WHAT'S BRED IN THE BONE.

She fell back upon her pillow, moaning. After ten minutes' silence I felt her hand on my bowed head, and she asked, gently: "What are you doing—praying for me? Do you think me so very wicked, Marie? Are you too afraid to touch me? Do you think my Maker will turn from me as those who have turned—those two hard, cruel men, who once loved me? Isn't there something in the Gospel about a woman whom all men judged and condemned except one? My head is so weak and heavy I can't remember; but isn't there some story like that somewhere—somewhere?"

I slipped my arm around her neck, I laid my head upon the pillow, and with my lips to her ear, I told her the story she could not remember, and many others besides (from the same book); and the words coming from my throat reached hers and brought a shower of tears to her burning eyes.

Presently, as I was still whispering Sir Richard came in, and stood for a moment looking silently down at us. Without having the power to move, I remained exactly as I was, until she raised her hand to him and murmured the word "Forgive" and then I slipped away and left them together.

He forgave her, I learned a few hours afterward; but forgive her what—how much? I dared not ask. I do not think she knew herself, for when, toward dawn, I returned to the room, she began at once to talk on the subject with a feverish persistence that I tried in vain to repress.

"Marie, he—he has been very good. He says he forgives me everything that he wants me to get well quickly and go home with him. And—ah! when I get safely there, I mean to tell him, mean to explain all the things I have not been so very wicked, I you know it all. I did not mean to be anything but a good wife to him. I never wanted to care for—for that other; it came upon me before I could help it, before I knew it was going to happen—"

"Yes, yes; some other time you must tell me all about it; you have talked enough now."

"No, no; let me tell you now, I should feel better if some one knew I think the pain might go from my head then. Listen, Marie, listen! He was older than I; so different from me, and from any man I knew before. My mother made—I mean, wished me to marry him. He was always kind but I was a little afraid of him, and never knew what to say to him, and the first fortnight of the honeymoon almost stupefied me, but I did not let him guess—he was so kind to me. Then here, in this horrible Paris, we came across Dolf—the other; and I was like meeting and old friend, I could talk, laugh, joke with him, as I used to do with the others at home. He, my husband, saw no harm. He was glad we—we got on so well together. Sir Richard asked Dolf connectedly, never knew the truth about myself and him until there was a question of his marrying. Then—ah! heaven help me!—I knew I loved him. I knew I could not let him belong to another—that it would kill me, brood my heart, as it will—send me! Send Marie—in pity help me! Send for him—send for my love; let him see me here, burning, stifling, dying for his sake. Oh, hush—hush! What is the good of preaching, praying? Can I help my heart? Do I want to suffer as I am suffering? Is it my fault that I can't help thinking of his night and day? And he is tired of me—weary of my pink and white face, which he once thought the loveliest in the world—of my pro-

Be Warned by Headache. It tells of Serious Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys—Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. You can stop a headache with powerful drugs. But it is not generally wise to do so. A headache almost always warns you of derangements of the digestive system, the liver, kidneys or bowels. Awaken the liver to healthful action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you not only free yourself of headache, but remove the cause which will soon lead to more dangerous results than headache. Pains are the result of poison in the system and whether you have headache, backache or aching limbs, you can be almost sure of relief and cure by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are wonderfully prompt, as well as definite and thorough in action. You can depend upon them to matter how long-standing or complicated your case. The pills are 25 cents a box. Write to E. J. Johnson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

What are you doing? I asked, in some surprise. "I want to see if you have been vaccinated, Miss Bernard."

"I? Oh, I don't know! I suppose so. What does it matter? I answered, abruptly passing into the room. I had never given the matter a moment's consideration till then, and I honestly think I did not care a straw whether I had been vaccinated or not.

On that night, when I knelt by Lady Nesbitt's side, watching the livid shade steal over her terrified face, listening to her parched lips wildly protesting that she was better, oh, ever so much better!—that the awful heat had left her hand, the pain had gone from her limbs; that in a day or two, to-morrow, perhaps, Richard could take her away—away from that horrid city to the quiet home that she was longing for, and that she would never leave again. On that night, as Heaven is my witness, I would willingly, ay, gladly, have laid down my life to save her. But it was not to be, and the end came before dawn.

We were alone with her, her husband and I. I was kneeling in prayer at the foot of the bed, and she was lying in a painless doze, her cheek pillowed on his hand, when, about half an hour before the first streak of daylight, she woke up suddenly, struggled into a sitting position, raised her arms quickly above her head, then with a half-stifled shriek, flung herself forward upon his breast.

"Richard, Richard—keep me—keep! I—I don't want to die. I am too young; I—I can't die yet! Oh, if you love me, keep me—keep me husband, don't let me go alone—keep me! I—I don't want to—"

Her voice died away in a quivering gasp, and a few moments of silence followed, in which the echo of her cry vibrated through the darkened room—a cry that rang in my ears for months afterward. I never saw the face of the dead

Small-pox—the most malignant type of small-pox! Heaven preserve us and help us! I slipped from the room, hearing the doctors moving on the landing overhead, and went in to prepare Lady Nesbitt for the unexpected visit. She had had gleams of consciousness all the morning and appeared to be suffering less. When I told her of her mother's visit, she seemed to be startled and surprised that I came to the conclusion that she had but little or no idea of the gravity of her condition.

"Mamma and Pel down-stairs? What brings them to Paris at this time of the year? She never said anything about it in her last letter. Why don't they come up, Marie? Send them up at once!"

On the stairs I met Sir Richard, and delivered her message. "I am sorry you told her, Miss Bernard," he answered; "because Mrs. Johnson is unfortunately not in a state to see her poor child. She is—she is dreadfully overcome by the news, and has gone to a hotel close by her son."

"Gone to a hotel without seeing her daughter?" "She—she, it seems; have never been vaccinated."

"Oh!" We walked in silence together to the bedroom door; there he impulsively took my wrist in his hand and began to push up the sleeve of my dress.

"What are you doing? I asked, in some surprise. "I want to see if you have been vaccinated, Miss Bernard."

"I? Oh, I don't know! I suppose so. What does it matter? I answered, abruptly passing into the room. I had never given the matter a moment's consideration till then, and I honestly think I did not care a straw whether I had been vaccinated or not.

A Simple Treatment that Will Make Hair Grow Now Sold in Newfoundland.

Every up-to-date woman should have radiant hair. There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it. In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair, and Canadian women can have lustrous and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA, the Great American Sage Hair Tonic.

Every reader of the Telegram can have an attractive head of hair in a few weeks by using SALVIA. McMurdo & Co. sell a large bottle for 50 cents, and guarantee it to banish Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back.

SALVIA is a beautiful, pleasant, non-sticky Hair Tonic. women, for when I looked up at last, it was turned from me, and her poor body, purged forever of the fever, the sin and struggling sorrow of this world, lay motionless in Sir Richard's arms. I only met his sorrowful eyes, and then I fled from the room and the house, which I never saw—and never mean to see again.

CHAPTER VIII. I went straight to a little convent hospital at the other end of Paris, and there took to my bed. I felt sure at first that the disease which had killed Lady Nesbitt was about to carry me away too. Intense pain in the head and occasional delirium set in that afternoon; but before the end of the week the doctors declared I was only suffering from nervous fever brought on by mental strain and the want of sleep; and about a fortnight later, I was able to leave the ward and even help a little in the nursing.

I received one letter from Sir Richard, which I heard he delivered in person, and that decided my future movements, about which I had come to think vaguely and listlessly. This is what he wrote: "My Dear Friend, I had not sufficient courage to see you before leaving, though I came twice to the hospital for that purpose. I now write to tell you I am leaving Southampton to-morrow in Colonel Wilmoit's yacht. I think you would find it better to Melbourne for the benefit of the health of his son, who is in a decline. I will write to you from there; before, if I am able. Meanwhile, I leave my children in your care. Take them whither you like. My cousin Mrs. Massey, offers you and then a share of her house at Bournemouth, and Laura de Villmaque is anxious you should occupy a little country house in Normandy, somewhere near the sea. For the summer months, at least, I think you would find the latter pleasant; but I leave it entirely to your own discretion."

Then followed directions about monetary affairs, and with a few broken phrases referring to his less, the letter abruptly concluded. I was about to set out the next day for Marbroque, where the children were still staying with Louise's people, when a letter from Mrs. Johnson, dated from the Grand Hotel, stopped me. It was a piteous, despairing letter, blotted, she told me, and indeed I could see their marks on the paper—by the tears that would never cease to flow. She said that the love of her lost darling's little ones was the only tie that bound her to earth, and that henceforth her life would be unreservedly devoted to their care. She was starting at once for Marbroque, and proposed taking the children direct to Les Maronniers, Madame de Villmaque's country seat, where she requested I would join them at the end of the month, when all fear of infection would be removed; and, in the meantime, she counselled me to keep constantly in the open air, and, besides my mourning, to supply myself with a complete new outfit of underclothing. All these precautions, however, proved to be unnecessary, for on the following day I received a telegram from the poor lady at Marbroque, telling me that both the children had been attacked by the frightful disease, that already poor little Birdie's face was unrecognizable, and begging me to come to them at once.

Cable News.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, March 3. Winston Churchill, presiding at a dinner of the 'Eighty Club' last night, in honor of John Redmond, referring to Ireland's long struggle for Home Rule, said that Redmond and the Liberal party, after this long pilgrimage, has reached the threshold of success. It was of the utmost importance that Irishmen who had fought for Home Rule should stand together. Redmond said that the miserable, shameful, unnecessary and unchristian misunderstanding and ill-will between Britain and Ireland was almost, if not entirely, at an end.

Editor Evening Telegram. LONDON, March 3. Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Tukes and Mrs. Marshall, three of the leaders in the window-smashing campaign, by which the suffragettes almost succeeded in terrorizing London tradesmen, have each been sentenced to two months' imprisonment. They were the first three of 124 women arrested. The total damage done by the suffragettes amounted to $25,000. Mrs. Pankhurst declared that she intended to go further when she came out of prison, and that she suffragettes were prepared to go to the fullest limit in order to show the Government that women were going to secure votes.

Editor Evening Telegram. LONDON, March 3. The great ports of the United Kingdom, particularly those situated in Wales, from which coal is shipped to every part of the world, and the centres of the iron and steel industries, have naturally been the first to feel the strike of over a million miners. Many iron works are closed, and at Swansea and elsewhere the docks are practically at a standstill. No vessels are arriving, and the dockers and workmen in the local industries have been thrown out of employment. Great crowds of the men are gathered in the streets discussing the dispute. In South Wales the mine owners are preparing for the worst. They have had walls built round the mines, and have laid in great stores of provisions in anticipation of a long siege. The railroad and street car services in many cities have been still further curtailed. The Tin Plate works in Wales are rapidly closing down owing to lack of coal. Six hundred mills will be idle within a few days, and 40,000 men employed there will be thrown out of work. Williams, the Labour M.P., Secretary of the Amalgamated Society of South Wales Colliery Workers, told the Welsh miners at a meeting that he expects a settlement of the strike will be reached by Thursday on lines satisfactory both to the men and the owners. The price of food is rapidly rising everywhere.

Special to Evening Telegram. PEKING, March 3. Martial law, which has been proclaimed in the capital, is opening successfully. Early this morning quiet prevailed in the vicinity of the Legations, but continual cannoning is heard in the direction of Peng Tai, with which communication is cut off. The Legations are preparing for a siege. Direct attacks on the Legation quarters are not feared, but the Chinese troops possess many modern guns, which might be used effectively if turned in the direction of the Legations. By the dynamiting of the bridges in the Hankow railway, and because of fighting along the Tien Tsin line, Peking is out of communication with these places. The foreign guard along the railway will be increased. The diplomatic body held a conference last night, and considered means for the restoration and maintenance of communication.

Special to Evening Telegram. TIEN TSIN, March 3. It is reported here that the twentieth division is battling at Peng Tai, where a hundred British troops are stationed. The Britishers, while protecting women and children, are unable to stop the looting and could not prevent the burning of the station.

The Stone Rebounded.

There can be no doubt that people at large are disgusted at the exhibition which the Minister of Finance and Customs made of himself on Thursday night. He seemed to have laid himself out to turn the vials of his wrath personally on Sir Robert Bond and to disregard the most elementary rules of procedure and the dictates of decency in debate, and he succeeded in turning on a stream of vituperation utterly irrelevant to the issue before the Committee, and absolutely unprovoked by any personal charge made against the Minister by the Leader of the Opposition. It is true Sir Robert had criticized severely the resolutions under the consideration of the Committee, but he had made no personal attack whatever on any member of the Government, and had made no reference by word, deed or gesture to the Hon. M. P. Cashin when that Minister began his first and principal personal attack on the Leader of the Opposition. Not only had Sir Robert made no reference of any kind to the Hon. M. P. Cashin, he was not even present in the House when Mr. Cashin commenced his attack. Sir Robert Bond had made a speech in the afternoon and in it there was no word which could be construed by any strained construction as having the remotest relation to any reference to Mr. M. P. Cashin. Several speakers followed Sir Robert. At 5:30 the Committee rose, while Mr. Clift was speaking. After 8 p.m. when the Committee resumed its sitting, the Minister of Finance commenced a violent diatribe against Sir Robert Bond, who was not in the House, and who did not enter the House until long after Mr. Cashin had sat down and others had spoken. It will be seen then that the personal attack on Sir Robert arose in his absence, was commenced in cold blood, unprovoked by any personal attack by Sir Robert Bond or any one else.

At present the heclers of the Picnic Party are trying to justify Mr. Cashin's attack, not by anything said or done in the discussion of the Tuberculosis Resolutions or any other discussion of this session, but by raking up incidents of a quarter of a century ago, and bringing in the names of men who have not had a seat on the floors of the Assembly for periods varying from three to twenty-three years. How can the heat and passion of twenty-five years ago have provoked the vituperative attack of Mr. Cashin on Sir Robert Bond on Thursday last? How can the heat and passion of dead and past sessions justify an outrageous personal attack this session on a speaker who has used no abusive epithets towards the person who attacks him, but has confined himself to an intellectual analysis of propositions before the chair, a reasonable review of objections to them, and a calm presentation of authoritative opinions adverse to them. Sir Robert Bond relied solely on reason and argument; the Hon. M. P. Cashin on personal abuse and outrageous vilification of a political opponent who had not directed one offensive word to him. Mr. Cashin cast the first stone, and to-day he is the only man hurt.

NORWEGIAN FISHERY ABNORMAL TO DATE.
We are indebted to Mr. H. W. Leitesurier, Assistant Collector, for the figures of the Norwegian fishery this year and for the corresponding period last year.

St. John's Men Will Get Berths
The s.s. Kite, Capt. Wm. Carroll, will likely sail this evening, if possible, for the Gulf. Nearly all St. John's men, we are told, will comprise her crew, this being the outcome of the Placentia sealers being unable to get travelling connection to the outlet port. If the prevailing conditions continue much longer, this will also be the case particularly with the northern outports, where the harbours are blocked with ice. Whilst it will be a material drawback to the outlet port, it will prove a great boon to our St. John's people and those of the outlying settlements this year, who heretofore have not enjoyed the privilege of getting select berths.

Hope From The Ocean.

The Norwegian ketch Neptune, Capt. Petersen, left Figueira on November 10th last to Bishop & Sons of this city, but not being heard of was given up as lost. The firm received a great surprise on Saturday when they were advised that she had arrived at Faya, in the Azores, with all her sails blown away. She has salt for the March winds, you will find the Cream heal and soothe the abraded skin, and make you comfortable. Price 25c a pot.

Mrs. Laracy Dead

Mrs. Jas. Laracy, an old and respected resident of the city, died at her residence, Bannerman Street, in her 82nd year, to-day. Mrs. Laracy and family resided on Water Street West for over 40 years. She leaves four sons—Mr. P. Laracy, the well-known business man, of Water Street, and Thomas, James and John, who reside in New York. Her daughters are Mrs. T. O'Grady and Miss Annie Laracy. The bereaved family to the Telegram extends its sympathy.

Weather Report.

Catalina—Wind north, blowing strong; clear; ice about 4 miles off the Bight.
Flower's Cove—Light N. E. winds, fair and cold; Straits packed with ice.
Change Islands—Wind N.W., strong, ice still packed on land.
Seal Cove—Wind N.W., White Bay full of ice; no seals to-day.

Train Notes.

Trains left here at 9:15 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. yesterday for Avondale, taking freight, passengers and mails. A train leaves Port aux Basques for Placentia Junction at 11:30 to-day. This train is due here Wednesday. A slow special arrived at Placentia from Placentia Junction at 10 a.m. to-day.
The Placentia branch is now clear. A train leaves Port aux Basques for Bay of Islands on arrival of the Bruce at the former place, taking passengers mails and freight.

Found Drowned At Topsail.

A very sad affair occurred at Topsail yesterday. Miss Katie Flannery, daughter of the late Matthew Flannery, has resided with her uncle, Mr. Richard Flannery, for some time past. Yesterday morning as Miss Flannery did not put in an appearance at breakfast at the usual time, her uncle went to her room to call her, but receiving no reply when he had knocked at the door, waited for a short while and then went to the room again. Again he received no answer, and being surprised at this, opened the door. He found the room unoccupied but saw that the bed had been slept in and that Miss Flannery had only recently left it. Inquiries for her were made about the place but she could not be found, and from people went in search of her. Her footsteps were traced in the snow to the beach and there the dead body was discovered by Mr. Butler in about three feet of water. She had not long afloat from her bed, as it was warm when Mr. Flannery left her room. The body when found was sparsely covered with clothing. It is believed that the unfortunate young woman became temporarily insane and ended her life by drowning. She was 25 years old and highly esteemed at Topsail.

Serious Outlook.

The outlook for the successful prosecution of this season's sealfishery at present is anything but bright. If the railroad is not clear by the middle of this week only comparatively few of the sealers and possibly of the captains will be able to get up from Bonaville Bay. Those from the north side of the Bay will not be able to do so, while with the Bay blocked with ice as it is at present only one or two of the more powerful boats can get down. A couple of days strong breeze off shore wind is wanted to clear the ice away. The new sealers Sagona, Loydsen and Brana now on their way from the other side will have all they can do to get out and crew in for the voyage.

The Bruce Sails.

The S. S. Bruce left here at 12:30 p.m. today for Sydney with a large freight and will call at Port aux Basques. Her crew consists of Mrs. R. G. Reid, Miss Linton, C. McK. Harvey, Hon. M. G. Winter, wife and son, Capt. Clarke, the members of the Windsor hockey team and 30 second class.

Liverish? You should try bottle of Abbott's Effervescent Saline Laxative which is an ideal liver stimulant, as well as a general health laxative. In certain cases of Dyspepsia this agreeable medicine has done excellent service, cleaning the tongue, and removing the fetor and bad breath. It is a certain laxative, but mild, and never gripes. Price 30c a bottle.
If you are one of those who have not yet begun to use Cream of Lillies, now is the time to begin. No matter how badly chapped your hands are, no matter how dry your face feels, the March winds, you will find the Cream heal and soothe the abraded skin, and make you comfortable. Price 25c a pot.

Police Petition.

Dear Sir,—I hear that the petition from the police force for a raise of pay will be presented in a very so and the general belief is that they will be told as they were before—'if you don't like what you are getting get out.' Of course this is only what can be expected from the Morris-Tory clique—the grab-balls who are spending the taxes of the people like water in serving out new jobs to the friends of those within the charmed circle and paying salaries to incompetent crooks and bootlers, who have been served with jobs, but who threatened to become "insurgents" when the Boss didn't cough up quickly enough. "Tim Shanahan," your entertaining contributor, puts the case of the police plainly before the public in a recent contribution to the Telegram. But I would like to point to another aspect of the case and ask what do our business people think of the matter? In great measure their interests are guarded by the police and if there is a general resignation of men from the force, as is not unlikely, how will business people take it? At present the men can't keep themselves supplied with boots out of their wages, after they pay for their board, and the force is now composed of about two thirds who are really doing the work, and most of whom, contemplating their meagre pay envelopes, will quit early. On all sides men are asserting that they will leave the force for work. A prominent member of the Executive is an ardent and practical upholder of this principle. In connection with unions, and the "People's Party" which came in with such a flourish of trumpets are expected to give up to the private employer at election time, but many of which have been completely forgotten. The friends of the swing of the true People's Party—the Liberal Government—led by the popular and talented Sir Robert Bond. With thanks for space, E. W. GROVE.

The Government and the Sanatoria.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I read with very great interest what you published in Saturday's Telegram as Sir Robert Bond's "last words" on the Government's Sanatoria blunder. One can hardly imagine that after such an invincible argument as Sir Robert Bond has put forward against the acceptance of the Reid gifts, that the Government will carry out their intention and impose another incumbrance upon the taxpayers. Nothing in the shape of, or that could be properly described as, an argument in support of the Government's position was advanced by the Premier and his following. Beaten at every point, their ignorance of the whole subject being exposed by the leader of the opposition, like a pack of hungry curs from whom a mastiff has seized the bone, they snap and snarl and show their teeth. Their low abuse of Sir Robert Bond only indicates their paucity of arguments and absence of ordinary intelligence. The honesty and intelligence of the personnel of the present Government and their scrupulous regard for the honour and truth since the opening of the House of Assembly will pass into the history of our country as the mightiest means for the removal of the tax on the land since Riensel contended single handed with the glided robbers of Rome. Yours truly, CITIZEN.

THE SMALL POX OUTBREAK.

There was no further outbreak of small pox reported to the Health authorities to-day. Mr. Edward Power, who developed the disease on Saturday, has been removed to the Signal Hill Hospital. The present case, we are informed, is a virulent one. The patient yesterday was doing splendidly. How this outbreak originated remains a mystery.

20 Teck Knots WORTH 30c.

A BARGAIN FOR MEN.

WE purchased recently a job lot of fashionable, serviceable and stylish neck-scarfs at a bargain; and intend giving you the benefit of buying them at the above noted reasonable price.

These Teck Knots are made of silk and other suitable fabrics, and come in a variety of rich, neat, pleasing patterns, and are fitted with a patent hook-on wire fastener—designed to clasp the column of a collar-stud, which it successfully accomplishes; and the well-proportioned silk-covered-bar which juts from the sides of the knot slips readily beneath the corners of any of the fashionable makes of double collars; and when in position has all the appearance of a genuine hand-tied-knot.

No tugging, tearing or straining with the Teck Knot, because they can be hooked on in a twinkling of an eye, and when in position will stay there until removed.

Men that dress well will find here designs to suit their particular tastes, and owing to the low price can easily afford to lay in a good stock of these splendid Teck Knots. Call and examine them to-day.

S. P. C. A. in Session Saturday

In response to invitations sent by Mr. Justice Johnson a special meeting of the above organization was held on Saturday afternoon to consider the practicability of creating new interest in what has for its main object to prevent any cruel treatment being accorded to dumb animals. The President, Hon. W. B. Warren, was in the chair, with Mr. G. J. Adams as Secretary. Judge Johnson addressed the meeting and gave a splendid and most interesting account of the Association from the time of its inception down to the present, particularly emphasizing the pioneer efforts of the late Hon. D. J. Greene and Mr. G. J. Carty in the initial steps of the movement. The following resolutions were adopted:

"The Association should be incorporated, and given thereby a standing and authority not hitherto enjoyed. The membership should be increased from the ranks of citizens willing to assist in the Association's efforts. The funds should be augmented by public subscription and otherwise and applied to the requirements of the Association as they arise. At present there is a substantial sum in the Bank to the credit of the S. P. C. A. (about $1,400.00). The Association will require a competent agent, whose time must be given wholly to his office, and, for which a fair salary will be paid. It will be an endeavour of the S. P. C. A. to move in the matter of educating the youth against practices of cruelty to animals, now unfortunately too common. Arrangements will be made for representatives of the Association in outports, whose co-operation will be beneficial to the work in hand. For the carrying out of this work a committee was appointed who will report at the next meeting to the General Committee.

Wholesome Dwellings Are Wanted.

NOT SANATORIA.

Dear Sir.—One cannot help being struck by the lack of thought displayed by people who allow themselves to become obsessed by a certain idea. They permit the thought to take absolute control of them, so that they are no longer master of the thought, but the idea is permitted to become a veritable slave driver. Such persons are known as cranks. In this town we have what may be called fresh air cranks, and Dr. Wakefield is one of them. I am a great believer in fresh air, and sunshine, too. I sleep with my window open whenever practicable, but I believe it to be a waste of energy and time to urge all to do the same. Dr. Wakefield must know very little of the construction of the houses in which the majority of our people live, or he would not waste time in telling them to lower the sash instead of raising the lower one when they need or desire ventilation. If Dr. Wakefield will juts trouble himself to investigate, he will find that the upper sash is a fixture in almost every house. It is an easy thing for a man with a well nourished and comfortably clad body to recommend fresh air, especially when he finds himself snugly ensconced in his easy chair in a warm and cheerful room, and feeling that his cellar is well stored with coal. I look upon the advice to open the windows as a bit of cruel irony. If Dr. Wakefield would urge the erection of good, comfortable dwellings for our people he would be acting more nobly towards the poor of this town. Or if he should demand that a commission be appointed to investigate the conditions of the poor, he would be doing something better than giving out cheap advice. Where are our great temperance workers? Here is a chance for them to achieve something. They should be working to alleviate the misery of the poor, and so doing strengthen the cause they claim to have at heart. Let them cease their ineffectual hacking at the boughs and get at the very root of the evil. Surely they cannot be blind to the fact that mean, squalid, noisome surroundings have a very demoralizing effect, and that unhealthy and cheerless habitations drive many to drink and crime. Ambition and hope and love cannot thrive in a foul dwelling. Gradually, amid such scenes all that is noble must die. Temporary relief is sought in drink, only to make matters still worse. Where is the Public Health Officer? He should be in evidence. Come, Dr. Brehm, let us hear you demand the destruction of the hundreds of unhealthy houses and the erection of modern dwellings. There are, I believe, hundreds of houses in this town in which a ray of sunlight never enters. It is not Sanatoria we need, but wholesome dwellings. To erect hospitals for the treatment of consumptives whilst nothing is being done to prevent consumption is the height of folly. Let the Reds keep their gift; we do not want it. I am sure the vast majority of the people of Newfoundland repudiate the offer. I dare say the Messrs. Reid are actuated by very kindly motives, but we cannot with dignity accept their gift. If they want to do something for which we will be grateful, let them as a business venture erect a few hundred dwellings for working men and let them out to tenants at a reasonable figure.

Yours truly,
ARTHUR ENGLISH.

Cashin's Vituperation Entirely Unprovoked.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to express an opinion as briefly as possible on Thursday night's disgraceful scene in the House of Assembly. As an eye-witness and a lover of fair play, I think it only right that I should express an opinion in justice to the leader of the Opposition, Sir Robert Bond. As you have already stated, the attack was unprovoked, and there was no reason whatever for the Hon. M. P. Cashin to make such an attack on Sir Robert. That it was a put-up-job, to my mind, seems only too true, as it had nothing whatever to do with the matter the Committee was dealing with. To read the Daily News and Chronicle one would think that Mr. Cashin was a hero. They may think so, Mr. Editor, but the general opinion is otherwise. Mr. Cashin's exhibition of rowdiness Thursday night will be remembered by those who had the painful privilege to listen to him for years to come. He may think he has made a great hit, but I venture to bet if his most ardent supporters heard his tirade of abuse on the night in question they would think twice before having him as their representative again in the House of Assembly. People nowadays are so well educated that they want men with a sense of honor to represent them in the House of Assembly. The Minister of Finance seems to have buried all self-respect, both for himself, his position and his constituents. Why, sir, you cannot call it anything else but a scene of rowdiness on the part of the Minister of Finance. It would do credit to a drunken brawl on one of our back streets. The way he waved his hands and "swagged" his shoulders could leave only one impression to any fair-minded man, that the Hon. Minister—well, he was not all there. Both the Daily News and Chronicle in trying, miserably, I may say, to pull Mr. Cashin out of the gutter, refers to the A. B. Morine and E. M. Jackman episodes as a parallel. No doubt there were stormy days between these two gentlemen, but people never for one moment thought that they were anything else but in their right senses. There is no parallel whatever between Jackman and Cashin. Mr. Jackman was a fighting worker, but Mr. Cashin is a fighting "bulldozer." I know, sir, that space will not permit me going further into this matter. The leader of the Government is solely to blame for the whole scene, as he could have stopped it if he so desired, but he has been "wiped up" so often this session both on the Speech from the Throne and the Tuberculosis Resolutions by Sir Robert Bond, that it must have been great satisfaction to him to hear the Minister of Finance heap abuse of the vilest kind on his (Sir Robert's) head. Mr. Editor, my language may seem pretty strong, but, sir, scenes of this kind need to be strongly dealt with if we hope to have a decent House of Assembly.

Keep the pressure up, Sir Robert, you are doing a noble work. You must certainly see the result of your criticism in the way the Government side regard it in trying to bully you out of the House; but the general public are behind you and are only awaiting the time when they can show their appreciation of the services you have rendered to the country during your short time in opposition in showing the "People's Party" up in their true colours.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I remain,
Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.
St. John's, March 2, 1912.

B. I. S. Meeting.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Benevolent Irish Society was held yesterday morning, President Hon. J. D. Ryan in the chair. Another member was added to the roll and three more posted for membership. The election of the Literary and Amusement Committee for the coming year resulted in the selection of the following:—T. P. Halley, J. Campbell, J. P. Crotty, M. J. Donnelly, W. B. Comerford, E. L. Carter, T. H. O'Neill, H. J. Brophy, Alan Doyle, T. Ring, G. Knight, James Daley, J. J. Mahoney, P. Laracy, W. R. Firth. The committee will meet on Wednesday night to elect officers and form sub-committees. In appropriate language the Vice-President, Mr. J. M. Kent, K.C., proposed and the Treasurer, Mr. M. A. McCarthy seconded that a resolution be entered on the records expressive of the Society's deep regret of the recent death in Ireland of Rev. Brother F. O'Driscoll, and the Society's high appreciation of the work of the rev. gentleman whilst labouring in this country. Brother O'Driscoll was one of the pioneers of the Christian Brothers in Newfoundland, and was stated yesterday, it was largely due to the manner in which he so well laid the foundation that there has been since such continued success in the work of these great teachers.

Was Jealous, Killed Rival.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 19.—After attempting to blow up the home of Florence Tinsley with dynamite, it is alleged a man named Crockett attacked George Williams, a caller, and cut Williams' throat from ear to ear. Jealousy is supposed to have been the motive. According to witnesses at the coroner's inquest, Crockett called at the Tinsley home yesterday and finding Williams there placed a stick of dynamite under the corner of the house and partially wrecked it. Then as Williams rushed out Crockett seized him and slashed his throat. Crockett was arrested, and the Chief Justice found him responsible for Williams' death.

Provinces Asked TO JOIN.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 25.—On Saturday Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, dispatched telegrams to all provincial members inviting the provinces to appoint counsel to represent them at the argument on the reference on the marriage law. The telegram recites the questions which are being submitted to the Supreme Court, and continues: "The government intends providing counsel to represent both views on these questions. As provincial rights in respect of dynamite under the corner of the house and partially wrecked it. Then as Williams rushed out Crockett seized him and slashed his throat. Crockett was arrested, and the Chief Justice found him responsible for Williams' death. To do so.

Which is the Blackest?

Among the most common and most contrary of eye ailments is that condition where lines or objects extending in some certain meridians are blurred and indistinct. Headaches, indigestion and many other bodily ailments follow in the wake of this astigmatic condition. We correct astigmatism in all its varied forms.

TRY EACH EYE SEPARATELY

If any of the lines appear blacker than others, it denotes Astigmatism. Properly fitted glasses will make them all alike.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Oh, toothache is a fell disease that makes the victim's marrow freeze, while his wallings, on the breeze, disturb his neighbors; while toothache rends his swollen jaws he has no use for moral laws, the TOOTHACHE uplifts or the people's cause or useful labors. He doesn't care a red ding-dong about the shining peaks of song, he doesn't wish to right a wrong, his brave lance breaking; though public wrath be growing warm, he doesn't need the growing storm; he only howls for chloroform to stop that aching. The ship of state might go to hang against the rocks where sirens sang, he simply wouldn't care a dang, he'd let it founder; what though the nation's bulwarks break? He wouldn't care a tinker's shake while down his jaw-bones rolls an ache, a red hot ground-er. 'E'en as I write there haunts my teeth a smoking pain, above, beneath, that fairly jolts my laurel wreath, my withers wringing; and nothing else seems worth my while but using language out of style; I do not dance, I do not smile, I am not singing.

Vicious Dog.

While Mrs. Martin, of the Hill of Chips, was passing along Duckworth Street a couple of days ago, she was attacked by a fierce dog and her coat and dress were torn in several places. But that men passing beat off the brute she would have been badly bitten. A few days before this the same dog bit a girl named Ryan in a severe manner about the legs. Such bruises should be destroyed.

"C" C., M. G. B.

The new "C" Co. of the M. G. B., to which the Telegram recently referred, will drill in the College gymnasium on Tuesday and Friday of each week. Last Friday the first drill was held and already 70 members are on the roster. The company will be in command of Capt. Berry, Capt. Goodman and another, who will shortly be appointed. The new company will greatly strengthen the battalion.

Cable News.

LONDON, March 3.

A cable says that it is reported that Queen Alexandra, who is suffering from influenza, has had a relapse and is in a serious condition. Two physicians and the King have been summoned to her bedside.

KINGSTON, March 3.

The C. P. R. is negotiating with the Jamaica Government for a fast weekly steamship service between the Island and Canada. Vessels will call at Boston going and coming. The service is intended to develop the fruit trade and carry mails to and from England. The company demands a subsidy of $300,000; one half to be paid by Jamaica and the other half by Canada.

Kindling Wood Very Scarce.

Owing to the fact that the country roads are so badly blocked with snow and that few have been able to get to the city the past few weeks, kindling wood is very scarce in town and householders are put to a serious inconvenience as a result. Something similar occurred last year about the same time, but the versatile "Picnic Party" stepped into the breach and started the industry of making splits out of the trees which enclosed the House of Assembly, and earned for themselves the not altogether inapt title of the "Split" Government. The revenue from this went as silently and mysteriously as the overdraft of $18,000 spent on contingencies.

Sealing News.

All the sealing steamers that will prosecute in the Gulf are now getting provisions on board and will likely sail to-morrow.

The new steamer Erna is due from Glasgow on Saturday. It is said she will prove a fine ice-breaker.

Crosbie & Co's. new steamer Sagona is due here on Thursday from Dundee.

The s.s. Bellaventure leaves here to-day for the northward to bring along the sealing crews for Harvey's ships. She will call at King's Cove, Catalina, Greenspond, Pool's Island and Wesleyville.

St. John's Ice Bound.

St. John's at present is in an ice-bound condition, which is a very rare happening. In consequence, not since Saturday last has any steam or sail moved in or out the heads, the Bruce and Nascope being the last, owing to the heavy ice blockade in the harbor. The flow extends almost from the Dry Dock out beyond Cape Spear. Owners of shipping generally will anxiously hope for a change of wind to drive the ice off, as there are a number of vessels now overdue on the coast awaiting a favourable time to enter port, including the s.s. Invermore, which put into Bay Bulls on her way here from Piacenta and has been ice-bound there for the past four days.

Boy's Arm Cut Off.

Shortly after 2 p.m. Saturday a terrible accident occurred at the Rope-walk when a lad named James Baird, aged 15, of Mundy Pond Road, had his right arm taken off in the machinery, just above the elbow. The boy, whose parents are dead, was adopted by and lived with Mr. Michael Brien, and for sometime past has worked at the Rope-walk. The lad worked at the identical machine in which James Whelan was killed some 5 or 6 years ago, and which is known as the "Rover." The sides of this machine are filled with cogs, and as he was engaged, it is thought, clearing, these of the shreds of material which sometimes get in them, his right arm became caught in one of them, was quickly drawn in and mutilated up to the elbow where it was cut off and fell on the floor of the place. The cries of the injured lad brought another boy named Hayse, who worked near, to his aid. He quickly stopped the machinery and despite the horrible sight which Baird presented kept his head and took prompt and effective steps to stop the flow of blood from the arteries which were severed and showed with tendons and pieces of broken bones in the stump of the terribly mangled member. While the stricken boy lay on the floor Hayse placed a tight ligature on the arm which checked the hemorrhage, and by that time nearly all the employees about had assembled and removed the boy to Mr. Brien's house. Dr. Mitchell was summoned by telephone and quickly responded and did everything possible for the boy who was then driven to the General Hospital, and was doing as well as could be expected yesterday. The boy with his mangled arm and with the coat sleeve torn into shreds presented a terrible spectacle, and had not the lad Hayse acted with such coolness Baird would have been killed outright.

OBITUARY.

After an illness of long duration there passed to her eternal reward, on Friday last, Mrs. Walsh, wife of Nicholas Walsh, Esq., of the firm of McCormack & Walsh, Catalina. The deceased lady bore the intense pain, the result of the malady which she suffered, with exemplary patience and Christian resignation, and her long and well spent life fittingly closed with a very happy and peaceful death fortified as she had been during her last moments with the rites of Holy Church. Mrs. Walsh was a kindly, affable and charitable woman whose many friends within the city and country heard of her demise with intense sorrow. Two sons, John and David Tobin predeceased her and she leaves to mourn her Mr. W. Tobin, of the office of Hearn & Co., and four daughters, viz. Rev. Mother Columba, and Mesdames Edward Sinnott, John Murphy and Thomas Walsh. The funeral of the deceased took place at 2:30 p.m. yesterday and was largely attended. Interment was at Belvidere Cemetery. To the sorrowing husband and family the Telegram extends its condolences.

Beothic Gone for Neptune's Crew.

The s.s. Neptune, Capt. Bob Bartlett, which left here Saturday for Brigus to bring along her sealing crew, had to retreat for the third time owing to contending with heavy ice. She had to abandon the trip altogether as the ice blockade in the harbor prevented her from getting away from the pier, and as she was to sign her crew on to-morrow for the Gulf, fearing a delay in sailing, it was deemed advisable to send the Beothic, she being a more powerful ship. The Beothic left here at 10 o'clock to-day for the Conception Bay port and is due back this evening.

Oppelt in London

By Saturday's mail friends of Otto Oppelt received letters and post cards from him. He is still in London and will wrestle with some celebrities in his own class in the great metropolis. Otto will accompany Mr. W. D. Reid later on the European continent and on returning here will fetch along a 30 horsepower auto of the most modern type. To some of his friends here he sent photos of himself as he went up in an airship.

"Only a Cold"
SNEEZING and running at the nose, stuffed up feelings in the head, sore throat, tickling in the throat and coughing.

This is the natural development of what is in the beginning "only a cold." It is the way in which scores and thousands are allowing colds to develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, or consumption.

If colds were promptly cured there would be no need for sanatoriums and hospitals for consumptives. Because people have weak lungs they need not become consumptives if they will but guard against colds and cure them promptly by using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

This great medicine has proven its right to a place in every home by curing croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma and all sorts of coughs and colds. 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Certainly Ends Stomach Misery

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, or Dyspepsia go in five minutes.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diapepsin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bloating, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within Newfoundlanders' Annual Ball in Boston.

(Special Correspondence of the Evening Telegram.)

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—Last evening, in its annual ball, there was celebrated the "coming of age" of the Newfoundlanders' Mutual Benefit Association, and the affair was correspondingly brilliant. The occasion was honored by the presence of guests of distinction, those invited being the Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston; John F. Master, President of the British Charitable Association; Hon. J. J. Powers, C. South Boston (who is a Newfoundland lander, by the way, who has been elected a Senator of Massachusetts) and Mr. J. Whittle, representing the Terra Nova Association.

The ball was given in the spacious Oddfellows Hall, Oddfellows Building, Berkeley and Tremont Streets, and with a grand march there opened at 9.30 a carnival of pleasure that did not end until 4 a.m. Over 10,000 were present, but, under the direction of the reception committee (whose chairman was Mr. P. P. Fiddell, late of Allan's Square, St. John's), everything went without hitch. Mr. Wm. B. Somerville, President of the Association, acted as floor marshal, and Jeremiah W. Halleran, 1st Vice-President, as floor director, with Edward Molloy and Walter Duggan as assistants. Thirty-one Newfoundlanders, members of the Association, under the direction of Stephen F. Puddister, Chief of Aids, assisted the various committees. A midnight dancing ceased temporarily to permit guests to partake of an excellent supper, while those not desiring to partake were entertained by singers in the ball room. At 4 a.m. the enjoyable affair was concluded.

The Newfoundlanders' Mutual Benefit Association was organized in this city twenty-one years ago. Its present membership is over three hundred; it is well officered and managed, and is the most active of any Newfoundland organization in New England. The Association meets once a month at its headquarters in Appleton Hall, Paine Memorial Building, Appleton St., Boston, and its officers are: Wm. B. Somerville, President; Jeremiah W. Halleran, 1st V.P.; Edward Molloy, 2nd V.P.; Jno. E. White, Rec. Sec'y; Sam'l Down, Treasurer; Thos. Malone, Sergeant-at-Arms; Thos. Holland, Chairman Auditing Committee; Nicholas J. Halligan, Chairman Investigating Committee and Guide; Samuel Goss and Thos. Bouzour, Trustees.

Drowned in a Well While Getting Water

Dominion, C. B., Feb. 15.—Price McKay, a native of Ball's Creek, was accidentally drowned this forenoon by falling into a well while in the act of drawing water. The deceased was in his thirty-ninth year and leaves a wife and five children. His sister, Mrs. James Lewis, resides in Sydney, and he has two brothers living in Dominion. The late Mr. McKay was severely injured in the mines about two years ago, having a leg broken, and had only recovered when he returned to work.

Strong Evidence in Dynamite Conspiracy Case.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—New disclosures made in the dynamite conspiracy cases, through 40,000 letters and telegrams quoted in all the indictments as implicating practically all the officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, will be the basis, it was declared to-day, upon which the government will seek to convict the fifty-four defendants charged with committing or abetting in almost 100 explosions.

The correspondence is held as showing that a vast plot, known by Frank Ryan, president of the iron workers, and to members of his executive board and many business agents, was carried on for six years to destroy the property of steel contractors who employed non-union labor.

It charges all the defendants with being equally guilty as abettors. It also purports to reveal evidence that "jobs" became the accepted term and that gradually the officials of local unions began to call on the international headquarters in Indianapolis to assist by dynamite and nitro-glycerine in increasing the expenses of "open shop" contractors.

Ortie E. McManigal, Herbert S. Hookin, second vice president and James B. McNamara, became, it is charged, an organized "dynamiting committee." Letters are included to show regular fees were paid to McManigal and that the cost of doing local "jobs" frequently was discussed in letters.

A letter from Olaf A. Treitmoer of the local union in San Francisco to J. J. McNamara in Indianapolis, after the Los Angeles Times disaster, stating that he hoped "Santa Claus would be as kind and generous to you with surprises," is quoted to show that the conspiracy spread from Boston to the Pacific coast.

Four more indictments not yet made public, supplemented the principal indictment containing the correspondence. The indictments name all the fifty-four defendants as implicated in the general conspiracy and make these charges:

"That on thirty-four counts all the defendants were principals in illegal transportation of dynamite.

"That on thirty-four counts McManigal, John J. McNamara, James B. McNamara and Hookin are guilty of illegally transporting dynamite and all the other defendants are guilty of aiding and abetting them.

"That on sixteen counts all the defendants are guilty as principals in illegal transportation of nitro-glycerine.

"That on sixteen counts, McManigal, John J. McNamara, James B. McNamara and Hookin are guilty of illegal transportation of nitro-glycerine and all the defendants are guilty of aiding and abetting them."

The wide scope of the thirty-two indictments, which contain twenty-eight counts, is due, it is announced, to the theory of the government that the defendants' alleged guilt is equal no matter how small an individual person's activity in the conspiracy may have been. Mr. Miller said it has been determined to press all the counts of the indictments against each of the defendants.

Mr. Miller added that the indictment setting out unconsummated acts of conspiracy, extensive as it is in presenting a mass of alleged incriminating correspondence between the defendants, "only submits a typical act. If we had chosen, this indictment might have been run into many more hundreds of pages. Forty thousand letters were seized in the headquarters of the International Iron Workers Association, and from them the investigators chose evidence that will be more than sufficient to prove our case when offered in connection with corroborative evidence of wide extent and varied character. The freedom with which these men put on paper their plans moves and the working out of their purpose is amazing.

Gone to the Wall
 And Through It!

To meet the demands of our rapidly increasing business we are compelled to make extensive alterations to our store. To enable us to do this without inconveniencing our customers, we have decided to close our Store for 14 days.
 When we have completed these alterations our Store will be second to none in the city. This will enable us to stock a larger range of Up-To-Date Gents' Furnishings, which up to the present we were unable to do, through lack of space.
 We thank our numerous patrons for the excellent support they have given us since we started the K. & A. STORE, and hope that when we re-open that Bright little Store on the Corner, it will be just as popular as ever.
 We remain, yours faithfully,
G. F. KEARNEY,
 J. M. ATKINSON.

Notice to Mariners
Point Platte, Miquelon, St. Pierre.
 The following information has been received from the Vice-Consul of France, St. John's:—That owing to the bad condition of the Fog Alarm of Point Platte (Miquelon), guns are fired there, during foggy or snowy weather, every 20 minutes; but those measures having not proved efficient enough, it is thought better to advise navigators to avoid the Islands during bad weather, until further notice is given.
