

Important Information for Exhibitors.

The Bureau of Transportation of the Centennial Commission has issued a circular relative to the rules to be observed in the carrying of goods to the Exposition. The circular says that the general reception of articles at the Exhibition buildings will commence on January 5th, and close on April 19th, 1876. Machinery and other heavy articles will be admitted as soon as the special foundations for them are prepared, and it is desirable that they should be in place prior to the reception of other articles. In boxing goods for the Exposition, care should be used in the packing. Each package must be marked "To the Director-General International Exhibition of 1876, at Philadelphia," and should be marked on two adjoining sides, giving the following information:

Name of the exhibitor; address; specific location allotted to the exhibitor; weight of the package; total weight of packages sent by the exhibitor and the serial number of the particular package. Unless this information is on the package it will be held from delivery at the expense of the exhibitor. In the case of the delivery of the package there has been constructed under the ground several lines of railway, as shown by a map which accompanies the circular. The rates for transporting goods for the exhibition will be obtained from the agents of the transportation companies at the place of shipment and not at Philadelphia. Through bills of lading should be obtained for the goods, without any attention being given to the shipper, be sent direct to the Exhibition.

All charges for freights, transfers, &c., and terminal expenses, must be prepaid at the time of shipment, and unless this regulation is complied with, the terminal charges will be as follows: on articles or packages weighing 250 pounds, or less, $1 each; on articles or packages weighing from 250 to 5,000 pounds, forty cents per 100 pounds; on articles or packages over 5,000 pounds, fifty cents per 100 pounds; articles weighing over 10,000 pounds, freight articles, plates, glass, &c., and works of art, may be subject to an additional charge after arrival at the Exposition, to cover the extra cost of handling. If no authorized person is at hand to receive and arrange the goods in the Exhibition building, they will be removed and stored at the risk of whomever it may concern.

The Prince of Wales Lost in a Deer Forest.

Last Friday, an incident which caused some alarm at Balmoral and Aberdeenshire occurred to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. On that day the prince went deer-stalking in the forests of Balmoral, and Leuchars. The last stag was not killed till eight o'clock, by which time darkness was beginning to set in. No one was with the Prince of Wales when he attended to the stag. His Royal Highness was alone, and he was returning to the spot where the ponies and other attendants were in waiting. Jamie chanced to let fall his stick, and after stopping and searching for it for some time, he did not observe, on resuming the walk that he had taken the wrong track. The gillie and the prince walked on for some miles until it became perfectly dark, when the prince's highness discovered that they were going in the wrong direction. There was nothing for it but to retrace their steps, and after wandering for miles they at last reached the place where the ponies were in waiting. The attendants in the interval became alarmed for the safety of the Prince. On the same evening the Prince and Princess were to dine with the Duke of Devonshire at Balmoral, where dinner was served at half-past ten. Their royal highnesses returned to Aberdeenshire at midnight, where a stag dance was started to celebrate the approaching departure of the prince for India. About 50 torches were lighted, and two bonfires were kindled in front of the castle. Dancing was engaged in, each man bearing aloft a lighted torch. At one o'clock, two of the stags which had been killed by his royal highness during the day arrived on ponies. This was the signal for a tremendous outburst of cheering. The stags were laid out on the ground, and the national beverage was plentifully served to all and sundry, and dancing was resumed and carried on with the utmost vigor till an early hour on Saturday morning. The scene was one of the true Highland type and such as is only witnessed when given at Balmoral or Aberdeenshire.

Shocking Railroad Calamity.

Sorel, Que., Sept. 29.—A shocking railroad accident occurred last night on the Richmond, Drummond and Arthabaska Railway, about six miles from this place, in consequence of the track being obstructed by some infamous miscreant, resulting in the death of ten men and thirteen more badly injured.

LATER. Sorel, Sept. 29.—Last night about seven o'clock, a train coming from Yamaska, ran over an obstruction which had been maliciously placed across the track. Six platforms were in front with about seventy-five laborers on them. The engine was in the rear and was running at a fair speed when the accident occurred about two miles from Yamaska. A man placed in front of the train with a light made signals when he saw there was danger and jumped overboard, as well as all the men on the same platform car. Conductor Swan stopped the engine, and every one on the tender with him jumped out without any injury. Two or three platform cars were upset by the shock, and all the men on them were crushed under their fearful weight. The number killed is eleven, and twenty-five were awfully bruised.

The Filian Plague.

Further information from Fiji conveys still darker accounts of the plague which has recently passed over the new colony. A resident of long standing, writing to a Victorian contemporary, says:—"The death rate is not yet made up, but the probability is that 40,000 Fijians died during the four months' plague. The native population of Fiji is now about the one-third only of what it was when I landed here about twenty-five years ago." The accounts given of the magnitude of the disaster are less harrowing than those of the sufferings of the victims.

"Very few died of the measles, the majority dying of subsequent diseases in the form of dysentery, congestion of the lungs, &c. Want of nourishment or starvation carried off thousands." We are told that "all work was suspended for two months. You could pass through whole towns without meeting any one in the streets, which were soon completely covered with grass. Entering a house you would find men, women and children all lying down indiscriminately, some just attacked, some ailing in agony, and others dying. Some who were strong enough attempted suicide, and always 'by the same means.' We are further told that 'as the scourge became more permanent four or five were buried together in one grave, and generally without religious service. In some cases the dead were buried in the earthen floor of the house. The burials were hurried, and the probability is that some were buried alive. In many instances the husband, wife and children all died. In one village all the women died, and in another all the men.' It is interesting to read of the different mental effects produced by the torture of disease. It is not surprising to find 'some men of the country' to have been driven to suicide, and in some cases to have committed suicide. Some island tribes, who had only recently embraced Christianity, considered that the disease was conveyed by their religious teachers, and they dismissed them and then abandoned their religion. Among these some were for killing the teachers, but the wiser counsels prevailed. It is said that one tribe buried alive one teacher's son, and another tribe buried alive a father had died of the plague, to stop infection." But while some of their distress fell back on their former superstitious, the greater number are said to have been driven to suicide with fortitude, and to have suffered and died under the influence of Christianity.—Sydney Herald.

Robbins Sentenced. HALIFAX, Oct. 2.—Robbins was arraigned at 4 p.m. to-day, to receive sentence for the murder of Robbins, to the following effect, after the prisoner was asked if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed on him. The Judge said: "You have been tried and convicted of murder, what your motive was is unknown. There was evidence of your living unhappily with your wife, but whatever your differences were, you have been tried and convicted of murder, and you have passed over her faults and live with her as she was. Brooding over something which was on your mind; you decided to take life. No anger nor bickering seems to have occurred on that night; you fired a deadly weapon at her, inflicting a wound sufficient for death; then you took another weapon as a deadly and inflicted mortal wounds on her head. This is the second time I have had to pass sentence on a murderer, and, strange to say, in both cases the conviction was procured by the evidence of the murderer's children. The appeal of your children to you was not sufficient to stay your arm, powerful as that appeal must have been. You appeared here without counsel, for which reason I appointed a gentleman well able to defend you, but all his skill and all his ingenuity were insufficient to induce any one of the twelve jurors to feel you were not guilty. It seems this fearful act has been in your mind for more than a year. Oh! how could you for a year permit these thoughts of murder to rankle in your bosom? You seem to have made up your mind to undergo the full and direful consequences of your act. Do not cherish any hope of now escaping your doom, and let me advise you in the little time you have to live to be employed in making your peace with God, and for that purpose I give you longer to live than I otherwise would. The sentence of the Court is that you be taken from this Court to the jail in Digby, from whence you came, and there be kept till Thursday, the 16th day of December, and on that day, between the hours of 7 o'clock in the forenoon and 12 o'clock noon, you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God Almighty have mercy on your soul!"

The sentence produced a profound impression. Halifax, Oct. 3.—Walter Irwin was tried on Saturday afternoon as an accessory after the murder of Robbins' wife. Evidence was produced that he harbored, fed and gave signals to Robbins that all was safe for him to come out of his cave. The jury, after half an hour's absence, returned a verdict of guilty. Irwin was then sentenced to one year in the county jail, with hard labor.

THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold. Do you know anything of it? If not, it is time you did. THERE are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Thomas' ELECTRIC OIL, purely a preparation of six of some of the best oils that are known, each one possessing virtues of its own. Scientific physicians know that medicines may be formed of several ingredients in certain fixed proportions, and producing effects which could never result from the use of any one of them, or in different combinations. Thus in the preparation of this Oil a chemical change takes place, forming a compound which could not be formed by any possibility by any other combination or proportions of the same ingredients, or any other ingredients, and entirely different from anything ever before made, one which produces the most astonishing results, and having a wider range of application than any medicine ever before discovered. It contains no alcohol or other volatile liquids, consequently loses nothing by evaporation. Wherever applied you get the benefit of every drop; whereas with other preparations nearly all the alcohol is lost in that way, and you get only the small quantity of oils which they may contain. S. N. THOMAS, PHARMACEUTICAL, AND NORTHERN LYMANTON, Toronto, Ontario. Sole Agents for the Dominion. NOTE.—Electric—Selected & Electrified. Sold in Newcastle by W. C. Anslow and James Philp; Chatham by Dr. Allen and J. V. Benson. oct13/2m

SPECIAL NOTICES. URETHRAE PAIN.—In these autumnal months the human health is sorely tried by the extreme changes of temperature, which bring on coughs and so many diseases of the pulmonary organs. The vast majority of lung complaints may be checked in their dangerous course by the use of Dr. Wilson's Family Antiphlogistic Balm. It commends itself to the world as the best remedial agent—the most rapid in its operation, and the most safe, speedy, certain, and permanent in its cure. It knows no failures, is devoid of danger, restores the strength and expels the vigor and life, however much shaken by disease.

DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.—Impudence or neglect in health is tantamount to constructive suicide—the penalty a short, quick struggle, and instantaneous death. All who are of a full habit, or subject to apoplexy or epileptic fits, should never be without a supply of Dr. Wilson's Family Antiphlogistic Balm, as they will find a safeguard in occasional doses of them. In every instance they have been attended with the most successful results.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARK'S PERIODICAL PILLS.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and distressing diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excesses and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on. It is particularly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity. In all cases of nervous and spinal affections, pains in the back and limbs, fatigue on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, hysterics and similar diseases, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or anything harmful to the constitution. Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

JOB MOSES, New York, Sole Proprietor. 81-90 and 121-22 for posts, enclosed to North & Lyons, Toronto, Ont., general Agents for the Dominion, will ensure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail. Sold by all Druggists. October 11, 1875. 12-1y

The best remedy you can apply to your horses for Sprains, Stiff Joints, Lameness, &c., &c., is Dr. Dyer's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. This valuable combination is much esteemed by those who have the care of horses, and is found to be safe and effectual. Use it once and you will never do without it. The horse, naturally the friend, companion, and most useful servant of man, is peculiarly liable from change and exposure to Coughs, Colds, Founder, Heaves, &c., which, for reason of not being properly cared for, soon grow into magnitude and importance. To correct all mischief, Clark's Derby Condition Powders are just the thing required.

The Farmer's Corner.
Vegetable Accumulation.

Many farmers allow much material to be wasted during the busy summer months. The clearing of the pig sty and the various refuse accumulating in the rear of the house are suffered to be exposed to the sun, wind and rain, both of which are most valuable properties of the air with a wholesome effect upon the health of the family.

We have often urged the clearing up and preservation of all refuse materials, such as bones, heads, old plaster and lime, and so on, and we now recommend that they be used in the garden. It will be better for the soil than for the pig sty, and it will be a saving to the farmer. It will be a saving to the farmer. It will be a saving to the farmer.

REDUCING BONES WITHOUT SULPHURIC ACID.—At the spring meeting of the Georgia State Agricultural Society, an Essay was read by Professor White, of the State Agricultural College, on the subject of bone manures. In the course of the essay he said that it has been generally understood that bones should be reduced to a useful agricultural condition by the use of either ashes or barn-yard manure, and that in this way the farmer might manufacture his own soluble phosphate. Knowing that Dr. Robert Batty, formerly of Rome, now of Atlanta, who is a thorough chemist, had experimented very fully with the different ways of reducing bones without sulphuric acid, Professor White asked his opinion in regard to them. His reply, in substance, was that he had been entirely successful in reducing bones to powder by both ashes and stable manure, but that when reduced they were comparatively valueless, as the phosphoric acid was still insoluble, and that, therefore, he had reluctantly abandoned the experiment. The subject is important, but is still unsettled. That nature has some way of converting bones into plant-food is evident. How is it that a grape-vine will eat up a whole bone in a short time? What is the acid acting so powerfully in this case?

SKEDDING DOWN TURNIPS.—A correspondent of the New England Farmer writes:—I have made it a rule now for some years of sowing turnips with my grass seed. I seed down in the fall, and the best results I have now are those sown in the fall. I have a good crop of turnips and the turnips are good. The broad leaves of the turnips are a great benefit to the soil. The broad leaves of the turnips are a great benefit to the soil. The broad leaves of the turnips are a great benefit to the soil.
