DORCHESTER MAN BITTEN BY MAD DOG IN OWN YARD ELGIN HAYES WAS MANGLED

Infuriated Animal Attacked Mr. Hayes as He Was Sifting Ashes---He Had Been Laid Up All Winter With a Broken Leg and Was Unable to Defend Himself---Patient Will Be Sent to Pasteur Institute---The Dog Has Not Yet Been Located.

Elgin Hayes, a butcher living in Dorchester village, sustained such terrible injuries by being bitten by a mad dog at his home yesterday afternoon that it is feared he may not recover.

Mr. Hayes was out for the first time in many weeks yesterday, having been laid up all winter with a broken leg. He was out in his yard sifting ashes when suddenly a large dog rushed in and made a spring at him and fastened its teeth in his shoulder.

TERRIBLY WOUNDED.

Mr. Hayes was knocked down, but did the best he could to defend himself with his ash sifter. In his weakened condition, however, he could do but little, and the dog bit him repeatedly.

His clothing was torn to shreds about the shoulders, and the skin all the way down from the shoulder to the hands was fearfully chewed.

The fingers were bitten in a number of places by the animal and bled profusely.

The dog finally fled, leaving Mr. Hayes on the ground helpless from the shock and from the injuries he had sustained. He lay in the yard for some minutes, and then finally made his way to the house covered with blood.

DOCTOR CALLED.

Dr. Percy Banghart was summoned, and at once cauterized the wounds and dressed them. Mr. Hayes was very weak from loss of blood and from the results of his being in the house so long with a broken leg, but it was decided to send him at once to the Pasteur Institute.

It is feared that in his weakened condition the results of the long journey, and of the shock from which he is suffering, may prove very serious.

Farmers all through the district are looking for the dog, but so far have been unable to locate it.

DOG AT LARGE.

Dr. Tennant stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that so far the case had not been reported to him.

If the dog is at large, he pointed out the very serious consequence that may follow, as it may bite any number of other dogs and cattle, unknown to their owners, and they may develop rabies in the future.

The necessity of locating the canine at once and destroying it is apparent, says the inspector, and steps will at once be taken to do so and to quarantine any dogs suspected of being bitten.

MOTHER LAYS ASSAULT CHARGE AGAINST PARENTS OF HUSBAND

Sequel to the Smith Kidnapping Case Which Occurred at the Grand Trunk Depot Here Last Fall—Court Upholds Mrs. Smith, Junior, and Says She Must Be Permitted to See Her Child.

William Smith, of 226 Wellington street, and his wife, Mrs. Annie Smith, appeared before Magistrate Love this morning, charged with assaulting Mrs Ethel Smith, the wife of their son.

Mrs. Ethel Smith and her husband have been separated since last November, when there was a case before Mr. Justice Sutherland for the possession of their child, and also a spectacular kidnapping at the Grand Trunk station.

Mother to See the Child.

The court gave an order for Mrs Smith, sen., to be the child's guardian, and it was stipulated that Mrs. Ethel Smith was to have certain hours in which to visit the house and have the child to herself. In court this morning Mrs. Ethel Smith stated that when she went down recently to see her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Smith took the child away, and assaulted her by pinching her arms and using her roughly.

Mr. Essery, who appeared for Mrs. Smith, said that all that was wanted was that Mrs. Smith should be allowed to visit her daughter according to the stipulations in the high court order.

Right and Fair.

"That is only right and fair," said the magistrate, "and instead of making life miserable for this poor woman, Mr. and Mrs. Smith should do what they can to make things happier for her. I could, if this matter were pressed, have Mr. Smith severely punished for the way in which he has acted by violating the high court order. Who ever heard in this good, old world of a man and his wife trying to prevent a mother from seeing her child and loving it? It is an un-Christian act to attempt it, and I think merely as a matter of decency Mr. and Mrs. Smith should retire altogether from the room when Mrs. Ethel Smith calls, and let her and the little one alone. I want to tell you, Mr. Smith, to stop acting like a schoolboy in this matter."

A Conference.

Mr. Meredith, who appeared for Mr. and Mrs. Smith, had a conference with his clients, and as a result they promised to do what was right, and the case was dismissed without costs.

"NO CHARGE," SAYS CHAIRMAN OF COMMERCIAL SCHOOL

Mr. W. W. Gammage Points Out That Dr. Teasdall Only Made a Comparison of Work Being Done at the Collegiate and That Being Done in the Business Colleges.

The board of education will make a thorough investigation into the commercial school of the Collegiate, and discover if the rate of progress made by the pupils in that department is what it should be. If there is any particular system or teacher to blame the fact will be discovered.

"Dr. Teasdall made no charge that conditions were wrong at the commercial school," said Chairman Gammage to The Advertiser today. "He pointed out that the rate of progress made by the pupils there was not as satisfactory as the rate in the commercial colleges in the city. Of course that is admitted. The children are much younger than in the commercial colleges. The average age in our school is perhaps fourteen years, while in the commercial colleges the average is much more than that.

"Odious" Comparison.

"It is hardly fair to compare the rate of progress of an older pupil with one much younger. Many in the commercial colleges have had Collegiate training, and are better equipped for their work. In addition, many of the undesirables are eliminated from the colleges. We have to take all sorts and conditions, while the parents will not send a student to the commercial colleges very long if good progress is not being made.

"However, we will look very carefully into the matter, and if there is any blame to be attached to any person, we will discover it and act accordingly. We will see if any improvements can be suggested also."

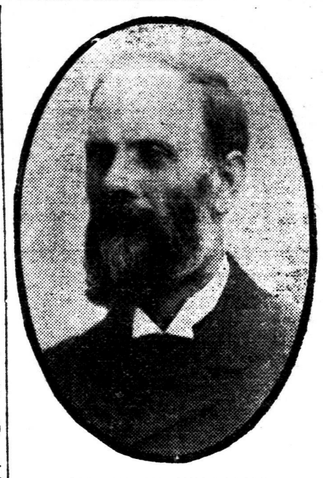

Would Not Discuss It.

At the Collegiate neither Principal McCutcheon nor Mr. Dickinson would discuss the criticisms made by Dr. Teasdall until the committee of the board of education made a thorough investigation.

It is pointed out that the course taught in the commercial school is that prescribed by the department of education. There is room for specialization in the commercial colleges but that is not allowed in the Collegiate, as every pupil must follow the course laid down by the educational authorities.

One of the teachers stated that the students were much better qualified this year than for some years past.

LONDON MAN NAMED JUDGE

Mr. Llewellyn Meredith Paid High Compliment by International Horse Show.

WELL-KNOWN HORSEMAN

It Is Not Known As Yet Whether London Will Have Any Entries in the Big Event.

[Associated Press.]

London, England, March 2.—The directors of the International Horse Show have selected the following gentlemen to act as judges of the Hunter and Hack classes at their annual show to be held in London in June next:

The Earl of Orkney and Mr. T. Wickham, Boynton (representing England); Baron Von Holzing (representing the continent), and Mr. Llewellyn Meredith, of London, Ontario (representing Canada and the United States).

Mr. Meredith is a well-known horse fancier and for many years a conspicuous and successful exhibitor at many of the most important shows in Canada and the United States. As a judge of hunters and riding horses generally he is considered by horsemen to have no superior in this country.

In selecting Mr. Meredith as the representative of Canada and the United States a high honor is done not only to himself but also to Canada and Canadian horsemen.

Mr. Meredith stated to The Advertiser that he had received official notification of his appointment as judge.

"The appointment was made some time ago," said Mr. Meredith. "The show will begin on June 9, and will last several days. The hunters are a very large class at this show, and it will be considerable work to select the winners."

Among local horsemen the appointment of Mr. Meredith is received with great satisfaction. It is considered not only a compliment to the abilities of Mr. Meredith as a judge, but also as a compliment to the London Hunt Club, and local horsemen who have done well at this show. He is a brother of Chief Justice Sir William Ralph Meredith.

It is not known definitely whether or not any London horses will be shown this year. The Beck string will not be sent, but the London Hunt Club may send over a team.

The matter has not been taken up definitely, but it is possible that something will be done along this line in the near future.

NEW DIOCESES.

Rome, March 2.—The Pope has created four new dioceses in the Philippine Islands. These are Zamboanga, Tuguegarao, Lipa and the Islands of Samara and Leyte, with the apostolic prefecture of Palawan.

LONDON GIRL WAS ARRESTED ALLEGED SHE RIFLED TRUNKS

Mary Van Buren, Who Recently Boarded on Ridout Street, Was Taken Into Custody in Detroit at the Instance of the Local Police.

Mary Van Buren, a young woman, until yesterday employed at the boarding-house of Mrs. McColl, in the O'Callakhan terrace, on Ridout street, was arrested today in Detroit by Windsor officers on a charge of stealing money and jewelry to the extent of about $25 from boarders in the house.

Miss Van Buren stated a few days ago that she was going home to visit her relatives in Michigan, and when she left yesterday it is alleged that she rifled the trunks of the boarders and helped herself.

Detectives Nickle and Egelton notified Windsor, with the result that the girl was arrested in Detroit today.

Detective Egelton left this morning for Windsor to bring her back, and she will appear before Magistrate Love tomorrow morning.

TRAINS SWEPT OVER CLIFF BY SNOWSLIDE IN ROCKIES

Scores of Sleeping Passengers and Railway Employees Perish When Limited Express and a Fast Mail Are Buried Beneath an Avalanche.

Everett, Wash., March 2.—As further details of the disaster which overwhelmed two Great Northern passenger trains, when an avalanche swept the trains and a portion of the town of Wellington, at the west portal of the Cascade Tunnel, down the mountainside, are received the horror grows. Twenty-three lives are known to have been lost when the mass of snow, loose stones and uprooted trees hurled the cars, containing seventy sleeping persons over the narrow ledge of the high line down to the bottom of the canyon, 200 feet below, and when the last reports were received, twenty-five more were missing. Besides these, a score are more or less seriously injured.

Some of the Dead.

Complete lists of the injured cannot be obtained until rescuers have dug all the bodies out of the wreckage. The list available at present contain only the names of trainmen killed and injured.

Partial list of dead and injured follow:

The dead:

Trainmaster Blackburn, Everett.

A. E. Longjoy, secretary to Supt. O'Neill.

Louis Walker, Everett, cook on superintendent O'Neill's car; seriously injured.

J. D. Kurde, fireman.

Swept Over Cliff.

The two trains that were carried over the cliff by the great wave of ice and snow were the westbound Spokane Limited and the westbound transcontinental fast mail. The latter carried no passengers.

Most of the dead and injured are believed to have been passengers on the Spokane express, forty of whom were on the train at the time of the disaster. Besides these, thirty workmen, who had been engaged in the battle against the drifts that had been holding the two ill-fated trains imprisoned in the mountains since Feb. 24, were sleeping in the day coaches.

The avalanche rolled down the mountain at 4:20 a. m. The two trains, with three locomotives, four powerful electric motors, the depot and water tank were swept off the ledge and deposited in a twisted mass of wreckage at the foot of the mountain.

IF LONDON ERECTS ABATTOIR BIG FIRMS WILL JUMP FOR IT

Man Who Is in the Know Tells The Advertiser of a Plan to Beat the Abattoir Monopolists Who Are Now Blocking London From Giving Exclusive Rights to a Private Concern.

"If the city of London would seriously commence the erection of an abattoir here, in five days there would be one of the large packing firms of the United States or Canada in the city looking for abattoir privileges."

This statement was made by a gentleman interested in the business to The Advertiser today.

Of course the city would have to obtain special legislation to allow them to lease the property, but in that case the opposition of the packing companies now deeply interested in the Toronto concern would be withdrawn, and there would be little or no trouble in obtaining the desired powers.

Slaughtering Privileges.

If it were not thought wise to leave the project outright to these companies slaughtering privileges could be given them without the necessity of going to the Legislature for sanction.

"London will be prevented from allowing a private company to operate an abattoir so long as Toronto predominates in the Legislature," he continued. "It would seriously cut into their business, and they know it. Consequently they oppose every effort made to give London proper abattoir privileges.

Where Cattle Come From.

"There are about 600,000 beeves slaughtered annually for export from the province of Ontario. From the nine counties about London, going no further east than Oxford County, 289,000 of these were obtained. In other words, practically one-half should be handled in London. However, we were not allowed to obtain any rights along this line. It would mean the expenditure of a great deal of money in this city.

"There is no doubt the Toronto stockyards are controlled by a large American company. If the city of London entered seriously into the erection of an abattoir, these companies, or one of them, would be here in jig time to obtain a privilege.

Could Lease Plant.

"London would in that event be saved the necessity of operating such a plant or could lease it.

"I am confident that if the city did show a serious mind towards this very important problem the people would make many thousands of dollars and save the citizens considerable worry about the quality of meat they are eating."

Some of the aldermen are considering the question, and it is very likely that something of a definite nature will be done within a short time.

QUEBEC OPPOSITION DELEGATES HAVE PLAIN TALK WITH BORDEN

A Heart-to-Heart Conference at Ottawa in Which Conservative Leader Is Told to Call Off Attacks on French-Canadians by His Followers in the House.

Ottawa, March 2.—The delegation of leading Conservatives from the province of Quebec, which arrived in Ottawa Monday night to talk over party politics with Mr. Borden, left for Montreal yesterday afternoon, after making the vague announcement that their mission to the capital was simply to discuss the general programme of business particularly effecting the party in Quebec, to be laid before the Dominion convention of Conservatives in June next. Although a general denial is given to the statement that the real object of the deputation's visit was to enter a vigorous protest against the tactics of a considerable section of Mr. Borden's followers on the naval question, it is common report in the corridors that in a heart to heart talk with the leader it was pointed out that unless the party wanted to give up all hope of winning any seats in the province of Quebec

EIGHTEEN INJURED IN WRECK IN GOTHAM TUBE

New York, March 2.—Modern railway appliances stalled off death under the streets of New York city yesterday. There was a head-on collision on the Hudson and Manhattan Railway, but steel cars and safety devices prevented telescoping and eliminated shattered woodwork, so that none of the 35 passengers sustained fatal injuries. Eighteen, however, six of them women, were hurt so badly that they were removed to hospitals.

The collision occurred at the Twenty-Third street station in Manhattan when an eastbound train of two cars, running at a nine-mile clip, crashed into a string of cars ahead that were being made up. As the train approached the station, the controller refused to work and the motorman found that he could not stop. He set the emergency brakes, but without avail.

WOODMEN STILL SPECULATE ON ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Practically Certain, It Is Said, That Mr. C. C. Hodgins Will Retire at End of Year—Nothing New as to Head Clerkship —Likely To Be Hot Fight for All the Offices.

With the annual encampment of the Woodmen of the World but two weeks away, a great deal of interest is being taken in the election of officers to manage the affairs of the order for the next year.

It is practically certain that Mr. C. C. Hodgins, Woodstock, head consul commander, will retire at the end of the year. He has been in charge for some years, and is desirous of retiring.

Mr. D. Cinnamon, of Lindsay, is the next in line, having been head adviser lieutenant under Mr. Hodgins for some time. According to advices received from the east, he is willing to accept the place.

Dr. Harrison, Maybe.

Dr. Harrison, of Toronto, who is now head physician, is also anxious for the position of head consul commander, his friends say.

Mr. R. Gee, of Hamilton, one of the board of management, may also be a candidate for this office.

A local Woodman stated to The Advertiser that it was not likely that Mr. Cinnamon would oppose Dr. Harrison, if the latter decided to run, but would in that case again accept his present position of head adviser lieutenant.

The Head Clerkship.

For the head clerkship there certainly will be a contest. Among the aspirants for the place are Mr. C. Beet, of Stratford; T. H. Luscombe, of London; J. B. Hoover, of Clinton, and Mr. Jarvis, head organizer, and several others.

The position of head treasurer will be made vacant if Mr. Luscombe seeks the position of head clerk.

There will be competition for that position also. Among the names mentioned are Ald. J. H. Saunders; W. Gee, Hamilton; J. Taylor, Brantford, and others.

There will be a swarm of candidates for positions on the board of management, and the contests will be very keen.

Financial Statement.

The financial statement has been issued. During the year nine camps were inaugurated, and the total membership is now 11,186. The surplus for the year is $278,595 47.

The grand encampment will be held in the Masonic Temple on Wednesday, March 16. The first day's business will consist in reading the reports, and there promises to be a long discussion on these.

The election of officers will not be reached until Thursday night of Friday, perhaps not until Friday night.

ANIMAL DEVELOPED RABIES 75 DAYS AFTER BEING BITTEN

Dog Killed at Glencoe Had Disease, Dr. Tennant Is Informed by Dominion Government Bureau—Nothing in the Tale That All Is Well If Dog Does Not Go Mad in Two Weeks.

Dr. Tennent, inspector for the Dominion Government, received word from Ottawa last night that the animal which was inoculated from the head of the dog sent from Glencoe on Dec. 15 had died of rabies.

"This is a case that developed after 75 days," Dr. Tennent told The Advertiser, "and goes to show that any talk of there being no danger if the dog does not go mad in two weeks, is all wrong."

The dog in question was owned by Dr. Walker, and bit him. He was hurried at once to the Pasteur Institute, and took the treatment.

BREAKWATER WAS INSPECTED ICE IN RIVER IS BREAKING UP WORST OVER, SAYS ENGINEER

Big Wall Appears Strong Except in One Place and This Will Be Strengthened—Dangers of a Flood Appear To Be Diminishing—The Situation Today.

The ice in the river is slowly breaking up, there being large stretches of clear water both in the north and south branches of the Thames.

There are three feet of water going over the dam at Springbank, an increase of four or five inches during the night. Some ice is going over.

From the forks down there is a very long stretch of clear water, and up both branches for some distance.

North of the Dundas street bridge there is considerable anchor ice, and there is a possibility of a jam there.

It stretches across the river from the Harris Flats, and the water is bubbling up through it like springs.

Some hundred yards back there is much ice, and the amount is increasing from time to time.

Not Much Danger.

River men state that there is not much danger of a jam there as there is little or nothing to hold the dam in the centre, and the weight of the ice and water above would break it in a short time.

City Engineer Graydon made an inspection of the breakwater this morning and found it in very good shape. At Sussex avenue he made a close examination, and came to the conclusion

HOTELMAN HAD CUSTOMER FINED

B. F. McQueen, of Lambeth, Took Revenge Out of T. E. McCallum.

A VERY PECULAIR CASE

Rather Laughable Incident in Which Liquor Sold in Prohibited Hours Cuts a Great Swath.

T. E. McCallum, a harnessmaker, of Delaware, appeared this morning before Squire Chittick, charged with obtaining liquor on Sunday. He was found guilty and fined $10 and $7 37 costs.

The charge was instituted by B. F. Queen, a hotelkeeper, of Lambeth, the man from whom he had purchased the liquor, and was in the nature of a retaliation.

It seems that on the night in question, McCallum, being made communicative by imbibing somewhat freely, disclosed to his wife and others that he had obtained liquid refreshments from Queen in prohibited hours, and as a result of his loquacity Mr. Queen was hailed before a justice of the peace and requested to show reason why he should have supplied McCallum.

Getting Even.

Not being ably to supply a reason, he was separated from his cash to the extent of $50 and costs.

In the process, his wrath was kindled against McCallum, who had brought the law upon him, and as a result Queen had a warrant sworn out against him for unlawfully buying intoxicating liquor in the licensed premises of the complainant, B. F. Queen, he, the said T. E. McCallm, not being an occupant of the said premises or a member of the family of the owner, nor a lodger in his house, with the result that this morning Mr. Queen tasted the sweets of revenge in full.

—Rev. A. W. Howe, of London Junction, will preach on the Siloam circuit, Sunday, March 13, and take up a special fund at The Grove and Siloam churches.

DRIVER THROWN BUT UNINJURED

William Wilson Had an Exciting Ride in One of Chapman's Delivery Wagons.

OUTFIT WAS OVERTURNED

Struck a Telegraph Pole and Was Badly Damaged—Exciting Affair in Down-Town District.

A spectacular runaway occurred shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, when a horse attached to one of J. H. Chapman & Co.'s delivery wagons took fright while standing at one of the rear doors, and dashed down Carling street at a gallop.

When it reached Richmond street the horse turned northwards, and the wheels of the wagon went down into the car tracks.

Near the corner of Queen's avenue the wagon overturned, and, skidding, struck a telegraph pole with terrific force.

Driver Thrown Out.

A young man named William Wilson, who was in the rig, and who had made every effort to stop the horse, was thrown out, but escaped with a severe shaking up. The horse broke loose when the rig struck the telegraph pole, and started up Richmond street, but was caught before it got very far.

The rig was badly damaged, and the shafts were broken. The horse escaped without serious injury.

The affair created considerable excitement for the time, as a number of people were on the street and in the vicinity of the postoffice.

"If everybody would get out and shovel for a few minutes, the sidewalks would make fairly good footways again in most sections of the city," a citizen said to The Advertiser today.

ANCIENT FORESTERS MAKE PRESENTATION

Splendid Gathering Last Night in Hall in the East End.

BRO. RICHARDS HONORED

Presented With a Past High Chief Ranger's Jewel—A Big Banquet —The Speeches.

There was a splendid gathering of the Foresters of Middlesex and Elgin at the regular meeting of Court Forest City, No. 5744, Ancient Order of Foresters, in their hall in the East End last night.

Members gathered from all over the district, and several of the high court officers including H.C.R. J. Young, of Hamilton; High Secretary W. W. Williams, of Toronto; High Treasurer H. Wilson, Toronto, and High Medical Examiner Dr. Secord, of Brantford, were present, to witness the presentation of a past chief ranger's jewel and a ring to Bro. Walter Richards, who ever since 1882 has been secretary of Court Forest City. High Secretary Williams was also presented with a beautiful gold-headed umbrella.

After the regular business of the evening had been concluded, an adjournment was made to the banquet hall, where a splendid supper was served.

The Presentations.

The members then went back to the lodge-room, and after a brief address by Chief Ranger Fank Ball, in which he warmly welcomed all the visitors, Bro. Richards was called to the front, and High Chief Ranger Young, of Hamilton, presented him with the beautiful jewel of a past high chief ranger. Bro. J. W. Metherall then presented Mr. Richards with a handsome ring in token of the splendid services he has always rendered his court. Bro Richards thanked the brethren in a hearty address for the kindness they had shown him always, and spoke reminiscently of the growth of the Foresters, and of the splendid work they have done.

High Chief Ranger Young.

High Chief Ranger J. Young, of Hamilton, was then called upon to reply to "The Foresters."

He complimented Court Forest City upon having such a splendid representative membership, and said he was glad to see such a splendid turnout of the local brethren as well as of those of the district.

"The Ancient Order of Foresters," he said, "is an institution of which anyone might be proud to be a member. It is one of the strongest, in every sense of the word, in the country. It is the duty of every man to provide for his family. There is no better way of doing this than by insuring in a reliable fraternal organization. In addition to the benefits to his family an individual receives lasting benefits himself, and is able to do endless good to others. He also strengthens an order, and renders it possible for it to do work that no single individual could do."

Appeal to Young Men.

H.C.R. Young urged young men particularly to identify themselves with the work, and to take hold and hold office and be active in the work of bringing in new members. He urged the older members to give the young men all the chance they wanted, as the work would have to be carried on by them.

Presentation and Address.

Bro. W. W. Williams, of Toronto, permanent secretary of the order for Canada, was next asked to come to the front, and Bro. Richards read an address expressive of the appreciation Foresters everywhere feel of his splendid work.

Bro. Harry Dyson then presented him with a beautiful umbrella amidst the greatest enthusiasm. Bro. Williams was completely taken by surprise, but in a brief speech thanked the brethren for the honor they had done him.

A Solid Order.

High Medical Examiner Bro. Dr Secord, of Brantford, in a splendid address spoke of the strength and solidity of the order.

"As Canada is one of the strongest outgrowths of the parent kingdom, England," he said, "so are we Foresters in Canada one of the strongest outgrowths of the parent lodge of Foresters in England. Our growth has been steady and sure, and now we are in a better position than any other fraternal organization in the world. Our benefits are better and our rates beat any of them. As we grow strong we grow in membership. Living as we do in a young and growing country we have magnificent opportunities for work of a fraternal nature, and we are, I believe, taking full advantage of them, and the order is growing stronger and stronger every year. We have now more than 14,000 members, and are growing rapidly."

Dr. Secord also urged the importance of young men taking up the work and keeping the order in a going condition

Forestry in London.

High Treasurer H. Wilson, of Toronto, spoke briefly, congratulating Bro. Richards on his long service, and Court Forest City on having such a splendid membership.

"London has," he said, "more members in proportion to its population than any other city in Canada."

During the evening musical selections were rendered by Bros. Linnell, Cornelius and Haslett, and were greatly enjoyed.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was Bros. F. W. Ball, G. Walters, H. Dyson, F. Rossiter, J. Walters, H. Porter, F. Hicks, S. Whitton, M. McCracken.

COLLEGIATE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Trustee Teasdall Says Work of Commercial Department Is Not Satisfactory.

FIGHT DAMAGES CASE

Board of Education Decides to Refer Claims for Aberdeen Scholars to the City Solicitor.

At a meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon Dr. Teasdall moved, seconded by Trustee Weekes, that an investigation be made of the commercial department of the Collegiate Institute. The motion carried unanimously.

"It is said on all hands," Trustee Teasdall told the board, "that the pupils of the commercial department, after taking the two years' course, fail to take as high a standard as pupils who attend a business college for six months. I think we should look into the matter, and see if the fault is with the teachers."

Fears for Collegiate.

Trustee Weekes said it was hardly to be expected that pupils as young as many of those in the commercial school would be able to take as high a standing as older pupils who attend a business college, but he thought the idea was a good one and would second the motion.

Principal McCutcheon said it would be inadvisable to make the matter public, before the investigation is made, as it might injure the school.

"I am not making any insinuations regarding anyone," said Trustee Teasdall "This investigation is more for purposes of comparison."

Art Supervisor.

In his report of No. 1 committee, Trustee Weekes recommended an increase of $100 for Miss Mulveney, supervisor of art in the public schools.

Dr. Teasdall brought up the question of abolishing this position altogether, as he said that, after all, the instruction the public school teachers have had, they should surely be able to conduct the art work necessary themselves, particularly in view of the training they receive at the Normal School.

"There should be some terminating point in this business," he said. "The office is one created by the board, and if it is deemed advisable to keep Miss Mulveney on, I think she should stay at the same salary. By keeping her on we are taking the responsibility of the art work away from the teachers, where it rightly belongs."

Several of the members thought it would not be advisable to do away with the position at the present time.

A vote was taken and stood three to three.

Chairman Gammage then voted for the increase and it carried.

Principal's Report.

Principal McCutcheon's report was as follows:

The attendance at the Collegiate Institute for the month of February was as follows:

	On Roll.	Average.
First year	274	255
Second year	201	187
Middle school	179	170
Upper school	49	48
First-year commercial ...	74	66
Second-year commercial ..	32	31
Total	809	757

Damages Cases.

Mr. P. H. Bartlett, representing a number of the parents whose children were injured in the wreck at the Aberdeen school last year, was present, and asked leave to address the board. He pointed out that although the city solicitor had given it as his opinion that the city is not legally liable for damages, and as most of the people were poor, and had been put to great expense, and had been offered very small sums by the board in settlement compared with that their expenses really were, the board might grant more money.

It was decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the city solicitor.

When the question of buying or continuing to rent typewriters for the commercial classes at the Collegiate Institute came up it was referred to No. 1 committee to deal with.

Truant Officer Weir reported having served seven notices, and had two cases before Magistrate Love.

An Invitation.

F. Wright, president of the Provincial Teachers' Association, wrote extending an invitation to the annual convention, which will be held on March 9. It was decided to send Chairman Gammage to represent London at the gathering.

Caroline Hendry made application for one year's leave of absence. Granted.

The Mothers' Club of Aberdeen School asked permission to use the school for a concert next month. Referred to No. 2 committee with power.

The matter of obtaining one of the shields made out of Nelson's flagships and offered by Lord Strathcona, was referred to No. 1 committee.

The board decided to grant $5 for each suit required by the high school cadets. There will be 55 suits required.

Made-in-London Exhibition.

The question of placing an exhibit in the "made-in-London" exhibition came up, and was the subject of some discussion. It was pointed out that $25 is being charged for each booth. Members urged that the cost of looking after the booth, and of arranging the exhibits would bring it up to $75. It was decided not to hold an exhibition.

There were present: Chairman Gammage, Trustees Weekes, Gunn, Wyckoff, Teasdall, Strong, Balfour, Hunt, Principal McCutcheon, Inspector Weir, Secretary McElheran.

HAMILTON IS CHARGED WITH ELECTRICITY

Experts Fear That There Will Be a Serious and Fatal Explosion Shortly.

Hamilton, Ont., March 2.—That there is grave danger from explosions due to electrolysis pitting gas mains is emphasized by former City Engineer Barrow in a letter to the press, and that it is not exaggerated is evident from a surprising discovery made at the city hospital this week.

The gas and water pipes in the institution are so heavily charged with electricity that frequently the nurses in making up the iron beds have received shocks that have thrown them half-way across the room. It is feared that unless something is done before the gas pipes are eaten away there will be a big explosion, with great loss of life, at the hospital.

Tests have been made which show that every pipe in the institution is affected. At time the electrolysis is so noticeable in some of the iron beds that patients toss restlessly about at night. The hospital governors have taken the matter up with the city solicitor.

Ground Is Charged.

The institution is within a block of the Cataract sub-station, and experts claim that the ground for a great distance around is so heavily charged with electricity that people in the vicinity can light their houses by attaching a wire to the water pipes. Recently a board with five sixteen-candlepower lights was attached to a hydrant opposite the institution, and the incandescent lights gave as brilliant an illumination as if they had been attached to the company's wire.

The fire department officials say that a hose attached to a hydrant charged as strongly as this one would kill the men at the nozzle, and endanger the lives of anyone who came in contact with the stream of water.

One Lawsuit Already.

Although the Ontario Pipe Line Company has only had its pipes in the ground four years, they are badly pitted. The company has entered an action against the Cataract, declaring that the Cataract's electricity finds its way back to the Victoria avenue station from as far away as Brantford.

Do You Realize What an Important Work the Kidneys Do?

Do you know that every drop of your blood goes to the kidneys hundreds of times every day? Do you know why?

To be filtered and purified from its impurities. That is the great work the kidneys have to do. They filter the blood. Then these impurities go to the bladder and are passed out of the body along with the urine.

Do you think it possible for you to be well, unless the kidneys do this work thoroughly?

It is these impurities—this unfiltered blood—that causes backaches, headaches, rheumatism, diabetes, Bright's disease, etc. They poison and interfere with the whole system.

If you have any kidney trouble let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others. They cure all forms of kidney trouble, and they cure them to stay cured.

Mrs. Maurice Doiron, Charlottetown P.E.I., writes:—"I was troubled with my kidneys for five years. They were so bad at times that I could not cross the floor for the pain. I went to a doctor, but he did me no good at all. I sent to the druggist and got five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I was cured. I have had no trouble for nearly three years now."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

BLOCKED BY SNOWSLIDES

Great Northern Trains in the Rockies Stalled For Several Days.

Nelson, B. C., March 1.—Moyle is now suffering from water famine, due to the freeze-up of the water system last week. Snowslides between Nelson and Spokane have blocked the Great Northern line two days; passengers were transferred at Northport, and came to Nelson by boundary train tonight. One slide is 400 feet long and 16 feet deep.

Much heavy timber was carried away with the snow, and the work of clearing the track is difficult.

Twenty-four electric locomotives to be used in the New York tunnel extension of the Pennsylvania Railroad are now being built. Each weighs 330,000 pounds, and will developed 4,000-horsepower, which is about three times as much as a giant steam locomotive.

A HEATED DEBATE OVER BREAD BILL

Bakers From All Over Ontario Appear Before Committee.

Toronto, March 1.—For a couple of hours this morning the municipal committee of the Legislature heard deputations on the bread question and briefly discussed the matter.

For the Toronto bakers, Ald. Weston objected to changing the weight of bread; Albert Lees, baker, of Hamilton, asked that bakers be allowed to sell bread by weight; E. M. Trowern stated the case for the retailers; and Mr. McLaughlin, of Owen Sound, spoke in favor of the pound-and-a-half loaf.

The committee decided to tackle the question again on Thursday morning.

At the outset Mr. Nickle, of Kingston, suggested that his own bill should be left over for the present. He advocated a provincial standard loaf, and presented petitions in favor of that from Hamilton and Kingston.

Mr. McNaught then spoke for his present bill which he declared to be a better bill than the one he brought in two years ago. The great advantage of the present bill was that it provided for a better system of inspection.

Bothered Over Weight.

"In regard to the weight of the loaf," said Mr. McNaught, "I thought that I knew all about the weight of bread two years ago, but after studying the question I'm at a greater loss than I was two years ago to say what should be the weight of the loaf. I find a great difference of opinion among the people in the retail stores."

Hon. Mr. Hanna—"We started with the pound-and-a-half and three-pound loaf. What's the reason for wanting to change?"

"The people want a smaller loaf and better bread," said Mr. McNaught. I'd guarantee that over 60 per cent of the people of Toronto want the pound loaf."

Members of deputations were then heard.

"We cannot understand why our industry should be so interfered with from time to time," said Ald. George Weston, speaking for the Toronto bakers.

"We've enjoyed the privilege of making fancy bread, speaking personally, for 33 years.

"We're here to raise our voices against the change in weight. We've gone to great expense in buying and installing machinery and for hands.

"Nine times out of ten the people want the fancy loaf."

Sell by Weight.

Albert Lees, baker, of Hamilton, advocated selling bread by weight.

Hon. Mr. Hanna—"The people want a uniform weight."

"Hear, hear," cried many of the people in the deputations.

Mr. Studholme stated that Hamilton's mayor had been unable to get the pound and a half loaf, but Mr. Lees said he looked into the matter and found that what the mayor wanted was a two-pound loaf.

"In Germany and France," said Mr Lees, "bread is sold by weight. Allow the baker to sell by weight.

Bread and Tobacco.

"This article of food over which there's so much legislation costs 1¼ cents per person per day.

"Bakers used to work sixteen hours a day, but I believe the limit now is sixty hours per week.

"It costs the average man twice as much for tobacco for himself as for bread for his whole family."

Mr. Studholme—"Tobacco is a luxury."

Mr. Lees—"No, it's a necessity. A man who is in the habit of using tobacco would rather have it than bread."

Mr. Nickle—"Why not have a standard for bread as for meat?"

Mr. Lees—"The margin of profit is too small. The people don't understand the difficulty of getting a standard for bread."

Mr. Ferguson (Grenville)—"Would it work here to sell bread by the pound?"

Mr. Lees—"It would work anywhere."

Mr. Lees objected to making one weight for both plain and fancy bread.

"Getting Round the Law."

Hon. A. G. MacKay—"I consider the fancy bread a way of getting round the law."

Mr. Lees explained that the one standard of weight would give drivers greater trouble in keeping track of sales, and that people didn't want tickets at two prices.

London Bakers.

H. J. Neal, baker, of Windsor, said that the Windsor people were satisfied with the former McNaught bill, but E. B. Ryckman, K. C., read a telegram from the London bakers urging the necessity of legalizing the pound and pound and a quarter loaf.

"There's no law anywhere limiting the weight of bread," he said. "Good heavens, you can't make it all one quality and say it's eggs."

"Mr. Hanna, you'll get into more trouble over this bill than over any other bill you've ever had," said E. M. Trowern, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, who pointed out that the Jews of Toronto were making bread different from that used by other people.

"You're making the baker make a loaf of bread of a certain weight, irrespective of the quality, and you can make up your mind the baker will bring it out of the oven to be at that weight. And I object to any man telling me I've got to eat dough. It's being done in Toronto."

"The main objection," said Mr. John Shaw, "is the 16-ounce loaf. The consumer is forced to take 16 ounces and pay as much as he paid for 24 ounces. The bakers have quietly withdrawn the 24-ounce loaf. The only place you can get the 24-ounce loaf is in the hospitals."

Jabs at Sliding Scales.

Mr. Nickle, in a fiery speech, declared the sliding scale of the 1908 bill to be iniquitous.

"I have, in my pocket," he said, "a resolution from the Kingston Trades and Labor Council, approving the change proposed in my bill, and I have dozens of letters from all over the province.

"I think the committee made the greatest mistake in their lives when they struck for a sliding scale. Let us see that the people get a fair loaf."

Mr. McNaught expressed the opinion that petitions could be got up for anything.

TWO MORE OF HIS PARTY OPPOSE BORDEN'S POLICY

Member for West Huron Comes Out Strong Against Opposition Naval Proposals.

Ottawa, March 1. — The naval debate proved a little more interesting today. Two more Conservatives came out against the party policy.

E. N. Lewis, the onservative member for West Huron, announced himself as most decidedly opposed to Mr. Borden's policy of a gift of two Dreadnoughts.

Mr. Lewis also objected to Mr. Monk's plebiscite proposal, and the Government's policy.

His proposal was that, as the great final issue would be decided by the battleships alone, the Government should take 40,000 of the fishermen of Canada to Halifax and Vancouver, and give them three months' training every year with the big guns. Britain should send a dozen of her undermanned ships to Canada to train these men. England did not require ships.

He did not believe that four out of five men in Ontario were in favor of a Canadian navy, and more even than that, were opposed to a contribution.

P. E. Blondin, Conservative whip for Quebec, opposed the proposals, both of the Premier and the leader of the Opposition. He declared for Mr. Monk's amendment.

C. A. Wilson, Laval, advocated the Government proposals.

G. Boyer, Vaudreuil, addressed the House in French, supporting the bill.

M. Y. McLean (South Huron) declared that whatever the Dominion decides to do should be undertaken entirely in the interests of the Dominion, and not as payment of a supposed debt which Canada owed to Britain. He said Canada had never received one dollar from Great Britain for which she had not been given a great big dollar's worth in return. Britain needed Canada's products, and had never given more for these than she had for the products of other countries. Indeed, a barrier had beeen maintained against Canadian live cattle. The argument was silly that Britain had protected Canada from invasion. Britain, in protecting Canadian commerce on the high seas, was simply protecting her own breadstuffs.

J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton) resented Mr. McLean's statement of the case between Great Britain and Canada.

The creation of an independent navy, as suggested by the Government, would involve years of delay, Mr. Armstrong held. With all other nations building Dreadnoughts and abandoning the small ships, it would be a useless waste of money to build cruisers and other small vessels either for defensive or offensive purposes. The most effective contribution Canada could make would be to give two Dreadnoughts to Britain's navy. Then, if a navy was to be built, let it be after the question had been submited to the Canadian people, and their approval secured.

THE ANNUITIES ACT

Women of Canada Say Rates Are Unjust to Them.

Ottawa, March 1. — In the Senate today the bill amending the annuities act was put through the committee stage. Senator Frost said he had received a petition from the Council of Women of Canada, asking that the bill be amended by reducing the rates charged women for annuities to the same rates charged men. They pointed out that women were charged more, on the theory that they lived longer than men. The statistics on which the theories of longevity were founded were those of Great Britain, not Canada, and it was not established that women in Canada lived on an average longer than men. Moreover, women had lower earning power than men, and therefore should not be charged a higher rate for annuities, Senator Frost said that on the third reading of the bill he would press for the amendments asked for by the National Council of Women.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2.

MORE HARMONY AT OTTAWA.

There was another exhibition yesterday of the touching harmony of the Ottawa Opposition on the naval question.

Pierre Blondin, of Champlain, who performs the somewhat perfunctory duties of Opposition whip for Quebec, lined up beside Mr. Monk and offered to contest a by-election as an antagonist of both the Laurier and the Borden policies.

E. N. Lewis, of West Huron, who is not a French-Canadian, declined also to follow Mr. Borden's lead. Mr. Lewis has a penchant for novelties, and has evolved a naval policy of his own. He would train 40,000 Canadian fishermen on British ships. He would have Canadian sea-fighters, but he would give them no Canadian ships. Mr. Lewis professes to think that such a scheme would satisfy Canadian aspirations, while the Government's plan, which would provide Canadian ships for Canadian sailors, would be voted down by four out of five men in Ontario. He is much nearer the truth when he says that the proposal of a money contribution to Great Britain would find less favor in the country than the Government's project.

Victor Geoffrion and Gustave Boyer, French-Canadian Liberals, came out valiantly yesterday in support of a Canadian navy. Laurier will defeat Monk on this issue in Quebec, but there will be no thanks to the Opposition leaders because the French-Canadians have cheerfully agreed to co-operate with English-speaking Canadians in shouldering the new burden of Imperial naval defence. Mr. Monk and Mr. Borden have tried to thwart this policy by different methods. Mr. Monk assails the Government and its policy by setting up an Imperial bogey, and appealing to French-Canadian fears. Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster attack the Government by a covert appeal to prejudice against a French-Canadian premier and the French-Canadian race.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. STEVENSON.

Mr. Justice Magee in his address to the jury in the Foster-Macdonald case, paid a handsome and merited compliment to Mr. Stevenson, the supreme chief ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters. He referred to Mr. Stevenson as "a gentleman whose attitude throughout these transactions appears to have been strictly a proper one, both as regards fairness and business ideals."

This judicial encomium agrees with the opinion of those who impartially followed the evidence taken before the insurance commission, and in the libel suit which has just ended. Mr. Stevenson gave testimony on both occasions. In the latter case he was the most material witness, next to Mr. Foster himself. He showed a masterly grasp of the vast and complicated affairs of his order, and, what is more important, a just and proper view of the nature of the particular transactions which were under review by the court. The Foresters owe much to his resolute intervention at a critical stage in the joint affairs of the order and the Union Trust Company. His conduct was that of a man imbued with a sense of the moral responsibilities of his position.

Members of the Independent Order of Foresters may have pride and faith in their chieftain. Before Mr. Stevenson's accession many of them were apprehensive of the consequences of Dr. Oronhyatekha's removal, when the inevitable should happen. They have been completely reassured. The head of the order proved his competence and his integrity in the most searching test. He has earned the rare reward of a tribute from the bench.

A WOMAN'S REFERENDUM.

If a bill now before the New York Legislature passes, the women of that state will, in November next, have an opportunity of saying whether they desire the right to vote at the general elections. The form in which the question will be put, if the bill is enacted, is this: "Shall the constitution be amended to confer upon women the full right of suffrage?" It is proposed to give wide publicity to the plebiscite, and all published notices will contain the statement that women only will be allowed to vote.

At first sight this may appear an important concession to the suffragists, as it is unlikely that their indifferent sisters would go to the polls in any number, so that a large majority for the bill would be registered. But at best it would be merely a vote, without the promise of legislation at the back of it. A few years ago a similar referendum was submitted in Massachusetts, and although the suffragists cast two hundred times as many votes as the antis, the women of the state are still without the ballot.

The leaders of the woman suffrage movement are strongly opposed to such a vote. One of them expressed the prevalent feeling when she said: "We might just as well let a lot of college boys cast a straw vote on a presidential election and take that seriously, as to give earnest consideration to such a proposal. Why not let the present qualified voters vote on it as a constitutional amendment?" Whatever the object or the outcome of the bill it is the most conspicuous recognition of woman suffrage as a political issue yet vouchsafed by the New York Legislature.

WASHINGTON MAKES A MOVE.

The Washington Government will wait no longer for representations from Canada on the tariff question, but will send commissioners to Ottawa.

The President must act on the provisions of the Payne-Aldrich law before April 1. He must decide whether Canada in his opinion discriminates "unduly" against the United States. If he takes that view, he will impose a surtax of 25 per cent upon Canadian importations.

The trade figures should be sufficient to convince Washington that American producers are under no unfair disabilities in the Canadian market. Canada is so good a customer of the United States that the Canadian Government does not feel called upon to plead at Washington for favors or forbearance. Self-interest alone should prompt the President to maintain existing relations.

The nature of the instructions given the American commissioners who have gone to Ottawa are not known, but there can be no question of repudiating the French treaty, or of concessions to the United States as the price of exemption from the American surtax. Canada has become so economically independent of her neighbor that the American tariff holds no further terrors for Canadian producers.

The Washington Mahomet will come to the Ottawa mountain on the tariff question.

Mr. Foster has definitely decided to appeal against what the London Free Press calls his vindication.

The defeat for Mr. Foster was a victory for the freedom of the press. But there are papers of such yellow-dog partisanship that they profess to sympathize with him.

The course of the Asquith Government is beset with rocks and shoals, but there doesn't seem to be anything amiss with the pilot or the steering-gear.

Frederick Hamilton argues in the University Magazine that Canada should be a principality, with a royal prince as governor-general, and a large leisured class to give a better tone to society and politics. Frederick should have been a "dook."

The Hamilton Jockey Club has earned 1,700 per cent on its investment, and the Toronto Woodbine shows profits of 700 per cent. These facts help to explain the defence of race-track gambling.

The member for East Huron in the Commons would hire Dreadnoughts to defend Canada. The member for West Huron in the Commons would hire Canadian fishermen, but no ships. How does Huron County stand on the naval question, anyway?

"I venture to think that a system of torpedo boats and submarines, such as has been adopted by the Commonwealth of Australia, would be perhaps the most effective way in which we could assist Great Britain in a stated policy of naval defence."

This is not the language of a "tin-pot" navy advocate. It was used by Mr. R. L. Borden in the House of Commons a year ago.

Mr. Littlejohn, of Pontypridd, Wales, a defeated Unionist candidate, describes Mr. Asquith and his colleagues as "Yahoos with brass faces, and feet of clay, a cachinnation of debility, a mawkish medley of parasitical lugubriousness, an atrophied miscellany, drugged in opportunism and oscitated in vapidity, a miserable cabal treading on thought in the purlieus of Downing street, and lolling on the bosom of expediency, an administrative conglomerate, and also a nebulous mass." Mark Twain once likened a similar performance to a dictionary with the cholera.

BETTER THINGS AHEAD.
[Walt Mason.]

The wind is cold and the sky is grey, and the world is bleak and sad, but the clouds so leaden will drift away, and the sun will shine, my lad! And the spring will come with its fragrant breeze, and its garden sass and its bumble bees, and the birds will sing in the dedbinged trees; life isn't so awful bad. The night is long and its breath is chill, and the stars no longer shine; as though in mourning the world is still, the wind has a weary whine; but soon we'll welcome the joyous morn, with its good old sun and its breakfast horn; and the world will seem like a world just born—and tell me, won't that be fine! The road is long and your feet are tired, your robe with the dust is grey; and the hour of rest you have long desired seems ever so far away; but the sun sinks low in the purple west, and the hour's at hand when you'll have your rest in the balmy groves of the Islands Blest, where the wings of angels play.

To Be DYSPEPTIC Is To Be MISERABLE.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Burdock Blood Bitters has an established reputation, extending over thirty-four years, as a positive cure for dyspepsia in all its forms, and from all diseases arising from it.

Can Eat Anything Now.

Mrs. Herman Dickenson, Benton, N.B., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and find that few medicines can give such relief in dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was troubled for a number of years with dyspepsia and could get no relief until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. I took three bottles and became cured and I can now eat anything without it hurting me. I will highly recommend it to all who are troubled with stomach trouble."

APART AND YET TOGETHER.

I know a garden where the lilies gleam,
And one who lingers in the sunshine there;
She is that white-stoled lily far more fair,
And oh, her eyes are heaven-lit with a dream!

I know a garret, cold and dark and drear,
And one who toils and toils with tireless pen,
Until his brave, sad eyes grow weary—then
He seeks the stars, pale, silent as a seer.

And ah, 'tis strange, for desolate and dim
Between these two there rolls an ocean wide;
Yet he is in the garden by her side,
And she is in the garret there with him.

ONTARIO GOVT. ROAD MAY GO TO PORCUPINE

Bill in Legislature to Provide for Extension of T. and N. O. Railway.

Toronto, March 1. — The extension of the T. and N. O. into the Porcupine fields was foreshadowed by Hon. Dr. Reaume, in the House today, when he introduced a resolution empowering the Government to extend the railway. The minister explained that the extension was not contemplated immediately, but the resolution was framed to give the Government the power if between now and the next session of the Legislature the development of the country warrants it.

The proposed extension would be about 40 miles from a point north of Matheson. The Government had secured similar power to extend into the Gowganda district, but from the knowledge they had they felt they were not justified in doing so.

A measure was presented by Mr. Fripp to make small municipalities stand the expense of sending penniless patients to city hospitals.

Mr. Hanna remarked that the introduction of the bill would have an educational effect, and would perhaps bring the municipalities to realize their duty in this respect. He thought, however, these places should have an opportunity to make representations on the matter.

Th Ontario medical amendment act, introduced by Dr. R. F. Preston (Lanark), was given its second reading, and will now be considered by a special committee headed by Hon. Dr. Pyne.

ST. KITTS LAD CARRIES BULLET IN HEAD

St. Catharines, March 2. — With over half a .22-calibre rifle bullet deeply imbedded in his brain, Chas. Liney, a 16-year-old youth, is today walking the streets of this city with no apparent ill-effects.

Liney was accidentally shot by his father while hunting muskrats, on Christmas Eve last. Striking the skull, the bullet split, more than half of it penetrating the brain so deeply that the surgeons declined to probe further for it.

After having lingered at death's door for some time, he has been discharged from the hospital in good health.

Physicians are watching the lad's case with interest

EDWARD VERY DEAD.

New York, March 2.—Edward W. Very, formerly a distinguished naval officer, and known the world over as an ordnance expert, is dead, at his home in New York, at the age of 63 years. ATTACKS OPTION VOTES.

Toronto, March 1.—After failing to get an order prohibiting the county judge from certifying that the Chesley local option bylaw carried to a majority of one, over the three-fifths requirement, P. J. Schumacher, a Chesley hotelkeeper, will move before Justice Britton on Friday to quash the certificate. The Chesley council will meet on Monday and unless the court intervenes the bylaw will receive the third and final reading. The grounds on which Schumacher takes his action are: One man voted on a certificate. The town clerk who printed the ballots voted. Schumacher attacks these votes and says that the elimination of these two ballots would defeat the bylaw.

CLIFF SLIDES AWAY ONE HUNDRED FEET

Remarkable Landslide Caused by Thaw in the Wilds of Quebec.

Ottawa, March 2. — Word reached here yesterday of a landslide on the banks of the Nation River, about four miles from Casselman, which is on the Grand Trunk Pacific. A large section of the high clay bank of the river gave away, going into the river with a rush, breaking the ice, which was a foot and a half thick. Luckily, there were no fatalities.

Barns and outbuildings belonging to P. Bray, a farmer, along with one of his cattle, were carried down with the slide and buried under tons of earth. Fortunately, Mr. Bray had but a few days ago removed to a new building, situated a short distance from the point where the land broke. The spot where the collapse occurred was formerly a cliff about 75 feet high. The upper soil was very sandy and the subsoil was of clay. It is thought that the sudden thaw of yesterday and the day before is responsible for the landslide.

The scene at the spot is a most extraordinary one. Huge elm trees, which were formerly on the height of the river bank, are now some hundred yards from their original resting place, all of them in an upright position still. It is as if some huge hand had taken a slice of land and simply laid it in another place. Over half an acre of land has gone right up on the south bank of the channel, where previously the Nation flowed.

Ten head of cattle that were in Mr. Bray's barn were carried right along with the debris, and partly buried in the hay, clay, etc. Bray had a very narrow escape, for only a short time before he had been out to the barns, feeding his cattle.

Mme. Nazimova in "A Doll's House."

Madame Nazimova, the distinguished young Russian dramatic artist, who is appearing in English, comes to the Grand on Saturday. The mere announcement that Nazimova is to present here one of Ibsen's famous masterpieces will be vastly interesting to those who have followed the success that has attended the three years' career of this notable woman on the American stage. Her performance of Ibsen and the intellectual drama in New York and elsewhere have created for her a following such as few women of longer experience have enjoyed. In "A Doll's House" Madame Nazimova will be seen in her favorite role of Nora Helmer. Seat sale opens on Thursday.

"Three Twins" Monday.

"Three Twins" will come to the Grand on Monday. The original company, with an entire new scenic and costumic production, will be shown to London theatregoers. WELLINGTON WEAVER KILLED IN FAR WEST

Live Wire Causes the Death of a Former Blandford Man.

Woodstock, Ont., March 2. — Mr. Weaver, formerly of Blandford, met death at Vancouver Monday through coming into contact with a live wire.

The remains of Charles Grimstead, who died in Detroit, were brought to this city today for burial. The young man, who was only 22 years of age, had been working in Detroit for some time. His mother here was summoned to his bedside last Sunday, and found him suffering from pneumonia.

There was a large gathering in the Grey Memorial Hall to hear Rev. T. B. Clarke, of London, lecture on the English cathedrals. The lecture was accompanied by a set of fine lantern slides, and proved interesting from a historical as well as a pictorial standpoint.

The Ministerial Association of this city are bringing pressure to bear on the city council with a view to making the bylaw in regard to poolrooms more stringent. They have asked that the council pass a bylaw prohibiting boys under 18 years of age from frequenting the rooms.

FLOOD VICTIMS BURIED.

Wallace, Idaho, March 2.—With flags at half-mast, stores and business houses closed, over a thousand people of the Couer D'Alene mining district gathered here yesterday for the first funeral service for the victims of the greatest disaster that visited Mace and Burke district. Religious services were held in the Masonic Temple Opera House over the bodies of E. H. Pascoe, Eddie Pascoe, Inez Pascoe, Richard Moyle and Bert Shepperd.

The weather condition is rainy, and many slides reported in the canyons of the district, causing damage to buildings. General apprehension is driving to Wallace the residents of towns exposed to the danger of slides

HERKIMER CUT OFF BY RAGING FLOODS

Can Only Be Reached by Boats and People Are in Desperate Straits.

Utica, N. Y., March 2.—The only manner in which the village of Herkimer can be reached is by boat and through the raging flood that surrounds the village. This is a most dangerous and unpleasant effort. No trains have been run through the village since last evening, and it is reported now that the Central-Hudson Railroad bridge east of the village will be dynamited during the forenoon. At present through night trains on the Central run from Hoffman's to just east of Utica on the west shore. This causes great delay in the schedules. Trolley cars can approach the town on the west only as far as Mohawk, and from that point on one must take to a boat, crossing the swift channel of the river, and about a mile of roaring flood. The highways on the west and north are covered with great volumes of water and floating ice, and no vehicle could be forced through them.

The situation at Herkimer itself is grave. Throughout the night the village was in complete darkness, the gas and electric light plants being rendered useless by the floods. The municipal water plant cannot be used and people are put to the most desperate straits for water for domestic purposes. Fully a third of the houses in the place are uninhabitable, and other homes have been thrown open to the accommodation of the homeless as far as possible.

The gloomy dark morning, with threatening clouds, made the scene about as hopeless as one may imagine and hundreds of people were seeking safety by securing boats that conveyed them to neighboring towns or to the higher ground west of the village. No one yet places estimates upon the damage, for it is not yet known when the end will be. But the sum already reaches an enormous amount.

FALLIERES MAKES RECORD.

Paris, March 2.—President Falliere, it was learned today, has personally called on Prince Von Radolin, the German ambassador to France, and expressed condolences in the recent death of the ambassador's son. As this is the first visit a president of the republic has paid to the German embassy since the Franco-Prussian war, it has created much comment.

A GLAD GLADSTONE PARTY

Seven Families Spent Pleasant Evening at D. A. Carrothers' Home.

On Thursday evening last six or seven families from Gladstone, also a sleighload from Belmont, drove over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Carrothers, 5th concession, Westminster, where a very pleasant evening was spent by all present. After all had partaken of oysters and other refreshments in the dining-room, the company repaired to the parlors, where Misses Shirley and Jean McCallum, of Gladstone; Miss Blanch Sinclair, of Belmont, and others, assisted in a programme of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc. In the small hours of the morning, though the thermometer was about fifteen degrees below zero the sleighbells of the party could be merrily heard returning homeward.

Half a Chance

The Great New Serial Story of Adventure by

FREDERICK S. ISHAM

Auther of "Under the Rose," "The Strollers," etc.

Copyright 1909, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

John Steele smiled grimly; but soon his thoughts seemed floating off beyond control, and rising suddenly, he threw himself on the bed. For a moment he strove to consider one or two tasks that should have been accomplished this night, but which he must defer; was vaguely conscious of the slamming of a blind next door; then overstrained nature yielded.

Hours passed; the sun rose hight in the heavens, began to sink; still the heavy sleep of utter exhaustion claimed him.Once or twice the servant came to the door, listened, and stole away again. The afternoon was well advanced, when,as half through a dream, John Steele heard the rude jingling of a bell—the cat-meat man, or the milkman, drowsily he told himself. In fancy he seemed to see the broad flowing river from a window of his own chambers, the dawn stealing over, marshalling its tints—crimson until—

Slowly through the torpor of his brain realization began also to dawn; this room — it was not his. The gleaming lances of sunlight that darted through the half-closed shutters played on the strange wall-paper of a strange apartment; no, he remembered it now—last night!

The loud and emphatic closing of the front gate served yet more speedily to arouse him; his head buzzed from a long-needed sleep that had been oversound; his limbs still ached, but every sense on an instant became unnaturally keen. Footsteps resounded on the gravel; he heard voices; those of two men, who were coming toward the house.

"So, it's the meter man, you are?" John Steele recognized the inquiring voice as that of the caretaker. "Sure, you're a new one from the last that was here."

"Yes; we change beats occasionally," was the careless answer, as the men pressed around the side of the house and entered a rear door. For a time there was silence; John Steele sprang from his bed and crept very softly toward the hall. "A new man—" He heard them talking again after a few minutes; he remained listening at his door, now slightly ajar.

"There must be a leak somewhere, from the quantity you've burned. I'll have a look around; might save your master a few shillings."

The man moved from room to room and started, at length, up the stairs. John Steele closed and noiselessly locked the door; the "meter man" crossed the upper hall and stepped, one after the other, into the several rooms. Having apparently made there the necessary examination, he walked over and tried the door of John Steele's room.

"This room's occupied by a visitor," interposed the servant quickly in a hushed voice. "And he's asleep now; he would not thank you for the disturbing of his repose."

"All right." Did the listener detect an accent of covert satisfaction in the caller's tones? "I'll not wake him. I don't find the leak I was looking for; will drop in again, though, when I have more time."

Their footsteps receded and shortly afterward the man left the house; as he didy so, John Steele pushing the blinds back a little, looked out of his room; the man who had reached the front of the place glanced back. His gaze at that instant, meeting the other's, seemed to betray a momentary eagerness, quickly Steele turned away—no doubt now lingered in his mind as to the purpose of the visit.

CHAPTER XVI.
Flight.

The half-expected had happened;bag and baggage had led his pursuers hither; the fellow could now go back and report. After his bath, before lying down, John Steele had partly dressed in the garments laid out for him; now he threw the dressing-gown from his shoulders, and hastily put on the rest of his clothes. He felt now only the need for action—to do what? Impatience was capped by the realization of his own impotence; Rosemary Villa was, no doubt, at that very moment, subjected to a close espionage. He heard the man-servant in the garden, and unable to restrain a growing restlessness to know the worst, Steele mounted the stairs to the attic.

From the high window there he could see, around a curve in the Row, a loitering figure; in the other direction a neighboring house concealed the byway, but he could reasonably conclude that someone also sauntered there, sentinel at that end of the street. Quickly coming down to the second story, he began cautiously to examine from the windows the situation of the house, in relation to adjoining grounds and neighboring dwellings.

To the right, the top of the high wall shone with the customary bits of broken glass; the rear defences glistened also in formidable fashion. He noted, however, several places where this safeguard against unwonted invasion showed signs of deterioration; in one or two spots the jagged fragments had been broken, or had fallen off. These slight breaks in the continuity of irregular, menacing glass bits, he fixed in mind by a certain shrub or three. Against the rear wall, which was of considerable height, leaned his neighbor's low conservatory, almost spanning it from side to side.

"Sure, I don't know whether it's breakfast or supper that's waiting for you." Captain Forsythe's man had reappeared and stood now at the top of the landing looking in at him. "Its a sound sleep you've had."

John Steele glanced at the clock; the afternoon was waning. Why did not his enemies force their way in, surround him at once? Unless—and this might prove a momentary clause—these people without were but an advance guard, an outpost, awaiting orders. In this event, Gillett would hastily be sent for; would soon be on his way——

"'Tis a rasher of real Irish bacon that is awaiting your convenience, sir."

The servant was now eyeing the visitor dubiously; John Steele wheeled, a perfunctory answer on his lips, and going to the dining-room swallowed hastily a few mouthfuls. From where he sat he could command a view of the front gate, and kept glancing toward it when alone. To go now—or wait? The daylight did not favor the former course unless his pursuers should suddenly appear before the locked gate, demanding admission.

He made up his mind as to his course then, the last desperate shift. Amid a turmoil of thoughts a certain letter he had had in mind to send to Captain Forsythe occurred to him, and calling for paper and pen, he wrote there, facing the window, feverishly, hastily, several pages; then he gave the letter to the servant for the postman, whose special call at the iron knocker without had just sounded. The letter would have served John Steele ill had it fallen into his enemies' hands—but once in the care of the royal mails it would be safe. If it were, indeed, that person at the gate, and not someone——

"One moment, Dennis!" The man paused. "Of course, you will make it sure it is the postman?"

The servant stared at this guest, whose demeanor was becoming more and more eccentric. "As if I didn't know his knock!" he said, departing.

The afternoon waned; the shadows began to fall; John Steele's pulses now throbbed expectantly. He called for a key to the gate and moved toward the front door; by this time the darkness had deepened, and, key in hand, he stepped out.

At first he walked toward the front on the gravel that the servant might hear him; but near the entrance he paused, hesitating, to look out. As he remained thus, someone, who had been standing not far off, drew near. This person stealthily passed; in doing so he glanced around; but John Steele felt uncertain whether the fellow had or had not been able to distinguish him in the gloom. John Stele waited, however, until the other moved a short distance on; then he retraced his own way quietly, keeping to the grass, toward the house; near it he swerved, and in the same rapid manner stole around the place until he reached the back wall.

There he examined his position, felt the top, then placed his fingers on the wall. It was about six feet high, but seizing hold, he was about to spring into the air, when behind him, from the direction of the Row, a low metallic sound caught his attention. The front gate to the Forsythe house had suddenly clicked; someone had entered—not the servant; John Steele had seen him but a few moments before in the kitchen; someone, then, who had quietly picked the lock, as the surest way of getting in

John Steele looked back; even as he did so, a number of figures abruptly ran forward from the gate, He waited no longer, but drew himself up to a level with the top of the wall. The effort made him acutely aware of his wounded shoulder; he winced, but set his teeth hard and swung himselves over until one foot came in contact with the iron frame of the greenhouse next to the masonry To crawl to the end of the lean-to, bending to hold to the wall, and then to let himself down, occupied but a brief interval

As he stood there, trying to make out a path through shrubs and trees, he heard behind him an imperative knocking at the front door of Captain Forsythe's house; the expostulating tones of the serving-man; the half-indistinct replies that were succeeded by the noise of feet hastening into the house

INSURGENTS WARNED

Taft Will Not Allow Them to Amend His Administration Bills.

Washington, March 2.—After a two hours' conference with President Taft yesterday, leaders of Congress announced that they would oppose all amendments to the several administration bills when it became apparent that the amendments were offered in a spirit hostile to the main purpose of the proposed legislation. There were present at the conference Senators Aldrich and Crane and Speaker Cannon.

The discussion had special reference to the interstate commerce bills. The President was disturbed by reports that efforts would be made in the senate to amend the bill in such manner as to destroy the ideas of the administration, and there was danger of adoption in the House committee of some of the amendments advocated by Chairman Mann, which Attorney-General Wickersham has said will be inimical to the measure.

It was stated that positive assurances could not be given that no amendments would be adopted, but that a determined contest would be waged against all suggestions coming from an unfriendly source. This is taken at the capital to mean that sharp lines would be drawn against the propositions advocated by "insurgent" members, and that administration senators would oppose particularly the ideas advanced by Senator Cummins and Clapp, the only Republican who voted against the bill in committee. The disposition to weigh the purpose of any member of congress who would seek to amend the railroad bill is to be applied also to the consideration of the postal savings bank bill, the conservation measures most urged by the President and court injunction bill, and any others of the Taft measures.

It was agreed that the House shall continue with the appropriation bills, and get them out of the way before taking up the administration policies.

The firm of Gray & Parker has changed in personnel but not in name or policy. Mr. Gray intends operating the business on those same principles of fair play that have been responsible for our success. AFTER THE PACKERS

Prosecutor Garven Moves to Have Them Brought Into Court.

Trenton, N. J., March 2.—Prosecutor Garven, of Hudson County, yesterday applied to Justice Swaysee, of the state supreme court, for an order to compel the officers of the National Packing Company, Armour & Co., Morris & Co., and Swift & Co., to bring within the jurisdiction of the New Jersey supreme court forthwith the minutes of the stockholders and directors of these corporations.

Prosecutor Garven said he wished to bring the records before the grand jury of Hudson County in the matter of the indictment now pending against certain directors of these corporations.

Justice Swaysee said that he would announce his decision at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Garven yesterday held a conference with Governor Fort in the matter of the extradition of the indicted officers should such a course become necessary. The prosecutor declined to make public the result of the conference.

LIBERAL JUDAISM

Rabbi Wise, of New York, Delivers Address in London.

London, March 1. — Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, New York, delivered an address yesterday afternoon at Portman rooms, Baker street, on the subject, "What Is Liberal Judaism?" Dr. Wise said in part:

"We are told from time to time that we must not forever accept the adjectives; that ours is not to be orthodox Judaism, bu Judaism.

"Be it noted that it is we who are ever emphasizing that we are Jews, that ours is Judaism. Liberal or reform is not a term of decisiveness, nor even of distinctiveness, but, rather, let us hope, of distinction. Ours is not liberal-something, or reform-something. Nor are we liberal-somebodies, but we are liberal Jews, and ours is liberal Judaism. Liberal Judaism is not a way out of Judaism, but a method of return to Judaism. Liberal Judaism is Judaism militant; not moribund; vitally self-determining, not apathetically drifting; greatly daring not feebly fearful.

"Let men be reasonable and ask themselves: Is it disloyalty, is it indifference, is it iconoclasm that moves Mr. Montefiore and his splendid associates and similar groups in America to take up the banner of reform Judaism? Is ours, as has lately been said in an American Jewish journal, an irreducible minimum of Judaism? It is an irreducible minimum of the things not worth while in Judaism. It is the maximum of that in and of Judaism which is worth while.

"We are liberals because we would conserve. It is our very conservation, our zeal to conserve all that is best in the religion and life of Israel, that moves us to take the position which is ours."

LACK OF BLOOD

Is What Causes Headaches, Dizziness, and Heart Palpitation.

On the blood depends the welfare of the whole body. Where good blood exists disease is unknown, but where the blood is poor and watery disease quickly seizes hold of the body—It is then headaches, backaches, dizziness, heart palpitation and other serious ailments make themselves felt. Good blood can always be obtained through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They actually make good, rich blood and thus restore lost strength and banish disease. Mr. Herbert Hanson, Brewers Mills, N. B., says:—"I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. I was troubled with headaches, dizziness and loss of strength and had a hacking cough which I feared would lead to consumption. I tried a number of medicines without benefit, but was finally persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and used these Pills for several months with remarkable results. They helped me so much that I now strongly recommend them to all other suffers."

The experience of Mr. Hanson is that of thousands of others who have found health and strength through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after other medicines had failed. It is through their power in making good blood that these Pills cure such troubles as anaemia, indigestion, rheumatism, heart palpitation, neuralgia, nervous troubles and the distressing ills of girlhood and womanhood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers in medicine or direct by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

KAISER AS CRITIC

German Emperor Knows Something of Plays and Players.

Berlin, March 1.—"My little show in the royal playhouse is satisfying me this winter," Emperor William boasted in an intimate exchange of business confidences with Manager Schmieden, of the New Theatre.

The Crown Prince had achieved a great diplomatic triumph in persuading his father to visit a theatre other than a state playhouse. It was the Emperor's first visit to a middle-class theatre since he saw Conan Doyle's play, "The Hound of the Baskervilles," three years ago. He was induced to suspend this rule this week in order to see a play of the kind he likes best—a sensational historical drama entitled "The Philosopher of Sans Souci," which deals with Voltaire. The prince had carefully selected this performance to entice the Emperor away from the royal places of amusement, knowing his fondness for historical pieces and costumes.

When Manager Schmieden was "commanded" to appear before his imperial patrons in their box, he informed the inquiring Emperor that the author's name on the programme was a nom de plume, and that the drama really was written by the Countess of Leiningen, who is 75 years old, and that this play is her first striking success.

"I like plays based on history," the Emperor said enthusiastically. "How much fine material for dramatists there is in history! It is an inexhaustible spring for the theatre."

Then, dropping the role of a spectator and listener, the Emperor assumed that of the theatre director—a favorite one with him—and observed: "The staging and acting pleased me much."

His next query betrayed the thoroughness with which he goes into a subject when once he takes it up. He had showed his interest in the performance. He had analyzed the drama; he had expressed critical approval of the mounting and the players, now to business: "How about the box receipts?"

"They are satisfactory, your majesty." Thereupon Emperor William proudly expressed satisfaction with his "own little show."

PHILADELPHIA TOLD TO MIND ITS BUSINESS

Street Railway Co. Refuses Requests of Many Bodies to Arbitrate Strike Differences.

Philadelphia, March 1. — The Rapid Transit Company have served notice tonight upon the citizens of Philadelphia that they would do well to mind their own business. Every offer made by clergymen, associations of businessmen, civic bodies and individuals, suggesting a means of arbitrating the differences between the company and the striking employees was turned down coldly.

The company has announced that it will not deal with its former employees under any circumstances whatever. There is less hope for peace tonight than for a week past.

The impact of public opinion resulted this evening in a meeting of the Transit Company. After the meeting a statement was issued, saying:

"At the conclusion of an informal conference of the Rapid Transit Company directors, President Kruger stated that the company was not changed, and will not change in any manner its attitude in respect to arbitration, already outlined in its reply to the Ministers' Association."

The defiance of the Rapid Transit Company was announced after ten businessmen, representing the big down-town stores, had called on the directors and had a talk with Mr. Earle.

It is known now that the company does not believe that the union labor men affiliated with the Central Labor Union will dare to break existing agreements with their employers, and that the company is depending on this one factor to maintain its stand against arbitration

"The company will never agree to arbitration," said Mayor Reyburn. "I do not know about a sympathetic strike, but if the thing is coming, it will have to come: but we are better prepared than we were."

Senators McNichol and Penrose and Recorder Vare are expected soon, and out of their conference may come the real solution of the problem.

The state constabulary left today. In their place will be a detachment of mounted policemen, two hundred in number, most of whom are ex-cavalrymen.

The Transit Company heard today of a plot to blow up the subway elevator, the most important link in the company's system. Detective Kilgore informed Magistrate Beaton that two pickets of the strikers confessed to him that there was a plot to dynamite the elevated structure. Magistrate Beaton held the men for further examination.

ANOTHER MOVE IN HYDRO SUIT

Mr. Beardmore To Carry His Appeal to the Court of Appeal.

Toronto, March 2. — Mr. W. D. Beardmore, through his solicitors, has served notice on the city legal department that he will carry his appeal in the electric power case to the court of appeal. Mr. Beardmore seeks to set aside the city's contract with the hydro-electric power commission and prevent the city from supplying power to the citizens. In the high court, before Chancellor Boyd, judgment was given against Mr. Beardmore and leave to appeal direct to the court of appeal was not allowed. The case subsequently went to the divisional court, where the decision of Chancellor Boyd was sustained. From the decision of the divisional court the appeal of the court of appeal will be made.

AIRSHIPS RIGHTS

Germany to Prevent Them Sailing Above the Fortresses.

Berlin, March 2.—The law of the air and its control by nations in relation to aerial navigation was the subject of a lecture by Professor Dr. Koeppen, a meteorologist, in the presence of the Kaiser, a number of military and naval officers and other prominent men.

It is probable that Professor Koeppen's statements, which had as many features as an official report, is the forerunner of legislation. He contended that aerostation was not so developed that the time had come to impose laws on the subject, as is done, regarding land and sea traffic, and to define the provisions of aeronauts and the restrictions to which they should be subject.

The frontier rights of nations, private rights as affected by unpremeditated landings and the discharge of ballast, personal injuries, the question of aerial areas in which it will be illegal to navigate, and measures for the protection of aerial passengers, were among the points dealt with.

A discussion, in which the Kaiser shared, followed. It is understood that one of the first points to which German legislation will be directed will be prohibiting airships from traversing over fortresses and fortified towns lest foreigners survey the fortifications.

Ottawa, March 1.—Before the Commons railway committee today the bill of James Conmee for a waterway from Lake Winnipeg to Lake Superior was talked out.

THE MILLIONAIRE FLYER HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Boys Confess to Attempt to Wreck Train With Rockefeller Aboard.

Greenwich, Conn., March 2.—Five boys of foreign parentage, the oldest only 19 and the youngest 10, confessed yesterday, after arrest here, to a plan to wreck a fast New Haven passenger train which leaves New York shortly after noon and then plunder the bodies of the dead.

They are George Lenko, 10 years old; Stephen Yoski, 14; Edward Gydooski, 14, and Andrew Milkin, 12, and Mathew Gydooski, 19.

By his uncontradicted statement, Yoski was ringleader in the affair. All were frequenters of moving-picture shows. Although the arrest did not come out until late, plans for the wreck, according to the police, had been laid for last Saturday, and would probably have gone through with appalling possibilities if it had not been for the watchfulness of a switchman, who saw one of the boys using a stolen key to open a switch. Had the switch remained open, the train would have shot abruptly into a 30-foot rock embankment.

The train carries a special club car on which William G. Rockefeller, E. C. Benedict and a score of other wealthy men ride for the week-end to their country places in Stamford and Greenwich.

In his anxiety to close the switch, the switchman let the boys escape for the time being, but he immediately notified the railway detective force.

ROBLIN'S QUALIFICATIONS

If Charges Are True He May Lose His Seat in Legislature.

Winnipeg, March 2.—Opposition Leader Norris yesterday gave notice that he will move next Thursday a resolution calling for the appointment of a commission consisting of two judges of the superior courts of Manitoba to investigate the guaranteeing of the bonds of the C. N. R. for the Gunn sandpit and Bird's Hill line, which in his notice of motion, he says, were built solely for the hauling of sand. The premier, it is alleged, was partner in the Eli Sand Company which shipped from the Gunn sandpit.

As a partner in the Eli Sand Company, it is claimed, he did business with the Government of Manitoba, under circumstances which may affect his qualification as a member of the House.

FEVER AT HIS HEELS

Several British Officers Who Entertained Roosevelt Stricken.

Gondokoro, Soudan, on the Upper Niles, March 2.—The Roosevelt party may be congratulated upon their escape from the African fever that has followed in the wake of the expedition. Col. Roosevelt and his immediate associates sailed for Khartoum on Monday, all apparently in good health. Dr. Roderick Proschva, French medical missionary, who lunched with Mr. Roosevelt Monday, suddenly died of fever at noon yesterday. At a camp adjoining that occupied by Americans here, an English sportsman is seriously ill, following a trip to Kampala, the capital of Uganda and one of the places at which the Smithsonian-African scientific expedition stopped.

The district commissioner of Gondokoro, the British officials of which were active in entertaining their American guests, has been stricken down with the fever.

REDMOND SATISFIED

Says Ministry Should Have Adopted Present Policy Earlier.

New York, March 2.—The World's London cable quotes John Redmond as saying Monday night: "If the ministers had made last Monday the speech they made today all the troubles of the past week would have been obviated. The Government has now adopted the policy which it should have adopted at the outset, and the refusal to adopt it then was incredibly bad tactics."

Unless something unforeseen happens dissolution will come, it is presumed, on the rejection of the veto resolutions by the Lords, probably in May or June, and then there will be a clear issue on the Lords' veto, one on which the whole Nationalist and Radical parties will be united.

EDWARD ON PEACE

Says Happiness and Progress of All Nations Depend on It.

London, March 2.—At a reception yesterday to the Archbishops of York and Canterbury and the members of the convocation of each diocese, King Edward made some noteworthy comments on peace. Replying to an address of the convocations of Canterbury, his majesty said:

"Your recognition of my efforts to maintain the peace of the world gives me pleasure. Upon peace the health, happiness and material progress of all nations depend. It is my constant prayer that our country may be spared the perils and miseries of war, which, in this modern age must involve the ruin of millions."

Replying to the address of the convocation of York, the King reiterated his thankfulness for the expressed desire for peace. He continued:

"I join with you in my thanks to God for the maintenance of good faith and amity between the great powers and that concord in Christendom is unbroken and that rarely in history has the idea of war been more repulsive or the desire for peace more widely cherished, throughout my empire."

The convocations of York and Canterbury consisting of the bishops and clergy, govern the Church of England. The convocations consist of two houses. The upper chamber is formed of the archbishops and bishops. The second house is made up of the deans of cathedrals, the archdeacons with proctors elected from every cathedral chapter and two more elected by the clergy of every diocese in the province of Canterbury, and by every archdeaconry in the province of York.

With the advent of every new parliament there is a fresh election.

ALLDS HITS BACK

Now Attempting to Prove That Senator Conger Was Corrupt.

Albany, N. Y., March 2.—Efforts of Senator Allds' attorneys to turn the investigation of the bribery charges against their client into an investigation of the conduct of Senator Ben Conger, his accuser, brought objections yesterday from several senators, and when the senate took a recess at 1 o'clock the question of their right to do this was still unsettled. This question was the admissibility of testimony bearing on Conger's relations with the bridge companies concerned in the pool by which it is alleged that immense profits were gained through collusive bidding.

Eugene A. Landon, former manager of the Croton Bridge Company, which the Congers controlled, had testified that the Croton Bridge Company was a signer of the Cleveland agreement, which contained the rules of this pool; but was allowed to go no further. Senator Grady insisted that the defence had a right to pursue this line of testimony as far as it liked to prove its assertion that the motive behind Conger's charges was based on Allds' efforts to defeat legislation hostile to the bridge companies.

Allds gained an important technical victory when Chairman Davis let in the testimony of Speaker Wadsworth and Majority Leader Merritt of the assembly, showing Allds' part in killing a bill favored by the bridge companies last year.

LIBERAL MINISTER ELECTED.

London, March 2—Mr. Joseph Pease, Liberal, has been elected in the Rothnam division of Yorkshire unopposed. Hon. Joseph Pease, Liberal whip, was defeated in Saffron-Walden. He was recently raised to cabinet rank, as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancashire, and had to go back to the electors.

MORRIS---HURD

Interesting Event at the Bride's Home in Cornell.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hurd, Cornell, on Feb. 23, when their only daughter, Lilian Grace, became the bride of Mr. A. D. Morris, a prosperous young farmer of Stouffville.

Promptly at 6 o'clock to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. John Dawes, of Belmont, the bridal party took their places under an arch of evergreens with large bell suspended. The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in white silk mull, with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses. She was unattended, save for Little Viola Dawes, her cousin, who, dressed in white point d'esprit, over silk, acted as flower girl and ring-bearer. Rev. Mr. Lamonte, of Springford, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives.

After congratulations all repaired to the dining-room, where a dainty luncheon was served. The house was beautifully decorated in red and white. After an hour of social chat, Mr. and Mrs. Morris left on the 9 o'clock express for points west, amid showers of rice and confetti. The bride's going-away dress was tailored navy blue broadcloth, with blue picture hat to match.

Friends and relatives were there from Tillsonburg, Springfield and Belmont. The young couple will be at home on their fine farm at Stouffville after March 15. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful ring set with pearls, while to the little flower girl he gave a pretty gold locket and chain.

FIVE-DOLLAR LEGACY.

Toronto, March 1.—"I desire it to be understood that the heirs of my deceased son, Harry Colin Roy, late of Morristown, New Jersey, are to receive $5 each of my estate, as I consider I provided amply for my said son, Harry Colin Roy and his heirs in his lifetime," reads part of the late will of the late Reuben Roy, of Detroit, Mich., formerly of Toronto. The estate is valued at $6,052, and consists of cash and securities. It is divided equally between the two children, Reuben Donald Roy, of Toronto, and Alice Rose Cook, of Detroit.

CHILDREN'S CHEST TROUBLES

NURSE CARRINGTON SAYS HER LONG EXPERIENCE PROVES THE SAFEST REMEDY IS TO RUB ON NERVILINE!

Every mother knows how difficult it is to get a young child to take a cough mixture. Seldom will one help unless given in large doses, and the result is to completely upset the stomach and make the child sick.

Speaking of the promptest cure for chest troubles and children's colds, Nurse Carrington says: "In all my experience in nursing I haven't met any preparation so dependable as Nerviline. It is the ideal liniment. Every drop you rub on is absorbed quickly, sinks through the pores to the congested muscles, eases, relieves, and cures quickly. Especially for chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache, toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills of children Nerviline has no equal. I think Nerviline should be in every home."

A million bottles of Nerviline used every year—this is itself a burden of proof that it is the ideal liniment for the home. Refuse anything your dealer may offer instead of Nerviline. Large bottles, 50 cents; trial size, 25 cents. Sold everywhere, and by the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

A DAY IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SIDE LIGHTS ON MANY SPORTS

LONDON IS BACK ON HOCKEY MAP FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1900 WHEN LOCALS COPPED

Cockneys Go Up Against Collingwood Tonight and Friday in an Effort to Bring the Championship of O. H. A. Back to the Forest City.

NORTHERNERS ARE USED TO KEEN ICE BUT HOME HOPES ARE READY FOR SLUSH

Showed They Could Stand the Gaff at Stratford—Record o Middle Class Winners for Ten Years—"Hunch" Bettors Have an Inning on That Three-Charm. Stuff.

For the first time since 1900, when London won the Intermediate O. H. A. championship, this city is really on the hockey map.

The year following, when there was a real team here, the locals were professionalized, and from that time until now, London has been several spaces removed from the top rung of the hockey ladder.

However, the locals are right bang up now, and have a fighting chance to be named the champions of the O. H. A. intermediates.

The nearest that London has come to the championship in ten years prior to this winter was in 1908, and Collingwood was the team that put the quietus on the locals.

They met in the semi-finals, and London went down in two smashing games by one goal.

The score in Collingwood was 4 to 1 in favor of Collingwood, but in London the locals could only beat the Northerners 4 to 2, losing a chance for the championship.

That year Gould's Midland seven won the rag, defeating Collingwood 8 to 5.

London Has Chance to Even Up.

As mentioned before the two teams meet again, and London has a good chance to square matters with the Georgian Bay seven.

The visiting team today will be little stronger than the one that met London two years ago.

Collins and Peebles, the two lads who caused all the bother then, are gone. Both were fast skaters, quick thinkers, and could shoot hard and fast.

Fryer, another of the good boys, is still retained.

However, there are several good men on the line, Beatty and Burns being named as stars. Fryer, however, is dangerous all the time. The defence is husky and strong.

The locals have improved wonderfully during the year, and at the present time are going at top speed.

They are fast skaters, good stickhandlers and very aggressive.

They check back with rare speed and judgment, and can mix it up satisfactorily.

Bernhardt and Casseiman Know Visitors.

Bernhardt and Casselman know the Collingwood team well, and should easily develop a defence that will solve their attack.

The forwards show better form at the present time than they have shown all season, and are at top speed.

Conditions should suit the locals better than the Collingwood team.

In the north they are used to the keenest ice all winter.

The ice here will be soft and not suited to their style of play at all.

London boys have shown themselves fast in any kind of going.

At Stratford on Monday night they showed extreme speed on ice that was far from good, and should duplicate the performance here.

Locals Are Ready for Any Going.

When the ice is very keen, the Londons have the speed, and on more than one occasion this winter demonstrated that no matter how fast the going, they were ready for it.

The Goderich team complained of the heavy ice on Monday night, and declared that had it been fast—as they are accustomed to—they would have played better.

And there is no doubt in the minds of those who have seen them work in the last four games. However, no one doubts that London had the edge on that team anywhere but on Goderich ice.

The locals are looking for the championship. They are in fine shape, eager and confident, and have the ability.

They are not looking for any easy marks—the Collingwood team is not an easy team by any means, but they are confident they can turn the trick.

The O. H. A. Has Charge Tonight.

There will be a terrific crowd at the rink tonight.

The O. H. A. executive have charge of the arrangements.

They divide the proceeds themselves, as a certain percentage goes to the O. H. A. out of the final games.

Eddie Wettlaufer, of Berlin, will referee this game.

At Collingwood, Glen Caldwell, of Barrie, a good man, will handle the bell. There should be no complaint on the score of referees.

The history of the Intermediate O. H. A. championships is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	Loser.	Score.
1900—	London	Belleville	3 to 1
1901—	St. Georges	Port Hope	10 to 8
1902—	Peterboro	Galt	7 to 6
1903—	Paris	Marlboros	12 to 6
1904—	Stratford	Midland	13 to 11
1905—	Victoria Harbor	Berlin	9 to 6
1906—	Peterboro	Goderich	14 to 8
1907—	Berlin	Collingwood	12 to 7
1908—	Midland	Collingwood	8 to 5
1909—	Lindsay	Stratford	12 to 6

Hunch Bettors Back Collingwood.

It will be seen from the above that Collingwood has been runner-up on two occasions, 1907 and 1908. This will make the third time, but "hunch" players figure out that this is the year they will grab off the bunting.

The locals say that the "hunch" gets nothing, and that those who bet that way generally wind up wrong.

Of course, the Collingwood Sailors are strong on the water, but they do not care for it on their ice.

The smooth, hard stuff is what suits them, and then they are some team.

The local are quite up to snuff this season also, and there should be a merry mixup.

Mallen is playing the game that made the family famous, and if given a chance will show some real fancy stuff in this series.

Bernhardt and Crow Carrothers have played several of the Collingwood team before, and know their games pretty well.

This man Fryer was a shifty chap, and was right at home when the game looked bad.

Commission Cuts Importance of Side-Shows Between Major League Teams.

DRAFT RULES CHANGED

William Dwyer's Application To Be Declared Free Agent Thrown Out.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 1.—Only players and teams contesting in the world's championship series will hereafter be awarded pennants and emblems by the national baseball commission, according to an announcement made by that body late today. Hitherto all series between National and American League teams under the auspices of the commission have been so noticed.

The division of receipts from these bye series is hereafter to be made up on the same basis as the world's series, instead of allowing the interested clubs to divide the money as they may see fit.

Rules Changed.

At the instance of President Murphy, of the Chicago National League Club, a change was also made in the drafting rules by which minor league clubs are given five days in which to accept or reject offers of the return of a drafted player when the player is about to be disposed of to a minor league of the same class.

The application of William Dwyer, a first baseman, to be declared a free agent, because of repeated purchases and releases of his contract between the Chicago American League Club and the Des Moines management, was rejected. Dwyer claimed that he was being "covered up," but the commission held the testimony was against this contention.

[G. N. W. Service.]

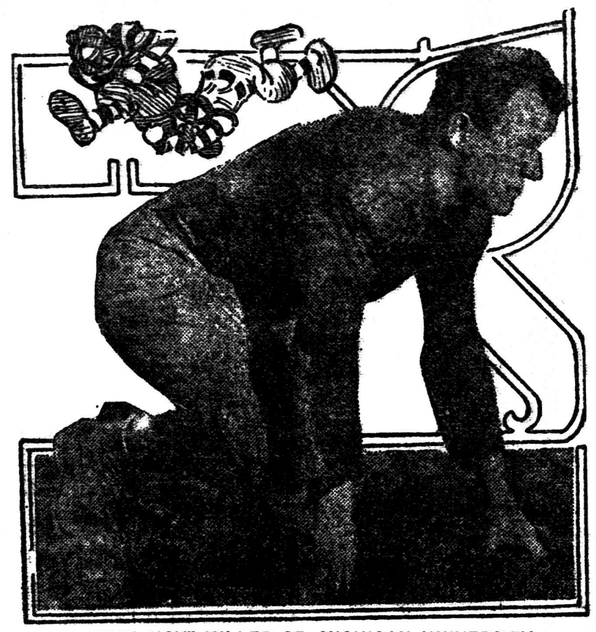

Hamilton, March 2.—The second game in the series of seven to be played between the Buffalo Germans, world's champions, and Hamilton Independents for the basketball championship of the world, went to the Dutchmen last night, when they defeated the local team at the Alexandra Rink before a record-breaking crowd. The locals lost the game in passing and depending on combination work. Their combination could not stand against the German rush. The score was 33 to 20.

MANY CHANGES PROPOSED IN ONTARIO FISH AND GAME LAWS

Farmers of New Districts Should Be Able to Get a Deer for Fresh Meat Out of Season Says W. A. Preston at Meeting of Committee in Hamilton.

Hamilton, March 1.—"I think the farmer in these new districts should be able to shoot a deer in season, so as to have fresh meat," said Mr. W. A. Preston, of Rainy River, in the fish and game committee, which met this morning after a rest of two years.

Hon. Dr. Reaume was elected chairman. The committee at once proceeded to discuss muskrats, and Mr. Hoyle's bill to lengthen the open season. Mr. Aubin said the result of the longer season would be the extermination of the muskrat, and Dr. Anderson supplemented this by saying that muskrats, too young, would be destroyed. The fact that muskrat skins had advanced 300 per cent during the past year or two was brought to the attention of the committee, and the upshot of it all is that muskrats have as great a chance as ever. In other words, the open season remains as before.

Proposed Shorter Seasons.

Hon. Dr. Reaume proposed to shorten the season for grouse, pheasants, prairie fowl, partridges and woodcocks.

The open season lasts three months now. He wanted to shorten it to one month, from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. The committee agreed. Then he proposed that the duck season begin on Sept. 15 instead of Sept. 1, and that the province be divided into two zones, the season to open later in the southern zone.

The committee favored the idea of making the season for hares close Dec. 15, instead of Dec. 31, and for swan and geese to close on April 15, instead of April 30. The committee was also highly favorable to Dr. Reaume's suggestion that the season for quail be the last two weeks of November.

"I've sworn off shooting quail," said Mr. Elber. "They're the best friends the farmer has."

Shooting Quail.

"It's better to shoot a few, so as to scatter them," said Dr. Reaume. "They get into bevies and fight and kill themselves."

The committee favored Dr. Reaume's suggestion that the close season for beaver and otter, which has been in force nine years be continued.

They favored the idea that there be a close season for mink—an advantage hitherto enjoyed by Mr. Mink. Skins of these little animals were becoming valuable, it was pointed out. The suggestion was that the season be from Dec. 1 to May 1.

An important suggestion by Dr. Reaume, and one that provoked much discussion, was that each man be limited to one deer, instead of two. Everybody favored the idea, and Mr. Reed said most of the hunters favored the idea—to keep down the "slaughter" of deer.

Wolves Hard on Deers.

Wolves were harder on the deer than hunters, Mr. W. A. Preston (Rainy River), pointed out. When a crust formed in the spring it left the deer defenceless, and even now the institution of a wolf bounty was being discussed in his county.

Dr. Reaume would prohibit lumber jacks taking guns into camp. A. A. Mehaffy came to their defence, saying that they keep the law as well as anybody. "This would be a hardship on these men," he said.

W. A. Preston said the worst offenders were men in railway construction camps, and Dr. Reaume made a note of this.

The committee favored the prohibition of American trappers, and declared for the necessity for a license for them.

Some automobilists who have tried the introduction of graphite into lubricating oil find that it works satisfactorily. If this is tried the proportions should be a teaspoonful of graphite to a pint of oil. Those who have tried it say that it builds up irregularities on bearings and wearing surfaces of pistons, rings and cylinders, resulting in better cylinder lubrication.

Gives Clearness to Skin

FEEDS AND PURIFIES BLOOD AND THEREBY KEEPS YOU IN GOOD HEALTH.

Most women and some men try to remove yellowishness of skin, blotches, dark lines under the eyes by cosmetiques. Such means are as useless as disappointing. When the skin lacks clearness, particularly when the body is emaciated, it is simply the stain upon the skin of impurities in the bowels that are carried about by the blood. Sluggish activity is certainly the cause of bad complexion even if regularity should be pretty fair.

Better than any cosmetique, because they remove the cause of skin discoloration, Dr. Hamilton's Pills insure inward cleansing and activity. In addition to their laxative action they are a true tonic to all the eliminating organs, liver, kidneys, bowels and glands. Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the causes of all blood troubles that manifest themselves outwardly, and they fortify and strengthen the organs and thereby prevent a return of diseased conditions."

One box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills proves their merit, even one dose shows how different they are from other pills. 25 cents per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

PRESTON AND BARRIE PLAYED MIDNIGHT TIE

The Teams Will Have to Go at It Again to Decide Who Meets Kingston in the Finals—Lights Went Out at Twelve o'Clock After Half Hour's Extra Play, Score Being 2 All.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 2.—Preston and Barrie played an extra half-hour here last night in an effort to break the tie in the Junior O. H. A. series, and were compelled to finish at midnight, when the lights went out, the score standing 2 all.

The work of the defense of both teams was splendid, and this, together with the very heavy ice, kept the tally down. Each seven had 15 goals when the game commenced, and a second attempt to break the tie will be made here Friday night. The winners will meet the Kingston Frontenacs in the finals.

The first game of the championship series was scheduled to be played Thursday evening, and the final on Monday, but these dates will have to be rearranged.

The half-time score stood 1 to 1.

The teams:

Barrie—Brown, goal; Horsfield, point; Rowe, cover; Horsfield, rover; Meeking, centre; Longman, right; Foyston, left.

Preston—Short, goal; Bowman, point; Hahn, cover; Walker, rover; Beith, centre; Sherer, right; Sullivan, left.

Referee—Hern, of Stratford.

JIM JEFFRIES, WOODMAN, LOOKS GOOD TO ARMSTRONG

Champion Is as Healthy and Strong as a Bear and, According to Trainers, Better Than He Ever Was Before—Plays Baseball Too.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 2.—Big black Bob Armstrong, accompanied by Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, visited Jim Jeffries in his woodyard today. Jim laid down his axe and greeted with a grin the giant negro, who, together with Jim Corbett, Frank Gotch and other celebrities, will train him for his coming fight with Jack Johnson. It was arranged that Armstrong should work with Jeffries in the mornings, starting in next Monday.

Jeffries pressed his visitors into service for a fast half-hour's work with ball and bat. After the game Jeffries made a playful leap for Armstrong, holding the 230-pound tar baby as he would a boy.

"Do you think I'm good enough for another fight?" Jeff asked.

Armstrong grunted under the rough treatment. "You look stronger and better than ever to me," said Bob. "I've trained with you for three of your big fights, and you never started out better than you look now." Tomorrow Jeff will go for a short hunting trip.

OAKLEY OF MADISON, WIS., TAKES LEAD IN A.B.C. SINGLES WITH 642

Displaces Otto Wahl, of Cleveland, Whose Score Is 636.

DETROIT MEN ON TOP IN DOUBLES

Mowat and Johnson Roll 1,160—Colonials Five Men Team First With 2,803.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Detroit, March 2.—There is a new leader in the singles event in the A. B. C. tournament. Otto Wahl, of Cleveland, was displaced by George Oakey, of Madison, Wis., yesterday afternoon. Oakey hit the pins for a total of 642, which gives him a load of six pins on his nearest competitor, Wahl. The rolling all during the morning and afternoon sessions showed that the men are getting into their stride now, and new records are looked for at any time.

Fred McClay, of Huntington, W. Va., rolled into fourth place in the singles, with "Count" Henry Tamagni, of Detroit, in fifth position.

Mouat and Emory Johnson, of Detroit, retain their lead in the doubles, with Sherrer and Huster, of Erie, Pa., close up with 1,145. Maeder and Ebner are lodged in third position. Schwoegler brothers, last year's champions in this event, are tenth, with 1,078, nearly 250 pins less than they scored last year at Pittsburg.

Rolls High Single Score.

Wirthlin, bowling in the doubles with Young, both of Cincinnati, had the highest single score of the day, when he hit for 275 in his third game. But his other efforts brought poor results in comparison, and the team missed a good chance to go into the lead. They finished in fifth place.

John G. Floss, of Buffalo, yesterday by mail, made formal application to Secretary Abe L. Langtry, of the A. B. C., for the 1911 tournament. The Buffalo company which will handle the affair, if it gets it, has backing for $15,000, with the use of the armory granted them by the city. The Buffalo delegation will establish headquarters in this city shortly.

Tardiness Is Costly.

F. Hoover, of Huntington, W. V., was the first to forfeit at the meeting. He arrived late for the 5 o'clock singles, and was refused permission to take his turn on the alleys.

The Pittsburgers are having a hot little battle among themselves to see who shall succeed Adam Hahn, the Smoky City's first vice-president, who will retire this year. Andy Yockum, B. N. Phillippi and George Dimmling are the three candidates whose chances look best.

L. Weimer, of Dayton, O., is out for second vice-president, and has been promised considerable support. Charles Nichols, familiarly known as "Kid," an old-time ball player, is the present incumbent. One of two men, C. A. Turner or A. L. Drake, both of St. Louis, must retire from the executive board this year. The men will have to decide between themselves who it shall be. Emil Schmitt, who quits the executive board, is likely to be succeeded by A. L. Daher.

Following were the scores of the Winnipeg visitors:

Saratogas—First game, 883; second, 784; third, 891. Total, 2,558.

Venice—First game, 894; second, 851; third, 892. Total, 2,637.

HUGHIE JENNINGS PUTS TIGER SQUAD TO WORK

Has Boys on Lot Three Hours After Arrival in San Antonio—Given a Reception.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

San Antonio, Texas, March 1.—Acting on his well-known theory that it is just as well to start in right off the reel, get stiff and sore and get over with it, Manager Jennings lost no time in going to work today. Just three hours after the players unloaded from the train they were in uniform and had gone to work as earnestly as if it was the second week of training instead of the first day. As a result it is a pretty tired bunch tonight, with a consequent early to bed stunt.

The team got a royal reception when it arrived, and was escorted to its hotel in autos, with a brass band in front. There was cheering all along the route and a speech of welcome by the mayor at the hotel.

ONTARIO PRO. HOCKEY LEAGUE DOWN AND OUT

Riot at Brantford Monday Put Crimp in Organization—Games Canceled.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Brantford, March 2.—The Ontario Pro. League has closed for the season. The riots here Monday night put a big crimp in the league, and word was received from Waterloo yesterday stating that there is no ice to continue the season. The players of the local team were all released, and have left for home.

THE GALT END OF IT.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Galt, March 2.—From present appearances the Ontario Pro. League has seen its last season, in fact, its last game, for the three remaining matches on the card have been cancelled. The trouble at Brantford put the teams in bad. Brantford has refused to play in Berlin tonight, and Waterloo has declined to come here. The locals will endeavor to get a series with Berlin.

How many parts of your car are fitted with small grease cups? And how many times do you have to fill and screw down each cup to make sure that enough of the lubricant has been placed where it will do the most good, when you give the car its annual "packing"? Some more and some less, naturally. If you are bothered by "dinky" cups that hold anywhere from a full to 'steenth of a proper charge for the parts they are supposed to supply, why not have a threaded tip made for the snout of your grease gun. All cups on the car will be of uniform size, and with such an attachment for the gun you can unscrew the grease cup bodily, screw in the nozzle tip and "fill 'er up" in next to no time, after which fill each cup and do not forget to replace it.

Follow this advice.

Quaker Oats is the best of all foods; it is also the cheapest. When such men as Prof. Fisher of Yale University and Sir James Crichton Browne, LL.D.-F.R.S. of London spend the best parts of their lives in studying the great question of the nourishing and strengthening qualities of different foods, it is certain that their advice is absolutely safe to follow.

Professor Fisher found in his experiments for testing the strength and endurance of athletes that the meat eaters were exhausted long before the men who were fed on such food as Quaker Oats. The powers of endurance of the non-meat eaters were about eight times those of the meat eaters.

Sir James Crichton Browne says—eat more oatmeal, eat plenty of it and eat it frequently. 59

The block engine construction, the casting of the four cylinders in one piece, has been adopted by every foreign maker who has brought out a newly designed car in the last two years, and the same applies to the long stroke engine. With the adoption of the block engine there is a well-defined tendency to simplify the engine by reducing the amount of piping, wiring and other outside appurtenances.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

CHINA NEEDS MISSIONARIES

Dr. Retta Kilborn's Interesting Address on Work in the Orient.

MEDICAL WORK ADVANCE

Love in Action Appeals to the Celestials—Educational Work Is Also Progressing.

There was a very good attendance of the delegates and their friends at the open session of the London district convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, that was held in the First Methodist Church last evening. Dr. Retta Kilborn was the speaker of the evening, and she laid strong emphasis on the crying need of China for more missionaries. "China may be a menace to the whole world," she said, "if with their rapid acquirement of western ways and western advantages she is not also brought under the sway of the teachings of Christ."

A Wonderful Country.

Dr. Kilborn in introducing her remarks, spoke of the wonderful climatic conditions of China, and of its consequent productiveness. She also laid strong emphasis on its teeming population, which according to the latest statistics for China, Tibet and Manchuria, gave a total population of 433,000,000 people. The province of Sz Chuen, which had been given to the Canadian Methodist Church exclusively, in itself had a population larger than that of Canada. The work of the Woman's Missionary Society in that province was the first work done directly for the women by the women. Dr. Kilborn went on to speak of the crying need for skilled medical workers. "You have no idea," she said, "of the sufferings endured by the women of China. They have no doctors worthy of the name, and in this branch of work it is easier than in any other way to bring them to a knowledge of the love of God, for they see in this work love in action, and it is a thing that they can easily understand."

Medical Work.

The speaker went on to tell of the advances made in the medical work, so that now the accommodation in the hospital was altogether insufficient, and a larger building is being asked for, the present building to go to the ever-increasing need of the orphanage.

The speaker then went on to tell something of the educational work being done among the orphan girls, a work that had been started by Miss Jennie Ford, and that was now being carried on in her name, as a tribute to the self-sacrificing work of one who had been called by death before she could see the result of her labors. This work had been a great influence for good, as 50 per cent of the girls who had left the school had left as Christians, some to teach in other schools, some to be married and spread the influence of Christianity in that way.

In closing her remarks, Dr. Kilborn made a strong plea for the prayers of the members of the home auxiliaries for the evangelization of China.

The District Organizer.

During the evening Mrs. Rae, the district organizer, gave the report of that department. It showed an increase in membership of 100. In the London district there are at present 26 auxiliaries, with a total membership of 1,200.

At the close of the meeting, Rev. Mr. Whiting, who presided, presented a very hearty vote of thanks to the choir who had assisted in the meeting, and to the ladies of the church for their kindness and hospitality.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was largely one of routine business. The session was opened by Mr. Tennant, who gave a scripture reading on the subject of "Systematic Giving." Mrs. Barnard spoke on "The Benefiets To Be Derived from the Study Class." She pointed out that study of the subject was absolutely essential if we would arouse an interest, as well as an understanding in the foreign missionary work. It not only aided in increasing the givings, but also tended to arouse the sympathy of people as a whole in the work of the society. Mrs. Harrison spoke on the subject, "An Hour With Our Young People," in which she was assisted by a number of young ladies. Mrs. Gordon Wright conducted a drill on the annual report, the discussion on the subject being led by Mesdames Fowler and McMechan.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session the delegates were invited to a very delightful supper, given by the auxiliary of the First Methodist Church in the dining-room of the church.

PREMIER ASQUITH WINS THE TWO BY-ELECTIONS

The New Ministers Elected in London and in Yorkshire.

London, March 1.—The first by-election since the general election in January was held in the St. George's division of Tower Hamlets today. It resulted in the return by a majority of 507 of Mr. W. Wedgewood Benn, Liberal. Mr. Benn secured 1,597 votes, and his opponent, Mr. P. C. Simmons, 1,090. In the general election the vote stood: Benn, 1,568; Simmons, 1,134. Mr. Benn's re-election was necessitated by his appointment to the position of junior lord of the treasury.

Mr. Joseph Pease, Liberal, was elected in the Rotherdam division of Yorkshire unopposed.

Mr. Pease, who was chief Liberal whip, was defeated in January in the Saffron-Walden division of Essex. A few weeks ago he was made a member of the cabinet as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and secured a seat in Yorkshire.

The Crisis Postponed.

The political crisis for the time being has ended, and the proceedings in the Commons till Easter are likely to be of a humdrum nature.

Speculation as to what may happen after Easter is premature, but it is pointed out with reference to the date of a general election that the House of Lords might hold up the Government resolutions until it has before it the Government's bill founded thereon, so that by adopting this procedure, it by no means follows that the Government will have brought matters to an immediate issue. The Government, however, will probably have the advantage of seeing the Opposition's proposals for the reform of the Lords before producing its own.

The question of what becomes of the budget is now ogitating political and financial circles, as the financial year ends on March 31.

LIEUT.-COL. MEWBURN COMMANDS 13TH REGT.

Officer Well Known in London Is Gazetted—Promotion for Major Ross.

The Hamilton Spectator says: The appointment of Lieut.-Col. Mewburn to the command of the Royal Thirteenth Infantry Regiment, has just been gazetted, although the new commanding officer took over the stores of the regiment on Jan. 6, and has been practically in command since that time. He succeeded Lieut.-Col. E. E. W. Moore, who has been retired to the reserve of officers.

In Lieut.-Col. Mewburn the Royal Regiment has a commander to be proud of. He has almost completed thirty years of service, and his services are always in demand when staff officers are required for any of the big Ontario military manoeuvres. He takes a very great interest in the regiment. He joined the Thirteenth in 1881, and took his place as a private in old No. 6 Company, now F Company. Since then two other companies have been added to the command. The new C. O. has been through all of the various ranks, from private up to his present enviable position as commander of the crack regiment of this part of the country. He has been brigade-major on several occasions at the fall manoeuvres in Toronto, under Col. Mason, Col. Macdonald and Sir Henry Pellatt. He has also been chief of staff at some of the big military spectacles. He was brigade-major at the Brantford camp in 1902, and brigade-major of the Fifth Infantry Brigade for six years at Niagara. He has all the necessary certificates from the Royal School of Infantry and from the Cavalry School also, and from his training during his twenty-nine years of service his military education can be classed as almost perfect.

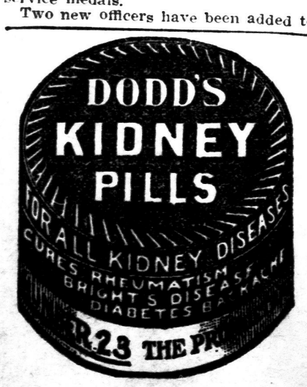

Served With Seventh Regiment.

Lieut.-Col. Mewburn wears the long-service medal and the officers' decoration.

Major F. B. Ross, who has had command of the left battalion for many years, will be promoted automatically to the command of the right half battalion, and to take his place Brevet-Major Labatt has been promoted to the rank of junior major of the regiment. He will command the left half. Major Labatt has an enviable record as a soldier, and is an officer with the interest of his regiment at heart. He is adapted by years of military training for his new post. Major Labatt was a member for some years of the Queen's Own Rifles and served through the last Northwest rebellion with the Seventh Fusiliers of London. Since coming to this city and joining the Royal Thirteenth he has taken an active interest in the regiment and well deserves the promotion. He wears the Northwest rebellion and long-service medals.

Two new officers have been added to the regiment, Dr. Thomas Morrison and D. K. Baldwin, as lieutenants, and the addition of their names to the roll completes the establishment of the officers.

Owing to the resignation of Captains Marshall and Mason, Lieut. Sey has been appointed a captain and will command B Company; Lieut. Laidlaw, appointed captain commanding C Company, and Lieut. Black, captain commanding G Company.

WALTER PAYNE IS BEING SOUGHT

Goderich Lady Would Like Information of Him.

The police have received a letter from a Miss Payne, of Goderich, asking them to try and locate her brother, Walter Payne, who was last heard of in this city.

The police believe that Payne resides on York street, near the corner of Colborne street, and will communicate with him.

Mis Payne states that a sister, Miss Margaret Payne, is expected to die at any moment, and she wishes to see her brother.

BREAKWATER INSPECTED

that there was no reason to fear anything from that quarter.

The worst spot in the breakwater is at Argyle street, and it does not look any too strong.

At this point there is a plank breakwater, with a clay embankment behind it. The timbers are in bad shape here. They are warped and broken in several places, and from appearances would be readily smashed by an ice jam.

Withstand a Flood.

The clay embankment at the rear is well protected, and would withstand a heavy flood. Mr. Graydon will put some men at work to fix the timbers, as they do not look strong enough to protect the embankment at the rear.

In all other places the breakwater looks strong, and with the water going away as it is at the present no fear is expressed.

"There are about three feet of water going over the dam," said Engineer Simmie at the pumphouse. "It is going away fine, and in a short time we should be over the worst. Of course there is plenty of material in the country for a big flood yet, but if the ice and snow melt as slowly and as steadily as they have up to the present we will not have much trouble."

It All Depends.

"If the ice goes out before the swamps break up we will be in no danger of a flood," said City Engineer Graydon. "The breaking up of the river is not so dangerous in itself, but when the water comes down from the swamps and low-lying lands there is always danger.. However, we never had the spring break up so satisfactorily as this year. We had more trouble last year with half the snow. We have not had one complaint about water backing into cellars. I am now convinced that the worst is over. There is plenty of snow in the country yet, but it will go off gradually, and will cause us no uneasiness."

A large gang of men are busily engaged in opening up ditches and watercourses today, and the water all over the city is going away very rapidly.

MONTREAL COLLECTIONS.

Montreal, March 1.—The port of Montreal customs collections last month were the largest on record for February, being $1,397,947, as against $1,359,215 for the same month a year ago, an increase of $38,731. The daily average was $58,247.

QUEBEC OPPOSITION

at the next general election, there must be more consideration shown for the views and racial predelictions of French-Canadians.

Case of Edwards.

Mr. Borden, it is stated, was asked to hold a tighter rein over some of his followers, and prevent a recurrence of the outbreaks against the French-Canadians, such as were made last week by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac. It is further declared that the political inexpediency of advocating as the party's general policy a direct contribution of Dreadnoughts was strongly urged by representatives of the Conservatives in Quebec.

Divided Ranks.

Although in the Opposition ranks there is a natural tendency to minimize the lack of harmony within the party on the naval question, it is an open secret that during the past two weeks there has been a general expression of dissatisfaction over the present situation in which the party finds itself. Divided ranks, discordant views publicly expressed, and an unedifying display of lack of party discipline, or of any consistent and united action have caused mutual recriminations in the Opposition camp, and it is probable that the next party caucus will be far from a love-feast.

Meanwhile it is an open secret that Mr. Borden, whose original stand for concurrence in the general principles of the Government's naval policy was overridden by other self-constituted strategists within the party, is not indisposed to treat the whole situation as reading a moral to those of his followers who refuse to follow his gentle leadership.

BITTEN BY A DOG AT PLAY BOY DIES OF THE RABIES

A Fourteen-Year-Old Lad of Dundas, Ontario, Died Last Night in a Hamilton Hospital After Great Suffering—Was Bitten Two Weeks Ago.

Hamilton, March 1.—A real case of rabies was brought to the city hospital here from Dundas shortly after noon today.

The victim is a 14-year-old boy named Taylor, who was bitten on the lip by a dog over five weeks ago. He died late tonight, after suffering agonies.

Dr. Bertram, medical health officer of Dundas, brought the boy here, and over a score of physicians worked over him, but without avail.

The victim was raving mad, frothing at the mouth.

The Victim Interviewed.

Doctors say this is the first real case of rabies that has developed in Ontario since the mad dog scare. A correspondent interviewed the little victim, John Taylor, at the city hospital, this afternoon. Frothing at the mouth, gasping and suffering terribly from convulsions, which seized him every now and again, the boy tossed in agony on his cot for several minutes. Through it all he was conscious. Then came a period of calmness and relief.

"I was playing with my little sister near my father's house about five weeks ago," he said, "when our dog jumped up to catch an air gun I was loading. It missed the gun and sank its teeth in my lip. I thought nothing of it at the time, although I was taken to a doctor."

While a score of physicians worked over the boy, the distracted father paced up and down outside. He had just been told that the boy was suffering from acute rabies, and could not live.

The dog was a white bull, and had never showed signs of going mad. Mr. Taylor was so angry at it biting the boy that he kicked it unmercifully. Two days later it died.

The authorities fear that it bit a number of other animals. A colt owned by Mr. Taylor went mad this afternoon.

The Dundas authorities will immediately issue an order to have all dogs locked up.

Take Off the Fat Where It Shows

Most woman suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so located that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat woman pass them on the street make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. The hot weather dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her ugliness as well. Exercise and diet will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless, and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal away from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if your prefer you may write the Marmola Company, 1191 Farmer building, Detroit, Mich.

OATS SHOW ADVANCE ON LOCAL MARKET

Butter and Eggs Did Not Make Their Appearance This Morning.

There was another very small market this morning, very few farmers apparently daring to venture out on the roads, which are reported to be in a very bad condition.

No small stuff was offered on this morning's market at all, hay and oats being the only commodities presented for sale, and even these were by no means plentiful.

There were only a little over a half-dozen loads of hay, but these touched a high figure, one man getting $17, while the others sold in the neighborhood of $16 25 to $16 50.

Oats showed quite a pronounced advance, although the quantity offered was not very large. The highest figure offered was $1 32, which was paid for one small lot, and the prices varied from this to $1 25 for poor stuff.

Butter and eggs were not offered at all, despite the fact that the demand for them remains uniformly strong, but it is expected that by Saturday the roads may be in a condition to warrant a large market, in which event there will likely be a more than usually large supply of these commodities.

Other prices remain as follows:

Grain.

Wheat, per bu	$1 08	to	$1 10
Oats, per bu	1 25	to	1 32
Corn, per cwt	1 23	to	1 40
Buckwheat, per cwt	1 25	to	1 30
Barley, per cwt	1 10	to	1 15
Peas, per cwt	1 15	to	1 15
Beans, per bu	1 65	to	2 00
Rye, per cwt	1 05	to	1 10

Hay and Straw.

Hay, per ton	15 00	to	17 00

LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, March 1.—The total receipts for today's markets were 72 loads, with 1207 head of cattle, 154 sheep and lambs, 400 hogs and 137 calves. Business was slow, but prices firm. The drovers are undoubtedly paying high prices in the country, and therefore are holding out for high prices here. The local butcher buyers, probably noting the change to very mild weather the past couple of days, are not disposed to load up with too much stock on hand, and hence the slower trade. With the comparatively light run, the drovers in many cases decided to hold their cattle over for the week-end markets, rather than make any concessions in their prices. The market, therefore, closed firm, though there were quite a few loads left over unsold. Prevailing prices today were: Good exporters, $6 to $6 25; choice picked butchers, $5 60 to $5 75; average medium to good butchers were firm at $5 to $5 50; common mixed butchers steady at $3 75 to $4 40; good butcher cows firm at $4 60 to $4 90; medium cows, $4 to $4 50; bulls firm at $4 25 to $5; commonest mixed cattle and canners all the way from $3 50 down to $1 50 and $2. NEW YORK, March 2—Wall street, 10 a.m.—Americans in London are firm, ¼ to ¾ up. J. R. Rockefeller retires from United States Steel board, and his family no longer hold enough stock to need representation. Serious floods continue in Mohawk Valley and points up-state. The Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company refuses to make terms with the strikers. Washington reports that the president and leaders of Congress have arranged for projected postal savings bank. The steel market shows strength, with larger orders pending. The coal trade report is still unfavorable, with no indication of early improvement.

New York, March 2—Wall street, noon.—United States Steel encountered enormous orders at 84 in the course of its rise. Its aggressive advance through that figure to 84⅝ was influential in raising prices throughout. Conspicuous gains were Reading and Erie, second preferred, 2; St. Joseph and Grand Island, first preferred, and Air Brake, 5¾; Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper, 1⅝; Rock Island, preferred and Northern Pacific, 1½; National Lead, 1½, and numerous others a point or more. United States Express declined 4. The demand had quieted down at noon. Bonds were irregular.

By private wire to H. C. Becher, London, from Harris, Winthrop & Co.

New York, March 2.—Wall street, noon. —The market has acted well all morning. There was a good deal of volume buying from the commission houses, and the leading stocks advanced easily on small purchases. The resignation of John D. Rockefeller, jr., from the board of the U. S. Steel Corporation had no effect, and the shares look strong. We think the trend is upward. Sales to noon 450,000.

DOG-CATCHER SUSPENDED

Hamilton Official Too Arrogant in the Performance of His Duty.

Hamilton, March 2.—Jimmy Lindsay, the official dog catcher, was this morning suspended for two days by the medical health officer, who claims his actions were unbecoming to an employee of the board of health.

Lindsay was yesterday bitten by a dog, and he had the dog's head in the city hall this morning, asking that it be sent to Toronto for analysis. His request was refused, and he says he will appeal to the aldermen.

The medical health officer says that Lindsay has been acting too arrogantly in the performance of his duties.

PATTEN HAS $12,000,000 WILL QUIT MARKET

Says He Has Enough and No Use Piling Up Any More.

Chicago, March 2.—James A. Patten, grain king, will retire from "the pit" and from all lines of commercial activity July 1. Mr. Patten himself is authority for this statement. He says, "I have enough: what's the use of piling up more?" His only plan for the future is to enjoy the great fortune he won in a spectacular career on the board of trade—a career that will be historic. He is believed to be worth $12,000,000.

With this giant of the grain pit there will go into retirement two other men of mighty prowess in the market—William H. Bartlett and George W. Patten. They are his partners in the house of Bartlett, Patten & Co.

James A. Patten already is seeking a foretaste of his long vacation. He left today for New York and he will said Wednesday for Liverpool, to remain abroad until he just has time enough to reach Chicago by April 1. He will take charge of a May wheat deal his firm has on and that probably will be his last big transaction on the board of trade.

It was reported on the board of trade that the aggregate fortunes of the three big brokers is in the neighborhood of $25,000,000 or $30,000,000.

James A. Patten has been the chief figure of the world's grain markets for several years. He and his brothers came to Chicago from Sandwich, Ill. A portion of their boyhood was spent on a farm and they learned to know grain by cultivating it out in the fields.

"I think that has been the secret of Jim Patten's success," said a board of trade veteran today, "that and his bulldog tenacity. He studied conditions, he prepared for emergencies, and he hung on always."

EAST LONDON

DEATH OF ST. DAVID

Special Services Held in St. David's Anglican Church.

Special services were held last evening in St. David's Anglican Church, Hamilton road and Hyla avenue, to commemorate the death of St. David, the patron saint of Wales, who died in 601.

Rev. T. B. Clarke told the story of the life of the saint, whose body lies in St. David's Cathedral, in South Wales.

He was educated at the school of Pawl Hen, and in early life went on a missionary tour, later returning to Wales. When he returned from his second tour he established 53 churches and 12 monasteries, the latter being conspicuous for the severity of the discipline.

He visited Jerusalem, where he was made bishop, and later lived at his monastery in Glyrosyn. St. David afterward went to Ireland, where he revived the work of St. Patrick.

His shrine in Wales is famous throughout the kingdom, and has been visited by such celebrities as William the Conqueror, Henry II. and Edward I.

LATE MRS. PHILLIPS

Funeral Was Held This Afternoon to Woodland.

The funeral of Mrs. Lily May Phillips was held this afternoon from the family residence, 863 Lorne avenue, to Woodland Cemetery, and was very largely attended. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Alvin Ball, Ald. Henderson, Wm. Stallard, Arthur Cooke, Bruce Smith and Gordon Reid. Among the beautiful floral offerings were a pillow from "Mother's Babies," wreaths from the Astoria Shoe Company, H. A. Sabine, the Fleur-de-Lys Club, Helena Costume Company, Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, sprays from Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. F. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. C. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. G. Faulkner; Mr. and Mrs. Raper, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Murch, Parkhill; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hennessy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. R. Perkins, Walter Lee, Misses Paxman and McBride; anchor from Mr. and Mrs. G. Hexter; a cross from Mr. and Mrs. Upshall, Mr. and Mrs. F. Evans, Mr. R. T. Landon; sheaf, Mr. Ball and family, and a harp from brothers and sisters.

"SUMMER" HOLIDAYS.

The "summer" holidays of the firemen have commenced.

Yesterday Fireman William Gilfoil, of No. 2 station, started his ten days, and the other men will follow at intervals during the summer.

A FALLING OFF.

There was a slight falling off in the number of freight cars handled on the Grand Trunk through London during the month just closed as compared with February, 1909.

A year ago 19,465 cars were put through during the 28 days, while 19,182 were handled this year. The decrease averages about ten cars a day.

LATE MISS TURNER.

The funeral of Miss May Turner, who died yesterday morning at her mother's residence, 653 Marshall street, will be held tomorrow afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The services will be conducted at her home at 2:30 by Elder Fligg, of the Latter Day Saints' Church.

AN EGG RECORD.

Mr. F. V. Langford, of 520 Ontario street, has inaugurated a record for eggs. Fifteen hens, thirteen of them hatched during last May and June, during the months of January and February of this year laid 150 eggs, one of the eggs being 6½ inches in diameter. There is certainly no race suicide among these hens. Mr. Langford is a staunch believer that the White Wyandotte has everything else beaten for producing results, and the above certainly lends some reason to his belief.

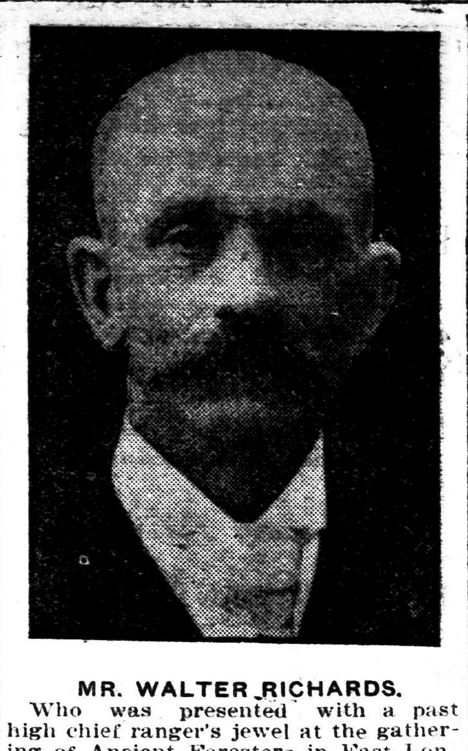

ADELAIDE STREET PARTY.

About 30 young people arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alterman last evening, and spent a pleasant time. Games and music made up the fun, and refreshments were served at the close.

HENERY—TAIT.

The home of Mrs. Margaret Pugh, of 35 Pegler street, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at 11 o'clock this morning, when Mrs. Mary Tait, of Pegler street, was married to Mr. William Henery, a farmer of Adelaide Township.

Rev. A. J. Bowen, of Egerton Street Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Henery will reside in Adelaide.

MR. WALTER RICHARDS.

Who was presented with a past high chief ranger's jewel at the gathering of Ancient Foresters in East London last night.

RUSHMER—MATTHEW.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the manse of the King Street Presbyterian Church, 718 Queen's avenue, last evening, when Miss Jessie Matthew, of this city, was married to Mr. William Henry Rushmer, the ceremony being performed by Rev. James Rollins.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Utting.

Mr. and Mrs. Rushmer will reside at 463 English street.

A WRONG TIP.

Some person with a sense of humor is said to have "put one over" on Ben Blackstock, dog-catcher-in-chief and Assistant "Skin" Weaver, on Grey street east Tuesday afternoon.

A gentleman who owns a couple of dogs and who has a reputation of being able to look after both them and himself in any manner required, was called on by the pair, a neighbor having directed them to call and get the dogs "at the request of the owner."

The party found that it was a rather strenuous pursuit, in that they were requested to "start something" as soon as possible. General Blackstock, after giving the matter due consideration, came to the conclusion that he would yield a point, and allow the man to keep his pets.

EAST END NOTES.

A very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barrows, 343 Hamilton road, last evening, when about 40 of their friends and old schoolmates surprised them by driving in from the country in two large sleighloads. Mr. Topham, with his violin, assisted by his two daughters on the piano and flute, greatly pleased. Readings were given by Miss Piper and Mrs. Barrows. The rest of the evening was spent very pleasantly. All partook of a dainty lunch, and expressed their gratitude to their host and hostess for their most enjoyable evening. They left in the early hours of the morning, singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

REV. MR. MADDEN DIED LAST NIGHT

Well-Known Former Londoner Prssed Away at Pen River, Near Kincardine.

WELL-KNOWN CLERGYMAN

President Birks, of London Conference, Speaks in Highest Terms of the Deceased—Leaves Wife and Child.

Word was received in the city this morning of the death of Rev. Morley D. Madden, at Pine River, near Kincardine, at 6 o'clock last night. The Rev. Mr. Madden was a son of Mr. John F. Madden, of 422 St. James street, and until his ordination in 1907 was a resident of this city.

Mr. Madden graduated from Victoria University, Toronto, in the department of philosophy in 1907, and was ordained into the ministry of the Methodist Church in the conference held in Exeter in the same year. He was stationed at Pine River, and had just about completed the second year of a very successful ministry at that place when he was called by death.

Mr. Birks' Tribute.

In speaking of Mr. Madden's record, Rev. A. K. Birks, the president of the conference, spoke in glowing terms of the work that Mr. Madden had done since his entry into the ministry. He was a good preacher, a diligent worker, and a very able student, and by his systematic work had built up the work at Pine River into a very flourishing condition, and had won the affection and esteem of his people, and everything pointed to a very successful and useful career.

Mr. Madden's death came as a great surprise. He was in this city and in Toronto only a week ago, and though not in the best of health at that time, was not apparently in a critical condition, and it is believed that his death came as the result of a sudden collapse.

Leaves Wife and Child.

He was married about a year and a half ago, and is survived by his wife and a child, his mother and father residing in this city, and a brother, Percy F. Madden, who is at present in the west.

Before being ordained to the ministry, Mr. Madden was stationed for some time at Thorndale.

The arrangements for the funeral are not yet complete, but the remains will be brought to the city tomorrow on the afternoon train from Wingham. It is expected that there will be a public funeral on Friday from the Colborne Street Methodist Church, where Mr. Madden's father is a prominent member.

COBALT STOCK.

Special to The Advertiser from Edward Cronyn & Co., Toronto.

TORONTO, March 2.—Noon quotations on the Standard Mining Exchange were: Beaver, 32½; Chambers-Ferland, 37; Crown Reserve, 3.70; Cobalt Lake, 18; Coniagas, 5.80; Foster, 21½; Green-Meehan, 8; Kerr Lake, 9.20; La Rose, 4.50; Little Nipissing, 28½; Nipissing, 10¼; Otisse, 63¼; Rochester, 17¼; Nova Scotia, 36; Silver Leaf, 87⅛; Temiskaming, 56½; Trethewey, 1.41.

LATEST DOG STORY A MYTH WERE LIBERATED ALL RIGHT

It Is Stated Today That the Canines Had Been Killed by the City But This Is Strenuously Denied by Bryce McLeod, the Caretaker of Queen's Park.

There was a story in circulation today that the dogs impounded did not escape from the pound on Monday night, but were placed in the lethal chamber and killed quietly, in order to prevent any disturbance, or collect a crowd of curious folks.

Mr. Bryce McLeod, who is in charge of the pound, is emphatic in his statement that the dogs did escape.

"There is no truth in the story that the dogs were killed," said Mr. McLeod. "The doors were broken off, and the dogs were all away with the exception of two. These remained."

Fifteen in Pound.

There are now fifteen dogs in the pound. Yesterday, G. Benjamin Blackstock and Skin Weaver rounded up thirteen, which with the two already there made fifteen.

They have not reported today as yet, although they have some dogs in the wagon.

It is reported that the pups are becoming more wary. This morning a muzzleless dog was going north on Richmond street. As he looked about the Carling street corner, he saw the dog catchers' outfit, and immediately raced up the road at a rapid pace. Mr. Weaver whistled and called for the dog, but he was on business bent, and would not tarry. It is quite probable that he had a previous experience with them and did not care to repeat it.

655 Tags Issued.

Inspector McCallum has issued 655 tags up to date. This is not nearly half the number issued last year, but it is expected that a large increase of business will be recorded shortly.

The death occurred in Toronto on Tuesday, at her home, 66 Sussex avenue, of Mrs. Susannah McCormick, relict of Charles McCormick. Mrs. McCormick died suddenly. The funeral will be held here on Wednesday.

A Small Blaze.

The fire department had a run to the New Williams' Piano Company's warehouse on Dundas street last night about 9:30, some excelsior packing having dropped down the fire fire grate into the cellar. The department put the blaze out with little damage.

A Talent Tea.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church will hold a talent tea on Friday of this week in the schoolroom from 3 to 6 p.m., when a sale of work will be held. The ladies have purchased a vacuum cleaner for church purposes, and the funds from the talent tea will go towards paying for it. Everybody is invited, and there will be no admission fee charged.

Hose Tenders Again.

At the meeting of No. 3 committee to be held tonight, new hose tenders will be opened. The petition for a new fire engine for the East End will be taken up, but will likely be laid over, awaiting the result of the conference between the underwriters and the water commissioners. The matter of raising the rents for the butcher stalls in the Market House will also be taken up.

Sleighing—But!

Today is the 80th day of sleighing since the winter began, which sets a new record for Our Lady of the Snows, as heretofore 78 days has been the record length. It must be admitted, however, that while there is plenty of sleighing left, it is certainly not of the best. Drivers from the country state that the roads are almost impassable, the horses sinking to their knees. One traveller reports sinking so deep that the points of the shafts cut into the snow. Reports from all over the country show the same conditions, and there is very little travel on the country roads, as the travelling is very hard on the horses.

Good Templar Concert.

An excellent entertainment was rendered last evening at the Horton Street Congregational Church, by the members and friends of Hope of the West Lodge, I. O. G. T. The chair was taken by Bro. George Noble, chief templar, and a first-class programme rendered, including readings by Mrs. Holman and Miss Sanborn; solos, Miss Graham, Mrs. H. B. A. Swindall, Messrs. A. Anundson, Webb, A. Noble; instrumental duet, Messrs. Holman and Dixon, Mrs. Anundson and Miss Stannard acting as accompanists. A short, stirring address was given by Rev. W. H. A. Claris, commending the work of the society, and urging increased effort in the training of the young people, especially in the principles of abstinence from intoxicating liquors.

NORTH BRANCH ICE GOES DOWN RIVER

Broke Up This Afternoon at 2:30 —Danger of a Jam Diminishes.

The ice in the north branch of the river broke up at 2:30 this afternoon, and came down the Thames with a terrific rush.

It is getting away very fast, and as a clear course is open to it, there is no danger from a flood or jam.

The south branch ice is not coming down at all, so that removes another element of danger as that obviates all possibility of a jam.

West Londoners were well pleased when they saw the ice go down, as they are confident that the breakwater will stand a flood if there is no ice to jam.

LONDON TOWNSHIP PEOPLE SUMMONED

Are Not Complying With the Regulation in Regard to Dogs.

Some eleven residents of London Township will appear before Squire Chittick on Friday afternoon at 2:30 to explain why they have seen fit to disregard the township ordinance, which requires that all dogs shall be muzzled. A number of the farmers have definitely refused to muzzle their dogs, and others have treated the matter with silent contempt, both classes will be haled before a magistrate as quickly as possible, where steps will be taken to see that the requirements of the law are fulfilled.

STOP LOGS HAVE BEEN TAKEN AWAY

Engineer Simmie Repeats the Statement He Made Yesterday to The Advertiser.

Despite the fact that some West London residents persist in stating that the stop logs at the dam have not been removed, they have been removed, and have been out for some time.

Engineer Simmie and other officials of the waterworks declare that the stop logs have been removed, and every effort made to facilitate the flow of ice and water over the dam.

"The stop logs were removed some time ago," said Engineer Simmie. "We took them out in order to allow the water and ice to get away. The water is going over nicely now. Three feet two inches are going over now. There is little ice as yet, but it looks like a breakup in a very short time. We do not fear any serious results at the present time."

HAMILTON PEOPLE WANT LONDON CARP

Are Willing to Pay Money for the Chance to Nail the Mudfish.

Squire Chittick has received a communication from the Canada Dried Fruit and Fish Company of Hamilton, asking the London Fish and Game Association for permission to take carp from the river.

"We are informed," the letter reads, "that there are large quantities of these fish around London, and if a license could be obtained whereby they could be taken out with a seine or Fyke net, we would like to obtain the privilege, and would be willing to pay a salary to any reliable man appointed by the association to see that nothing is taken except carp. If the association and fisheries department do not object we could use suckers and dogfish."

The members of the association are inclined to look with favor upon the request. The water of the Thames are simply swarming with carp, and they are very destructive on other fish spawn, and it is considered highly advisable to dispose of them if possible. There is every likelihood, therefore, that the request will be granted for everything but dogfish, which will still be protected by the association's rules.

NO CHARGE

The equipment has been brought up to a higher state of efficiency than ever before.

Fourteen or fifteen new typewriters were installed last year, making the work much easier.

Wait for Investigation.

"I would prefer not to be quoted on the subject," said Principal McCutcheon. "When the matter is taken up by No. 1 committee all the facts we have in our possession will be made known. Some times a comparison with a commercial college is not always fair, but as I said before I have no desire to go into the matter until such a time as the committee take up the matter."

CHILDREN SUICIDE.

At a children's ball recently given in St. Petersburg by the Countess Tipkevitch two children belonging to historic families of Russia committed suicide. During the ball a scream was heard, immediately followed by a revolver shot. It was then discovered that in one corner of the saloon a lad of fifteen belonging to the noble family of Barjatinsky had shot himself through the heart with a revolver. The youth died immediately without saying anything further than the words: "I could not do otherwise."

In the panic which followed a girl of fourteen, the Baroness von Phalen, hastily swallowed a small pastille. A few minutes later she fell dead.

The suicide of young people of both sexes is every year becoming more frequent in Russia. The least reverse, even the failure to pass an examination, is sufficient to cause these neurotic young moderns to kill themselves.

Fifty teachers from London, England, are going to visit Canada next summer, and it is possible that they will spend a day or two in this city. No word has been received as yet as to their intentions, but a visit is expected.

Inspector Edwards is in Indianapolis, and it could not be learned whether or not he had received word of their coming.

The English teachers will be conducted by Mr. Thomas Gautrey, secretary of the London Teachers' Association. There are 19,000 members in it, and the pick of this number will come to Canada.

They are due in Toronto Aug. 7 to 10 next.

SECOND CHILD DIES OF SCARLET FEVER

Another Member of the Giese Family Succumbs to the Disease.

Lawrence Giese, the infant sos of Mr. and Mrs. R. Giese. of 51 Askin street, died is Victoria Hospital shortly after midnight from scarlet fever. This is the second death from the disease in Mr. Giese's family in a week, and three more of his little ones are still in the hospital in a very critical condition.

The child which died last night was the last to contract the fever, and was only taken to the hospital on Saturday last, when the parents after returning from the funeral of their little daughter Margaret, discovered that the baby was ill. It was taken at once to Victoria Hospital. The children are suffering from scarlet fever of the most malignant type. The funeral of the baby was held at noon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and Very Rev. Dean Davis conducted the service.

TWO HUNDRED MORE FOR HARNESS HORSES

Western Fair Directors Are Preparing to Have "the Greatest Show on Earth."

The horse committee of the Western Fair which met in the fair board rooms yesterday afternoon, outlined a number of important changes in that department for the coming season. It was decided to increase the grant by $200, most of which will be distributed in the harness classes. In the high-stepping class a new section was added for stallions in harness, and the high-stepping class was made open, so that a horse entered in any other class may compete for prizes in this class too by paying the extra entry fee. An extra prize will be given in the pony class. It was announced that the Hon. Adam Beck would give his special prize of $24 for cavalry horses, and the American Hackney Horse Society offer two medals for the best hackney stallion and mare. The judges for the year were then chosen. There was a very good attendance at the meeting, the following being present: Dr. Routledge, chairman; Messrs. W. J. Reid; Edward Douglas, Ilderton; V. M. Cole, Lakeside; P. Farrell, Woodstock; J. Murdock, Brucefield; A. McDonald, St. Marys; A. A. Miller, Middlemarch; J. I. A. Hunt; John Farrell, Forest; Henry Gilbert, New Salem; Ald. Tancock, George McCormick, Wm. Moore, Wm. McNeil and A. M. Hunt.

There was a meeting of the attraction committee at the close of this gathering, with the president, W. J. Reid, in the chair. It was decided to increase the prizes for the speed events on Monday by $50, and it is probable that there will be speed events for three days.

HE FEARED TO EAT
Till "Little Digesters" Cured His Indigestion

Like many another sufferer from Indigestion, Mr. E. Thody looked forward to mealtime with dread instead of pleasure. Writing from his home at 141 Yorkville Ave., Toronto, on June 13th last, he says:

"For two years I suffered with Indigestion and obtained no relief from anything I took, including several prescriptions from prominent physicians. Every meal was followed with acute pain until I feared to eat, consequently became run down for lack of nourishment.

"'Little Digesters" were recommended to me by a friend and I tried them with remarkable results, two boxes completely curing me. It is three months since I took any and have not suffered a pain no matter how heartily I eat. I would certainly recommend them to anyone suffering with Indigestion."

Why allow yourself to be handicapped and your life shortened by Indigestion or Dyspepsia, when you can so easily avoid it? "Little Digesters" are guaranteed to cure you or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

FINE PROGRESS SHOWN BY LONDON PRESBYTERY

Gathering at Glencoe Attends to Many Phases of Church Legislation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Glencoe, March 1. — The Presbytery of London met in its spring meeting on Monday evening, in the Presbyterian Church here. There was a large attendance of members. Rev. James Rollins, B. A., of the King Street Presbyterian Church, London, was elected moderator unanimously. The reports of Sabbath schools, church life and work, and moral and social reform, were presented and discussed. On the whole, progress was indicated in all departments of the church's work.

Home Missions.

Dr. McCrae presented the home mission report. Hamilton Road and Chelsea Green and Knollwood Park were recommended to be placed on the home mission committee. This matter was referred to the Presbyterian Council of London for its concurrence. Good progress had been made in the work in these two fields. Rev. John Smith has charge of Hamilton Road, and Rev. P. Nichol, B. D., of Knollwood.

Augmentation Grants.

Augmentation grants were asked for the following fields: Port Stanley, $250; Wallacetown, 200; Newbury and Wardsville are vacant, and in the meantime no grant is given. It is very hopeful that the weaker congregations of the presbytery are increasing their contributions, notwithstanding the loss of families and increasing their minister's stipend on account of the increased cost of living. There are in reality only the above two congregations on the augmentation funds.

Appin and North Ekfrid have increased their contributions liberally, and go off the augmentation fund, and the presbytery unanimously expressed its gratification at the generous action.

Pastor MacKay Resigns.

Rev. Hector MacKay, B. A., of St George's Church, London Junction, resigned his charge. Mr. G. Cairncross and Mr. Wm. Perkins appeared and did not oppose the resignation. The resignation was accepted to take effect on the 1st of May. Rev. A. Henderson was appointed moderator of session. He will declare the pulpit vacant on the first Sunday in May. A committee was appointed to mave a resolution anent Mr. MacKay's resignation.

Principal Gandier.

Rev. Principal Gandier, of Knox College, addressed the presbytery on the need of men for the ministry, and the present needs of the college. The greatest and most difficult problem before the church is the securing of able and fully equipped young men for the ministry. There has been a decrease of young men in our colleges from 260 to 185, studying for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada within the last five years. This is alarming, in view of the crying need for an increase. Never was the call for strong, earnest young men for this great work so urgent. An increase is also needed in the annual revenue of Knox College, and they are raising the large sum of $300,000 for their new building.

The presbytery expressed its sympathy with the work, and pledged itself to help as far as posible. The commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in Halifax in June next, were appointed: Ministers—Revs. E. L. Pidgeon, Dr. D. L. McCrae, John Lindsay, J. G. Inkster, F. G. N. Atkinson, J. Currie and W. H. Geddes. Elders—Messrs. Neil McAlpin, Largie; John A. McLachlin, Caradoc; D. Forbes, St. Thomas; E. McMillan, Kintyre; and E. Charlton, Rodney.

Anti-Gambling Resolution.

Rev. J. G. Inkster moved, and it was unanimously resolved, that "The Presbytery of London, now in session, resolved, by a unanimous standing vote, to indorse the bill for the prohibition of the business of racetrack gambling, and would lend it their most emphatic moral support."

Church Funds.

The question of unifying the funds of the whole church was discussed on a motion by Mr. Inkster. It is felt that there are too many special appeals for college endowments, and other things of that sort. This has in many instances affected the regular givings. A committee will look into the matter. Rev. A. Henderson reported the correspondence with Major Beattie, M. P., in regard to the petition sent to Ottawa anent race-track gambling, and the presbytery approved of the clerk's correspondence.

A call from Aylmer and Springfield was presented by Rev. E. L. Pidgeon. It was in favor of Rev. A. D. Cameron, B. A., of Hamilton. The stipend is $1,000 and manse, with the usual holidays. The call was sustained. The time of induction was left in the hands of the clerk and interim moderator. Rev. Mr. Rollins will preside, Rev. S. Woods will preach, Mr. Pidgeon will address the minister, and Mr. Scott the people.

The presbytery in a body attended the funeral of the late I. Rathburn, who was a member of the court.

The next meeting will be held in the First Church, London, on the first Tuesday of May at 10:30 o'clock.

HUGO'S JEAN VALJEAN IN LES MISERABLES

Dr. Cleaver Repeated the Wonderful Story to Audience in Auditorium.

Rev. Dr. Solomon Cleaver, of Toronto, delivered his famous lecture on the life story of Jean Valjean, which, by the way, he pronounced in a strictly English fashion, at the Auditorium last night before a large audience, whose attention he held without wavering during the presentation of his theme.

Dr. Cleaver is a master of story-telling, and his graphic protrayal of the figure Jean, the convict, who fought his way through the depths of bitterness and hate, to the very heights of self-abnegation, was a revelation to his hearers.

With Dr. Cleaver "Les Miserables," the greatest story of perhaps the greatest novelist the world has known, loses nothing in the telling.

Valjean's Life.

In a few graphic words, the speaker pictured the early life of Jean in the village of Faverol, brought up in the midst of deadly poverty, till finally he is compelled to steal a loaf of bread to feed his seven hungry children. He is arrested, sentenced to five years in the galleys of Toulon, and Jean's spiritual struggles begin. He realizes his guilt, but realizes too that the punishment is disproportionate; and when finally attempt after attempt to escape has only led to fresh imprisonment until he has served 19 years for the theft of a loaf of bread, his cup of bitterness is full. And even when he leaves the galleys it is with a convict's passport that closes everything to him. His life is one long injustice until he came under the influence of the Bishop of Deede, from whose door no one had ever been turned in need.

The Regeneration.

From this point Jean's regeneration is slowly begun. But the crime of stealing a small sum from a child still stands against him unpunished, and on his trail all the time is the sleuth, Chief of Police Javert.

Jean takes upon himself the education of Cosette, the daughter of a woman who on her deathbed had intrusted the girl to him. He was again captured, but again escaped, and it was thought that he had been drowned, and Jean Valjean is forgotten even by his arch-enemy Javert. So Jean lives in obscurity, grown wealthy by the business of jet-making, which he had learned from a fellow prisoner at Toulon. Then comes the love story of Cosette and Marius, a young law student, and of the last touch of selfishness in Jean as he spirits the girl away lest he should lose her. But hearing that Marius is in danger in the barricades of Paris his better nature is again aroused and he goes to his relief.

Javert's Escape.

Behind the barricades he finds his enemy Javert, condemned to die. It is an easy way out of the difficulties, for Javert alone knows Jean's record. Jean asks the privilege of destroying his enemy, but instead provides him with a means of escape, and hurries back just in time to save Marius. The wild flight through the sewers of Paris is one of the most dramatic portions of the story, and Dr. Cleaver swept his audience with the tale of passionate hunger of Jean to be able to save the man whom his daughter loved. Again after the escape Javert appears on the scene, but his gratitude holds him powerless, and yet true to his ideal of duty, if he cannot arrest Jean, he cannot live himself.

And Javert commits suicide; a strange way of proving the nobility that is in a man, yet this undoubtedly was the idea that Victor Hugo meant to convey.

Ungrateful Marius.

Cosette and Marius are married, and Jean, too honest to sign a false name on the marriage certificate, even after all danger of discovery was past, tells Marius of his past, and Marius, too small to realize the great renunciation that this had involved, and the great heights to which Jean had attained, turned from him in disgust, and succeeds in alienating the affections of his adopted daughter. With the shadows of a long life of struggle closing around him, Jean is left in the loneliness of his desolation.

Finally Marius is made aware that it is Jean who saved his life behind the barricades, and overcome with remorse he and Cosette return to the old man almost too late, for the shadows of death are creeping around Jean. They crave his forgiveness and urge him to come and live with them, but Jean only smiles his refusal, and with a hand on either head the light dies out of the eyes of Jean Valjean, the figure, who, convict as he was, will stand out in all literature as one of God's gentlemen, for Jean Valjean had found himself and had fought his way through great tribulation.

TARIFF DELEGATION

Ottawa Does Not Believe the Latest Rumors From Washington.

Ottawa, March 2. — Nothing is known here as to the date of coming of a United States tariff delegation. So far no advices have been received here about it. The tariff question appears to have been left wholly in the hands of Mr. Fielding, who has prepared any communications which have gone to Washington in reference to an interpretation of Canada's views on the subject.

When the representatives of the United States Government come here, however, the matter will be taken up by the whole cabinet. The assurances that have been received so far have pointed to this country securing without much difficulty the benefit of the minimum tariff.

If the report from Washington, that a quid pro quo in the form of our intermediate tariff being extended to the United States is demanded, the status of things will be obviously changed and require not only diplomatic negotiations, but the most serious consideration.

Both in official circles and in the caucus room of both parties inquiry made tended to wholly discredit the story. While the United States authorities are naturally expected to institute careful inquiries it is not thought that they will go to the length of demanding what is rumored as their intention.
