Miss Hopper's own matrimonial prospects are excellent, she added, declaring "I have a proposal now from a French count, who would make Gloria Swanson's little marquis look cheap. Ontario Sentiment Toward Maritime Problems Changes

STAFF REPRESENTATIVE OF THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL AND EVENING TIMES-STAR, WHO IS NOW ON AN ACTIVE CANVASS OF CANADIAN PROVINCES AND EXPERTS IN BEHALF OF THE MORE GENERAL USE OF CANADIAN PAPERS. TORONTO, Oct. 20.—C. H. J. Selder, editor of the Evening Telegram, is a friend of the Maritime Provinces. He has been there, and is going again. He has had two long conversations on the Maritime situation and will discuss it again. Mr. Selder says there is a steadily growing change in Ontario sentiment regarding our problems. Once, he says, the name "Bluenose" was a term of contempt. The comradeship of the great war period changed all that. "Then," said Mr. Selder, "the 'Bluenose' of the fishermen's races put the Maritimes on the map." The Ontario people are great lovers of sport. Mr. Selder's office walls are adorned with pictures of yachts and schooners. He attended the races off Halifax and hopes to have a similar pleasure soon again. In regard to the economic needs of the Maritimes he declares faith must be kept with them by the rest of Canada. If Ontario has not appeared sympathetic, he says it is because she did not understand; and he asked me numerous questions about what might be done regarding development of our resources and finding markets for our products.

F. D. TOLCHARD, secretary of the Board of Trade, asked me yesterday if the Maritimes would be well represented at the Board of Trade Conference in Winnipeg? The Board here is making arrangements so that a special rate may be secured and the delegates journey together. A strong Maritime delegation is hoped for by the Toronto Board. All the privileges of the Board have been extended to me and valuable assistance given in my work.

When I was introduced to J. R. Clancy, of the foreign freight department of the Canadian Pacific, he showed me a valuable cigarette case presented to him by Saint John friends in 1919. He said he never spent three more enjoyable winters than those at Saint John, and he never knew more hospitable people. The late Senator Thorne, Judge Armstrong and the members of the Cliff Club were all his friends. A. Morice, also of the foreign freight staff, gives me much helpful information to facilitate my work.

IN TORONTO one begins to get something of the American atmosphere. On the news stand in the hotel are Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit papers, but I do not find any from Saint John or Halifax. The Toronto dailies carry only an occasional item of news from the Maritimes. Of course, politics absorbs much space at present.

S. line executives, and during the outing-entertained by the officials, emphatically stated that if New Brunswick people would supply the sporting and vacation facilities, they would strive to divert the travel to them—in fact the big eastern centres were looking for new places. BRITISH SOLDIER BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE

General MacBrien Tells of Result of Recent Army Manoeuvres

MECHANICAL ADVANCE PARTICULARLY NOTED

Tanks, Planes, Artillery and Defence Units Highly Developed

Interviewed at Quebec on his return from England, where he attended the recent army manoeuvres, Major General J. H. MacBrien, chief of staff of the Department of National Defence, who will attend an armistice reunion dinner here next month, says that the British soldier of today is better than ever before.

General MacBrien said that the manoeuvres, which were the first held since 1918, were participated in by four divisions of infantry and one territorial battalion, slightly over 50,000 men.

OPEN WARFARE
This was the first opportunity afforded of gaining experience in open warfare since the Great War. Another object of the manoeuvres was to test new and improved instruments of war. The advance made in scientific weapons for use on the ground and in the air since the Great War has been considerable, he said, and therefore soldiers must study their effect and become familiar with their use. Interest was technical as well as tactical.

Some of the weapons are improved tanks, armored cars, airplanes, tractors and mechanicalized artillery. An interesting feature to note was the varying rate of movement of the various component units of a modern army, from the airplane at 180 to 200 miles an hour, the armored car at 40 to 60 miles, the tank at 80 miles and the infantry at three miles an hour.

MORE COMPLICATED.
From these facts about a modern army, General MacBrien said, it was easy to see that war is constantly becoming more complicated and that increased study and experience are needed by all ranks, but especially those who will have the responsibility of commanding units in war time. On the whole, the manoeuvres had been a great success, he said, and valuable lessons were learned from them. He declared that the British soldier today is better than ever before. Their marching and discipline, physical fitness and individual training are of a very high order.

JAPANESE COMPARISON.

Last year he had had the pleasure of being present at the great Japanese manoeuvres and he had been struck by the apparent athletic appearance of the Japanese soldiers, but the British soldier is every bit as physically fit as the Japanese. He found that the men in the army today appear to be younger generally, are all in the pink of condition, alert and of better education than was the case in England before the Great War.

When asked if there was any foundation to the story which was cable-d from America from London to the effect that the manoeuvres had shown to the heads of the British militia that the present army was not numerically strong enough for defensive purposes, General MacBrien said that that was a matter of individual opinion. The British army is larger than before the war and considered strong enough for the present.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MOUNT COMPARTMENT SLEEPERS

The greatest of satisfaction has been expressed by those who have traveled between Saint John and Montreal in the compartment sleepers, which have been in operation since August last on Canadian Pacific train 15, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon, and train 16, leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the evening.

This class of sleeper has always been operated on the more important lines of the Canadian Pacific, and its adoption lately on the Montreal route has proved very successful, and growing more popular all the time.

The style of compartment sleeper in service here has three compartments, one drawing-room, while the balance of the car is given to observation purposes. Of course the car is fitted up in Canadian Pacific style and standard, and all the arrangements tend to the complete comfort of the occupant. The accommodations offer every opportunity for rest and relaxation, and at the same time give ample chance to view the scenery en route. Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and all toilet facilities, etc., much the same as the regular drawing-rooms; they are what might be termed Private Staterooms, and are considerably less in price than the ordinary drawing-rooms. Patrons desiring strict privacy with all the comforts and accommodations offered in drawing-rooms, or those who heretofore have been unable to secure drawing-rooms, will find the compartment of the greatest benefit.

CO-EDS WILL SMOKE IF THEY WANT TO

Northwestern Students Resent Criticism of Men in College Paper.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Co-eds at Northwestern University will smoke cigarettes if they please. It's nobody's business, so there!

That's the reaction of the co-eds themselves to the agitation of the men students against women smoking. The reaction followed an editorial in the Daily Northwestern ridiculing the little apple blossom who likes her cigarette.

"Northwestern girls are in no need of reform," declared Miss Kate Gilbert, former president of the Y. W. C. A., and a power in undergraduate circles. "And, if we were, we'd hardly look to the men for suggestions." Miss Dorothy Coleman, the present president of the Y. W. C. A., expressed herself as follows: "As far as cigarette smoking is concerned," she said, "it is purely a personal matter with those who do it. It's certainly not any business of the men."

FREEMAN'S FASHION SHOP

609 MAIN STREET

The House of Good Value Open Every Eve.

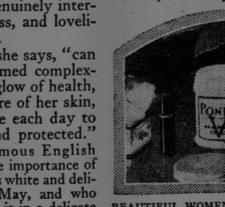

The Lady DIANA MANNERS tells how "every woman can have a fresh, undimmed complexion"

ARISTOCRAT by birth and breeding, from the crown of her golden bobbed head to her slender silk-stockinged ankles, the Lady Diana Manners is a true democrat at heart. She adores beauty for its own pure sake, but also for the happiness it brings to the whole world. And she is genuinely interested in the happiness, and loveliness of other women.

"Every woman," she says, "can have a fresh, undimmed complexion, a clear-skinned glow of health, if only she'll take care of her skin, devoting a little time each day to keeping it supple and protected."

And then this famous English beauty, who knows the importance of keeping her own skin as white and delicate as hepatics in May, and who cares for it by bathing it in a delicate cleansing cream, tells other women how they, too, can keep their clear-skinned freshness: "I know," she says, "that every woman can accomplish this loveliness by using Pond's Two Creams."

Every night before retiring and during the day, especially after exposure to the weather, cleanse your face and neck with Pond's Cold Cream, patting it lavishly over your skin. Let it stay on long enough for its pure oils to bring to the surface the dust, dirt and powder which choke the pores. Wipe off all the cream and dirt and repeat, finishing with a dash of cold water or a rub with ice.

After every cleansing with Pond's Cold Cream, except the one you give your skin at night, finish and protect it with a delicate film of Pond's Vanishing Cream, smoothing just a little over your skin. Over this your powder and rouge will go on evenly, smoothly and cling long. Pond's Vanishing Cream protects the skin, too, from hurtful soot and dust, and nipping wind and cold—keeping it youthful, fresh, and supple for hours.

Pond's Cold Cream now comes in large jars, and both Creams in two sizes of smaller jars and in tubes. Ask for them in any chemist's shop or departmental store. The Pond's Extract Company, 146 Brock Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

The Evening Times-Star

The Evening Times-Star printed at 25-27 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 21, 1925.

NOW THE CUNARD LINE

For the first time in the history of this port, we are to have some of the Cunard Line steamers.

The Robert Bedford Company, Cunard agents, have been working for some time to shift these steamers from Portland to our own port, and announcement is now made that four ships will be employed in a fortnightly service between Saint John and the Old Country, and that the Veronicas, which will leave London on November 21, will begin the service from Saint John on December 12 and that the three other ships will follow in turn.

Canadian exporters and importers, as The Times-Star and Telegraph-Journal campaign has clearly demonstrated, are heartily in favor of utilizing Canadian ports to the greatest extent possible, and this sound policy must be encouraged by providing the requisite facilities at our own ports and gradually recovering much of the traffic which has been diverted to alien channels.

A SOLDIER POET.

Saint John people, and of course a much wider audience, are familiar with "Courcellette," the now famous poem by the late Lieutenant J. Harold Manning, but perhaps too few as yet know the quality of his other verses.

These have been combined in a most attractive book printed by J. & A. McMillan, and just issued under the title "Courcellette and Other Poems."

There is a biographical introduction by the poet's father, Dr. James Manning, recalling some of the salient features of the career of the gallant soldier poet which was cut short by untimely death.

James Harold Manning who was educated in the public schools here, and who was graduated from the High School at the early age of fifteen, after winning many honors there, was studying dentistry in Philadelphia when his great war came.

Upon completing his freshman year in 1915, when he was but eighteen years old, he came home and obtained a commission as lieutenant in the 104th battalion which was raised by Lieutenant-Colonel George W. Fowler. He was transferred to the 10th battalion, and later joined the 2nd (Port Arthur), with which he went to France in February, 1917.

He served through much heavy fighting, and at Vimy Ridge was wounded in the arm by a shell and invalided to England for three months. He re-joined his battalion at Lens, where it took part in many heavy engagements.

In August, 1917, while Lieutenant Manning was carrying out a minor operation between the lines for the capture of three German machine guns he was buried by a shell explosion, and after being dug out again by his sergeant he collected a few men, rushed the machine guns from which the German snipers fired, and brought the guns into the Canadian lines.

This gallant exploit had just been completed when he was hurled to the ground by a shell which shattered his left hand. This injury, which finally resulted in the loss of the hand, ended his military career in which he had gained marked distinction for devoted courage and high initiative.

He subsequently took up the study of town planning and landscape gardening, at Harvard, but later accepted a position as the engineering staff of the Standard Oil Company and in that capacity was sent to Venezuela, where he died in 1924 from a malignant type of malarial fever, in the twenty-seventh year of his age.

THE WEATHER PROPHETS.

News from the rural districts of Ontario this morning shows that not all the prophets are engaged in forecasting the election results.

In Ontario's rural communities at least the good old employment of forecasting the weather prevails as usual.

Some of the prophecies are rather diverting, because of the novelty of a few of the excuses found for predicting a hard winter.

One of the goose-bone seers has noticed that the bark on the trees is unusually thick, indicating that, somehow or other, nature has warned the trees to don an unusually heavy winter covering.

Another fellow up there has discovered that the hide of the horses is thicker than usual, and presumably they began to make preparations early in the summer, as a result of advance information.

A third observer says that the swallows and the gulls have been uncommonly active in the search for food in order to put on an extra layer of fat.

We did not know the Ontario swallows remained there all winter, and probably they do not. Why they would increase their weight in preparation for the southern flight does not readily appear.

A fourth wiseacre has been watching the bees, and notes that they have gathered a bigger supply of honey than usual. This he says is a sure sign of a hard winter, but more probably it is a sign that the bees have found harvesting conditions more satisfactory than ordinarily.

The school boys in Ontario are about as frequent as those of unusual severity. "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," was Mark Twain's humorous complaint. The only thing that can be done about it is to enjoy the good and hope for more of it, and endure the bad, which, after all, is usually exaggerated.

It doesn't do a bit of harm to predict a much better winter than the average one. The wise man makes a friend of the weather instead of regarding it as an enemy.

It is announced this morning that Sir Thomas White, former Minister of Finance, has agreed to deliver the opening address at the Dominion conference of Boards of Trade, which is to open in Winnipeg on November 18, and at which the economic problems confronting the country will be examined by delegates from every part of Canada.

Sir Thomas is to speak on "Canada's Present National and Economic Position."

Dinner Stories

Little Ralph belonged to a family of five. One morning he came into the house carrying five stones which he brought to his mother, saying: "Look, mother, here are tombstones for each one of us."

The mother, counting them, said: "Here is one for father, dear! Here is one for mother! Here is brother's! Here is the baby's; but there is none for Della, the maid."

Ralph was lost in thought for a moment, then cheerfully cried: "Oh, well, never mind, mother; Della can have mine, and I'll live!"

A regiment of regulars was making a long, dusty march across the rolling prairie land along the Mexican border. It was a hot, blistering day and the men, longing for water and rest, were impatient to reach the next town.

A rancher rode past. A soldier called out one of the men, "How far is it to the next town?" "Oh, a matter of two miles or so, I reckon," called back the rancher. Another long hour dragged by, and another rancher was encountered. "How far to the next town?" the men asked him eagerly. "Oh, a good two miles."

A weary half-hour longer of marching, and then a third rancher. "Hey, how far's the next town?" "Not far," was the encouraging answer. Only about two miles. "Well," sighed an optimistic sergeant, "thank God, we're holdin' our own, anyhow!"

THE ONE GREAT OF FENSE OF MAN:

A POPULAR pulpit orator cries the doctrine that the great offense of man is self-will. All the good of which humanity is capable is comprised in obedience. "Whatever is not a duty is a sin."

IT IS NOT by wearing down into uniformity all that is individual in themselves, but by cultivating it and calling it forth, within the limits imposed by the rights and interests of others, that human beings become a noble and beautiful object of contemplation, John Stuart Mill observed.

BUGLE SONG.

O love, they die in yon rich sky, They faint on hill or field or river; Our echoes roll from soul to soul, And grow for ever and for ever.

Cut Salaries Of Bachelors In Free State

The Irish Free State minister of finance has sanctioned a new scale of salaries for clerical civil servants, to apply to future appointments, under which women are to be paid the same wages as unmarried men.

The new scale involves a reduction of about 25 per cent. in the present salaries of unmarried men, who predict that the change will result in hasty and unhappy marriages. As works partake the character of those who do them, by the same process human life also becomes rich, diversified and animating, furnishing more abundant food for high thoughts and elevating feelings.

There is a greater fullness of life about the individual's existence, and when there is more life in the units there is more in the mass which is composed of them.

There is always need of persons not only to discover new truths, and point out when what, once were truths are truths no longer, but also to commence new practices.

This benefit is not capable of being performed by every one alike. There are only a few persons, in comparison with the whole of mankind, whose experiments, if adopted by others, would be likely to be any improvement on established practice.

And these are the salt of the earth; without them, human life would become a stagnant pool.

FOSTER MAINTAINS KING GOVERNMENT CUT EXPENDITURES

Reduced Cost of Living and Public Service, National Debt and Taxation, Secretary of State Declares at Hillsboro

HILLSBORO, Oct. 20—The candidates of the Liberal party in Saint John-Albert, Hon. W. E. Foster, Secretary of State, and R. T. Hayes, ex-M. L. A. for the City of Saint John, opened their campaign in Albert county tonight in Hillsboro.

Hon. Dr. Foster broke a lot of new ground. He said good work had been done by the Mackenzie King Liberal Government in reducing the national debt, the cost of living, the cost of public services and taxation since it took over the administration of the country. During the two years following demobilization, from 1920-1922, the Meighen Government had added $174,000,000 to the debt of the country, Dr. Foster said. On March 31, 1922, the consolidated net public debt was $2,422,000,000; at the same time in 1925 it had decreased by $3,000,000.

PUBLIC EXPENDITURES.
The Minister compared the grand total expenditures or disbursements of the last year of the Conservative Government, 1921-1922, which, he said, amounted to $461,000,000, with the totals for 1924-25, when they amounted to only $350,000,000, a decrease of $111,000,000 in the three periods, or a per capita reduction of nearly $13. The controllable expenditures of the Government for the current fiscal year would be $3,000,000 less than they were for the year ending March 31, 1925, he said.

SAYS TAXES WILL BE LESS.
It was to the credit of the Mackenzie King Government that there was a stern resolve to be economical and following out this policy about 4,500 persons in the civil service were dispensed with.
"It has been the aim and ambition of the Government to lighten as far as possible the burden of taxation resting upon those less able to pay, and carrying out this policy reducing expenditure wherever it is possible means that it will not be necessary to have so much revenue and as the taxes of the people are increased or decreased as the tariff rises or falls upon the goods that they use, they will be much less in the future than in the past," declared Dr. Foster.

FIRST IN DECADE, HE SAYS.
During the second year of the administration of the Hon. Mackenzie King, Canada was able to show a surplus for the first time in ten years, the speaker said.
"In 1923-24 this was increased so that there was a balance on the right side of the ledger of $35,000,000, which was promptly followed by a reduction in taxation or duties—which is the same thing—of $26,000,000, and yet even after this reduction in taxation, in 1924-25 the surplus of revenue over expenditure for Government services amounted to $4,516,000," said the Secretary of State.

Dr. Foster spoke of Maritime Rights as the right to a tariff that would reduce the cost of production and lower the cost of living; the greater use of Canadian railways for increasing of trade through ports of the Maritime Provinces; the right to import British goods under the British preference through Canadian ports and the right to build up trade in the markets of the world, utilizing the Maritime position on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and, best of all, Maritime Rights meant Maritime markets.

The speaker referred to the West India Treaty. The Maritime Provinces must find a foreign market for the lumber manufactured as the Upper Canadian provinces had practically unlimited forests to supply their own needs and the Prairies were supplied from the Pacific coast. This reason, according to Mr. Dunfield, of Nova Scotia, a prominent lumberman, was sufficient to persuade the lumbermen that they could not afford to support the Conservative policies that had failed to provide wider markets, but actually tended to restrict the sale of lumber produced in the province.

QUOTES NOTICE.
It was a mistake to think, said Dr. Foster, that all of the manufacturers of Canada were in favor of the high protection policy of Hon. Mr. Meighen and his Conservative supporters. "We have no desire to dictate to our employees how they shall vote in the coming election, but we want them to vote intelligently."
"The increase in the tariff will increase the cost of the materials used in our goods, and will compel us to raise our prices."
"This will restrict their sale, and so reduce either the number of employees or their hours of labor, or both."
"Increase in the tariff is increase in taxation, and is followed by increase in cost of goods, increase in cost of labor, and in lower demand for labor, and in lower demand for labor, and in lower demand for labor."
"If a high tariff will not bring prosperity in Ontario and Quebec how much less will it bring prosperity to the Maritime Provinces?" asked the speaker. "The artificial price created by the tariff will not benefit us while we have to sell the products of our natural resources in the world's markets, over which Mr. Meighen, fortunately, has no control. But to invite retaliation from our other trade countries by placing a higher tariff wall around Canada is very likely to curtail our trade and inflict tremendous damage upon other producing classes in this Canada of ours," said Dr. Foster.

The speaker appealed particularly to the voters to elect him and his colleague, Mr. Hayes, and predicted with great confidence that the next Government of Canada would be Liberal, even more Liberal than the present one. "I predict," said Dr. Foster, "in New Brunswick the Liberals will have more seats and more supporters than they gave to Mackenzie King in 1921. In spite of the fact that there have been adverse results in the provincial elections in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the same reasons and arguments are not advanced in this Federal contest and the people are voting from the federal rather than from the provincial point of view."
"The Conservatives are relying on the support that many of them received in the provincial contest to insure an equally favorable verdict on Oct. 29. I can tell my friends and assure them they will suffer the greatest disappointment when the votes are counted if they think that the people of the Maritime Provinces will be again stampeded to vote against lower taxation, freer trade and economical government."

F. L. Thompson presided at the meeting. Mr. Hayes and Dr. W. P. Broadbent gave addresses touching on various issues of the campaign.

If It Comes to a Showdown Between the Two, a Woman's Duty to Her Children is Greater Than to Her Husband—But It is Not Part of "Duty" to Sacrifice Her Husband or to Neglect Him.

A CORRESPONDENT asks: "Is a woman's duty greater to her husband or to her children?"

DOROTHY DIX

I think that a woman's duty is incomparably greater to her children than it is to her husband. Her husband is the man with whom she entered into the marital partnership, and her duties to him are specific and well defined, and dependent, more or less, on his conduct and how he fulfills his part of the bargain with her.

UNDER certain conditions, it seems to me that her moral obligations are wiped out. It is certainly not part of a wife's duty to love and honor an unfaithful husband, or to work and make a comfortable home for a drunkard who defiles her roof with his debauches. If a woman still continues to give affection to the man who has been disloyal to her and to cherish the one she has to fish out of the gutter, it is of her grace, and not because he has any right to expect or demand it of her.

In a word, when a husband fails in his duty to his wife, by that same token he cancels her obligation to him; but no matter what a woman's children do, her duty to them never ends because her responsibility never ceases. She brought them without their volition into the world. She not only thrust life upon them, but she shaped their lives. She gave them their heredity because she picked out their father for them as well as sending her own blood through their veins. She made their environment. It was her influence that was predominant in their formative years. Therefore a mother's first duty is to care for these hostages she has given to fortune. It outranks all other obligations, and when the good of the children demand it she should not only sacrifice her husband to them, but herself.

I SEE no reason why a childless woman should endure the martyrdom of a marriage that is a hell on earth, nor why it is her duty to put up with insult and abuse from a brutal husband who abuses her. But if a woman has children and has no way to provide for them, I think that it is her duty to endure any misery that may be her portion in marriage in order to secure for her children the food, the clothes, the education, the start in the world that their father can give them.

I think, however, that most women overdo their duty to their children, and underdo their duty to their husbands. They sacrifice their husbands needlessly and carelessly to their children, which is one of the main reasons why, in the end, so many husbands default on their marriage obligations.

IT GENERALLY begins with the first baby, when a young woman is so anxious to be a good mother, that she forgets that she has any obligation to be a good wife. Before the arrival of the little stranger who is to be her husband's fatal rival she has spent her time catering to her husband. She has doted herself up so that she may look good to him. She has spent her evenings amusing and entertaining him, and going about with him. She has been lover and comrade.

But with the advent of the baby only too often all this is changed. She sets herself get shabby and sloppy because baby pulls at her clothes and snuggles her hair. She has no interest in anything but the baby, no conversation about anything but baby. Wild hours couldn't drag her away from the cradle, and she is frankly relieved when husband goes out by himself on an evening and leaves her to perform her rites of infant worship in peace.

Now, these cases, and they are plentiful, of the sacrifice of the father to the child are unnecessary. It does a child no good for a mother sit and watch it sleep, while her whole happiness and the ultimate welfare of the child depends upon her watching her husband and seeing that he does not stray away from his own fireside band and seeing that the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him. In search of the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him. In search of the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him. In search of the society his wife is too much absorbed to give him.

FURTHERMORE, this process of making father a goat for the children does not end with the cradle. It continues. Women justify themselves by shutting up their houses and going away for two or three months at a time in the summer and leaving their husbands alone in the city by saying that they do it for the children. The children must have country air and coolness and room to play in, and so mothers, calmly hugging this alibi to their breasts, go forth to summer hotels with their offspring and then feel themselves grievously ill-used because their husbands finally rebel at being sacrificed to the children and console themselves after the fashion of summer widowers.

And there are other mothers who enslave their husbands for their children and who literally work their husbands to death to give their children fine clothes, fine cars and a thousand frills that they cannot afford. We all know households in which the husband is the shabbiest member of the family, a person pushed about from place to place, his happiness and pleasure never considered; nothing but a bill payer.

If it comes to a showdown between the two, a woman's duty to her children is greater than it is to her husband, but it is not her duty to sacrifice her husband needlessly to her children. Generally speaking, the better she does her duty to her husband the better she does it to her children. For in that way she keeps her home together, as she does not do when she is so absorbed in her children that she forgets she has a husband at all and leaves him either to grovel over being neglected, or to be stolen by some other woman.

Woman Faces United Church Ordination

Is Lydia Gruchy, Pastor At Kamsack, Who Has Been Working Among Doukhobor Settlements; Invited By Presbytery To Determine If She Can Take Oath of Ministry

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 21.—After spending the last two years doing sterling work among the Doukhobor settlements at Kamsack, Miss Lydia Gruchy is now in Regina attending the United church conference and may be ordained as the first woman to be admitted to the ministry of the United Church of Canada. Miss Gruchy is pastor of Verigin United church at Kamsack, whence she comes at the bidding of the Presbytery to determine if she can take the oath of ministry. She is a frail young woman and has an inborn love for educating poorer classes of people. Her sister in India is doing missionary work there. She had a brother who died at the war after studying for the ministry. This so impressed Miss Gruchy that she decided to carry on the work he had planned to enter and has since devoted her time to this end.

"I was greatly Distressed With Pains in the Back"

Mr. Alfred McNeill, Chapel Rock, Alta., writes:

"During the winter of 1920-21, I was greatly distressed with pains in my back and felt tired and depressed most of the time. Particularly during the night I was troubled with frequent urination, some nights having to rise almost every hour. I tried several different treatments without success, until finally I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they relieved my condition before I had finished the first box. I am feeling better this summer than I have for years, and although in my 67th year, can work all day without any undue fatigue."

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

THE costume—that is, a frock and coat to match—may be said to be at the height of fashion for fall.

Because of this, the early fall street dress which simulates a costume is decidedly smart to wear when the weather is still cool enough to permit of a frock with a coat.

The dress above is an exceedingly smart one of the "type" mentioned. Ofset green wool crepe is the material used, and the embroidery is done in various fall colors.

AUTUMN SONG

A correspondent sends us an oddity rhymed poem on autumn. It is pretty long drawn out and we can give space only to the conclusion, which runs as follows:

The golden rod is blasing in beauty quite amazing; the hollyhock and four o'clock the poet's fondly praisings. And so dear old October, with shining, twining tresses, the forest's blithe derober, her fancies thus express: Oh, the chestnut is the best nut that upon the ground we see! soon the squirrel through the burr'll send his grinders fancy free. Oh, the woodpile is a good pile in the farm; it's bank of joy, and the deer paints a wider grin upon the country boy.—Boston Transcript.

Director's First Work Is Film Costing $900,000

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL

JUNE MATHIS, one of two women in Hollywood reputed to be "the highest paid scenario writer in the world," has finished her biggest picture since adapting Ibsen's "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" for the screen. It is "The Viennese Medley," directed for First National Pictures by Curt Reifeld, under the supervision of Miss Mathis. This is a picture which has caused much comment.

Nearly a year in the making and costing $900,000, it had for its maker a director who never before had directed a picture. For four years Reifeld was assistant director to Rex Ingram. On the strength of this association, plus the fact that she believed the German youth had "the goods," Miss Mathis chose him to direct her big special for the year.

"Not only was my discernment for a director criticized but even my selection of a cast brought up a storm of disapproval," Miss Mathis said. "My choice of a player to portray the role of Tante Idee caused heated arguments. Lucie Beaumont isn't big enough for the part, cried my critics. But when they see her work on the screen I know they will admit that they have been greatly in error."

"The cast is one of the largest ever selected. There are 29 principal players, among them Anna Q. Nilsson, May Allison, Conway Teslie, Jean Hersholt, John Sainpolis, Nigel de Bruiler and others. In one scene alone we used 1,000 players—extras. I have done my best to make this the biggest picture I have ever produced."

Little Editorials

MUSSOLINI

THE daring Mussolini has cast to the winds another cardinal principle of democratic government. Local councils in all towns under 5,000 will be replaced with a commissioner appointed by royal decree—which in Italy means Mussolini's decree. Mussolini's aim seems to be to build up a strong centralized government, which will supervise even the police powers in all towns. Early in the history of the American republic, Thomas Jefferson fought with all his power against such an idea. It seems to penetrate through every generation. Ofset nut is the material used, and the embroidery is done in various fall colors.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and get the best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use honey or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membrane, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Use the Gun Less And Yell More Abolition of Revolver Best Way to Stop Illegal Killings.

By CHESTER H. ROWELL. IT IS never the burglar that is shot. A young woman had the foolish notion of "surprising" her aunt by slipping in through the window on an unexpected visit. So her uncle, who was a constable and therefore armed, shot her dead, as a supposed burglar. Even if it had been a burglar, the householder could have frightened him away by one loud yell, and, being an officer of the law, he would have been at least as likely to make a successful arrest without the "gun" as to shoot the right person with it.

A LODI, Cal., woman found a burglar in the house. Seizing the nearest weapon, which happened to be a feather pillow, she swatted him over the head with it. Naturally he was not hurt, but he fled precipitately. The most harmless implement of combat in existence was enough.

If she had had a gun and attempted to use it, the burglar would have used his first, and she would have been dead.

The best weapon against an armed burglar is a soft pillow or a loud shriek. And the most formidable watchdog is a brainless and cowardly terrier.

CRIMINALS are arrested in other countries by unarmed officers, and the people of countries where revolvers are unknown in the hands of the law-abiding are safer from robbers and burglars than we have ever been. Abolish the "gun" in everybody's hands, including the policeman's. Then, if the criminal has one by bootlegging processes, hold him conclusively guilty of assault to commit murder, regardless of what his other crime was. The pocket "gun" does no good to anybody. Whoever needs a firearm, whether soldier, policeman, or private citizen, needs a rifle.

THE LAST FRONTIER Government Spends Large Sum Rescuing Fish

By DAVID DIETZ

RESCUING fish is now one of the regular activities of the government of the United States. The work is carried on by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and also by a number of individual state agencies.

Millions of fish are saved each year as a result of these agencies. In many places the upper Mississippi River flows through a wide valley, averaging from three to five miles in width. At times of high water, a large part of this valley is flooded.

When the water recedes, many small ponds and pools are formed, which began to dry up slowly. The fish in these pools would soon die. Accordingly, the Bureau of Fisheries sends agents to rescue them. The fish are removed from these pools and returned to the Mississippi River or else are carried to other localities and used to restock streams and rivers which have become depleted.

THE END OF THE RACE.

"My, oh my! I'm so excited!" said Mrs. Bunny to Mrs. Cottontail. "I wonder who is going to win this race."

"I shouldn't be surprised if Ben Bunny, your husband, won it," said Mrs. Cottontail comfortably. "He was ahead a little while ago."

"I know," said Mrs. Bunny. "But they have only gone around the pond three times and they have to go six. There is so much dust I can't see a thing."

"I wonder where that little Muskrat boy is," laughed Mrs. Cottontail. "I suppose that is he away back at the tail end, with his funny home-made car. I wonder why he ever got into this race anyhow."

"Oh, look! Look!" screamed Mrs. Bunny. "There goes Mister Coon's yellow racer through the fence. Oh, dear! I hope he isn't hurt."

"No, he's climbing out," said Mrs. Cottontail. "He's all right but there is something the matter with his car. I think it looks kind of smashed in front."

"Well," sighed Mrs. Bunny. "Just so long as he isn't hurt I don't care. Ben will surely win the race now. I certainly hope that Muskrat boy doesn't come to harm with his rattle-trap old car."

The dust had cleared away for a minute with a puff of wind and the rabbit ladies could see much better. "Well, I declare!" said Mrs. Cottontail in an astonished voice. "Rattle-trap nothing! That Muskrat boy isn't at the end at all. He's half way up to the head car!"

"What's Ben?" cried Mrs. Bunny. "Oh, there he is. Who's that ahead of him? I do believe it's that fat Woodchuck person. He knows very well that his wife doesn't allow him to drive fast. Oh, dear! I know! There he goes!"

Sure enough! Mister Woodchuck's car gave a lurch and a bump! And splash! It landed right in the pond, and if Mosey Mud Turtle hadn't been right there watching the race from a log, Mister Woodchuck might have been drowned.

But Mosey swam over and saved him. However, that was the end of the race for him.

"They're going around the pond for the fourth time," said Mrs. Bunny.

THE Bureau of Fisheries stresses the necessity of regarding from a viewpoint somewhat similar to that of agriculture rather than the more prevalent viewpoint which is that of mining.

That is, we too frequently regard our rivers and streams as we do our mines. There is so much ore in a mine and our business is to dig it out. Similarly, we think here is a river full of fish, let's get them out. The bureau, however, points out that such a viewpoint results only in the depletion of the stream or lake as we would a farm, only here the product grown is fish. We must devote as much energy to the problem of insuring a fish supply as the farmer does to insuring a corn supply.

THE END OF THE RACE.

"Just two more times left. Hurry up, Ben," she called as loudly as she could, and waving her ears wildly to attract her husband's attention. "Hurry up!"

"Something blew up," said Mrs. Cottontail. "There! Mister Porcupine is slowing down. He's had a puncture. Now he's out, too!"

"Ben's ahead! Ben's ahead!" screamed Mrs. Bunny jumping up and down in her excitement, and waving her ears and arms and entirely forgetting that she was a dignified lady bringing up a family.

"Oh, look at that Muskrat boy!" shouted Mrs. Cottontail loudly so as to be heard above the racket. "Someone should put him in his place. He is ahead of everybody but your husband, Bessom. I shouldn't let him win. He will ruin everything. The idea of allowing a old junk heap like that in the race. There! Will you please look at that! They are over! Exactly even, and only one more time around the pond to finish the race!"

"Indeed, I shan't have it," declared Mrs. Bunny crossly. "I'll have Ben run out right now. Ben! Ben! Bunny, come right here. I want you. There! Will you please look at that! They are over! Exactly even, and only one more time around the pond to finish the race!"

"Indeed, I shan't have it," declared Mrs. Bunny crossly. "I'll have Ben run out right now. Ben! Ben! Bunny, come right here. I want you. There! Will you please look at that! They are over! Exactly even, and only one more time around the pond to finish the race!"

One lap around the pond—half a lap, a quarter, ten feet! The race was over and Markie Muskrat had won it. "Hurrah!" cried everybody. "Markie gets the prize."

All but Mrs. Bunny. "Won't I give Ben a piece of my mind for not listening?" she said.

Clear The Pores Of Impurities With Cuticura Soap. Soap, Ointment, Talcum sold everywhere. Eyes Strengthened 50% by Proper Eye Care, Says Doctor. Suggests Simple Home Treatment Which Quickly Relieves All Irritation and Sharpens Vision. No longer is there any excuse for most of our eye troubles, for specialists have perfected a simple but amazingly effective treatment which not only quickly relieves burning, itching, smarting, sore eyes, but also banishes eye headaches, eye-strain and blurred vision. This new treatment is called the Bon-Opto system, and is now being prescribed by physicians and specialists everywhere. It is based on the latest scientific discoveries. Scientists have recently proved that 30 per cent of all eye troubles are due to weakness in certain little muscles which adjust the eye. Eyeglasses alone will not strengthen these muscles, but the Bon-Opto treatment seeps through directly to them, heats and tones them, and soon restores them—and therefore the eyes—to their old-time strength and vigor. Don't neglect your eyes. The discomfort felt after an automobile ride, a movie, or any close work, are important danger signals. Yet every irritation and ache can be almost instantly banished by a Bon-Opto eye-bath, and more serious trouble prevented. Bon-Opto should be in every home. Your eyes should be in every home.

Advocates Protection Policy and Use of Canadian Ports

SAYS SECTIONAL TARIFF FOOLISH

Candidates and Others Address Electors—Women Hold Meeting.

Classing as foolish the suggestion brought forward in Nova Scotia for a sectional tariff policy and declaring that it would serve to widen the breach between the parts of the country as well as to put heavier burdens on the parts unable to carry them...

DR. BAXTER SPEAKS

Hon. Dr. Baxter prefaced his remarks by saying that it was like old times to be addressing a West Side meeting. If it had not been for the recent disaster he would have liked to be with them in the old city hall...

ON NOVA SCOTIA IDEA

He said he saw that a group in Nova Scotia was advocating a graduated tariff to give free trade to the Maritimes and to the Prairie Provinces, protection to Ontario and Quebec, and whatever was decided to British Columbia.

As a Maritimer he believed that the British Empire would be stronger with Canada a united nation. He thought the policy of the Meighen party was one that would be fair to all parts and would strengthen the whole and he was supporting it for that reason.

RAPS KING POLICY

He described the King policy as a "variable animal at best" with fur of one color for the north and of others for the south, east and west. Mr. King had said he would support Maritime Rights if he knew what they were. So he would favor anything else that would get him votes.

Didn't Mr. King yet know what were Maritime Rights? he asked. Did he not know that the rest of Canada was propping while we were growing withered? Confederation called, the speaker declared, for a mutual working for the good of all and not for the sacrifice of any one part.

fall more heavily on the rest of the Dominion. These provinces had rural sections but also had industries to a greater extent than the other sections. The more money they paid to labor, the greater would be the home market for farm produce and the more railway traffic there would be. This in turn would increase the demand for manufactures.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

If such a scheme as suggested were followed the market for manufactures of these provinces would be cut about one-third. They would be unable to make as much and, therefore, unable to pay as much in taxes. Someone must make up the difference and the load would fall on the rest of the Dominion.

The United States might not be universally prosperous, he said, but it was prosperous enough to attract $300,000,000. The only way in which to get them back was to offer them employment here.

TRADE BALANCE

He referred to a recent article in the Saint John Globe saying that the people should be thankful for the increase in the trade balance of from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000. If we could sell more than we bought, why not increase it, he asked.

He would like to point out that the balance was only the value of the wheat exported. This was not all we sold by any means. Was the wheat crop all that the Government wanted to ensure the same living conditions?

SAYS PROTECTION NEEDED

He did not want to see the working man of Canada living under these conditions nor even under the conditions prevailing in Britain today, where the dole was being given to help the unemployed. He would like to see the British workman prosperous, but remembered that he was making shoes, with the help of the dole, cheaply enough to sell in Canada in competition with the Canadian shoes.

policy that would carry out the promise often made but never kept. He wanted to see every possible pound of Canadian goods shipped through Canadian ports, which would mean through Saint John and Halifax in the winter.

They need not worry about Courtney Bay, he said. In the election of 1911 the Liberal party had held out a wonderful prospect for this development, and when the Conservative party was returned, it had done all the development that was done there. They would not be likely to fall to carry on this work.

SAYS $3,000,000 NEEDED

Two years ago there had been an amount put on the estimates for the completion of the Negro Point breakwater, but it had never been spent. Last year it had been dropped out. The expenditure of $3,000,000 in Courtney Bay was all right, but it would have to be $3,000,000 before anything would be accomplished. The matter of a terminal for the Canadian National Railways was important, but, to be any good here, the C. N. R. must bring business here. He would have been better satisfied if he had heard Sir Henry Thornton say to bring goods here.

WANTS RETURN

If the Maritimes shared the burdens of others they might well expect the others to help them, he asserted. He would be willing to see a tariff wall erected to aid Quebec and Ontario but in return wanted to see a vigorous

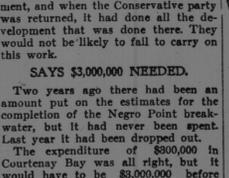

LINE TO PORTLAND

The country owned the line to Portland, and it was up to the Government to say whether it should rust or whether the line to Saint John should rust. The King administration had not shown any signs of activity. They were now offering to sell the lines. He warned his listeners that a private company would be an undesirable competitor and suggested that it would be better for the country if it kept control and stopped shipping through Portland.

It would be expensive to put the ports of the Maritimes in condition, he declared. He was ready to bear what burdens the tariff might cause, but demanded in return that the country give the east the facilities and insist on shipment through Canadian ports.

SAYS PEOPLE AROUSED

It was said that Mr. Meighen was pessimistic. Was there any cause for joy in the sight of the depression in the country, of the boys leaving home or of the natural resources being poured out, he demanded. He wondered if Dr. Foster had seen the large cargoes of pulpwood being shipped in the raw state to the United States to be manu-

But the Maritimes are awake. The people of these three provinces have seen the political hypocrisy of the King Government. For four years they have seen delegation after delegation to Ottawa greeted with insincere and meaningless promises.

Their votes are not to be captured now by the Political sops thrown out on the eve of election.

They can see that Mackenzie King has decided to cast the Maritimes adrift in his frantic attempt to win the support of the Progressives.

They know before hand that if their votes put King back in the saddle he will do nothing to help them attain their fair share of the profits of this Canadian Partnership because he has shackled his Government, and would shackle Canada with bonds forged by his despairing necessity to capture Progressive votes.

Premier King has done nothing that has benefited the Maritime Provinces in the four years he has held office.

Mr. Meighen, the Conservative leader, promises that when he is elected on October 29th he will institute a properly balanced economic arrangement whereby the Maritime Provinces will receive just compensation for bearing their share of Canada's burden.

The Liberals cannot be elected without a considerable measure of support from the Maritime Provinces. They will do nothing for the Maritime Provinces if elected.

the opportunity of the Maritime Provinces is to send to Ottawa a solid Maritime Conservative Bloc, which will elect Meighen and which will be strong enough to secure for the Maritimes their just Confederation rights.

The great number of donations received he considered the museum their own and wish it well.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HAVE HAPPY TIME

Semi-annual Meeting is Marked by Social and Good Programme.

The semi-annual meeting of the Saint John City Union of the King's Daughters, held last evening at the Guild, was a delightful social gathering, and attended by an exceptionally large number. Mrs. Edith Stevens, president, was in the chair and the address of the evening was given by Rev. James Dunlop, who spoke very beautifully on the theme "The Mystic Way." Those who assisted in the devotional exercises were Mrs. I. B. Murray and Mrs. J. E. Flieger. Mrs. George Moore was the vocal soloist and greatly pleased her audience. Her accompanist was Miss Dorothy Nice. Mrs. Stevens had been a delegate at the Dominion convention of the King's Daughters, and she gave a very interesting and comprehensive account of that important meeting.

REGRET EXPRESSED.

The members were busily engaged in sewing garments for needy children during the meeting. Regret was expressed at the absence through illness of three faithful members, Mrs. E. E. Thomas, Mrs. H. W. Robertson and Mrs. L. T. Lingley. There was also regret that Mrs. Ernest Waring was unable to attend because of illness in her home. The members were glad to greet Miss Catherine McCrae, one of the residents at the Guild, who has been a patient in the hospital. The "sweet and sour" shower usually held at the semi-annual meeting to stock the pantry shelves at the Guild was deferred until the spring. Those in charge last night were Mrs. W. H. Nice, Mrs. Hothey MacLaughlin, Mrs. B. E. Plumpton and Mrs. John LeLacheur. The members of the Door-Keepers Circle had charge of the serving of delicious refreshments, and the committee consisted of Mrs. Norman P. McLeod, Mrs. Frank Likely, Mrs. Percy Wilson, Mrs. John Willet and Mrs. A. L. Corbett.

GIVES ADDRESS ON PUBLIC SPEAKING

Rev. J. S. Bonnell Opens Course at St. Andrew's Young Men's Club.

The first address in the public speaking course which is to be a special feature of this year's program for the Young Men's Club of St. Andrew's kirk was given by Rev. J. S. Bonnell, honorary president of the club, at the meeting held last night. Lemuel Sewell, vice-president, was in the chair and about 40 members were present. The enrollment to date is 51 with new members added at each meeting. Harry Rossiter, secretary, read the by-laws and explained them for the new members. Mr. Sewell announced that the club had organized an orchestra which now has seven pieces and is composed of talented players. Mr. Bonnell spoke last night on "Preparing the Foundation" in public speaking. He first dealt with how to overcome timidity in speaking and the development of personality. His third theme was the use of the voice, its tone, and pitch and the way to develop resonance of tone. He spoke also of the technique of public speaking. Next week he will deal with the "Preparation of a Speech," illustrating his address from the words of classic orators. At the close of the meeting last night there were six very closely contested games of volleyball. The Club Volley Ball League will open on Nov. 8.

Business is Booming

for Those Who Keep Costs Low

If you travel much you meet many of them—men who say, "Business is good with us, and we're making more money than last year". And always they add, "Of course, we've increased the efficiency of our plant and cut costs to the bone". There lies the reason for the increased sales of Goodyear Belting. Plant owners and superintendents, searching for ways to reduce costs, have found an important one of these in the use of Goodyear Belting. Built with the experience which gained for Goodyear world leadership in tire sales, Goodyear Belts (1) last longer (and so cut costs), (2) operate without shut downs for repairs (and so cut costs), (3) save motors, bearings, shafting, pulleys (and so cut costs), (4) transmit more power or convey more product (and so cut costs). If you are interested in lower costs, lower prices on your product, more profit, ask the nearest Goodyear Dealer or Goodyear Branch about Goodyear Belting. PRUE ONE-BUTTON COMBINATION for MEN

By request of the Women of Canada

Ask any woman her opinion of "Knit-to-Fit" ladies' underwear and knitted garments. She will tell you that for the past quarter of a century "Knit-to-Fit" garments have been absolutely second to none for quality of materials, fit, finish and long wear. She will tell you that this is common knowledge to all Canadian women. It is really because of repeated requests from women in all parts of the Dominion, that we now offer the "Knit-to-Fit" combination for men—PRUE'S.

Three years ago, because of the requests of so many women, we decided to produce a "Knit-to-Fit" undergarment for men. We secured the patents for a new idea—a one-button combination. Then— After two years of experiment and change and improvement —by a stitch here, a seam there— We made a number of suits and gave them to 100 men to wear, to test, to criticize. That was a year ago—and in that year we put on the final touches and brought the garment to its present perfection.

TO-DAY, we offer PRUE'S—a new undergarment which means much to men. The one button—at the back, and easy to reach—is not a fad. It allows for complete protection of the Pneumonia Point—the chest is entirely covered, for the whole front of the garment is fully closed!

And think of the other advantages. No buttons to lose from the front, and the one at the back is there to stay. Think how easy to put this suit on and to take it off. What's more, PRUE'S fits like a glove—it is more comfortable than any suit you've ever worn. No binding, sagging, or chafing. It has self-closing vents that never gape or hang. Flat seams, double crocheted edgings, reinforced button-hole. And as for the quality of the materials, the name Knit-to-Fit is sufficient guarantee. You will recognize the advantages of PRUE'S at a glance. Just try one suit, and you will see for yourself what a tremendous step forward we have taken in Underwear History.

factured there for the benefit of American capital, American labor and American railways before being shipped back here for sale as paper at ten times the original cost.

Mr. Meighen said he would put on a tariff sufficient to protect the industries so that the natural resources of the country could be manufactured here and the money would remain in this country. Mr. Meighen would protect the manufacturer, the farmer, the working man and the country's natural resources. The speaker thought this was the key to all the problems.

The people had been aroused, he declared, and were talking, not politics but country.

CHARGES PROMISES UNKEPT.

The country had looked to the Conservative party in every great crisis that had arisen, he asserted, and had done so because its policy was the right one. The Liberal party had never held to its policy, he declared.

The Liberals had promised to reduce the tariff, to reduce the income tax and yet to increase the expenditures. He branded this as futile and illogical.

He closed by asking what had occurred of Mr. Hayes, saying that he had heard of nothing but Dr. Foster for several days. Dr. Foster was jubilant and he asked why, whether it was because of conditions or because he was a cabinet minister.

CANDIDATES SPEAK.

Thomas Bell spoke briefly. He contended that if the tariff policy were made stable it would do much to encourage industry, to keep the youth of the country at home and to reduce the railway deficits. He believed that much of the latter was caused by the closing down of factories.

Dr. MacLaren also spoke briefly. He dwelt for a short time on a few of the points in the Conservative policy, declaring that the election was an important one and that he and Dr. Baxter had seen evidence of nothing but incompetence and incapability while in the House.

He declared that the Conservative Party stood for a policy that would mean the manufacture of the Canadian raw material in Canada, with a consequent gain to the country; for the solution of the Maritime problem and for the advancement of a fiscal policy that would assist industry and stop the emigration of Canadian youth.

Lieut.-Col. Weyman said he thought the election should be run along fair lines. He had seen an advertisement of a mass meeting in the Pythian Castle on the previous night to discuss an alleged Conservative policy to bring in undesirable and establish soup kitchens. This had apparently been called with an idea to prejudice the working man.

There was nothing in the policy of the party that would point to such a course, he declared, and he had gone to the meeting to see what would be done. It had been attended by 51 when he went in and by 78 when he left.

TO ADDRESS WOMEN

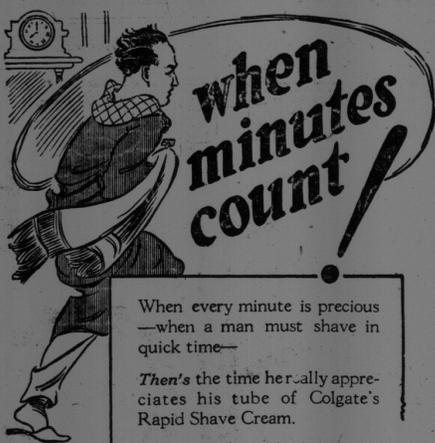

"Canada for Canadians is the policy of the Conservative party," was the statement made by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley during the course of his address at the Conservative meeting for women in the Seaman's Institute last evening. Addresses were also delivered by Dr. Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., and Thomas Bell, Conservative candidates for Saint John-Albert, and Col. W. H. Harrison, M.L.A. Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley occupied the chair.

Dr. MacLaren said that he was particularly pleased to see so many women taking an intense interest in the election. He felt that this campaign was an important one and that the country needs demanded a strong Conservative Government.

Thomas Bell paid a tribute to the women's organization in the provincial campaign and urged an even more strenuous effort be made right up to election day in this campaign.

COLONEL HARRISON.

Colonel Harrison declared that during the last year the Canadian National Railway had laid off more than 8,000 men, had carried eight and three-quarter millions of tons less freight and cut down wages. The

WARNS BAPTISTS

Speaker at Convention Says "Split" Threatens—Demand That Rumors be Silenced.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—A split in the Baptist Church threatens Rev. Dr. G. McGuire, Toronto, told the Ontario-Quebec convention of the church here. Rumors were going about Toronto and other centres which had endangered the unity of the denomination.

Dr. McGuire was supported in his remarks by Rev. H. E. Allen, Toronto, who said that such rumors had to be silenced. They sprang, he said, from reports that a professor at McMaster University had been untrue to the fundamentals of the Baptist faith. If these rumors were correct, he said, the facts ought to be laid before the convention for action. If they were not correct, the whole Baptist world should know it.

Radio and the automobile were cutting down rural church attendance, said Rev. O. E. Kendall. He also blamed the intellectual revolt, which had caused many Baptist ministers to adopt modernistic beliefs.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The members of St. Luke's Junior W. A. had a jolly Halloween party on Monday afternoon in the church rooms when about 80 children were present and the Junior superintendent, Mrs. H. Usher Miller, was assisted in taking charge by Mrs. Whitebone, Mrs. C. W. Morrison and Miss Frances Goddard. The children played appropriate games under the leadership of Miss Alberta Harriety and Miss Gladys Baxter and those who were successful in the contests were Leota Campbell and Sylvia Philbrick. Delicious refreshments were served with Miss Bertha Williams and Miss Dorothy Giegy as convener. Each of the Juniors brought to the party a number of pennies equal to the years of her age and the total amount is to be used for the Christmas work which the Juniors will undertake.

Hon. Mr. Tilley said that the women represented 13,000 voters in the constituency of Saint John-Albert. WORKING on the ice is a job for a warm-blooded man. And he needs wool next his skin—good thick, warm, pure wool, the kind of underwear that will retain bodily heat and keep out cold; that will absorb perspiration and evaporate moisture quickly.

There's all the difference in the world between pure, thick, soft wool and cotton or cotton mixtures. Ask mother—she knows.

Dods-Knit Underwear is what you want. Ask for Dods

Scotch Knit or Dods Elastic Knit. These are heavy garments 100% pure wool—the kind that mother chooses for outdoor workers.

Leading dealers throughout Canada carry a full stock of Dods Underwear—Men's and boys', women's and girls'. Look for the trade mark.

STRONG MAN LIFTED

Man Who Played With 1,000-Pound Weights, Beaten by Trifle.

WAS STRONG MAN.

Whitman was a professional strong man when Weber and Fields were tickling the country's sense of humor with their guttural mirth. He toured with their act as an added attraction of the show, and it was part of every night's work to toy with weights and dumbbells of 500 pounds or so.

SOMETHING SNAFS.

Five years ago Ajax retired and got a job as special policeman in the Irving Bank-Columbia Trust Company. It was an easy job. Sometimes they had to unload shipments of gold in brick or pig form, but that was mere usual work for him.

Find Seems Almost Too Good to be True, Declares Dr. Saunders.

Dr. Saunders, who addressed the Canadian Club here today, pointed out that the new wheat was said to be the result of hybridizing seven times the amount of good to be true, however," he continued. "I should say there is a mistake somewhere in the report."

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter from Mrs. Steele of Warrenburg Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land: Warrenburg, Mo.—"When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time, so she begged me to take it, which I did, and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went to keeping house by ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again, so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. PEARL M. STEELE, 203 Main Street, Warrenburg, Mo.

Ontario Woman's Interesting Case Mount Forest, Ontario—"I am proud today to think I have a fine big baby boy, as healthy as a trout, and I never felt better myself. Before I took your medicine I felt weak and miserable, and had pains all through me. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to get stronger and those pains all left me. I am glad I found out about this medicine. I think there is none other equal to it for women who have troubles of this kind. I cannot praise the Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. Whenever I know of a woman suffering I am glad to tell her of it."—Mrs. Wm. RODMAN, R. R. No. 1, Mount Forest, Ontario.

Many such letters prove the reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. LYNN, MASS.

U. N. B. AND MOUNT A. OPEN COLLEGE RUGBY SEASON TOMORROW

TROJAN TEAM PLAYS MONCTON THIS SATURDAY

Keen Interest Here In Outcome of Thursday's Struggle

GRADUATES and friends of the University of New Brunswick and Mount Allison residing in this district are manifesting keen interest in the outcome of the annual tussle between these two teams, opening the 1926 inter-collegiate rugby for the western section.

On Saturday of this week, Trojans go to Moncton for a game with the railway centre boys who annually manage to pull a pretty good squad together considering the many handicaps under which they labor.

"BLUENOSE WINS." That was the cry that echoed over the continent three years ago following the close of the international fishermen's race off the Nova Scotia coasts, sending a thrill of pride through Canadians that their representative beat the best that the United States Atlantic fishermen could produce.

THE MASCOT of the Washington Senators has been voted $500 by the team players. That boy will be able to buy several ice cream cones with that.

IN THE gory days of yore when John L. Sullivan was taking on all the boys at the circus and then darning the canvas with his lean, spars, frames, timekeepers were an oddity. To believe some of the sport writers, John L.'s entourage was composed of a tough crew, who chewed iron for breakfast and topped it off with a bucket of suds.

ON THURSDAY of this week, Mount Allison goes to U. N. B. for the opening game of the season. From reports here, U. N. B. is going to have plenty of excitement in swallowing the Sackville crowd.

HAVING crowded the dear men out of the barber shops onto the pavement and being granted the franchise, some narrow-minded souls expect that it is time the ladies call a halt. "Micker" Walker No Longer Has Dreaded Reputation

"You go and bet all the real estate in Florida that it will take Dave Shade just as long to get another fight with Micky Walker as it did to get the first one—if he ever does get another one," an intimate friend of Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, said a few days ago.

It took Shade two years to get into the ring with Walker and required the maximum of official pressure from the New York Boxing Commission to defend his welterweight title against the California challenger and it does not require information from such a reliable source to predict that Shade never will get a return bout.

Several reliable fans, who were sitting in the front row near Shade's corner, said they heard Flynn tell Shade before the bell for the fifteenth round to go out and play safe and take no chances.

Frank Moody In Semi-Final For Johnson-Wills

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The National Sportsmen's Club of Newark, which is to stage a 12-round battle next Monday evening between Harry Wills and Floyd Johnson, announced yesterday that Frank Moody had definitely been signed to box Homer Robinson, negro middleweight of Harlem, in the semi-final of the Wills-Johnson affair.

Charley Cook, manager of Johnson, is said to be very resentful over certain insinuations that have been made by some of the hard-boiled fans in connection with next Monday evening's battle. Some of the more skeptical of the skeptics have even gone so far as to hint that Floyd is going to "take a dive" for the Black Panther.

OFF TO THURSDAY

The management of the New Broadway Arena, in Brooklyn, yesterday confirmed the report that Vic McLaughlin, sparring partner of Jimmy Slattery, had been substituted for Frank Moody as the opponent of Lew Chester in the semi-final event on that club's opening program.

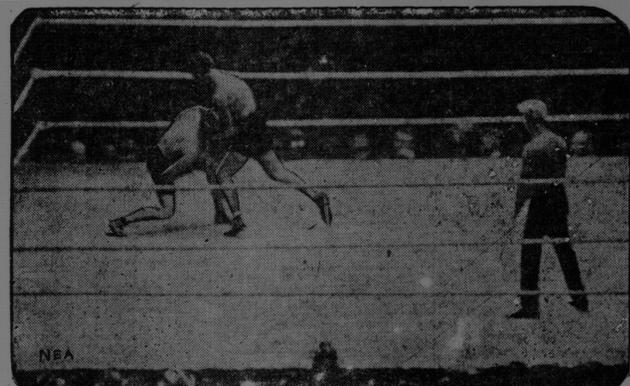

It was learned last night from a most reliable source that Jess McMahon, who has been matchmaker and general manager of the Commonwealth Sporting Club in Harlem for several years, is to become matchmaker of the new Garden some time this week. The official announcement will be made by Tex Rickard on Thursday or Friday.

McMahon will succeed Frank Flodner, who has been making matches for Tex Rickard almost from the time that professional boxing was revived here under the present Walker law.

litz, the Philadelphia, who was stopped by Jack Zivic, the former Olympic star. Zivic's recent successes call to mind that former Olympic champion as becoming very prominent in the professional class. Zivic was an Olympic champion in 1920 at Antwerp and he is becoming one of the outstanding young boxers in the ring.

The closing year was a tough one on veteran boxers who had boasted records of never having been knocked down. Gene Tunney broke the string of two of them when he stopped Tom Gibbons and knocked out Bertley Madden. Jeff Smith was knocked out for the first time and so was Joe Tipp-

The Round That Won

This bit of action was snapped in the fifteenth and final round of Mickey Walker's fight with Dave Shade at the Yankee Stadium in New York recently. It shows the champion beating Shade (left) almost to the floor. Many at the ringside believed the decision would go to Shade because he had battered Walker all over the ring in the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth rounds, but Walker made a whirlwind finish and received the decision.

New York City Mr. Victor Stein writes: "I never realized why I went around with a doped, dizzy feeling most of the time. My head would swim and hurt, my stomach easily became upset and food had no appeal. My whole body felt wrong. All this must have been due to the poisons of constipation, getting into my system, for after taking your Carter's Little Liver Pills for a while, all these troubles have disappeared."

MEN WILL KNOW HERE PURCHASE BIG LAND TRACT

H. A. Richardson and H. Beverley Robinson Buy at Augusta

SECURE 348 ACRES AT $170,000 PRICE

Both Speak Highly of Place and Possibilities for Progress There.

A big real estate purchase in Augusta, Florida, just announced, is of special interest to Saint John people because of the names of the buyers and their connection with this city. It is one of the largest of real estate transactions by outside capital in Augusta. The purchasers are Harold A. Richardson of New York, who is a brother of Mrs. L. F. D. Tilley, of Saint John, and Beverley Robinson, president of the H. B. Robinson Co. Ltd., investment bankers of Montreal. Mr. Robinson is a son of the late J. Morris Robinson of Saint John and brother of John M. Robinson. The property they have bought is the Downing tract of 348 acres on the Washington road at Augusta and the purchase price was $170,000.

The Augusta Chronicle describes the property as being about three miles from Augusta and containing one of the most desirable pieces of property in that section. The paper says the buyers represent Canadian capitalists.

In an interview with Messrs. Richardson and Robinson they said that they purchased the property with the idea of attracting Canadian visitors there, and they believed that the site would in the next few years be populated with handsome homes of winter visitors from Canada.

In speaking of the site both purchasers agreed that the land was purchased at a very normal price and predicted that before the winter season the land in and around Augusta would be tripled in value.

PLANS TO BUILD. This was Mr. Robinson's first visit to Augusta and he said that he was amazed to find such a delightful country and city as Augusta. Mr. Robinson said it was his intention to erect a winter home there in the near future.

PRAISES FARM LANDS. Both of the gentlemen, well versed in farming lands, spoke of the wonderful possibilities there for the western farmer.

Mr. Richardson has been a prominent winter visitor to Augusta and has been identified with winter movements for the advancement of the city. He announced that he would return to Augusta in a few days with his family. His son, Banning, it will be remembered, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near St. Andrews and was for some time in the Chpman Memorial Hospital in St. Stephen.

From there he was removed to hospital in Montreal when sufficient progress towards recovery had been made.

SAINT JOHN GIRL IS BRIDE IN BOSTON

Miss Eleanor Mullin and Arthur L. Hanrahan Wed at St. Cecilia's.

A wedding of much interest to people in Saint John took place in St. Cecilia's church, Boston, on last Saturday, Oct. 10, when Miss Eleanor Mullin of Boston, formerly of Saint John, became the bride in Arthur L. Hanrahan of the Harvard Medical School. Rev. Father Fletcher officiated at the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large circle of friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Mullin, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harrison Martin, of Arlington, who later tendered the young couple a reception at her home. The bride was attired in sand colored satin with hat to match. She wore a large silver fox fur, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of sweet roses and maidenhair fern. Mrs. Martin wore a gown of pearly satin with hat and slippers to match and carried a bouquet of roses. The groom was supported by Frank Stanton, a college classmate. Prior to a wedding trip to Washington, the bridal party was entertained at dinner by Miss Mary Mullin, aunt of the bride, at her cottage at Lake Waspaog, Sharon, Mass. The many presents received amply testified to the popularity of bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Hanrahan are residing at 260 Newbury street, Boston. The bride is a niece of Frank J. Brogan of West Saint John.

You kin go into a cigar store or a drug store—you kin buy hot peanuts at the street corner—an' you kin walk round an' see the crowd. THEATRE EMPLOYEES HAVE HAPPY TIME

Association Dinner is Held at Admiral Beatty—Owen Coll is Honored.

Local 404 of the International Association of Theatre and Stage Employees, of which James E. Whitebone is president, held its annual reunion dinner in the private suite of the Admiral Beatty Hotel last night, commencing at 11 o'clock, after theatres were closed. It was attended by the full roster of members and a considerable party of guests.

SPECIAL GUESTS.

The specially bidden ones included Forest Cummings, stage director of the Carroll Players; Owen Coll, H. Russell Webster and Mr. Townshend, of the same organization; President Garfield Stevens, of the Saint John Local American Federation of Musicians; secretary W. C. Bowden, of that body; F. McMullin, representing the Trades and Labor Council; W. H. Gidding, T. J. O'Rourke, M. C. Ewing, Fred K. McKibben, and others. President Whitebone was toastmaster, and the toasts were The King, Our Guild, Our Employers, The Actors, Equity Association, and The Ladies. The menu was a most appetizing one, served under the direction of Signor Pisoni. The menu card was a unique conceit of the printer's art, containing an original place card bearing a pen and ink sketch of each recipient playing at his favorite pastime. This was the work of Scenic Artist Schmitter, of the Carroll Players. A little tab that closed the card was labelled "Behind the scenes" and this had to be unfastened before the menu could be reached. Toy favors and funny hats accompanied the card.

OWEN COLL HONORED.

President Whitebone welcomed the party in a very hearty manner, and the speakers included: Owen Coll, who was presented with an honorary membership in the I. A. T. S. E. for his good-will and co-operation with the stage workers at the Opera House; Mr. Cummings, Messrs. Gidding, Stevens, Bowden, Enos and others. Musical numbers were interspersed. Very pleasant three hours spent under the richly laid and prettily decorated tables.

VALUABLE DOGS ARE BELIEVED STOLEN

One Champion Among Number Reported Missing in Last Few Days.

There seems to be an epidemic of thefts of hunting dogs in the last week or 10 days. Reports this morning indicate that within the last few days no fewer than six pointers, setters and cocker spaniels have been missed by their owners and advertisements have appeared in the "lost" columns of The Times-Star on the occasions of the well-bred and well-known Champion Sir Namsig, a cocker spaniel owned by L. McC. Ritchie, which has achieved a record of 100 birds in Saint John but also in kennel shows in other cities in Canada and has won its championship several times over. The dog was missed from its owner's possession in Millidgeville about a week ago and nothing has been heard of it since. It was reported today that the day previous to its departure a man in a small car made a futile attempt to carry off another spaniel in the vicinity of Millidgeville.

ARE WRITING EXAMS FOR CIVIL SERVICE

Applicants For Positions and Promotion Take Papers Here.

Dominion civil service examinations were begun in Saint John yesterday and are being continued today, under the supervision of M. D. Sweeney. They are being written in King George school building. Yesterday the classes examined were for positions as stenographers, typists and clerks. There were only three applicants, all young ladies. This is the smallest number on record.

Today examinations are being written by five postal clerks and by two customs examiners, for promotion, and by two applicants for positions as customs clerks. The examinations will be concluded tonight. They are held twice a year, in May and October.
