A MEETING of the East Lambton Farmers' Institute was held in Watford on Thursday afternoon last. We are informed that only five or six persons were present. The Secretary will probably furnish us with a report of the proceedings for next issue.

KING EDWARD VII succeeded Queen Victoria on June 22nd, 1901, and was crowned on August 9th, 1902, the coronation being deferred from June 26th on account of the King's illness. George V crowned June 22nd, 1911. Cut this out and put in your scrap book.

THE Slocum Medicine Co. manufacturers of Psychine have assigned. The firm did a good business in this part of the country but newspaper exposure of the methods alleged to be employed in selling the company's stock is attributed by the manager as the cause of its downfall.

At the late County council meeting the following motion by Drs. Merrison and Fairbank was discussed at some length and finally adopted: "That this county council request the various county councils of Ontario to elect delegates at their December session for the purpose of waiting on the Ontario Legislature to urge upon them the advisability of the government making provision for compensating the owners of cattle suffering from tuberculosis and ordered to be destroyed by veterinary inspectors, and to assist boards of health in their endeavor to stamp out bovine tuberculosis."

BASEBALL to-morrow, June 22nd, married men vs. single men. Everybody come. If you are married root for the single men. If you are dumb we will excuse the noise, but come.

THE Watford census enumerators have finished their work and they had a comparatively easy time of it throughout the town. There were no citizens who objected strenuously to the questions the census man fired at them. There are not many families here that would delightedly Roosevelt for size but the enumerators earned their money.

If you know or hear of an interesting item in the community make it a point to see that it finds a place in the local paper. We should much appreciate your effort and will endeavor to ascertain or verify any lacking points. Anything which tends to brighten the news service of a paper makes it of so much more value to the community and the subscribers are the ones mostly benefited thereby.

No town in Ontario of like size offers any better educational advantages than Watford. Our citizens have spared no expense in the erection of buildings that are inviting and comfortable, and they offer a school home that any one can be proud of. Our Public school with its efficient principal and first-class assistants is second to none, and the High School in general efficiency is not excelled by any other in the province. We are very proud of our schools.

When a man attends to his duties as manager of a financial institution, builds a refreshment booth, drives a delivery horse for several hours collecting supplies for a social, has a runaway, does the honors to the entertainers, helps serve the refreshments, and before he gets home is held up for a bank burglar, he has had a strenuous day and is entitled to a good night's rest. These various duties were performed by a Watford gentleman last Friday.

THE regular meeting of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brown, the president presiding. The program consisted of two instrumental pieces played by Miss Lillie Sedwick, which were very well rendered, and also a very instructive paper by Mrs. Burton, which was appreciated by all. There were also very good suggestions from others present. The next meeting will be in the town hall on July 5th.

AN Order-in-Council has been passed changing the license fees for moving picture shows from $25 to $50, an advance of $25 from former charges. Operators will pay a license fee of $1 instead of $5. This amount is payable no matter when the license is taken out, but the proprietor pays only for the proportion of the license year remaining when he starts operations. The Order-in-Council also provides that the censoring of films will not be commenced until July 1st.

A DRIVE through the country at this time of year will positively convince one that the surrounding townships are the very heart of the Garden of Ontario. The only drawback lies in the fact that the fertile fields of Lambton are only half worked and are capable of supporting thousands more than are located on the land to-day. Some of these days men will wake up and make one grand rush for some of the fine farms that are being used solely for pasture purposes by their wealthy owners.

THE garden party given by the Anglican Young People's Association of Watford, on Friday evening last, on the beautiful lawn in front of Dr. Kelly's residence, Front St., drew a large crowd, and the young people excelled themselves in offering to the public a dainty and attractive lunch. There were refreshments of various kinds in abundance and the grounds were artistically lighted by electricity and Chinese lanterns. An excellent program was presented, Col. Kenward acting as chairman. Among the numbers on the program were songs by Mr. W. Meldrum, entertainer, London; readings by Miss Griffin, of Port Huron; a cello solo by Mr. T. L. Swift and a plentiful supply of music by the Watford Silver Band. Mr. B. Binks played the accompaniments for the singer. The Rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, made a short address thanking the audience for their patronage and also those who had worked so faithfully to make the garden party a success. The proceeds amounted to over $77.

THE confidential report of the High School staff regarding the candidates at the forthcoming Departmental examinations was forwarded to the Department of Education, Toronto, on Tuesday. The number of candidates recommended by the staff for the various examinations were as follows: Normal Entrance 22; Pass Matriculation 6; Faculty of Education Entrance, Part I., 7; Faculty of Education, Part II., 3. A number of the candidates who are not expected to pass these examinations will no doubt obtain Model School Entrance standing.

THE Lake Linden Mining Gazette of a recent date has the following: Miss Lillian Karr, stenographer for the Pearce Hardware & Furniture Co., Ltd., departed Thursday afternoon for her old home in Watford, Ontario, where she will visit with her grandmother, Mrs. J. Bartly, Sr., and other relatives and friends. Miss Karr resided in Canada before coming here three years ago, and this is her first trip there since coming to the states. She expects to be absent in the dominion for at least two or three weeks before returning home to again take up her duties in the office of the Pearce company.

THE following clipping from a recent Lethbridge paper refers to a former well-known Watford man:—"While working upon the main building at the new Fair grounds yesterday afternoon, A. Mathers met with an accident. He is a father by trade and was up on a trestle 12 feet in height, when the strong wind that was blowing, blew it down. H. C. Pulley was working on the same job and told him that it was shaky and going to fall, but he went up and went to work. Pulley had just finished telling him when down it went and he broke Mathers' fall, but nevertheless the man broke his leg. The foreman, Mr. Lelliott, drove him in to his home, where the leg was set, and today he is reported as resting with ease."

ALISA CRAIG BANNER: "One of our local doctors had a novel experience the other day. About two o'clock a.m. he was speeding along Argyle St. on an errand of mercy when his speed was interfered with by a slow moving rig in front. Repeated calls to give half the road failed to have any effect so in desperation he reached as far over his dashboard as safety would permit and gave the obstructing buggy top a tremendous cut with his whip which had the desired effect. A young couple, over-tired with the joys of spooning, had fallen fast asleep. They promptly allowed the doctor to slip by, the young lady very considerably holding a screen over her face to hide her identity."

A SYNOPSIS of the Government report on tuberculosis in Lambton will be found in another column. It should be instrumental in arousing the people of Lambton County to a realization of the conditions which prevail and the necessity of a sanitarium where the patient may be scientifically treated. During 1906 to 1910, inclusive, there were eighteen deaths from tuberculosis in Warwick, fourteen in Brooke, and fourteen in Watford. This shows what an inroad the white plague is making. The only way it can be successfully opposed is for the people to band themselves together and use freely of both effort and money. A sanitarium is needed in every county of Ontario and every assistance should be given the men behind the movement.

THE General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church when in session at Ottawa lately by a practically unanimous vote, approved of the form in which the mind of the people is to be learned on the great question of organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches. A common ballot will be supplied to all the churches free and they will be asked to take a vote of adherents, as well as communicants, and report to the clerks of the assembly before March 1, 1912. Three questions will be submitted: "Are you in favor of organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches?" "Do you approve of the proposed basis of union?" "Have you any suggestions or alternatives to offer?" The age of adherents whose votes are to be taken was fixed at not less than 18 years, and their vote will be taken separate from that of the sessions and the church members.

THERE was a large turnout of people on the streets Sunday evening to view the military parade. The soldiers and boy scouts assembled at the public school grounds and headed by the Watford Silver Band marched to Trinity Church to take part in the Coronation service. "F" Company 27th Reg't turned out 24 strong, and there were about the same number of boy scouts. The parade was in charge of Lt.-Col. Kenward and the boys made a very good showing. The Coronation service was read by the rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, and Col. Kenward read the Scripture lesson from Romans 15. The special hymns rendered by the choir were "O God Our Help in Ages Past," "Fight the Good Fight," "Lord of Heaven and Earth and Ocean" and "God Save the King." During the taking up of the offertory Mrs. (Dr.) Kelly sang very sweetly a solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul." The rector chose for his text I Samuel 16: 12, and gave an interesting descriptive address that was attentively listened to and much enjoyed by the large congregation present.

D. J. CAMPBELL, formerly of Watford, died at Edmonton this week.

The Watford Boy Scouts went to Strathroy on Thursday last to play off the return game with the Boy Scouts of that town and were defeated after a hard game by a score of 11-8. Saving Daylight.

There seems a probability that the Daylight Saving Bill, which has been heard of from time to time in the cable despatches, will become law in England, if not next year, the year after. The present proposal in England is to set forward the clock for an hour on the third Sunday in April and to set it back for an hour on the third Sunday in September. By this system one hundred and fifty working hours in the coolest and pleasantest part of the day would be borrowed from the months when the nights are longer, and as Hon. Winston Churchill has pointed out, an equal number of hours of daylight for recreation after work was done would be added to the people's stock in trade of enjoyment. This he has shown is equivalent in the course of the year to about seventeen additional holidays. Simple as the scheme is, it sounds paradoxical. The ordinary man cannot see how he can borrow more time than the solar system gives him. Yet he is merely borrowing it from himself. Under the system proposed he is utilizing one hundred and fifty hours of daylight that he ordinarily loses by lying in bed and making it up out of the dark hours. It ought to be easier to gain acceptance for the system on this Continent than on the British Isles. Owing to our magnificent distances nearly every man is acquainted with the business of shortening or augmenting a day. The man who journeys from Toronto to Chicago by changing his time from Eastern standard to Central standard time acquires an additional hour on his day. When he returns he loses one. It is this process reversed and placed at a fixed interval of five months which is likely to be adopted in England and ultimately many other countries.—Saturday Night.

Help Things Along.

When the people are needing some dough and are pleading for aid and support for some good worthy plan, don't knock and don't holler but dig up a dollar, and help things along like a little man. The knocker is hated and feared and berated in every burg from Beersheba to Dan; he active and willing and cough up a shilling and help things along like a smooth little man. Be known as a booster and crow like a rooster, don't yelp like a how-wow that's tied to a can; laugh, sing and kyoodle and blow in some boodle, and help things along like a nice little man. Quit plunder and pillage to whoop for your village, and win a renown as an optimist fan; don't e'er be a whiner but shell out a shiner and help things along like a dear little man. The towns that are going to keep up their growing are filled with good Injuns who follow this plan; so don't be a miser, to loosen up's wiser, and people will say you're a sweet little man.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY, Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Familiar Saying.

"My pay goes on just the same." The correctness of this familiar statement which we have all heard—perhaps have used—so often, is challenged by Frank Farrington in a recent number of Publicity Magazine.

"The man who makes that statement doesn't know what he is talking about," Mr. Farrington maintains. "His pay will not go on just the same, and if he thinks it will when he isn't doing all in his power to make himself worth more money, he is fooling himself, whether he fools anybody else or not."

"The fellows who think that their pay is not dependent upon any extra effort on their part, are wrong in their calculations. They may think, as they say, that the woods are full of jobs."

"There are so many men after every good job that the fellow who is the present incumbent has no assurance that he will be kept a minute after his contract expires, unless he makes himself invaluable to his employer."

"One thing the man hired must understand first, last and all the time is, that he has simply got to make more money for his employer than he is paid in wages or there will be no profit in keeping him."

"To hire a man at fifteen dollars a week and have him do enough business to pay a profit on about thirteen dollars is obviously a poor investment. Better let that business go, as so many customers escape without being waited upon. And yet when a man gets to where he is earning for his employer, about five or even three dollars a week more than he is being paid, he begins to think that his salary ought to be doubled."

"Many employees fail to realize that there must be a net profit on their services just as there is on the goods or else they are losing money for the concern."

When a woman is a bundle of conceit she is generally wrapped up in herself.

ROYAL CITY LAWN BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Guelph, Tuesday, June 27th.

Arrangements for the second annual Royal City Lawn Bowling Tournament have already been well advanced by the Guelph Lawn Bowling Club, and they anticipate having if possible an even more successful tourney this year than last. Prof. R. Harcourt, of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College, is Secretary of the Tournament. Preliminary advice have been sent to all the clubs in Western Ontario, and it is expected that the majority of these will be represented at Guelph on Tuesday, June 27th, which is the date set for the commencement of the tournament.

The Royal City bowlers are fortunate in having forty greens at their disposal, guaranteeing the best of accommodation for all comers. The main competition will be for the Schofield Trophy, won by Dr. Andy Scott's (London Thistles) rink last year, and in addition elegant prizes will be given in this as well as the other two competitions.

Reduced rates have been granted by the railway companies, and those going to the tournament will purchase a single fare ticket and obtain the usual standard convention certificate.

A most happy time is undoubtedly in store for those who attend, as the hospitality of the Guelphites is well known.

Should an editor publish all the stuff that he naturally confines to the waste-paper basket he would need to go into hiding for a month after each issue in order to preserve his anatomy in anything like a whole condition, remarks an Exchange. There is no part about the news paper office that saves the editor and the people from personal hurt and embarrassment so much as the waste-paper basket. Thank Goodness ours is large enough to confine the weekly grist, that if published would bring sadness and probably sudden death to many of us.

None can get away from the early home life and its teaching, and we should have all things pure and bright in the home, and inspiring to moral excellence. There is no more lasting memorial than a pure character. Build carefully, thoughtfully, and prayerfully in our homes, and we will be a noble nation.

A correspondent with a mathematical bent of mind calculates that it will take King George thirteen years, three months and seven days to complete the reading of the numerous coronation addresses he will receive. To relieve his majesty from this strain upon the royal constitution a corps of private secretaries will mark them "taken as read," and deposit them in neat bundles in the cellar of Windsor Castle.—St. Mary's Journal.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys, every ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this."

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Field Crops in Canada.

A bulletin of the Census and Statistics Office issued June 10th, states that the season this year has been favourable for field crops in all parts of Canada, and excellent reports have been received from all the provinces. The lowest percentage of condition is made for fall wheat, which suffered from inadequate protection in the winter months, and also to some extent from spring frosts. The areas of fall wheat are greater than last year by 4.50 per cent, and of spring wheat by 13.70 per cent. The total area in wheat is 10,503,400 acres, as compared with 9,294,800 in 1910, and 7,750,400 in 1909. The per cent condition of fall wheat at the end of May was 80.63, and of spring wheat 96.69. The area in oats is 10,279,800 acres and its condition 94.76, as compared with 9,864,100 acres and 93.95 per cent. condition last year. Barley and rye each show a small decrease in area, but the condition is higher than at the same period last year. Slight decreases are also reported for areas of peas, mixed grains, and hay and clover, with per cent. condition of over 90. Hay and clover have a reported condition of 91.45 for the Dominion, being practically 100 in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The area of the field crops named is 32,051,500 acres in 1911, compared with 30,554,200 acres for 1910 and 28,194,900 acres for 1909. In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the area in wheat, oats and barley was 3,491,413 acres in 1900, 6,009,389 acres in 1905, 11,952,000 acres in 1909, and 13,809,300 acres in 1910, and it is 15,355,500 acres this year. The increase of these crops from 1900 to 1911 was 2,663,699 acres in Manitoba, 7,364,315 acres in Saskatchewan and 1,846,073 acres in Alberta.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity. As an illustration of this: in prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book, you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.

It Grows Hair But Not After the Hair Foot is Dead.

T. B. Taylor & Sons will tell you that they sell a great many bottles of Parisian Sage because it gives satisfaction. They guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling and splitting hair and itching scalp, or money back. Parisian Sage will make hair grow if the hair root is not dead; it puts life and luster into dull and faded hair, and is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. Only 50 cents a large bottle. Parisian Sage is the best hair grower and beautifier, dandruff cure and scalp cleaner known. Try it on our money back plan.

The Dead Sea is Spreading.
 The Dead sea is encroaching upon the land about it so rapidly in this decade that whole forests of trees which formerly grew at some distance from its banks are now partially submerged. Maps of the sea made twenty years ago show an island near the northern extremity of the lake which was not found during a recent survey, and it is supposed that this has been lost in the rising waters. The Turkish government sold the mining rights on the shores to a syndicate for about $350,000, and if the sea for some unknown reason continues to rise these holdings will be almost unattainable.

Cards for the Puppies.
 A novelty in Paris is the lap dog visiting card. Poms and pugs which go visiting with their mistresses in fashionable circles have their own tiny pasteboards tucked away in little pockets of their outdoor coats. Such dogs have two sets of cards, which are duly left on other dogs at the houses where they are calling with their mistresses. One card gives the dog's real name and its race, while the other records its pet name joined to the family name of its owner. Cards are left according to the pedigree of the dog visited.

Australia and Our Canal.
 The advantage of the Panama canal to Australia is thus referred to in a Melbourne paper: "It means that in another three or four years we shall have to rearrange our mail service to Europe and our whole oceanic transportation service. The Suez route to Britain will go by the board—must go—because the Panama canal will shorten the journey to and from Britain by several days and thus put all users of the new route in possession of an incomparable economic advantage over users of the old."

A Famous War Fleet.
 The battleships of the Atlantic fleet which sailed out of Hampton Roads in December, 1907, on the famous around the world cruise—the Alabama, Illinois, Maine, Missouri, Ohio, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Wisconsin and New Jersey—have passed from the first fighting line. Today every one of them is listed "in reserve," and their places in the fleet have been taken by newer and more powerful ships—Ansonant.

Her Unalterable Decision.
 To the new cook Mrs. Cross elaborately explained a certain method of preparing potatoes greatly approved of by the family. The cook listened to the directions with apparent attention. "And now, do you quite understand, Della?" asked Mrs. Cross in conclusion. "I do, mum," was the response, and then, in a firm tone that admitted of no contradiction, she added, "But it's blined potatoes ye'll eat."

TRUSTED BY TIME.—In his justly-celebrated Pills Dr. Parmelee has given to the world one of the most unique medicines offered to the public in late years. Prepared to meet the want for a pill which could be taken without nausea, and that would purge without pain, it has met all requirements in that direction, and it is in general use not only because of these two qualities, but because it is known to possess alternative and curative powers which place it in the front rank of medicines.

Two more big mergers have been organized—the paint merger and a consolidation of the large bakeries. The paint merger will have a capital of $7,000,000 and takes over the Sherwin-Williams business. Lewis Berger & Sons, of London, England, and the Canada Paint Co. The bread merger includes three large bakeries in Toronto, one in Montreal and one in Winnipeg.

Fred Peck, son of William Peck, of Marcellus, N. Y., was taken out of an iced car of oranges at Canadian, Texas, with his hands and feet so badly frozen that he will die, according to word received to-day by relatives. A GOOD NAME IS TO BE PRIZED.—There have been imitations of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil which may have been injurious to its good name, but it so, the injury has only been temporary. Goodness must always come to the front and throw into the shadow that which is worthless. So it has been with Electric Oil; no imitation can maintain itself against the genuine article.

CURE THAT COLD
This is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use
Catarrhazone

Catarrhazone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhazone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhazone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhazone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues, because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all dangerous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhazone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages. Remember, CATARRHAZONE is taken in air, and is little drops of healing for the throat, nasal passages, or lungs. It always does what is guaranteed.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, post paid, from The Catarrhazone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

WATFORD, JUNE 23, 1911.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

It is believed that the lure of the west has reached its turning point and that the citizens of Western Ontario have come to regard their province superior to any other. It is gratifying that the exodus this year is very much reduced and that the words "Sold the farm" and "Going West" on auction sales bills are becoming exceptions. The metropolitan papers are even devoting more attention to the banner province of Ontario, while the people are learning that for comfort, possibilities and real progress it easily leads.

Speaking of the multiplicity of holidays this summer the Toronto Telegram says:—"November 8th, the anniversary of King Edward's birthday, was never kept as a general holiday in Canada. And why should next Saturday, June 3rd, the anniversary of King George's birth, be observed as a general cessation from toil in this Dominion? Flunkeyism is overdoing the holiday business. The impulses of Canadian nationality and British unity are not alien to the inspirations of common sense. The high and holy sentiments of nationality and unity cannot draw sustenance from the undue multiplication of holidays.

At the January session of the Lambton County Council an appropriation in the neighborhood of $4000 was granted for the installation of new steel cells in the corridors of the county jail. The contract for this work was awarded to the Canada Wire Goods Co., of Hamilton, and the work which has just been completed is certainly a credit to the company and the county council. The old stone cells which have been torn away and ten double steel cells and a single cell known as the "padded cell" have been installed. These cells are perfectly sanitary, afford more light for the prisoners and are more convenient for the warden and turnkey, as they can be either opened or closed from the outside of the corridor by a single operation of a lever, which is enclosed under lock and key in an iron box. The upper corridor on the north side of the building is used for a day room for inmates who are confined on minor charges, while the corridor on the upper floor at the south is used as sleeping compartments for these prisoners.

At this particular period, when the County of Lambton is so prominently in the public eye we do not look upon the good people from the outside as at all extraordinary but when they speak in complimentary terms of our County and its location and agricultural possibilities it is very pleasant to hear. The Governor-General was very favorably impressed by what he saw when here a couple of weeks ago and was good enough to convey the impressions he got respecting the Agricultural potentialities of the County he motored through which of course was the part lying between Sarnia and Petrolia. He declared that if we could only focus specialized brains on the soil, then with the help of our climate and geographical position, we ought to produce an output which will increase the land values of the whole county and make it into another Niagara District. When the opinion comes from such a high source it surely is deserving of much weight and we hope it will go to increase the confidence of the people in their county and develop the activity and enterprise necessary to prove what is so patent to the observer, namely, that our possibilities are vast.—Petrolia Advertiser.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING IN THE MUSIC HALL.

J. E. Armstrong, M. P., the Candidate for the Commons. Dr. J. B. Martyn, of Alvinston, the Candidate for the Legislature.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions of the Liberal Conservative party ever held in the East Riding of Lambton was held in the Music Hall on Tuesday afternoon last. Nearly every polling subdivision in the riding was represented. Throughout the entire meeting the greatest interest was taken in the proceedings, showing a fixed determination on the part of the delegates to again carry the Conservative banner to victory.

Among those on the platform were John Farrell, President, R. Bailey, E. McGillicuddy, W. R. Dawson, Hugh Montgomery, John Kerr, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, J. E. Armstrong, M. P., Reeve Stapleford, Warden A. Darville, W. A. Brock, Dr. J. B. Martyn, B. B. Corey, G. C. Moncrieff, Rev. S. P. Irwin, F. W. Wilson, W. E. Fitzgerald, Samuel Smith and others.

The proceedings were opened by President Farrell and the officers elected as follows:

President—John Farrell.
Vice-President—W. R. Dawson.
Recording Secretary—Thos. Harris.
Corresponding Secretary—W. E. Fitzgerald.
Treasurer—Dr. Newell.
Auditors—W. G. Willoughby and T. B. Taylor.

Nominations for the Commons were then called for and the present member Jos. E. Armstrong was the only name placed before the convention. Armstrong in a few well-chosen words accepted the nomination.

There were thirteen nominated for the Legislature, ten of whom retired, and on a ballot being taken Dr. J. B. Martyn, of Alvinston, was elected as the Candidate. The defeated nominees moved a resolution making the nomination unanimous and the candidates made short speeches accepting the nomination.

The following resolution was then introduced and unanimously carried:—

Moved by Geo. Montcrieff, Petrolia, seconded by S. Stapleford, Watford, that this convention desires to express the condemnation of the Reciprocity pact, for the following reasons:—

"Whereas the agreement grants free entry into the Canadian market, the surplus products of thirteen other countries, all large exporters of farm products and there is no free entry of Canadian farm products into these favored nations in return, and whereas the said agreement would reverse the fiscal policy under which Canada has established a home market for the farmer, built her factories, and diversified industries for her workmen, it will interfere with our trade routes, undermine our standing in the markets of the world, and assist our greatest competitor, the United States, to interfere with our progress and development. And whereas we believe it is a national duty to support farmers, prejudicial to the welfare of Canada, hostile to British trade and British connection, and will undo much that has been accomplished since Confederation in cementing the provinces and forming a Canadian nationality. For these and many other reasons, we wholly disapprove of the proposed reciprocity agreement. We further desire to express our sincere confidence in the leadership of R. Borden, Esq., M. P., and Sir James Whitney, and approve of the stand taken by J. E. Armstrong, Esq., our member, on this and the many other important questions which have come before Parliament during the last eight years."

Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, made a stirring address touching on the principal political topics of the hour. In the course of his speech said:—"You could not have made a mistake in the three men before you. You have not made a mistake in selecting Dr. Martyn as your standard bearer in the next contest. We who have been in Brooke and Euphemia direction know the services that Dr. Martyn and his father have rendered the Conservative party."

In connection with the agricultural improvements, the thanks of every farmer in Lambton and the owner of every acre of land is due perhaps in part to the Government, but those thanks should go out in no mean measure to the county council of Lambton for what they have done in the same connection. I refer to what has been accomplished in the course of the last year or so in the way of stimulating and arousing interest in the agricultural value of Lambton. The County of Lambton, through this stimulus, is brought on in part by the Ontario Government, not only in regard to this district, but others; and I want to say to you that it is the first time in some years that the county looks like her well-wishers would like to see her look—as if she were going some.

"If the note rung out last night in Winnipeg is any sign, it is very doubtful if we shall ever see reciprocity, of the kind on the boards to-day in Dominion politics. It is a respectable form of highway robbery.

"You have a good candidate, a good man, and a good cause. You have the votes in East Lambton. Get together like one man and count them and there will be no question as to who is returned when the election comes."

The meeting was brought to a close with cheers for the King, the Conservative leaders and the Candidates.

Richard McRae, son of Mrs. D. B. McRae, Appin Road, and Duncan McRae, contractor, of Newbury, were hurt in an accident, which occurred on the farm of Wm. Nethercott, at the Bend, Wardville. Both men were working on a new house for Mr. Nethercott, when the scaffold gave way, allowing them to fall. Duncan McRae had his head cut and foot sprained and Richard suffered a broken collar bone and other bruises.

While at work digging out a stump on Saturday Wesley Everingham, of Bothwell, had an experience which might have been sudden death. He was working under a stump, when it fell over, pinning him against the side. It took eight men to pry up the stump, which was a very large one. Fortunately no bones were broken, but he was badly bruised, being confined to his bed for several days.

The barn on the property of Phil Young, townline of Moore and Enniskillen, was struck by lightning last week. The gable end and roof of the building was shattered and the corner post split from top to bottom. Although there were several tons of hay in the barn it very fortunately did not take fire. A horse standing at the end of the building was very badly stamned.

NEW HEALTH AND NEW STRENGTH FOR SUFFERING WOMEN

Aching Backs, Tired Limbs and Splitting Headaches Need Not be Endured.

In silent patience nearly every woman endures suffering that casts a shadow over half her existence. An aching back, tired limbs, attacks of faintness, and headaches and backaches, need not be part of a woman's life. Such trials indicate plainly that the system requires the new blood that is supplied through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills are valued by suffering women who had used them above all other medicines, because they give the rich, red blood that makes women well, bright, and at their best. Mrs. Fred Collard, Poplar Point, Man., says: "I can give you but a very small estimate of the suffering I endured before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After the birth of my first child I suffered intensely from ailments that too often afflict my sex. This was complicated by attack of bleeding piles, and the agony of the days and nights I endured is almost past comprehension. I tried many remedies, but they did not help me in my trouble, and from a healthy young woman weighing 140 pounds I fell away in weight to 95 pounds. I grew so weak I could hardly walk across the floor, and there were times I hardly knew what I was doing so great was my agony. I went to Brandon and consulted a doctor who said that nothing would help me but an operation for both my troubles, and that I would have to remain in the hospital for at least eight weeks. Being a farmer's wife I felt that this was impossible, and while in Brandon I met a friend who strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, telling me that they had cured her trouble similar to mine, after an operation had proved of no benefit. She had such strong faith in them that she gave me the first box, and I began using them. It was not long before I found much relief. I continued to use the Pills all the rest of that summer, and the result was they restored me to perfect health. I told the doctor what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for me, and his reply was that he considered what they had done for me little less than a miracle. I have since recommended the Pills to many others who have suffered from woman's troubles and they always produced beneficial results. I hope that this statement will be of benefit to some other suffering person."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INWOOD.

The Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. Dawson last Friday.

Mr. Wm. Shipley returned to Inwood last week after spending some months in London.

Mrs. Gaffney, of British Columbia, spent Saturday with Mrs. Albert Johnston.

Quite a number of members of the Inwood Women's Institute attended the Farmers' Institute meeting held in Watford last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Britney and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Luckham, of Ennisville, visited at the home of Mr. H. F. Aylesworth on Sunday.

Mrs. Freeman Bowslaugh, and daughter, Dorothy, of Grimsby, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Graham, of Birnam, spent Saturday and Sunday with their sister Mrs. H. F. Aylesworth.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are making great preparations for their annual strawberry social which will be held on the lawn of Mr. T. Armstrong on Wednesday evening of this week. A good program is being prepared. Everybody welcome.

Mr. Wm. English left last Wednesday for Alberta and expects to come time there and in British Columbia. The Inwood bowlers could not let him leave without giving him some little remembrance of the good times spent together on the green. Mr. English was presented with a handsome travelling case for which he thanked the bowlers for their kindness and expressed his regret at leaving them. Mr. English is one who was always ready to assist in any movement which would help the little village and is a man that will be greatly missed in Inwood.

BROOKE.

Any person found picking berries on my premises, without permission, will be prosecuted according to law.—JOSEPH ACTON, Lot 8, Con. II, Brooke.

The ten-year-old son of Mr. Roland King, 14th con., while playing in the orchard on Sunday afternoon fell from a tree, fracturing and dislocating his shoulder bone. Dr. Kelly attended to his injuries and he is now doing nicely.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, received many a warm hand shake from his old friends in Brooke, Warwick and Watford on Tuesday, all expressing pleasure at his success in forging into the front rank of politicians.

In the matter of entertaining, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lucas, 12 sideroad, can give pointers to the majority of people. At the social on Monday night the patrons were treated as personal guests and their wishes looked after with the utmost possible attention.

Mrs. Thos. Gaffney and children, Beulah and Gerald Gaffney, Wardner, B. C., and Mrs. Geo. Kidd and children, Aubrey and Margaret Kidd, Fairlight, Sask., are spending a few days with their father, Mr. Jas. Griffith, and other relatives in Brooke and Warwick.

The result of the voting for Queen of the Foresters' demonstration in London on Coronation Day gave the position to Miss Perrin, of London. Miss Eva B. Holbrooke, of Sutorville, polled 49,200 votes and her friends worked nobly for her but the city prestige was too strong, and Miss Holbrooke had to be content with third place.

The lawn social given by the ladies of St. James' church on Monday evening last, on the beautiful grounds of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lucas, 12 sideroad, was to say the least, a decided success. A very large crowd, many coming from a considerable distance, was in attendance and a numerous staff of young lady waiters were kept busy ministering to their wants. The tables were loaded with all sorts of good and refreshing things, which spoke volumes for the ladies in the culinary art. The Watford Silver Band was present, and entertained the large audience with numerous selections while at lunch and before the program commenced. The program of the evening was introduced by the chairman, Mr. R. J. McCormick, M.P.P., in a humorous speech. The vocal art was exemplified by Miss Agnes Williams, Watford; the Misses Higgins, Brooke; Mr. Cameron Correstine, Brooke; Messrs. F. K. Matthews and F. R. Luckham, Watford, and the choir of St. James' church; while Rev. S. P. Irwin, supplied the oratorical part of the program. But we almost forgot to mention that the soul-stirring ballad, "Sixty Years Ago" was rendered by the Old Pioneer in his usual effective style before the close of the program.

Had their art well, and the ladies were rewarded in their efforts to make the affair a success. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas were everywhere and at all times untiring in their efforts to make everyone happy. All present seemed to thoroughly enjoy the evening's entertainment. The proceeds amounted to $180.00, which will be used towards building a barn for the caretaker. It is estimated that nearly seven hundred people were present, and the premises were hard pressed for the accommodation of the rigs which filled the yard and lane up to the gravel pit.

WARWICK.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Graham and Mrs. F. Bowslaugh, Grimsby, spent the weekend with their sister, Mrs. H. F. Aylesworth, Inwood.

Mrs. Allan Phillips, Port Huron, and two children, are spending a holiday with Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith.

John Sittlington, 2nd line, had a barn moved from one place to the next this week. The work was quickly and satisfactorily done by John Sharp, of Watford.

Mr. and Mrs. Leander Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wiley and Mrs. Morgan and Master Frank of the sixth line, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dempsey of Strathroy.

Mrs. Jeremiah Thompson of the 4th line, N.E.R., Warwick, was called to Brown City, Mich., Friday last on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Nial Thorp.

PLYMPTON COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the Plympton Council was held on Saturday afternoon to consider matters in connection with the Stewart and Cow Creek Drains.

Reeve Donald reported that Judge Macwatt had decided to spread the $168.85 deducted from the assessment of Mr. Stewart, over the drainage area, instead of applying it to the township.

The amount of $100 damages and costs of referee's court, awarded Mr. Wilson, was also placed on the entire assessment of the drain.

At the general convention of the Middlesex and Lambton Baptist Association in Sarnia, Rev. Mr. Grimshaw, pastor of the Baptist Church, Petrolia, was appointed moderator of the next general convention.

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him.

His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will use persistently, this peril would be tremendously reduced.

Her Protector

An American Wife in Berlin Shows Ability to Take Care of Herself

By SARAH EHRLICH

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

When Commander Haverslaugh, U. S. N., went to Berlin as naval attaché at the imperial court his daughter, Louise, was just nineteen years old. Though so young, she had been a heart smasher among the cadets at the Naval academy, where her father had been stationed for three years, besides having gone through several campaigns at West Point. She could not help flirting—not that she went out of her way to find any one to flirt with; indeed, there was nothing aggressive about her. The trouble was that every young fellow she met found in her something that acted as an incentive for him to make love to her.

Louise being of a marriageable age while her father was at Berlin, she very naturally married one of the young Germans she met at court, Baron Carl von Hilderschoff, a major in the army and connected with the general staff. Before Commander Haverslaugh would consent to the marriage he told the baron that Louise was a natural flirt, but that her flirtations were innocent and he need have no fear of her disgracing him or herself. The commander exacted a promise that the baron would trust her, relying entirely on her sense of honor and self respect to choose the right path.

It was not long after the marriage that Baron von Hilderschoff was ordered away from Berlin on some temporary duty. There was one man in Berlin, Count Gethart, who had been attentive to Louise before her marriage. This man the baron disliked and distrusted. Before leaving the capital he said to his intimate friend, Captain Manteufel:

"I am obliged to leave my young wife for a few weeks here, and I wish to leave her in your charge. You see, I don't wish her to be lonely. There is one man here I don't like. As soon as I am gone he will attempt to be devoted to her. I wish you to be so attentive to her that he will have no opportunity. You understand?"

"Perfectly. And I feel very much flattered at your confidence in me. Who is the man?"

"Count Gethart."

"H'm! You are quite right; he is a dangerous man. Is your wife to know of your placing her in my care?"

"Well, no. I don't suppose there will be any necessity for you to interfere in the matter. It is only in case Gethart becomes aggressive, you know."

"I see. Well, old fellow, I promise to do the best I can in the matter, though I do not expect any action on my part will be necessary."

Von Hilderschoff departed, and Manteufel called upon the baroness. Indeed, he made several calls, and to give an excuse for doing so he told her that her husband, fearing she would be lonely during his absence, had asked him to drop in once in a while to cheer her up.

Now, Louise, being an American with plenty of American shrewdness, suspected that something had passed between her husband and his friend of which she had not been made aware by the latter. If the captain's good offices were to be confined to keeping her from being lonely her husband would have told her that he had made such a request of his friend. When a woman wishes to get a secret she usually succeeds. It was not long before she had wormed out of Manteufel that he had been commissioned to protect her from Count Gethart. Commander Haverslaugh's warning had not been heeded.

It so happened that Von Gethart met his old flame at a social function the very evening after Manteufel had "let the cat out of the bag." She was very gracious to him and danced with him. Manteufel saw them together and as soon as the dance was over joined them. Louise straightway dismissed Gethart and walked away on the arm of Manteufel.

Manteufel treated her during the rest of the evening as he would have treated a schoolgirl who had been placed under his orders, and had been disobedient. She seemed to be very penitent and promised not to do so any more. Not only this—the next day she wrote a note to her protector expressing more penitence.

That the baroness' penitence was only skin deep was evident from the fact that she saw as much of Von Gethart as of Manteufel. The latter, still insensible to the fact that his interest in his charge was rather for himself than her husband, protested to the baroness against her accepting attentions from a man her husband disliked and distrusted. The baroness claimed that she could not decline them without giving offense. From this moment the bitter feelings that had entered the breast of Manteufel were turned principally against the man instead of the woman.

Meanwhile the baroness was writing loving letters to her husband, in which she never failed to mention the many kind acts of his friend Manteufel. She also wrote that she had met Gethart at a social function and that he had called upon her. This, she said, had seemed to excite the disapprobation of Manteufel. She did not like to repulse Gethart, fearing to make trouble. She longed for the day when her husband would return and relieve her of an embarrassing position. To this the baron replied that he would be at home on a certain date, arriving on a midnight train.

The evening of Von Hilderschoff's expected arrival the baroness wrote a note to her protector and one to the man from whom she was being protected, asking them to call upon her. They met. The scowl that lowered upon Manteufel's brow was like a thunderstorm in the Alps. Believing that he acted in the interest of his friend instead of from the promptings of jealousy, forgetting that he had not been commissioned to pick a quarrel with the man his friend disliked, he walked right into a trap and before he had been in Von Gethart's presence half an hour had in the most gentlemanly manner in the world insulted him. It happened in this wise:

"I do not think," said the baroness, "that your men in Germany have the respect, the reverence, for women our men in America have."

"You are right, baroness," said Manteufel, looking fiercely at Gethart. "We have here in Berlin men who would not hesitate to take advantage of a woman left unprotected by her husband."

A brief silence marked this throwing down the gauntlet, after which the lady turned the conversation into other channels. A few minutes later Gethart bowed himself out, and the baroness indicated to Manteufel that she would prefer to be alone. As soon as he had gone she called in a manservant and said to him:

"Heinrich, I have a very delicate job for you."

"What is it, baroness?"

"Count Gethart and Captain Manteufel are about to fight a duel. I wish you to inform me as to the time and place of the meeting."

"I could not well do that, baroness, except that the valet of Count von Gethart is my friend. This may help me out."

At 12 midnight Baron von Hilderschoff returned and found his wife waiting to greet him.

"Well," he said after exhausting ordinary matters that had occurred during his absence, "how about this Von Gethart? Has he been offensive in his attentions?"

"Not at all, but your friend Captain Manteufel has been more loyal to you during your absence than has been necessary."

"How so?"

"He evidently knows that you don't like the count and has assumed to keep him away from me."

"So?"

"Yes. They met here this evening. Manteufel insulted Von Gethart, and they are going to fight."

"So?" repeated the baron, opening his eyes very wide.

"Yes. The affair will be the talk of Berlin."

"Great heaven!" exclaimed the baron.

"We must interfere."

"How?"

"I have sent Heinrich to discover the time and place. I am expecting him back every moment."

"Himmel, may he be successful!"

It was 2 o'clock when Heinrich returned, and all he knew was that a carriage had been ordered by Count von Gethart to be at his door at 4 o'clock in the morning. But this was not enough. The baron and his wife ordered their own carriage to be ready at half past 3, drove to a point near the count's residence, saw him leave and followed him to a grove near the city, where his carriage stopped and he and a companion alighted. Another carriage had just arrived. The baron and baroness alighted some distance from the others. The day was breaking when they saw two men taking positions for a duel. Then they advanced.

"Gentlemen," cried the baron, "will you kindly inform me as to the cause of this quarrel?"

Both men, astonished, stood mute.

"I have been informed by the baroness," continued Von Hilderschoff, "that there has been trouble between you two. If my wife has anything to do with it I beg you to put up your swords. Neither of you need be concerned about her. I alone assume to defend her."

Both the men addressed looked as if they wished the earth would open and swallow them, but it was Manteufel who seemed especially crushed. He had gone on the field believing that he was protecting his friend's wife, but cherished a hope that knowledge of the quarrel might never reach his friend.

"Gentlemen," said the baroness with a certain sweetness that never deserted her, "we should be pleased to see you both at dinner this evening."

"You are very kind, but"—began the count.

"Really, baroness, you must excuse"—began the captain. But the lady simply put them both in the position of being ungallant if they declined, and both gave a reluctant acceptance.

The party left the field in the conveyances by which they had come. After a brief nap the baron, at his wife's request, called upon Gethart and Manteufel and persuaded them to meet as friends at her house.

"Something of this may leak out," he said, "and if you two men meet at dinner under my roof the story will be nipped in the bud."

This was an argument that struck home with both the men addressed, and in the evening they met at the dinner under at least the guise of ordinary friendliness.

The next day the baroness sent Captain Manteufel the letters he had written her during her husband's absence, and, reading them over, he was astonished to see that he had shown every evidence of jealousy and infatuation for his charge.

would hand it out, saying, with a twinkle in his eye: "Go buy a new suit of clothes."

The trouble with Pat was not that he was lazy, but that he was the kind of young man who needed opportunity. And what opportunity was there for him in a region where the land had all been taken up long ago by the gentry? Was not the road leading around the lakes so hemmed in by the estates of the aristocracy that the beauty of the scenery was shut off completely? What was a young man to do who had neither land nor money and whose only work—if he could get it—would be dressing himself in livery and waiting on a master?

"Maggie," said Pat one day when he and his sweetheart were sitting on the bank of the lake near Maggie's mistress's estate, "O'm goin' to Ameriky."

"Yes, O'm goin' to Ameriky, where they say gold dollars as big as cart wheels are rollin' around in the streets and all a fellow has to do is to pick 'em up. Whin O've collected a lot of 'em O'll send for ye."

"But, Pat, how're ye goin' to get to Ameriky?"

"Worruk me passage?"

"In the cabin? What would O! look like in the cabin in these togs? O'll go as a coal heaver. D'ye suppose O'd be dancin' around offerin' tay to the leddies and gentlemen whin I can get a much more respectable job below? And do ye suppose O'll be lettin' the muscles of me arm grow soft whin O! can keep 'em hard?"

"But how're ye goin' to git to the ship?"

"Walk. What were me legs given me for? Shurely not for dancin', because O've no ligitant clothes, no grasshopper coat, for balls and parties. O'll walk to Queenstown and go in the first ship that'll take me."

Maggie had none of that happy-go-lucky disposition which was at the bottom of all her lover's actions. But Pat's disposition was not only happy-go-lucky; he was a natural gambler. His proposed move to America seemed to Maggie a jump in the dark. Pat was looking at the chances. There were surely none for him in Ireland, and there might be some for him in America. Ergo, America was the place for him. As to his getting there, why, any one can go anywhere. All he has to do is to go.

On the morning before Pat's departure he stood with Maggie on the banks of the lake where they had stood so often before and would probably never stand together again. They were looking out on the beautiful scenery, though it is questionable if they saw it. The mingled boughs of beeches, elms and oaks were putting on their summer apparel. Ivy vines springing from a tangle of holly and arbutus clung to the taller trunks. Beyond all this was the placid bosom of the lake, contrasting with the emotions in the hearts of the parting lovers.

"Don't be cryin' like that, Maggie, dear," said Pat. "This is a beautiful scene and one we both love, to be sure, but whin ye see me ag'in ye'll be lookin' on a man dressed like a gentleman. They say a man can do anything he likes in that free land, and whin O'll be werrin' the wig and gown of a judge or the uniform of a general. How would ye loike to see me marchin' a regiment o' sojers? Mebbe O'll be governor or president o' some'n loike that."

"Oh, Pat, ye have sich wild dreams!"

Pat kissed her, took up his pack, slung it on to the other end of a staff and was about to set forth on his journey when Maggie handed him an envelope.

popular with his associates, and since popularity is an essential feature of leadership, he became a leader in a small way. A politician, perceiving his influence, took him up and made him one of his lieutenants. Pat developed fine political instincts. He had the art of turning down all grumblers among his adherents with that imperturbable smile of his. This is a power in politics. If he was obliged to give four plums to eight heifers, all of whom had worked equally well for the ticket, he would give four of them a plum each, while every one of the other four men received a smile, an encomium and a promise for "next time."

Pat did not forget Maggie. Several times he made ready to send for her, but every time something happened to prevent. Then he began to make money, and it occurred to him that it would be a fine thing to go over, marry Maggie in Ireland and bring her home, just as the quality do. He wrote to her to that effect, but she wrote back that such a plan would be too great a waste of funds. So in the end Pat sent her a draft for plenty to buy her a first class ticket, but Maggie, who was of a frugal turn of mind and could not realize Pat's change of condition, would not come over in any berth above second class.

Now, it happened that when Maggie reached New York Pat was engaged in matters that required all his attention. He sent one of his workmen to meet her, but it happened that the man was a very stupid person. And as for Maggie, she had never looked upon a town bigger than Killarney, never seen a body of water bigger than the lake on which she had lived and, having always been a housemaid, had no head for taking care of herself. She missed the man who had been sent to meet her. Fortunately her affairs for passing the immigrant authorities were in first class condition, and she had no trouble with them. But when she was landed at the dock in a strange city, with no one to tell her where to go, her heart sank within her.

Some one looked in a directory for her and found the address of Pat's shop. Then he put Maggie and her belongings on to a trolley car, told her to ask for a transfer, take another line and so mystified her that she didn't know what to do. Riding up the street, she saw floating in the breeze the green banner of Ireland, harp and all. It was a welcome sight. When the car reached a broad thoroughfare it was stopped by a crowd. Maggie got out and was told a procession was about to pass. Some one invited her to get up on a stoop, where she could see, and she accepted.

Presently she heard music coming, and a man on horseback approached. He wore a "grasshopper coat" and a silk hat, and a green sash covered with rosettes hung from his left shoulder.

"Arrah, munglia," exclaimed Maggie, "it's my Pat!"

There was Pat sure enough caracoling as marshal of a dozen or more Irish societies celebrating St. Patrick's day.

"Pat," cried Maggie, "it's good luck I've seen you."

Pat could not have heard her, but at that moment he happened to turn his eyes toward her and saw her gesticulating at him. He rubbed his eyes and, being satisfied that she was really his Maggie, waved his baton for a halt, threw himself from his horse and elbowed his way through the crowd toward her. Then when the grand marshal took the Irish immigrant in his arms and smothered her with kisses a shout arose from a thousand throats.

After the wedding, which occurred the same evening, Pat remembered the letter he had brought for her cousin Bridget. He was about to hand it to her when he checked himself.

"What's in it anyway?" he said.

Transformation

Involving a Dramatic Scene on St. Patrick's Day.

By THOMAS G. O'GRADY Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Pat Doonan and Maggie McShane were a young couple living in Killarney town, Ireland, and at the time this story begins were not out of their teens. Pat was a fine strapping young fellow and good looking, though he was so poor that his clothes were ragged—it's not every man whose manly beauty will show to advantage when his bare knees are peeping through his trousers and a tuft of his curly hair protrudes through a hole in his hat. But when Pat smiled that good natured smile of his clothes were forgotten and he was taken right into the hearts of those he smiled upon.

As for Maggie, she was a housemaid in a family whose place bordered on one of the lakes, and she was always well dressed. She had a real Irish complexion, as white as milk and as red as a rose. There was so much mingling between the white and the red that it was impossible to tell where the one began and the other ended.

Pat and Maggie did a lot of walking about together on the banks of the lakes, and they were always noted for the difference in their appearance, Pat's being in such marked contrast to Maggie's. But if Maggie's clothes were spick and span and Pat's falling to pieces, Maggie's face wore a serious cast, while Pat's was always alight. His rags could not overcome the cheerfulness of his disposition nor chill his generous heart, for whenever he would meet any one worse dressed than himself he would sing out:

"Arrah, bedad, man, go sell your togs to a farmer to put up for a scarecrow."

Then Pat would thrust his hand in his pocket, and if by any possibility he should find a shenny there he

Toronto Markets.

Toronto, June 19.—Union Stockyards—Receipts, 122 cars, with 2,395 head of cattle, 78 calves, 16 hogs, 542 sheep and lambs and 2 horses.

It was a heavy run of cattle, with a large proportion of heavy cattle and fat cows. The absence this week of active buying for the West, and the presence of only one of the two American buyers of heavy export cattle, who usually take cars of that end of the market, left practically no competition for the heavy stock. The result was a decline of from 10c to 15c on heavy export cattle. Heavy fat cows were also neglected, and a decline of about 20c to 25c was recorded, as against last week's prices. Heavy cattle were quoted at $5.90 to $6.05, with a few of the choice lots at $6.10 to $6.15. Fat butcher cows, 25c off, at $4.25 to $5.25, though one lot of choice quality was reported at $5.40.

Light butcher cattle were steady at last week's prices, at from $5.90 to $6.10, and extra choice at $6.25.

Sheep and lambs easy at $4 to $4.50 for ewes, and $6 to $6.50 for yearling lambs. Good veal calves firm, at $7 to $8.

Hogs—Market continues very strong and is again quoted higher at $7 to $7.75 f.o.b., and $7.25 fed and watered. One load at the market sold at $7.60 weighed off the cars.

BABY'S LIFE THREATENED BY SUMMER COMPLAINT.

The life of every baby is threatened during the hot summer months by that dreaded trouble—summer complaint. Thousands of children die every summer from this trouble—thousands of happy homes are made dark and sorrowful because a precious little life has been snuffed out. But mothers, though you fear this trouble, you can yet fight it and defeat it with Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Steffs, Coutts, Alta., says: "During the hot summer days my little boy took ill with summer complaint. He was seized with vomiting and nothing helped him till I got Baby's Own Tablets. They relieved him and made him a strong healthy child." The Tablets are for sale by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sad Fatal Accident.

The remains of Archibald Morrison, of Wanda, Alberta, have arrived in Park-Hill, accompanied by his friend, Mr. Schilde, of Daysland, Alberta. Mr. Morrison had been working with his three-horse team, breaking prairie, about one and a half miles from his home. He carried a rifle, as the great majority of them do out in the West, to shoot coyotes and gophers. When found he was lying behind his plow with his head on a cushion.

After the accident he had unhitched the horses from the plow and unchecked two of the horses. The bullet entered his body on the left side, near the groin, and came out under his left shoulder. His body was discovered on the following Thursday, June 8, and it is supposed he had been dead two or three days, as the horse that was unchecked was in a famished condition. The funeral took place on Saturday.
