THE IRREPRESSIBLE JAPS. LONDON, March 22.-A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette says the Japanese are making an attack upon the Pescadore Islands, and have already taken possession of the largest of the group. These islands are situated between Formoa and the Chinese mainland.

THE ORIENT TOURISTS. ALGIERS, March 22.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Augusta Victoria, from New York via Constantinople, etc., with excursionsts, arrived at this place at 6 o'clock last evening. She will proceed today for Gibraltar, Southampton and Hamburg.

THE ARMENIAN TROUBLES. LONDON, March 22.-In the House of Commons today Sir Edward Grey, Under Foreign Secretary, announced that the Government had learned officially that all of the Armenian ecclesiastics now in prison would be brought to Constantinople and released upon taking an oath guaranteeing their future good behavior.

DISESTABLISHMENT.

LONDON, March 22.-Right Hon. Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, moved the second reading of the bill disestablishing the church in Wales. In speaking to his motion, he awelt upon the fact that there were only 118,000 members of the Anglican Church in Wales, while there were $81,000 Dissenters. He said that 31 out of the 34 Welsh members of Parliament favored the bill.

Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, a church estates commissioner, who has held several high positions under Con-servative Administratons, opposed the motion. He declared the bill was an attack on the Church of England in the guise of yielding to a national demand in Wales. Moreover, it was the first step in the direction of Welsh home rule. In 1869 Sir Mchael voted against the bill disestablishing the Irish Church.

ON TO FORMOSA. HONG KONG, March 22.-The Japanese fleet, which has been off the Prescadore Island (Fishers' Islands) between Formosa and the Chinese mainland, has attacked those islands. Fignting, according to the latest advices, is still proceeding. As previously announced, it is the intention of the Japanese fleet to make the Pescadore Islands their base of operations against the Island of For-

Torpedoes have been placed in the harbor of Amoy, a treaty port in the province of Fullien, to prevent the entrance of the Japanese boats.

Telegrams from the north report that many Japanese vessels are off Shaniah Kanwan and Kinchow, on the Gulf of Lio Hung Tong. It is expected that there will be an early landing of Japanese forces at these ports. The Chinese defending the towns are on the alert.

GRAND TRUNK AFFAIRS. The Montreal Star's special cable Mr. Barker's report on the Grand Trunk has given rise to what impartial critics in the city say is the first really serious movement against the present Grand Trunk board. A committee has been formed representing £500,000 of bonds of the stock, appealing to the other holders to withhold their proxies from the board at the next meeting. At the meeting a motion will be made "that the proprietors no longer place their confidence in Sir Henry Tyler, the president, after having read Mr. Barker's disclosures of the disastrous results of the past policy." The committee of dissatisfied shareholders refuse to disclose their case, based on Mr. Barker's report. But they say that they mean to carry it through earnestly and also state that, having forced the board to accept Mr. Barker's inquiry, they will now reconstruct the board and the policy or the Grand Trunk Railway.

A NEW DEPARTURE. LONDON. March 22 .-- Wm. Allan, Radical, moved this evening in the House that the members receive payment for their services. He reminded the House that a similar resolution was passed in the session of 1893 with the Government's approval, though no subsequent action had been taken.

Sir Richard Cartwright Makes a Vigorous Speech at Bowmanville.

A SHAKY MAJORITY. In 1874 a very large majority of members were returned to support Mr. Mackenzie. Just before the elections in 1878 the Hon. Wm. Macdougall ventured to prophesy that Mr. Mackenzie would be beaten merely on the ground that so many of these had been elected by small majorities. He said that the Liberal feeling of the country was over-repre-sented in the House, and that a very slight change, such as might be easily caused by hard times, would upset the Government. His prediction came true. Let us see how the protective Government stands in this respect. It has a majority of 55 to 60 on straight votes. Of that majority we find that 44 were Ross by Chitrals. Lieut. Ross and 60 Sikhs were These 41 members replaced by Liberals would make a difference of 88 on the division list, and leave the Government in a minority of 30.

Of course, things may not happen just that way! But in this case, as in 1878, the large number of the Government's supporters depending on small margins makes its boasted majority seem less formidable.—St. Thomas Journal. THE BOWMANVILLE GATHERING.

BOWMANVILE, Ont., March 22.-Hon. Wilfrid Laurier was unable to meet his engagement at the big Liberal meeting here today in the interest of Mr. Robert Beith, M.P., but Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. James McMullen, M. P. for North Wentworth, addressed the electors, who came from all parts of the riding and packed the Music Hall to the number of over 1,000. Sir Richard spoke in his vigorous, rorceful style for over an hour, dealing with the exo-dus to the United States, the census in which the population or West Durham was shown to have decreased from 17,-555 in 1881 to 15,375, a difference of 2,180, in 1891. The financial deficit was also discused at length. Sir Richard claimed that the returns will show a real deficit of five to six millions when the figures are made up at the end of the year. He contended that the effect of the protective tariff was to take two dollars out of the pockets of the people for every dollar put into the Dominion treasury, Canada has paid $600,000,000 for the experiment of protection, and this amount was gone absolutely, and only a few factories in a few of the larger towns and cities are the result. He claimed that the people had paid $30,000,000 annually to encourage manufacturers, but Mr McCarthy had stated that our protective policy had cost $79,000,000 yearly. Farmers and working classes in Canada are obliged to pay twenty times as much in taxes under protection as they do in England under free trade. He quoted from the census returns about the in-dustries credited to Bowmanville, there being 140 enumerated; yet going around the town today he saw but two. He closed his speech by an eulogy of the personal standing in the House of Mr. R. Beith. Mr. Jas. McMuilen, M.P., of North Wellington, also gave a telling address, and both speakers were heartily applauded. NOTHING TO SAY. OTTAWA, March 22.—Ron. N. Clarke Wallace was interviewed by a reporter this morning on his resignation. Do you intend to resign, Mr. Wallace, as has been surmised? was asked. I have nothing to say, replied the Controller of Customs. What do you think will be the effect on the country of a session in April? was the next inquiry. I have nothing to say, again replied the Con-

STUDENTS VS. COUNCIL.

The Latest Phase of the Little Unpleasantness.

TORONTO, March 22.—The students of University College assembled this afternoon at a meeting in Wardell's Hall. The committee of students which had been appointed to interview the council reported that they had been snubbed, and the result of the interview was that Editor Tucker's reinstatement was not considered.

The students accordingly decided to circulate petitions among the graduates and undergraduates to be presented to the senate, asking that Mr. Tucker be permitted to write on his examination, and if successful to receive his degree,

The students also considered the project of acting with the commission in the coming investigation.

OVER 22,000 TONS IN DEBT. The net debt of the country is now said to be $246,000,000, but the gross debt is $351,089,396. There is nothing small about the debt-contracting qualities of the Ottawa Government. The Ministers are determned to build a lasting monument to themselves. Did you ever stop to think what a stupendous sum that debt is? At the current price of silver it would take nearly 22,300 tons of silver to pay it. Piling silver dollars one upon another, five to the inch, to represent the sum would require a stack over 1,014 miles high. Even the counting of such a sum is an enormous work. And this year will see many millions added to it.
What do the people propose doing about it?—Lindsay Post.

SOLD HIS WIFE FOR $25. Gave Up His Spouse and Property, and a Divorce Will Follow. ANDERSON, Ind., March 22.-According to the terms of a trade consummated in this city yesterday morning, Joseph Mix disposed of his wife and all his household township farmer. About two years ago Mix married Laura Clearwater, who, previous to the marriage, had been the house-keeper for Farmer Badgely. Yesterday Badgely drove up to the residence of Mix, and, going into the house, inquired how much he would take for his wife and all the household effects. He replied promptly that a $5 bill would buy what Badgely wanted. "I'll just make it $25," said Farmer Badgely, so the terms of sale were agreed upon. Yesterday afternoon Badgely brought Mrs. Mix to the city, and together they went to a lawyer's office. There the terms of the deal were explained and the law firm retained to bring divorce proceedings for Mrs. Mix. As soon as the divorce is proerred Badgely will make Mrs. Mix his wife and take her to his home.

THE KENT CASE.

A Report That Several Similar Cases Will Soon be Made Public.

OTTAWA, March 23 .- There seems to be very little doubt that several new cases of recovery from those terrible chiseases, diabetes and Bright's disease, in this locality through the means of Dodd's Kidney Pills will very shortly find their way into the columns of the newspapers, and will almost rival in interest to the public the now celebrated case of Mr. G. H. Kent, who has made such a wonderful recovery from the latter disease by using the admirable and efficacious remedy above mentioned. It is said that several persons who have received the greatest benefit from its use are meditating making public the details of their cure, in order that the thousands of their fellow-creatures who are suffering from the same complaints may be enabled to participate in the great blessings conferred, and may find an easy and inexpensive road to health and strength.

It is a great family medicine, safe and pleasant. My faith in Pine-Malt is unbounded. The new medicine is all the talk hereabout. J. G. REVIEWING THE PAST.

Historical Meeting" in the Talbot Street | And Quite Take Away the Breath of | As Reported by the Commercial Agencies Church-Sketches of the Denomination's Progress in London.

Last evening was the "Historical Meeting" of the jubilee celebration of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, Thelarge audience had the pleasure of hearing the histories of the various Baptist churches of the city read and also many pleasant reminiscences or the older members of the congregation. Rev. Ira Smith presided, and in his opening remarks said that he was exceedingly glad to see so many there to listen to the interesting histories which would be read in the order of organization of

TALBOT STREET CHURCH. The history of this church was read by Mr. W. E. Matthews, and is as published in full in a former issue of the "Advertiser."

ADELAIDE STREET CHURCH. The history was given in an interesting manner by Mr. Thos. Woodburn. The church was founded in 1875, the first pastor being Rev. Mr. Montgomery, who resigned after a short time. He was succeeded by Prof. Torrance, who carried on the services during the Summer of that year. The church held services at intervals until 1877, when it was reorganized with a membership of 76. Mr. P. A. McEwen, a member of the church, acted as pastor until 1880. The next pastor was Rev. Joseph Forth, who resigned in 1882. During this year the new church was built on the corner of King and Adelaide streets. Rev. Thomas S. Johnston, of Sarnia, was the first pastor in the new church, and actad until 1890. The total cost of the church and equipments was $9,500, and there is now a debt of $2,350, with bright prospects of a further reduction. Rev. H. C. Speller was the second pastor in the new church and acted until the calling of the present and highly esteemed and successful pastor, Rev. D. M. Mihell, in 1892. The membership of the church

GROSVENOR STREET CHURCH. R. W. Sharp gave an interesting outline of the founding and work of this church. It was started in 1886 by a few of the young people of the Talbot Street organization in an old house on Adelaide street belonging to Mr. Waide. At first there was only a Sunday school, but soon there was an evening service inaugurated, and a little later a week nigh, service. In the fall of the same year they moved to an old house on the corner of Adelaide and Grosvenor streets, near the present site. Soon, however, they decided to build for themselves, and purchased a lot from Hon. John Carling for $100. The church cost $600 and was duly organized in July, 1887. The congregation was ministered to for the most part by students until the calling of the present much esteemed pastor, Rev. F.W. Charlesworth, in January, 1893.

WORTLEY ROAD CHURCH. Mr. H. Sutherland gave a brief sketch of the foundation and work of sketch of the foundation and work of Repairs.....this church. It was organized in 1888. Maps, apparatus, prizes and text The first meetings were held in an old building on the present site. The first pastor was Rev. W. J. McKay. The present pastor, Rev. W. M. Walker, was called in December, 1891. The church through faithful working became selfsupporting in 1892, and its present membership is 136.

effects to Joseph Badgely, a Pipe Creek Both Poisoned by Eating Rabbit's Flesh -Futile Efforts to Secure Assistance.

> WINNIPEG, March 22.-Edmonton advices give full particulars of the finding of Smith brothers of Calgary, formerly of Quebec, dead in their cabin on the Saskatchewan River. A number of notes fastened to boards outside the door show deceased had been suffering for some time, and their touching appeals for help indicate they tried hard to get as far as the trail. The notes left show that both of the men were in a pitiable condition, as the first three are signed by D. Smith, and the last. dated March 2, by R. J. Smith. Written on the door in pencil was: "I'll try and make the trail if I can." The last note reads:

> "Would any person passing come down right away for God's sake and give us help, for our legs are badly swollen from eating rabbits, and we can hardly leave bed. Will pay money, gold or flour to anyone who will lend us assistance. Do not let anything stop you from coming, as we will pay expenses. By following this trail right down to the river it will lead you to the house at the head of the island. (Signed) "R. J. SMITH."

In the house there was found a good supply of everything. The deceased men came here last summer from Calgary. They built the house they were found in last August and had been washing gold in the autumn and hunting during the winter.

It is supposed the poor fellows wrote the notes, hoping to send them out attached to their dog, who might attract the attention of some one; or, perhaps, they intended to post them at the junction of the trail and the path to their house, but were too weak to carry the message to the desired point.

Continuation of the Baptist Jubilee Tenders for Printing the Assessment Over the Roll Opened, > Members of No. 1 Committee-The Matter Deferred.

No. 1 committee of the City Council opened several tenders last night for the proposed printing of the assessment roll. The very first tender elicited a simultaneous long-drawn "Oh!" from nearly every member, and as the tenders were unfolded it was easily seen that it was going to cost a considerable amount to print and distribute the 5,000 copies mentioned in the bylaw. There were seven tenders, as follows: 1. R. Southam, in pamphlet form, $1,727; if copy has to be made from the original rolls, $80 extra; $15 for distrib-

2. Heal & Fleming, printing and delivering, in pamphlet form, $1,800; distributing, $15; if printed from the original rolls, $95 extra.

3. Lawson & Jones, in pamphlet form, $1,667; distributing, $6 75; if printed directly from rolls, $60.

4. "Advertiser" Printing Company, in pamphlet form, $1,725; in newspaper form, $1,550; if printed direct from the rolls, $60 extra; distribution free. 5. A Talbot, printing and binding, $1,780; copy to be supplied, written only on one side or the paper.

6. Free Press, in newspaper form, $1,-465; if printed from rolls, $10 extra; distribution free. 7. London Printing and Litho Company, in pamphlet form, $1,570; in newspaper form, $1,525; delivery, $5; no extra charge if printed direct from rolls. There was a silence for a space as Ald. Jones finished reading the tenders. Then nearly every member complained about the cost.

"What can you do?" asked Ald. Jones. "It's a humbug all the same," replied Ald. Dreaney.
Ald. Carrothers said that the "weakkneed" aldermen had voted for it, while he held out against it. It was finally moved by Mayor it-tle that the committee ascertain it is possible to print the roll in connection with the voters' list.

Ald. Armstrong seconded and the motion carried. The tenders will therefore lie on the table. "Here are estimates from the free fiboard, separate school board, public school board, police commissioners—Oh, dear! oh, dear!" said Ald. Jones. "I move that they lie over until the matter of estimates are dealt with."

A couple of the members explained how they lost their breath when the school board estimates were read on Monday night. "I think the school board taxes should be kept separate," said Ald. Carrothers, "and the school board held directly responsible to the people for any overdraft."

The separate school trustees sent in the following estimate last night: For paying salaries of teachers, assistants and monitors.....$ 2 450 Payment of secretary-treasurer, janitors, etc.....

1,400 books.... Miscellaneous current expenses... 200

Petitions were read from residents of South and Horton streets asking for electric railway facilities on those

"I move that the petitioners wait on the street railway company and convince them," said Ald. McCallum. "There will be a deputation from Egerton street when the matter comes up in council," added Ald. Dreaney. It was pointed out that the street railway company had agreed to electrify Horton street, and the other petition was laid over.

Mr. Taylor, on behalf of the colored citizens, asked for a grant of $250 for the emancipation demonstration next August. Ald. Jones thought that the grant would be illegal. The matter was laid over for the present.

The matter of paying the employes of the L. and P. S. R. for work done during the tenancy of the Miller syndicate came up again. Ald. Carrothers moved that $800 be paid, but the question was finally deferred.

Assessment Commissioner Grant reported that Col. Lewis employed eight men steadily at his stained glass works, and that the assessment was $17,000. Of this $6,500 would be on the glass works. He pointed out that the assessment had been reduced to $15,000 last year. Ald. Carrothers moved that the assessment remain at $15,000.

Ald. Dreaney moved in amendment that it be fixed at $12,000. Carried. There were present: Ald. J. W. Jones (chairman), Mayor Little, Ald. Armstrong, Dreaney, Carrothers, McCallum and Brener.

After every trial the high position of Dr. Price's Baking Powder is better assured.

A PRINTER WINS AN HEIRESS.

John Bohen, of Boston, to Marry a Girl With a Big Fortene,

BOSTON, March 22.-John Bohen, a printer of this city, is soon to marry Miss Theresa Gertrude Butler, only daughter of Capt. Howard G. Butler, the Philadelphia millionaire. The en-gagement has been kept a secret, it is said, at the desire of the young woman's parents, who do not favor the match. After an extended tour in Europe, in pursuit of her studies, Miss Butler returned home. She is a beautiful girl, the idol of her mother's heart and the pride of her rich father, with threequarters of a million in her own right. The wedding will take place in the home of the bride's parents, on Chester avenue, in Philadelphia, but there will be no display. It is planned that the honeymoon will be spent in a New England town, and then the coupie will go to Europe for a year.

A MILLIONAIRE'S HEIRESS DIS-COVERED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 .- The statement was made yesterday in a newspaper that a granddaugnter of the late James G. Fair has peen discovered. The child is about 5 years old and is the daughter of James Fair, the oldest son, and Mary Ellen Lampman. It is believed that the knowledge that this child was in existence impelled the ex-Senator to insert a clause in his will giving $50,000 each to the claimants whom he had not recognized.

THE TRADE OUTLOOK

Border and in the Dominion.

of Dun & Co. and Bradstreet-More Distinct Indications of Improvement.

NEW YORK, March 22.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says indications of improvement in business grow more distinct. The more obtrusive of them-the speculative advance in cottons and stocks-is the least reliable, nor can either of these be said to reflect actual improvement in business conditions. Railroad earnings are scarcely better and speculation is largely based on the expectation of more effective monopoly in coal and some other products. London was buying largely, but is as likely to sell on any rise. More valuable indications are that the volume of domestic trade gains a lit-tle; money is in much better legitimate demand, and the force of hands at work gradually increases in some industries, while in others it is restricted only by strikes, which are presumably temporary. The volume of business through clearing houses gains a little, being 14.1 per cent larger than last year for the week.

Failures during the week have numbered 278 in the United States, against 244 last year, and 35 in Canada, against 50 last year.

BRADSTREET'S. Bradstreet's says: Improvement in general trade is more marked, but not general. It is more conspicuous at the larger New England points-notably Boston and Providence—at New York, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Louisville and other centers along the Ohio River Valley to St. Louis, and as far west as Kansas City. Similar reports come from Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. Total bank clearings throughout the United States during the past six business days show a gain compared with last week and with the corresponding week of last year of 6 and 13 per cent respectively. Exports of wheat, including flour as wheat, from both coasts, equal 2,998,-685 bushels this week, or 20,000 bushels more than last week. The total number of business failures in the United States is 252 this week, against 262 last week. IN CANADA.

Bradstreet's says: Little improve-ment in business is reported from Halifax, the weather being cold, the roads bad and colections slow.

Wholesale trade has improved at Toronto with jobbers of drygoods and hardware. The grain market is strong-er, and Ontario mills have been receiving wheat from Montreal.

The city last named reports an average volume of business for the season. Collections throughout the Province of Quebec are fair only; a good many renewals are asked for. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregating $18.118.954 this week, compared with $17,449,205 last week, and with $17,585,000 in the week one year ago.

The total business failures in the Dominion, as reported to Bradstreet's, is 40 this week. Last week the total was ago it was 41, and two One vear years ago it was 30.

BODY SNATCHERS SAVED HIM.

The Grewsome Experience of a Man Now Living in Missouri.

To be buried alive while sorrowing friends are standing about the open grave, and then come to life in a dissecting room, is the actual experience of George Hayward, an Independence jeweler. Although years have elapsed since he was lowered gently into his grave, the memory of the moment when the undertaker screwed down the lid of the coffin, shutting out the sunlight, and the sensation he felt as he was lowered into the grave, while a funeral dirge was being chanted by the village choir, still remains to him as a horrible dream. He was conscious from the time he was pronounced dead until he was snatched from the grave by the medical fraternity and laid on the dissecting table in the interest of science.

Mr. Hayward still retains the grim recollection of hearing the damp earth falling on the coffin lid, a mournful accompaniment to the sobs of relatives. He was unable to help nimself or make a sign, and, knowing this, his agony was at times intense. His greatest agony was when the sexton rounded up his grave on top and the sound of receding footsteps smote his ear. Mr. Hayward says that at this moment he fell into the dreamy sensation peculiar to a drowning man. How long he remained in that condition he does not know, but his sense of living again came over him when he heard a scraping on his coffin lid some little time after he had been buried.

Mr. Hayward is a man 69 years of age. For years he has been in the jewelery business at Independence, and at present conducts a shop on South Main street. He has the belief that many people are buried alive, and his own experience has a tendency to confirm this belief. To a Journal representative Mr. Hayward yesterday related his burial and resurrection with the unconcern of a man who does not fear death.

"It was in Marshville, England, county Gloucestershire, where I was buried,' said Mr. Hayward, very grimly. "My father had a large family of boys, and he raised us all on the farm near the village. I was quite young, and it was my chief delight to go to the fields with my older brothers. In those days the farmhouses were surrounded with big yards filled with straw. This straw was allowed to rot, and in the fall of the year it was loaded onto wagons and carted to the fields as a fertilizer. It was a bright morning when we started for the fields, and I ran ahead of the horses. The horses in England are not driven with reins, but they follow the command of the voice. After reaching the field the pitching of the straw commenced. The men used hop picks, which are fashioned somewhat after a heavy pitchfork. While standing near one of the hands, by accident I was struck on the head with one of the picks. It penetrated my skull, and at the time made me feel faint and dizzy. My injury was not considered serious. After returning to the house I was sent into the cellar, and, much to my surprise, I could see in the dark as well as in the light. After coming from the cellar my strength failed me and I was soon bedfast. Two doctors were called. One of them insisted that my condition was due to the blow on the head, the other that I had pleurisy. At any rate, two weeks elapsed and my eyes closed in supposed death.

"It was death as for as my relatives were concerned. Yet I was painfully conscious of every movement going on around me. My eyes were half closed, and as I was laid out I heard my elder brother, John, walk into the house. I saw him approach the cot with tears in his eyes, and sympathizing friends consoled him by asking him to dry his tears. 'He is gone,' they said, and other similar expressions were used around the bier. Wellknown faces would peer down at me as I lay with my eyes half closed. Tears rained on my face as the burial shroud was wrapped around my body. As soon as the undertaker arrived I knew that I was to be buried alive. the spell which bound me. Every action and every word spoken are as distinct to my mind now as then. "Well, the time for the funeral arrived, and the service was preached over my living but rigid body. The undertaker approached, and the lid of my little prison house was fastened down. Life seemed all but gone when this took place, but, as I stated, no effort of mine could break the spell. The coffin was shoved into the wagon, and the trundling of the vehicle sounded in my ears. I was painfully conscious of the fact that I was soon to be lowered into the grave. Strange as it may seem, at times I did not feel fear at my impending fate. The coffin was taken out of the wagon and lowered into the grave. In those days boxes were not used as a recentacle for the coffin. The clods of earth fell heavy on the lid of the casket. There I was, being entombed alive, unable to speak or stay the hands of my friends. My effort to move proved futile, and the close air of the coffin semed stifling to me. Suddenly the shoveling ceased, and the silence of the tomb was complete. I did not seem to have the fear then that a person would naturally expect under such circumstances. All I remember is that the grave is a lonely place, and the silence of the tomb was horribly oppressive. A dreamy sensation came over me and a sense of suffocation became apparent. My whole system was paralyzed; were it otherwise my struggles would have been desperate. "How long I remained in this condition I do not know. The first sense of returning life came over me when I heard the scraping of a spade on my coffin lid. I felt myself raised and borne away. I was taken out of my coffin, not to my home, but to a dissecting room I beheld the doctors who had waited on me at my home, dressed in long white aprons. In their hands they had knives. Through my half-closed eyes I saw them engaged in a dispute. They were trying to decide how to cut me up. One argued one way, while the other doctor took another view of the matter. this I witnessed through my half-open eyes. My sense of hearing was remarkably acute. Both approached the table and opened my mouth to take out my tongue, when, by superhuman effort my eyelids were slightly raised. The next thing I heard was:

"'Look out you fool, he is alive.'

"'He is dead,' rejoined the other doctor.

"'See, he opens his eyes,' continued the first doctor. The other physician let his knife drop, and a short time after that I commenced to recover rapidly. Instead of cutting me up they took me home. There was great joy among my relatives. I owed my life to the doctors' dispute as to what ailed me during my illness. I suppose I was kept alive for some purpose." continued Mr. Hayward, as he finished his grewsome tale, "for I am the father of ten children."

Mr. Hayward has been a resident of Independence for some years, and is highly thought of as a citizen. He is a member of the Latter Day Saints' Church.-Kansas City Journal.

JOHN CAMERON,

Pres't and Managing Director.

God's in His heaven, All's right with the world.

London, Saturday, March 23.

-Dr. Bergin, M. P., was "knifed" in the Conservative convention at Cornwall because in the Provincial elections he would not indorse the anti-Catholic cry raised by his party against the Lib-

-The editor of our city contemporary had a dream last night. He dreamt that the new Normal School for Lon-Ion was built on his head, and that he could not get it off. And so he awoke.

-Closer than an oyster is Mr. Clarke Wallace these days. He would like to make a show of kicking, but he values his job too much for that. What a howl he would make if a Liberal administration were in power at Ottawa!

-The Winnipeg Nor'-Wester holds up the Ontario public institutions as models, in point of economical management, that it would be well for Manitoba to imitate. Another feather in the cap of Sir Oliver and his associates.

-I would rather a thousand times be beaten in the defence of a just principle several members who have spoken that if we had conceded more or less to what was, it appears, a popular delusion, we might at this moment be governing the country. I would rather, sir, sit in Opposition, defending the principles I believe to be just and truly national in terial benches, under the auspices of a Protective Policy. I shall never, while I live, consent to place myself in a position which will necessitate on my part sense in what our correspondent says. to be extremely injurious to the prosperity of the country.-Hon. Alex. Mackenzie in 1879.

PAYMENT OF BRITISH M. P.S The British Parliament has affirmed that it is right that members of parliament should be paid. The motion to that effect was strongly opposed by the Conservative leaders, and as firmly maintained by the Liberal leader, Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt. There are now unions, though they represent the whole people. Britain is now a democratic be no class discriminations in the representation of the people. So long as only the rich can sit'in Parliament, un- giving. less a member's friends assess themselves for his support, so long will there be a grievance that should be redressed. in the Motherland.

NO MORE GERRYMANDERS.

One reason why Quebec Conservative members forced the men in power at Ottawa to hold another session is stated to be their desire for another gerrymander. There was one in 1892, but Mr. Ouimet and his associates hold that it is not unfair enough to the Liberals, and that cutting and carving must be resumed.

We tell the gerrymanderers that the temper of the people will not tolerate another gerrymander on the eve of an election, and that if the threatened rascality is insisted on there will be many showers of snow in the winter of 1896 beautiful to the eye as well as rendered before the session of Parliament that begins on April 18 can be brought to a

These repeated gerrymanders would never be undertaken by a body of men who had faith in their principles and were willing to trust the people.

PLAYING-OFF FOR PLUNDER. The Victoria Daily Times says that while the protectionists of British Colambia are crying out that British Columbia cannot successfully compete with the people of Washington State, the McKinleyites of that State are contending that Washington cannot compete with British Columbia.

Our contemporary should know that these are ever the tactics of high tax advocates. One plays the other off against itself, and thus they perpetuate the wrongs which injure all but a few favorite ones. The intelligence of the people, however, is growing. The masses now see that high taxes are an injury in a land, whether or not they are imposed by other countries. A fair policy for a country to pursue is to get rid of every unnecessary tax burden cept that which goes into the public side on which the monopolist is found, and work and vote in opposition to him.

BEAUTY VS. UGLINESS IN CHURCH ARCHITECTURE.

The question of how far a congregation is warranted in beautifying and adorning its place of worship and incurring obligation to make it attractive and comfortable is raised by a Strathroy correspondent, who sends the following communication, taking as his text the recent burning of the two principal Methodist Churches in this city:

"The Methodists of London have now an opportunity to teach a lesson to the rest of the Province. They have lately lost two churches by fire, and I see by the papers they contemplate building on a grander scale. What does that mean? Erecting an edifice and putting ornamental work upon it sufficient to create a debt that will hang like a millstone around their necks for the next 50 years. Is it not time that the Christian people of this land awoke to the awful sin of this thing? Consider what it means. Paralyzing the power of the church from doing anything beyond paying their own liabilities, to send the gospel to the heathen. Survey this Province, examine every denomination, and you will find the curse of a building debt crushing the spirit of liberality out of our people in regard to the most needy and deserving objects. Who dares dispute the statement that the interest paid on church debts in Ontario today would sustain at least 100 consecrated missionaries in the foreign field? And what are the debts contracted for? Largely for outside ornamentation and "gew-gaws," for "the glory of God!" God forgive the ignorant person who thinks so. Do we really want to please God and fulfill the commands of Christ? Then build a good, substantial, plain edifice, without any outside ornamentation, large enough for present and future use. Make it light, cneerful and well ventilated; make the seats comfortable. Pay for it. Abolish the blighting curse of rented pews. Throw it open to the public; invite the poorest to come in; give the sinners a welcome; engage a consecrated young man; send him to the foreign mission field and support him there; get reports from him to fire your hearts with missionary zeal. Go in to rescue the fallen, and bring souls to Christ. Make your church an evangelistic church, progressive in all that is good, and if spiritually and financially you are not blessed beyond measure, then I have mistaken the plain teaching of Christ. Would to God some reformer would start a crusade against this evil. Why does it exist? Largely owing to pride, one congregation trying to surpass another in senseless show, building monuments of folly in the shape of towers and spires, only to serve as pigeon rookeries, at the cost of than be successful in the defence of a thousands of dollars, and consoling wrong principle. We have been told by themselves that they are sacrificing for the Master. In the final day of reckoning where will such work stand in the estimation of him who commands, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." Think of the hollow mockery of dedicating a house to God's service as the gift of men who have loaded it with a debt that they expect the generations unborn to pay! their character than sit on the Minis- Such an act is a fraud in the eyes of men and a solemn farce in the sight of

There is a great deal of common the defence of a policy which I believe In some places congregations have been foolishly extravagant. They have built churches far too expensive for their means, and they have starved the "schemes of the church" in order that they might outdo their neighbors in ostentatious display. But we cannot concede that this evil has, to any extent, seized hold of the churches of London. It certainly has not been true of the Queen's Avenue and Dundas Street Methodist congregations. We know whereof we speak when we say that workingmen M. P.s in the House, but the members of these congregations they are maintained by the voluntary have been most liberal givers, not only assessment of the members of their to foreign missionary work, but what is equally important, to home mission effort. Indeed, when Dr. Potts preachcountry, and it is fair that there should ed in Dundas Street Center Church some time ago, he acknowledged that it was a model congregation in point of heaven.'

It will reassure our correspondent to know that so far as the two congregations are concerned, they do not mean Payment of M. P.s is now within sight to load themselves down with debt in order to supply extravagantly expensive places of worship. They will provide for the present and also for the future, to some extent, and it may be that after all the subscriptions are gathered-and they are most liberalthey may carry a comparatively small debt; but it is not asking the young generation too much to say that they should in some degree share in the payment of the comforts and conveniences which their fathers now provide for

> There is much to be said in favor of making a church attractive architecturally. It is generally an evidence of the good taste of the congregations and of the community when the places of worship in a city or town are made home-like to whoever may enter their portals. While, therefore, we hold that a church may be all that is required, without possessing

"Storied windows, richly dight,

Casting a dim, religious light," and while we agree with our correspondent that no congregation should countenance an expenditure on mere stone and lime that would necessitate the starvation of missions, either at home or abroad, we decidedly lean to the view that there is much to be said in favor of cultivating a tasteful beauty in church buildings. We indorse the view so well put by Ruskin, who contends that "never is piety more unwise than when she casts beauty out of the church, and by this excommunication forces her fairest daughter to become profane." "It is," says the same writer, "a duty to religion not to reject, but to cherish and seek fellowship with every beautiful exhibition which delights and every delicate art which embellishes human life."

This view, we are glad to say, is one that has grown with this country. It has been indorsed by the men who have been the most zealous promoters of the spread of the gospel at home and abroad. Even when Dr. Punshon was and to allow no tax to be collected ex- in Canada, over twenty years ago, that famous English divine recognized the purse. To best accomplish this, every position which the Dominion occupied.

independent citizen should watch the In an eloquent address at the opening of the Metropolitan Church at Toronto, Dr. Punshon asserted that we had in Canada "churches beautiful in their Diagrams of the Three Properties for architecture, commodious in their internal arrangements, and so admirably adapted for church work, with their schools and class rooms, that it may fairly be claimed that today Canada in the number, beauty and arrangement of its churches stands ahead of any country in the world." Are we to retrograde? Certainly not in London. The late Senator Macdonald, a prince of church givers, who for years before he died gave one-fifth of his income to church and charitable purposes, indorsed this view. And it will be found that wherever there is a Christian who lives up to the Biblical injunction to give onetenth of his income for religious purposes there will be a man who desires to see a church beautiful, and who is ready and willing to contribute his full share to make it so. If all gave the tenth, there would be plenty for churches, plenty for missions, and plenty for the care of the poor and needy.

> SCARCELY VISIBLE THROUGH A MICROSCOPE.

> The London Free Press affects to regard the huge deficit which is looming up before Mr. Foster as a result of "large reductions in the tariff." The actual results of the new tariff, in practice, do not justify this view. The average duty on all dutiable goods imported in November and December, 1893, was 37.2 per cent; in the same months of 1894 it was 32.4 per cent. The "relief" of three-tenths of one per cent on the people's taxes is not a very revolutionary measure of tax reduction .-Hamilton Times.

WILL HAVE A DEFENCE.

H. M. East Will Look After Chattelle's

Interests at the Trial. STRATFORD, March 23.—Chattelle, the murderer of Jessie Keith, who will be tried here next week, will be defended by H. M. East, of Toronto, at the request of Prosper Chattelle, of St. Hyacinthe, Que., half-brother of the prisoner. Mr. East will endeavor to show that Chattelle is insane. The Crown will be asked to pay the expenses of witnesses on this point on behalf of the prisoner. The life of the accused will depend alone on this plea. Mr East offered to take charge of the case shortly after Chattelle was brought to Stratford jail. Crown Attorney Idington will prosecute all cases for the Crown.

OSLER DENIES IT.

But Not Emphatically-Not Engaged by the Government.

WOODSTOCK, March 23 .- "Is there any truth in the rumor that you have been retained by the Government to prosecute all the murder cases in the Province, Mr. Osler?" said a Sentinel-Review man, accosting the eminent C. in the court house hall yesterday. "None at all." was the answer in such a manner that it prompted the next remark. "Then you deny it most emphatical-

'I deny it, but not emphatically. I have prosecuted a few cases, and am engaged to prosecute another, but that is as far as my engagement goes." Then he pulled his mustache, slung his red bag over his shoulder, and the crowd made way for him as respectfully as possible. Such is fame.

A SICKENING SIGHT.

Wealthy Californian Roasted by Electricity-He Climbed a Pole.

PETALUMA, Cal., March 23.-Wm. S. Pierce, manager and chief owner of the Petaluma Electric Light and Power Company, and one of the most wealthy and prominent citizens, was instantly killed by contact with an electric wire last night. Pierce, who had been ordered to take active exercise for his health, climbed a pole, heedless of an assistant's warning. Reaching the first crosspiece, about 40 feet from the ground, he sat on it with his legs astride the pole. He ran his right hand several times over several wires, when suddenly he touched one from which the insulation had been burned. A sneet of flame shot forth, and Pierce, without a sound, dropped backward. His body was still on the cross-piece and he nung with head, hands and feet downward, two heavy wires sustaining the body and keeping it from falling. The current was cut off and the body was taken down. Between 5,000 and 7,000 volts of electricity passed through the body.

Bloody Water Oozed Out Constantly. Sufferings were Terrible. No Peace Day or Night from Itching and Burning. Doctors Failed. Cured by CUTICURA.

My child's disease, which was the worst kind of Eczema, started on one cheek like a ringworm, It spread and itched so the poor little fellow had no peace night or day. Then it started on the other cheek and chin, until all were raw as a piece of beefsteak, like a burn where you would rub off the skin, and bloody water oczed out constantly. His sufferings were terrible. I tied his hands that he would not scratch, then he would rub his poor little cheeks on his shoulders to relieve the Strange to say, that very night he rested without scratching his face, and from he rested without scratching his face, and from that on he improved and soon was entirely cured. I would like anyone suffering from this terrible disease to see my boy now; his complexion is as clear and smooth as can be. This is an unsolicited testimonial, and every word is true. I thank God for my child's recovery, and I thank the manufacturer of CUTICURA.

NO USE FOR CANADA. HALIFAX, March 23.-A dispatch from St. Johns, Nfld., says an enthusiastic meeting, at which 2,000 persons were present, last night protested against union with Canada. A league was formed, with branches throughout the country, to oppose the movement.

DIED IN A BOX CAR. TRINIDAD, Col., March 23.—Three dead men have been found in a box car at Springer, N. M. The men were seen on Thursday night about the depot, and carried with them a tinner's stove. It is supposed they took up quarters in the car for the night and started a fire with charcoal in the stove. The doors were closed, and probably the gas suffocated them.

CURLING.

INFLUENCES OF THE GAME. "One way or another," says an English writer on curling, "there is enough of interest and sporting variety about the pastime to account amply for Scotsmen's all-engrossing absorbtion in it. And nowhere does the national temperament show in a better light than upon a curling pond. The harder the frost the more surely does the community at large thaw into hilarity and downright mirth. Never is the handshake warmer or more cordial than at such a season, never do men relax and unbend more genially. There is pawky humor in every other word that is uttered in the course of a game. The dourest subject of your acquaintance becomes good company, and reveals little unexpected kinks of character under the stimulus of the hearty pastime and its traditional concomitants of beef and greens. A man may be hard and 'near' in all the other relations of life, but that fault must have encroached on him beyond redemption if he cannot sometimes permit himself the fun of a curling match with his neighbor for a ton of coal for the poor—a combination of sport and philan-thropy much in vogue in those northern

THAT BIRTHDAY PARTY

the Queen's Avenue Methodists

Was a Great Success-Excellent Programme Furnished by Local Talent.

The City Hall proper was packed to its utmost capacity and both galleries were well filled last night, when the great birthday party of the Queen's Avenue Methodist Ladies' Ald Society was given. It was naturally expected that the party would be well attended, for the ladies had sent out a goodly number of invitations. Each was accompanied by a neat little sack, and in the sack each person accepting the invitation was asked to place one cent for each year of his or her age. The scheme was a new and novel one, and the ladies expected it would realize a good sum towards the church funds. It will, especially if the terms of the invitations were carried out, for there were scores there whose heads were white with advanced years, hundreds past middle age, hundreds in the prime of life, and numerous children. The crowd began to gather early, and the ladies at the to gather early, and the ladies at the door were kept busy piling up the well-filled sacks. Soon the main hall was packed, and the galleries had to be opened. The evening was a pleasant one. Ex-Mayor Spencer presided, and on behalf of the Ladies' Aid expressed pleasure in welcoming all to the birth-day party. He read the invitation, and also several original replies which had been received. Mr. Spencer then briefly been received. Mr. Spencer then briefly introduced the programme, which com-

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY

People Have Talked About and Wanted It For Years—What the Men of London Have Been Set Talking About This Spring.

The interest which has constantly been exhibited in the proposed electric railway for London since the question was first brought to the council's attention some years ago, has not abated in the least. From the very outset people expressed a desire to have the trolley cars in preference to the slow, bob-tail system. It will not only afford more rapid and commodious transit, but it will traverse a greater area and give a larger number of men employment. And, now that the bargain is closed, so far as the council is concerned, the acceptance of the same by the company is eagerly looked for. But still this question has not created more interest among the public in general than has the new spring stock of Harry Lenox among all classes of men in the city. Mr. Lenox is the well-known merchant tailor, whose store is situated at the corner of Carling and Richmond streets. These have been his headquarters for several years, and each year Mr. Lenox has had increased business, caused by the general satisfaction which he gives his many patrons. The stock at all seasons is replete in every department, and includes the nobblest and the best goods—and at reasonable prices. The spring of 1895 has seen an exceptional effort on the part of Mr. Lenox. He has in store a stock, in the selection of which great carefulness has been exhibited. beautiful soft weaves of blacks and grays for spring overcoats are going rapidly, and orders for spring suits from the pretty imported goods are being made. AN ARTISTIC COIFFURD

AN ARTISTIC COIFFURE. The slightly undulated hair carelessly droops at the side on the nape of the neck, and is skillfully twisted at the back. A feather aigrette is poised on the top of the head amongst the short, soft rolls and puffs.

How Troubles Are Divided. Troubles are pretty evenly divided, after all, says the Philadelphia Times. A girl may go nearly distracted when she feels that the band of her dress skirt has come unfastened, but think of the misery of the man when the buttonhole in the neck of his shirt rips open and lets his collar and necktie slide up to his ears. A girl has to fold her hands and wait for a man to ask her to go the theatre with him, but when she does go she has the comfort of making the man spend a lot of money. That consoles her to a certain extent. A girl has to entertain stupid callers whether she wants to or not, because society demands it. A man has to dance with girls who can't even walk gracefully, because if he did not his hostess would consider him rude. A girl carries her life in her hands when she tries to get within a rod of a bargain counter, but she car walk along the street in peace. Half a dozen bootblacks don't yell, "Shine, sir, shine?" at her. A girl has heaps of trouble with her complexion and her front hair, but she doesn't have to have a razor go traveling over her face every day. A girl is very likely to spend weeks in planning the construction of a new hat, but when she does get it people don't sit on it, as they always do on men's headgear. Perhaps that's because a girl doesn't leave her hat lying around on sofas and

A BALL OF SNAKES. SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 23-The dam builders at the Lake Mesa reservoir exploded a large charge of powder recently among the rocks. A large black ball was shot high into the air. The blasters wondered what it was. When the ball struck the earth it unravelled into dozens of rattlesnakes, and as the reptiles glided away in their efforts to escape the workmen killed a score or more with their shovels. It is estimated that the ball of hibernating snakes contained 50 or more who were enjoying a winter siesta in the den destroyed by the blast.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY: Fine-Decidedly mild.

WE'RE ALL RIGHT

For the spring and summer trade. Everything is now in readiness. Our importations are to hand, and the new and pretty ideas embodied in this season's materials far surpass anything yet brought to London. All eyes should be centered on our WASH DRESS GOODS DE-PARTMENT. We have spared no pains to make it the fashionable place to buy fashionable goods. Our prints, Chambrays, Ginghans, Ducks, Drillettes, Cambries, etc., Cover nearly 75 feet of counter room. Some idea, therefore, may be obtained of our gigantic stock and its wonderful assortment of very pretty patterns. But you must see them, examine them, buy them and wear them to know what they are really worth.

YOU'RE ALL RIGHT

If you buy from us. You can't make any mistake in securing some of our splendid variety of patterns and color-ings, which this season are greater and more artistic than ever before. We are selling a white ground American print in fast colors at 5c. formerly considered to be cheap at 6¼d. A heavy indigo blue American print, warranted absolutely fast, at 12½c, sold formerly at 15c and considered cheap. Pink and blue chambrays, fine quality at 12½c. A very fine line of English chambrays, manufacturer's sample pieces, very choice designs, made to $750, $450, $5, $650, $750 sell at 20c, we are offering them at 15c only, because we secured them at a bargain. You should participate in the profit. A splendid line of Oxford Shirting at 121/2c instead of 15c.

A new feature in print goods is our striped crinkle at 20c. This is a decided novelty. Makes up handsomely and looks more like silk than print.

THE NEW CAPES

Are nearly all in now, and very pretty and stylish they are. Combining utility and style with very moderate prices; at least ours do. We are not speaking for our competitors. One thing is certain, that our prices for Capes and Wraps will be popular ones this season, and will show very decidedly who sells the cheapest. We have sold quite a few already, and the expressions of those ladies who looked at them have been very flattering, indeed, and not only that, but a great many sales have been made, That's the test of value.

somewhat weaker. Nearly 20 carloads were taken for Montreal. Offerings at the western taken for Montreal. Offerings at the western cattle yards today 45 carloads, including 609 hogs, 300 sheep and lambs and nearly 150 calves. Most of the cattle were disposed of. Buying for the east was fairly active, and local dealers were operating not quite so freely. For common cattle trade was slow. Theignality was not good enough generally to come up to the standard set by the dealers. Last Tuesday's figures ruled mostly.

One or two picked cattle brought 2½c per lb, the range for good being 3½c to 3½c; mediums, 2½c to 3c; poor and common 2½c to 4½c. These poor cattle are not wanted.

MASONIC. At the last regular communication of Kilwinning Lodge, No. 64, W. Bro. J. H. Flock, Q.C. (the oldest past master of the lodge), presented W. Bro. Chas. W. Davis, the immediate past master, with an elegant gold jewel, emblematic of his rank in Craft Masonry, suitably inscribed. The jewel was the gift of his brethren for services rendered during the years he has served in the leading chairs. Bro. Davis made a neat reply in acknowledging the jewel and hoped the brethren would never have cause to regret elevating him to the East in Kilwinning Lodge.

the proposed addition to the east side of the fire hall, rendered necessary by the contemplated purchase of an aerial ladder and truck. The whole width of the lot will be utilized, and it is thought that there will be room not only for the aerial truck but for a chemical engine, if it is ever found necessary to get one. The purchase of the new truck not only means the cost of the article but the addition to the building, the purchase of two horses and an increased staff as well. But as the Fire Underwriters' Association have so willed, either the expense has to be borne or insurance rates will go up.

The board will meet again on Monday night and nightly thereafter until the choice is made. QUEER COMPETITION.

There is competition in every walk of life, and as soon as one man gets a good thing a rival tries to outdo him. Stress of competition has almost ruined the peculiar occupation followed by an old man named Godwin, who has for years haunted the hay market wth rake in hand, gleaning from the litter enough questionable-looking hay to keep his animal from starving. The hay men's horses are always allowed to pull from the will begin by tearing down the old vault load as much as they care to eat, and in this process a considerable quantity falls to the ground. Then Mr. Godwin would get in his work. Lately several other men have become imbued with the idea that he had a good thing, and now there are seven mer similarly engaged, with the result that none of them are rolling in clover. In fact, the market men are beginning to complain that their activity is a nuisance.

> The late Mrs. David Thompson, of Detroit, was fond of flowers, and the quaint garden, with its beds of old-fashioned plants, which stretched along the Shelby street side of her residence, had much to do with brightening the twilight of her life. It was eminently appropriate that at her funeral in that city yesterday afternoon her friends should testify in the silent language of flowers to the great esteem in which they held her. So there were masses of beautiful and fragrant bloom arranged in appropriate designs or gathered loosely into great sprays when the ladies and gentlemen who had known her in life crowded into the parlor of her late home and into the adjoining rooms and corridors to do honor to her memory. The services were attended by Colonel and Mrs. Leys, of London, Ont., the latter being Mrs. Thompson's niece and adopted daughter; Dr. Leys and Miss Mary, Miss Carrie, Allan and John Leys, as chief mourners, and by twenty old ladies from the Thompson Home, the managers of that institution, and a large number of the most prominent residents

A HEAVY SENTENCE

Inflicted Upon a Collegiate Institute Pupil-Found Guilty of Murder.

The mock trial at the Collegiate Institute was concluded yesterday afternoon. The evidence for the defense was given to the court, and then the counsel, Messrs. Screaton, for the defense, and Essery, for the prosecution, addressed the jury. Then the judge, H. B. Best, made his charge, which was against the prisoner. The jury retired to their chamber and while they were carefully chamber, and while they were carefully deliberating on the case, the following programme was rendered: Violin solo, Mr. Elliott; instrumental duet, Misses Hodge and McWhinney; criticisms of the last meetings, Miss McCully and Mr.

Laidlaw. The jury returned, and when the usual question was asked the foreman, J. R. Bone answered, "Guilty." Then Mr. Screaton asked that the jury be polled, but they all agreed with the first decision. The judge asked the prisoner, James Little, if he had anything to say to the court. He arose and made a most eloquent and touching appeal. The sentence was then passed, as follows: "You, James Little, shall be taken to the place whence you came, and there shall spend the rest of your natural life at hard labor, studying classics and science, with the added punishment of mathematics."

When the last part of the sentence was pronounced he fainted away and had to be carried from the court. A DUKE IN CLOVER.

> A SUFFERING ARMY. Borne Down by a Relentless Foe.

The great army of sufferers from various rheumatic conditions joyfully wel-come Chase's K. and L. Pills, because the foster parents of their aches and pains are the Kidneys, which, on account of a diseased condition, are unable to relieve the blood of uric acid poison, which is deposited in the joints, producing on the first provocation irritating aches and pains in the bones, joints and muscles. The reason that Chase's Pills relieve and cure is their wonderful power in restoring degenerate Kidneys to a perfect and natural condition, without which the system is supplied with blood teeming with poison that adds fuel to the fire of rheumatic complaints, demoralizing the entire system and rendering it liable to a complication of diseases, terminating in dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. A pleasant feature of these Pills is that while most Kidney remedies encourage constipation, Chase's relieve and cure it. In nearly all rheumatic attacks there exists constipation of the bowels, which is easily overcome by Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; in fact, they are a perfect cure for constipation. This is indorsed by Edward Garrett, editor and proprietor of Bradford (Ont.) Weekly Witness, and thousands of others. One

CHAPTER I.

Clear and bright, with the crystalline clearness and brightness of atmosphere peculiar to Scotland, the brilliant summer day lrew softly to a close. There was no cloud in the solemn blue depths overhead, but around the sinking sun a few fleecy masses had been turned to crimson and gold, and were reflected in gleaming light and glancing lood-red hues from the bosom of the majes. ic river, as it widened between receding banks towards the Northern Sea. A London steamer, making its way up the channel to a port on the Forfarshire coast, whither it was bound, seemed to be plunging into a mystical land of glory as it turned its head towards thr burning West.

So it seemed, at least, to a girl who was standing on the deck with her eyes fixed upon the shore which was half lost in a golden haze. "We seem to have come to a City of Gold," she said, smiling, to a gentleman who stood at her side.

"Some people have found it so," he answered, rather dryly. "A good many fortunes have been lost and won in the good old town of Dundee. She moved a little, as if she did not quite like his tone. "I did not mean that," she said, in lowered voice.

"I know you did not," said John Hannington, with a swift look at the sweet, girlish face to which he was almost sure that he had lost his heart during the last two days. "I knew you had some meaning that an unlucky brute like myself is certain to misunderstand. Something so beautiful and transcendental for my poor ears."

"Oh, no, no," said the girl, deprecatingly. She colored a little at his words. "My thought was a foolish one." 'Will you not tell me what it was?" said Hannington, drawing a little nearer. "Do

She had a charming face, he thought. She looked half-frightened at his request, and then a brave, modest expression came into her beautiful blue eyes. "It is not worth making a secret of," she said. "I only when I saw the golden light whom Hannington had spoken, went thought—when I saw the golden light making those hills and buildings look so straight to the captain of the vessel with a dream-like and unsubstantial—of Bunyan's question. 'Pilgrim's Progress,' and the Celestial City that the pilgrims saw from afar.' "In the silent evening air, speech sometimes travels further than we know. The girl was quite unconscious that her clear, fine utterance had reached the ear of one other person beside her immediate auditor. A middle aged man, with a grave, keen face who had been leaning over the bulwarks, with his eyes fixed abstractedly on the water, and his head turned away from the golden glory of the West, was struck by her words. He changed his position a little, so that he could see the girl's fair profile, studied it for a moment or two with a look of kindly interest, then rose up and walked away. But as he passed the couple, he heard John Hannington's reply.

An amused laugh came first. Then a half

"I laugh from surprise, not from amusement, Miss Raeburn. The imagination required to convert smoky, whisky-loving, jute-manufacturing Dundee into a Celestial City is prodigious. Bunyan himself could not have possessed more. "Ah, you do not understand," said the girl, smiling now and shaking her head. "I had forgotten Dundee altogether. But you must not abuse it; because it is going to be my home.' The gentleman who had passed them was out of hearing by this time.

"Do you know who that is?" said Hannington, looking after him with interest. "Moncrieff of Torrismuir; one of the wealthiest men in Scotland. Some people say, one or the most unfortunate. But I'm not among the number." "Why?"

"Why unfortunate? or why am I not among the number who call him so? Well, I'll answer both questions, Miss Raeburn. In the meantime, won't you sit down?" He grasped a small deck chair by the back rail, and gently pushed it towards her. "You can look at the sky while you sit just as as well as if you were standing, you know," he said, in the broad, easy-going way which made John Hannington such a favorite with his acquaintance, while the girl accepted the seat with a little nod of thanks and a pleasant smile. "As to Moncrieff-he lost his wife three or four years ago under specially sad circumstances; she was thrown out of a pony cart which he was driving, and killed before his eyes. Then, his only son is weakly-in fact, something of an invalid. He has a young daughter, I believe, but no

"How very sad!" said Miss Raeburn. Her gentle eyes were full of sympathy. "His wife's death must have been a great loss to him "

'Conventionally, yes," answered Mr. Hannington, fingering his black moustache, with a smile. He found Miss Raeburn's simplicity adorable, and thanked fate for sending him on board the steamer from London to Dundee, where he had found her in the charge of a lady with whom he was acquainted. "In real, you know, the death of a wife does not always leave a man inconsolable. It is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. Moncrieff did not get on very well." "Oh, then, he is even more unfortunate than I thought," said the young girl, quickly. "You think I am very hard-hearted because I do not call him so? I understand. To a sweet-natured, loving woman, it must seem strange—the callous way in which we men of the world look at things!" cried John Hannington, with apparent impetuosity He was really very much on his guard. "To a worldly man like myself. Miss Raeburn, it does not seem that Mr. Moncrieff is anything but a lucky man. He has a fine estate: he has a splendid income and a magnificent house; he has—or may have—all the official county distinctions which he wants; no career is closed to him; and, although he has lost his first wife, whom rumor says that he did not love, he is free and able to marry again, and to marry whom he pleases—which many men are not."

A harsh note was audible in his voice. The girl kept silence. She was still gazing towards the west, where the light was growing faded and dull. It seemed to her, suddenly, that, if she listened long to Mr. Hannington's worldly wisdom, life also would fade in brightness as surely as that western sky. But Hannington knew what he was doing; he had an effect to produce.

"What am I saying?" he broke out, with an accent of sudden self-reproach. "Inflicting my hard, worldly maxims upon you, who are so far above me-so far removed from evil-

"Oh, please, Mr. Hannington do not talk in that way," said the girl, with drooping head and flushing weeks. And yet—Stella Raeburn would not have been a girl of nineteen if flattery had seemed quite distasteful,

Mr. Hannington knew that well enough. "I must tell you—before we separate"he said, in agitated tones, "that since I knew you, I have felt a different influence. I have felt as though a nobler, higher life were possible; I have seen that your standard was higher than mine, and have wished—wished bitterly, and I fear vainly -that I could attain to it!" He stopped short, as if emotion impeded his utterance; and Stella attempted a few words of depre-

"I am not worth such praise; I can only wish that my own standard were higher,"

"Ah, don't remove yourself further from me than you are now," he pleaded, ardently. "Be still yourself—the star of my dark night-the guiding star, that points without its own knowledge, without its own volition to the birthplace of all that is most sacred, most holy, in the world."

She shrank a little. In her peaceful maidenliness it seemed to her as if his reference to the Star of Bethlehem were half profane. He felt the momentary recoil,

"Forgive me if I say to much. Your very name suggests it. Stella, your friends call you, do they not? I never hear it without emembering all sorts of poetic fancies, lines that poets have written, and fables that have been told about the stars. Will you forgive me?"

"So long as I have only poetic fancies to forgive—it is not much!" said Stella, lightly. But she rose from her seat as she spoke, and began to move about the deck, where several other persons were sitting or standing. Hannington knew that he had gone far enough. The girl was sensitive, and perhaps a little proud, in spite of all her gentleness. He hovered near her, as she walked, but he did not speak again till she addressed him. He knew that silence is

"Who is that young lady with who sits next but one to you at the table, captain?" he asked.

The captain was busy, and replied with curtness. "Oh, you mean Miss Raeburn, daughter of Matthew Raeburn of Dundee— Raeburn & Miller-jute." "Jute, of course," said Mr. Moncrieff, dryly.

I recollected the names of Raeburn & Miller. They had one of the largest jute mills in the town, and were reputated to be wealthy men. What a delicate flower-like face Miss Raeburn had! He had noticed it several times since he came on board, but had not hitherto thought of asking any one its owner's name. A sweet, delicate face; but strong, too, with a kind of squareness about the white chin, and considerable breadth of forehead. The pretty lips, moreover, closed firmly, and the beautiful eyes were serious rather than gay. There was character as well as beauty in Stella Rae-

The Life of a Bright Little Boy Saved.

The Story Told by His Grateful Father-An Experience That May Bring Gladness to the Hearts of Other Parents.

(From the Waterloo, Ont., Chronicle.) Mr. David Thaier is a prosperous well-to-do farmer who lives near Cen-terville, on the main road from Berlin to Galt. He has a fine farm of 100 acres. and every thing about his place has an air of neatness and prosperity. A representative of the Waterloo Chronicle lately had occasion to call on Mr. Thaler, and in the course of conversation came across one of those remarkable cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that has given this great life-saving medicine a world-wide reputation. Among Mr. Thaler's family is a bright rosy-cheeked boy of four years, whose winsome manner attracted the reporter's attention and caused him to remark on his healthy appearance. "Yes," replied the farmer, "the little fellow looks well enough now, but two years ago he was but a mere skeleton, and we were sorely afraid we would lose him, and I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved his life." Asked to give the particulars, Mr. Thaler said: "He was a strong and healthy child when born, and continued so until

15 months old, when unfortunately a servant gave him, without our knowledge, food quite unsuited to an infant. The result was his stomach became deranged; he began to pine away, and no food would remain with him, but passed off like water. He could not sleep or rest, and cried day and night. He kept going down for six or seven months, un-til the poor child was reduced to skin and bone. He had medical aid, but little or no good was accomplished. It was not until the little fellow was in this desperate strait that he determined to give him Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I procured a supply and he was given them according to the directions for children. Soon after beginning to give him the Pink Pills the change was remarkable, and from that he became stronger and stronger, until he is now the healthy little chap you see before you. As I said before I believe we owe his life under providence to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and if you feel that what I have told you will benefit anyone else you are quite at liberty to publish it." The reporter has no doubt that the statement may point to some other parent the road to a new health for their child, and gives it as he got it from Mr. Thaler. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just as valuable in the case of children as with adults, and puny little ones would soon thrive and grow fat under this treat-ment, which has no equal for building up the blood and giving renewed strength to brain, body and nerves. Sold by all dealers, or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. ROBERT B. ENGLISH, LAKEFIELD, ONT.

cause of the sickness of their children is one of the most severe trials of life. Here is the case of Robert B. English, son of John English, the proprietor of the well-known cooperage factory at Lakefield, Ont. Five years ago this youth suffered from a severe attack of la grippe, leaving him a perfect wreck. A result of this extreme weakness was an attack of nervous troubles, developing into some of their most trying and unpleasant ways. The youth was taken with severe twitchings, and following these would come fits that would rack the system two or three times every week. His parents did everything that a loving father and mother could possibly do. The highest medical skill was enlisted, but in the end the doctors explained to the parents that the boy's recovery was impossible. Medicine to no end had been poured into the boy's system, and no relief came. Certain local circumstances influenced the parents to make a trial of South American Nervine. This medicine had only been taken a short time when the fits disap-

The anxiety that comes to parents be- peared, and the nervous twitchings gradually lessened. Encouraged by the results the medicine was continued until six bottles were taken. Then no more was required, for, as the father said, the boy was completely cured, and stands today an object lesson of what Nervine can do in cases of extreme nervous troubles. It is not surprising that these parents could never cease speaking in glowing terms of this great remedy. It is a great remedy, because it is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure effective in all cases. The nerve centers are located at the base of the brain and in the vicinity of the spinal cora. The secret of Nervine is that it commences its work at these points. No time is lost in giving a little temporary ease. But the lifegiving center refreshened, built up and strengthened to the utmost, and the whole system is invigorated. The common sense character of this method is plain to every one, lettered or unlettered, simple or wise. It is for this reason that it is to be said of Nervine, not that it cures some cases, but that it

Leamington Oddfellows Entertained by

ago Detroit Lodge, I. O. O. F., went to Leamington to show their fraters that brotherhood was not stopped by the border line between the two countries. The result was a good time, and last night Leamington Oddfellows came here and were given a great time. While the visit was primarily to Detroit Lodge there were present members of all the lodges in the city. After the work a banquet was served.

WILL TAKE A PLEBISCITE. The board of trustees of the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church held a meeting in Salvation Citadel yesterday afternoon at which the matter of a church site, which was so vigorously debated by the members of the congregation the night before, was taken up. It was decided that in view of the difference of opinion prevailing a plebiscite of the members and pew holders would be taken. Ballots were accordingly prepared, on which were printed the three sites-the old one, the Hodgins property, at the corner of Queen's avenue and Wellington street, and the Morkin property, on the corner of Dufferin avenue and Wellington street. The ballots will be distributed and collected, and the board will meet on Tuesday next to ascertain the result of the vote.

gold cuff links. Mr. Tillman, the president, was unable to present himself owing to the death of a relative. In his absence Mr. John Morrison, the vice president, did the honors in a very satisfactory manner. Refreshments were served during the evening, and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music carried out. The list comprised a piano solo, J. Morrison; song, T. Ranahan; banjo solo, P. Cook; song, A. O'Brien; duet, A. Calder and G. Fraser; song, B. Stockwell; piano solo, Arthur Morrison; song, E. J. Ryan; song, Ed Cook. A very amusing feature of the programme was a pantomime duet by Alex. Furness and Geo. Sippi. It was heartily applauded. Mr. Arthur Lawrason presided at the piano in an able and accomplished

The horse he was driving is described as being in a terrible condition and the shoulder pad produced in court was literally saturated with blood. Two large sores 4½x2 inches and 2x2½ inches were found on its shoulders. The magistrate enlarged the case until Monday to admit of Fitzgerald procuring another horse and going on with his milk delivery. John Dunion, a young man charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was discharged.

MR. JOHN ANDRAS ON "AS YOU

LIKE IT." To say that Mr. Andras gave no or-dinary pleasure to the large gathering assembled in the "Y" rooms last evening to hear his lecture on Shakespeare's 'As You Like It" would be no exaggeration. After a few appropriate remarks from the Rev. G. B. Sage, who occupied the chair, the lecturer proceeded with his subject. After Mr. Andras had shown that the play was probably written at the commencement of the sixteenth century, he went on to say that "the great poet was at home in and familiar with court and camp, palace and cottage, crowded street and merry hostelry, but no scene does he paint and adorn with loving hand as the woodland-the merry greenwood; he bears himself nobly and grandly in court and camp; he is full of jovial merriment in the safe seclusion of the oak-paneled inn room, but his heart and breast expand to the fuller, freer life in the long vistas of stately oak and beech, which spread their broad and hospitable shade over mossy banks and flowery dell." The lecturer then read the most noteworthy portions of the play, the humorous passages being rendered with great chic, the audience indulging in roars of laughter. In closing Mr. Andras remarked that the picture presented in the play of pastoral purity and kindliness is strongly contrasted with the injustice, self-seek-ing and oppression which prevail in the crowded centers of the work-a-day world. In the forest one is subject to only those adversities which are part of the inevitable conditions of nature and are God's sending, but in the town there are also the evils and troubles of man's creation. "God made the country, and man made the town." TISDALE'S TORONTO IRON STA-BLE FITTINGS, healthful, durable attractive and cheaper than other fittings. Send for our new catalogue. The Tisdale Iron Stable Fittings Co. (Ltd.),
