PROPOSED GREAT IRISH CONVEN-TION. Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto, has written an important letter to Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., in which he expreses regret that the member for South Longford was unable, by reason of his health, to accept a reception at the hands of his admirers in Canada, and adds:

"If I mention, in passing the enormous sacrifices you have made, it is not on your account, but for the sake of good and true men at home, who might be led astray, in your regard, by false statements and misrepresentations. Here in Canada, where you were bred, born and reared, and where you are well known both as to your private and public life, you need no certificate of character from any individual or from any body of citizens for you possess in an eminent degree the esteem, admiration and confidence of your countrymen. In saying this much I am sure that I voice the public opinion of Canada."

The necessity for unity among Irishmen, if Home Rule is to triumph, is also emphasized by the Archbishop,, who makes this proposition:

"Let a great national convention be held in Dublin, composed of chosen representatives of the clergy and people of Ireland, and of an advisory representation of the Irish race abroad. In that convention let Ireland speak out her mind. Let not her voice be like a broken musical instrument, emitting discordant notes and jarring sounds, but let it, on the contrary, be clear, loud and emphatic, insisting on unity and condemning faction. Let her point out and uphold the Parliamentary representatives whose methods and conduct she approves, and let her mark out and condemn those whose intolerance of control, personal jealousies and animosities have done so much to break the unity and waste the strength of the National party. Dissensions and feuds have in the past been the ruin and curse of Ireland. Let her stamp them out and cast them from her as things more noxious than the serpents St. Patrick banished from her shores. In that convention let the voice of Ireland's sons abroad be heard and their ad-vice considered."

Mr. Blake, in reply to the Archbshop, thanks him for his kindly personal references, agrees with him that unity of aim is the chief thing necessary to the success of Irish aspirations, and indorses the view that a great national convention, such as he suggests, would powerfully stimulate the movement for Irish self-govern-

to 18s 6d; Northern Spys, 15s 6d. THE VENEZUELAN AFFAIR. London, Oct. 17.—The representative of the Associated Press in this city has obtained from the best source the following statement as to the state of the Venezuelan question: "The United States ambassador, the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, presented a long note to the Marquis of Salisbury on the Venezuelan question some weeks ago, stating in full the views of the United States Government, and the rules and policy by which they are guided on such questions arising between a European Government and an American Republic. Up to the present no reply has been given, and as it opens a question of such great importance and wide application, the matter will engage the serious attention of the British Government for some time."

SALMON OR TROUT? London, Oct. 17 .- The secretary of the Fishmongers' Company confirms the report of the stoppage of the sale of Canadian salmon, a large quantity of which arrived here on Oct. 10. He says he has no doubt from the sample sent by the company's experts, about four hundredweight, that it is what is called "bull trout," and it is assumed that the balance of the consignment is the same. He adds, however, that if it can be proved that it is salmon, the Fishmongers' Company will not desire to hinder the trade, and he claims they are simply upholding the act of Parliament which prohibits the sale of trout at the present time of the year. The consignees of the Canover pending the investigation into the affair which is being made by experts.

A CRITICAL SITUATION. Constantinople, Oct. 17.-A Russian warship has arrived here. The situation at Ismid is critical. The Christians are apprehensive of a Turkish outbreak.

The French, Russian and Austrian Lloyds Companies have each sent a large steamer to Trebizond to serve as refuge for residents in case of need.

There is a growing discontent against Turkish rule on the Island of Crete. Christians now threat to foment a robellion in favor of annexation to Greece. The Greek Government, fearing complications, deprecates such a Cretan movement, but the situation is perilous. Berlin, Oct. 17.—Advices received from Constantinople state that the most serious consequences are feared from the general situation growing out of the revived Armenian agitation and the resumption of rioting. According to these dispatches the intervention of the powers to restore order and enforce reform is imminent.

BIG PILE OF SILVER STOLEN. London, Oct. 17 .- One of the managers of Elkington & Co., the wellknown silversmiths of Regent street, Cheapside, Hyddleton street, and of Calcutta, who claim the distinction of being silversmiths "by special appointment to her Majesty the Queen. H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, the Emperor of Austria, and H. M. the King of the Belgians," has been arrested in connection with the robbery of 31 ingots of silver, alued at about $25,-000, in transit over the Midland Railway Company. The silver was stolen in broad daylight on Sept. 25 last, on Ossulston street, Somerstown, London, with a horse and wagon in which the bullion was being conveyed from the Midland railway station to Messrs. Sharps & Wilkins, of Great Winchester street, this city. The firm of Elkington & Co. is much patronized by Americans who visit London, The prisoner is the manager of the branch store in this city, and it is understood that some of the stolen ingots have been found on the premises. THE AKHISSAR SLAUGHTER. Constantinople, Oct. 17 .- Fifty Armenians, it is reported, were killed at Akhissar by a Moslem mob. The slaughter took place on Oct. 9, which was market day, when many Armenians had gathered from adjacent villages. Early in the morning a Turkish rough, finding that the Armenians were not armed, picked a quarrel and shot one of them. There was then raised on all sides the cry, "Why hesitate to massacre the infidels?" A mob of Turks, armed with revolvers and knives, then looted the market, and massacred the helpless Armenians. Their bodies were thrown into the wells. It is stated that the Mudir was responsible for the attack. No women or children were injured, probably on account of the arrival of the Kaimaikan from the village of Gieve, three miles distant, who made valiant efforts at the risk of his life to save the Christians, otherwise the slaughter would have been complete. IN DIVES AND DENS.

Baltimore Ladies Slumming in the Worst Parts of the City.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 17.—"The Traffic in Girls," a paper read before the Purity Congress by Mrs. Chariton Edholm, cover from the accident to his arm, produced startling results: first the which was not broken, but geverely pictures of depravity and wretchedness described as belonging to certain quarters of every city brought many shudders over the audience. Subse-have been $9,484.667 less than expen-quently a party of ladies delegates ditures. The deficit for the fiscal year to the congress, agreed to make a to date is $19,369,325. The deficit for the slumming trip, with a view to seeing entire fiscal year will most probably for themselves if such pictures were to be found in Baltimore.

About midnight a party of the delegates, headed by Mrs. Edholm, and escorted by two ministers and four newspaper men, under the protection of two police sergeants, visited one of the notorious districts of the city and spent a couple of hours praying and pleading with the inmates of the disorderly houses. It is a strange sight those motly-looking women, in the plainest of gowns and bonnets, in close contact and earnest conversation with the gaudily-attired denizens of tawdry parlors. This programme was repeated at each of the houses visited. Most of the women made no objection to the visitors coming into the house. and listened with interest they had to say. Some of them were disposed to argue the question with Mrs. Edholm, and one young girl, who did not look to be over 16 years old, spoke bitterly of the fact that starvation wages had much to do with driving young girls to such houses. Many of the girls cried as Mrs. Edholm talk.

At the Social Purity Congress yesterday Rev. C. W. Watch, of Brighton,

Ont., read an interesting paper on social purity work in Canada. He eulogized the moral sentiment of the Canadian people, and said if the whole box on the temperance question there would be 100,000 majority in favor of people on having no general divorce ed requires a special act of Parliament, and the result is that only 48 applications have been filed in ten years. Forty of these were granted, or about one for every six or seven thousand marriages. The speaker paid a tribute to Mr. John Charlton, member of Parliament, for favoring legislation on social purity questions, and criticized other legislators for indifference to the importance of a proper age or consent law, and to the one standard of morals. The city of Toronto also received Dr. Watch's hearty commendation as being the best governed place in the Dominion. morality department in charge of Staff Inspector Archibald, was highly praised, and when the speaker said there was not a known house of illfame in that city the congress ap-

Disease Plays Havoc Among the Spanish

Troops-Insurgent Reverses. London, Oct. 17 .- The Morning Post publishes a dispatch from Paris saying that official returns show that number of Spanish troops killed in fighting or by disease since the opening of the campaign in Cuba is 1,997. This number includes a general, twenty-six superior officers and 160 officers of low rank.

A dispatch from Havana says that Col. Milans' column dispersed the combined insurgent forces of Guerrero, Garillo, and Rodriguez at Linderos Menezes, after a fight that lasted seven adian salmon have agreed to hold it hours. The rebel forces gathered again at Sierra Colorado, and the Government troops again attacked them, defeating them with heavy loss. On the Spanish side only a few were wounded. A dispatch to the Madrid Imparcial says that a Government column, under command of Col. Zamora, left Baracoa on Oct. 6. On the 9th the column had an engagement with 800 insurgents, under Gil, and defeated them. The insurgents lost 24 killed and many wounded. The Government loss was one killed and twelve wounded. quantity of arms belonging to the rebels was captured by the troops.

That Is What Hon. Wilfrid Laurier Had in a Hitherto Conservative Constituency.

Delta, Leeds county, Oct. 17.-The demonstration in honor of Mon. Wilfrid Laurier here today, in a hitherto strongly Conservative district, was an immense success. The crowd was very large, and the enthusiasm unbounded. A special train on the Brockville and Westport Railway brought Mr. Laurier, Mr. John McMillan, M.P., Mr. George W. Dawson, M.P., Mr. Thomas Bain, M.P., and Mr. Alex. Smith, to Delta, along with many residents who joined the train en route. At Lyn, a farga crowd assembled to cheer the presentation of a citizen address. At Athens, the Citizens' Band and another big crowd awaited the coming of the leader. Upon the arrival of the train at this place a procession was organized, with the Athens and Lyndhurst bands at its head. Before it moved off Miss Clara Denant presented Mr. Laurier with a bouquet, and she, too, received a kiss for the favor. The town had decorated itself for the occasion, and the effect was very pretty. The most imposing feature of the decoration was a triumphal arch, under which the procession passed on its way to the Agricultural Hall, where the meeting was held. The Liberal leader was cheered to the echo when he spoke of points in public affairs, and the speeches of those who accompanied him were also applauded by the crowded audience. Messrs. McMillan and Dawson went to Westport, the northern terminus of railway, to address a meeting, while Mr. Laurier went to Gananoque, where today he is the guest of Mr. C. . Britton, the well-known iron manu-

Since then nothing

The New Brunswick Government Returned by a Large Majority.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 17 .- Yesterday was polling day for the Local Legislature. The fight was a very fierce one in York, Carleton, Restigouche and King's counties. In the latter county the Opposition made a desperate effort to defeat the Government candidates. Mr. A. A. Stockton, leader Dominion should speak at the ballot of the Opposition, and a host of speakers went through the county daily, working up temperance and prohibition. He congratulated his cries. ADVERSELY REPORTED UPON.

Yet Maurice Baldwin's Account Was Ordered Paid,

Transient Traders' Fees to be E ised from $10 to $50 Per Day-City Jewellers Kick-License Fees Collected.

No. 3 committee, at its regular meeting in the City Hall last night, did a somewhat unusual thing, which, however, may be knocked in the head by the council. During the progress of the Western Fair, Contractor Maurice Baldwin was ordered to water King street, from William to Ontario, and Ontario, from King to Dundas. He subsequently sent in a bill for six days watering at $3 per day, but the account was referred to the inspector. Mr. Isaacs, for a report. The report was presented last night, and it was to the effect that the watering had been performed only on four days. Notwithstanding this, the committee decided to pay the account. In future transient traders will make themselves scarce around London. The grocers were the first to complain of the loss they sustained though the operations of these traders; now the jewelers object to men coming to the city during Fair week and Christmas time, and selling trash jewelry, thereby causing heavy losses to established jewelers. With the object of remedying the evil, the committee will recommend that all transient traders be taxed $50 a day, instead of $10 as heretofore.

J. K. McLeod's application to erect a board roof on some coal bins at the corner of Clarence street and the Grand Trunk, was granted, Alex. McRae will be paid $10 for damages sustained to his hack in a collision with the South London fire wagon on July 12. McRae claimed the firemen were responsible for the accident. License Inspector Bell reported $1,894 of fees collected to date, an increase of $126 compared with the same period last year. Mayor Little's message to the council (re the watering by the railway company of all streets on which tracks are laid), was left over till next meeting. Manager Carr may then have a proposition to make to the city.

An account from the London Electric Company for $25 for lighting Queen's Park on the evening of Civic Holiday was ordered to be paid if the teamsters had not already settled it. The account has been before the committee for some time. owing to a slight misunderstanding. When the use of the park was granted No. 3 committee understood the matter of lighting was referred to them with power, and the lamps were ordered to be lighted. It tuned out, however, that such action was illegal, and that the aldermen on the committee were responsible for the sum. It is understood the teamsters have paid the account.

FATHER MOLPHY'S WILL.

Without the Aid of the Court-London People Interested.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 17 .- There was a big array of legal talent in the room yester- judges may determine their merit. day when the case of Morphy vs. Brady was Elizabeth Molphy against the executors of the estate of the late Father Molphy of the will of the deceased priest set aside.

will was dated four days earlier. In that for explanations sent in by women and will the estate was estimated to amount to girls. All may read; but only women $9 000 exclusive of insurance policies and girls may guess—and win the $9 000 exclusive of insurance policies equivalent to $6,000. The latter were left prizes. to Miss Ella Brady. Out of the former $3,000 was ordered to be distributed among certain charities named. The reverend father, besides this will, left a letter of instructions to the executors requesting them t) give his sisters $2,000 of the residue after paying the amounts mentioned to the various charities.

When the executors came to value the estate outside of the $6,000 policies willed to Miss Brady they discovered that, owing to bad debts amounting to a large sum, there was not sufficient left to carry out deceased's instructions contained in the letter.

The Misses Molphy then brought the case into court, alleging that the will was later than 6 o'clock p.m., Nov. 12. For invalid owing to the fact that Father Molphy was mentally incompetent at the time it was drawn up.

An amicable settlement was made in court without the assistance of the judge. S. H. Blake, Q.C., last night announced that Miss Brady being desirious of seeing the wishes of Father Molphy carried out, would refund the executors $500 of the $6,000 left to her, although not legally bound to do so. This offer was accepted by the plaintiff and Miss Brady dropped out of don, Ont. the case.

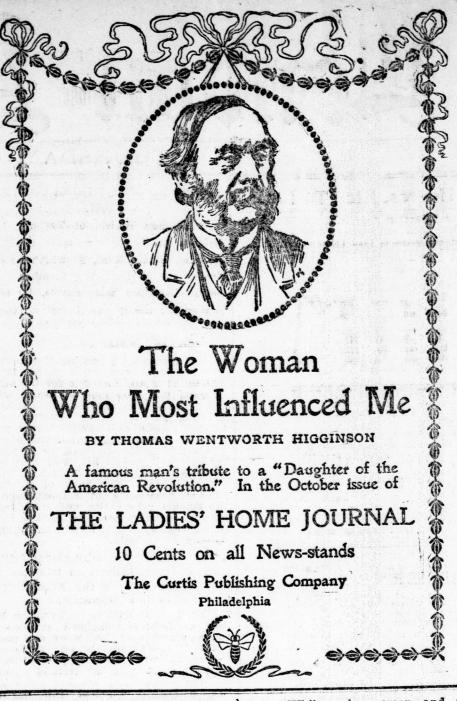

A very similar settlement was made with regard to the other defendants. Those receiving moneys under the will have consented to abate certain sums in order to make up, with Miss Brady's $500, the amount in tended for the Misses Molphy.

The Scrap Bag_

A golfer to the rescue! Now for a spirited defense! No one shall speak slightingly of the great national game while there is a Scotchman alive to defend it!

Editor Scrap Bag: "What erroneous notions even intelligent people have about golf is shown in the Scrap Bag paragraph on this subject in last Thursday's issue. Doubtless, to the onlooker it may appear foolish, and only answer the purpose of a 'show-off' for those playing but to the real golfer what delights are contained in the game! The thrill of pleasurable excitement in sending the ball clean off the club a distance of 150 or 175 yards; the pleasure of clearing the hazards in the course (or of seeing the other fellow, your opponent, hopelessly in the middle of a bunker); or of winning the hole, and perhaps the match by a long put. These are some of the delights which lend a charm to the game, to say nothing of the exhilarating effect of the open air exercise. Golf is a scientific game, just as much as billiards. Golf is a game which may be played during all seasons, except when the snow is on the ground. Golf can be played by man or woman, boy or girl. In fact, golf is

A tired looking little woman with her thin cape spread out to protect her burden from the rain, splashed through the mud on Mission street to a car last night. The platfom was crowded with men who could not find a seat, but they made way for her and helped her into the packed car. She stood unsteadily in the aisle, trying to preserve her balance as the car bumped along.

"Keep still, dear," she sighed, in a weak, tired voice, when a slight disturbance under the cape was observ-

"Why don't some of you fellows give that woman with the baby a seat?' growled a fat man who was hanging to a strap.

Two or three men sprang up, and each insisted that she take his seat. She sank into one of the vacant places, thanked the man who had made way for her and a frowsy-headed terrier sprang from under her cape and sat in her lap while he barked at the fat

Miss Tubbs (angrily)-Shut it yourself, you nasty little Frenchman.

Lady Henry Somerset is about to make a practical test of her theories about the cure of drunkenness on celebrated Jane Cakebread, who is now serving her 278th sentence for that offense. Lady Henry should make Jane change her surname to begin with.

A bewitching, winsome maiden, Fire dancing in her eyes, With no trace of sorrow laden, Sympathetic and sincere; True-hearted-yea, not one whit fickle; Clever, yet not over-wise. Loves but one; unselfish ever;

No desire for new friends. Archly coy and cold to others, To me only she unbends.

Beg pardon, is't the name you ask for Of this perfected maid, unreal? Of course I will. She's my belonging, For she's simply "My Ideal."

-Wm. Farquhar Payson.

Mamma-Willie, where are those apples gone that were in the storeroom? Willie-They are with the' gingerbread that was in the cupboard. -Pittsburg Bulletin.

The "silly season," when fashionmakers and vendors try to palm off all sorts of queer rigs on impatient foreigners on the other side, as well as those enterprising dressmakers and millners in our own land, who, out of the fecundity of their imagination and cheap fashion guides, take in their too trusting patrons from distant states, is gradually drawing to a close. By the middle of October one may give ear to some of the foreign advices, and learn from returned couturieres and modistes les petits mots not to be despised. But those who can wait until the middle of November will be repaid with better information still.-Vogue.

"No, Therese, I do not care for that coat. I do not like the color." It was spoken in a childish treble, and I turned to see before me a tot of about seven summers.

I watched with interest while the demure little maid rejected one cloak after the other, finally selecting a rose silk, trimmed with sable.

After she and her maid left the shop I learned from the saleswoman that this little maid purchased her entire wardrobe herself, while a number of other tots did the same.

I thought of the children of by-gone years who wone the gowns discarded by the sister next older and wondered what they would have done had they been called upon to purchase an expensive cloak.

Truly we are an emancipated people! As my mind wandered back to the children of former years, I could not help contrasting their gowns and coats with the pile lying before me. The cloaks were of the handsomest material-rich, heavy silk. Rose, white and chocolate seemed to be the favorite colorings, and all were trimmed with sable. No yokes whatever had they, but hung in full folds from the neck down.

For the older children there were short jackets of broadcloth, fastened with large pearl buttons. They were rather short and godeted across the back similar to those worn by the mothers.

A number of school dresses were shown, and among them tartan plaids Hill. seemed to lead. It's a sensible idea to make these dresses of bright color. A child, weary with schoolroom routine seeks this bit of coloring gratefully, just as we older folk delight in a bright fire

NOW FOR WINTER DRAPERIES.

Here is a List of the New Fabrics for Window and Door Hangings with Prices. There are four days when every good housewife's chief concerns are curtains and carpets, when she dreams of draperies and ponders long and earnestly over portieres. With their customary consideration the furniture dealers and upholstery designers have lightened her labors as much as possible by introducing charming fabrics at various prices

It is possible to obtain most artistic results with very little expenditure.

Tapestry of vivid hues, with the pattern indistinctly outlined in dull tinsel, is one of the new stuffs. It is soft and pliable. yielding readily to artistic draping for either portieres or window hangings. It is 54 inches wide and sells at $1.50 a yard. A striking example of this comes in dull blue, ecru and old rose in Gobelin pattern.

The most elegant cloth shown for hangings is of cut velvet on a background of satin sheeting. The designs are floral and instead of running perpendicularly or horizontally they form oblique stripes. Such material may be obtained for $3.25 a yard. Silk and chenille in fancy weaves, which are Oriental in design, make most effective draperies. It is customary to have the background of the same tint as that prevailing in the room in which they are to be hung. The combination of the silk and chenille woven together is new, and is admirably adapted to drapery purposes, for it falls readily in graceful folds. Cotton fabrics are equally fashionable and come in all the art shades. An all cotton material, which has a satin finish, comes in exceedingly pretty designs. A group of hair stripes in several colors or in one color, ranging from the most delicate tint to the most gorgeous, alternates with a floral vine woven in tinsel threads. The effect is beautiful, and seems destined to be popular. The material costs but $1.75 a yard. Jute in Roman stripes is an excellent substitute for more expensive materials. The golden brown of the jute contrasts effectively with the stripes with which it is woven.

The fact of its being so economical in price makes it particularly desirable to the impecunious. It comes fifty-seven inches wide and may be bought by the yard for $1.35.

Cretonnes still hold their own, and novelties in designs are constantly being thrust upon the public. The fleur de lis is much admired and is seen on an ecru background in its natural tint of blue. The Cretonnes woven in Bedford cord stripes and in dainty Dresden patterns, appeal strongly to woman's artistic sensibilities. These vary in price from 40 to 75 cents. according to whether the design is exclusive and the material imported. Damasks resembling table linen patterns are out of date, and the most elegant quality of satin in this style may be obtained in the stores at one-third the original price. Denimo remains a favorite, and is shown in designs that fit it for many decorative purposes. The mode of hanging draperies depends much on individual taste, and there is no set rule by which one may be guided. Interior decorations adhere to simplicity, but require that materials be handsome. Straight effects are commendable. and curtains should reach just to the floor. If they are looped back at all they must not be gathered in a heap above the sill, but must be held loosely and broadly by an ornamental chain which is Cod-liver Oil emulsified, or made easy of digestion and assimilation. To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. Emaciated, anæmic and consumptive persons gain flesh upon it very rapidly. The combination is a most happy one.

Physicians recognize its superior merit in all conditions of wasting. It has had the endorsement of the medical profession for 20 years.

Don't be persuaded to take a substitute! Scott & Bowne, Bellevlile. 50c. and $1.

HOW THE BURDENS HAVE BEEN INCREASED. In comparing the incidence of taxation under the Mackenzie Adminisand their successors, now in office, it cannot be too earnestly impressed on the people that the sum paid into the treasury does not represent more than one-half (if it does even that) of the taxes annually exacted from consumers.

To say, therefore, that the taxation under Mr. Mackenzie was twelve millions a year less than under Sir John A. Macdonald and his successors is a complete mis-statement.

The taxation under Mr. Mackenzie was certainly not less than thirty-two millions a year less than under Sir John Macdonald, and very probably the difference was even greater, this being a matter in which for many reasons no one can do more than make a minimum estimate of the loss in-

But apart from this, which no Liberal speaker or writer should ever lose sight of, the exhibit even in the very parttal fashion in which it appears in the public accounts is sufficiently alarming. In 1878 the net debt was $140,000,000. On the 30th of June, 1895, it is given in the Gazette returns at $252,999,472, being an increase of about $113,000,000, with many heavy liabilities still un-

In 1895, the total expenditure up to the 30th of June is given at $38,009,341, being an increase of $14,500,000 a year. In 1878 there was a deficit of $1,128,-

In 1895 there was a deficit of $4,079,-000 admitted.

During this interval of seventeen years it is very doubtful if the population has increased even 15 per cent, while the debt has increased 80 per cent, and the expenditure 60 per cent; and while on a fair estimate, and making allowance for the immense increases of the federal, provincial, municipal, railroad and private indebtedness, and also for the tremendous depreciation in the value of farm, town and village properties, it is, to put it very mildly, extremely questionable whether the collective wealth of Canada, more especially in the older provinces, has increased at all.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

The meeting in connection with the inauguration of the Arts Department of the Western University and Colern University, the Rev. B. Watkins, M.A., made a most favorable impression. Mayor Little's brief speech was to the point. The magnificent address by the Minister of Education needed only to be heard to be appreciated. It is something that the Middlesex boy has come to be recognized as probably the best all-round platform speaker in Canada. The speech by Vice-Principal Johnston, of the McGill University, Montreal, was useful and significant, especially the part of it which pointed out that McGill's real progress dated from the broadening of its scope into complete non-denominationalism, and that not on paper, but in very reality. Laurier at Brockville. London is already an educational center of importance. The Western Normal School will make it more so. A strong university, the crown of our educational system, is not the growth of a day, yet the Western University as we all wish to see it may rival our Western Fair at an earlier date than some anticipate-but only by following openly and strongly in the path along which McGill University has pursued its splendid career.

The King's Daughters is an organization which deserves its great success. One can readily see the force of the contention that every congregation

BY THE WAY.

Thirty young men have just left Toronto to seek work in South Africa, which they are denied at home. And Canada's greatest need is population!

The Toronto News publishes a list of the electoral ridings as constituted for Dominion purposes. London's population is set down as 21,000. Thus does the gerrymander belittle and misrepresent the city in the eyes of the country. It is shameful and indefensible, and must and shall be changed

The country needs a change.

If the Sultan of Turkey has finally consented to grant Armenia redress it is a triumph for Britain. Lord Rosebery's Cabinet took the initiative in demanding the reforms, and the other Powers half-heartedly concurred. The presence of a British fleet at the mouth of the Dardanelles no doubt hastened the Porte's decision. Martial, not moral, suasion seems to be the more effective with Oriental po-

The United States Government is being bitterly assailed by opponents because it has a deficit this year of $15,000,000. Yet the deficit would be $55,000,000 if it were in the same proportion to population as Mr. Foster's.

* * * * Lower taxation would hit the nail combine on the head.

A correspondent asks: "Are the railways of Canada compelled to sell second class tickets, and provide second class cars, on all trains?" There is nothing in the Railway Act compelling railway companies to provide second class transportation on any train. The tolls and fees are fixed by bylaws of the company and approved by the Governor-General in Council , and when approved, are binding on the companies. No doubt all the great trunk lines provide for the sale of second class tickets in their bylaws to meet certain classes—as, for example, interchange of immigration traffic. We have no copies of these bylaws, and, therefore, cannot state their contents.

If there ever was a Government that had bungled a great question it is the Government of Sir Mackenzie Bow-I have no desire to make any political capital out of this question. I have the ambition to carry my party into power whenever the gods, the false gods, whose heaven is on Parliament Hill at Ottawa, shall summon us to the polls. I have an ambition to carry my party into power then, but God forbid that I should ever carry the Liberal party into power by appeals to passions and prejudices, especially of a religious nature. Upon this point which deeply affects my fellowcoreligionists in the Province of Manitoba I tell you this: I make no bones about it. I do wish from the bottom of my soul that they had the privileges restored to them, that are enjoyed by my fellow-coreligionists in the Province of Ontario, and that are enjoyed by my friends of the Protestant persuasion in the Province of Quebec, but, though I do wish it, I will never try to have these privileges restored except upon grounds which can appeal to Protestants and Catholics alike, and not to Catholics alone.-Hon. PREMIER BLAIR'S TRIUMPH. New Brunswick Provincial elections have resulted in a sweeping victory for the Administration, which is headed by Premier Blair, who was a central figure at the great Liberal convention at Ottawa. Though the men in power at Ottawa were emphatically against Mr. Blair, and the high tax newspapers urged that his Government should be defeated, or he would supply powerful opposition to the Conservatives at the coming Dominion General Election, the electorate absolutely declined to follow the advice, and the opposition to Mr. Blair has been almost wiped out. The returns so far show tht Mr. Blair has 34 supporters and the Opposition 9. One county is yet to be heard from; it will return three members, all for the Government, as no one is running for the Opposition. Thus the new Legislature will stand 37 to 9. Premier Blair's Administration being safe, he will have plenty of time to aid in the next great struggle for the emancipation of Canada from class legislation and centralization at LORD'S CHARIOT. Rev. DeWitt Talmage, in relation to his acceptance of a call to the copastorship of a Washington church, sent the following telegram to the editor of the Washington Times. "In answer to your telegram I have to thank you and all the Washington newspapers for the more than generous things they have recently said, both in editorial and reportorial columns. "The printing press is the front wheel of the Lord's chariot, and the manner in which the press of your city reinforces the pulpit makes a pastorate in Washington very desirable."

LAURIER'S PROPOSALS PREFER-

ABLE. There is a feeling abroad and quite an open one, too, of dissatisfaction among the Conservatives of this part of the country with the steps already taken by the Government on the Manitoba school question, and being aware of this, the Liberal leader, as he well knows how, handles the question to the best advantage. Conservatives are not a bit backward in expressing the opinion that the manner of dealing with the school question as proposed by Mr. Laurier is far preferable to the coercive attitude of the Federal Government. -Ottawa Journal (N. > Pets are mostly kept for the purpose of merely being petted, though now and again they are taught to make themselves useful. The latest instance of the useful pet is the case of the two as caddles in the now professional game of golf. The caddie is indispenable to a golf player, and Miss Dent, whose brother, Lieut. Dent, of the United States navy, has recently returned from the China station, has two Formosa apes which he brought her, and which they have trained to the business of caddies. They wear liverles of white duck, and each has a Turkish fez. INNOVATIONS THIS SEASON.

League and other competitions help to maintain the public interest in football—but the play, and not the public, is the thing. The Broken Timers in the north will next Tuesday try some innovations in the Rugby codefewer forwards, a round ball, and the abolition of the line out. It is suggested that they desire to make these alterations in order to attract the public in large numbers. "Give a dog a bad name and hang him," I suppose. half of which, at least, is disinterested, But they may have a double motiveviz., a wish to promote a more open game. When I played Rugby myself I loved scrimmages, but now, as a sedate spectator, I hate them, for when frequent, as in the case of matches between evenly balanced sides, they are so slow to watch. Meanwhile, all those who know the delights of both "rugger" and "socker," will watch with interest the experiment which these seceders from Rugby Union are making in assimilating the two codes.—The New Age, England.

MACPHERSON'S DEATH.

A letter from the Soo describes the unfortunate fate of the well-known shot-putter: "John D. MacPherson, the noted athlete and champion shot-putter of the world, who met with an accident Friday morning, which resulted in his death, was employed in painting the gates of the new lock, but Thursday evening commenced drinking, and was not in condition for work Friday morning. The gates were not completed, and no railings have yet been placed on them. Seeing that he was in no condition for such a hazardous undertaking, the men urged him not to cross the gates, but go round the lock. He heeded not their warning, however, and started to recross the gates, but as he reached the center he was seen to stumble, grasp the air, and then shoot down to death below, a distance of 46 feet, strik ing the plank floor on his head and shoulders. He was picked up unconscious, and removed to his boarding-house, on Ferris street, and Dr. Harrison summoned, but he was past all human aid, and did not regain consciousness, dying shortly after 1 o'clook.' In his early day MacPherson was almost invincible with the shot, and was a clear, allround professional athlete. He was a Canadian by birth, and well known in Western Ontario. His greatest feat was performed in Toronto, Nov. 10, '88, when he put a 20-pound shot, with a 7 foot 6 inch run, a distance of 40 feet, 111 inches. This was a most marvelous performance, and still stands as a world's record, its nearest approach being George R. Gray's 38 feet, 71 inch put. WANT THE FIGHT. El Paso, Tex., Oct. 17.-Yesterday the citizens of El Paso subscribed $10,000 to bring the Corbett-Fitzsimomns fight off in this city. A telegram was received from Dan Stuart stating that he would give a definite answer today.

A CORDIAL WELCOME

Tendered Visiting King's Daughters and Sons

By the London Circles in the "Y" Rooms -What the Workers Are Doing in Many Places

After devotional exercises by Mrs. Austin, Toronto, Miss Eliza Brown, of Ottawa, read a very interesting account of the work done by the united circles of Carleton county. Numerous charitable acts were referred to, and it was stated that the vestry of the French Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, was furnished by Faithful Circle at a cost of $60. Willing Workers' Circle paid the debt on the church organ, of $300, and also furnished the vestry

cessitating the expenditure of $100. Charity Circle, King's Daughters, of Kingston, through Miss Strange, supplied a paper on the workings of the Food and Fuel Club, which was started by them about a year ago. Many striking instances of charity were spoken of, the persons benefited being those calculated to escape the notice of the regular circles. Their text was: "The greatest of these is charity." One of the noteworthy acts of the circle was the purchase of an artificial limb for a poor girl, who was the sole support of a widowed mother. The circle is undenominational, and now has 44 members. The paper was followed by some discussion and a hymn was sung. A question drawer was afterwards opened. The questions related mainly to the workings of the circles, but one read as follows: "Should dancing be prohibited?"

"Lead the young people to Jesus, and then the question will soon be settled," said an earnest delegate. Mrs. Graham, Toronto-It is good to dance, but I will tell you when it is good-an hour before breakfast, and then only in the arms of a brother or a husband. (Laughter and applause.) Miss Kelly thought the question which all dancers should ask themselves was, "What would Jesus have you to do?" Mrs. Jarman, Toronto, told a story about a certain young man who was do so unless the lady interested would allow him to open the dance with a prayer. Half in fun she agreed, and instruments tuned the assembled dan-cers were somewhat startled to see raised. Let it be by self-denial." TENDERED A RECEPTION. The 150 delegates to the King's Daughters convention cast aside the cares of business last night and hied to the "Y" rooms in the Spencer block, where a reception was tendered the visitors by the members of the London circles. The evening proved most enjoyable in every respect. The attendance was large; the hall was packed, and the London ladies went in to make every person feel perfectly free. As the visiting delegates arrived they were cordially received by Mrs. Gibbs, of Port Arthur; Miss Brown provincial secretary, of Toronto; Mrs. Antony, an Indian Daughter from Delaware, and Mrs. Tilley, of this city. Then they were made acquainted with as many as possible, and in this way the delegates from the west mingled with the delegates from the east, thus adding greatly to the pleasure of the hour. Miss Nellie Burnip, a pupil at the London Conservatory, sang "Who is Sylvia?" and showed remarkable talent for one so young. Mr. W. C. Barron rendered several beautiful selections on the piano, and Mrs. Antony sang a hymn in the Indian tongue. Miss Gilmour, one of London's King's Daughters, whose appearance on the platform is always acceptable, and who is always willing to do all in her power for the order, also favored with a solo. Mrs. Gibbs gave an address in the interests of temperance. Rev. Robert Johnston, in bringing the meeting to a close with the benediction, made a short address, in which he spoke of the peace that was written on the faces of those who had banded themselves together to do everything "in his name." The sight was in direct contrast to that which he had once witnessed at a gathering of freethinkers, all of whose faces bore a very unsatisfied look. THURSDAY MORNING.

The business of the convention this morning was very light. Mrs. Murphy, of Ingersoll, presented a paper on "Women's Work for Women," in which she dealt more particularly with two heads-"Women's Work for Fallen Women" and "Women's Work for the Women of the East." The paper was most admirably written, and a general demand was made by the delegates that it should be printed and

Mrs. Crawford, the first Provincial secretary, gave a short address on the destitution among certain classes in Manitoba, and the great need of the King's Daughters taking an interest and helping to provide for the needy brothers and sisters.

Nominations for the offices of the union were then received. For provincial secretary Mrs. Austin, Toronto, Mrs. Hoyt, Ingersoll, and Miss Brown, Ottawa, were named. Miss asked to attend a dance. He refused to Annie Brown, of Toronto, ex-provincial secretary, was unanimously chosen recording secretary. The result of the prayer. A Cruel Husband.

Benjamin Hutchinson Neglects Hi Wife and Two Children,

And They Suffered From Hunger-By His Own Evidence He Proves His Wife's Case-What the Magistrate Thinks.

Police Magistrate Parke had but one case on the docket for disposal at the Police Court this morning. It was that of Benjamin Hutchinson, a young carpenter, charged with neglecting to support his wife and two children, who live in Toronto. The charge was proven beyond a doubt.

The magistrate apparently had his opinions in the case before any evidence was taken. "A big able-bodied fellow like Hutchinson is well able to support his wife," he said, as the prisoner lazily lounged over the dock

Mr. Buchner, counsel for Hutchinson, tried to convince the magistrate that the prisoner had done all he could for his wife. He had sent her $5 in the past year, and had his arm broken in the bargain.

Mr. McKillop, however, had Hutchinson's record to perfection. The year before last he had not contributed a cent to his family's support, and as for the broken arm-it was a myth. are but a few of the things that may Hutchinson had sent word to his wife about a month ago saying that his arm was broken, "but, your worship," said the assistant crown attorney, his arm was no more broken than

Mrs. Hutchinson, the complainant, was finally called. She said she was the wife of the prisoner, was married on June 18, 1890, and had two children. After the marriage they lived together for thirteen months, when Hutchinson left on an excursion to Sarnia. She expected him back that night, but he didn't return for six weeks, and then he only remained a day. From March, 1892, until January, 1883 Mrs. Hutchinson did not hear of her husband, and she went to live with her mother in Hamilton. Like the bad penny, however, Benjamin turned up again and lived with his mother-in-law for several weeks. During the four een months ending July last she only received $5 with which to keep her and her two children.

"Have you ever suffered on account of his neglect?" asked Mr. McKillop. "Yes," replied Mrs. Hutchinson, "I have suffered hunger more than once, and so have the children. Once we had to go without a morsel to eat from Friday at noon until Saturday night."

The Police Magistrate-And have you any money? Mrs. Hutchinson-Not a five-cent piece to my name.

Mr. Buchner wanted to cross-examine Mrs. Hutchinson to show that ine Mrs. Hutchinson to show that the prisoner's habits were good, but the magistrate refused to listen to it as it had nothing to do with the case. Hutchinson was called, and with a bravado stride he went into the box. Instead of loosening the case made out by his wife he only tightened it and made himself liable to three years' imprisonment. With regard to the $40 he said he had borrowed it from a brother in London township. He had loaned $15 of it, and with the balance had gone to Hazleton, Mich., to see his father "on money matters." He admitted having given his wife only $5 in a year.

Mr. Buchner—And you have been doing the best you can?
Hutchinson—Yes.

Q .- And you are going to continue A.—Yes, I am. At this response the court laughed heartily. Mr. McKillop examined the prisoner and learned that from November to May last, while he couldn't contribute a cent to his wife's keeping, Hutchinson laid aside $25 and paid his brother the $40 he owed him. "And you were on the voter's list last year?" asked the prosecuting attorney.

The only reply was a nod. Q .- By swearing that you had earned $300 in the previous twelve months? A .- Yes, sir, and I did. And the magistrate enjoyed another

The charge was found proven, the magistrate saying that if there ever was a person deserving of the max!mum sentence Hutchinson was the man. The heaviest sentence was three years. Sentence was postponed until Wednesday next, when Woods, another prisoner, will be dealt with for stealing George Elson's suit of clothes.

FARMERS LOSE EVERYTHING Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—Prairie fires continue to do extensive damage in different parts of the Province, In scores of cases the farmers lose everything and it is estimated that the total losses in the Province and adjoining territories on the Assiniboine will be fully a quarter of a million dollars.

BICYCLE HUMP CAUSED DEATH. Rochester, Oct. 17.-Young Waterstraw was riding up Plymouth avenue from Main street after dark last evening. He was not riding overfast, but he was bent over his handle-bars as if he were racing, in the fashion so generally affected by bicyclists. His eyes were turned toward the ground. and he could not see where he was going. The canal bridge was up, and the wheelman rode straight to the brink, over it, and into the water. He was drowned. His death seems to be the direct result of his manner of sitting on his wheel.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Since our last the advance noted in prices for cattle and sheep in the English markets has all been lost again, and cables received today reported trade weaker at a decline in price of 1c to 1c per 1b on cattle and 1c per 1b on sheep. This news was very discouraging to shippers, as at the present prices quoted cattle will lose considerable money, and the 1,700 Canadian sheep that have been stopped at London, owing to scab, will probably lose some money for shippers at today's decline in values. There was very little activity in the local markets today, owing today's decline in values. There was very little activity in the local markets today, owing to the fact that choice cattle were very scarce, consequently there was no buying done for export account, and the opinion of some shippers is that the run of Ontario fat cattle is over for this season in fact, the shipments from this port for some weeks past have been chiefly Northwest ranch and Manitoba stock, chiefly Northwest ranch and Maintoba stock, and 2,500 head more of these are going forward this week. The exports of sheep last week were the largest for any one week this season, the total number being 15,924 head. In the ocean freight market there were no new features to note, as the bulk of the space for the balance of the season has been taken. EAST BUFFALO.

YOUNG LIBERALS' ANNUAL ELEC-TION.

The annual election of officers for the London Young Liberal Club will be held in the rooms, Oddfellows' Hall, on the evenings of Nov. 7 and 8. from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Nominations will be made on Friday, Oct. 25, instead of Friday of this week, as recently announced.

Every Young Liberal should make it a point to attend on both dates, as business of the greatest importance is to be transacted. Every office in the gift of the members is to be contested by Liberals well qualified to fill the positions. Strong tickets are to be placed in the field for several of the offices.

The rooms are to be thoroughly overhauled and refurnished.

Cars May Be Operated Thereon This Afternoon.

Description of London's New Electric Cars in Process of Building.

Engineer McKay, of the street railway company, said this morning that cars would be run to the C. P. R. station on Richmond street this afternoon if no opposition was offered. One track on the Richmond street north line has been completed, and rapid progress is being made with the other track. The switches at the corner of Richmond and York streets have been finished, and the Barber Company's men are putting down the concrete foundation.

The mammoth chimney of the new power house for the city electric railway was completed yesterday after-The chimney is the tallest in London, and a commanding view of the city and surrounding country can be had from its summit.

THE NEW CARS. The St. Catharines Journal has this to say: "Two of the 25 magnificent electric cars which Patterson & Corbin are making for the London street railway are about finished, and are the finest yet turned out from their works. They are 25 feet long, with the seats cross-wise, running over twothirds the width of the car, leaving a passage at the side on which, besides the end doors, there is also a large door for speedy exit. The ex-teriors are finished in fine grained cherry, with birdseye maple, and decorated ceilings and very handsome lamps. The motor ends are inclosed, and the vestibules very large. The exteriors are finished in orange chrome and pale yellow, which, with the gilding and striping, has a fine effect. They are heavily brass-railed outside and to each seat is attached a push button for ringing an electric bell, with all other appliances for making them

HAVE THEY GONE DOWN? British Ships That Are Missing-Fears

for Their Safety. San Francisco, Oct. 17.—It is just 190 days since the British ship Lord Spencer, left this port for Queenstown, and regular prayer meeting in St Andrew's not a word has been heard from her. That the English underwriters have fears for her safety is evinced by the fact that reinsurance has gone steadily up from 10 per Much concern is also expressed for the British bark Achilles, bound from the west coast of South America for Hamburg. The Latest Turkish Outrage at Trebizond

The Adin Massacre Confirmed. Constantinople, Oct. 17 .- According to the latest information received here from Trebizond, Armenia, 400 persons were killed during the recent rioting there. The Grand Vizier, Klamil Pasha, has issued an order holding the Governor of Trebizond responsible for all loss of life hereafter through political or religious distubances. The appeal of the Sultan to the Russian Ambassador, A. J. Nelidoff, to cause the recall of the order for a Russian gunboat to go to Trebizond has proved futile. French and Russian steamers are taking numbers of Armenian refugees from Trebizond. The report of a riot at Akhissar, in the village of Adin, on the Anatolian Railway, during which 50 Armenians were killed on Oct. 9, a market day, by a Moslem mob, is confirmed. Twenty bodies of Christians have been recovered from the wells and have been interred in the presence of the Armenian bishop of Ismid. Reports received here from various districts of Anatolia say that the Armenians have been deprived of their weapons and that the latter have been given to Mussulmen In addition, in the district of Kharput, quantities of arms have been dis-

"You puzzle and confuse me," said Mrs. Warren, "and I don't think you are doing what is right." That's frank and honest, at all events," exclaimed Golding, smiling. "I don't know what you mean by Mr. Dutton's property. I have no reason to suppose he has any, or that you have a right to touch it. "I have the best of reasons for knowing that he is no coward when it comes to meeting an enemy in a fight. I know him as a good soldier; but think of the motive, Mrs. Warren, the fearful motive which might have prompted him to deal violently with Freeman and destroy him."

Mrs. Warren trembled with terror as Golding went on remorselessly, pausing frequently to allow her to interoose a word, as he hoped she would.

"Let us suppose these two men met face to face. There were hot words, a quarrel. Freeman may have been the aggressor. Mr. Warren may have acted wholly in self-defense, and having so acted he may have believed that he had killed Freeman. What more natural, then, than that he should promptly set the cabin afire in order to destroy all evidence of hismisfortune, and at the same time destroy all chance of this secret of yours coming to light?" "What can you expect me to say asked Mrs. Warren, in a choking voice, "to this horrible fiction? I don't believe a word of it."

Will nothing force her to speak or that secret?" thought Golding, beginning to despair of torturing her into some tangible admission. "Why can't I remember all that Freeman told me? What is the name that escapes me? If I could recall that, the rest would probably follow in a flash."

Aloud he said: "The world may be made to believe it, Mrs. Warren; the world will take even a charitable view of the event, for if the motive with which Mr. Warren went up the mountain were known, would not everybody jump to the conclusion that your husband would be the aggressor?" "Mr. Golding," she answered, "what can you hope to gain by inflicting me in this way? I refuse to discuss my husband's motives, for I know them to be pure and honorable. What are

"Mine, Mrs. Warren?" he returned, feeling not a little nonplussed by her impregnable silence on the one point he was using to force her to concessions that he had come to demand. "You infer that I have a purpose in thus speaking of painful topics. That is one purpose, but that is only the means to the end. Mrs. Warren, Freeman Dutton and I are partners in the ossession of some of the most valuable diamonds the world ever knew. Never mind how it happens that Freeman had them all in his keeping. That was the fact. If he were conscious, he would tell me where they are or what he did with them. I must know about them. That needs no argument. I believe he carried with him some of the most valuable stones when mortal could fail to be tempted by upon Freeman unobserved while he was inspecting his stock-

"Now you make my husband a thief!" cried Mrs. Warren, her loyal resentment mounting to genuine anger. "I will have no further talk with you." "No," said Golding, rising; "but you will talk with your husband. I was going to suggest what you should say to him, but I don't think I need to." Mrs. Warren had risen and was pointing toward the door.

"I go," continued Golding; "but in the memorable words of Cataline, "I return, and when I come'-well, Mrs. Warren, I think you will let me sit by my friend's side for the purpose of getting some inkling as to his disposition of my property. Remember, whatever you tell your husband, that there are two ways in which I may be of use-or, yes, damage to you. I can bring no charge against him as to the affair on the mountain, and I can say nothing about that motive, that un-happy past, that actuates you both." He went to the door, and when he had opened it part way he turned again.

"I think, Mrs. Warren," he said, "that your husband really knows a great deal about those diamonds. have no animosity toward him. simply want my property."
Mrs. Warren was standing with her

For several minutes she stood there, and when Elsie came in she threw her arm about her daughter's neck and wept like a child. The girl could only surmise her mother's trouble, but she needed not to know the causes to comfort her and weep with her.

The relief of tears had become a necessity to Mrs. Warren. Had she been alone she might have held them back and so suffered unspeakable anguish. Elsie's timely arrival gave her new strength and clearer thought, while it did not diminish the terrible burden upon her heart. "Can't you tell me, mamma," asked

> Does It Come From the River and Filter Through a Gravel Bed?

To the Editor of the "Advertiser":

ng the article by Head Master Kirk in last Saturday's "Advertiser" on our lakes, more so, possibly, because I have never been able to take in the oft-repeated theory that our "lakes were being drained by some under-ground channel." This would, of course, account for the lowering, but not for the rising of the water. I was made acquainted with the fact several years ago by a gentleman who knew all the moods of Lake Huron, that it was subject to ebb and flow every seven years, to his own knowledge, of from two to three feet. I believe, too, it is generally understood that the rainfall in any given locality is about the same every seven years, not matter how dry or wet it may be for one or two years in succession. This, then, is an argument for Mr. Kirk's view. Let a period of heavy rain set in around Dakota; it will in due time be seen in our lakes. On the contrary, a dry season will account for the lowering of the same. To a very great extent water used for irrigation is lost to the lakes. Now, sir, why I write this letter is to draw the atention of such men as Mr. Kirk to our district, believing that the same intelligent thought applied here would soon discover the course of our magnificent water supply. That its crystal waters rise up from the bed reck, I look upon as a myth. Sulphur water would be far more likely to be reached long before bed rock was found in this neighborhood. That it comes from the many elevated lakes to the north, I do not suspect, as the pressure at the spring is not great enough. My own opinion is, its source of supply is to be found in the river itself; and would suggest to the Geological Society in their next "tramp" to take in this subject. Go as far as Waubuno on the Grand Trunk, where the river runs over a vast gravel bed, which covers a deposit of quicksand of great depth, for many miles, from which the hundreds of farmers in Westminster draw their supplies for all purposes. Now, as the water in the river rises, so also does it rise laterally in the gravel and quicksand, until it reaches Springbank, where its further progress is stopped by solid clay banks, and thus by its higher pressure increases the flow at the springs. So, also, after a dry spell, such as we have had, more or less, for the past two years, the lowering of the river also lowers the flow from the springs, for as it lowers, so also does the underground "Don't you know anything about the diamonds?" she asked, with painful river. It will run back to where it got its supply, somewhere between that and London. I think they would find the river bed was clay, which keeps the water in the gravel above. If my theory is correct (and I confess right or wise, Nicholas! He has told It is only a theory) would it not be me what he will do. By threats and wise to purchase land on each side of the river where this clay is (if it should hints he has made his purpose clearer than if he had plainly declared that he would charge you with—with at hold up the water as high as possible be found), construct a dam so as to tempted murder, Nicholas! Think of at the back of it, making sure of a good water supply for all time, than Not that you could not disprove the charge, for nobody will believe to go on purchasing what is already you guilty unless—unless, as he says, your own property? Four Workings

By Which the Lower Colville Springs Could be Utilized.

Interesting Report by the Waterworks Engineer-Fourteen Feet of Water in the Reservoir-Meter Complaints.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting of the water commissioners was chiefly devoted to the ventilating of complaints re the inefficient working of water meters. Several of these were dealt with, some being referred. In the case of T. Jeffries, Boswell House, the board allowed B. Land, whose account, as per meter registry, appeared to be abnormally large. John Ferguson's complaint will be looked into. A rebate was refused Rev. Mr. English, of Helimuth College. In accordance with a recommendation from the council, the recommendation from the council, the board agreed to allow the Parisian Laundry a 5 cent net rate. The pumping engineer's report showed a gradual rise of the level in the reservoir from 8 feet 6 inches to 14 feet 5 inches during the past fortnight.

Engineer Moore submitted the following report, in which four plans were suggested to utilize the lower Colville springs: "The estimated cost of constructing storage ponds along the lower stratum or terrace below the level of Colville's lower springs.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favor in the Land of Cenfucius.

Vancouver (Special) Oct. 14.-A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favor in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases which are very prevalent in the country.

A BLOOMER RESTAURANT.

Where the Waiter Girls Wear 'em-Busi-San Francisco, Oct. 17.—This city has had bloomer balls, bloomer marriages, and now a bloomer restaurant has been opened in the very busy center of the city. The restaurant is called "The Bloomer Cafe," and has been a success from the start. Four shapely girls attired in neat-fitting bloomers attend to the wants of the customer, and have proved such an attraction that more girls will have to be employed to take care of the increasing trade. UNHAPPY ABRAHAM

Has Been Divorced From Six Wives and Is Tired of the Seventh.
