Jess Willard Begins Training, "Ready for Dempsey in October"—Iron Man Lifts the Athletics Out of Cellar.

(Canadian Press.) New York, June 28.—Stars of the women's swimming association of New York will invade Canada early next month. It is announced that the association will send a team on a Canadian tour which will include St. John, Halifax, Prince Edward Island and other places. Swimming stars who will make the trip will include Alice Riegler, Olympic diving champion; Helen Messey, U. S. national high diving champion; Mrs. Charles Boyle, holder of several world's records; Gertrude Shuler, Ethel Baker and Florence Bridges.

Louis Babach, former world's swimming champion, will accompany the team, whose affairs will be managed by Jess Moore, former international ice skating title holder.

Los Angeles, June 28.—Jess Willard began training here today for what he hopes will be a return match with Dempsey. Willard says he will be ready for Dempsey in October.

Baseball. New York, June 28.—Connie Mack's Athletics are out of last place today and Boston is holding down the cellar berth as a result of the "iron man" performance of their star pitcher, Eddie Rynn, in chalking up two victories over the Red Sox yesterday.

Rommel earned a 4 to 2 decision in the first half of the double-header and came back in the seventh inning of the second game to stem a Boston rally, while his mates pounded Ferguson and won 6 to 4.

Tille Walker cracked out his thirteenth homer, tying the total of his team mate, "Bing" Miller.

The White Sox, by trouncing the Tigers 9 to 5, extended to a tie for third place with the Yankees.

The Yankees were idle, but St. Louis lost part of its margin at the top when Cleveland snatched victory from the Browns with a six-run rally in the eighth that sent Wright and Vangilder to the showers.

Butcher registered his thirteenth victory of the season when Brooklyn defeated Boston 7 to 5.

The Giants took a six-inning affair from the Phillies 7 to 1, rain cancelling a double-header program, while the St. Louis Cardinals tied the Reds in the ninth and won the tenth, 9 to 8.

Pittsburgh chased the Pirates down a plunge by taking a twin bill from Chicago. Cooper scattered the Cubs' hopes in the first, while the Pirates drove Alexander to cover the second.

Frederick Races. Frederick, N. B., June 28.—Frederick Cameron arrived here yesterday with his 1922 string for the racing meet Saturday. Cameron's task this season is to build up a new stable as the racing days of his veterans are over. He brought an Extremist, a brown gelding by A. Forbes, owned by Dr. D. H. McAllister, of Sussex, and Crescendo, a promising pacer by Rudy King, 2044, of Salisbury.

FATHER DALY ACCUSES POLITICIANS

Address at Convention of the Catholic Truth Society in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, June 28.—Charging that Canadian politicians for many years have been using foreigners, and especially Ruthenians, to serve their own ends, and so sacrificing in the long run the country as a whole, Rev. George Daly of St. John, N. B., addressing the convention of the Catholic Truth Society yesterday, said that the Catholic Church was making a great contribution to Canada by combating this "menace."

The means being employed, he said, were to keep the foreigner true to the church of his father.

Father Daly said that a Ruthenian who lost his faith in the church was a menace to Canada. "The unscrupulous politician has much to answer for in this respect," he said, "but appears to pay no heed to results so long as, for the time being, he is successful at the polls."

MACAROW CASE ON TUESDAY, JULY 18

Macarow, former general manager of the Merchants Bank, charged with having wilfully signed and submitted a false banking return for the month of October, 1921, to the federal government, will be decided this morning, take place on Tuesday, July 18, and will continue without further postponement.

C. A. Wilson, K. C., M. P., crown prosecutor, announced that Sir H. Monaghan Allan, president of the defunct bank, would be summoned to testify for the crown, as well as several directors. He said that the report of H. B. MacKenzie, who investigated the bank's financial standing in November last, will be gone into exhaustively.

TEACHER ENDS HER LIFE WITH FIANCE'S PISTOL

Frederick, L. I., June 28.—A few minutes after she entered the sitting room in the house where she roomed at 198 North Main street, to talk with her fiancé, Wm. Reese of Kentucky, Miss Edith B. Levey, twenty-two years old, a school teacher, shot herself in the head with a revolver. She died instantly. The revolver the young woman used, the police say, was owned by Reese, who had just arrived from the south. Persons in the house, the police say, were taken to the station, none to be questioned.

The young woman had told neighbors that she was married Reese soon, but so far as could be learned no date had been set for the wedding.

Persons in the house, the police say, heard no quarrelling before the shot was fired.

THE JUNE BRIDES

Holmes, united in marriage Miss Norma Mary Lillian Fenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fenton, Moreville Place, West St. John, and Thomas Alexander McAvity, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. McAvity. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a lavender and white gown with a very attractive frock of white georgette with skirt of many petals. She wore a long train of satin with bridal veil and orange blossoms and a string of pearls and carried a quaint bouquet of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley. The groom wore a suit of white tulle with skirt of many petals. She wore a long train of satin with bridal veil and orange blossoms and a string of pearls and carried a quaint bouquet of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

The church was handsomely decorated with daisies and ferns. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir. Following the wedding a reception to members of the immediate families was held at Moreville Place where the drawing room was banked with roses and the dining room tastefully decorated with daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton were dressed in white and Mrs. McAvity wore a dress of sand crepe satin with smart hanging cape, having touches of black picture hat. On their return they will live for a time at the McArthur apartments, Moncton, the latter taking up their residence at 43 Duke street.

Knobloch-Kelcher. An interesting June event took place at nine o'clock this morning in the Church of the Assumption, West St. John, when Rev. J. A. Ryan, with high nuptial mass, united in marriage Miss Mary Hazel Kelcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelcher, 170 Tower street, West St. John, to Edward Francis Knobloch of Salem, Mass. The bride was attended by Mrs. F. X. Collins as matron of honor, while Thomas Kelcher, a brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride wore an attractive costume of white charmeuse satin with pearl trimmings and bridal veil and orange blossoms. The matron of honor wore a gown of guirre Canton crepe with pink crepe de chine, picture hat and bouquet of pink carnations. During the ceremony Mrs. C. O. Mr. and Mrs. Knobloch will leave this evening on a wedding trip to Montreal and Vermont state, after which they will take up their residence in Salem. The bride's going-away costume is of sand tricotone with black mohair hat and seal scarf. Many valuable gifts were received, including a handsome silver bouquet holder from the manager and staff of F. W. Woolworth & Co., where the bride was employed.

Watson-Delahunt. At noon yesterday Miss Ruby Aubrey Delahunt, only daughter of Mrs. and the late Charles Delahunt, Moncton, and Ellis Roy Watson, son of Mrs. and the late Captain C. D. Watson, St. John, were united in marriage by Rev. J. A. Ryan at the home of the bride's mother, 230 Cameron street, Moncton. (Continued on page 8, fourth column.)

"I ain't surpris'd at that," said Hiram, "but if the feller had got nothin' to say about it, he'd be put to work an' earn money to be sent to his family? You keep him an' you keep his family, any sense? That's it. If there is I can see it—By Hen!"

Four Courts Besieged by Irish Regulars

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT'S FORCEFUL ACTION AGAINST INSURGENTS

Roar of Artillery and Rattle of Rifles in Southern Capital as Hot Attack is Made—Fowler Hall Affire and Evacuated—British Troops Ready to Aid Collins if Necessary.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Dublin, June 28.—The Irish provisional government took forceful action today against the insurgents of the Irish Republican army, investing the Four Courts building where the insurgents were entrenched and opening a hot attack when a demand for surrender was ignored.

The fighting, which opened a little after four o'clock in the morning was still in progress late this forenoon, the crack of the rifle fire and the rattle of the machine guns resounding over Dublin above the noise of the city's traffic, which was being carried on as usual.

Fowler Hall, in Parnell Square, occupied by irregulars, also was attacked by the Irish government troops.

The official troops command the Four Courts building from all sides, but the nature of the structure made an assault difficult and, as the building contains irreplaceable legal documents, there was no disposition to fire the structure as a means of ousting the insurgents.

The number of casualties on either side was not known definitely, but fourteen had been reported up to mid-forenoon. Three irregulars were carried out of the Four Courts building by the rear exit at 9:30 a.m. They were believed to be badly wounded and it was rumored two others of the irregulars had been killed.

Artillery was re-employed to some extent by the provincial government troops, at least one eighteen pounder having been in action, and considerable damage was reported to have been done to the insurgents stronghold.

MEET ULTIMATUM WITH SILENCE

Threat of 400,000 Railway Shopmen to Strike

Managers Make No Reply, but Prepare to Meet an Expected Walk-out—An Agreement on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

(Canadian Press.) Chicago, June 28.—An ultimatum sent by B. M. Jevich, president of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, T. D. Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, that the 400,000 shopmen of the nation's railroads would go on strike unless the decisions of the railroad labor board were ignored and pressure wages maintained, today was met with silence by railroad managers.

There was little indication that the railroad managers would seriously consider Jevich's demands to hold back the $60,000,000 wage cut and restore abolished rules governing working conditions in the shops.

Rail union officials continued conference today on plans for the threatened walkout next month as they hastened toward completion of the canvass of the strike vote, which is said to have been overwhelmingly in favor of a suspension in protest against the wage cuts and reduction of work hours edicts from the labor board.

Maintenance of way employees, clerks, signmen and other classes whose wages were slashed in recent orders would, in following the shopmen out on a strike, take more than 1,000,000 employees out of the railroad service. In spite of this railroad officials have asserted the roads could continue to operate to a certain extent with train service employees and telegraphers remaining on the job.

None of the big brotherhoods are affected by the wage reductions due July 1.

Philadelphia, June 28.—It was announced yesterday by the Pennsylvania Railroad that agreements on reduction of wages had been reached by the management and the elected representatives of 42,500 of its employees. The settlements affect the maintenance of way department, embracing 30,400 men and the employees of the telegraph and signal departments, 12,100.

The revised scales will become effective on July 1.

BADGER PREMIER ABOUT HONORS

Lively Time in British Commons Over the Sir J. B. Robinson Peerage.

London, June 28.—(Canadian Press.)—The king's birthday honors question again cropped up in the House of Commons yesterday when a shower of enquiries descended upon the premier, principally in regard to the peerage bestowed upon Sir J. B. Robinson of South Africa.

One member asked if the recommendation of Sir J. B. Robinson was on the departmental lists or submitted from elsewhere.

The speaker intervened and another member created laughter by asking if, besides the description of the services rendered by the South African, submitted along with the recommendation, amounts paid were also given.

The speaker again intervened.

Premier Lloyd George replying to the request for an opportunity to discuss the honors issue, referred to the programme of work mooted and the possibility of having to provide for discussion on Ireland in connection with current events in the course of perhaps a week or a fortnight. The time, therefore, would be pretty well taken up.

Continuing, he said that charges similar to that raised in connection with the Robinson peerage had been brought against administrators for the last forty years.

FIGURES OF LIQUOR EXPORT FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

London, June 28.—In a response to a request made in the House of Commons the board of trade made public statistics giving a comparison of the exports of alcoholic liquors from the United Kingdom for the years 1918 and 1920.

Following are the approximate figures: 1918.—To the U. S., $487,000; Canada, $798,000; Mexico, $8,000; West Indies, $166,000.

1920.—To the U. S., $135,000; Canada, $2,518,000; Mexico, $50,000; West Indies, $522,000.

A note explains that the bulk of the liquor consisted of British and Irish spirits, the average value of which in 1918 was $1.33 a gallon, and in 1920, $2.51 a gallon.

N. B. Superintendent Of Education Discusses Schools and Problems

Dr. W. S. Carter at Teachers' Parliament Today Reviews the Last Two Years and Goes Extensively Into Matters Affecting the Schools of the Province.

Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education addressed to the N. B. Teachers' Institute this afternoon, as follows:—

When I last had the privilege of addressing you, I took occasion to review the accomplishment of the education department during approximately the previous ten years. On this occasion I shall only go back two years—but you will agree with me—two years of important constructive legislation in respect to schools and teachers are concerned.

With your permission I shall also take occasion to mention a few things not yet accomplished.

Teachers' Salaries.

There is no matter of nearer concern to teachers and incidentally to the community, than a well trained capable and may I add, adequately paid staff of teachers.

No class or profession has been more affected by the great war and its results than teachers. Women were called upon to fill the places of men in all walks of life, and teachers by reason of their education and training, were found peculiarly adapted to fill vacancies in all activities at the very large rates of remuneration prevailing during those times of high costs of living.

Scarcity of teachers became world-wide, and to render the situation more acute, salaries paid to them did not respond to increased needs, and became much lower than those paid to the most unskilled labor.

Everywhere the supply of trained teachers failed to equal the demand and many schools were either closed or were supplied by partially or wholly untrained teachers, greatly lowering the educational standards of previous years.

Teachers were compelled to associate for their own interests and welfare and nearly all states recognized the dangers involved in a poorly paid and inadequate supply of teachers. The first condition implied the second. Various means were resorted to, but the results were a marked increase in salary scales in all countries, and better contented and much better paid teachers.

In New Brunswick.

I may briefly recite what has been done here. In 1920 a committee was appointed by the legislature to provide for minimum salaries for teachers. It was composed of one teacher, one trustee, one member of the Board of Education, one member nominated by the leader of the opposition and the chief superintendent of education.

The committee had several meetings and more than one plan was discussed—the principal kept in view, and acted upon, was that the richer districts should help the poorer ones.

The most attractive scheme, and to my mind the fairest, was that the province should be the unit of taxation; that all the property in it should be taxed for school purposes and distributed as the present county funds are. Unfortunately this plan is not at present practicable because of the inequality of assessment in the various counties. County and parish units were rejected for similar reasons.

It seems to me that all this shows a necessity for uniform standards of assessment in this province, and I have not given up the hope that at some time the whole province may be the unit for assessment for school purposes.

As many of you know, it was decided to double the county fund, making the rate sixty cents on the $100, instead of thirty cents, the former rate—and to distribute it in such a manner as to assist the poorer districts.

I would like to see the rate $1 on the $100, as has recently been provided in Nova Scotia, and so urged upon our legislature.

While the present rate greatly assists poor districts, and the districts up to $5,000 in valuation are better off than ever before, the districts with valuations from $5,000 to $10,000 require more assistance than is now possible with the sixty cent rate. If the rate were made $1 this could be provided.

By the plan recommended and approved by the legislature $100,000 yearly has been added to the county funds. By making the government grants of female teachers of the same class and experience equal to those of male teachers, an amount of approximately $75,000 per year has been contributed to teachers' salaries by the province—the largest single supplement in our history.

By this plan, the following minimum salary scale was provided to take effect on the part of the province, the second term of 1920. It was not found possible to bring it into effect inasmuch as related to the county fund until after the meetings of the county councils in January, 1921.

Class of Teacher	1911	1921	Increase
Grammar School	$1,000.00	$2,100.00	$1,100.00
Superior School	622.40	1,281.24	658.84
First Class, Male	677.36	1,234.96	557.60
Second Class, Male	346.23	778.80	432.57
First Class, Female	270.68	659.21	388.53
Second Class, Female	408.38	852.46	444.08
Third Class, Male	284.50	715.16	430.66
Third Class, Female	285.90	677.05	391.15

It will be noted that salaries have more than doubled in the last ten years in all districts and it may be added there has been very little, if any, friction or complaint.

Some members of the legislature at the last session raised objections to any minimum—and in some quarters regret was expressed that the old time privilege of living at home and teaching cheaply should be abolished. That has been the most potent cause of low salaries in the past.

It is only now that the full effect upon districts of minimum salaries can be understood, as the second county fund draft was only received in March last. Many districts voted altogether too much at the last annual meeting, and should have a large surplus at the end of the year. Many trustees have not seemed to understand that these salaries included government grants. According to some accounts all teachers have not understood this either. It was agreed in the legislature to allow the minimum salary clause to stand for another year. If districts do not expect salaries to go back to pre-war rates, which in this nature things can never happen, they are better off than they have been before. If we fail to complete in salaries with the other provinces of Canada, our further educational progress will be hopeless.

Pensions.

You are all aware that at the last session of the legislature an amendment to the pension act was passed by which the maximum pension was made $800 instead of $400, as heretofore, and no minimum less than $200 per year is provided for. There is also a disability clause providing that after twenty years of service, if a teacher is found totally disabled, he shall receive as many thirty-fifths of the total pension as her years of service from twenty years upward.

In order to provide for increased pensions, and the added disability clause, the teachers have agreed to contribute each year five per cent of their government grants.

All teachers in the service at the time of the passage of the act, and who consequently will have contributed to the pension fund, are eligible to participate in its benefits.

It is a matter of regret that under these provisions the act could not be made retro-active. In such cases a provision is not only made for teachers, but in addition for teachers who are engaged as inspectors, normal school instructors, local superintendents and secretaries and others.

I speak subject to correction, but inasmuch as my knowledge extends, we have in New Brunswick the most liberal pension act in Canada. Under our act provision is not only made for teachers, but in addition for teachers who are engaged as inspectors, normal school instructors, local superintendents and secretaries and others.

Loans to Student-Teachers.

Attendance at the Normal School during the present year has been almost a record one. This has been brought about largely by two agencies—larger salaries prospectively and loans to student-teachers.

After the war the visible supply of teachers was diminishing so rapidly that it was felt in order to get a normal supply of trained teachers promptly that deserving and ambitious students should be assisted and encouraged to take Normal School courses.

Accordingly, in 1921, the legislature provided for the Normal School for any class in advance of third, and who required financial assistance to enable them to complete the Normal course, may borrow from the government an amount not exceeding $400.

The loan is repayable over a period of three years, at the rate of one-third per cent. The province has a lien upon the teachers' government grants until the loan is repaid.

No loans are made to licensed teachers, it being assumed that they should be able to help themselves. This year we availed ourselves of these loans during the school year.

Trustees' Convention.

New Brunswick was the first maritime province to hold a purely trustees' convention. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island will have theirs soon.

Last November about 300 trustees from all over the province met in Fredericton in convention. The enrollment was 150, but as many more uncredited delegates were present. A brief account of the proceedings by the chairman, Mr. W. J. Mills, appears in the last annual report. The convention had Mr. William Iversch, a veteran trustee from Montreal, as guest speaker and participated in its proceedings. Many interesting and valuable addresses were given and excellent suggestions were made. The trustees organized and elected officers. I look for much assistance and co-operation from the trustees of the province.

Botany, chemistry and drawing, which in the old days were regarded by some as fads, are now recognized as the basis of agricultural and industrial instruction. Latin, Greek and French, which were at some time compulsory, are now either wholly or partially optional.

Geometry and algebra are not begun as early as formerly, and I believe we are neglecting too greatly such an important subject as physics.

We cannot be a law unto ourselves as to subjects or courses of instruction. We must keep step with the times. Our boys and girls have to compete with others and must not be placed by any action of ours at a disadvantage with them. Complaint has already been made that our students have not been able to enter some of the colleges because of deficiency in physics.

A four-year High School course is well high universal. I favor it for our own province, but such a change has not as yet commended itself to the text book committee. Why do we not make necessary changes in our text books? Because war prices still prevail in books, and we do not desire to enter into contracts at peak prices.

It is pointed out that wood prices have fallen—the prices of paper have not responded and those for printing and binding have advanced.

In the selection of history texts it is difficult if not impossible to satisfy all schools or thoughts. Our High School history course is far from satisfactory. We have been unable to find a text in general history to which there is no objection. Myers, which was discontinued a couple of years ago, has again been recommended by the text book committee and the inspector. It has not as yet been submitted to the board of education for approval.

We are suffering in comparative statistics because we admit pupils to the schools at the age of six instead of five, as in some other provinces. Our text book committee is divided as to a change. We are also at a disadvantage in statistics because we have five standards of one year and a half each in country districts, instead of eight grades of one year each. The text book committee in advance of third, and who required financial assistance to enable them to complete the Normal course, may borrow from the government an amount not exceeding $400.

The loan is repayable over a period of three years, at the rate of one-third per cent. The province has a lien upon the teachers' government grants until the loan is repaid.

No loans are made to licensed teachers, it being assumed that they should be able to help themselves. This year we availed ourselves of these loans during the school year.

After the war the visible supply of teachers was diminishing so rapidly that it was felt in order to get a normal supply of trained teachers promptly that deserving and ambitious students should be assisted and encouraged to take Normal School courses.

Accordingly, in 1921, the legislature provided for the Normal School for any class in advance of third, and who required financial assistance to enable them to complete the Normal course, may borrow from the government an amount not exceeding $400.

The loan is repayable over a period of three years, at the rate of one-third per cent. The province has a lien upon the teachers' government grants until the loan is repaid.

Trustees' Convention.

New Brunswick was the first maritime province to hold a purely trustees' convention. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island will have theirs soon.

Last November about 300 trustees from all over the province met in Fredericton in convention. The enrollment was 150, but as many more uncredited delegates were present. A brief account of the proceedings by the chairman, Mr. W. J. Mills, appears in the last annual report. The convention had Mr. William Iversch, a veteran trustee from Montreal, as guest speaker and participated in its proceedings. Many interesting and valuable addresses were given and excellent suggestions were made. The trustees organized and elected officers. Some county constitutions have by resolution expressed the desire to have Summer schools of wider scope than those now conducted by the vocational and agricultural departments, and embracing such subjects as educational psychology, school management and administration, history of education, health education, art, music, French and primary methods.

In this province and in the western provinces very numerous—in the cities and towns. Such associations exist in connection with each large building program. While here we have not made use of them and do not yet understand them very well, they should be given the most careful consideration before accepting or commencing them. I look forward with interest to the paper we are to have from Miss McLachy on "Tests for Measuring the Results of Teaching."

At the present time our systems of education are devoting their best energies to the average child, if such exists. What can be done with large classes and a system of promotion that under conditions tends to become mechanical, and where something is being attempted on behalf of defectives and the feeble-minded. What is being done for the superior child? At a short meeting of the committee, a sub-committee should be appointed to choose a certain number of subjects covering in as far as possible our whole range of education.

Executive committees of institute teachers very often complain that the programme of our institute is not well balanced, and that some important branches of work are left off. This is no doubt true and no doubt the present one may prove no exception.

In my opinion, the fault lies in the manner of selection and not in a desire to exclude any subject. Instead of voting upon the topics selected at a short meeting of the committee, a sub-committee should be appointed to choose a certain number of subjects covering in as far as possible our whole range of education.

Our text-book committee might be improved by giving it representation from trustees as well as teachers. It should meet more frequently to discuss any phase of education and its recommendations should receive special consideration by the board of education.

This will not in any way subtract from the direct responsibility of the board of education to the people of the province, which can not be delegated, but the assistance of a representative advisory board could be of the greatest use.

My address to you has been chiefly practical. The professional side will be dealt with by others.

There is no limit to the work expected of teachers. Outside her ability to teach the obligatory subjects of the course of instruction, she is required to give instruction in manners and morals, to give elementary training in the boys and sewing and cooking to the girls. She is expected to be a social service leader or worker, know how to administer first aid and to be interested in Red Cross work. She is invited to establish Audubon societies among the pupils and to prepare programmes for the observance of Empire and Arbor days. It has also been proposed that Magna Charta Day be observed in the schools. She is invited to qualify for the work of kindergarten, school playgrounds and of minister first aid and to be interested in Red Cross work. BOY WANTED TO GO TO JAIL.

Said He Was 21, Preferring Men Cell-mates to "Kids."

New York, June 28—"I don't want to hang out with the kids and be sent away with them,"

George Topping, 16 years old, of 80 Skymen street, Brooklyn, made this statement when the complaint of grand larceny against him was dismissed by Judge McLaughlin in the County Court, Brooklyn, who turned the youth over to the Children's Court.

George when he was arrested on May 8 last confessed stealing an automobile. He gave his age as 21. He was then sent to the New York Reformatory. Yesterday Assistant District Attorney Taylor of Brooklyn obtained proof that George was 16 years old.

George told the court he preferred to go to jail with "real men, not kids." "And that's why I lied about my age," he added.

FARMER GORED TO DEATH.

Tilsburg, June 28—With his ribs crushed in and his face lacerated by hoofs, James Oterson was found dead in a field on the farm of Thomas Lowrie, Dereham township. He had evidently been gored to death by a bull which had broken loose in the Lowrie pasture from a neighbor's place.

Oterson went back to get the cows at six o'clock, and a search was made half an hour later when he failed to return. It is presumed that the neighbor's bull and the Lowrie bull had been engaged in combat and Oterson tried to part them.

Oterson was about 60 years of age. He is survived by his widow, but no children.

Reviewed Year of Much Success in Kindergartens

A year of much success and great usefulness was reviewed by the Free Kindergarten Association at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the G. W. V. A. rooms, with Mrs. F. E. Holman, president, in the chair. Plans were made for the summer activities in connection with the exhibition.

The treasurer's report, which had been audited by Miss A. V. Sandall and Miss Grace W. Leavitt, showed that the association closed the year with a balance of $198.38. The committee which had been soliciting subscriptions reported that there had been a generous response and funds from this source to date amounted to $108.

It was decided to postpone the election of officers until the next meeting and to have the kindergartens opened again in the fall after the exhibition, as the teachers would be busy at the exhibition. For the special plant in connection with the exhibition it was decided to show the work of the children and that done by the graduating class of kindergartens daily.

Reports were submitted from each of the kindergartens, telling also of the ways in which the kindergartens had helped in the homes of some of the children where there had been found to be need and distress.

The teachers at the kindergartens were as follows:—Willington row, Miss Lou Estey and Miss Elizabeth Stanley; Mabel Peters' kindergartens, Miss Ruth Manis and Miss Elsie Macdonald, south end, Miss Edna Colwell and Miss Helen Bennett; Prince Edward street, Miss Winnifred Ross and Miss Florence Kierstead north end, Miss Edith Stephens and Miss Dorothy Simonds; East St. John, to find a suitable building to be used as a kindergarten in West St. John, wrote that up to the present time he had not been successful in his search. The association has undertaken to provide teachers if a suitable building can be found.

Mayor McEwan had been written to ask that the association might have a tag day in October, and his permission having been given, he had been thanked.

WOOLWORTH OWNER PROTESTS TAX RATE

Declares Assessment is 25 Per Cent. Higher Than Building World Sell For—City to File Accounts.

New York, June 28.—Figures on the value of the Woolworth building and the income received from it were filed in the Supreme Court when the Broadway Park Place Company, owner of the building, got an order from Justice Marsh compelling the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessment to file in court a record of their proceedings finding that the total value of the property for the present year is $12,500,000, and that the land alone is worth $8,850,000. The complaint asserts that the total value of the property is not more than $10,000,000, of which $7,000,000 is the value of the building and $3,000,000 that of the land.

The petition of the owner asserts that the building is assessed for 25 per cent. more than it would be sold for at the present time, whereas the general custom is to assess for taxation purposes at less than the market value. The assessment of 17 per cent. of $12,500,000, for depreciation.

The papers state that 12,000 persons occupy the Woolworth building, which 100,000 pass in and out daily, which causes "tremendous wear and tear."

In order to compete with the newer buildings being erected in the vicinity it will be necessary to reduce rentals, and "long before the building has physically decayed it will cease to be an important competitor with the more modern structures in the financial district." It is stated that one of the largest and most modern buildings in the locality was compelled to reduce its rentals from 20 to 38 per cent. before it was ten years old in order to keep its tenants.

"The operation of the building at present is the most profitable that may ever be expected because, due to the stagnation in the building industry during the war, it had no competitor from other new buildings."

DR. CARTER'S ADDRESS.

The address of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, delivered today before the New Brunswick Teachers' Institute, is published in full in this issue of the Times-Star. It will repay a careful perusal. There are some very satisfactory features in his review of the progress of the last few years. The number of teachers, which had been unequal to the demand, has substantially increased, and there has almost been a record of attendance this year at the Normal School. Salaries have been increased in recent years, although not in proportion to the advance in the cost of living; and pensions are higher, with special provisions for teachers disabled after twenty years' service. The provincial trustees convention has been introduced with good effect, and greater co-operation between trustees and teachers and the department is anticipated. For the purpose of taxation for school purposes Dr. Carter contends there should be uniform standards in the counties and parishes, and that the whole province should be the unit of taxation, and the principle that the richer districts should help the poorer ones be fairly applied. No doubt this policy will ere long be adopted. While the county fund rate has been increased from thirty to sixty cents on the $100, Dr. Carter would make it one dollar, as in Nova Scotia, and so make better provision for poor districts.

It is gratifying to note that teachers' salaries have more than doubled in ten years, and it certainly cannot be said that an average range from $877.05 per year for a third-class female teacher to $2,007.69 for a grammar school teacher with the remuneration paid to persons in far less exacting and responsible occupations. Dr. Carter truly says that if we in New Brunswick fail to compete in salaries with other provinces our educational progress will be hopelessly less. It is at least gratifying to know that this province probably has the most liberal teachers' pension act in Canada. That is one feature which will tend to keep teachers in the profession.

Dr. Carter is not satisfied with our school text-books, but points out that as war prices for book production still prevail it would not be good business to enter into contracts until price conditions are more favorable. As to changes in text-books and in the course of instruction he is disposed to be somewhat conservative, although he points out that the war has rendered some books obsolete and they must be brought up to date. The chief superintendent apparently does not agree with those who contend that the course of instruction is overloaded, or that there should be longer holidays, shorter school hours and abolition of home study. With regard to the last at least, there is room for difference of opinion. Dr. Carter agrees with the St. John high school officials that a four-year high school course is desirable. A point to be noted in making comparisons with other provinces is that pupils are admitted to school in New Brunswick at the age of six years, instead of five years as in some other provinces, and that in country districts we have five standards of a year and a half each instead of eight grades of one year each.

Dealing with the summer schools, Dr. Carter would widen their scope, to take in more than the vocational and agricultural departments, so that they would appeal to a wider range of teachers. He favors one large provincial summer school to cover all the grounds, three provinces. No doubt his suggestion will receive careful consideration. He would have commercial courses in high schools, and suggests in larger cities one other optional subject suited to local needs. It will probably be found that vocational high schools will meet this need, and this is a subject which must receive more attention hereafter.

Dr. Carter declares the compulsory school attendance act is not satisfactory, and few will have the hardihood to disagree with him. He favors free text-books, and consideration of the question of continuation work and part-time schools. His contention that more training for teachers is necessary will not be disputed unless on the mistaken ground of economy. The appeal for better opportunities for children in small and weak districts could be met by adequate provision for the support of all schools, and adopting consideration where it is desirable. Dr. Carter has always favored the school as a social centre, and would have a parent-teachers' association to ensure a more effective use of the school buildings, and a better school.

The question of mental tests is discussed by Dr. Carter, rather with a view to directing attention to this important matter than to offering suggestions; and he very properly points out that there are super-normal as well as sub-normal children, whose needs call for consideration. We make provision for the needs of the average child and neglect both those who are above and those who are below the average. Some quotations made from an article by Mr. Arthur Pound on the education of the future are worthy of thoughtful consideration. Mr.

—Brown in the Chicago Daily News.

GETTING SMALLER EVERY DAY

"THERE'S ROSEMARY—THAT'S FOR REMEMBRANCE." 1924.

Again the solemn days returns
When, round the graves of brave and true,
We breathe our gallant soldiers' sighs,
With rosemary and rue.

For thirty-three long years have seen
Our flag stream out on every sky;
No other banner 'er our dead—
No brighter stars their canopy.

Since last the Stars and Bars came down,
When hostile cannon ceased to roar,
The stars that glitter 'er our dead,
Once thirty-six—are forty-four!

And "Round the flag"—we rally still,
The veterans brought by maid and wife,
To wreath the shrines where brothers lie,
Who gave our land each precious life.

They held their breast to battle's blast,
That we might live in peace, today;
And, as our country's songs we voice,
We brush the bitter tears away.

Flowers for the Brave! And Love's fond wreath,
Lie lightly on their gallant brows!
For tender maid and gallant youth,
Mourn where the silent hero rests!

Raise high the song! Lift up the hand!
Beside the soldier's flower-decked sod,
Be ours today, to keep the oath
They kept—to Country and to God!

The myrtle and the laurel twine
Around the rosemary and rue!
Let children's voices raise today,
Hosannas for the brave and true!

These crumbling names on mossy stones
Recall the void in aching hearts,
But all the pride our country owns
To us a newer fame imparts!

The patriot here—the hero there,
They hidden from our mortal eyes,
Unite today in grateful silent prayer,
Where every silent soldier lies!

The ranks grow thin we muster here,
For comrades gather up above;
And take their places once again,
In blue lines, golden linked, in Love.

—Richard Henry Savage.

U. S. Travelers Using the St. Lawrence Route

Marquis of Northampton, After Canadian Trip, Talks of Agriculture and of Political Situation in the Old Country.

Quebec, June 28.—The Canadian Pacific 24,400-ton steamer Empress of Scotland, Capt. Gillies, sailed yesterday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock, standard time, for Chebourg, Southampton and Hamburg, with 1,076 passengers, 421 in the saloon, 430 second and 225 third class. The saloon were many prominent people from the principal cities of the U. S., who have come to choose the St. Lawrence route for their trips to the European continent.

Among the passengers in the saloon were the Marquis and Marchioness of Northampton; Sir H. and Lady Bray of London, England; Judge Alfred K. Nifford, Cincinnati; Shum Woon Chee, the Chinese diplomatic service, and Mrs. Chee; Right Hon. N. W. Rowell, P. C., K. C., of Toronto; Lady Kirkpatrick, Wm. H. and Colonel A. Perry of Kingston, Ont.

The Marquis of Northampton, who spent the night in Quebec to observe the points of interest with the marchioness, in a parting interview said he was specially delighted with his trip across Canada from Vancouver by C. P. R., and was vastly interested in the agricultural methods throughout the western provinces. He cultivates from 4,000 to 5,000 acres of land himself, the remaining 12,000 acres being let out. "The extraordinary rate of expansion throughout Canada is what has impressed me most," he said. "The farming methods in the inexhaustible west are entirely different from those followed in England. Everything is done on such a huge scale. The government promises to subsidize wheat, but could not keep its word. The land under cultivation had gone back. The government promises to subsidize sheep, but could not keep its word. Teaching on the political situation, the marquis said that Lloyd George was the world's greatest statesman. He said that he received a big vote of confidence following the discussion on the Irish policy. The premier always chooses the right moment to take a vote, and when he makes a mistake he turns it into a success, rarely making a blunder." The Irish situation, he said, will not right itself for many years, and the brutal assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson had served to make feeling the more bitter. The majority of the Irish people desired to maintain the connection with Great Britain, and he declared that the idea of a republic was absolutely unfeasible.

CANARY SOLOIST STAR OF A BAND CONCERT

A little canary in a cage shared the applause of the notable guests who attended the opening concert of the other day of the Fifteenth Regiment Colored Band at the Park Avenue Hotel, New York.

The concert was the first of a series to be held every afternoon to interest the public in the negro population of the city and support the band financially.

While the band played, a small bird, which hung in a cage on the rear balcony of the outdoor court, held a crowd of onlookers laughing and marveling.

The bird appeared to know all the tunes—from "Dixie" to "Swanee River"—and seemed to anticipate every variation and musical emphasis. The canary paid no attention to its audience, but attended strictly to business.

There were other canaries, eight in all, but only this one took an active part in the band. After each number the bird would flutter excitedly about its cage, as if eager for an encore. George C. Brown, proprietor of the hotel, said that the bird had attracted attention on other occasions, when a stringed orchestra played in the court, but had never before shown such a marked exhibition. The bird is to be given the place of honor in the centre of the balcony for the other canaries.

THEIR LOVE NEST GONE

Hampton Court, Eng., June 8.—(By mail)—Two thrushes at Hampton Court built a nest on the buffers of a train that ran each day to Waterloo and back. Three eggs were laid and three fledglings hatched.

The youngsters travelled to Waterloo every day with the train, and found the parent birds waiting for them when they returned in the evening.

On Sunday, the train, instead of returning to Hampton Court, was sent on to Esher. The following day it went to Bournemouth.

At Hampton Court two unhappy birds still look for the return of the train.

LOOKING BACK OVER THE SESSION

Some of the Votes and Legislation at Ottawa

Final Action on Liquor Importation into British Columbia—Some Critical Situations—Two Resolutions Not Dealt With.

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, June 28.—The first session of the 14th parliament of Canada which closed this morning was marked by the presence of the Progressives as an influential party and the emergence of a fourth, or labor, group. The Progressives exercised a controlling influence in many situations during the session, while the two labor members were active in setting forth their point of view on most of the items that arose.

The fact that the Progressives are predominantly western in membership, coupled with other circumstances in the national situation, combined to give western questions unusual prominence. The demand for the wheat board is the first big western issue to make its felt, and while the western members did not get all they asked for, they did get a chance to try out their remedy within the limits of the constitution.

The railway rate question, wrapped up as it was with the Crew's Knot Pass agreement, gave the session a critical wind-up and on this issue there was a compromise which gave the great bulk of its basic industry while referring other rate reductions to the railway commission.

Upper Legislation. The Senate asserted its right to criticize by killing a bill to withdraw federal control from the Lake of the Woods, while in the case of the Canada Temperance Act, the commonsense had to surrender the section which gave British Columbia authority to prevent the private importation of liquor.

There were several critical situations during the session. On the Nova Scotia resolution to prohibit ministers of the crown from holding directorships in certain corporations, the government had support of the Conservatives, the majority by the union of Liberals and official opposition being large.

On a division early in May in connection with the Railway question the government majority was revised was fifteen, there being a considerable number of absentees among both the opposition parties.

On the budget the ministry had a majority of eighteen, nine Progressives voting with the Liberals, while the rest of the opposition united in the negative. Owing to criticism within the Liberal ranks there was a crisis over the militia and naval service estimates, the minister meeting the criticism by large cuts in the vote for these departments.

Many other questions were prominent in the course of the session. The government announced further details on the national railway and government merchant marine, but did not carry out the expected re-organization of the management. The returned soldier problem was again carefully considered in a special committee and some further improvements made in the legislation on this subject.

The period for the sale of oil was extended again. The Nova Scotia case, which had been disposed of by a new board of inquiry. The government announced that it did not intend to proceed at present with the St. Lawrence waterway project. Further restrictions on liquor promotion were promised. The laph was added as a penalty for the sale of drugs to miners. The disarmament treaty and amendments to the covenant of the League of Nations were adopted.

Longer Than Expected. The session lasted a month longer than as first anticipated, but the end left in amount of business till high on the order paper. There was no contribution bill introduced, but one was promised for next session. Personal representation had a brief showing but got buried in the list of adjourned debates. An amendment to the constitution of former enemies was not urged after a strong protest had been made against it by the leader of the opposition. Two bills fathered by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg Centre, which grew out of the Winnipeg strike got consideration in special committee but were left behind in the wind-up. A resolution annulling reform by J. T. Shaw, Progressive of Calgary West was never called and similar neglect was meted out to a proposal by Wm. Irvine, Labor, Calgary East, that the defeat of a government measure should not necessarily mean the defeat of the government.

MEPARTLAND AGAIN IS HEAD OF TYPOS

Barrett of Chicago, his only opponent, according to voting results announced yesterday. George H. Howard, Winnipeg, was elected delegate to the trades and labor congress of Canada.

Graduation of Kindergarten Teachers

The great value of work done by kindergartens was given a vivid presentation in word and in practical demonstration yesterday afternoon at the graduating exercises of the kindergarten-training class in the G. W. Y. A. rooms. The teacher of the class, Mrs. A. F. Robinson, presided and there was a large audience. Four pupils received graduation certificates, the Misses Eleanor Cline, Elsie Macdonald, Elizabeth Sturges and Doris Woodrow, and six post-graduate certificates were presented—those receiving them being Misses Florence Kierstead, Edna Catwell, Edith Stephens, Ruth Manley, Louise Estey and Winifred Ross.

Miss Doris Woodrow, in an interesting and clever paper, explained Froebel's principles, giving her hearers a real understanding and appreciation of the aims and ideals of the founder of modern methods of kindergarten work and disabusing their minds of many common misconceptions of kindergarten methods.

Miss E. Estey, in a well written paper on story-telling, pointed out the incalculable influence of story-telling on children and then proved the effect of a story well told by telling her audience the story of the ugly duckling.

Miss Audrey Hunter contributed two pleasing solos and Miss Eleanor Cline, in her paper on nature study, suggested the almost limitless possibilities of this teaching for kindergarten work and delighted her audience by telling the story of the little green caterpillar. Mrs. Robinson told of the changes in the kindergarten work which have been made in the last few years and said that more would probably be made in the future. Rev. Fred MacAshegan presented the certificates to the graduates and post-graduates. He hoped, he said, to some day see the kindergarten as a recognized part of the public school system. Miss Jessie Lawrence addressed the graduates and congratulated them on the work they had chosen to follow. A bouquet of roses was presented to the graduates by the graduates as a mark of their appreciation. Miss F. Kierstead and Miss Louise Estey gave an enjoyable piano duet.

Asbell, the five-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Asbell, whose death occurred yesterday at the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Walter Marley, 38 White street. The little fellow spent a great deal of his time with the Asbells, and his death is a great loss to his parents, as well as to his aunt. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from his aunt's residence.

A PLATFORM FOR BETTER BUSINESS

Adopted at Conference of Associated Advertising Clubs of the World—What They Recommend.

The educational department of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World held a conference at Milwaukee, Wis., June 27-28, 1922. The conference was held in the rooms of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce, and was presided over by J. A. Hall, educational director, writes:

"Short addresses were made by representatives of all the above interests, telling what their organizations were doing to aid business and making suggestions for a platform, that all these forces could concentrate on for the next twelve months, in an effort to further assist business up to the sound prosperity which all agreed was on the way.

"In the first place, it was deemed essential by everyone, it was agreed that this was a most important thing to do, and that the foundation of any prosperity that may be coming, must be laid absolutely on truth and honesty in all departments of merchandising. It was reported from all sides that there had been a very great tendency to get away from truth in advertising, in a mistaken effort to force business. It was agreed that this was a most foolish and disastrous tendency, and one that must be corrected before business could attempt to reach normalcy. But truth in advertising is not enough. It must be backed up by honest merchandising in all departments of business. Salespeople must be instructed to tell the truth about the merchandise that they offer, to eliminate exaggeration, to make performances out of promises, and to, at all times, consider the customers' viewpoint in order that the greatest possible service may be rendered.

"It was the belief of the conference that a further development of the principles of the forefathers of this country, in business, would be a great aid in promoting better business. They further believed that the growth must give way to the optimistic, and that in all business transactions, there must be a spirit of confidence and cheerfulness.

"One speaker told of a large department store which had concentrated on greater courtesy on the part of their salespeople, over an extended period, with a net result of an increase of over 20 per cent in business. Therefore, it was urged that the spirit of courtesy be promoted in all business transactions.

"A general community spirit was urged in that the building of the community was the corner-stone of prosperity, and was suggested that all forces use every possible means to encourage community development and a realization on the part of retailers that whatever they may do to help the other fellow, will help themselves individually, and that they truly help themselves when they help their neighbors.

"It was further suggested, and this is perhaps one of the most important steps of the entire conference, that a national council of retailers be organized by this department. This council would be made up of representative leaders in retailing in each community, who would act in an advisory capacity to all forces working for Better Business. They would, in co-operation with the educational department of the A. A. C. of W., have a thorough analysis made of their community, thus getting a knowledge of the buying power, and the nature of the buying power leading to a more intelligent conduct of their business. Manufacturers could seek their advertising agencies, and in every way help them in disposing of their products, and in every way this new organization would act as the greatest body of counselors for business in every community.

"The writer plans to secure the approval of these Councils of Retailers in the very near future, and probably call a conference of the entire number during the few months.

"Every trade association and Chamber of Commerce was urged to appoint a better business committee, for the purpose of securing better advertising in their industry or community, leading to better business, and the full co-operation of the educational department of the A. A. C. of W. was pledged in this respect. This is a most important move for better business, and it is hoped that each association will immediately take steps for the appointment of such a committee to work with the educational department of the A. A. C. of W. It was announced that the Music Industries Chamber of Commerce had already started this work by offering a trophy for the best advertising used by its members during the coming year, and that a committee of leading advertising and marketing experts would be appointed by the A. A. C. of W., to co-operate with a like committee from the Music Industries, to judge this contest.

"It was urged that all organizations and interests represented at the conference, and working for the improvement of conditions in their particular line, hold frequent meetings such as was held at Milwaukee, and that they all work together through the educational department of the A. A. C. of W. toward co-ordination of effort in all lines.

Ithaca, N. Y. June 28.—Carrying out a direction in the will of Major Willard D. Straight, New York banker, that she do something to make Cornell a "more human place," Mrs. Dorothy Whitney Straight will give the university a million-dollar building to be used as a centre for the social and recreational life of the students, according to an announcement of President Livingston Farrand.

The building, preliminary plans for which have been prepared by Delano & Aldrich, architects of New York City, will be located in the centre of the university campus on Central avenue, south of the library.

The building will contain a large memorial hall for banquets, dinners and general recreational purposes, reading and billiard rooms, a large dining room or cafeteria, office facilities for student organizations and activities, and bedrooms for alumni. Provision for women students will be made in one section of the building.

An interesting feature is a small theatre with a seating capacity of approximately 500, which will serve as a centre for the activities of the dramatic club and other organizations needing similar facilities. No attempt will be made to cover the athletic interests of the university in the present building, for it is hoped that an adequate gymnasium will be obtained in the near future.

"I can think of no gift more welcome than this of Mrs. Straight," said President Farrand. "The problem of providing a socially centre for student life is as difficult at Cornell as at all other American universities and the building so generously and thoughtfully provided will help materially in its solution. It is particularly gratifying to the univer-

IN HONOR OF THE 1922 GRADUATES

NO BILL REPORTED. Sydney, N. S., June 27.—The grand jury in supreme court here today reported "no bill" in the case of Fraser Cunningham, eighteen, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Johnny Power, twelve, who was struck by the accused's car at Glace Bay recently.

The high school graduates of the class of 1922 were tendered a reception last evening in the assembly hall of the building by the members of the High School Alumnae. The affair was attended by all the members of the graduation class, which totalled 116, the largest in the school's history, as well as former graduates from almost every class since the opening of the school.

The opening ceremonies last evening were under the direction of Miss Grace B. Campbell. Miss Jean Sommerville presented the alumnae life membership pin to Miss Harriet Roberts as valedictorian of the class, according to the usual custom. The members of the graduation class then repeated the roll call of the classes given at the morning exercises. Jack Bond, winner of last year's alumnae scholarship, announced that Miss Harriet Roberts had won that honor this year. The scholarship carries with it $100 to help the winner through any college he or she wishes to attend.

Miss Francis Murdoch and Paul Cross sang solos which were heartily cheered. A special orchestra furnished music for the occasion and the remainder of the evening was taken up in this manner. The dancing was under the direction of Dr. D. C. Macdonald. Miss Grace B. Campbell and Mrs. R. O'Brien were in charge of the reception committee and the refreshment committee was under the direction of Miss Grace Estey, Miss Jean Smith and Miss Alice Walker. The assembly hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the chairs had been cleared from the floor, making a large space available for dancing.

St. Vincent's Girls. The banquet given by St. Vincent's Alumnae last night to the twenty members of the graduating class was one of the most enjoyable and successful in the history of the alumnae, which since its formation always entertained the graduates at dinner on the evening after the school closing. The banquet was served in the dining hall of the Clifton House and there were 160 present. The tables were attractively decorated in light blue and dark blue, the alumnae colors, and as a central ornament at the table of honor where the graduates were seated there was a doll, correctly costumed as an acting miniature of a graduate.

Miss Muriel Corkery, the president, was the chairman and gave an address of welcome. A hearty sing-song opened the programme and there was a lengthy list of toasts to honor. The president proposed the toast to the King, which was given musical honors. The toast to "Canada" was given by Miss Annie Gonnell, the past president, and was followed by the singing of "O Canada." Miss Corkery proposed the toast to the graduating class, to which Miss Lillian Clark replied. "Our Teachers" was the next toast and this was proposed by Miss Mary Chalmers and responded to by Miss Annie McGuigan. "The Press" was toasted by Miss Susan Robson and the toast was replied to by Mrs. James McMurray. The toast "Our Absent Members" was proposed by Miss Ena Higgins and Mrs. E. J. Ryan replied. The toast to "The Men" was proposed by Miss Agnes Collins and replied to by Mrs. Joseph Kennedy.

During the programme Mrs. Arthur Goddard and Mrs. W. F. Durr rendered vocal solos and Miss Helena Scully gave a violin solo, all of which were greatly appreciated. The delightful evening was brought to a close with the singing of the national anthem. The accompanists were Mrs. D. J. Barrett and Mrs. C. Conlon. Miss Muriel Corkery was general convener, Mrs. W. C. Fawcetts convener of the business committee, and Mrs. B. P. McFertey convener of the entertainment committee.

FARMERS FAVOR EASTERN COUNCIL OF AGRICULTURE

Truro, N. S., June 27.—The second annual convention of the United Farmers of Nova Scotia, which began here this morning, and which will continue all day tomorrow, was thinly attended today, but a few more delegates may arrive tomorrow.

The feature of the morning meeting was an address on "Organization" by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario. Mr. Morrison urged the farmers to assert themselves. Labor men, he said, were active in demanding recognition, but farmers were "backward in coming forward."

In the afternoon, Mr. Morrison urged the formation of an Eastern Council of Agriculture, with headquarters at Ottawa, and representative of all that part of Canada east of the Great Lakes. He would divide Canada into two sections for council of agriculture purposes, one council for the west, and one for the east.

The convention favored his proposal, which included the grouping together of the three Maritime Provinces into one unit, and paying one fee.

He announced that a meeting to form the Eastern Council would be held at Moncton this week. Three delegates, he said, would be present from Quebec but he would probably be the only one from Ontario.

TO ENLARGE THE CHURCH BUILDING

Unanimously, the congregation of St. Matthew's church at a special meeting last night voted that steps be taken at once to enlarge the church accommodation to provide room for carrying on work among the young people. The meeting was presided over by John Thornton and the secretary was J. W. McCarthy. The meeting had been specially called to discuss what could be done in order to provide adequate facilities for the young people's work and recreation in connection with the church. It was agreed that the church should be raised, moved back from the sidewalk and a basement constructed beneath it. The basement was to provide the necessary accommodation for lack of which the congregation felt its work for the younger members was suffering. The scheme as proposed would call for an expenditure of between $9,000 and $10,000. A committee consisting of the moderator, Rev. W. H. Spencer, Austin Galbraith and John Thornton was appointed to bring the matter before the Presbytery and bring back a report to the congregation.

DELAY IN PLANS FOR MEMORIAL HOME AT ROTHESAY C. S.

The committee having in hand matters concerning the new Memorial hall for the Rothessay Collegiate school met recently and opened tenders for the erection of the building. Three tenders were received and all were in excess of the sum which had been decided upon by the Fredericton diocesan synod, $45,000. It was decided to forward the tenders to the architect of the building, Delancy Robinson, in New York, and the committee is now awaiting his reply. The building, as planned, was to consist of a dining hall and a chapel and it to be a memorial to the pupils of the school who gave their lives in the great war. The erection of the building eventually will be undertaken but may be found necessary to alter its original plan.

ALLEGED CHAIN OF BIGAMIES IN U.S.

Pinkerton Detectives Arrest
Rev. Donald D. Stewart,
Reformer and Temperance Advocate.

Los Angeles, June 28.—The Rev. Donald D. Stewart, well known California reformer and temperance advocate, credited with cleaning out the red-light districts of a number of California towns and author of the song, "Well, Well, California Dry," was arrested near Sierra Madre last night by Pinkerton detectives on charges that he has committed bigamy in a number of states and swindled his various wives out of thousands of dollars.

Taken into custody with Stewart was Mrs. Ethel Turner Osbaldstone, forty years of age, who, it was asserted by the police, posed as his sister, and arranged his matrimonial escapades. The couple were brought to the central police station in Los Angeles and booked as fugitives from justice. The man is said to be wanted in Boston on a bigamy charge.

Stewart has an amazing career, as revealed by Everett C. Driggs, assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton Agency. Ordained as a minister in Edinburgh, Scotland, and the son of a clergyman, and said to have ministered to many congregations all over the United States. He first came to public notice in California when his conversion was revoked because of his connection with the suicide of Mrs. Maude Hendricks of Hayward, Cal., Dec. 29, 1914. Stewart, then said to be living under the name of Brown, is said to have caused the woman to become infatuated with him. She committed suicide when he refused to marry her, leaving a note for Brown, "I am dead."

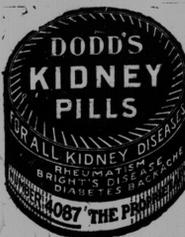

As a result of the death of Mrs. Hendricks, Stewart was arrested and charged with an offence, but the case was dismissed because of insufficient evidence. Previous to the trial, the suspect was said to have gained a state-wide reputation as a reformer. He conducted a temperance campaign in Chicago, where he wrote his prohibition song.

The Pinkertons say Stewart is wanted for bigamy in several large eastern cities, including New York, Boston, Detroit and Indianapolis.

The immediate complaint is Norma Ehrenreiter, of Boston, who charges that he married her in that city on September 24th, 1921, under the name of Donald Allen McGregor. At that time Stewart was accompanied by Mrs. Osbaldstone, posing as Jean McGregor, his sister, and the marriage was really brought about by the ingenuity of the latter, who extolled the virtues of her supposed brother.

Immediately after the marriage Stewart, it is alleged, gave Norma Ehrenreiter a worthless check for $1,000 in return for $1,000 of her savings which she gave him. Accompanied by Mrs. Osbaldstone, Stewart then fled to New York. The couple lived for some time at 570 West 196th street, from which address both disappeared on June 4th, 1922.

Los Angeles, June 28.—(By A. F.)—The Rev. Donald D. Stewart declared today that he found that men and women of the underworld had greater hearts and were more charitable to him than the members of his own church. "I have got down and down from the time that I was unfrocked in Oakland."

WOMEN CATCH AUTO AFTER BOY IS HURT

Two Each Take Policeman and Get Driver Speeding
from Victim—Child Killed.

New York, June 28.—Two fashionably gowned women driving cars with policemen on the running boards vied with each other in a two-mile chase after another car in Brooklyn, the chauffeur of which was alleged to have sped off after he also had knocked and seriously injured a boy.

Howard Harris was the chauffeur arrested after the long chase. He was accused of having knocked down James Scanlon, when the youth was riding a bicycle at the intersection of Bedford and Wiloughby avenues. Two policemen who saw the accident declared that Harris didn't want to learn the name of the boy's injuries, but sped his car along Bedford avenue.

Just then the women came along in their cars. Each called to a policeman to jump on her machine and pursue the chauffeur. The chase wound through Madison street to Stuyvesant Place where both pursuing cars came abreast as they reached the fugitive chauffeur.

In the excitement that followed the arrest, the women disappeared without leaving their names. Harris was locked up in the Gates avenue station on a charge of reckless driving, after an ambulance surgeon had declared that the boy sustained a fracture of the right arm.

MISSION BAND CONCERT.

In the Waterloo street church last night the Mission band presented an interesting programme under the leadership of Miss Margaret Hamilton. The programme included songs, recitations, dialogues, readings and motion exercises. There was a large company present. Miss Malsie Hamilton acted as chairman and at the close the pastor, Rev. J. A. Sweetman, spoke of the value of the mission band to the work of the church. He spoke in the highest terms of the leader, who, he said, was rendering a splendid service to the church in this department. At the close of the evening a vote of thanks was extended to Miss Hamilton on the motion of Deacon Amos Gibbs, seconded by Deacon H. Hoyt.

Mr. Cohen feelingly replied. The evening was spent in a pleasant manner with games and refreshments.

TABLET TO WAR DEAD STOLEN FROM SHRINE

Bronze Tribute Sculptured by Salvatore Florio Missing from Monument.

New York, June 28.—A bronze bas-relief, the work of Salvatore R. Florio, designed as his tribute to the men who died overseas, has been stolen from its place on the door of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument in Riverside Drive. When it was stolen is not known. A recent visitor to the monument noticed that it was gone and the sculptor was notified.

The tablet was about two by three feet. It bore the inscription: "A Dedication to My Comrades—To those who live beyond, our hearts offer tribute, as our memory of their sacrifice grows ever vivid in concern and love. Humanity remembers the heroes who fought for Democracy and Justice."

The bas-relief was surrounded by a frame of flowers and leaves. The principal figure was depicted kneeling and looking upward. The background represented a Flinders field with rows of small crosses disappearing in the distance. At the top of the tablet were two marching armies, with Victory standing with outstretched wings.

The tablet was placed in position on Memorial Day.

PARLIAMENT ENDS SESSION

Prorogation About Midnight
After Scenes of Hilarity—Senate Block Two Measures and Delays Closing.

Ottawa, June 27.—Canada's fourteenth parliament ended its first session about midnight tonight after almost four hours of boisterous hilarity on the part of the members. Prorogation was planned for 9:30 tonight but the senate's action in blocking two common measures, the act respecting the cancellation of leases and the act to amend the Canada Temperance Act, delayed it by three hours.

The senate committee for both common measures was the prime minister, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir Lomer Gouin, Hon. D. D. McKenna, T. H. McCowan, A. W. Neil, General Clark and General Ross. For the act respecting cancellation of leases the common committee was the prime minister, Sir Lomer Gouin, Hon. Charles Stewart, J. L. Brown, J. T. Shaw, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter and Hon. Hugh Guthrie.

The second session of Canada's fourteenth parliament, will commence early in January of next year, and there will be a redistribution bill introduced during that session.

These two important announcements were made in the House this afternoon by the prime minister, in answer to questions by members.

Ottawa, June 28.—Sir Louis Davies, deputy governor, in formally proroguing parliament this morning, reviewed legislation passed during the session which included the admission of women into the ministry. Completion of the return from the various quarterly boards throughout the Dominion was public here today by Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, general conference secretary, who showed a majority of forty-nine boards against the proposal and a majority of 465 individual members of the quarterly boards against. The vote will be reported to the Methodist general conference at its meeting here in September, when the question of admitting women to the ministry doubtless will come up for discussion.

METHODIST BOARDS OPPOSE WOMEN ENTERING MINISTRY

Toronto, June 27.—Quarterly official boards of the Methodist church in Canada have voted, by a comparatively small majority, against the admission of women into the ministry. Completion of the return from the various quarterly boards throughout the Dominion was public here today by Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, general conference secretary, who showed a majority of forty-nine boards against the proposal and a majority of 465 individual members of the quarterly boards against. The vote will be reported to the Methodist general conference at its meeting here in September, when the question of admitting women to the ministry doubtless will come up for discussion.

PATERSON HONORS BRIST.

Federal of the Very Rev. William N. McNulty Evokes Tribute from Whole City.

Ignoring the protests of the local unit of the Ku Klux Klan, Paterson, N. J., paid its last respects to the Very Rev. Dean William N. McNulty, ninety-three, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, for fifty-nine years.

During his long pastorate of St. Joseph's, he built nearly twenty churches, including virtually every one in Paterson, and several charitable institutions, including St. Joseph's Hospital, where he died last Sunday.

As the "grand old man of Paterson" he was known to his parishioners, judges, courts and many mills were closed. The city was arrayed in flags flying at half-staff.

The outpouring of crowds was probably the greatest in the history of the city. Twenty thousand persons gathered at and around St. John's Church. Through lined the streets at the cortege passed on the way to its temporary resting place in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, near Paterson. It is planned to inter the remains later in the church.

By far the largest gathering of priests that has ever assembled here were present, numbering more than 200. Bishop John J. O'Connell of the Newark diocese offered pontifical mass.

The funeral procession left the church at 12:45 o'clock after the crowds had finished viewing the remains. The procession was led by a non-sectarian escort of ex-soldiers and sailors and included postmen, firemen, clergymen, judges, friends and parishioners. Mayor Frank J. Van Noort and city and county officials attended in force.

In keeping with the Dean's wishes, the honorary pallbearers were not high dignitaries of public or church life, but merely twelve orphan boys and girls, charges of the church, evidence of the Dean's efforts in building St. Joseph's

STEALS MEDAL, LOSES PIPE.

Nightingale Offers to Exchange Meecham for Track Trophies.

Philadelphia, June 28.—A nicely colored meerschaum pipe was left behind by a thief who stole a score of track championship medals from the bedroom of H. H. Nightingale, former star intercollegiate hurdler of Pennsylvania.

The local included trophies awarded Nightingale by Princeton, Rutgers, University of Pennsylvania, Penn State, Franklin and Marshall and Middle Atlantic States championship medal. Because of their sentimental value to him, Nightingale has offered to restore the meerschaum to its owner if the trophies are returned.

HOLD UP JEWELER, PICK BEST OF STOCK

Robbers Untie Juror to Get
Key of Safe, but Find Little Money.

New York, June 28.—Louis Juror was preparing to close his jewelry store in Bushwick avenue, between Cook and Debevoise streets, at 7:30 Saturday evening when three undersized young men entered. One of them, who spoke with a slight Italian accent, said he wanted to buy an alarm clock. Juror turned around to get several time pieces for their inspection when he felt something pressing against the back of his head.

"That's a gun I'm holding against you," said the man with the accent, "and if you don't do what you're told to do it's going off."

At the command of another of the robbers, Juror turned around and walked to the counter. There his wrists and ankles were tied with cord. The robbers could not open the safe, demanded the key from Juror and bound him up again when he produced it.

The three men were obviously disappointed when they discovered there was only a small amount of money in the safe.

"Hot dog!" exclaimed one of them. "I got it right from that friend of mine that this fellow always keeps a lot of money in this safe." Then he said to Juror, "Just for that, we'll clean you out of all of your jewelry."

He stood guard over the jeweler, while his confederates went to the show window, drew in several trays of gems which they stuffed into their pockets. They looked through several show cases in the store, picked out what looked valuable and hurried out into the street.

Juror said he did not hear the sound of an automobile, and he thought the men just walked away with their loot. He said that he hopped to the door, and managed to draw the attention of a passerby, who released his bonds. Then he telephoned to the Stagg street station. Detective Sergeants Van Vliet and Thornton appeared a few minutes later. The jeweler gave the detectives good descriptions of the robbers.

HIS NEW WIFE RAISES FIRST WIFE'S ALIMONY

Edward Glacel is Released After Two Months in Jail for Failure to Pay.

New York, June 28.—Edward Glacel, an automobile salesman of Farwood, N. J., was released from the Raymond street jail where he served two months and three weeks for failing to pay his first wife, Irene, alimony for fifteen years. As he came out of the jail he was greeted by his third wife, Mrs. Edith H. Glacel, through whose efforts Glacel obtained his release.

Glacel was arrested on April 6 at the funeral of his brother at 99 Eldert street, Brooklyn, as he was about to step into an automobile with the third Mrs. Glacel.

Glacel said he was "broke" as a result of turning over to the first Mrs. Glacel his house in Farwood and $800 in cash. Besides this, he said, he made over his insurance to her and agreed to pay her $15 a week. Glacel could not raise the $800 cash required and his present wife

KEEPING CAREFUL WATCH ON WATER

The local Board of Health will request the pathologist to furnish a semi-weekly report on the condition of the city water supply from now on, according to a decision reached at yesterday afternoon's short session of the board with the chairman, John Kelly, presiding.

In addition to the chairman, those present at the meeting were Mrs. R. J. Hooper, George E. Blake, Dr. William Warwick and T. M. Burns, secretary.

Is Now a Healthy Boy

"From a puny, delicate child, my little Johnny has become a strong sturdy boy."

One mother writes:—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago and you were to see him today, you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 40 pounds. Today he weighs 80 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started when he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while we began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do anything. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained at the head of his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and nothing seemed to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purple and he thought he would surely burst a blood vessel. Medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation and as a last resort, we tried Carnol. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was beginning to take an interest in his studies. And, thanks to Carnol, he has become as strong and healthy as he has ever been."

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it has done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will return your money.

LOCAL NEWS
AWAY FOR ENGLAND.
The new Cunard liner Tyrhenia sailed from Montreal for Glasgow and Liverpool yesterday morning, on her first eastbound trip. Among the large number of passengers sailing on her were Rev. A.
L. and Mrs. Fleming of this city.
THE ROTARY CLUB.
At Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club Watson J. Hill, Roydon Foley and
A. C. Cunningham were elected members, and the resignations of E. A. Schofield and H. S. Culver received. The district of which the St. John club is a member stood seventh in point of weekly attendance in the last month. This is a good showing.

GEORGE G. HOWARD.
Turner Howard of Shore View, who is well known in St. John, has received word that his brother, George G.
Howard of Alabama, dropped dead on June 7. He was 72 years old. On the same day Mr. Howard learned that the wife of his brother, F. A. Howard of Everett, Washington, had died on May 16, aged about 70 years. Mr. Howard writes that no fewer than twelve of his near relatives died suddenly.

POLICE COURT.
James Demaine, brought to the city last evening from Halifax, appeared before the sitting magistrate this morning charged with breaking and entering the store of Brock & Paterson, Ltd. The detective department was not ready to go with the case this morning so the accused was remanded until this afternoon when it was expected the matter would be taken up. One man charged with drunkenness, was fined $8 or two months.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of John Longon was held this afternoon, with a short service at the house, 180 Broad street, and service afterward in St. James' church. Both services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Cody.
The funeral was attended by many friends and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, including wreaths from the Globe Publishing Company, and St. John Typographical Union, No. 85. Members of the union attended in a body and the pallbearers were selected from that organization. Interment was in Cedar Hill.

DELAYED BY FOG.
Fog over the Newfoundland coast
this week, has seriously interfered with shipping. Work at Montreal has been badly held up as liners as well as freighters have been compelled to wait to proceed very slowly, while in that vicinity. The new Cunarder Antonia, on her maiden voyage reported that she was not able to reach Montreal until Friday, so that her sailing has been delayed until Monday instead of Saturday. The Cassandra also reported that she would be delayed until Saturday, so plans were changed for her sailing on Tuesday instead of Monday. Some of the C. P. S. liners are also delayed, sometimes by a week.

BEACH PICNIC FOR BRIDE-TO-BE.
A very enjoyable picnic and shower in honor of Miss Vida Beattay was held at the beach on Tuesday night by the Sunshine Class of the Charles street Baptist Sunday school. After supper were served games were indulged in and the bride-to-be was pleasantly surprised, when sent to find dice in the sand, to discover many beautiful and useful gifts. The class was very glad to welcome Mrs. Lambert of Quebec, who was one of the members of the class
until recently. It was a tired but happy crowd that returned to their homes
late in the evening, after wishing Miss Beattay all happiness in the future.

he will be joined by his wife and three children, and by his sister, Miss Grace McInerney. The party will sail for Paris early in July.

SILVER FALLS SCHOOL.
In the Silver Falls school yesterday

presented a prize to William Logan for

BIG DROP IN U. F.
MEMBERSHIP IN NOVA SCOTIA
Truro, N. S., June 28.—At the convention of the United Farmers of Nova Scotia here yesterday, J. J. Morrison, Ontario senator, spoke in favor of the formation of an Eastern Council of Agriculture to have as its district that portion of Canada east of the Great Lakes. A resolution was passed in agreement with this plan. H. E. Taggart, M. P. P., and Raymond Fraser were appointed to attend the convention of the United Farmers of New Brunswick in Moncton.
The membership of the United Farmers of Nova Scotia dropped from 2,600 last year to 254 this year, according to reports presented. This was attributed by several speakers to the closing of the provincial office at Truro and the changing of the date of the annual meeting from March to the present time.

CANADIAN GIRLS

UTILITIES RATE MUCH REDUCED
It was Made Up at a Meeting
Here Today.
Expert Recommends Amalgamation of Three Telephone Companies—Decision at Next Meeting.

The assessment on the public utilities of the province for the maintaining of the New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission shows a substantial reduction from the amount assessed last year.
The only application considered today was that of the Farmers' Rural Telephone Co. for permission to establish long distance connection with the N. B.
Telephone Co. S. H. Mildram of Boston, who was called in in the matter, presented a report in which he advocated the amalgamation of the Farmers' Rural Telephone Co. with the other two companies operating in the same district, the Cambridge Telephone Co. and the Young's Cove Telephone Co. under certain conditions. This report was read in the presence of representatives of each company, and it was decided to forward copies for presentation to their respective boards of directors and ask that the representatives come to the next monthly meeting of the utilities board prepared either to agree or disagree with the proposed union.
The board then proceeded to make up the annual assessment, and both the amount assessed for and the rate were materially reduced from last year.

SEEKS WORD OF
HER HUSBAND
Information About John Archer, Who Left Home on June 16 to Look for Work, is Asked For.

Mrs. John Archer of this city has become anxious regarding her husband, whom she has not seen or heard of for fifteen days. To a Times reporter this morning she said that she and her husband were boarding in Pond street, and on Friday, June 16, he left with the intention of going to look for work along the north shore of the province, but so far
she has not had any word from him.
She said that her husband is a French-Canadian who formerly worked in the sugar refinery. Being without funds, she presumed that he attempted to walk or work his way towards his intended destination. She asked that any information obtained be communicated to her at Miss Laura Despres, 20 Pond street.

In the presence of friends and relatives, Miss Florence Wasson, sister of the groom, played Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride entered the drawing room with her brother, Lloyd Delahant, who was dressed in a very dainty blue
tricotone with hat to match, and ermine tie, and looked very pretty. The bride carried a shower bouquet of Russell roses. Miss Patricia Gallagher, in pale yellow organzie and carrying a basket of yellow roses, made a very dainty little flower girl. The house was prettily decorated with blossoms, ferns and palms. After the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served by Misses Dorothy Rattray, Rena Stenhouse, Muriel Boyd and Louise Wasson. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, including a cut glass bowl from the general baggage department, C.N.R., where she was for some time employed, and a chest of silver from the groom's staff in the head office of the N. B. Telephone Company, St. John. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial check; to the flower girl a gold piece, and to the pianoist an opal ring. Mr. and Mrs. Wasson left by motor for St. John, to proceed by boat to Boston and New York.
After a month's honeymoon trip they will reside in St. John, where at the marriage included Mrs. C. D. Wasson, mother of the groom; Miss Florence

G. D. Hudson will unite in marriage
Miss Florence Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mrs. I. M. Johnson, 106 Adelaide street, to Frank W. Denton, son of Mrs.
James Denton of this city. The bride will be attired in a traveling suit of navy blue tricotone with picture hat to match and seal scarf, the gift of the groom, and will carry a shower bou-quet of Opelia roses. She will be given away by her brother-in-law, L. C. White, Miss Ruth Douglas, a niece of the groom, as flower girl, will wear a dress of pink organzie with lace hat and will carry a basket of poppies. William MacDonald and Fred Brookings will actress ushers. After the ceremony the bride and groom will leave the city for a short honeymoon and on their return will reside at 88 Adelaide street.
Among many beautiful presents received were a purse of gold from the firm of H. W. Cole, Ltd., where the bride was employed, a handsome rocker from the staff of the same firm, and a chest of silver from the Harris-Abett Co.,
Ltd., where the groom is employed.
The groom's present to the flower girl was a gold bracelet. Mrs. George Edgar, of Halifax's point, sister of the groom, was among the out-of-town guests who arrived here for the ceremony.
Atkinson-Ruel.
The marriage of Miss Johanna Regina Ruel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.
Herbert Johnson Ruel, formerly of St.
John, to Douglas Overton Atkinson, son of the late Charles O. Atkinson and Mrs.
Atkinson, of Walkerville, Ont., was arranged to take place today in the Church of the Advent, Westmount, Que.

There's a particular pleasure in always having a pair or two of silk gloves handy when you want them. To be sure it does mean a trifle more expense. But if you have two pairs in wear they will always look fresh and new and will wear very much longer since almost all frocks are characterized by short sleeves gloves are to be more worn than for some time and this is an opportunity to select both short and long styles in the best quality silk.

Franklin Was Right
It was quite a few years ago that Benjamin Franklin made that pertinent remark to the effect that a penny saved was a penny earned. But it is still true today. Perhaps even more so now than then.
One way to save a penny—or a dollar—is to put it in a good investment—and when you put it in good furniture
you are putting it in a good investment.
Everett's furniture is good furniture, because we look upon every article we put on our floors as an investment we are selling to our customer, not merely a quick way of getting his money. It will give you more years of service, and look better, than many other kinds—and what's more, it won't cost you one cent more than is asked for many pieces of inferior quality. A look through our stock will interest you.

EUROPE AND THE LEAGUE.

In an appeal for the League of Nations at the Kikania convention at Toronto, Hon. N. W. Rowell said—"Europe today is like the poor man that lay by the roadside, wounded and bruised and broken, while the priest and the Levite passed him by. Will we also pass Europe by, or will we, in the spirit of Kivania, play the part of the Good Samaritan? For that is the only way we will aid the progress of humanity and bring about international peace."

WAS FRIEND OF ALLIES.

London, June 28—It is believed here that the Irish regulars were under Michael Collins as sufficiently strong and well equipped to deal with the situation which has arisen in Dublin. A majority of their arms, including machine guns and artillery, have been supplied by the British government under the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty. They are manning their own artillery.

There are several thousand British troops still in Dublin and it is intimated that should Collins request aid from this source, troops would be placed at his disposal exactly as was done when the Ulster government desired military assistance in putting down the rebellion in the north.

INFORMATION WANTED Nicola Olivieri, an Italian, is being sought for by his father, according to advices received at the local Italian consular agency this morning. From J. Cicero, the Royal Consul-General for Italy at Montreal, Mr. Cicero says that inquiries are being made through the Montreal office by Olivieri's father, whose name is Mariano. He has not had any communication from his son for more than two years, and is naturally very anxious to obtain trace of him. Olivieri is a native of Marcellino, in the province of Rome. He is thought to be somewhere east of Montreal, possibly in St. John. Any information about this man will be received by the Italian consular office at Montreal, at the address—Withy Company.

CAMPERS SUFFER FROM RIVER'S RISE

There is a bunch of former campers at Morna who have a few rather uncomplimentary remarks to make about the St. John river, which last Saturday disturbed the peaceful tenor of their existence during the still watches of the night. Some dozen or more tents were pitched along the peaceful strand and the occupants were wont to slink gently into slumber to the lapping of the soft waves along the pebbly beach.

On Saturday, however, those who retired at the usual hour, passed into unconsciousness with the usual lapping, but a rusty scoured by a most unusual splashing of the rising tide under their cots. A hasty reveille was sounded and the occupants betook themselves to the sheltered veranda of kind and obliging neighbors. There were some, though, who, while not in the flood, suffered at the same time. About half dozen stalwarts were absent at a dance and when they reached the site of their former resting place—former is correct—they found most of their belongings scattered on the lawn. The campers, who were gathered there, gathered what they could and joined their brethren and are now debating the location of the next camp.

FOUR COURTS BESIEGED BY IRISH REGULARS

(Continued from page 1.) from sites and machine guns, it was believed there were about 150 men, a member of the Free State forces. The premises in North Great George street, occupied by the occupants and the four courts had begun, and government troops were fired upon from the newly fortified building.

The entire city was awakened by the din, even to the remote suburbs. Soon after five o'clock this morning there seemed to be a slackening in the intensity of the firing, but it revived soon afterward, and the sound of exploding shells made it evident that the conflict was still in progress.

Private Long was wounded while on duty in Chancery street. He belonged to the 10th Battalion, and was taken to hospital this afternoon. No confirmation was obtained.

Losses: Dublin, June 28—Fire broke out in Power Hall, under attack by the regular Free State troops.

At four o'clock this afternoon the Irish regulars holding the four courts had taken refuge in the cellar in the rear of that structure.

The irregular Irish Republican army troops who were defending Power Hall were ordered to evacuate the place this afternoon. They proceeded to a large hotel belonging to Admiral Moran, where they began re-arranging their positions.

Reinforcements. Belfast, June 28—Six lorry loads of regular Free State troops fully armed left Mullingar, fifty miles northwest of Dublin, early today to reinforce the regular troops in Dublin. Five of the soldiers refused to go, according to a message received here declaring they would not shoot brother Irishmen. They were arrested.

Regular Free State troops attempted today to dislodge an armed party which had taken forcible possession of a factory recently purchased in Lincolnton for the use of the Mechanics Institute. On the men failing to comply with the order to evacuate the place it was rounded, but through the intervention of a priest the garrison consented to withdraw.

Dublin, June 28—The Irish provisional government issued a manifesto last evening denouncing the military operations and security in Ireland, declaring the boycott of Belfast had no legal existence, and announcing that the government would resolutely perform its duty to maintain law and order. The cooperation of citizens in this was invited.

British Troops if Needed. London, June 28—It is believed here that the Irish regulars were under Michael Collins as sufficiently strong and well equipped to deal with the situation which has arisen in Dublin. A majority of their arms, including machine guns and artillery, have been supplied by the British government under the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty. They are manning their own artillery.

RECEIVING TUNERS—THE "HONEYCOMB" COIL.

The construction of single layer coils for reception of long wavelengths necessitates coils of large mechanical dimensions. To overcome these physical disadvantages, coils may be so wound as to provide the necessary amount of inductance needed to conform to long wavelengths, and at the same time afford the advantages of comparatively small dimensions.

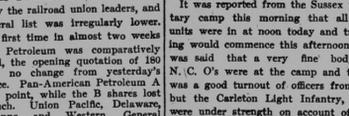

A type of tuning coil, widely used in receiving circuits, is known as the "Honeycomb" coil, and consists of multilayer coil in very compact form, so designed as to function with low energy losses.

These coils may be constructed in units, each with a prescribed number of turns, and the various sizes so designed as to present a range in wavelength between 200 meters and 25,000 meters.

The coils may be wound with solid wire or with a stranded conductor such as "Litzendraht" or "Litz" wire, as it is commonly known. In the ordinary type of coil with several layers, other than the honeycomb type, the capacity effect between turns causes considerable loss of energy. The mechanical arrangement of the windings in the honeycomb coil is such that one layer crosses the preceding layer at an angle, which reduces the losses, due to the capacity effect, to a minimum.

A certain type of honeycomb coil has an inside diameter of two inches, an outside diameter ranging from two and one-quarter inches to four and one-half inches, and a width of one inch.

An extremely flexible receiving set may be developed by the use of three honeycomb coils in a three coil mounting in conjunction with a vacuum tube detector. One of the coils is connected in the primary circuit, another in the secondary circuit, and the third connected in the plate circuit and used as a "tickler" coil. By this arrangement an inductively coupled tuner is developed which has an inductive regenerative coupling between the grid and plate circuits. A diagrammatic arrangement of the circuit is shown herewith.

In this inductive regenerative circuit one of the honeycomb coils (L-1) is connected in the primary circuit and shunted by the variable condenser (C-1). Another coil (L-2), shunted by the variable condenser (C-2), is connected in the secondary circuit between the grid (G) and the filament (F) and the remaining coil (L-3) is used as a tickler coil and is connected between the plate (P) and the positive terminal of the "B" battery. If a coil of 25 turns is used for (L-1), a coil of 38 turns for (L-2), and a coil of 50 turns for (L-3) a range of wavelengths from 215 meters will be obtained, including the local wavelengths used by amateurs and the 360 meter wavelength on which is radiated the popular "broadcasting" frequencies.

In this circuit, coupling is varied by swinging the primary coil (L-1) and the intensity of the signal is regulated by adjustment of the "tickler" coil (L-3).

By proper selection of other combinations of units, containing a greater number of turns, the receiving set is easily adjusted to the longer wavelengths.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, June 28.—(10:30)—Railroad shares were under moderate selling pressure at the opening of today's stock market as a result of the ultimatum issued by the railroad union leaders, and the general list was irregularly lower.

For the first time since almost two weeks ago, the opening quotation of 180 showing no change from yesterday's final price. Pan-American Petroleum was one point, while the B shares lost that much. Union Pacific, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, General Asphalt, Iron Products, Republic Steel and Sears Roebuck eased large fractions.

Division Red Cross, R. T. Hayes, and the speakers will be Rev. F. Porter, who resigned the pastorate of German street Baptist church to act as overseas chaplain, and Colonel A. McMillan of the 26th and Dr. McCarthy of the Lancaster Hospital. The arrangements have been in the hands of the ladies of the hospital committee, and will be in attendance to play patriotic airs. Although no invitations have been issued, it is hoped that all Red Cross members and those of other societies who have always shown so much interest in the sick and disabled soldier will attend in large numbers.

FARMERS HAVE 39 CANDIDATES

First Entry into Provincial Election Campaign in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, June 28.—The United Farmers of Manitoba, who are entering a provincial election campaign for the first time, have thirty-nine candidates in the field and are very optimistic regarding the results of the election to be held on June 18, declared Secretary Wood last night.

The U. F. M. are linked up with the Winnipeg Progressive Association, which is contesting the ten Winnipeg seats under proportional representation. Mr. Wood said he thought the strength of the farmers' movement was indicated by the action of the "old parties" in nominating fusion candidates to defeat the farmers.

There were no new developments to day in the search for Henry G. Marr. The operations of the searchers were somewhat hampered by the heavy rain this morning but nothing new developed. The regions about Rockwood Park were being searched.

THE DELORME CASE. Montreal, June 28.—Dr. Francis B. Devlin, medical superintendent of the St. Jean de Dieu Hospital and expert consultant for the province of Quebec, was on the witness stand today for the defense in the Delorme case. He said he had examined Delorme several times and had taken a sample of his spinal fluid and blood. As a result of the examinations, the witness testified that there exists in the prisoner a defect in the mind—a physical defect, an absence of judgment with regard to his acts which reflect the great reaction of life.

Delorme, declared Dr. Devlin, suffers from a form of epilepsy which is not a mental defect, but a physical defect. He was asked a technical description of this disease.

A BANANA MATTER. In a recent issue of the New York Journal of Commerce it was stated that Jamaica's banana industry was seriously threatened by a disease which had broken out amongst the banana plants. The secretary of the local board of trade sent a letter of inquiry to the Jamaican trade commission on the subject, and he has been advised that, while what is known as the Panama disease prevails in Jamaica, it is no more prevalent there than in other banana-growing industries of the Caribbean. A considerable area of banana-growing country, says the trade commission in his letter of reply, has been segregated, and active steps are being taken to fight the trouble.

He further says that there is little or no fear of Jamaica's ceasing to produce bananas through the Panama disease. The infection appears to be local to a plant; another plant set in the same soil does not contract the disease, so that while it involves financial loss it does not mean the extinction of the industry.

WAS WIZARD OF GERMANY

Dr. Rathenau, Foreign Minister, Who was Assassinated, Very Able Man.

Dr. Walter Rathenau, German foreign minister, who was murdered a few days ago, was styled the "wizard of the German Empire," because, by his high powers of organization and business efficiency, he devised expedients which kept the "people eating and the army shooting."

When the blockade had shut off the importation of raw materials, during the war. After the war, as minister of reconstruction, his meetings with the French minister, Louis Loucheur, brought about with businesslike directness adjustments and accommodations which had been the despair of diplomats.

He was of Jewish birth and was described as a man of great force and energy, business acumen, vision and initiative. His father founded the Allgemeine Elektrizitaets Gesellschaft (German General Electric Company of Berlin), commonly known as the A. E. G. After studying at the universities of Berlin and Strasbourg, Dr. Rathenau began his professional career with establishments in Switzerland and Savoy. Then he went to the A. E. G. and rose rapidly to the head of the organization.

Banking next engaged his energies and he became the head of one of the leading German financial houses, and soon made a name for himself throughout the empire as a commercial magnate.

At the outbreak of the world war, he was appointed foreign minister on January 19, 1918, and his capacity for business on a tremendous scale, he was offered the office of minister of raw materials. His work in this capacity obtained extraordinary results. Upon the success of his work depended not only the economic life of the interior of Germany, but also the maintenance of the far-flung German empire. His organization almost nullified the Allies' blockade.

It was not until the war that the actual food privations afflicted the people. The exactions and complexities of the war made life never appeared to him, and he was glad to plunge into the activities of the A. E. G. after peace had been declared. He dropped his chosen work without a murmur, however, when he was offered the portfolio of minister of reconstruction.

He held this post for several months, when the cabinet was reformed in October, 1919, his portfolio was eliminated. Although not a member of the cabinet, he represented the German government subsequently in various economic conferences with the Allies. He was appointed foreign minister on January 31, taking the post that Chancellor Wirth had been temporarily filling following the retirement of Dr. Walter Simons.

The accomplishment for which Dr. Rathenau came into greatest prominence was the agreement which he negotiated with Louis Loucheur, French minister of liberated regions, at Wiesbaden last October, under which Germany has been paying a part of her reparations to France in goods instead of money. This agreement provided for the delivery of large amounts of building material by Germany to France for the reconstruction of France's devastated regions, and it has had a notable part in influencing the other reparations arrangements that had been made with Germany.

As foreign minister Dr. Rathenau was an active figure in the arrangements leading up to the Genoa economic conference with the Allies and was a leading figure among the German delegates at the Genoa gathering.

CONAN DOYLE OUT FOR PROHIBITION

Returning, Will Advocate It for England—May Revive Sherlock Holmes.

New York, June 27.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who sailed for England on the Adriatic, said that he returned to England a convert to prohibition, and will advocate it for England, although he cannot spare the time from his psychic work to engage in public meetings and active propaganda.

Sherlock Holmes, it was learned, has not necessarily solved his last mystery. The publishers have been very insistent with Sherlock's famous creation. Sir Arthur said he had taken no view against reviving the world's most famous detective.

"I may write of Sherlock Holmes again," he said, "but only if some very strong idea takes hold of me. It takes nearly all my time to keep abreast of psychic work. One must keep closely informed if he himself poses as a teacher."

A recent despatch from Atlantic City said in effect that he was creating a character who might prove a worthy successor to Sherlock Holmes. Sir Arthur was busy at that resort, he said, writing a volume on his psychic adventures in America.

"It is to be a psychic book of travel," he said. "While books of travel in America by Englishmen are very numerous, I think this book, whether good or bad, will be of an entirely new type."

Sir Arthur will compare the psychic atmosphere of one city or section with that of others; will give his estimate of the genuineness and of the powers of some of America's most noted mediums; and will tell of the amusing and serious transactions which took place in his communications here with the departed.

On prohibition Sir Arthur said:—"I go back a convert. I am a man who takes wine, but none the less I think this generation might do a noble thing to give up its comforts, if so doing will help save the next generation from the miseries resulting from drinking to excess. There is little drinking here today, compared to what there used to be. Today, if you want liquor, you have to go and find it. Formerly, it came looking for you."

Put one on-- the pain is gone!

Lady Doyle emphatically endorsed her husband's views on prohibition. She said the one shadow on the trip had been the sight of horses harnessed so that their heads and necks were drawn back into a position "where they must have suffered agonies."

"This is continually forced on your sight, especially in Washington," she said. "People so kind-hearted as Americans usually are would not be guilty of causing such suffering if they realized what they were doing."

MOONSHINER KILLS TWO.

Oregon Rancher, After Defying Posses, Then Kills Himself.

Albany, Ore., June 28.—Three bodies torn by gunshot wounds were brought here. They were those of Rev. Roy Healy, pastor of the First Christian church of Albany; Sheriff C. M. Kendall of Linn county; and Dave M. West, seventy-year-old rancher and trapper. Their deaths were the result of a raid on West's moonshine still by Sheriff Kendall, accompanied by Mr. Healy.

The killing of Sheriff Kendall and Mr. Healy occurred at 2:30 o'clock, and until the body of West was found in the barn the bodies of his two victims lay where they fell inside the West yard, members of the posse fearing to enter the premises and remove them.

West threatened any one with death who should attempt to approach, except Owners, Going Out of Business, Call for Parsons to Destroy Their Stock.

New York, June 28.—For the first time in the history of the local federal prohibition office there came a request last week from the owners for the destruction of pre-prohibition liquors. To the agents of the department it was explained that the firm owning the liquors was going out of business. At first John S. Parsons, chief federal enforcement agent for this state, doubted the genuineness of the contents of the letter; it was so different from anything ever before received by the department. He decided to attend to the case in person.

After communicating with the firm it was decided that the destruction should begin at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Chief Parsons arrived shortly before three o'clock at the warehouse of B. B. Davis & Co., 200 Hudson street, formerly a wholesale liquor concern. There he was met by Walter M. Wurmser, manager, who assured the prohibition chief that there were about $10,000 worth of liquors awaiting destruction by the federal authorities. It was on the first floor of the warehouse, where everyone could see, Mr. Parsons then was convinced that the concern was in earnest.

Parsons Takes a Hand. Finding that no help had been procured, except one man loaned by a nearby warehouse, Mr. Parsons rolled up his sleeves and went about the work of destruction with a vim. First, it was hoped to pour the liquors down a sink in the rear of the warehouse. This went along all right for the first ten or twelve cases, when Chief Parsons decided that at that rate he would be there all the afternoon. Then it was decided to take cases of the stuff to the rear of the warehouse and crush the bottles against the walls of the building. Even this was later found to be too slow and one of the walls in the front part of the warehouse received the bulk of the stuff. Presently there were rivulets of liquors in both the front and rear of the warehouse.

The aroma from the broken bottles was wafted across the street and soon drew a large crowd which was visibly affected at the sight of so much prohibition stuff going to waste. The warehouse soon was filled with persons attracted by the odor. After some delay they were excluded.

In all Mr. Parsons destroyed seven five-gallon demijohns of Italian wine, and forty-one cases of the same stuff; twenty gallons and twenty-one cases of orange bitters; one case of blackberry cordial; eleven cases of aromatic bitters and two cases of ginger brandy.

Mr. Wurmser explained that it would take too long to dispose of the liquors in the regular way and as the firm had decided to go out of business it was deemed advisable to have the government destroy the stuff. It is understood that a wholesale drug concern will occupy the building. The destroyed liquors, all of GOOD-WILL. (Halifax Chronicle.) Hon. Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator, who was one of the principal speakers at the great international Kiwanis convention held at Toronto this week, made an eloquent appeal for the perpetuation of friendship and good-will between Canada and the United States.

"In all we think and feel and do," he said, "we Americans have ever the ardent desire for Canadian understanding, approval and friendship. We are infinitely proud that for more than a century peace has blessed us both, and that our identity of interest has been strengthened and made humanly vital by affectionate sentiment. . . . So may it always be. As the decades pass and the procession of the centuries goes by, may Canada and America be found in closer and even closer accord, their people achieving mutual aspirations toward a common civilization and similar destiny."

Much of Mr. Beveridge's address was devoted to a comparison of the constitutions of the United States and other countries. In his opening words he paid a tribute to two leaders of Canadian Liberalism, past and present. "I came to know well," he said, "that remarkable man, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one of the ablest men of any nation during the last half century; and my acquaintance with and friendship for your present splendid prime minister, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, is to me a happy and valued circumstance. He is the best type of public official—able, upright, courageous, broadly and accurately informed, and devoted to the well-being of his country."

the corner, who he said could remove the bodies of the men he had killed. For fear, however, that West might mistake the cypher for a would-be captor no effort was made.

West, an expert shot with the rifle from his long experience in hunting wild animals, shot and killed both Kendall and Healy without warning while they were perhaps fifty yards from him. He fired only twice.

Sheriff Kendall, armed with a search warrant, left Albany yesterday for the West ranch, accompanied by Mr. Healy, who desired to see a raid on a still to obtain material for a story which he intended to write. The minister went merely as a spectator.

After the shooting West returned to the house and sat down in a chair with the rifle between his knees. As long as it remained daylight he barricaded himself in his house and defied the possemen to capture him, but when night fell he bade his wife, who had remained with him, farewell, telling her to go away where harm would not befall her.

"This is the last good-bye," he said as he kissed her and showed her through the door of the house. Shortly afterward he reached the barn where he killed himself.

WANTS EUROPE RESTORED

Chicago Banker Says Our Rehabilitation Depends on It.

St. Louis, Mo. June 28.—The problem of requiring payment of the allied debt, or cancelling it, is "the fundamental question, upon the answer to which will depend the future of our own commercial and industrial welfare and that of the rest of the world," Walter Lichtenstein, Ph. D., Chicago banker, said at the convention of the Illinois Bankers' Association here. Dr. Lichtenstein then presented a summary of both sides of the controversy as raised in a recent statement from the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"Most of my time during the last month has been spent in making an economic survey of the country on behalf of the American Bankers' Association," said Dr. Lichtenstein. "It is evident that there is a much greater feeling of hopelessness in the country. We can bring some influence to bear upon Europe—as it is Europe which is the sore spot—and I believe that in the present juncture of affairs this fact cannot be overemphasized."

"With the exception of Great Britain, none of the European countries is really in a position to bring about a net reduction of its governmental indebtedness to us in the near future."

"The world has been more and more interdependent, even though it is indisputable that this general truth is less applicable to this country than to any other."

WORRIED ABOUT THE COAL SUPPLY

No definite sum was named by the common council, in session yesterday, for the city's part in assisting in the search for the missing Henry G. Marr, but the matter of taking such steps as were deemed necessary was left to Commissioner Thornton and the question of payment of what was considered reasonable charges in connection with the search was placed in the hands of Mayor McLellan and Commissioner Thornton. This action on the part of the council resulted from a resolution to this effect by Commissioner Thornton.

Commissioner Thornton's motion that the city lease the premises formerly occupied by W. H. B. Sadler at 88 1/2 Prince William street for the labor employment bureau staff carried unanimously. The lease will be for three years, at a yearly rental of $675, with an option of renewal for five years. The owner, G. Kennedy, will make such repairs as are considered necessary. Coal Tenders.

It was Commissioner Thornton's day

at the council session and his third item was a consideration of coal tenders. He submitted correspondence with J. S. Gibson & Co., Ltd., which, he said, raised a doubt in his mind whether this company would deliver the coal if the contract were signed. This company had the lowest tender, $14.50 for one class and $14.90 for another, for a total of 279 tons, which was the amount required by the safety department.

He read a letter he had written to J. S. Gibson & Co., Ltd., on June 19 asking if they could advise him when they could make delivery if the contract were signed. Their answer, under date of June 20, said they intended following the same practice they had maintained for the last twenty-five years, namely, to secure the contract and then fill it as early as possible. Not satisfied with this answer, Commissioner Thornton wrote again and asked if they had any of this class of coal on hand. He said he had received no answer to this and declared that they did not have any on hand. He was a bit uneasy as he was anxious to get this coal in at once.

The mayor expressed himself as satisfied that the company would deliver, if they said so. He suggested that Commissioner Thornton get in touch with them and obtain a definite statement. If they could not give this statement, then there would be nothing else to do but obtain the supply elsewhere. The commissioner agreed to do this.

A section of the report of the committee of the whole was amended on objection of Commissioner Frink. This particular section dealt with paving matters at Haymarket square in regard to public tenders. He expressed himself as still being opposed to the tender plan and added that there were nearly 300 men on his waiting list of unemployed, of the majority. He called attention to the fact, nevertheless, that the section did not approve of his plans for the work. This was inserted in the report, which was adopted with this amendment.

The other recommendations adopted were: That the application of F. W. Kelly to alter the location of his gas-line pump in Leinster street be not granted; that K. J. MacLachlan be notified regarding action of council on increase of taximeter rates; that the request of Joseph Dwyer regarding sale of bread be not complied with; that the assessors' report be received; that the mayor's report regarding the assessment of W. J. Mayo be adopted; that the commissioner of public safety be authorized to take necessary steps in connection with assisting in the search for H. G. Marr; that the resolution respecting the breaking up of streets by the N. B. Power Company be adopted and a copy sent to the company.

200 FORDS STOLEN; TWO ARRESTS

After All Night Watch Police Catch Men in Garage Filling Number Off Auto—Sedans Sold at $500.

New York, June 28.—Detectives Murray and Kane of the Auto Squad tramped and arrested two chauffeurs in a garage at 187th street and Broadway and said they found the men engaged in filling off the motor number of a Ford sedan, which had been stolen on June 22 from J. Eisenberg of 385 Bradford street, Bronx. The priests in the rectory of St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church, directly opposite the garage where the arrests were made, permitted the officers to have a room in the rectory, and a vigil was kept up for the arrival of the suspects at the garage.

The police say a gang of twenty or more have stolen 200 Ford cars here in recent months, all of which were disposed of through "fences" at Bridgeport, Conn.

It was said that a representative of Henry Ford at Detroit was notified by the local agency in Bridgeport that so many apparently new cars were being sold there at reduced prices as to seriously affect the business of the agency. Investigation was made in the belief that there had been wholesale thefts of cars from the Detroit factory, and when this investigation failed to explain the source of the cut-price cars, Henry Ford ask the police of New York, Boston and other cities to search for thieves.

Police Sergeant E. J. Dillon, head of the Auto Squad here, was told by the manager of the Flint Agency at Bridgeport, which handles all of the Ford cars for the Detroit manufacturer, that all of the cars dumped on the market at Bridgeport were sedans, worth $750 each, but were being sold at $500 each. The agency wasn't doing any business because of this situation. The thieves, it was said, were stealing only new or nearly new cars.

It was also reported that some evidence had been obtained at Bridgeport showing that the cars suspected of being stolen had no number on the motor. Apparently they had been removed by careful use of a file.

SINGERS WAR ON MUSIC HUMBBUGS
 Lucrezia Bori and Other Opera Stars Suggest License Plan to End Fraud—Aimed at Unfit Teachers.

New York, June 28.—A suggestion made by prominent opera singers, among them Lucrezia Bori, to license music teachers so that the student may be protected against unqualified teachers who pose as capable instructors in singing or instrumental music, has been taken up by Phillip Berolzheimer, City Chamberlain.

The practice of attracting young men and women who wish to study music by flattering promises of who has long been known to singers and others interested in music in New York, but no way to protect them from unscrupulous teachers has been found. The suggestion that they be licensed is put forward in the hope that by means of an examination the teacher's fitness may be learned and the unqualified barred. Mr. Berolzheimer thinks that special legislation may be necessary to make this possible.

In his statement he said: "There have been a number of complaints about both men and women misrepresenting themselves as music teachers for the cultivation of the voice, &c., and it takes a season or two before the pupils discover that the teachers are conducting business illegitimately. I have been requested by several sources, among which I might mention Miss Lucrezia Bori, Metropolitan Opera star, to rectify this abuse by licensing music teachers, who would first have to pass an examination by a committee appointed by the mayor and the commissioner of licenses."

GREEN CAPS TO HELP FORGETFUL TRAVELERS

Thousands of commuters who passed through the Grand Central Terminal last week noticed a young man in a smart uniform, trimmed with green, and a green cap bearing the mystic letters M and X.

Those who were curious enough to stop and ask him who he was, received a brief and interesting explanation. This young man in green uniform and green cap—a cap not unlike those worn by French army officers—is the forerunner of the Green Caps, who will soon be as much in evidence around the great terminal as the red caps.

A dozen green caps will take their places on the upper and lower levels of the terminal next Saturday where they will perform a new service for travelers. Their function will be to act as private secretaries for those who need their services. Should a commuter or a traveler from out of town desire to send a message to a friend or business acquaintance, the Green Cap will see that it is telephoned for a small fee. Should the commuter want his wife notified that he will be home earlier or later than usual, the Green Cap will oblige. In fact, for a dime the Green Cap will telephone that a commuting husband will not be home at all.

To aid the 200,000 persons who use the Grand Central Terminal daily there has been installed a Message Exchange which will accept and deliver messages to and from any one who can be reached on the telephone. If a commuter wants his wife to meet him at luncheon and doesn't know where he will be at one o'clock, all he has to do is to notify the Exchange where he will be and the luncheon is as good as served. For the Message Exchange will undertake to deliver telephone messages at any time of the day or night, and the Green Caps will meet every incoming and every outgoing train to do the things commuters have forgotten or haven't had time to do.

The Exchange also will serve as registration headquarters for such travelers who wish to leave their New York address so their friends or business associations can locate them, and it will handle mails or telephone calls for out-of-town visitors. Messages telephoned to the Exchange will be delivered to those who call and identify themselves.

FOUR LOCALITIES TO SUPPORT PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES

The continuance of the public health nurses now in various districts in the province has now been assured by four localities, Campbellton, Minto, St. Stephen and Chatham. It was announced by Miss H. T. McKeljohn, superintendent of public health nurses, last night. Word had just been received from Chatham that the Red Cross society and the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire in that town had undertaken to contribute $1,000 towards the salary of the public health nurse and the raising of the remainder of the necessary sum had been practically assured.

Zach Wheat's Hits. Fourteen years ago Zach Wheat, bought by the Brooklyn Baseball Club from the Mobile Club of the Southern League, made his first major hit at the Polo Grounds off Otis Crandall. At the same grounds in the series with the Giants which ended Saturday he got his 3,000th safety. In fact Zach reached the 4,000 mark with two hits, one a double and the other a home run off Phil Douglas. The Brooklyn outfielder is the only player in the National League to be credited with a grand total of 4,000 hits. This is due to the lack of veterans in the present major league body. Wheat says he is on the way to surpass the record of 4,482 safe drives made by Honus Wagner in the latter's major league career of twenty-one years. Wagner played in 2,795 games in the National League and was at bat 10,489 times for a life-time batting average of .328. When Wheat made his 3,000th safety his grand average stood at .305. Including yesterday's game Zach has made 3,005 hits, has taken part in 1,730 contests, and has been at bat 6,578 times. He has scored a total of 836 runs and stolen 183 bases.

Belgian Police Dog Back Home Arrived Too Late to be of Assistance in Finding H. G. Marr.

After a day of fruitless search for Henry G. Marr, Rita, the Belgian police dog from Montreal, returned home last evening. Mr. Desgeline, her trainer, expressed regret at the failure of the trip but said that from the first he had had doubts as to the dog's ability to pick up the scent. Too long had elapsed since Mr. Marr's disappearance and there had been very heavy rain. The dog is the property of Madame Nicole of Montreal and on two occasions has returned valuable service to the police in catching robbers. She is the champion Belgian police dog of America and has taken first prizes and special prizes at the Montreal Kennel Club show and also at the New York dog show. Much thanks is due Bob Ross, Montreal dog fancier who, at the request of L. McC. Ritchie, was instrumental in having the dog brought here.

THE INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE DISPUTE. The West End Improvement League baseball team journeyed to the North End grounds last evening and took a game from the St. George's by default in the Intermediate League as the latter team did not put in an appearance. It was announced last night by P. J. Leggo, who represents the St. George's A. C., that unless the St. George's players will agree to play a portion of their games on the North End grounds they will have to disband and turn in their uniforms to the club. He said that the club was determined to stand for square sportsmanship and since the Portlands had played on the west side for several years when they had no grounds of their own the St. George's A. C. considered that they were entitled to a reasonable share of the games on the North End grounds now since they had their own field. He said that he hoped that the members of the St. George's Intermediate team would see the matter in the right light even yet and agree to do the sportsmanlike thing.

FAVORS BUILDING AS WAR MEMORIAL

Halifax Chronicle Presents Views on This Important Question.

(Halifax Chronicle.)
The question of what form a public war memorial in Halifax shall take is not only an interesting but an extremely important one. It is proposed to spend a considerable sum of money, which will have to be contributed by citizens. It is highly desirable that it should be expended to the best advantage. These are not "inflation" times, when money was easily made, freely absorbed for public purposes. They are "hard times." They are times when every dollar should be husbanded and not to none but good and serviceable use for the benefit of the community as well as the individual.
Bearing these facts in mind, as they should be borne, in connection with the proposed memorial, it will have to be decided first of all whether the memorial is to be merely decorative in intent, or of practical value to the city as well as appropriate to the end in view. It is at even necessary to make a distinction between the two, because the useful and ornamental, in this case, can be most fittingly combined. We need something to remind us of the war itself—a beginning, continuance or end. Its acts are burnt into the minds and engrained upon the hearts of the present generation. Its consequences and effects will be so felt by generations to come that there will be no danger of their forgetting, even were no history to be written. Those who went through the errors of the monstrous struggle and survived, are most unlikely either to need or desire a reminder. The dead have their individual monuments and their niches in every memory. The section, then, comes down to the common one of erecting some visible and tangible sign of public emotion, to satisfy our own minds and indicate to those who are to come after our present feelings.
The sculptured lion surmounting its supporting arch, in old St. Paul's Cemetery, makes no living appeal today other than as an expression of taste and sentiments of our fathers, more than half a century ago. It is well and suitably placed, excellent in conception and form. We are proud of it on these accounts. But it embodies a by-gone form of expression, both in location and structure. It is primarily mortuary in tone. We have no call to introduce such a tone to any memorial that we may decide to erect. Those who fell in the Great War will ever be with us in spirit. They do not sleep beneath the glorious, covering lilies of "Flanders Fields." Their souls shall go marching triumphantly on and shall go on adown "the corridors of time." We need no boastful reminder of their deeds of unostentatious duty. They demand neither symbolical crosses nor crowns of commemoration. Surely we should refrain from parading our own emotions, either of sorrow or vain-glory, by such insignia.

The main hall of the Peace Palace at The Hague is the scene of the conference.

The truth, known to most, is that formal monuments are mere survivals of primitive superstitious practices which degenerated first into graveyard decoration and later into attempted public square ornamentation. The genuine modern memorial has taken and should take a more appropriate form. It should have a purpose, and that purpose should be to remind by means of public service. A building which bears a memorial name and significant decoration, and which can be put to some elevating public use, is no less a monument than a vain erection of brick and mortar, no matter what its temporary allegorical significance, which at best can but symbolize the notions of a very few.

And there is always the danger of a perpetuation of actual ugliness to be feared. Civic committees are not usually aesthetic connoisseurs. They are known, a marked leaning towards the showy rather than the beautiful, even when the beautiful is available, which it rarely is. There are the surroundings also to be considered in the erection of any supposedly artistic memorial. A piece of sculpture or of masonry which might be admirable in one location might appear absolutely grotesque in another. The most perfect arch or cross against a sordid background of mean tenements and shops would be so misplaced as to be shocking instead of pleasing or decorative. These are facts to be taken into careful consideration before deciding on the

HOMING PIGEON LOST IN RACE, SAVED AT SEA

Bird, With Identification Mark T. F. E. 285, Brought In by Liner Rosillon.
New York, June 28—When the steamship Rosillon of the French Line steamed into port it brought a carrier pigeon which was picked up the day before several hundred miles at sea. An identification band on one of the bird's legs bore the inscription, "T. F. E. 285." Inquiries disclosed that this was the mark of the International Federation of Homing Pigeon Fanciers.
A. S. Vincent, Secretary of the United States Homing Pigeon Concour, 225 West Eighty-sixth street, suggested that the bird was one which lost its way in the series of bird races starting on June 17 from Chatham, Va., and Spartanburg, S. C. Between 1,600 and 1,800 racing pigeons were turned loose on that day at Chatham and 90 per cent. of them covered the 400-mile trip to New York by 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The same day an equally large number began a 600-mile flight from Spartanburg, and most of the birds had reached Newark by 7 o'clock.
It is probable, according to Mr. Vincent, that the pigeon picked up by the Rosillon was caught in an adverse wind and blown far to sea. He thought that the pigeon with the aid of such a wind might have flown 500 or 600 miles before it dropped from exhaustion.

New York, June 28—A sheriff's jury gave a verdict for $20,000 for Mrs. Katherine O'Brien of 149 West Fourteenth street in a suit against Edith Hansen and Jack O'Donnell, beauty specialists at

NO CREDIT AT ADEN.

Dealings in the Red Sea Centre Are on a Cash Basis.
In the market of Aden, which is the centre of the Red Sea trade, Consul Grass reports that, generally speaking, no credit is given. As a result, until the recent business depression failures of any size were so rare that no bankruptcy law has even been enacted.
Cash payments are the rule in the export field. There are certain exceptions, but a heavy premium is imposed and the firms receiving it are viewed with suspicion.
The principal local restriction for demanding cash is the poor collection machinery available. There is but one local bank in Aden which engages in international business, and this bank refuses to act as a collecting agency. Its discount rate is nominally one-eighth of one per cent. for collecting drafts, but its exchange operations are so conservative that concerns transact as little business as possible through it. The local Chamber of Commerce arbitrates claims if called upon.
The standard of honor among the local merchants is high. The Mohammedan law, which governs largely the native business in Aden, as well as in the rest of Arabia, does not recognize any statute of limitations, and a debtor must pay as soon as he is able to do so, no matter how long that may be. In Eritrea and the different Somaliland the laws of Italy, France and England are in force in theory, and in Abyssinia the local law is very severe.
CARRIER PIGEONS SMUGGLE GERMAN DRUGS INTO FRANCE
Nancy, France, June 28—The use of carrier pigeons as cocaine smugglers, "snow birds" in the literal sense of the world, is the latest device for introducing the drug from Germany into France. The pigeons are released from various points along the German frontier and alight in Nancy, each carrying quite appreciable amounts of the narcotic.
The greed of the smugglers in overloading one bird, which fell exhausted in the Meuse district, caused the undoing of the smugglers and the arrest of several of them. This pigeon carried fifteen grammes, or about half an ounce of the drug, in small packages sewed to the feathers of the bird and not tied to the leg, as is customary in the carrying of messages.
