FIREMAN SHOOT RICH BROTHER

Victim Flees in Spite of His Wounds and is Knocked Down by Blow on Head—Sequel to Will Contest.

Passaic, N. J., Sept. 19.—A year ago Morris Glaser, then twenty-six years old, inherited the bulk of his mother's estate, amounting to somewhere in the thousands, and branched out with considerable success as a real estate salesman.

His brother Leopold, ten years his senior, a marine fireman, did not get an inheritance and fell in a suit to contest his mother's will.

It was the contest, friends said, which permanently parted the brothers. Leopold plodded along on small pay. Morris made money and bought an automobile.

Morris was seated in his trim little sedan near the Passaic Bridge in Monroe street, when Leopold came home from work, his coat over his shoulder. Morris was chatting with some friends and did not speak to his brother.

Leopold stopped. He glared at Morris and then whipped a pistol from his pocket, scattering the group about the car. His first bullet smashed the glass panel of the sedan door. The next two lodged in Morris' abdomen, and two others penetrated his chest and back.

In spite of his wounds, Morris jumped out of the other door of the car and started to run toward the bridge. Leopold chased him and felled him with a blow on the head with the butt of his pistol and then aimed a kick at the fallen man. Then he was overpowered and arrested, while his brother was rushed to the Passaic General Hospital. He probably will die.

Leopold told detectives that he had shot his brother and would do it again if he got the chance, the police reported. "Don't call him my brother," he said. "Call him a dirty rat—I hope he dies." Both men are single and lived in different sections of Passaic since the death of their mother.

Friends said Leopold was so envious of his brother that it amounted to mania.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 108.

THE AERIAL SYSTEM.

The groups of wires suspended in the air over a radio station is commonly referred to as the antenna system or simply as the "aerial."

If the fundamental wave length of the aerial is above the wave length of the transmitting station, it is necessary to connect a condenser, preferably of the variable air type, in series with the aerial and ground or counter primary.

The details of construction of the aerial system are usually dependent upon local conditions. Amateurs frequently employ the single wire inverted "T" type of aerial with the lead-in wire from the end nearest to the ground apparatus.

LOCKED IN INSANE WARD, HE SAYS

Oscar Rona, Veteran, Claims He was Put There for Asking About His Maintenance Check.

New York, Sept. 19.—Oscar Rona, a disabled soldier, patient who, according to the charges of Congressman Albert B. Rosedale, had been confined in the violent ward of the United States Veterans' Hospital at the Bronx, although perfectly sane, was called to the stand when the committee appointed by the bureau met to investigate charges that the veteran were brutally handled and the institution mismanaged.

Rona said that he had organized a theatre party for some of the patients soon after he entered the hospital, but was told on the following day that such work must be left to the welfare department of the hospital.

Dr. A. P. Chronquist, director of the hospital, told the committee that he had been in a slight paranoid condition with maniacal depressive tendency.

INDUSTRY'S DEATH-ROLL

92,565 Accidents With 951 Fatalities in Britain in 1921

The annual report of the inspector of factories and workshops for Great Britain for the year 1921 has just been issued, says the London correspondent of The Journal of the American Medical Association. During the year, 92,565 accidents were reported, of which 951 were fatal, as compared with 198,773, of which 1,404 were fatal, in the previous year. The decline is almost entirely due to the phenomenal inactivity of industry throughout the year, including the prolonged coal strike which resulted in many large iron mills and blast furnaces being completely closed down for a long period. These industries are heavy accident producers. The number of accidents due to electricity was 222, thirty-two being fatal—a reduction of 20 per cent. in the total and of 50 per cent in the fatal cases compared with each of the previous two years. There were 230 cases of lead-poisoning, of which 25 were fatal. In 1900 the number was 1,058, of which 98 were fatal. There were no cases of phosphorus or mercury poisoning, but one case of arsenic poisoning. The figures for anthrax were 25 cases, with 6 fatalities. This low figure is held to be partly due to the inauguration of the government station for the disinfection of wool at Liverpool. On the question of hours of work, it is stated that since the forty-eight hour week has been established it is a source of satisfaction to find that when the reduction of hours is continued over a considerable period, output tends in the majority of cases to attain the old level and that the beneficial effects of the increased leisure on the workers are becoming apparent.

VALENTINO FACES
BULLS IN PICTURE

Paramount Star Risks Life in His First Star Vehicle "Blood and Sand."

Real Spanish fighting bulls were transported from Spain to Hollywood via Mexico for the sensational bull-fighting scenes of "Blood and Sand," Rodolph Valentino's first Paramount star picture which is now being shown at the Imperial Theatre.

They are said to have differed from the domestic variety as "Man-o-War" differs from the humble truck horse. Running wild from birth on lonely ranches, shipped in black boxes to confine their isolation from mankind, they entered the arena with only the elemental instincts of wild animals, to kill and destroy anyone daring enough to face them.

And Mr. Valentino had to get out in front of these interesting creatures! Sensational to the limit is this great Ibanez story of the life and loves of a young bull-fighter, are those scenes in which Mr. Valentino does sword and cape play before picked animals of Senor Mirra, the Duke of Veraagua and the Marquise de Sallillo, the three leading bull-breeds in Spain. He was trained for the dangerous business by Rafael Palomar, famous Spanish matador, and was well versed in the graceful art.

"Blood and Sand," a Fred Niblo production, is a story of a bull-fighter. It abounds in colorful elements. Lila Lee and Nita Naldi have the principal feminine roles while others in the cast include Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rossanova, Marie Marshall, George Periolat, Jack Winn, Harry Lamont, Fred Becker, Charles Belcher, and Gilbert Clayton.

In presenting "Blood and Sand" the Imperial has added another classic film to its long list of successes. Immense crowds saw the production both afternoon and evening. Literary folk were attracted because it was the last notable novel of that Spanish fictionist, Vicente Blasco Ibanez. Film fanciers attended to see their new idol, Valentino, and others were lured to the Keith house because there was to be a fervid Spanish romance with bullfighting. In everything. The result was crowded houses and everybody satisfied. The orchestra gave a wonderful atmosphere to the production, which is said to be the Paramount's biggest effort to date.

Senor Ibanez certainly deals a deadly blow to bullfighting as Spain's national sport. His condemnation of the last few subtleties of the pictures and the final scenes in the intense drama is scathing to say the least—"poor matador," "poor beast," and over there the beast with ten thousand heads, meaning the crowd in the arena. Throughout the picture (and the novel) the Latin literature paints a picture of an idolized bullfighter, his liasons and his pure love affair as well. Then his death from wounds inflicted by an infuriated bull and the death of the bull itself. All this he becomes as a futile waste of life, a criminal wanton killing of useful beings.

The picture is most elaborate. It is a Paramount de luxe. Nothing is left undone to convey the novel accurately. No one seemed to have been spared. The picture is here for two more days.

PIN CHOKES BABY TO DEATH.

Drops From Mother's Fingers and Lodges in Infant's Throat.

New York, Sept. 19.—A baby's gold pin fell from the fingers of Mrs. Sadie Haley, and lodged in the throat of her nursing infant, Warren, three months old. The mother, in an effort to keep the child breathing, tried to force the pin out with her finger. Falling, she picked up Warren and ran with him to St. Vincent's Hospital. Dr. Wendell Washburn worked over the baby for ten minutes, but he had died of suffocation.

There have been all-star casts before in motion pictures, but it is doubtful whether any more important group of players has ever been assembled for a single production than the one that presents William Christy Cabanne's big drama, "Beyond the Rainbow." More than a dozen prominent actors and actresses take part. For the most part they are players who have been before the public on stage and screen for several years and all number their personal followings in thousands.

"Beyond the Rainbow" is the current attraction at the Opera House, where lovers of the movie drama may have an opportunity to appreciate the work of the extraordinary cast. For example, there are Henry Morey, Edmund Bresse, George Fawcett, Macey Harlan and others of importance among the male members of the cast. Among the women are such favorites as Rose Coghlan, still the same great artist as of old; Lillian (Billie) Dove, famous beauty of the Ziegfeld Follies, whose artistry has carried her to popularity on the screen almost overnight; and Helen Ware, an artist of the first water whose great performance in Blasco's "The Wandering Jew" was one of the really big artistic accomplishments in the theatre last year.

AT THE UNIQUE

In "Money to Burn," a Fox picture in which William Russell opened yesterday at the Unique Theatre, this rugged and popular star once more gets away from western hills and ranches, and is found in a Wall street office, in the role of a young speculator whose fortune favors at every turn, despite any invitation his adventurous spirit gives for a wallop at his bank account—every one will recognize him as Russell Ford's "Cherub Divine," on which the picture is based. The love theme is most cleverly developed, and the play should prove an unequivocal success on the local screen.

Sylvia Breamer, an excellent actress of very attractive personality, is Russell's leading woman and Hallam Cooley, long a favorite in Fox pictures, also is in the cast.

The story opens in New York's financial district, with the young financier suffering from ennui, and is suddenly transferred to an estate on Long Island which he has just bought "for the fun of the thing" and which he now visits to look over his purchase. There he finds a charming girl grieving over the prospect of being forced out of her childhood home because of her father's misfortunes.

At this point the romance of the story is born, and it moves forward with speed—as does everything he touches—and is well sprinkled with delightful comedy.

MAN DROWNED IN BATHTUB.
Water Dripping From Ceiling Leads to Discovery of Death.

New York, Sept. 19.—Water dripping through the ceiling to the apartment of Miss Hannah Farrington, on the third floor of 207 West 107th street, led to the discovery that Edward Morrison, thirty-five, had been drowned in a bathtub in his home above. Morrison, it is believed, had a fainting spell while preparing to take a bath and fell head foremost into the tub.

Mrs. Mary Bauchon, with whom Morrison boarded, knew nothing about the matter until Miss Farrington ran up and told her that the bathtub was overflowing. He had locked the door of the bathroom, and a policeman broke it down.

TRY TO SELL WATER TO DRYS FOR $27,000

Bootleggers Offer Agents 36 Barrels, the False Top of But One Containing Whiskey — Swindlers Still at Large.

New York, Sept. 19.—When the alleged owners of thirty-six barrels of what purported to be 106 proof whiskey refused $26,000 for the lot, contending for $2,000 more, Federal Prohibition Agents Charles Tutman and Harry Drescher, waded out of the Williams Storage Warehouse, 837 West 128th street, Friday afternoon and went to the office of United States Commissioner Hitchcock in the Federal Building and procured a search warrant. They had been permitted to sample the whiskey in course of the negotiations and were certain that it was pre-Valsted stuff.

Returning to warehouse with a search warrant, the agents seized the barrels, which had been sealed in number to thirty-eight. Closer inspection disclosed to the amazed agents that it would take all of the thirty-eight barrels to yield one gallon of whiskey of the kind they sampled on Friday. This amount was contained in the false top built into one of the barrels from which the samples were drawn on Friday for the agents. The rest of the contents of this barrel and the others was water.

Declining any part in the attempted swindle, the owners of the warehouse said the barrels had been offered for storage as containing pickles and they had no knowledge of the contrary until the second visit of the prohibition agents. Dave Williams, manager of the warehouse, is said to have told the agents that he rented the ground floor of the warehouse recently to two men calling themselves Lewis Brothers, and gave their address as 214 East Twenty-ninth street. Although Williams promised co-operation in running down the men who stored the barrels, he was given a summons to appear this week before Commissioner Hitchcock and explain all about the renting of the space to "Lewis Brothers."

The agents said that in an office building in Times Square, where a great many bootleg transactions are reported to be taking place now, they were introduced Friday afternoon to a whiskey salesman, whose first name they recalled was "John." The salesman in turn introduced them to a man who was known as William Daly. After negotiating with him and agreeing upon a price of $20,000 a gallon for the whiskey, the agents said they went with him to the warehouse, where they saw the "merchandise" and sampled it. They made a lump sum offer of $27,000 for the liquor, but were coolly informed that nothing less than $27,000 would move the stuff. The search warrant was then procured.

Besides the barrels, the agents found a complete government liquor testing instrument, together with a manual. The instrument had been used by Daly the day before in proving to the agents that the whiskey was as represented. It is understood that the testing instrument will now do legitimate service at prohibition headquarters. The agents are looking for Daly and the two "Lewis brothers."

LOSES THIRTY HENS, FINDS $900 IN CASH
Gets Word From Chicken Thief Asking His Money Back.

Somerset, Pa., Sept. 19.—Farmer Schrock of Little, a small village near this town, entered his poultry house last Friday morning and found that thirty of his fowls had mysteriously disappeared during the night. Weasels and other "varmints" being plentiful in the neighborhood, Farmer Schrock began an investigation to determine the sort of marauder that had taken his poultry. In his search he picked up a large leather wallet just under a window through which the thief evidently had entered.

Opening the wallet Schrock was dumfounded to find it packed full of bills. A count showed $900 in good United States currency.

Quietly, but with a definite plan in view, Schrock let it be known publicly that he had lost thirty fine chickens, but that the thief had paid well for them by leaving a wallet containing $900 behind.

A claimant communicated with Schrock and wanted his money. The claimant admitted that he had taken the chickens and informed Schrock that he had lost his pocketbook "somewhere about the hen house."

After identifying his property the claimant stated that he was perfectly willing Schrock should take out a fair and reasonable sum for the purloined chickens and send him the balance.

Schrock, however, was of a different mind. To use the aggrieved farmer's own words:

"The thief will offer me better terms before he gets his roll back. His is well known, and I'm not mentioning his name just now, but I have the $900 and I'm going to keep it until I get satisfaction. I'm fixing terms on this deal."

WOMAN CHOKES AXEMAN
Japanese's White Wife Comes to Aid When Attacked by Servant.

Harmon, N. Y., Sept. 19.—After he had run amuck with an axe, a young Japanese, who gave the name of "John Doe," was run down by a posse and arrested here charged with brutally assaulting Admiral Dato Moto, Japanese proprietor of the Mikado Inn in Harmon, and his white wife.

The Japanese servant, who had been discharged by Moto, took an axe and attacked his former employer, wounding him severely.

Mrs. Moto, who is of Irish extraction, went to her husband's aid, and although she suffered cuts on her right wrist and arm, fought furiously, and finally choked him into unconsciousness. He died, after regaining his senses, while she was bandaging her husband's wounds. A posse organized by Deputy Sheriff Blinker and Patrolman Bennett closed in on the fugitive in a shanty and took him prisoner at the point of their revolvers.

Judge Charles Anderson held the man on a charge of felonious assault and he is locked up in the Peckskill jail. Moto is in a critical condition and may die. The prisoner is twenty-nine years old and the wounded man forty-eight.

BOY AND GIRL TAKE MERCURY TABLETS

Dorothy Casey, Critically Ill, Thought Poison was Candy — Boy Under Observation.

New York, Sept. 19.—Six-year-old Dorothy Casey is in a critical condition in St. Luke's Hospital from mercury poisoning, and Lester Laher, five years old, is under observation in the same institution. Dorothy gave the boy a mercury tablet after she had swallowed one from a bottle she found in a garbage can.

"The bottle was corked," she told the detectives, "but I opened it and showed the tablets to Lester and some other boys and girls. I said it was candy, and one of the boys dared me to swallow one of the tablets. I swallowed one, but it did not taste like candy. Then Lester put one in his mouth, but he didn't swallow it. The other boys and girls wouldn't take any, and I carried the bottle home."

Dorothy said nothing about the matter to her mother until after dinner in the evening. Then she complained of feeling ill, and said she thought it was because of the "candy" that she had swallowed. She showed Mrs. Casey the bottle, and the mother asked Arthur Hiller, who lives in the house, to hurry the little girl to the hospital five blocks away.

Dr. Rankin examined the bottle at the hospital and said it contained bichloride of mercury tablets. A stomach pump immediately was applied to the

SEEKS TO MEASURE CHILDREN'S MINDS

School Superintendent Ettinger Thinks Grouping by Mentality Would Mean a New Era.

City Superintendent of Schools William L. Ettinger made his annual address at the Board of Education Hall, New York, before the associate and district superintendents, examiners, directors, assistant directors and inspectors of the department. His subject was "Facing the Facts." It related to the retardation of pupils in the public schools and an effort to solve the problem. He said that he had no criticism of the way in which the schools were administered but wished to present the conditions now existing in the schools, in his address he said:

"Let me present to you in some detail the results of an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Reference, Research and Statistics during the last year, in which we attempted to measure present-day conditions in our schools. The facts will convince you that if our schools are to meet the needs of our children there must be continuous and, I may say, radical changes in our present methods of school administration."

"On the basis of our present grading and promotion plan of organization, by which uniform classes of children of presumably uniform ability and attainments are advanced to higher grades at the close of the Fall term ending in January, and at the close of the Spring term ending in June, the percentage of promotions and non-promotions of holdovers are taken as fair indices of the efficiency of a given school or a group of schools. Thus, on June 30 last, of a grand total of approximately 716,000 pupils in the regular elementary grades, 83,000 children failed of promotion. As we go upward through the grades we find the number of retarded and also the number of accelerated pupils grow at the expense of the number of normal pupils. There is a decided decrease in the number of retarded pupils after the 6 B grade, due to the elimination of retarded pupils, which the law makes possible.

SEES NEW FLIGHT ERA IN HUGE OIL ENGINE

British Expert Says Air Ministry's Latest Development Will Cheaper Air Transport.
London, Sept. 19.—A promise of astonishing developments in cheap transport in air is held out by a new oil engine for flying machines evolved secretly after long research by a prominent aviation engineer in conjunction with the British Air Ministry. The engine will soon undergo tests in the air. It is said to be no heavier than a gasoline airplane engine and to burn crude oil, a fuel whose cost is not more than half that of first grade gasoline.
The Daily Chronicle's aeronautical correspondent says the engine is a six-cylinder monster, developing 750 horsepower. He writes:
"The navigation of the air in huge, long-lived winged ships of metal driven by these big, staunch, simple, enduring engines, which burn crude oil, promises not only a great new epoch of speed, but also of cheapness of transport. These great oil engines of the air, soon to be seen developing thousands rather than hundreds of horsepower, not only employ this cheap form of fuel, but will actually use, when in the air on long non-stop flights, appreciably less of it than does the ordinary aeroengine of its expensive petrol fuel. In immensely long flights, therefore, either for reconnaissance, bombing or fighting, the oil-engine aerial cruiser or battleship will have a tremendous advantage over machines which have no such perfected simplified power plant. Their ardour of action will be widened, their striking power increased, and the 'endurance' allowed with a significance greater even than it possesses now."

FELT SOME ONE WOULD DIE, THEN FALLS DEAD HIMSELF

New York, Sept. 19.—James Spearo, fifty-seven, employed for many years at the Van Riper Company, machine belt manufacturer, in Van Houten street, Paterson, N. J., sensed the approach of death a few minutes before he was stricken with a fatal heart attack while at work.
"I feel as though someone is going to die. Death is near."
He urged the workman to be careful what he ate at luncheon lest he be poisoned. Shortly afterward Spearo pitched forward dead. He leaves a wife and ten children.

BUDDHISM RIVAL OF CHRISTIANITY

Two Faiths May Co-operate Some Day, Says Oxford Professor. London, Aug. 24.—(By Mail.)—At the conference of Modern Churchmen at Somerville College, Oxford, England, Professor Southey of Oxford University, in a paper on "Buddhism," said that religious rivalry in the Far East was likely to be between Christianity and Buddhism rather than with Confucianism or Taoism. These were less religious than moral and political philosophies, used in their day but inferior to those of Greece, which the Christian Fathers made into allies. Buddhism, originally a more than psychology and ethics, was today a religion, and the only probable world rival to the two other propagandist religions, Christianity and Islam. It could succeed and adapt itself as Mahayanism had proved. Japanese Buddhism had recently adopted Christian methods wholesale, and the movement was spreading to China. Buddhist ideas were also at work in the west, even in our churches. It called for sympathetic study, especially in its relation to mission. The day might come when the best men in Christianity and Buddhism might meet to discuss the possibility of working together for the salvation of the world through love. In the meantime, Christianity must, with courtesy, offer its doctrines in place of those of Buddhism.

Mrs. J. Randall, of Silver Stream, Sask., writes:—Here is an incident which proves conclusively Zam-Buk's wonderful healing power. One day my daughter when using the washing machine, tore the top off her finger. As we live eighteen miles from a doctor, I got out the Zam-Buk (which we always keep handy) and applied it liberally and bound up the finger carefully. The injury was made it unnecessary for us to trouble the doctor, for in wonderfully short time, the wound healed completely.

with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So nothing is more important to teeth than combating the film daily.

Two ways found Dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise them. Now careful people of some fifty nations employ them, largely by dental advice. A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants were embodied in it. Not film alone But Pepsodent does more than fight film. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids. It then gives manifold effect to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. The result, the world over, is a fast-coming new dental era.

A Quick Start—Yes! and smooth acceleration, full power, and big mileage from this New Gasoline

The first quality which you demand in gasoline is of course unusually quick starting ability. But good gasoline must also possess other qualities if you are to get out of it all that your money should buy.

It must pick up quickly and accelerate smoothly. It must deliver the maximum power and speed which your engine is designed to develop. It must run your car or motor boat the greatest distance for the least money. It must be of uniform quality with supplies available everywhere, so that your carburetor, once adjusted to burn it efficiently, will not need to be changed as would be the case if you were constantly switching from one fuel to another. For years we have been working to develop such a gasoline. At last we have succeeded—and the new Imperial Premier Gasoline which is now being supplied from our Imperoyal Refinery meets every requirement of modern types of carburetors and engines. The new Imperial Premier Gasoline will start your motor even more quickly than Queen Gasoline which some motorists have been using. As it excels Queen Gasoline—a special fuel for lighting plants (not motors)—in many other ways and can be sold for less, we have concentrated on the production of this one superior quality motor fuel—the new Imperial Premier Gasoline. We do not manufacture any other gasoline for engine use. We urge you to test out the new Imperial Premier Gasoline and convince yourself that it is everything we claim. Compare it, if you will, with the results which you get from any other gasoline no matter what its price. The new Imperial Premier Gasoline is produced in our Imperoyal refinery. The men who make it and the men who sell it live and make their money—and spend it—in the Maritime Provinces. Make this test—Have your tank filled with the new Imperial Premier Gasoline. Then have your carburetor set to use this new fuel so you really can enjoy to the full, the satisfactory trouble-free service which a lean, economical mixture will give you. Stop at the Red Ball Sign for the new Imperial Premier Gasoline.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time. If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter make life easier for her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. It can be taken in safety by any woman, young or old.

Read How These Mothers Helped Their Daughters Cobourg, Ontario—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She became regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound, and attends school regularly. She is gaining steadily and I have no hesitancy in recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to others, as it has done so much for my daughter. Mrs. John Toms, Ball St., Cobourg, Ont. Hamilton, Ontario—"When my daughter was thirteen and until she was fifteen, she suffered every month so that she could hardly move around the house, and when she would have the pains in school she would have to be carried home. She also had headache, dizzy and faint spells, and sores in her back. I saw your advertisement in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her. She does not have the least bit of trouble now, and we recommend your medicine. She works in a candy-shop now and seems well and strong."—Mrs. I. P. CLARKE, 83 Oxford St., Hamilton, Ontario.

BASEBALL

May Curb Home Runs.
Chicago, Sept. 18.—Home run records would be made more difficult under an outfield zoning system being prepared by President Ban Johnson of the American League for submission to the club owners this winter. Only those drives in the centerfield zone would count as home runs, under Johnson's plan, and the pitcher with short right field fences would no longer be marked for the sluggers. Lines would be placed several hundred feet inside the right and left field foul lines, and balls within those zones would count only as two or three baggers. The Polo Grounds, New York, both Philadelphia ball parks, the St. Louis park, the Cleveland field and the Chicago Cubs' field are among the parks which would be most affected. The rules now specify 235 feet as the distance from the home plate to the fence and all the parks' fences exceed that figure, but in the opinion of President Johnson and some club owners that distance is considered far too short.

Pay as High as $45.
St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Ticket speculators reaped a harvest for the first game of the series between the Yankees and Browns here. Fancy prices were asked and paid. Two fans from Oklahoma City hopped off a train and paid $45 for two reserved seats which cost $2.50 at the box office. Box seats along the field were quoted at $25 and $30 apiece. The scalpers did a gold-rush business, but were conspicuous by their absence around the ball park.

FOTHERGILL BRUSHES GLOVE AND PUTS HIMSELF OUT
Detroit, Sept. 18.—Bob Fothergill figured in an unusual play in the eighth inning of Wednesday's game here between the Tigers and Athletics. The Detroit outfielder put himself out, and no one but the umpires seemed to know how it was accomplished. Fothergill, on third, and Bassler on first, started a double steal. Galloway threw low to Perkins at the plate, and as the catcher took the ball on the bound, Fothergill dashed past him and across the disk. Perkins went in pursuit, knowing Fothergill had not touched the plate, but the runner was waved out before the ball was applied. It developed that Umpire Connolly saw Fothergill brush Perkins' glove at the instant the ball struck it, thus retiring himself.

The meeting was held in connection with the raising of funds for the building of the church to replace that lost in the disastrous Westfield fire on August 6, 1921. SCHOOL BOY DEAD OF INJURIES IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Frank Barnes, ten-year-old son of Allan E. Barnes, bookbinder with Barnes & Co., Ltd., received such injuries in a motor car accident in Sydney street noon today that he died a few minutes after being admitted to the General Public Hospital. He stepped off a sloven at the corner of Mecklenburg and Sydney streets and right into the path of a sedan driven by Mrs. A. C. Skelton, which was turning from Mecklenburg into Sydney street. The car passed over the lad's head. He was lifted into the automobile and taken with all speed to the hospital, where it was found that he was beyond medical aid.

In the car with Mrs. Skelton was her daughter, Katherine. According to witnesses they were moving at a moderate rate of speed, when the lad suddenly jumped in the path of the moving car. Before it could be turned aside or stopped it had struck him. Word was sent to Mr. Barnes at his home, 109 St. James street, and he and Mrs. Barnes hastened to the hospital and arrived there just before their boy died. An examination at the hospital showed that death was due to fracture of the skull. Besides his parents, three brothers, three brothers, Donald, Douglas and Allan, survive. Mrs. Barnes was before her marriage Mrs. Agnes Coughlan. Frank was a pupil in St. Malachi's school and was a bright lad who was very popular with his school mates. There will be universal regret over the distressing accident.

SOME DAYS YET BEFORE WORD RE COAL RECEIVED

Geo. S. Cushing, provincial fuel administrator, announces that Ottawa gives out the following telegram received from Mr. Spencer, fuel administrator, Washington:

"Organization for distribution of anthracite coal is being developed, and it will be several days before advice can be given. Prices have not yet been determined."

From the office of the Provincial Fuel Administrator the following was issued today:

"I have had Welsh anthracite coal, nut size, tested in a small and in a No. 14 self-feeder stove, it gave entire satisfaction to both parties. No. 14 can use a size larger than nut.

The gentleman using No. 14 has used Scotch and American anthracite; if he could get this coal would not go back to American anthracite.

"I have had it used in kitchen stove with great success.

"The public should not attempt to get a winter supply, but should partially supply their needs. This policy will also aid the dealers by making room for further importations.

It is anticipated that the cargo of Stovoids now on the way will answer the same purpose."

ST. PETERS END BASEBALL SEASON

FORMER BANKER ENDS HIS LIFE

Mentally Deranged, Says York County Coroner

Frank Shute Dead on Edge of Field Near Home Where Had Been Ill Following an Accident.

(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 19.—Frank Shute of this city, who had been suffering from melancholia for some time, ended his life by shooting at the farm of Mrs. John F. Morgan, Nasonworth, on Monday night. The tragedy caused great sympathy for the bereaved family and relatives. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Florence W. Whitehead of this city, daughter of the late W. T. Whitehead, also by three sons, the eldest thirteen years old—Arthur, Turney and Donald, all residing in Fredericton. There are also two brothers, Dr. James F. Shute, practising dentistry in Vancouver, and Arthur Shute, jeweller of this city. Mr. Shute was in his forty-sixth year.

Mr. Shute, while manager of the Royal Bank of Canada branch in Yarmouth, N. S., about two years ago, had one of his hips broken in a fall from a wharf. He never recovered from the effects of the accident and had been under treatment at various times. During the last summer he was in Maugeville, but for a time was at Guelph, Ont., for treatment. He returned to Fredericton about July 1, and a short time ago went to the Morgan residence at Nasonworth, it being thought that rural conditions would be better for him.

On Monday about dusk he was playing solitaire, and Mrs. Morgan and her son believing that his condition was as usual, left home for a short time. On their return they found that he had left the house. They noticed that he had taken a high powered sporting rifle and so they felt alarm and telephoned his brother in this city. About 100 yards from the house on the edge of a field his body was found. He had taken two cartridges with him from the house. His body was lying across the rifle. The cartridge which had been discharged caused instant death, the wound being through the forehead.

Dr. D. W. Ross, coroner, decided that the circumstances pointed to death by his own hand, while mentally deranged, and he decided to hold an inquest. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Shute was a son of the late S. F. Shute, and was born in this city. He was educated here, and attended the U. N. B. for one year. He then entered the service of the Royal Bank of Canada, with which he remained until incapacitated by the accident at Yarmouth, two years ago. He spent seven years in Cuba, and also was manager in Ontario and at Yarmouth.

Lieut.-Col. A. H. H. Powell, assistant adjutant and quartermaster general for this military district, No. 7, has received notice of his transfer to Military District No. 6, with headquarters at Halifax, to be put into effect as soon as possible. Due to the absence of Colonel John Houlston, D.S.O., general officer commanding the district, it has been impossible for Colonel Powell to arrange for leaving yet and he will carry on his duties here for a short time. Lieut.-Col. H. C. Sparling, D.S.O., will take over Colonel Powell's duties, when he leaves until another officer can be appointed. Colonel Sparling is general staff officer of the district and will carry on in both positions until a new man is appointed.

Colonel Powell has been second in command in St. John for some time, having been associated with Major-General A. H. MacDonnell and Colonel A. T. Ogilvie when they were commanders at St. John. His place will be ably filled by Colonel Sparling but, in spite of this, there will be a great deal of regret, not only among the officers and men of the district but also among a large host of friends he has made in the city during his stay.

Colonel Powell has had a brilliant record with the militia, both in peace times and during the war, and holds decorations from home and foreign governments. Altogether he is a fine soldier and citizen and St. John will lose a valuable man when he is transferred.

SAF FAREWELL TO J. D. O'CONNELL

Sussex turned out en masse last evening to say farewell to J. D. O'Connell on the eve of his departure after spending the summer in New Brunswick. It was the children's tribute to their benefactor but the gathering was by no means confined to youngsters. It is estimated that more than 1,000 people were present when a huge bonfire was lighted in his honor. After an expression of appreciation was made, Mr. O'Connell furnished a little treat for the youngsters. Mr. O'Connell arrived in the city this morning and will leave in a few days for Bangor where he will give his last picnic of the season in the eastern section of the country. Leaving there he will go to the southern states where other picnics are scheduled. Preceding to the Pacific coast he will visit his brothers in Seattle and from there return to his home in Canegeay, Cuba.

Mr. O'Connell said that he would be back next year to give a picnic here, if one was not arranged by others before his arrival. Or if the local people desired it he would co-operate with them in their work for the orphans. Mr. O'Connell has now fifty places on his picnic list, twenty-eight of which have been permanently provided for.
