TOGETHER TO AVERT STRIKE

herhood Chiefs Summoned to Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Telegrams summoning the chiefs of the Big Four brotherhoods and the railway union to a conference with the U. S. railroad labor board...

The conference was called for two o'clock Thursday afternoon. No outline of what the conference would discuss was announced...

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Executive officials and general chairman of a dozen unions of railroad employes, representing 1,000,000 workers began arriving today for a conference with the U. S. railroad labor board...

A joint conference at the end of the week is in prospect. A spirited controversy over the attitude of the Big Five brotherhoods is indicated.

The train dispatchers have declared they will not go out at this time, the telegraphers and clerks announced their decision was still unformed and others have indicated the question was still open, although some of the unions, notably the shopmen and maintenance men, have authorized a strike...

Cleveland, Oct. 18.—A meeting of the "Big Five" transportation brotherhoods was cancelled this morning when the railroad labor board to meet with the board in Chicago on Thursday...

Speaking in the presence of a large number of the train employees, the brotherhood of railroad trainmen very reluctantly agreed to give service unless there is assurance that there will be no further wage reductions, nor any change in the present working rules that have been secured through many years of collective bargaining and which represent their remuneration for extra service given.

After discussing the wages of trainmen, in which the maintenance men were paid in 1919 with those received now, Mr. Lee said: "The men have been asked to accept what is an inadequate living wage. They know the railroads are taking unfair advantage of business depression to force them to accept unfair wages and service conditions. To state the matter briefly, they believe that the companies are going to continue their aggressive warfare against them until they force the men to strike. Therefore they must reluctantly decide to accept the challenge now."

Washington, Oct. 18.—President Harding was in a position to lay before his cabinet an announcement of the railroad strike situation, a line of the government's position in the controversy, and suggestions as to defensive measures to protect federal functions if and when the tie-up becomes actual.

In addition to a report submitted by the joint conference of the public group of the railroad labor board and the interstate commerce commission, President Harding was understood to have the gist of reports obtained by Attorney-General Dougherty and Postmaster Hays, after surveys of the situation by operatives in the department of justice and post office establishment.

That President Harding does not yet view the strike as having passed beyond the "post-bill" stage was one interpretation placed upon the announcement that he plans to leave Washington tonight for Yorktown and Williamsburg, where he will make addresses tomorrow.

Referendum Vote Stands; Gold Seal Loses Its Case

Supreme Court of Canada Dismisses Appeal and Upholds Constitutionality of the Act—No Statement Yet as to Appeal to Privy Council.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—New Brunswick's referendum on liquor importation will stand. The Supreme Court today upheld the constitutionality of the Canada Temperance Act, and dismissed the appeal of the Gold Seal Liquor Company from a judgment of the Supreme Court of Alberta. It is therefore held that the federal act under which various provincial referenda were held was not beyond the powers of the dominion parliament under the British North America Act, and therefore that the stopping of importation is not interfering with interprovincial trade.

Judge Idington dissented from the judgment on other points, holding that in the setting of the date of the referendum in Alberta every formality had not been complied with. No statement has been made as yet as to whether or not there will be an appeal to the Privy Council.

A Canadian Press despatch says the decision carries costs to be paid by the Dominion Express Co. The decision means that prohibition laws brought into force in six of the Canadian provinces under the Canada Temperance Act are held constitutional.

SUDDEN DEATH OF J. A. TILTON

St. John Man Passes Away in Toronto While on Business Mission.

He had been engaged in business for many years and was highly respected in the business community of the city. As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Homburg, "how do you see the present political situation?"

"I don't see it," said Hiram, "don't swap talk very often—not since the board of assessors to double my taxes on a lot here on the other side of the fence. He'd sell stuff in any old place, but he'd be tried to get on the other side of the fence. He'd be tried to get on the other side of the fence. He'd be tried to get on the other side of the fence."

CAR WRECKED, BLOOD ABOUT

Tag Removed from Auto Across Wire Fence on the Loch Lomond Road.

The sight of a car piled across a wire fence on the Loch Lomond road near Silver Falls, the machine and the ground surrounding it liberally bespattered with blood, made passersby this morning believe that something appalling had occurred there during the night.

The car had evidently been traveling at a fast rate for there were marks where it had left the roadway, struck the side of the ditch and had run for about fifty feet along the side of the ditch before it came to rest. The car was a Ford chassis on which had been mounted a motor and a steering wheel. The front axle was badly twisted, the fenders damaged and the motor smashed to atoms. The hospital reported this morning that nobody had been brought there who might have been concerned in the accident.

BARRED AT BORDER, HE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE, BUT AN INJURY PREVENTS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 18.—O. Lequellie, a Frenchman who gave his address as Toronto, attempted to commit suicide this morning after being refused admission to the United States by the immigration officials. London, Oct. 18.—King George yesterday sent a message of warm appreciation to President Harding on the tribute of the United States to Great Britain's unknown warrior. The message contained an announcement of the desire of the king to confer the Victoria Cross on the United States' unknown soldier on Armistice Day.

REORGANIZING ULSTER FORCES

Report About Volunteers is Verified.

London, Oct. 18.—Re-organization of the Ulster volunteer force has been decided upon, according to a Belfast despatch to the Press Association.

The decision was taken, it is said, because of inactivity of the British government towards Sinn Feiners who have established camps, Unionist quarters and are said to be drilling openly with rifles and machine guns.

Belfast, Oct. 18.—Reports that the Ulster volunteer force was being re-organized was verified in official quarters here today. It was said that Ulster service men were being enrolled. "Why shouldn't they be, when the Sinn Feiners are drilling in Belfast," was the comment in official quarters.

Col. Spender, who formerly commanded the Ulster volunteers, resigned his command on assuming the secretariatship of the Ulster cabinet, but the view was expressed that the offering of the force would present no trouble. The plan indicated is to place the men under officers living in the same locality as the rank and file, these officers to be responsible for their men to the central authority. It was explained, would be adopted to facilitate the quick assembly of the forces.

The Confederates. London, Oct. 18.—The conference between Sinn Fein leaders and representatives of the British government will, it is expected, in Sinn Fein quarters, be postponed until Thursday. Interruption after yesterday's meeting was due solely to the engagements of Lloyd George in connection with the reopening of the conference. Meanwhile, the committees of members will hold sessions for the advancement of the work.

Several Irish experts have been summoned to London to advise the Sinn Fein delegates and draw up reports on the condition of the conference. The chief assistant to Sir Horace Plunkett in the agricultural co-operative movement, he left this morning to attend the conference with Erskine Childers and Robert Barton, the national land bank for the employment of Irish money in Ireland. He is heir to a British baronetcy and his wife is the daughter of U. S. Senator Fletcher of Florida. The bank which he helped found was frequently raided by the crown forces in the days before the trace.

Belfast, Oct. 18.—The York street and North King street areas, the scenes of the worst rioting in the last few months, were included today in the order prohibiting the assembly of three or more persons.

WRANGLER'S WEALTH LOST WITH YACHT

Whole Personal Fortune, His Wife's Jewels and Important Documents.

Constantinople, Oct. 18.—General Baron Wrangel's entire personal fortune, his wife's jewels, valued at 40,000 francs, and important documents of the Cossack command were lost on Saturday when the yacht Lucullus, on which the head of the former anti-Bolshevik government resided, was sunk by the British steamer Adria. In addition, there were lost valuable mementoes, presents to Wrangel by the late Emperor Nicholas.

The accident was due to a swift current which caused the yacht to run aground. The Lucullus rests in seventy feet of water, and it is believed that it may be recovered part of the treasure.

As the child fell, sprawling in her safety, the truck struck the aged woman, ran over her and killed her instantly.

BIG HEALTH MEETING HERE

Hon. Dr. Roberts Presides in Toronto.

Canadian Association Wants Federal Health Portfolio—Milk Campaign Suggested—Gathering in St. John in Fall.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Public Health Association here yesterday, a resolution approving the idea of including the duties of any other portfolio with the duties of a minister of health for the dominion was adopted.

It was proposed to approach the various political parties immediately and urge that in the new government after the election, a ministry of health should be of the same independent character as in Great Britain.

Another resolution urged all health officers throughout the country to put on milk campaigns with the idea of increasing the consumption of milk and improving its quality.

The annual meeting to be held in St. John next fall was discussed and it was decided to urge the other Canadian health organizations which are national in scope, to meet at the same time and place.

In addition to the Hon. W. F. Roberts of St. John, president, who was in the chair, there were also present Dr. W. H. Hattie of Halifax, Dr. J. C. O. Hastings and Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Toronto, and others.

GEDDES RESIGNS AS MINISTER OF TRANSPORTATION

Presides at Meeting Which Calls for Reduction of the British Army, Including Famous Guards.

London, Oct. 18.—Reduction of the size of the British army and a cutting down of the Household Cavalry by one-third is recommended in a report from a committee of business men appointed to examine the expenditures of the war office. The committee, however, urges that British troops be retained in Mesopotamia, says the Daily Sketch.

Sir Eric Geddes, who yesterday tendered his resignation as minister of transportation in the British cabinet, acted as chairman of the committee.

The Household Cavalry includes the Life Guards and Horse Guards, gorgeously uniformed horsemen who attend members of the royal family at state functions. It is asserted by the Sketch that the committee was surprised to find the number of men in the British army at present to be 10,000 in excess of the forces in 1914. It is said this condition may be ascribed to the formation of tank units, and the building up of the air force.

London, Oct. 18.—It is announced that the resignation of Sir Eric Geddes has no great political significance. It had been understood that he would give up his portfolio this autumn after having piloted the railway bill through parliament. It is expected that he will go back to commercial life. He still remains chairman of the economic committee which is advising the government in matters regarding retrenchment.

TRY, BUT FAIL, TO KILL SCHEIDEMAN. Berlin, Oct. 18.—Philipp Scheideman, former secretary of foreign affairs, was fired upon during a meeting of the German people's party in Lunderscheidt, Westphalia, last night. The bullets flew wild, and Herr Scheideman was unharmed. Five persons were arrested. Employees of printing offices and newspapers went on strike last night and the newspapers did not appear this morning.

SOME QUICK WORK IN STREET LAYING. Clifford Price, superintendent of the city public works department, has started in to establish a record for the laying of asphalt surface in Prince Edward street. When Commissioner Prink returned to city hall this morning after visiting the scene he expressed surprise at the amount of work that had been accomplished since the surfacing was started yesterday morning. Already the street has been completed from Haymarket square to Hanover street, and if the weather is favorable, the crew will be able without difficulty to complete the job before the cold weather makes handling of asphalt impossible.

TRUE BILL IN WOODSTOCK CASE. (Special to Times.) Woodstock, N. P., Oct. 18.—The grand jury this morning found a true bill against Oliver Davenport, Richard Britton and John Barrow, charged with the attempted murder of Wendell Sibley on the night of Sept. 27. The prisoners will be tried separately. They all pleaded not guilty. They will be put on trial this afternoon.

HOPES TO GET TO CONFERENCE

Statement in Commons by Lloyd George.

Sir Robert Borden's Name in List of British Empire Delegates—Manchester Guardian on Representation.

London, Oct. 18.—Lloyd George said in the house of commons today that he hoped to go to the Washington conference soon as the parliamentary and general situation rendered it possible.

The list of British empire delegates made public by the premier contained the name of Sir Robert Borden, representing Canada.

The Manchester Guardian.

London, Oct. 18.—(Canadian Press)—Discussing the question of the Washington conference at a Washington dinner, the Manchester Guardian notes how Britain and America have met the suggestion with a truly paternal benevolence, but states that certain implications which the step involves being realized in some measure would be a cause of concern.

Why should not that particular benefit be not by appointing Sir Robert Borden to represent us all, instead of wanting all the awkward questions that would follow upon sending a galaxy of Borden, Geddes and perhaps Smithey and Hughes to embarrass Washington? In the meantime at least, to pool one ambassador than multiply him. If Lord Robert Cecil can represent South Africa in the League of Nations, why not the Hon. N. W. Rowell, for instance, represent the whole commonwealth at Washington?

PARTICULAR CARE OF THE BACKWARD

Attention to Them in Toronto Schools.

Pupils Not Bright in Academic Studies Have Other Talents That May Be Developed—These Discovered and Cultivated.

(Toronto Globe).

The success of auxiliary or industrial training classes in the public schools of Toronto is evidenced in the organization of new classes this autumn.

Twelve surveys of the schools were made through the Province of Ontario during the past year, Dr. Sinclair, Inspector of Auxiliary Classes, told the Globe.

Queen Alexandra School, with its unique system of organization, which aims to give every pupil a chance according to mental ability, is an interesting example.

More Manual Training.

"Pupils who learn nothing in the regular classes are taken out and put into manual training."

auxiliary classes, where they are given individual attention and make progress." Principal J. Wallis told the Globe.

In this school pupils who show abnormal brightness are not retarded, but put into special classes, where they may be pushed ahead with individual tuition.

Special interest is being taken in the sub-normal classes marked ability in drawing. Special interest is being taken in the school by the University of Toronto, and progress noted by psychiatrists, who keep in close touch with the pupils.

Particularly happy are the boys and girls of the industrial class of the school, where the morning's academic work is followed by basket-making.

With the gift of understanding, which is pronounced in the efficiency of all auxiliary classes, they are being led, the teacher, has discovered a talent for imagination in one lad, and is striving to develop it by urging the boy to write stories and rhymes.

Royal Road auxiliary class is an example of an endeavor to develop latent talent lurking in each pupil. The lesson upon which are woven rugs and pillow cases are of special interest to the children. A child whose arms were crippled through infantile paralysis has been trained to sew on buttons by the children, by Miss Kingston, the teacher.

Clinton Street, Shirley Hester Howland, who is proving an expert with tools, has attracted attention to children who are backward in academic work. Gives street auxiliary class in woodwork, with a group of children, who are learning to master academic work, largely through mechanical methods.

York Street auxiliary class presents an interesting picture, with 16 boys, many of whom are from the tenement districts of the city. An astounding number of baskets have been woven, as well as several large bags for the teacher. Pupils proudly exhibit book rests with animals on either end carved by a boy who is proving an expert with tools, but who could not master simple exercises in arithmetic.

Some of whose splendid building is making an impression for good in a rather unlovely neighborhood, is training in the making of the furniture and the linen and weaving the rugs. The schoolroom has been made attractive and interesting by the children's own paper curtains hung at the windows.

Landdowne School, with its industrial class made up of children of foreign birth, emphasizing the teaching of sewing to the girls and carpentry to the boys, has been one of the most interesting to the pupils, and bookbinding is becoming a specialty. A Victoria, bought with the proceeds of a bazaar sale of the pupils' handiwork, furnishes the merry waltzes for exercises.

Roden Street School has 80 pupils in industrial classes. The boys have become expert in woodwork, and the girls have received instruction in housekeeping, bedmaking and table-setting.

Perth School, with its auxiliary classes, the ambulance class of particular interest. Boys and girls unable, because of lameness, weakness or other physical disability, to climb stairs or march are given special attention in academic and manual work in one class room. In Cameron, the teacher, has a special interest in the health of each pupil.

Care For Weaker Pupils.

Stretchers provide rest for the frail littler ones, and a lunch of milk and biscuits is served every morning. One eleven-year-old boy, who has been in school every day, and although he has never walked, misses no activity of the class. Promotion and subnormal classes are also established at Perth School.

Dress-making is a feature of industrial class of the Jessie Ketchum School. The girls not only have made dresses for themselves and aprons for their teacher, but have made clothes for the babies in their homes, and a dress for the little motherless sister of one of the boys in the class. Chair-canning is most successfully done by this class. A pleasing feature is the mastery of arithmetic by the children through the playing of the game of "war."

That happiness makes the subnormal pupil brighter, and quickens the wit, has been the experience of the teacher of Dovercourt Road auxiliary class. The exhibit of weaving, raffia-work, basketry and wood-carving in the recent school fair was the pride of the class. One boy who has never been able to master the multiplication table is proving a genius in weaving and carving.

Hand and Brain Work.

St. Clair Avenue auxiliary class, through special attention to the subnormal pupils, has had the satisfaction of seeing several promotions to other classes. One child who had no muscular control of the hands had become clever in knitting. It has been the experience of this class that, through hand and eye control, wrought by hand, there has been a slight brain development.

Strathcona industrial class presents sixteen varied types for the individual study of the teacher. Raffia-work, weaving and woodwork keep the children busy when wearied with academic work. Games play an important part of the programme of this class, and the teacher has discovered that intelligence has been quickened through guessing games.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION

Reports on Activities of the Year.

Some Figures of Accessions

Rev. H. E. Stillwell Tells of the Unrest in India and the Power of Gandhi.

(Special to The Times).

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 18.—The United Baptist convention opened this morning with devotional service led by Rev. E. Bosworth. Dr. Porter spoke of the hidden Christ. Dr. H. T. DeWolfe reported for the board of religious education. The report paid a tribute to the work of Field Secretary Machum.

District conventions have been held throughout the province. The secretary took part in six boys' and girls' conferences, visited many Sunday schools and carried on a large correspondence. Seventeen teacher training certificates were issued. There has been a large increase in study books, indicating a large increase in this phase of the work. Co-operation with the M. R. Council has proved successful. Sixty young people's societies have reported. The offerings from the 260 schools was $1,029.74. Y. P. societies contributed $6,400. Four thousand dollars was received from the forward movement.

The forward movement work for the present year was outlined. It is suggested that arrangements be made by which Secretary Machum may spend February and March in conducting classes in each province. The secretary of the co-operative work with the M. R. Council, Mr. J. A. Robertson, D. C. Co., and also A. W. Welman. A clearer understanding of the M. R. Council and its relation to the work was sought. On this matter there seemed much need for light. In this discussion, Mr. Robertson, D. C. Co., was opened and the streams of thought democracy felt loose.

Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, D. C. Co., reported for the committee on pastoral application. He reported that he had registered Messrs. W. R. Robinson, M. P. Freeman, T. E. Dykeman, R. J. Colpitta, E. A. Wall, by letter, and Messrs. J. A. Robertson, D. C. Co., Thomas, F. C. Hartley, A. Jeffries, N. McLean, added from outside the committee. Mr. DeWolfe reported that C. W. Robbins, ordained Rev. Messrs. L. B. Gray, C. B. Lumsden, C. E. Rocking, and Mr. H. T. DeWolfe, D. C. Co., were on the board of religious education.

Mr. DeWolfe reported for the board of religious education. He reported that he had visited the following churches: St. John's, N. S., and revivals have been shared on numerous fields. Pastors and field workers have labored in perfect harmony and fellowship. It had been hoped and earnestly desired to appoint a field worker for the N. B. field, but they are not merely sacrificing profits but are incurring big losses to encourage trade.

Meeting in Fredericton Next Month—Tree 'Phone Line for Free Protection.

(Special to The Times).

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 18.—Dr. W. S. Carter, Chief Superintendent of Education, is making progress in the preparation of the programme for a convention of school trustees to be held here in November. Premier Foster has agreed to address the convention and William Leach of Manitoba, who has had extensive experience in similar convention in the west, will attend and assist in organization.

Chief Justice McKeown, chairman of the John School Board, has been asked to be temporary chairman of the convention.

The Department of Lands and Mines of New Brunswick is announcing a completion of the construction of five miles of trunk telephone line from the end of the present N. B. Telephone Co. line above Red Bank, to the little southwest of Miramichi. This line connects with a thirty six mile trunk line extending to Holmes Lake on the head waters of the little southwest. Arrangements have been made with the owners of this trunk line for its use during the fire season.

This will make possible the establishment of a lookout station at Martin's Bluff at the head of the little southwest, from which a large area of crown timber lands is being surveyed. The line is the Sinclair Lumber Company having installed a telephone in its depot camp above Dennis.

IN WALL STREET. New York, Oct. 18.—(1030) The professional element in the stock market seemed to take a more hopeful view of the railroad labor situation today. This was indicated by the light dealings and narrow price changes at the opening of the session.

Some of the calls were lower, notably Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific 7 per cent preferred and Delaware and Hudson. Among equipments General Electric reacted moderately. The only feature of note was a recovery of one United in Royal Dutch. American Sugar was the only weak specialty, falling 1/4 point to 20 1/2, its lowest point in a number of years.

Non Report. New York, Oct. 18.—(Noon)—Ralls rallied briskly before noon on announcement that representatives of the railroad brotherhoods were to meet with the railroad labor board today. Light fall was indicated by the light dealings and narrow price changes at the opening of the session.

When Mr. Jones was saved from the frying pan

They talk yet of the change that came over Jones. Some said it was psychology. Some said it was a miracle. All said it was a mystery.

When they asked Jones, he said it was liberation from slavery—slavery to the frying pan, and to grease and starch.

Jones used to take his breakfast fried, and followed this with a heavy lunch.

In those days they said at the office: "Old Jones has a secret sorrow and he's sore on the world."

One day Jones started late—no time for the usual breakfast to be cooked.

Jones had a breakfast on Grape-Nuts with good cream. He was delighted with the crispness and rich flavor. Felt satisfied and "fed." Tried it again at lunch. Kept on breakfasting that way—often lunching, too.

A Danger Warning — Bleeding Gums
Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhoea.
This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.
In Pyorrhoea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen and fall out—as must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.
You can keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.
Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhoea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.
Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

RADIUM, EATEN, PROLONGS LIFE, SAYS DOCTOR
Chicago, Oct. 18.—Radium taken internally will prolong human life, according to Dr. E. Stillman Bailey of Chicago. In an address to the convention of the radiologists, he is one of the foremost authorities on the mysterious mineral. The renewed youth of the men working in the radium mines in Colorado was the subject of research. During the influenza epidemic, he said, these workers were immune. Aliments such as rheumatism, gout and neuritis were unknown. He attributed the excellent state of health of these men to drinking water charged with radium. "The rays caught in sugar of milk and made up into tablets, taken internally," he said, "seemed to work miracles. I have dispensed thousands of radium tablets in Chicago and their results, especially among old people are nothing short of marvelous. A veritable fountain of science stands revealed."

A NEIGHBORLY ACT

The Liberal party in the maritime provinces is indebted to Premier Meighen and the St. John Standard for placing before the people certain planks in the Liberal platform of 1919.

FAIR TO EVERYBODY

A committee of the Associated Charities met yesterday to consider the programme for the annual meeting next month. The matter is of public concern. It is desired to have at that meeting representatives of all churches and benevolent organizations and other persons interested in giving relief to the destitute.

LOYD GEORGE HAS DEFERRED SPEECH

Statement on Unemployment off Till Tomorrow.

British Parliament, Opening Today to Give Chief Attention to This Question—Likely to be Brief Session.

(Canadian Press Cable) London, Oct. 18.—Parliament opened today for its autumn session, but interest in today's session was diminished by the announcement that Premier Lloyd George had deferred till Wednesday his important statement relative to unemployment. This came as a surprise after a late meeting of the cabinet yesterday, and it was inferred that the full details of the policy had not been completed.

NO COMPROMISE WITH FARMERS

Hon. Mackenzie King Makes Announcement at St. Stephen—W. F. Todd to Contest Charlotte—Woodstock Primaries.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, at St. Stephen yesterday, said that there was no understanding of any kind as to a compromise with Hon. P. A. Cramer or anyone else after the election. He said that increasing numbers of farmers and labor men are supporting the Liberal candidates.

Mr. King, A. B. Copp, of Westmorland, and W. Todd, candidate in Charlotte, last night addressed the electors of Charlotte in the St. Stephen rink. All three made distinct impressions and were loudly applauded.

MEIGHEN ON DUTIES ON FARM IMPLEMENTS

(Montreal Transcript)

It is worth while noting that there was a time when Mr. Meighen accused the Liberal government of unduly benefiting the manufacturers because it did not reduce the duties on agricultural implements. This was during the session of 1910-11. He then claimed that these manufacturers were able to produce implements as cheaply as those in the United States, for which reason there was no good reason why they should be permitted to enjoy so much protection.

LOCAL NEWS

While painters were burning paint on King street yesterday, a fire caught under the eavesboards. A still alarm was sent in and the only damage done was the cutting of a small section where the fire was.

At a regular meeting of St. John's (Stone) Church Girls' Association last evening members were made to hold a supper in conjunction with the Badminton Club of the church. Plans were also made for supplying Christmas boxes to the needy.

A conference was held yesterday in the mayor's office between Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, minister of customs and excise, Mayor Schofield, Commissioner Bullock and R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the board of trade, in connection with facilities for the shipment of cattle from this port.

The first meeting of the Mentor's Association of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening. A. M. Gregg discussed several aspects of the winter's program in regard to work among the younger members. The following officers were elected: President, A. H. Davis; vice-president, L. H. Stubbs; secretary, H. G. Neaves.

A special meeting of the board of commissioners of the general public hospital was held yesterday afternoon. F. N. Brodie had been authorized to draw up plans for the hospital to be epidemic hospital and to call for tenders, but the plans were not ready yesterday. It is likely that the appointment of a radiographer will be made soon. The alterations in the former nurses home and main hospital were reported being carried out.

The opening of the Central Baptist young people's social centre took place last evening. The mayor gave a short talk on good citizenship. He congratulated the members on their beautiful hall. Rev. F. H. Bone gave a history of the movement which brought about this good work. The plans were made five years ago. Most of the work was done by the members. H. H. Wainmaker, superintendent of the Sunday school, also spoke briefly. The gathering last evening was very large and the programme was very attractive.

Reports of the work of the Y. W. C. A. were heard at the directors' meeting yesterday and brought home forcibly the need of a new accommodation. The Travelers' Aid reported that a large number of young girls are travelling alone. Miss Hoy's report was very extensive and told of the work which is being done. The girls' work report was given. Great numbers of girls are joining the club this year. The work is being hampered by lack of leaders. The King street house and Cafeteria report was also given. The report of the physical committee told of the swimming classes and tennis activities. The date of board meeting was changed from Monday to Tuesday.

The case against twelve members of the Trades and Labor Council, charged with being members of an unlawful assembly, was continued in the police court yesterday afternoon. H. A. Powell, K. C., and J. A. Barry appeared for the defendants and H. H. McLean, Jr., appeared in the interests of the power company. The police chief said he ordered thirty men on duty. All the regular beats were covered on the night in question and there were fourteen men at the power house. He said that he had been to F. A. Campbell's office to try to find out if a parade was to be held and what route it would take. He was unsuccessful in both. He heard that there was to be a parade from Mr. Thomson, about three o'clock in the afternoon. There was some discussion about the slowness of the prosecution in not having evidence ready and the case was postponed until next Monday afternoon.

The Ontario government will assist the municipalities in efforts to provide work for the unemployed, but makes it clear that the municipal authorities must not try to unload the whole burden upon the provincial treasury.

So desperate is the tory cause in Nova Scotia that Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is coming all the way from British Columbia to make speeches in support of government candidates.

A DESTRUCTIVE MANIFESTO. Stratford Beacon: The outstanding feature of Premier Meighen's manifesto, issued the other day, is that it is destructive and not constructive. NO LIQUOR ELECTION DAY. (Montreal Herald) The entire city will be liquorless on election day by the closing of all beer shops and taverns, and the Quebec Liquor Commission has submitted to the Administrative Commission yesterday and all permit holders must follow it. work out a plan by which the objects here outlined may be attained. The coming winter will bring hardship to many, and sympathetic and discriminating aid may be the means of keeping many families together and many children fed and clothed and at school. System succeeds where spasmodic individual effort fails.

The citizens of St. John and his friends throughout the province learned this morning with very deep regret of the passing of Mr. Joseph A. Tilton. No man of the younger community was held in higher respect by his business associates. His high character and fine personal qualities command universal esteem. In matters relating to the development of the trade of St. John, and in civic problems as well, Mr. Tilton took a deep interest. He rendered splendid service in the activities of various clubs and was always a generous giver. Never seeking, but rather shunning publicity for himself, he yet entered heartily into all projects for the public welfare, and set a fine example of responsible citizenship.

In his death St. John suffers a distinct loss, and those who mourn will cherish the memory of a life of conscious rectitude and honorable service.

The Canadian Public Health Association, of which Hon. Dr. Roberts is president, will meet next year in St. John. The Association has gone on record in favor of a distinct ministry of health in the cabinet at Ottawa. That would be a great forward step in the promotion of public health service throughout the Dominion.

Moncton Transcript: The Hon. Mr. Meighen declares, with much warmth that no country in the world needs protection more than Canada. Certainly the people of this country need protection from the exploitation of high tariff.

The bestowal of the Victoria Cross upon the unknown soldier of the United States, and the sentiments to which such a signal tribute would give rise, would tend greatly to enhance the feeling of cordiality and good will between the Empire and the republic.

CONDITIONS IN ARMENIA TODAY

Women and Children naked - Starvation and disease prevail - Plea for the Ones:

Men, some barely old enough to be called men, were seen at the gates of the Relief Organization in the City of Erzurum and appealing in vain to be taken in because there is not enough room and barely enough food for those inside.

"This is a typical picture of conditions in Armenia as seen by representatives of the Armenian Relief Fund of Canada and Near East Relief, who have just returned to this country from the famine zones of the Levant."

"Armenia is the land of the living nightmare," declared a member of the party. "We thought we had become pretty well hardened to the suffering after seeing the refugees camped in Constantinople and Batoum. But Armenia brought nothing but uninterrupted series of sights at the memory of which one sickens."

"We hastened into the orphanage at Erzurum to escape the horror at the gates. But once inside, the contrast only made it seem more awful. Well fed, well dressed, were romping on the playgrounds, or were busy in the classrooms and the shops. They looked as if they wanted for nothing. It was only when we inspected the crowded living quarters that we knew that every cent was being made to do its utmost in providing necessities for those within the gates."

"We passed out again, almost falling over the tiny wretches that tried to drag themselves through as the gate was opened to let us out. Never have I seen such expressions of despair and hopeless agony."

"Conditions were the same everywhere. A small child lay dead on the station platform when our train drew up. A man arose from a ragged listless group nearby. He came towards us evidently to beg for food. Before he could take more than two or three steps he crumpled up and fell."

"A member of our party stepped towards him but was stopped by another relief worker, a member of the local unit. 'Don't,' he said. 'It will do no good. He is dead, probably from starvation, but it might be cholera or maybe typhoid.'"

"Not far from the station, we saw a wagon drawn up beside a big hole that had evidently just been dug. The driver jumped off and with a big hook began pulling out what looked to be bundles of old rags and pushed them into the hole. When he came closer, however, we saw what had appeared to be rags were bodies. Their tattered garments caused the illusion. The presence of a dozen or more mounds of fresh turned earth nearby testified to many previous trips of the wagon."

"Most of the children were asked, and we occasionally saw men and women in the same condition. But with clothes or without them, they all presented the same picture of misery and suffering and hopelessness that was written over the face of nearly everyone we met in Armenia."

"Their plight is the result of almost seven years of warfare, which the Armenian people have not even implemented the most primitive type, without protection against the roving bands of robbers, has been unable to grow enough food for his own consumption let alone the children, appear almost hopeless. The adult population is rapidly being carried off by starvation and disease, while the Relief Organizations, with more than 30,000 children already in their institutions in this one area, and probably sixty thousand more in need of immediate attention, is physically unable to present to do much for them."

CRITICAL SITUATION AMONG VETERANS IN THE FAR WEST

President Maxwell Urges G. W. V. A. Delegates to be Patient — The American Legion.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ketchikan, Oct. 17.—Delegates from British Columbia fired the first shot into the fifth annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association, which opened here this afternoon, when a resolution was submitted by Ian McKenzie, Vancouver, proposing that the question of amalgamation of the veterans' organizations in Canada be the first consideration of each day's business, and that the representatives of other bodies who attended Sunday's conference should be present. The resolution was presented late this afternoon.

A critical situation was existing in British Columbia as regarded the membership of the association, the delegates said, and one delegate ventured to say that unless a definite decision on the question of amalgamation of all bodies was reached this week, it would sound the death knell of the G. W. V. A. in the west.

President R. B. Maxwell took hold of the convention after discussion of the resolution had grown into an acrimonious debate, and pleaded for forbearance. It was impossible, he said, for the representatives of other bodies to attend an open discussion because some had already left town. He explained that the Dominion officials had met Sunday with other bodies, and as soon as practicable a resolution would be put before the convention. In any case, the resolution, if adopted would only result in the verdict of the G. W. V. A. being given, and before any move towards unification could be made it would be necessary to await the verdict of the governing bodies of the other interested organizations. HARVARD COURSE IN CHINESE.
Dr. Yuen Ren Chao to Teach Philosophy Second Semester.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 18.—For the first time in forty years Harvard University will offer a course in the Chinese language during the second semester starting in February. Dr. Yuen Ren Chao, who has been teaching physics at Cornell University, has accepted an appointment at Harvard as instructor in philosophy.

Dr. Chao, a native of Shanghai, was graduated from Cornell in 1914 and took his doctor's degree in logic at Harvard two years later. The course which he will give in philosophy will be in the Chinese language. No such course has been given at Harvard since the days of Ko Kun-hun, who taught Chinese from 1879 to 1882 through the generosity of Francis P. Knight of Boston, who raised a subscription in 1877 to maintain a teacher of mandarin Chinese.

Another Cornell instructor who is to join the Harvard staff is Dr. Oscar M. Schless, who will serve as Professor of Pediatrics at the Medical School, in addition to teaching at the Cornell Medical School. Dr. Schless has been attending physician at the New York Nursery and Child's Hospital and the Babies' Hospital.

PICKPOCKETS IN LONDON CHURCH

Westminster Catholic Cathedral Worshippers Robbed Whilst Praying.

London, Oct. 18.—One result of the recent hold-ups and robberies has been to increase the vigilance of the authorities at Westminster Catholic Cathedral to protect the sacred and valuable vessels and ornaments used for worship. The Cathedral, being the shrine of all Catholics who come to London from every part of the world, is open daily for prayer and meditation.

The experience of some worshippers is that when they have risen from their knees they have missed their handbags, which shows that some people do not go there to be shrewd. Many assistant vergers are on duty in the Cathedral to watch while others are praying, but owing to the vastness of the building it is not very difficult for a thief to elude detection. The greatest care is taken, however, to watch the building before it is closed at night.

Use Watch Dogs.
Inside there are scores of confessional boxes, hung with curtains and several side chapels, while there are also huge buttresses, hooks and angles in which a thief, with an eye on some of the Cathedral treasures, might secret himself.

"After the outer doors are closed," the vergers explain, "two assistants systematically search the whole building. Later on, before I go to bed, I also go carefully around."

Mr. Hackett, who lives in apartments over the Cathedral, has four Irish terriers, all very red, very fiery, and full of fight. One sleeps outside his door, another roams about the body of the Cathedral, and the other two are asleep with one eye open in other parts of the building.

What blended Gasoline Won't give you —

UNIFORM full power and mileage, better engine performance and unusual fuel economy distinguish Imperial Premier Gasoline from the ordinary blended product which is usually sold as high-grade gasoline.

The heat units in any gasoline mixture separate easily. Lighter fractions either evaporate or are burned up too quickly by your motor, while the heavy ends remain in the tank—a clear loss of power and mileage that you pay for but never get.

Imperial Premier Gasoline is a straight-distilled, all-refinery gasoline with a complete, unbroken chain of boiling points. Every drop burns clean, giving you unequalled power, mileage and satisfaction. If better gasoline could be made, Imperial Oil Limited would make it.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN N. B., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1921.

THE FARMERS' MANIFESTO

The following is the second installment of the manifesto of Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressive Party, the first part of which was published yesterday. What then are our proposals? Our goal is the ultimate elimination of the principle of protection in our fiscal policy. But we recognize that changes must be brought about in a manner that will give a fair opportunity to Canadian industries now enjoying protection to adjust themselves to them. To the end that our agricultural resources may be developed in the fullest degree possible, we propose removing the duty from agricultural implements, and also from much of milling and sawmill machinery for the encouragement of these industries. To lessen the cost of living, a substantial reduction in the general tariff should be made, and especially upon those things that come within the category of the necessities of life. Essential foods we shall also place on the free list, and I would invite the attention of the Canadian people to this, when our opponents, by misrepresentation, accuse the farmers of Canada with seeking only selfish legislation.

We believe that in this way the wealth of Canada can best be developed, the area of prosperity can best be enlarged and the general happiness of all the people best promoted. But our opponents say: "If you do this, where will you get the revenue to run the country? Let us look at this thing squarely. A tariff that is put on goods for protective purposes is intended primarily to produce revenue. In other words, the tariff can be framed for revenue and not for protection, and thus by wise adjustments and modifications it can still be made to produce a very substantial revenue. In fact, however, as far as our revenues are concerned, we must rely on direct taxation, and the taxes imposed must be levied in accordance with sound principles of taxation. Taxes must be levied on the basis of ability to pay, and the indirect method of raising revenue through customs tariff, the man least able to pay very often pays the most."

Economy and Wider Markets
When we come to the matter of our financial policy for the future, we face the question of greatest difficulty. Our federal debt today approaches two and a half billion dollars. Our expenditures have mounted to over half a billion a year. This cannot continue unchecked. If it does, the burden of taxes and the cost of living upon the Canadian people will be so crushing that we shall lose population, which at this juncture we cannot afford to do. How can we meet this critical situation? Certain essential conditions must be met. We must rigidly bring our public expenditures within the limits of our public income, and that at once. We should have some co-ordination of financial policy for the dominion as a whole and some understanding reached, particularly between federal, provincial and municipal authorities, as to the relative fields of taxation and of expenditure. Drastic economy in public administration must be introduced and carried through, and no sentiment public or private, should be permitted to stand in the way of this. In other words, we as a nation must do what a private individual who must economize, we must work and we must save.

We must shape our public policies to give the greatest encouragement possible to the development of our natural resources, exporting the surplus products of these to other lands who are less favored in this respect than we are. We should make every effort possible for the extension of markets for these products. We are suffering today from a short-sighted policy that rejected reciprocity in 1911. I would direct the attention of the Canadian farmer, and the attention of the Canadian people who are dependent for their prosperity upon the prosperity of the farmer, to the fact that the same selfish interests that refused the beneficial reciprocity arrangement of 1911, are behind the present government with all their old vigor and strength.

Trade With United States
Markets for Canadian products must be found, and when we come to a consideration of this without doubt the great country to the south of us comes to mind. It is true that today the United States has put restrictions against trade with Canada. It is a mistake to think that this has been done in a spirit of hostility to Canada. They very naturally have assumed that we are not anxious to trade with them, for we said so in 1911. Canada must always maintain her self-respect, but it is not necessary to that self-respect to go frankly to our great neighbors to the south and say to them: "Let us sit down and reason things together." The course of events in Washington in the past few months, without doubt, shows that many of those who favored a protective tariff in that country in the past, have changed their views. Within the life of the present parliament about to be elected the opportunity will come to Canada to take up this question and to take it up in a way that will be quite consistent with our self-respect, and will secure, upon terms honorable to both parties and of equal benefit to both, an arrangement which will enlarge the United States' markets for our products. But what chance is there of getting this from the present government if it is returned to power? It and the interests behind it are just as frankly antagonistic today as they have ever been to the securing of the United States market for Canadian products. We can expect nothing from such a government, dominated as it is by the big interests of the country. If there is to be an extension of our markets, if there is to be any opening up of new wealth-giving channels of trade, it must be by other hands than those of the present administration.

Canada's National Status
In view of the increasing importance of Canada's national status, I desire to draw the attention of the Canadian electorate to the statement of policy in the Progressive platform, which reads as follows:
"We believe that the further development of the British Empire should be sought along the lines of partnership between nations free and equal under the present government system of British constitutional authority. We are strongly opposed to any attempt to centralize imperial control. Any attempt to set up an independent authority with power to bind the dominions, whether this authority be termed parliament, council or cabinet, would hamper the growth of responsible and informed democracy in the dominions."
The problem thus indicated is now pressing for solution and it should be dealt with in strict conformity with the spirit of this declaration.

Railway Problem
The financial position of our national railways is one of the most serious problems of the hour. These roads have come into the hands of the people through the breakdown of private management, which has resulted in costly and unnecessary duplications. The plain fact is we have enough railways in Canada to serve the needs of a population double what we now have. This is the cardinal weakness of our position, and until the business is provided these roads will run at a loss. What we need is more population to provide more freight and passenger traffic, and this will come and remain here only if the country is prosperous. There are some who would turn these roads into private hands. This course would not save the country from heavy losses. With population and business these roads can be turned into a good asset, and this potential value must be sacrificed, if there is its weakness and inefficiency in the management it must be ruthlessly set right. The roads must be freed completely from any political interference with the management, and a way must be found to provide this, and still leave to parliament the necessary control of money advances. Most emphatically the solution must not be found along the line that would fasten a railway monopoly upon the Canadian people.

Immigration and Colonization
Bound up with a solution of this matter, and as well with finding a way of overcoming our financial difficulties, is the question of immigration. But to make immigration successful the country must be prosperous, and it should be the work of parliament to promote this in every way possible. An unduly proportion of our population is now in our cities. The potential wealth of Canada lies in our natural resources, the chief of which is our fertile lands, and the people we bring to our shores should be those adaptable to agriculture. Since free homesteads and cheap land in Canada are now largely things of the past, it will be necessary to create the means whereby capital for productive purposes can be supplied settlers on sound and safe lines that will protect the country from loss. This is now receiving the attention of many of the provinces, but in fullest measure the federal authorities should co-operate.

Woman's Influence
For the first time the women of Canada have the right to vote in the coming election upon an equality with men. The present government takes the credit for this and thereon bases an appeal to Canadian women for support. The fact is that it was the Union government in 1918 that put this reform on the statute books. The present government is exercising a different power. Let it not be overlooked, either, that it was the strong Farmers' organizations of western Canada and Ontario which furnished the driving power for this reform. I am convinced that Canadian women can play a great and worthy part in our national life. They will give an elevation of tone to our public discussion that will exercise a profound power in establishing and maintaining a sound moral viewpoint in our public affairs, a moral outlook that has been sadly lacking in the past and which certainly was never more necessary than today.

I have attempted in this brief compass to deal only with the larger issues that must be faced by Canada in the next few years. I have endeavored, and trust in an understanding way, to set forth the broad principles that should guide the conduct of our affairs, both from the moral and business standpoint, and that they study these public issues with an unbiased, fair judgment. Attempts will be made to raise false issues. Already efforts are being made to appeal to prejudicial passions. We must free ourselves from these if we are to find the wisest solutions of our difficulties. We submit the principles of the Progressive movement to your judgment with confidence. We believe they provide a sure and safe basis upon which we
