A Grand Moral Spectacle. Two parties are struggling for power at Ottawa. The balance of power is possessed by a few trimmers, who have been firm supporters of the Government, and the party whips on both sides are seeking to get these men pledged.

The Outs draw up a paper pledging themselves to vote for a resolution to censure the Ins, and this document they get every man convert to their side to sign. To one man they promise a seat in the Cabinet, to a Family Circle of four men they offer another seat, to a half dozen others they offer the privilege of selecting two members to the leader of the Opposition.

The wreck of the steamer Atlantic, or what little remains of it, has been driven ashore by the late storm. Edward Jenkins, and Hon. Fred. Douglas, are to lecture in Halifax under the auspices of the Professors of Dalhousie College. The former will deliver two and the latter one lecture.

A Washington special says that there are indications that attempts will be made to raise additional revenue from taxation. Among the subjects suggested for tax are salt, coffee, and for an increase on distilled spirits and tobacco.

In New York on Sunday evening, Peter Stegman, an employe of DeWitt's, and George E. Paul, entered the lager beer saloon of Michael Harold, 496 Broome st., intoxicated, and asked for beer. They commenced quarrelling, never once during the quarrel striking him when the landlord interfered. Stefano then drew his knife and plunged it into the neck, and once into the breast of Harold, who died within five minutes. Stefano and Paul were arrested.

The Spanish Minister at Washington, Admiral Polo, says there has been no insult done or intended to the American flag, because the Virginia was no more flag, because the flag of Venezuela; that for three years she has been engaged by the Government of Venezuela, and in that time having been in an American port; that there is ample proof that she was owned by Cuba; that she was captured by the United States; and that she was sold to the Government of Venezuela.

The December number of Old and New has some very interesting stories. These include two serials by Mr. Burnard and Mr. Perkins; a spirited translation by Miss Hale of a curious manuscript preserved in the archives of the Vatican; a narrative (partly fiction) of Apache experience by Mark Sibley; and a review of the number by Mr. Hale's introduction, with some seasonable and reasonable suggestions for Congress before "school begins," and a cogent paper by Mr. Quincy against exempting "charities" from taxation. A graceful paper on Ferns, by Mrs. J. H. Hutton, and one of Miss Eliza's charming articles on "Country Signs and Sounds," contain the Naturalist's column. The Examiner, Introduction, has some rather comical reminiscences about the late Frederick Douglass. The best notices, quite elaborate, and the Musical Review, quite spirited, fill out the number. Roberts Brothers, Boston.

Consumption—Letter from Captain Coffill of the brig Potomac, of Windsor, N. S. Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your kind letter of the 21st inst., in relation to my case, and in reply to inform you that I am now recovering from my illness, and am able to resume my usual avocations.

Mr. James J. Fellows, Chemist. Dear Sir: In May, 1866, I was attacked with a severe dry cough, which continued for some time, when I commenced expectorating a thick, white substance, then I raised a greenish-yellow sputum, and finally a copious quantity of blood-tinged matter, then the bleeding of the lungs set in, and other symptoms of a fatal character. I consulted physicians in Philadelphia and other places, but to no avail. I had fallen in with a man who gave me a course of medicine, and I found it to be of great benefit. I continued taking the remedy until I regained strength, and was able to resume my usual avocations. I am now well, and am able to resume my usual avocations.

It is said that the Hon. Isaac Burpee, senior partner of the extensive hardware importing firm of Burpee & Co. and Minister of Customs, notwithstanding the pledges given by his friends to the Liberal Committee—pledges which his silence has endorsed.

Mr. DeVeber, going so far as to make people with relatives in the Custom House believe that, unless they support the Government's Own Candidate, the positions of their friends will be insecure.

Bismarck is once more to the helm of State in Germany, and his policy of nationalizing the Catholic Church is presented with unrelenting severity and unwavering purpose. An Archbishop who, in compliance with orders from Rome, refused to institute priests appointed to livings by the German Government, has just been sent to prison for two years. Bismarck is carrying things with a high hand. Bismarck is resolved that the State shall select the priests and prelates who are to draw the ecclesiastical revenues, and the Pope is equally resolved to retain the patronage in his own hands.

Bismarck says the loyalty of the spiritual advisers of the people must be secured by forcing them to look to Berlin for appointment and promotion, and the Pope is determined that their loyalty to him shall be secured by forcing them to look to Rome for temporal as well as spiritual guidance.

A few weeks ago there was an Annexation-Tory party in St. John. Now there is a Liberal party and a "Reform" party. Where did the "Reformers" come from and what has become of the Fossilized Tory Obstructors who have been so often beaten in St. John elections? Where, oh where? Has a miracle wrought this change?

THE STAR SONG. A CHRISTMAS CAROL—BY HARRISON.

Talk us, thou star and heavenly tongue, Where is the babe that lately sprung? Lay him in the hay—babe among?

Or say, if this new birth of dawn Sleeps, laid within some ark of ivory, Scattered with dew-drops, 'neath some star, All doubts, and manifest the where.

Declare us, bright Star, if I shall seek Him in the morning's blushing cheek, Or search the beds of spices through, To find him out?

Star—No, this ye need not do: But only come and sing and tread, A princely babe, in a mother's breast.

Chorus: He's born! he's born! why then around, Let's kiss the sweet and holy ground, And all who love him, let us sing, A King, before conception crown'd.

Chorus: Come then, come then, and let us bring Into our party Twelfth-tide King, Back over the hills, and o'er the sea, To find the babe that lately sprung.

Chorus: And when night comes we'll give him waunting: And that his treble honors may be seen, We'll sing him King, and make his mother queen.

The schooner Jerome James, of Yarmouth, N. S., is a total wreck on Angulo reef, near Carleton Place. She is insured at Yarmouth for $19,800.

The bark Helen Patterson, supposed from Pictou, with coal, for Portland, dragged her anchors off the breakwater, at Liverpool, N. S., on the 18th inst., and went ashore near Billy Nial's Lodge and immediately bilged. The crew took to the rigging and remained there all night, and were rescued next day by Capt. Alken of the American schooner J. E. Perkins, who, at the imminent risk of his life, took six of the men. The remainder were taken off by Capt. Broadstreet, of the schooner May Queen. The bark will be a total loss. (The H. P. registered 468 tons, was built at Morrisburg, N. S., in 1855, and hailed from Pictou.)

The schooner Wild Hunter, before reported ashore at West Quoddy, went near the Shoals, this side of West Quoddy Head. Captain Eastbrook reported that she dragged her anchors and beached her stern on the sand. She is lying in the sand, and it is not known how much she is damaged.

The schooner Dolphin, from Cape Breton for Halifax, and was lost off Marlon Joseph, in the gale of the 18th inst.

The bark Lee Oak, Rink, master, from Liverpool, Nov. 4th, for this port, put in with Crookhaven on the 8th inst., with valve of pump broken. The vessel was making no water of any consequence.

The ship Peter Macneil, Sails, master, from Philadelphia for Bremerhaven, arrived in the Downs on the 8th inst., and reports: Oct. 7, 8 and 9, at 28, 19, long 66.39, experienced a hurricane from S.W. with tremendous squalls and heavy rain, causing ship to labor and strain badly, and make a great deal of water, sea breaking in on the fore part, water came into the hold, and a fine of $20 was imposed with obligation to furnish 1,600 lbs petroleum out of upper two decks for safety of ship and balance of cargo. Experienced heavy gales all the passage.

Reported by the lower portion of a board three feet long, with the name "Lavinia" cut in gilt, was picked up on the 6th inst., off Beachy Head. The bark Lavinia, Dyer, master, sailed from Havre for Sydney, C. B., on the 29th ult.

The schooner New Dominion, hence, with lumber, is ashore on Mullholland's Point, Campobello, full of water. It is expected she will come off after discharging a portion of her cargo.

Y. C. A. Entertainment. All the lecture courses seem to be opening successfully this season, and no exception to the rule. Last night their large and handsome hall was completely filled with a most intelligent audience. Standing room was in demand, and the entertainment, which consisted of readings by John Boyd, Esq., and a concert by Dr. Coster and his friends, was very successful. The little circle of ladies and gentlemen that surrounded Dr. Coster last night, certainly supplied music as rich and varied as the most critical would require. Miss Daniel's "Star of Love," and Miss Gregg's "Doubting Heart," were perfect gems. Mrs. Lavton sang "Molly Ashore," and, in answer to a storm of applause, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen." The readings of Mr. Boyd were very attractive. He was in excellent voice, and as happy in all his delineations as usual. At the close he invited Dr. Coster and his friends to lunch at his house.

Piano-forte Tuning.—Mr. Carson Fife has secured the services of Mr. C. E. Bourne, of Boston, a practical piano-forte builder and tuner. Orders left at the Warehouses No. 75 Prince Wm. street, will be attended to in the order received.

The First Medal at the Vienna Exposition, being the highest recompense for Reed Organs of any class, and from all countries, has been awarded by the Concord and Hamlin Cabinet Organs, by the manufacture of the Victoria Steam Confectionery Works, and two Sub-Judges, including the most eminent artists and experts from different countries. It is significant that in comparison with these, other American Organs were not found worthy of even a diploma. E. E. Kenny agent for New Brunswick.

City Police Court. Charles Robinson was the only prisoner before Justice McAuliffe this morning. He was arrested in Gullford street, Carleton, for drunkenness, and was fined $4.

If YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL, advertise in THE DAILY TRIBUNE and secure the benefit of its large circulation.

Portland Police Court. Police matters are dull in Portland as in the city. The only prisoner arrested, however, made as much trouble as he could. Wm. Campbell was the name of the man, and he was given in charge by Wm. Dixon, who charged him with being drunk in his house and beating and abusing his wife. When taken charge of by the police he violently resisted, and tore policeman Morrell's coat. His case was inquired into this morning by the Magistrate, and a fine of $20 was imposed with obligation to pay for repairing the coat. It was adjourned for two months. He chose the latter alternative, as he had not the cash to pay.

Water Eden went to the Station for protection from the wintry blasts, and was let go.

Rev. Dr. Waters, Pastor of 544 St. John's Church, St. John, N. B. (From the Review and Reporter, St. John, N. B., Nov. 20.)

The Rev. Dr. Waters, LL.D., who has been pastor of the Wilder Street Presbyterian Church in this town for the past five years, takes his departure this morning for the scene of his future Ministerial labors in the city of St. John, New Brunswick. We presume you will express the sentiments of all who have ever been connected with him either in his pastoral or private life, when you state we are heartily sorry to lose the Rev. gentleman. Being connected with almost every undertaking in town which his position as a Minister of the Gospel called him to take part in, we shall not doubt feel his loss very much. But while the people of the town generally will regret his removal, the members of his own congregation will feel it more keenly than others can expect to do. The most intimate relations have existed between the Dr. and his congregation, the membership has been nearly doubled since his incumbency, and the congregation was never in a more healthy state than at the present time. Amongst the young people of the congregation he was held in the highest esteem. His Bible class presented him the other evening with an address and handsome Bible, and a very short time ago he received a cheque for $500 as a present from a number of the members of his congregation, as well as receiving from time to time many other tokens of affection.

The Rev. gentleman was, however, best known to the outside world from his official connection with the higher courts of the church to which he belongs. A fluent speaker, and possessed of no mean order of intellectual powers, his services have always been in high demand, and his fame in consequence has spread all over the Dominion.
