FIGHT LESSENS IN RUMANIAN BATTLE ZONES

Germans Make Slight Gains in Two Fresh Regions. LOSE OENA HEIGHT

London, Aug. 15.—Fighting in southwest Moldavia apparently is lessening in intensity. In the mountains the Russians and Rumanians have given up a height west of Oena to the Austro-Germans. In the Putna Valley and toward the line of the Sereth, Berlin reports Field Marshal von Mackensen has made some progress, capturing the Town of Stracani. Three thousand prisoners, guns and machine guns have been captured by the Austro-Germans in the Moldavian theatre. Around Fokehant there has been no fighting, but southeast along the Sereth, the Teutons have stormed the bridgehead at Baltaratu.

PRODUCTS OF DAIRY PILE UP IN STORAGE

Sensational O'Connor Report Shows Big Increase in Quantities of Butter, Eggs, Cheese and Beef Held—Holdings of Bacon Decrease Forty Per Cent.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Aug. 15.—"There is evidence of accumulation of butter, eggs, cheese and beef," says W. F. O'Connor, K.C., cost of living commissioner, in his monthly report. The quantity of butter now in storage exceeds by 40 per cent., of eggs exceeds by 31 per cent., of cheese exceeds by 29 per cent. and of beef exceeds by 50 per cent. that reported as held on August 1 last year.

In view of orders by the food controller made effective today and the general situation regarding the price of food commodities, this new report by Mr. O'Connor has caused a profound sensation. The cost of living commissioner goes on to say: "The returns for 1917 cover a few more firms than those of 1916, but this fact merely detracts from the proportion of the increase in accumulation. It is stated that the accumulation is to respond to orders for export trade. The quantity of pork held is normal compared with August 1st, 1916, figures. There is a 40 per cent. decrease in the holdings of bacon as compared with August, 1916."

FORMIDABLE DEFENSES FALL AS DOMINION'S MEN CHARGE

German Positions Before Loos Speedily Yield to Assault—Among Points Captured Are Famous Hill Seventy, Key of Lens, Three Villages, Two Woods—Troops Come to Close Grips With Germans in Lens Proper.

By Stewart Lyon. Canadian Headquarters in France, Wednesday Evening, Aug. 15, via London.—The Germans are now fighting with great tenacity to retain their hold on the central portion of Lens. Throughout the day they have been bringing up fresh troops with which to carry on counter-attacks. The original force with which our assault was made was pretty well accounted for by the attacking forces. It consisted of two battalions of the 165th Regiment, two of the 26th, two of the 156th, and one of the 293rd. German regiments consist of three battalions each, and after the battalions of the three first mentioned regiments holding the trenches had been put out of action, the reserve battalions were moved up hurriedly. At 9 o'clock, while headed toward Hill 70, these battalions were caught under our artillery fire and dispersed.

TROOPS MAKE ADVANCE IN SILVERY MOONLIGHT

British Barrage Proves Flawless as Men Proceed to Objectives—First Stage of Charge Lasts Ninety-Three Minutes.

By R. J. Small, Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press. British Front in France and Belgium, August 15.—After the brilliant advance this morning, in which the Canadians captured Hill 70, and then swept on northwest of Lens, the attackers were at close grips with the Germans in the western part of Lens late today. The attack began at 4:25 o'clock, just as the first grey streaks of dawn were appearing. All night, the British big guns had been pouring a steady stream of high explosive shells into the German positions, great detonations overlapping one another like the rapid crackling of machine gun fire and swelling into a mighty volume of thunder that shook the earth and stunned the senses. Then, a short time before the hour of offensive arrived, the batteries abruptly ceased and a strange, almost oppressive stillness, fraught with the portending calmness which must follow a great battle, came over the country. It had been raining and grey clouds still hung low over the trenches where crouched the Canadian infantrymen, waiting eagerly for the arrival of the moment which would summon them to the attack.

MERE BOYS COMPRISE BULK OF HUNS TAKEN

Germans Flee Thru Barrage, or Stop Only to Surrender to Canadians—Struggle Extends Southward of Lens.

London, Aug. 15.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Reuter's correspondent at British army headquarters, telegraphing this afternoon, says: "General Currie's splendid Canadian troops, by a terrific attack this morning, added a brilliant page to the history of the war. What adds lustre to the Canadian victory is that the Germans were completely ready for the battle and now surprised at the attack. A prisoner officer states that they were told when the attack would be delivered within half an hour of its actual development. In many places, then suddenly the artillery began to barrage within two minutes of the opening of the bombardment. "The night was one of the darkest and the rain came down in a deluge before jumping-off time. Nothing indicated that anything abnormal was contemplated until the battle opened. Then suddenly the artillery began to shower oil drums, which went rolling over in convolutions of pink flame in the midst of the enemy positions. The British barrage roared forth a perfect cataclysm of sound. The infantry began the advance at 4:25 a.m. The fighting included the taking of Hill 70, Cite St. Laurent, and Cite St. Emile. The resistance upon Hill 70 was not very great, although beyond it the Germans fought stubbornly. "The southern part of the attack also was comparatively little resistance. Thru the smoke barrage the Canadians could see the Huns fleeing, and when they did stop it was principally for the purpose of surrendering. The enemy was completely demoralized by the cascades of fire which lit up the vaporous folds as the oil drums emitted their contents. "A very large proportion of the captives are mere boys, which testifies to the serious problem which the manpower question is presenting to Germany. "The first phase of the battle had consisted of a sweep southward from Bois Hugo to Lens, and developed with great success. The second phase involved a continuation of the southeasterly movement, accompanied by heavy pressure farther south. The struggle here continues, extending southward. "The correspondent, continuing his story of the battle, pays a high tribute to the indomitable spirit of the Canadian soldiers, who, in their own phrase, 'have their tails in the air.' They are all confident that they have the Huns beaten. "The scene of some of the sharpest fighting has been from the railway embankment north of Cite St. Laurent, from which the boiling oil treatment cleared the Huns to 700 yards south. The German soldiers were more venturesome than usual, but ours chased them everywhere over the battle ground. Tanks were not used, the battle ground being unimpaired."

ACQUISITION OF C.N.R. BIG GAIN TO PUBLIC

W. F. Maclean, M.P., Believes Step Heralds Nationalization of All Canadian Railways—Lemieux Charges Newspapers Conspire to Support Government Program—Vote is Deferred.

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Aug. 15.—A vigorous vindication and defence of public ownership was made in the house of commons today by Mr. W. F. Maclean (South York) in the course of the debate upon the Canadian Northern bill. Mr. Maclean congratulated the government upon adding nearly 10,000 miles of railway to the government railway system, and believed that this progressive step heralded the way to the nationalization of all the railways of Canada. He pointed out that a unified railway system under national control would do away with unnecessary duplication of construction and service, and would set up the ideal of public welfare as opposed to private profits. He also pointed out that government ownership of railways should be accompanied by their electrification, and public ownership of the great water powers that were so abundant in Canada. The appointment of Sir William Meredith to be the government arbitrator was, in Mr. Maclean's opinion, sufficient guarantee that the award would be fair and reasonable.

BRITISH TONNAGE SUNK SHOWS BIG DECREASE

Loss of fourteen vessels of more than sixteen hundred tons compares with twenty-one sunk in the previous week.

London, August 15.—A falling off in British tonnage sunk last week by mines or submarines is indicated in the weekly admiralty statement made public tonight. Fourteen vessels of 1600 tons and over were sent to the bottom, as against 21 the previous week. Two vessels of less than 1600 tons were sunk last week, the same number reported the previous week. Three fishing boats met with disaster last week. The admiralty statement follows: "Arrivals of all nationalities, 2718; sailings, 2686. "British merchantmen sunk by mines or submarines over 1600 tons, including one previously, 14; under 1600 tons, including one previously, two. "British merchantmen unsuccessfully attacked, including five previously, 18. "British fishermen sunk, three."

CASUALTIES SLIGHT.

London, Aug. 15.—With only slight casualties, Canadian troops fighting south and east of Loos, have captured German positions on Hill 70, a formidable defence work, according to the British official communication issued tonight. Five German counter-attacks were repulsed. The communication follows: "This morning, Canadian troops stormed German positions south and east of Loos on a front of two miles. The formidable defences on Hill 70, which resisted our attacks in the battle of Loos in September, 1915, and had been improved and strengthened by every method and device known to our enemies, were carried by assault. "To Depth of Mile. "After storming the enemy's first line trench system on the whole of the front attacked, our troops advanced as far as the western defenses of Cite St. August, penetrating the German positions to a depth of about a mile. Besides the elaborate series of trench lines and strong points forming the defenses of Hill 70, the Villages of Cite St. Elizabeth, Cite St. Emile, and Cite St. Laurent, as well as the Base Wood and the western half of the Hugo Wood are now in our possession. All our objectives were captured. Our casualties were slight. "During the day, five hostile counter-attacks were repulsed by our infantry or broken up by our artillery. One of these was carried out by troops of a division of Prussian Guards. The enemy's losses both from our attack and his unsuccessful counter-attacks were heavy. "The number of prisoners captured has not yet been ascertained, but 282, including fifteen officers, reached the collecting station this afternoon. "Great Air Activity. "On the Ypres battle front a hostile attack against our positions in the neighborhood of the Pilken-Langemarek road was repulsed completely. "There was great activity in the air again yesterday and strong points formed in the course of which nine German airplanes were brought down and five others driven down out of control. Seven of our machines are missing, two of which were overtaken in a violent storm while working over the enemy's lines."

DASH IS IRRESISTIBLE.

By Stewart Lyon. Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 15.—In the final phase of the battle of Lens, which was begun the morning at dawn, the Canadian troops from every part of the Dominion stormed Hill 70, the historic ground east of Loos, and also Cite St. Laurent, a mining village which forms the northern suburb of Lens. A second successful assault, which had been arranged to take place after the capture of Hill 70 and St. Laurent, was launched at 8:30 a.m. on that part of the front to the west of Lens. Save in the hard struggle to the east of Hill 70, our losses have been relatively small when the far-reaching effect of the victory gained is taken into account. A very large proportion of those hit were wounded by irresistible dash, over ground that had been plowed with heavy shells by the Canadian gunners working to the limit of their endurance for over three weeks. The advance took part on a front of 4,500 yards from chalk pits midway between Hulsuch and Loos, south of Hill 70. The chief objective of the assault was regarded as the key to Lens from the artilleer's point of view, and Cite St. Laurent, the suburbs of Lens, and the area between them. To secure these points it was necessary to penetrate the enemy's lines in crescent form, the greatest depth of advance eastward to a point between Hill 70 and St. Laurent, where machine guns were known to have been installed behind recently-constructed wire entanglements, woven in and out among the debris of rows of miners' houses. The detection and destruction of wires under these conditions was very difficult, and it was recognized that this was a point where the assaulting troops would have had strong. Positions Amazingly Strong. The enemy, since the battle of Loos, in September, 1915, had held his positions with practically no change, except at the southern end, back about

LIEUT. CHUTE KILLED.

London, Aug. 15.—Lieut. F. R. Chute of the Canadian Machine Gun Corps was killed near Godalming, a military motor ambulance running into marching troops.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE Canadians, attacking at dawn yesterday, captured Hill 70, north-west of Lens. The prominence rises about 220 feet above sea level, and its possessor commands a view over Lens and the country to the east as well as over Loos and the country to the west. The Canadians, in order to carry the position, made their advance on a front of two miles to a distance of about a mile over strongly fortified and strongly held ground. They carried, in addition to the elaborate defences of the hill, the villages of Cite St. Elizabeth, Cite St. Emelle, and Cite St. Laurent, with Base Wood and the western half of the Hugo Wood. These points comprise all the objectives and in gaining them the Canadians had the good fortune of escaping with slight casualties. The enemy, who expected the attack, almost immediately launched his counter-attacks. The Canadians drove five of these back with their infantry fire or their artillery barrage. The crisis in all these actions is the first 24 hours, until the men consolidate their positions, so it is not yet over.

The new Canadian line in this region runs thru the western defences of Cite St. August and the eastern half of Hugo Wood, and the troops are now at close grips with the Germans in the western and northwestern parts of Lens proper. The Germans had elaborately fortified Hill 70 since the early days of their occupation. It was one of the principal objectives of the British offensive at Loos in September, 1915, when the storming troops just failed to carry it in their first day's rush. The knowledge that it was of great tactical value impelled the enemy to improve constantly its defences. The British artillery fire, which has continued with great intensity and countered little opposition until well forward from their points of departure.

The Germans, expecting a British assault in this region, had massed large forces, so a big battle may develop. Correspondents telegraph from the front that the battle is not over and, being as big as it is, it is impossible to say how it may extend. Many close observers of the war, in brief, expect a German breakthrough after some of these intense battles. The enemy has suffered severely in morale from his loss of these positions. The newly raised and trained British army, which has been reversing all the gains made in the spirits of officers and men. This is the way that always works on the losing side. The belief that Germany's downfall will come from a sudden collapse, is shared by none other a personage than Sir William Robertson, chief of the British general staff.

The British, profiting by their experience in previous battles, have greatly improved their tactical arrangements, so that the troops proceed to their objectives with little hitch and apparently no delay. To do all this well requires an elaborate and minute time-table. It took the infantry just 93 minutes to reach their objectives in this action. It took them 452 minutes to reach their objectives in the battle of Vimy Ridge, yet Hill 70 is almost as important as the ridge. The men found the wire entanglements and other defences of the enemy broken and leveled and they also found that many Germans did not wait to see their attack, but bolted as soon as the ten minutes' preliminary bombardment began.

The Germans, on the Rumanian front, have captured a bridgehead on the Sereth River in the region of Fokshani and in the mountains a considerable distance west of Pantuzi, they captured Stracal. This is a village "no man's land" between the outposts of the opposing armies. The enemy went back a height from the Rumanians at a point about five miles west of Oena. This on the whole the successes of the enemy are more spectacular than important. He claims that the Russians and Rumanians lost on the Sereth and in the mountains more than 3000 prisoners. This figure may represent the collection of several days of fighting. The Russians report the battle in the direction of Oena as continuing with less intensity and they declare that in the region of Fokshani, where the enemy Rumanian embassy at Washington has received a despatch announcing the halting of the German offensive in the Fokshani region. The enemy, it appears, lacks adequate reserves to drive an offensive home.

The German press, inspired by the German military authorities, is preparing the German public mind for an allied offensive in the west on a scale that has never before. The French have closed the Swiss frontier, and on the entire French front, except in the Chemin des Dames, an ominous inertia is prevailing. The artillery, however, increases the violence of its action. It is plain to any close student of the war that the allied actions coming general advance. The prospects are excellent, when the Anglo-French forces attack in concert, for them to sweep the Germans off the face of the earth. It is significant that, although apparently promising openings exist in the headquarters on the western front, the British general staff report problem and greatest danger to Germany lies.

The weekly return of the British admiralty on the British shipping losses in the past week shows that 14 ships of over 1500 tons and two smaller ships were sunk by mines or submarines. This is a reduction of seven lives measures are again prevailing against the enemy. Three fishing boats

REFORMS TO FOLLOW REMOVAL OF MENACE

Lloyd George Looks for Closer Federation Within British Empire.

London, Aug. 15.—Premier Lloyd George, speaking this afternoon at a luncheon given in honor of Premier W. A. Molman of New South Wales, declared that Great Britain was fighting for one thing and that was a "victory of democracy over aggression."

All other things wrapped up in the programs of no matter what party, the British premier said, were unattainable unless the entente allies won. There was nothing in the program of labor which could be attained if the entente allies were beaten.

There was room within the orbit of the British Empire, he declared, for the federation of all peoples, providing one formidable obstacle was removed—that of aggressive German militarism.

WILL BE NO STRIKE IF ACTION IS PROMPT

Telegraphers Oppose Delay in Commencement of Negotiations to Avert Trouble.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, made the following statement this afternoon with regard to the Great Northwest Telegraph dispute at Toronto: "The company named Mr. Markey a day or so ago, but stated that he was away and would not be able to take up the matter before the fourth, pro- vided he could not consent to the delay in- volved, and so informed the company unless the men would consent to the delay. Such consent has not been communicated to me. Unless it be communicated to me, I will proceed with the company naming another man, or the minister doing so for them."

E. C. Malaise, general chairman for the men, announced in Toronto yesterday afternoon that Mr. Markey had suggested September 1 as a commencement date.

"The men would not tolerate this," he said. "They are opposed to the delay. Mr. Crothers wires me that he has no objection to such a quick appointment. There will be no strike if Mr. Crothers acts promptly, and doubtless he will."

The New Blouses Are Very Charming

Filmy Models of Sheer Georgette or Modish Blouses of Crepe de Chine—All as Delightful as Dainty Embroidery and Clever Designing Can Make Them. Prices, $5.95 to $13.50.

BEADING and silk embroidery share the honors with tucking and fine lace in the adornment of new Fall blouses, and it is a difficult matter to choose between them.

Very lovely are models in Georgette crepe showing a combination of beading and silk embroidery and finished with hemstitching.

Cut steel beads and silk embroidery prove a most effective trimming on a blouse of heavy Georgette crepe, the collar, cuffs and panel front being hemstitched.

Another model in closely woven Georgette has heavily beaded medallions combined with fine tucking. Hemstitching in a shade to match the blouse adds to the smart effect.

A handsome blouse in Georgette crepe is ornamented with silk embroidery in solid designs and has self-covered buttons and a corded and embroidered collar in deep shoulder effect.

SOLDIERS FROM U.S. CHEERED IN LONDON

King George Reviews Troops at Buckingham Palace—Enthusiasm Intense.

London, Aug. 15.—American troops marched through London today. They were reviewed by King George at Buckingham Palace. Great crowds lined the streets, which were decorated profusely with British and American flags.

As the Americans passed the Horse Guards parade to Whitehall they were greeted from the windows of the war office by Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Secretary Balfour, Chancellor Bonar Law, War Secretary Derby, Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of munitions; George N. Barnes, member of the war council; Admiral Jellicoe and other high officials, as well as by French and Belgian officers.

The evening newspapers say that for a parallel to the scenes witnessed today in the neighborhood of Trafalgar square, it probably would be necessary to recall the time of the South African war and the return home of the troops.

The King's party at Buckingham Palace included Field Marshal French, commander of the home forces; Queen Mother Alexandra and Princess Mary. Just before the last of the troops passed through the premier jumped up in a motor car. The premier was recognized by the guards and the procession was halted for a moment.

The King and premier discussed the British success for a moment and then the King turned back to review the troops.

LEWIS DELANEY MET ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Jury's Verdict at Orangeville Over Civic Holiday Tragedy With Rifles.

Orangeville, Aug. 15.—A verdict of accidental death was rendered by a coroner's jury here today after a half hour's deliberations over the evidence adduced as to the manner in which Lewis Delaney came to his death on the outskirts of the town, August 6.

The authorities of the County of Peel having decided that an inquest be held into the circumstances, the body of the victim was exhumed on the warrant of Coroner Reynar.

Young Johnston, aged 14, and Delaney, aged 16, were chums, and employed in Eaton's. Delaney invited Johnston to spend the civic holiday with him at his home here, and the boys came up Saturday night before the holiday. Monday the lads procured small rifles from local hardware stores and went to shoot ground hogs in a bush near the town limits, accompanied by a younger brother of Delaney's, aged 11, who was the chief witness today.

He told of the events immediately before the shooting when Johnston fired off the rifle, striking his brother, 60 feet away, who died almost at once. This witness said his brother and young Johnston were the best of friends.

The medical evidence established that the bullet had been probably deflected, severing a large artery of the heart and that death was due to internal hemorrhage and shock.

Harry Johnston, the boy who fired the fatal shot, said they never had any quarrel. They had gone out together Sunday and it was Delaney who had suggested the shooting trip. The shooting was an accident, he had only fired off a gun once before.

Coroner Reynar was assisted by Crown Attorney E. Walter E. MacKeown, K.C., watched the proceedings on behalf of the boy implicated in the tragedy, who was present with his father, Fred Johnston, of Toronto.

The Germans have bombarded Rheims and have thrown one hundred howitzer shells into Ponta-Mousson. "Army of the east, Aug. 14.—Our artillery was rather active in the region of the Vardar and towards Budimiria, east of the Cerna. Enemy patrols which attempted to penetrate British trenches in the valley of the Struma were repulsed."

The French afternoon statement says: "In Belgium our troops made considerable progress west of the Dixmude road. "Between Hurbise and Craonne our front lines were bombarded heavily. A surprise attack against one of our small posts on Vauciere Plateau was repulsed completely. "The artillery fighting continued with great activity all night on both banks of the Meuse. To the left of the river we repulsed an enemy attack west of Hill 804. Everywhere else the night passed in quiet."

RESEARCH COUNCIL CONCLUDES TOUR

Expects to Issue Report on Result of Investigations Next Month.

CONSIDER CHEAP FUEL Important Suggestions Are Promised for Use of Lignite Coal.

After a very successful tour of western Canada the members of the advisory council on scientific research, consisting of Dr. A. B. Macallum, professor of physiology and biochemistry, University of Toronto (chairman); Dr. R. F. Rutman, director of the department of chemistry, McGill University; and Dr. F. D. Adams, dean of the faculty of applied science, have returned to the east and will make a report on their investigations to the Dominion Government next month.

The council was formed by the federal government recently for the purpose of ascertaining Canada's greatest problems and to advise on the best means to employ its vast resources with the least possible waste. The council toured the west for six weeks and visited all the important cities and towns, where they addressed the Canadian Clubs and held conferences with the boards of trade and joint technical societies.

In the universities and colleges visited in their trip the members made investigations of the methods employed and studied the capacity of each institution for carrying on research work. Theoretical work was not deemed upon solely to obtain and form conclusions, but the members got down to a practical foundation and inspected all the industries in the west, including canning factories, flour mills, lumber camps and mining camps. Special note was made of the process in use in each industry so that a more efficient method might be devised for the operation of the plants and the elimination of waste in the manufacture of goods.

The problem of cheaper fuel was taken up and it is probable that an important suggestion will be made to the government regarding the use of lignite for the operation of manufacturing plants. Dr. Rutman carried on a very important educational campaign among the chemists of British Columbia and Manitoba by addressing large bodies of the profession on progressive research work.

CHINA GOES TO WAR THRU HUNTRIQUE

Government Had to Take Action to Avoid Further Disorders.

It said: "In view of the many kinds of German intrigue seeking to create disorder in China, the Chinese Government found it impossible to wait for the convocation of parliament before declaring the existence of the state of war with Germany, especially since the rupture of diplomatic relations with the imperial German Government had been previously approved by parliament almost unanimously."

ENEMY KEEPS FIGHTING IN CHEMIN DES DAMES

Germans Continue Battle at All Costs—Foe Doubles Artillery Power in Region—Much Hun Nervousness is Displayed.

London, Aug. 15.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa agency)—Telegraphing from headquarters of the French army, Reuter's correspondent says: "It is noteworthy that, despite the tremendous activity of guns in other sectors of the Franco-British front, there is no sign of a relaxation of the enemy's effort on the Aisne. The battle of Chemin des Dames has continued without intermission since the 16th of April, and it seems to be a cardinal principle of German strategy, never to let it flag. The enemy has lately trebled his artillery power in this region and brought his heaviest calibres into play. Never a day passes without fighting in the Chemin des Dames. This month, half a dozen enemy attacks were beaten off with serious loss."

PROTRACTED BATTLES MAY FOLLOW ADVANCE

Germans Greatly-Reinforced Artillery in Preparation for Canadian Assault—Impossible to Tell How Engagement May Extend.

London, August 15.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—Reuter's correspondent at British army headquarters on the western front telegraphs today: "The Canadians attacked at 4.30 this morning Hill 70, dominating the rise of ground north of Lens. The position was a very strong one, being literally honeycombed with trenches, redoubts and isolated posts, and is wired to an extraordinary degree. For days the Germans have been maintaining a steady and deliberate fire against these defenses. I betray no secret when I say that the Germans knew perfectly well that an attack was coming hereabouts, their only uncertainty being precisely when and where. They had brought up many new guns since they made up their minds that they must attack, and yesterday I was informed the cellars of ruined houses were full of troops. It therefore seems pretty certain that there will be bitter and prolonged fighting in this district, assuming that the Huns are loyal to their traditional policy of promptly counter-attacking."

Triumph for Organization.

The capture of Hill 70 is another triumph for the British fighting organization. Wounded Canadians, returning from the heat of the battle, are now being treated in the rear. The effect of the British preliminary bombardment was most demoralizing to the enemy. Prisoners already taken were in a dazed state as the result of the terrific bombardment. Government Had to Take Action to Avoid Further Disorders.

Washington, Aug. 15.—China's official explanation of the declaration of a state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary in the form of a statement by the foreign office, was received tonight at the Chinese legation here. It said: "In view of the many kinds of German intrigue seeking to create disorder in China, the Chinese Government found it impossible to wait for the convocation of parliament before declaring the existence of the state of war with Germany, especially since the rupture of diplomatic relations with the imperial German Government had been previously approved by parliament almost unanimously."

CAUTION ADVISED FOR POPE'S SCHEME

Westminster Gazette Hopes Entente Will Handle Proposals With Every Care.

London, Aug. 15.—The Westminster Gazette hopes that the entente allied governments will treat Pope Benedict's peace endeavor carefully and will not be led into misjudgment by the alarmed belief that it is German intrigue.

"If it is that," the newspaper says, "there is all the more reason why we should handle it honestly and intelligently so as to avoid both horns of the dilemma in which the enemy, according to that assumption, desires to place us, namely, the acceptance on one hand of indulgent and worthless terms of peace, and on the other a refusal which brands us as aggressors, makes mischief between us and the Russians, re-kindles the fighting spirit in Germany and causes unrest and doubt on our own side."

THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 16.

Another Canadian Victory.

Once more Canada was seen serene in the heroism of her troops. The series of brilliant actions at St. Julien, Courcelles, Vimy Ridge, Messines and other points, has been supplemented by the most useful and effective capture of Hill 70, a position which dominates the Town of Lens, and the key to the coalfields of northern France. We should expect in a very short time to hear of a general advance of General Haig's forces, if they are not anticipated by one of Gen. Von Hindenburg's masterly retirements.

There will be no option for the Germans. It will be a retreat or a retirement, as they choose to call it, but the degree to which it will extend, and the speed to which it may attain, must remain for the future to unfold. We can only affirm our belief that it will be a far from distant future.

The Canadian troops did their part in their accustomed gallant and dashing fashion. The difficult weather conditions which prevail in this section of France and Belgium once more superseded to stop any forward movement beyond the immediate objectives. The rain, also, unfortunately for our men, acts as a screen for the enemy's counter-attacks.

These systematic advances, driven home with the relentlessness of fate, a much more powerful motive power than the German inspiration of hate, carry the conviction to the German army that their leaders and generals are trying to befool them. The Kaiser has announced after each recent engagement that the power of the British advance is broken, and that the great campaign of 1917 is ended. Each time, however, it is renewed, and the systematic method of it indicates to all Germans who are interested that there is no chance and no accident about the British successes. They begin to realize that the British war machine is, in truth and fact, the kind of efficient organization the Germans thought theirs was.

When the campaigns are considered and the steady progress of the French and British properly regarded, it will be seen why the Germans are anxious to make peace on the present showing of the map. The map is no criterion, but it is the kind of evidence that the Germans with all their shrewdness have been deceiving themselves with from the first. They have never allowed for human nature. In this war human nature has "got after" them, and it is an unknown quantity to men who have done their mightiest to extinguish human nature in their own nation.

The latest overtures for peace have not elicited a single response from the allies that might be taken to promise a favorable official attitude. The allied governments are almost without exception relying on the changed situation on the western front, and the advent of a million Americans not later than next April. Germany must understand that the privilege of proposing peace no longer rests with her except in the form of an unconditional surrender.

The People Come First.

A perplexed and uncomfortable contemporary is trying to convince us less well-informed readers that Ward Seven has no car service on account of the remoteness of Donlands from the Humber Valley. Citizens of Ward Seven who know that not only Ward Seven but all the wards would have had a complete car service at a single fare covering all transfers if the Donlands policy had been adopted years ago, only smile at the obvious feeling behind the misrepresentation.

The Donlands plan (for a pioneer way, uniting the Dundas road with the Kingston road, and opening up Ward Seven as it has never yet been opened up) will give our obstructive contemporary another opportunity of hindering the welfare of Ward Seven, as it has done in so many other instances, for the benefit of down-town property.

As for Mr. Home Smith's projects, as The World has pointed out repeatedly, the easiest and most direct access to his properties would have been obtained by the unification of all the city street car lines. The World believes that the individual finds his greatest benefit in the general interest. Our contemporary has a different opinion.

Nor are the people of Toronto silly enough to believe that The World, which proposed and fought for the Bloor street viaduct, opposed its construction. Obstruction to the Bloor street viaduct came from those who are now trying to gain credit from it, on the ground of its expense and Non-Partisan Municipal Government.

Since the war began there has been less attention paid to problems of domestic and municipal government, and the people have been satisfied to have affairs go along without friction or disturbance, glad to be relieved of any worry but, the main one. In the United States, which has escaped three years of the worst part of the war, a good deal of attention has been given to municipal affairs on the usual lines. The trend towards reform which took the shape of a movement for city government by commission had been growing for some time and then had a reverse, as the weaknesses of artificial and untried methods became apparent. The necessity for automatic equilibrators in most of the schemes adopted, stabilizers, or some form of political microscope that would yield satisfactory results was apparent.

The World frequently advocated the adoption of the principle of the limited liability corporation for a civic commission, the voters to be the shareholders, they to elect the directors, (aldermen, etc.) and these to have no other function than to appoint the commissioners, the officials of the municipality, just like the appointed officers of a corporation. As faithful, as able, and as diligent service could be obtained for one kind of corporation as for another.

Dayton, Ohio, which inaugurated commission government, is in the midst of a campaign to continue it, but it is opposed by all those who find it has been too successful. Its purpose to suit their objects, just as commission government has been opposed in Toronto thru fear it would also be successful in its essential policy—that of suppressing political partisanship in administering the affairs of the city.

Dayton has had a non-partisan commission plan of government based on the principle that partisan politics must be eliminated. The campaign to sustain this policy in the face of the efforts of all the old grafting and corrupt forces to restore the former regime has been one of the usual kind under such circumstances. The facts are all with the commission. The assertions, as usual, are with the obstructors. The three commissioners are a manufacturer, a Republican in politics; a merchant, who is a Democrat; and a printer, representing labor, who is also a Theosophist. They point to the fact that Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo and Columbus have deficits, aggregating $3,975,000, while Dayton has a surplus, and this with a reduction in expenditures all round, amounting in the last year to $250,000. With all this, greater efficiency was attained in the several city departments, health, street cleaning, works, fire, police, finance, works and other services being better than ever before.

It may be said that it is not so much the system as the men that run it that achieve results, but this is not the case. The best men find themselves helpless in the coils of a system which makes for favoritism and inefficiency.

Did Not Lecture Them.

Yesterday, Deputy Chief of Police Archibald denied having lectured the police motorcycle squad for speeding, as stated in a certain morning paper. All that he did was to call a couple of men who chanced to be in the city hall at the time and ask them about it. They denied it.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

BY ANNIE LAURIE.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am 17 years of age and have been worrying over a boy for the last six months, and I still have not been able to decide what to do. Will you help me out?

About two and a half years ago I met a boy about 19 years of age. To see this boy I had to meet him away from home as my mother objected to me going with him. I have gone with him for two years. Do you think this is wrong? Must I leave this boy alone? Your friend, B. Z.

B. Z.: Yes, I think it is wrong to be meeting a young man outside of your home without your mother's permission—very wrong. If you really and truly want to be my friend, as you sign yourself, you try to obey your mother—at least until you are old enough to judge for yourself, and that will be years from now.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: Will you help me? Last autumn a gentleman living a few doors away paid some attention to me. I was very much pleased to have him. I rejected him. I was too young, and he was a jealous man. I had not seen him since. At a party—where I met him—He took a silk handkerchief from me. I want it back, but don't know whether I should write, phone or call and ask for it. He told me he was the only girl he could ever love, and still he says things to others that are untrue about me. I know this to be a fact for I have heard it from his own lips.

I never show this in your waste paper basket, for I am indeed proud as to what to do. BELLA.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I never throw letters into the waste basket, my dear, especially such as yours. If I were you, I should write a nice little note and mail it to the gentleman—don't think this would be better than being him up? I don't think it is ever wise to call a man on the telephone unless there is urgent need. Word the note in such a manner that he cannot believe you if he should show it to some one else. Tell him that he is a handkerchief belongs to you, and you feel he has no right to keep it. If he doesn't return it, then drop it into the waste basket, or it is better to do so than to worry over it.

What is the difference between a wound and a sore? asks one of our readers. A wound is usually considered to be a cut, separation or laceration of the skin and adjacent soft parts. More than 150 adjectives can be used to describe wounds. A sore is a local inflammation of the skin and adjacent soft parts. A sore is not always a wound, but a wound is always a sore. Some sores are mere blotches or pimples. They may not hurt, itch or have sensation, yet they are an evidence of local ill health.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How Wounds and Sores Differ—Ways To Treat Them

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg, A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins University)

What shall some parents do to become capable of taking their child's part? Many mothers and fathers are full of their own importance and do not seem to be fair to their little ones. They either spoil them or scold them, regard or punish them for parental misunderstandings.

Wrath, indignation, vanity and personal pride are often the causes of parental injustice, which certainly does not help a child.

Yet there are thousands of parents who are guilty of such unfairness because they cannot enter into the play-world of the child.

When a child needs correction and punishment, such parents are apt to be unjust to the little one. How often do you hear mothers and fathers order their children to do this and that, and when they do the thing and the trolley fare is in question. Several grown persons have confessed that their first knowledge of lying, and stealing, as well as their parents' approval of such immoralities, occurred when they were at an age which required that a full fare be paid for them, but it was not gone.

It didn't mean to do it, it was not always an excuse used merely to escape punishment. It is sometimes the child's honest effort to cover the fact that the motive was a good one, the very ideal one.

The notion of having things and the held by parents is often the stupid, stale, ignorant idea of the parent, who is prejudiced by laying the same sort of foundations over and over again in the child's mind. The child's own ideas are not to be trusted. The child's own ideas are not to be trusted. The child's own ideas are not to be trusted.

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

The Toronto World invites correspondence on subjects of current interest. Letters must be short and to the point and more than 200 words at the outside. The editor reserves the right to omit any letters that do not conform to space requirements. Names will not be published if the writer wishes them withheld, but every letter must be signed with writer's name and address, to ensure authenticity.

Quebec's Objections.

Editor World: I guess that your French-Canadian exchanges of over two years ago will show great objection to the suggestion of a bilingual notice of which were then of daily publication in our papers. In Montreal, during the winter of 1885-1886, they set paid once in three months, and the government never failed to hold it back one month. If they got a reasonable salary they would not complain, but under the circumstances, they should be paid monthly. One Who Knows.

R.F.D. Delayed Salaries.

Editor World: I took it for granted by reading the papers some time ago, that the government was going to give the rural mail carriers an increase in salary, which everybody knows they need (government excepted). They set paid once in three months, and the government never failed to hold it back one month. If they got a reasonable salary they would not complain, but under the circumstances, they should be paid monthly. One Who Knows.

The Social Menace.

Editor World: We observe with much satisfaction the frank and courageous manner in which The World has now opened the all-important question of venereal diseases. This means the beginning of an educational movement which will be the utmost moment in public health. The letter signed "Overseas Officer" in The Toronto World well points out the need both for a civilian and military standpoint. The national council of women, with its organ, "Woman's Century," has for long studied and written working along quietly in the hope that sooner or later the community would be awakened to the great menace which is its

POLITICAL SITUATION

Toronto News (Ottawa despatch).

It is expected that the political situation, which still remains confused, will clear within another week. A statement to the country probably will be made by the premier, explaining his position on the question of coalition, which, as far as official union is concerned, now is dead. However, from information received from the west it is apparent that the unofficial union sentiment is growing stronger. The revolt in the Liberal ranks over the attitude of the western convention is increasing daily. The reaction promises to overthrow the Laurier Liberals.

Toronto Star (Ottawa despatch).

How long can the present government carry on? That is a question which is being discussed by constitutionalists in the corridors of parliament. No doubt the government has already solved the question to its own satisfaction.

Technically the government could carry on until the 31st of March of next year. The administration remains the administration until a new government is formed and new advisors of the cabinet are appointed. The government cannot carry on without money. And the financial year of the Dominion expires on March 31, 1918.

Toronto Telegram (Ottawa despatch).

Will the government hold on till February or March and give up the election to get in working order before bringing on the election? Such may or may not be the intention of Premier Borden. Even the prediction of a well-known parliamentarian who is in close touch with the workings of the cabinet. He points out that there is nothing to hurry on an election except the voting of money. If an election is required it is that an election take place so that a session of the new parliament can be called within the year. Even if the government could be overthrown by voting warrants that could be sanctioned by the next session of parliament. The cabinet is feeling the heat of the situation and is justified by the Liberal efforts to defeat conscription by the political tricksters can invent.

Toronto Star (Winnipeg despatch).

Indications are that the next Tuesday night's meeting in South Winnipeg will be for the purpose of clearing the air in reference to the attitude of delegates to the western convention. The western Liberal convention, will resolve itself into an "indignation" meeting of Liberals from all parts of the province.

Premier T. C. Norris, when asked whether he would attend, declared he was not a South Winnipegger. His cabinet minister of Manitoba, Hon. Edmond Brown, provincial treasurer, intended to leave Saturday for the Peace River district. As he is eager to take a part in the meeting not only as a delegate to the convention, but as a delegate to the convention, he has postponed his northern trip. Several Liberal members have wired that they intend taking part if given an opportunity.

Toronto Telegram (Winnipeg despatch).

Reports from all parts of the west continue to show resentment of pro-war Liberals against the action of the western convention. Plans are maturing for the Manitoba Liberals to arrange a compromise list of candidates with the Conservatives, to the effect that no avowed conscriptionists of either party be opposing each other. The caucus of the legislative members for Thursday night is a step in this direction. The executive of the Great War Veterans' Association last night met and completed plans for a whirlwind win-the-war campaign independent of political machines, merely pleading their speakers to arouse the west for conscription.

Montreal, Aug. 15.—It is understood that the priest of a Quebec parish has been ordered to withdraw from the parish as a result of a disturbance which occurred in the Roman Catholic Church there on Sunday, August 5th, over the question of conscription.

COMMISSIONER BRADSHAW OPPOSES THE GRANT

Will Not Agree to Granting Request of Great War Veterans' Association.

The request of the Great War Veterans' Association for a civil grant of $10,000 a year for the next five years, which it estimated will be required to operate the organization planned to care for the needs of the veterans, has been met with strong opposition from Finance Commissioner Bradshaw. Reviewing the work of the organization, Bradshaw, who is in charge of the provincial and federal grants, states that these strongly organized bodies are not to be considered as a part of the public service, and that the grant of $10,000 a year, which would be a heavy burden on the province, is not warranted.

For Indigestion Try Magnesia Neutrate

IT'S SAFER THAN DRUGS. Many people just now are complaining of indigestion, the most commonly met symptoms being a burning sensation in the pit of the stomach; the belching of gas or wind; acid saliva rising to the throat; flatulency; and a general feeling of discomfort. Contrary to general belief these symptoms do not always indicate any constitutional fault, but may be due to a temporary condition of the stomach and consequent fermentation of the food. Such a condition is not only unsuitable in such cases, but they may take a lesson by the use of Magnesia Neutrate, which is the root of the trouble. For this purpose the best thing to use is a simple, harmless substance such as the plain magnesia neutrate now so easily obtainable of any good druggist. It is a natural product, and with any of the symptoms named above should get a supply of magnesia neutrate as a lesson by the use of a little water after meals. It will instantly neutralize the harmful acid and prevent food fermentation. HELPS HER SISTER MEN FROM FRONT ARRIVING TODAY

Five Members of Her Family Now Taking Tanlac, With Splendid Results.

3 DAUGHTERS HELPED

Feels Better and Stronger Since Taking Tanlac Than for Years, She Declares.

"Five members of my family are taking Tanlac with the finest kind of results, and I am much pleased that I'm going to send some of it to my sister who lives on the Channel Islands, between France and England," said Mrs. Edith Tuck of 114 Emerson avenue, Toronto, recently. "My three daughters, who have been employed in the Russell-Fairbanks Munitions Factory had become so run-down, they were on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and I was unable to help them. I had heard of Tanlac, and I had bought some for my little brother, and I had given it to him. He felt better and stronger since taking Tanlac than for years, and I was constantly belching up a substance so hot and sour it kept my throat feeling like it was raw. Sometimes the gas would 'press on my heart so I felt like I was smothering and I would just have to walk up and down the floor and fight for breath. I finally got so I dreaded to eat anything, I suffered so most afterwards, and for a long time before I began taking Tanlac. TORONTO FINALLY BEATEN BY REBELS

First Defeat on Present Road Trip—Murray Hits Prize Sign.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 15.—Richmond turned the tables on the Toronto Leafs in the final game of the series today and won by a score of 7 to 3. The playing done by the Knabenwam was of a vastly different sort from that of either of the first contests, which fact accounts for the victory. Leake pitched well as a rule, but found it impossible to prevent Richmond's slugging in several instances. Enright also seemed difficult to stop consistent hitting, but his support came to his assistance with four fast double plays at critical times and cut short the threatening rallies.

Leona Blackburn got into the game with a vengeance today, landing for his first hit of the series and reinforcing that with a terrific three-base drive down the first base line. He stole the only base pitched off Reynolds, and did fast work in the field. Murray, who also did clever fielding, will receive extra remuneration for his hard drive in the eighth, the ball striking the prize sign in left field and netting him $50.

The Leafs secured their first runs in the third session. Leake drew free transportation and Truesdale followed with a single. Enright threw another left to get Jacobson and all were safe. Whiteman then singled to left and Leake and Truesdale counted. Richmond's first double play cut short the rally. Another double stopped a rally in the sixth. The next run was secured in the eighth. Leake doubled to left and Schultz scored him with a single. A third double-play retired the side, while another killed scoring chances in the ninth. Koehler catching Thompson's line and tagging the ball ahead of Lalonde, who had hit.

LU PRINCETON WINS CIRCUIT FEATURE

Besides Class Trot Walter Cox Lands Pacing Race.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Walter Cox walked off with the feature event of today's card in the North Randall Grand Circuit meeting, winning first money in the $2000 trotting feature with Lu Princeton. Royal Mac, the favorite in this race, gave Lu Princeton some hard competition, but failed to reward.

Cox also won the 2.13 pace, with Marjorie Kay, who found the going easy. In the 2.13 pace Butte Lake, driven by Murphy, proved the class of his field, and also he did not show signs of being in the heat by a large margin, was not forced to extend himself.

The race trot with seven starters was a hot proposition from start to finish. Royal Hall, the favorite, was not even a contender. Cox, driving going to the front and walking off with first money.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

THE ROBINS PLAYERS.

For the 17th and concluding week of his wonderfully successful summer season at the Alexandra, Edward H. Robins and the Robins Players are going to present for the first time on any stage in Canada, Miss Elsie Ferguson's greatest society comedy-drama, "Shirley Kaye." This play, when it was presented at the Hudson Theatre, New York, scored one of the heaviest hits of the past season. The story of Shirley Kaye deals with society, the money market, the new rich and the marriage market.

LOEW'S THEATRE.

"The Family Honor," with Robert Warwick and June Elvidge in the leading roles, the feature photodrama next week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden, is a picture of wonderful entertaining powers. Mr. Warwick enacts the part of a man who goes to great lengths to save his younger brother from the clutches of a designing adventuress. He succeeds, but how? The incidents are pleasing and the play through is replete with highly dramatic situations. Zelaya, son of the ex-president of the Republic of Nicaragua, a master concert pianist, will head the vaudeville bill, with the Macklaens, the celebrated Scotch dancers, singers and bagpipers, as the added attraction. Others on the bill will include Mumford and Thompson, in song and mirth; Willard Hutchinson and Company, in a novel playlet, "A Leap Year Leap"; Orben and Dixie, southern singers and dancers; the Three Jeannets, with a troupe of wonderful performing dogs, and Jenks and Allen, entertainers.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE."

It is not generally known that Richard Walton Tully, after collaborating with David Belasco on "The Rose of the Rancho," offered "The Bird of Paradise" for production to Mr. Belasco, who could not see the possibilities in the Hawaiian play. Morocco did, and reaped a fortune.

ROYAL YEAST

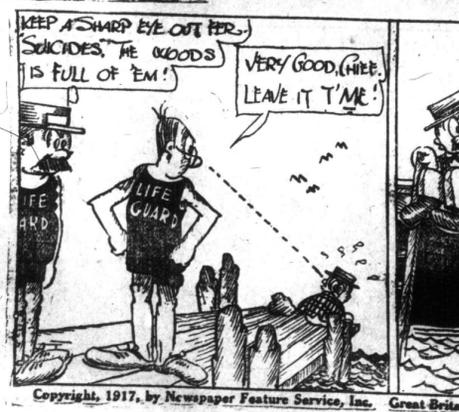

Has been Canada's favorite yeast for over a quarter of a century. Bread baked with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other, so that a full week's supply can easily be made at one baking, and the last loaf will be just as good as the first.

WRIGLEY'S

To Somebody - Somewhere at the Front -

Every day boxes from home are going to the boys in the trenches. And of the things they get, a great prize is Wrigley's, the Gum with Lasting Flavour.

It takes the place of food and drink in case of need - which is often. It keeps spirits up - gives vigour and vim. A packet in the pocket lasts a long time.

The Folly of Taking Digestive Pills

A Warning to Dyspeptics. The habit of taking digestive pills after meals makes chronic dyspepsia of many thousands of men and women because artificial digestants, drugs and medicines have practically no influence upon the excessively acid contents of the stomach, which is the cause of most of the after-dinner pain and indigestion. The after-dinner pill merely lessens the sensitiveness of the stomach nerves and gives a false sense of freedom from pain. If those who are subject to indigestion, gas, flatulence, belching, bloating, heartburn, etc., after eating would magnesia from their drugget and take a teaspoonful in a little water after meals, there would be no further necessity for drugs or medicines because bi-carbonate of soda instantly neutralizes stomach acidity, stops food fermentation and thus insures normal, painless digestion by enabling the stomach to do its work without hindrance.
