$1500 LOSS IN FIRE YESTERDAY

The residence of James Chisholm, which is situated on Mill Street near the bridge was badly damaged by fire which broke out at about 11.15 yesterday morning. The fire brigade suspended with their usual promptness but were delayed several minutes when the apparatus got temporarily stuck in a boggy piece of ground near the burning house. For a time the blaze threatened other dwellings nearby but when two streams of water were got into play the danger was soon averted. The Chisholm house was badly gutted inside but the frame of the building is still intact. The damage which is partly covered by insurance will probably reach $1500. The owner's loss, however, will be considerable as the rapid progress of the blaze, aided by a stiff breeze, made it impossible to save any of the furniture or household effects.

THE OPERA HOUSE

AND THE PUBLIC

The manager of the Opera House deserves to be highly commended on having secured for the enjoyment of his patrons such a distinctly high tone entertainment as that given here on Thursday evening by the celebrated Rhonda Welsh Male Glee Singers. Quite frequently in recent months Mr. Christie has, we believe, gone to considerable expense to secure entertainment for local theatre-goers which would be recognized as out of the beaten track and prove a treat for patrons. Very frequently we have noted that recent picture releases have been shown before their premiere screening in Moncton, St. John and other cities, admittedly the reverse is sometimes the case but it is well known that it is impossible for a small-town theatre to continuously present the latest and more expensive programmes and still keep its doors open.

The audience at Thursday night's exceptional entertainment was lamentably small for a community of this size. Quite often we hear people grumbling because we can't see "good stuff" in the line of theatrical entertainment without visiting some larger centre. It would be interesting to know just how many of these grumblers availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing the Rhonda Welsh singers on Thursday night.

Sometimes, yes oftentimes, parents are prone to lament over the uneductive and unsalutary influence of ordinary motion pictures on the youthful mind. Less lamentation and more thought on the part of elders would doubtless produce better results. Even eminent church authorities have frequently urged more cooperation between the public who want good entertainment and theatre managers. One way to co-operate is to be sufficiently alert and duly appreciative when the local theatre secures some really high class and expensive entertainment and take advantage of it and praise it rather than stay away and grumble about the rotten comedy which may have been screened the night before. If this course was adopted in Campbellton there is little doubt but what, in time, we could expect much more of that class of entertainment which is of irreproachable moral tone and real educational value.

No stomach suited with sour poisons can digest food. Everything you eat turns into more poison and gas, making you nervous and weak. QUEEN MARY'S JEWELS Queen Mary's jewels have long been the envy of her wealthy subjects and probably of most of the Old World queens. What their full value is it is impossible to estimate. The gems given her when she was married are estimated to be worth more than $500,000 and during the last thirty years on every birthday the King has added costly gifts.

During the visit of the King and Queen to India several Indian Princesses made the Queen many handsome gifts principally pearls. Diamonds, however, are her favorite gems. Her jewels are kept in a strong room in Buckingham Palace which was designed by the late King Edward VII. when he came to the throne.

The shelves of this room are lined with white velvet and the jewels are so arranged that the Queen can quickly obtain just the ornaments she means to wear for any occasion.

Smaller safes lately have been placed in Windsor Castle, Balmoral and York Cottage to insure the safety of the Queen's gems while she is at any of these places. The keys are in the possession of the Queen and are only handed to the lady-in-waiting who is on duty when required.

Mrs. Hiran Himmelman left on Thursday for Port Medway, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jacob Hiltz for some time.

Mrs. M. Rudolph, Lunenburg, is the guest of Mrs. J. P. Cressart.

Miss Marion Herman, Lunenburg, spent the week-end here the guest of her cousin, Miss Nellie Conrad.

Capt. Angus Richard, Ingersport, spent Sunday with relatives here.

James Cressart spent Sunday with friends at Green Bay.

Capt. H. Anderson, who has been South, returned home Saturday.

Miss Jennie Boliver, Bridgewater, is visiting friends here.

Port Daniel Centre

The annual agricultural fair was held on Tuesday of last week and was apparently a success, not very much grumbling in evidence and a fairly good show of live stock was on the ground.

Weather has set in very fall-like, rain with cold high winds has been prevalent for the past two days, farmers have a lot of grain in stock and owing to weather conditions it will be some time before they will be able to house it. Grain on the whole has been cut in half green condition.

Spring was late and early dry weather so retarded growth that grain did not ripen. Potatoes are good, but garden truck is not a half crop. A large number of people assembled yesterday in the Anglican Church here to witness the unveiling of a beautiful window in memory of our boys who paid the supreme sacrifice in the late war. Major Buckland, rector of Pasphebie, who unveiled the window, preached a very touching sermon, referring to the hardships endured by the boys "over there" and the never ending sacrifice made while they manfully did their bit in their country's cause. The names on the window were: Capt Sweetman, Leslie Dow and Johnson Garrett.

The Women's Institute here put on a dinner on the fair grounds on Tuesday. The proceeds are to go toward the fund for the building of a community hall here. This is a very pressing need. The ladies were fairly well patronized and netted the sum of $42.00, which were received with many thanks. The fly in the ointment was that the judges appointed from outside would not condescend to patronize the humble efforts of our Women's Institute but preferred to take a constabulary drive of two miles each way to take their dinner and thus aid their digestion.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller contemplate leaving at the end of the week to spend the winter with their son, Cecil H. Miller of Newport, Vt. Schools are in operation once more, the model department in charge of Miss E. Brown, the elementary in charge of Miss P. McColm, it is to be hoped a good year's work will follow. From former work done here by our model teacher, I think this may safely be looked forward to. Miss McColm also comes well recommended.

Mr. Emile Nadeau left last week for Montreal, where he expects to spend the winter.

Mrs. John Wright returned on Saturday after spending a pleasant holiday with her daughter, Mrs. D. McAlister and Mrs. H. Sorer of Jacques River, N. B.

Rev. F. LeGallais with his wife and little son are here visiting friends. A very strenuous life of four years on the Labrador Coast makes this brief rest very much needed by both. They are both arduous workers and life on the Labrador Coast is hard to those who take life easy, but more so to those who are earnest workers such as Rev. LeGallais and Mrs. LeGallais have proven themselves to be.

News of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. J. Lucas (nee Winnifred Hayes of Sligawake) on the 25th inst, congratulations.

A FEW THOUGHTS

At the meeting held on Sunday evening last in the interests of prohibition many significant remarks were made by those who took part in the discussion. Incidents cited by some of the speakers provided irrefutable proof that for some time past vendors in certain localities have been possessed of arrogant disregard for the law. Certain facts submitted are indeed rather alarming and go to show that the matter of the suppression of illegal selling of intoxicants in the province of New Brunswick is fast becoming an alarmingly serious problem. Campbellton is by no means an exception. For months past there has been much evidence of a deplorable laxity on the part of officials in enforcing the law, and it would seem that vendors have repeatedly perpetrated flagrant violations of the prohibition act. The course of appointing a delegation to interview Premier Vanier reflects credit on those who were instrumental in starting this organized endeavor to have local conditions improved.

The Premier's assertion that there is no need for such a delegation waiting upon him may discourage the appointed interviewers. The wisest course will likely be adopted but whether the proposed protest is formally lodged or not there should be no slackening in vigilance. The citizens of Campbellton have been doing in lethargic indifference for too long. It is high time to begin a spirited campaign for law and order and every conscientious rate-payer who has the town's best interests at heart, the proper respect for his county and himself and an ounce of red blood in his veins should have the courage to stand behind what he knows to be right and give liberally of his influence and support.

PORESAW HIS DEATH.
Did D'Arcy McGee Know His End Was Near?

Weather D'Arcy McGee foresaw his own death has been celebrated and the anniversary of his assassination in 1868, recently, has brought a renewal of the discussion. A man of his high Celtic imagination might well be credited with premonitions, and there is good reason to believe he feared the worst, when he knew the partisans of the Fenians were on his trail. It is recalled by the Woodstock Sentinel-Review that, just a month before his death, he wrote a poem on the death of a friend which is believed to have had some significance in that poem he said:

Friend of my soul, farewell to thee!
Thy truth, thy trust, thy chivalry;
As thine, so may my last end be!
Misereere, Domine.

Even more convincing evidence is given in Pope's Life of Sir John A. Macdonald, which tells in some detail of the dream which McGee had a day or two before the bullet found its mark. On Sunday, April 5, McGee had dined at the home of James Goodwin in Ottawa. After dinner he lay down on the sofa in the library, and presently started from his sleep, pressed his hands to his face, and said: "I have had a fearful dream."

In reply to his wife he said: "I dreamed that I stood on the banks of the Niagara, where I saw two young men in a boat being carried down by the current. I shouted to warn them of their danger, whereupon they pulled their oars and rowed to the stream, and I fell over the boiling abyss."

In relating this dream he seemed greatly distressed. Early in the morning of the 7th he was shot while returning from a late session of the House.

During his last speech, a few hours before his death, McGee pleaded with the anti-Confederation party of Nova Scotia to accept the Union, and said: "We will compel them to come in and accept this Union. We will compel them by our fairness and kindness, our love to be one with us in this common and this great national work."

A few days later Sir John Macdonald wrote to a friend: "Poor fellow! He was just in the beginning of his usefulness. He had thoroughly reformed in every way and was giving his genius full play."

Canada's Idle Water Power.
Canada's waterfalls developed 3,000,000 horse-power of electrical energy during 1922. The revenue to manufacturers from this power amounted to $81,600,000, according to a report issued by the federal water powers branch of the Dominion government.

Ontario, with Niagara Falls as its chief source of power, led in production among the provinces with 1,154,000 horse-power, the report shows. Quebec followed closely with 1,104,000 horse-power, and British Columbia was third with $10,000. The remainder was distributed among Manitoba, Alberta, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Despite the high cost of construction, hydro-power development installed last year totalled 628,000 horse-power. To equal this in water power is estimated at $620,000,000. Horse-power development amounts to 337 per 1,000 of Canada's population.

"Demand upon industrial centres for greater production is increasing with the cultivation of new stretches of farm land in the west," the report states. "Industrial experts are urging rapid installation of hydro-power plants with a view to providing machinery and other farm supplies at a lower cost, and thus stimulate the greater settlement of lands."

Water power now in use represents a little over 6 per cent of Canada's total water power resources, which are estimated by the report at 41,700,000 horse-power.

A Coreless Apple.
Apples without cores or seeds are promised by a discovery announced at Abbotford, Canada, the particulars of which have just been received by the U. S. Department of Commerce from General F. J. MacDonell. According to the announcement, a seedless and coreless variety of Pannose apples has been developed which differs but slightly in shape from an ordinary Pannose by being coarser and flatter at the ends, but which outlines the situation of the core in an ordinary apple, there were developed in an orchard at Abbotford, and the discovery that they were out of the ordinary was due to a seedless variety of Pannose, about eight years old, bearing for the first time in market quantities. The discovery was made while grading for market, but unfortunately no record was kept of the type or trees producing the new fruit, and it will not be before another harvest that steps can be taken for its commercial development.

cases in St. John. This is an insult to the intelligence and the morals of the people of New Brunswick.

"I note that the report adds that this statement of Mr. Wilson's was received with loud applause. The people who applauded Mr. Wilson's statement, thinking that the 2,000 cases reported was an absolute false statement and one made without the least shadow of foundation, because no such quantity of liquor ever reached St. John consigned to the trade."

There is no province, either last week or during a period covering the last two months. The only liquor received by bonded warehouses for export purposes under provincial regulations during the last month was 200 cases, which came in early in September, consigned to the Canadian Distributors Company and are all gone."

WILL PROTEST

Delegation Appointed to Interview Veniot Re Liquor Situation Here

As the result of a meeting held on Sunday evening in the Baptist Church in the interests of prohibition a delegation of prominent local men will interview Premier Veniot and protest against the alleged flagrant violations of the prohibition act here. This emanated from suggestions made by Rev. W. W. McNair who spoke in forceful terms regarding conditions in Campbellton and declared that the meeting would be worse than useless unless some definite action was taken.
A committee was appointed to nominate a delegation. At an after-meeting of this committee the following men were made delegates, M. A. Kelly chairman; John McLean, W. H. Miller,
Rev. W. W. McNair, H. J. Carris,
H. B. Anglow and James S. Evans.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. W. D. Wilson and Donald Fraser, former secretary and present president, respectively, of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance. A large and representative body of citizens were in attendance and several local men spoke in forceful terms of the immediate need of action in regard to the prohibition question.

The speakers seemed to agree that the difficulty did not exist in the prohibition act itself but rather in the apparent inability of officials to enforce it properly. Some held to the contention that the people of the province were largely to blame for the lack of enforcement and the lamentable conditions that now exist in some localities.
Another speaker declared that the plane should be placed where it belonged, upon the shoulders of those who were responsible for the carrying out of the requirements of the law. Several of those who spoke related alarming incidents which supplied ample proof that the liquor question in the province is fast becoming a very serious matter.

Mr. Wilson briefly reviewed the progress of the prohibition party during recent years and calling attention to occurrences in other parts of the Dominion, asserted that it was time for the supporters of prohibition to strengthen their position or retrogres-sion would surely follow. He declared that many vendors had no regard for the law and the enforcement officers in many instances seemed to have no control over them nor any means of keeping them within the limitations of the act.

Speaking to the liquor export warehouses, Mr. Wilson referred to the order-in-council passed some time ago in regard to them. It appeared that it was not to become operative until these houses had time to get clear of their stock and yet only last week he asserted, a ship unloaded a cargo of some 5,000 cases in St. John. "This," declared Mr. Wilson, amidst applause, "is an insult to the intelligence and the morals of the people of New Brunswick."

THE GRAND FALL

HYDRO QUESTION
It was learned yesterday that the Government's intention regarding the Grand Falls Hydro matter was to refer the Commission's report to Howard S. Ferguson, of New York, a well known consulting engineer, who has been identified with some of the most Canada and the United States in responsible water power enterprises in recent years, as well as with pulp and paper mill construction. Premier Veniot has let it be known that the Government will take no action in proceeding with the Grand Falls development, which would involve millions of dollars, until the report has been secured, and Mr. Ferguson is said to be the likely choice.

It was also learned today that the details of the Hydro Commission's report, showing what the soundings and measurements and other investigations of the past year or more at Grand Falls in connection with storage facilities, etc., have revealed, will not be made public until the report of this expert has been received.

Molly, feeling a bit hungry, "let's

CIVIC ADVERTISING
SCHEME ADOPTED

Moncton Citizens To Have Permanent Committee to Carry On Campaign

Moncton, Oct. 1.—The suggestion that a committee consisting of three members of the Board of Trade and the Advertising and Industrial Committee of the City Council be appointed to consider civic publicity, was approved at a meeting of representative citizens held in the City Hall on Friday night at the request of Ald.
Cormier. Such a committee would decide upon the advisability of appointing a permanent body to deal with advertising matters.

The meeting was called for the purpose of devising ways and means for advertising the city and its advantages, and considerable discussion along these lines took place. The opinion of all present seemed to be that a publicity campaign was most desirable at the present time.

It was pointed out by Alderman Cormier who acted as chairman of the meeting, that the City Council had at various times, discussed the advantages of appointing a permanent committee to look into the matter of advertising but it had been considered erred that a meeting of the leading citizens should be called first and their wishes in the matter ascertained.

Following this, an animated discussion as to the best way to deal with the subject took place and all who were present took an active part.
The inducements offered by the Upper Canadian cities were pointed out by Mr. J. L. MacDonald, particularly those offered in the province of Quebec, which was carrying on a very active campaign to induce manufacturers to locate there.

Mr. Matthew Lodge was of the opinion that something should be done to encourage the manufacture of the materials which we have at our hands and call attention particularly to the lumber industry and the opportunities for the manufacture of furniture, the able for brickmaking and the opening vast amounts of clay that were not that presented itself for the manufacture of this building material.

The growth of the industries which we have at the present time was traced by Capt. J. E. Masters, ex-president of the Maritime Board of Trade, and he stated that he believed that a great deal could be accomplished by assisting those industries.

In the West

The dangers of following such a course were pointed out by Mr. Ivan Rand, who referred to the results which had followed the booming of industry in the Western Provinces.

That a sign be erected at some prominent point in the city that travelers passing through might have their attention called to its advantages was an idea brought out by Mr. Lindsay, Advertising Agent of the C.N.R. By this means, he said, he believed that capital might be induced to locate here and to assist in the development of the city.

At the conclusion of the discussion
it was moved by Ivan Rand and seconded by Mr. M. Lodge, that the Board of Trade be requested to appoint a committee of three to meet
the advertising and industrial committee of the City Council and to consider the appointment of a permanent committee to deal with this matter of civic advertising. The motion was carried.

New Recipes for a Meatless Luncheon

The following tested recipes solve the problem of a tasty luncheon without meat:

Tomato Chowder

2 cupsful Borden's St. Charles Milk, 1 pint hot water, 2½ cupsful canned tomatoes, 1 medium sized onion sliced thin, 1 tablespoonful butter or butter substitute, 4 tablespoonfuls flour, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, 3 teaspoonfuls salt, ¼ teaspoonfuls pepper, ¼ teaspoonful soda, 6 water crackers split.

Melt the butter in the top part of the double boiler, add the onion, and cook it gently till yellowed, about five to eight minutes. Pour in the milk and water, set over the lower part of the double boiler and scald. Mix the flour, salt and pepper with enough cold water to make a smooth cream; stir it into the milk, and cook about fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally. Heat the tomato with the sugar; when boiling, add the soda and combine it with the thickened milk. For serving, put a split cracker which has been dipped in warm water, in each plate.

Escalloped Macaroni with Cheese

1½ cupsful Borden's St. Charles Milk, 3 cupsful cooked, drained macaroni cut in two-inch lengths, 1½ cupsful grated American cheese, 1½ cupsful butter or butter substitute, ¼ teaspoonful salt, scant, 1-8 teaspoonful pepper, few grains paprika.

Make a white sauce of the flour, butter, seasonings and the milk undiluted. Stir in the macaroni. Thoroughly oil a rather shallow baking dish, put in a layer of the macaroni, then one of the cheese, continuing in this way until all is used and making the last layer one of cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until browned, about thirty-five minutes.

Spanish Cream

1½ cupsful Borden's St. Charles Milk diluted with 1½ cupsful water, 1-8 teaspoonful salt, ½ cupful sugar, 3 eggs, 1½ tablespoonfuls granulated gelatine, 1 tablespoonful vanilla.

Let the gelatine stand in the milk for five minutes, then scald the mixture. Combine the egg-yolks, sugar and salt with the scalded milk, and cook until slightly thickened like a custard. Then stir the mixture into the egg whites beaten stiff; add the vanilla. Turn into individual moulds which have been dipped in cold water and when set unmould and serve with light cream, or any preserved fruit.

WOMAN TRIED TO CAPTURE THIEF

But Suspect Vaulted Fence and Got Away With Jewellery.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—A woman almost succeeded in capturing a man whom she believed to have entered her home and stolen jewelry valued at $3,000 during her absence yesterday afternoon.

While Mrs. A. W. Ellis, 336a Melrose avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, returned to her home at 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening there was a man standing on the doorstep. He remarked that apparently there was no one in. Mrs. Ellis stated that she had just returned from a grocery store near-by, and was about to ask the man his business when he suddenly ran down the house steps and fled up the street.

At that moment Mrs. Ellis noticed that the door of the house was open. She remembered having closed it before she went out.

Not waiting to call for aid, Mrs. Ellis ran after the man, and succeeded in clutching the rascal as he was wearing a high fence at the end of a path leading to Wilson avenue. The coat was pulled off the man's back, and the victim of the robbery was left with it in her hands as he dropped to the far side of the fence and made his escape. In the meantime Mrs. Ellis had shouted to several men on the street for aid, but they allowed the fleeing man to pass.

When Mrs. Ellis returned to her home she found that a diamond brooch valued at $1,000 and rings, cuff-links and stickpins to the value of $2,000 had been stolen.

Helpful Household Hints

A Clean Bathroom

There is nothing that is quite so damaging to the housekeeper as a poorly kept bathroom. It should be washed always with diluted disinfectant and at least once a week disinfectant should be poured down the pipes. The bathroom is one place where one's work and care show very plainly.

SAYS PROHIBITION IS NOT FAILURE

U. S. Social Worker Investigating Conditions in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—"I think it is a terrible thing that no provision is made for the feeble-minded, but girls of defective mentality are allowed to drift and to bring similarly afflicted children into the world," said Mrs. Martha P. Falconer, of the American Social Hygiene Association, discussing this morning her reactions after a week spent in study of some of Montreal's social agencies and local conditions. "The feeble-minded girl is a menace to the community, and special provision should be made to protect her in a place where her well-being and happiness would also be looked after as far as possible. The policy of letting things drift while the consequences are an uneconomical way."

The Mental Hygiene Association in Montreal is doing work which is an important factor in social welfare activities, Mrs. Falconer thinks. The value of mental clinics is coming to be more and more realized. In the educational system of some of the states the development of graded classes for the backward child is being stressed.

Mrs. Falconer was unstinted in her praise of the way in which so many organizations of women, and of men too, are working for the betterment of classes of the community who have not had a god chance, trying to claim delinquents, and better still, to prevent delinquency. Mrs. Falconer, who was for fourteen years superintendent of the Sleighton Farm, the Pennsylvania State Reformatory for girls, spent several days this week at the Girls' Cottage Industrial School at Sweetburg. One of the outstanding things about the school, she thought, is the opportunity for out-door work and recreation, afforded by the large gardens and the poultry keeping. She mentioned the gift of the barn from the Kiwanis Club, which would help in developing the outdoor work. The program, including classes in school, domestic training, and outdoor activities and church attendance on Sundays Mrs. Falconer thought a well-balanced one for the girls who were not there to be punished, but to be trained and guided. The cordial interest shown by the people of Sweetburg and Cowansville, co-operating with the staff and the Montreal Committee, was commented on as unusual. Too often such institutions were isolated.

Supervise Dancing

Mrs. Falconer touched on the question of dance halls. It was necessary that young people should have recreation, but in properly supervised places. In some cities the association had succeeded in gaining the co-operation of the dance hall owners themselves, and getting them to recognize the advantage, as well as the necessity of keeping free from corruption places where young men and women were to meet.

meet. Some of the best dance halls had appointed both a man and a woman supervisor.

In this connection Mrs. Falconer spoke of the policeman, who, she said, can do good work, supplementing that of the men on the force. The movement, she said, is growing in the United States. The best plan was found to be to have a women's department organized to work under the Chief of Police. The policeman's scope included looking after places of amusement and recreation, patrol work at night, etc. The young girl out late on the policeman's beat would be taken home and placed in her mother's charge with a warning. The need of more probation work in Montreal was advanced by Mrs. Falconer, who thought more money should be spent for a trained corps of men and women. There was also great scope for the Big Sister work.

Asked as to prohibition in the United States, Mrs. Falconer declared it was a success, "notwithstanding what is said in the papers about homebrew and moonshine." In her field work for the Hygiene Association, she said, she has found many of the county jails for misdemeanants either empty or with few occupants. Monday morning courts in the cities showed a big difference. Social workers found fewer broken families fewer dependent children, men spending more time at home, and families better off.

"Prohibition is one of the greatest social revolutions we have ever had," said Mrs. Falconer. "Of course liquor interests are not dead yet, but I feel sure we will never go back to the saloon again. Home-brew and infringements of the law have brought the law-breakers out into the open, but the rank and file of the people are supporting the law whole-heartedly."

Short Cuts

A steel bodkin is a good thing for joining the seams of a sweater. Wash hoisery after each wearing so the perspiration will not have a chance to rot the fabric.

Use confectioners' sugar for uncooked icing, as it will make a much smoother frosting than powdered sugar.

New linoleum should be cut and laid at least three weeks before it is nailed to the floor, so as to prevent bulging. Only places that are apt to be kicked or broken should then be tacked.

Rubber toys are the only sensible playthings for the tiny baby, as they can be sterilized frequently and can do no harm if he should put them in his mouth.

Stimulate Your Skin

The skin with its network of tiny pores and glands should never be allowed to become sluggish and inactive. Dirt, cold cream, rouge and powder will clog the pores, enlarge them and produce blackheads and blemishes unless the skin is cleansed thoroughly with soap and water at least once every day.

This simple method of beautifying was Cleopatra's secret. She knew that to have a fresh fine skin thorough cleansing was necessary. She used Palm and Olive oils, the same rare oils which are blended in Palmolive.

If you use a fine mild soap, there is no danger of irritation. Palmolive with its creamy lather, is lotion-like in its action. It freshens, revives and stimulates and leaves the skin delightfully fresh and rosy.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

ANOTHER TREAT AT OPERA HOUSE

Musical Extravaganza "Listen To Me" Provides Fine Entertainment.

The Opera House here was crowded to the doors on Monday night when "Listen To Me," Charles George's musical extravaganza was presented by a large and talented company of players.

Being the only entertainment of its kind showing here for sometime, theatre patrons flocked in from all sides and from remote places, many of those in attendance, it is safe to say that few were disappointed. While some of the lines might not greatly appeal to many old members of the audience, the piece as a whole was a most agreeable change and proved also most effective and lent an added charm to many of the numbers. The dances, many of which were quite original, were executed with admirable charm and gracefulness. The costumes were all pretty and novel and added a pleasing tone of life and color to the performance.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Have all flues and chimneys properly cleaned before attempting to use them.
2. Look very carefully at the chimney or flue, at the point just above the peak of the room where the chimney goes through, as the lower part may have settled and the upper portion, being held up by the roof timbers, may have pulled away, leaving an open space or break in the chimney that will permit sparks slipping through into the attic or concealed space.
3. Be sure that all flue holes that are not to be used this year have good metal stops, as innumerable fires are caused by sparks through papering over unused pipe holes in chimneys.
4. Clean the ventilating collars around all flues, removing all lint, cobwebs and dust, leaving nothing in the ventilator, in this way permitting the air to cool the pipe where it goes through.
5. Be careful that the supply of kindling wood is not piled up in the yard in such manner as to carry fire to your house, in case your neighbour's house should burn.
6. It is best to keep all lightwood, kindling and boxes in sheds, stables or basements, in orderly piles, and not to have papers or excelsior mixed with it.
7. Extra caution should be used in the handling of gasoline. In the winter months all windows and doors are closed, eliminating the possibility of the air blowing the inflammable vapours away.
8. Never use gasoline inside the house for cleaning, and when compelled to use it for any other purpose do not forget that you are handling a powerful explosive which may endanger your life and property.
9. Remove all dry grass and leaves from your premises before some one carelessly throws a match away.
10. Do not dry clothing and inflammable materials above or near hot stoves.

If you will obey the above commandments, you can prevent many fires and much loss of life and property.

SURVEY SHOWS STORES AT FAULT

University of Nebraska. A survey of credit conditions in Nebraska, conducted by the research bureau of the University of Nebraska, shows that delinquency among charge customers is due in the majority of cases to lack of firmness on the part of the merchant in impressing upon customers the need of meeting credit obligations at the end of the thirty-day period.

"It is necessary to impress upon the applicant for credit," says the report, "the terms of the agreement when an account is opened. At this time the applicant is alert to the fact that a charge account is a privilege which should be respected. It is not enough to print the terms of the account on an application blank, for it is essential to have the customers understand them by spoken statement."

"If the terms of credit accounts demand that accounts should be paid in 'thirty days,' they should be presented to the customers in such a forcible way that they may understand that the account must be paid in thirty days."

"The value of placing a limit at the time of opening an account may run as well as on its size, is unquestionable. It strengthens the moral responsibility of the customer. If more people were taught to realize that credit is a convenience that cannot be abused, difficulties resulting from use would greatly diminish. Educating people into this attitude by insisting that 'terms are made to be kept' is a wise policy."

"Many accounts which are carelessly opened are not paid when they are due, and for this reason a systematic collection policy is essential. The not due to a malicious intent of toasters 'to make the firm wait for money,' but caused in most cases neglect. People easily forget the pleasant task of paying with money. If attention, therefore, is not given collecting accounts when they are due, the benefits of careful extension of credit may be lost."

"Accounts can be collected successfully by several methods. Some merchants collect largely by means of personal collector. In fact, the no 'best way' to collect outstanding accounts. One store with an active type of patronage finds it advantageous to send only statements the account, since their customers easily offended, while another can use these means, as one may apply remarked 'and then some.'"

"Stores which have adopted new in handling their charge transactions do not experience difficulty in collecting. Their policy, consisting of two points, the account is opened on terms; second, the account is on these definite terms. The point necessitates a careful follow-up by correspondence until this is paid."

"Managers, as well as customers, neglect credit terms. Although forty of stores extend credit on thirty-day basis, very few strictly to this term. In response to the question, 'When do you pay an account overdue?' 21 firms answered as follows:

"In cities of more than 100,000 population, 12 in 60 days, and six in 90 days; in towns under 10,000, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 5,000, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 2,500, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 1,000, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 500, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 250, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 100, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 50, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 25, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 10, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 5, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 2, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 1, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.5, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.2, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.1, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.05, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.02, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.01, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.000000000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000000002, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.0000000000000000001, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000000000005, 12 in 60 days and five in 90 days; in towns under 0.00000000000000000002,

SURVEY SHOWS STORES ARE AT FAULT IN CREDIT LOSSES

University of Nebraska Analysis Compares Methods of Retailers and Indicates Credit Leaks Due to Lack of Firmness in Enforcing 30-Day Obligation.

A survey of credit conditions in Nebraska, conducted by the research bureau of the University of Nebraska, shows that delinquency among charge customers is due in the majority of cases to lack of firmness on the part of the merchant in impressing upon customers the need of meeting credit obligations at the end of the thirty-day period.

"It is necessary to impress upon the applicant for credit," says the report, "the terms of the agreement when an account is opened. At this time the applicant is alert to the fact that a charge account is a privilege which should be respected. It is not enough to print the terms of the account on an application blank, for it is essential to have the customers understand them by spoken statement.

"If the terms of credit accounts demand that accounts should be paid in 'thirty days,' they should be presented to the customers in such a forcible way that he may understand that the account must be paid in thirty days. "The value of placing a limit at the time of opening the account on the length of time an account may run, as well as on its size, is unquestionable. It strengthens the moral responsibility of the customer. If more people were taught to realize that credit is a convenience that cannot be abused difficulties resulting from it would greatly diminish. Educating people into this attitude by insisting that 'terms are made to be respected' is a wise policy.

"Many accounts which are carefully opened are not paid when they are due, and for this reason a systematic collection policy is essential. This is not due to a malicious intent of customers 'to make the firm wait for its money,' but caused in most cases by neglect. People easily forget the unpleasant task of paying their money. If attention, therefore, is not given to collecting accounts when they become due, the benefits of careful extension of credit may be lost.

"Accounts may be collected successfully by several methods. Some merchants collect largely by means of a personal collector. In fact, there is no 'best way' to collect outstanding accounts. One store with an exclusive type of patronage finds its advantageous to send only statements of the account, since their customers are easily offended, while another store can use these means, as one merchant aptly remarked 'and then some'.

"Stores which have adopted firmness in handling their charge account transactions do not experience difficulty in collecting. Their plan is simple, consisting of two points: First, the account is opened on definite terms; second, the account is collected on these definite terms. The second point necessitates a careful follow-up by correspondence until this account is paid.

"Managers, as well as customers, neglect credit terms. Although a majority of stores extend credit on a thirty-day basis, very few firms hold strictly to this term. In response to the question, 'When do you consider an account overdue?' 21 firms answered as follows:

"In cities of more than 50,000, 12 considered an account overdue in 30 days, 12 in 60 days, and six in 90 days. In towns under 10,000, 12 considered an account overdue in 30 days, nine in 60 days and five in 90 days, and five allowed it to run more than 90 days.

CHATHAM FAIR VERY SUCCESSFUL

Attendance Largest On Record—Exhibits Of High Quality.

The tenth Biennial Exhibition and Live Stock Show to be held under the auspices of the Miramichi Agricultural Exhibition Association, closed Friday night and was one of the most successful and largely attended fairs yet held. While there was a noticeable decrease in the number of local industrial and commercial exhibits, this was more than offset by the larger number of entries in the live stock and poultry departments, the Agricultural displays and Ladies' Work exhibits, and the very excellent arrangements of the various displays.

The special attraction staged on the race track and the ever popular midway amusements were enjoyable features of the big fair.

Notwithstanding the absence of any race meet in connection with the exhibition, the total attendance was greater than at any previous fair and Wednesday's attendance surpassed any one-day's record of the past.

Favorable weather continued throughout the entire week, which doubtless had much to do with the record attendance.

Altogether the 1923 exhibition was one of the most successful yet held and the management, directors and all who assisted, must feel gratified at the results.

EAGER TO COME TO CANADA

This photograph was taken at the European head office of the Canadian Pacific Railway in London, England, and shows a number of men who were induced by the special harvesters rate to make further enquiries with regard to the scheme and conditions to be expected here after the harvest. Nearly five thousand men, the first to come within the Canadian immigrant class in years, were recruited by the Canadian Pacific, and lack of steamship accommodation necessitated the closing of the doors against almost as many more.

Great Britain Growing Greater

Officially Great Britain has taken cognizance of modified form of the principle of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Despite the fiercest opposition of representatives of the liquor traffic in the British House of Commons and the House of Lords, Lady Astor's bill, prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to any person under eighteen years of age has triumphed. It passed the House of Commons by a vote of 357 to 10, and the House of Lords unanimously, receiving the Royal assent. It is a greater triumph than would appear from the inconspicuous notices of the press. It means that century-old prejudices, favoring the flowing bowl are beginning to give way before the light of progressive scientific findings. Science now proclaims: Alcohol is poison, and adolescence, at which should be protected against the temptation to poison itself until the longer years of appetite are established by the reasoning of maturity.

England has not yet heard the last of Prohibition!

ESTIMATE OF WESTERN CROP

Places It At 920,089,000 Bushels—Wheat To Exceed 349 Million Bushels

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Western Canada will have a crop of 920,089,000 bushels including wheat, coarse grain and flax, according to a report issued by the Northwestern Grain Dealers' Association here yesterday.

The Association estimates the combined wheat crop of the three Prairie Provinces at 39,810,000 bushels, oats 45,643,000; barley 51,821,000; rye, 11,897,000 and flax 5,118,000 bushels. The wheat production for Manitoba is placed at 28,222,000 bushels; Saskatchewan 21,263,000 and Alberta 147,725,000, or an average yield of 12.5 bushels per acre for Manitoba; 12.5 for Saskatchewan and 25.2 for Alberta.

The government report issued on September 12 showed the preliminary estimates for the three prairie provinces:

Wheat 446,776,000 bushels; oats 354,474,000; barley 66,445,000; rye 25,711,000 and flax 6,832,000.

The report estimated the wheat yield for Manitoba at 38,636,000; Saskatchewan 25,017,000 and Alberta 149,122,000.

17 Killed In Duesseldorf Riot

Duesseldorf, Oct. 2.—An official inquiry into the outbreak here Sunday places the number of dead at 17, 12 civilians and five police.

This includes several persons who died in hospitals as a result of their injuries. Other estimates place the number of casualties at 20.

More than 400 persons, it is now known, were hurt, at least 100 of whom were detained at the hospital, where they were taken for treatment. It is also believed that many were slightly injured and able to go directly home.

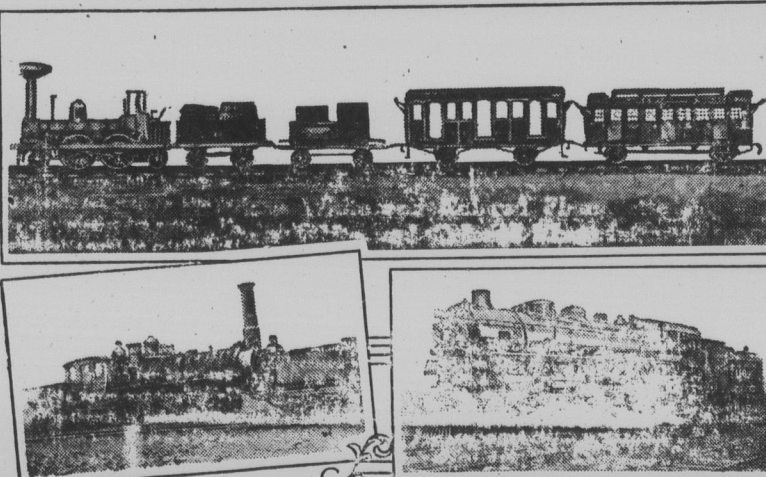

Berlin, Oct. 2.—It is officially announced that the participants in the insurrection at Kuestrin yesterday, numbering about 400 men, have been captured and disarmed. The rebels lost one killed, and several wounded.

There were no losses among the Government forces. The troops ordered to Kuestrin as reinforcements are returning to their stations.

In the opinion of officials here, the revolt actually served a useful purpose, inasmuch as it gave notice that the Government was prepared to put down immediately any attempt at insurrection.

Chancellor Stresemann is scheduled to go before the Reichstag today to outline Government policies in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

An Interesting Bit of Railway History.

Above, "The Dorchester." Left, the "Benson," another early train, used at Atholville, claimed to be the first steam locomotive used in N. B. Right, one of the most modern locomotives, as used by the Canadian Pacific Railway in passenger service.

There has been considerable speculation as to what the first railway train to be run in Canada really looked like. People have exercised their imagination considerably in drawing what they thought it looked like but the most authentic and reliable picture that has been preserved is the one reproduced above. The original is the property of Mrs. A. J. Wright, of St. John's, Que., who has kindly permitted it to be photographed and reproduced. It was drawn from careful sketches of the original engine and cars, and can be depended upon as giving an exact outline of Canada's first train.

Interest centers in the engine which was named "The Dorchester." It is described as follows in Wikipedia's "Railways of Great Britain and Ireland": "Cylinders, 9 in. in diameter, 14 in. stroke. Drive wheels, two pairs coupled, 48 in. diameter. Length of boiler, 78 ins. and 87 ins. in diameter. Length of fire-box 18 1/2 ins. width 43 ins. depth 25 ins. Total weight of machine, in working order, 12,544 lbs. The cost of the engine was $1,500.

The Dorchester was built in Stephenson's works, Newcastle-on-Tyne, and came to her destination via New York City, the Hudson River, Lake Champlain and the Richelieu River, being transported on a barge. In after years she was rebuilt, fitted out with a funnel, a cab, a boggy truck and a cow-catcher. She finished her days in the service of the Lanarville and in 1873, after running between Lanarville and Joliette, Que., and when the railroad was abandoned by another the Dorchester was ruthlessly broken up for scrap.

With this engine the first railway in Canada the Champlain and St. Lawrence Railway, running between St. John's and Laprairie, Que., a distance of 14 1/2 miles, began operations on July 21st, 1836, when it was formally opened by His Excellency the Earl of Gosford. Owing to an accident to the engine a few days prior to the opening, it was thought safest to attach only two cars to it for the opening run. In these the most distinguished guests rode while the balance of the 200 persons who participated in the function were transported from Laprairie to St. John's in cars drawn by horses. The rate of speed was low, but did not disappoint those who had depended upon the terms of the prospectus of the railway which promised to transport passengers at "the unprecedented speed of 10, 12 and even 15 miles per hour." On the day following the opening the engine covered the distance between the two terminal points in thirty minutes.

The road had a five feet six inch gauge, the rails were of wood with iron strips laid on top of them and the rolling stock of the railway consisted of one engine, four passenger cars and twenty freight cars, with a capacity of about ten tons each. The cost of each passenger car was about $1,000 and the cost of the road itself was estimated at $25,500.

Commenting on the significance of the opening of this Canadian railway, the "Montreal Courier," of July 23, 1836, a copy of which is preserved among the files of the Mechanics' Institute of Montreal, said:

"The completion of this new and admirable mode of communication between the above water (the St. Lawrence and the Richelieu) is the first event of the kind that falls to be recorded in the annals of this province, and judging from the onward march of the spirit among us, it may be considered only the first of a series of railways that will be the necessary auxiliaries to our noble lakes and rivers in developing the vast commerce of which this province is destined to be the seat."

As one reads this prophecy, looks upon the engine pictured above, and then considers the size, power, speed, luxury and convenience of railway facilities over Canada's forty thousand miles of railway to-day he realizes with what rapid strides railway development in Canada has proceeded since that memorable day, July 21st, 1836, when the first railway in Canada was officially opened.

VOCATIONAL EVENING CLASSES TO BE OPENED IN GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Vocational Education Act Of 1923 As Amended Empowers School Trustees To Conduct These Courses

TWO INDUSTRIES FOR NEWCASTLE

Two New Creosote Companies Will Employ Upwards of 200 Men

(Special to Graphic)

Newcastle, Oct. 1.—That Newcastle had been selected as the site for a new industry which had decided to locate in this province was the announcement made on Saturday evening by Mayor Creaghan, who has been untiring in his efforts to have the company select Newcastle as its headquarters.

The Canada Creosote Company already has contracts for the erecting of all ties used in the Atlantic region of the Canadian National Railways, and the works for this purpose will be located at the upper end of Newcastle. The properties of Messrs. Foran, Herlihy, Crocker, Nevin and Falconer, comprising more than 200 acres, have already been purchased for that purpose and the work of erection of the buildings will be commenced at once. The old "Y" will be utilized for railway purposes.

The Creosote Products Company, Limited, has obtained the Hickson mill site at the deep water terminal for their plant, and it is the intention of that company to utilize a large quantity of local hardwood in the manufacture of their products. Two of the officers of the company were in Newcastle yesterday and met the Town Council in regard to a fixed rate of valuation and the use of hydro powers which were satisfactorily settled.

The definite announcement that the company had selected Newcastle was made by Mayor Creaghan last night. The two companies will employ upwards of 200 men the year round and will be a great boon to Newcastle. Mayor Creaghan is being congratulated upon his success in inducing the company to locate here.

Those interested in vocational training in Campbellton will learn with satisfaction that the local Board of School Trustees are now empowered to conduct evening classes. In this work at the grammar school. Following is the announcement of the Secretary of the Vocational Committee:

The fee will be refunded at the close of the term to each pupil attending 90 percent of these sessions.

Application may be made at the grammar school each evening from 7:30 to 8:30 at the grammar school from Thursday of this week to the following Monday.

D. McLEAN, Secy. of Vocational Committee

This is a progressive step on the part of the School Board in an endeavor to provide better facilities for practical education here. The cost to the student is nothing save an investment of a little spare time. On the other hand the benefits which may be derived are inestimable and it is hoped that many will take advantage of the opportunity.

The Value of a Good Male

That it pays in dollars and cents to breed from pedigreed bred to lay cockerels has been frequently demonstrated. One illustration may be taken from the last Canadian Egg Laying Contest held at Ottawa. The Experimental Farm had a pen of White Leghorn pullets (over 55) in this Contest, nine of these pullets were from the same sire though they were from nine different mothers. The total production of the nine mothers in their pullet year was 1469 eggs or an average of 163. The nine pullets in the 52 weeks of the Contest laid 1898 eggs, an average of 210. The sire of these pullets came from a line of high producers of which the six nearest female ancestors averaged 223 eggs in their pullet year. The care of the mothers and of the daughters was similar, therefore, the increase in production must have been due to the sire and if he had had no more than the nine daughters that were in this pen the increase of 400 eggs at an average price of two cents an egg would have meant $8,000 additional.

It is a question if anything brings quicker increased revenue in the flock than a proper selection of the male and now when breeders should be seeing about securing the males for mating next spring with the flock this matter should receive attention.

The man who would make the maximum from his flock must use only males that have a record of production behind them; males that can transmit this ability to their daughters. There are available in Canada breeders who specialize in pedigreed stock, a good many of them under government inspection through Record of Performance and through Registration secured in the Canadian National Egg Laying Contests.

From these, as well as the Experimental Farms and Colleges, good breeding males may be secured if they are purchased now rather than when they are needed next spring.

Taking in the Fair

As the Fair and Exhibition season approaches, it would be well for all who contemplate attending same seriously to ask themselves this question: "Do I get as much out of my visit as I should?"

Fairs and Exhibitions provide a means of social intercourse and entertainment for the people of the surrounding community but fundamentally they are educational, particularly to the rural community. Their main object is the improvement of agricultural conditions by comparison of inferior and superior live stock, crops, etc., and the donating of premiums to the latter class.

The pleasure of the social and lure of the entertainment features should not be allowed to supersede the interest that should be taken in the educational features. Every agriculturist is, or should be, interested in making the most of his business and he can find numerous aids in a day well spent at the Fair.

Speaking more particularly from the live stock man's point of view, he should make a point of seeing as much of the live stock as possible as it is being judged, so that he can see the good and the bad types and correct his own breeding operations accordingly.

Undoubtedly, the spectator will not always agree with the judge as to the best of them make mistakes (as do the best of farmers) but to the dyed-in-the-wool stock man there is no greater pleasure than to stand at the ringside and pit his opinion as to the meritorious animals in a class against that of the judge. It is well to remember, however, that the judge has the advantage in that he is able to handle the animals and view them from all angles and may see or feel something that is not evident to the man at the ringside.

The management of Fairs and Exhibitions should endeavour to plan the live stock judging programme so that too many classes would not be going on at the same time. This, of course, is difficult at a one or two day Fair, but comparatively easy in the case of a four day or full week exhibition. Having the judging rings located fairly close together would help considerably for then two classes of stock could be followed at the same time fairly intelligently.

The programme of the judging of live stock should be published in the press previous to the dates of judging and on notice boards around the grounds while the fair is going on so that the visitors may go to the ring of stock in which he is most interested.

For instance, at the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa this year notices will be found posted around the grounds giving the time of judging of various classes and sections of live stock.

A day intelligently spent in taking in the above mentioned educational features of the Fairs or Exhibitions which you attend will be something to look back on without regrets, as there

BILLY SUNDAY ON TELLING LIES

Says World Will Be Crazy Unless Rush For Gold Is Checked.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—"There is no hope for the future unless there is some check to the insane rush for 'gold,' declared Rev. Billy Sunday, who took time from his Niagara Falls campaign to address an assemblage in this city this morning. Rev. Mr. Sunday predicted that the world would be crazy in 215 years unless there was a check.

Billy Sunday addressed a crowded house, over 2,000 people leaving their morning work to attend the service. His address scintillated with true Sundayisms, such as that "some people would have more chance of getting to heaven if they visited the barber shop more often."

"People would take as gospel the word of some horse jockey, and wager their money, with many dearer than life, upon it. Yet they would doubt the Bible."

"You are a bunch of nuts," he told the audience. "Who was most likely to know the truth about God?" he asked, "the minister who gave his life to a study of his words or the bewickered bootlegger who wandered down the street, flaunting his sins and infidelities in the face of God. If a man broke a leg he didn't call in a blacksmith."

That Hank of Hair.

There was just one chance for satisfaction in the world, and that was in a knowledge and belief in God. There was no satisfaction in the laurels of fame or glory. When a man made a million dollars, was he satisfied? No. Then he wanted a billion, and when he gets a billion, he wants the earth.

Appearance counted for much in the world, and Sunday felt that women, especially, should be neat in appearance. If they thought they looked better with a hank of hair that did not belong to them, piled on top of their head, then let them go to it. If some women had all the hair that did not belong to them taken away, they would be naked as a humming bird in a rainstorm.

New color was lent in Biblical stories in Sunday's version of Noah's life after the flood. When Noah came out of the ark, he planted a vineyard, made some home-brew and got all lit up. But because the Bible told the story it did not necessarily follow that we must believe that to be a right and fitting thing to do.

Now, Abraham went into Egypt and took his wife Sarah, with him. Sarah was some good looking. When Pharaoh saw her he wanted to know if she was Abraham's wife. Abraham said she was his sister, knowing that if he said she was his wife, Pharaoh would take her away from him. Did Abraham lie? No.

A lie, Sunday held, was a malicious and willful perversion of the truth, calculated to damage some other person's character or reputation, or to bring honor, advancement or some other merit of yourself, undeservedly. A falsehood, however, was the deliberate mis-statement of the truth to some body who had no business to ask questions anyway. He would tell a falsehood anytime to save Mrs. Sunday from any old goose who wanted to steal her.

is everything to gain and nothing to lose. On the other hand, the side shows and other questionable entertainment features invariably take in, financially and otherwise, more than they leave with the community and their attendance at Fairs and Exhibitions should be discouraged by the deadly method of withholding patronage.

Another Killjoy.
Just as we're wallowing under the summer sun some killjoy advises: "Now is the time to buy union suits," thus paving the way for an early organization of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Readers.

Necessity Helps Invention
