PLEADED GUILTY TO MANY THEFTS

Albert Hale and George Phillips Remanded on Sentence.

CRUMLIN HOME ROBBED

Both Prisoners Have Been in Mimico Industrial School, and Were Out on Parole.

Albert Hale and George Phillips, the two young men committed for trial by County Magistrate Chittick on charges of stealing a rifle, razor, cartridges, copper coins, set of horse phlemns and other articles from William John Mott, a farmer residing east of Crumlin, appeared before Judge Elliott at the court house at noon today, and pleaded guilty. They were remanded till Friday, when they will be finally disposed of.

Both have been committed to the Mimico Industrial School for other offences, and are now out on parole. Phillips had an excellent record in the institution Inspector Sanders of the Children's Aid Society told the judge, while his companion, Hale, had caused some trouble there. He was accused of stealing several articles while in the industrial school. The prisoner denied the accusations, stating that the report related to his brother, whose whereabouts are not now known. He also stated that he received an excellent report from Inspector Gauld not long ago.

Mr. P. H. Bartlett is acting for the prisoners.

MAY BUILDING PERMITS NOW REACH $137,710

Over 50,000 in Excess of the Permits Issued in May of 1910.

The value of building permits for the month of May has now reached a total of $137,710.

This is over $50,000 in excess of the permits for May 1910, and it is expected that the total will reach $200,000. There are three large permits that will probably be taken out this month, the C. P. R., the Richmond street church, and the Masonic Temple. These would run the total well over $200,000.

Among the latest permits to be taken out were those of H. Sing, story and a half brick on Maitland street, to cost $1,500, and A. Glenn, two story brick on Piccadilly street, to cost $2,700.

MUTINY STORIES ARE UNFOUNDED, SAYS ROPER

Commander of Cruiser Rainbow Again Denies Yellow Yarns.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, May 29.—Commander Roper, of the Canadian navy, today made a further denial of additional charges contained in the Toronto press over the signature of Francis Carney, regarding conditions on the cruiser Rainbow to the effect that the men were underfed, that thirty had deserted, that two had been punished and that mutiny had broken out on the vessel.

"I am glad to see that so much interest is being taken in the Canadian navy," said Commander Roper, "but I have nothing to add to my former statement. The man who makes the charge evidently forgets that we are living in the day of the telegraph and post, when he alleges that the information on which I based my first denial was a month old."

"I intend to do nothing about it," concluded the commander, in reply to a further question.

THREE MONTHS IN JAIL FOR "RED" WALTERS

Thief Stole a Watch From a Man's Pocket in Local Hotel.

Edward, better known as "Red," Walters was sentenced to three months in jail this morning by Deputy Magistrate Graydon on a charge of stealing a gold watch, valued at $20, from Henry Doyle, when the latter was sleeping in a chair in the Hotel Columbia. Walters sold the watch for 40 cents, and it was later recovered by Detective Nickle. Walters stated that he has no home in particular, but makes a living by travelling about from place to place selling wire coat-hangers. He said he had been drinking steadily for some weeks and was unaccountable for the theft.

"Your crime," said the court, "was a most cowardly one. A man who will steal from a drunken man is most contemptible. I will send you down for three months.

John Kelly, a soldier from Wolseley Barracks, charged with assaulting Sasha Banks, was bailed to appear on Wednesday next for a hearing. It is alleged that the men got into an altercation in Banks' house, and that Kelly struck Banks in the face.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Young Lady Struck by Bolt While on Way Home.

[Canadian Press.]

St. John, N. B., May 29.—Ellen McLaughlin, aged 19, of Tracadie, Northumberland County, was struck by lightning last night returning home after an evening visit, and was instantly killed.

ROUTE OF BIG WOLVERINE AUTO CLUB AFFILIATION TOUR

The Detroit News says: "This map gives a view of the 'affiliation' tour of the Wolverine Automobile Club, which will leave Detroit on June 22 and return on the 28th. It will cover five principal cities and pass through many others. Stops for the night will be made at Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Toronto and London. The tour is under the management of Harry H. Robinson, of the tours and runs committee, and will not be a speed contest. Many of the tourists intend to take their families with them."

It will be noted that the artist who got out the map did not have a proper idea of the geographical position of London, as this city is only 59 miles from Sarnia and 115 miles from Toronto, as measured by the Grand Trunk Railway system. Of course by the road the distances are considerably greater. On the map London appears to be further from Sarnia than from Toronto.

DR. BATEMAN WAS AWARDED $12,500 FOR INJURIES RECEIVED

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, May 29.—Mr. Justice Riddell has awarded Dr. Frank J. Bateman, of Strathroy, $12,500 damages against the County of Middlesex.

The doctor in the early morning of Sept. 29, 1910, on his way to a patient, drove into an obstruction on the road between Strathroy and Mount Brydges. The road was being repaired.

A heavy board was placed across the road on a pile of gravel to close it to traffic, and there was no warning light. The doctor sued for $25,000.

TRAGEDY ON TORONTO STREET INSANE MAN SHOOTS ANOTHER

James Lougheed Greeted With Volley of Bullets From Man Who Believed His Relatives Had Suffered at Victim's Hands.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Ont., May 29. — James Lougheed, 63 LaPlante avenue, was fatally shot this morning at the corner of LaPlante avenue and Hayter street, by Joseph Jessamine, the elevator operator at the Toronto general postoffice. Jessamine has been under a delusion for some time that Lougheed had done something to some relative of his, and this morning he lay in wait for him on the street. He fired four bullets, all of which tooff effect. Two penetrated right through to Lougheed's bowels and pierced them eight times, and two more lodged in his back. He was taken to the hospital, but died three hours later. Jessamine has been acting strangely for some time, and his friends have thought that something was wrong with him. T. C. Robinette, who will defend him on the murder charge, will plead insanity, and claims that both of Jessamine's hands are covered with sores, where he has been biting himself. He was remanded for a week in the police court.

STATIONING COMMITTEE HELD FIRST MEETING TODAY

London Methodist Conference Will Open in Stratford on Wednesday—Important Matters To Come Up for Discussion.

London Methodist Conference will open Wednesday morning, May 31, in Central Methodist Church, Stratford, and will continue for one week. The stationing committee which usually meets in advance of the conference held their first session this afternon and will meet again tomorrow.

The statistical committee also met this afternoon and will tabulate the returns from the various churches churches throughout the conference for presentation to the general sessions which open on Wednesday.

Ne Temere Decree.

Among the subjects which will be discussed at this year's conference, the "ne temere decree" and church union will demand the greatest attention. A number of district meetings have passed resolutions condemning the "ne temere decree," and favoring the proposed basis of union for the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches, and both questions will be thoroughly threshed out in the conference.

Whether the question of immorality among children, which has attracted attention of late, will be touched upon at all in the conference remains to be seen. No place has been made for it on the programme which has been planned, and none of the district meetings have sent up any recommendation calling for its consideration. However referred to, and even discussed at length in connection with the temperance, educational and moral reform reports which will be submitted at the conference.

Anniversary Meetings.

Special anniversary meetings will be held evenings to which the public will be invited. On Tuesday evening Sunday school anniversary addresses will be given by Rev. W. C. Hiles and Rev. A. J. Thomas. On Thursday evening missionary addresses will be delivered by Mr. William Gibson, Mrs. Gordon Wright (representing the W. M. S.), and Rev. Dr. Endicott. On Monday evening Rev. J. C. Reid and Rev. H. S. Magee will speak on temperance, moral reform and educational subjects.

On Wednesday evening Bishop Quayle, of the M. E. Church, of the United States, will lecture on "Hamlet." On Thursday morning, Rev. Dr. Channing will lecture on "The Human and Divine Nature of Christ." On Saturday evening, Rev. John Morrison will address the Historical ESociety of the London Conference, in Trinity Church, on "Nathan Bangs, Pioneer Mtehodist preacher of Upper Canada."

On Friday evening the candidates for ordination to the ministry will be received, and they will be ordained on Sunday by Rev. A. K. Birks, president of the conference. The ordination sermon will be preached by Rev. F. D. Leete, of Detroit.

$9,000 IS HELD BACK FROM CO.

City and Westinghouse People Are Likely to Have Trouble.

POSSIBILITY OF A SUIT

Water Commissioners Claim That Company Did Not Fulfill Their Contract at Hydro Station.

The water commissioners and the Westinghouse Company, of Hamilton, will have a strenuous session soon in reference to the company's contract for machinery for the Horton street station.

The commissioners have held back $9,000, which they claim against the company for non-fulfillment of contract. The Westinghouse Company are blamed for delaying the hydro-electric commission from furnishing power to the city.

As a result, the commissioners taxed the company for the delay, the total amount being $9,000.

It is hinted that there is a possibility of a suit over the money, although the water commissioners are hopeful that a settlement will be arrived at. They will insist on the enactment of the penalty.

This is the second dispute over contracts in connection with the station. Mr. B. V. Hole, contractor for the building, has a disputed claim against Hon. Adam Beck for $13,000, which he claims is due him.

This case will undoubtedly go to court, and then there will be some sharp criticism of the work done at the Horton street plant. Both parties are preparing for a fight.

SANITY OF JARDINE BEING INVESTIGATED

Goderich Girl-Murderer May Escape the Gallows.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., May 29.—A flood of petitions are pouring in, urging that clemency be exercised in the case of Angelino Napolitano, under sentence of death for having killed her husband at the Soo. The suffragette associations are active in the plea for clemency.

Whether Edward Jardine, of Goderich, hangs or is given life imprisonment depends largely upon the decision as to whether his sanity is unquestioned or not. The justice department is now looking into the case to make a report to council.

FORMER LONDON OIL MAN DIED IN TORONTO

Mr. Alex. Duffield Passed Away at His Home in Toronto.

Mr. Alex. Duffield, for many years a resident of this city, and an uncle of Mr. James Duffield, of the City Gas Company, died at his home in Toronto yesterday after an illness extending over some time. He was 60 years old, and is survived by his wife. He was for many years associated in the oil business in London with his brothers, the late Messrs. William and James Duffield. ## BALL PLAYERS IN WRECK THAT KILLS NINE PERSONS

Omaha and Denver Teams of Western League Badly Shaken Up in Collision On the Burlington.

[Canadian Press.]

Denver, Colo., May 29.—At least nine persons were killed and twenty injured this morning in a head-on collision between eastbound and westbound passenger trains No. 9 and No. 12, on the Burlington Railroad, ten miles east of McCook, Neb. The engineers of both trains are reported among the dead.

The members of the Denver and Omaha baseball teams of the Western League were passengers on the bound train, the Colorado Limited. A number of the members of both teams were slightly hurt. Jas. McGill, president of the Denver team, had a bone in his foot broken. Pitcher Kinsella had his face badly cut, and Second Baseman Lloyd suffered minor injuries. No member of either team was badly hurt.

The day coach of the Limited was totally wrecked, and in this car most of the casulties occurred.

The tourist car and baggage car were thrown on their sides, but so far as is known their occupants escaped serious injury.

Surgeons and nurses have been summoned from McCook and other nearby towns.

The fireman, brakeman and express messenger of the westbound train are reported among the killed.

MONTH OF MAY THE WARMEST FOR THE PAST 47 YEARS

Mercury Yesterday Started Out to Beat the Record and Climbed to 92.5 in the Shade—Dropped Today to 61 Degrees.

According to a man who has made a practice of keeping records of the weather, this spring is the hottest that has been known in 47 years.

People who were in the city got a fair sample of August weather in May yesterday when the mercury climbed up to 92.5. In the last ten days there have been four days when the mercury was over 90 degrees, and on one of them it reached 93. On two other days it was above 85.

Just to show what a versatile individual he is the weather man shifted the mercury around some time during the night, and when people awakened this morning they were surprised and delighted to discover that it was only 61. It has remained nice and cool all day, too.

Rain at Port Stanley.

While there was not at any time a sign of rain here yesterday those who were at Port Stanley yesterday afternoon were treated to a heavy downpour of rain which lasted fully half an hour.

Hundreds of Londoners spent yesterday at the lakeside, and the three last cars coming up last night were crowded to the doors with citizens returning to London.

ROADS ARE FINE FOR THE AUTOS

Pathfinders of the Wolverine Tour Say They Found Conditions Excellent.

ARE COMING TO LONDON

Will Arrive in This City the Latter Part of June—All Arrangements Have Been Made.

The Detroit News says: An enthusiastic reception was accorded the pathfinding car of the Wolverine Automobile Club's affiliation tour when it arrived at the Griswold House. The tour is scheduled for the latter part of June.

John J. Utz, who drove the car over the entire circuit, was accompanied by W. O. Peck and H. A. Tireman, the three taking road data and notes on every landmark, turn and bump on the course. Their information will be prepared in the form of a road book, a copy of which will be given to every entrant, and it will probably prove valuable as a work of reference after the affiliation tour becomes a matter of history.

Excellent Roads.

The pathfinders report excellent road conditions, especially between Detroit and Toledo, though this stretch heretofore has been universally dreaded by motorists on account of the rugged nature of the commonly used river highway. A new route between these points has been selected for the tour, a few miles longer, but with good surface, passing through Ypsilanti, Milan and Ida. It is probable that the discovery of the route will be permanently posted so that all motorists between Detroit and Toledo may use it hereafter.

Car Maintained Schedule.

Despite the fact that the crew were occasionally delayed in arranging garage and hotel accommodations for the tourists, the pathfinding car maintained its daily schedule with the one exception of Sunday. On this day Niagara Falls was combined with the Monday run, the car going straight through from Buffalo to Toronto.

Cordial welcomes were extended at Cleveland, Buffalo and the Canadian cities, the Cleveland and Buffalo Automobile clubs promising 20 and 50 cars respectively for the tour.

The Ontario Motor League was very enthusiastic, and it is expected that Toronto, Hamilton and London tourists will join in making the affiliation tour a success.

The time changes twice on the course. From Cleveland to Buffalo, the longest day's run, an hour is lost, but an hour will be gained on the final day as the tourists cross the border from Sarnia to Port Huron.

LEVITT COMMITTED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Preliminary Examination Took Place in Police Court Today

After conducting the preliminary examination into the case of Joseph R. Levitt, the young G. T. R. brakeman, from Mimico, charged with criminally assaulting of an idiot, Mytrle Orum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whales Orum, of 11 Ingleside street, South London, Deputy Magistrate Graydon committed Levitt for trial.

The accused was not bailed and will probably appear tomorrow for trial before the judge of the county court. He pleaded not guilty and was represented by Messrs. Edmund Meredith, K. C., and Finlay Perrin.

The principal evidence was that of the girl's mother, who stated that her daughter was 16 years old, and had never been able to go to school. The offence was alleged to have been committed on May 17, but witness said she had not gone to see a physician until the Saturday following.

Dr. E. G. Davis, who examined the girl three days after, said he found no marks of violence whatever.

Detective Harry Down, who arrested Levitt, stated that the accused had told him on the way down that the Orums were very poor people, and that if he had a chance he thought he could settle the case for a $10 bill. Later he said he might go as far as $25.

GUELPH ASSAULTER GIVEN TEN YEARS

Canfield Well Punished for Brutal Attack on Lady.

[Canadian Press.]

Guelph, May 29.—Patsy Canfield was sentenced to ten years in Kingston by Judge Chadwick this morning, for assaulting and occasioning bodily harm to Mrs. James Keough in the outskirts of the city a week ago. Canfield has a bad record. He served a term in the Central Prison for assaulting a little girl, and a term in Kingston for causing the death of his father.

MILES OF GRAVEL WILL SOON COVER THE COUNTRY ROADS

Steam Road Roller Will, However, Be Used on Many of the Important Highways of the County of Middlesex.

Within a few days that season looked forward to by autoists with no degree of pleasure will open, and before the end of the month stretches of country highway, which at this time of the year are in very good shape, will be strewn with heaps of loose gravel.

The work is to be commenced immediately and every piece of roadway which causes trouble in spring and fall will be covered. The roadways out of the city to the south will be interfered with to some extent for a time, as the Wellington is now closed through the erection of a couple of small culverts near the fourth concession.

A Mile of Gravel.

A mile of gravel is to be placed on the Wharncliffe south from Glendale, toward Lambeth. This road is now a little rough, but in comparatively good shape through the dry weather. Yesterday dozens of autoists visited Port Stanley by this route, and as a result, the dust was fearful. Rural pedestrians have learned to avoid the trail of an auto, and usually make a rush for the fields till a machine passes.

Steam Road Roller.

The first steam road roller to be used by the county, which was purchased some weeks ago, is being given its tryout at Parkhill, where a stone roadway a couple of miles long is being constructed.

The county engineer's department is considerably hampered in this class of work, as it is almost impossible to secure broken stone. The quarries are working to capacity, and despite the fact that they have doubled their forces they have found it impossible to meet the demand. The situation is becoming serious, as the stone must be secured at the proper time in order to be worked satisfactorily in the summer months.

CY WARMAN IN A CAPSIZED CANOE

Author of "Sweet Marie" Had Exciting Experience in Algonquin Park.

TAKING PICTURES FOR G.T.

Photo Was Made While the Well-Known Magazine Writer Was Bobbing in the Water.

Montreal, May 28.—Mr. Cy Warman, of London, Ont., returned to Montreal yesterday after some wild adventures in Algonquin Park, in which Mr. Fred Cook, of Ottawa, and Captain Chambers, the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, were his companions.

Under the tuition of Black Rod, who is a past master in the art of graceful pose and movement, the Montreal and Ottawa figures in the landscape arranged themselves into a lifelike depresentation of a real fishing scene, the stage effects being a real rock, a real lake, and a background of real trees and sky.

This touching representation of the joys of fishing in territory reached exclusively by the Grand Trunk, was photographed exclusively for the Grand Trunk by the Grand Trunk's official photographer, Mr. Swan. Mr. Warman thinks when this picture gets going the advertising rounds it will make the hearts of countless thousands yearn with an almost unbearable yearning for places reached exclusively by the Grand Trunk.

Immediately after the picture had been taken, the party made for their canoe, which capsized the moment Cy Warman, Fred Cook and Black Rod got into it. Mr. Swan, who was packing up his camera, came rushing to the rescue, but before he could dive in Cy Warman's head bobbed up from the lake, and he shouted out, "Never mind the drowning people; take another picture of us."

Remembering that his duty to the Grand Trunk was to take pictures and not to save lives, Mr. Swan obeyed, with the result that another grand advertising negative was secured, showing that nobody, not even a Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, can get drowned in Grand Trunk scenery.

As a matter of fact, not a single life was lost. How all escaped is a mystery, because each gentleman of the party claims he saved the other two. Accounts of eye-witnesses vary. One says the lives of the party were saved because the corks in the baggage were not disarranged by the accident; another declares that the water was not so deep, but that all three could stand on their feet and get enough of their heads above water to look heroic.

DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC IN A RAILWAY CAMP

Two Men Died Before Sanitary Methods Were Introduced.

[Canadian Press.]

North Bay, May 29. — Provincial Health Inspector Young found a camp on the Canada Atlantic Railway, with an epidemic of diphtheria. Two men had died and others were sick. Sanitary methods were introduced and a supply of antitoxin secured, with the result that no further deaths have occurred, and the disease is under control.

PAID FINE OF MAN WHO HAD ABUSED HER

Mrs. Charles Burton Is Certainly No Suffragist.

That Mrs. Charles Burton is not a suffragist was plainly in evidence at the police court this morning. Her husband appeared on a charge of being drunk, and of using bad language towards his wife. It was alleged that he abused her greatly.

"I will fine you $1 and $2 50 costs," said Deputy Magistrate Graydon.

Mrs. Burton, who was down stairs, was called up, and Burton, in an imperious manner, called her over.

"Pay him $3 50 and hurry up," he commanded his wife, pointing out Police Court Clerk Moule.

Mrs. Burton paid over the money meekly, and the pair departed having a great argument among themselves all the way out, much to the amusement of those in court.

William McLurg, who says he is an old railroad man, and who was found sleeping in an M. C. R. car recently, was allowed to go with a warning not to do it again.

HOLIDAY FOR MR. FIELDING

Will Remain Abroad Until Shortly Before Parliament Resumes.

Ottawa, May 29.—Hon. W. S. Fielding sails for England an Wednesday next. He is going for a holiday trip which will last until shortly before the House resumes sittings in July. Mr. Fielding will be accompanied by Mrs. Fielding and the Misses Fielding.

RESTING ON THEIR OARS

Proposed Sale of City Hall Is as Far Off as Ever.

There is absolutely nothing new in the proposed city hall sale.

Both sides are waiting for City Solicitor Meredith's opinion as to whether or not the council can back out of the deal. That opinion has not been given as yet. It will probably be handed in some day this week.

The Royal Bank are confident that his opinion will be that the city cannot repudiate the contract. A number of the aldermen are just as confident that the opinion will be to the effect that the council may, if they so desire, withdraw from the bargain.

It is also understood that the bank have sent word that they will not accept the city hall without the land at the rear. They are holding out for the original amount of land, 110 feet square and will insist upon that.

"We have not received Mr. Meredith's opinion," said Mayor Beattie. "That will come some of these days, and then we will know exactly where we are."

KING WEARS GREY DERBY

Gets a Fashion That Has Become All the Rage in England.

London, May 29.—King George has already made grey hats the rage.

Since the King was first seen wearing a grey derby a few days ago the demand for hats of this kind went up. Then when the Kaiser and Prince Christian appeared in grey high hats Englishmen felt themselves obliged to take up this fashion.

The grey derby has already routed its black brother, and it promises to oust the straw hat from favor.

THROWN INTO CARRIAGE GEAR.

Woodstock, May 29.—Robert Danby, of Muir, received painful injuries while driving in the city Saturday morning. The king bolt of his buggy broke and he was thrown into the carriage gear, and when the horse took fright and ran away, he was dragged a considerable distance. A badly broken shoulder and many bruises resulted.

ELECTION WOULD PLEASE GOVT.

Hon. Mr. Fisher in Strong Speech Before Farnham Crowd.

MAJORITY MUST RULE

Indicates Action of Government if the Conservatives Persist in Obstruction.

Farnham, Que., May 28.—Hon. Sydney Fisher met a big audience of his own constituents of the eastern townships here Saturday, and explained to them the real meaning of the reciprocity pact and the intentions of the Government with regard to the determined opposition threatened by the Conservatives. From the size and enthusiasm of the meeting, there can be little room for doubt as to the answer which the eastern townships will give if an election is called on the reciprocity question. Although it was a sweltering afternoon a crowd of nearly five hundred men, mostly farmers, threw off their coats and settled down in the Belmoral Hall for over three hours to hear the Minister of Agriculture in English, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, in French, with Messrs. Meigs, M. P. (Missisquoi), Allan, M. P. (Shefford), and Jos. Demers, M. P. for St. John and Iberville.

Agriculture Minister.

Hon. Mr. Fisher was given a particularly good hearing, and it was evident that his arguments went home, since the applause increased considerably as his speech progressed. Dealing with the position taken by the Conservative party, which had forced the present campaign, Hon. Mr. Fisher said: "We are facing rather unusual conditions in political affairs in Canada today, and I will explain why it is necessary for those in charge of the country's business to come before the people and explain the country's business. It is usual for our Parliament to last from four to five years. In the ordinary course of events this, the third session of Parliament, would not be its last. For the last twenty years each Parliament has averaged four sessions. But today we are face to face with an impasse in our public affairs. At the last election the Liberal party had a clear majority of over 15 in a House of 221. Why, then, today is there talk all over the country of an immediate election? According to parliamentary rule, members have such unlimited right to speak that they can talk on and on and never allow a measure to come to a vote. While the right of free speech in Parliament is one dear to the Liberal mind, when abused outrageously it must be gotten over. It is a very serious impediment in carrying on the business of the country, and I believe that the time has come when we should carefully abridge that right so that the majority chosen to carry on the affairs of the country may be able to do so. (Applause.)

Opposition Tactics.

"But I believe if the Conservatives force us to the country by refusing supplies, that action will be condemned by the people, and will lead to a change in the rules of the House by which the ruling majority can actually rule. The people do not want an election, and if they force it on the people will condemn them." (Loud applause.)

Further, Mr. Fisher said, the census was to be taken in June and would probably be ready by October, and only then would they be in a position to know what representations the different provinces should have, especially the west. When the census was compiled, he believed that Parliament would be increased to perhaps 245 members. Therefore the Government did not want an election until after redistribution—but he insisted that the Government did not want to delay an election because they had any fear of the people. (Loud applause.) He felt certain that if they went to the country on the reciprocity platform they would win a larger majority than ever.

"If it were only a question of party aggrandizement we would dissolve the House today and go to the country and show the Tories where they are in the minds of the people. But," said Mr. Fisher, "the Government will not be driven to what we consider an ill-timed election by anything but a refusal of supply. But if it comes, we shall take advantage of it and beat the Tories, as we have done every election since 1896, and by an even larger majority, since we feel sure that the people will support this reciprocity proposal." (Cheers.)

Mr. Fisher said it was expected after the census was compiled in October there would be need for a House of 245 members with a greatly increased representation from the west, and it would be most unfair to force an election until this redistribution was made.

"We will hold the British market by the quality of our goods," said he, "but if we can get better money from the Americans we will take it. The English are business people, and never gave us more than market price for our goods. We are getting to be business people and propose to do business in the same way. So that the Canadian producer will get the highest price in three markets instead of two."

In fact Mr. Fisher said that the cry against reciprocity was merely a case of sour grapes, and if the Government had refused the American offer there would have been a storm of indignation throughout the Conservative press ten times as great as the present outcry because they had accepted it. He also said they had information that the paid advertising matter against reciprocity in the Conservative press was being financed by certain interests, but beyond mentioning them in connection with manufacturers he did not particularize. He also criticised Mr. Flavelle, as the head of the packing trust, declaring that he opposed reciprocity in order to avoid competition.

Talking particularly to the dairy farmers of the eastern townships, he said, although last year they had exported nearly two million dollars of dairy products in the States in face of an almost prohibitive duty, under reciprocity this would grow to twenty millions in two years. As to the manufacturers, Mr. Fisher said they imported two hundred and fifty millions' worth of raw material from the States free of duty, but as soon as similar privileges were offered the farmers they raised the cry of disloyalty, and wanted to prevent the farmers from getting into their best market.

"If the manufacturers try to do this," said Mr. Fisher, "they will arouse an antagonism which will break them, because, think heaven, Canada is a democratic country, and the few cannot rule the many." (Applause.)

"The Government has been sent to Ottawa," he concluded, "to carry out its ideas for the good of the people, and if the Opposition is going to prevent that from being done we shall have to appeal to the people and then change the rules in such a way that the Government elected by the people may carry out the will of the people; and if the moneyed interests of the country set themselves up in antagonism to the producing and consuming masses it is our duty to show them that the majority must rule." (Loud cheers.)

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux followed in French, and also devoted most of his time to a discussion of the reciprocity question, and especially to showing that ever since the first treaty had been abrogated, various Governments had always been in favor of this pact and the people had been anxious for it. As to talk of annexation, he declared it was an insult to the intelligence of Canadians, French or English speaking, and defined the difference between the two parties that the Liberals trusted the people with confidence, while the Conservatives distrusted the people with fear.

Brief speeches, all favoring reciprocity, were made by three local M. P.'s, Messrs. Meigs, of Missisquoi, Allan, of Shefford, and Demers, of St. John and Iberville.

"PIMPLES"

Broke Out All Over Her Face.

Pimples are caused, almost entirely, by bad blood, and there is only one way to get rid of them, and that is to get at the seat of the trouble by using a good reliable blood purifying medicine.

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for 35 years, and is one of the very best blood medicines procurable. After using it you will find that the pimples have disappeared, and you will have a beautiful clear complexion.

Mrs. Robert McNab, Badjeros, Ont., writes:—"I am greatly pleased to report the benefit I have derived from the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. About a year ago I became so weak and run down I could scarcely walk, and pimples broke out all over my face. I tried one thing after another, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was advised by a lady friend to try B.B.B. and before I had used one bottle I felt it was doing me good so I used three bottles, and I am now well and strong, and the pimples have all disappeared."

PRESENCE OF MIND PREVENTED A PANIC

Priest Tears Down Draperies Afire on a Windsor Altar.

Windsor, May 29.—Rev. E. B. Boudoin, pastor of Our Lady of the Lake Church, Walkerville, was severely burned about the hands and wrists when he attempted to extinguish a fire on the church altar on Saturday.

As the large crowd which attended the funeral of James Joseph Kirk, was about to enter the church, the draperies in the altar caught fire from a candle. Fr. Boudoin, who was standing near, seized the burning goods in his hands and tore it from its hanging. The damage was slight. Only the presence of mind of the priest prevented a panic.

GLANWORTH.

Glanworth, May 27.—Mr. David Jackson, a prominent stockman of Westminster, has purchased a herd of steers from Mr. Duncan McPherson recently for export purposes.

A grand hop was held on the evening of Victoria Day at the home of Mr. James E. Wilkins, when about 30 couples tripped the light fantastic. Messrs. F. Wright's and McBane's orchestra furnished the music. William Wright officiated as floor manager. Miss Olive Kirk had the distinction of being designated belle of the function.

To Get Poisons From the Blood

YOU HAVE TO DEPEND ON THE FILTERING PROCESS OF THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS.

These Organs Alone Can Purify the Blood and They do Their Work Well When Helped By

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

No medical treatment can possibly purify the blood except as it sets in healthy working order the kidneys, liver and bowels.

To these organs is assigned the duty of filtering from the blood the poisonous waste matter which is left over when the nutritious elements are extracted from the food you eat. If they are not overcrowded or slow and sluggish in action they keep the blood pure and healthy.

For this reason Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most satisfactory treatment you can possibly obtain to purify the blood.

Their effects are prompt, definite and certain. The liver action is quickened, the kidneys are invigorated, the regular movement of the bowels is assured. It is only a matter of a few hours until you begin to feel the benefits of this great medicine. Further use, as often as is necessary to keep these organs active, will cleanse and purify the blood and enable the digestive system to properly do its work.

Backache, headache and bodily pains will disappear, and the fatigue which is an accompaniment of poisons in the system will give way to new vigor and energy. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A BARRIE GIRL'S REWARD

Left a Large Sum By Millionaire Whom She Nursed.

Barrie, May 28.—The Barrie Examiner says: "Not many millionaires are numbered among the graduates of Barrie Collegiate Institute, but there is one at least, and that is Miss Eleanor Peregrine, who has been left a fortune, variously placed at from $200,000 to $1,000,000, as a reward for her faithful attention to duty. Miss Peregrine was a student at the Barrie Collegiate about fifteen years ago, coming here from Aurora, where she and her family were acquainted with Principal Redditt. At school she was a clever student, and when she decided to discontinue her school course and take up nursing it was a disappointment to her teachers.

Entering Roosevelt Hospital, New York, it fell to her lot to wait upon Walter Duryea, son of a millionaire starch manufacturer, who had been rendered a helpless invalid through an accident. Twelve years ago, when diving into shallow water, he broke his neck and completely paralyzed his body. So well did Miss Peregrine discharge her duties that Mr. Duryea secured her as his permanent nurse as soon as she graduated. For four years she nursed him, and for the last seven years had been his private secretary and had charge of his business and his magnificent home at Montclair, New Jersey.

After a number of large grants to charities and relatives, Miss Peregrine is made the residuary legatee as "an expression of gratitude to my faithful friend."

INNER HISTORY OF STEEL TRUST

Gates Says Its Aim Was to Throttle Competition.

ALL FEARED CARNEGIE

Describes Midnight Conference When Great Corporation Was Planned.

Washington, May 29.—John W. Gates revealed to the house "steel trust" investigating committee Saturday the history of the United States Steel Corporation. Present at the birth of the greatest steel manufacturing concern in the world, he described how it was the natural outcome of what he described as the refusal of Andrew Carnegie to be bound by the "gentlemen's agreements" that marked the early days of open competition in the steel business.

He told also of millions lost and created almost in a breath; how the Carnegie mills, appraised at $160,000,000, were recognized as worth $320,000,000 almost within the time required to make the transfer to the corporation; the grim clash in the formative days when John D. Rockefeller was dissuaded from joining in the creation of the corporation and the manner in which others were prevented from engaging in the steel trust.

Planned to End Competition.

Relating how Carnegie had been forced to abandon plans for extending his steel business, Mr. Gates frankly admitted that the gigantic industrial combination was formed to throttle competition and he surprised the committee with the further information that when John D. Rockefeller had sought to enter the steel business a deal had been put through by which the Standard Oil magnate was forced to sell out for 40 cents on the dollar.

Characterizing Mr. Carnegie as "a bull in a China shop," Mr. Gates told of a midnight conference between himself, Charles M. Schwab and J. Pierpont Morgan at which the steel corporation was conceived and how it resulted in Carnegie getting $320,000,000 in the corporations securities for his steel interests which he previously had offered for $160,000,000 in cash.

Mr. Gates also told the committee of the taking over of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. by the U. S. Steel Corporation during the panic of 1907, a deal in which he was interested as a stockholder of the Tennessee company. This, he declared, was a forced transaction carried out by Mr. Morgan and other financial leaders to save from ruin the Trust Company of America, threatened in the financial upheaval because it had loaned too much money on stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co.

Afraid of Carnegie

Plans made by Mr. Carnegie in 1889 and 1900 to circle his steel interests with a railroad of his own and to complete with the National Tube Company, just organized by Mr. Morgan, by the erection of a tube works at Ashtabula, Ohio, were the factors that led to the birth of the steel combine. The story of the negotiations, which led up to the combination now the subject of congressional inquiry, were entertainingly told by Mr. Gates.

He revealed how Mr. Morgan, alarmed by Mr. Carnegie's plans, had sought the advice of himself and James J. Hill; how Charles M. Schwab, who, he said, was the only man who had influence with Mr. Carnegie, was called in to suggest a way "to stop Carnegie" and how the pioneer steel king of the country was curbed in his purpose, though greatly to his financial gain. He explained that the steel business was threatened with several demoralizing forces when Carnegie's plans became known and that Mr. Morgan and others became alarmed, fearing that Carnegie would demoralize both railroad interests and steel prices.

This was the situation as described by Mr. Gates when Mr. Morgan sent word to him through James J. Hill, seeking a conference to determine what could be done. Mr. Gates said he told Mr. Morgan that Charles M. Schwab was the one man who could influence Mr. Carnegie. Out of that came the all night conference at Mr. Morgan's home, the outcome of which was the United States Steel corporation.

John D. Rockefeller's lawyer came up in the conference when Mr. Gates was describing Carnegie's desires to branch out after the organization of the National Tube Co.

TWO GAMES FOR ROCHESTER.

Rochester, May 27.—Rochester took both games from Buffalo today in a double-header, the scores being 3 to 1 and 5 to 0. The first game was slow, the only thing to liven it being the sending of Speers and Corridon, Buffalo pitchers, Schirm and Pierce to the clubhouse by Umpire Kerin. Speers on retiring, threw the ball at the umpire, and for this will probably be suspended. Stroud, who replaced Speers in the fourth, remained for Buffalo. Dessau pitched for Rochester in the first game, and Holmes in the second game. Holmes allowed only two hits in the second game.

REV. DR. MILLIGAN SAYS FAREWELL

Preached Good-Bye Sermon at St. Andrew's, Toronto.

33 YEARS IN PULPIT

Beloved and Widely-Known Presbyterian Divine Going to Scotland.

Toronto, Ont., May 29. — In a singularly keen sermon, sparkling with brilliant phrases, Rev. Dr. G. M. Milligan, minister emeritus of Old St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Jarvis and Carlton streets, yesterday morning summed up his teachings during 33 years' tenure of office, and committed the charge of the congregation to the newly-appointed minister, Rev. S. Harper Gray, who will henceforward take over the conduct of the church. A very large congregation was present to hear Dr. Milligan's valedictory, and though his remarks were at all times infused with boundless optimism, a number of persons were visibly affected by the element of pathos in the occasion.

For his text the preacher chose the tenth verse of St. John, x., and adopted the reading of the American revision: "The thief cometh not, but that he may steal and kill, and destroy; I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." To realize how wonderful was the world, he said, one must realize the divine significance of the ordinary thing. To seek visible manifestations of God, and to strive after dumb show, could not result in knowledge such as came from belief; for familiarity would breed contempt, and some things could be better known without being seen. Christ had said that he was more blessed who saw not, yet believed, and it was in the line of the believers that the true apostolic succession lay.

Christianity was not a doctrine nor an observance, but a dynamic force in the world and the work of the Bible in the scheme was not to teach science, but to spiritualize men. Science lay in another department, and from the scientific viewpoint he regarded hydro-electricity and wireless telegraphy as symbols of the divine spirit as evidences of religion in their disclosure of long latent, yet ultimate, truths of the universe.

"In going away from you," Dr. Milligan concluded, "I feel as though I were leaving my own son in Jesus Christ to succeed to the care of the congregation. Mr. Gray's father was my own minister, and I know him well. I am delighted at the discrimination you have shown in making this selection. It may take you a little time to get into his ways and he into yours; but I know you will not be disappointed in the end. For my own part, I shall be with you in spirit always and it will ever remain in my prayers that the essence of things may continue to be emphasized in this church as I have emphasized it, and that you may never be led astray by the institutional and the formal. May you never make the mistake of confounding the storm signal with the mighty power that makes the storm."

The evening service at Old St. Andrew's yesterday was conducted by the new minister, Mr. Gray, who also preached his introductory sermon.

THE NOBLE AXEMEN.

It is a singular spectacle to witness this action of the British Lords who take axe in hand and rushing into the fine old park of the Constitution strike at their own aged oak, the Hereditary House. For ages this oak has spread its boughs to shelter them. Its strength and greenness have been the admiration of the world, and though cut down once by the Roundheads of 1649, it sprang again as a tower and refuge of privilege. Of late the glory has been departing, the acorns have been fewer, the trunk has mouldered to hollowness that booms to the ingrate axe of the destroying noblemen.

Not all of Lansdowne's men enjoy their task. Petrified hereditarians feel no heart in them actually to strike a blow at the grand old ruin of what did them good. "About to die we salute thee" is pretty much their sentiment, as they lend their reluctant presence and sanction to the impious but, as they fear, necessary act. In view for the last time, as they propose, of the ancient, sacred tree, they all perceive its majesty in decay. How beautiful a ruin! More beautiful and worthy in its present uselessness, more glorious in its mossy gnarledness than any young shoot of the park! How many times the lords have climbed into its branches to enrich or save themselves by blocking legislation for the people! There are thus sacred associations of beneficence about this lovely relic, beautiful in its sublime decay, touching in its history. What sacrilege after all to cut it down in the November of its life, in order that a neighboring offshoot, the tree of Toryism, may not suffer the menace of its overthrow by the winter-storm of radicalism.

Some of the peers make open protest. They will not be dragooned by the Marquis of Lansdowne into so unnatural an act. Backwoodsmen rush about among them crying "Spare the tree." These extracts from the debate in the upper chamber on the Lansdowne reform proposals, will illustrate the grief and maledictions of the noble marquis' unwilling flock. It is Lord Willoughby de Broke who is speaking:

"It was indeed the saddest debate they had ever had in that House. (Laughter.) He should go to his grave with an unquenchable belief in all the virtues and none of the vices of the hereditary principle. If he had his way with regard to the situation which had been created, he should have liked to hear the noble marquis deny that there was a constitutional question, and he should have liked to hear the noble marquis tell noble lords opposite and their friends to go to perdition and enjoy the inevitable fate that awaited people who went there. (Laughter.)"

Another backwoodsman, Earl Bathurst, thus poured out his bitterness of soul:

"He wished to protest with all his strength against the course proposed by Lord Lansdowne. He believed that the House of Lords was the best possible House which could be devised by human beings as a second chamber for this country. . . . He had spoken to many noble lords as to their opinion on the Lansdowne bill. So far he had not met one who really in his heart of hearts approved of the measure. If the bill passed it would be useless and it would of a certainty be rejected in the other House. He hoped noble lords would stand firm to their opinions, and instead of voting as they were recommended to by their leader, would vote according to their consciences, and as they thought best for the good of the country."

The hopeful element in the situation, to all who love old beauty, old heraldry, old history, "old bareness picturesque" with moss, old ruins with ivy twined, is that the Radicals will, as Earl Bathurst says, come to the rescue. They will save the ancient oak from its nurselings and fair weather friends. The siege will be raised and clumsy axes turned aside. The park of the Constitution shall not be desecrated by ingrate peers. The grand old House of Lords, centre and glory of the park, dead already at the top, hollow within weakening in its roots, shall yet live out its November, perhaps, who knows? with a brief but beautiful Indian summer, until in due time the new Liberal second chamber may be ready to replace the old one.

MR. FISHER'S WARNING.

There were three topics of chief importance in Mr. Sydney Fisher's speech. As regards reciprocity, he prophesied that the two million dollars worth of dairy exports to the United States last year from the Eastern Townships of Quebec would in two years, under the operation of the agrement, grow to twenty millions. This ought to please the eastern farmers. They know that Mr. Fisher knows.

Returning to election talk, the Minister of Agriculture was loudly applauded when he declared that neither the people nor the Government wanted an election two years ahead of time. Much less was an election wanted before the census results could be fully known, and the decennial redistribution bill drawn up; this would not be possible before October, while the Opposition has as yet permitted the passing of supplies only till September. It, however, on the reassembling of Parliament in July, the Opposition should persist in their obstructive tactics to prevent the passing of supplies, the minority thus bringing administration to an impasse, Mr. Fisher intimated that the Government would simply be forced to appeal at once to the country.

It would, as Mr. Fisher said, be most unfair to force an election before redistribution is made. But it seems just possible that that is what the Opposition intends to do, by a refusal of supply. Conservative journals are evidently getting ready to blame the Government for the very thing that their party at Ottawa may force—an election timed to prevent the full expression of the Liberal opinion of the west. The Opposition has good reason to dread the increase of 25 members from that quarter. Will it be capable of the political crime of disfranchising the new population there? This is what it may effect with its weapon of unlimited talk and obstruction, as Mr. Fisher pointed out.

Right here came in the most interesting point of the minister's address. Standing as a Liberal for free speech in Parliament, he complained of its abuse. He did not conceal his opinion that "the time has come when we should carefully abridge the right of free speech in Parliament so that the majority chosen to carry on the affairs of the country may be able to do so." Significantly he recurred to this subject of the closure at the end of his speech. "If the Opposition is going to prevent government by the majority, we shall have to appeal to the people and then change the parliamentary rules in such a way that the Government elected by the people may carry out the will of the people." After the election is over, then, when the Government comes back to power by the increased majority which Mr. Fisher predicts, it may adopt the British closure rule for Canada, without exposing itself to the charge of not having made the subject an election issue.

THE TEMPER OF THE WEST.

The Leader of Regina puts in tabloid form the opinion in Saskatchewan on the reciprocity agreement, thus:

FOR THE AGREEMENT.

The Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan.
The Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association.
The Agricultural Societies' Convention of Saskatchewan.
The Union of Saskatchewan Rural Municipalities.
The Canadian Council of Agriculture in convention at Regina.
The Regina Board of Trade and all other boards of trade in Saskatchewan that have voted on the agreement.

AGAINST THE AGREEMENT.

The Conservative Association of Moosejaw.
The Conservative Association of Regina.

Here is another tabloid record of Saskatchewan's opinion of the agreement:

FOR RECIPROCITY.

Liberal M. L. As. 27.
Conservative M. L. As. 14.
Liberal M. P.s—9.

AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Liberal M. P.s—None.
Conservative M. L. As.—None.
Liberal M. P.s—None.
Conservative M. P.s—None.

IN DOUBT.

Conservative M. P.s—One (R. S. Lake).

It is clear from these tables that Liberals and Conservatives alike in Saskatchewan will stand by the Government on the reciprocity issue. A few partisans in Regina and Moosejaw lie up high and dry on the anti shelf, but the farmers, businessmen and legislators en masse are for the agreement.

As the same condition of affairs prevails beyond question in Alberta, and largely in rural Manitoba, the talk of some Conservative organs about the Government's desiring to go to that country before redistribution becomes laughable. Neither principle nor policy will warrant such a step, unless it is forced on the Government by refusal of supplies. Speaking in Eastern Quebec on Saturday, Hon. Sydney Fisher said that the present House of 221 members would be increased to 245 after the census, the increase being entirely in the overwhelming Liberal west. As there will, in fact, be a decrease, if anything, in the representation of the eastern provinces, the increase from the west will be from 25 to 50. The outlook is hopeless from the anti-reciprocity viewpoint.

All citizens should facilitate the work of the census enumerators this week.

The new Queen Victoria memorial places a symbolical figure on top, and the Queen's figure on the side. Isn't this lese majeste, according to a Toronto ruling?

Dr. Orville Owen, the Detroit Baconian, has given up the search in the River Wye for Shakespeare's head. Evidently the cipher was not deciphered, and Dr. O. O. is now himself a cipher. Out, brief candle!

The Toronto World, anti-reciprocity, says that "Conservatives have nothing to gain by a redistribution and for that matter, the party is not committed to it." What a fine text for Mr. Borden in his western travels!

Through the columns of the London Times an appeal is made to the Imperial Conference to intervene in the dispute between the two legislative chambers in Great Britain. The man who gives such advice deserves to be put in a padded chamber. He is a real danger to the Empire if he amounts to anything in his own country.

Edmund Burke's ideal of Empire is as sound and applicable today as when uttered a century and a quarter ago:

"I have in general no very exalted opinion of paper government. My hold of the colonies is in the close affection which grows from common names, from kindred blood, from similar privileges and equal protection. These are ties which, though light as air, are strong as links of steel."

Canadians have sometimes had reason to complain of the "shirt-sleeves" diplomacy and bullying attitude of American politicians and journals of the spread-eagle type, now almost extinct; but there has been nothing more offensive in that quarter in many years than the references to President Taft by some Canadians. Sir James Whitney publicly accused him of falsehood and one Toronto journal daily pillories the champion of Anglo-American amity as an enemy of the Empire because he expressed a fear that imperial preferential trade would build a Chinese wall between Canada and the United States, and head off reciprocity forever if it were not accepted now. To represent the President as advocating reciprocity in order to head off imperial preferential trade is an utter perversion of his meaning. Henceforth Canadian cannot throw stones as the tail-twisters across the Line.

GLAD RELIEF.

[Harper's Weekly.]

"Thank heaven, those bills are got rid off," said Bilkins fervently, as he tore up a bundle of statements of account dated October 1.

"All paid, eh?" said Mrs. Bilkins.

"Oh, no," said Bilkins, "the duplicates dated November 1 have come in and I don't have to keep these any longer."

A NEIGHBORLY COMMENT.

[Detroit News.]

"Canada and the United States propose to continue to show the world two nations with the longest boundary, extending from ocean to ocean, living in peace and mutual respect, without a fortress, a soldier, a gun on either side of the boundary."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the London conference of British colonial premiers.

The applauding of this note, struck by the eloquent Sir Wilfrid, revealed the significance of the peaceful boundary on which we live, a boundary that has had no like in history. And we who live upon it know well how precious is that peace and international amity that enables us to move about our daily affairs without arms. Well-meaning counsellors tell us that without exchanging blows between neighbors we become effeminate, that without firing slung-shot across the river of a morning, and waylaying a party with bayonets at night, without commanding our neighbors' bedrooms before breakfast and lifting his family's windpipe for afternoon relaxation, we degenerate. This boundary line with two vigorous peoples living side by side without violence gives the lie to the whole army of jingoes who yelp for war, but never seem to get themselves lost.

As a monument of peace this undefended frontier is without a rival. Let us hope that no cardal land will ever deface it.

THE KING'S HEAVY CROWN.

[Manchester Guardian.]

Anyone who glances through the coronation service will see that the King has to wear the crown for a long time. The crown weighs between four and five pounds, a very heavy burden, so heavy that King Edward had to retire several times during his coronation to the sacristy to rest. According to the Figaro, during one of these pauses he observed: "People often speak of the burden of a crown; but all the philosophers and poets who have written of it do not know how heavy it can weigh."

It seems customary for crowns to be intolerably weighty. When Charles VII. was crowned Holy Roman Emperor in 1742 at Frankfurt he was ill, and a chronicler recorded that he almost collapsed under the weight of the crown. The unfortunate emperors had to wear their crowns at the coronation banquet, and Charles VII.'s suite, looking at his deathly white face and the sweat pouring down from his brow, expected him to faint at any moment.

AMERICANS WANT THE BEST

And They Are Sure To Find It at the Hotel St. Regis.

Said a prominent New York hotelman recently in commenting on the difference between American and foreign hotels: "The American public always wants the best and is willing to pay a fair price for it, whether it concerns chefs, hotel service or operas. New York hotels pay well for a really first-class chef, and consider it economy to do so. It must be recognized, however, that Americans, while Liberal in expenditure are quick to resent extortion."

A result satisfactory to all guests is the aim of every proprietor of a first-class modern hotel. In the Hotel St. Regis, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, New York City, this result has been attained to a reasonable degree. It was reached by a definite effort that aimed at perfection in hotel design, supervision and service, and that began long before the architect's plans were drawn. The result is not perfection—no human effort can be—but it so nearly reaches that desideratum that it would be difficult to find a dissatisfied patron among its guests. The St. Regis restaurant has no superior in all the world in quality of food, skill in preparation and perfection of service; while the charges are no higher than those of other first-class hotels. Transient guests coming to New York and stopping at the Hotel St. Regis will find accommodations of the very highest grade in every particular, and at standard rates. Single rooms are $3 and $4 a day; the same with private bath for $5 a day (or $6 for two people); while for a parlor, bedroom and private bath the rates are $12 a day and up.

Four of Train Crew Go To Death in Wreck.

BRIDGE WAS BURNED

Fifteen Loaded Coal Cars and Two Engines Piled Up.

[Canadian Press.]

Charlotte, N. C., May 29.—A double header coal train plunged through a burning trestle two miles east of Rossville last night, killing Engineers R. M. Green and J. M. Lindsey and Firemen Roy Doley and Earl Tomas, all of Monroe, N. C.

Conductor Frank Howell, of Charlotte, is unaccounted for.

Fifteen of the 29 loaded coal cars crashed through the fire-eaten woodwork of the trestle into Wilkin's Creek, piling up on the two engines, and burying the victims in a mass of wreckage. The heavy train was loaded with coal from the Clinchfield mines, destined for the coast, and was picked up by the Seaboard at Boston.

A wrecking train was immediately dispatched from Monroe with physicians.

Gates was arrested on an indictment warrant charging him with forgery in indorsing a check for $3,000 on Oct. 28, 1909, and uttering the same, and also for the larceny of $5,761.26 in four counts from a Cambridge woman.

BULGAR AND TURK FIGHT ON FRONTIER

Incident Makes More Critical Strained Balkan Situation.

[Canadian Press.]

London, May 29.—Although several of the powers have refused to support Russia's note to Turkey with reference to the mobilization of Turkey's troops on the Montenegran frontier, the near eastern situation presents disquieting aspects. Another serious frontier incident occurred Saturday in the Kostendil district, in Bulgaria. Turkish and Bulgarian frontier guards came into collision, and intermittent firing continued throughout the day. One Turkish officer and two soldiers were killed and one Bulgarian was wounded. Finally the Bulgarian minister of war sent peremptory orders to stop firing. The two governments then agreed to appoint a mixed commission to investigate the affair.

According to the Chronicle's Constantinople correspondent, Montenegro and Bulgaria are backed by Russia in arranging an anti-Turkish coalition.

WILD TIME AT IQUIQUE

Diplomatic Connections Between Chili and Peru Severed a Year Ago.

[Canadian Press.]

Iquique, Chile, May 29.—A mob yesterday attacked the Peruvian Club and burned the flag of Peru. Troops were summoned to quell the rioting, and several persons were wounded. The Peruvian consul has resigned, and has asked the United States consul to protect Peruvian interests.

The organization of the mob and the rioting that followed were the outcome of publication in the newspapers that the Chilian consulate at Callao, Peru, had been attacked and the consul wounded.

Diplomatic representations between Peru and Chili were severed more than a year ago. This action was brought about by the expulsion of Peruvian priests from the Provinces of Tacni and Arica. The ownership of these two provinces is in dispute.

MADERO FINDS PLOT TO OVERTHROW LEADER

American's Plan to Start a Counter Revolution Nipped in the Bud.

[Canadian Press.]

El Paso, Texas, May 29.—What is looked to by Francisco I. Madero as a well laid plot in Mexico City to overthrow his leadership and to start a counter revolution against him, was revealed last night in the arrest of Daniel De Villiers, of Mexico City.

W. D. Dunn, an American, acting on a telegram received by Madero's chief military adviser, was arrested in Monterey, Mexico, by a detective who had trailed him from El Paso. Madero, according to the details given out by him, was fully advised of the scheme and allowed it to be encouraged. A ten days' trailing by detectives then began. The plot involved the death of Madero, according to the statements of Madero's officers. General Villigen, the former Boer commander, says the two, acting on behalf of the Cientifico party, offered him $25,000, while they offered General Pasquale Orlenzo large sums, and the command of Northern Mexico.

COOL SUBSTITUTES FOR MEAT IN HOT WEATHER

The housewife who wishes to substitute with greater or less frequency some other food for the meat dishes ordinarily served has a number of food materials at her disposal which will answer the purpose. The most common are undoubtedly fish, milk, dried beans, and other similar legumes, and cheese. Most persons relish meat, and it is doubtless true that the palatability of the diet for the majority is quite largely determined by the meat dishes. It is therefore desirable in substituting other foods for meat to take especial pains to serve palatable dishes which are relished by the members of the family, as well as materials similar to meat in composition and digestibility.

The ways of serving fish are in general the same of those for meat. There are numerous palatable dishes in which eggs or milk are used which are well fitted to supply protein and energy in palatable form. The high nutritive value of beans, cowpeas, and other dried legumes makes this class of foods especially useful as substitutes for meat of vegetable origin. It is usually the custom to add considerable fat in cooking legumes.

Nuts which contain an abundance of protein and fat are also substituted for meat and are used much more commonly as staple articles of diet in this country than was once the case.

Those who wish to make substitutions of these foods for meat often desire to know how much of each is necessary in order to replace a given amount of meat. If we consider only the proteins of the meat, the following general statement may be made: 2½ quarts milk, 1½ pounds of fresh lean fish, ¾ pound dried fish, ⅔ pound ordinary cheese, somewhat less than a pound of mixed nut meats, 9 eggs, ½ pound peanut butter, or two-thirds of a pint dry beans, peas, cowpeas, or lentils is equal to a pound of beef of average composition.

The ways in which these substitutes for meat can be used are numerous and varied. Individual taste and food habits are to be considered, but, in general, it is true that the relish with which other dishes are accepted in a place of meat depends upon the ingenuity and skill of the cook. It seems a foundation principle that as meat is a savory dish, any acceptable substitute for it must also be savory or must be made so by suitable seasoning and proper cooking.

THE CABLEMAN

BY WEATHERBY CHESNEY.

CHAPTER XXVI.

The Philosophy of Croesus.

"Now, Horace," said Varney, "dispose your forces. We all put ourselves under your orders. What are we to do?"

Scarborough turned to Scott.

"Are you free to join in?" he asked.

"Yes," said Scott. "I've arranged for both your duty and mine in the instructions to be taken for us. You promised that I should be in at the death, you know, so I made Mason and the Patriot volunteer to see our work through."

"Good. Then, Phil, will you go to the coast. I think Montague was right, and that if they find the diamonds they'll try to get away at once. Find out where Gillies' boat is lying, and keep an eye on her. If you see them trying to escape, stop them if you can; we shan't be far behind, I hope, and will come to your help. If you can't stop them, follow them in Miss Carrington's boat, find out the name of the ship that picks them up, and we'll cable to the American ports, and have them stopped when they try to land. Scott and I will go to Sete Cidades."

"What about us?" asked Elsa. "Muriel and I claim to be included in your arrangements."

"Then I arrange that you shall both stay here," said Scarborough at once. "Our work may not be of a kind that you ought to share."

Elsa's upper lip tightened with the line of obstinacy that Scarborough had seen more than once before.

"I shall go with you and Mr. Scott to Sete Cidades," she said quietly, and he knew that it was useless to argue further.

"Very well," he said. "And Miss Davis?"

"Somewhere along the coast opposite the Ring Rock," said Scarborough.

"All right, off you go! But, Phil—I don't know what you young people have found out today, so I don't know whether your duty tonight involves danger or not—but if the choice is offered to you between letting the diamonds go and risking your life to get them, think of my little girl and let them go. Mr. Scarborough, I ask you to back me up in this."

"I shall be all right," said Varney, before Scarborough could answer. "But how long am I to stick down there, Horace?"

Mr. Davis laughed.

"He wants to hasten back to his wooing!" he said. "I'll drive Muriel over to see you tomorrow, Phil, and you and she can have an hour together without the necessity of abandoning your duty to get it."

"But if there is danger——" Varney began, doubtfully.

"I don't propose to let my daughter share it, of course," said Mr. Davis. "You young people have been far too busy, I suppose, to have had time to observe the fact that the Island of San Miguel has suffered today from an earthquake. I hear that a new islet has been suddenly formed in the sea near the Ring Rock, and as it probably will disappear again in a few days, I want to see it. That's why Muriel and I will be in the neighborhood of your sentry-beat tomorrow."

Varney said no more, but set off at once, and when he had gone, Davis said to Scarborough:

"I have to thank you for giving me the chance of making that young man's acquaintance. He possesses the excellent combination of high spirits and sound common sense. He is a fine fellow, and I like him immensely. I shall give my daughter to him with perfect trust that he will make her happy, and that's a great thing for a father to be able to say nowadays. Now, won't you read your letter? Scott rode over with it from Ribeira Grande on the chance of meeting you here, and I gathered that he thought it was important. You need not grudge a minute of two. Miss Carrington won't be ready just yet, you know. The girls always have confidences to exchange on an occasion like this."

Scarborough had forgotten about the letter, which he still held unopened in his hand. He opened it now. It was from the uncle whom Scott had christened Croesus.

"My Dear Horace," it began. "As from the letter of yours, which I received this morning I gather that you still consider that my opinion is of importance, I'll give it to you straight away. It's this—If you meet a good woman and love her, marry her, if she loves you in return. There's a lot of humbug preached nowadays about the folly of marrying if you haven't this much or that much a year—the exact sum varies according to the social position of the preacher—on which to keep the home going. That's nonsense. Marry on nothing a year, if that is your income, and if you are both young and healthy, and if you love each other. Then put your heads together and find a way of making the nothing into a sum of four figures. If you reverse the process, and wait for the wife until you have a four figures to keep her on, the chances are that you will find that one of two things has happened: either a better and bolder man than you has stepped in and taken the prize from you, or you have outgrown the power of loving. For love, Horace, the real thing, the thing that poets sing of, comes to a man only when he is young; but if he gives it a proper welcome then, it will stay with him when he is old; if he does it, bless, and it never comes back. There is many a middle-aged man in London now—prosperous, contented, perhaps, and very likely married to a woman whom he placidly loves—and yet he misses the supreme joy of life, missed it irretrievably, because he had not the gift to snatch it when it came. A man is apt to think that because he holds himself a man, and will not ask a woman to share his early struggles, he is doing something selfish. The joy is in the fight, the winning battle against the world, for the one person in the whole world whom you love best; but do you think that joy is an exclusively male prerogative? The woman, if she loves you, can fight as bravely, as joyously as you. What right have you to deny her the chance of the battle?"

A Bridal Shower.

Dear Miss Grey,—I intend having a shower for a girl friend, prior to her marriage. 1. What kind of a shower would you suggest? 2. How should the invitations be worded? 3. Should the name of each guest be attached to their gift? 4. Suggest a way to give the gifts. Thanking you in advance.

A VILLAGE MAIDEN.

A.—There are many kinds of showers given to brides-to-be nowadays. The following are suggested as being most acceptable: Table napkins, towels, pillow cases, handkerchiefs, hosiery, chinaware or general kitchen utensils, jars of preserved fruit. 2. The invitations are usually given verbally, as those present are frequently in charge of affair and all personal friends of the girl to be honored. However, informal notes simply stating what, where and when, might be sent out. 3. Yes, also a little couplet or a breezy line or two conveying best wishes to the bride-to-be. 4. If the gifts are of linen, the recipient is often seated in the place of honor and literally showered with the articles, handkerchiefs, towels or whatever they may be. A pretty way is to arrange a screen or bower of plants, ferns and flowers, and have the articles concealed behind. A ribbon is attached to each gift and the guests all draw at once. The bit of verse and name of the giver is then read aloud.

Dear Miss Grey,—What will take black paint out of a pink gingham dress? Answer in The Advertiser. LADY EOLA.

A.—Rub with turpentine to soften the lead; then with benzine.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a young man of rather retiring nature, and a young lady some time ago, when I met her at different times, said that I might call at her home. I neglected this, and now, when I see her, she asks me in a sort of sneering way to call. Do you think that she is sincere about it? What do you advise? Yours truly. ROBIN.

A.—I think it would only be fair to call upon the young lady. She probably feels hurt because you have not done so before this.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer the following questions, thanking you in advance: 1. Do you know of anything that is good to enlarge one's instep? And if there is anything good to make one's eyelashes long and thick? 2. If you know of any simple remedy that will cure salt rheum, as I have tried so many things? I remain, HOPEFUL.

A.—1. No. 2. A little vaseline or olive oil rubbed in each night will assist the growth. 2. It is said that an ointment made of 15 to 20 grains of chrysophanic acid, mixed with each ounce of cosmoline, will cure this disease. Apply it after a warm bath.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have got a new pair of Oxfords, with extension soles. They are my usual size, but they are most uncomfortable. The soles seem very stiff and hard, like planks. My feet feel tender and swollen this hot weather. Could you tell me of something to soak the soles in to make them soft and limber? I shall be very grateful for your Sincerity yours, JESSIE.

A.—You had better place the shoes aside. In time they will doubtless have more "give" to them. A good hint is to wear a pair of old ones while at work, breaking the new ones in for that wear. Bathe the feet night and morning, and use some preparation recommended by a druggist to make them feel more comfortable.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. Kindly give recipe for brown George cake, also orange icing. 2. Will tight skirts be worn in the fall, or what kind? 3. When being introduced to a young man, if seated should one rise and shake hands, and what should one say? 4. Will sweet milk keep one from getting tanned, and should one allow it to dry on the face? Thanking you in advance, A FRIEND.

A.—1. I cannot locate the recipe for this cake. To make the icing, squeeze the juice of an orange over the grated rind and let it stand an hour. Then strain the juice, add to it a coffee cup of confectioner's sugar, and the yolk of an egg; beat until stiff enough to spread on the cake. 2. Fashions indicate that skirts will be wider and looser after the summer season. 3. It is not necessary to do either unless you wish. Merely say "How do you do?" or a similar phrase. 4. Either buttermilk or sweet milk will help to keep the skin soft and white. Bathe after cleansing the face well.

A WOMAN'S BACK

Not One Woman in Twenty Has a Strong Back.

The kidneys are to blame nine times out of ten.

Mrs. A. H. Hutton, Jr., McCreary, Man., writes: "Two years ago last spring I had a very severe pain in the small of my back. When I would rise it seemed as if my back would break. My kidneys were very badly out of order, and I would have to get up three or four times during the night. I took one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they effected a cure."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1 25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

When the blood isn't properly filtered the poisons that ought to be carried off by the kidneys are sent back through the system, and it's hardly to be wondered that backaches and lame backs come to make life miserable.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by expelling all the poisonous matter from the kidneys, and then heal the delicate membranes and make their action regular and natural.

RECIPES

German Bread.

One cup scalded milk, one cup cold water, two level tablespoonfuls butter, one level teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, one yeast cake dissolved in one-fourth cup lukewarm water, two and one-half cups graham flour, one and one-half cups white flour.

Pour the hot milk into the bread pan and add the butter, salt and sugar. When the butter is melted, add the cold water. When the liquid is lukewarm add the yeast and stir in the flour. Beat well and let rise until double in bulk. Cut down and beat again; turn into well greased bread pans and let rise until nearly double. Bake for one hour in a moderate oven. This makes two small loaves.

Raisin Pie.

One and one-half cups seeded raisins, one cup cold water, one-half cup sugar, one lemon sliced thin, one level tablespoonful flour. Line a pie plate with paste, add the raisins, water and sugar, well mixed. Lay the slices of lemon on top and sprinkle with flour. Cover with paste in the usual way and bake for 45 minutes.

Italian Chop Suey.

Use three large onions, 10 to 15 cents' worth of chopped round steak, one five-cent package of spaghetti, one-half can of condensed tomato soup, three tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and paprika to taste. Cook the spaghetti in a kettle of rapidly boiling water until tender—about 20 minutes. In the meantime cook the finely sliced onions in the butter until soft and a golden brown, then push them aside in the pan, toss in the beef and with increased heat sear quickly, then let it cook until well done and nicely browned. When the spaghetti is tender drain well, put back in kettle, and add the tomato soup, and when all is well heated through and the beef and onions, season to taste, stir up well and serve very hot.

Oatmeal Cookies.

To make oatmeal cookies, use three cups oatmeal, sifted; three cups flour, one cup sugar, one cup lard, one cup hot water, one tablespoonful soda. Mix the flour and oatmeal together and work in the lard, then add the sugar and lastly the water with the soda dissolved in it. Roll thin and bake quickly.

Pork Chops En Casserole.

Have the chops cut an inch thick. Trim off all the fat and brown it in a fryer, then add to the chops, which should be dusted with pepper and salt; fry in a flat bottomed casserole. Cover with a layer of thinly sliced, pared onion, a shredded green pepper, seeds and white membrane removed; then pour over a can of tomatoes pressed through a sieve. Cover and cook one hour in a moderate oven. When ready to serve add one tablespoon of butter and more salt if necessary.

Ginger Pudding With Lemon Sauce.

Two cups of flour sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder, one half teaspoon of salt, one half teaspoon of ground cloves, two teaspoons ginger. Mix well with two tablespoons of clarified soup fat, one-half cup of molasses, one-half cup of brown sugar, one-half cups of milk. Steam in a mold one hour. Stewed grated rind and juice of one lemon, one-half cup of sugar mixed with one level teaspoon of flour and one of butter, boiled with two cups of water.

UNPROFESSIONAL.

London, May 27.—The general medical council has found three medical men guilty of unprofessional conduct owing to their association with Sandow's Institute, and has ordered the name of one struck off the register, and given the others time to consider their position.

The chief complaint against them is that they acquiesced in advertising.

The Daily Express criticises the council's action and contends it will next put a ban on brass door plates and red lamps.

The Rejuvenated London Team Wins in Fourteen Rounds

TECUMSEHS ANNEX OVERTIME CONTEST

Defeat Hamilton in Whirlwind Fourteen Inning Battle, 7 to 6.

NICHOLLS' RUN DECIDES

Star Second Sacker Shows Brains on the Paths — Rankin and Hynes on the Mound.

In a fierce fourteen-inning game on Saturday, the London team broke their losing streak, trimming Naughty Lee's Crabs by a score of 7 to 6.

Nothing has stirred the fans in this fair city in many years like that battle, and if the Londons keep playing the brand of ball they did Saturday, win or lose, there will always be several citizens in the stand to make a noise. Incidentally it might be remarked that 1,500—not stuffed figures, either—persons ate a cold meal after the game. It was some past 7 p.m. when the last inhabitant trekked his way out of the grounds.

Now, about the game. It was joy enough to the fans to see the team show symptoms of getting past the losing streak, but when they served up an article of ball that was not only interesting, but positively brilliant, it caused the Anvil Chorus to weep tears of regret that their occupations were gone. The fact is, there never was a more riotous, hat-smashing, nerve-racking session in London for long enough than followed the run that gave the Home-Brews victory.

There was only one variety of ball served up by both teams, and that was good ball. The common or garden variety was lost sight of for once, and in its place was the brilliant, more finished article expected of gents who expect some day to fill the shoes of Ty Cobb and Hans Wagner.

Visitors Started It.

Both teams started out as if it were going to be a clubbing session, with a cricket score in sight. The Hams drew first blood, scoring one in the first spasm.

London evened it up in the third, when some consecutive hitting drove in a score. The Hame came back with one in the fourth, when some slow thinking allowed a tally to trickle across. Not to be outdone, Keenan's Kids evened it up, an error and a hit doing the terrible deed.

In the fifth, however, it looked as if London was going to follow their usual custom, and accumulate another walloping. Lee's Crabs went in and chased four runs across the platter, all due to keen base work and some lusty hitting. Then the fans whispered, "I told you so," and some of the weak-hearted gentry started to pick up their traps and move out to the suburbs. However, as they say in the bok, the Tecumsehs thought differently, and they started after one Mr. Keating, hurler for the Hams, and although he is a nice rosy-cheeked fellow, with a kindly manner, they smote him hip and thigh, or words to that effect. Six lusty wallops were accumulated off his alleged benders, and when the last man was tagged to his finish, four runs were recorded in the great score book, tying the game. There was some excitement during the siesta, and some of the rooters were more or less mussed up when quiet was restored.

Kolseth to the Rescue.

At this juncture Naughty Lee trotted out Mr. Kolseth to do the trundling, when Jo-Jo Keenan exhibited Mr. Hynes, the original slat. The bugs sat back to enjoy a real game of ball from that time on. For eight innings both teams went scoreless, London finally breaking it up in the fourteenth.

Perhaps Mr. Hynes did not pitch some ball! He had his curve breaking to perfection, and that, coupled with steam and a fine change of pace, had the Crabs hitting the ozone frequently. His was a masterly game, and he deserved to win. The Human Semaphore has it in him to pitch a lot of games like this one, and if he does there need be no fear about the ability of the London team. He is some ballplayer, and he showed it. Time after time the Hams had men on the cushions, but he tightened up, and always avoided trouble. As the game progressed he got better, whiffing four men in the last two innings.

Kolseth pitched a mighty clever game, also. This fellow is a good one, make no mistake, and looks the best that the visitors have in sight. He had great curves, good control, and a baseball head. It was through no fault of his that he lost the game.

Nichols Decides It.

The winning run was scored by Nichols. The boy waited for four bad ones. The last one was a curve that Barton failed to hold. Nichols saw it go by, and kept on going, winding up at second before the Hamilton team could collect themselves. McDonald, the next man up, struck out, but Brant was equal to the occasion. With two strikes on him, he picked out a good one, and shot it on a line to right field. Nichols started for home with the crack of the bat. Knotty Lee fielded the ball, but he fumbled it for a moment. He then made a good throw to the plate, but Nichols slid under Barton, winning the game by inches. It was a great finish to a great game. Had Lee fielded the ball quickly, he might have caught Nichols at the plate.

For London, Brant, on short, played a particularly brilliant game. He was all over the infield, and he never made a blunder. There are several good shortstops in the Canadian League, but this man Brant looks like the real thing. He was there with the willow, gathering four nice swats. Nichols was good also, showing cleverness. He is a real baseball player. Pancratz was brilliant in the sun field, and was in the game all the time. Peacock caught the best game he has shown this season, and it was a beauty. He made no blunders, worked all the time, and never lost a chance to do something. He tied the game with a two-base wallop in the fifth and hit well all afternoon.

McDonald Improving.

McDonald looks better every time out. He fielded well, and had three hits.

For Hamilton, Grieves, the shortstop, was there every minute. He is a ballplayer and will move up. At that, he has nothing on Brant. Lee, Barton and Killilea did some tall hitting for the visitors.

A peculiar feature of the game was the fact that for twelve innings Kenny on first, Barton and Grieves, had all the put-outs in the game. Not an outfielder had a chance all afternoon. In the thirteenth Killilea and Murphy got a put-out each.

The game was not improved by the senseless kicking of the Hamilton team. Lee and his bunch of crabs should be talked to by the league authorities. They were simply sickening on Saturday. Lee himself is the worst offender. He is old enough to know better. It might be suggested that Mr. Lee should keep his witticisms for home consumption. His habit of arguing and talking with spectators is neither funny nor exciting—it is simply tiresome.

The fans had their first and last look at Mr. Eggett, the new umpire. It was a lovely guessing contest on balls and strikes, and his decisions on the bases were not always right. He played no favorites, however. A new umpire will be along this week.

Chaucer Elliott's Pitching Staff Will Be Immediately Strengthened.

Brantford, May 28.—Brantford made a slaughter out of the game with St. Thomas here on Saturday, winning by 24 to 5. Y., and Terre Haute have been ordered to report. Outfielder Harrison and Catcher Lamond, of Brockton, reported to Brantford today. Score:

JOHNSON BEATS OWN TEAM IN OVERTIME GAME

Boss of Guelph Crew Allows Berlin to Score in Eleventh on Wild Throw.

Guelph, May 28.—Saturday's game with Berlin was a repetition of the one of the day previous for fireworks, only it had a different finish. Orth, the Guelph pitcher, was soon disposed of. Up to the ninth inning it was a listless game, devoid of spectacular play, and chiefly remarkable for the fact that Berlin was in the lead all the time by three runs, and holding the Leafs down by superior playing. But in the ninth the balloon went up. With two men out, it looked as if all was over for Guelph, but, with two men on bases, McWhirter came to bat. He picked out a daisy for a home run, which tied the score. There was no scoring in the tenth, and there would not have been any in the eleventh had not Johnson made a terribly bad throw for an easy out, which allowed two men to score. That ended the scoring, and made an even break in the series. St. Thomas comes here Monday and Tuesday. The score:

Cincinnati, May 28.—Pittsburg beat Cincinnati 7 to 5 today. Leifield and Suggs were both hit hard, but the Pirates' hits came more timely. ## LAJOIE MAY HAVE PLAYED LAST GAME

Larey May Not Return to Diamond as Result of Injury.

Chicago, May 28. — Larry Lajoie may not return to the diamond again this season, and probably he has played his last game of ball.

This is the sad news that was learned yesterday from Manager Stovall, when the Naps came to Chicago to battle with the White Sox. One of the greatest stars baseball has ever produced, and although in the game for many years, an accident may cut the career of Lajoie at a time when he is far from the backward grade.

The great second baseman injured himself in a game with St. Louis, May 17. He rested for two weeks and got into the game against the Athletics last Monday. However, Lajoie failed to regain his strength, and he has been out of the fray ever since, with doubts of returning this campaign.

The retirement of Lajoie would mean the passing of one of the kings of the pastime. He has been a major leaguer for thirteen years, and in that time batted above .300 in all but two seasons. He broke into prominence with the Philadelphia Nationals, and during the war days jumped to Cleveland.

MEMSIC ASKS FOR MORE MONEY—BOUT CALLED OFF

Los Angeles, May 27.—The Johnny McCarthy-George Memsic battle at Vernon was called off this afternoon by Promoter Tom McCarey on the advice of the crowd of spectators to whom McCarey appealed when Memsic announced that he would not fight unless he was given more money. McCarthy was in the ring at the time ready to go on.

WON'T STAND FOR UMPIRE BAITING

Eastern League President Fines and Suspends Many Players.

JOE KELLY DRAWS $50

Joe McGinnity and Player Nee, of Newark, in Riot at Home Battle.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, N. Y., May 29.—President Edward Barrow of the Eastern League denounced the rowdyism that marked several games Saturday and Sunday by dealing out today a wholesale lot of fines and suspensions.

Players Corridan, Pierce, Schirm, Beckendorf and Stallings of the Buffalo Club were fined $50 each for their part in the baiting of Umpire Kerin at Rochester Saturday, and Pitcher Speer, of the same team, who threw the ball at Kerin, was suspended for five days in addition to receiving the same fine.

Manager Joe Kelly, of Toronto, was fined $50 and suspended for abusing Umpire Hart in the Toronto-Montreal game Saturday.

Manager McGinnity, of Newark, was fined $50 for disputing a decision of Umpire Murray in Newark yesterday, and Second Baseman Nee, of the same team, was both fined and suspended.

Almost a Riot.

There was almost a riot when Murray called Nee out at home for not touching the plate, and both Nee and McGinnity were banished from the field for the vigor of their objections.

"I am convinced," says President Barrow, in a statement issued with the penalty announcements, "that the club owners and patrons of this league do not want rowdyism nor umpire-baiting, and I am determined to stamp it out at all costs. The present staff of umpires is thoroughly competent and capable of giving entire satisfaction if the managers and players will leave them alone. No umpire who is abused and insulted over every close decision can be expected to show good judgment. It is a wonder some of the players are not killed for the names and insults they have used."

COSTER DEFEATS FRANKIE CONLEY

Kenosha Fighter Is Completely Outclassed in New Orleans Bout.

New Orleans, May 28.—Jos. Coster, administered a severe beating to Frankie Conley, of Kenosha, Wis., in a twenty-round bout here today. Three judges were unanimous in awarding the honors to the Brooklyn boy, and he is now slated to meet Abe Attell for the featherweight championship.

Conley was a 7 to 5 favorite with the crowd, which fairly well filled the arena and sweltered in the excessive heat. Both pugilists appeared to be in excellent condition. They weighed 122 pounds.

Coster lit off with a left to the chin, a short, vicious jab, which he used almost at will after the eighth round, cutting the Kenosha boy's lips until they were raw. The continued hammering developed a swelling on Conley's right cheek, almost as large as a baseball, and huge welts over both eyes by the time the bout had ended.

Conley's Only Showing.

Only in the seventh round did Conley make much of a showing. In this round he forced the fighting and, in clinches, landed on Coster's mouth and nose.

In the first, fifth, sixth, fifteenth and nineteenth rounds, the honors were about even, but with the exception of the seventh Coster, had the fighting all his own way, beating Conley at his own game of in-fighting. It was the first time Coster had engaged in a twenty-round bout, and it was his first appearance here.

The bout was refereed by Dr. Wallace Woods. The judges were T. S. Andrews, of Milwaukee; W. R. Hamilton, a sporting writer, and Fred Buckowitz, of this city.

BOOKMAKERS STAND TO LOSE A MILLION

Sunstar, Favorite in the Coronation Derby, Constantly Guarded.

[Canadian Press.]

London, May 29. — The Coronation Derby will be run at Epsom on Wednesday in the presence of the King and Queen, when one of the largest fields of horses seen out in recent years will go to the post.

Elaborate precautions are being taken to guard the favorite, Sunstar, and a sentry keeps watch over the box all night. It is alleged that there is a deliberate plot, formed by persons not connected with the stable, to prevent the horse from winning.

The volume of betting on the Derby all over the world is so enormous that the bookmakers stand to lose quite as much as a million.

WELLS AND CROSS

Leach To Be Matt.'s First American Opponent.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, May 29.—Matt. Wells, the lightweight champion of England, will have Leach Cross for his first opponent in this country. The two have been matched for ten rounds at the Madison Square Athletic Club Friday night. The weight agreed upon is 135 pounds at 3 o'clock. Wells is already training for the fight at Chester, Pa.

An Open Letter---

Just two months ago I came to London to take charge of this store. I was well and favorably impressed with the prosperous appearance of the city, and also with the cordial welcome I received on every side.

Naturally I met many of the prominent business men and others and was always greeted with a genuine warmth and a hearty hand-shake, which I assure you I appreciated, being a perfect stranger in the city.

Everyone appeared anxious to make me feel at home, and certainly have done so. But underneath it all they seemed to have a sort of pity for me.

For a time I could not understand it. By and bye a few of the better acquainted would say---"You've got a beautiful store and a fine stock, and we don't doubt that you are a good clothing man, but you're up against it hard here, old man."

Very nice of them to tell me, wasn't it?

But you needn't feel sorry for me. I came here to manage this business knowing exactly what I was "up against."

After I got the hang of things my plans were laid.

I inaugurated the "SQUARE DEAL POLICY," reorganized my selling force, disposed of all undesirable stock, put in a new line of clothing, furnishings, and hats, and now have a "LIVE OAK HALL."

Many people have complimented me on the appearance and service of this store as it is today, and the steady increase in my business has proven that my methods are appreciated.

OAK HALL is and always has been recognized as a "SOLID" place to buy Men's and Boys' Clothing, and will continue to be so—it will never be a "DEAD ONE" again. The "Square Deal" policy will be carried out to its fullest extent and "more," if I find a man who is unfair enough to ask for more than is coming to him. I intend getting better acquainted with you in the near future and will tell you through my regular advertisements how I am going to do it.

Rest assured it will be through my "SQUARE DEAL" and "MORE" policy.

I thank you kindly,
Yours Very Respectfully,
ROBERT J. ELY.

WHITE SOX TIE WITH CLEVELAND

Rain and Darkness End Second Game of Series at Chicago.

Chicago, May 28.—Rain coming just as the tenth inning was nearing an end brought to a close one of the most exciting games ever played at Comiskey's park today, the White Sox and Cleveland at that time being tied at 5 to 5. The Sox made four runs in the ninth, and tied the count. Ping Bodie led a rally in the tenth with a triple, and sent in three men. Then Collins scored Bodie, and it was a tie. Another mammoth crowd was jammed into the stands, and by starting time 25,000 fans were on hand to see the battle. The score:

TIGERS DEFEAT ST. LOUIS AGAIN

Detroit Hammers Browns for Eighth Time This Season.

Detroit, May 28.—The Tigers and Browns met for the eighth time this season yesterday at Bennett Park, and for the eighth time the league leaders benefited their percentage at the expense of Bobby Wallace's athletes. Each team had its line-up changed from what it was when they last met, and the shifts made by Jennings proved more advantageous to his team than those of the St. Louis manager. The score was 9 to 3. ## SOX RALLY; TIE COUNT IN THE NINTH; NAPS WIN

Chicago, May 27.—Cleveland won the first game of the two-days' series from Chicago today, after ten innings, 6 to 5. The early lead of the visitors was the result of Lange's wildness and opportune hitting. The locals scored by bunching hits, a base on balls and a sacrifice, and when the reserve list was called upon in the ninth inning, a batting rally resulted in which two runs were scored and West was relieved by Gregg, who checked the rally. Walsh was then sent in for Lange, and two consecutive doubles gave the visitors their winning run. Score:

ENGLISHMAN WINS MARATHON

Green, of Surrey A. C., Takes London Grind, With Ryan Second.

London, May 27.—The Polytechnic Harriers' Marathon for the Sporting Life cup was run here today, and won by Harry Green, of the Surrey Athletic Club in 2:46:29 4-5. Michael Ryan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, of New York, finished second, in 2:50:45. The race was started from the grounds at Windsor Castle, and ended at Stamford Bridge.

There were 49 starters, including a number of continental competitors, besides Ryan, who ran as a Canadian. The course was practically identical with the memorable Olympic struggle of 1908, which was won by John J. Hayes, of New York, upon the disqualification of Dorando.

Ryan took the lead at the fifteenth mile, and still held command on passing Kew Bridge, but at Putney, after 23 miles had been covered, Green went to the front and retained his lead up to the finishing mark.

ANDY KYLE IS COMING TO LONDON

Fast New York State League Man Has Been Signed Up.

TWO MEN WERE LET OUT

Management of the Locals Determined to Put Team on a Winning Footing.

Andy Kyle, the sensational New York State outfielder, who belongs to the Toronto Club of the Eastern League, came to terms with Business Manager Minhinnick, of London, Saturday night, and will report for duty to the Tecumsehs in Brantford today.

It is promised that Kyle will burn up the Canadian League, and when he and a couple of others, who have been secured during the last couple of days, get into action the Forest City should have a strong representation in the Canadian League.

First Baseman Dawnard, the Toronto boy, who has figured in several contests since the opening, and who could not get his batting eye, was sent home Saturday, together with Pitcher Fenske, of Oswego, N. Y., another Empire State man. Fenske's case is a most peculiar one. He was considered one of the fastest men in the New York State League last season until he was forced to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Since then, although in possession of about every curve known to baseball, he has been unable to gain control.

Pankratz, the Detroiter, who has shown up so well in the outfield for the past couple of days, should improve greatly as the season advances. He has fast marks as a professional sprinter and is a whirlwind on the paths.

George Andrews, the new third baseman, arrived Saturday from Springfield, Ill., where he played in the Three Eye League, and he will be ready to proceed today at Brantford.

McDonald is improving wonderfully since switched from the left garden to the initial corner, and when he gets his batting eye he will show much class.

A meeting of the directors of the London club was held on Saturday afternoon when the management was ordered to go ahead, as the finances are in good condition, and the attendance has been very satisfactory.

Pitcher Clark's work was faultless, sixteen strike-outs being his record for the day. He allowed but four bingles during the long session.

The ex-Canadian Leaguer caused eleven to whiff.

The second contest was also very sensational, the Ramblers blanking the Jubilees by 2 to 0.

The fielding was excellent, the two teams garnering but nine hits during the session.

WOLGAST'S PUNCH CRUMPLES BURNS

Champion Gives Oakland Boy Terrific Beating in Game Fight.

FINISH COMES QUICKLY

Michigan "Wildcat" Lays Back, Then Does Job in Three Minutes in the Sixteenth Round.

San Francisco, May 27.—Out-fought, out-paced, out-generaled, but not outgamed, Frankie Burns of Oakland, was forced to hoist the white towel of surrender as the gong rang for the beginning of the seventeenth round of his scheduled twenty-round fight with Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, today.

Never at any stage of the battle did Burns have a chance to win, but round after round, with his face cut to ribbons and blood streaming over his chest, his opponent and the floor, he faced the terrific volley of blows from the champion and never backed up.

His peculiar crouching defence saved him from the knockout punch, until in the last minute of the fourteenth round Wolgast caught him off balance and landed a right swing to Burns' sore nose that staggered the Oakland boy. He clinched desperately until the gong and managed to last out the round, although Wolgast's vicious right and left hooks rocked his head again and again.

Champ Persistent in Attack.

The champion gave him no chance to recuperate. In the opening of the fifteenth round Wolgast whipped a short, hard left to the jaw. As Burns covered he hooked his left to the body and followed with right and left swings to the face. Burns stalled desperately, but his knees had begun to wobble and it was plain that the end was in sight.

Burns staggered into a clinch as the sixteenth round opened and hung on desperately, but the champion fought himself free with snappy right and left jabs that had all his weight behind them.

With blood streaming from his nose, his lips split, both eyes nearly closed, and his ear ripped, Burns covered his battered face with his forearms and, reeling blindly about the ring, tried vainly to clinch. Wolgast landed almost at will, but Burns' crouch, assumed more from habit than intention, protected the vital spots.

Spectators Cry for Halt.

The gong rang for the end of the round before the champion could land the decisive blow. As Burns staggered to his corner the arena rang with shouts to Referee Welch to stop the bout. Burns seconds worked desperately over him in the minute rest, but their task was hopeless. At the call of time one of his seconds tossed a towel into the ring and Frankie Burns' championship aspirations were dead.

Wolgast never was in distress. His speed and strength completely smothered the Oakland boy's offence, and he carried the fight to the challenger throughout every round.

The day was almost perfect and a crowd estimated at 7,000 people crowded the arena. The fighters were punctual in their appearance, although it was 3:15 before the battle began.

Wolgast Bets Heavily.

"We have placed $6,200 in the pool boxes, mostly on the general result," said Wolgast in his dressing-room. "I have also bet considerable money that Burns will not be on his feet at the end of the eighteenth round."

Betting was given a stimulus this morning by a commission of $10,000 said to have been wired from Kansas City, to be placed on Wolgast. Ringside betting favors Wolgast at 10 to 4, and both ends found takers.

Weather conditions are perfect. The sun shone from a clear sky, with just enough of a fog-impregnated breeze blowing from the ocean to temper its rays.

Wolgast and Burns weighed in at 8 o'clock. Neither man moved the beam, which was set at the 133-pound notch. Wolgast entered the ring at 3:04, Burns following shortly after.

Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—Burns at once began to feel the champion out, shooting a volley of light lefts to the head. Wolgast merely shook his head, and rushing the Oaklander against the ropes, flayed him with right and left swings to the head. There was a temporary lull in the fighting, the fighters grinning at each other. Burns assumed his turtle-like crouch and then lifted the champion clear off his feet with a terrific left to the jaw. The round ended without damage to either fighter.

Round 2—Wolgast shunted his man about the ring, but Burns flung his left twice solidly to the jaw and covered up, with the champion battering away at his defence. Burns scored lightly three times with short arm lefts to the face. Wolgast sought to make Burns open up, but the latter, backing against the ropes, refused to do so. Wolgast drove two hard rights to the kidneys and fiercely uppercut his man with right and lefts on the nose, starting blood in a stream. Wolgast danced merrily and smilingly to his corner, while Burns took his seat with his face literally smeared with blood. It was Wolgast's round by a big margin.

Wolgast Staggers Burns.

Round 3—Burns' nostrils were still emitting blood as he went into action. Wolgast cornered the Oaklander and fairly smothered him with short-arm punches at the face. Wolgast staggered Burns with a straight left, but the latter came back with two left swings. Burns followed this with right and lefts to the face and Wolgast wilted momentarily. Wolgast had the advantage.

Round 4—Burns sent a left to the face, sending Wolgast's head back. For the moment Wolgast fought back like a mad steer and landed some telling punches to the face at close range. Burns, his nose swollen to thrice its normal size, battled gamely. Wolgast rushed his man from one end of the ring to the other, beating a tattoo on the Oaklander's bleeding face. "Stop it!" "Stop it!" the spectators yelled. Burns then electrified the crowd by rushing in and mixing it with the champion, landing several lefts and rights to the face before the gong ended the slugging. Wolgast, however, had a big lead.

Round 5—After half a minute's ineffectual sparring, during which Wolgast tried time and again to land a knockout blow, the champion almost catapulted Burns into the laps of the newspapermen. Burns came back and they mixed it in midring, fighting head to head. Burns cut Wolgast's mouth during this mix and the champion spat blood as he went to his corner. Wolgast's round.

Round 6—Wolgast rushed fiercely and they closed, Wolgast tapping lightly with lefts to face. Burns stood up and drove a hard right on the jaw, later following it with two lefts to the face. A vicious mid-ring rally followed. Burns rushed and almost staggered the champion with right and left short arm punches to the face. Wolgast fought with all the force at his command, but Burns was still full of fight as the round ended. One of Burns' eyes was almost closed, and there was a slit in his ear from which the blood flowed.

Round 7—They battled head to head at close quarters. Wolgast broke it up with a vicious right to Burns' sore eye and kept shooting at Burns' defence. Burns covered up and took the aggressive only when a chance opening presented. Wolgast peppered away with short, snappy rights and lefts to the face and appeared much the fresher of the two as the round closed.

Round 8—Wolgast sent a left hook to the stomach that sent Burns half way across the ring, and then Wolgast was staggered and almost taken off his feet by a right swing on the jaw. Maddened, Wolgast set a furious pace and rained left and right smashes to the face. He swung two powerful lefts to the jaw, the first of which lifted the Californian clear off his feet. The round ended with a smile on the champion's face and with Burns looking serious.

Champion Forces Fight.

Round 9—The champion forced matters and Burns was soon hanging to the ropes. The Oakland boy fought back viciously, each landing several times on the face and head. Wolgast cut loose, but Burns was on the firing line and never failed to return the fighting. So fiercely were they engaged that they failed to hear the bell and had to be pried apart by their seconds. Burns was putting up a game fight, and was cheered again and again as he went to his corner.

Round 10—Burns took the fighting to the champion and they were immediately locked in each other's arms. Wolgast straightened his man out with two right uppercuts to the jaw, and Burns returned with right and left jolts to the jaw. Wolgast smashed with right and left chops to the face, but Burns never for an instant broke ground. The champion jarred his man with a rain of blows to the face as the round terminated, and it again began to look bad for the challenger.

Round 11—The round opened with a long clinch, both men wrestling. Burns broke the clinch by lifting the champion's head with a right uppercut and a left swing to the head. The blows, however, failed to stop the "Michigan wildcat." Burns forced Wolgast into his (Wolgast's) corner, and here the champion made a determined stand. They battled hotly and Burns succeeded in again bringing the crowd to its feet by beating the champion at his own game of whirlwind fighting. If anything, it was Burns' round.

Round 12—They came together in the centre with a crash, and then Burns chased the title-holder, landing right and left to the jaw. He covered up cleverly as Wolgast fought back, and a moment later had Wolgast groggy and hanging on from a succession or right and left face and body smashes. "Go on, Frankie, finish him," yelled the crowd, but Wolgast covered up and seemed content to give his wits a chance to clear. Wolgast gained strength as the round progressed and they went to a clinch. Burns swung a hard left to the jaw as the bell rang, and Wolgast had lost his smile as his seconds eagerly worked on him and gave him advice. It was Burns' round.

Crowd Taunts Wolgast.

Round 13—They mixed in the centre of the ring. Wolgast then slowed down and seemed to have lost some of his vim. Burns covered up, with Wolgast trying to penetrate his guard, but with little success. The crowd at this stage began to taunt Wolgast, and, maddened, he closed in, but Burns' guard was impenetrable. The round was mostly a succession of clinches, and the noteworthy feature was the improvement of the Californian, who now seemed the stronger of the two.

Round 14—Wolgast forced his opponent against the ropes, but Burns' long reach stood him well, and few of the blows found their mark. The fighters mixed in at close range, and Wolgast brought the blood from the mouth by landing several still punches on that member. Wolgast fought with renewed confidence and soon had Burns seeking refuge in a clinch. Wolgast uppercut with a terrific right to the mouth and staggered his man with right and left uppercuts to the jaw and nose. The round gave the Wolgast camp renewed confidence.

Round 15—Wolgast rushed and feinted with his right, and quick as a flash his left glove found Burns' jaw. Burns covered up and received a left hook over the heart. Even at that Burns tried vainly to turn the tables on the champion. Wolgast, carefully measuring his distance, landed left and right with precision on the jaw, and although Burns countered with a straight right to the jaw, he was leg sore as he went to his corner. Wolgast had much the better of the round.

Round 16—They mixed it, Wolgast landing blow after blow on the face and jaw. Burns fought back fiercely and succeeded in landing several telling punches to the face. Later Wolgast almost at will smothered his man with a volley of right and left uppercuts to the face, and Burns was helpless. From all over the house came cries to stop the bout, but Referee Jack Welsh refused. Burns was reeling around helplessly, with Wolgast smashing him on the face with might and main as the round ended, saving the Oakland youth.

"FATHER OF MACCABEES" TAKEN BY DEATH

Major Boynton Head of the Order Dead at Port Huron.

Port Huron, Mich., May 8.—The funeral of Major Nathan S. Boynton, "Father of the Maccabees," whose death occurred at 11:30 last night at his home in this city, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The obsequies will be in charge of Port Hope Lodge, F. and A. M., of which he was a member, but all the various fraternal organizations of which he was a member will attend and follow the remains to Lakeside Cemetery, where the interment will take place. Maccabees will meet at Maccabee Temple and attend the funeral in a body.

Business will be suspended in Port Huron during the services and all the city and county officials and former officers will attend the funeral, and members of the Chamber of Commerce will attend in a body. Hundreds of Maccabees and members of other fraternal orders in this section of the state will come here to pay their final tributes to the memory of the dead commander.

Major Boynton was born in Port Huron on June 23, 1857. He was educated in the district schools and in the high school at Waukegan, Ill. In 1859 he was married to Miss Annie Fidelel, of Cincinnati.

In 1862 he returned to Port Huron, where he enlisted as a private in Company C, Eighth Michigan Cavalry. He fought throughout the war and received many promotions in recognition of meritorious conduct, being discharged from service with the rank of major.

On returning from his service in the army he filled several public offices with credit, and was twice mayor of Port Huron. He also invented several improvements for fire-fighting apparatus which are widely used today.

His Maccabee career began when he became a charter member of Diamond Tent, K. O. T. M., of Port Huron, in 1878. The lodge was then under the jurisdiction of the Canadian order of that name, with headquarters at London, Ont. The next spring he attended as a delegate the review of the order in Buffalo, N. Y. Here one faction of the order withdrew, and the remainder, after adopting a new constitution, elected Major Boynton supreme lieutenant commander of the order. Soon afterward he was made supreme commander.

NO SIGN OF NESBIT

Might Be Located If Provincial Reward Was Increased.

Toronto, May 28.—W. R. Travers, the fomer manager of the Farmers' Bank will be taken to Kingston Penitentiary early this week to serve the remainder of his sentence.

It is not expected that the evidence of Travers will be needed again until the cases against the provincial directors come up. Dr. Beattie Nesbitt has not been located. If the present reward of $200 offered by the police commissioners for his capture was increased to $1,000, it is thought by the police that the capture of the fugitive would be expedited.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box. 6

PAPAL ENCYCLICAL

Vatican Deplores Alleged Anti-Religious Attitude of Portugal.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, May 28.—An encyclical, addressed by Pope Pius to the Roman Catholic bishops throughout the world, strongly deploring what it declares to be the anti-religious attitude of the Government of the Portuguese republic, was officially published at the Vatican today.

The encyclical deals with the violent expulsion of religious orders from Portugal, the suppression of church holidays, religious oaths and religious teaching, the introduction of divorce laws, the arbitrary deposition of the bishops of Oporto and Beja, and finally, with the law separating church and state.

The Holy See, the encyclical says, has been patient up to now, but cannot longer keep silent, as the law of separation denies to Catholic citizens even common liberties. Such a law is a spoliation of material goods and a tyrannical oppression in spiritual affairs. Man is deprived forever of a fixed church, in which to maintain worship. The law even violates the will of testators.

Ecclesiastics, the encyclical declares, are excluded by the law from organizations. It prohibits the publication of ecclesiastical acts. It encourages the corruption of the clergy, pensioning those who have been punished by bishops, or those living with women.

The law aims to detach the Portuguese church from Rome, the encyclical says in conclusion, and therefore the Pope condemns it as null, it having no value against the inviolable rights of the church.

AERONAUT DROPS IN RIVER; DROWNS

Glen Farrell, of Lansing, Perishes After Making Successful Ascension.

Lansing, Mich., May 29.—In plain view of several hundred people, who gathered at Waverly Park Saturday afternoon to witness the first balloon ascension of the season at the local resort, Glenn Farrell, aged 23, a Lansing aeronaut, met death by drowning in Grand River, when his parachute landed in the water after his successful trip.

Manager French, of the resort, says that to his knowledge Farrell was an amateur balloonist, and on several occasions last summer he refused the young man permission to make a flight, as Farrell's brother had requested the park owner not to allow Glenn to make an ascension. The manager claims that a man Amsdell, and not Farrell, was scheduled to make the flight.

When he appeared as a mere speck in the clouds, Farrell cut loose from the balloon and began sailing in a birdlike manner toward the ground. It was evident to the crowd that he was steering the parachute towards the river, and as he dropped into the stream those on the bank expected to see him swim out from under the canvas. When several seconds elapsed and his head did not show above the water, some men went out in a boat and brought the dripping canvas ashore, but could see no sign of Farrell's body.

Farrell is said to have been a good swimmer, and it is supposed he was seized with cramps when he was suddenly plunged into the cold water.

THREE INJURED IN TORONTO CAR CRASH

Two Carlton Street Cars Come Together on a Curve.

Toronto, May 29. — Three persons were injured in a collision between two Carlton cars going in opposite directions on the Carlton and Parliament street curve at 10:50 last night. The eastbound car, in charge of Motorman No. 940 and Conductor No. 1681, failed to stop at the intersection, and took the Winchester line switch to the north. The westbound car, in charge of Motorman 1256 and Conductor 2031, struck the trailer of the eastbound car broadside, smashing it up pretty badly. Miss Aldermen, 150 Roxboorugh street east; Mr. John Morrison, and Mrs. Morrison, 448 Manning avenue, were severely bruised and shaken up, but after deliberating on the corner for a while, all three decided that their injuries were not such as to warrant their going to the General Hospital.

ROOT AMENDMENT MAY BE KILLED

Washington, May 28.—Administration leaders are in a more optimistic frame of mind tonight over the Canadian trade agreement than they were a week ago. The amendment to to Canadian agreement that has given some alarm in official circles is the one offered by Senator Root. The Root amendment, if adopted, will have the effect of preventing a free entry of wood pulp and print paper to either country until all restrictions affecting the production were removed by the Canadian provinces. The Administration is hopeful that the senate finance committee will reject the Root amendment. In fact, negotiations looking to that end are now in progress.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING AT WALKERVILLE

Boy Held on Suspicion of Having Wounded Playmate With Intent.

Windsor, May 28.—A serious shooting affair between two Walkerville boys, each fourteen years old, occurred in that town last night, and as a result, Louis, son of Mr. Gilbert Fortin, residing at 64 Lincoln road, lies in the Hotel Dieu here in a critical condition, while his playmate, Edward Handley, is held at police headquarters to await the outcome of the injuries.

When the affair happened the boys were standing only a few feet apart. Handley had a revolver of 38-calibre in his coat pocket, and, according to the story told by an eye-witness, the shot was fired deliberately by Handley. The bullet struck Fortin on the left forearm, glanced and entered the abdomen, where it still remains, the surgeons being unable to extract it.

Handley stoutly denies any intention of shooting his friend, but the Walkerville police have secured some evidence indicating that bad blood existed between the two, and that on several occasions young Handley has threatened violence to Fortin.

The wounded lad was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance. The physicians are unwilling to predict the outcome of his injuries, and there are fears of blood poisoning.

PORTUGAL POLLS WITHOUT TROUBLE

No Disorder Marks Appeal of New Regime to People.

REPUBLICANS VICTORS

The Monarchists Refrained From Nominating Candidates.

Lisbon, May 28.—Perfect order prevailed today at the elections for the constituent assembly, which were held throughout the country. In thirty out of 51 constituencies, the seats were disputed by candidates of the directory of the Republican party, the Independent Republican and the Socialist parties. In the other constituencies the regular Republicans were unopposed.

The Monarchists refrained from putting forward candidates, declaring that the elections presented no guarantees of liberty or sincerity. Instead they circulated all sorts of rumors of a counter revolution, an armed invasion by way of the Galician frontier and similar attempts against the Government.

The auhorities took extraordinary precautions, not only to preserve order, but to anticipate any revolutionary movement. Almost the entire fleet was concentrated in the north, but the intervention of armed force has not been necessary up to the present in any part of the republic.

The polling throughout was very heavy and the first results indicate a majority of 231 deputies will be regular Republicans.

No Systematic Opposition.

A few independents and socialists are likely to win their elections, but the general opinion is that, while the Government may have to meet certain divergencies of opinion in the assembly, there will be nothing like systematic opposition.

In Lisbon, police patrolled the streets all night, but there were no disturbances. The balloting continued throughout the day, and will continue tomorrow. The regulars carried the day in this city. One woman, Dr. Beatrix Angelo, recorded her vote, amid thunders of applause.

At Oporto all was peaceful, the Republicans keeping close watch on the Socialists.

It is announced that the discussions of the constituent assembly will be confided, first to a law defining the political powers of the republic; second, to organic laws relating to each of these powers, including an electoral law; third, to acts of dictatorship on the part of the provisional government, and fourth, to the budget.

Several of the civil governors have made representations, urging the necessity of modification of the law, and it is understood that a special bill will be introduced with this object.

FIRE BUGS AT DUBUQUE

Dubuque, Ia., May 29.—Three men are under arrest on suspicion that they may know something about a second alleged incendiary fire that last night caused $250,000 damage in the yards of the Standard Lumber Company, and destroyed other property worth $50,000.

Last week the Standard Lumber Company's plant was damaged by a fire that was said to be incendiary. The loss was several hundred thousand dollars. Yesterday's fire, fanned by a lively breeze, spread, leaped outside the yards and damaged an ice company loft and a brewery.

[From Charles Head & Co., by private wire ot J. J. Tearney.]

NEW YORK, May 29—Noon letter.—A large degree of interest was attached to the trading in Mexican Central, second preferred, which advanced ⅞. A heavy tone developed in Steel, common. Some of the selling of stock was by interests that have been openly committed to the bull side, and their operations created a belief that some unfavorable developments might occur at the meeting today to consider trade conditions. The supreme court, it is understood, has a lot of decisions to announce today, and if the Tobacco suit is settled it will likely be late.

A CREDITABLE SHOWING BY THE IMPERIAL BANK.

The Imperial Bank of Canada, which has just completed its thirty-sixth year, presented a most gratifying statement to the shareholders at the annual meeting held on May 25th. Not only were the profits larger than in 1910, but every department of the bank's activities showed good increases. During the year the bank increased its dividend from 11 to 12 per cent, and increased its reserve fund, which now stands at $5,769,559, to a sum equal to the paid-up capital of the bank. Its note circulation is $650,000 in excess of what it was the previous year, while its deposits have increased by over $4,000,000, and its total assets by $7,500,000.

The profits for the past year amounted to $841,692. In addition the bank received the sum of $769,559 as premium on new capital stock. These sums, with the balance brought forward from profit and loss account for the previous year of $696,135, made the sum of $2,307,386 available for distribution. This has been distributed as follows: Dividend requirements took $625,427, the reserve fund $769,559, written off bank premises' account $71,774, pension fund $7,500, leaving a balance carried forward of $833,125.

The bank is particularly strong in specie, Dominion notes and other quickly-available assets, these totalling over $18,000,000, while the total assets of the bank stand at over $63,710,000. During the year the bank issued over $32,571,000 as current loans and advances, thus indicating that it has been doing its full share in catering to the business needs of the country at large.

Altogether the showing made by the bank is a most creditable one and calls for the highest commendation on the board of directors and general manager.

STRIKING OF COUNTY RATE

This and Matter of Equalization Comes Up at Next Meeting of the Council.

RATE LAST YEAR 2.6 MILLS

A Total of $123,144 68 Was Raised by Middlesex For All Purposes in 1910.

The striking of the county rate and equalization promises to be the most important matter to come before the county council at the June session, which commences at the county buildings here on Monday next.

While the expenditure on roads and bridges has been unusual, councillors will work to avoid an increase.

Last year the rate of 2.6 mills on the dollar was levied on the whole county of Middlesex, producing $99,200 to meet current expenditure for the year, and .72808 mills on Middelsex proper producing $23,943.84 for the purpose of paying interest on debentures for the year and for providing a sinking fund. A total of $123,144.68 was raised in this manner.

Equalization of 1910.

Last year's equalization follows:

| | Whole of Middlesex. | Middlesex Proper. |
|---|---|---|
| Adelaide | $5,309 69 | $1,486 88 |

| Westminster | 19,882 94 | 2,767 52 |
| Totals | $99,200 84 | $23,943 84 |

A Difference.

The difference between "The Whole of Middlesex" and "Middlesex Proper" is a portion of Ailsa Craig which is divided between McGillivray and Biddulph, Lucan and the townships of McGillivray and Biddulph, this territory having been taken over from the County of Huron some years ago on the understanding that the newly-acquired section should not have to bear any of the debenture debt.

MODEL SCHOOLS WILL REOPEN ON SEPT. 5

Students Must Agree to Teach at Least One Year in Ontario.

As announced in Saturday's Advertiser, in order to meet the call for school teachers in Ontario, the Provincial Government has been compelled to restore, in a measure, the model school system which was abolished some time ago, the department of education having announced that model schools would be established at Athens, Bracebridge, Chatham, Clinton, Guelph, Morrisburg, Napanee and Perth, in addition to Cornwall, Durham, Kingston, Orillia, Renfrew and North Bay, which are already model school centres.

Model schools sessions open on Sept. 5, and applications for admission must reach the deputy minister by Aug. 15, on a form to be supplied by him.

No one will be admitted to a model school who does not agree if successful in obtaining a teacher's certificate, to teach thereon in Ontario for at least the first year of his or her teaching experience. A violation of this agreement will lead to the cancelling of the teacher's certificate.

ARCHBISHOP O'CONNOR TO OFFICIATE

Toronto, May 29.—Archbishop O'Connor, the predecessor of the late Archbishop McEvay, has sufficiently recovered his health to be able to resume his former duties and will officiate at the cathedral till a new archbishop is appointed. ## MEN ARE NOW PUTTING IN CABLE

Engineer Glaubitz Is Rushing Work on the Lighting System.

POLES ARE CRITICIZED

Design Was Copied From Hamilton by Enginer Roberts, Now of Vancouvor.

The cable for the ornamental lighting system for the down-town sections has arrived, and this morning Superintendent Glaubitz had his men start work putting it in.

The bases for the new poles have also been placed in position, and the rest of the work will be hurried along.

"We expect to have the system in shape in three weeks," said Chairman Pocock. "The cable has arrived, and we will start at once to put it in. The poles are being set up, and we will have everything in readiness in the time I have mentioned."

Incidentally there is much criticism as to the size of the base of these poles. They are about two feet square, and when placed they take up a considerable portion of the walk, too much, the majority think. The rest of the post is in keeping with the base, and there is absolutely no doubt that they are sufficiently massive.

This Is the Man!

They were not designed by Mr. Glaubitz, but by Mr. D. P. Roberts, now in Vancouver. He copied the design from patterns used in other cities, London's being about the same as Hamilton's. They are considerably heavier than those of Toronto.

Superintendent Glaubitz approves of the design, and declares that while they are larger than those in Toronto, they will make for greater efficiency.

"The design was copied from Hamilton," he stated. "It is about the same size as those in use in that city. The bases on the street look very large, but when the post is erected the size will not be so apparent. Of course, the walks in London are very narrow, and a base such as we are using takes up considerable space."

However, there have been many complaints regarding the size of the poles, the majority considering them much too large.

POLICEMAN STOOD BETWEEN TWO CORPSES

Terrifying Experience of a New Officer in an Undertaking Store.

A new policeman had an experience the other night while on the Dundas street beat that made his hair stand on end. After midnight he tried the doors as he went along. One door he found open, and he decided to investigate. Walking in he passed into a dark room, but when he had gone a couple of paces, he stumbled across an object on the floor. He adjusted his lantern to see what it was, and found himself between a couple of corpses, being prepared for burial. The policeman had wandered into an undertaking establishment!

It is needless to say that he went out again very rapidly. Since that time he is very careful where he goes at night.

MACHINERY IS NOT AS YET SATISFACTORY

Two Engineers Will Go Over Pumping Plant Before It Is Accepted.

Professor R. Angus, son of Mr. Robert Angus, of this city, and a teacher in the School of Practical Science, Toronto, will be one of a committee of two engineers to pass upon the pumping equipment of the Horton street station before the city accepts it. The other has not been selected as yet, but will probably be chosen within a short time. The water commissioners have the names of many good men, and it will not take them long to make a choice.

Professor Angus is at the present time in England, and the test will not be made until he returns. Superintendent Glaubitz has not accepted some of the machinery as yet. There will be some changes in the turbine pumps as well as in the air lifts before he will take them off the contractors' hands. It will take some weeks yet to put them in good condition, and by that time, Mr. Angus will be back, ready to inspect them.

"The machinery is not yet satisfactory to me," said Mr. Glaubitz. "I have had some changes made, and am waiting for others before I will accept them. When they are what I want, I will then accept them. After that, the commissioners can have them inspected by any competent engineer or engineers they wish, and I will abide by the verdict. They will not be accepted, however, until I see that they are all right. When I accept them, then I will abide by the decision of any competenit engineers."

FORTY YEARS IN LONDON

Ald. Ashplant and Ex-Ald. Wm. Heaman Will Take Trip to England.

Ald. H. Ashplant and ex-Ald. William Heaman will sail for England on June 28th, to be gone two months. Forty years ago, two young lads left Devonshire for Canada. They met on the boat, and became fast friends. Both came to London, where they went into business. They prospered, and during that forty years, since they sailed that June from England, they have been fast friends. They were very prominent in business and church affairs of the city, being especially well known in Methodist circles.

Not long ago they were talking over old times, and they decided to take a holiday. As a result of that talk the boyhood friends, Ald. Ashplant and ex-Ald. Heaman, decided to go back to England together, and spend a couple of months visiting the old places in their former homes. Mrs. Ashplant and Mrs. Heaman will accompany them.

"We have made arrangements to go back in June," said Ald. Ashplant. "It is forty years next month since Mr. Heaman and I sailed from Devonshire and we thought we would take a holiday and go back together, and see the old place. We have been closely connected for many years, and we think we will have a great time when we return."

It Is Likely That Col. Gartshore Will Be Permanent Chairman of Trust.

At a special meeting of the hospital trust, called for tomorrow afternoon, the resignation of Mr. J. C. Judd, K.C., the newly-appointed police magistrate, will be received. Of course it will be accepted, the trust having no alternative in this case.

It will be necessary to name a chairman for the board. From present indications, Mr. George B. Harris will be temporary chairman. It is the intention to make Col. W. M. Gartshore chairman, but as he will be in England for four or five weeks yet, Mr. Harris will probably act in the meantime.

The council at its next session, on Monday, June 5, will name a successor to Mr. Judd. The name of Mr. S. Screaton has been mentioned for the position, but he will not accept. Mr. Thomas Gillean's name has also been put forward, and it is considered quite probable that he will be chosen.

WINDSOR BOY DIES BY BULLET OF FRIEND

Was Accidentally Killed With Weapon in Hands of His Playmate.

[Canadian Press.]

Windsor, Ont., May 29. — Louis Forton, aged 14, died late last night at Hotel Dieu as the result of being accidentally shot by a revolver in the hands of a companion, Edward Hanley, aged 15, Saturday night.

Forton, who was a son of Gilbert Forton, of Walkerville, met Eddie Hanley, of Gladstone avenue, Saturday night, and Hanley showed him a revolver that he was carrying. In the course of conversation some one of the group asked the boy if the weapon was loaded. In an accidental manner the gun was discharged, the bullet going through Forton's right arm and lodging in his abdomen. The police are now investigating.

MEN AND RELIGION FORWARD MOVEMENT

A Special Service Held in King St. Presbyterian Church.

In connection with the "Men and Religion Forward Movement" a special service was held in King Street Presbyterian Church last evening. Special music was rendered by the male choir of the church, and the pastor, Rev. W. R. McIntosh, preached on "Christ Before Pilate." What men would do with Christ, he said, was the biggest question they had to consider. In the activity of commercial and political life only the power of Christ in their lives is sufficiently strong to guard against the great menaces which surround them.

The question of what to do with Christ is a matter which is deeply personal to all men. In modern life there is a great danger of men losing the purity and integrity of their own souls in the pursuit of business. They need Christ to seize their hearts.

Rev. Mr. McIntosh warned men against the folly of "pilatism," of selling their manhood, betraying their conscience, and letting Christ go for the sake of reputation or advancement in public life.

On Tuesday evening a men's banquet will be held in the church under the auspices of the Young Canadian Club.

WEBB—WEIN

A Popular Couple Wedded in Crediton.

James H. Webb, of Westman's hardware, was married in Crediton on Wednesday to Miss Emma Wein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wein. Rev. Mr. Burns, of Crediton, assisted by Rev. J. E. Cook, of Lucan, cousin of the groom, performed the ceremony, which took place at the home of the bride, and was attended by a number of the friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride wore a gown of duchess satin, covered with Irish lace and gilt trimming. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March she entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father. Miss Tillie Wein, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of cream satin, and carried roses. Moffatt Webb, of St. Thomas, the groom's brother, was best man. Ina Bowley, Mount Brydges niece of the groom; Ruth Pope, Albert street, London, and Meleta Shank, Creditor, cousins of the bride, acted as flower girls. They were dressed in cream mull trimmed with lace and blue ribbon.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and fob, to the bridesmaid, a pearl crescent, and to the groomsman, a pearl stickpin, and signet rings for the flower girls. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, and the balance of the evening spent in games and music. Mr. and Mrs. Webb will reside at 21 Marley Place, city, where they will be home to their friends after June 10.

The Gerry Flats.

The Gerry Flats injunction suit will be finished on Friday next, Mr. Justice Riddell coming to the city to hear Mr. Ben Hole's evidence, and the arguments of counsel. There was an effort made to settle the suit on Friday, when Mr. Wm. Gerry was approached with a proposition to sell the wells alone to the water commissioners. However, Mr. Gerry has not accepted it, and it is probable that the suit will be finished, and the whole question finally disposed of. It is quite possible that a further attempt will be made to close the deal on the above suggestion.

Mr. H. B. Keene, who had his collarbone and three ribs fractured at Stratford on Friday evening, when he was crushed against a telegraph pole by an auto, underwent an operation yesterday. He spent a restful night and today his condition is very slowly improving. "There have been no complications of any kind," said Dr. Stevenson, who is in attendance, "and I believe he is out of danger."

"Dry" Camps.

All the military camps this year will be "dry." Local military men state that the order which has been in force a couple of years now will be rigidly enforced this year, and no canteens will be allowed on the camp grounds, and no brewery wagons will be permitted to enter the lines. Camp starts this year at Goderich on June 15, and continues until June 7. The camp will be a very small one.

Put Pipe in Pocket.

Because he failed to extinguish his pipe after enjoying a smoke, John Thomas, Broughdale, an employee at Carling's brewery, lost two suits of clothes and had considerable damage done his residence by fire on Thursday evening. Mr. Thomas returned from work, and was smoking. He put his pipe in the coat pocket, and hung it in the closet with other wearing apparel. Shortly after fire was noticed in the closet, and before it was extinguished two of Mr. Thomas' best suits of clothes were destroyed, in addition to other clothing. The woodwork of the closet was also damaged some. The loss will be over $100.

REV. DR. MANNING MAY BE PRESIDENT

May Succeed Rev. A. K. Birks in London Conference.

The name of Dr. Manning, pastor of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, is the latest mentioned as a successor of Rev. A. K. Birks, as president of the London Conference.

The conference opens at Stratford this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ministerial session will open on Wednesday at 10 o'clock, and the general session on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The election of the president will be one of the first matters disposed of at the ministerial session.

There are five names mentioned in connection with the presidency, those of Dr. Manning, Principal Warner, of the Alma Ladies' College, St. Thomas; Rev. D. N. McCamus, of St. Marys, who succeeds Rev. F. E. Malott, at the Colborne Street Methodist Church; Rev. J. E. Forbes, of Wesley Church, Clinton, and Rev. G. H. McAllister, of Bethesda, formerly of the Centennial Methodist Church here.

CHICAGO OLD BOYS

A Big Crowd Coming From the Windy City.

The London Old Boys in Chicago held a banquet on Friday, May 26, in Bergen Hall, Fullarton Boulevard, which was very largely attended. The weather was oppressively hot, but the old boys and girls turned out in large numbers.

The first part of the evening was spent in speeches and songs. Mr. Jos. T. Lively made the address of the occasion.

Later the tables were cleared away, and the balance of the evening spent in cards and dancing.

The hustling secretary of the association, Mr. Ched Egelton, had the arrangements well in hand, and all voted it one of the best entertainments they had yet attended.

It is expected that a large contingent will come from the Windy City to the reunion. Arrangements are now being made for the excursion.

OLD BOY AMUSEMENTS

Agents Are Beginning to Look for Business.

The attractions committee of the Old Boys' Association have opened negotiations with a number of amusement companies for supplying shows for Old Boys' week.

On Saturday night the first of a number of representatives of these firms, Mr. Carney, made his appearance before the committee, and explained his proposition. He represented the McCrail Booking Agency, Chicago, and informed the committee that he could put in fifteen of the best shows during the week. In his opinion the market square was not large enough to accommodate the shows he could bring, but the committee thought that arrangements could be made to furnish more space. Mr. Carney stated that the shows under their direction were the best obtainable, and would undoubtedly prove satisfactory.

However, the committee took no definite action. Chairman Carrothers informed the members present that he had received word from a large number of agencies who desired to send representatives to interview the Old Boys. No arrangements should be made, he declared, until all had come, and then the committee could pick out the best, thus providing plenty of amusement of the best kind to the visiting Old Boys.

"We will give the visitors plenty of entertainment," said Mr. Carrothers. "We will have all kinds of shows—the best in the land. The other agents will be along in a few days, giving us plenty of time to get together, and decide upon a definite plan of action."

Among those present at the meeting were Mr. Carrothers, J. R. Minhinnick, A. Carling, J. D. Egan, Dr. Harry R. Wilson, James O. Weldon, and many

His head was badly cut and bruised. It was stated today that while he is still in a serious condition he will recover.

Mr. Park is stockkeeper in the factory. He was looking down the elevator shaft, when it descended suddenly, pinning his head between the bottom of the lift and the gate.

The elevator was stopped, and the injured man taken out. It was found that his head was badly cut, both at the front and the back.

20 New Adherents for Wellington St. Methodist Church —Special Services.

At the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church yesterday morning Rev. J. W. Baird, at the morning service, baptized 18 children and formed a class of 25 catechumens. At the evening service 7 adults were baptized and 50 new members were received into the church, 45 by letter and 5 by profession of faith. This broke all records for new members at Hyatt Avenue.

At the Wellington Street Methodist Church last night, following the special services of the day in connection with the anniversary of the Epworth League, 20 new members were received into the church by Rev. Humphrey A. Graham.

At the morning service a special service in connection with the Junior Epworth League was held. In the evening Mr. H. C. White, of St. Marys Methodist Church, addressed the senior members on "Our Business." He likened the church to a great stock company, in which all the members are shareholders, and pointed out the need of all doing their best if the work is to prosper.

A big rally of the members of all the Epworth Leagues of the city will be held this evening in the Centennial Methodist Church, and a special address will be given by Rev. T. Albert Moore, of Toronto.

Next Sunday will be specially observed in St. Andrew's Church by the celebration of communion and a number of new members will be received into the church. On Friday evening Rev. Dr. Ross will conduct a special preparatory service in St. Andrew's.

LEFT LONDON MANY YEARS AGO

Life Story of the Late William F. Stewart of Flint, Michigan.

DIED A WEALTHY MAN

Began His Career Without a Dollar and Ended by Working Up to Position of Affluence.

Flint, Mich., May 28.—William F. Stewart, carriage manufacturer, and one of Flint's public-spirited citizens, passed away at his home, 904 East Court street, at 11:15 o'clock Saturday. The immediate cause of his death was pernicious anaemia, or a deficiency of blood. He had been in poor health for several years past and had experienced trouble with his heart. He had been confined to his bed only two weeks.

Mrs. Stewart and her two sons, William E. and S. Sidney, were at the bedside when the end came.

For the last seven years Mr. Stewart had spent the winters in California in an effort to regain his strength. His last trip to California was made last November and he returned to this city April 8.

Mr. Stewart was always a lover of the country and owned several large tracts of land in this vicinity. He had received several offers for 265 acres of beautiful land east of his home, but he refused all propositions for the sale of it. Only recently he remarked to an intimate friend: "I have been asked to part with my land east of my house, but I will never sell it as long as I live, for it is beautiful and so like the country. I wish to live as close to the country as I can so long as I am here." That part of his estate east of his home Mr. Stewart took great pride in, and the grounds make one of the most beautiful parks in the city. The grounds surrounding his own residence and the homes of his two sons, opposite his house, are beautiful products of the landscape gardener's art.

Distinct Loss to City.

Mr. Stewart was one of the men who have contributed to the upbuilding of Flint, and in his death the city suffers a distinct loss. He was a substantial and progressive citizen, whose activities were not confined alone to the large industrial enterprise which he created and developed, and there was no movement in behalf of the general public interest that did not enlist his cordial support and hearty co-operation. He was a genial, companionable gentleman, whose name was a synonym for integrity, and there will be none among those who knew him who will not regard his passing with feelings of sincerest regret.

Born in Canada.

William Francis Stewart was born near London, Ont., July 22, 1846. His father came from Scotland and settled in Canada in 1828.

When he was a young boy William received a limited education. He finally went to work for a farmer, and all the pay he received for three years was his board and clothing.

At the age of 15 he was apprenticed to John Campbell, of London, Ont., and there he learned the carriage woodworking trade. The first year he received $25 and his board, and for the two remaining years of his apprenticeship his wages were advanced to $30 per annum. After he learned his trade he went to New York with but $2 in his pocket. He worked in the metropolis until 1868, and then came to Michigan, settling in Pontiac, where he worked for Parsons & Page. He remained there one year and then came to Flint. He went to work for his brother in the factory of Stewart & Roosevelt, carriage builders. After remaining here for a year he returned to Pontiac and worked for Charles Parsons until 1871. He then came back to this city and engaged in business with W. A. Paterson, manufacturer of carriages.

Goes Into Business.

After spending ten years with the Paterson concern, Mr. Stewart engaged in business for himself, manufacturing bodies for the carriage trade. Most of the output of his factory was taken by the firm with which he had worked, and his business increased steadily.

In 1883 he again went to Pontiac. His business prospered there, and by 1886 he had a number of men employed in his factory.

Early in the fall of 1886 he came back to Flint and the original W. F. Stewart plant was started. In 1893 he built his own factory, which was burned to the ground a year later. It was rebuilt at once.

The business had increased 50 per cent by 1897, and the following year the W. F. Stewart Company was organized. He was president of the firm and majority stockholder until the time of his death.

Employed Hundreds of Men.

The output of the factory was increased to 100,000 bodies by the close of 1899 and 200 men were then employed in the different departments. Plant No. 4 was sold to the Buick Motor Company, and the original W. F. Stewart factory was divided, one plant retaining the name of the W. F. Stewart Body Works and the other opened under the title of the Flint Body Works. The latter factory was opened on West Kearsley street in 1909. An average of 150 men were employed by Mr. Stewart in the Kearsley street plant. Buggy bodies and automobile bodies are manufactured there, the output being about 60,000 a year.

Mr. Stewart was a director in the Union Trust and Savings Bank, and was a stockholder in the Citizens' Commercial and Savings Bank. He was formerly president of the Genesee County Agricultural Society. He was fond of live stock and kept many head of choice cattle on a farm near this city.

In 1872 he was married to Miss Olive Wyrick, of this city. They had two sons, both of whom are living. William E. Stewart is secretary and treasurer of the Flint Body Works, and S. Sidney Stewart is treasurer of the W. F. Stewart Company. The former resides at 903 East Court street and the latter at 830 Avon street. Mr. Stewart also leaves one brother, J. F. Stewart, of Chicago, and a sister, Miss Eliza Stewart, of San Bernardino, Cal.

HANDSOME FLAG FOR BOY SCOUTS

Several Hundred Lads Assembled in Victoria Park on Saturday Afternoon.

ENSIGN TO BE GUARDED

Presentation Was Made By Mrs. Boomer—An Exhibition of Scout Movements and First-Aid Work.

Between three and four hundred Boy Scouts marched to Victoria Park on Saturday afternoon, where they were presented with a handsome corps banner by the local Council of Women. In their neat Khaki uniforms the Scouts presented a soldierly and pleasing appearance.

After congratulating the Scouts on the good showing which they made, Mrs. Boomer impressed upon them the significance of the flag which they had just received. The flag of Canada and the Empire—the old red, white and blue—the red for valor, the white for purity and the blue for justice, it is an ensign to be guarded and held sacred. Colors were presented to the color party of St. Paul's troop by the Tecumseh Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. The presentation was made by Mrs. George Gunn.

Some Exhibitions.

Some fine exhibitions of Scout manoeuvring were given by the various troops, and a brief address was given by Scout Commissioner G. N. Weekes.

A demonstration of first aid work was given by Troop No. 4, under the direction of Capt. T. J. Murphy and Mr. W. Clark.

Prizes for proficiency in essay writing were presented to the following scouts by the Municipal Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire.

Senior Scouts—H. Cole, A. D. Robbins, Kenneth Johnston, A. Talbot, A. E. McDonald, T. Welford, C. Vining and H. Tucker.

Junior Scouts—H. McDiarmid, A. Templar, Ellison Atkinson and Stanley Raymond.

KILLED ON SWITCHBACK

Accidental Death at Montreal Amusement Park.

Montreal, May 29. — The opening week at Dominion Park, Montreal's summer amusement resort, was marred by a fatal accident Saturday afternoon, when James C. Underdown, 32 years old, residing at 455 St. Antoine street, was killed on the scenic railway switchback.

Underdown had almost completed the ride, the car being but fifteen feet from the stopping point, when he attempted to leap out on to the platform according to the report of the man in charge of the railway. He slipped and fell between the platform and the car, and was crushed to death by the heavily loaded car following that in which he had been riding. He was unmarried.

Although over two million people have been carried on the switchback since the park was first opened, this is the first accident of this nature to occur on it.

TEN THOUSAND DRUGGISTS

UNITE IN THEIR OPINION REGARDING A CERTAIN MEDICINE.

Druggists should know better than any one else the value of every medicine.

Therefore, when over ten thousand recommend Vinol, the cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, over their own signatures as the greatest tonic reconstructor and strength creator—and offer to return the purchase money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction, it must indicate that Vinol is a pretty reliable medicine.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:

C. A. Potterfield, the leading druggist of Charleston, W. Va., says he used Vinol for every member of his family and has never been disappointed with the results.

Mr. J. F. Bradley, druggist, of New Brunswick, N. J., says, "Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine. He has proved it from personal experience."

The many years that Vinol has been on the market has served to strengthen its popularity, and proved by continued tests that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not build up your strength and give you an added interest in life.

Terrible Eczema for 25 Years Cured by Cuticura Remedies

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My own doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'try them if you like but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee down, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. After the first two treatments the swelling went down and in two months' use of the Cuticura Remedies my leg was cured and the new skin grown on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use Cuticura for his own patients. But for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I am truly grateful for the wonderful cure that Cuticura wrought. I have many grandchildren and they are frequent users of Cuticura and I always recommend it most highly as a sure and economical cure for skin troubles." (Signed) MME. J. B. RENAUD, 277, Mentana St., Montreal.

You Can Try Cuticura Soap and Ointment Free

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded the speediest, surest and most economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring skin and scalp eruptions, from infancy to age. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but in order that skin sufferers may prove their efficacy without cost, the Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 82 Columbus Ave., Boston, U. S. A., will send post-free to any address a liberal sample of each, with a 32-page book on skin health. Write for a set to day, even though you have suffered long and hopelessly and have lost faith in everything, for even the first use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to give instant relief when all else has failed.
