One of the small-pox patients in Dartmouth was a young man named Power, who was engaged to be married to a Miss Snow. Now, Mr. Power was regularly quarantined, but, as love laughs at locksmiths, Miss Snow managed to effect an entrance to the house where her lover lay a dying, and the consequence is that now she is down with the disease in a bad form. The young man is recovering, and the girl has been removed to the house where, through her indiscretion, she contracted the disease.—Hx. Express. Printers, Booksellers, Stationers,

Nursery Rhymes--No. 24. STORY OF DOOM! (almost.) CANTO I.

The coffin-maker bent low at his work,
And, coughing, east hie eyes upon his bench,
A spasm came, which gave his frame a jeck,
And shock his head about with fearful
wrench;
The blood ekipped from his ears and sought the ground: The Undertaker deemed his lungs unsound. CANTO II.

PORTLAND, March 14th, 1860.

To Mrs. Waterbury,—Dear Madam,—I desire to add my testimony to your already Celebrated Dinner Pills. During my whole life time, until abcut six years ago, I was severely efflicted with Indigestion, Biliousness and all their attendant evils. I had tried many medicines, and got but temporary relief. At the time alove mentioned, I was advised to try your Pil s; I did so for three months, according to directions; since that time I have had no noceasion to take any medicine, and have enjoyed good health.

I am yours, &c.,

THOS. DALE.
