

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

HOPEWELL CAPE

Hopewell Cape, Albert Co., Feb. 4.—The New Brunswick Telephone Co., Limited, issued an order today to go into effect at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening...

There is a new case at Waterside today and several in one family at Cape Enrage. These are in the storm centre of the disease...

The general feeling in all districts is that legislation for the complete vaccination of smallpox by compulsory vaccination would now be looked on with favor...

Senator Thompson was called to the chair, and after explaining the object of the gathering, asked for nominations...

FREDERICTON

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 4.—E. H. Allen with the assistance of some friends has worked hard today to gather up a ticket for York county...

At the opposition rooms this evening the place was crowded. Scores of former supporters of the administration were present and the speeches were of an enthusiastic nature...

Principal Assessor Johnson, whose salary at present is $400 per year, had it increased to $450, the increase taking effect on May 1st next...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Moncton, were in Salisbury last evening for the purpose of identifying the body of the late Edward Price, who carried some life insurance in the Canadian Home Circle...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

There was a slight delay in getting the meeting started, caused by the refusal of Alex. Brewer to accept a position on the ticket...

Bringing health and vigor to tired nerves.

NATURE'S BIG BRACING TONIC Imperial Peruvian Wine... A pure health-giving wine combined with the valuable tonic properties of Peruvian Bark.

An instantaneous "PICK-UP." Large Quart bottles, $1. At all Dealers. Manufactured by The BAIRD CO., LTD., MAN'G CHEMISTS. Woodstock - N. B.

GRATITUDE AS SEEN IN KENT

Politicians Reviewing Some Incidents in the Career of Messrs. Legere and Carter. Moncton, Feb. 4.—(Special).—Now that Sheriff Legere has become a government candidate his peculiar position is being commented upon by those familiar with past events...

REXTON

Repton, N. B., Feb. 4.—John Cadogan, Jr., passed away at his home at St. Anne yesterday morning after a lingering illness. He was forty-four years of age and is survived by his father, George E. Cadogan, and two sisters...

HARTLAND

Hartland, N. B., Feb. 3.—On Saturday Dr. L. C. MacIntosh was made happy by the birth of a son and heir. On the same day Mrs. J. D. Carter, of the same town, had a daughter, Miss Helen Raymond, at six months.

IMPORTANT NEWS

If you suffer from any secret weakness, you can be easily and quickly cured, if you will write in confidence to Dr. G. H. Roberts, 21 Woodland Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

SAYS THE GOVT. IS DOMINED

Geo. W. Fowler, in Montreal Interview, Declares Hazen Will Be Next Premier

OPPOSITION IS SOLID

Interest Account of the Province Amounts to Almost Half of the Total Revenue—Telling Review of Campaign Outlook in New Brunswick.

(Montreal Gazette.) Mr. G. W. Fowler, M. P. for Kings and Westmorland, after having taken part yesterday in the proceedings of the Kings county local election...

Mr. G. W. Fowler, M. P. for Kings and Westmorland, after having taken part yesterday in the proceedings of the Kings county local election...

MANY NEW YORK PEOPLE DEAD AND

OF EXPOSURE; THOUSANDS OF DESTITUTE SILENT AND SUFFER. New York, Feb. 5.—After having dropped to a low record mark for the season, the temperature late today lifted just enough to shake loose the second real snow-storm that New Yorkers have seen this winter...

HAMPTON DWELLING DESTROYED BY FIRE

Hampton, N. B., Feb. 6.—(Special).—About half past seven this morning the prolonged whistle of the village mill indicated that some disaster had occurred...

CARLETON COUNTY OPPOSITION PROMISE LIVELY CAMPAIGN

Woodstock, N. B., Feb. 5.—(Special).—The opposition party of the town held a grand rally for organization purposes in their rooms last night. There was a large gathering and much enthusiasm.

A. G. ROBB ELECTED MAYOR OF AMHERST

Amherst, N. S., Feb. 4.—With the thermometer registering ten below zero the civic elections were good-naturedly fought out here today, resulting in the election of A. G. Robb as mayor with a majority of 223 over Mayor T. P. Lowther...

STARTING GROWTH OF THE NET DEBT OF THE PROVINCE

The Statement Set Forth by J. K. Flemming in His Address at Moncton—The "Surplus" and How it is Arrived at by the Government.

(J. K. Flemming at Moncton.)

Here are some figures taken from the official reports of the auditor general of the province showing how the net debt of this province has been increased in recent years.

Table with columns for year, increase over previous year, and total amount. Rows include 1892-1893, 1893-1894, 1894-1895, 1895-1896, 1896-1897, 1897-1898, 1898-1899, 1899-1900, 1900-1901, 1901-1902, 1902-1903, 1903-1904, 1904-1905, 1905-1906, 1906-1907, 1907-1908.

It is not time to call a halt when the latest count of our revenues to pay the interest on our provincial debt. It seems to me to take to make a most strenuous effort to keep our expenditures within our revenue and to stop adding to the burden of debt.

WE HAVE TO PAY INTEREST ON THIS DEBT

For every dollar of debt we incur we have to pay interest. The more we pay, the more we pay. The more we pay, the more we pay. The more we pay, the more we pay.

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

RECORD OUTPUT FROM CAPE BRETON COLLIERIES

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 5.—The January outputs from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company showed all winter months to be in the history of that organization...

SHILON'S Quick relief for the worst cough—quick relief to the best cold—SAFE to take, even for children. Cures Coughs, Colds, & Hoarseness.

Black Watch The Cheapest Tobacco of Quality.

Gives Reason Why Doctors Fail to Cure Sick Women. Because they fail to cure exactly what is wrong with a sick woman, doctors are frequently criticised very severely.

ROOFSING OPPOSITION MEETING AT NEWCASTLE

Stirring Speeches Fire Large Audience

Hazen Welcomes Experts Coming to Audit Books if They Are Given a Free Hand—Morrissy Refuses to Accept Dr. Pugsley's Orders in Provincial Affairs.

Newcastle, N. B., Feb. 4.—A keenly appreciative audience filled the Opera House here this evening to hear J. D. Hazen, the leader of the opposition, and J. K. Fleming, M. P. P., who, in stirring speeches, denounced the extravagant policy of the local government...

Mr. Hazen then proceeded to quote the figures given in his speech at Chatham showing how the debt of the province had increased. It was a mortgage, he said, on every mill and every industry in the province...

Mr. Hazen then referred to his statement at Bathurst that the liabilities of the province were upwards of $8,000,000, and to the howl which went up from the government organs...

Mr. Fleming, who came in for a great reception, returned in the opening remarks to the meeting being held during the present campaign...

Mr. Hazen passed on to review the highway act as a result of which, he said, the people had worse roads during the last three years than had ever been known in the history of the province...

HOW BRITISH WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS RESIST THE POLICE

HERCULEAN STEAMER AFFIRE

St. Cuthbert's Officers and Crew Put Up Gallant Fight for Lives

FIFTEEN PERISHED

Fourteen Men Drowned in Effort to Escape, and Another Fell Into Burning Hold—Gallant Rescue by Boat's Crew from Cymric, Who Saved the Doomed Men.

Boston, Feb. 4.—A wireless despatch from the White Star liner steamer Cymric, by way of South Wellfleet (Mass.), received into flames, the story of the burning of the Phoenix line steamship St. Cuthbert with the loss of eleven men...

London, Jan. 31.—Unplanned by the procession to and from Westminster on the occasion of the opening of parliament, the women suffragists adopted a new method of protesting against the fact that his majesty, in the speech from the throne, made no mention of their demands to be permitted to vote...

By six seamen, volunteers from the White Star liner. In spite of the violence of the sea, the Cymric's life boat made the journey to the St. Cuthbert on board the Cymric, and the crew of the latter vessel were taken aboard...

In a short time the foremost was on the board. Finding that the steamer was doomed, the boats were launched at about 4.30 on Sunday morning...

Shortly after 9 o'clock, however, the Cymric hoisted a signal. Her appearance was the signal for a great cheer from the sailors and from the firemen, who near the stern of the boat from a steamer...

ONE OF THE SUFFRAGIST LEADERS BEING TAKEN TO BOW STREET AFTER HER CHAIN (SHOWN IN FRONT OF THE SUFFRAGIST LEADER) WAS BROKEN.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ABANDONS PARTY LINES IN NORTHUMBERLAND

Most of Liberal Executive Will Support Opposition Ticket—Convention Called by Robert Murray to Select Candidates.

Chatham, Feb. 4.—The Liberal executive committee held a meeting here Monday evening in the office of W. S. Loggie, M. P., and it is understood almost unanimously opposed the idea of running the local government election on division lines...

OTTAWA INQUIRY BURKED AFTER LIVELY DEBATE

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The public accounts committee had a lively session this forenoon. At the last meeting Mr. Foster wanted to examine Mr. Wickwire, ex-M. P. of Kentville, on the copy of a telegram which Wickwire was the promoter of the Sub Target Gun Co. This was objected to and Chairman Carvell ruled it out of order...

TWEEDDALE AND BURGESS AGAIN NOMINATED

Andover, Feb. 5.—Messrs. Tweeddale and Burgess, the present members of the local legislature for Victoria county, were again nominated at a convention of the government supporters here today.

NOT ARRESTED

Chatham, N. B., Feb. 2.—The two young men, named Cunningham and Miller, were not arrested on suspicion, as stated in The Telegraph's Chatham correspondence last week, for breaking into McDonald's barber shop. The report was entirely incorrect, as these young men knew nothing whatever about it.

HOW GOVERNMENT FAVORITES GOT RICH

Timber Land Tenders a Farce

Conservative Members Give Instances of Big Blocks Bought for a Pittance and Sold for High Prices—Borden Ridicules Oliver's Defence of System as Absurd.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The debate on the timber limits was continued today by Mr. Boyce, of Algoma, who proceeded to give specific cases. In the Prince Albert district for fifty miles Herman Finger bid $310 and one Thomas MacKie, formerly member of parliament, got 25 miles for $15,010.

Mr. Boyce argued that these prices were vastly below the prospective value of the timber and that the increase in due time would go, not to the country, but to the speculators sitting with maps in hand and watching the railway.

Mr. Boyce then went on to divide up the limits into those which were essential for operative purposes, those which were speculative, and those which were purely speculative. The first he divided into ninety-four square miles in which were 1,000,000 feet of standing timber...

TO HARNESS THE TIDES

Land Bonded at Portland, Me., for Location of Power Plant.

Portland, Me., Feb. 3.—Alfred S. Black, of Rockland, and his associates have bonded land on either side of Back Bay in Portland, just east of Tukey's bridge, where it is anticipated that a tidal power plant will be located...

Better Than Spanking

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting, says a new constitutional case for this purpose, says Dr. M. Summers, Box 70, Windsor, Ont. It will save free to any mother successful home treatment with full details...

Timber Land Tenders a Farce

Conservative Members Give Instances of Big Blocks Bought for a Pittance and Sold for High Prices—Borden Ridicules Oliver's Defence of System as Absurd.

There were in the province of Ontario very valuable limits which yielded a revenue to the province. Years ago they had a speculative value and it was getting rid of them the province held on to them until they now were a valuable provincial asset.

Mr. Boyce went on to deal with the limits along the Canadian Northern Railway passing through Dauphin county. He said that it was the accessibility to the railway that made the limits valuable. When the road was being extended forward in 1901 the average price was $123 per mile. It rose to $325 per mile in 1903 it reached $718 per mile...

Mr. Boyce then went on to divide up the limits into those which were essential for operative purposes, those which were speculative, and those which were purely speculative. The first he divided into ninety-four square miles in which were 1,000,000 feet of standing timber...

Northumberland Co. L. O. L.

Newcastle, Feb. 5.—Northumberland county L. O. L. met with No Surrender Lodge here last night. The guests were Messrs. Wm. Corbett, Newcastle, C. M., Jas. H. Dale, Blackville, D. C. M., L. B. McMurdo, Newcastle, C. M., No Surrender, No. 47, Newcastle—John Menzies, J. D. G. L., Wm. Stymest, D. Sec., Jas. J. Stewart, Sr., Geo. T. Bethune, Wm. M., John H. Ashford, Clifford MacDonald, Lee, H. H. Stuart, R. W. Empie, No. 125, Newcastle—Henry Wyse, P. M., W. A. McMaster, R. S., J. A. Folland, W. M., Wm. Tremblay, D. M., E. O'Donnell, Treas., T. C. Hill, F. S., James Beasley, D. of C.

Refreshments were served by No Surrender Lodge at midnight.

It was decided to meet quarterly this year, the next session to be at Loggieville, first Tuesday in May. The following officers were elected for coming year: C. M., James Johnston; D. C. M., W. G. Tait; Chap. Henry Wyse; P. M., E. Babiker; R. S., J. H. Dale; Treas., R. S. Grindley; D. of C., Herbert Purtilan; Wm. E. A. Donald; Lecturer, J. A. Folland; and L. B. McMurdo.

Advertisement for 'Poritan' Reaching Washing Machine. It takes all the work out of a day. Improved Roller Gear makes washing quick and easy. The 'Poritan' is the best and most improved. If your clothes are not clean, 'Poritan' will give you the best results. DAVID M'ELL & SONS, St. Mary's, Ont.

Advertisement for 'Send for this now'. Get the free book that tells 'When Pugsley's' and is packed with facts you ought to know. It tells you how to get into politics without big cash. It tells you how to make sure before you start that you will win. Get the book now.

LEE-HODGINS CO., Limited, 385 Pembroke St. PEMBRROKE, ONT.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH is issued every Wednesday and Saturday by The Telegraph Publishing Company of St. John, a company incorporated by Act of the Legislature of New Brunswick...

ADVERTISING RATES Ordinary commercial advertisements taking the run of the paper, each insertion, $1.00 per inch...

SUBSCRIPTION RATES Sent by Mail to any address in Canada at One Dollar a year. Sent by mail to any address in United States at Two Dollars a year...

IMPORTANT NOTICE All remittances must be sent by post office order or registered letter, and addressed to The Telegraph Publishing Company...

AUTHORIZED AGENT The following agent is authorized to canvass and collect for The Semi-Weekly Telegraph, viz: Wm. Somerville

Semi-Weekly Telegraph ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 8, 1903.

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH THE EVENING TIMES

New Brunswick's Independent newspapers. These newspapers advocate: British connection Honesty in public life Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion No graft! No deals!

"The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose and the Maple Leaf forever."

IN CHARLOTTE Government supporters will view with some dismay the result of the convention held in St. Stephen Monday.

The administration ticket now selected is evidently a weaker combination than that which ran in 1903, and in that contest the opposition carried three of the four seats, the fourth going to Hon. Mr. Hill, who on many important questions voted with Mr. Hazen during the following session.

In the election of 1903 the vote in Charlotte was as follows: Hartt, 2,123; Grimmer, 2,075; Clarke, 2,064; Hill, 1,834; Byron, 1,788; Mills, 1,708; Dewar, 1,588; Vroom, 1,490.

Messrs Hartt, Grimmer, and Clarke have all been useful and active representatives, fighting steadily and intelligently against the reckless majority which registered the government's bidding.

With Dr. Taylor, the fourth member of the ticket, and a popular and aggressive man, it they should pull up a striking opposition majority four weeks hence.

Hon. Mr. McKeown was present at Monday's government convention in St. Stephen to assist the delegates in selecting standard bearers, and after the candidates had been nominated the Attorney General delivered his stereotyped defence of the government's record.

This same Mr. McKeown paid a visit to Charlotte just prior to the elections of 1903. The government's record was then not nearly so black as it is today, and Mr. McKeown labored long and earnestly to convince the public that Charlotte should and would stand by the administration.

The result was a sweeping opposition victory. Mr. McKeown's visit was not, perhaps, a contributing cause; but since his task now is much more hopeless than it was in 1903 he must have found it difficult Monday to stimulate the outward appearance of hope and confidence as he dwelt upon the beauties of the government he and his associates have inflicted upon this long suffering province.

The people of Charlotte county know Mr. McKeown. They have followed his public walk with some interest, and some displeasure. They are fully aware that he tells them how the government is going to carry the province, he dared not offer himself as a candidate in this city where he led the poll of 1903. This is one of the actions that speak louder than words.

IN NORTHUMBERLAND In the election of 1903 the vote in Northumberland was as follows: Morrissey, 2,313; Loggie, 2,191; Tweedie, 2,128; Morrison, 2,092; Burchill, 2,064; Watt, 2,002; O'Brien, 1,915; Fish, 1,791.

The opposition convention at Chatham Monday was the most successful and impressive gathering. The ticket chosen, consisting of the present members, Messrs. Morrison and Morrison, and Messrs. MacLachlan and Allan, is one in whose success the party, not only in Northumberland but throughout the province, may well have the utmost confidence.

The services which Messrs. Morrison and Morrison have rendered the people in the Legislature have made them conspicuous as stalwart and steadfast fighters for honest and progressive government. Their worth has been fully tested and proved, and the support they have commanded in their fine constituency is evidence that the electors know their worth. Mr. MacLachlan is mayor of Chatham, a popular man with a large following in both the town and the outlying parishes. Mr. Allan will bring a large and solid support to the ticket, and the vote in the convention is a deserved tribute to his strength and his popularity.

By placing two Liberals on this ticket the party in Northumberland shows what it thinks of the government's contention that the campaign will, or should be, run on Federal party lines.

Liberals in Northumberland are not to be misled by politicians who seek to hide the misdeeds of the Robinson government with the mantle of Liberalism. The question is one of good and bad government in New Brunswick. The local administration must stand on its own feet and carry its heavy load alone.

Liberals, like Conservatives and Independents, will look at what the government has done and has failed to do, and judge it by the facts. The fiction that Liberals are bound to intervene to save the Robinson administration from retribution cannot survive the action of Monday's convention.

Since conditions in Northumberland are much more favorable to the opposition than they were in 1903, Mr. Hazen should have four supporters from that county after March 3. In the former election the opposition carried three seats and the government one, Hon. Mr. Tweedie's personal following being sufficient on that occasion to save him. This year many influential men who supported the government in 1903 are assisting the opposition. The administration has been weakened by several years during which it has played fast and loose with the public interests and materially injured the public credit.

Many who gave it a doubtful support in 1903 are today its open and aggressive opponents. There should be no doubt about the verdict in Northumberland on March 3.

CONFIDENCE Loyal Government journals and orators assure the people that the government is confident. Let us look at some of the recent evidence in favor of this contention.

The government declares that there is no school book ring and that the people are not being robbed in the matter of school book prices. And the government thereupon proposes to appoint a commission to inquire into the cost of school books.

The Premier is confident, but he and his ministers are afraid the people will not believe what they say. They will appoint a commission.

The government for years boasted of its highway legislation. It claimed that good results would be produced. It was confident that the people would not believe the reports about bad roads. But that confidence disappeared. The government is going to appoint a commission to inquire into the needs of the province in the matter of the roads, to ascertain how it happens that the confidence of the administration was so clearly ill-founded or misplaced.

The Premier was confident—or said he was—that no one would believe the opposition statements about the provincial finances, about the unparalleled growth of the public debt, about the issue of bonds to pay interest on bonds, about the expenditure of money the details of which the auditor general knew nothing. But what has become of the Premier's confidence? He is now saying that he will select accountants to look into these matters. He began to see that in spite of his confidence the people were not satisfied with his statements.

Real confidence—the convincing kind—could have faced the people without calling in experts and commissions. Real confidence would not have allowed the Premier to remain in his corner when Mr. Fleming invited him to step on the public platform in this city and make a few simple explanations to the people in the presence of one solitary opposing critic.

If he is confident, why does the Premier propose to hire out his explanations? Why not step into the limelight and explain to the people as to the size of the public debt and as to what has been done with the money? So simple a task should not cause the leader of a confident government to seek cover. To decline was to raise awkward questions which have not been set at rest. To decline was to give the public the true measure of those professions of confidence of which the public has heard so much but of which it has seen so little evidence.

The confidence of this government is seen in its long successful attempt to deny to the people of this province the secret ballot which it finally was compelled to concede. Its confidence is seen in that sort of bookkeeping which produces a surplus by charging up anything and everything to capital account. Its confidence is displayed in its attempt to masquerade as a Liberal organization in order that the federal party allegiance of some electors may lead them to excuse acts which as New Brunswick taxpayers they must deem unacceptable. The repudiation of federal party lines by both the government and the opposition parties in Northumberland and elsewhere, and the presence of great numbers of Liberals in the opposition ranks show that this attempt of the government to escape responsibility will not succeed.

For a government that is described by its leaders as confident the Robinson administration has betrayed and is betraying the signs of symptoms of panic. All the curls of a deathbed repentance are visible—but none of confidence.

A COMMISSION OF EXPERTS NEEDED Premier Robinson's attention is respectfully directed to conditions in Carleton county which threaten to destroy the peace and happiness of a large body of the inhabitants there. Two torrents of mud, restrained for the moment, but by bonds so frail that the hurling of a single epithet may loose them, menace Woodstock and the smiling valleys tributary to that thriving county. If Hon. Mr. Robinson, upon examining this situation, does not instantly appoint a commission of experts his warmest admirers will be dumfounded. But, to the Woodstock Press remarked in unusually cold type: We trust that our contemporary does not intend to indulge in personalities. That style is foreign to our nature, although we certainly we reluctantly take a hand in that way. If it is to be a whitewash, with correct light processes, brass bands and mud-slinging, we have the ammunition and will use it. We leave the choice to his first small cry.

Unshaken by this fearful intimation that it was not as well equipped for mud-throwing as the best, the Sentinel replied haughtily: The above sounds very brave, even magnificent, and would be taken that way were it not so palpably the work of one whose passion real leads him to overstep the bounds of reason. In so far as we are concerned, the Sentinel has little to fear in a mud-slinging contest, and the Liberal ticket individually and collectively will compare at least favorably with the Opposition trio—morally, mentally or in any other respect. We will not care for a gutter warfare, but if there must be mud-slinging—and the issue rests with the King of Mad Caliban—we will say in the words of the poet, "Come on, Madrugad—cure'd be he who first shall cry cry-cry!"

That Premier Robinson will hesitate to act under these harrowing circumstances, we cannot believe. A commission of experts is clearly called for. Otherwise the opposing mud batteries may open fire and Woodstock and the surrounding scenery be plastered with the fell ammunition of which both journals boast an appalling supply.

THE CENTRAL MISTERY As Hon. Mr. Pugsley is about due with his long delayed announcement that the Central railway has been sold, leased, or given away, the people will wonder whether the new deal is to cover up all the transactions in connection with that famous but unfinished railroad. The annuals of the Central are neither short nor simple. The scenes in the Legislature when, late at night, in the closing hours of the session, the government's supporters were induced to vote huge sums for this enterprise, are well remembered.

In all, this unfinished, cheaply constructed, and poorly equipped road devoured $1,200,000 of public money. Before the Hon. Mr. Pugsley disposed of it—and no one can dispute that—until the New Brunswick Legislature is again in session—the people should know in detail what became of the money that was appropriated year after year for its support. There is a mystery connected with the project which should not exist. The opposition sought to have an independent commission appointed to make a thorough inquiry into the whole matter. The government which voted away the money voted down the proposal to investigate. Public suspicion was aroused, but the government kept the lid on, hoping the time would come when the road could be sold or leased and the whole matter hushed up.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley has no control over the Central. He has no commission of authority from the people to dispose of it. The present government may deal with the Central if it survives the forthcoming elections, but if it does not the new government will doubtless deem it necessary to trace the money which it used up without carrying the railway to its proper terminus—Gibson. Meantime any sudden or glorious announcements by Dr. Pugsley in connection with the Central must be weighed in the light of the fact that the new Legislature alone will have power to dispose of the property, and the further fact that repeated promises concerning the future of this railroad, made by Dr. Pugsley and the present provincial government, have proved absolutely worthless.

The people of this province, and particularly that portion of it which the line traverses, were entitled to a good road to Gibson in return for the great amount of money which went—somewhere. They know what they got for it. And now the road is to figure once more as an election dodge.

THE BORROWERS Year after year the local government announces a bogus surplus. Presumably the experts whom Premier Robinson has engaged at the public expense to give him a certificate of character as a statesman will be permitted to state that the last surplus, like the others, was manufactured by the hoary expedient of charging enough expenditure to capital account to give a paper balance on the right side of the ledger. But, whatever the experts may do, Mr. Fleming has already made this explanation in many places since the campaign began, and before March 3 every thoughtful voter in the province will have heard or read the facts and figures which are of interest in this connection. The government's plan of producing a fictitious surplus can be kept up year after year—by borrowing. Let us see how this scheme is working out, where by the interest charges are attaining staggering proportions and the public credit is being pledged ever more recklessly. Mr. Fleming says: "I have stated that last year, notwithstanding the increased revenue, the government had a deficit of $400,000, instead of a surplus. In the first place they have put into capital account items which no other government ever thought of doing, and which they have no right to do by any system of business that can commend itself to a reasonable man. For instance they have some $82,000 interest on New Brunswick Coal & Railway—the old Central Railway—to pay and they issued bonds for this and charged it to capital account, an unheard-of proceeding and absolutely unjustifiable. Then they had an over-expenditure of $22,000 on provincial hospital, in other words ran the institution that much in debt, and they charged this up to capital account. Then they ran the public works $197,000 behind, had an accumulated over-expenditure of that great sum and they issued bonds and charged that up to capital account. Did you ever before hear of such a method of financing? It is an absolute cure and absolutely unjustifiable. By inflating C. Carthage's she got relief and gradually the discharge was away. She was cured perfectly. Personally I can recommend Catarrhose for coughs and throat irritation; it's a wonderful medicine." Sold everywhere. 25c. and $1.00.

Proved Beyond Doubt. The disappointed victim of poor Catarrh remedial medicine, and the statement of J. R. Smith, M. P., St. John, N. B. In Carthage's absolute cure and absolutely unjustifiable. Then they had an over-expenditure of $22,000 on provincial hospital, in other words ran the institution that much in debt, and they charged this up to capital account. Then they ran the public works $197,000 behind, had an accumulated over-expenditure of that great sum and they issued bonds and charged that up to capital account. Did you ever before hear of such a method of financing? It is an absolute cure and absolutely unjustifiable. By inflating C. Carthage's she got relief and gradually the discharge was away. She was cured perfectly. Personally I can recommend Catarrhose for coughs and throat irritation; it's a wonderful medicine." Sold everywhere. 25c. and $1.00.

of bookkeeping by which the government sought to conceal from the people the pace at which the credit of the province was being mortgaged. For years he actively assisted Messrs. Tupper and Pugsley in these matters. When he became Premier some of his friends urged him to break away from the old way of doing things. He could not, however, repudiate responsibility for methods and transactions in which his participation was notorious, and of late he has come out boldly in defence of the plunging tactics which have increased the provincial debt to its present proportions.

Challenged to make good his case on the public platform, the Premier declines to meet Mr. Fleming, and, discovering that this course is politically damaging, he decides to summon experts. He will not do battle in his own cause. But, for campaign purposes, he personally selects experts, who are to be paid out of the public funds, to present his case for him. As Provincial Secretary he was bound to do his own explaining. He has handed that office over to Mr. E. H. Allen, the famous statesman from Shediac. It is a bungling method of escaping responsibility, and the public will scarcely approve of the novel proposal that the expenses of obtaining campaign material for the government should come out of the provincial treasury.

We have had an issue of bonds to pay interest on bonds to pay the experts? Certainly they cannot be paid out of the surplus, for there is no surplus. The borrowers are asking for another term at Fredericton. Can the province afford it?

IN YORK Even the amazing course of the local government in making Mr. E. H. Allen Provincial Secretary did not suffice to bring out a strong ticket to carry the administration's colors in York county. The opportunity of standing beside Mr. Allen as standard bearer was offered to many people of influence and experience, but they declined. At the last moment Messrs. McLellan and Goodspeed were dragged in to service. Mr. Burden is already in the House and he alone of the old ticket is willing to contest the constituency again. When he gazes long and earnestly upon Provincial Secretary Allen and his three comrades the Premier will probably decide that the ticket is a rather poor return for the gift of a portfolio to "harmonize" matters in York.

The trouble in York is the same the government has encountered in making up tickets in St. John, in Charlotte and in other constituencies. He is not the kind to gain popular candidates. The belief is abroad that the administration has run its course and that at last the public patience has been exhausted. In St. John, although the convention was postponed in order to prolong the search for standard bearers, even the influence of the Minister of Public Works was not sufficient to induce strong men to go before the people and defend the government.

In York, as in nearly every other constituency, the local government must depend upon aid from outside. Hon. Mr. Pugsley is relied upon to produce convincing reasons of one kind or another—why the people should shut their eyes and give the local government one more trial. When he has received reports from trusted sources and realizes what the situation is, even the matter of the biggest spending department at Ottawa, he will not be sufficient to induce strong men to go before the people and defend the government.

There is, however, one cheerful feature about the programme that is expected from Hon. Mr. Pugsley. To defeat the local government will not mean that Dr. Pugsley will withdraw the favor of his countenance or his patronage from the county and defend what he has done in the province. He will have a federal election year before long, and the worse the local government is beaten the more generous will be Dr. Pugsley's mood thereafter. It will be remembered, too, that the same set of promises is usually repaid by him as good for several campaigns. It is pretty clear, therefore, that the local government cannot safely depend upon Dr. Pugsley to protect it from the electors. It must work out its own salvation. Its own paid experts may speak well of it—but the people know the facts.

NOTE AND COMMENT Are the Robinson experts to tell what became of the $1,200,000 that failed to come back to the Central? Or are they not to be allowed to dig up the hideous past?

The aldermen have killed assessment reform and civic reorganization, and if their course holds out they will give the commission plan the "three months hoist."

Dr. McVeoy should ask for a government commission to report upon government convention methods. He still insists that they ran the steam roller over him and his delegates at Hampton.

The Attorney General appears to have been frozen out when the time for speech-making arrived at the government convention in Hampton Tuesday. Since he did not speak there was no excuse for his presence in Hampton. But as he must have been invited an explanation is due from somebody. Dr. W. B. McVeoy, who has been expecting a nomination in Kings, also suffered from convention frostbite. He will not be likely to give the government ticket any great degree of support. Even if he forgoes the treatment accorded him by the managers he may not be able to control his powerful following.

Thursday's debate at Ottawa was lively. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's opinion of the Department of the Interior, which the House will evidently insist upon hearing, should be interesting for many reasons. The Premier will shut off investigation or throw the door open.

We feel sure that the course of Bishop Richardson in selecting Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond as Archdeacon of St. John—the district including this county, Kings and Queens—will meet with very warm approval everywhere. A very able, modest, and useful man, of long and sterling service, Rev. Dr. Raymond will be regarded as well deserving this honor. The promotion has sought him out, and in finding him it reveals the Bishop's penetrating estimate of men and of the needs of the church.

The opposition now has candidates in the field in every constituency excepting Restigouche and Madawaska, and the Restigouche convention is to be held a few days hence. In no case has it been difficult to secure a strong ticket. The government's tickets in many cases have been secured by offering inducements of one sort or another, and even the distribution of favors a promise has not made the work easy. Mr. Allen, in York, is said to be slated for a collectorship. Mr. W. D. Carter, of Kent, will no doubt be reappointed to the Indian commissariat or receive something better. Mayor Sears expects the post office.

The expected happened at Hampton Tuesday. The government convention selected the ticket the party managers had prepared for them. But while the managers found no great difficulty with the delegates the electors of the county are yet to be heard from. A change of less than 100 votes from the figures of 1903 will give the opposition three seats in Kings. The absence of Dr. Pugsley, the retirement of Mr. King on the eve of battle, the wretched roads, and the government's generally evil record during the last five years, may all be regarded as good for a change of much more than 100 votes. The opposition, too, has an unusually strong ticket. With a reasonable amount of work throughout the county during the next few weeks there should be little difficulty in placing Kings in the opposition column.

TIMBER LIMIT SCANDAL CONTINUED IN HOUSE (Continued from page 1.) It was 12:20 o'clock when Mr. Foster rose to speak. He said that the house would not be satisfied until they heard from the premier. Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised the country to give honest government and they wanted to know what he had to say on the matter under discussion. There were four beneficiaries of the government in the house. The first minister appointed an insurance commissioner and the minister of justice had members like sleuth hounds following members of parliament on the Conservative side who had bought lands from a railway company, and indicated that they were guilty of a violation of the independence of parliament act. These members did not buy lands from the government. But in the case before the house four members were beneficiaries of the government. He asked what right Mr. Turiff had to ask for charges being made against him and in that way stand upon his dignity as a member of the house. He was no member when he was an officer of the department of the interior. What right had he to ask for a commission. The evidence before the house showed that all along the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, which was the child of the premier's timber limits were located. Why would not Turiff, Adamson and Burrows support the government? Great heavens, they would have no gratitude if they did not.

Whatever he (Foster) thought of Turiff before, he thought less of him since he appeared in the house. He said that he would not hesitate to help a political friend when he had all the power to do so, as Mr. Turiff had when he was the sole arbitrator of tenders in a closed room in the interior department.

The minister of the interior said he had made no changes in the regulations. But what were the facts? He (Foster) made that regulation which took away from Mr. Riley the opening of tenders and handed it over to Turiff.

Mr. Foster went on the western grazing lands and other scandals, and accused Turiff and his brother-in-law and Sifton's brother-in-law, of being identified with one or other of these. Then, said Mr. Foster, there was the Blairtown site. As to the Cedar Lake, Turiff gave the mechanical marks which gave Fraser the limit. Not only that Turiff did this, but he gave twenty square miles additional without competition to Fraser.

Mr. Foster asked if the premier was going to throw himself in the way to prevent an investigation. The opposition declared that there was malpractice. The Conservatives had a half interest. And the premier was compelled to do this by outside public opinion. The minister of the interior said he would not do this. Was this going to continue? The people of Canada were aroused. There will be an investigation into that department as sure as God is heaven.

If the lid were kept down the premier would be supported in the house, but the time would come when it would be opened. What would be the result if the lid were opened? It would be concluded by pressing for the appointment of a committee.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 6.—The services of enthronement of Bishop Richardson and installation in the cathedral today were of great interest, not only to the people of Fredericton but to members of the Church throughout the province. The congregation assembled was a large and representative one. For the accommodation of those who came from St. John a special train left the city at 8 a. m. and, by the kindness of the C. P. R., the passengers were carried to the cathedral grounds in Fredericton.

About thirty-five clergymen in their robes were present at the service. Led by the surpliced choir, the service consisted of singing the hymn, "The God of Abraham praise." After a brief introductory service, the senior archdeacon, Rev. David Forsyth, by virtue of the mandate of the Most Rev. Arthur Sweetman, D. D., metropolitan of the Church of England in the ecclesiastical province of Canada, conducted the service of enthronement and Bishop Mills, of Kingston (Ont.), pronounced the blessing:

"God, whose grace hath called thee to this office, be thine aid and give thee thy heart's desire; endue thee with judgment, knowledge, charity, purity, lowliness and patience; establish thee in righteousness and holiness, and evermore grant thee His peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

The Te Deum was then sung with great heartiness by the choir and congregation. Bishop Richardson then proceeded to install the Rev. Charles DeVeber Schofield, Dean of the cathedral and read the letter of institution to which the dean-elect made reply as follows:

"I receive at your hands, as my bishop, the office and dignity of dean of this cathedral now conferred upon me and I on my part do promise, with God's help, faithfully to discharge the duties which shall be committed to me; in the name of the Father, and the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Rev. Dr. Raymond Archdeacon. After the impressive ceremony of installation and induction of the new dean had been completed, the archdeacon was duly installed. General surprise and pleasure were manifested when Bishop Richardson, who had previously installed Rev. D. Forsyth as archdeacon of Chatham and Rev. O. S. Newham as archdeacon of Fredericton, led the Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond, of St. John to the seat assigned to the archdeacon of St. John.

The archdeacon of Chatham includes the counties of Restigouche, Gloucester, Kent, Westmorland and Albert with some twenty clergymen. The archdeaconry of Fredericton includes the counties of Madawaska, Victoria, Carleton, York, Sunbury and Charlotte with about twenty-five clergymen. The archdeaconry of St. John includes the counties of Queens, Kings and St. John, with about thirty clergymen. Hitherto there had been but two archdeaconries and the subdivision of the larger one and the appointment of Rev. Dr. Raymond as an archdeacon is heartily approved.

The canons of the cathedral, Rev. Messrs. H. Montgomery, J. R. deW. Cowie, L. A. Hoyt and C. P. Hanington were reappointed and duly installed.

The sermon by Bishop Mills was an exceedingly able presentation of the great central truth of the Christian faith—the incarnation of Jesus Christ, with a brief reference to the event of the day. "The Bishop of Fredericton today enthroned in this cathedral church," he said, "is already enthroned in your affections. Let him have your sympathy and your support and above all a place in your prayers."

Concluding, the preacher expressed his hearty congratulations upon the auspicious beginning of the work undertaken by Bishop Richardson and said that he anticipated great things of his episcopate.

Among the clergymen present were: Ven. Archdeacon Forsyth, Chatham; Ven. Archdeacon Newham, St. Stephen; Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, St. John; Canon Montgomery, Kingsclear; Canon Hoyt, St. John; Canon Cowie, Fredericton; Canon Hanington, St. John; Rev. G. A. Kahring, St. John; Rev. G. F. Scovil, St. John; Rev. H. A. Murray, Stanley; Rev. H. H. Gilles, Jemseg; Rev. C. W. Nichols, St. Mary's; Rev. R. A. Armstrong, St. John; Rev. R. W. Colten, Welsford; Rev. H. E. Whalley, Hampton; Rev. R. P. McKim, St. John; Rev. T. W. Street, Fredericton; Rev. Daniel Rothsay; Rev. Richard Bolt, McAdam; Rev. Mr. Smith, St. John; Rev. Mr. Carson, Bathurst; Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, Bay du Vin; Rev. Mr. Cullbert, Derby; Rev. Mr. Sampson, St. John; West; Rev. H. I. Lynds, St. George; Rev. Mr. Hooper, St. John; Rev. C. H. Fullerton, Prince William; Rev. Mr. Teed, Richmond.

The new cathedral organ was heard to great advantage in the service. The organist, Johnwood Plummer, gave a recital in the afternoon for those who had come from various provincial points to the service. Those from St. John returned to the city by special train.

Rev. Charles DeVeber Schofield, dean of the cathedral, is recognized as one of the most forcible men in the church in Lower Canada and has a wide circle of friends and admirers who expect to see him fill even more important offices. He was born in St. John in 1871, the son of Geo. A. Schofield, late manager of the Bank of New Brunswick. He was educated at the St. John grammar school and went to Great Britain and spent a year at the Edinburgh Theological School, and a year at the Leeds Clergy School.

He was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Southampton in 1896, and priest in 1898 by the present Archbishop of Canterbury. Rev. Mr. Schofield served three years as one of sixteen curates under the present Archbishop of Stuyvesant, assistant bishop

Cypher's Poltry Foods.

Oyster Shells, Crystal Grit, Mann's Green Bone Cutters.

Write for catalogue and prices to W. H. THORNE & CO., Ltd. Market Square, St. John, N. B.

BISHOP RICHARDSON ENTHRONED WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Many Clergymen Gather in Fredericton—Able Sermon by Bishop of Kingston—Rev. Dr. Raymond is Made Archdeacon of St. John—Dean Schofield Installed.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 6.—The services of enthronement of Bishop Richardson and installation in the cathedral today were of great interest, not only to the people of Fredericton but to members of the Church throughout the province. The congregation assembled was a large and representative one. For the accommodation of those who came from St. John a special train left the city at 8 a. m. and, by the kindness of the C. P. R., the passengers were carried to the cathedral grounds in Fredericton.

About thirty-five clergymen in their robes were present at the service. Led by the surpliced choir, the service consisted of singing the hymn, "The God of Abraham praise." After a brief introductory service, the senior archdeacon, Rev. David Forsyth, by virtue of the mandate of the Most Rev. Arthur Sweetman, D. D., metropolitan of the Church of England in the ecclesiastical province of Canada, conducted the service of enthronement and Bishop Mills, of Kingston (Ont.), pronounced the blessing:

"God, whose grace hath called thee to this office, be thine aid and give thee thy heart's desire; endue thee with judgment, knowledge, charity, purity, lowliness and patience; establish thee in righteousness and holiness, and evermore grant thee His peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

The Te Deum was then sung with great heartiness by the choir and congregation. Bishop Richardson then proceeded to install the Rev. Charles DeVeber Schofield, Dean of the cathedral and read the letter of institution to which the dean-elect made reply as follows:

"I receive at your hands, as my bishop, the office and dignity of dean of this cathedral now conferred upon me and I on my part do promise, with God's help, faithfully to discharge the duties which shall be committed to me; in the name of the Father, and the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Rev. Dr. Raymond Archdeacon. After the impressive ceremony of installation and induction of the new dean had been completed, the archdeacon was duly installed. General surprise and pleasure were manifested when Bishop Richardson, who had previously installed Rev. D. Forsyth as archdeacon of Chatham and Rev. O. S. Newham as archdeacon of Fredericton, led the Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond, of St. John to the seat assigned to the archdeacon of St. John.

The archdeacon of Chatham includes the counties of Restigouche, Gloucester, Kent, Westmorland and Albert with some twenty clergymen. The archdeaconry of Fredericton includes the counties of Madawaska, Victoria, Carleton, York, Sunbury and Charlotte with about twenty-five clergymen. The archdeaconry of St. John includes the counties of Queens, Kings and St. John, with about thirty clergymen. Hitherto there had been but two archdeaconries and the subdivision of the larger one and the appointment of Rev. Dr. Raymond as an archdeacon is heartily approved.

The canons of the cathedral, Rev. Messrs. H. Montgomery, J. R. deW. Cowie, L. A. Hoyt and C. P. Hanington were reappointed and duly installed.

The sermon by Bishop Mills was an exceedingly able presentation of the great central truth of the Christian faith—the incarnation of Jesus Christ, with a brief reference to the event of the day. "The Bishop of Fredericton today enthroned in this cathedral church," he said, "is already enthroned in your affections. Let him have your sympathy and your support and above all a place in your prayers."

Concluding, the preacher expressed his hearty congratulations upon the auspicious beginning of the work undertaken by Bishop Richardson and said that he anticipated great things of his episcopate.

Among the clergymen present were: Ven. Archdeacon Forsyth, Chatham; Ven. Archdeacon Newham, St. Stephen; Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, St. John; Canon Montgomery, Kingsclear; Canon Hoyt, St. John; Canon Cowie, Fredericton; Canon Hanington, St. John; Rev. G. A. Kahring, St. John; Rev. G. F. Scovil, St. John; Rev. H. A. Murray, Stanley; Rev. H. H. Gilles, Jemseg; Rev. C. W. Nichols, St. Mary's; Rev. R. A. Armstrong, St. John; Rev. R. W. Colten, Welsford; Rev. H. E. Whalley, Hampton; Rev. R. P. McKim, St. John; Rev. T. W. Street, Fredericton; Rev. Daniel Rothsay; Rev. Richard Bolt, McAdam; Rev. Mr. Smith, St. John; Rev. Mr. Carson, Bathurst; Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, Bay du Vin; Rev. Mr. Cullbert, Derby; Rev. Mr. Sampson, St. John; West; Rev. H. I. Lynds, St. George; Rev. Mr. Hooper, St. John; Rev. C. H. Fullerton, Prince William; Rev. Mr. Teed, Richmond.

The new cathedral organ was heard to great advantage in the service. The organist, Johnwood Plummer, gave a recital in the afternoon for those who had come from various provincial points to the service. Those from St. John returned to the city by special train.

Rev. Charles DeVeber Schofield, dean of the cathedral, is recognized as one of the most forcible men in the church in Lower Canada and has a wide circle of friends and admirers who expect to see him fill even more important offices. He was born in St. John in 1871, the son of Geo. A. Schofield, late manager of the Bank of New Brunswick. He was educated at the St. John grammar school and went to Great Britain and spent a year at the Edinburgh Theological School, and a year at the Leeds Clergy School.

He was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Southampton in 1896, and priest in 1898 by the present Archbishop of Canterbury. Rev. Mr. Schofield served three years as one of sixteen curates under the present Archbishop of Stuyvesant, assistant bishop field won the good will of all among whom he worked, whether of his own or other denominations and from each place his departure was keenly regretted. While in Nova Scotia he was elected to the Pan-Canadian Congress and to the provincial and general synods. He also filled the position of domestic chaplain to His Lordship Bishop Worsell. Mrs. Schofield is a daughter of James H. McVeoy of this city.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson.

OPPOSITION CANDIDATES GREETED BY ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCES IN KINGS

Sussex, Feb. 6.—The opposition candidates are meeting with a hearty reception wherever they appear. The first gun

THE LAW OF THE LAND

By FRED M. WHITE

CHAPTER III—(Continued.)

"Oh, I beg your pardon," he said, in an absent kind of way. "Upon my word, I am so engrossed in what I am doing that I had forgotten your presence altogether. You were saying something to me about the acid, weren't you?"

"I was," Ralph replied. "I am interested in whether you could let me have a small quantity."

"What do you want it for?" Barca asked. "It occurred to me that I might make use of this stuff by bringing it into a story that I have had in my mind. You wouldn't mind—"

"I think I should," Barca responded, with his eyes still bent upon the tubes. "The story would be to something sensational, I suppose? For instance, you assume that there is a body in the ground. It is necessary to get rid of the body and also the blood stains left behind. Have I got any sort of grip on the plot of your new romance?"

"Something like that," Ralph said. He was fairly startled by Barca's words. "Can you let me have some of the stuff?"

when I was getting you the soda water, and—"

"You saw it then?" Ralph gasped. "When you were getting me the soda? And you mean to say you didn't notice at the same time... My good Joicey, I feel the most sensational coming over me again. If you will wait here for me I will get up and we will go and find the body at once."

Joicey stammered out something. He was wondering, perhaps, whence came the ghastly expression on Ralph's face. And Ralph realized the need of caution. "I wouldn't get up if I were you, sir," Joicey said. "What you want is a sleeping draught. I know nothing about it. Just stay where you are, sir, and I'll get the book."

Ralph murmured that perhaps the old man was right. Once more he passed through the old terrors and emotions. He could hear the old man in the dining room; he could see the blood on the springs as the blinds were pulled up. And yet no cry from Joicey! Perhaps it was all a dream; perhaps there had been one hundred and twenty damning minutes so much the better. If lay in his hands to precipitate matters.

"I'm very sorry to give you all this trouble," he said, "but I should like something to drink. Will you go down into the dining room and get me some soda from one of the lemon frequently being so much the better. If lay in his hands to precipitate matters."

"The thing was done now past recall. With an expression of deepest sympathy Joicey took the candle that Ralph had lighted and picked his way down the stairs. Ralph could hear him as he opened the dining room door, the blood on his face as he sat up in bed waiting for the cry of fear and horror that must break from Joicey in a moment. He could hear the click of bottles and the sound of the soda water. But never a sound from Joicey's lips.

It seemed to Ralph as if his nerves could not stand the strain longer. His heart was thumping violently; the blood rushed through his brain like a mountain torrent after a storm. As he sat there, he felt a great head of perspiration pouring down. One moment he was fiery hot, the next clammy and cold like death. He felt a desire to say something, but it was impossible to keep silent any longer.

"What is the matter, Joicey?" he called out. "Didn't I hear you about? I hope nothing is wrong."

MAKE THIS ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIONS

Prepare It at Home by Shaking Ingredients Well in a Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to most people is the fact that taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, is formulated by a noted authority, who claims that it is a positive remedy for the most distressing cases of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce; Compound Kalm, one ounce; Compound Sassafras one ounce; Shalaka in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are of a harmless, and can be obtained at any prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up and sealed to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is of the lowest in the medicinal directions with special results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney derangement, as it is a powerful action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to do their duty.

He did not dream at all, no ugly visions were disturbing his rest. It seemed as if existence itself had been blotted out so far as he was concerned. When he came to himself again, he found the blood all high in the veins and the world was full of noise and life and gaiety. He could hear a servant laughing in the corridor; down in the stables there was clattering of hoofs; a group whistled first one tune and then another with maddening persistence.

He did not dream at all, no ugly visions were disturbing his rest. It seemed as if existence itself had been blotted out so far as he was concerned. When he came to himself again, he found the blood all high in the veins and the world was full of noise and life and gaiety. He could hear a servant laughing in the corridor; down in the stables there was clattering of hoofs; a group whistled first one tune and then another with maddening persistence.

He did not dream at all, no ugly visions were disturbing his rest. It seemed as if existence itself had been blotted out so far as he was concerned. When he came to himself again, he found the blood all high in the veins and the world was full of noise and life and gaiety. He could hear a servant laughing in the corridor; down in the stables there was clattering of hoofs; a group whistled first one tune and then another with maddening persistence.

son's possession; it might even happen that End's father might open it. On the whole, when Ralph thought the matter over, he deemed it more prudent to do nothing of the kind. It would be more sensible if he wrote to Dick Charteris a few lines in a commonplace way asking if he could spare half an hour to discuss an important matter of business.

Filled with the resolution, Ralph turned and retraced his footsteps to the house. There was nobody in the library, so that Ralph was able to write his letters without interference on the part of Barca. He felt that Barca was the very last man in the world he wished to see at that moment. It was not easy to stand the scrutiny of anybody just now, but to endure the searching gaze of those dark brown eyes set Ralph trembling. Distracted and upset as he was, he did not fail to note that his hand-writing was extremely shaky and he made three copies of the letter before he was able to write the first.

When it was written, he changed his mind and deemed that it would be better to ask Dick Charteris to come to the house. He decided to himself that he would mark his own decision and sickness of purpose. He did not know what to think or what to do. He had decided to go with his first resolution. It seemed all right now. Then, for no apparent reason whatever, he resolved to wait for an hour.

He looked at his watch and he could come along. He would be quite happy in the library as long as he had some logical problems to grapple with. He was looking at the clock when he heard a knock. It was the door of a library and an interesting volume.

Ralph staggered back into the dining room to find that Barca was scribbling a note to come and see him. He was angry to himself as he marked his own decision and sickness of purpose. He did not know what to think or what to do. He had decided to go with his first resolution. It seemed all right now. Then, for no apparent reason whatever, he resolved to wait for an hour.

He looked at his watch and he could come along. He would be quite happy in the library as long as he had some logical problems to grapple with. He was looking at the clock when he heard a knock. It was the door of a library and an interesting volume.

Ralph staggered back into the dining room to find that Barca was scribbling a note to come and see him. He was angry to himself as he marked his own decision and sickness of purpose. He did not know what to think or what to do. He had decided to go with his first resolution. It seemed all right now. Then, for no apparent reason whatever, he resolved to wait for an hour.

He looked at his watch and he could come along. He would be quite happy in the library as long as he had some logical problems to grapple with. He was looking at the clock when he heard a knock. It was the door of a library and an interesting volume.

GREAT MEETING AT SACKVILLE BEAT HIS AGED MOTHER TO DEATH

Crowded House Listens to Telling Speeches of Morrissey and Flemming

Sackville, Feb. 5.—The opposition meeting held here tonight was a magnificent demonstration. The Music Hall was filled to overflowing, and the meeting was considered to be the greatest ever held by any political party here. A large number of people stood throughout the proceedings.

Minister for Northumberland Declares Crown Lands Returns Are Much Less Than Cut Indicates—Opposition Financial Critic Ridicules Need of An Expert Accountant.

Sackville, Feb. 5.—The opposition meeting held here tonight was a magnificent demonstration. The Music Hall was filled to overflowing, and the meeting was considered to be the greatest ever held by any political party here. A large number of people stood throughout the proceedings.

BOUND TO HAVE MR. LONG AS A DELEGATE

Lower Millstream Man Put on Government List Despite His Protests.

Apoahqui, Feb. 5.—The Sun this morning states that among the delegates at Hampton on Tuesday was Edward Long, a highly respected and well-to-do farmer, and is very indignant that he should have been represented as a supporter of the provincial government. Mr. Long desired to state in the most emphatic terms that he was not at Hampton as a delegate to the government convention. He was there on business connected with the registry office and, having some time to spend between times, he went into the court house.

C. N. VROOM'S THREAT ALARMS GOVERNMENT

Mr. Vroom Get One of Their Candidates to Retire and Give Him Place on Ticket.

St. Stephen, N. B., Feb. 5.—Though there has been some talk of it, there seems to be no serious possibility of Mr. Vroom's retirement as an independent candidate. His supporters who failed to get to the government party convention are quite sure that they will get a place on the ticket, and it is possible a place may yet be made for him by the withdrawal of one of the other candidates. It is believed that Andrew McEwen will not accept the nomination, and those who think the ticket would be stronger with two men from the upper end of the county may have been influenced by the change, but this would probably involve another meeting of the convention, which has not yet been called.

Fairville Presbyterian Church.

The annual meeting of Fairville Presbyterian church was held Wednesday, Jan. 29. Mr. Gale was chairman and John Macfarland secretary. Dr. Macfarland, as chairman of the board of managers, read the annual report, showing receipts of $724.33 and expenditures of $725.29. On the whole the year was good. The debt was much smaller than in the previous twelve months. Satisfactory reports were received from the girls' mission band, the boys' guild, the ladies' aid society and the women's missionary society. The following were elected trustees: Campbell, Wm. D. Macfarland, Daniel Campbell, Wm. Stinson and John Macfarland.

Are You Subject to Lumbago?

To watch an attack coming on makes think lumbago is mischievous. The surest and speediest relief is found in Nerville which should be thorough rubbed on the back, sides and shoulders. Lots of Nerville and plenty of exercise and a good diet will cure it. Nerville Porous Plaster should be applied to relieve all strains and latent inflammation from the muscles of the sore back. This will absorb all the deterring secretion through the relaxed pores and effect a certain and lasting cure. Every nurse and physician who has tried Nerville Lumbago, Rheumatism and all aches, pains and stiffness in the muscles.

CHAPTER IV.

CHAPTER IV. "And that way Madness Lies." Barca appeared to take no heed. As to Ralph, he could only stand there looking at the man who had been so kind to see those red stains break out once more and help make his crime known to all the world. He tried to think that it was all a dream; that he was the victim of some terrible hallucination. He had heard of such things before; they had happened to high-strung individuals cursed with the artistic temperament. But the vision had been too real for that.

McVEY'S FRIENDS SAY "MACHINE"

Hampton Convention Damned in All the Moods and Tenses by Physician and His Followers

HIS BOOM-KNIFED

Dr. Pugsley's Lieutenant Said to Have Received the Double Cross Favor of Wetmore—The Doctor's Idea is That He Was the Victim of Superior Strategy.

Dr. W. B. McVey, who was a candidate for a place on the government ticket in Kings county yesterday, describes the proceedings at Hampton as a triumph of machine manipulation. In discussing the matter last night he authorized the following statement: "Dr. William B. McVey's friends are highly incensed at the machine ticket forced upon the voters of Kings by the local government at Hampton. Never in the history of Kings county was such a barefaced procedure indulged in at nomination. The Moncton Transcript a week ago published the names of the Robinson standard bearers—before the public convention met. The people of Kings county must be selected. Dr. McVey was approached early and informed that the ticket was all arranged. The doctor was naturally surprised and wanted to know by whom, as he and his friends thought that this was the duty of the delegates at the public convention; and later he was requested to go to the convention hall as the delegates wished to see him and arrange. What transpired may be imagined, as he let out right from the shoulder. The formality was gone through. The report was passed to the convention—McAllister, Scovill and Wetmore, whose names appeared in the Moncton Transcript a week ago as the men of the machine ticket, were nominated. Speeches were indulged in by the machine ticket and others. The machine has done its work. But the electors will now have their say.

"My friends Dr. McVey asserted that before the delegates met he was approached by a machine leader who told him the names of Wetmore and Gilbert alone were to be voted upon, that one of these would be the third man on the ticket, and that the vote would be cast three to eight in favor of Wetmore. This vote apparently represented the lower end of the county only. Dr. McVey said he could not understand how the delegates could meet at dinner time when the delegates did not meet until afternoon. When the delegates met some one nominated Dr. McVey, and he was elected, and the matter was not going to run. This was disputed and Dr. McVey was summoned to speak for himself. He asked why other candidates were not summoned and warned all present that he would not be ruled by a packed convention. He said later that a more indignant lot of people than many of the delegates could not be found. Some of them, he asserted, said the machine leaders might as well have let the delegates remain at home and notified them by mail as to the candidates they were to vote for. Dr. McVey added that day of reckoning was coming. His friends will not work for the ticket, and although Dr. McVey has not bolted the party it is clear that his following will not go into the fight in earnest. He has been campaigning for several weeks, and it is said that he has an organization extending to thirteen parishes. His idea is that he would have received a big vote in the convention had not the delegates been replaced in some cases by substitutes and in others deceived as to his position. Dr. McVey could not confirm the report that he is going to run as an independent, but no doubt many will urge him to do so.

PERSONALS

Alexander Dick, who resigned as general sales agent of the Dominion Coal Company, will remain with the company. Captain Weston and Arnold E. Dickie went to the Gagetown races at the funeral of Mr. Dickie's father, John W. Dickie. A. W. Gardner, of Yarmouth, was registered at the Dufferin Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. C. Curry, of Amherst, were at the Royal Tuesday. H. M. Balkam, of Moncton, was registered at the Victoria Wednesday. Chief Justice White will take up his residence in St. John. J. S. Scott, of Fredericton, was registered at the Victoria Wednesday. John Kilburn, the Fredericton lumberman, was in the city Wednesday. William G. Pugsley, son of Hon. Dr. Pugsley, has joined the law firm of Smith, Markey & Skinner, Montreal. Mrs. Harrington, of Dorchester, is visiting Mrs. M. G. Teed, 119 Hazen street, Harbor Master Ferris, who has been confined to his home with sickness for some time, is reported somewhat improved. Miss Ada Boyer, of Woodstock, is visiting Mrs. Fred Miles, Douglas avenue. C. P. Harrington, of Norton, was registered at the Dufferin Wednesday. J. D. Irving, of Buctouche, was registered at the Royal Wednesday. Rev. H. I. Lynde, of St. George, and Rev. C. P. Harrington, of Hampton, were in the city Thursday on their way home from Fredericton. B. F. Black, president of the Sackville Board of Trade, who is on the opposite side of the coin in Westmorland, was at the Royal Thursday. R. O'Leary, of Richibucto, was in the city Thursday and returned home.

FREE

Send in your name and address to the publisher of this paper, and you will receive a copy of the "FREE" book, which is a valuable work on the subject of the "FREE" trade. The book is published by the "FREE" trade association, and is available to all who send in their names. The book is a valuable work on the subject of the "FREE" trade, and is available to all who send in their names. The book is published by the "FREE" trade association, and is available to all who send in their names.

DIG SCHOONER IN AFTER HARD TIME

Helen Montague Battered About in Awful Gale Saturday and Sunday

ICE STEM TO STERN

Part of Deckload Carried Away, Boat Lost, Water Casks Broken by Loose Deals Tossed Around the Deck—Bound to New York from Halifax.

The Boston three-masted schooner Helen Montague, Captain Ingalls, was towed into this port by the tug William H. Murray at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and was docked at the Corporation pier, after a fearful time in the big gale. The schooner is a tight, well-covered vessel with iron stem to stern, and her deck load shifted. Captain Ingalls tells the following story: "We left Halifax on Jan. 25 with a cargo of lumber bound to New York. We passed off Seal Island last Saturday afternoon, and soon after it commenced to blow from the northeast, shifting to northwest. Before night it was blowing a gale with snow. "We had to take all sail off the vessel, the heavy seas washed clear over the breaking the stanchions which held the deckload and part of the deckload was carried away, and as the deals were tossed about the deck by the sea it made dangerous work for the crew. The boat was also carried away from the davit and was lost. It was lucky we had plenty of ice room off Seal Island, otherwise we could never have lived to tell this story. "On Sunday the weather turned bitterly cold and the sea was running high. The vessel began to make ice with each wave as it swept over the schooner. The loose deckload also broke the water casks and the seven men of the crew were without water. Being off the mouth of the Bay Fundy on Monday when it was still bitterly cold I decided that St. John harbor would be the safest to make. We arrived off Partridge Island yesterday and signalled for a tug. "It was the worst storm I ever experienced," said Captain Ingalls, "and the crew worked like Trojans to save themselves and the vessel. None of the crew were frost bitten, and I have seen some heavy storms but that one was something awful." The vessel is now at the Corporation pier where her deckload will be straightened out and a new supply of water taken on board, after which she will sail for her port of destination, New York.

SCHOONER ANNIE BLANCHE HIGH AND DRY ON BEACH

A telephone message was received from Apple River Wednesday to the effect that the schooner Annie Blanche is ashore there. The schooner, which left St. John for Wolfville with a cargo of feed, anchored Saturday night under the Apple River light. During the storm one of the anchor chains broke and the schooner was lost. The vessel spent the night in the bay, but on Sunday night the tide was very high and the schooner was compelled to head for the beach. The Annie Blanche was left high and dry on the shore, and suffered no damage. The schooner's cargo was saved by R. E. Harris & Son, of Wolfville, and it is understood both are insured. A representative of the firm is expected at Apple River today to look over the situation.

FREDERICTON NEWS

Fredericton, Feb. 6.—(Special)—The Royal Gazette, which was issued today, contains the appointment of John B. Goggin, of Kent county, as sheriff in place of Auguste Legere, resigned to contest Kent for the local house in the coming election. Chief Justice Barker and Justice A. S. White were sworn into office this afternoon at the supreme court, Clerk of the Court, T. A. Allen, reading the oath and Justice Hanington administering the same. Mr. Teed, on behalf of the Barristers' Society, presented congratulations to the new judges. The funeral of the late Timothy Lynch, which took place this morning from his late residence in Regent street, was largely attended, and was indicative of the high esteem in which he was held by all with whom he came in contact, and especially in this city, where he had made his home for many years past. As a mark of their appreciation of deceased and of the high esteem in which he was held, many friends of the late Mr. Lynch sent beautiful floral pieces, which were placed upon the casket. The pall-bearers were J. H. Barry, K. G.; ex-Ald. Patrick Farrell, W. T. Woodcock, M. P., and James S. Neil, this city, and Hon. J. P. Burchill, Hon. Allan Ritchie, Sheriff O'Brien, of Miramichi, and Justice Landry, of Dorchester. The mourners included Leo and Thomas Lynch, sons of deceased; Michael Bohan, St. John, and John Bohan, Bath; Dr. W. T. Ryan and M. Bohan, Bath; J. D. McMillan, Buctouche, and William Dolan, Nelson; Robert Lingley, Miramichi, and Fred. Duffy, Buctouche; William Love and John Love, Glasville; J. J. McGuire, St. John, and Dr. W. C. Crockett. Interment was made at the Hermitage. At St. Dunstan's church solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. F. L. Carney, with Father Murdoch, of Renous River, and Father Ryan, of St. Marys, as deacon and sub-deacon. Father Carney in a sermon paid a high tribute to the deceased and extended sympathy to his family.

Great Damage on Grand Manan.

Capt. Ingersoll, of the steamer Aurora, speaking of the work of the storm at North Head, Grand Manan, says great damage was done. All the wharves, with the exception of the steamboat wharf, fish houses and fishing gear were destroyed. J. S. Watie's smoke house was tipped over. The "old wooden part" of the breaker was also carried away. Swallowtail light-house withstood the gale, but the tramway was washed away. Speaking of the damage sustained on Grand Manan, he says the destruction of no fish can be handled there now. The individual loss is very heavy, as some of the fishermen set all their gear. He thinks the total loss will reach $100,000. He gives J. E. F. mate of the Aurora, saving the steamer from disaster.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Margaret Mayall. The death of Mrs. Margaret Mayall, wife of Charles W. Mayall, proprietor of the Coronation House, Lonsdale road, took place Tuesday after a brief illness of paralysis. She was 60 years of age and a daughter of the late James Seymour, of Hartingville. Besides her husband she leaves one son, A. W. Mayall, of Cambridge, and four daughters, Fannie, wife of E. W. Chase, 77 Celebration street; Edith, wife of W. W. Mitchell, London, and Misses Margaret and Frances, at home. Many will be grieved to hear of her death.

George Moore.

The death of George Moore, a well known resident of Manawagonish Road, occurred Monday night. He was 73 years of age and had been ill for some months. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Jane Morrison, five sons and three daughters. The sons are George, of West St. John; Thomas, of this city; James and William, of Boston, and Frederick at home. The daughters are Mrs. Bruce Wright, Mrs. John McManis and Mrs. Benjamin Good, all residing on Manawagonish Road. He also leaves two brothers: William, in Boston, and Thomas, in West St. John.

Dr. Emmerson McDonald.

Rev. A. B. McDonald, of McDonald's Corner (N. B.), on Monday received word of the death of Dr. Emmerson McDonald, of his son, Dr. Emmerson McDonald, who died at his residence in Chicago about fifteen years ago after graduating from medical school and after practicing there for some time. He was 40 years of age. His wife survives.

John Lee.

John Lee, a young son of the late Hon. Thomas C. Lee, a member of the legislative council of this province, died suddenly Monday at Clifton, where he had lived for the last few years. He attended the funeral of Dr. Flewelling on Monday afternoon but, during the service was taken suddenly ill and expired almost immediately. He was about 78 years of age and was born at Springhill, York county. His mother was a daughter of the late Attorney General Peters. Mr. Lee lived in St. John many years ago and was in the employ of Thorne & Lee, and from here removed to Clifton. He took an active interest in church work and was warden in the parish church. He married a daughter of the late Robert Wetmore, of Gagetown. She died some years ago and their family was scattered. One daughter, Miss Minnie Lee, lived at home with her father. A sister is Mrs. Scovill, widow of W. E. Scovill, of Kingsford, now living in Redwood.

Miss Ellen Murray.

Miss Ellen Murray, sister of the late Miss Frances Murray, of St. John, died recently on the Sea Island of South Carolina, where she had spent forty years in the work of educating the victims of slavery.

Barry King.

Sussex, N. B., Feb. 4.—Barry King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. King, of Smith Cove, at St. Anne de Bellevue, died this afternoon at the residence of his father, Mr. and Mrs. King, who received a telegram yesterday afternoon stating that his son was dangerously ill, and arrived there at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, and died at 2 o'clock from his father's residence, Smith Cove.

Death of Mrs. Frank Lodge.

After a month's illness from consumption Mrs. Kate Lodge, wife of Frank Lodge, died at her home at Sparrow Cove, where burial will take place.

D. G. MacLaughlin.

Bathurst, N. B., Feb. 5.—The death of D. G. MacLaughlin, one of the best known residents of Bathurst, occurred yesterday at the Robertson House here, of cancer of the throat. Deceased was in his 60th year, was born at Fredericton, and came to Bathurst many years ago, where he has practised law and was one of the oldest barristers in the province. He was a member of the St. John district, and a coroner for Gloucester county. He is survived by three sons, John F., Gustavus and Harry, all of Boston.

Mrs. T. J. Elliott.

Kate Bolton Elliott, wife of T. J. Elliott, aged forty-seven years, died in Vancouver on Jan. 22. The deceased was born in New Brunswick, had resided for many years in Ashcroft (B. C.) beside her husband she leaves one son.

Wm. Griffiths.

The death of William Griffiths, an engineer in the street department, occurred suddenly Thursday at his home of his daughter, Mrs. S. A. Morris, 233 Main street. Mr. Griffiths had been ill a short time and it was not thought his condition was serious until he took a turn for the worse on Thursday afternoon. Heart trouble is said to be the cause of death. Mr. Griffiths was seventy-two years of age, and was a very well known about the city and was highly regarded by all. He served as an engineer in No. 1 Wellington company of the fire department for sixteen years, leaving there a few years ago to assume the position of engineer of the city street car. He is survived by three sons, all residing in Boston, and by three daughters—Mrs. S. A. Morrill, Main street; Mrs. Alfred Morrill, Bellevue, and Mrs. Seely, residing somewhere up north.

A. D. Vanwart.

Woodstock, N. B., Feb. 6.—(Special)—The death took place rather suddenly on Tuesday of A. D. Vanwart, son of the late George Vanwart, of Bedell, Deceased, who was ill for a few weeks from typhoid pneumonia, was forty-six years old and well known throughout the county. The funeral, which was held from the residence of Robert Bull this afternoon, was largely attended. The mourners included Rev. A. H. Kearney, conducting the religious services. Cyrus and George Francis Vanwart are brothers and Mrs. J. W. Montgomery and Mrs. Robert Bull are sisters of deceased.

James H. McGuire.

James H. McGuire, baker, of 499 Main street, died Thursday night after an illness extending over some time. About a year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and never recovered. He was a native of Golden Grove, but had lived in the city for a long time. Mr. McGuire, who was sixty-three years of age, is survived by his wife and two sons—Harry at home, and Walter in the West Indies. There are also two brothers—Edward of Boston, and Stephen of Golden Grove, and one sister, Mrs. Brennan, of Fairville.

LOCAL NEWS

The Fairville fire company turned out yesterday for a slight fire in Geo. Irvine's barn. An overhauled lamp was the cause.

The board of governors of the Home for Incurables has accepted the resignation of the matron, Miss Mason, to take effect on March 4.

Copies of a petition asking that the Star Line be again given the carriage of the mails on the St. John river have been placed in the post office along the river.

Rev. W. H. Johnson, a young English clergyman who recently arrived from the old country, has been invited to accept the pastorate of the United Baptist church at Hasloek.

Calvin Austin and Governor Cobb, of Maine, have been appointed receivers of the Eastern S. S. Company. It is understood all the obligations of the line will be fully met, probably within the next month. The service will be continued as usual.

James Steen, of 34 Chapel street, an employe of Joseph A. Lively & Sons, met with a painful injury yesterday when a timber rolled down on him, pinning his foot beneath it and crushing it badly. Dr. C. M. Pratt attended him. The foot was badly lacerated and the line will be fully met, probably within the next month. The service will be continued as usual.

Mrs. Nelson A. Parlee was given quite a surprise Tuesday evening at her son's residence, 306 Princess street, when she was spending the day. A number of her friends called in the evening, it being her birthday. A pleasant time was spent in games and music, after supper C. W. Taylor on behalf of those present presented to her a signet ring and a handsome umbrella.

Mrs. Flora MacDonald Denison, vice-president and official organizer of the St. John Y. W. C. A., was in the city on Wednesday en route to Truro, is here in the interests of the association and efforts will be made to re-organize the women's societies in the cities and towns she will visit. In the course of a few days she will return to St. John and will lecture here.

The case of Dickson vs. Dickson, in which Captain W. R. Dickson sought to recover $80 which was loaned by him to his brother, Captain George Dickson, was concluded in the civil court Thursday. The plaintiff, who was the plaintiff, the matter had been before the court on several occasions. A witness gave evidence Thursday of seeing money between the brothers in the defendant's possession at a time when the defence alleged George Dickson was in Boston.

Weddings.

Blakey-Teahan. A quiet wedding took place at 41 Douglas avenue, Halifax, when Miss Mary Blakey was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Teahan, of Albert county. Rev. David Hutchinson, of the Main street Baptist church, officiated. The bride was attended and only the immediate friends of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Blakey will reside here.

A very pretty wedding took place Monday evening in Holy Trinity church, when Florence M. Hurley was united in marriage to Jos. Henry McDonald. The bride was charmingly attired in white silk, with white picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and roses. She was attended by Kathleen Hurley, who looked pretty in blue crepe de chine, carrying a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Stephen Hurley.

The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch, and to the bridesmaid a ring set with pearls and rubies. After the ceremony the party drove to the home of the bride, where a repast was partaken of.

McCann-Morris.

A quiet wedding was celebrated Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Holy Trinity church, when Rev. Father Walsh officiated. The bride was Miss Jessie Morris, daughter of the late Hugh Morris, of Magazine street. The bride was attended by Miss Bourke, while Thomas Ryan supported the groom. A reception followed at the bride's home, Magazine street. Mr. and Mrs. McCann will reside in the city.

Gregg-Frodsham.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Waterloo street Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Gertrude Frodsham, daughter of John Frodsham, of the Royal hotel, became the wife of Silas B. Gregg, assistant superintendent of the London life insurance company. The groom was supported by John Frodsham, and the bride by Miss Eva Frodsham, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Charles N. Gregg, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. As the bride entered the church the choir, of which the bride is a popular member, sang The Voice That Breathed Over Eden. After the ceremony the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Boston. They will return they will reside in this city.

Bambrick-Roberts.

In the Church of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, Vancouver, on Jan. 20, Miss Harriet L. Roberts and Thomas Bambrick, of Comox, Vancouver Island, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Le Chevre. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, of Red Rapids, New Brunswick.

ALMOST 100 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Louis Hampton Passed Away in Carleton. Within two months of attending a century of life, Mrs. Hampton, widow of George Hampton, died on Wednesday at the residence of George Hampton, 103 Water street, Carleton. She had been ill for a long time. Mrs. Hampton was a well known resident of Carleton and was the mother of the late Joseph Hampton. She is survived by one daughter and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

WM. BOONE'S BODY BROUGHT TO SURFACE

Found Off No. 2 Berth, Sand Point—Inquest Held—Jury Recommend Sand on Gangways.

The body of William Boone was found Wednesday afternoon about 3.30 at Sand Point by Glendon Cobham and Samuel Ferguson. A number of searching parties started out in boats with grapnels about 1 o'clock, among them the two mentioned. While they were grappling off No. 2 berth their grapnels became entangled in something and after a hard haul they raised the body to the surface and it was towed to the wharf.

Coroner F. L. Kenney gave permission for removal to No. 3 shed. When the boat arrived at the wharf about 600 people were there.

Coroner Kenney held an inquest with the following jurymen: James Carleton, William Perry, William J. Kenney, George Clark, James Pollock, James McLennan and Arch. Wilton.

Fred Worden, a "longshoreman," said he was working with Boone last Friday night on the C. P. R. steamer Lake Erie. A truck was left in the middle of a gangway and Boone asked one of the men to remove it, but before any one had time to do so Boone ran out and took hold of the truck handles. His feet slipped on the icy gangway and he fell backwards overboard. They ran to his assistance but he never rose.

John Coughlan, "longshoreman," said that he came up out of No. 3 hold and was standing when he saw Boone stop down and fall backwards over the gangway. Glendon Cobham told of recovering the body.

DEAD IN BASEMENT WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Abram Long Stricken While Sawing Wood—Relatives Sought Him for Hours.

Death came in a very tragic manner Wednesday to Abram Long, of 38 Victoria street. His dead body was found in the cellar of his house about 5 o'clock in the afternoon by his son-in-law, H. W. Taylor. The last time he was seen alive was when he went to the basement about 11 o'clock in the forenoon to saw wood. At that time he was well and did not appear for his meal, his wife came to the conclusion that he had left the house unobserved. Search was instituted at once, but he was not to be found. The search was continued until 6 o'clock when his wife became more and more uneasy. The services of Mr. Parlee were secured and he joined in the search, but it was not till 8 o'clock when he was seen in his office. He returned apparently greatly benefited. About two months ago, however, he again took sick and he grew so seriously ill that his death was looked for almost any time. Under the care of Dr. Murray McLaren, however, he gained quite rapidly and it had been hoped that it would not be many days before he would be seen in his office. At 6 o'clock Thursday night, however, he did not appear to be as well and Dr. McLaren was with him for a time. He appeared to gain in strength but about 11:30 the patient again grew worse and the doctor was once more summoned to his bedside. This time he stayed an hour and again left, the judge being much better. Half an hour later the end unexpectedly came.

MANY BORDER LIQUOR SMUGGLERS SENTENCED

Portland, Me., Feb. 6.—In the United States District Court today the following persons, indicted for the smuggling of liquor, appeared before Judge Hale: Henry Sylvester, Fort Fairfield, and Samuel Sylvester, of Houlton; each pleaded guilty and each fined $25 and in default of payment were committed to thirty days jail. George Lavoil, Fort Fairfield, Sankt Stuart and Beverly Cornelius, of Houlton, and Duncan Finmore, of Bridgewater, were each fined $25. All of these cases were for the smuggling of small quantities of liquor.

GRAY, THE CARLETON COUNTY FIEND, THOUGHT TO BE IN MAINE

Woodstock, Feb. 6.—Richard Gray accused of a heinous offence and probably murder in Roylton, this county, has not yet been arrested. Sheriff Hayward telephoned to the deputy sheriff at Bancroft, Maine, in connection with the matter and received a reply that a man answering the description has been there and every effort would be made to have him arrested.

DF. J. Collis Browne's

COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, DIARRHÆA, DYSENTERY, AND CHOLERA. Convincing Medical Testimony accompanies each Bottle.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

DF. J. Collis Browne's

Wholesale Agents

SPECIAL VALUE

Men's Heavy Reefers with Storm Collars, regular $4.50 value.

For $3.39

UNION CLOTHING COMPANY

26-28 Charlotte Street, opp. City Market

ALEX. CORBET, Manager

INSANE MONCTON WOMAN KILLS ONE CHILD AND ATTEMPTS THE LIFE OF ANOTHER ON

Moncton, N. B., Feb. 4.—(Special)—While suffering from insanity Mrs. Thomas V. Doucett, of Lower Robinson street, about half past four o'clock this morning took the life of one of her little children and was in the act of taking another from the house to kill it, when she was discovered by members of her family.

The family consists of the father and mother, and eight children. Mr. Doucett, who is employed on the I. C. R. on a steamer, has been laid up in the house with a broken rib for some time. His wife, it appears, became violently insane during the night and arising about half past four without disturbing her husband took her two-year-old child from the cradle, carried it out the back door and inflicted injuries upon it which resulted in death a few minutes later. The crazed woman, leaving her infant for dead, entered the house again and going up stairs where the second youngest child, three years old, was sleeping in a cradle was in the act of taking it from the room when her daughter, Eliza, aged 18 years, awoke and gave the alarm.

Mrs. Doucett called to her brother William, aged 17, and aroused her father. Doucett, although suffering from a fractured rib, hastily arose and undertook to subdue his insane wife. The three-year-old child she had taken from the cradle in the room of her eldest daughter, was taken from her and she was overpowered. Doucett dispatched his son, William, for a policeman, and Officer McKim hurried to the Doucett home.

After being confined in the insane woman, the officer made search for the missing two-year-old baby boy, and found the little thing in the throes of death at the back door. The child was lying on the ice and an examination showed the back of its head to be badly bruised.

JUDGE TRUEMAN DEAD

Hon. Arthur I. Trueman, judge of probate of St. John city and county, and one of the best known lawyers of this city, died in his residence, 112 Hazen street, at 1 o'clock Friday morning, aged fifty-eight years. He had been sick for a long time but it was not anticipated that his illness would have such a sudden termination in death. About a year ago Judge Trueman went abroad for the benefit of his health and after an extended trip through Europe he returned apparently greatly benefited. About two months ago, however, he again took sick and he grew so seriously ill that his death was looked for almost any time. Under the care of Dr. Murray McLaren, however, he gained quite rapidly and it had been hoped that it would not be many days before he would be seen in his office. At 6 o'clock Thursday night, however, he did not appear to be as well and Dr. McLaren was with him for a time. He appeared to gain in strength but about 11:30 the patient again grew worse and the doctor was once more summoned to his bedside. This time he stayed an hour and again left, the judge being much better. Half an hour later the end unexpectedly came.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Coroner Roberts was summoned and gave it as his opinion that death was the result of heart trouble.

Mrs. Long was a native of Head of Millstream, Kings county, and was seventy years of age. He is survived by his wife, five stepsons and one step daughter. Four sisters also survive: Mrs. Joseph Mason, Head of Millstream; Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, of Fitchburg (Me.); and two unmarried, at the Head of Millstream. There are also two brothers, one in the states and the other at the Head of Millstream. He was very well known in the North End, and his numerous friends will regret to hear of his tragic death. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Coroner Roberts was summoned and gave it as his opinion that death was the result of heart trouble.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Mrs. Long was a native of Head of Millstream, Kings county, and was seventy years of age. He is survived by his wife, five stepsons and one step daughter. Four sisters also survive: Mrs. Joseph Mason, Head of Millstream; Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, of Fitchburg (Me.); and two unmarried, at the Head of Millstream. There are also two brothers, one in the states and the other at the Head of Millstream. He was very well known in the North End, and his numerous friends will regret to hear of his tragic death. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Coroner Roberts was summoned and gave it as his opinion that death was the result of heart trouble.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Mrs. Long was a native of Head of Millstream, Kings county, and was seventy years of age. He is survived by his wife, five stepsons and one step daughter. Four sisters also survive: Mrs. Joseph Mason, Head of Millstream; Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, of Fitchburg (Me.); and two unmarried, at the Head of Millstream. There are also two brothers, one in the states and the other at the Head of Millstream. He was very well known in the North End, and his numerous friends will regret to hear of his tragic death. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Coroner Roberts was summoned and gave it as his opinion that death was the result of heart trouble.

WHILE SEARCH WENT ON

Mrs. Long was a native of Head of Millstream, Kings county, and was seventy years of age. He is survived by his wife, five stepsons and one step daughter. Four sisters also survive: Mrs. Joseph Mason, Head of Millstream; Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, of Fitchburg (Me.); and two unmarried, at the Head of Millstream. There are also two brothers, one in the states and the other at the Head of Millstream. He was very well known in the North End, and his numerous friends will regret to hear of his tragic death. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon.

Men's Heavy Reefers with Storm Collars, regular $4.50 value. For $3.39

UNION CLOTHING COMPANY 26-28 Charlotte Street, opp. City Market

ALEX. CORBET, Manager

INSANE MONCTON WOMAN KILLS ONE CHILD AND ATTEMPTS THE LIFE OF ANOTHER ON

Moncton, N. B., Feb. 4.—(Special)—While suffering from insanity Mrs. Thomas V. Doucett, of Lower Robinson street, about half past four o'clock this morning took the life of one of her little children and was in the act of taking another from the house to kill it, when she was discovered by members of her family.

The family consists of the father and mother, and eight children. Mr. Doucett, who is employed on the I. C. R. on a steamer, has been laid up in the house with a broken rib for some time. His wife, it appears, became violently insane during the night and arising about half past four without disturbing her husband took her two-year-old child from the cradle, carried it out the back door and inflicted injuries upon it which resulted in death a few minutes later. The crazed woman, leaving her infant for dead, entered the house again and going up stairs where the second youngest child, three years old, was sleeping in a cradle was in the act of taking it from the room when her daughter, Eliza, aged 18 years, awoke and gave the alarm.

Mrs. Doucett called to her brother William, aged 17, and aroused her father. Doucett, although suffering from a fractured rib, hastily arose and undertook to subdue his insane wife. The three-year-old child she had taken from the cradle in the room of her eldest daughter, was taken from her and she was overpowered. Doucett dispatched his son, William, for a policeman, and Officer McKim hurried to the Doucett home.

After being confined in the insane woman, the officer made search for the missing two-year-old baby boy, and found the little thing in the throes of death at the back door. The child was lying on the ice and an examination showed the back of its head to be badly bruised.

JUDGE TRUEMAN DEAD