

MAGISTRATE BANS "DEBORAH" DECLARES PLAY IS INDECENT

"A Glorification of Vice," Says Crown Attorney, as Rev. John Coburn Tells of What He Saw and Heard at Problem Play—Court Refuses $12,000 Bond for an Adjournment.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, May 23.—When the morality case against "Deborah," the problem play at the Princess Theatre this week, which is booked for New York next week, came up in court today, there was the largest crowd that ever thronged the police court in the history of this city.

For half an hour there was an argument between counsel and Presiding Magistrate Denison, as to who should be let in. "There were 40 newspapermen admitted."

The charge was "appearing in an immoral act."

Carlotta Nilsson and her players, through her counsel, H. H. Dewart, K. C., pleaded not guilty, and asked for adjournment. He did not want ministerial experts called, he said.

Mr. Corley—"I won't call any experts, I just want evidence and I will not allow the performance to go on tonight unless they are acquitted today."

A Warm Argument.

Mr. Dewart said that he wanted British fair play for citizens of the United States, and the argument following between counsel was very warm, especially when Crown Attorney Corley refused to take Mr. Dewart's bond for $12,000 to force an adjournment.

Rev. John Coburn took the witness stand after the magistrate ordered the investigation to continue.

Witness started in to enunciate his views of the play he saw at the Princess Theatre Tuesday night. Witness must say just what happened. He did. He said that one of the actors said, "Every woman, whether married or single, should fulfill her duty as to her husband."

The witness went on to tell the story of the play, despite the objections of the defence.

The actresses laughed throughout the story told by the witness, as he vividly and in most solemn accents recited the terrible story of "Deborah," tions of counsel.

An Indecent Play.

"The play is indecent from beginning to end," said the magistrate, heatedly. "It is a glorification of vice," said the crown attorney.

Mr. Dewart wanted an adjournment. The police magistrate said: "That play must not go on tonight."

"I don't intend to allow it to go on tonight, your worship," said the crown attorney.

"It is an immoral play, and I must have bail," said the magistrate.

Adjournment was then taken till 2 o'clock.

Many Women Present.

Fifty-five women, ranging in age from 20 to 45, listened to John Coburn tell in his fiery manner the story of "Deborah," the problem play, which the police of this city will not allow to be played in Toronto any more.

Some of these women were members of the committee of forty which was organized a few months ago to clean up Toronto. The result of this movement was the appointment of an official censor of plays in Toronto, and the censor trimmed up "Deborah" for the patrons of the Princess Theatre, after its initial performance.

That did not satisfy the committee, and private action was initiated by Mr. Coburn against several of the leading actors and actresses of the company. After hearing the remarks of the magistrate, the author, Langdon Howard, said that he had not been treated fairly, but that this afternoon he would have a chance to tell the magistrate the correct interpretation of the play.

NEW mail boxes for Canadian Cities.

Here is shown a photo of the ingenious mail box contrivance about to be introduced in London and other Canadian cities by the postoffice authorities. It is a street sign and post box in one, makes its own change and will enable citizens to purchase stamps and mail letters on street corners, day and night, the seven days through.

LETTER BOX THAT SELLS STAMPS FOR STREETS OF LONDON

Will Stand Seven Feet High and Is Receiving and Vending Machine.

Stamps Can Be Secured at Any Hour, and Instrument Cannot Be Cheated.

London will soon have a new type of mail box, which combines the feature of a letter received and a stamp-vending machine.

Mr. Macdonald stated this morning that while a contract had been let recently to paint the present boxes, it was likely that the new boxes would be placed in London as soon as possible.

A private company has been organized to execute a contract made with the late Dominion Government in May, 1911, and place at convenient points throughout Canada the pillar letter box. The latter is constructed along the lines of the English pillar box, but in addition to the receptacle for letters contains two automatic stamp vending machines, one for one-cent stamps, and the other for two-cent stamps, in books of 12, costing 25 cents, as always sold by the postoffice department, and space for four revolving signs, the whole surrounded by illuminated street names on all four sides.

The model has been approved by the department and is now on display in Toronto.

One of the advantages of the new pillar is its convenience, a feature which is expected to appeal strongly to the public. Even in the residential districts it will be possible to secure stamps at any hour of the day or night, seven days of the week, and post letters at the same box. The illuminated street names are also expected to prove a great convenience.

Seven Feet High.

The combined letter-box, vending machine, advertising medium and street name post stands seven feet tall, and is constructed on lines of convenience and utility. The imperious arm surmounts the stamp-vending device. The entire section beneath the advertising display drum will be postoffice authorities, who will protect the entire pillar under the same regulations as those now governing letter-boxes owned by the department. They will fill the stamp compartments periodically and collect the money from sales.

The letter compartment is very roomy, being larger than the biggest letter-box now used by the postoffice department. The mail will drop into a bag hanging on hooks, and may be transferred to the collecting wagon without rehandling, an empty bag being substituted for the one removed.

Cannot Be Cheated.

Immediately above are the stamp-vending machines, compactly built in the pillar, side by side, and at a convenient height. The mechanism is so arranged that bent coins, or quarters in place of a cent, or vice-versa, are rejected and returned to the user, falling through a slot for the coin. The machine may neither be cheated nor be cheated.

JAP EMPEROR IS CRITICALLY ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

Caught a Cold While Reviewing Troops at the Aoyama Palace.

Festivities of All Kinds Ended, and Theatres Have Been Closed.

[Canadian Press.] Tokyo, May 23.—Official reports that the Emperor Yoshitomi is ill with pneumonia, the constant attendance upon him by one or more of the eight court physicians, and the visit which the Empress Sadaka keeps at his bedside, make it appear that his condition is more grave than the public surmise from the first bulletins. The whole Japanese Empire is today depressed with the reports.

The bulletin issued today only announced briefly that the emperor's condition was unchanged. The high fever of last night, when his temperature ranged from 98.5 to 102.92 Fahrenheit, apparently was unabated.

Caught a Cold.

The imperial patient is at the Aoyama palace, on whose immense parade ground he conducted a cold while reviewing troops last Sunday. It had been intended to remove him at once to the newer Chiyoda palace, but the sudden serious turn of inflammation of the lungs necessitated abandonment of the plan.

The issuance of the first bulletin yesterday announcing the emperor's illness came as a great shock to the people, and as it gained circulation through extra editions of the newspapers, a sorrowful hush fell upon the city and great crowds silently gathered in front of the royal palace. The people knelt and prayed fervently for the speedy recovery of their sovereign.

All in Darkness.

The Ginza, the most important business thoroughfare of the city, which is usually brilliantly lighted, was dark last evening and the almost deserted shops were closed. Court circles are still in official mourning for the late emperor, who died on the 29th of April. The emperor's death, no official entertainments had been planned at this time. Private festivities of all sorts, however, are being postponed, and the theatres have been closed.

The bulletin issued at 4 o'clock this afternoon says the emperor's temperature remains at 102.46 degrees Fahrenheit.

Stanley Silver Was Caught by Overflow of Boiling Water.

NOW IN THE HOSPITAL.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, May 23.—Stanley Silver, while working in the bakery of Thompson & Tuck today, was terribly scalded by a kettle of boiling water overflowing. Medical attention was at once secured, and the man rushed to the hospital. His neck, face, chest and arms are badly scalded.

Adam Host, an inmate of the county jail here, who was committed to that institution some time ago, and who went violently insane, died in the jail last night. He was formerly employed as a freight shifter on the Erie Railroad. An inquest will be held to determine the cause of death.

Jones, an English actor-manager in connection with the production of a new play.

Mr. Bouchier testified that Mr. Hansen had threatened to "bash his face in."

FOUR IN PERIL

Blaze Broke Out in Top Floor of a Montreal House.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, May 23.—Prompt work by firemen saved the lives of four women today when a blaze broke out in the top floor at 18 Brunswick street. The firefighters, assisted by an unknown bystander, swarmed up ladders and carried down Mrs. Gray and Mrs. F. Pierre, Miss E. W. and Miss T. Blair, who were got out in a fainting condition, being caught as they were about to jump from a window. The fire, it is thought, was started by an oil stove in the basement of the building.

POPULATION OF WARD FOUR SHOWS A LARGE INCREASE

Four Hundred and Twenty-Five More Than Last Year—Land Values Show an Increase of Close to Three Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Ward 4 assessment returns for 1912 show an increase in population of 425, an increase in land values of $294,362, an increase in building values of $99,176, an increase in the business assessment of $1,337, but a decrease in income assessments of $6,502. The total increased assessment is $388,375. Ward 4 extends from Dundas, on the south, and Wellington on the west, to the old city limits.

The comparative figures for 1912 and 1911 are:

	1911	1912
Population	14,948	15,373
Land values	$2,826,216	$3,120,578
Building values	$1,580,486	$1,679,662
Land and buildings	$4,406,702	$4,800,240
Business	$165,179	$166,516
Income	$150,821	$144,319
Total	$4,722,882	$5,011,685

Land Values Firm.

In the opinion of Assessment Commissioner Grant, the land values are very firm, and would probably stand a further increase of from 20 to 25 per cent before reaching a sale value.

"The sale of desirable lots are not such as could be taken as the average value of property. In many instances when the value of the land is increased something has got to be taken off the house to arrive at a fair value of the whole," said Mr. Grant.

A Satisfactory Increase.

In view of the fact that the percentage of the amount of business assessable being reduced from 30 to 26 per cent, the increase of $1,337 is regarded as highly satisfactory.

The decrease in income assessment is due to the exemption on personal earnings being raised from $1,200 to $1,500.

The increase in population is regarded as satisfactory. In view of the fact that better houses and smaller families are increasing in number in Ward 4.

Pony Parade for School Picnic

Trustee Strong is endeavoring to arrange a pony parade for the school children's picnic, to be held on June 5 at Springbank. Some years ago there were twenty-six ponies from the different schools in the picnic, and with decorated carts and harness, they formed an attractive feature. Mr. Strong proposes that prizes shall be offered for the school making the best exhibit, and requests that those who desire to enter should communicate with him.

LINER RAMMED BY BIG BARGE

Both Boats Badly Strained by Collision in the St. Clair River.

DAMAGE IS REPAIRED

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, May 23.—While rounding in St. Clair River last night after leaving Miller's coal docks at Port Huron, the Ogilvy, a Gilchrist steamer, was rammed amidships by her barge, the Lyrene. The tow line caught in the wreck of the Joliet, shortened up and caused the accident.

The Ogilvy filled with water, and a Reid Wrecking Company diver worked all night patching up the hole. The bow plates of the barge were badly buckled. Both boats continued on their way down today.

COALER ASHORE

The Rob Roy Sprung a Leak on Way to Kingston.

[Canadian Press.] Kingston, May 23.—While on her way here from Oswego with coal for the Canadian Pacific Railway, the barge Rob Roy, towed by the steamer Aberdeen, sprung a leak, and was run aground to prevent her sinking. Word was sent to the Donnelly Wrecking Company, and their outfit has left for the scene. The steamer Dunelm ran aground in a heavy fog near Seven Acres Shoal, but came off without assistance and without damage.

REPLIES TO PRESIDENT.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, May 23.—President Wilson today received the following cablegram from Emperor Yoshitomi of Japan: "Deeply touched by your kind message inquiring after my indisposition, I express my sincere thanks to yourself, Government, and the people of the United States."

PEACE WITH ALL, SAYS KING GEORGE TO THE GERMANS

Fervently Desires That Whole World Shall Maintain Best of Relations.

Three Emperors and Many Princes in Berlin for the Royal Wedding.

[Canadian Press.] Berlin, May 23.—King George of Great Britain, at present the guest of Emperor William on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Victoria Louise to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, spoke earnestly but briefly today on the necessity for the maintenance of peace in the world, his replying to an address presented to him by the British residents of Berlin gathered at the British embassy. His majesty said: "The preservation of peace is my fervent desire as it was the chief aim and object of my dear father's life."

This, the first and only political note sounded during the wedding festivities of Emperor William's only daughter, for which three emperors and many princes are gathered, seems, according to the opinion expressed in influential circles, to epitomize the chief significance of the royal and imperial visits as a demonstration of the peaceful and friendly relations existing between the three powerful dynasties.

King George and Queen Mary afterwards were the guests at luncheon of the British ambassador, the others present including Imperial Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and a number of the diplomatic corps.

At the same time Emperor Nicholas of Russia was the guest at luncheon of the Russian ambassador at the Russian embassy.

For the gala opera to be given tonight, the first act of "Lohengrin" had been selected by Princess Victoria Louise.

BOY ORDERED BACK TO STUDY

Police Magistrate Judd Takes Unusual Procedure in Truant Case.

IAD WAS INCORRIGIBLE

After making two escapes in approved "Young King Biddy" fashion, a 13-year-old boy, who was recently in juvenile court for entering a Dundas street candy store, appeared before Magistrate Judd Thursday, and although he had been suspended by Principal Beal, the court ordered that he be taken back to school.

This boy has been a thorn in the side of Principal Beal for some time. Because he would not attend school, it was arranged to get him work in a foundry and to allow him to study in the evening. He complained that the method that the work in the foundry was too dirty, and refused to attend school, running away on the slightest chance being given him. One day this week he was brought before school authorities, the principal declared that an administration of the good old-fashioned strap would help. With another boy, who was to be punished, he was taken upstairs, and while the other boy was being strapped he vanished.

Ordered Into Court.

The truant officer was notified, and while riding on a car saw him on the street. He complained that the method that the work in the foundry was too dirty, and refused to attend school, running away on the slightest chance being given him. One day this week he was brought before school authorities, the principal declared that an administration of the good old-fashioned strap would help. With another boy, who was to be punished, he was taken upstairs, and while the other boy was being strapped he vanished.

Back to School.

This is said to have brought a remark from the magistrate that it was better to "do" than to "give" the measure of repentance. Subsequently the magistrate directed a letter to the principal, ordering that the boy be taken back. It was questioned as to whether he had the authority or not to issue this, but the school authorities agreed to the suggestion, and the lad was received again, Thursday.

P., here on Friday, May 30, will be the greatest ever held in Goderich. Rowell and several members of the Provincial Legislature are coming, and splendid addresses will be given. The meeting will be held in the West Street rink. A special train service has been arranged for to carry the hundreds who have expressed the wish to hear Mr. Proudfoot's statements at first hand.

DENIES REPORTS THAT RAINBOW IS TO BE DISMANTLED

Nothing Whatever in the Story Mr. Hazen Tells the House.

The Parcel Post Bill Likely To Be Considered Very Shortly.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, May 23.—The unusually late sitting of the House last evening was reflected in the entire absence of members in the chamber when the summons bell rang.

His Honor Mr. Speaker arrived behind the mace-bearing sergeant-at-arms, and for a full five minutes they sat facing each other, while the bell continued to ring to summon the members in. A quorum was present at seven minutes past 11. Before the orders of the day were called Hon. H. H. Emmerson asked the Minister of Marine whether the report appearing in yesterday's papers from Victoria, to the effect that the Rainbow was being dismantled and her crew going back to England, was true.

Denies the Report.

"There is no truth in it whatever," said Mr. Hazen. The House went into committee to consider a resolution proposed by Hon. T. W. Crothers, acting minister of the interior, authorizing the issuance of a military land certificate to Miss B. Hutchinson, of St. Thomas, whose father, James Hutchinson, was killed at Fish Creek, in the rebellion of 1865. The minister stated that she was sole heir of her father, to whom scrip had been issued. On coming of age she desired to assert her right which she was entitled to, through the sacrifice of her father's life. Hon. Frank Oliver, speaking on behalf of the Opposition, conceded to the resolution without demur.

National Gallery Bill.

Hon. Robert Rogers' national gallery bill came back from the Senate, with some minor amendments, which were agreed to. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux took the opportunity to urge upon the minister the desirability of keeping the museum open on Saturday afternoons and on Sundays. He did not think the public should be excluded on these days. Mr. Rogers said he would consider the matter.

The House then asked whether the Postmaster-General intended to bring down his parcel post bill. Mr. Borden declared that he believed that the bill would be brought down early.

"There are, however," he said, "many suggestions at this late stage as to laying over certain legislation until after session. I will call the attention of the Postmaster-General to the matter. The impression prevails that the parcel post bill may not be considered this session."

The House then went into committee of supply to consider the estimates of the department of marine and fisheries.

Mr. Beck Plans to Make a Long Stay in Old Country

While it is possible that Hon. Adam Beck will return to London temporarily after having spent five weeks in England, the Beck establishment will be in England for the next year.

Mr. Beck has secured a lodge in Ealing, and Mr. and Mrs. Beck and Miss Marion Beck will hunt in England for some time. Mrs. Beck, it is expected, will remain in England for a full year at least, and Mr. Beck will be there most of that time, according to his friends.

Mr. Thomas Smith will be in charge of the horses, and with Mrs. Smith and family, leaving the month of March for Montreal, where the party will embark.

Empire Day Ceremonies Were Held Throughout the Cities This Afternoon—Songs, Drills and Addresses and Presentation of Essay Prizes Features of Occasion.

The majority of the shields were presented by members of the divisional staff. Medals were also given to the teachers who were the instructors of the classes that were awarded shields for drill.

The pupils had their choice of five subjects on which to write, the subjects being "The Jesuit Missionaries," "Evangeline," "Frontenac," "Governor Simcoe," "Sir Isaac Brock" and "The Future of Canada."

BUSINESSMAN GETS GREAT BENEFIT

JAMES EGAN, MGR.
Merchants Distributing Association.

"It is the best tonic a man can take for a rundown condition," he says of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Men of positions of importance are not free with testimonials of indorsement as a rule, and when they do speak it is generally because they are deeply impressed.

When men recover from conditions of serious illness, they are thankful and wish to help their fellow-men. It is in this generous spirit that Mr. James Egan, Manager of the Merchants Distributing Association, of Boston, Mass., so highly indorses

Collingwood, May 22.—The monster new freighter, James Carruthers, was successfully launched here today. The steamer is claimed to be the largest of its kind ever built in the British Empire. The new vessel, which will be ready to go into commission in four weeks, was christened by Miss Lillian C. Wright, daughter of Mr. A. Wright, general manager of the St. Lawrence and Chicago Navigation Company, under whose colors the James Carruthers will ply on the Upper Lakes. The march of Collingwood declared a half-holiday, and thousands of citizens thronged every point of vantage to get a glimpse of the "Pride of the Canadian freight fleet," as she glided into the water.

The Dimensions. The dimensions of the vessel are: Length over all, 550 feet 8 inches; length of keel, 520 feet; beam mold-

NEW TUBERCULOSIS CURE TO BE TESTED IN PARIS

Dr. Hurd Gives Details of a Treatment Which While Very Complex He Claims Produces Most Important Results.

Paris, May 22.—The latest claim that tuberculosis can be cured is put forward in a book published today entitled "La Tuberculose Curable," by Doctor Hurd, a member of the Paris faculty. Dr. Hurd says in his experiments he has abandoned a special treatment of the scourge for a complex treatment to which he has given the name loyine.

This treatment is constituted by the association of three preparations each exercising a distinct and separate action, but all inseparable. The first is a preparation which replaces the hygienic treatment, disinfects the digestive tubes and prepares the organs to receive the other two preparations.

length of keel, 520 feet; beam mold- 58 feet; depth molded, 31 feet. She will have a carrying capacity of over 15,000 tons gross on 15 feet draft. She is built of steel on the arch and web frame system, leaving the holds unobstructed by stanchions, a feature which enables coal and ore carriers to be unloaded with clamshell buckets, a system now universal on the Great Lakes. She has thirty-eight telescoping metal covers which fit into place mechanically. She has a carrying capacity of 375,000 bushels of wheat or 600,000 bushels of oats and about 11,000 tons of coal. From a standpoint of carrying capacity, the James Carruthers now ranks with some of the largest American freighters trading on the Upper Lakes. It will require 375 cars, extending a distance of three miles, to carry the cargo that it is possible to put into the hold of the vessel.

Nerves on Edge Every Sound Annoys

Weak, worn-out nerves keep one in a constant state of irritability and excitement. The eyes are sensitive to light, and every noise jars on the overwrought nerves.

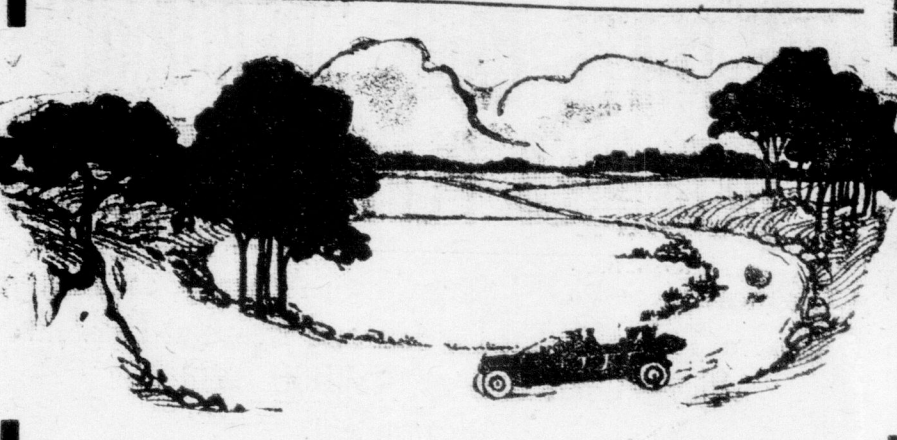

If children are about they are a constant source of annoyance and irritation. Every door seems to slam, and a little extra excitement or exertion leads to wakeful nights, nervous headache or indigestion.

In this condition women are likely to be hysterical and suffer greatly at regular periods. The nerves must be nourished back to vigor by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Being gentle and natural in action,

LIBERALS LOYAL IN OPPOSITION TO NAVAL BILL

London Times Criticizes the Attitude of the Conservatives Warmly.

Canadians Who Differ Are Not Necessarily Indifferent to British Interests.

London, May 23.—The Times after reviewing the naval controversy in the Canadian Commons says: While public speakers and writers in this country will refrain from interfering with the domestic arguments of the dominions they cannot be neutral in the present situation. For our part we shall not conceal our opinion that Premier Borden's speeches have shown a superior and unchallenged grasp of the facts, but we are far from supposing that those whether in Canada or this country who take a different view are less loyal. This point requires to be pressed.

Not Reasonable. It is not reasonable to expect that in this matter any more than in the struggle over the reciprocity agreement two years ago strong opinions should not be held and expressed on either side, but British comment on the reciprocity agreement was carried to the further point of questioning the loyalty of those in Canada who thought the agreement sound. Imputations of that nature are an inevitable feature of a domestic party controversy, but, whatever their justification in the narrow sphere, they are indefensible in the London, May 23.—It is understood that plans are nearly matured for the financing of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company's new plant at Fort William. The cost of the plant, it is believed, will be in the vicinity of $1,500,000, and the directors have virtually decided to raise the funds for the work by an issue of bonds. The company has also arranged for the sale of $1,000,000 of preferred stock, which is to provide additional working capital.

NEW CAR PLANT

Fort William Will Get Big Factory To Cost $1,500,000.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, May 23.—It is understood that plans are nearly matured for the financing of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company's new plant at Fort William. The cost of the plant, it is believed, will be in the vicinity of $1,500,000, and the directors have virtually decided to raise the funds for the work by an issue of bonds. The company has also arranged for the sale of $1,000,000 of preferred stock, which is to provide additional working capital.

Nothing we believe has been more keenly felt by Canadian Liberals than the charge of indifference to British unity which was directed against them, not merely by their Canadian opponents but from some quarters in England as well. We trust no such imputations will be heard upon their action today. The tendency of the policy is one thing, the motive another, and Englishmen can think what they please of the argument of either party in Canada without impugning the settlements of that one with which they happen to disagree.

LONDON, FRIDAY, MAY 23.

THAT 550-FOOT STEAMSHIP.

A steel steamship, 550 feet long, said to be the largest freighter of its class ever built in the British Empire, was launched at Collingwood yesterday. It will carry 375 carloads of freight, and there will be nothing better or bigger on the Great Lakes.The shipbuilding industry at Collingwood has had a rapid development.
It has done great things, and is capable of greater. Its potentialities were set forth in the House of Commons in 1909 by Major John Currie, M. P., one of its promoters. Like our own Major Beattie, and all his Conservative fellow-workers, Major Currie was then for the immediate creation of a Canadian navy. He showed that Collingwood could do its part. To quote:"I do not see why we should not immediately institute some system of naval defence along the line of torpedo boats or torpedo destroyers and destroyer cruisers, which would be invaluable to us in case of war.
A great many members suggested that it would be impossible for us to build these at home. Now, I do not wish to be considered local in any way. I have always been national or Canadian view of every subject; nevertheless, I may be permitted to say that within the riding which I have the honor to represent there is a shipyard which, if they have built ships and they laid down the keel of one ship on the 26th of June last, and launched her on the 1st of November all complete, 275 feet long, 7,000-horsepower, a 22-knot ship, with complete equipment, in that short time. If it were necessary for this Government to ask them to supply four speedy cruisers, 250 feet long, which could go through the canal, with a speed of 26 knots, I can assure you that I have it on the word of the men who designed these ships, and have built 22 steel ships in the last four years,
that it would be only a small matter
for them to assemble the material, provide four ships, and have them in the water by the 1st of October. The dock they use is 550 feet long, and would accommodate the Dread-nought."Of course, such language would be treason today. If the major were to hint that a Canadian warship could be built at Collingwood or any other place in Canada, he would be read out of his party. As a dutiful disciple of Mr.
Borden, he is now as industrious as other Conservative politicians in trying to persuade the Canadian people that they are utterly unequal to such a task. Four years ago he boasted that he took "a national or Canadian view of every subject." Today he is among the Little Canadians, heaping abuse on his fellow-countrymen who, unlike himself, have not shifted their ground or turned their coats.THE ANGLICAN UNITY MOVE-MENT.The organization of the Church Unity League under a very strong board of officers shows that the Anglican clergy and laymen have not been deterred from an accelerated march to church union by episcopal trepidations. As the German people in 1813 carried their rulers along with them in a rush for national unity against Napoleon, so in 1913 our Anglican community ignores the timorous circumspicion or obstruction of the bishops who are supposed to have the union question under consideration, and looks for a shorter cut.In the speeches made at the organization meeting in Toronto "co-operation," at least, was the watchword.
This is indeed the twentieth century
note. "Cordial, mutual understanding"
must be secured, as the basis of effective union. The constitution adopted by the meeting laid down as the guiding principle for action: (1) The Savior's prayer for unity; (2) the resolutions of the Lambeth Anglican Conference of 1908. It is proposed to propagate the union idea by sermons, literature and interdenominational conferences.There is great promise in this movement, and in the spirit shown by its organizers and participants. Even if organizing church unity does not result for a long time yet, a better feeling will come at once and grow with speed. The bigotry relating to pulp exchanges and sectarian co-operation in religious or even social affairs has already been greatly undermined by the effects of the foreign missionary revival. As one of the speakers said at the meeting,
"John R. Mott may not be in the apostolic succession, but he is a disciple of Jesus Christ." The cheers which greeted this saying showed that the audience was not so particular about the apostolic succession as some of their grandfathers might have been.The scholars are all on the side of unity," said Canon Plummer. This is a very interesting statement. We have today a new humanism arising, which attacks old fetiches in a kindly spirit, gently draws men to great universal truths, those which are not of an age but of all time, and makes man and betterment in this world its loving study.

MYSTERIOUS MONEY MOVEMENTS

Ontario is not the only province where a Government receives or expends money under cover. The movements of money are sometimes very mysterious. Whence does it come?
Whither does it go? In a recent Ontario case there was no doubt as to where it came from; in a case that is disturbing our sister province of British Columbia, the question is as to where it went. The facts are briefly
these:The Government of British Columbia wanted the Shoshone Indians to sell their reserve. The simple course would have been to send an employee of the Government to interview the Indians, get their price, and pay the amount if it was reasonable. The Indians are the wards of the Government, and should be treated honestly and fairly. There would not seem to be any need for mystery, or secret dealing. But Premier McBride selected a special agent, Mr. J. S. H. Matson, who negotiated the deal, and then paid him $75,000 for his services. When the public accounts came under review, the Opposition began to ask questions, but they could get no information. What did Mr. Matson do with all this money? Sir Richard Mc-Bride and his colleagues refused to say. Finally, Mr. Matson admitted that he kept $30,000 for his own services; but what he did with the remaining $45,000 he declines to tell.
And there the matter rests, with the Opposition asking, and the only parties who know refusing to answer.If the special agent really spent $45,000 of this grant in persuading the Indians to sell, the inference would seem to be that the money went into the pockets of the chiefs and other influential natives. On the face of it this does not look well. It is not surprising that there are inquisitive people in the Pacific Province who want some light on the subject.As to the $30,000 that Mr. Matson appropriated for himself, that looks like pretty big pay for a few months' work. But the Government appears to think it all right. Of course, Mr.
Matson is a useful man for his party, on general principles. He is in the publishing business. He owns three daily papers, the Victoria Colonist, Vancouver News-Advertiser, and the Nanaimo Herald. These papers are influential supporters of the Government. It is true, they all draw freely from the provincial treasury for advertising. But pay for advertising must not have been considered sufficient remuneration for services rendered. It is to be hoped, in the interests of the people whose pockets provide the cash, that the extra $30,- 000 may be enough to satisfy Mr.
Matson for a year or two longer. It may be, though, that there are other services, not connected with advertising or persuading Indians, which have to be paid for. Only the Government and the special agent know, and they keep silence.Fortunately the other fodder crops are not so far behind as the straw hats.The patriotism of many people is not distinguishable from their partishanship."If Parliament did not give immediate aid, I would appeal to the people."—R. L. Borden in 1910.The Dominion Government is less concerned about good roads than about political highways.Another Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company steamship arrived at Port Stanley with ten carloads of freight consigned to this city. London is taking her place as a maritime city.—London Free Press.Yes, and without spending a cent on electrification.Mr. Borden says he doesn't believe in contributions as a permanent policy;
but if he can get this one through he will find a pretext for another, in order to stave off the Canadian naval policy, which the Nationalists oppose to a man.

LAND DEVOTED TO DEER.

[London Daily News.]
A Parliamentary paper issued yesterday gives particulars of a deer park in Scotland. The total acreage of this land is 3,399,744, of which 602,218 acres are below 1,000 feet altitude. The total is as given in the Valuation Roll is £183,788. The county with the largest acreage devoted to deer and sport is Inverness, with 1,081,000 acres.

A HUNGER STRIKE IN 1357.

[London Chronicle.]
We have to go back to the reign of Edward III. to find the holder of the English hunger-strike record. Cecilia, wife of John de Ryegway, was in 1357 confined in Nottingham jail on a charge of murdering her husband, and there, according to the old records, she fasted for forty days. Which, being reported to the king, he was "moved by pity, and for the glory of God and the Blessed Virgin to grant the woman a pardon."
The records say nothing of her guilt or innocence, nor do they throw any light on fourteenth century ideas of forcible feeding.

A TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENT.

[Manchester Guardian.]
It is annoying and inconvenient to ring people up on the telephone and find that they are out—"No answer."
It is equally annoying to hear that
it is equally annoying to hear that people have rung one up in one's absence. The French Post Office has lately made an arrangement by which Paris telephone subscribers may receive communications over the phone even in their absence. When you go out you have only to turn a small handle attached to a magnet arrangement connected to the instrument.
This will place the subscriber in con-nection with a special section of the central exchange, where a small glow-light will inform the telephonist in attendance that the subscriber wishes
the exchange to cut him off and take all his calls. By means of a special plug or "jack" the exchange will then transfer his circuit to her own position, and be in readiness to receive calls. This done, she will record all inquiries and pass them to the subscriber. The subscriber is able by means of his magnet to inform the exchange of his return. The system has been tried for some time at the Wagram exchange with excellent results.

THE PROPER TAXATION.

[Montreal Witness.]
Should we not have a taxation based only on land value that will not prevent progress, and have it such a manner that it will only fall on those who benefit and to the extent to which they benefit and at the same time force those taxes to value their property in case of expropriation?

BIG ATLANTIC LINERS.

[Manchester Guardian.]
Contrary to expectation the Cunard liner Aquitania, which is to be launched at Clydebank to-morrow, will not be the biggest ship afloat. She will not, in fact, when completed a year hence, exceed the Olympic by more than 650 tons—17,000 as compared with 16,350—though the White Star boat is shorter by about 200 feet, and also slightly less in beam. The new German vessels are indeed larger than either—namely, the Hamburg-America Imperator, which is scheduled to begin her maiden voyage to New York on May 24th, and her sister ship, the Vaterland, which was launched on the 12th at the beginning of the month.The former is of 50,000 tons, with a length of 519 ft., as compared with the 30,000-ton Aquitania, while the latter is a 54,000-ton steamer, and it is believed that she will be the longest of all. An even bigger Hamburg-America liner is, however, to be put into the water in May of next year.
The Vaterland is a 54,000-ton steamer,

Star Britannic, which will probably be ready for launching at Queen's Island about Christmas, are not yet definitely known. All the same, it is understood that she will be well over the 50,000-ton limit. Next to the Cunard
" liners " Lusitania and Mauretania, the fastest merchant ships on any ocean, it is expected that the Aquitania will be speedier than the vessels of any other company on the Atlantic. She

WILLIAM FELL.

William Elliott came from Dorchester and promptly fell a victim to a five-months' drought. "It doesn't take much to affect a person, when he hasn't had a drink for five months," he informed the court. He was working, he said, for people named Woods, and said that if he were allowed to go he would go back to the Woods immediately.

His request was acceded to.

disease, I was unable to get up from my

Doan's Kidney Pills. I had my doubts about them, but was so desperate I would try anything suggested to me.
After taking half a box I was able to get up, and after taking two boxes could get around quite well. After taking six boxes I was completely cured, and able to work for the first time in five months,
and have not had a touch of rheumatism since. Anyone who saw me then would not know me now, as I am strong and in the blood of uric acid, and the kid-

cause of this, and unless you remove the acid by flushing the kidneys, there is no possible chance of getting rid of rheumatism.Doan's Kidney Pills help the kidneys

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

THE HOUSEWIFE AND THE CELLAR.

A woman doctor who is also an authority on home and civic hygiene lays down the following rules to guide the woman who is looking for a house or a flat in an apartment house:

1. Does the cellar extend under the whole house? It should. This is important.
2. Is the cellar dry, damp or wet? There are many cellars apparently cement-lined which still are most insanitary. Cellars should be not only asphalted, but the utmost care should be exercised to see that this asphalt lining is in itself really waterproof, and is not broken anywhere.
3. How is the cellar ventilated? Every dwelling, and particularly every flat house, with its elevator shafts and its dumb waiter shafts draws a good deal of air out of the cellar. That is, cellar air cannot be prevented from circulating through the house. It is particularly liable to pollution. Obviously one cannot be too careful with regard to it. That sunlight should be admitted, somewhere, to the cellar, should be regarded almost as imperative, cellar windows should always be accessible. It is important that the cellar traps should have a fresh air inlet. Cellar water-closets should be carefully investigated. Their location, ventilation, means of flushing, and their general condition may have their effect upon the tenants above stairs.

4. Ask the janitor if there are rats in the flat house cellar. If you are renting a private house find this out with care.
5. If the cellar is choked with rubbish, either the janitor or the owner is undesirable. Wherever it is possible the woman looking for a new home for herself and family should insist upon fireproof construction. Where the appropriation for rent does not warrant that, she can at least see to it that the building she chooses contains no extraordinary menace. Rubbish-filled cellars are amongst the worst of menaces. Fire experts say that junk, such as heaps of sweepings, old furniture and mattresses, old clothes, oily rags, and general uncleanness sometimes cause fire by spontaneous combustion, and often because they furnish food for the carelessly dropped match. It is the duty of the housewife to see to it that the cellar of her dwelling house, or the basement of her flat house, is free from all perils. A cellar should be as clean as any part of a house.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

"Lovely, Satisfactory Answers,"

Dear Miss Grey—I wrote to you once before, and had such lovely, satisfactory answers that I thought you would not mind if I troubled you with one more. I am 14, and measure almost 5 feet 6 inches in my shoes (some sort of glances, am I not?), how long should I wear my dresses? Please do not tell me to my shoe tops, because I do not want to wear them that long. Please tell me as short as possible, and get look well.

2. What kind of dress would you suggest for a woman of about 43? One that would be suitable for good summer wear, and one that would do for winter parties.

3. Which would you advise me to get, a pair of buttoned, patterned oxfords, or a pair of laced ones for summer?

4. I wear my hair in a curl down my back, or in braids around my head. Is this suitable for me?

5. Should I wear a ribbon? If so, which would look best, a black ribbon or colored ones?

6. I may go to the country, down near the lake. Will these clothes be sufficient for me to take? One cream lustre dress, one muslin dress, a white embroidered dress, two or three print dresses, a separate skirt, one serge dress, a white poplin skirt and two or three blouses. I may want a coat of weeks or a month. If I need a coat would a sweater not be all right to take? Please mention anything else that you think I may really need.

7. Now, Miss Grey, just this one question to bother you with: Will you please tell me what my writing is like, and try and tell me what my character is like from it? I do wish you would, and also tell me if you think my stationery is good taste. I will thank you ever so much in advance, and hope to see this in print soon, I remain,

MUTT'S SISTER.

A—1. You are such a tall child that I really do not think you should wear your skirts one bit shorter than an inch or so above your shoe tops. Now don't pout!

2. Would suggest a pretty silk, or a striped voile, in gray. It could be trimmed with pale blue silk, cream galloon, or tiny crystal buttons.

3. The laced ones are good for daily wear; for Sundays, the buttoned ones are perhaps more dressy. If one pair does for all occasions the laced ones may be found best.

4. Yes.

5. Wear a ribbon sometimes if you like. A black velvet one for common, and colored ribbons to match your dress on special occasions.

6. I think you would have a very nice outfit with the clothes you mention. The sweater coat would be found admirably serviceable. I am sure, or a three-quarter-length, serge coat in tan or gray would also be nice. I hope it is your intention to go in bathing, and for this you should have a bathing suit. An inexpensive one may be made at home by purchasing a pattern from the fashion counter of your store. Navy blue, dark red, or gray lustre or serge makes a most serviceable suit.

7. Your writing is very good for a girl of your age, and your letter is particularly neat. It requires special study to read character from hand-writing, and this I have not made, so I am unable to grant your request. In regard to the notepaper, may I say, I think there is nothing as nice as cream-tinted linen.

Answer to Rachel.

Witch-hazel is excellent for closing the pores. Wet cloths in hot witch-hazel and place over the face. Be sure and cool the face thoroughly before going out into the open air. Cold water, a piece of ice rubbed over the face is also good for closing pores. After washing the face in warm water, rinse in cold or take a piece of ice and rub it over the face.

NEW WAYS TO PREPARE STRAWBERRIES

Strawberries in Maccadine.

The only kind of strawberry "salad" worthy of mention is that delicious concoction known by the French as a "maccadine," where strawberries are dressed with whipped cream and combined with other fruits that assist in either accentuating or absorbing (not hiding) their unique flavor. A bowlful of bananas and strawberries mixed together is delicious when dressed with whipped cream and a spoonful of lemon juice. Or, for variety's sake, the lemon may be left out and the fruit liberally sprinkled with coccaut.

With Whipped Cream.

It is a combination with whipped cream that the strawberry attains perfection. To bring out its full flavor no other addition is needed, except sugar, if the fruit is slightly acid. If the berries that are now in market, which come from the South, are sprinkled with sugar and allowed to stand half an hour or more in a sunny window before serving, they will be mellowed and more like the thoroughly ripened fruit that will come a little later from nearby gardens.

Truly Royal Desserts.

The great chefs use this pastoral combination of strawberries and cream as a foundation for many of their most aristocratic desserts. Strawberry Bavarian cream, strawberry mousse, for example, are used as a base for many of the elaborate sweets that have graced the tables of royalty.

Unit the strawberries with plain layers of protein meringue, and one has the alluring shortcake which has spread the fame of the American woman as a cook all over the world. Even in Tokio it is said that a restaurant keeper has made a fortune selling real strawberry shortcake to the Japanese.

Strawberry Fool.

Strawberry sponges and gelatine jellies are also improved with cream. A little cream may be folded through them just as they are cooking. This is sometimes known especially in England, as "strawberry fool," and is as delicious as the famous "gooseberry fool." The French cook puts berries, foam, and a perfect plain strawberry cake together in layers with strawberries and cream between, and calls it "strawberry shortcake"—a downright libel on the real thing. How many unsuspecting mortals have had this French cake served to them when they have asked for shortcake at restaurants. They do not often order it a second time, for it is insipidly sweet. The kind that "mother used to make" did not have this failing, because her layers of biscuit dough were unsweetened, and this made a good combination.

THE CARE OF BROOMS.

Buy brooms in pairs. You will save money by so doing. Give one a bath and allow it to rest a day and see how fresh and new it seems. Dip the broom into hot soap suds. Dip it on wash day. Dip it in until the suds are clear. Then dip the broom into clear hot water and hang it in a draught to dry. Wash the broom handles. You will be surprised at the amount of dirt you will find. Be sure there is a hook or screw-eye screwed into the end of the handle to hang up the broom. More "one-sided" brooms are made from standing on the floor in a corner than from being worn by sweeping. Do not use the same broom for all parts of the house. One that has been used in the dining-room may be in such a condition as to ruin a valuable rug.

Tea-Table Talk

There lies before me a hand-book recently issued by the department of agriculture, listing the summer lectures and speakers for the Women's Institutes of Ontario. The fact that the Women's Institutes now have a membership of over 23,000 extending over 92 electoral districts of the province, and a convincing proof of the interest women in rural sections and country towns are taking in the organization.

Among the lecturers who will address meetings of the institute branches throughout Ontario are honor graduates and specialists from Alma College, Toronto University, the Guelph Dairy School, McDonald Institute, and other well-known training schools. The subjects to be dealt with cover a wide range of topics, practically every topic that appeals to women. Home nursing and sanitation, poultry raising, dairy work, country entertaining, domestic science, children on the farm, home economics, harmony in home furnishings, the school, the garden and scores of other subjects equally as interesting.

The intellectual side of life too, one notes, is not neglected, for the list includes such lectures as "Canadian Writers," "The development of our nation," "Literature and life," "Art as a revelation of character," "Canadian laws concerning women and children," and "Books with a Purpose." Among the lecturers are Miss A. M. Hotson of Parkhill, who took a post-graduate course in Gertrude House, Chicago, where she studied many phases of child-life, and women's needs. Mrs. E. B. McKim, Locan, Mrs. Horace W. Parsons of Forest, and Miss Ethel Robson of Iderton, whose practical experience as a bee-keeper on the farm enables her to speak with authority upon the subject.

Wear a Half-and- Half Gown.

And now, for those who delight to hear of fashion's latest freaks, comes a story of a "half-and-half" gown worn recently by a Washington society lady. Viewing her on one side, the onlooker would have the impression of seeing a woman, prettily gowned in blue flowered silk, with a black hat trimmed in blue, and wearing lapis lazuli earrings. But perhaps a second glance at the dame would reveal to the bewildered gaze, a plain blue silk dress, no earrings and a perfectly plain black hat! Like most of mysteries, it is no mystery at all, when one hears the solutions. In the desire to have "something different," the enterprising lady has her frock made of flowered silk on the left half only, wears one earring in the left ear, and has her hat trimmed on that side, while the right half of her dress is perfectly plain blue silk, her hat untrimmed, and no earring adorns her right ear. One wonders how far some folks' desire for novelty will carry them!

Paper knives and envelope openers are now being made with a small magnifying glass in the handle making them quite indispensable for the near-sighted.

Creamed Asparagus—Wash and cut asparagus in thin pieces until the hard part of the stem is reached. Stew 15 minutes in slightly salted water; then drain in a colander. Make a rich drawn butter sauce and pour over. Serve very hot.

Orange and Cocoanut Delight.—Use very sweet oranges for this dish, the fresh fruit and grate it in the bottom of a glass bowl put a layer of sliced and seeded oranges, sprinkle with granulated sugar and pour over the grated cocoanut. On this put a generous spoonful of sweetened and whipped cream. Now another layer of the sugared oranges, more cocoanut and whipped cream, and so on until the dish is full. The top layer must be of whipped cream, heaped high in the centre.

Poor Man's Cake.—One tablespoon butter, one cup sugar, two cups flour, one cup raisins, one teaspoon soda, one cup sour milk. Flavor the cake as desired, with lemon, nutmeg, or vanilla, or add a dessertspoonful of mixed pastry spices. Bake in a moderate oven.

AT THE WRIST.

A very pretty finish for the end of the sleeve is in the shape of a fan. The entire sleeve is cut over a plain pattern, but when it nears the wrist the material is drawn in, so that the edge falls over the hand in fan shape. A piping of black velvet and a fringe of lace peeping beneath add to the wrist are a fine accompaniment for slashed skirts. If the sides of the slash in the skirt are curved, the same effect is seen in the sleeve. If they are cut off square, they are treated so in the sleeves. Some are only three inches wide, while others reach the elbow. There is such a large variety of ways to finish the bottom of the sleeve that one need not repeat one note too often.

CARE OF RUGS

BY CAROLINE COE.

Greatest care should be taken in sweeping or wiping thick piled carpets and rugs. They should always be swept the way of the pile or grain, and a carpet swept against the grain soon loses its bright sheen or color and looks rough and ill-used.

Wiping the rug or carpet thoroughly after sweeping is an excellent way of keeping the colors perfect. Wring a soft flannel cloth dipped in warm water with ammonia in proportion of one-half cup of ammonia to two quarts of water. Do not dip the cloth into all the water. After once wiping the rug use a little at a time, so each part of the rug may have clean water and ammonia.

Sugar or candy spots may be removed by using clear warm water.

If varnish has been spilled on the rug or carpet cut it at once by applying turpentine, then wash the spot carefully with warm soap suds, rinsing thoroughly and not allowing the spot to be walked upon until perfectly dry.

AS TOLD BY AUNT GERTIE.
CHAPTER V.

Winds blew. The pond, on which the ugly duckling swam around and around to keep from freezing, began to disappear under thick ice. The little bit of water still visible grew less and less.

What was "Ugly" to do now? Where could he go? How could he keep warm till summer time again? Finally the cruel ice covered all the pond and "Ugly" stiff and cold and unhappy lay like a dead duck, fast in the ice. He would have died there and then if a peasant woman coming by next morning hadn't seen him and pulled him out. She was very sorry for "Ugly" and took him home with her. The poor duckling was so scared and so happy, all at the same time, that he turned over a big can of milk standing on the kitchen floor. The woman screamed and clapped her hands. Then the duckling flopped over right into a pan of butter. Things looked pretty bad for him, and if he hadn't hopped out through the open door, right away, he might have been killed before he could say "Jack Robinson."

There was snow on the ground. The duckling did not know where to go or what to do. He lay like one in a dream for a long time. But we can't tell you how many hard times "Ugly" had that winter or how nearly he came to dying. Somehow or other he managed to live, and that was all.

When life had finally come to look like one long shadow with no sunshine or fun in it, the trees began to sprout; the grass began to turn green. "Ugly" felt the spring coming.

He took heart again, brushed his poor, little feathers, and lifted his head up once more.

His wings were stronger. He felt as if he were going to have a better time, and then something unexpected happened to this ugly duckling.

Fads of Fashion

Crepe de chine is favored for semi-tailored afternoon and evening gowns. Crepe meteor comes next.

A new house dress has been invented which fastens with one clasp. It slips over another dress if desired.

A charming long sleeve is kimono above with a long, light undersleeve of richly patterned brocade below.

No matter how much drapery appears on a gown, it is always arranged to make the silhouette more slender.

The rage for violet colors grows steadily and shades that literally "scream" at each other are combined shamelessly in the trimming of one small hat.

A new mode in trimming dresses is to have draperies which taper to a point, reach about half way between the waistband and hem.

A charming blouse can be made of blue chiffon, with tucks from shoulder to waist and the sleeves of plain chiffon.

Towels embroidered in small French knots in grape designs and colored as in nature make exquisite adjuncts for the guest chamber.

NEW EVENING WRAPS.

They're fetching—very. The newest is of taffeta. Its color is soft. It may be bronze and old gold. It is edged with a pinked ruffle. This goes up the fronts and around the neck.

The yoke, which points up at the back, forms the sleeves.

The short sleeves are also edged with the dainty pinked ruffle. In front it is a cutaway, lapping well, and is full length at the back.

CARE OF FURS

Furs require far greater care in summer than the ordinary winter garments. The moth seems to take a particular delight in cutting a path through the hairs, and only the utmost vigilance will forestall its ravages. A thorough shaking, brushing, and sun-drying their furs with gasoline before storing them, claim that it is a sure moth preventative and does away with the annoyance of hairs falling out. The odor quickly disappears when exposed to the air. Muffs should be hung upon short rods or muff hangers which are made specially for this purpose.

Felt hats, particularly those of beaver, are included in the list of winter belongings that need special attention in the spring. A hat trunk, a collapsible holder of cedar paper or open paste-board boxes are excellent receptacles for them. Before being put away, they should be carefully brushed and placed upon wire hat holders that their shape may be retained. If boxes are used, they should be made air-tight by gluing the covers to the boxes with tape.

Systematic inspection of winter clothing during the summer is urged. A few moth eggs may have been overlooked and although, on account of the minuteness of the troublesome specks, harm may have begun, ravages may be arrested to an appreciable extent by occasionally examining the garments and airing and brushing them.

WASTING TIME.

The woman who is in too much of a hurry to read the ads almost always wastes a lot of time in looking about for what she wants to buy.

Vegetables thoroughly ventilated while cooking are thought to be more wholesome and of better flavor.

New Fabrics in New Frocks

"Tissues of the Arabian Nights," some one has called the new fabrics for 1913; and verily never before have such fabrics been seen—out of the "Arabian Nights" as they are called—displayed for women's decoration on the counters of the great shops. From the Orient they have come—from China, Japan, India, Egypt and Persia, from the Far East—Siam, Formosa, Korea, and Servia—the outcast kingdom of Europe, from Russia, from Turkey, from Switzerland, from France, from England, and from Italy. The gorgeous and elusive silken stuffs, metallic brocades and trimmings, sundowny laces, wonderful machine-woven embroideries for sturdy workstuffs and mohairs, and delicate cotton weaves, come by in their fashions.

Many of these imported materials have been copied marvelously on American looms, but it is evidence of American enterprise and skill that so many of the almost priceless materials have been cleverly reproduced in pattern and color for the benefit of American women who cannot or will not pay the higher prices of imported fabrics. The admirable silk and worsted leaves of landslows in case in point. This material, entirely a product of American mills, is just now fashion's favorite the world over; and many of the French couturiers are using landslows—much has the most beautiful draping qualities for the most exclusive creations. Premier, for instance, has turned out an enchanting little travelling costume for an Easter bride, the material being landslows in the new, warm terra-cotta shade which is just now the craze in Paris. A replica of this travelling costume, built by a New York dressmaker, follows the graceful lines of the model, though in this case the landslows are in an olive-green shade—more suitable for a society of American travel than anything as conspicuous as terra-cotta. A blouse of eury batiste embroidery accompanies the olive-green costume, and over the silk collar a jaunty outaway coat turns down a little collar of the matching embroidery, also in the delicate terra-cotta shade. Buttoned boots of dull calf, with suede tops on the shade of the costume add the final touch of completeness.

Thoughts are real forces—living messengers of power. Love thoughts, even when brought to bear upon our pains and trials, transform them and make them educational.—Henry Wood

The Poets' Corner

TO HIS LOVE,
Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate;
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date.
Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
And oft it is his gold complexion dimm'd;
And every fair from fair sometime declines,
By chance, or nature's changing course, untrimm'd.
But thy eternal summer shall not fade,
Nor lose possession of that fair thou owest;
Nor shall death brag thou wanderest in his shade,
When in eternal lines to time thou art growest.
So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.

A DAY IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SIDE LIGHTS ON MANY SPORTSLONDON WITH NEW PITCHER
IN BOX BEAT BERLIN 12 TO 8

Reilly, the New Pitcher London Secured From Amby Kane, Made Good Showing on His First Appearance—Held Berlin to Four Hits—Dutchmen Rallied in Ninth, But It Was No Use.

[BY JINX.]

Judging from their last two performances, the Londoners seem to be thirsting with a desire to pack the game away beyond all reach, and score all their runs in the first inning. On Saturday, Mr. Deneau's debut, and yesterday against Joe Keenan's Dutchmen, the redskins once more collected six tallies in the opening stanza of the first game on the home lot since Saturday.

Of course, this is all very well, but then think how discouraging to the other fellows. The Keenan Krew became visibly excited before the first four batters had come up in that initial session yesterday, and their excitement contributed quite handsomely to the general festivities. Only four hits were needed owing to the liberality of the victors, three errors making up for any lack of stick work on the part of the Deneau hitters.

REILLY CAME FROM BRANTFORD.

It was a nice pastime if one's taste for pastimes tends to runs and hits and errors. There was plenty good and bad baseball in that London first inning to provide enough excitement for an ordinary game, and the fact that it was on the right side of the sheet made it all the more pleasing from a local standpoint. The game marked the first appearance here of Mr. Reilly, a pitching gentleman who was secured from Amby Kane. Now, when Amby Kane gives anything away, it is just about one remove from the incinerator establishment, but remembering the case of "Wild Bill" Baker, we have come to the conclusion that Amby doesn't want any real pitchers on his staff. Mr. Reilly got by nicely, and he showed a bunch of stuff that augured well for his pitching future with the London club. He had a nice spitter, and a cud of slippery elm, and in these modern times all a slant artist needs is such an equipment. He let the Keenan Klouters down with six hits, and they were widely separated. Only three runs were made off him in that time.

CHAPUT COMES IN.

However, Mr. Reilly did not stick to the finish of the game. Realizing the fact that Del Chaput has not done a tap of work for nearly a whole week, Mr. Deneau roused him from his lethargic slumber on the dug-out bench, and sent him out in the ninth to get the last three duabers. He also sent Catcher Frozeller, the Niagara University trout, in to do the backstop work, Matty Matteson being immensely relieved. For a time it looked as though Chaput would undo all the previous efforts of Mr. Reilly. Del was wild, and he was forced to groove too many. When he did groove them, it was all the splendid outfielders Mr. Deneau hired could do to keep the blooming ball in the park. When the inning ended—and it was the last inning, mind you—the Berlin team had collected five large and healthy counters, and only for the fact that Mr. Deneau was hovering around centre field, that Berlin organization might have tied it up and forced a into overtime.

Kehoe Opposed London.

"Stubby" Kehoe was the gent opposed to Messrs. Reilly and Chaput throughout the session, and the Teacuppers took kindly to his assortment right off the reel. Kehoe is one of those gent who hurls from the port, and he is generally effective. But the Deneau delegation has been taking a liking to left-handers of late, and Kehoe looked like all the rest of them. After the first inning he got so bad, but the locals never forgot their propensity to hit the ball in the critical stage.

Six Runs in the First.

Eddie Linneborn started the carnage as usual by singling through the box to centre. Matteson dropped a single in left, and Bierbauer's slow bunt along the third base line went into one at this stage and laid it out in right field. Linneborn and Matteson scored. Joe Keenan fozzled Stewart's roller, and Bierbauer walked. Deneau's bunt in easy fashion, but threw high to first, and Clickenger walked in with another run while Deneau perched on first. Rube Deneau sacrificed, and Bullock made a bad peg to first of Myers' grounder. Stewart and Duglop scored. Reilly flew out to Sweeney, and Linneborn ended it by grounding out. Keenan to Sweeney.

Another Run in Second.

Another run came in the second inning. Matteson had popped out to Bullock, but Keenan juggled. Bierbauer's roller long enough to let Louis reach the bag in safety. Clickenger's two-bagger to deep centre scored Bierbauer. Stewart popped to McAvoy, and Duglop got an infield hit. Reilly sent Clickenger to third. However, the best Rube Deneau could do was fly to White.

Berlin Scores One.

Up to the third inning Berlin only got one hit off Reilly. In the third frame the Dutchmen scored one run without a hit. Reilly walked White to begin with, and Reilly's bad throw to first base long enough to let Louis reach the bag to second. He went to third when Bierbauer grabbed Kehoe's long foul fly, and scored on Burns' out. Linneborn got a run in the third without the aid of a hit. Myers walked, but Reilly popped to Kehoe trying to sacrifice. Linneborn's long Rube getting the put-outs.

Welcome, Mr. Reilly

BIG LEAGUE CLUBS HAVE MANY POSTPONED GAMES

National League Has Twenty-Five So Far and the American League Has Twenty-Three.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, N. Y., May 23.—Three postponements of games in the National League yesterday have brought the total for the season to date up to 25. Philadelphia has suffered the worst, with six postponements there. New York has had five, Cincinnati and Boston each four, Chicago and Brooklyn two each, and Pittsburgh and St. Louis one each. There have been 25 postponed games in the American League, Washington and Detroit have each had five Chicago four, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Cleveland each two, and St. Louis one.

Matty a "Has Been" They Said;
Is Setting World's Record Now

CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

Christy Mathewson, a well-known National League pitcher, who has been shining more or less brilliantly for the past twelve years as a member of the New York Giants, gives promise of another year as a star.

It was Mathewson who was infirm and due to wander to fields anew last fall. The fans conceded he might be with the team this year, but as for being of much use, not at all.

And, behold, this spring, Matty has won as many games as have Marquard, Tesreau and Deneau combined—the three who were to be the stars.

Not only has he been winning right along, but Matty has given the most marvellous exhibition of control ever shown by a pitcher. On April 17 Mathewson walked two Boston batters, and he hasn't issued a pass since—not for 47 consecutive innings.

Against the Cubs, Mathewson didn't pitch a single ball to the first 11 batters. During the game he pitched but 75 times, and but 11 balls were called; but for 10 fouls of perfect strikes by Zimmerman and Clymer. Matty would have broken his own record of pitching fewer than 67 pitched balls in nine innings.

This is what this totalling old gentleman is doing these bright spring days. It's a pity, from the standpoint of New York fans, that McGraw hasn't a team of infirm old folks like Matty instead of a few of the eccentrics who suffer from temperament and ego-meeting Marquard, for instance.

WALTER JOHNSON BEATEN BY NAPS

Cleveland, May 22.—The Naps batted Walter Johnson for 13 hits today and blanked the climbers 5 to 0, with Bill Steen pitching masterly ball.

It was Johnson's first defeat in ten games. He tried all sorts of "stuff"
on the Naps, but failed to puzzle Birmingham's bingers. Jackson got two singles in four times up, while Grane-
y smothered out a triple and two singles in four times. Ryan also connected for a double and a single. Steen allowed six scattered hits, Moeller and Milan being the only Washingtonians to get more than one hit. All the Naps got a hit except Chapman. For the first time this season Griffith had pitchers warming up while Johnson was on the mound. The score:

PITTSBURG'S WIN TO BE PROTESTED

Brooklyn Club Did Not Like Playing in Rain Although Klem Made Them.

New York, May 22.—A protest will be filed with President Lynch, of the National League, by the Brooklyn Club tomorrow morning, setting forth that Umpire Klem solely was to blame for the hurly-burly between the Dodgers and Pirates at Ebbetts Field today, and asking for the elimination of the game, which was a 1 to 0, five-innings Pittsburg victory, from the official standing of the clubs. For nearly fifty minutes Klem compelled the teams to play in a steady downpour on a field that was slippery with mud. The score:

COAST LACROSSE CLUBS HOLD FINAL WORK-OUTS

Are Now Ready for Opening of Season on Saturday—Vancouver and New Westminster Meet.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, May 22.—Both Vancouver and Westminster teams held their final workout Thursday, and will rest up today in preparation for the opening lacrosse game of the season at

Queen's Park, New Westminster, Saturday afternoon.

The champions will take the field

at full strength, and fully expect to extend their long string of victories on opening day. The green shirts have not yet beaten the champions in an opening game, but will be mighty formidable on Saturday, and the champions will have their work cut out to gain a victory. It would be strange to see the Westminster team

take the field without a Gifford on the line-up, and although it was announced

earlier in the week that the champions

would be playing without a member of that family on the team, it is now

found that Hugh has recovered sufficiently from an injury to be able to take his place, and will be seen at third defence.

The line-up of the Vancouver team is still uncertain. The terminals showed a number of changes in last night's practice, and Coach Griffith was highly pleased with the showing made.

Bobby Pringle has been showing fine form.

LARRY DOYLE

Larry Doyle of the New York Giants

is going after Zimmerman's batting record of last season. He has always been a hard hitter—one of the free

swinging kind, and a dangerous man

to have up in a pinch.

In the Boston series he made six hits, in succession and might have made more if he hadn't peevish the umpire and was removed from the game. Being put out of the game is bad enough to "Laughing Larry," but he received three days' suspension and a $50 fine, and McGraw plastered on another fifty for disobeying orders and sassing the umpire.

PROMOTION OF CHRISTIAN UNITY AIM OF SOCIETY

Anglicans Take an Important Step Toward Uniting All the Churches.

Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal, Is First President of New League.

Toronto, May 22.—At one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the Dominion, the Anglican Church Unity League was formed here today. The officers are as follows:

Honorary President—Geo. E. Drummond.
Vice-Presidents—Archdeacon Cady, Canon Plummer, Canon Tucker, Dean Combes, Rev. E. A. P. Chadwick, Rev. Canon Plummer, Rev. G. A. Kubring, Rev. Prof. Griffith-Thomas, Chancellor Croun, Principal Hutton, Judge Ernest, Dean Adams, H. Brock, Prof. W. J. Charles Jenkins, Honorary Secretary—Rev. A. P. Shatford.

Treasurer—Mr. E. L. Brittain.
Executive Committee—Revs. J. A. Elliott, R. J. Moore, T. W. Savary, Archdeacon Remick, C. J. James, Lawrence, S. E. W. Norwood, Judge Harding, Messrs. W. S. Campbell, C. A. Moss, Prof. O. Smith, and D. Creighton Jackson, Adam Shortt, and Lewis Clark.

A Great Step.
It was the announced intention of taking such a step that called forth a protest from the bishops of Eastern Canada on April 24.

"This is an epoch-making movement," said one of the members who, with emotion in his voice, rose up at the close of the meeting last night, and proposed that the addresses which had been given by the speakers of the evening should be printed, and those present fully realized it.

The applause which greeted some of the statements of the speakers was of a tumultuous character. The keynote of the meeting may be summed up by the following, taken from the address of the venerable Archdeacon Cady: "Wouldn't you like to meet John Bunyan, Francis of Assisi, Thomas à Kempis, Father John of Chabad, David Livingstone, and Paton of the New Hebrides, as well as Keble, Phillips, Brooks and Kingsley? How can we refuse to recognize on earth those who will be stars in the spiritual firmament hereafter? Will there not arise some sense of shame to remember hereafter that we refused to recognize these on earth?" (loud applause).

The Constitution.
The meeting in the afternoon was continued to administration and constitutional work. A constitution was adopted, defining the name as the Church Unity League, and explaining the objects of the society, as follows:

(a) In accordance with the high priestly prayer of our Lord that they all may be one.

(b) In conformity with the resolutions of the conference of all the Anglican bishops held at Lambeth in 1908 that every opportunity should be taken to bring about a closer union of the members of different communions in all matters pertaining to social and moral welfare of the people, the members of the Anglican communion should take pains to study the doctrines and position of those who are separated from it, and to promote a cordial understanding of the same as a means towards this end the conference suggests that private meetings of ministers and laymen of different Christian bodies should be held, for discussion and prayer, should be frequently held in convenient centres.

The constituted authorities of the various churches of the Anglican communion should, as opportunity offers, arrange conference with representatives of other Christian churches and meetings for common acknowledgment of the sins of division and for intercession for the growth of unity.

Promote Christian Unity.
(c) To promote by all constitutional means the cause of Christian unity.

(d) To examine and set forth by meetings, sermons and literature the grounds upon which our divisions rest and discover the lines of demarcation between those things that are always and everywhere essential and those which are expedient.

It is provided that the officers of the society shall be: President, one or more vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, an executive committee consisting of the officers, together with eight clergymen and eight laymen. Seven members shall form a quorum.

Who Are Eligible.
All members of the Church of England in Canada, male and female, above the age of 21 years are to be eligible for membership.

There is to be an annual meeting to be held during the last week in May, or as near thereto as possible. Other meetings may be held at the discretion of the executive committee, or on the written request of 25 members.

The executive committee is to encourage and aid in the formation of branch societies wherever it may be possible.

KOMOKA RECITAL.
The pupils of Miss Edith Irvine, assisted by Miss Clara Newton, Mr. Oliver Sinclair and Miss Carol Branton, will give a recital in the Town Hall, Komoka, tonight. The concert will be free to the public.

We have such faith in Vinol that if it does not quickly build you up, restore your strength and make you feel well again, we will return your money. Try Vinol on our guarantee. W. T. Strong, druggist, 184 Dundas street; Anderson & Nelles, druggists, 285 Dundas street, London, Ontario.

Cobalt Miners to Take Strike Vote

Plan To Go Out in Sympathy With Men in the Porcupine.

Cobalt, May 22.—The Cobalt branch of the Western Federation of Miners on Sunday next will ballot on the question as to whether a strike shall be called. The proposal to take this ballot was twice voted down, but was eventually carried a few weeks ago.

Of the thousand men in the union the great majority are opposed to a strike, and the tradesmen dread such a step, but it is being strongly agitated by the Socialist wing of the party, who are urging the men to cease work out of sympathy with the Porcupine strikers.

The statement is also being freely made that when the eight hours' law comes into operation there will be a cut in the men's wages. Positive assurances, however, are given by mine managers employing 75 per cent. of the men that no reduction will be made under the new act.

The older members of the union are very much averse to a strike, but since the decision to take a ballot the Socialists have been busy enrolling every new arrival in the camp.

London Women Were Elected at Chatham

Mrs. Wright, President, and Mrs. Tennant, Secretary, of the W. M. S.

Chatham, May 22.—The main item of business transacted at the final day's session of the nineteenth annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the London district was the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Gordon Wright, London; first vice-president, Mrs. Marriott; second vice-president, Mrs. Harrison; third vice-president, Mrs. Leary, Windsor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tennant, London; recording secretary, Mrs. McAlister.

Many of the two hundred delegates in the city for the convention left for their homes this afternoon. The reports throughout have been most encouraging.

Montreal Witness Not Bought By Tramways

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, May 22.—In reference to the story sent out yesterday that the Tramways Company interests had acquired the Daily Witness, Mr. C. Gordon Smith, whose name was mentioned in the dispatch, said today that such a statement was absolutely false. The Witness says today:

"A mischievous, if not a wilful libel, has been given currency through the Canadian Press, Limited, to the effect that the financial interests behind the Tramways Company have acquired the Witness. Never has the Tramways Company, or its predecessor the Montreal Street Railway Company, or financial men behind either of these companies, had one dollar of interest in any shape or form in the Witness, and never have we asked or received any assistance from any such source. Other rumors equally wild are being irresponsibly circulated."

Mr. C. Gordon Smith, managing editor of the Montreal Star, whose name was also mentioned in the dispatch referred to, and who was said to be about to become connected with the Witness, states that such an assertion is devoid of foundation in truth.

Farmers' 'At Home' at the Kennels

Five Hundred Persons Were Entertained by the London Hunt Club.

The London Hunt Club gave an "At Home" Thursday afternoon to nearly 600 people, composed of farmers, their wives and families. This "At Home" is an annual event given to the farmers whose farms the Hunt Club rides the children, and presentation of prizes over in following the bounds. The members of the club spared no effort to make the affair a success, and the splendid luncheon, games and other amusements provided were enjoyed by all.

The feature of the afternoon was a ball game between east and west, in which east beat west, 31 to 11. The object of the "At Home" is to show the appreciation in which the club holds the farmers who permit them to ride over their farms during a hunt. At the close of the afternoon's fun a luncheon was provided in the Kennels for the club and their guests.

KYLE-HOBSON. A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, May 21, at 4 o'clock p.m. at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tweed, 14 Elmwood avenue, this city, when their sister, Olive Stewart, younger daughter of Mr. Oliver Hobson, of Dundas, was united in marriage to Mr. William Alexander Kyle, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kyle, of Dundas. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. J. Chegwain, of Moose Jaw, Sask., brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. W. H. Harvey, of this city. The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in shell-pink silk veiled with embroidered voile, tulle veil in cap effect, and carried a shower of pink sweet peas and lily-of-the-valley. Mrs. H. Sayers, of Toronto, played the wedding music. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. The bride and groom left on the 6:53 p.m. train for Dundas, where they will reside, the bride wearing a tailored costume of navy blue. Owing to recent bereavement in the bride's family the wedding was quiet, immediate relatives only being present.

MELVILLE CHURCH OF LOBO CALLS INNERKIP PASTOR

Important Business Transaction at Special Meeting of London Presbytery.

A special adjourned meeting of the Presbytery of London was held in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday afternoon, Dr. Munro presented a call from Melville Church, Lobo, to the Rev. Robert McCullough, of Lobo. The stipend is $1,000, with a manse and glebe of five acres with the usual vacation.

Mr. A. McLean and Mr. L. Nagel, of Lobo, appeared in support of the call. The people of Ivan and Lobo are enthusiastic and are spending $600 on the manse to make it modern for the new minister.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, a former co-pastor, Mr. McIntosh and others, spoke in high terms of Mr. McCullough. Dr. Munro was appointed to prosecute the call before the Paris Presbytery. Should Mr. McCullough accept, the date of induction will be arranged by the moderator and clerk. Mr. McCullough will preach, Dr. Munro will address the minister, and Mr. Earchman the people.

Dr. McDonald's reasons for appeal to the synod against the election of the clerk caused a long and very able discussion, participated in by Mr. McIntosh, Dr. Ross and Dr. McCrae. The appeal was allowed.

Rev. Hugh McFarlane, B.A., Officially Declared a Minister.

The Presbytery of London met in St. Andrew's Church Thursday evening for the public ordination and installation of the Rev. Hugh McFarlane, B.A., assistant to Dr. Ross. There was a large congregation present, and the choir under Mr. Wheeler's leadership provided appropriate music.

Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae, of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, conducted divine service. Dr. McCrae's sermon on "The True Vision of God" was recognized on all hands as a noble and worthy of the great occasion. It made a deep impression on the large congregation, and was listened to throughout with rapt attention.

Impressive Ceremony. Moderator of Presbytery, Dr. MacKay, presented the candidate to the assembly, and these being answered to the satisfaction of the presbytery, the young minister knelt in front of the altar and Dr. Ross offered a very touching and earnest ordination prayer, during which the candidate was solemnly ordained by the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. The whole ceremony was very beautiful and impressive, as all the members of the presbytery gathered round the kneeling brother and placed their hands upon his head. On rising, Mr. McFarlane received the right hand of fellowship from the presbytery, and his name was entered on the roll.

Eloquent Address. The Rev. T. H. Mitchell, of New St. James' Church, gave a very eloquent and practical address to the newly-ordained minister, and Rev. N. H. MacGillivray, of St. Thomas, spoke words of weight and wisdom to the people. At the close of the service, Dr. Ross and Mr. C. R. Somerville introduced Mr. McFarlane to his new congregation as they passed out of the church. Mr. McFarlane begins his work under very happy auspices, and with the best wishes of the presbytery of London for his success. St. Andrew's people were greatly interested in the whole service, as an ordination service has not been held in that church for many years.

PRESIDENT WOOD ALLEGED TO BE BOMB PLANTER

Checks and Vouchers for Payments Made During Strike Shown in Court.

Checks Are That Dynamite Was Deliberately Placed in the Strikers' Homes.

[Canadian Press.] Boston, May 23.—Checks and vouchers, showing payments made by the American Woolen Company to Frederick E. Atteaux, including $505, "for expenses incurred during the Lawrence strike," were introduced by the state at the trial today of President Wm. M. Wood, of the American Woolen Company, Atteaux, and Dennis J. Collins, who are accused of having "planted" dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike in January, 1912.

The vouchers indicated that the payments were authorized by President Wood. The check for $505 was drawn on March 1, 1912. Another check for $2,190 was drawn on June 26, 1912, and the voucher for this was marked "in full for all claims to date." Both the checks were indorsed with Atteaux's name.

Deliberately Planned. The exhibits were offered in support of the Government's claim that the defendants conspired with John J. Breen and Ernest W. Pitman to "plant" dynamite in the homes of the strikers at Lawrence, Mass., and to give the impression to the public that the strikers contemplated blowing up the American Woolen Company's mill.

Pitman admitted that when the investigation of the alleged plot began, Collins turned state's evidence and confessed that he distributed the dynamite under the direction of Breen, from Pitman, and that Atteaux paid the bills. Wm. H. Rice, a quarryman, testified that he innocently furnished dynamite to Pitman and saw him give it to Breen.

Today the state attempted to show that President Wood was involved and that the American Woolen Company, through Wood, had helped pay the expenses of the conspiracy.

Wars in Chinatown Ended By Agreement

Feuds Have Cost Over Twenty Lives in Past Two Years.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 23.—"The tranquility of the Chinese colony shall hereafter be inviolate" according to large red posters conspicuous in Chinatown today announcing again that the rival gangs have arrived at "a brotherly agreement" dating from the twenty-first day of the fifth month, in the second year of the glorious republic.

The peace pact, which terminates feuds which have cost more than 20 lives of Chinese here during the past two years, was followed yesterday by a closing up of firearms during which many Chinese threw their modern revolvers into the sewers. The proclamation of peace praises the "good offices" of Luan Fang, consul general for the Republic government at the port of New York, and the kind advice of Charles S. Whitman, district attorney of New York County.

Blew Up Mountain To Save a Village

Big Peak Threatened to Fall and Kill Many People.

[Canadian Press.] Aix-Les-Bains, France, May 23.—After living for twenty years in the shadow of impending disaster, the villages of Thorey, near here, have at last obtained peace of mind.

The village of Thorey, which is situated on a mountain peak 3,000 feet high, whose base had been continually disintegrating and falling in places, was threatened by a landslide which would have buried the village. Three hundred holes were bored in the side of the mountain, some of them 9 yards deep, and in or twelve pounds of dynamite were inserted in each hole. Before the fuse was fired the village was vacated, and from a distance the inhabitants witnessed the rock battle with nature.

The mountain was completely destroyed and no part of the village was damaged.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, Ill., May 23.—A movement was started yesterday by the Clearing House Association practically to stop the wheels of business in the city for three successive days, beginning Friday, July 4 and ending Sunday night, July 6. Banks in the association agreed to close on Saturday, July 5. The Chicago Board of Trade and the Chicago Stock Exchange probably will not open on Saturday, always a short day. Officials of the association have appealed to the board of directors of the Association of Commerce, and if the plan meets the approval of that body it is believed that all the larger business houses will remain closed on July 5, giving employees three days' rest.

The two locomotives were smashed, and several cars demolished.

Winnipeg, Man., April 15, 1913.

Gentlemen,—Your favor of March 27 received your copy of the daily paper. I will be pleased to accept your order. Kindly send me one gross, assorted, of your SANOL and SANOL'S ANTI-DIABETES mentioned in contract, and advertise my name as selling agent in the papers. I will here take the opportunity of complimenting you upon the brilliant results your medicine have shown. Up to now you have not advertised my store in the paper, but notwithstanding the fact, I have people coming in every day using both your preparations and telling us what wonderful results their friends have obtained from them; therefore, when a preparation is really good enough to sell on its own merits, and effect the cures which several of my customers, whom I could furnish the names, without their objection, have found, I think it my duty to recommend to the public such an article and will always do so to anyone suffering from any kind of kidney trouble or diabetes, and in doing so I am always confident of the results they will obtain. Trusting you will always have the success due to such meritorious remedies as you have, truly,

HOWLING PUP

STARTED PANIC

Raced Into a Dundas Street

Store After Being Bumped

By a Street Car.

GIRLS TOOK TO COUNTER

"The dog's mad" was the thought that flashed through the minds of a number of salesladies in a Dundas street store one day this week when a diminutive poodle dog rushed in, yelling frantically and began describing circles on the floor.

Instantly panic ensued, and every girl in the store mounted the counters with all speed. Even the top of the office safe had its fair occupant.

One lonely man was on the premises at the time, and seeing how serious was the situation he resorted on a desperate remedy. Armed with an umbrella and holding a long raincoat in front of him as a shield he endeavored to poke the howling canine in the ribs and thus induce him to leave the premises. His efforts only served to make the pup madder, and the screams of the young ladies as they beheld the frantic encounter brought a number of spectators to the door, but no one could get near the dog.

It was then that the hero entered (closed the front door). A policeman was summoned, but as he was unarmed he also declined the task until he could procure assistance.

MAYOR DISLIKES

BARB WIRE FENCES!

BARBED WORDS FLY

Refuses to Permit Citizen to Use Old Fence to Protect His Property.

Front Street Residents Petition the Board of Works for a Breakwater.

In the opinion of Mr. George J. Carly, there's nothing like a barb-wire fence to protect a garden patch. Mr. Carly lives on the south side. He holds property on Waterloo street, between Ottawa avenue and the river, and the city has recently purchased some land from him in consideration of Mr. Carly's claim for damages on the ground that the location of the incinerator in his vicinity injures the value of his property.

On Thursday night Mr. Carly appeared before the board of works and asked permission to remove a barb-wire fence, which now stands on the property sold to the city. The city has no use for a barb-wire fence, and the value of it is insignificant, but Mr. Carly wants to replace the fence on the new boundaries of his property and Mayor Graham has a strong aversion to barb-wire fences.

Mayor Warns.

Mr. Carly got by the civic objections to barb-wire fences on the street line before by putting the wire on the inside of the posts. He did this on a lawyer's advice, he said.

"Well," said Mayor Graham, "I suppose you can't prevent you doing that fence, but you will have to get a new fence. If you want to use the old fence again, I will do all I can to prevent you setting it."

At Saunders' and something to say about barb-wire fences, too. It appears that one night recently Ald. Saunders discovered a barbed fence on the south side of Queen's avenue, across from the Leonard property. He discovered it by innocently running his hand along the top strand.

"Barbed fences in the Bulgarian wars," said his worship, "What friends have you got down there?" Mr. Carly asked Mayor Graham.

"I don't care if they are thieves," said his worship. "I don't believe in barbed fences."

Mr. Carly withdrew without gaining satisfaction.

A Front Street Petition.

Front street residents for a breakwater. On Ald. Saunders' motion City Engineer Ashplant was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost.

Medical Officer of Health Dr. Hutchinson wrote complaining of the condition of the front street at the corner of Trafalgar and Rectory streets, which is being used as a dump. The city engineer will investigate.

Another dump discussed was the one at the corner of Wellington and Piccadilly streets. Manager H. F. Skye, of the Bank of British North America, wrote that he believed the dump responsible for the illness of his daughter with diphtheria. Conditions will be remedied there.

It was decided to raise 500 feet of sidewalk on Mount Pleasant avenue, West London.

The C. P. R. Company asked permission to erect a 16-foot steel bridge over their tracks on Hyburn avenue. The committee was of the opinion that an 18-foot bridge is needed, with a 4-foot sidewalk.

Dr. Mugan asked why the council had referred back the recommendation of the committee to lay sidewalks and sewers on Charlotte street and Princess avenue in the new surveys. The desirability of first grading these streets was pointed out. Dr. Mugan did not object to this.

PRAISE FOR PRESS BY PROGRESSIVES OF CITY'S EAST END

Action of South London Association in Barring Reporters Strongly Condemned.

West London Breakwater, Market Place, Sunday Cars and Dust Nuisance Discussed.

The action of the South London Progressive Association, on passing a resolution barring representatives of the press from their meetings, was severely criticized, saying that in the "East End Progressives Thursday evening." "Had it not been for the press of London," said Mr. Reginald Christian, "the South London Progressives would not have been in existence today. How dare they bar the press? We have no right in an association of this kind to keep out the press. We're always pleased to see the reporters, and we're sorry when they're not here."

Mr. E. A. Pocock, who was present as a delegate from the West London Progressives, also paid the press high compliments, saying that in the main the reports of the meetings had been accurate and fair. He had always found the reporters ready to correct any mistakes that might have been made if their attention was drawn to it.

Market a Reality Soon.

The standing committee on the East London market scheme reported progress, and expressed the belief that it would soon be a reality. "Only hope they don't put it off like they have been doing with the West London bridge," commented Mr. J. Pearson. He also reviewed the breakwater situation.

"Mr. Christian thought that the talk of spending $75,000 on it was just wandering talk, and urged the acceptance of Mr. Churchill's contract to build it for $20,000. "I think the people would be inclined to vote for and pass a bylaw for that amount," he said. "The objection to it, he declared, was that it was merely an outlay and no returns could be expected from it."

"But it is not a dead outlay," remarked Mr. Wakeling. "The city will never pay out a cent for that breakwater," said Mr. Pocock. "West London, between now and the next twenty years, will pay every cent of the cost in increased assessments."

Favors Cement Wall.

He also approved the plan of Mr. Churchill for a cement wall. "The city will never pay out a cent for that breakwater," said Mr. Pocock. "West London, between now and the next twenty years, will pay every cent of the cost in increased assessments."

The building of sewer mains in the new sewer district was also discussed at some length, the general consensus of opinion being that the present sewers in East London were overtaxed already and that it would be disastrous to turn more mains into them.

The Dust Nuisance.

Mr. Christian drew attention to the dust nuisance on Dundas street, and thought that the city engineer's department should oil Dundas street before doing any of the other work.

A resolution was passed commending Mr. Pring for his good work while parks superintendent, and recommending his reappointment. Every corner in his park, there was a practical man of experience.

Great pleasure was expressed that the military training camp was again coming to London, and Mr. Christian stated that the city council at once take steps to secure with the Government the land necessary to make it a permanent institution for this city.

The association placed itself on record as being strongly in favor of Sunday cars, and asked that the people be allowed to vote on the question at the same time as electrification, if that were possible.

CHRISTIANITY IS NOT FADING, SAYS BAPTIST PASTOR

Delegates to Big Northern Convention Hear Views of Dr. Ferris.

Eloquent Bostonian Balances Theory of Evolution Against His Query.

Detroit, May 23.—Is Christianity the world's greatest light?

This question was balanced against the records of evolution and the vanished gods of the ages Thursday afternoon by Rev. George Hooper Ferris, D. D., of the First Baptist Church, of Philadelphia, in an address before the Northern Baptist convention, now meeting at the Woodward Avenue Baptist Church.

Amid the echoes of Dr. Ferris' answer to his own question, a delegate in the Iowa section of the auditorium arose in the open parliament and asked:

"Why is the home expense of the foreign missionary so large? Why does it cost $100,000 a year for the handling of the money that we send into the foreign field?"

Finances Misunderstood.

It was Rev. P. P. Haggart, of Boston, chairman of the convention's appropriation committee, who answered this question. He declared that there was a great deal of misunderstanding concerning the handling of Baptist finances in the northern half of the country.

"False criticism based upon this misunderstanding has cost us hundreds of thousands of dollars, by diverting from our treasury gifts which might have gone there. We are in more danger of undoing a thing than overdoing it. In much of this work there may seem to be waste. But in doing God's work in the world there is no waste, when energies are directed with sincerity to the spreading of the spirit."

"The cost of handling our missionary funds has fluctuated back and forth between 11 per cent and 15 per cent in recent years, reaching its highest point about 29 years ago. Stories have gone forth that the secretaries of our missionary societies travel in luxury, one report saying that some of them were given to using two berths in a sleeping car."

"Books Open To All."

"These reports are both untrue and absurd. Our books are open to everyone. We have nothing to conceal."

The delegate from Iowa arose again. "When I put the question," he said, "I was thinking of the twin teams that go out across the country speaking. I was wondering if they really got results that justified the expenditure for them. I know of towns in Iowa where the twin teams went to rouse the congregations, and where the churches 'fell down' afterward."

"Excellent reports have come from Iowa," said Dr. Haggart, "and from many states there comes a mass of tangible evidence of the inspiration which these travelling teams radiate among those who hear their words."

Reverting to the dangers of false criticism, Dr. Haggart explained how the home expense was divided, some of it being actually foreign expense, but charged to home expense as a matter of convenience.

Dr. Ferris' Discourse.

It was an impassioned discourse by Dr. Ferris delivered at the beginning of the afternoon session. He spoke of the dangers of false criticism, and of the need for a more sincere and practical approach to the spreading of the spirit.

Is Christianity the world's final religion?

"It is a question that makes us pause and think," said Dr. Ferris. "Older religions have played their part in the development of mankind, and have been forgotten. White temples look down upon us from the hills of Greece and tell of creeds that are no more. Broken statues speak of fallen gods."

"Have we any assurance that Christianity will not meet with a similar fate? Some men have thought it would. And the recalls to me two memories. Coming down the River Rhine, I gazed upon the spires of the great Cathedral of Cologne, towering in majesty over the life of buying and selling in the city below."

"Then, entering New York, I looked about for the churches there. But the skyline was studied with the tops of mighty structures, where money ruled supreme, and it was only when I made my way to the mouths of the city's canyons that I found the churches, crouching in the shadow of the temples of trade."

Christianity Not Fading.

"But is there any danger of Christianity fading away? Look back to the dawn of time, when the sea of faith was at its ebb, when all actions of men had to bear the seal of the church. Education was in the hands of the ruling clergy. The business contract was valid unless it bore the sanction of the church, and the child of parents married other than by the church was an illegitimate child."

"Look at the sea of faith now, and see it flooding back upon humanity, washing out the stains of the centuries. We feel changes going on all around us, and the air is cleaner and clearer today than ever before."
