GOLDWIN SMITH AND HENRI BOURASSA.

Prof. Goldwin Smith's letter to Henri Bourassa would be a rather remarkable production coming from almost any other Canadian. But the people of Canada have learned to take this gift and cultured man as they find him.
They have known that his sympathies were entirely with the Boers in the late war. They can understand that a man, who, living in Canada still thinks that the best sentiment in this country is in favor of annexation to the United States, may persuade himself that the English people regret their resistance to the Boers.

It is not very many years since Prof.
Smith assisted to establish a continental union organization in this country.
From his generous purse a good deal of money went to establish and maintain a journal as the organ of the movement. Two years ago, when he had reached the age of four score, Prof.
Smith wrote a notable letter, full of charity and cheerfulness, in which he spoke, among other things, of the noble friendships which he had enjoyed.
Noble friendships he has had and nobly has he deserved them. But there are infinite paths in recalling those other alliances—they cannot be recalled here.
Friendships—which connected him with the active propagation of the continental union movement. Almost to a man these exploiters, some of them political schemers, more of them mere adventurers for personal profit, have disappeared from notice. They remained active long enough to make Goldwin Smith much poorer in purse, and to cause his large circle of personal admirers much amazement and grief over his exasperated exiles.

To those who recall the period between 1886 and 1888 the letter from Prof.
Smith to Mr. Bourassa will be no surprise, though it may occasion some distress to those nearest the Grange.
Language which might have been resented in a man of seventy when the name and reputation were carrying on an underground conspiracy on both sides of the line will cause no feeling at all today.
While Prof. Goldwin Smith lives Canada will have within her borders the greatest Englishman of letters. The people have come to think of him in that light, and to be grateful that he was among us. Formerly they were apt to consider him as a political teacher, and sometimes as an organizer, in which light he seems occasionally to have regarded himself. The injustice of judging him by that standard may be seen by an examination of the files of the Bystander. We find in these volumes the best English ever written for a Canadian periodical. But it would be impossible to discover in Canadian political literature such uniformity and consistency in error. With almost unerring skill the projected development that did not happen and delivered judgments that time has reversed. He wrote a political history of Canada, which was made to teach the doctrine that the writer derived from his own sentiments and inner consciousness.
As a history it is almost a masterpiece, but it is full of memorable phrases.
The personal element in his discussions so overcame his sense of proportion that he could hardly write on any political subject without leading up to a judgment against two or three public men in this country and in England, to whom he seemed to attribute all the troubles of the weary world. These are among the eccentricities of his genius and his association in some matters with the Commercial Union, Continental Union, and anti-British adventurers are other vagaries. It is not by these whimsicalities that Gold-win Smith is judged by discriminating people.

THE STREET RAILWAY ACCI-DENT.

As a rule the public will endure a certain injustice or an ineffective public service without making proper and wholesome protests. Then something occurs of a sensational character and there is a tendency to go to the other extreme and refuse fair play to the public offenders. The street car service of St. John is far from what it ought to be. The management has been singularly unprogressive, and the service has been altogether behind the times. Of late some extensions have been made, which were due years ago, and the company appears to be growing. Thousands of your countrymen are employed in the factories of New England, and do they find symptoms of hostility being directed at that of being drawn into the Empire's wars.

"Let Canada conserve the absolute control of her military expenditure and a policy that determines her particithe sufferers. It is only fair to suspend judgment in this particular matter, and to remember that cases of negligence and incapacity occur on all railway roads and other railways. Whatever responsibility rests upon the company in this affair will have to be met. But it should not be mixed up with the general question of the character of the street railway service unless it belongs there. The Star has not spared the street railway management in the past and will not do so in the future so long as the service falls short of reasonable requirements. There is no doubt where the direct responsibility rests for these failures. But as to yesterday's accident the immediate responsibility has yet to be determined.

THEY ARE SEVEN.

In 1900 the government was so fortunate as to secure the return of five-teen supporters in Nova Scotia. Two of these were ministers and did not need to seek office. Of the other thirteen, Mr. Flint of Yarmouth got an appointment at $4,000 a year, since increased. Mr. Pratt of Guysboro went on the bench at $4,000 a year and $1,000 or so for extras. Mr. Wade of Annapolis is about to be made chairman of the railway construction commission with a salary of probably $7,500 or more. Mr. Russell of Hants will be chief justice of Nova Scotia at $5,000 and allowance. The position of post office inspector is said to be reserved for Dr. Kendall of Cape Breton. This makes five, and with the two ministers, each at $8,500 public income a year, seven members out of the fifteen, all fairly well provided for. The other eight will try for another term unless more offices have in sight.
Perhaps one of them will claim the Malifax collectorship which fell vacant this week.—Sun.

It appears that there will be no steamship service between Canada and Mexico. This will not fill Canadians with grief. Sir William Mulock went on a sort of private car picnic to Mexico and brought back this idea of a direct steamship line. It would have been more to the purpose if he had gone to the British West Indies and done something to increase and improve our steamship service with those colonies.

The Grand Trunk Pacific is a great institution. It is now the fact that Premier Parent, of Quebec, will find a place on the construction commission.
He has always said that he would not accept such a position, but the country above with individuals who swearing that they would never consent have consented.

Mrs. Turnbull's gift of a thousand dollars for a log house for the park is a kindly and public spirited act. The park is at some distance from town and a place where tired people can find shelter in a storm, or protection from the sun on hot days will add much to the comfort and convenience of the resort.

GOLDWIN SMITH.

Writes to Henri Bourassa Giving His Views on Military Matters in Canada.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, has written the following letter to H. Bourassa, M. P., for Labrador.
The Grange, Toronto, August, 1904.
Dear Mr. Bourassa—The retirement of Mr. Bourassa from the Grange, you of the one colleague who had the courage to join you in order to resist Canada's participation in the Boer war.
That war, ignoble in its real motives, disastrous in its course, and miserable in its results, was made in spite of the most sacred pact and for an evidently false pretext. This war which England already regrets and which more than any other has tarnished the national honor. In order, in fact to justify it the Canadian people have been deceived.
"As an Englishman, I am proud of the battles my country has won in the service of the nations and of justice. I am also proud of her pacific triumphs, for one of the most noble she has ever won was the abolition of slavery. This triumph, however, has lately been tarnished by the re-establishment of slavery in South Africa.
Neither is the glory of England enhanced by destroying the independence of secondary states, nor when, with the use of improved arms she declares uncivilized people and races as brave as her own, and which contain the germs of future greatness. The cause of the Dutch in South Africa resembles that of your own compatriots in Canada, but fortunately for your people the Liberal party was then dominant in Great Britain.

"When they speak of Great Britain and of the duty incumbent upon us to aid in her armaments and her wars let us always remember that it is not the British nation, but the party which is now in power. This party came to power by appeals to warlike passions and it retains it against the manifest will of the people.

"In refusing to tax themselves in order to sustain the military enterprises of the Imperialist party of Great Britain your compatriots act in the best interests of the masses of the British people, several millions of whom are scarcely exist and who cannot stand being deprived of their poor morsel of food, to carry on the wars of the Empire.
No one is to be full enjoyment of his mental faculties can imagine that we are really threatened by American aggression. Thousands of your countrymen are employed in the factories of
wars.

patron in the wars of the Empire. This, in fact, is for the people of Great Britain, and for ourselves, the best understanding that can exist between Canada and the Mother Country. Up to the present time you have, Sir, nobly done your duty in defending Canadian autonomy and we have confidence that you will persist to the end in your patriotic efforts."
—GOLDWIN SMITH.

Match—Yacht Racing.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 16.—The an-ciation opened yesterday at St. Mary's conjunction with the Stanley cup match. Three teams entered, five men to a team. Fredericton won with a score of 232; R. C. R., 244 on Stanley 243.

The result of the shooting was holo-

MISSION WORK IN JAPAN.

Miss Robertson, one of three daughters of C. H. Robertson, returned to St. John a few days ago after several years of missionary work in Japan.
Four years of this time were spent ninety miles inland from Tokyo, and the last three years at Tokyo.

The Japanese, she says are intensely loyal to everything that touches the well-being of the country the whole population is a unit. In speaking of the emperor she touches a vital spot in every Japanese. None ever speaks of the emperor lightly and they are always treated with the greatest reverence. The Japs are a connoisseur people, and like some other nations, are strongly opinionated and they are the people their love of country is very strong and at any moment they are ready to give their lives for its good. When the war broke out there was little excitement. When the Chinese war began they went into with enthusiasm and great excitement. In this war they fully realize they are fighting a great power, and determination was the more strongly noted feature. At first they were a little uncertain as to the results, but they were quite ready to make every sacrifice in an attempt to win. To them independence is everything.

McCarthy, J. J. Warwick, James Mc-Intyre, John S. Seaton and Gilbert D.

evening at eight o'clock in the court saulting his father, was still behind the

A CLOTHES LINE AGAIN

Causes Trouble Between Two Britain Street Lady's and the Matter is Aired in Court.

Two women, Mrs. Cotter and Mrs. Curran, residents of Britannia street, took up much of the time in the police court this morning in airing a dispute over a clothesline. From the conflicting statements made by the parties to the dispute, it is quite difficult to determine just what position the clothesline should be assigned. While it could not be said that the clothesline was seeking adoption by either party, it nevertheless seems to have been the cause of all the trouble. It is now proposed that the women fight the clothesline line in general to blame, innocent looking though it is, and if it were possible to make it amenable to justice there is no knowing what feminine discord would be hindered.

Mrs. Cotter was the first to tell her story. She said that Mrs. Curran has been interfering with her for some time past, and has been in the habit of burning at her all kinds of epithets, one of which in particular was very vile. Mrs. Curran gave this a flat contradiction. Thereupon Grace Appleby came forward and corroborated Mrs. Cotter. "But where does the clothes line come in?" said his honor to her.

"Oh," said they all (in effect) that happened to be present at the time. Lady Appleby said that the clothes line were in court and for a time the fitting bonnets reminded one of so many bees. At any rate there was buzzing. His honor imposed sentence on Mrs. Curran for giving rise to the expression ascribed to her by Mrs. Cotter, but so far as the clothes line is concerned the case remains as before, intractable, and will be probably until tomorrow.

THROWN FROM STREET CAR.

Two Ladies Badly Injured at Foot of King Street Yesterday.

Mrs. Joley McDonald and her mother, Mrs. Robert C. Weyman, of 31 St. Andrews street, are lying at their home in a serious condition as a result of injuries received by falling off an open street car at the foot of King street about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Weyman were sitting next to the inner right hand railing of the car. They noticed that the car was going down the hill faster than usual but thought everything was all right. No brakes seemed to be applied when the car neared Prince William street and the car struck the turn with undiminished speed. So violent was the jolt that the two ladies were flung bodily across the car and out on the pavement. Mrs. Weyman struck the pavement on her head and side, receiving several bruises about her face, side and hips. Mrs. McDonald landed on her shoulder, which was badly hurt and is causing her considerable pain. The conductor was also knocked off the car, but was not injured.

The injured passengers were carried into the Western Union Telegraph office and Drs. Case and Berryman summoned. A coach was soon afterwards procured and the ladies were removed to their homes on St. Andrews street.

Dr. James Christie, the family physician attended them there and looked after their injuries. This morning both were suffering severely from their mishap, but Mrs. Weyman was considerably brighter than she was last night.

LOCAL BASEBALL NOTES.

The Vancouver, Maine team, who claim to have defeated all the teams in that section of country this season, have written for games on the Victoria grounds next week.

The pick of four teams in Moncton will play the All St. John team here Saturday afternoon next on the Victoria grounds. An evening game will be played also, commencing at 4:15 sharp. As Moncton has some first class base ball talent this season, good close games will doubtless be seen.

Negotiations are pending for the appearance here of some New England league teams and the probability is that on Labor day some of the fastest teams in the country will be seen here.

LOCAL FISHERMEN WAKING UP.

Are Making Elaborate Preparation for This Season's

Run of Small Herring—Sardines

Factories at Eastport Now Running Full Blast.

The reports from Eastport indicate that herring fishing is in full blast. Saturday last the little fishes swarmed up the waters of the Passamaquoddy Bay in millions every where. They were along shore had fish in numbers. Boat load after boatload came into Eastport, and the price of the fish fell from $2.50 per hoghead, the price prevailing a week ago, to $3.00, and even as low as $2.

All the factories are working night and day. Sundays included, endeavoring to take full advantage of the run, while it lasts. Help has been procured from the neighboring towns and Eastport is now a hive of industry. Wages are good and factory workers are in demand.

That there is money in this industry is well known to the people of Eastport and the surrounding islands. A considerable, if not the major portion of the population of the district are engaged in the herring business. One could be found enterprising enough to build a factory.

For years the herring have been coming to this port during September and October but their value was not recognized. It so happened that last season the catch was a total failure along the Maine coast owing to the sudden disappearance of the herring tribe. Prices went up and up, but no one here perceived the Eldorado in the herring. It was not until the herring came in that the fishermen were made aware of the value of the fish. Thousands of dollars were made every night by the foreigners and they departed with their golden harvest, after enriching our civic treasury by the payment of a fine of $7.50 a piece. By this invasion local fishermen were made aware of the value of the fish. They were slipping through their fingers and they made haste to retain as much of it as they could.

They were after the herring with seine and weir; so thick were the fish that many were taken right in the slips. As much as $800 would be cleared in a night by the owner of a weir. The quality of the fish which visit these waters is said, by those who are engaged in the business, to be superior to that caught near Eastport. There they are found to eat large quantities of "red feed," as it is called, which, however, does not digest well and instead of fattening the fish remains in the stomach. When cleaned the fish have a thin and flabby look, compared with the fine, plump flesh of the herring caught here.

The fishermen this year are going into the catching business with vim. One prominent fisherman on the west side has recently sent to Boston for a new $100 herring net. Others are fitting their weirs with a mesh suitable for this work, and taken altogether a laudable attempt is being made to get the most out of the business, as far as the catching is concerned.

But for the canning factory, there is about half no provision. Many of the expert workmen in the border city factories are drawn from St. John. These men would naturally prefer to work at home, if work was to be procured. The raw material is here, the need content to let the most profitable part of the herring, or sardine industry, go to their more bustling American neighbors.

A by-product of the fishing business that is of considerable financial value to the American fishing centres is the manufacture of fertilizers from the fish refuse. This could also be prosecuted very readily in this city.

GREAT BASE BALL GAME

Two Thistle Curling Teams in a Hard Fought Contest.

Two base ball teams from the Thistle Curling Club had it out yesterday afternoon on the Shamrock grounds, much to the amusement of the friends who were present in fairly large numbers. Some time ago Fred Shaw organized a team from members of the club and challenged the St. Andrews club. The challenge was not accepted, and some of the other members of the Thistles said Shaw's team were a lot of hot heads and John Malcolm undertook to organize a team that would make Shaw's aggregation sick. The result was yesterday's contest and Malcolm kept his word as his team won by a score of 16 to 7. The winning team was composed of Barnes, Price, Malcolm, Bishop, McAlpine, Milligan, Stevens, Palmer and Corbett. The other team lined up as follows—Shaw, Watson, Olive, Chesley, Thomson, Golding, Machum, Burpee, and Cameron.

It was a great game from start to finish, and if it did nothing else served to bring to the front some promising twirlers. Oscar Price started in a pitch for his team. He was a regular "clap" young delivery, but is a little out of condition. He complained frequently to the umpire that Shaw's men were hitting the ball too hard, as he could not get any satisfaction from the umpire, he left the box in disgust and went to second base. Barnes pitched the balance of the game, and won out easily. He is a great twirler.

Frank Watson was on the slab for Shaw's team. The feature of his work was continued refusal to follow Shaw's signals and the result was that their telegraph system got badly disarranged. With a little more training and a careful study of the code book, Watson would be a dangerous twirler. Thomson's delivery was too nice and Malcolm's delivery was too good. The crowd's delivery of the broom fattened their batting average in good style. Harold Olive finished the game and was cheered loud and long when he struck the mighty batter, J. C. Milligan, out.

When Olive went in to pitch, J. C. Chesley went behind the bat. He has a lot of fancy moves and a peculiar throw to second that is very dangerous. By request nothing is said about the score.

FLOUR JUMPS AGAIN.

Price Today Advanced 15 Cents, an Increase of 25 Cents in

Two Days!

Manitoba flour advanced another notch this morning in consequence of the high wheat prices on the Chicago exchange. Today's rise was 15c., making a total rise in two days of 25c. per barrel. Ontario has also risen and stands relatively higher than Manitoba; it now retails at 55c.

Speaking of the flour situation J. S. Harding, of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, said that the Canadian brand was selling at 75c. below the same quality of American flour and in the present high state of the wheat market each barrel of flour sold represented a loss of 50c. to the manufacturers. The wheat market keeps remarkably strong; yesterday old wheat closed at 106 1/2-2, and the new fall wheat at 105 1/2-3. These are not record prices by any means, but they look pretty high to the flour consumer.
