Says British Need Sixty Divisions More in the West

London Times Writer Urges Greater Efforts

"HAVE NOT DONE ENOUGH" Declares Allies Have Nothing Like Superiority Necessary to Bring Decisive Victory—A Crying Need for More Men

London, Jan. 15.—The "Times" military correspondent maintains that the prolongation of the war "is the result of the foredoomed failure of the peace move" throws upon all the Allies the duty of making greater efforts in order to secure victory. He says that Germany did not wait for a reply to her peace offer but initiated measures a month ago to expand her supply of men and munitions.

"We ought to see," the correspondent writes, "clearly enough now that our efforts on land, especially on the western front, have not been adequate to secure a decision or even to deserve it." Referring to the imputation "with a vengeance" to exaggeration, that the British have 2,000,000 men in France and the French have 2,000,000, he says that statements of this nature serve rather to obscure the issues than to illuminate them.

"The offensive devolves on us in order that we may evade the enemy from the territories of our allies and such an offensive against modern means of defense demand a great superiority in strength, particularly in heavy guns, infantry and all other modern military machinery."

"Before the war we supposed that even three to one superiority not too great for the attacker and I must repeat again and again that we have not done this and that we have not done this."

"The writer declares that there is a crying need for more men and that there has been a great remission in the creation of new divisions along the lines of Kitchener's original conception. He refers to the military plan published in the "Times" in 1914, which he says Lord Kitchener himself revised and declared would insure Britain being capable of continuing the war when the other powers were exhausted."

According to the correspondent this plan has gradually slipped, from many reasons, chiefly the recruiting trouble in the autumn of 1915, which, he says, even now is far from cleared up. "We need another sixty divisions in the west," he concludes. "The necessary men exist and there is every probability that their appearance in the field will decide the war."

FOUR LITTLE ONES DIE IN BLIZZARD

Cadillac, Sask., Jan. 15.—Four children were frozen to death in a blizzard on Thursday near a school house in Township 11. Two little boys were permitted to leave the school house during a supposed lull in the terrific gale. As they did not return a sister, about thirteen years of age, went out to bring them. Another child also got out and all four perished.

Piling up Great Reserve of Ammunition

BRITISH FACTORIES HUM

In One Week Recently Output Exceeded, by 30 Per Cent, Entire Reserve Munitions Stock on Hand When War Began

New York, Jan. 15.—The following Associated Press correspondence from London, dated Jan. 15, is published here today. English munition factories are now turning out, every forty-eight hours, more heavy gun ammunition than they manufactured in the entire first year of the war, and the production is still increasing week by week in preparation for the great offensive on the western front, which British military critics believe will come next spring.

Although figures of the actual production of guns and munitions are jealously guarded and there is no avowed part of the ministry of munitions of any intention to disclose the important figures of production, there is a widespread feeling of optimism among the officials in the big munitions headquarters, just off the Victoria street, which is to give out "comparative figures" to justify that optimism.

The improvement in our position may be illustrated in this way," remarked an official of the ministry. "We are now manufacturing every week three times as many 155 millimeter shells, five times as many 200 millimeter shells, and three times as many 230 millimeter shells as we manufactured during the whole first year of the war."

ARTHUR E. HALL IN RUSSIA WITH MACHINE GUN INVENTION

Friends in St. John have received copies of the New Haven Register of New Haven, Conn., reporting success won by Arthur E. Hall, who now is in Russia, demonstrating his machine gun invention. Mr. Hall, who is a brother of Mrs. J. B. Crane of Sussex, is expected to visit St. John on his return from Europe. The newspaper story is as follows:

"Word was received here today that Arthur E. Hall, an excellent inventor, and a resident of West Haven, has reached England, and by this time is likely in Petrograd, where he is to demonstrate his machine gun invention to the military officials of the Russian empire. His invention is a machine gun which is expected to be a great success. It is a machine gun which is expected to be a great success. It is a machine gun which is expected to be a great success."

COMMISSIONER FISHER HAS A NEW CITY STREET BILL

A bill incorporating his ideas of desirable changes in the laws affecting the city streets has been prepared by the commissioner of public works and will be submitted at the next meeting. At the informal gathering which took place this morning, it was decided that there is likely to be some opposition to the provisions of the bill.

SOLDIERS' WIVES

A soldier's wife came to the "Times" office today to protest against such remarks as that soldiers' wives are getting more money than their husbands. It is not true, she said, and since her husband has been badly wounded she is getting more money than she needs. She says:

"When the people are tired of giving me what I am entitled to, let them send my husband home. He did his share, and let me send home what is left of him; for I would rather have him as he is than all the money they might give me."

This thrifty soldier's wife has a little bank account in waiting for her husband's coming, and she hopes they will send him home.

Such criticism as is offered of course does not apply to all to this woman and others like her, but to those who are getting more money than they need, and who are neglected while she is living a gay life. This last woman's case has been referred to the Children's Aid Society, along with two others where children are also involved. Lady Aberdeen asked a St. John audience to give serious thought to this matter of soldiers' wives and children, some of whom need special attention.

Likely Amend Assessment Act

One Feature Matter of Tax on Banks—Commissioners to Take up Matter Next Week at Morning Meetings

The report of the city assessment commission and the criticism of the report submitted by the council to the Board of Trade will receive the careful attention of the common council next week. Beginning on Monday, a series of meetings will be held each morning for the study of the documents.

One of the suggestions made this morning was that the rate of taxation on the total volume of business transacted by the banks should be reduced according to the rate of interest the banks charge their clients.

CHARGED THAT HE WAS ANNOYING GIRLS

Wm. Pressel on Trial in Police Court Says He Can Prove Alibi

William Pressel was arrested on Saturday night by County Constable Saunders on a charge of molesting young girls in Rothway avenue. In the police court this morning he pleaded guilty.

The policeman testified that while he was standing at Haymarket square on Saturday night about 10:30 o'clock three young girls asked him if he would accompany them to their homes as a man was following them. He told them to walk along and he would follow. He said he later walked up behind them, Haymarket square and burst after the girls and later walk up behind them. He accused the defendant and asked him to explain his actions and he said he was told it was none of his business. He placed the man under arrest.

The three girls testified that they were in the street at the time and saw the man follow them. They were afraid to go home.

The defendant was charged with molesting the girls and he pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs, and sentenced to four months in jail.

WESTERN FRONT SNOW COVERED

Treachorous Mud Hidden for a Time at Least

With the British Armies in France, via London, Jan. 14.—This has been one of the strangest days in the strange world-war. It has been a wonderfully white day—a day of snow, white fields and strange white trees glistening in magical mantles of clear white frost. Even the brown, gripping, remorseless mud of the Somme—the mud that has been almost the master of the war for the last two months—had hidden its treacherous depths, for the time being at least, under the soft feecy flakes that came during the night to spread a Sabbath vestment of purity over the wretched, squalid and sombre battlegrounds of Northern France.

In most of the front line trenches there was the mystic quiet that comes with snow. "No man's Land" had been lifted for the moment out of its degradation and placed on a picturesque white equality with the untrammelled lands of the west. The fighting zones, the tortuous rusted barriers of grim barbed wire in front of the enemy positions had been transformed into graceful strands of crystal ice and clinging snow. Back of the lines the British guns that never cease to fire or sleep, guns that winter cannot muzzle or frost subdue, spoke with a white hot breath from hiding places screened and doubly secure beneath the white cover of the newly fallen snow. The war that stretches out over the years is a war that necessarily resolves itself into a routine of much the same thing over and over again. Today however, in all its whiteness it seemed just a wee bit different.

GERMAN SOCIALIST LEADER GETS IT HARD

Expelled from Berlin Bar and Sentenced to Additional Four and Half Years at Hard Labor. London, Jan. 15.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht, German Socialist leader, has received an additional sentence of four and one-half years' hard labor and internment from the Berlin bar, according to a Central News despatch from Amsterdam today. The court martial at Berlin last year sentenced Dr. Liebknecht to four years' imprisonment for military treason. He was later released on bail and a tribunal which gave a decision on November 5 last, rejecting the appeal.

French Restaurant Man Finds it Expensive to Sell Absinthe Against Law. Paris, Jan. 15.—Heavy fines were inflicted yesterday on the proprietor of the Mollard restaurant, outside Gare Saint Lazare, for selling absinthe, which is prohibited by law. The proprietor was fined $40,000, and $2000 revenue dues multiplied five times. The court also ordered the absinthe to be seized to be confiscated. The breweries, cafe and bar owned by the Mollard Company were ordered closed altogether. The fine amounted to nearly $40,000.

NOBLE BROTHERS OF AUSTRIAN EMPRESS IN THE BELGIAN ARMY

Princes Commended in Recent French Army Orders. Paris, Jan. 15.—Prince Sixtus of Bourbon de Parma and his brother, Prince Xavier, brothers of the Austrian Empress, who are serving in the Belgian army have been commended in French army orders in the following terms: "They spontaneously offered their services in the cause of right and attached to the section of stretcher-bearers in the first line, have on all occasions given proof of devotion and complete contempt of danger. At the beginning of the war the two princes sought to enlist in the French army but could not be taken on account of the law excluding the former French royal family, whereupon they joined the Belgian forces."

NEW SPAN FOR QUEBEC BRIDGE READY IN FALL; NO PUBLIC CERMONY

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—According to advices here the new central span of the Quebec Bridge will be put up without any public ceremony. The same plan is being followed in its construction as before, but there is special care to see that no weak or defective member enters into it. When the span is ready for erection it will be put up without any public ceremony. The assemblage of thousands of spectators does not tend to lessen the tension of workmen engaged in so delicate an undertaking.

Aiding The Cause of Freedom

An American Resident of Canada Becomes a British Subject The Better to Support Democracy and Overcome Germany

(New York Tribune.) To the Editor of The Tribune: Sir—You have been good enough at various times to publish letters from me in regard to the war, and especially its relation to the United States, written by me as an American citizen living in Canada. I have now signed the necessary papers for an application for becoming a British subject, and I think it right to let you and those to whom I have spoken through your columns know the reasons for this step. I hope that they may be of value in impressing upon some who live in the United States the urgent necessity of a re-awakening there of the old American insistence on the necessity of putting the duty of ideals ahead of the comfort of prosperity and ease. I believe that nothing in the world today counts as of any value in the continent of North America under the banner of the United States flag, and that the only way to support the British democracy is by throwing myself wholeheartedly into the support of the British democracy. I know the hearts of men, and in this case I will see the impossible accomplished. This was my duty as a citizen of the United States, and I have decided that I can accomplish more by becoming a British subject than I could as an American citizen. I know the hearts of men, and in this case I will see the impossible accomplished. This was my duty as a citizen of the United States, and I have decided that I can accomplish more by becoming a British subject than I could as an American citizen.

The Tanks To The Rescue

A Story of Beaucourt—The Dublin Padre Who Went Over the Parapet With "His Flock"

(Naval and Military Record, London.) feet, dead though they were; but the German trenches were safely in British hands not many minutes after the attack was launched. After that the fortunes of war for the different divisions varied. Facing our line of attack was a hill-slope rising more steeply to the right than the Saliers. The British machine guns commanded all the double chance of a fight. If it was on sea that they fought most needed them they would fight on the sea; if on land they would fight on the land. "Thus, whatever happens," argued three young fire-eaters each as himself as he stood before the recruiting officer, "I stand a double chance of being in the thick of things." That is the true British spirit. They are laid mainly from the north, although there is a good leavening of southerners. The division was a fine big attack of November 13, and it is just a week ago today that they swarmed into the village of Beaucourt-on-the-Ancre and captured it; but that was the culminating point of a day and night of breathless "business." Let me begin at the beginning. Imagine the division in the trenches just north of the Ancre in the early morning of November 13th. It was dark; the British guns behind were pouring a cascade of bursting shells on the German trenches before them. At a given moment that cascade stopped. The British shells had come to "go over." Its trenches ran roughly at right angles to the Ancre, and the German trenches were in the village of Hamel and just below a little island in the river called "The Mound."

First-aid for that is how they fought in Beaucourt—was too much for "Fritz," who saw before him in the special early morning mist and twilight not men but devils—devils led by an arch-devil, who cheered them and led them on with red blood streaming all the while down his neck and tunic. They surrendered; this order was given by the German. He saw to the shepherding of the prisoners into flocks for the "cows" and to their safe capture under escort, then he said faintly: "I'll turn in now, carry on, boys." And they took him and his bleeding wounds to hospital. He is there now, and doing well.

"Tanks" to the Rescue. Come back now to the party "held up" on the hill and its western slope. They were in a queer way. The German redoubt was holding up all communication between their front and rear. Their front was as much cut off as were the Germans. Either our advanced men or the German redoubt must give way, or our men must be relieved somehow. What was to be the way of arms that could face that siren of lead that blew continuously across the slope of the hill-slope after dark a brace of "Tanks" and the German redoubt? A British "Tank" and its crew were always ready to help a pal in distress, and away came the "Tanks" on their "stables" wherein they had been spending some hours in idleness, dreaming, no doubt, of nice frosty ground and "good grub" and munching "Tank" food the while. Down that road on the night of November 13th after dark a brace of "Tanks" came on, behind the other. The mud on the roads was bad enough to make them redoubt and splash, but they came through it.

Then below the spur of the hill, upon the German side, brave fellows were fighting for their lives, those monsters turned aside from the road and set upon the German redoubt upon it. The Germans there saw them coming. On their side they were calling, splashing and floundering, over the chaos of holes and hillocks that the shells had made. The German officers with an eye to the pre-hill in the redoubts on the hill-crest must have seen the sight of his days, one that glared his gaze to the pre-hole in the German redoubt, then, was the end—that an iron monster would lurch unarm'd right into their redoubt and crush it flat.

Speddy Surrender. One "Tank" stayed at the bottom of the hill, as though to support its fellow. The other lunged up the hillside, and the German redoubt was cut off. The man who had led the hill to guide the "Tank" to the bottom of the hill, in full view of the foe, the crew began to erect a machine gun. Whatever the German officers saw with an eye to the pre-hole in the redoubts on the hill-crest must have seen the sight of his days, one that glared his gaze to the pre-hole in the German redoubt, then, was the end—that an iron monster would lurch unarm'd right into their redoubt and crush it flat.

Was Anaemic For Over a Year Anemia, or blood turning to water, is caused by the heart becoming deranged, and if the heart becomes weakened it cannot pump the blood as it should. As a result the blood becomes impoverished, and it loses its nourishing qualities. The face becomes pale and thin, and the lips bloodless. There is a weakness, tiredness and loss of weight. When those suffering from this watery blood start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they can see a change from the outset. Every dose introduces into the blood those vital elements necessary to make it rich and red. The pale cheeks take on the rosy hue of health, the weight increases, and the whole being thrills with a new life. Mrs. R. J. Grey, Fredericton, N. B. writes: "When I was a girl working at general house work I overworked myself and became completely run down. For over a year I was very bad with anemia. A friend told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I got a box and when it was done I felt and looked so much better I decided to get six more. When I had taken them I had gained not only in strength, but in flesh and color, and best of all was good health." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box; three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SIR ROBERT'S FAILURE

Sir Robert Borden's great opportunity to prove himself a statesman came at the very beginning of the war. All Canada, with the exception of the Nationalists who were his own supporters, was ready to strengthen his hands in order that this country might do its full duty to the Empire and present to the enemy a united front.

The Kaiser is filled with "holy wrath." That is not at all a surprising fact. Things are going badly with the Kaiser. He is not to become the dictator of Europe, and his dream of eastern conquest has been rudely shattered.

Junior officers who go through the fighting there and earn their promotions in the field know their business for this war better than do those junior officers who stay away from the front, earn their promotions in school. This view prevails in the army at the front, and it is so sound a view that only self-interest or gross favoritism will assail it.

"Where I Go Bill Goes." There were two fellows on the roadside (says Phillip Gibbs in the London Daily Chronicle), an English soldier and a German, trudging side by side in a field dressing station. Both seemed to be hand and glove, and one man could see the other's eye and one out of the other's.

"This chap tried to gouge out my eye with his fist, and I did the same to his with my elbow, and now we get on famously together."

"This is old Bill," said the English soldier, pointing to a wounded German. "Where I go Bill goes. I wounded him and I took him. Come on, Bill, old son."

MEALS FOR WORKERS.

(Toronto Star.) The disappearance of the dinner pail is the theme of an article by Mary Alden Hopkins, in the New York Independent. The dinner pail, with its place for pickled hard-boiled eggs and its reservoir for cold tea or coffee, topped by an inverted tin dipper, was once the distinguishing mark of the workman. "Dad's dinner pail" was a popular song. Now it is giving place to the factory lunch room. Big corporations find that it pays to provide workmen with a hot meal. The adjustment of the workmen to the lunch room also allows the workshops to be ventilated. In 1915 Lloyd George, as minister of munitions, appointed a committee to consider matters of industrial fatigue, hours of labor, and other matters affecting the health and efficiency of workers in munition factories. The committee advised every munitions manufacturer to serve a hot dinner at cost. The movement ought to make headway in Canada. In these days of dear food, it is an advantage to have food bought and prepared in large quantities by experts. The workman is usually the largest consumer of food in the family, and the elimination of the mid-day meal for him will make an appreciable difference in the family food bill. The movement is important for women workers in factories and stores. These workers, having very little money to spare, are inclined to skip on meals. They should be encouraged to eat a substantial, nutritious meal at noon. Essentially they might pick up some new ideas on cooking, and thus improve the meals eaten at home.

According to a correspondent of the London Daily News, glass broken by the concussion of a Zeppelin bomb is broken not by being forced away, but by being sucked towards the explosion, by the air rushing to fill the vacuum caused. In a house in a London suburb a bomb had dug a deep pit in the front garden. The road was shattered, but a photographer's advertisement case on the pavement, twenty yards nearer the bomb pit, was intact. The explanation is, I presume, that the case of photographs was airtight, and that as it was only an inch or so deep there was no air behind to be sucked. A fence of wood palings half-way between the scene of the explosion and the case had fallen flat towards the pit.

HUNDREDS OF TORONTO WOMEN OPEN ACCOUNTS

Bankers Declare That Wave of Economy is Sweeping Toronto—Women With Relatives Overseas are Saving for Rainy Days

Toronto, Jan. 9.—If the war has not done anything else it has taught the women of Toronto how to save. It is estimated that at the present time 10,000 women in Toronto have bank accounts that until a year ago didn't know the difference between a check book and a savings book. There are approximately 800 banks, counting the head offices and various branches and few indeed are there that report a falling off in custom, while in the majority of cases it is reported that from 10 to 15 women are opening accounts every day. Just what has caused this evidence of economy on the part of Toronto women is problematical. It is true that in no particular case have the banks been surprised with any large deposits, but there are reports of a steady stream of three, five, eight and ten dollar deposits. It is estimated that in Toronto there are from 1,500 to 2,000 women engaged in the manufacture of munitions. These are paid an exceptionally good wage and the majority of them are making at least one-third as much as they earned at their former employment. Some bank managers believe that it is the increased revenue that has been responsible for the spirit of economy displayed. Others disagree, maintaining that the more money women make the more money they will spend. Everyone seems to agree, however, upon one point: the women whose husbands and sons are overseas, earned what to expect by the sight of many a man's face who have done their bit, are saving up something for a rainy day; preparing a pleasant surprise for father or son who may be in need of cheering news when he returns from overseas. The number of checks issued from the war office at Ottawa that forms the major part of many deposits bears out this theory. There are, in round figures, 30,000 Toronto women now drawing separation allowances from the government. Allowing that only one-third of these would show an inclination to thrift and open a bank account, it has been calculated that a saving of $8 a week put aside by these women. Then allowing that 1,000 of the 2,000 women engaged in munitions plants save $15 a month, a total of $18,000 a year is reached, making a grand total of $180,000. Various managers of the savings departments of downtown banks are quick to point out that it is not only the soldiers' demonstrations could be made in making chop and nourishing dishes was again discussed, and it was suggested asking the city health officer to co-operate by giving a grant to establish these centres in place of the mother craft classes which are held in the homes. The branch of war would deal with labor-saving devices and the general scientific management of the household. Another committee would advocate meatless days, simplicity in furnishing, and the elimination of the household. WOMEN ORGANIZE TO INSIST ON THRIFT

Committee Meeting in Toronto—Expensive Clothes and Shoes, Candy, Jewelry and Foods Frowned Upon. (Toronto Star.) "Save, Serve and Sacrifice" will be the motto of the General Committee of the war-time thrift campaign, who held their first meeting in Central Y. M. C. A. today for the purpose of arranging a crusade throughout the city for elimination of all waste in the home and in discouraging the use of luxuries. The committee, which has as its members Mrs. H. H. Loosenner, as convener, is in the chair. "Thrift and conservation must be the slogan of every man, woman, and child. It must be embraced by all the classes, wealthy and poor alike, who are ready to stand deprivation for the men at the front. We must endeavor to arouse such enthusiasm that the citizens will be eager to carry it on even after the war, and thus help Canada recuperate from the strain of war. Money in circulation is not money well spent and all must be encouraged to save." To Form a Thrift Centre. It was decided that the large general committee of some seventy odd members should be divided into sub-committees to take charge of different branches of the campaign. The idea of thrift centres, where de-

ARMORY MAY NOT BECOME HOSPITAL

There is a possibility that the plans for converting the armory into a hospital with accommodation for 1,200 beds for seriously wounded soldiers will not be carried out. It is understood that military men have made representations to the militia department regarding the need of preserving the armory for military purposes and that their representations have had sufficient weight to cause a pause in the hospital plans. Six recruits were secured in the city on Saturday: Walter Hanson, Perth, 62nd Battery; Jack D. Donovan, St. John, 60th Battery; Kenneth Le Halving, Hampton, 28th Battalion; Horace Speight, Brookville; Fred W. Simonds, St. John, 29th Battalion, and one from Fairville for the Engineers, who did not want his name mentioned. Seven men were taken on the strength of the 16th Battalion: Charles Patterson, St. John; John Doucet, Gloucester County; Edward Fortas, Power's Creek; George Wheaton, Henry Girouard and Charles McDonald, Buctouche; James Wilson, St. John. Fire in Depot. A slight fire broke out in the discharge depot, Bank of Montreal building, foot of King street, about three o'clock this morning. The blaze was snuffed in the bud and practically no damage was done. It originated in a little room used for keeping ashes and garbage. To Serve Without Pay. Capt. Rupert Guinness and the naval recruiting committee, a few weeks ago, went carefully into the need of a man for provincial secretary for this work. The appointment carries with it a salary of $150 per month. The committee selected Captain A. J. Mulcahy. When the proposition was made to him Capt. Mulcahy expressed his desire to do anything in his power along these lines, but declined a position carrying with it a salary. He has decided, however, to act as provincial secretary, carrying on the work of a permanent officer, but without pay. It is very unlikely that a permanent man will be appointed. Frank W. Oakley, clerk of the Federal Court in Madison, Wis., has a newspaper printed on wall paper at Vicksburg, Miss., July 4, 1863, the day the city capitulated to Gen. Grant. The citizens were near starvation and lived in caves for the latter part of the siege, out on July when part of the paper was printed, the tone of it was still Edward Fortas, Power's Creek; George

A Wonderful Remedy For Coughs and Colds

The reason chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis yield to Vinol is because it is a constitutional remedy. Unlike cough syrups, Vinol removes the cause. This is due to the wonderful combination of the oldest and most famous reconstructive tonics,—Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Glycerophosphates, etc., with a mild tonic wine. This is a splendid remedy for coughs and colds. Vinol Full Formula on Every Bottle. It is always sold with a definite guarantee to return the purchaser's money if it fails to give satisfaction. Children Had Eczema Doctors Failed to Cure

Two Letters Which Prove the Efficiency of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a Cure for Eczema. Fortunate are the mothers who know the virtue of Dr. Chase's Ointment, for there is no treatment so suitable for use after the bath to relieve irritation and chafing and to thereby prevent eczema and similar skin diseases. Mrs. W. L. Barnes, Timmins, Ont., writes: "I want to tell you about the case of my little boy, who had baby eczema when he was three months old. It started on the top of his head, on his forehead and around his ears. The doctors failed to do him any good, so I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment on the recommendation of a friend, and in a month's time the child was entirely free of this disagreeable skin disease. He is now four years old, and has never had any further trouble from ailments of this kind. I also have great faith in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and believe that it cannot be beaten as a restorative for pale, nervous women." Mrs. George McNair, River Charles, N. B., writes: "We use Dr. Chase's Ointment in our home, and would not wish for anything better for cuts, burns and bruises. A few years ago a friend of mine, whose baby was terribly afflicted with eczema had her child treated by their own family physician, but the little one got no better. They tried several remedies, but they all proved useless in this case. Upon the advice of a neighbor they got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and before the first box was used the child was completely cured. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to suffering friends who I know will be glad to learn of something to relieve their nervous trouble. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Soldier's Plea for Munitions

See That You Send Us Enough
The Price of Soldiers' Blood

Men Do Not Mind Giving Their Lives on Proper Basis of Exchange—Up to the Munition Makers

There are no holidays at the front. Every minute of the day and night men are risking their lives, even although the official communications may say "there is nothing to report." This continued activity in France and Flanders ought to be matched by equal activity in the armories and munition works in England and in Canada. Workers ought not to want any holidays except those periods of rest that are necessary to keep the body at the highest point of efficiency.

The English production was not made possible until the National Advisory Committee on War Output had as a result of wide publicity brought home to the workers the vital necessity of more shells and still more shells. This board, of which Arthur Henderson, now a member of the War Cabinet, was chairman, addressed the workers in these words: "Our munition makers are sharing in the battles as much as if their workshops were situated immediately behind the firing line, and they were personally engaged in handling the shells to the men who fire them."

Better Than the Bosches.
One of the pamphlets circulated by the National Advisory Committee is called "The Measure of Our Blood" and was written by a wounded soldier. When he arrived at Southampton, his head wrapped in bandages, an effort was made to interview him. Instead of talking about his experience he handed out a message he had written on the ship. The name of the regiment with which he served and his own name were suppressed, following what we can regard as the half-insane policy of the censorship. He said: "I don't think our chaps could have done much better if they had been at the game for twenty years."

Selling an Army's Blood.
Then he turned to the matter of munitions and said: "You can never eat your dinner or smoke a pipe, or read a newspaper, or go to the pictures, but that, while you are getting through with it, some scores of your own countrymen are knocked out by bullets and shells. There's no reason why the public should be depressed about this. As far as the army is concerned, "we're not giving away a drop of your countrymen's blood, not this year. It's all being sold and on a good business basis."

MISS GRACE MELVIN
At Waltham Highlands, Mass., on December 31, Miss Grace Melvin died in hospital after illness of a week, following the death of the late Captain Amos Melvin of this city. She is survived by two sisters and one brother. The sisters are Mrs. Harrisa of Rothersey, and Miss Hattie Melvin of Waltham Highlands, and the brother is Captain Budd Melvin, sailing from New York to Honolulu.

Wreck Near Dorchester.
A wreck occurred on the Canadian Government Railway on an early hour yesterday morning near Dorchester, when an extra freight train crashed into the car of the express bound from St. John to Halifax and did considerable damage to the sleeping car. The mail clerk was painfully injured but was able to proceed on the train when the road was cleared.

HAVE A RENDEZVOUS WITH DEATH

I have a rendezvous with Death
At some disputed barricade,
When spring comes round with rustling
And apple blossoms fill the air,
I have a rendezvous with Death
When spring brings back blue days and fair.

It may be he shall take my hand
And close my eyes and quench my breath;
It may be he shall pass him, still,
I have a rendezvous with Death
On some scarred slope or battered hill,
When spring comes round again this year
And the first meadow flowers appear.

God knows 'twere better to be deep
In slumbers with a contented sleep,
Pulse night to pulse, and breath to breath,
Where husband awakenings are dear,
But I've a rendezvous with Death
At midnight in some flaming town,
When Spring trips north again this year,
And I shall not fall that rendezvous.
—ALAN SEEGER.

The above poem was written on the western front by an American poet, Alan Seeger, before the war. Seeger led him to volunteer on her behalf. The brilliant author was killed soon after he had written his "Rendezvous With Death"—possibly at Belleau Wood—on July 31, 1918. His soul has gone on, but his lines live as a challenge and inspiration to all those who are striving for the cause of freedom and justice.

Glories of the Victoria Cross

Greatest Honor That Can be Won by Briton
Only 200 in This War
Quick Thinking Combined With High Courage Has Received Readiest Recognition

Victoria Crosses are dealt out as grudgingly as though they were composed of radium. This is because the honor is the greatest that can be won by a British subject, and also because in the present war all previous standards of gallantry have been surpassed, or rather what one man did in the Crimea and three in South Africa a hundred are doing in the present war. To give a V.C. to every heroic soldier in the British army would be to make the cross as common as the daisy.

The Latest Batch of V. C.'s
The latest batch of Victoria Crosses have been awarded to three officers and two privates in English regiments, a sergeant in a Scottish regiment and a sergeant in an Irish regiment. All distinguished themselves not only for individual acts of gallantry, but for quick thinking. In every case the winner had rallied and led troops under fire, had snatched victory from defeat.

Boston, Jan. 12.—Two instances of major league players supporting the Baseball Players' Fraternity demand in the form of a letter to the editor, appeared here on Saturday. THREE KINDS OF SPIRIT TO HELP CANADIAN THRIFT

Sir Thomas White Outlines New Plan to Get Money—New Certificates to be Easy to Get

Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, announced last week the first step in connection with his campaign for greater national saving and the larger participation of the general public in financing Canada's war expenditure and furnishing imperial credits for the purchase of munitions in Canada. An issue of war savings certificates maturing in three years, in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, will be created. They will be obtainable upon application to any bank or postal money order office in the Dominion. The prices are $21.50, $43.00 and $86.00 respectively, that is to say for every $21.50 lent now to the government, $25.00 will be returned at the end of three years. The discount of three dollars and a half constitutes a most attractive interest return.

Major Yates, of the Second Yorkshire Light Infantry, was mortally wounded in action at Le Catou, while leading nineteen survivors of his battalion of 220 men in a charge, and Major George Wheeler, of the Seventh Lancashire Fusiliers, a born leader of men, was killed in action at the same time.

Her Turn.
Smith got married. The evening of his first pay-day he gave his bride fourteen dollars of the fifteen-dollar salary and kept only a dollar for himself. "Why, John," she cried, in injured tones, "how on earth do you think I can manage for a whole week on a paltry dollar?" "Darned if I know," he answered. "I had a rotten time myself last week. It's your turn now."

Overcoats and Suits

Reduced to $10 and $15

In this clearance of "odds" we follow one which was very successful before. Without regard to previous prices, the lot is divided into these two classes, frequently the saving is one-half, sometimes more. You can readily judge the qualities, all are well made, some the well known 20th Century Brand, and we are as particular about the fit as though we were getting full price. Many of the suits are "odds" in blues; the overcoats embrace single and double-breasted styles, ulsters and raglans. A raglan at $10 affords "some" style at a nominal figure. Not a large number of either suits or overcoats—just the odds after the season's selling.

REPORT OF THE AUDITORS TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.

In accordance with the provisions of sub-sections 19 and 20 of Section 56 of the Bank Act, 1914, we report as follows:

We have audited the above Balance Sheet and compared it with the books and vouchers at Head Office and with the certified returns from the branches.

We have checked the cash and verified the securities representing the investments of the Bank at its chief office and principal branches at a date other than and in addition to the verification at 30th November, 1916, and found that they were in agreement with the entries in the books of the Bank relating thereto.

In our opinion the Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the Bank, and as shown by the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

F. HARRY WEBB, C. A., JAMES MARWICK, C. A., AUDITORS.

Before moving the adoption of the report, the present called on the general manager to address the shareholders.

General Manager's Address

The shadow of the great European war has been the dominating influence in business affairs during the year through which we have just passed.

The bank's profits for the year under review were $8,489,415, an increase of $7,880 over the figures of the preceding year, a trifling sum when you consider the increase in the amount of business on which it has been earned.

Apart from this, however, there has been a greatly increased turnover during the past year which is not reflected in the figures of the year under review, and this tendency towards a steady reduction in profits has been apparent for some years past.

We have paid the usual dividends at the rate of one per cent. at the end of each half year; the war tax on our note circulation is at the rate of 10 per cent. on the Officers' Pension Fund for $80,000, and sundry subscriptions for patriotic purposes.

The notes of the Bank in circulation show an increase of $14,000,000 over the figures of the previous year. Throughout the year the note circulation of the bank has been in excess of the authorized amount.

Our deposits show a satisfactory growth, the increase being $8,350,000, or 14.5 per cent. over the figures of the previous year.

Our total holdings of coin and legal tender are $46,291,000, an increase of $8,289,000 over the figures of a year ago.

With a staff thus augmented to an unusual degree by untrained and inexperienced workers, many problems have arisen and the task of distributing the burden has been made as difficult as possible.

Since our last annual meeting an additional fifty-nine have been added to our staff, and the total number of our staff is now 2,976.

We have received many indications that our men are measuring well up to what is required of them and are capable of taking their full share in the successful operations of the bank.

Netwithstanding the advances we have made to the government of our own country and Great Britain for the purposes of the war, we have not found it necessary to decrease the amount of which we render to the ordinary business of the country.

As a result of the war, we have had to increase our staff by 100 per cent. in order to meet the increased demands of the business of the country.

The total of overdue debts stands at a considerable decrease and stands at a lower figure than for a number of years back and at one for the most part of the year.

is a very interesting one. The foreign trade of that country has grown and is largely during recent years.

The British Italian Corporation, Limited, which is intended to be a joint venture with the Italian counterpart, The Canadian Italian Corporation, Limited.

Similar projects with others of our Allies are also under discussion, and it is probable that we shall be able to secure a number of new loans for many years to come.

As to the future it is obvious, we must be more liquid, inasmuch as the war has not only increased our liabilities but also our assets.

The President then spoke as follows: I shall not apologize as I did a year ago for asking you to devote your attention to the war.

It is not for me to apologize as I did a year ago for asking you to devote your attention to the war. The war has not only increased our liabilities but also our assets.

Turning at once to our trade with other countries, it is the best indication of the tendency of affairs at the moment, we find that, leaving out the shipments of gold and bullion, both inwards and outwards, our exports for the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1916, exceeded our imports by $24,000,000.

For the six months ending 30th September, 1916, the excess was $14,100,000. We cannot keep in mind too clearly what has happened since the end of our period of expansion in 1915, and the value of $24,000,000, which is the year will aid us to do so.

For the six months of the present year 1916-17, our exports exceeded our imports by $37,000,000. This is a gain over the previous year of $13,000,000.

STEAMER BRINGS LARGE PARTY OF CONVALESCENT SOLDIERS

Band of 112th Battalion Returns to Assist in Recruiting Work—Nephew of Sir Wilfrid Laurier Home on Furlough—Jack Munroe Partially Crippled

The steamer which arrived from Liverpool and docked at West St. John on Saturday afternoon brought a large party of convalescent soldiers, besides many civilians. She also brought a large quantity of overseas mail.

Among the passengers on board were George Bury, vice-president of the C. P. R., and Mrs. Bury with their daughter, Miss D. Bury, of Montreal, who had crossed to visit their son, Major George Bury, of the Canadian headquarters staff.

Major Bury went over with a Vancouver battalion as a subaltern and from England was sent to France to join the 26th N. B. Battalion, where he served for eight months. Later he was appointed to the general staff in recognition of the ability he had displayed at the front.

The men who are returning are chiefly those who have been wounded at the front and who are returning as convalescents, some of them to receive their permanent discharge and others on leave to recuperate. There were several in the party who had suffered the loss of more than one limb. An interesting member of the party was Private Hopkin Munroe, the former heavyweight fighter, who gave up a profitable business as mining engineer and promoter to enlist in the ranks of the Princess Pats. "Jack" returns with his right hand still in bandages and does not expect to recover full use of it.

Captain J. K. Laurier, of Montreal, a nephew of the Liberal chief, who gave up his practice as a physician to go overseas with the first contingent as a member of the C. A. M. C., is returning for a short leave. He has been attached to the field hospital presented to the people of France by the late Sir Frederick Borden for the treatment of French soldiers.

Twenty-two maritime province men arrived home on the steamer which docked at West St. John on Saturday. It was evident from the appearance of the men that they had played their part well, as many of them were maimed for life, others were carrying crutches and nearly every man bore some physical disability that will render them unfit for future service at the front. Despite their experiences and all the rest they were cheerful and looked upon the bright side of life.

St. John Men in Party

Pte. W. J. Brennan, of St. John, giving the address at the Isolator, St. John, is home to undergo an operation that will probably make him lose one of his eyes. A piece of shell is lodged in the arm and amputation is necessary.

Pte. J. Chatham (N. B.), who was wounded in the left arm and right leg almost entirely useless. He was four months at the front and was wounded during the battles of Ypres by a very high explosive bullet. This was on June 18.

Pte. Steve, of Hillsboro (N. B.), only got as far as England. His disappointment was so great that he expressed his regret on not reaching the front, when he got so far, was evident. Rheumatism, however, compelled him to be sent home.

Serg. R. E. Bruce, of Fredericton, is one of twenty-six members of the original 8th C. M. C. that returned to the front. He was in the trenches for five months, and was hit with a bullet in the chest, which he was forced to undergo operations to have it removed. He was hit in the chest and he laughingly said "I thought I would never see it again. We are in the trenches forty-eight hours and out forty-eight hours. I had just gone in like to-night and the next morning I was hit. It was during a crater fight, and we have lots of them. One never thinks when he gets hit, but just keeps on going with the one aim to get square with the Hun, until finally you drop and realize probably for the first time, you are wounded."

Pte. R. L. Kaine, another St. John man, is home to have one of his legs amputated. Among the twenty-two returned men from the lower provinces, three were from St. John vicinity: Pte. W. E. Parry, Fairville (N. B.); Pte. W. J. Brennan, Isolator Hospital, St. John; and Pte. R. L. Kaine, St. John, C. M. C.

The men were at the discharge depot and yesterday were out on pass. Many will leave for their homes within a few days.

Major H. H. Smith arrived in the city from Montreal on Saturday and registered at the Clifton House. Major Smith is to take over the control of the local discharge depot, which post has been held of late by Captain H. Bruce. The change will go into effect immediately, but Captain Bruce will continue to assist Major Smith in a voluntary capacity. Prior to the war Major Smith had been local manager for J. C. McIntosh & Co. before removing to Montreal. He went overseas with the 14th Battalion of Montreal, and was twice wounded at the front and has come through some of the heaviest fighting which the Canadians have participated in.

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES

The week-end programme at the Y. M. C. A. embodied the most interesting Saturday afternoon the Victor defeated the Ironsides by 3 to 2 in the Junior A basketball game. At 6:30 o'clock the Y. M. C. A. held their monthly social gathering, and at 8 o'clock in the evening the Y. M. C. A. held a series of lectures on the use of the Bible. The evening of the Officers' Association met at the residence of E. L. Rising when the election of officers took place. John N. Jordan was elected president, Percy Long vice-president, following the business a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served before the gathering adjourned.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

The program given at the twilight recital on Saturday in the German street Baptist church was well rendered. Two Enemy Submarines Captured

Rome, via Paris, Jan. 14.—The capture of two submarines is reported in an announcement today from the war office. The statement follows: "The enemy submarine V-12, which the German navy ceded to Austria-Hungary, has fallen into our hands and became a unit of our torpedo squadron. Another enemy submarine, the V-12, belonging to the Austro-Hungarian navy, also is in our possession."

The Hague, via London, Jan. 14.—The Berliner Kreuzer Zeitung editorially urged the immediate opening of a ruthless submarine campaign by Germany as a reply to the Entente peace demands. It says that owing to German hesitancy in the use of Zeppelins against England, the British have had sufficient time to find a means to foil Zeppelin attacks.

It draws the parallel that unless submarine warfare is undertaken without delay the British will likewise find some new shield against the U-boats.

Tokio, Jan. 14.—The battle-cruiser Tsubaka, 13,750 tons displacement, was sunk in the harbor at Yokohama today by the explosion of her magazine. The explosion was caused by a fire. It is estimated that more than 100 men were killed or injured.

Berlin, Jan. 14, via Sayville.—Capture by the Teutonic forces of the town of Videti, about six miles southwest of the important Rumanian trade center of Galatz, on the Danube, is reported by the official communication issued from army headquarters this evening.

CHAPLAIN HOOPER'S FUND FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS

C. W. Hallamore, treasurer of the Chaplain Hooper fund for wounded soldiers, on Saturday received the following amounts: Mrs. J. M. Smith $5.00, Miss F. M. Smith 5.00, W. L. Hamm 5.00, J. E. Secord 5.00, Mrs. E. A. Ellis 5.00, previously acknowledged 57.00.

Mr. Hallamore also received from Allan Gundry a Kruger sovereign which he presented to the Chaplain Hooper fund.

SIX GO THROUGH THE ICE TO THEIR DEATH

Sydney, Jan. 14.—Four young men, John E. and Michael McEachern, sons of Mrs. John McEachern, of Victoria, and two sons of Mrs. John McEachern, of Victoria, were drowned at sea today at Grand Mira.

The accident occurred on the river in front of Rev. D. J. Rankin's Glebe House. The young men who were all about twenty years of age, started to skate on the ice about a hundred feet through the ice about a hundred feet from the shore. There is a considerable current at the place and the skaters were dragged underneath before help could reach them.

Miss May Power, aged sixteen, of New Waterford, was drowned at 7 o'clock this evening in the company's dam at that place. In company with Herb Kitchener she was skating on the dam when she broke through the ice. Her companion in his attempt to rescue her also broke through but managed to retain his hold of her and at the same time held on to the edge of the ice. In this precarious predicament he called for help. Isaac Bonner appeared on the scene but too late to render effective aid. Kitchener in his attempt to catch a pole which was held out to him lost his hold on the girl and she disappeared from view but he was brought ashore in an exhausted state. The body of the girl had not been recovered.

Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 14.—Neil Herman Stubbert, aged ten years, while skating, broke through the ice at Milton Pond yesterday and was drowned. The little fellow was son of Private T. F. Stubbert, who is on garrison duty at Yarmouth.

Honors Won by Many Canadians

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Canadians at the front, by bravery and distinguished service, have won decorations, medals and mention in despatches to the number of 2,715 up to December 31, 1916. Of this number forty-one were awarded by the French and forty-two by the Russian governments.

A summary based upon the record classifies the decorations as follows: Victoria Cross, six; Knight Commander of the Bath (civil), one; Knight Commander of the Bath (military), one; Companion of the Bath (civil), three; Companion of the Bath (military), six; Knight Bachelor, one; Distinguished Service Order, 114; Distinguished Service Medal, 829; Bar to Military Cross, nine; Royal Red Cross, thirty-five; Distinguished Conduct Medal, 871; Bar to Distinguished Conduct Medal, one; Bar to Distinguished Conduct Medal, four; Military Medal, 1,188; Bar to Military Medal, twenty-one; Meritorious Service Medal, twenty-two; Mentioned in despatches, 542; Foreign Decorations, French: Legion of Honor, fourteen; Croix De Guerre, fifteen; Medaille Militaire, twelve; Russian: Medal of St. George, twenty-four; Cross of St. George, fifteen; Order of St. Anne, two; Order of St. Stanislaus, one; Total, 2,715.

THE GOVERNMENT MAY OPERATE THE COAL MINES

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—An official statement regarding the position of the government in regard to the threatened strike in the coal mines of the Fernie district and in view of the drastic action in the way of government operation of the mines in the event of failure of the operators and miners to compromise, was issued this evening. The operators have steadfastly refused to grant the wage increase demanded by the men to meet the increase in the cost of living. The miners say they will strike if the increase is not given.

GOVERNMENT SPENDS MILLIONS FOR NATIONAL MUNITION FACTORIES

Toronto, Jan. 14.—In an address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday, W. J. Flavelle, chairman of the Imperial munitions board, again strongly emphasized the importance of the cause of the Allies. He pointed out that from Canada, and also from other parts of the Empire, women were engaged in the manufacture of munitions. He said that the government had spent $200,000,000 on munition factories, and operations had been carried on in 600 factories, located in every province, with the exception of Prince Edward Island. Over 400,000 men and women were engaged in these factories. He added: "We are at the moment constructing national factories for the manufacture of munitions. One, commenced a few weeks ago, will cost $2,200,000 and another is under construction. We hope to complete by midsummer, six more, which will cost $1,000,000. A series of factories in construction with the purpose of establishing of aeroplanes will entail an expenditure of between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000."

"And now if you are a good girl," said another speaker, "I will take you out in the machine and we will go and call on Uncle John and we will have such a nice time." "O, I wouldn't be a good girl just for that," said "Fannie." "I can see Uncle John any time. You'll have to raise your price, mamma."

Advanced Social Legislation for Improvement of the Condition of Workers Urged by J. E. Atkinson

Editor of Toronto Star Gives Address on Reforms as Carried Out in Old Land to Better the Life of the Toilers—Urges Similar Legislation to Meet Conditions in Canada

(From the Brantford Expositor.) In masterly fashion J. E. Atkinson, editor of The Toronto Star, at the Brant Reform Association last evening in the Liberal Club rooms, gave a detailed review of social legislation as adopted in the old land and the United States, and urged that Canada, to date behind in these matters, get into line and ameliorate the condition of the workers by seeing that they secured, directly or indirectly by state aid, a greater share of the products of their labor. The greatest cause of poverty, he declared, was low wages, with sickness also having a great effect, unemployment at seasonal periods being a third reason, and as counterpoise to these he urged sickness and unemployment insurance, mothers' pensions, and old age pensions, together with increases in wages to the lowest paid workers. Hepleta with statistics the address was tinged with emotion, and was thoroughly appreciated by the considerable audience which had gathered. W. H. Whitaker acted as chairman for the evening most efficiently. A hearty welcome was accorded to J. E. Atkinson, editor of The Toronto Star, the chief speaker of the evening, who, in opening, stated that he was pleased that the topic was not a partisan one, but one for the discussion of public affairs. This was a time when all had but one thought—the war.

England Before the War. The revolutionary changes which have recently taken place in the Old Land were referred to. At the opening of the war, he showed, one-third of all the people of the British Isles were in absolute poverty. In five towns in England, thoroughly investigated, one-quarter of the adult workers received 80 or less per week. Nineteen millions out of twenty millions had incomes less than $800. Of every 1,000 births, there were 200 deaths in infancy—through poverty or the ignorance which accompanied it. In Southwork fourteen years of every child's life was cut off as compared with prosperous Hampstead. These conditions, he now hoped, would be changed after the war.

Poverty in the United States. It was not alone in the old countries that such existed. In the United States with almost incalculable resources, one-third of all the adult workers earned 80 a week or less, the average being 60 members to each family. Government statistics showed that, to have a decent living, an income of $700 was necessary. In the basic trades, the workers were unemployed for one-fifth of the year. In Johnston, Pa., it was found that children of families of the very poor had but one-fourth of the chance of life the children had in families where the fathers earned 825 a week or more. Poverty kills children—one in four of the babies of the 810-a-week wage earners died in infancy, one in twelve of the classes better off. The contrast between wealth and poverty in the United States was even greater than in the Old Land. A college professor, who has written a book on the wealth of the United States, has classified the distribution of wealth in that country as follows: "The rich, two per cent. of the people, own 60 per cent. of the wealth; the middle class, 35 per cent. of the people, own 35 per cent. of the wealth; the poor, 65 per cent. of the people, own only 5 per cent. Two millions of people own 50 per cent more than the other ninety millions. In Canada statistical information was very scarce, but such available showed that in ten years the net product of labor in manufacturing, after subtracting cost of materials, increased 183 per cent., but the wages of the workers only 103 per cent. In Canada, as in the United States, as time elapsed it appeared that the workers, though with increased wages, was actually receiving less of the net product of his labor.

Child Mortality. Taking up child mortality, Mr. Atkinson pointed out that in Canada's largest city the infant mortality was 196 per thousand—nearly approaching the record set by four great towns in the old land, which was thought so terrible as to be worthy of being placed on record. Another large city even exceeded this high figure. These conditions must be faced in Canada, as they have been faced in other new countries—as in Australia and New Zealand.

Social Legislation. The speaker asked if there were a silver lining to the cloud which hung like a pall over the workers in England there had been a great deal of social legislation—taxing the wealthy to contribute to the needs of the state to after the war the government would intervene to see that the worker produced a greater proportion of what he produced. Canada had done little along these lines and was far behind the old England would never again see the unimpaired exploitation of the laborer. The men from the front would not return to resume their old wages. Social legislation, too, would come to Canada, he said, he concluded, appealed to his hearers to prepare themselves for these reforms, to maintain an open mind. The British ideal was "the state for the individual," as opposed to the German ideal of "the individual for the state." Patriotism was a splendid sentiment, but the appeal to humanity was a nobler one. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker.

DYSPEPSIA MOST DIFFICULT TO CURE BUT B. B. DOES IT

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure. You eat too much; drink too much; make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of time before dyspepsia follows. That forty-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia, and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we receive from time to time. Mr. Neil A. Cameson, Kiltarily, N.S., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what your great medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled very much with dyspepsia for the past two years. I was recommended all kinds of medicines, but they did not help me any. At last a friend advised me to try a bottle of B. B. I took four bottles and was totally cured. I will gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

B. B. is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. share of the cost. Experts stated that there needed to be 25 per cent. of excess labor over the needs of slack times that industry might be carried on adequately in the busiest periods. The turnover of labor was a hardship to the worker, a loss to the employer—for every worker costs from $80 to $200 to "break in."

Cause of Poverty. One of the causes of poverty the greatest is low wages. The greatest single social reform would be to raise the wages of the worst paid workers," declared Mr. Atkinson, who, however, expressed the opinion that this could not be done by legislation. It would be opposed by the workers themselves who opposed legislation fixing wages. Sickness and unemployment insurance, however, worked indirectly to ameliorate conditions. In England the government had stepped into all branches of industry—and there would never be a return to the old state of affairs. Government members there had stated that after the war the government would intervene to see that the worker produced a greater proportion of what he produced. Canada had done little along these lines and was far behind the old England would never again see the unimpaired exploitation of the laborer. The men from the front would not return to resume their old wages. Social legislation, too, would come to Canada, he said, he concluded, appealed to his hearers to prepare themselves for these reforms, to maintain an open mind. The British ideal was "the state for the individual," as opposed to the German ideal of "the individual for the state." "BUFFALO BILL" LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

Remarkable Life of Scout and Showman HOW HE WON TITLE

Story of Early Days on the Plains—His First Indian—Companionship With "Wild Bill"—Beieved He A-cumulated Fortune of $1,000,000

The Boston Globe says that William F. Cody, or "Buffalo Bill," as he was popularly known the world over, was the most picturesque character in the history of America. The incidents which made up the drama of his eventful life were of the most romantic kind, some of them bordering so closely upon the realm of the supernatural as to be almost beyond credence. He was born in Scott County, Ia., on Feb. 16, 1846, the son of Isaac Cody, one of the pioneers of Kansas, who emigrated to a town near the site of Leavenworth in 1833, when William was about eight years old. His father took an active part in making Kansas a free state, was obliged to flee from his home after being stabbed nearly to death in a political quarrel, and died of exposure in March 1857. So at twelve years of age the boy was called upon to support his mother and he did not shrink from the task. His First Indian. In less than a month he hired out with Russell, Majors and Waddell, who were carrying government supplies across the plains, and in this employment visited every military fort and post west of the Mississippi River. He had already shot an Indian dead, and his bravery and attention to duty that he became a favorite with plainmen and soldiers. In 1863 his mother died, and Cody, having attained some reputation as a dead shot and plainsman, was employed as an Indian scout, and served to the close of the Civil War with the 7th Kansas Cavalry. By this time Cody was a sure shot with rifle and revolver, and in half a hundred fights with Indians and Mormons, he bore himself with gallantry and discretion. Thus, when the overland pony express came into existence a rider was wanted who was an expert horseman, a dead shot, fearless and enduring, and he was selected. On one trip when his wagon was loaded with mail sacks, he killed two highwaymen who attacked him and he rode 800 miles without sleep.

"Wild Bill." Among the noted frontier characters who knew and admired young Cody was that strange man, "Wild Bill" Hickok, who held the dangerous position of city marshal at Abilene, Kan., and he chose Cody as his deputy. Kansas City was the rendezvous of plainmen, alive with cowboys and "bad men," ready to fight at the drop of a dime. Every man in town carried a weapon, except the city marshal and his deputy. Cody did this with every man who dared to meet him. Ordinarily such a bully would have been shot out of hand, but his open declaration that he carried no arms so shamed others that they left him unharmed. Young Cody was assigned to duty in the town where his fame as a rough and capable hunter and his skill with the "gun" and the bowie knife had preceded him, and the sports at once besought him to take the reins of the big one. The latter was willing, and the fight was soon, swift and savage. It lasted thirty minutes without a pause, and at the close the bully, covered with blood and strangling with the steel grip of the victor on his throat, begged for his life. Romance in Marriage. In less than a year he was made chief of scouts under Gen. Curtis, with headquarters at St. Louis. Here, riding through the streets one morning, he came upon a crowd of drunken soldiers annoying a party of school girls. He dismounted and ordered the men to disperse and was met with oaths and derision. He said, in knocked three of the enemy senseless and rescued the panic-stricken girls. All made their escape, but one, whom he took under escort to her home, fell in love with the pretty Louise Fredrick, a black-eyed little maid, whom he married at the close of the war, and took her out to Salt Creek Valley, Kan., his early home. But he soon returned to his old scouting life under Gen. Cook. The Kansas Pacific Railroad was being built through the buffalo country, and Shoemaker, Miller & Co., the contractors, wanted buffalo meat for their 1,200 men, and offered Cody $500 a month to supply twelve animals a day. It was a big and dangerous task, but within eighteen months the young scout killed 4,280 buffaloes with his own hands, and came off victor-

PLAN MONUMENT AT GRAVE OF BUFFALO BILL

Denver, Colo., Jan. 14.—To add her measure of appreciation of what the west owed him, the State of Colorado received the body of Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), into her capital yesterday, there to lie in state for four hours.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon when the body was placed in a receiving vault in a local cemetery, but the burial will not take place until next spring, probably Decoration Day, when the body of one of the nation's most picturesque characters will be interred in a tomb hence from the rock at the top of Lookout Mountain, near this city. Plans already are afoot for the erection of a monument to the man at this final resting place. PRIVATE KILLORN RETURNS. Private J. Leo Killorn, son of Mrs. Jennie L. Killorn, Eden street, arrived home yesterday from Toronto. He recently returned from England, having spent two years in the service of the king with the 96th Battalion. Private Killorn lost a leg in the battle of Hooge, last summer, which necessitated many operations. He passed through many hospitals, arriving eventually last August at Hamagata, where Rev. E. E. Hooper, it chaplain. Private Killorn spent several months at the hospital and he paid a high tribute to the work being done there by the St. John chapter. Private Killorn is the second son of Mrs. Killorn to be in khaki. Private Matthew Killorn is now overseas with the R. C. R.'s having crossed with the 140th Battalion. Lou Dillon Queen of Turf Eight Fast New Trotters

Record of 1.58 1/2 is Unique in Harness Racing History.

Qualified in 1916 to Enter 2.05 Class; 55 Now in That Select Number.

It was in 1903 that Lou Dillon took her record of 1.58 1/2, and the famous two-minute mare, by the way, the only one of her sex, either trotter or pacer in the two-minute circle, is still queen of the turf after a reign of thirteen years.

She was considered as handsome an animal as ever graded the trotting turf, and only two others of her gait, viz., Ubian (1.58) and Lee Asworthy (1.58 1/2) have records faster, and only a mere shade at that.

The daughter of Sidney Dillon was foaled in 1898, bred by the Santa Rosa Stock Farm, Santa Rosa, Cal., and sold by that famous breeding farm in their consignment of horses that went under the hammer at one of the Fast sales held in the early part of 1900 at the old Glenville mile track, Cleveland, Ohio.

Lou Dillon was purchased by C. K. Billings (still being his property) that famous sportsman paying the enormous sum of $20,000 for the mare, she being practically green at the time, but the speed she had shown since arriving at the Glenville course had warranted her purchaser that he had secured a diamond in the rough.

Mr. Billings had Lou's speed developed for her mostly, but occasionally racing man, Charley ("Doc") Tanner, using the famous mare as an exhibition horse, and he had secured a diamond in the rough.

The principal achievements of Lou were exhibitions against time, but she had the distinction of being the first trotter to beat two minutes. She made her record in 1903, and was retired from the turf in the fall of 1915 and first bred in the spring of 1906.

Her first foal was a bay filly, now known as Lou Billings, and she trotted to a three-year-old record in 1910. Lou Billings was sired by the good trotting stallion John A. McKerron (2:04 1/2), and her dam foaled another filly by the same sire in 1908. She was called Gretchen B., and was put in the breeding harem very early in life, although she was trained a little for speed.

She is now the dam of Girl of the Bedlis, that trotted to a two-year-old record of 2:25 1/2 in 1916. In 1909 Lou Dillon was barren. In 1910 she produced a chestnut colt by John A. McKerron, now known as McDillon.

In 1915, at the age of 5 years, she was given a record of 2:24, and it is said in his work this past summer he showed his ability to trot in better than 2:15.

At the close of last year's racing season 47 trotters had acquired records of 2:05 and better.

The first trotter to enter the 2:05 list was Nancy Hanks, 2:04, in 1892, and it has only been during the last few years that they have been multiplying to any extent, as prior to 1908 there were but 13 in that charmed circle.

The season just closed added eight members to the list, the largest number in any one season, the best previous being six in 1910. Also, 2:03 1/2, was the second to enter the list in 1894, and the following year Azote, 2:04 1/2, broke in.

Five years then elapsed without a single addition, until the Abbot, 2:03 1/2, and Crescus, 2:04, appeared. Four years passed, then, turning the trick, John A. McKerron, 2:04 1/2, also entered the list.

The year 1914 produced Tiverton, 2:01 1/2, and Sweet Marie, 2:04 1/2, and 1905, Westcott trotted 2:04 1/2, and Admiral Dewey, 2:04 1/2. The only addition in 1907 was Mainsheet, 2:06. Four entered in 1908, two in the following year and six in 1910. In 1911 there were five, the following year, three, and five again in 1913, while 1914 produced five, and last year four.

It will be noted that while a total of 45 trotters scored 2:05 and better in the period of 24 years, 50 of the records were made since 1902. The eight additions during the past season are: Mabel Trask, 2:03 1/2; Lucille, Spier, 2:03 1/2; St. Frisco, 2:03 1/2; Zonreel, 2:03 1/2; The Real Lady, 2:04 1/2; Volga, Scott, 2:05. Peter the Great has sired seven of the 2:05 trotters. The next in rank of sires have but two each to their credit, as follows: Bingen, San Francisco, Directum, Spier and Hellini, thus it will be seen that 45 different sires are represented in the list containing 55 performers.

The first to enter the list was a mare, Nancy Hanks. The first gelding was Azote, 2:04 1/2, and the first stallion Crescus, 2:05 1/2. The list of trotting monarchs include 23 mares, 20 stallions and 12 geldings.

Kentucky leads the list, having produced 19. California adds seven, New York stands third with six, Iowa has three; New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Illinois and Nebraska have each produced two members. Colorado, Delaware, Maryland, Indiana, Michigan, Tennessee, Canada and Austria are each credited with one, while being the foreign-bred member.

Motor Ice Boat To Go Mile a Minute

Something new in the ice craft line will make its appearance on the North Shrewsbury river, off Red Bank, N. Y., before many days that promises to beat all time records made by any ice-craft or ice boat. The new creation is a motor ice-yacht, designed by Edward V. Willis, builder of the champion ice-boats, Imp and Drub, and being built under the supervision at the boat works of Pierre A. Proul, the wealthy sportsman of the Deaf and Runson Country club, and well known amateur golf player.

So sure is Proul of the speed of this new craft that he has already arranged for a ten-mile match race for a large wager, with Skipper Reuben White, who will sail America's fastest ice-yacht, Imp, owned by L. T. Straus, of Newark and West End.

Proul expects to make at least a mile a minute in his new motor ice-yacht. He is building two of them at present and is profiting by the experience he has had with his other creations in the line of ice-crafts.

The frame and body will be like that of an ice-boat, with oscillating runners that will allow for the unevenness of the surface of the ice. The craft will be steered by an automobile wheel directly attached to the front runner so as to avoid any skidding or wobbling.

It is said that a prominent London teacher of singing, William Shakespeare, was recently a guest of Frederick Bacon at the latter's home in Pomona, Cal. Now Mr. Shakespeare's ruddy, smiling face is the personification of geniality, and his rather high-pitched speaking voice is in keeping with his looks. The story goes that after his arrival in Pomona he stepped up to the post office window and inquired: "I say, my dear sir, would you kindly tell me if you have any letters for William Shakespeare, care of Mr. Bacon?"

The young man at the window eyed the smiling countenance, took note of the voice and remembered the epidemic of Shakespearean literary celebrations breaking out all over the country; he answered: "See here, old fellow! You can't pull off any of those stunts on me."

"Boy, take these flowers to Miss Bertie Bolton, in No. 121."

"My, sir, you're the fourth gent who's sent her flowers today."

"What's that? What the deuce? Who sent the flowers?"

"O, they didn't send any name. They all said 'She'll know who they came from.'"

"Well, here, take my card and tell her these are from the same gentleman who sent the other three lots."

AN APPEAL for the RUSSIAN REFUGEE FUND

In Poland more than 20,000 villages have been leveled to the ground. More than 2,000 towns have completely disappeared. On the road from Warsaw to Pinsk, a distance of 150 miles, the ground was simply littered with civilian garments and cradles; probably 400,000 human beings have died along this road. There was no time for burial. Beasts of prey had cleaned the bones dry of the marrow. So much for Poland. But Poland presents only one angle of the world's drama. Everywhere abroad, winter has set in and in addition to daily starvation, thousands will freeze to death, as thousands have frozen during the preceding years.

Think of the mothers and children cooped up in Serbian huts without proper clothing. Lend an ear to the bitter cry of the little ones as they ask: "MOTHER, WILL EVER THE TIME COME WHEN I CAN EAT AS MUCH AS I LIKE?"

Children below seven never reached Siberia, and yet there must have been thousands of these babes when our people started for their march out of Lithuania and Poland.

These conditions make it imperative for us to appeal to the generosity of the people for help. The Russian Refugee Fund since inception of war has forwarded $2,400 to Montreal. We are now going out to collect donations for that cause under the auspices of Mayor Hayes, and trust that everyone will respond generously as they did last year. Collecting will begin next Monday by committee of ladies.

THEIR FIRST EXPERIENCE OF A CANADIAN WINTER

Dr. H. A. Tenpenny of the imperial government agricultural department, who has been in the British West Indies for the last fourteen years, arrived in the city a few days ago on route to England. He spent practically all the fourteen years in the northern islands where the chief industry is raising sugar. His work was in improving agricultural methods along with scientific farming.

In speaking of the sugar industry, he said that the annual production of sugar in the islands averaged between 22,000 to 35,000 tons and that nearly all the trade is carried on with Canada. The next industry is cotton. In these islands was grown the best cotton in the world—Sea Island cotton. Canada and the United States were the chief markets for this. Lime juice was also an important industry in the West Indies, as were coconuts and fruit. Dr. Tenpenny said that the outlook in the islands was very bright and offered great opportunities for capitalists.

Dr. Tenpenny was accompanied here by his wife. This was the first time that he had witnessed a Canadian winter and, naturally, after spending fourteen years in the tropics, he more than felt the blast of last week. On the day on which the trees were coated with ice, they had the unique experience also of seeing New Brunswick in summer time for a special showing of New Brunswick agricultural products in the Imperial, arranged by James Gilchrist, superintendent of the provincial immigration bureau.

HOCKEY PRACTICE BEGUN

The Field Ambulance held their first hockey practice on Saturday night and, judging by the showing made, a snappy team will be developed by this unit. Forsythe of Fredericton they have one of the best net defenders in the league. For defence, Harrison of last year's Gibson team, showed considerable ability in breaking up rushes and he has a shot like a 47. Of the forwards, Currie, a former Chatham player, and McPherson of the Gibson team, showed up well. As this team has several other first-class men who were not present at the practice they should give the 11th a run for their money when the two teams cross sticks in the opening game.

IN SAME TOWN WITH OTHER ST. JOHN MEN AND DID NOT KNOW IT

Letter From Q. M. S. Jennings—Was Expecting Leave Trip to England

Q. M. S. Frank X. Jennings, writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jennings, East St. John, under date of December 23, says in part:—

"I met Maurice Mullany, Eddie Cronin and Roy Murdoch the other day. We were all billeted in the same town, and I did not know it for a whole week. All are looking well and are apparently enjoying life, such as it is. I did not learn of Bapat Cronin's death until I read it in The Times. I had seen him once or twice in England. We used to go to the same little Garrison church together in Shorncliffe on Sundays. I had rather enjoyed to see him in France, but although his battalion was near us at times I never saw him.

"Another St. John officer I met recently was Norman P. MacLeod, of the West Side. He is with Major Magee's battery. I saw him only once last week, but at a distance. I am expecting a few days in England soon, and am living in a delight of anticipation which can be exceeded only by the actual realization.

Quarter Master Jennings also mentions that he received his Christmas boxes two days before the 25th. He is in the best of health and spirits, and sends best regards to all.

W. FENWICK DEAD

For Nearly Twenty Years a Familiar Figure in Country Market

Many friends in St. John, in Kings and other counties will learn with regret of the death of Wilfred Fenwick, who for nearly twenty years had been a familiar figure in the country market, where he had a stall, selling country produce. Mr. Fenwick was taken ill on Saturday and died this morning. He was seventy-five years old, but looked much younger, and was unusually active for his years.

He was a son of the late and Mrs. Fenwick of Millstream, and after some years on the farm he came as a young man to St. John, about 1870. After the great fire he returned to the country, but came back again nearly or quite twenty years ago, and had since done business in the market. Mr. Fenwick was twice married. His children by the first marriage are Mrs. Duncan Mayes of Queenstown and E. R. Fenwick of this city. There is no issue by the second marriage, but his wife pronounced a regular decrease. The rate per 100,000 has fallen from 186 to a little over 127, for all forms of the disease, and from 170.91 to 107.06 for the pulmonary form.

While the latter figure is a very moderate one, we have every reason to suppose that it is capable of still further reduction.

Infantile Mortality.
"It is again satisfactory to report a decided decrease under this important heading. In no other phase of sanitary work is the opportunity greater to conserve life and reduce the general death-rate than with regard to infants under one year of age." The number of deaths of infants under one year was 118 as compared with 137 in 1915 and 173 in 1914.

Death from All Causes.
"It is satisfactory to note that the death-rate is reduced almost a point and a half as compared with last year, the figures being 17.89 per 1,000 for 1915, and 16.41 per 1,000 for 1916. This can not be called an exceptionally low death-rate, figures go in the Western World during the last ten or fifteen years, but it is a very moderate one, and will not be found higher, perhaps, than the average urban community."

The total number of deaths was 985, being 495 males and 490 females. It is of interest that forty-six were eighty-six years of age and upwards; 121 were between seventy-five and eighty-five years and 108 between sixty-five and seventy-five years.

The report also deals with the efficient work of the inspectors, general sanitary work, closing of houses, public drainage, schools, vaccination, food, milk, legal proceedings and general business.

DR. G. G. MELVIN REPORTS ON THE HEALTH OF CITY

Review of 1916 Shows Improvement in Almost Every Department Under Record

The sixth annual report of Dr. George G. Melvin, M.D., D.P.H., chief health officer for St. John, covering the year of 1916, is published this year in neat pamphlet form. The report is admirably compiled and gives in concise form a comprehensive view of health conditions in the city. A gratifying feature of the report is the improvement shown in almost every department of the records. In addition to the health officer, those to whom credit is due for the satisfactory condition of affairs in the city are the members of the Board of Health, Hon. J. W. Daniel, M.D., acting chairman, Dr. G. G. Melvin, M.D., D.P.H., and George Blake, and the staff which is as follows:—T. M. Burns, secretary; S. McConnell, chief inspector; James Howard, plumbing inspector; Hayden, chief assistant inspector; Dr. T. Fred Johnston, dairy inspector; George E. Mosher, inspector; St. Mary's, Miss Brophy, tuberculosis nurse; Mrs. Frank Murphy, matron of Isolation Hospital; Frank Murphy, ambulance driver; Dr. J. Roy Campbell, solicitor.

Regarding the number of notifiable diseases, the report says:—"It will be noted that there is, again, a very pronounced and satisfactory decline in the number of acute notifiable diseases, except measles, over last year; last year, itself, being distinctly less than 1914, while the figures for 1914 were not excessive. As remarked last year, it is very probable that a much further reduction in the absolute number of these diseases, yearly, is practicable, as their continued importation into the city constantly sets up fresh centres of infection. As it is, the city is in a most favorable condition, as respects these diseases, compared with other considerable communities. The diseases reported were:—Measles, 223; tuberculosis, 139; others, 103.

Concerning the deaths from notifiable diseases, of which there were seventy-six, the report says:—"Perhaps the most gratifying feature of the figures for the typhoid mortality. Though never high for the last six years, it has steadily declined, the first three years showing an average mortality in absolute numbers of 7.06, and the last three years an average of 5.55.

Deaths from Tuberculosis.
There were sixty-three deaths from tuberculosis and the comment on this is:—"It is very satisfactory to note the pronounced and regular decrease. The rate per 100,000 has fallen from 186 to a little over 127, for all forms of the disease, and from 170.91 to 107.06 for the pulmonary form.

While the latter figure is a very moderate one, we have every reason to suppose that it is capable of still further reduction.

DUMPING MAKES MARSH CREEK TOO NARROW

Extensive repairs to the flood gates in the abutment at the Marsh bridge have been undertaken by the water and sewerage department. It is expected that it will be necessary to build two new gates and repair the two old ones. The gates, which are of wood with iron frames, will be taken out one at a time. The body of the dam is made of concrete and masonry. The amount of material which has been dumped in the creek below the bridge, towards the bay, the channel has been greatly narrowed. Commissioner Wigmore said this morning that the encroachment of the land owners by dumping operations was so great that the channel had been reduced to a smaller size than was safe. The creek at one place was now only a few feet wide and this did not give the tide an opportunity to escape from the creek at low water rapidly enough to empty the creek.

Formerly the mouth of the creek was wide enough to allow the free passage of the water, and the commissioner said today that the present condition would have to be improved.

GOOD YEAR FOR ST. DAVID'S CHURCH IN FINANCES

Receipts $1,384 Greater than in 1915—A Detailed Statement

The financial statement of St. David's Presbyterian church, prepared by the treasurer, William J. Fraser, was distributed in the pews yesterday. The report shows the church to be in a strong financial position, the receipts for the year being $1,384.99 greater than in 1915, and the year ending with a balance of $1,264.28 in the bank. An interesting feature of the report is the large proportion of the funds disbursed for other than congregational purposes. The comparative summary is as follows:

CASE SETTLED

Matter in Dispute Over Insurance on Steamer Victoria

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 15.—The case of the Victoria Steamship Company vs. the Northern Insurance Company, set down for trial here this week before Judge Barry and a special jury, has been satisfactorily settled and withdrawn from the record. The plaintiff company was seeking to recover a policy for $5,000 held on the steamer Victoria, burned at Indiantown a year ago. McLean and Hughes with M. G. Teed, acted for the plaintiffs and Shipp and Hanson, with Hon. J. E. M. Baxter for the defendants. Relatives of Walter Baxter, son of the late George Baxter of this city, have been notified that he is in hospital suffering from gunshot wound in the hand. He left here with the 140th Battalion.

Brigadier-General McLean completed his inspection of the 26th Battalion here yesterday and returned to St. John this morning.

A January thaw was experienced here yesterday. It rained steadily all day but in the evening the weather turned cold.

NEW W. AND S. MOTOR TRUCK
The new two-ton motor truck which has been provided for the water and sewerage department made its first appearance in the street this morning. It is a General Motors Company chassis, fitted with a body built in the city by William Akery. Its brilliant coat of red paint led some observers to mistake it for a new pipe of fire apparatus. It is expected that the use of the car will effect a considerable economy in the trucking operations of the department.
