PARIS FACES STAGNATION ON MAY DAY

Almost Complete Paralysis of Business Expected for Day

General Strike to Be Participated in by Large Number of Railway Workers' Strike an Added Danger.

Paris, April 26—This city faces an almost complete paralysis of business on Saturday, May 1, as the result of a large number of unions voting to join the labor demonstration by calling a general strike.

Decision of the congress of French railway workers to call a strike to enforce demands threatens a new danger if the men lay down their tools before Saturday.

As to the May Day demonstrations, it is understood that the government's plans call for even more vigorous action than last year.

"If the gentlemen who, it is alleged, are going to wear overalls, no doubt many for the first time, will wear them until the articles require patching, no longer, the campaign then may have a beneficial effect.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram, "how do you see the future of the man I met this morning who was wearing the same old boot?"

"Another," said the reporter, "voted for one candidate because he had heard the man was in favor of a bounty on bootleggers."

"Another," said Hiram, "wouldn't vote for me because he said that man didn't need the money."

"Several men," said the reporter, "told me they would not vote for me because they thought it was all a grab game and you couldn't trust them. They said they had not voted for years and years."

"One fellow," said Hiram, "told me he'd be waiting for this chance for five years to get back at a man that went by on one time without speaking."

"I wonder," said the reporter, "how many people really vote intelligently and with a desire to do the best for the city—regardless of who the man offering may be?"

"They eat," said Hiram, "out of the same bowl. It's a pity, too, that the people just set down an ask themselves who'd be most likely to do the city's bidding when the time comes."

"What folks these mortals be?" quoted the reporter. "Not all 'em," said Hiram. "The whole lot of 'em isn't so bad."

"Not all 'em," said Hiram. "The whole lot of 'em isn't so bad."

PAPER SITUATION

Proprietor of London Daily Telegraph Speaks of Shortage and Outlook.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

Lord Burnham, proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, speaking at a luncheon of newspaper directors here, said that there was at present what was termed a paper famine, due to a real world shortage.

What was happening was pregnant with meaning for those who believed that, although we could not prevent it, we were self-sufficient in the British Empire, we ought to be able to draw much more largely than we do on the output of the great dominions beyond the seas.

"There was not likely to be for many years any effective competition from the west for its paper, having not only self-sufficiency but a surplus of paper."

London, April 26—Negotiations are in progress between the government and the railway companies regarding the proposed transfer of the railway system to government control.

Elaborating his references to the activities of American men and the view that "their oil fields are showing signs of exhaustion" the Daily Mail intimated that the government's action has as its motive a desire to prevent Americans from absorbing companies controlling actual or potential sources of Great Britain's oil supply.

The Chicago American champions continue to head their league with a clean record, winning four straight games, including a victory yesterday over Detroit, which has lost all its eight games this season.

First place in the National League is shared by Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh. The Cincinnati world champions received a setback last week, dropping three games out of five.

In the American League, Boston celebrated Patriots' Day on Monday by trouncing New York twice, and won again on Tuesday. The Yankees, without the services of their injured star outfielder, Ruth, defeated Philadelphia twice, but the Athletics took a pitchers' battle yesterday between Najjar and Sharkey.

Washington also won twice from the Athletics and broke even with Boston, including Johnston's shutout victory yesterday. St. Louis, Philadelphia and Detroit did not win a game last week.

All competitors are invited to a charity exhibition next Friday. King Albert will probably be present. It is said there is little likelihood of arranging for the Canadian and United States teams to meet again in an exhibition contest.

Fifteen performances of which have already been given to capacity audiences. Seat sale Thursday.

CAR FARES GO UP IN ROME

But on Account of Cost of Shoes, Cheaper to Ride.

Rome, April 1—(A. P. Correspondence)—Car fares in Rome, which were originally two cents and were lately raised to three and four cents, are now decreased, shall be six cents from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, after which they will be eight cents. Those who, going to their work before 8 a. m. used to pay one cent, will now pay three for the privilege of hanging to a strap in the overcrowded cars. Cabmen have also doubled their prices, but because the cost of a pair of shoes or boots now ranges from $25 to $60 it is more economical to ride than to wear out leather.

AFTER "FLU," GRIP

Fevers and Other Prostrating Diseases that Exhaust the Blood.

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive bowels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "makes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion. Nerve strength and cherry health inevitably follow, further danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-able feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, and for a cathartic, nothing better than Hood's Pills, in small doses a gentle laxative; larger, an active cathartic.

SINGING IN THE SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir—Not long since I heard a remark made by one of the musical folk of the province, I think needs some comment. He said that the work done in the public schools in music was useless and did no good.

I find that he has never been in the schools nor has he heard the children sing. I am not a public school teacher, but I have taken the trouble to go and listen, and would like to tell him he is wrong.

I found children of less than two years' work in school who could read as well as sing anything simple in common time. I found children of about twelve years of age reading fairly difficult works and singing two part, and in some cases three-part songs unaccompanied. I saw them change parts and sing alto or soprano as asked. All this seems to me far from useless.

In one school I saw on the board a Brahms Lullaby, three-part, and a very quaint Old English round. Of these the children, mostly boys, were making manuscript copies out of school hours, because they liked them. The teacher told me that ten minutes a day was all she could spare for this work, but good use was being made of it. She told me she could spare for children's voices, and that they loved it.

This was perhaps an exceptional school, but many others show good work. I am aware that one music teacher with about 800 schools cannot do as the would like to do. In my opinion she and the ordinary grade teachers are doing a very good thing. Another remark that one hears frequently is to the effect that the boys of the High School do not sing. I have often heard this from people who do not realize that very few boys of High School age are musical. Sunday school choirs of fourteen to eighteen are at the stage where the soprano voice has broken and has not yet taken its true tone or bass quality. It is an absolute injury to the boy's voice, as well as to the listener's ear for him to sing at this time.

The moral of my remarks is obvious. Don't blame the High school boys for their lack of musicality when he doesn't sing "Oh Canada," don't run down the work of the musical supervisor before you've had time to see what he is doing. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space, I am,

ONE INTERESTED IN MUSIC.

SAYS HE DID NOT KILL GIRLS

Frank Valuzzi Held in France — Shooting in New York Last Month.

Nice, France, April 26—Frank Valuzzi, when arraigned before a magistrate on Saturday on the charge of having fired shots that killed Lena Spinelli and Josephine Gentile in New York on March 7, declared he was a deserter from the American army and lived in Paris during March. The two women, he declared, were killed by a person whom he named as James Pasquale.

It was brought out at the hearing that Pasquale has a large tattoo mark on his right wrist while Valuzzi has no marking nor evidence that he ever had such a mark of identity on his person.

I have often heard this from people who do not realize that very few boys of High School age are musical. Sunday school choirs of fourteen to eighteen are at the stage where the soprano voice has broken and has not yet taken its true tone or bass quality. It is an absolute injury to the boy's voice, as well as to the listener's ear for him to sing at this time.

The moral of my remarks is obvious. Don't blame the High school boys for their lack of musicality when he doesn't sing "Oh Canada," don't run down the work of the musical supervisor before you've had time to see what he is doing. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space, I am,

PHONE GIRL IS MURDERED

Choked to Death on Porch of Unoccupied House in Pontiac, Mich.

Pontiac, Mich., April 26—The police and sheriff's department and a detail from the Detroit detective bureau were last night engaged in the investigation of the death of Miss Vera Schneider, a telephone supervisor, whose body was found on the porch of a dwelling in one of the city's best residential sections on Sunday morning.

The girl, who was twenty years old, and whose home was at Ekton, Mich., had apparently been choked to death, according to the authorities. The ground surrounding the porch was torn up in places, indicating a terrific struggle.

Bloodhounds will be brought here to follow what is believed to be the trail of the slayer across newly ploughed ground in the rear of the house, which is under construction and unoccupied.

Miss Schneider, according to some of her friends, worked until late on Saturday night and was seen in the company of a stranger about midnight. It was said tonight that since coming here last August she had seldom been seen with male companions.

THE LESSON CANAN GOES TO THE BATTLE OF ST. JULIEN

Toronto, April 26—A memorial service was held in St. James' Cathedral yesterday afternoon as a fitting conclusion to the commemoration of the fifth anniversary of the battle of St. Julien. There was a parade of the members of the armories to the cathedral, Salvation Army bands, as well as military bands and part in it. Rev. Canon Scott of Quebec, senior chaplain of the First Division, C. E. F., delivered an address. "Out of the great battle of St. Julien," he said, "the lesson that comes back to us here in Canada is the power of right over night, and the strength of men inspired by God."

GREAT LAKE VESSELS REACH PORT ARTHUR.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 26—Lake navigation was opened between the east and Port Arthur on Sunday with the arrival of the Westmount of the Canadian Steamship Lines. She was followed into the twin ports by twelve other freighters, a light for grain, and including the W. Grant Morton, the largest freighter on the lakes. Ice conditions are not unfavorable to navigation, but eastbound steamers loaded find difficulty in getting through.

HUDSON'S BAY HEAD ON THE SITUATION TODAY

Montreal, April 26—Sir Robert Kin-dersley, governor of the Hudson Bay Company, arrived here yesterday from New York on his way to the west and gave expression to some very strong views on the necessity of checking extravagant and also of more determined effort on the part of labor to produce within the shorter day which has been granted.

He trusted that the recent rise in the Bank of England rate of discount would check exaggerated expansion in industry and as to the labor situation thought that England, in common with the rest of the world, was suffering from a crying loss of sense of proportion in regard to money and values. The crying necessity of the moment was economy on the part of both governments and individuals.

ST. JOHN'S OPPORTUNITY.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club on Friday evening references were made to some criticisms which appear to be based on the theory that there is no field for such an organization, or that it is not accomplishing anything worth while.

liquor to indulgence in which were traced back many of the crimes against white women. There was no idea that the planters' supply of 'bourbon' should be cut off, or that the guests on the spacious verandahs of Southern mansions should be forced to do without liquor no longer available for the colored folk.

THE FOSTER GOVERNMENT.

The Foster government has come creditably through another session of the legislature, and added two measures of far-reaching importance to the statutes of the province.

HOUSING AND RENTS.

Industrial corporations have learned that it pays to have their employees well housed. In the Pittsburgh district in the United States most corporations are financing house-building operations for their employees.

WIVES WERE CHEAP.

In an address on Zenana Mission Work in India, Rev. Thos. Carter, Ph. D., of London, told this story in Toronto this week.

A SOUTHERN EXAMPLE.

A member of the Ontario legislature, discussing prohibitions argued that Dominion order-in-council prohibiting the importation of liquor into the province led to a disgraceful condition of affairs.

RECENT DEATHS

The death occurred in Boston on Friday of John P. Carleton, a painter and oil dealer of that city. Mr. Carleton was the third son of the late Roger Carleton and a brother of J. G. Carleton of this city. Mr. Carleton left St. John thirty years ago and since had been in business in Boston. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Edward Carleton of New York is another brother, and Mrs. Thomas Mahony, Mrs. John S. Meliday and Miss Mary Carleton, all of the latter city, are sisters.

The death of Mrs. Theodore Loughrey occurred at her home in London (Ont.), on Friday, April 26, after an illness of several months. She is survived by her husband and little son. Mrs. Loughrey was formerly Miss Grace Harper, of Woodstock (N.B.).

After a short illness, Patrick Dillon, an old and respected resident of this city, passed away yesterday at his residence, 29 Richmond street. The late Mr. Dillon was born in Roscommon, Ireland, and came to this country when only twelve years of age, settling in St. John, in which city he had resided ever since. He was employed as a tailor for nearly fifty years, with A. Gilmore, and retired about twenty years ago. He enjoyed good health until only five weeks ago when he contracted the illness which caused his death. He is survived by one son, John, employed with the C. N. E. Railway, and three daughters—Mrs. T. Collins, Mrs. John McGrath and Miss Alice, all of St. John.

The funeral will take place at 8.45 on Tuesday morning to the cathedral for requiem mass. Interment will be made in the new Catholic cemetery.

HARD COAL WORKERS CUT DEMANDS IN TWO

Now Ask Smaller Wage Increase and Alter Matter of Hours.

New York, April 26—A reduction of approximately 50 per cent in wages demands was made on Saturday by representatives of anthracite mine workers in the sub-committee of miners and operators negotiating a new working contract here for the hard coal fields. Demands for shorter working hours were reduced and adjournment was taken until today for consideration. The miners originally asked a sixty cent wage increase for contract workers and a $2 a day raise for day men. They now ask increases to correspond to those recently granted bituminous workers by the presidential coal commission. These amounted to thirty per cent for contract works and $1 for day men.

FRENCH RAILWAY WORKERS THREATEN A GENERAL STRIKE

Paris, April 26—The congress of French railway workers voted on Saturday night to call an immediate general strike unless the following demands are granted:

Nationalization of the railways; re-employment of the strikers removed on account of the February strike; abandonment of judicial prosecutions, and recognition of the national union.

Miss Pauline Puppelly Smith and Arnold Fraser Campbell were united in marriage at Newport, R. I., last Saturday. The groom is well known in this city having been here in connection with the building of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries. Major C. F. Inches attended the wedding.

The Canadian Aviator, first boat of the season there, reached Montreal yesterday.

REPORTS AS TO MEXICO VARY

Carranza Government Statement Lightens Situation

U. S. Army Officers Believe It Is More Serious Than Admitted — Manzanillo Now Said to Be Menaced.

Mexico City, April 26—(Associated Press)—The developments of the last two weeks resulting from the Sonora revolutionary activities show that the Carranza government is preparing to encircle the rebellious state with a steel ring, meanwhile crushing sporadic outbreaks in other parts of the republic with a strong hand.

Aside from the Sonora state government, only two state executives have repudiated the present administration, these being General Enrique Estrada, in the state of Zacatecas, and Pasquale Ortiz Rubio, in the state of Michoacan.

Both, however, have failed to attract any general following and are being persecuted by loyal forces. Apparently there is to be no postponement of the presidential elections, scheduled for July 4.

Washington, April 26—Advices from Mexico reaching here yesterday appear to be in sharp conflict with optimistic statements issued by the Mexican authorities. Army officers studying the situation declare that the revolution in Sonora and elsewhere is more serious than the Carranza government cares to admit. The officers say that the delay of the Mexican federal forces in moving against the Sonora rebels is likely to prove costly to them. Much importance is attached here to the southward drive of General Flores' revolutionary forces throughout the states of Sinaloa and Sonora.

Defections from Carranza are reported at many points, a revolt in southern Vera Cruz being one of them. Rebels there had cut the railroad from the north to the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Aguila Prieta, April 26—Another Pacific Coast port of Mexico, Manzanillo, state of Colima, is menaced by revolutionary forces, according to an official bulletin issued by the Sonora military officials here last night.

Washington, April 26—Fighting between revolutionary troops and supporters of the Carranza government has begun on the threshold of Mexico City in the Ajusco mountains, according to General Alvarado, agent of the Sonora government here. No details of the engagement are given.

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING GIRL

Martin Got Out License to Wed But She Would Not Consent.

Providence, R. I., April 26—Miss Alice Harrison of this city is at the Morton Hospital, Taunton, Mass., with bullet wounds in her jaw, neck and arm, shot, the police declare, by Joseph Martin, also of this city, who took a license on Saturday to wed her. She has a fair chance of recovery.

Martin was captured by a posse of Taunton persons in the woods in Berkeley, Mass., and is charged with assault with intent to kill.

Following the taking out of the marriage license Martin is alleged to have gone to Miss Harrison's home here and to have told of what he had done. She, it is said, declared she would not consider marrying him. Later in the day, Miss Harrison went to Taunton to visit a relative. Martin called again at her home, learned where she had gone, and followed. He found Miss Harrison out walking and at a lonely spot on the road, near the Berkeley line, stopped her. The shooting is said to have followed.

Christian Science Case.

Boston, April 26—Dismissal of a bill in equity brought in the supreme court by the directors of the Christian Science church against the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, seeking the removal of the trustees, is asked in an answer filed by counsel for the trustees made public yesterday.

The trustees assert that they have not mismanaged the affairs of the society. They declare that the directors in various ways have seriously injured the business of the society, thereby diminishing the revenues which would otherwise have accrued to the church and have shown "a willful purpose, in case they cannot govern the affairs of the society, to ruin and destroy the business of the society."

Colonel John Bogart Dead.

New York, April 26—Colonel John Bogart, a noted civil engineer, died yesterday at his home here, aged 84. Among his assignments was the designing of railroad terminals in Toronto and Buffalo.

LARGE MAJORITY FOR HIGHER PAY IN COTTON MILLS

Manchester, Eng., April 26—The result of balloting among the cotton operatives on the question of tendering notice that work will cease if their claim for a sixty per cent advance on their gross wages is not granted is announced. It shows that 81,000 favor the strike while 5,000 voted against it.

Representatives of the operatives are now in London and will confer with the minister of labor today. It is hoped that a settlement will be reached before a strike to become effective a week hence.

IMMIGRATION INTO CANADA

Col. J. S. Dennis Emphasizes Need of Time

Address Before Conference in Newark by C. P. R. Representative — Some Things That Require to Be Changed.

(Canadian Press.)

New York, April 24—Canada's great need for immigrants of the proper class was emphasized by Colonel J. S. Dennis, chief of the colonization and development department of the Canadian Pacific railway, in an address delivered before the recent conference on immigration, held here under the auspices of the Inter-Racial Council.

Colonel Dennis, who was representative of the Canadian and British recruiting mission in the United States during the war and is familiar with conditions on this side of the line, compared the problems which Canada and the United States face in connection with immigration and frankly told his American hearers that Canada is in a more favorable position in having better inducements to offer.

"We think that in Canada we have perhaps more to offer the European migrant today than you have in the United States," he said. "More in the sense of larger undeveloped resources, larger areas of cheap land and a growing industrial development which provides him with employment, if he is looking for it."

Dealing with the problem as it affected Canada, Colonel Dennis said: "We have a pressing need for population because, due to our participation in the war, which we entered voluntarily, and due to the fact that we provided for our own army; that we enlisted a little more than ten per cent of our total population; that we equipped and paid and maintained our men; that our allowances to our men were very great—today in Canada we are faced with a very heavy debt and the interest on our war debt today, when added to our pension bill, amounts to a sum about three times as great as the total revenue of the Dominion in 1914, and our population has not increased very materially since that time. Therefore we have the pressing need of getting immigrants to come in and help us carry that burden and develop our natural resources so we can pay our bill and not be ultimately bound in the hands of the sheriff."

Dealing with the problem of the difficulties which confront Canada in regard to immigration, Colonel Dennis remarked that "Canada as part of the British Empire, is so situated that it is absurd for Canadians to speak of any man as a foreigner, because the Empire includes people of every race."

"The British Empire is a heterogeneous collection of peoples of the world," he said, "and we are so situated and have the peculiar condition existing that in Canada although a part of the British Empire, we do not allow immigration from other parts of the Empire. For instance, we do not allow the Hindus, although they are British subjects in India, to come to British Columbia."

CALGARY MINISTER GIVES NEW FACTS REGARDING TANLAC

Says It Restored His Wife's Strength After Everything Else Failed.

Yet another minister of religion to give his unqualified endorsement to Tanlac as a medicine of remarkable merit, is the Rev. John Zaetschky, pastor of the Lutheran Church, Ohio Street, Calgary, Alberta, who in a statement made at the Liggett's-Findlay Drug Store recently.

"For nine years my wife suffered from dropsy," he said, "and for the past five years had been in a very bad state of health. Her appetite was very poor, and yet although she ate but very little she always had a full feeling after meals. She had a drowsy feeling all the time from which nothing could arouse her, and felt tired both mentally and physically. She often complained of acute pains across the back which were so bad that she had to let her work go entirely. At night her sleep was very disturbed. Her nervous system became so shattered that the least thing would alarm her, and she was getting worse year by year. She tried all kinds of treatments and even went to the hospital on several occasions, but always failed to get more than temporary relief."

"We had read much about the merits of Tanlac and finally I bought a bottle. It seemed to do my wife good and so I continued with it. She has now taken three bottles in all and a decided change for the better has been the result. She now sleeps the whole night through and has lost that tired, drowsy feeling. She is so much improved that she can now do her housework with perfect ease, and the pains in her back have disappeared entirely. I would not go so far as to say that she is entirely relieved of the dropsy, but it does not bother her half as much as it did, and she has not been so well for many years past. Tanlac is helping her wonderfully—and we wouldn't be without it on any account. It is certainly a splendid medicine and I take pleasure in recommending it."

ANTILLES, PERHAPS, ONCE A CONTINENT

Fossil Animals Found in Cuba and Porto Rico Are Said to Suggest One-Time Connection With the Mainland.

Assemblages of fossil mammals of ancient types and strange anatomy, found recently in Porto Rico and Cuba, indicate the possibility that at one time the West Indies had a much larger mammal habitation than today, according to Capt. H. E. Anthony, associate curator of the department of mammals of the American Museum of Natural History, just back to New York after an exploration trip through the West Indies.

"These fossils," Captain Anthony says, "strongly suggest if not the existence of some mainland connection far back in the geologic age, at least the union at some time of most of the Greater Antilles into a large Antillean continent. If it existed, it must have lain in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, with the longer axis east and west and must have been an important land mass with large rivers and mighty mountain ranges rising perhaps as high as 20,000 feet or more above sea level."

Theory of Mountains and Rivers. This theory of mountains and rivers rests on Spencer's studies and charts of the ocean floor of the region, he explained.

Spencer concluded from the conformation of the sea bottom that in tertiary times there must have been an elevation of this surface of somewhat between one and a half miles and a half miles. As the ridges of the sea bottom seem to follow out the general direction of the mountain ranges at present existing on the islands, he derived the theory that the under-sea ridges were originally parts of the same system. As the island ranges have an altitude of from 7,000 to 8,000 feet, the mountains of the now disappeared continent would have been something like 20,000 feet high. The channels in the under-sea of the present day are at right angles to the ridges seem to have been cut by great rivers flowing down the mountain sides.

As to the probable extent of the continent, Captain Anthony said that he believes it covered the area now occupied by the West Indies, the eastward and, to the westward, what is now Central America. He also said that he had recently acquired Danish West Indies, to the eastward and, to the westward, what is now Central America. He also said that he had recently acquired Danish West Indies, to the eastward and, to the westward, what is now Central America.

Because of the strategic position of Jamaica in its relation to the Central American mainland and to such a hypothesis, Captain Anthony considered it to be important to explore the fossil fauna of that island. He was successful in its exploration and secured several fossil mammals new to natural science which found in Pleistocene formations, must date back approximately 100,000 years. Most of these specimens were found imbedded in the hard limestone of caves, and were extracted only after hours of slow and laborious quarrying.

Much of the collection was brought to the museum on blocks of limestone.

Refined, Delicate Skin Secured by Absorption No complexion can be considered beautiful if the skin is coarse in texture. This trouble can be overcome by thoroughly cleansing the pores, removing the dirt which made the skin rough. For this purpose there is nothing better than the mercurolic wash process. The wax completely absorbs the rough, muddy or discolored outer skin and unclogs the pores. The fresh, young skin underneath then in evidence is exquisitely delicate, refined and beautiful. And it is kept so, as the pores now freely expel effete matter and drink in the life-saving oxygen.

Mercurolic wash, because of its wonderful absorption power, is fast superseding other treatments for coarse, pimply, yellow, freckled or blotchy skin. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off next morning. It is perfectly harmless, of course, and can be found in any drug store or toilet section.

ROCKEFELLER, JR., ON SITUATION

The time has come for Protestant religious workers to link hands and effort, and to march shoulder to shoulder forward, in a concerted campaign for a strengthened Christianity and a Christianity that will have a more personal meaning to the citizens of America.

This was the sentiment expressed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., vice-chairman of the Interchurch World Movement, before more than 600 clergymen and laymen at a luncheon at the Copple-Plaza, Boston, on last Friday. Mr. Rockefeller was one of a half-dozen prominent speakers who addressed the gathering. With him were Governor Carl Milliken, Jr. of Maine, and Dr. E. Earl Taylor.

Mr. Rockefeller was asked what his opinion was on the high cost of living. He said: "As I see it, the financial, industrial and spiritual future of this country is dependent upon three things, less extravagance, less selfishness and thirdly, less thought about getting a large wage, salary or profit, and more thought about rendering a service commensurate with what we are getting."

"The economy, so generally practiced during the war has given place to a spirit of extravagance which cannot go on indefinitely without bringing disaster, not only financial but spiritual, for the moral fibre of any nation as well as its financial credit is bound to be weakened by unbridled extravagance."

New Doctrine Being Heard. "The utter disregard of self found on every hand through the trying days of the war, leading to the contribution of service and of money without question and without limit, has been replaced by the doctrine of every man for himself."

"Not only good will and contentment, but material prosperity as well are dependent upon the contribution of service and of money without question and without limit, has been replaced by the doctrine of every man for himself."

"That man is as much a profiteer who seeks to secure more pay and at the same time renders less service as the man who charges an excessive price for the article that he sells, whatever it may be. The high cost of living will be reduced only as the American people under honest, conscientious, wholehearted service."

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva I. Yatesman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I consulted with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and an almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Sals before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders, come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Sals from any pharmacy; take a little spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous Sals is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used by generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Sals is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

EXHIBITION HERE IN SEPTEMBER

Big Show Will be Held For Entire Week, Beginning September 4 — Many Reprints Needed.

Plans for the first provincial exhibition this city has held since 1914 were considered Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the exhibition association, held in the office of Horace A. Porter, Prince William street, with E. Allan Schofield presiding.

It was decided by the directors to have the formal opening of the exhibition on Saturday afternoon, September 4, and to continue for a full week, ending September 11. All the midway or "picnic" attractions, which have been contracted for, will be in place the first afternoon and it is proposed to have all exhibits, manufactured, agricultural or livestock, ready for the public on the afternoon of the first day.

The directors say that it will require more than $80,000 to put the building and grounds in suitable shape to house this show; the exhibition building proper will have to be put in first-class shape, the grandstand will have to be rebuilt, new poultry pens will have to be erected, the show ring and stables will have to be built and in many respects it will be as if the association were taking up their duties for the first time. The government grant of $25,000, which has been allowed for the use of and damage to the grounds by the military authorities during the war period, will defray all the initial expense of rebuilding.

All the work of repairing and remodeling will be done by day labor and not by contract; the buildings will be used just for this one show as it is the intention of the directors to secure better grounds for this purpose.

Applications for use of the exhibition grounds for athletic purposes were received from the Sugar Refineries Athletic Association, and the Young Men's Christian Association. Both these requests were given favorable consideration.

Rev. H. A. Collins, formerly priest in charge of the Mission church of St. John Baptist, this city, who has resigned as rector of St. James church, Vancouver, will sail for England about May 1. Father Collins has been in Vancouver three years and has been very successful in his work. Rev. R. G. Hawker, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Calgary, will succeed Father Collins, who will remain in England.

FRAUD IN USE OF EXCHANGE

Allegation Against Winnipeg Piano Player

Buy English Money at Discount and Get Soldiers to Change It Into Canadian Currency is Belief.

(Canadian Press.)

Winnipeg, April 26—Following the exposure of a system to defraud the government out of thousands of dollars, Fred Gifford, a piano player in a local theatre, was arrested by detectives Sidney Young and John Craig on Saturday. He will be charged with attempting to obtain money by false pretences from the Union Bank, and the police say that charges of defrauding the government probably will be laid against him. It was granted on two securities of $5,000 each.

The method used by Gifford is said by the police to be in use in other parts of Canada. After buying English money at a discount, it is alleged that Gifford would approach the soldiers who had just returned and arrange with them to change it back into Canadian currency as their own money. Returned soldiers paid in Canadian coins, got a full exchange in Canada. This amounts to $48 on a pound, making a difference of about 68 cents at the present rate of exchange.

It is said the soldiers who agreed to Gifford's proposition usually told the banking authorities that the money represented back pay. After negotiating the exchange back into Canadian currency they would hand the money back to Gifford and, it is alleged, get a consideration for their trouble.

STEEL AND OTHER METAL MARKETS

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for the week ended April 25, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment:

Interest centres in the steel world on the prices for the third quarter booking. It seems likely that the Steel Corporation will adhere very closely to their old schedule, which keeps the price down at the market of March 21, last year. Some of the independents and premium mills are selling now without difficulty at 50 per cent above the corporation prices, and there are many individual instances where much higher figures have ruled.

The bringing together of the various Canadian and British interests concerned to form what will probably be called the British Empire Steel Corporation is attracting small amount of attention in trade circles this week. That Canadian mills on the Atlantic seaboard will make semi-finished material and ship to the finishing mills of the old country, thus getting the use of their great distilling agencies, opens a big field.

There is a monotonous sameness to the situation now. Dealers and consumers have the same story—deliveries bad, worse, or indifferent, prices jumping, uncertain. And in spite of all this, there is still a large amount of business in the market, although it is certain that some projected industries are holding back to see what the future is going to bring forth.

There is not much on the surface in the way of May-day troubles, but there are many rumors of strikes and walk-outs, and there are some industries where such a happening would mean that there would be a shut-down with no effort being made to operate.

Prices on supplies remain firm, with no increases.

CEREAL CROPS IN RUSSIA WILL SHOW INCREASE THIS YEAR

In the absence of official figures for the cereal crops in Russia, the International Institute of Agriculture of Rome has considered it opportune to publish such information as is available, although somewhat fragmentary. It should also be noted that these data refer to the chief cereal producing provinces of South Russia (the Ukraine and the Kuban, Don and Terek territories), which in normal times furnished supplies to northern Russia.

A British mission sent by the Supreme Economic Council to South Russia for the purpose of studying the economic conditions of that country, with special regard to the yield of cereals, has already made it known that in 1919 the wheat crop of the Ukraine (which in the years 1909-1913 produced more than 40 per cent of the total wheat crop in Russia in Europe, excluding Poland) was exceptionally good, being estimated at about 9 million metric tons against 7.3 million tons, the average yield for the five years mentioned, thus indicating an increase of about 1.7 million metric tons.

In the case of rye and barley, the situation estimated for 1919 a yield in the Ukraine (which in 1909-1913 produced about 20 per cent of the total rye crop of Russia in Europe, excluding Poland) of about 4.7 million tons against 4.1 millions, the average for those years, or an increase of about 600,000 tons.

The British mission estimated that for the regions including, besides the Ukraine, the territories of the Kuban, Don and Terek, there remains an available surplus of wheat amounting to at least 1 1/2 million tons. This surplus was estimated to exist after allowing for consumption in the regions mentioned and for supplies to other Russian localities.

The regions included in this estimate of the British mission produced about two-thirds of the average yield of wheat in Russia in Europe (excluding Poland) during the five years 1909-1913.

The International Institute of Agriculture has now to hand the yield of cereal crops for the year 1919 in the Ukraine, after comparing the 1919 yields (about 1,000,000 tons of wheat and 800,000 tons of barley) with the estimated consumption, calculates that from the Kuban crop of 1919 only, there should be available for export in the season 1919-20 about 430,000 tons of wheat and 370,000 tons of barley. The stocks of cereals remaining from previous Kuban crops may be added, when estimating the aggregate quantity exportable.

The above communication from the government of the Kuban lends still greater value to the British mission's conclusions regarding the existence of the regions dealt with, wheat at least 1 1/2 million metric tons.

GIRL SLEEPS SEVEN WEEKS; NOW IS DEAD.

Williamstown, Mass., April 26—After sleeping for seven weeks, Miss Mamie Bondson, aged 23, died here on Saturday.

LUMBER PRICES FIRM.

(Toronto Globe.)

A question which has been attracting a good deal of attention recently is: "When will lumber prices decline?" Those who claim to be well informed on the subject say that before any attempt can be made to answer this query properly there are a great many items which have to be taken into consideration, of which the ordinary citizen is not aware.

Among these, one of the most important, and one which is about the best known, is the cost of labor. Wages here, as elsewhere, have increased enormously, but, in addition, in certain districts much efficiency has been lost through frequent changing of the men employed. Restlessness is one of the causes leading to this. The representative of one firm estimated that his company had on their pay-roll the last season about three times as many men as the number continuously employed. This showed that men were constantly coming and going, which naturally tended to reduce the total working capacity. Then, too, a great many green men are said to have been employed in the camps this year, which has helped to reduce efficiency, and has also led to increased expenses in compensation for accidents. Besides these factors, lumbermen point to the high cost of supplies, especially potatoes and horse feed, and the delay in spring opening. It is claimed that increased production is the slogan of many prominent members in the trade.

Sun Too Hot? Light Too Dim? Move the Shelves!

Portable shelving, built so it can be easily moved from one part of the establishment to another, and yet so constructed that the average person would never suspect the equipment is not a permanent portion of the wall, has proved a big factor in enabling Peter Goodstein and Philip Rosenblatt, owners of the Hurdston, Pa. Produce Co., to display goods just where and when they want them.

The two retailers found that some merchandise was all right in one place in winter, but in summer the sun was too strong and damaged the stock. In winter articles that were properly illuminated by the indirect rays of the summer sun were hidden in the dingy gloom that comes with cold weather. Moving the stock was first thought of, then the plan of having shelves constructed that could be taken down when the sun was conceived.

Oil and Soda Water Will Mix, as Was Found.

On the main highway that leads from Los Angeles to San Diego is a very attractive oil station of cream-colored stucco, which bears in large raised gold letters at the front the name of Lillian E. Yeager. Its proprietor, Miss Yeager, is a young woman business proprietor, but it is but a small part of the business she directs. With the fountain oil and gasoline business she is enabled to keep a man there all of the time while she attends to the part of her business that she has grown into—the selling of automobiles.

Fronting the two streets and forming an angle in which sets the oil station is a two-story building, brand new. This, with the oil station, forms the $45,000 plant that houses Miss Yeager's business. Her start was from the ground six years ago. Prior to that she was a bookkeeper. But she wished to get into a business of her own, any kind so that it was her own; for she was confident that she could make it go. When but twelve years of age she had been running errands for the proprietor of a confectionery store—and when one says "running" that means the making of the ice cream, candy and the doing of the things the proprietor of such a place of business sees learnt to work early and how to sell goods as well as manage a business.

Q The measure of mileage you expect to get from an automobile tire is exactly the measure we are prepared to give you in Dunlop Cord Tires.

Q Dunlop Tires are thoroughly "thought out" in the Scientific Research Department, then they are thoroughly "tried out" on the road. You, as a tire buyer, get the Final Result.

Q The new ideas we have evolved from world-wide collaboration with Dunlop Master Tire Builders have worked wonders in tire construction.

Q Every other make of tire has suffered in comparison with Dunlop in a test of endurance; and that means foreign-made tires as well as Canadian-made.

Q A tough tread, sturdy walls, largest air-chamber, unsurpassable anti-skid features, are some of the reasons why Dunlop Cord Tires are so much in evidence these days.

Q And just as Dunlop Cord Tires, wherever you go, are being awarded the palm as "1920's best," so right across Canada, our 1920 sales figures are registering the definite approval of motorists in decidedly unusual increases.

Q When you buy Dunlop Tires you buy from the world's greatest rubber organization, whether the comparison is in technical knowledge, area of plants, financial resources, etc.

Q Our new million-and-a-half-dollar factory is now nearing completion. It will be exclusively devoted to the manufacture of Dunlop Cord Tires—"Traction," "Ribbed."

embellished against the sky, "Robinson's. There's a Verdict," and the story of it is this: A verdict.

When H. C. Robinson started doing business in Winnipeg, Manitoba, he advertised that he could undersell ground-floor merchants 40 per cent. An action was brought against him for untruthful advertisement. A number of garments were brought into court for the inspection of the judge, and the case was dismissed on the evidence of the prosecution, without Robinson's calling in one witness for the defence.

The prosecution proved without doubt that Robinson's was selling a suit for $180 equal to the ground-floor merchant's $225 suit. So, "There's a verdict."

A twenty-five foot ground floor frontage was secured in a retail store on either side with fine, well lighted show windows. Any number of garments were brought into court for the inspection of the judge, and the case was dismissed on the evidence of the prosecution, without Robinson's calling in one witness for the defence.

After walking up that staircase it is said that Robinson's was selling a suit for $180 equal to the ground-floor merchant's $225 suit. So, "There's a verdict."

GAINS IN WALL ST. WILL GO LIMIT WITH GEMANY

New York, April 26.—Steels, equipments and motors led the list at the strong opening of today's stock market. Traders evidently found much encouragement in the better local financial situation, as indicated by last Saturday's returns of the federal reserve bank and clearing houses. Conspicuous features included Vanadium and Luckenbach Steels, Baldwin and Studebaker at gains of 1/4 to 3/8 points. U. S. Steel opened unchanged but soon rose almost two points. General Motors took a foremost position within the first half hour, advancing 10 1/2 points to 309.

MANDATE FOR ARMENIA TO UNITED STATES

Offer Made by the Supreme Council — The Adriatic Question.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

San Remo, April 25.—The supreme council is sending a formal request to President Wilson that the United States government take the mandate for Armenia.

The council is leaving to President Wilson the arbitration of the difficulties over the boundaries of Armenia.

There seems to be division on the part of the council as to whether the region included in the territory of the Armenia republic. The Turkish Nationalists are strongly claiming Erzerum for themselves.

The Adriatic question was brought before the supreme council this afternoon. The Italian premier, Signor Nitti, proposed a settlement that followed generally President Wilson's note of December 9. It varies, however, to include a constitution for the buffer state of Fiume to which both the French and British premiers objected, on the ground that it limited too greatly the character of the new state.

After considerable discussion, both the French and British delegations said they could not accept it. They declared that Italy should either take President Wilson's plan or abide by that of the pact of London, which gives Fiume to the Jugo-Slavs.

Premier Nitti promised to give his decision tomorrow.

In placing Palestine under a British mandate the council established within the ancient limits of holy land what is called "the national home of the Jews."

The terms of the mandate protect the national rights of Jewish citizens of other countries. That is to say, a Jew of British, French, or American nationality although he is also a citizen of the state of Palestine. The rights of Arabs also are protected, there being six hundred thousand in Palestine and 100,000 Jews.

The mandate is limited generally by what is known as the Balfour declaration. British forces have been in occupation of Palestine since the defeat of the Turkish forces by the British field marshal, Viscount Allenby. France has been the protector of the Christians in Syria since the middle ages, having been designated for the purpose by the holy see.

The question with regard to Syria has been in serious controversy between the French and British governments since the armistice was signed, particularly over the point whether France should have all of what is geographically outlined as Syria or only certain parts.

SERVICE STIRRING AND IMPRESSIVE

Ven. Archdeacon Crowfoot Delivers Eloquent Sermon to Members of St. George's Society.

Faith is the salvation of a country. Fides Patriae Salva, the challenging motto of St. George's Society, formed the text of the brilliantly eloquent sermon delivered by Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot at the annual corporate service of the society in St. Paul's church last night.

The service was a stirring and impressive one. The members of the society in full regalia assembled in the school room of the church and entered the church in a body from the west door. The banner, borne by J. P. Clayton, and the silk flag of St. George, borne by R. H. I. Skinner, headed the procession, and the members sat in a body in the front pews of the church.

Colonel A. McMillan, president of St. Andrew's Society, walked with Judge Grimmer, president of St. George's Society. When the choir entered singing the martial hymn, "Uprose Ye Christian, People who boast St. George 'Tis Day," Mr. Clayton again headed the procession carrying aloft the society banner, and the choir as it sang paced slowly down the north aisle and up the centre aisle to the chancel.

Throughout the service the music added to the beauty and impressiveness. The surplined choir of male voices gave a fine rendering of Edmund Turner's anthem, "O Death, Where Is Thy Sting," T. P. Bourne as organist directed the music with great skill. Hymn singing was, "O Day of Resurrection," "Christ Is Risen," and "Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia." "The Strife Is Over, the Battle Won." Rev. James Cardidge, of Richibucto, read the lessons. The collection taken was for the benefit of the charitable fund of the society.

The Sunday evening service at the Seamen's Institute was conducted by Walter Brindle with a good-sized congregation present.

LEGISLATURE PROROGUED

Big Volume of Business Done in Six Weeks' Session Dentists' Bill Withdrawn.

Fredericton, April 24.—A new record was established in the volume of business transacted during the fourth session of the legislative assembly which came to an end this afternoon. In all, 151 bills were introduced during the session and each of these received consideration, although eight of them disappeared before the end of the session, some being amalgamated with others and a few withdrawn. The total exceeded by twenty-five the number introduced last year when the introduction of 126 bills marked a new high level for legislation. The fact that the session occupied only six weeks and two days, about the average length of time, showed that considerably more work was compressed into that period than usually has been the case in the past.

There was the usual pressure of business transacted during the six weeks, it must be taken into consideration that this year the weekly sittings were shorter than usual, as the train arrangements made it impossible for the house to meet on Monday evenings as had been the custom in other years. While the whole house shared in the credit for the new record set, a full measure must be awarded the government for the way in which the affairs of the session were handled and the methods which made this prompt despatch of the business possible.

Following the deadlock which existed in the morning session over the matter of the dentists' bill, when the house resumed in the afternoon, the promoters of the bill gave up the fight, and the bill was withdrawn. The lieutenant-governor prorogued the house at 4 o'clock.

As the governor left the chamber the members of the house sang the national anthem. Then the customary storm broke, as the members, freed of the responsibility, the strain and the long hours which had marked the session, gave expression to their relief in the school-boy pranks which always mark the last moments of the house. A battle royal was waged between the opposite sides of the house, the weapons used being the bunches of bills and reports and other similar material which had accumulated on the desks during the session. It was a bit of lively, good-natured fun which typifies the natural reaction from the serious sessions and the dignified restraint which had been the portion of the members for six long weeks.

Hearty cheers for Premier Foster formed the closing feature of the proceedings. Nearly all the members caught the evening trains for their homes and tonight the capital settles down to its accustomed calm.

Fredericton, April 24.—Mr. Burchill, on the house resuming at 2:30 p.m., presented the petition of John A. Ross, Henry A. Lock and others, praying for the passage of amendments of the law relating to dog taxes. He said he recognized that it was too late in the session to secure the legislation asked for but he trusted the minister of agriculture would, during recess, give the matter consideration and endeavor to get the wishes of the petitioner.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale suggested that the clerk forward the petition to the department of agriculture for consideration. Several bills were read a third time and passed.

Hon. the Lieutenant-Governor entered the chamber at this stage and, after assenting to the list of acts passed, was

Canada and Armenia.

San Remo, April 25.—(Associated Press)—Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, said on Saturday that it was an entire mistake to attribute to him any utterance respecting Canada taking over the mandate for Armenia. The Canadian government, so far as was aware, had neither requested the mandate nor been asked if they were willing to accept it.

Private persons, added Earl Curzon, may have suggested casually that Canada might take the mandate, and among those persons may have been some Canadians.

OVERALL CLUBS AS CLUBS OVER ALL

(Christian Science Monitor, Boston.)

Overall clubs are appealing to the American sense of humor. They were bound to. And as the prices for tailors' goods are ready-to-wear clothing reach even far beyond all ordinary reach, even for fairly well-to-do people, there is nothing surprising in the rapid spread of the movement toward the adoption of blue denim as wearing apparel, with a view to force the cloth trade to readjust their notions of what the public should be asked to pay for ordinary clothes. Starting in the south, in Florida and Georgia, overall clubs have become popular throughout all the surrounding region. They have spread to the southwest, to Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. Even Missouri, Kansas, and more northerly states have taken them up. Thus the movement amounts to a broadly organized effort to shut off demand for new clothing as a means for forcing down the price.

Probably it will have some effect. Certainly it has already had the effect of rousing up the price of overalls and blue denim. There is a possibility, of course, that the sudden wide-sweeping demand for this sort of goods will stimulate those who deal in them to the usual effort, of traders in a necessary commodity, to control the supply and hike the price. Overall club members will in that event speedily come to realize that overalls are not absolutely necessary to membership. Other kinds of work clothes are obtainable, and there are enough of them, and they are cheap enough, it seems, to keep the campaign of protest going. If the campaigners do not weaken, if there is enough momentum in the movement, its effect can be of course nothing less, in the long run, than to bring the prices of regular clothes down where ordinary people can afford to pay for them.

Every body seems to be pretty well interested in the matter of the clubs and the old clothes clubs really get anywhere in this matter. If they do, they will have made the middle-class people in the United States have yet made through their own class to their own accord. And if middle-class people have at last been stirred sufficiently so that they are doing something in their own behalf, not merely complaining to one another that they are doing nothing, but actually doing something, it is a very interesting result. One result, at any rate, seems likely to be a more or less definite discouragement to extravagance or carelessness in all kinds of buying. We have about worked through the stage where the ability of the newly-rich to pay anything at all for what they take a notion to buy can be put into a more serious light.

It is well entered upon the stage where the inability of the newly-poor to pay for what they want may have its effect continue to live and take proper care of themselves and their families will exert a broader effect upon the prices which all of us are asked to pay. The great game of "in going to get mine when the getting is good" has run its course, for the present. Its culmination can be brought about rather swiftly if the mass body of middle-class Americans can only bring themselves, wholeheartedly, to play the game of the overall club.

Declaring that proof of profiteering was in the margin of profit, the senator said that in one year alone during the war the gross income of American corporations rose from thirty-five billions to eighty-eight and one-half billions. FOR ONE OF YOUR YEARS.

(Thos. F. Porter of Lynn, in Boston Globe.)

A mother who thought it would do her boy good, sent him out in the yard to chop up some wood. The sticks were not such as his father admired, but crooked and icy. The boy became tired, and when he returned with his feet and hands chilled, the basket he carried was only half filled. But she did not greet him with frowns nor with sneers, she said: "Son, you do well for one of your years."

When the glad season came to school he should go. As oft was the case, through the sleet and the snow, because where he lived in a far northern clime, no sessions were held in the mild summer time. And he returned home with a sigh in his breast. That he did not rank quite as well as the rest, his mother never scolded, nor boxed her son's ears. But just said: "You do well for one of your years."

When later he started out into the world, his living to make, and about was oft hard, as has been the case with some boys in their day, ere sure of their footing on Life's great highway. When he was discouraged about his success, she always was ready to comfort and bless. And, as they commingled their smiles and their tears, she would say: "You do well for one of your years."

In time he to honor and influence grew, the completeness of which she never quite knew. For, when ripe in service, she passed to that shore where struggles and rivalry are known as more; but he always recalls when he visits her grave. 'Twas always her prayer he be honest and brave. God bless the fond mother who comforts and cheers. Her son with: "You do well for one of your years."

"The Right To Lie"

A Stupendous Story of Heartaches, Tears and Pathos, Yet Told in a Delightful Manner.

THE BIG CLIMAX OF THE PICTURE—

BRAVELY FACING THE JUDGE AND JURY, Carlotta Austin swore to her own infidelity—swore that she had "carried on" with Crosby Dana after her marriage to Curtis Austin, and with John Drake before that time.

LIES, LIES, LIES!—All of her statements were lies.

FOR CARLOTTA'S entire life had been as pure as the driven snow.

BUT HER HUSBAND'S LIFE was at stake! He was on trial for murder, for the killing of Crosby Dana, the sneaking "Tame-Cat," who had sought to compromise his devoted wife.

SO CARLOTTA bravely branded herself as an unfaithful wife and a loose woman, believing that the "Unwritten Law" would free the beloved husband whom she worshipped.

THE MEN WHO FAIL

Judge Elbert H. Gary said at a dinner in New York:

"If a man wants to succeed, if he works hard to succeed, he will succeed. Show me a failure, and I'll show you Jeff Langhorne, or at least Jeff Langhorne's counterpart."

"Jeff lounged in front of the general store one fine morning, whittling a stick, chewing tobacco, and growling about the hard times."

"Hain't no money in farmin' no more," he said. "Guess I'll hev 'er sell out and go live on my son-in-law."

"No money in farmin'," shouted the storekeeper indignantly. "No money in farmin' with wheat at the price it is and the whole world clamorin' for bread!"

"Nothin' doin'," said Jeff Langhorne. "Nothin' doin' in my case so far as wheat goes."

"Why not? Ain't ye got the land?"

"Ohy, yes, I got the land, all right."

"Ain't ye got the seed?"

"Yes, I got the seed; but—"

"But what?" yelled the storekeeper. "Jeff Langhorne shook his head mournfully."

"My old woman," he said, "is too lazy to do the ployin' and sowin'."

SIDELIGHTS ON THE WASHINGTON PICKETING DAYS

Scenes Not Without Humor—Robert Emmet Doyle, Police Captain, Who Engineered Arrests.

Washington, April 21—Political picketing, often of the peaceful sort, and more often with militant accompaniments, was running epidemic in Washington for a time and the thousands of tourists who make the national capital their Mecca all year round saw bands of women slowly parading about the streets bearing banners with a wide variety of inscriptions. Seemingly, every cause which wishes to impress its demands, arguments or protests on "the powers that be" ultimately adopts the picketing system which was first introduced in the capital by a branch of the women suffrageists about ten years ago. The latest to adopt the method are women espousing the cause of Irish freedom and there have directed their protests against the British embassy. Their campaign has caused somewhat of a stir because it is not without its international aspects. The British embassy, for instance, is foreign territory; whether the sidewalk in front of it is American territory, no one has essayed to decide. Moreover, there is a federal law which penalizes any person who "assaults" a diplomatic representative of a friendly power. Whether the picketing of the embassy is an annoyance to the British diplomats, and whether an annoyance is an assault within the technical meaning of the law is an additional question. Then there is involved the question of preserving the public peace, for disturbances often grow out of the picketing. Often, some woman passively expresses her disagreement with the banner the pickets bear by ripping them to bits and the pedestrian and the picket have a scuffle, with sometimes regular old-fashioned hair pulling. The police patrol clings up, both parties to the quarrel are hustled off to station house. Relief pickets immediately arrive. The police court gets another case. The personnel of the picketing forces furnishes an interesting study in human nature. They are women apparently from all walks of life. Many bear evidences of breeding, education and social position. Others are women who appear to be of the opposite types. Every picketing campaign brings out new charges that many pickets are "hired" for the work by others who are willing to provide substitutes and do not wish to picket in the streets in all sorts of weather. The suffrage pickets who made a record for getting arrested, jamming the police court docket and finally having a hunger strike, patterned after their British sisters, were composed apparently of women of all classes. Many whose names are nationally known did picket duty, spent nights in a police station cell and finally did time in the workhouse. Some of them, if the truth were known, were freed by husbands who disappeared of their actions. There was more than one case of a husband promising the authorities he would undertake the responsibility of making his wife "be good," and more cases of stormy scenes at the workhouse when the husband arrived to take the wife home over her protest. With the adoption by congress of the resolution for the woman's suffrage amendment to the constitution, the suffragists laid off, but they had fired an example in a local association of negroes who were demanding the dismissal of a man of their race from the local school administration. So the negro women in emulation picketed the streets surrounding the school administration buildings bearing banners. Their picketing, however, was intermittent, and the negro educator to whom they objected still holds his job. British humor all but broke up the picketing of the British embassy, with its possibilities of disagreeable incidents of an international flavor, when on the first day the embassy officials sent out and invited the pickets in to afternoon tea. It probably was a temptation for a cold raw wind was sweeping the city, but the leaders pulled stern faces and declined the invitation. The embassy is in Connecticut avenue in the heart of the downtown business and residence district, not far from DuPont circle. The neighborhood might be compared to Fifth avenue in New York in the fifties. Thousands of shoppers, tourists and government clerks and officials on their way to office pass by and for days there was always a small crowd watching the pickets and hoping for a scrimmage. The old and deserted Austrian embassy, once the scene of social gaieties in the prosperous days of the Hapsburgs, stands grim, silent and dusty just across the street. Nobody knows who owns it now; it is a highly valuable piece of property gone begging. Not far away is the house James G. Blaine occupied while secretary of state. Dolly Madison's house is not far off in another direction. Practically every building in the vicinity has housed some notable at some time or other and the neighborhood is a playground for the sightseeing wagons. The pro-Irish pickets selected a battleground where there will be plenty of onlookers. The first arrests of the Irish picketers were not unaccompanied by elements of humor. The police captain who took them in was Robert Emmet Doyle, rosy-cheeked and blue-eyed, who possibly decay he was a son of Erin. The whole proceeding was conducted in the height of courtesy and polite formality. There was no "come along, you're pinched." Instead, Captain Doyle raised his cap, and with an engaging smile said, "Ladies, these are policemen who will place you under arrest." Then the men stepped back and the women did the job.

SMOKE OF PIPE OF PEACE AGAIN TO SCENT THE AIR

Romance of Wilderness Days Renewed at Hudson's Bay Company Celebration.

Winnipeg, April 21—With Indian fur brigades and York boats loaded with peltries on Red river, council fires burning at Lower Fort Garry and the smoke of the peace pipe scenting the air, the romance of wilderness days will live again at the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company which will be inaugurated in Winnipeg May 3. Sir Robert Kindersley, G. B. E., latest of the distinguished line of Hudson's Bay Company governors that began with Prince Rupert, valiant champion of the House of Stuart in the Cromwellian wars, will come from England and take part in the river pageant and in the subsequent street pageants which will be held successively in Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria. The Red river pageant, which promises to be one of the most interesting historical spectacles ever staged in Canada, will start from the site of old Fort Garry, early capital of the company's once vast empire and about which Winnipeg grew, and pass down stream eighteen miles to Lower Fort Garry. Picked out in bravery of paint, feathers and beaded buckskin, Indians from a dozen tribes will man York boats and canoes in for brigade formation. To do honor to the company to which their ancestors paid loyal allegiance, Crees will come from the shores of Hudson Bay; Swampy Crees from James Bay; Ojibways from the Lake Superior fur country; Plain Crees from northern Saskatchewan; Blackfeet, Piegans and Assiniboines from the prairies and the Athabasca and British Columbia. A flotilla of freight boats piled high with bales of furs will trail in the wake of the York boats in charge of factors and trappers in pioneer costumes. As it glides in long procession through a countryside famous in Hudson's Bay traditions, past the site of old Fort Douglas, the scenes of Lord Selkirk's Red River settlements and the battlefield of Seven Oaks where Governor Semple and twenty men fell in conflict with their rivals of the Northwest Company, the pageant will seem to sail out of the past of 250 years ago. When it reaches Lower Fort Garry, whose stone buildings and battlemented stone walls still preserve the picturesqueness of early days, two ancient brass cannons at the gate will boom a salute from their rusty throats. Within the walls of the old stronghold where the first treaty, was signed between Canada and the western Indians in 1871, Governor Kindersley will seal anew the ancient friendship between the redmen and the company by smoking the calumet of peace. The pipe, specially designed for the occasion, will bear carved upon its stem the totems of all the tribes and will be presented to the governor as a souvenir. Sir Robert will confer upon each of the braves a medal struck in honor of the anniversary and at a council at which the Indians which squat upon the ground in a wide semicircle will reply to orating by the sachems and chieftains. After the speeches, the Indians will present a wampum belt to the governor in ratification of their pledges of fealty, and will partake of an old-fashioned feast. Street pageants will celebrate the company's birthday in Edmonton from May 6 to 8; in Calgary from May 11 to 13; in Vancouver from May 17 to 19; and in Victoria from May 21 to 24. Symbolic floats and tableaux, interspersed with Indians, trappers and dog teams, will picture the company's pioneer achievements while dominion, provincial and city officials, clubs, societies and civic bodies will swell the parades. During the pageants it is expected the five cities concerned will declare holidays.

BACK TO THE FARM

Betty and Billy Couldn't See the Point in Night Alarms.

Clinton, Mass., April 24—"Betty" and "Billy" have gone back to the farm, and Clinton's fire department has returned to its motorized efficiency. An upstanding pair of browns, the horses were the pride of the fire fighters until they became the cause of their disgrace. Sleek and fat from a farm in an adjoining town, they were obtained to pull the town's old fire engine while the new motor apparatus was being repaired. The browns swept out of the engine house to their first fire in a manner to make old firemen speak with happy reminiscence of the horse-drawn days. Then came a night alarm. Back on the farm, "Betty" and "Billy" had been accustomed not to stir from sundown to sunrise, and no din of fire-gong or siren by anxious firemen would move them to answer the alarm. All the fire department's split-second aids to a quick start were lost on the browns. They refused to budge, the firemen had to go to the blaze with chemical lines, and the town folks laughed. The firemen vowed the thing would not happen again, and the horses were put through a stiff training. They went to the day fire with spirit, and the fire crew hoped they understood. But another night alarm came, and again "Betty" and "Billy" went back to the farm. The firemen vowed the thing would not happen again, and the horses were put through a stiff training.
