some from fire as well as commercial depression, but it rose up promptly by the united action and energy of its people. Witness the great fires of 1832 and 1858.

Your patriotic conduct in this instance is worthy of all praise, and will be a source of gratification and pride to all Harbour Gracians who now reside far from the old town. Continue in this course and success must crown your efforts.

Again thanking you for, I fear, your somewhat flattering resolution with regards to my poor effort towards the town of my birth and its citizens.

I remain, gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
H. F. SHORTIS.

Cochrane St. Church.

The services at Cochrane St. Centennial Church yesterday were of a very practical and inspiring character. The Rev. N. M. Guy, M.A., was the preacher at the morning service taking for his text, "Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people." At the evening service the Rev. Dr. Bond occupied the pulpit basing his remarks on the words found in the Book of Revelation, "A new song, or a song of Redemption." Both sermons were much appreciated and evoked many acclamations from the members of the congregation. During the evening service Dr. Bond paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Miss Giles, who for a period of over thirty years was a faithful teacher and worker in the Sunday School of the Church. The full choir rendered the Anthem, "Blessing, Glory, Wisdom and Thanks," and Miss Jean Herder sang very beautifully the solo "There were Ninety and Nine." The service closed with a service of song when four or five of the old well known hymns were heartily sung by the large congregation present.

Patriotic Concert.

The Misses Davidson, under whose patronage the pupils of the Presbyterian College repeated their patriotic concert on Saturday afternoon, attended and greatly enjoyed the affair. The programme consisted of songs, recitations and choruses, and was rendered in a faultless manner, deserving great praise of performers and instructors alike. Those taking the leading parts were: Misses Alice Butt, Olga Hattton, Nellie Hawkins, Florence Martin, Ruth Calvert, Isabel Glendenning, Elsie Wylie and Masters H. MacFarlane and Charlie Moore. The proceeds, which amounted to a good sum, are to be devoted to the Red Cross Fund.

The Value of Languages

Boston Transcript: People who are advocating the dropping of the German language as a subject taught in the public schools evidently forget that a widespread knowledge of an enemy's language is an excellent offensive weapon in war. The proficiency of nearly every German officer in English and French has been an immense advantage to the Germans in this conflict. It has enabled them to maintain spies in every quarter, to practice many ruses de guerre, useful to them, and to inform themselves very directly of the enemy's proceedings and intentions. Yet it was not, certainly, from love or admiration of the English and the French that the Germans mastered their tongues. The fact that the United States has now abandoned its purely western hemisphere position, and is henceforth to be world-wide in its interests, makes it incumbent upon us to teach at least the three leading European languages, French, German and Spanish, in our schools—not as a matter of requirement, perhaps, but to all who will learn and to teach them in a more thorough and business-like way than they have ever been taught before. In Washington, during the recent days of public honors to the French mission, the advantage to a Congressman or an official of a knowledge of French has been immense. Few of them, indeed, have been found capable of conversing with Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani in their own language; and these few have been distinguished and envied among their fellows. We have been poor linguists in the past—we haven't cared for abroad. If we are to take an equal position among the nations, we must improve in this regard.

MASTERING THE SUBS.

LONDON, To-Day.

The Westminster Gazette publishes a message from a correspondent who says the submarine menace is being mastered by a simple method which the correspondent indicates is the invention of an American. It is giving away no secret, the correspondent writes, to say that the method, which is reputed to be infallible, requires only a little time to come into full effect and wear the German submarines out. It is a model of simplicity. The press has been liberal in its announcement of Marconi's device, but while extending encouragement to Marconi it must not be overlooked that while the genius who perfected one of the most monumental advances in maritime navigation devotes his unremitting consideration to the menace, this resourceful American too has worked toward a device along independent lines. Asserting that the British have better submarines than the Germans, the message continues, only a little time is needed for our pre-eminent inventive brains to outstrip the pirate professors, and by a method which is simplicity itself we already have the life of the U-boat campaign measured.

SAVAGERY UNCONFINED.

LONDON, To-Day.

The German Government will sink all Entente hospital ships in the entire barred zone with the exception of certain ships from Saloniki to Gibraltar. It is semi-officially announced in Berlin, according to a Renter despatch from Amsterdam. The German announcement made reference to the British denials to the German allegations that the British misused hospital ships. It cited several instances which, it was asserted, proved the correctness of the German accusation. The semi-official announcement read in part: The German Government will prevent all traffic by hostile ships in the entire barred zone in the Mediterranean, including the road left open for Greece, and will regard hospital ships appearing therein as war vessels and sink all of them immediately. Germany, the announcement adds, will allow the transport of ill and wounded from Saloniki on Greek railways to Kalamata Harbor, and thence on hospital ships to Gibraltar, on the following conditions: Firstly, these hospital ships on the road left open to Greek shipping must proceed at a rate of speed previously reported to the German Government. Secondly, the name of the vessel and the time of arrival or departure must be communicated to the German Government six weeks in advance. Thirdly, that a representative of a neutral Government representing Germany's interests in the particular countries in question shall certify before the departure of the hospital ship that she carries only ill and wounded, nurses and no goods other than materials for treating them.

BRITISH WORKMEN HOLD IM-PRESSIVE SERVICES.

LONDON, To-Day.

An impressive demonstration by many thousands of workmen organized by the British Workers' League was held in Hyde Park to-day to express fraternal greetings to the people of the Allied countries and the determination of the workers to continue the war to a victorious conclusion. These sentiments were voiced in stirring speeches from twelve platforms. David Lloyd George, Prime Minister, in a letter which was read from all the platforms, expressed his hearty appreciation of the address which the Workers' League has presented to the Ambassadors of Britain's Allies. In his letter Lloyd George said a lasting peace will come when all the peoples of Europe are free and determine their own fate for themselves.

TREASON IN QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, To-Day.

Speaking at an anti-conscription meeting at Loretteville to-day, Armand Lavergne, ex-member for Montmagny, said: "I believe I should say that if the Government passes this damned law, if you have the heart, if you are still the descendants of those who wrested the country from the Iroquois, if of those who ascended the scaffold crying 'Vive La Liberté, Vive l'Indépendance', if of those who have written with their French and Catholic blood an epic such as no other race can show you, you should take the pledge to disobey it." Over 5,000 people cheered wildly the words of the speaker as he denounced the Government for their proposed measure. Lavergne stated it was England who wished the war to-day to crush Germany. She may have good reason for this from her point of view, said the speaker, but we have nothing against Germany. If Sir Edward Grey had consented to say that England would aid France in July 1914, as Mr. Cambon had requested, the war would have been averted; but he would not do this, but awaited the fifth of August. The war had increased Canada's debts to $2,000,000,000; after the war it will be four billions. If we add to this the debt of the Provinces, of the municipalities and parishes we will easily reach six billions. This represents $7,000 per head. It was very nice to be blue or red in 1914 or 1911. You wished it, said the speaker; very well, you will pay for it. There is, moreover, the headed (?) British protection. England borrowed seven billions from the United States and mortgaged Canada. Have they then the right to tell us when the country is menaced by famine, "you shall send your sons to war in Europe"? I am not against conscription for the defence of Canada, because I believe it is the duty of all citizens to give their blood for their country, but I love my own enough to tell them that they should not give one drop to defend England. If we have to spill it, let us begin as our fathers did by doing so for the defence of liberty. The speaker then condemned the Government for trying to send Canada's sons to butchery without consulting the people and utter the words quoted in the paragraphs, which made a great impression on the crowd. The meeting at Loretteville lasted four hours. Lavergne declared that he had received numerous letters from people in English provinces, notably Toronto and Vancouver, telling him the people of these places were opposed to conscription and asking the Province of Quebec to aid them to crush the Government. Largely attended meetings were held all over the city to-day. At Jacques Cartier market place Lavergne addressed a gathering of ten thousand or more, speaking much along the usual lines, and he was wildly acclaimed.

THE BEST RECRUITING AGENTS.

LONDON, To-Day.

According to stories printed in the morning papers there has been a complete revulsion of feeling towards the war in the south and south west of Ireland as a consequence of the recent attacks by German submarines on the Irish fishing fleets. A number of fishing boats have been sunk and the victims of one attack off Baltimore, state that the Germans told them that they had already sunk the Kinsale and Waterford fleets and would soon put all Irish fishing boats to the bottom of the sea, because they sent fish to England. They also threatened to shell the villages on the coast.

RUSSIA IS WAKING UP.

PETROGRAD, To-Day.

Virtually all the divergent political factions and all classes, organizations, Councils and even the Socialist leaders, with the exception of the extreme left, to-day support the appeal of the Minister of War, Kerensky, to the troops and applaud the new order of the day, "Advance." It remains to be seen how the army itself will receive this final exhortation to patriotism and the defence of Russia's newly won freedom. All the Commanders have added their appeal to the order of Minister Kerensky. General Alexieff says tersely "Forward advance to attack the enemy." General Brusiloff says, "It is necessary to conserve and consolidate freedom, the soldiers must overthrow and defeat the enemy; shame and dishonour to those who have a weak spirit." General Dramitroff is less laconic, "An advance upon the enemy," he says "is an immediate necessity. The enemy is taking advantage of our passivity to leave this front open and send forces westward. The French and British are honestly doing their duty as our Allies. They are saving our new Freedom which otherwise we would lose, but soon their advance must wear itself out and then there will be no one to help us." The newspapers contain similar appeals from the heads of the Government. Premier Lvoff writes, "Honor demands our activity. We are drowned in speeches and words. The muscles of our organism are being atrophied; further passivity will mean ruin." M. Skopoloff, the new Socialist Minister of Labor, joins the chorus with the declaration "Our present task is to advance."

TROUBLE IN OHIO.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, To-Day.

The police, attempting to prevent anti-war speeches by Socialists on the public square, were attacked by crowds of about 300 yesterday afternoon and a pitched battle ensued. Just previous to the trouble the Recruiting Station erected on the public square registered 211 recruits. The police dragged one of the Socialist orators off the stone rostrum, and the crowd attacked them. Reserves rushed to the scene and clubbed the crowd back and half a dozen men were arrested. The crowd followed the police and prisoners to the police station, where another battle took place and more arrests were made.

WANTS CONFIRMATION.

LONDON, To-Day.

Complete repulse of all Italian attacks after the most furious fighting is claimed in an official statement issued by the Austrian War Office on Sunday. The statement also asserts that more than 13,000 unrounded Italians have been captured in the last 16 days.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

PARIS, To-Day.

The Germans delivered three attacks last night and this morning in the region of the Casque and Mont blond. All were repulsed, the War Office announces. The Germans are bombarding heavily the French position in the region of Deadman Hill and Hill 304 along the Verdun front. A French detachment penetrated to the second German line near Uffholes in Alsace and found many dead in the trenches. Prisoners were brought back.

BRITISH REPORT.

LONDON, To-Day.

Hostile raiding parties were repulsed last night northwest of Cerisy and south of Lens, says to-day's official report. On the Franco-Belgian front we inflicted a number of casualties on the enemy by rifle and machine gun fire and captured several prisoners. Successful raids were made by us north of Armentieres, and in the neighborhood of Wustchette our troops reached the German support line and captured between 20 and 30 prisoners.

TERRIFIC TORNADES DO GREAT DAMAGE.

CHICAGO, To-Day.

Tornadoes during the last three days in seven states of the middle west and south have killed nearly 250 people and injured more than 1200, wrecked thousands of houses and killed hundreds of head of live stock and devastated many thousands of acres of ground crops, according to a summary early to-day. The latest in the series of tornadoes started on Sunday afternoon, apparently in the vicinity of Willisville, southwest of Illinois, swept south across the river into Kentucky, down the Mississippi into Arkansas and Tennessee, and finally veering eastward toward Alabama, where the storm apparently spent itself. The dead in the four southern states were roughly estimated at 100 and injured at several hundred.

A GOOD STEP.

NEW YORK, To-Day.

The Germans here have formed an organization called the "Friends of the German Republic," whose object is the dethronement of Emperor William and the establishment of a German republic. It was announced last night. The organization is said to be nation wide in scope and has established headquarters and has issued an appeal to Germans to help in its propaganda.

A Wonderful Help in Keeping the Complexion Youthful and Clear.

Perhaps you wonder how so many women manage to have a complexion that is always fresh and clear, and how you can make your complexion better. Here's the secret—

This is the Vanishing Cream that softens the skin and gives it that soft, velvety radiance that we all desire. Nyal's Face Cream is not oily or greasy, and it is readily absorbed by the skin, vanishing without leaving any tell tale gloss on skin. The skin welcomes this pleasant, soothing, cooling cream. It makes dry, tight skin soft and pliable. It makes rough skin firm and smooth, and gradually gives to coarse rough skin a finer, more delicate texture.

NOTICE

We have been instructed by Mr. E. Martin, Esquire, of this City, to sell the large quantities of pitprops and other timber belonging to him and his late wife, which have been deposited at various places in the electoral district of St. John's, and which have been unlawfully taken away and converted to their own use by various persons, and the schooner owners responsible for and about the localities referred to.

Notice is hereby given that all persons concerned, without prejudice to Mr. Martin's right of action in respect of such pitprops and timber, have already been taken, that any further destruction, removal or injury thereto after done by any person or persons, to or of any such pitprops and other timber, the property of our client, will be prosecuted with the full rigour of the law and without further notice.
