DALHOUSIE NEWS

Rev Father Boucher has returned from Rome

MAY BE A COAL PORT

Dominion Coal Company May Use Port to land coal for Shipment

Dalhousie, N. B., March 5.—Sunday's easterly storm was the heaviest of the season. About fifteen inches of snow fell between Saturday and Sunday. The Dalhousie branch train failed to connect with all passenger trains today and persons bound east took a special at 12 o'clock.

It is generally understood that F. F. Matheson, police magistrate of Campbellton, will be the choice of a convention of friends of the local government as a candidate to fill the seat left vacant by the appointment of Judge McLatchey. The Restigouche county council at its recent session passed a resolution in favour of amending the peddlers act. It is completed that non-resident peddlers are doing great injury to the country merchants. What is required is some legislation that will prevent the large departmental stores of Toronto and Montreal from shipping so much goods to the farmers when they can purchase these goods at as low prices from merchants here who pay taxes and subscribe to all progressive movements. Mrs. Peter Freshman, wife of the station master, met with an accident on Saturday from which she will be laid up for some time.

Rev. A. A. Boucher returned on Saturday from a four months trip to Italy, Spain, France and England. He was met at the station by a large number of his parishioners. On Sunday in speaking to his people about his trip he said that he was proud to be a B. H. subject. During Father Boucher's absence the R. C. congregation of Dalhousie was in charge of Rev. Father Brand, of Rogersville, and before his departure he was presented with addresses in English and French accompanied with a well filled purse.

Work is progressing well at the new wharf here. Warren Taylor, of Salisbury, the sub-contractor, has fifty men at work and twenty teams hauling stone. When finished the wharf will be 300 feet long and it is said that in view of the new harbor accommodation the Dominion Coal Coal may land a large quantity of coal at Dalhousie in future.

At the annual meeting of the Interprovincial Navigation Company recently a dividend of six per cent was declared on last year's business. This dividend was in addition to $5,400 which was placed to the depreciation fund. The following officers were appointed for the present year: President, David Richards; vice-president, Wm. Glover; secretary, F. Blair; directors, Joseph Boudreau, John F. Gué, Thomas Enright, J. X. Lavoie, C. S. Lehoullier; auditor, E. P. Lemarquant; managers, D. E. Richards and F. S. Blair.

The annual meeting of the Restigouche Woodworking Company was held last week at Dalhousie. The financial showing for the first year's business was found satisfactory. The following board of directors were re-elected for the present year: W. S. Montgomery, Geo. E. Mercer, R. Y. Blackhall, David Richards, A. I. LeBlanc. At a meeting of the directors the following officers were re-appointed: President, W. S. Montgomery; vice-president, Geo. E. Mercer; secretary-treasurer, R. Y. Blackhall.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE

Interesting Discussion on Sale of Crown Lands.

SPEECH BY MR. KELLY.

Wants Government to Make it Compulsory for Lessees to Work Limits.

QUEBEC, Mar 6.—At yesterday evening's sitting of the House, a number of bills were disposed of, while others were dropped from the order paper. A slight discussion on Mr. Caron's (l'Islet) motion for all documents in relation to the sale of timber limits in this province, and in which Hon. Mr. Turgeon and Messrs. Tellier and Kelly took part, the motion being finally adopted.

Hon. Mr. Turgeon in reply to Mr. Caron remarked that the question raised by the member for l'Islet was a most important one, and that there were certain parties in this province who appeared to look at our policy with uneasiness and alarm. The law which has been criticised in certain quarters is not a Liberal law, but introduced into the provincial laws by the Conservatives, at the request of the Liberal minority from 1868 to 1872. All precautions had been taken to prevent favoritism which had existed in the past. Sales of timber limits were always sufficiently advertised, although some found fault with the Government because they only gave from thirty to sixty days' notice before the sale, which would be purchasers claimed was not sufficient to examine the limits. Out of the ten thousand miles to be sold in June next, almost eight thousand miles were advertised last year. These sales had always been held by Conservatives as well as Liberals, and since 1897 he claimed that the Government had administered without extravagance and these sales were necessary by the exigencies of public service, and it was a well-known fact that the produce of such sales enabled them to meet the expenditure, otherwise direct taxation would have to be resorted to.

The water powers of this province were very numerous and of great capacity, and to operate these powers it was necessary to have the material furnished by the timber limits. In conclusion Hon. Mr. Turgeon remarked that the best way to protect these limits was the sale or lease of them to parties who had every interest in protecting them.

Mr. Kelly member for Bonaventure, followed the Honorable Minister of Crown Lands. He acknowledged that the present situation was a very delicate one and that the question of our timber lands was one of the very greatest importance. However, he could not but call the attention of the members of the House to a state of affairs that existed to-day in the County of Bonaventure. Some thirty or forty years ago the Government of the time decided to sell our timber lands and one day over five hundred square miles of the finest timber lands in the County of Bonaventure, in fact, in the Province of Quebec, were sold for the paltry sum of three thousand and five hundred dollars. Since then the limit-holders have not worked this limit, but have held it on mere speculation and to-day they are asking for them the sum of half a million dollars. It is true that the Government receives a certain revenue per mile for ground rent. But while the limit-holder is paying his ground rent in many cases his limit is increasing in value by leaps and bounds. Now, would it not be possible, and is it not just, that the Government of the province, whose capital is thus

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE

A Scheme for Gulf Service Under Consideration

BY I. N. COMPANY.

Two Steamers to be Put on Route Between Montreal and Pictou.

A large steamship company acting in conjunction with the Interprovincial Navigation Company, propose starting a line of steamers to run between Montreal and Pictou calling at all gulf ports, if the usual arrangements can be made with the different ports in the way of wharfage and pilotage concessions.

This line will connect with the Lady Eileen at Gaspé.

The steamers that will likely be put on the route will be two twin screw boats of 1500 tons gross; having a speed of 16 knots, with 1000 tons freight room and accommodation for 300 passengers, and up-to-date service in every way given.

Further particulars of this scheme will perhaps be published next week, and in the meantime we hope the undertaking will be successfully carried through.

handed over to the limit-holders, that the Government I say should receive some profit from the additional value that is given to these limits yearly. If the demands of trade require that large tracts of public lands should thus be sold, would it not be possible to insert some clause in the law by which the purchaser would be compelled to work his limit. In Newfoundland and in other places the laws require that the limit-holder who purchases a limit from the Crown, that he should each year work a certain part of it in proportion to the number of square miles that he owns. If such a clause were provided in the law it would be a protection against speculators who buy up these large tracts of wood land not for the object of commerce, but for mere speculation. Formerly in our province, the law provided that the limit-holder would be obliged to pay so much ground rent the first year. The second year he would be obliged to pay the double if the limit was not worked, and the third year triple and so on. The result was that in the third year that this law was in force the producing power of our province was far over the demand of the consumer, and thousands, nay millions, of the lumber cut remained on the hands of the owners, a complete loss to them. I mention this fact to show how delicate a question this is and that the present Government in studying this national question may benefit of the experience of the past. As we are today we are either obliged to sell our limits or tax our

The score was 10-8.

NEW I. C. R. WORKS

Will Give Better Facilities For Handling Business

SAYS MREMMERSON

Fire not Such a Terrible Disaster as was at First Supposed

MONTREAL, March 2.—"Considerably over a million dollars will be spent by the Government in rebuilding the Intercolonial Railway shops at Moncton. There is not the slightest question about rebuilding at Moncton, and never was; it is much the best site for such works, centrally located and in every way convenient. And in rebuilding the shops will be put up on a much improved and extended scale." So said Hon. Henry R. Emmerson to the Montreal Herald representative on his return from the scene of the recent conflagration. The minister was accompanied by his deputy, Mr. M. J. Butler, and his secretary, Mr. J. L. Payne. "As a matter of fact," said Hon. Mr. Emmerson, "the fire was not nearly so terrible a disaster as might be supposed. The loss, of course, was very heavy, but our worst loss was in the rolling stock. The sheds and shops were all of a very antiquated pattern, many of them were erected in the early seventies, and were by no means suited to the requirements of present-day railway work. In any event a general overhauling and rebuilding was needed within the near future, and this fire has simply precipitated matters in that regard. Other railways have pulled down their old shops and built new ones to meet the development of railway work; the Intercolonial had always deferred this work, which was growing daily more necessary."

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto

"This was rendered the more needful by the fact that the G. T. P. will use the I. C. R. from Moncton to Halifax and St. John, and this will, of course, make very heavy additional demands upon the Moncton repair shops."

NEW SHOPS OF CONCRETE

"The new shops will be built of reinforced concrete and steel, and will be practically fireproof. Tenders will be called for at once, and the work will be rushed during the summer. In the meantime enough of the engine and machine shops are left to carry on the necessary repairs for the I. C. R. without much inconvenience."

"Our worst loss is in rolling stock. Several very valuable official cars, a number of diners and sleepers, and a great number of freight cars were destroyed. This last is an especially severe loss, and will considerably handicap the I. C. R. It will probably take a year to replace these destroyed cars and equip the road to properly take care of its growing traffic."

"In the meantime the men will be kept busy, either in the shops that are left, or clearing up the burned up stuff. Many of these sheds were of wood, and not worth much, but a great deal of valuable machinery was destroyed. This, however, will be replaced by more modern machines, as well as shops. Temporary shops are now being built to carry on the necessary work."

As to the cause of the fire, Mr. Emmerson said "this was not absolutely known but it was probably caused by spontaneous combustion, as the punch record clock showed that the watchman had inspected the place where the fire broke out a few minutes before the event."

"Will there be any enlargement of the works?" was asked.

"Yes," said Mr. Emmerson, "having regard to future necessities of the I. C. R., and the fact that the G. T. P. will use our road between Moncton and Halifax and St. John. This will mean a considerable increase in the plant."

"As to the insurance, none of the Government property is insured, except that of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, which must be insured because of the interest of the Grand Trunk. Really the Government has saved money by not insuring, because the annual premiums on the I. C. R. property would be immense, and these during the last thirty-six years would have covered the loss we suffered a many times over."

TALK OF SALE IS NONSENSE "All this about selling the I. C. R. is nonsense," said Mr. Emmerson. "We have a splendid and increasingly valuable property, and I am confident that it will not be long before the I. C. R. is a source of profit instead of deficits, especially after the G. T. P. comes into operation and uses part of the line."

After dealing with the situation at Moncton, Hon. Mr. Emmerson went to St. John, where he discussed with the local business interests the plans for improving the harbor to meet the demands of the new huge C. P. R. and Allan line steamers. This, of course, involved the question of the nationalization of such ports as Montreal, St. John, Quebec, Halifax and various lake ports, as recommended by the Transportation Commission.

"But there is a movement on foot to improve St. John Harbor at once," said Mr. Emmerson, "and it is important that this should be done at once, if Canada's trade is to be handled through Canadian ports."

"This question of the nationalization of certain ports will be considered by the Government in a very short time, and will probably be settled before the Government decides how far it will assist in the work at St. John, but when so much money is spent in Montreal and Quebec, it is inevitable, that aid must be given St. John also in the interests of the national trade. In St. John most of the business men were anxious for the nationalization of the port."

"And do you think this nationalization of the ports will be accepted by the Government?"

"Well, it was most strongly urged by the Transportation Commission. It is simply now a question as to how far the Government can go in this regard—it is not a sectional, but a national question, and will be dealt with by the government as such."

LIQUOR LICENSE ACT

Express Companies Stopped From Carrying C O D Packages

In the legislature last Wednesday Hon. Mr. Tweedie introduced a bill in further amendment of the liquor license act. He said this bill was the result of a conference between the government and the delegation of the temperance men. The attention of the government has been called by them to the fact that the express companies have been carrying liquors c. o. d. into Scott act counties where cases were opened and bottles taken out, thus practically making them vendors. The government has been asked to deal with this matter and it has been done so in this bill.

The first section declares that it shall be unlawful for any person holding either a wholesale or retail license to send liquor to any person in the county, city or town in which the Canada Temperance Act is in force or into any locality where the sale of liquor is prohibited where such licensed person has reason to believe that the person to whom the liquor is sent is engaged in the sale of liquor and upon the board of license commissioners being satisfied that the sale has been committed the license of the person so offending shall be cancelled.

The second section provides that it shall be unlawful for any person holding a license to send liquor through the agency of an express company for any person in the county, city or town in which the Canada Temperance Act is in force or where the sale of liquor is prohibited to be paid for on delivery and on any license so offending his license shall be cancelled.

The third section provides an additional penalty of not less than $40 or more than $100 against any person guilty of an offence under the preceding and a similar penalty against the manager or agent of any express company carrying liquor to be paid for on delivery into any county in which the Canada Temperance Act is in force.

This bill seems to meet the views that have presented to us by the temperance people. I furnished A. A. Stockton, their legal adviser, with a copy of the bill and he has written to me to express his satisfaction with it and has made some suggestions which will be considered when the bill is in committee.

With regard to the attitude of the government on the temperance question there should be no doubt, yet I see a report in the papers that a clergyman recently in a public address stated that the government was standing in with the liquor men and that the premier was working hand in hand with them. Now the members of the house know that this statement is wholly unwarranted. Wherever it has been shown to this government that any parish or district in a county, not under the Canada Temperance Act, was ready for prohibition, we have given it to them and Beresford and some other parishes have taken advantage of this enactment.

Some three or four years ago a large delegation came to us with a petition said to be signed by 10,000 persons and asked us for a general prohibitory law. This was during the meeting of the legislature. We pointed out to them that the time was inappropriate as the house was in session and there was no opportunity of giving due consideration to the question, but that when the session was over we would deal with it. We did deal with it and declined to pass prohibition, because we felt that in a province where nine counties were under the Canada Temperance Act, and that act was not preventing the sale of liquor, a general liquor law would not be likely to be effective.

The government are desirous of placing this province on the highest moral plane and while it is easy to say that such an act should be passed, we must deal with the question of this kind in a logical way. Our experience is that while the Canada Temperance Act prevents the sale of liquor in the country districts, it is not a success in cities and towns. We cannot shut our eyes to this fact and are not to be driven into a position which is illogical and from which no good can result. The government is not working with any party in this question and if we should pass a prohibitory liquor law it will only be when there is some hope of its success.

OUR COUNTRY'S FLAG

Toronto, February 17th, 1906

To the Editor:

Sir.—Believing that the press will be the most effective means of accomplishing what our Association aims at, I desire to direct your attention to the following resolution passed at the recent Annual Meeting of the Veterans of 1868 Association:

The flag of our country being the emblem of Britain's might and glory, it ought, whenever and wherever displayed, to invoke feelings of patriotic pride in every subject, but this Association views with regret the prevalent and increasing custom of making it the medium of calling attention to auction sales and otherwise using it for advertising purposes denigrating the flag and taking from it the respect with which it ought to be viewed. Resolved, therefore, that the President appoint a committee to act with kindred Associations or otherwise in endeavoring to secure a discontinuance of the practice of using the British or Canadian flags for such purposes.

If you sympathize with our object will you, through your paper, urge the discontinuance of this practice, now thoughtlessly indulged in? If the press generally would take the matter up we would soon have such a public sentiment of respect for the flag that it would no longer be put to the indignity of calling attention to the sale of some poor man's furniture or his cow.

Walter H. Blight, Chairman D. Creighton, Sec. of Committee

declined to pass prohibition, because we felt that in a province where nine counties were under the Canada Temperance Act, and that act was not preventing the sale of liquor, a general liquor law would not be likely to be effective.

The government are desirous of placing this province on the highest moral plane and while it is easy to say that such an act should be passed, we must deal with the question of this kind in a logical way. ## KILLED NEAR MONCTON.

As the Maritime Express, an hour behind time, dashed along toward Moncton this morning, at the rate of forty miles an hour, or thereabouts, tearing along over the straight run about a mile and a half east of Canaan, some of the passengers noticed the form of a man hurled through the air, crash into the snow, and rolling away, lie still, in a huddled heap a few yards from the track. As quickly as possible the train was brought to a standstill, while willing hands carried the terribly injured man, found to be Mr. William Gardiner, a passenger enroute with his family from Denver, Col., to his former home in Moncton, into the baggage car. On arrival at Moncton he was taken to the General Hospital, but his fearful injuries resulted in death twenty minutes after his arrival there.

The cause of the fall from the train can only be surmised. The unfortunate man never regained consciousness after his terrible fall and perhaps the cause will never be known.

Mr. Gardiner was accompanied by his wife, a daughter of the late John Crue, Robinson street, and as the train left Canaan, went out into the second class car to have a smoke. Mrs. Gardiner is so afflicted with the calamity that it is impossible to get any definite statement from her, but it is her opinion that the unfortunate man was seized with a fit of weakness or fainting, to which he was subject from early life, and going out to get fresh air on the platform, had fallen to his death.

Mrs. Gardiner was one of the numerous passengers who saw the man fall; the trainmen were instantly notified and before going scarcely any distance, the train had been brought to a standstill; then it was backed up and taken to the spot where Mr. Gardiner lay. He was taken into the baggage car where a stretcher was made, and covered with blankets, the injured man was laid therein, and covered with blankets, being made as comfortably as possible by the trainmen. He was alive at that time, but unconscious, while his breathing was heavy and labored. On the arrival of the train at Moncton, Dr. C. T. Purdy was summoned, and quickly realizing the man's serious condition, ordered him to be immediately taken to the hospital. This was done, the ambulance being quickly on hand, but twenty minutes after arrival at the hospital Mr. Gardiner died.

Many elder Monctonians will remember the deceased, who was formerly a brakeman on the I. C. R., and a resident on Upper Robinson St., near Union, where he lived for several years. He was a most estimable man and was about fifty years of age. He left Moncton some twelve years ago, removing to P. E. Island, his native home, and purchasing a farm at Albany, he located there. Up to some three months ago he lived at Albany, and then decided to remove to the Western States, having a brother located at Denver, Col. He found, however, that the Colorado climate did not agree with his health, so he decided to return, and it was on the journey home, just as he was within a few miles of his destination, that he met with the accident which cost him his life.

The deceased was about fifty years of age, and is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Crue, of this city, and four children. The children are John, of this city, of the I. C. R. mechanical office, George a younger son, who lives with his parents, and Misses Effie and Eva, two young daughters. The latter three were on the train at the time of the accident.

Dr. Myers, who attended the injured man at the hospital, said that the injury which resulted in death was caused by the man fall-

NORWAY'S FISHING FLEET LOST!

Only 60 of 300 Boats Have Returned to Port.

Christiana, Norway, March 3.—(Special)—Several steamers have been dispatched to the Gjaesel and Ingerna Islands from Trondhjem to the assistance of the fishing fleet which met with disaster in a violent storm which recently raged over the island. Only 60 of 300 boats which recently went out fishing have returned and vessels which have arrived at Trondhjem reported that large numbers of the fleet have been seen floating keel upwards. The crews of the boats composing the fleet numbered from twelve to fourteen hundred men.

KILLED NEAR MONCTON.

As the Maritime Express, an hour behind time, dashed along toward Moncton this morning, at the rate of forty miles an hour, or thereabouts, tearing along over the straight run about a mile and a half east of Canaan, some of the passengers noticed the form of a man hurled through the air, crash into the snow, and rolling away, lie still, in a huddled heap a few yards from the track. As quickly as possible the train was brought to a standstill, while willing hands carried the terribly injured man, found to be Mr. William Gardiner, a passenger enroute with his family from Denver, Col., to his former home in Moncton, into the baggage car. On arrival at Moncton he was taken to the General Hospital, but his fearful injuries resulted in death twenty minutes after his arrival there.

The cause of the fall from the train can only be surmised. The unfortunate man never regained consciousness after his terrible fall and perhaps the cause will never be known.

Mr. Gardiner was accompanied by his wife, a daughter of the late John Crue, Robinson street, and as the train left Canaan, went out into the second class car to have a smoke. Mrs. Gardiner is so afflicted with the calamity that it is impossible to get any definite statement from her, but it is her opinion that the unfortunate man was seized with a fit of weakness or fainting, to which he was subject from early life, and going out to get fresh air on the platform, had fallen to his death.

Mrs. Gardiner was one of the numerous passengers who saw the man fall; the trainmen were instantly notified and before going scarcely any distance, the train had been brought to a standstill; then it was backed up and taken to the spot where Mr. Gardiner lay. He was taken into the baggage car where a stretcher was made, and covered with blankets, the injured man was laid therein, and covered with blankets, being made as comfortably as possible by the trainmen. He was alive at that time, but unconscious, while his breathing was heavy and labored. On the arrival of the train at Moncton, Dr. C. T. Purdy was summoned, and quickly realizing the man's serious condition, ordered him to be immediately taken to the hospital. This was done, the ambulance being quickly on hand, but twenty minutes after arrival at the hospital Mr. Gardiner died.

Many elder Monctonians will remember the deceased, who was formerly a brakeman on the I. C. R., and a resident on Upper Robinson St., near Union, where he lived for several years. He was a most estimable man and was about fifty years of age. He left Moncton some twelve years ago, removing to P. E. Island, his native home, and purchasing a farm at Albany, he located there. Up to some three months ago he lived at Albany, and then decided to remove to the Western States, having a brother located at Denver, Col. He found, however, that the Colorado climate did not agree with his health, so he decided to return, and it was on the journey home, just as he was within a few miles of his destination, that he met with the accident which cost him his life.

The deceased was about fifty years of age, and is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Crue, of this city, and four children. The children are John, of this city, of the I. C. R. mechanical office, George a younger son, who lives with his parents, and Misses Effie and Eva, two young daughters. The latter three were on the train at the time of the accident.

Dr. Myers, who attended the injured man at the hospital, said that the injury which resulted in death was caused by the man fall-

SUFFERING WOMEN

who find life a burden, can have health and strength restored by the use of

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

The present generation of women and girls have more than their share of misery. With some it is nervousness and palpitation, with others weak, dizzy and fainting spells, while others there is a general collapse of the system.
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills tone up the nerves, strengthen the heart and make it beat strong and regular, create new red blood corpuscles, and impart that sense of buoyancy to the spirits that is the result of renewed mental and physical vigor.

Mrs. D. O. Donohue, Orillia, Ont., writes:
"For over a year I was troubled with nervousness and heart trouble. I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and after using five boxes I found I was completely cured.
I always recommend them to my friends."

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits.
To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health.
Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.
Be sure that this picture is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

INVESTIGATION INSURANCE

Hon. Mr. Fielding Makes a Statement Regarding the Matter

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Hon. Mr. Fielding has issued a statement in which he says that the commission appointed on Monday will inquire into "Insurance affairs." Seemingly this will comprise every branch of insurance business. It has been assumed in some quarters that the Superintendent of Insurance, Mr. Fitzgerald, will be a member of the commission. The Minister of Finance, however, thinks it is best that the constitution of the commission should be entirely independent of insurance department. The services of Mr. Fitzgerald and his staff, of course, will be at the disposal of the commission whenever required. The commission are also empowered to employ expert assistance whenever in their opinion such will be necessary. The secretary of the commission is Henry T. Ross, of Bridgewater, N. S., a leading member of the Nova Scotia bar.

CYCLONE STRIKES A MISSISSIPPI TOWN

Mobile, Ala., March 2.—A long distant telephone message from Meridian Miss., says a cyclone accompanied by heavy rains, struck that city this evening at 6.30. The storm centre was in the southern portion of the city. Nearly every building in the front street reported to have been demolished. The Armour Packing plant from which the message was received is the only building standing, and the roof of this is gone. Fire broke out in the ruins and despite the heavy rain the flames were burning fiercely when the report was made. A number of bodies are reported to be in the ruins and rescuers were working by candle light. It is thought that 150 bodies were in the wreckage.
Great damage was done to the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies wires. A conservative estimate places the number of buildings blown down as between 30 and 40. The cyclone passed over in about two minutes and the wind was 75 miles an hour.

Afflicted with Rheumatism

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Heron Advertiser, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able once more to attend business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords.
One application relieves the pain. For sale by all druggists.

WILL THERE BE WAR IN EUROPE

Paris, March 2.—The Journal today published the result of an investigation conducted by its correspondents along the German frontiers. The paper says the Germans do not desire war, but the German army is ready and its superior mobilization plans prepare to be in readiness to return to France at any time within forty-eight hours after the receipt of final instructions.
Their expenses on the return journey are guaranteed them. The notice is believed to be the result of the strained relations in European affairs.

LEBIG'S FITCURE

Twenty former South Africans sat

J. Ritchie responded to a toast; Lieut.
McLean responded to a toast to the Imperial Forces; Mr. Fred W. Coombs

N. B. TEMPERANCE FEDERATION

The New Brunswick Temperance Federation, which completed its provincial organization last week, is already preparing to establish branch federations in the various counties of the province as arranged by the constitution adopted at the last meeting. The counties of St. John, Kings, Queens, Albert and Westmorland are to be brought into line at once. It is proposed to hold a meeting in the Temperance Hall, Market Building, at 8 o'clock p. m., March 12th next, to start a branch federation for the county of St. John. To this meeting representatives from all the temperance societies in the county that are desirous of affiliating with the federation are invited. The constitution also provides for temperance men not associated with any society becoming members of the federation on subscribing to its platform.
In addition to the counties named above it is expected that Northumberland and Kent will also be organized almost immediately and that it will not be long before York, Carleton, Restigouche and Charlotte will have branch temperance federations. The organization is alive and its members mean that it shall be a power in the province.—Sun.

An American Disease.

Some doctors go so far as to say that indigestion is the national disease of America. There is but one national remedy for indigestion and that remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills which accelerate the action of the gastric glands and give tone to the digestive organs. They strengthen the kidneys and liver, cleanse and purify the blood and thus add general tone to every organ of the body.
Flesh and strength are fast restored and the patient can eat and digest any food he pleases. Test Dr. Hamilton's Pills yourself, —25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00 at all dealers.

KING EDWARD HAS A BUSY DAY IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Paris, March 4.—King Edward's visit to Paris is attracting great attention, enormous crowds cheering his every appearance on the streets today.
The cordiality of the greetings exchanged between the king and President Fallieres during his majesty's official call at the Elysee Palace was much remarked. The conversation between the two lasted half an hour.

Later the president returned the call at the British embassy, where a state dinner was held this evening, at which President Fallieres and Premier Rouvier with their wives were among the guests. There were no speeches during the dinner. Afterwards King Edward, President Fall-nearly an hour in the smoking room.

During the course of the day For-

British embassy. The king invited M. Loubet to dinner on Monday.
The Princess Beatrice and Ena of and Spain will occur there, at which official comment on the marriage of Princess Ena to King Alfonso will be given.

THIS PRETTY CANADIENNE

Saved From Terrible Kidney Disease
By "Fruit-a-tives."

MASSON, P.Q., Nov. 16th, 1904.
"I have much pleasure in reporting to you the great benefit I have received from taking 'Fruit-a-tives'—and I feel that I cannot say too much in favor of a medicine which has done me so much good. I was a martyr to that distressing complaint, chronic constipation accompanied with severe headaches, backache, sick stomach and all the symptoms of dyspepsia. I had also a dreadful complexion, sallow in the extreme and black under the eyes. I had every symptom of kidney irritation and I had been told by physicians that my kidneys were affected. I consulted a number of physicians and took various remedies but received very little benefit. Last May I was advised to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and when I began to take them I had little faith of getting anything to give me permanent relief, but after I had taken half a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' I began to feel better and before I had finished one box the constipation was relieved the headaches left me, the pain in my back was better and I could sleep as soundly as when I was a child. Also, my complexion began to clear up again, all the sallowness disappeared and the black circles under my eyes went away. The pain in the back gradually left me and all signs of kidney disease disappeared by the first of August after I had taken three boxes. Since then I have continued to improve and now I have none of my old symptoms and my appetite is good, digestion splendid and my complexion as clear as when I was a young girl. Also the constipation from which I had suffered so long has been entirely cured and it is not necessary for me to take the 'Fruit-a-tives' now as I am quite well in every way. I took no medicine but 'Fruit-a-tives' but I followed faithfully the directions as to diet etc., given in the pamphlet which accompanies each box of 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Every part of the body is constantly decaying and being renewed.
The dead cells, or tissue waste, should be removed by the skin, kidneys and bowels. When these organs do not act regularly, this poisonous matter stays in the system—is taken up by the blood—carried to heart, liver, stomach, brain and nerves all over the body —and poisons everything it touches.

"Fruit-a-tives" keep each organ clean and healthy. "Fruit-atives" act on the skin, stimulating the millions of minute glands and opening the pores so the waste can escape. They act on the liver sending more bile into the bowels and making the bowels move regularly and naturally every day. They act on the kidneys, strengthening and invigorating these organs and curing all kidney disorders.

DID THEY HANG INNOCENT MAN?

WINNIPEG, March 5.—The rumor comes from Calgary that "Vm. Hayward on charge of murdering whom Charles King was hanged in Edmonton last summer, has been recently seen alive in the northern wilds, where the tragedy was believed to have taken place. King was convicted on his second trial. The evidence, though strong and incriminating, was nearly all circumstantial. Few, however, put much credence in the rumor, which has become widespread.
The evidence was so strong that there could be only a slight possibility of such a terrible mistake occurring, although King died protesting he was innocent.

PATENT MEDICINES.

The Department of Inland Revenue upon examining into the ingredients of Patent Medicines and headache powders have laid bare some startling results. The re searches of the analysts have resulted in the discovery of a good deal of alcohol in the patent medicines and small quantities of powerful drugs in the headache remedies which seem all to be very much alike. The drugs used as the active principles in them are acetanilide, phenacetine and phenazone. Analyst McGill commenting upon them said in part "The habitual use of any substance so potent in its physiological effects as acetanilide must be attended with danger to the person who uses it."

The table of the samples analyzed shows that in one case Peruna went 4f. 85 and in another case 38.78 per cent of proof spirits. The percentage of spirit in other medicines is Ayer's Sarsaparilla 38.71, Dr. Madison's Peruvian Tonic, 25.18; Standard Sarsaparilla 31.07; Nyal's Celery Nervine, 25.01; Pain's Celery Compound, 32.19; Burdock Blood Bitters, 28.62 per cent proof spirits. With these figures before us it is plain that many of the so-called "Medicines" are no more "Medicines" than the Rye Whisky or Scotch Whisky of commerce, and certainly deserves the attention of the proper authorities. It would be a question as to whether they can be legally sold by druggists without a liquor license. There would appear to be little doubt but that it is covered by the Canada Temperance Act.—Ex.

A FISH CASE.

St. John Fish Dealers Charged with Selling Trout out of Season.

J. P. Quinn and Mr. Leonard, of the Leonard Fish Store, were charged this morning in the police court by Captain Pratt, with having trout in their possession during the period of time from October 1st to March 31st, which is in an offence against the fishery law. Captain Pratt was represented by E. H. McAlpine.

Mr. McAlpine read the law in the case, which stated that anyone having in his possession any kind of trout from October 1st to March 31st, inclusive, were liable to a penalty of $100, or in default of payment to a term of imprisonment not to exceed three months. He said, however, that both defendants were respectable citizens, and presumably did not realize that they were violating the law. Under such circumstances he was of the opinion that his honor might impose the nominal fine of $20, and allow it to stand against each one of them for his future compliance with the law.

Mr. Quinn explained that he had procured his trout last Christmas from Richard O'Leary, of Richibucto, and he did not know that it was violating the law by having them for sale.

Mr. Leonard said that his supply were procured from the W. S. Loggie Co., Ltd., of Chatham and twelve of the number were exhibited in court by Captain Pratt. The trout displayed were exceptionally small, not one of them being over three inches in length, and some of them about an inch and a half long.

Judge Ritchie said that complaints had been made to the fishery department about the people of Gloucester county catching trout by means of seines, and also for fishing out of season. If they continued to fish, his honor said that there would soon be no trout in the streams on the North Shore.

Mr. McAlpine stated that there were twelve trout presented by Captain Pratt that had been procured in the Leonard Fish Store, and as each fish could be made a separate offence, Mr. Leonard would be liable for $1,200. J. P. Quinn said he had procured 50 lbs. and had lost on the sale of them. What he would be liable for would run up in the thousands, so his number was also set at 12.

The counsel for the prosecution said that the agent is also liable, and then Mr. Leonard produced a communication from the W. S. Loggie Co., Ltd., which alleged that the trout had been legally caught in Gloucester county, as far as the company knew.

Judge Ritchie said that although the defendants did not know that they were doing wrong, yet "ignorance of the law is no excuse," and they were liable to a fine.

Mr. McAlpine said that he was surprised that W. S. Loggie, a member of parliament, who was officially (a-fish-ally) in a position to be enlightened on the law of trout, a Sunday school teacher, and one who is permeated with the spirit of the Gospel, should allow his firm to violate the law.

Both defendants were instructed to obtain certificates from the men from whom they got the trout, and the W. S. Loggie Co., Ltd., and Richard O'Leary will be communicated with by Mr. Alpin.

The case will be resumed Wednesday next at eleven o'clock.—Evening Times.

The Origin of Santa Claus.

Santa Claus is of German origin. This is true if only because that is the German name for St. Nicholas. That he is an old man is because in the ancient pagan feasts in celebration of the decay of the old year and the birth of the new an old man played the principal part. Among the Greeks and Romans it was Saturn, the father of all the gods, and among the Norsemen it was Thor, who was long bearded and white haired. That the saint is St. Nicholas is due to the fact that that venerable personage's feast day was celebrated at about that period. St. Nicholas was a bishop of Myra, who flourished early in the fourth century. He is the patron saint of children and schoolboys, and hence it was natural that he should be a part of a celebration when the children received gifts and when they were allowed to be "heard as well as seen."—New York Mail and Express.

Christmas in Rome.

A characteristic sight which precedes a Roman Christmas is the so called cotilla, or sale of fish by auction, which is held at San Teodoro, near the forum, in the small hours of the morning, and every year attracts large crowds of buyers and sightseers. It is a sight worth seeing, and the vast circular market literally packed with row upon row of baskets, in which the scaly fry are carefully arranged, the light glancing off their many colored scales in a thousand prismatic reflections, while the owner of each stall shouts at the top of his voice and the merry crowd goes round laughing and bargaining and trying to cheapen the fish, for at Christmas time it often reaches fabulous prices, and one is reminded of the extravagance of the ancient Romans, one of whom is said to have paid 20,000 sesterces for a single gray mullet.—London Mail.

Crumble a pint of bread crumbs from the center of a stale loaf and pour over them a cup of scalded milk; when cool add three-quarters of a cup of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt and the yolks of four eggs beaten together; chop a half pound of suet and thoroughly mix with it a half pound each of raisins, currants and almonds; add a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg, a third of a teaspoonful each of cloves and mace and the whites of the four eggs stiffly beaten; serve with hard sauce.

Had a Dilemma in Town.

A naval officer one day noticed two sailors in earnest confab. One of them was imparting information to his companion of a very agreeable nature, judging from his beaming countenance. The officer in relating the incident says the manner of the speaker amused him very much. As he passed by the man raised his voice, with the unmistakable intention of being overheard, saying to his companion: "I mean to give up this seafaring life when my time is out. I am going to marry a rich widow woman, the daughter of a butcher."

Merchants Rubbers

POINTERS FOR RUBBER BUYERS

An up-to-date shoe dealer is usually a good rubber judge—he is quick to discern the comparative points of excellence that pass unnoticed by the ordinary man.

Many of the largest merchants have stocked exclusively with Merchants Rubbers. They know that the high grade materials used, the exclusive methods employed and general care exercised in their manufacture mean increased wear and pleased customers.

This fact is a good guide to the ordinary buyer. Merchants Rubbers have the fit, style, appearance and wearing qualities that cannot be obtained in any other brand of rubbers.

The First Erie Canal Boat.

The William Tell was the first boat to pass over the Erie canal from Buffalo to Albany and down the river to New York. Her cargo consisted entirely of hogheads, barrels and bottles of Lake Erie water, part of which was mingled with the waters of the bay of New York on the occasion of the great fête in celebration of the opening of the wonderful waterway. Her passengers included Governor De Witt Clinton, the leader in the canal enterprise, and a delegation of statesmen and distinguished persons from foreign lands and various parts of the United States.

The Russian Naval Standard.

The Russian naval standard—a blue flag with a white cross—was adopted by Peter the Great, who stayed for some months at Gaardam, near Amsterdam, working as a mechanic to gain a knowledge of shipbuilding.

During this time he took a strong fancy to a clever workman named Cruys, whom he persuaded to return with him to Russia after he had revealed to him his true name and position. Cruys drew the plans for the first ships built for the Russian navy, and, to show his appreciation, Peter the Great made him an admiral and gave orders that the Russian navy should thenceforth have a special flag with a white cross upon it to perpetuate the memory of his trusted associate, Cruys being an old form of the Dutch word for cross.

The Horn Dance.

Among the quaint old customs and ceremonies still kept alive in English country districts there is only one "horn dance," and that is to be found at Abbots Bromley, in Staffordshire. Every year at the village wake the dance is still carried out. The origin of the horn dance is lost in the mists of history, but it has been traced back as far as the eleventh century. Until the seventeenth century it was practiced at Christmas, on New Year's day and on Twelfth day. In the time of Henry VIII. the dance was performed in front of the church every Sunday and a collection for the poor taken up from the spectators.

The date of Geo G McKenzie & Co's Grand Spring Opening has been changed to Friday March 10th. Please notice adv on 1st page.

On Sunday we had the worst storm of the season. About fifteen inches of snow fell. In consequence the services in the different churches were rather slimly attended.

The entertainment in the Methodist Church on Monday evening was well attended and a good programme of readings, recitations, dialogues and exercises was carried out by the Mission Band and others. A collection in aid of missions was taken.

In another column we publish an ad in regard to a proposal to build a summer hotel at Campbellton. We hope the scheme will prove successful for there seems to be no reason why Campbellton with all her natural advantages should not have a great deal more of the summer tourist business.

W. K. McKean's mill at Maria Bonaventure County, Quebec, was burned on Monday. The loss will probably exceed $500 or $600. Mr. McKean is already making arrangements to replace the one burned by a new mill. There was no insurance. Mr. McKean has been operating the mill all winter. No lumber was burned, with the exception of the lumber used in putting a shed over the mill.

It would be difficult to specify which of the twenty odd articles in the March issue of THE BUSY MAN'S MAGAZINE is of most interest. From the capital charter sketch of Mr. Frederic Nicholls who has done so much to promote Canadian industry, to the amusing monograph on his seventeenth birthday by the prince of humorists, Mark Twain, there is not a dull page in the number. All classes of people are catered to in its contents.

The death of Mrs. Emma Miller, widow of Samuel Miller, of Bathurst, occurred at the home of her daughter Mrs. Gatain, on Thursday morning. The deceased lady was born in Bannockburn, 78 years ago, came to St John with her parents when only four years of age, and for the last fifty three years has made Bathurst her home. Three brothers, John and Henry, of Boston, William and one sister of St. John, survive, besides two sons, Samuel T. and John, of Bathurst; two daughters Mrs. Cabot of New York and Mrs. Annie Gatain, of Bathurst.

The lumbering along the Miramichi have finished up their hauling for the present season, and have worked under the best conditions that have existed in years. One prominent lumberman said this morning that he had not found such good hauling in the past thirty years that he had been operating in that country. It is understood that the total cut on the Miramichi will be about the same as last year, although it may turn out to be a trifle more. There is now about two feet of snow in the woods in the Miramichi section, and the prospects for good driving are bright, as the snow is very heavy and there is a lot of ice and water in it. The lumbermen, however, would like to see some more snow to have the driving prospects the very best. —Gleaner.

In the report of the County Court proceedings, held at Newcastle last week, published in the Advocate of yesterday, we notice the following:— "His Honor Judge McLatchey made a fine impression on those who had the pleasure of being present at Court during the various sessions. He was exceptionally prompt in his attendance at Court, and although he showed every consideration for those who were less prompt than himself, yet it was plain that when there was to be done it was his earnest desire to be up and doing."

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

By A. CONAN DOYLE, Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Sign of the Four," "A Study in Scarlet," Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY F. D. STEELE

"The duke is here," said he. "The duke and Mr. Wilder are in the study. Come, gentlemen, and I will introduce you."

I was, of course, familiar with the pictures of the famous statesman, but the man himself was very different from his representation. He was a tall and stately person, scrupulously dressed, with a drawn, thin face and a nose which was grotesquely curved and long. His complexion was of a dead pallor, which was more startling by contrast with a long, dwindling beard of vivid red which flowed down over his white waistcoat, with his watch chain gleaming through its fringe. Such was the stately presence who looked stonily at us from the center of Dr. Huxtable's hearth rug. Beside him stood a very young man, whom I understood to be Wilder, the private secretary. He was small, nervous, alert, with intelligent light blue eyes and mobile features. It was he who at once, in an incisive and positive tone, opened the conversation.

"I called this morning, Dr. Huxtable, too late to prevent you from starting for London. I learned that your object was to invite Mr. Sherlock Holmes to undertake the conduct of this case. His grace is surprised, Dr. Huxtable, that you should have taken such a step without consulting him."

"When I learned that the police had failed—"

"His grace is by no means convinced that the police have failed."

"But surely, Mr. Wilder—"

"You are well aware, Dr. Huxtable, that his grace is particularly anxious to avoid all public scandal. He prefers to take as few people as possible into his confidence."

"The matter can be easily remedied," said the browbeaten doctor. "Mr. Sherlock Holmes can return to London by the morning train."

"Hardly that, doctor; hardly that," said Holmes in his blandest voice. "This northern air is invigorating and pleasant, so I propose to spend a few days upon your moors and to occupy my mind as best I may. Whether I have the shelter of your roof or of the village inn is, of course, for you to decide."

I could see that the unfortunate doctor was in the last stage of indecision, from which he was rescued by the deep, sonorous voice of the red-bearded duke, which boomed out like a dinner gong.

"I agree with Mr. Wilder, Dr. Huxtable, that you would have done wisely to consult me. But since Mr. Holmes has already been taken into your confidence it would indeed be absurd that we should not avail ourselves of his services. Far from going to the inn, Mr. Holmes, I should be pleased if you would come and stay with me at Holderness Hall."

"I thank your grace. For the purposes of my investigation I think that it would be wiser for me to remain at the scene of the mystery."

"Just as you like, Mr. Holmes. Any information which Mr. Wilder or I can give you is, of course, at your disposal."

"It will probably be necessary for me to see you at the hall," said Holmes. "I would only ask you now, sir, whether you have formed any explanation in your own mind as to the mysterious disappearance of your son?"

"No, sir, I have not."

"Excuse me if I allude to that which is painful to you, but I have no alternative. Do you think that the duchess had anything to do with the matter?"

The great minister showed perceptible hesitation.

"I do not think so," he said at last.

"The other most obvious explanation is that the child has been kidnapped for the purpose of levying ransom. You have not had any demand of the sort?"

"No, sir."

"One more question, your grace. I understand that you wrote to your son upon the day when this incident occurred."

"No, I wrote upon the day before."

"Exactly. But he received it on that day?"

"Yes."

"Was there anything in your letter which might have unbalanced him or induced him to take such a step?"

"No, sir; certainly not."

"Did you post that letter yourself?"

The nobleman's reply was interrupted by his secretary, who broke in with some heat.

"His grace is not in the habit of posting letters himself," said he. "This letter was laid with others upon the study table, and I myself put them in the post bag."

"You are sure this one was among them?"

"Yes; I observed it."

"How many letters did your grace write that day?"

"Twenty or thirty. I have a large correspondence, and surely it is somewhat irrelevant."

"Not entirely," said Holmes.

"I have advised the police to turn their attention to the south of France. I have already said that I do not believe that the duchess would encourage so monstrous an action, but the lad had the most wrong-headed opinions, and it is possible that he may have fled to her, aided and abetted by this German. I think, Dr. Huxtable, that we will now return to the hall."

I could see that there were other questions which Holmes would have wished to put, but the nobleman's abrupt manner showed that the interview was at an end. It was evident that to his intensely aristocratic nature this discussion of his intimate family affairs with a stranger was most abhorrent and that he feared lest every fresh question would throw a fiercer light into the discretely shadowed corners of his dual history.

When the nobleman and his secretary had left, my friend flung himself at once with characteristic eagerness into the investigation.

The boy's chamber was carefully examined and yielded nothing save the absolute conviction that it was only through the window that he could have escaped. The German master's room and effects gave no further clue. In his case a trailer of ivory had given way under his weight, and we saw by the light of a lantern the mark on the lava where his heels had come down. That one dent in the short green grass was the only material witness left of this inexplicable nocturnal flight.

Sherlock Holmes left the house alone and only returned after 11. He had obtained a large Ordnance map of the neighborhood, and this he brought into my room, where he laid it out on the bed, and, having balanced the lamp in the middle of it, he began to smoke over it and occasionally to point out objects of interest with the reeking amber of his pipe.

"This case grows upon me, Watson," said he. "There are decidedly some points of interest in connection with it. In this early stage I want you to realize these geographical features which may have a good deal to do with our investigation."

"Look at this map. This dark square is the priory school. I'll put a pin in it. Now, this line is the main road. You see that it runs east and west past the school, and you see also that there is no side road for a mile either way. If these two folk passed away by road, it was this road."

"Exactly."

"By a singular and happy chance we are able to some extent to check what passed along this road during the night in question. At this point, where my pipe is now resting, a county constable was on duty from 12 to 6. It is, as you perceive, the first crossing on the east side. This man declares that he was absent from his post for an instant, and he is positive that neither boy nor man could have gone that way unseen. I have spoken with this policeman tonight, and he appears to me to be a perfectly reliable person. That blocks this end. We have now to deal with the other. There is an inn here, the Red Bull, the landlady of which was ill. She had sent to MacKleton for a doctor, but he did not arrive until morning, being absent at another case. The people at the inn were alert all night, awaiting his coming, and one or other of them seems to have continually had an eye upon the road. They declare that no one passed. If their evidence is good, then we are fortunate enough to be able to block the west end also to be able to say that the fugitives did not use the road at all."

"But the bicycle?" I objected.

"Quite so. We will come to the bicycle presently. To continue our reasoning, if these people did not go by the road they must have traversed the country to the north of the house or to the south of the house. That is certain. Let us weigh the one against the other. On the south of the house is, as you perceive, a large district of arable land, cut up into small fields, with stone walls between them. There I admit that a bicycle is impossible. We can dismiss the idea. We turn to the country to the north. Here there lies a grove of trees marked as the 'Ragged Shaw,' and on the farther side stretches a great rolling moor, Lower Gill moor, extending for ten miles and sloping gradually upward. Here, at one side of this wilderness, is Holderness Hall, ten miles by road, but only six across the moor. It is a peculiarly desolate plain. A few poor farmers have small holdings, where they rear sheep and cattle. Except these, the plover and the curlew are the only inhabitants until you come to the Chesterfield ridge. There is a church there, you see, as well as a few cottages and an inn. Beyond that the hills become precipitous. Surely it is here to the north that our quest must lie."

"But the bicycle?" I persisted.

"Well, well," said Holmes impatiently. "A good cyclist does not need a highroad. The moor is intersected with paths, and the moon was at the full. Hullo! What is this?"

There was an agitated knock at the door, and an instant afterward Dr. Huxtable was in the room. In his hand he held a blue cricket cap with a white chevron on the peak.

"At last we have a clue!" he cried.

"Thank heaven, at last we are on the dear boy's track! It is his cap?"

"Where was it found?"

"In the van of the gypsies who camped on the moor. They left on Tuesday. Today the police traced them down and examined their caravan. This was found."

"How do they account for it?"

"They shuffled and lied—said that they found it on the moor on Tuesday morning. They know where he is, the rascals! Thank goodness, they are all safe under lock and key. Either the fear of the law or the duke's purse will certainly get out of them all that they know."

"So far so good," said Holmes when the doctor had at last left the room. "It is on the side of the Lower Gill moor that we must hope for results. The police have really done nothing locally save the arrest of these gypsies. Look here, Watson! There is a water course across the moor. You see it marked here in the map. In some parts it widens into a morass. This is particularly so in the region between Holderness and Baker street. It is rain to look to elsewhere for tracks in this dry weather, and at that point there is certainly a chance of some record being left. I will call you early tomorrow morning, and you and I will try if we can throw some little light upon the mystery."

The day was just breaking when I woke to find the long, thin form of Holmes by my bedside. He was fully dressed and had apparently already been out.

"I have done the lawn and the bicycle shed," said he. "I have also had a run out through the Ragged Shaw. Now, Watson, there is cocoa ready in the next room. I must beg you to hurry, for we have a great day before us."

His eyes shone, and his cheek was flushed with the exhilaration of the master workman who sees his work lie ready before him. A very different Holmes this active, alert man from the introspective and pallid dreamer of Baker street. I felt as I looked upon that supple figure, alive with nervous energy, that it was indeed a strenuous day that awaited us.

"And yet it opened in the blackest darkness. With high hopes we struck across the peaty, russet moor, intersected with a thousand sheep paths, until we came to the broad, light green belt which marked the morass between us and Holderness. Certainly if the lad had gone homeward he must have passed this, and he could not pass it without leaving his traces. But no sign of him or of the German could be seen. With a darkening face my friend strode along the margin, eagerly observant of every thing that came before him. Sheep marks there were profusion, and at one place, some miles down, cows had left their tracks. Nothing more."

"Check number one," said Holmes, looking gloomily over the desolate expanse of the moor. "There is another morass down yonder, and a narrow neck between. Hello! Hello! Hello! What have we here?"

We had come on a small black ribbon of pathway. In the middle of it, clearly marked on the sodden soil, was the track of a bicycle.

"Hurrah!" I cried. "We have it!"

But Holmes was shaking his head.

We had come on a small black ribbon of pathway. In the middle of it, clearly marked on the sodden soil, was the track of a bicycle.

"Hurrah!" I cried. "We have it!"

But Holmes was shaking his head.

and his face was puzzled and expectant rather than joyous.

"A bicycle, certainly, but not the bicycle," said he. "I am familiar with forty-two different impressions left by tires. This, as you perceive, is a Dunlop, with a patch upon the outer cover. Heidegger's tires were Palmers, leaving longitudinal stripes. Aveling, the mathematical master, was sure upon the point. Therefore it is not Heidegger's track."

"The boy's, then?"

"Possibly, if we could prove a bicycle to have been in his possession. But this we have utterly failed to do. This track, as you perceive, was made by a rider who was going from the direction of the school."

"Or toward it?"

"No, no, my dear Watson. The more deeply sunk impression is, of course, the hind wheel, upon which the weight rests. You perceive several places where it has passed across and obliterated the more shallow mark of the front one. It was undoubtedly heading away from the school. It may or may not be connected with our inquiry, but we will follow it backward before we go any farther."

We did so, and at the end of a few hundred yards lost the tracks as we emerged from the boggy portion of the moor. Following the path backward, we picked out another spot where a spring trickled across it. Here, once again, was the mark of the bicycle, though nearly obliterated by the hoofs of cows. After that there was no sign, but the path ran right on into Ragged Shaw, the wood which backed on to the school. From this wood the cycle must have emerged. Holmes sat down on a bowlder and rested his chin in his hands. "I had smoked two cigarettes before he moved."

"Well, well," said he at last. "It is of course possible that a cunning man might change the tire of his bicycle in order to leave unfamiliar tracks. A criminal who was capable of such a thought is a man whom I should be proud to do business with. We will leave this question undecided and hark back to our morass again, for we have left a good deal unexplored."

We continued our systematic survey of the edge of the sodden portion of the moor, and soon our perseverance was gloriously rewarded. Right across the lower part of the bog lay a miry path. Holmes gave a cry of delight as he approached it. An impression like a fine bundle of telegraph wires ran down the center of it. It was the track of a bicycle.

"Here is Herr Heidegger, sure enough," cried Holmes exultantly. "My reasoning seems to have been pretty sound, Watson."

"I congratulate you."

"But we have a long way still to go. Kindly walk clear of the path. Now let us follow the trail. I fear that it will not lead very far."

We found, however, as we advanced that this portion of the moor is intersected with soft patches, and, though we frequently lost sight of the track, we always succeeded in picking it up once more.

"Do you observe," said Holmes, "that the ridge is now entirely facing the pace? There can be no doubt of it. Look at this impression, where you get both tires clear. The one is as deep as the other. That can only mean that the rider is throwing his weight on to the handle bar, as a man does when he is sprinting. By Jove, he has had a fall!"

There was a broad, irregular smudge covering some yards of the track. There were a few footmarks, and the tire reappeared once more.

"A side slip," I suggested.

Holmes held up a crumpled branch of flowering gorse. To my horror I perceived that the yellow blossoms were all dabbled with crimson. On the path, too, and among the heather were dark stains of clotted blood.

"Bad!" said Holmes. "Bad! Stand clear, Watson! Not an unnecessary footstep! What do I read here? He fell wounded—he stood up—he remounted—he proceeded. But there is no other track. Cattle on this side path."

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM. The Slightest Back- ache, if Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's, and what is more, a woman's work is never done—her whole life is one continuous strain.

How many women have you heard say: "My back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

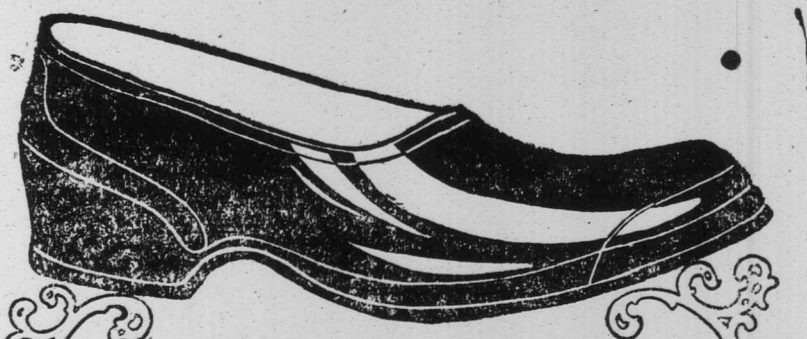

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

They act directly on the kidneys, and make them strong and healthy.

Mrs. Mary Galley, Auburn, N.S., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with a lame back and was unable to turn in bed without help. I was induced by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After using two-thirds of a box my back was as well as ever."

LOCAL LEGISLATURE

FREDERICTON, March 2.—In the provincial legislature on Thursday.

Mr. King, from the corporations committee, reported that the committee had decided to recommend the Fredericton Boom bill to the favorable consideration of the house.

BATHURST BASIN BRIDGE TENDERS

Hon Mr LaBillois, in reply to Mr. Hazen's inquiry, said six tenders were received for repairs to the Bathurst Basin bridge, as Albert E. Smye, $6,484; George C. Sutherland and W. R. Johnston, $7,800; J. D. McLaughlin $9,166; Simon McGregor, $9,500; W. Brewar, $10,300; Alex Fitzgerald, $17,250. The tender of Albert E. Smye was accepted with Mariner M. Tingley and Caleb S. Dowling sureties. The amount paid for repairs on the bridge was $131.20. The contractor claimed $2,966.14 above the amount of his contract. The work was performed according to contract with addition of an extra triangular truss span and further improvements to the sidewalk, etc. It being apparent that the contractor had taken the work at too low a figure and had lost money thereby the matter was submitted to E. Brydon Jack as arbitrator, who found $9,256 to be a fair remuneration for the contract.

This award was accepted by order-in-council, Dec. 7th 1904.

Mr LaBillois introduced a bill relating to the town of Campbellton; Mr Copp a bill to amend chapter 166 of the consolidated Statutes relating to the city of Moncton; Mr Jones a bill to amend the acts relating to the incorporation of Chatham. The bill to incorporate the St Croix Water Power Company, the bill in further amendment of the liquor license act and the bill relating to sewerage in Lancaster parish, St John county, were read a second time.

FREDERICTON, March 2.—The third day of the session of the legislature will probably be brought to a conclusion next Tuesday. It will then have extended over twelve days. There is a possibility, of course that the debate will be prolonged further, but the understanding between Premier Tweedie and Mr Hazen now is that it will come to a close on the day mentioned. Messrs Hazen and Glazier, are the only opposition members who have not yet participated in the debate. The introduction of Mr. Smith's amendment to the motion of supply has made it impossible for all who have already spoken to take part again in the debate, but it is not expected that advantage will be taken of this. It is pretty generally felt that nearly a sufficient number of speeches has been made, particularly in view of the fact that many of the speakers so far have found it necessary to work over material used by those who have preceded them, and consequently have contributed little of new matter to the discussion. There are still, however, one or two short speeches expected from the government side and Mr Hazen's remarks are naturally awaited with interest by all the members of the House. The opposition leader will speak on Monday.

Hon Mr Pugsley resumed his speech about 4 o'clock this afternoon and completed its delivery shortly after five. It was clear that he spoke under some difficulty because of the cold from which he is suffering. Nevertheless, his remarks were forceful, and, in the main, direct. As on Thursday he took up some time with an answer to the opposition criticisms of himself. The burden of this portion of his remarks was that in making up a list of the members alleged to have been paid by the province in the last five years the opposition members had included amounts which they know he had not received. In other words, he charged that they had made misrepresentations.

In the latter part of his address the administration of the Agriculture department commented upon. The importance of dairying in New Brunswick was spoken of, after which Mr Pugsley made clear the immense benefit that would result where a system of cold storage warehouses erected throughout the province. Mr Pugsley took a step far afield when speaking on the subject. He declared that he looked forward to the day when in the centre of London there will be a cold storage warehouse for New Brunswick goods, and, as a consequence, a greatly increased sale for the products of the province. In Great Britain, he closed his address with some optimistic sentences concerning the future of the province.

The bills relating to the towns of Campbellton, Woodstock and Chatham were given their second reading this afternoon and a measure dealing with the levying and collection of certain taxes in St Stephen was read for the first time. The house also had under consideration in committee the bill authorizing a county valuation for Restigouche in 1906, a second giving the town of Dalhousie the power to issue $70,000 of debentures and to borrow $8,000 for water, sewerage and lighting purposes, and a third providing for the division of St. Leonard's, Madawaska, into two parishes. With certain amendments all were agreed to. Their third reading will come on Monday. Hon. Mr Pugsley introduced a private bill, having for its object the amendment of the New Brunswick Pharmacy Act with a view to making more suitable provision for the examination and admission of druggists.

On Tuesday the special committee of the House appointed to consider the budget for 1906. The sitting of the committee will probably hold daily meetings after Tuesday.

Next Tuesday morning the public accounts committee will take up the consideration of the expenditures made for public works in 1905. The sitting of the committee promises to be relieved somewhat of the monotony of many of the meetings of the committee. Opposition members disapprove strongly of some matters connected with the public works department last year and they are expected to be prepared with some vigorous criticisms. On Tuesday several delegations will also be heard by the House in expression of their views upon the proposed amendments to the liquor license law. Both the temperance and liquor parties will be on hand, and possibly the representatives of other interests affected by the proposed changes in the law, and the amendments will be discussed from all points of view.

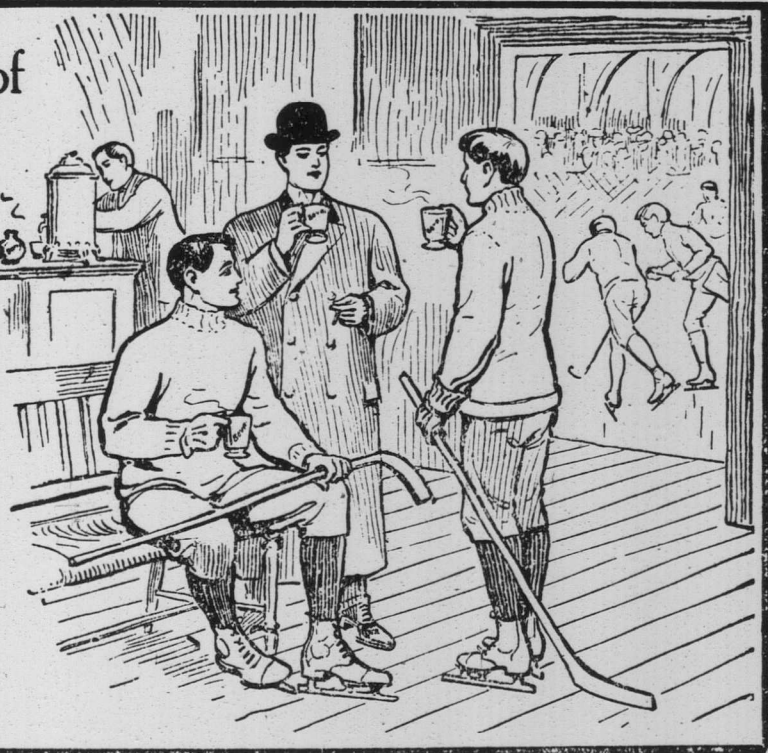

Several of the bills relating to St. John will be under consideration next week. It is said that opposition to all will develop. If that prove to be the case some lively committee meetings are assured.

Mr Hazen may be one of the opposition candidates in St. John when the next local elections are held. That is the report current both in opposition and government circles just now. At present Mr. Hazen sits as a representative of Sunbury, with Mr. Glazier as a colleague. But Mr. W. W. Hubbard, who is now the opposition organizer, will have to be provided for at the elections, according to present calculations at least, and it is thought that he will appear as a candidate in Sunbury. In that event Mr. Hazen would be on the opposition ticket in St. John. It is hinted also that Mr. Glazier would not be gives the player strength to play, and keeps the watcher from catching cold.

By means of storage dams or in some other way this equalization will be accomplished on the St. John and other rivers. The cost Mr. Pugsley estimated, would be comparatively slight; the resulting good must be very great.

For services in the case of Dunn vs. the King, Hon. A. S. White, not Mr. Pugsley, who paid $350, as the House and public accounts have previously been informed.

An amount of some $1,400 placed on the list of Mr. Grimmett, was paid a London law firm, not Mr. Pugsley.

In 1901 $630 of the amount paid for the collection of succession duties in connection with the claims of McKewen, Emerson, White and others, before Mr Pugsley became Attorney General. Of the amount derived from collecting succession duties in that year $175 was refunded to the Patent Office and $155 was paid Hon. Mr. McKewen for argument in reference to the estate of Wm Hayward.

Not one cent of the sum set down by the opposition as a sixth of the travelling expenses of the executive government in the years under discussion was received by the Attorney General.

The services in connection with the settlement of the Eastern Extension claims were rendered before 1902, though payment was deferred until 1902. Moreover, in the amount placed under head of counsel fees in connection with the claims of the opposition has included travelling expenses and a sum received by the premier, not Mr Pugsley.

Mr Pugsley also drew attention to the unfairness of including in the list of payments made him in five parties claims were rendered before 1902, before that period began, as was done in the case of the Eastern Extension matter, and at the same time taking account of a sum paid after the close of the period, as was done in including the amount paid for collection of succession duties in 1906. Since he became Attorney-General in 1900 the commission for the collection of succession duties has been $5,845.49.

Mr Pugsley said also that the government will insist upon the re-payment to New Brunswick of some $22,000 paid by the Dominion government to claims in the case of Dunn vs. the King, and charged to the province. He next took up Mr. Maxwell's criticism of Mr. Gilmour Brown. He spoke of Mr. Maxwell's references to Mr. Brown as being in language such as the St. John member would not dare to use outside the House. This caused opposition members, with Mr. Pugsley's words of Thursday still in mind, to declare there are others. Continuing, Mr. Pugsley pointed out that Maxwell has been inconsistent in condemning Mr. Brown for contracting for work done on his own recommendation as an engineer. Maxwell himself when an alderman of St. John had held a sub-contract in connection with the erection of the Carnegie library, a building which the Attorney-General remarked incidentally, is not worthy of St. John. The subject of this part of Mr. Pugsley's criticism did not seem especially embarrassing at the attention shown him. The opposition member from St. John was also censured by Mr. Pugsley for asserting that in Mr. Brown's estimate of the cost of repairing the Central road, such as included the cost of a steam shovel. The estimate, Mr. Pugsley said, distinctly stated that it was assumed that the cost of the steam shovel be met by the company. Mr. Maxwell held to his statement and Mr. Pugsley read from the paper submitted by Mr. Brown to support his point. In a copy of the estimate shown the Globe there was nothing to show that it was to be assumed that the contractors would not be responsible for the cost of "a steam shovel and plow for ballasting and filling." In fairness, it must be said, however, that the correctness of this copy had not been certified. It may have been in error in this particular.

Mr. Pugsley briefly spoke of the government's policy in respect to the Central and Intercolonial railways and to the development of the country in other ways, nothing especially the prospect of important power plants springing up at Grand Falls. He touched upon the liquor policy and then emphasized the desirability even necessity, of equalizing the water flow of the rivers during dry seasons.

adverse to giving place to another, but opposition men state that he will again be in the fight as a candidate whenever the government goes to the country.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Steamer struck Tower of Submerged Succarine

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 27.—The London Daily Chronicle of the 16th just to hand, says:—

"The submarine A9 narrowly escaped disaster while on manoeuvring off Plymouth yesterday. "After a war lecture at the War Course College, some officers proceeded into the Sound in the cruiser Thesus to witness a marine attack on the cruiser by the Devonport submarine flotilla, consisting of five vessels.

"Whilst the submarine A9 was submerged, the coasting steamer Coath, from Penzance, struck her on the conning tower, smashing the front part of the casing binding the periscope, also the sight of the periscope, a small hole being made in the conning tower.

"After she was struck the submarine rapidly assumed her normal surface position and indicated to her consorts that nothing untoward had happened. In the meantime on the Thesus, and Torpedo boat No. 80, on board which were Captain Lee, inspecting captain of submarines, and Flag-captain Hall of the Forth, the parent ship to submarines, the greatest consternation prevailed. The A9, however, was able to proceed unassisted for her morning alongside the Forth.

"In an interview a member of the crew of Submarine A9 said that the vessel was proceeding at about 25 feet under water, when her conning tower was struck by keel of a vessel, which proved to be the Coath, going into Plymouth Sound. The submarine was knocked half over by the impact, and, although perfect coolness prevailed on board, it was feared that the boat was doomed.

"Lieut. Fraser, however, ordered the ballast tank to be blown, whereupon, to the relief of the crew, who consisted of two officers and eleven men, the boat rose to the surface.

"Some water got into the conning tower, but this was soon pumped out, and the officers made their exit through the conning tower hatchway. Manoeuvres were taking place at the time.

"It was not deemed advisable for the submarine to use her electric power, and she proceeded into the harbor with the remainder of the flotilla under gasoline. The sea was smooth at the time, with a slight wind blowing off the land.

"The Coath also heeled over several feet as a result of the collision, and the captain was thrown off the bridge on the deck."

AWFUL DESTRUCTION

Caused by Tidal Wave and Cyclone.

10000 VICTIMS

Whole towns inundated by Waves—Wind blew 120 miles per hour

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The Evening Post states that 20,000 persons perished during the storm on Tahiti and adjacent islands, several of which, its account says, have disappeared. It places the damage at $5,000,000. These reports have not been confirmed by the officers of the steamer Mariposa which brought the news of the disaster from Papeete.

Papeete, Tahiti, Feb. 16, via San Francisco, March 3.—The most destructive cyclone ever experienced in the Society and Tuamotu Islands occurred on Feb. 7 and 8. The damage in Tahiti is estimated at $1,000,000 and presumably a similar amount of property was destroyed on the Tuamotu islands. The city of Papeete was inundated and about 75 buildings destroyed, including the American consulate and the French government building. The shipping in the harbor of Papeete escaped injury, owing to the direction of the wind, but fears are entertained for vessels which were cruising near the Tuamotu islands.

It is feared that there has been heavy loss of life in the lagoons of Tuamotu islands, though the death of the guardian of the quarantine station in Papeete is the only fatality yet reported.

The schooner Papeete was submerged near Anaa, Tuamotu. Her captain, Philip Michaeli, estimated that the waves were 65 feet high. M. Marodi, a French resident at Fanaran, Tuamotu islands, abandoned the place in a small cutter after all the government buildings and dwelling houses and the Catholic church were swept away. Many of the natives climbed coconut trees and others put out to sea in small boats. Bridges and roads were badly damaged on the island of Tahiti. Bread fruit, coconut, banana and plantain trees were blown down in great numbers, which will result in hardships to the natives and materially affect commerce during the next two or three years. The British consul has appealed to his government for aid for 200 British subjects.

Some Americans have sustained heavy losses and probably there will be a few instances of utter destitution. The Americans are hopeful of securing help from the United States. Money and food are required.

The cyclone or hurricane reached the velocity of 120 miles an hour. It struck the islands about midnight on Feb. 7 and continued until about 4 o'clock the following afternoon. The island of Anaa, Tuamotu group, is believed to have been the centre of the storm.

At Papeete, about 8 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 7, the sea began to break heavily over the reef, the waves in the harbor washing over the quay. There was no perceptible wind. Towards 10 o'clock people dwelling in the vicinity of the water front were compelled to abandon their homes, saving as a rule only a small portion of their belongings. The merchants and clerks went to the stores and warehouses only to find that it was quite impossible to save goods on the lower floors. An hour later high seas broke, completely demolishing the government slip and buildings, besides causing much damage to the coal sheds. The guardian of the arsenal, Tesser Adams, an expert swimmer, was in the water for many hours and assisted in warning and rescuing others. The village of Taronia, near the arsenal, was completely swept away. It consisted of the mission buildings and homes of native converts of the reorganized Latter Saints Mission.

A settlement about an eight of a mile distant, inhabited by several hundred Cook Islanders (British subjects) was completely destroyed. Further east on the beach road all the houses were swept away for about half a mile.

At Tanos, the family of Herman Henell had a thrilling experience, their fine residence, probably worth $12,000, being badly damaged by high waves which compelled the family to flee for their lives to a native house. Frequently water was up to their necks and they were obliged to cling to trees for safety.

Matters were worse in the city of Papeete than in the suburbs. To the west of the arsenal along the water front dwelling houses and commercial establishments were invaded by the high water which broke at the quay about ten feet high but rushed through the narrow streets many feet higher. The shipbuilding yards of Captain Peterson and Brown & Benham were destroyed.

QUEBEC MEMBERS WANT INCREASED INDEMNITY

Round Robin Presented to Premier Gouin, Who is Considering the Matter

QUEBEC, Mar. 2.—A "round robin" asking for increased sessional indemnity, and signed by the majority of the liberal members of the province, was last evening presented to Premier Gouin. The premier promised to take the matter into consideration and to consult with his colleagues on the question. It is currently believed here that an increased indemnity will not be granted this session. As far as can be learned all the English members from Montreal and from the rural district refused to sign the "round robin". One or two French members also refused to affix their signatures to it, as did also five or six conservative members.

THE TOWN'S BILL

Long Discussion Before Municipalities Committee of Legislature

FREDERICTON, March 7.—The Municipalities Committee spent a long time this morning hearing argument for and against the bill relating to the Water Works of the town of Campbellton.

Hon. A. S. White appeared for the town to promote the bill, while Mr. W. A. Mott appeared to oppose the bill for Mr. Robert Duncan.

Mr. Duncan owns the land about reservoir of the water system and after the expropriation of the system by the town the reservoir was enlarged and Mr. Duncan's land was treaspassed upon. Action was brought and Mr. Duncan got a verdict and there were also other legal proceedings and an arbitration. Mr. Duncan's claims going well up into the thousands of dollars, while the town claimed the damages to be very small.

The counsel made long speeches which were listened to with considerable interest, and finally upon the advice of Chairman Allen and Mr. Hazen, the leader of the Opposition, the matter was laid over until tomorrow to give opportunity for the counsel to agree, if possible, on the sum to be paid Mr. Duncan for the cost of the proceedings and opposing the bill. It was held that he was entitled to this inasmuch as the trouble had arisen from a mistake inadvertent or otherwise, made by the town of Campbellton.

(Special to Events)
FREDERICTON, March 7.—House spent the evening session in supply, passing all the items but public works and public buildings. Before midnight a total of $361,002.94.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE

people or increase our debt? The situation is thus not an easy one. It is to be hoped, however, that the Honorable Prime Minister will succeed in this fight for better terms and that once our subsidy is increased the Government will set about studying the best policy to follow in this question of Crown lands for the greater good of our province.

Mr. Tellier admitted the importance of the question from every point of view and he had no doubt that there was a certain uneasiness among the public regarding the continued sales of the public domain. According to Hon. Mr. Tourgeon, the latter claimed that the Liberals had inaugurated the sales system, but he would inform him that every sale of timber limits since 1873 took place by auction and not only since 1897.

Hon. Mr. Tourgeon remarked that the member for Joliette had misunderstood him, as he had never said such a thing. He (Mr. Tourgeon) had also told them that the Government only sold the cut of timber, but he (Mr. Tellier) only looked upon these farming out contracts as perpetual leases, in other words the purchaser is not only owner of the wood, but also of all the timber which might grow on the land thus rented out. The Minister of Crown Lands had stated that it was either a question of selling limits or taxing the people. This might be a big argument, but is no reason for selling for the domain. The province had hardly one hundred thousand miles of limits to sell and at the rate they were being sold, they would not last long.

FREDERICTON, Mar. 6.—Replying to Mr. Hazen, Hon. Mr. Tweedie said that the offer to lease the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Co., came from Greenshield & Green shield's, barristers, of Montreal on behalf of clients whose reliability they guaranteed; annual rental, if required to be paid in advance.

Bills relating to the town of Dalhousie and to authorize Restigouche to make County Valuation were passed at the House on Monday.

Mr. Hazen continued the budget debate of Monday evening's setting.

CONCERT AT SHIGAWAKE

A "Concert" was held in the Parish Hall, Shigawake on Monday evening Feb. 26th, in aid of Mr. Richard Major who suffered a great loss by fire on Feb. 5th having his house burned with everything in it. Considering the night was foggy with a drizzling rain everyone turned out splendidly, and we are quite sure they were not sorry as all who were there pronounced the concert a grand success. Our thanks are due to the Rev'd Mr. Martin of St. Godfroi who attended with a great many of his congregation, also our Port Daniel and Paspheac friends who living such a distance were not afraid of the stormy weather. Mr. C. Kruse also comes in for a vote of thanks for kindly giving us some Gramophone selections, interspersed throughout the programme, which was much enjoyed by all. One and all of our actors deserve great praise in the coolness and excellent manner in which they rendered their parts. When you want another concert just call on our little "People" considering we were only a week and a half getting up our party, I think we deserve "Don't you?" The proceeds amounted to $37.25.

The programme was as follows:—Opening Chorus—"Dear Canada to thee", The Company.
Speech—"Some learn how to skate", Mrs. R. P. Travers.
Song—"Miss Mahogany" Mr. Basil Travers.

Song—"Last night" Mrs. R. Travers.
Plantation Scene.
Song—"When mamma puts the little ones to bed" Miss Muriel Travers.

Women Angriily Aroused

All Over The Dominion

Information from various Provinces of Canada points to the fact that many women have been deceived and induced to use the weak and adulterated package dyes put up by unskilled and unscrupulous manufacturers to imitate the popular DIAMOND DYES.

Our Canadian women, thoroughly aroused, after loss of time, money and valuable materials through the use of muddy, blotchy and weak dyes, have directly laid the blame for their losses on the retail merchants who sold them the deceptive dyes.

This action of indignant women has caused many of our retail and wholesale dealers to pack up and return to the manufacturers responsible, their worthless and "dangerous" dyes.

MORAL.—When ladies decide to do home dyeing work, it pays to use the celebrated and popular DIAMOND DYES, which have been the home friends of the ladies for over 25 years. When buying, see that each package handed to you bears the words, DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES. Users of DIAMOND DYES soon become experts in the fascinating work of home coloring, and find that a ten cent package will renew the life of any faded and dingy suit, dress, skirt, blouse, jacket, cape or husband's or son's coat, vest or trousers. Allow no dealer to offer you the something he calls "JUST AS GOOD". No other dyes equal the DIAMOND DYES.

Send your name and address to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., and you will receive free of cost new Dye Book, Card of Dyed Cloth Samples and Booklet in verse, entitled "The Longjohn's Trip to the Klondike."

TOURIST HOTEL

A Chance For Investment

A scheme is under consideration to build an up-to-date hotel at Campbellton in the near future and parties having money to invest would do well to look into the matter. The site chosen is a beautiful spot, facing the Restigouche river. The scenery on both sides of the Bay Chaleurs can hardly be surpassed in any part of the world. There is fine bathing, rising tide and fishing up river and down the bay, besides the numerous lakes, while as to hunting any person can get a license and start out to the game district in the morning and return at night with a moose. The forest abounds in game—moose, caribou, deer, etc. Train service on both sides of the bay is very best, while the Lady Eileen runs twice a week to Gaspé in summer. The International Railway when completed will make Campbellton one of the best railway centres in Eastern Canada. With the bright future of this locality it is evident that a first class tourist hotel with good management would pay big dividends to investors. Parties who might be interested can address Box 491 Campbellton N. B. 23-30.
