MAKING READY FOR TOURIST SEASON

Young Peoples "At Home" at Baptist Church—Splendid Evening's Entertainment

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Ladies Have Sale In Interest Of Cemetery Fund—Social And Personal Notes.

The students of the second department of the Lawrencetown school had a pleasant sleigh drive to Middleton. Miss Troop, Vice Principal, was in charge of the gay party. All had a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourke are leaving town. Mr. and Mrs. T. Elliott are moving into the "Elm House". Repairs and other improvements are being made in order to prepare for the summer public.

Miss Griffin, of Bridgetown, gave a "recital" by her pupils. This was much enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. Corkum, Kindergarten teacher, has a class of music pupils, who, by all reports, are making fine progress. Mrs. Corkum also teaches vocal music in her room. The young people now readily sing by note from Staff-notation.

Monday morning bells rang; people rushed in mad haste over the bridge, up the hill, the fire engine came with men armed with shovels, axes; flew round the corner of the lane. Boys yelled fire, and smoke poured out from the roof of the Primary room. The dear old school house was on fire. The venerable building seemed doomed, but by the brave exertions of firemen and citizens, the fire was extinguished.

Monday, 12th, Methodist S. S. met at the home of Mrs. I. Durling. The few ladies who attended showed their zeal and courage by braving cold and storm.

Tuesday evening the ladies of the Baptist Church had an "At Home" for the young people. Invitations were sent and were generally accepted. Beautiful maidens, brave lads and busy matrons were in evidence as one entered the vestry. A kindly welcome by pastor and friends made all feel truly at home. Music first; then a prayer, and a few wise, kind words by the chairman, and the meeting began. Mrs. E. Shaffner and Mr. Sanford delighted the company by "singing of 'The Pilot Song'". The town is fortunate in having such talented musicians. It is a great pleasure to hear such really beautiful voices. Mrs. R. Shaffner was at the organ. This lady had trained the C.G.I.T. to sing the "Laughing Song". After another song had been given by the girls they gave their "yeil" with hearty good will. Two very young boys sang: Master Gordon Shaffner and R. Stoddart. Then Rev. A. H. Whitman gave current events, some of which brought down the house. Mr. Stoddart gave a touching account of a neglected husband trying to sew a button on one of his garments. Mrs. A. D. Whitman and Mrs. H. Freeman had a "Flower Song" that gave great amusement. Mrs. J. Stoddart had the "Authors Game". Prizes were given to those who won. Then followed dainty refreshments and the happy gathering went to their homes.

The Kindergarten is now housed in the Demonstration Building.

Rev. L. and Mrs. Wallace are in Fredericton busy in church work.

Mrs. P. Pidgeon has returned to her home in town for a short rest.

A pantry sale was held on Saturday by the Women's Institute in the interest of the Cemetery Fund. The ladies are anxious to have the resting place of relatives and friends put in good order—the grounds cleaned, graves made beautiful with grass and flowers and paths made smooth, and other improvements. It is requested that people whose dear ones rest there will assist in this good work, and not expect the town to do all that is required.

Mr. Collins, Bank Inspector, has been in town.

Mr. Hay, of Halifax, agent for Greenfields, Montreal, was in town.

Mr. Wambolt, Toronto, has been in town.

Mr. Walbridge, Halifax, spent a day attending business transactions. Another well known visitor also was in town looking after business matters.

Miss B. Slocum is a visitor at the home of Mrs. William Prince.

Mrs. Corkum is at present at the home of Mrs. I. Durling.

LOCAL HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS ANNAPOLIS

Bridgetown Wins by a 12 to 1 Score—Game Interesting in Spots.

The Annapolis hockey team went down to defeat in a very one-sided game Monday night before the Bridgetown team. The ice was very soft and not a great deal of fast stuff was pulled off, although the game was quite interesting in spots.

Bridgetown scored three goals in the first period towards the latter part. Their opponents found it rather difficult getting near enough to the goal to shoot.

In the second period Bridgetown piled up five more goals. Annapolis still having none.

Four more goals were scored by Bridgetown in the last period and three seconds before the whistle blew the puck was knocked into the Bridgetown goal in a mix up in front of it, and the game ended 12 to 1.

SOUNDS CALL FOR CONCERNED ACTION AGAINST DIVORCE

New York.—Calling upon all religious organizations—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—to unite for concerted action against easy divorce, Bishop Wm. T. Manning of the Episcopal Church declared that the system of monogamous marriage was rapidly being abandoned in the United States.

His remarks were part of a Lenten sermon.

"To allow men and women to live together for a time and then with legal sanction on trivial and frivolous grounds to separate and form new alliances as they please," he said, "is in principle to abolish marriage and to adopt a system of legalized free love. This is the system which we have now almost reached."

HAMPTON

On Friday evening, March 9th, a party of about forty members of the Baptist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Collins, the occasion being a donation for our pastor, Rev. D. W. Dixon. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present and a purse of $30.00 was collected. As Mr. Dixon was unable to be present it was decided if the sleighing held to go to the parsonage and make the presentation. Accordingly on Monday evening, March 12th, six team loads of Hamp tonians drove to Port Lorne and took the Rev. gentleman completely by surprise, where another very enjoyable evening was spent. Deacon Edward Foster made the presentation speech, which was very ably answered by Dr. Dixon. Mr. Dixon has been with us nearly two years now, and we hope to go to the parsonage on many more such occasions with Mr. and Mrs. Dixon as the host and hostess.

Mrs. Joseph Marshall and daughter Harriet, arrived home March 9th, after an extended visit with Mr. Marshall at Kentville.

Miss Mary and Mr. Emdon Hamilton came home recently from Kings County where they have been employed the last few months.

Miss Susie Poole and Miss Alice Beardsley, of St. Croix, were recent visitors at J. F. Titus.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Subanon, of Port Lorne, were recent visitors at E. B. Foster's.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Poole and Miss Beulah Steadman, of Upper Grandville, spent Sunday, March 11th, with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Titus.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, of Port Lorne, visited Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Mader, Sunday, 18th.

Many friends of Mrs. L. D. Brooks were very pleased to see her out to church again on Sunday evening.

There seems to be quite a lot of bad colds and grippe in our village, but as far as your correspondent knows there is no serious cases as yet.

At the home of Mrs. I. Durling.
Miss Mildred Durling is at present visiting friends in Boston.
Mr. G. Palfrey is at the home of his parents for a short vacation.

Tourist Association Formed At Big Kentville Meeting

Concerted Plans to Develop Business on Proper Scale Summary of Proceedings

On Monday afternoon there was a large gathering in the I.O.G.E. rooms at Kentville of representatives of Boards of Trade, Hotel men and members of the Press. All the towns of the Valley from Digby through to Windsor were represented and in addition to this P. Giffin, of the Halifax Herald, and Horatio Crowell, of The Chronicle, were present, commendatory letters in the purposes of the meeting were received from Yarmouth and Truro. Thus in one way of another a very considerable portion of the Province was represented in the purpose of the meeting which was, broadly speaking, called to discuss the Tourist Question and which also took up incidentally as a corollary to it "Old Home Summer".

As The MONITOR, at time of writing, is nearly ready for press, our remarks will be rather a synopsis than a full exposition on what was beyond a doubt, one of the very best and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the Province in this connection.

The only representatives specially invited who were shy in numbers were the hotel men, in many ways the keystone of the Tourist business. Mr. A. E. MacMahon, President of the Kentville Board of Trade, and President of the United Fruit Growers' Association of the Province, was called to the chair, and Mr. W. E. Porter, Secretary of Kentville Board of Trade, was Secretary of the gathering.

Prof. Saxby Blair, in an excellent address, outlined the purposes of the meeting in the following address:—
I have been asked to outline the object of this meeting. In doing so I am aware of the fact that there are many persons who could have presented the matter better and in a more comprehensive way.

It seems unnecessary to dwell upon the advantages resulting from tourists visiting Nova Scotia. The gains are obvious and all are agreed that every effort possible should be put forth to turn the attention of tourists to this country. Our nearness to New England places us to great advantage, and our climate is all that one can desire. The feature we wish, therefore, to deal with specifically is "How can we direct more of the tourist business to Nova Scotia, and how can we assist in giving the service necessary to satisfy the requirements of the tourist?"

In the first instance, is everything being done that should be to turn the thought of the tourist to Nova Scotia? We know right well that various transportation companies are doing what they consider best to direct such business their way. I think we all appreciate the work that is being done in this particular.

However, is it not a fact that something outside of this should be done? Had we an office in the New England States under the supervision of our Provincial Department, giving advice and direction to intending tourists and we would, I think, get a much greater volume of business than we now do. Such an office independent of the transportation service would, we think, aid greatly in securing a larger share of this desirable trade. Anything done to increase the traffic must aid in the securing of a more efficient transportation service.

Tourists demands must be satisfied in regard to transportation and housing facilities. So far as transportation facilities come into the matter there seems to be no reasonable doubt that if an increased volume of business is in sight the service necessary will be provided. As to housing facilities there is opportunity for extension and expansion. I take it there are two general classes of tourists. One would be those bringing motor cars with them. Some probably would not be in touch with transportation companies after landing at Yarmouth, and after visiting different parts of Nova Scotia would return by New Brunswick, or vice versa. This class of tourists would for the most part, patronize the principal hotels. The other class would largely come in by the regular transportation service, and would wish to spend a quiet time at a more or less secluded spot, without much of the high costs necessarily attending more elaborate hotel life. It is this latter class of tourists that doubtless should be mostly encouraged, and which ultimately would assume much larger proportions than would the other class.

There is no doubt that the ones wishing to seek quiet and rest under ideal climatic conditions, at least expense, will turn their thoughts to Nova Scotia. It is wise, therefore, to aid, as far as possible, in organizing for this class of tourists and in directing them to suitable places.

I am convinced that we are well able to look after such a business. I do not see that it is so much a matter of increased hotel accommodation as it is the securing of definite data as to available suitable places to house and provide for the ones seeking rest and good plain food well cooked.

You have, therefore, the problem; first, of creating interest in Nova Scotia through a good well-directed publicity campaign throughout the New England States; second, improved transportation facilities which naturally will be provided if a large volume of business is in sight; third, good housing facilities, and definite information as to places where those seeking rest may best be located.

This is not a matter in which only a small section of Nova Scotia participates. It is a matter that is of great interest to the people of Eastern Nova Scotia as it is to those of the West. It is important that action be taken at once in order that the largest possible volume of business may be directed to Nova Scotia during the coming season.

Mr. F. W. Bowes of the Halifax Board of Trade, gave an interesting talk on general conditions, referring to the growing tourist travel in autos. He recommended a general advertising campaign by the government followed up by communities. Some reference was made to the fact that in Provincially Hotel service in general there is plenty room for improvement. The fact that Maine has 600,000 Summer visitors, 75,000 of whom come from Montreal, while an equal number from Toronto and Ottawa take their Summer recreation in the States. This means the spending of a very large amount of money in the U. S. which should, with proper attention, be diverted to the Maritime Provinces. The presence of tourists also increases the value of property in these places where they spend their outings.

Mr. L. M. Fortier showed how the planning for tourists was worked out in California by a State-wide association which exerts itself to see that tourists are attracted, given a good time and care exercised to see that they are not taken in. He mentioned that there were 10,000 visitors to old Fort Anne, Annapolis, last year.

Mr. F. J. G. Comeau showed how the plan was worked out in Florida, and particular and definite information was made available as to accommodation, rooms, rates, etc. Community or team work was wanted. He paid a well deserved tribute to the early pioneers in the work of developing tourist business and improving transportation facilities.

Belief was expressed that the railways would take care of all traffic well when it comes.

Rev. R. B. Layton, of Kentville, gave an illustration of how Kentville citizens had through concerted efforts provided accommodation for many hundreds during the war period when the troops were drilling at Aldershot.

Mr. Edson Graham, of Wolfville, discussed in a pleasing way conduct of the tourist business in New Hampshire. Highways, railways and hotels were the great factors and the personal element was needed in the hotel service. He recognized Mr. Crowell's article on "Busy East" as the tourist article, and advocated bureau of inquiry.

Mayor Murray, of Hantsport, laid special stress on the importance of making the tourists feel satisfied.

Rev. G. P. Raymond, of Berwick, pointed out the importance of people opening up their houses for tourist entertainment. Get the government to do advertising. Get an agent in Boston. Get in all aids and enlist the Press in the cause.

Mr. Leslie Willshire and Mr. J. L. Peters and R. W. North, Canning, also discussed a number of points bearing on the question.

F. E. Cox advocated Old Home Summer ideas of different towns and communities putting this on in succession.

The resolution committee composed of Prof. W. S. Blair, H. Crowell, P. Giffin, Rev. D. G. Ross, H. M. Chase, and they brought in the resolutions given below:

Horatio Crowell, speaking on this subject, was particularly eloquent and his enthusiasm seemed to capture his entire audience. The following resolution was drawn up and adopted by the conference, being moved by F. E. Cox, Middleton, and seconded by J. L. Peters, Digby.

Whereas, the government of Nova Scotia has appointed a parliamentary committee to investigate and consider the possibilities of the development of the tourist travel of Nova Scotia; and

Whereas, that committee will make certain recommendations to the Legislature as to ways and means of developing the tourist traffic; and

Whereas, there is now before the Province a proposal to hold an Old Home Summer in 1924 and appeal to all Nova Scotia living abroad to visit their native land in the Summer of 1924.

We, the delegates of the Tourist Conference at Kentville resolve: That we strongly endorse the Old Home Summer movement for 1924, and urge upon the government of Nova Scotia to grant all legislation that will give the official sanction and assist in its organization and successful conduct.

Further resolved: That this conference will take immediate steps to organize the committees necessary to carry on the work of Old Home Summer in all the towns and counties here represented.

James Sealy, M.P.P., a member of the tourist committee of government, spoke briefly, pledging his support to any project that might be put forward by the conference.

At the close of this enthusiastic conference the following resolution was moved by Edson Graham, Wolfville, and seconded by L. M. Fortier, Annapolis Royal, being unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, this meeting has been held for the purpose of studying and formulating plans for the development of the tourist travel in the Annapolis Valley; and

RESIDENCE RULE IS MADE BY M. P. B. A. A. U. C. OFFICIALS

Only Those Who Have Been Bona Fide Residents Of Their Towns For Two Months Are Eligible.

Maritime Province athletes who are planning to shift their address for the Summer, had better be on the move. Under a new ruling of the M. P. B. A. A. U. C. only those who are bona fide residents of the town they play in for two months, will be eligible for the teams they wish to represent. President Corey and Secretary Legge issued Bulletin 104 as follows:

"The attention of all amateur athletic clubs and amateur athletes playing under the jurisdiction of this branch, is drawn to the change in the eligibility rule under the residence clause which now calls for two months bona fide residency and not one month as previously provided in the rules."

It is understood that this ruling does not affect college students, but any of the towns who intend to strengthen up their rosters will have to act speedily.—Halifax Herald.

LAST LECTURE IN THE COURSE

Dr. H. L. Stewart Gives Fine Exposition on What and How to Read

The last lecture in the University Extension Course was given here in the United Church school room on Tuesday evening by Dr. H. L. Stewart, professor of Philosophy in Dalhousie University. It was one of the best, possibly the best, of the whole course, certainly the most entertaining to the average person. The subject "What and How to Read" was taken up lucidly with wide range from the comics as portrayed in the adventures of Mr. Jiggs to the highest and most enduring monuments of literary worth.

Over it all the speaker threw the glamour of a ready and incisive wit with many solid and useful suggestions. He did not oppose at all the reading for entertainment, nor condemn tendencies and bias in reading. He did condemn the using of the human mind as a storehouse for all kinds of useless or ill-assorted facts, and illustrated this by reference to well known matters of common observation shown where persons often of limited education get more good out of reading than do others who have absorbed much learning and have read much. The store of these last is often like a lumber room full of old furniture odds and ends scattered everywhere. Their reading does not connect up with their life in practical or useful service. There is, too, a form of poetry to suit every mind. He advised interlining and notes on books read so that these may be renewed and gone over for subsequent benefit. Results should be held and connect up with what is already in the mind. In selection of books do not attempt to read all sorts of literature, better to follow an author or a hobby in reading carefully. This ensures benefit and the ability to use what one does read.

Principal Archibald presided and at the close a hearty vote of thanks was moved by F. H. Beattie, seconded by Rev. J. H. Freestone, and passed enthusiastically with the general wish that Bridgetown people may soon again hear Dr. Stewart.

AT 37 MOTHER OF 20 CHILDREN

The mother of twenty children at 37 years of age, Mrs. Homer Stebbins of Belburn, Greenbrier Co., W. Va., on Friday was making a fight for life while at her side nestled four baby boys born Thursday. Each of the quartette weighed five and one-quarter pounds at birth and all will probably live, the attending physician stated. Grave fears, however, are entertained for the recovery of the mother.

THE DOMINION AS A FOREST OWNER

Ottawa, March.—The total area of Dominion forest reserves, or national forests, is now 34,609,26 square miles. All these reserves are located in the Provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan and the Railway Belt in British Columbia. The areas in these different provinces are as follows: Manitoba, 3,729.18 square miles; Alberta, 18,894.5 square miles; British Columbia, 2,685.38 square miles. Much has been done in the endeavor to make the various resources of these areas available to the public, and steady progress is being made in furthering this policy.

BIG BUTTER FLEET ON THE HIGH SEAS

An epoch-marking occurrence is reported in butter circles at New York when a 532,000 pound cargo of creamery butter arrived from New Zealand. New York market men announced that a fleet of butter carrying ships was now on the high seas with nearly 16,000,000 pounds of butter from New Zealand, destined for consumption in the States. Its arrival would send the price of butter to consumers down.

Butter tub covers with straps of leather attached are successfully used as snowshoes by children in Morrisville, Vt.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah E. Easson.

Mrs. Easson was the oldest resident in Lequille. She was 91 years of age, having been born in January 29th, 1832. She had lived a quiet uneventful life as far as this world is concerned but in the home and surroundings a very busy life. She was beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends, who sincerely mourn her departure.

To her son John, with whom she lived, and who had devoted his life to assist her in keeping up the place on which they lived, and to give her comfort in the time of old age, a special word of sympathy is due. Mrs. Easson died on Saturday morning.

The funeral service was held in St. Alban's Church, Lequille, after a brief service at the home, on Monday, the 5th of March, and was conducted by the rector of the parish, Rev. T. C. Mellor. The hymns specially chosen for the solemn service were: "On the Resurrection Morning", "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", and "Rock of Ages".

The rector referred in his address to the fact that both Mrs. Easson and her husband belonged to some of the oldest families settled in these parts, and also of the human life which is preparatory to the endless life which is to be found and lived in the presence of Christ, the Lord.

He also urged upon his hearers the necessity of now preparing themselves for that great day. There was a large representation of the inhabitants of Lequille present as also from Annapolis Royal.

The interment took place in St. Alban's cemetery, where the body was laid to rest in the sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life.

Mrs. Easson was in her 92nd year, having been born on January 29th, 1832. Her maiden name was Sarah Elizabeth Easson in 1857, their children were: John H. Easson, of Lequille; Annie L. Nichol (Mrs. Arthur) of Lequille, and James M. Easson, of Halifax. There are ten grandchildren and four great grandchildren.—Annapolis Spectator.

FLOGGING AS A CRIME DETERRENT IN CANADA

Percentage of Crime in Dominion is Proportionately Less Than in the United States—Strict Enforcement of Law, Swiftness of Indictment, and Severe Penalties, Including Whipping, the Explanation—Canadian View of the Lash as a Crime Deterrent.

(By Charles Frederick Carter in "Current History.") Canadians and Americans have a common ancestry, a common language, a common literature, common customs, common ideals. Their countries are separated only by an invisible line crossed by numerous railroads and steamship lines and highways, which render all parts of the Dominion as readily accessible to enterprising American crooks as any parts of the United States. Yet, in proportion to population, Canada has but a small fraction of the crimes of violence which disgrace the United States.

Why? Seeking an answer to this interesting question, I made a seven weeks' journey from Montreal to Vancouver, stopping at numerous points between to talk with chiefs of police, chiefs of detectives, the Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, judges, magistrates, members of Parliament, corporation officials, lawyers and other citizens. As usually happens in any conscientious investigation, some fallacies have been exposed.

In extension of America's undeniable leadership in crime, for instance, it is stated that Canada's population is "homogeneous"; that the Dominion is not so over-run with alien criminals as the United States is alleged to be. Reference to census reports will show that our prison population is made up of approximately five native Americans, white and colored, to one foreign-born criminal. From the same source it may be learned that during the century ending with 1922 the gross number of immigrants arriving in America, disregarding the considerable proportion who returned to their native lands, was equivalent to about one-third of our present population.

On the other hand, figures made public by the Dominion statistician show that in the twenty-four years ending with 1922 the gross number of immigrants arriving in Canada was equivalent to 42.9 per cent. of the present population; it would thus appear that Canada's population is composed of a five-fold greater proportion of immigrants than that of the United States. Moreover, 38 per cent. of Canada's immigrants came from the United Kingdom, as compared with 17 per cent. from that source arriving in the United States in the last nine years. Of the remainder of Canada's immigrants, 37 per cent. came from the United States and 25 per cent. from other countries.

The Contrast with America Contrast this with the following glimpse of characteristic American methods of administering justice. Just before going to Canada I sat in one of the parts of the Court of General Sessions of the Peace in New York City while the Judge called up for sentence five persons convicted of various crimes, not convicted of the moment before, as was the case in Montreal, but at various times previously. Three of the sentences were suspended when announced. Next came the finish of the trial of a young man charged with having defrauded an insurance company by through the pretence that he had been driving an automobile. The case had been dragging for days migrants into the respective countries fail to account for the marked disparity in crime.

The Law is Enforced

Stated in its simplest terms, the reason why Canada is relatively free from crimes of violence is that the law is enforced. As an illustration, take the crime of murder. In Montreal, the largest city in the Dominion, with 800,000 population, there were eight murders, or one murder per 100,000 population, in 1921. In startling contrast, the murder rate in Memphis the same year was 56.8 per 100,000. In Baltimore, a city of nearly the same size as Montreal, the murder rate was 11.3 that year, and in Cleveland, also about the same size as Montreal, it was 19.3 per 100,000; in St. Louis, nearly the size of Montreal, the rate was 17.2. The murder rate for the whole United States has been steadily rising from an average of 8.1 for the five year period ended with 1915 to 9.3 per 100,000 in 1921. In the whole Dominion, there were only 57 murders in 1920 and 77 in 1921. At the average rate for the United States there would have been 816 murders in the Dominion in 1921, or 10.6 times as many as there actually were.

The obvious reason for this disparity is that here there is one execution for each ninety murders; in Canada statistics covering a period of thirty years show that one out of every five murders committed in all that time was expiated on the gallows; in addition, one in seven murderers was sent to the penitentiary for life. In Canada it is not customary to pardon prisoners sent up for life after they have served a short period. The fifty-seven murders committed in 1920 resulted in twenty-six convictions before the end of the year.

In all that pertains to the administration of justice Canada presents startling differences from the United States. Take this scene from the Court of King's Bench, Montreal, for example:

Mr. Justice Monet, addressing the jury in the case of a young woman charged with manslaughter for having administered a fatal dose of heroin to a young man, said: "While you are absolute masters of the case, I think I should tell you that in my humble opinion there is no doubt at all that the prisoner is guilty." Heeding this pointed admonition, the jury returned a verdict of guilty in seventeen minutes. Fortwith with the prisoner was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. In pronouncing sentence Justice Monet said: "I am charged with the duty of protecting the interests of society. . . . The judge has no interest in protecting those who contaminate the rest of the people."

Five minutes previously he had sentenced the drug peddler who had supplied the heroin used by the young woman to twenty years in the penitentiary, announcing as he did so that the next drug peddler convicted before him would receive a life sentence. Within ninety days after the crime had been committed the guilty ones were on their way to the penitentiary, with no prospect of suspended sentence, parole, appeal, or other mode of evading the penalty imposed; but with the certainty that they would serve their sentences to the full in institutions conducted with the sole view of "protecting the interests of society," as Mr. Justice Monet expressed it.

This incident may be taken as fairly typical of the Canadian methods of dealing with criminals.

DOES EVERYONE KNOW WHAT YOU HAVE TO SELL?

How often have newspaper men heard a business man say: "I don't need to advertise as everyone knows what I have to sell." Not so many years ago Day & Martin were known the world over as among the largest shoe polish manufacturers, yet they are being sold out after 150 years because sales dropped off to such an extent after they stopped advertising.

ACTIVE BANK DIRECTOR

One of the duties of a Bank Director was made plain to the man on the street last week. Among the visiting Directors of the Scotia Company in New Glasgow last Friday was a well known financier who is also Director of a bank that has a large agency here his eagle eye caught the brass door sign. He rubbed one with a finger. His glitter was not what might be called resplendent, though to be honest from long observation seldom have we seen these signs when they did not give evidence of bon ami. However, the Director disappeared within the Bank, and it was not long before the signs also disappeared to be refurbished. The man on the street was satisfied this Director did not live in vain.—Eastern Chronicle.

A VERMONT AUCTIONEER

(Daniel L. Cady, in Burlington Daily News.) When'er an auction bill I see On barn or haystacks, bridge or tree. Or stuck outside the village store, Or tacked against the gristmill door— I wonder if the auction game Is played the same, or 'bout the same As in those days of youthful cheer When Albert Burk was auctioneer. His left-hand eye had quite an ail But he could see enough to nail The nod or wink or shoulder shrug That told the family pump or plug: That when he stepped to shift his quiet; The wise would say, "Some auctioneer!" It took a man to act as clerk When stuff was auctioned off by Burk I've seen him sell a farm and stock And get all through by 2 o'clock. One time he sold for Mason Flower Just sixty things in just an hour; He always ran on top-notch gear, Al Burk, my boyhood auctioneer. He'd hold a bidpost up and say, "Now, ladies kindly step this way— I'll bet you all a pound of gum No wingless beast has ever come Within a mile, yess: call it two. Of this fine bid I'll sell to you; I'll guarantee it won't go dear, Bid up and help the auctioneer." What'er he tried to sell he sold, He turned some awful truck to gold: The things that wouldn't "leave the shelf."

He made a bluff to buy himself, And when he sold a widdler out His way was only half about; The Universalists fur and near Was proud of Burk, the auctioneer. He taught Hank White his merry trade, And so his own success made; Each year his fame, a rising tide, Embraced new towns on every side; "Tis said that as his end drew on, They heard him whisper, "Going, Gone!" Thus sans reproche and void for fear He lived and died an auctioneer.

WEST ARLINGTON

We wish to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Clark our very deepest sympathy in the loss of their only child, Burpee, who left this world March 11th for (a land that is fairer than day), aged five years. The funeral, which was quite largely attended was held at the Port Lorne church, the service being conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. W. Dixon, assisted by the Rev. A. Whitman, who spoke very comforting words to the bereaved ones, the subject being "A Little Child Shall Lead Them." The Port Lorne choir rendered selections of music for the occasion which were: "We'll Never say Good-bye in Heaven", "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Going Down the Valley One by One", after which the little body was laid to rest in the Port Lorne cemetery. (Jesus said suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.) The pall bearers were: Roy Neaves, Gordon Beardley, Joe Graves and Ronald Corbett. Mr. Wm. E. Reed of Bridgetown, was funeral director.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marshall spent part of last week visiting friends in Forest Glade and Clarence. Roscoe Marshall has been spending several days visiting friends in Outram, returning home Tuesday. We have had no news to write this winter for we are all snowed under. We are about ready to channel under and go see our friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Milbury of Hampton, were quite recently visiting Mrs. Willie Brinton and other friends in this village.

SPRING!

Up from the sea the wild north wind is blowing

Under the sky's gray arch; Smiling, I watch the shaken wings boughs knowing

It is the wind of March.

Between the passing and the coming season,

This stormy interlude Gives to our winter-wearied hearts a reason

For trustful gratitude.

Welcome to waiting ears its harsh fore-warning

Of light and warmth to come, The longed-for joy of Nature's Easter morning,

The earth arisen in bloom!

In the loud tumult Winter's strength "is breaking;

I listen to the sound As to a voice of resurrection, waking To life the dead, cold ground.

And, in the green wood-paths, in kind pasture,

And by the whispering rills, Shall flowers repeat the lesson of the Master

Taught on his Syrian hills.

Blow, then, wild wind! Thy roar shall end in singing,

Thy chill in blossoming

Come, like Bethesda's troubling angel, bringing

The healing of the Spring.

AND RESPONSIBILITY

(Dr. J. F. Shearer.)

The community, whether it be the municipality, the province or the nation, has rights which other communities must respect and which its own citizens must respect. It has also its own responsibilities to its neighbor communities and to its own citizen.

Let us consider its responsibilities. It is responsible for the guarding of the life of its citizens. Life is precious—precious to the individual—precious to the community. Neither can continue unless life is sacred. If life is to be held sacred it must be guarded by law forbidding the taking of life and providing adequate penalties to secure that end. And that law must be enforced rigidly and uniformly. It is the duty of every citizen to honor that law, and to aid in its enforcement himself.

The community is responsible for the property of its citizens. Property is sacred, perhaps not as sacred as life, but sacred. It, too, must be guarded by law forbidding theft and providing suitable penalties. This law must be enforced and it is the duty of each citizen, not only to obey but to aid in the enforcement of that law.

The community is responsible for the health of its citizens. Health of each can only be secured by a law of health for all. No one can live unto himself. He cannot be healthy if his neighbor or any group of his neighbors is permitted to spread contagion. Hence the health laws with their imperiousness and penalties. These laws will not permit a woman to refuse and create a puddle of decaying vegetable or animal matter. Why? Because it will breed fish-spreading flies to carry typhoid or infantile paralysis to her neighbor's child or to start an epidemic of sickness and death in the community. This means limitation of liberty to some in order to ensure health for all.

The community is responsible for the education of its children. Citizens who are intelligent and good will seek education for their children. Citizens who are ignorant, indifferent or bad may object to education for their children. The community steps in with a law of compulsory education. But may not a parent say whether his child is to be educated or not? No, because an ignorant father has no right to blight and limit the life of his child by compelling it to grow up in ignorance and be handicapped for life.

It follows from this that the community is responsible for the protection and care and training of all handicapped and underprivileged children such as dependent, neglected, delinquent, physically and mentally defective children, children of unmarried parents and the like, no matter whose liberty is limited in the discharge of this duty, and even though this involve taxation upon the citizens of the community in general. This generation has responsibilities to the next generation as well as to itself.

The protection of women and children against exploitation of the greed of merciless money-making and the desire of equally merciless lust. Hence Minimum Wage Laws, Child Labor Laws, laws against sexual immorality and commerce in sex, and traffic in the vices of gambling, drink, noxious drugs and what not.

And the community's rights correspond with its responsibilities to all its citizens, and these rights are in proportion to these responsibilities. It may limit the liberty of each of its citizens to any extent necessary in order to conserve the life, property, health, and the general food, physical, mental or moral, of all its citizens. There are in general no individual rights sacred as of society as a whole, excepting of course in matters of conscience. And in the community the majority must rule under our modern democratic system of Government. The demos or people must govern. The individual must obey. This is in order to ensure safety and liberty for each and for all. And since the community consists of its citizens it is the duty of each to assist by example, precept and active cooperation in the enforcement of the will of the community expressed in laws—in all its laws—whether they are individuals approve of these laws or not.

THOUSANDS OF BUNNIES MAKE FOOD FOR FOXES

Moncton.—Although the snow has been far too deep for successful lumbering operations in the northern part of the Province, as well as other parts, there is one industry that has flourished at Rogersville, Northumberland Co., and that is the rabbit business. The season started the last week in December and up to March 1st, 26,000 had been shipped by one firm to cold storage for sale to the fox dealers. When the season closes on the 15th inst., it is expected the total shipments of rabbits from the village will have reached 35,000. Some of the parties in the rabbit snaring business have been making as high as $25.00 a week selling at 10 cents a piece.

Why Many Women Suffer In Silence

Do Not Realize That Their Trouble is Due to Impure Blood.

A woman needs a blood building medicine regularly just because she is a woman. From maturity to middle life the health of every woman depends upon her blood. If her blood is poor she is weak, languid, pale and nervous. If the blood supply is irregular she suffers from headaches and backaches, and some women have grown to expect this suffering and to bear it in silence. They do not realize that if the blood supply is kept rich and pure, their troubles will disappear, but such is the case. In every woman's life a tonic blood-enriching medicine is needed and for this purpose nothing can help them so much as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which act directly on the blood furnishing the elements necessary to make it rich and pure. Mrs. S. J. Watts, Kingston, Ont., gives her experience with this medicine as follows:—"My first experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was while attending the Collegiate Institute at about the age of seventeen. I became very much run down, and could not go upstairs without resting half way. Finally I had to quit school and notwithstanding all that was done for me there were no signs of improvement until after I had begun using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, under the use of this medicine I became well and strong. My next experience with this medicine was some years after I was married. After my baby boy was born I did not gain up as I should, so I at once started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills again. I took them all the time I was nursing baby, and you should have seen what a lovely, fat, healthy boy he was, and I was strong once more. Whenever I feel a bit run down Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are my tonic and I strongly recommend them to growing girls and all women."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BESCO POLICY ANNOUNCED BY WOLVIN

Declares For Open shop.

Sydney.—Declaration that the policy of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company is to maintain an "open shop," and that the principle of the check-off is wrong and will not be accepted by the company, is made in a statement issued at noon by President R. M. Wolvin. Mr. Wolvin's statement in full is as follows:

"The policy of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, Ltd., is to maintain an open shop. We will not discriminate against Union men, but will reserve the right to engage any man, union or non-union, who desires to work at the plant.

"The check off system is wrong in principle, is not in effect at other large steel plants and will not be accepted by this company.

"The present orders were taken to increase production and reduce costs and the average prices received, which were competitive, do not cover the cost of manufacture at the present time. However, market conditions indicate that further orders will be obtained at better prices.

"Our first consideration has been to provide employment and we are prepared to consider an increase in wages for our men if we secure orders for the plant that are profitable, but until this can be reasonably assured we cannot make a definite announcement."

The coal miners employed by Besco have the check off privilege through their U. M. W. organization. The steel workers of Sydney recently requested the same concession. The difference is that the U. M. W. recognized by the Dominion Coal Company, but the Dominion Iron and Steel Company does not recognize the Steel Workers Union.

By a check off is meant the system under which the company pay clerks deduct weekly or monthly from each man's wages his union dues and turn these over in a lump sum to the Union officers.

THE BRITISH

Among the best and staunchest friends of Great Britain in the United States today are the officers of the divisions that served with the British army in the great war. Outstanding among them is Major General John P. O'Ryan, who commanded the 27th Division, New York Own, that arrived in France late in May, 1918. Headed in France were then informed that for the purposes of administration and co-ordination, the division would be affiliated with the 66th British Division, commanded by Major General H. K. Bethell, and it entered the trenches in August. There the American officers and men were brought into intimate contact with the great and far-flung army of the Empire. For not only did they see English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh troops, but also the soldiers of Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, as well as detachments of the Indian army, South Africans, Fiji Islanders, West Indians and Chinese coolies. This experience must have been an education in itself, but what was of more significance and importance, after being for a time misled by the casual manners of the British officers, there "gradually developed feelings of regard for the soldierly virtues of the British troops and particularly for the determined and uncompromising manner in which for four long years they had borne the dreadful hardships and losses of war."

General O'Ryan recently attended the second annual reunion dinner of the 77th Division, U. S. Organized Reserves, and again seized the opportunity to refer to the experiences of these two divisions that served with the British army. He referred to the fact that their men were from New York, all products of the public schools, nearly all with some parent or grandparent who were by tradition of training hostile to the British. "We went across to help the French," General O'Ryan continued, "but to our amazement found we were assigned to the British. We played the game, but in playing it found the British to be brave and generous, determined and optimistic in reverses and sober in victory. We found them friends. Why don't we say so and tell our people here that if they had been with the British in the British area they would think of the British as we think of them. We know them. We served with them in the mud of Flanders, and we know as soldiers that mud is thicker than water."

General O'Ryan went on to say that the United States had been shy about doing its part in the world, but apparently was soon to make a real start. "When we do," he said, "I hope you will advocate marching with the British. We have done it before; it is not wholly sentimental. It is to their interest that we do this, it is true, but it is equally to our interest."

March Weather Dangerous to Baby

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mothers to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the home and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fails to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE ACT

The MONITOR would like to make a few brief remarks at least on the excellent circular sent out some little time ago by Inspector of Schools, Mr. M. C. Foster, dealing principally with the Compulsory Attendance Act. The circular reads as follows regarding attendance:

The Compulsory Attendance Act is in force in all school sections. See Amendments to Education Act, Section 147, page 363, Manual of School Law. All children from 7 to 14 years (6 to 16 in towns) are required to attend school every day unless legally excused. Sickness, inclement weather, if the child is some distance from school, temporary absence from the section, domestic affliction, are legal excuses. Work is not a legal excuse.

If child is 13 years of age and necessity compels the child to work, or any child 12 years of age who has passed a satisfactory examination on Grade VII work may be excused by the trustees. After five days' illegal absence, the parent of the child shall be notified in writing of the non-compliance with the Act. After this notice, if parent fails to comply, a Magistrate may impose a fine of $20.00, and in default of payment a month's imprisonment. After a fine has once been imposed the parent must send the child to school under pain of being summoned for a second offence. A parent whose child has been expelled is liable to the fine. Teachers must report regularly to trustees the names of children not attending school. Failure of the teacher to do so, however, does not excuse the trustees for not enforcing the Act.

Trustees are hereby notified that each and every school MUST ENFORCE THE ACT. The School Manual is now in the hands of all Boards of Trustees, and no excuse for failure to enforce the Act can be accepted by the Inspector. I have the census of all school sections. In the new Returns the teacher must report the number of days lost under the Compulsory Law. Schools ignoring Compulsory Attendance will be classed as illegal schools.

The matter of Compulsory Attendance is one which has engaged more or less attention for a considerable period of years, but the attention which has been most needed in the towns and country sections themselves has been in a great many cases of a perfunctory kind barren of results and even of good intentions. Many readers will recollect that according to law at every annual school meeting the question of Compulsory Attendance was taken up, voted through and dismissed from both thought and action till the next school meeting came around at the end of the next school year. Some towns even excused themselves on the ground that the enforcement of the Act would compel the building of new schools, except tension of old ones and employment of additional teachers for further burdened and heavily laden taxpayers. This plea was quite in line with the later one that ratepayers should be excused from contributing to the relatively paltry amounts needed to support a school nurse or to look after neglected children. The old cry which has rung down the ages "Am I my brother's keeper?" Attention to all three matters outlined above is not an expense but an investment. It gives those who are unfortunate in environment and home influence a fighting chance in later years to obtain the qualifications of good citizenship through the building up of the physical system with the proper balance in developing the mental powers. With regard to education alone the need for compulsory steps is plainly apparent and the proportion of illiterates who still exist in Nova Scotia after nearly sixty years of free schools is to put it mildly, not creditable.

Thousands fall far short of the success which natural ability coupled with education should secure them. They grow up in many cases positive menaces for the ranks of criminals are recruited chiefly from the illiterate classes. The recent amendments to the Act relating to Compulsory Attendance are not one bit too strong. They should be enforced persistently. Many growing up in ignorance will live to bless the day when they were compelled strongly against their will to acquire the essentials in a common school education. An important duty lies with Trustees and with School Boards, generally and one which neither they nor the county can afford to shirk or evade.

LEGISLATION AND LEGISLATOR
The complaint that legislators pass too many laws is heard in many quarters. The Calgary Herald, commenting on the situation in Alberta, has this to say:—

"We are being legislated to death. There was a time when if a man had an opinion he acted upon it himself if he decided it was good. But nowadays it is too commonly the fact that a man decides that his idea must be embodied in the legislative enactments of the country to bind everyone else. There is more temptation to pass a mass of legislation in a Province where a thousand or more locals of the U. F. A. feel obliged to spend much time preparing resolutions on a great variety of subjects, all of which they feel should be binding upon the Government. To this process of propaganda the Government should not yield. It should resist the tendency to the superfluous and should confine the time of the Legislature to the most essential acts."

In Manitoba, where a deficit of $1,346,000 is reported in the Provincial finances for the past year, those who dream economy rather than greater taxes, think something might be saved without risk of danger by cutting down the membership of the Legislature. Mr. W. H. Spinks, member for Cypress, suggested that the cut should be from 55 to 27. The Winnipeg Free Press thinks a reduction to 40 members would be better, and adds:—

"That number would afford adequate representation to city, town and rural districts, and should increase, rather than lessen, the efficiency of the Legislature. There would be less talk and more concentration on the business of the sessions. Conditions in different parts of the Province are not so varied that the constituencies need be maintained in their present number. With fewer and larger constituencies it is possible that there might also be a raising of the average of ability in the Legislature. If there was a reduction of fifteen in the membership there would be a yearly saving to the Province of just that many indennities, and there is also the important consideration of making the Legislature a more business-like body instead of a debating society."

Nova Scotia has too many representatives:—43 M.P.P.'s and 21 Legislative Councillors—total 64 members.—Acadian Recorder.

HAVE BOTH
There used to be much discussion as to the respective merits of direct and indirect taxation, but in those days nobody imagined that by this time we would have both.—Toronto Daily Star.

THOSE GERMAN MARKS

Trading in German marks was once an investment, then a speculation, then a hazardous gamble; now, our guess is that it is a fool's game, and that the fools are not all dead yet. Although almost any regular broker will, we suppose, still fill orders for marks, since there is an unlimited supply of them, our advice is to beware of those who try to sell them. They are probably trying to unload stuff that they do not want, or are taking advantage of human weakness and of ignorance to get silly people to buy "for a mere trifle" what these traffickers buy easily for a tenth of that mere trifle. A prominent Nova Scotia told us last week that he was urged by one of these letters to buy a hundred dollars' worth of marks for exactly the same quantity that he could buy from another source for ten dollars. He said that the lower provinces were being flooded with creditors offering wonderful bargains—wonderfully bad bargains—to people who were not able to question them. Fortunes will be made, say these traffickers in marks, by those "who have the courage to invest a trifle." But, we venture to say that the sellers are making the more certain fortunes. If anyone feels he must gamble in marks, let him ask some reputable broker, who is not flooding the country, as to what the day's price is. For a long time the rate has been falling. There have been slight fractional ups and downs, but on the long period since the war the mark has been on a toboggan slide till now it is near the zero mark. The steadiest industry in Germany is that of the printing press that goes on printing marks for the government to issue. The mark is still of infinitesimal value, only if it can be spent in Germany. Other currency by other name will take its place. Let no one be misguided into thinking that German bonds, however much they represent material worth, will ever realize their face in mark values or in any relation thereto, for the Germans are a clever people and industrious, and "Germany will come back" as the mark brokers say. But just because the Germans are clever people they will find some way of ignoring the speculators in their evidently valueless mark. By no sophistry can the mark be supposed to represent a gold basis today. And those who buy $1,000 or $2,000 worth of bonds for a dollar are blowing bubbles. Wall paper and the Witness both cost more than marks, but either in their way is a "better lay" today.—Montreal Witness.

A MARITIME EFFORT
If there is to be an Old Home Summer it should be observed by the three Maritime Provinces. Joint action should be taken and ample preparation made. Not only would natives of the Provinces and their children return, but there would be a stream of motorists and other tourists attracted by the various celebrations. I would be a wonderful opportunity to "sell" these Provinces to the tourist and the investor, even if it did not induce many of our own to come back and remain in the homeland. The Chronicle, speaking from the Nova Scotia standpoint, says that would be true of all the Provinces.—From the St. John Times.

UP TO YOU
There is usually one man who is plainly the right one. We don't really choose him. He chooses himself. We simply appoint that man.—F. Elson White, new President of a western packing company. He adds: "We don't always give the job to the smartest man. A man may be smart and lazy; capable, but not dependable.—Ottawa Journal."

LOOKING IN WALES
They are starting to look in Wales for the gold to make the wedding ring of the Duke of York's future bride. The gold from which a number of Royal wedding rings have been made comes from the Mawddach Valley. Queen Elizabeth had a portrait made of gold from the sand of Scottish rivers, and Charles I. had some medals struck at his Coronation from gold found in England. There are too many of us looking for it now.—London Telegraph.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor of Monitor:
Dear Sir:—Being equally interested with all other citizens of Clementsport, in the correspondence for some time back, between the Rev. A. W. L. Smith and our Councillor, Captain Elias Rawding, and being disatisfied with the apparent climax, I wish to submit the following which I feel shows that some things contained in Mr. Smith's letter, of Feb. 21st were a misrepresentation, giving the citizens a false impression. In Mr. Smith's letter of the above date he stated that "Councillor Rawding is mistaken in two statements in his letter" referring in one case to the Councillor's remarks in connection with Mr. Smith's efforts to have the ban on motor traffic raised, and says: "I wish to tell the Councillor that I have my permit from the 20th of March to May 1st, as have all others who applied for them, from this district, as a result of our efforts". I felt when I read this statement that Mr. Smith had made a mistake in the dates, and would surely make a correction in your issue of February 21st. In conversation with Councillor Rawding he told me that Mr. Smith assured him that the dates were correct, as contained in his letter of February 21st, and that at Mr. Smith's request he had consented to "very quiet". I knew from my own experience that the ban had not been raised on motor traffic, in this district until May 1st, but that about April 20th or 23rd permits to parties having reasonable cause to run cars were issued to do so, but only while the roads were dry. I received one of these myself, which was dated April 2nd, having made application the first of the month.

On March 3rd last I met Mr. Smith and asked him if he had not made a mistake of a month in the date, but he said no, that he had the documents to prove his statements, I suggested that there was a misprint or that his permit was in excess of sickness or death, as the ban was only put on March 23rd, but he maintained that he had the permit dated from March 20th to May 1st without restriction. I did not see this document, could not very well doubt the gentleman, but the pill was hard to swallow, and I told him so. On March 5th last Mr. Smith called at my house to say he had discovered that he had made a mistake and had sent THE MONITOR a correction that day. I said I felt that in justice to Mr. Rawding, it was the proper thing to do. In your issue of March 7th, I looked for the correction over Mr. Smith's name. It did not appear but in your issue of March 14th under Local Happenings is the following:—"In our issue of Feb. 21st in the letter from Rev. A. W. L. Smith, reference to special permits to operate a car should have read from April 20th instead of from March 20th". This was a gain of ten days to those who made special application. This correction was not over Mr. Smith's own name but it is plain from the last sentence that he had the correction made and it did not come from the editor as a correction to a misprint.

It is quite plain to me that Councillor Rawding was correct, in stating that the ban was not raised. Some special permits were issued the last week in April restricted to dry roads. These, I think, are facts without decoration. Thanking you in anticipation of space, I am
Your truly,
WILLIAM ROBERTSON,

SLEEP ANOTHER HOUR
More sleep is needed at this time of year than in the Spring, Summer or Fall. One of the best remedies for incipient colds is sleep. Fatigue, exhaustion and nervous tension make trifling colds grow worse and form a basis for influenza and pneumonia. Everybody should take more sleep in the Winter. Nature gives a strong hint to that effect in making the nights longer and the days shorter. With the many weather changes of the current month and the depletion of vitality resulting therefrom, everybody should be sure of at least eight hours sleep and an extra hour would do good. This is especially necessary for children.—From the New York Evening Mail.

Wheelsman Says Trouble Is Over

Toronto Citizen Suffered So From Stomach He Feared The Worst Tanlac Brings Complete Relief.

"Tanlac put me on my feet three years ago, and I have been in the pink of condition ever since," states John J. Mathews, 12 Ashby Place, Toronto, Ont., well-known wheelsman on the steamer, "Toronto."

"I had stomach trouble so bad that at times I simply had to use hot appliances in an effort to subdue the pain. Gas almost choked me after eating, and I dreaded this so much I frequently made a complete trip on the steamer, two days, without food. I could never rest, and felt so bad I could hardly stick to my wheel. In fact, I was so near 'all in' I thought I was going to have to give up completely.

"It was a great day for me when I went to the drug store and got Tanlac, for the medicine proved a god-send to me. I haven't had a sick day since I finished the treatment, but have been feeling as fine as I ever did in my life."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good drug-gists. Over 35-million bottles sold."

NEW AMERICAN TARIFF A BOOMERANG

Uncle Sam Finds He Cannot Sell When He Refuses To Buy—Farmers Hard Hit.

The new United States tariff has hit the Canadian cattle and sheep raisers hard. At the same time it has brought no relief to the American farmers but on the other hand has increased their living costs by advancing the prices of manufactured products.

Information secured by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is of striking interest in connection with Canada's exports to the United States under the present customs regulations. The Fordney tariff went into effect on September 21st last, and the following table gives some idea how it bears on many of our exportable products. In the first column are the values of exports to the United States during October, November and December, 1920, and January, 1921, while the second column shows the values for the corresponding periods of 1922 and 1923:

Table with 4 columns: Product, 1920-21, 1922-23, 1920-21, 1922-23. Rows include Cattle, Horses, Poultry, Sheep, Apples, Barley, Oats, Rye, Wheat, Beef, Mutton, Poultry (dead), Butter, Cheese, Milk (fresh), Milk (cond.), Flaxseed, Potatoes, Turnips, Hay, Wool.

It is quite evident that there is no necessity for any of our young men to go through this world for long in a state of single-blessedness. We understand that one of our citizens, when packing apples last season, placed his name and address upon a pulp head, with a statement that he would accept application for a wife. The apple dealer overseas who handled the fruit thought to assist in the good work and had the plea for a feminine supporter advertised in the English papers. Without result that our citizen to date has had the opportunity of taking into himself some seven hundred wives, providing of course that the law allowed of such extravagances. He received some 350 applications in one mail alone during the past week. The unfortunate phase of this would-be romance is that this brave man is already married and merely applied for a wife as a joke. Nevertheless it is quite possible that he will sell chances on any of the applications providing that the market is forthcoming.—Wolville Acadian.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

The Bureau's figures do not indicate that the Canadian wheat growers have suffered so much as the cattle raisers. Europe is taking great quantities of wheat which formerly was sold across the border, and American millers find it necessary to import a large quantity of Canadian No. 1 hard in order to keep up the quality of their flour. The Bureau's information is that our exports of flour, potatoes, hay, mutton and beef have fallen off sharply, although there has been a steady increase in barley shipments to the Republic. Little pork and bacon are exported, but the sale of dairy products to our neighbors to the south shows an increase. In spite of the higher duties, Great Britain, however, is our best customer for dairy products.

SUBSTANTIAL DECREASE IN THE DEATH RATE OF N. S.

Report of Public Health Department Tabled in House of Assembly. The report of the Department of Public Health which was handed down in the House of Assembly by Hon. D. A. Cameron, Provincial Secretary, showed a very substantial decrease in the death rate of the Province for the past year. The 1920-21 death rate was about 125. The vital statistics for 1920-21 are those which are quoted throughout the report and show a total number of deaths for that year of 5,573, or a general death rate of 12.54. The city death rate was higher in proportion, the rate being 13.85, and the rural rate 11.55.

United Fruit Companies Dust Prices 1923

It has always been the policy of the United Fruit Companies to supply the highest quality of dust at the lowest price possible. When we first went into the dust business, dust was selling at $11.50 per 100 lbs. in the Annapolis Valley. We steadily lowered this price until last year we sold Bordeaux dust at $6.00, and 90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust at $7.00, delivered to the farmer. Consistent with this policy we are again pleased to announce a further price reduction, a reduction which is only made possible because of the large scale upon which we are now operating.

Prices (retail to the farmer from every local company): Bordeaux Dust $4.75 per 100 lbs. 90-10 Sulphur-lead Arsenate Dust, $6.00 per 100 lbs. Straight Superfine Dusting Sulphur, $3.70 per 100 lbs. Prices on other mixed dusts may be had on application, and are proportionately low.

The Bordeaux dust is of the same strength as last year, being composed of 12 lbs. dehydrated copper sulphate, 8 lbs. arsenate of lime, and 80 lbs. hydrated lime, or in other words a little over 4% metallic copper and a little over 2% metallic arsenic. This dust is little more than half the retail price of the same dust of the same strength sold by any other concern in America according to all the price lists now available.

The sulphur-lead arsenate dust is about two-thirds the price at which the same material may be bought in any other district. The above dust mixtures are all standard dusts thoroughly tried and tested and well known in all American fruit growing areas, and it is consequently with much pride that we announce ourselves as pioneers in setting new low price standards on high quality materials. We were early approached with regard to handling the new dusts known as "green dust" and "brown dust", which are dusts containing copper and arsenic in different forms from the regular Bordeaux, and in consequence we obtained from the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Annapolis all the information and experimental figures relating to these new dusts. From an examination of this data we found:— 1. That the "green dust" gave a very poor control of apple scab. 2. That the "brown dust" gave a control of apple scab on an average a little poorer than our regular Bordeaux dust. 3. That both these dusts were heavy materials and that it took nearly half as much again of these dusts, as compared with our regular Bordeaux dust, to cover the same area of orchard.

From the above we could come to the conclusion that these dusts were not only of lower quality than we desired, but also that they would be very expensive for an orchardist to use, and consequently that the handling of these dusts would not be consistent with the United Fruit Companies policy of low cost and high quality. We were further warned by the Provincial Entomologist in his speech before the Fruit Growers Association against the danger of changing from proven materials, to materials about which little was known. On the same occasion the officer in charge of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory stated that these new dusts were in some respects defective, were only in an experimental stage, and had not stood the test of time. These statements served to confirm us in our opinion, and in view of the low prices at which it was possible for us to supply standard dusts, the handling of these new dusts appeared to us the height of business folly.

We are informed from our Entomological advisers that it is possible that future experiments may find methods for improving and overcoming the defects of these new green and brown dusts. We are keeping ourselves informed on any development of this nature, and are ourselves participating in factory experiments with this end in view. In the event of such new methods being found we will be in a position to manufacture and supply green or brown dust at a retail price of about $4.00 per 100 lbs. The above is written to explain the policy of the United Fruit Companies which is to only supply the best quality dusts at the lowest price possible, to handle no materials which have not proven their value in the hands of impartial experimenters, but at the same time to keep in touch with all new developments so that when sufficient is known about them they may be utilized for the benefit of all the farmers and not for the benefit of any private exploiters.

The tolls paid by vessels passing through the Panama Canal in January amounted to $1,500,000. A new canal is spoken of. Some think it should parallel the present one. Others would revert to the route by Lake Nicaragua, which was discussed some seventy-five years ago.

WOULD REDUCE INDEMNITIES OF MEMBERS

Proposed For 12 1/2 Per Cent. Decrease Greeted With Merriment From Both Sides of House.

Ottawa.—Rising amid laughter from both sides of the House, Harry Leader, Progressive member for Portage La Prairie, moved for a 12 1/2 per cent. reduction in the indemnities of members of the House of Commons and senate and of the salaries paid to the ministers and to the leader of the opposition.

Mr. Leader said that he would be willing to cut his remarks right off at the outset and have a vote on the resolution if the House was willing. There were cries, however, of "explain" from all over the House, and amid much laughter, he went on to say that most resolutions on this subject asked for an increase. That was what the people of the country were used to. "I hope, I have the goodwill of the members," he pursued, amid calls of "sure" and "hear."

That the resolution was in the interests of economy was obvious, he went on, and so was the need for economy. However, everybody was willing to economize for the other fellow, and continued to hand on the higher indemnity voted in 1920. In his opinion this resolution was a final test of the sincerity of the members in their advocacy of economy. The saving would perhaps not be large. It would be $500 for each member of the House and each senator, or $750.00 for each minister of the crown, or a total of $200,000. However, the amount of the saving was not the important point. The important point was the principle. The adoption of this resolution would not put the members in an unassailable position to economize along other lines.

L. H. Martell, (Liberal, Hants) reminded Mr. Leader that a day or two ago he had disputed with another member as to who was representing Portage La Prairie. Why not divide the indemnity, he suggested. Mr. Leader replied that he knew

QUEBEC PUTS SEAPLANES TO WORK

Quebec, March.—The Quebec Forest Service has made effective use of seaplanes to inspect forest conditions on the watershed of the Natashouan river. In seven hours, the observer, Mr. Methot, F. E., was able to make a sketch of the present situation of nearly 3,000 miles of forests. At the same time, a land party was examining the same area and when they were back, two months later, the reports presented by both parties compared and found to be practically identical. This system will be continued hereafter as there are numerous sections of the Province on which the Government has reports, which are twenty and thirty years old and must be brought to date since fires, insect plagues and windfalls may have brought changes in the interval.

MAPPING TIMBER FROM THE AIR

Ottawa, March.—Important progress has been made during the past year in the development of forest types mapping from the air. In British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec much work of this nature has been done from the Air Force Stations. Topographical detail not shown on existing maps is first sketched in from the air on the map and the forest types are then added. The importance of this work cannot be over-estimated as it enables those responsible for the forests to gain reliable information regarding districts or tracts practically nothing is known today. The value of the timber can be estimated quickly and easily, and lumbering operations are greatly facilitated by means of the additional information made available.

Both Doug and Mary expressed themselves as delighted with Canada and "elated" every moment spent in the Canadian Rockies.

quered to try and convict the Canadian pair of a far graver crime.

AVOID NOVELTIES IN BUYING TREES

Grower Takes Chance on Varieties That Have Not Been Tested Out.

The fruit grower who intends to order fruit trees for spring planting is advised by the Canadian Horticultural Council to learn all he can about the varieties he proposes to buy, particularly with regard to adaptation of the trees to his soil and general conditions, and to the average market returns for the fruit.

There are many varieties which regularly sell at from $1.00 to $2.00 less per barrel and are always in shorter demand than other varieties, but which cost no less to produce. Varieties that are advertised as new and superior to all other varieties should be looked upon with suspicion, and not commercial viewpoint.

Widely advertised novelties should usually be avoided until they have been tested and recommended by the Horticultural Council. The average fruit grower cannot afford to take a chance on untried varieties, but where he desires to do so, he is advised to purchase from the originator or the recognized propagator of the original stock.

Few Good New Varieties

The most worthy of the new fruits surpass the standard sorts in but one or a few respects only, and it is, therefore, advisable to secure an opinion from the Canadian Horticultural Council, Ottawa, regarding those advertised before purchasing in quantity. Of the thousands of new seedlings originated and tested at the Experimental Farm, only a very few have been found to have sufficient merit to warrant a place in the orchard.

Fruit growers are further advised to buy nursery stock only from reliable dealers, who can be depended upon to deliver the goods represented. If possible, buy from nurseries nearby, as trees grown near home usually give better results than those from a distance. The best trees for planting are those of average size for their age, and typical of the variety desired. A short, stocky tree is usually preferable to one that is tall and spindly.

Last year over $3,350,000 was taken as receipts for liquor sales from Government dispensaries in Ontario.

WHAT SO GHASTLY AS AN UGLY WOMAN!

"There is nothing in the world so ghastly as an ugly woman—and the ghastly part of all is that it's her own fault."

When such a declaration comes from the lips of Mrs. Byron Alger, editor of a United States fashion journal and an outstanding authority on women and their clothes, it is worth noting.

"What the woman of 35 or over has to realize is, that she has got to watch her 'shadows.' For instance so often you find a full-faced woman with glasses wearing a small tight-fitting hat. If she would only pull her mirror over to the window and let the cold light of day show how terrible she looks, then I think she would understand how indispensable a large hat, casting a friendly shadow, is to her!"

THE GROCER'S DREAM

Last evening I was talking

With a grocer, old and gray, Who told me of a dream he had 'Twas just the other day, While standing in his office.

The vision came to view, For he saw an angel enter, Dressed in garments white and new, Said the angel, 'I'm from Heaven, The Lord just sent me down To bring you up to glory.

And put on your golden crown, You've been a friend to everyone And worked hard night and day, You have supported many And from few received your pay.

And we want you up in glory Where you desire to be, So place your trusting hand in mine And come along with me.

Then the angel and the grocer Started up to glory's gate, But when passing close to Hades The angel murmured "Wait!" I have a place to show you— It's the hottest place in h—

Where the ones that never paid you Do in torment always dwell," And, behold, the grocer saw them, His old patrons by the score, And grabbing up a chair and fan He wished for nothing more But was bound to sit and watch them As they'd sizzle, singe and burn.

And his eyes would rest on debtors Whichever way they'd turn. Said the angel, "Come on, grocer, 'There's the pearly gate to see," But the grocer only murmured, "This is Heaven here for me."

BOBBY FORWARD GETS AWAY TO BIG LEAGUE CAMP

Yarmouth.—Bob Forward left Friday for Hot Springs, Ark. The mix-up over his entry into the States was adjusted from Washington due to the efforts of the Pittsburg Club.

Bob was in great shape and in the pink of condition, having spent the winter in the woods chopping and sawing wood, and it is the strong belief that he will deliver the goods when called upon as he has nearly all the qualities that go towards making a star. His future will be watched with great interest by all Nova Scotians.

BRITAIN'S PART IN EUROPE TOO MEAGRE SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

London.—Great Britain is playing too meagre a part in European affairs today, according to former Premier Lloyd George, who was the guest of the National Liberal Member of Parliament at luncheon at the House of Commons. It was not pleasant to see issues being disposed of without Britain being consulted, he said.

Replying to the toast to his health the former Premier alluded to the proposal for a reunion of the two Liberal wings and said:

"I have no doubt at all that if reunion between the two wings is not secured, if dissensions and divisions are prolonged, the party will be paralyzed. At the Mitcham bye-election the forces of discontent rallied around Labor not around Liberalism. If there is a lesson in the Mitcham result for the Conservative party, there is also a lesson for Liberals."

Continuing, the former Premier said: "If asked, would I treat Labor as an enemy, I would say: 'Certainly not, not Labor.' The revolutionary elements in the Labor party, 'decidedly yes.'" The audience cheered these sentiments.

It was somewhat chilled, but was caught and led to the barn of Mr. L. E. Robbins, where it is now being cared for.—Yarmouth Light.

TO MAKE OFFENCE

Toronto despatch.—To make it a criminal offence to sell woollen goods as "all wool" which they are half-wool and to protect themselves against the wily ways of the bankrupt and the "crooked" businessman, are live topics at the convention of the Ontario Retail Clothiers and Men's Furnishings now being held here.

The branding of goods "made in England" when they are the product of the Canadian firms is another tender bit that will invite discussion.

NO VOTE FOR HOUSING SCHEME

There will be no more money for putting the housing scheme into effect in Canada. The reason for this is that the vote of $9,000,000 for housing purposes has been dropped from the Dominion estimates and since it is from Dominion funds that the Provincial Housing Commission obtains money which is loaned borrowers through local commissions appointed by town and city councils, no funds will be available for this purpose this year.

Stories of early marriages are all surpassed by the statement of the Rev. "Herald" that Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, the pastor of the Annapolis Royal Baptist Church, in spite of the disagreeable weather—a snow storm prevailing at the time—a large number of persons were present to pay their last respects to their departed friend. The interment took place in the Round Hill public cemetery.

Mrs. G. L. Pearson
News of the death of Mrs. G. L. Pearson in Portland, Maine, on March 10th, has saddened the hearts of her many friends in Clarence where she was well known and highly esteemed. Mrs. Pearson was a woman of unusual ability and talent. The removal of the family from their home in Paradise two years ago was a distinct loss to the Paradise and Clarence churches.
Since writing the above the sad news of Mr. Pearson's death has reached us. The heartfelt sympathy of our community goes out to the bereaved son and daughter, and the many relatives and friends.

Obituaries
Mrs. William Healy.
One of the most highly and respected citizens of Round Hill passed away, in the person of Mrs. William Healy, from the scenes and activities of the earthly life, on Friday, the 9th inst., just as the shadows of evening were falling, and the curtain of darkness was being gradually drawn over the surface of the earth. She had been in somewhat failing health during the last few years, but she was making such progress that it was believed she would be spared to her family and friends for a long time to come, but suddenly about ten days ago she was stricken down, and the end came without her even gaining consciousness. It is now six years ago that her husband, a well known figure in our community, a popular Councillor, and an active and zealous worker in the interests of the Conservative party, was taken from our midst.
Mrs. Healy was a daughter to the late Mr. Rice Whitman, of Lawrence-town, and after her marriage took up her residence here, and continued to abide here until her decease. She was one of a family of nine children, and her departure makes only the second break in the family circle. By reason of her long residence here—between fifty and sixty years—she was known to all, and her chief characteristics were as an epistle read and known of all men. She was kind, amiable, and gentle in disposition, sympathetic to those in distress, helpful to those in need, performed her duties from the highest motives, saw the best in every one, and left no duty unfulfilled in her own home. She was the proud possessor of the virtue of patience, which John, the golden-mouthed archbishop of Constantinople, characterized as the Queen of Virtues. She also was in possession of the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.
The funeral service was held at her residence on Monday afternoon, the 12th inst., at the hour of three, and was conducted by the Rev. John Reeks, the rector of St. Paul's Church, Rosette, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Gibson, the pastor of the Annapolis Royal Baptist Church. In spite of the disagreeable weather—a snow storm prevailing at the time—a large number of persons were present to pay their last respects to their departed friend. The interment took place in the Round Hill public cemetery.

Mrs. Healy leaves four children behind to mourn their loss, viz.: Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Wm. Dargie and Miss Erena, of Round Hill, and Mrs. John McDorman, of Lynn, Mass. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved ones in their distress.
