GREAT MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR KITCHENER AT LONDON

NEW SENSATION COMES OUT OVER ALLISON'S DEALS

BRITISH ARE ATTACKING GERMAN POSITIONS AROUND YPRES

"LAST POST" AT ST. PAUL'S FOR DEAD MARSHAL OF THE EMPIRE

Memorial Service to Kitchener Greatest Since Edward's.

3,000 IN ATTENDANCE

Royalty, Generals, Privates, Pay Last Honor.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—The memorial service to Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, held in St. Paul's Cathedral at noon today, was the the greatest ceremonial of national mourning since that for the late King Edward VII. It was attended by 3,000 persons, besides members of the royal family, the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, and nearly all the high officers of the army and the navy not in the field or with the fleet, together with many members of Parliament and conspicuous figures from all branches of the nation's life.

Nearly half of the congregation was representative of the army, all from the King in a field marshal's uniform to privates wearing khaki. Black was worn by all others except for a few foreign officers in uniform.

King and Queen There.

King George, Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra entered the cathedral at the western door, and were conducted down the centre aisle to seats by the dean and chapter of St. Paul's. The dean conducted the service. The Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London were among the clergy.

The hymn "Abide With Me" was the first number. From the Psalms, "Out of the Deep I Have Called Unto Thee, O Lord," and "The Lord Is My Shepherd," were chanted.

The Dead March.

The lesson was from the First epistle to the Corinthians. Then the Dead March was rendered with moving effect by the great band of the Royal Engineers, reinforced by drummers of the Irish Guards. The choir sang a portion of the "St. Chrysostom," "Give Rest, O Christ, to Thy Servants With Thy Saints."

The Last Post.

After prayers from the burial service and the benediction, a bugle from a far recess of the cathedral sounded the notes of the "last post." Finally the congregation with the choir and band sang "God Save the King." The thousands of voices, with the roll of drums and accompanying brass giving the last verse with tremendous, sonorous volume.

Cabinet There.

Premier Asquith, Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty; Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary; Earl Curzon of Kedleston, lord privy seal; Lewis Harcourt, first commissioner of works; Viscount Haldane, Colonel Winston Churchill, Lord Chief Justice Reading, Field Marshal Sir John Robertson, chief of the imperial staff. The Earl of Devonshire and

Hun Attack on Wide Front Nets Trench From French; Everywhere Else Repulsed

Germans in Assaults Last Night Succeed in Making Slight Gain to West of Thiaumont Farm, But French Block Progress at All Other Points.

(Canadian Press.)

Paris, June 13, 11:50 a.m.—German troops last night renewed the attack over the whole section of the Verdun front west of Thiaumont Farm. They succeeded in entering some advanced trenches at one point, but were repulsed elsewhere, the French war office announced today.

The French trenches penetrated by the Germans are on the eastern slope of Hill 321, to the west of Thiaumont Farm.

West of the Meuse there were no important actions during the night. The bombardment was heavy in the region of Chattancourt.

FRENCH STATEMENT.

The text of the communication follows:

"On the left bank of the River Meuse there has been a bombardment in the region of Chattancourt. On the right bank of the river the Germans yesterday evening renewed their attacks along the entire sector to the west of the Thiaumont farm, and they penetrated some of the advanced trenches of our line along the slopes on the east side of Hill 321.

"Everywhere else the German attacks were repulsed under the French fire. The night passed in relative quiet elsewhere on the front."

NEW SENSATION AT INQUIRY INTO ALLISON'S SALE OF ARMS; FACTS REFUTE THE TESTIMONY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 13.—There was another sensation at the inquiry this morning into the sale of small arms ammunition by the militia department through Col. J. Wesley Allison to the admiralty. John Fraser, the auditor-general produced correspondence to show that the admiralty had paid $25 for the three million rounds of condemned ammunition, that it was f.o.b. Canada, and that the admiralty paid all charges for insurance and cartage.

Charge For Insurance.

It had been stated earlier in the investigation that no commission was charged on the sale which had been made to Col. J. Wesley Allison by the department for $20, but that a charge had been made for insurance, etc., by mistake, and that this charge was subsequently withdrawn.

Wrote Admiralty.

Mr. Fraser said he had written Col. Stanton, military secretary to the governor-general, on May 26, last, asking that the admiralty be communicated with in order to learn what price the admiralty paid for the three million rounds of ammunition, and what expenses were incurred. Co. Stanton replied on June 3, that the Duke of Connaught had communicated with the colonial office and a reply received to the effect that the price was $25, f.o.b., and that the admiralty had paid all charges for insurance and cartage.

Examined with reference to Mr. Lewis' trustee account for the admiralty, a statement of which was produced yesterday, Mr. Fraser said that deposits by the admiralty totalled $130,242.75.

The cost of 5,000,000 rounds of ammunition at $25 per thousand plus the cost of boxes, was $130,920. Only 3,000,000 rounds had as a matter of fact, been delivered, and there was a balance of $68,000 odd remaining in the account.

Mr. Hutcheson pointed out that if the cost of the remaining 2,000,000 rounds plus the cost of boxes, were subtracted from the $68,000 balance left, approximately $15,000 would be left.

"That $15,000 represents the advance in price paid by the admiralty for the 3,000,000 rounds purchased," said Mr. Hutcheson. "Is it not manifest that the difference is still in the trustee account and has not been distributed or paid?"

Time to Move, Say Pro-Ally Set of Rumania

Excited Interest Shown in the Success of the Russian Offensive.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Chronicle says:

"Roumania papers show an excited interest in Russian progress. Pro-ally papers profess to consider Roumanian intervention in the war as inevitable. The Roumanie says:

"It is obvious from the nature of the Russian offensive that the quadruple entente reveals to us the moment when we can realize our national ideals."

VENICE ATTACKED BY 'PLANE FLEET

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 13—Via Sayville Wireless.—A squadron of Austrian aeroplanes attacked Venice on Sunday night. Several other points in Northern Italy were bombarded. An official Austrian report of June 12 says the raid was successful.

Union Report To Be Unamended Is Winnipeg View

Final Decision Expected To Be Reached by Presbyterian Assembly Within Twenty-Four Hours.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, June 13.—When the Presbyterian General Assembly opened today, the leaders of the church union cause were confident of a final decision would be reached within twenty-four hours, and that the result of the vote was a foregone conclusion. It is now believed the report of the union committee will be amended, and if it is, the changes will be verbal only, not affecting the kernel of the report. After the first and decisive vote is taken, which will be on the reception of the report, there will no doubt be considerable discussion, and possibly some divisions on various discussions. Rev. Dr. Ephriam Scott of Montreal, editor of the Presbyterian Record, continued his anti-union speech interrupted by adjournment last night.

Will Be Amendments.

It was announced this morning that amendments to the report of the union committee would be introduced by well-known commissioners to the assembly, but it was not conceded that the assembly would adopt any of them. Among those who will be on the floor with amendments will be Rev. Dr. Herridge of Ottawa, former moderator; Rev. Professor Ballantyne, Knox College, Toronto: President Falconer of the University of Toronto, and President Murray of the University of Saskatchewan.

Want It Hung Up.

Dr. Herridge and Professor Ballantyne will say that the church is generally for union, but that in view of the large minority, the matter should be hung up for the present. President Falconer and President Murray will introduce amendments, which have already been printed, which suggest certain minor changes in the report, but which do not change its substance. The anti-unionists announced that when Dr. Scott has finished he will be followed by Rev. Dr. Clay of Victoria, who will second the report of the minority.

RUSSIAN MINING SUPERB

Five-Fold Defences Prove Poor Barriers to the Muscovites.

DUBNO ALMOST RAZED

Cavalry Is Supplemented by Armored Motor Cars for Pursuit.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—All the special dispatches from Petrograd remark on the fine work of the Russian artillery, to which the recent swift advance is mainly attributed. They contended that the Russian advance proves that the German-constructed field fortresses of steel and concrete, which were supposed to be impregnable, can be taken by assault despite all the latest scientific devices. The incomparable Russian guns and mining says one correspondent, made short work of five fold defences. It is reported that in some places, where the Austrian preparations were most elaborate, the Russians captured twelve lines of entrenchments in rapid succession, while armored motor cars supplemented the cavalry in pursuit of the retreating forces. The pursuit was facilitated by the excellence of the roads, which the Austrians had constructed for their own transports.

Used Gas Reservoirs.

Northwest of Tarnopol the Russians employed gas reservoirs captured from the Austrians, "overwhelming the enemy with his own poisonous fumes."

Lutsk was surrounded by nineteen rows of entanglements when the Russians received the order to storm the place at dawn on Wednesday. The issue hung in the balance until noon, then a breach was made in the Austrian position.

The town of Dubno, say the dispatches, was almost demolished by the Russian artillery fire, which preceded its occupation. Before their departure the Austrians removed all the civilians capable of working.

BRYAN DESIRES TO UNITE MOOSE AND DEMOCRATS

Proposes Pact That Will Win Support of Progressives.

SAYS LATTER ARE SORE

Does Not Intend to Take Leading Part in Convention

IS THERE AS REPORTER

Has Nothing to Say in Regard to an Anti-Militarist Plank.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Louis, June 13.—William J. Bryan, newspaper reporter from Nebraska, arrived here today to "cover" the Democratic National Convention. He asserted most emphatically that his reportorial role would be his first interest. But the former secretary of state, chief builder of many Democratic platforms, including the one on which the party now stands, and author of numerous peace treaties, has a new treaty to propose to other Democratic leaders—a pact between the Democrats and Progressives to induce most of the Bull Moose to support the Democratic ticket next fall.

"Now is the opportune time for the Democratic party to get most of the Progressives," said Mr. Bryan, in a corridor interview as he reached his hotel today.

"The Progressives were not at all satisfied with the results of their convention at Chicago," Mr. Bryan continued. "I believe the time is ripe for the Democrats to secure a large part of the Progressive vote."

He indicated that this might be largely accomplished by the writing of the Democratic platform with Progressive planks that would appeal to the Bull Moose.

"I have no plans except to report this convention," aws Mr. Bryan's cryptic answer, when asked if he would address the convention or appear before the resolutions committee in behalf of peace and anti-militarist planks.

BRITISH MOVE AGAINST FOE

Berlin Reports That British Troops Are Attacking German Positions Southeast of Ypres.

(Canadian Press.)

Berlin, June 13.—Via London.—A further advance on the Verdun front near Fort Douaumont was announced today by the war office.

British troops have begun a movement against German positions southeast of Ypres.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

(Canadian Press.)

Berlin June 13.—The German official reports says: British attacks against a section of our new positions on the heights southeast of Ypres have been in progress since this morning.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) we pushed further forward our lines on both sides of the ridge extending to the southwest from Fort Douaumont.

"Eastern front: On the Ivina, southeast of Dubena (17 miles southeast of Jacobstadt), the fire of our batteries disposed of a Russian cavalry brigade. Northwest of Baranovichi the artillery fire of the enemy was more lively."

BLOCKADE BY THE ALLIES BRINGS TINO TO SENSES; ARMY WILL DEMOBILIZE

[Canadian Press.]

Athens, June 12—Via London, June 13.—King Constantine decided today to order the complete demobilization of the Greek army.

The demobilization of the Greek army follows the blockade of the ports of Greece by the Allies and the placing of an embargo on Greek ships in British and French ports. These steps were taken as a result of the occupation of Greek fortresses in Macedonia by Bulgaria at the end of May. The Allies were aroused by negotiations which were opened with Bulgaria and Germany by Premier Skouloudis, and on June 9 the British Government announced that steps would be taken to prevent Greece from providing the central powers with supplies. The blockade was the result and on June 10 King Constantine ordered several classes of the army to be demobilized.

CZAR PILES VICTORY ON VICTORY; AUSTRIANS RETIRE PANIC STRICKEN BEFORE SWEEP OF MUSCOVITES

Pursuit of Russian Cavalry So Rapid That at Times It Got Beyond the Austrian Lines—Archdukes Ferdinand and Frederick Narrowly Escape Capture—Civilians of Lutsk Receive Conquerors With Cheers — Austrian Armies Found To Be Poorly Supplied With Food.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Petrograd says: The story of Lutsk repeated itself with another town far in the Austrian rear. The garrison, thinking the reports of the Russian advance exaggerated, took no steps until too late. The cannonade was heard nearer and nearer. In the evening there was wild panic in the streets, with the soldiers running from house to house and shouting: "The Russians are coming! The Russians are coming!"

OFFICERS FLED.

The officers fled without giving orders. Two companies who attempted to collect their baggage were captured bodily when the Russians poured into the town.

Much is due to the Russian cavalry which destroyed the enemy's communication and broke through to the rear. In some cases they actually met the Austrians in full retreat. One battery of 4-inch guns was captured with shells lying ready for reloading. The guns were swiftly swung about and the shells put into them by the Austrians, were sent shrieking after the men who had been loading them.

FLIGHT LIEUTENANT, KNOWN LOCALLY, WHO GAVE LIFE TO CAUSE

SUB. FLIGHT-LIEUT. GEORGE KNOX WILLIAMS, before the war a member of the faculty of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, recently gave his life while serving on a defensive squadron of the royal naval air service at Sheerness. He was a nephew of the Rev. W. J. Knox, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in this city, and was well known in Lobo Township, where he frequently spent the summer with relatives on the old homestead. He trained with the Curtis school at Toronto and took further air courses at schools in England. He had been in possession of his certificate for some time. Meagre details of the manner in which he met death have been received. It is only known that he was in his machine when it met with a collision.

FLEET OF ALLIES BOMBARDING THE BULGARIAN COAST

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 13—12:30 p.m.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Radio Agency says that Allied fleets are bombarding the Southern Bulgarian coast from Porto Lagos to Dedeagatch. The population is fleeing inland, the dispatch says.

SOLDIERS OBJECT TO THE "GERMAN POST"

[Canadian Press.]

Pembroke, June 13.—Twenty soldiers from the Petawawa military camp who were in town last night took objection to the name "German Post" on a newspaper office here and removed the sign, and also threatened that unless the office which is run by E. B. Christiansen, a German-Canadian, was closed by June 15, they would return and wreck the plant. When the police arrived the soldiers peacefully went back to Petawawa camp, reiterating their promise as they departed.

BASELESS RUMORS OF BARRIEFIELD CAMP

No Truth in the Stories of Unhealthy Conditions.

[Canadian Press.]

Kingston, Ont., June 13.—A rumor having been started that several soldiers had died at Barriefield camp, inquiries have been pouring in from all over the province. One report stated that eighteen soldiers had died last week and that several had been poisoned. These stories are emphatically denied at the camp. There has not been one death since the camp opened; the health of the camp is excellent, and the sanitary work could not be better.

ADVANCE OF RUSSIANS BAD FOR THE TEUTONS

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—The military correspondent of the Morning Post discussing the present war situation, says:

"The Russians have shown their usual perspicacity in choosing the time and scene for their new offensive, and their customary adroitness in concealing their plans from the Germans and Austrians, who appear to have been taken completely by surprise.

Serious For Teutons.

"The country south of the Pripet marshes has recovered from the floods following the spring thaw, and the roads are in tolerable condition. The Germans are deeply committed to their offensive in France, and the Austrians to their operations on the Italian frontier. It is difficult for either to desist and to withdraw troops with a view of re-establishing the situation in Russia.

"A month ago the case would have been different. The fragmentary way in which the Germans have brought up reinforcements to Verdun, and the necessity they have been under, of denuding other parts of the front would seem to indicate that they have few reserves left in hand, while the British force in France has been gaining steadily in strength and efficiency.

"The transfer of troops to Russia would not only entail the abandonment of the offensive, but would create the opportunity for which the Allies have been waiting in France. The events now in progress, in fact, may mark the turning point in the war."

RUSSIANS ARE PILING VICTORY ON VICTORY

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—"The Russians are piling victory on victory," says a Daily News dispatch from Petrograd. "Prisoners are pouring through Kieff on the way to the interior. The Russian advance is continuing steadily in spite of the great difficulty of transport.

"It must be remembered that almost everywhere the Russians have crossed the rivers separating their system of communications from the Austrians. They have had to bridge not merely for infantry, but for heavy gun transports, for the whole fighting force swept forward in pursuit of the Austrians.

Primitive Bridges.

"The bridges are built with tree trunks, the axe is the only tool used, and the Russian is the only nation which can use the axe with such rapidity and skill. The astonishing speed and development of the original success is largely due to the marvellous axe-work of the Russian Engineers.

"There is further evidence of the Austrians' miscalculation of the Russian strength. The Lutsk environs were heavily fortified, and only fell after a 10-hour battle, but the Austrians did not expect the fall of the town.

"It has not suffered, because after the fortifications were outflanked the Austrians were utterly nonplussed, taking to headlong flight, offered no resistance in the town, but fled westward with the Russians at their heels.

Archdukes Fled.

"The Russians entered Lutsk at 5:30 in the evening. The Archduke Frederick had dined there at noon. The Archduke Ferdinand, however, more wary, left the day before.

"When the pursuers had passed through the town and the Russian reserves marched in to music, extraordinary scenes were witnessed in the streets. Men, women and children threw themselves on the necks of the rescuers and the whole town cheered.

"It is evident that the stories of Austrian lack of food were not exaggerated. Great stores of wines and spirits were captured, but absolutely no eatables. The Russian organizations have already opened feeding stations, and these are surrounded by the hungry but pitifully joyful population."

TEUTONS CLAIM RUSSIAN REVERSE; TOOK 1,300 MEN

Muscovite Force Driven Back by Austro-Hungarian Troops.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 13.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—German and Austro-Hungarian troops delivered a heavy counter-attack on Russian forces advancing in northeastern Bukowina, and drove them back, the official Austrian statement of June 12, says. The Austrians captured 1,300 Russians.

The statement follows:

"In northeastern Bukowina Austro-Hungarian troops disengaged themselves from the enemy under heavy rear-guard fighting. German and Austro-Hungarian regiments by a counter-attack drove back a hostile force advancing northwest from Buczacz. Thirteen hundred Russians were captured.

"On the height east of Wisniowczyk a Russian attack was delivered, but it broke down under our artillery fire. East of Kozlov Austro-Hungarian scout detachments captured a Russian advance post. Violent fighting continues northwest of Tarnopol. The positions near Vorobievka (northwest of Tarnopol) which have been mentioned repeatedly changed hands.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last were: Highest, 74; lowest, 47.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 71; lowest, 40.

ALL INDIA SOLID BEHIND BRITISH; DETERMINED TO WIN

Enthusiasm for the Allies' Cause Remains Undiminished.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 12—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—A special dispatch from Simla, India, says:

"The enthusiasm and determination of India to win the war are undiminished. The news of the naval battle off Jutland has been received with interest. The success of the Russian armies has given universal pleasure.

"The death of Lord Kitchener is greatly deplored. A memorial service for the illustrious soldier-statesman was held in Simla on Tuesday, when salutes were fired. Throughout India war gifts continue to pour in. The Mahrajah of Patiala has lent his residence in Simla as a convalescent home for wounded officers.

"The citizens of Calcutta are raising ten thousand rupees ($3,300) to maintain for the semister a motor ambulance in France. The St. John Ambulance Association is receiving generous donations from the public for comforts and necessaries for the troops in Mesopotamia, where it recently sent another one hundred hospital orderlies. The supply of munitions increases, and the quality is of the best."

THANKS OF COMMANDER TO RED CROSS WORKERS

Lieut.-Col. Seaborn Tells Something of What No. 10 Will Do.

The following copy of a letter sent by Lieut.-Col. Edwin Seaborn, commander of No. 10 (Western University) Stationary Hospital, is self-explanatory:

London, June 10, 1916.

My Dear Lady Beck.—Will you please accept for yourself and convey to all the ladies associated with you in the Red Cross Society, the sincere gratitude of the Western University Unit for your magnificent work in providing us with hospital supplies.

All other Canadian hospitals have been provided with such supplies, and have found them not only useful but often indispensable.

I have on several occasions examined the dressings your society is making, and can assure you that they cannot be improved upon. It is our intention to so husband them that we shall have some in any emergency.

Allow me to explain the position and consequent necessities of a stationary hospital. It is situated close to the firing line, and must be prepared quickly to precede or follow the army as it goes backward or forward. We all know that in the terrilc fighting that will soon initiate the German downfall, the march will be forward, where we will dress the injured and remove them farther back. It may be that many times we will pitch our tents on yesterday's battleground. At such times our hospital requirements will be doubled, as the enemy wounded must also be cared for, as the tenets of your society provide.

I need not emphasize the absolute necessity of having an adequate supply of dressings, nor how imperative it is that they be with us.

Please be assured that it is the wish of every one of our unit to bring to the poor wounded fellows the comfort that is the aim of your many workers.

Yours very gratetfully,
EDWIN SEABORN, LIEUT-COL.,
O. C. No. 10 Stationary Hospital.

NUMBER OF PLACES READY FOR SOLDIERS

Local Soldiers' Aid Commission Has Applications for Returned Men.

Positions for returned soldiers are already being created in no inconsiderable numbers. Many of those who have been sent back as invalids from either England or the front have already been placed, and the local "Soldiers' Aid Commission" is in a position to secure employment for more.

Secretary Ed. Lance of the S. P. A. Soldiers' Club, is acting secretary of the soldiers' aid commission, and he announces that he has a number of applications for returned men.

Among these applications is one from a Detroit hotel that wants two returned men for doorkeepers. The loss of an arm or a leg will be no disadvantage, says the letter of the hotel.

A munitions factory in Galt also has applied for returned men. It offers to pay them all 25 cents an hour to start, and agrees to train them as machine operators for the manufacture of 18-pound British shrapnel shells. Machine operators in this plant work on an 11-hour shift, alternating each week on the day and night gangs, and earn as high as $5 per day. Laborers are paid 25 cents an hour straight and work the same shift as the men.

Another firm in St. Catharines has asked for returned men to work as railway firemen, brakemen, and conductors.

HAVE GOOD HEALTH

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Old Reliable Spring Tonic.

Don't let the idea that you may feel better in a day or two prevent you from getting a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla today from any drug store and starting at once on the road to health and strength.

When your blood is impure and impoverished it lacks vitality, your digestion is imperfect, your appetite is poor, and all the fuctions of your body are impaired.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful blood tonic. It will build you up quicker than any other medicine. It gives strength to do and power to endure. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round blood purifier and enricher, tonic and appetizer. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients. Be sure to ask for Hood's, insist on having it.

ARTILLERY CAMP ON RIVER THAMES FAST COMING INTO SHAPE

Batterymen Improving Quarters Under Canvas.

READY FOR ATHLETICS

Good Sporting Timber in the Ranks of Both 63rd and 64th Here.

Both the 63rd and 64th batteries are now completing their camp arrangements. They arrived in London at noon on Saturday and went directly to their camping grounds at the end of the Richmond car line. All the larger tents have been erected and floors placed in the quarters of the commanding officers. It is expected that flooring will shortly be installed in the remainder of the tents. There is at present no Y. M. C. A. tent at the "Battery Camp."

Work today has consisted chiefly in mowing the long grass and laying out the roadways. For a time at least these will be merely outlined with stones without the turf being remveod. More improvements may be made on them after the arrival of the guns.

Although the camp is close to the river it is well drained, and no trouble is expected along this line. Fatigue parties were busy all day yesterday completing sanitary arrangements. The drill ground lies to the north of the camp, and will be in use after the removal of a few fences.

So far physical drill is the only kind that has been indulged in, but after camp improvements have been finished more strenuous work will be taken up. A number of the horses are at present stabled at the fair grounds, and more are expected soon. Horse lines will be erected at once, ample room having been left for that purpose.

Both batteries will continue recruiting here. The 64th is up to strength, and the 63rd only a few short, but it is expected that many drafts will be sent forward, as both are depot batteries. They are, therefore, willing to take all the men they can get. The 63rd was recruited chiefly in London under the command of Major Keith Cameron, and filled up quickly with a good class of young recruits, because of its interesting and instructive work.

Although they have been here only three days, both batteries are making preparations for participation in the sports this summer.

The members of the ball teams have nearly all been chosen, but there are a few changes to be made yet, and the names will not be given out for a while. Many of the boys are using their spare time practicing for this and other sports.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CAMPS

GET MAJORITY.

Capts. W. H. Gregory, E. D. Cunningham and R. E. McNeal of the 118th Battalion have been given the rank of major in the C. E. F. Their appointments are dated back to March 4.

APPOINTED TO 142ND.

Lieut. G. A. Wheable has been provisionally appointed to the battalion strength of the 142nd, according to camp orders. Lieut. Thomas Odette, 24th Regiment, has also been provisionally appointed. He is attached to the 186th.

TAKEN ON STRENGTH.

Sergt. George C. Reid, No. 15 Field Ambulance, has been added to the camp strength and detailed for duty in the office of the assistant director of medical service.

NEW HOTEL HOURS.

The following, taken from camp orders, speaks for itself:

"With reference to previous orders and instructions placing the bars and wine rooms of hotels 'out of bounds,' to soldiers in uniform, excepting between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m., it is notified for general information that these hours, until further orders, will be from 6 to 9 p.m., city time."

NEW A. M. C. OFFICERS.

The appointments of Lieuts. R. S. Smith and T. J. McNally, A.M.C., are approved provisionally, to be effective from the dates these officers reported for duty with A. M. C. Training Depot No. 1.

STRENGTH OF CAMP.

The total number of troops in camp at London on the 10th inst., all ranks, was 9,687.

BAYONET FIGHTING.

The School of Bayonet Fighting and Physical Drill finished its course at the Armories on Saturday. The men from this district dispersed to their various battalions, while those from No. 3 district, Kingston, entrained for that city. The camp on Carling Heights wears a deserted appearance.

Lieut. Forneret, who has been in command of the school, has left for Hamilton for a few days.

No date has been set for another school, but it is expected that, owing to the great success of the two schools already held, the work will be continued.

BATTERY STRENGTHS.

The strength of the two batteries now camping at the Richmond north camp, is given officially as 117 for the 63rd Battery, and 148 for the 64th.

SHOULDER BADGES POPULAR.

The cloth shoulder badges, used by the 111th Battalion are proving popular at the camp, and it would not be surprising if other units followed suit and dispensed with the metal numbers in favor of the cloth badge. This later type is the kind used at the front, and is an exceedingly neat arrangement.

WEDS NURSE WHO ATTENDED HIM IN FIELD HOSPITAL

Gunner Garfield Jennings Is Principal in War Romance.

WOUNDED AT FESTUBERT

Re-enlisted in 63rd Battery After Recovering From His Injuries.

Gunner Garfield Jennings of this city, now with the 63rd Battery, formerly with the famous 12th Battery through the heavy fighting in France, was married at Guelph on June 7 to Nurse Allie Brazier, who attended him all the time he was wounded in No. 5 Southern General Hospital at Portsmouth, England. He was hit by shrapnel at the battle of Festubert.

She crossed the ocean recently and joined her soldier fiance at Guelph and they were married in St. George's Church by Archdeacon Davidson.

Gunner Jennings on the day of his wedding, received word that his brother Fred, one of the original "Princess Pats," had been wounded. He has since learned that he is in a field hospital with a gunshot wound in the shoulder.

Two other brothers, Edward and Harry, went overseas recently with the 70th Battalion.

Gunner Jennings' mother has now given every one of her sons for the Empire.

At the wedding in Guelph he was presented by his comrades with a handsome silver tea set and Quarter-Master Sergt. Scott gave him a clock. Gunner Jennings' bride is a native of Staffordshire, England. She is at present in Guelph, but is coming to London in a few days.

MILITARY NIGHT AT UNION MASONIC LODGE

Fine Addresses by Lieut.-Col. Bart Robson and Officers.

Last night was a military night at the regular meeting of Union Masonic Lodge. Among those present were about 250 men in khaki. Following the regular work a banquet was held, at which speeches were made by Lieut.-Col. Bart Robson, commander of the 135th Middlesex Battalion; Major A. E. Somerville and Major G. C. Carleton, also of the 135th; Sergt.-Major Widdicombe of the 142nd and others.

Out of Bounds

By A Hasbin

Another Pte. Fred Young (18th Battalion) Letter From an English War Hospital.

"Nine Kilometres to —— s."

We were wandering behind the reserve lines when we unexpectedly came across a signpost conveying the above information. We were aware that we were somewhere near that war-famous "Hell Hole," but we hardly thought we were so near, for nine kilometres reduced to English miles only yields five and a half.

Our ambition to visit that historic spot leaped instantly into flame, and at sunrise next morning we explained our desire to the major.

"Out o' bounds," he replied. "Say," he added, "didn't you fellows get enough excitement when you were in the firing line this week?" Before we had time to reply he announced that we were excused duty for the day, but that we had no official permission to run into unnecessary danger. We saluted and retired. "Danger?" queried the sergeant, with a puzzled look, "where have I heard that word before?"

We were soon on the highroad, and as we marched along in the spring sunshine, we could plainly see the outline of the enemy trenches. To the right and left of us "chateaus" stood in grounds that in pre-war days must have been a delight to the eyes, but "Jack Johnstons" had entered without the preliminaries of asking admission, and wreck and ruin were everywhere.

We had nearly reached our destination when the sharp challenge of a sentry brought us to a halt. Our hopes went glimmering. But the versatile sergeant was equal to the occasion. In a few minutes he had convinced that sentry, that until recently, himself and the sentry had been fellow citizens and in boyhood days they had been schoolmates. We should not have been surprised if he had fell on that sentry's neck and claimed him as a long-lost brother. We were allowed to pass "at our own risk."

We had entered the city over a big iron-gridered bridge, and looking back saw that it bore the number "13." We promptly touched wood.

All around us was an uncanny stillness. We felt as though we stood on enchanted ground. Not a human being in sight as we explored the "ruins" of the railway station. Passing the ramparts, bristling with British cannon, we entered the one-time main street. Indescribable scenes of ruin met us on every side, and by the time we had viewed the wreck of the famous cathedral, we felt that we had witnessed the limit of Hun "kultur," and retraced our steps.

A startled "Hello" from the sergeant

SPLENDID ESSEX MEN ARE FILLING THE RANKS OF 91ST ELGIN BATTALION

Nine From Amherstburg the Latest Acquisition — Recruiting Spirit in Windsor —Must Cease Recruiting in United States.

ST. THOMAS, June 12. — Nine recruits arrived in the city tonight for the 91st Overseas Battalion.

The men are from Amherstburg, and were recruited Saturday and Sunday.

They are good-looking chaps. This makes nearly 50 men secured from Essex County so far for the ranks of the 91st Essex Battalion.

BAN ON RECRUITING IN THE UNITED STATES.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, June 12. — Recruiting took on fresh impetus here today, the various depots reporting 38 men attested.

Ten men identified themselves with the American Legion, while other recruits divided about equally among the Mounted Rifles, 91st Battalion, and R. C. D.

As a result of the arrest of Capt. H. J. Thompson, of the 211th Canadian Overseas Battalion, one of the American legions being recruited in Northwestern Canada, by United States officers at Seattle, Wash., last week, strict orders have been issued to officers in charge of recruiting for the American Legion here, that no officer, N. C. O. or man be permitted to cross the border without proper authority, and under no circumstances is an attempt at recruiting or distribution of recruiting literature to be made in United States territory. Capt. N. C. Moore, in charge of the local depot, says the orders will be carried out to the letter.

Corporal of Downie Awarded the D. C. M.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 12. — That Corp. Gordon McNicoll, son of Mrs. J. R. McNicoll, of Downie, has been awarded the distinguished conduct medal for conspicuous bravery in action, is the news learned by Mrs. McNicoll.

Corp. McNicoll enlisted at Toronto with the 48th Highlanders in the first contingent. He later transferred to the motor-cycle corps, and is attached to the headquarters staff as a dispatch rider.

YOUR HEART FLUTTERS SERIOUS IF NEGLECTED

The heart is an unfailing index of strength. Bodily vigor and a strong heart go hand in hand.

A slight fluttering and shortness of breath is a sign of failing strength, arising from weakened digestive power, or from weakness of the nervous system.

The organic and dangerous affections of the heart seldom manifest themselves until a climax is reached.

Even a small variation in strength renders the heart susceptible on the emotional side, and a little fright, anxiety or haste will set it going at a frightful rate.

You ought to know that when your heart flutters easily, when your breath comes in gasps, when you tire quickly upon exertion, and rest does not recuperate, you have allowed yourself to rundown.

Under these conditions, Ferrozone acts like magic in its strength-giving power. Thousands of Canadians can testify to the marvelous curative power of Ferrozone.

When it's remembered that Ferrozone has the power of making rich, red blood, of giving tone to the system, of vitalizing all the functional powers of the body, it will be seen in cases such as yours, in which these fluttering sensations are present—Ferrozone will speedily restore you to health.

Ferrozone makes you strong because it enables you to digest your food, because it makes rich, red blood—because it tones, strengthens, reinforces the whole system.

"I was so overcome with heart fluttering and acute indigestion I could scarcely walk upstairs without panting and catching for my breath," writes E. K. Young, a well-known merchant in Augusta. "After using one box of Ferrozone. I improved, and after two months I was cured and am sound and healthy as ever today."

The best proof of Ferrozone's merit is the enormous good it will do you, in your own case; try it, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

ONE MAN A DAY SIGNING IN KENT.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 12.—Recruiting in Chatham for the 186th Battalion is almost at a standstill.

In the twelve days that have elapsed since the battalion departed for London only twelve recruits have been secured. Strenuous efforts have been made by the recruiting squad left behind to induce men to join.

The strength of the battalion is about 770.

REV. FATHER LOWRY TO BE CHAPLAIN.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 12. — The appointment of Rev. Father Lowry, curate at St. Joseph's Church, as one of the military chaplains for this district, is confirmed, and he has been instructed to hold himself in readiness to report for duty shortly.

Rev. Father Lowry is popular in the city, and his departure from this city will be regretted, though his friends rejoice at his selection by Bishop Fallon.

PREACHER-SOLDIER IS PRESENTED WITH RING.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

DORCHESTER, June 12. — Pte. Ernest E. Everingham, the young minister from here who enlisted with B Company, 135th Battalion, when the unit was stationed in Dorchester, was recently made the recipient of a ring on which was engraved "135th Battalion." The gift was made by the congregation of Evans' appointment, one of his former charges on the Niles-town circuit.

CABLES TO TILLSONBURG 71ST HAS GONE TO FRONT.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, June 12. — H. Buckberrough received a cablegram at 11:50 o'clock this morning informing him that his son, Pte. Harry Buckberrough, signal section of the 71st Battalion, left for France last Friday. Great interest is manifested by the citizens, as there are 48 Tillsonburg boys with the 71st Battalion.

DUTTON SOLDIERS EXPECT TRIP SOON.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

DUTTON, June 12. — About a dozen of Dutton's men of the 91st Battalion visited home over Sunday. They expect that this will be their last trip home before going overseas.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM LIMITED

WOMAN'S MARTYRDOM

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain and misery endured by women of their own households who suffer from ills peculiar to their sex? They often see them smiling and trying to be cheerful, even while racked with pain. If every such woman would only be guided by the experience of thousands of others who have been restored to health by that grand old remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, much suffering might be avoided.—Advt.

DEFIES BYLAW IN BUILDING STATION FOR L. & P. S. R. USE

Commission Puts Up "Shelter" of Frame Construction

PERMIT WAS REFUSED

Fire Limit Regulations Prevented Inspector From Sanctioning Work.

A situation that is exciting much interest has developed in a clash between Building Inspector Piper and the London Railway Commission, and city officials are wondering what will happen next.

Some time ago the commission decided to erect a shed for the accommodation of passengers on the Grand Trunk property. A permit was asked for, but as it comes within Fire District No. 1, Building Inspector Piper could not issue a permit for a frame construction, and live up to the bylaw. He, of course, refused to officially sanction the work. In spite of the inspection and the bylaw the work was commenced, and is almost finished. There is no permit as yet. Had the work been done by an ordinary citizen, he would have been summoned to the police court, and fined for his infraction of the bylaw. However, nothing has been done in this case.

As a result, officials are watching the next move. It is expected that Sir Adam Beck will request the council to break the bylaw to suit his purpose.

CASES POSTPONED

Number of Cases Set Down for Supreme Court Postponed.

The following cases entered at this session of the supreme court have been postponed until the next session: John Taylor vs. Abraham Bending, Thomas P. Cormick vs. Frances Hutchinson, London Shoe Company vs. B. Lavigne, Battle Creek Toasted Corn Flakes Company vs. Kellogg Cereal Company and W. J. Kellogg.

REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Children's Aid Visitors Praise Foster Homes.

Reports of an encouraging nature were submitted at the Children's Aid meeting yesterday afternoon. Visitors appointed by the Provincial Government to inspect homes wherein children have been placed all spoke highly of what they had seen in their visits, reporting conditions as satisfactory. Nine children have been placed in homes during the month and twelve admitted to the Shelter.

ANOTHER ADDITION

Buck Deer Presented to Commission for Park "Zoo."

J. M. Young, Sarnia, formerly proprietor of the Duke of York Hotel, has offered to present to the parks commission here a fine buck deer. General-Manager Buchanan has accepted it on behalf of the commission, and it will be delivered here shortly and sent to the Springbank "zoo."

WEDDING BELLS

WALCOTT—MOYER.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moyer, when their eldest daughter, Elva, became the bride of Mr. Harry Mennell Wallcott of Toronto, the wedding ceremony being performed by the bride's cousin, Rev. H. D. Moyer, Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church.

The bride was charmingly gowned in silk crepe de chine with shadow lace and mother of pearl, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Edna Baskette, was prettily attired in pink silk crepe with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. The groom was assisted by Mr. T. R. Hamilton. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful sunburst of pearls and diamonds, to the bridesmaid, a wrist watch, to the pianist, Miss Luella Tanney, a pearl brooch and the groomsman, a stickpin.

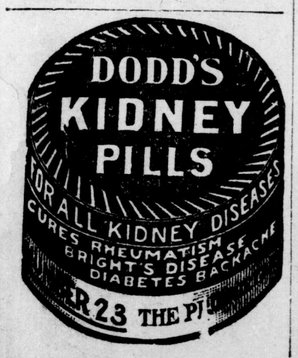

After a dainty wedding luncheon the happy couple left via the C. P. R. for points east. The bride's going away dress was blue corded silk with hat to match.

ROSS—WILSON.

Mr. David J. Ross, formerly of East Williams, and Miss Bessie Wilson were married on Monday, June 12 by Rev. D. C. MacGregor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Wilson, and the groom by Mr. Hugh Tweedle, also of East Williams. The happy couple left on a trip to Detroit and other points west. On their return they will reside in London. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl brooch and to the best man a diamond tiepin.

MacINTYRE—TUNE.

The marriage of Olive, daughter of the late Thomas Tune of London, to Angus J. F. MacIntyre took place on Saturday in Trinity Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Hincks officiating. The bride, who was escorted by C. W. Chant, wore a travelling suit of white serge with navy trimmings and a hat to match, and Miss Edna Lister of Windsor, bridesmaid, a shepherd's plaid suit, and black lace picture hat. Lloyd Buckberrough was groomsman. During the signing of the register Miss Finlayson sang. After the ceremony the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Detroit and western points. On their return they will reside at Westview Court, Christie street.—Toronto Globe.

All of these may be consulted at any time in the reference-room.

PET CAT INFLICTS SERIOUS INJURIES ON ELDERLY WIDOW

Springs at Her as She Closes Window.

SECOND RECENT ATTACK

Mrs. Calvary in Hospital in Critical Condition From Loss of Blood.

Mrs. Sarah Calvary, a widow of about 70 years of age, who lives alone in a small cottage at 22 Wellington road, is in Victoria Hospital in a serious condition as the result of wounds inflicted upon her by a pet cat.

About 9 o'clock last evening, preparing to retire for the night, Mrs. Calvary was closing an open window in which her pet cat was sitting, when it suddenly turned on her and leaping upon her forehead, sunk it teeth and claws deep into her head, severing an artery. Mrs. Calvary, her face streaming with blood, hurried to a neighbor's house, where her wounds were dressed. Having stopped the flow of blood she returned to her home.

Bleeding Continued.

About midnight the wounds in her head become so painful that it was decided to call Dr. Homer Black, who found that the blood had not stopped flowing, but had gathered under the surface of the skin, and the moment that the bandages were taken off her head blood spurted forth with tremendous force. Mrs. Calvary was rushed to Victoria Hospital, where it was found that she had lost so much blood that her condition is extremely critical. She is also suffering greatly from the shock.

Second Attack.

It is known to the neighbors that some days ago the same cat had attacked Mrs. Calvary, inflicting painful scratches on her arm. Mrs. Calvary lived alone in her home. She was extremely fond of cats, and keeps two of them, which she never allows out without fastening them with a silken cord to prevent their wandering away. Last night "Teddy," the cat which attacked her, was sitting in the window watching some other cats playing outside when its mistress shut the window, and it is thought that the cat had become tired of the close confinement which it was compelled to endure, which made it attack its mistress.

Shelters Animals.

On hearing that the medical authorities would seize the cat to ascertain if it was mad, one of Mrs. Calvary's friends took the cat to her home this morning.

Mrs. Calvary has been a resident of Wellington road for many years, and for more than 20 years has been employed at Brener Bros.' cigar factory. She is well known in South London as a lover of cats.

She has no friends in London. A sister lives in Harrietsville.

COMMITTEE APPROVES OF NEW PROHIBITION MEASURE

Synod Representatives Pass Vote of Approval and Pledge Support.

The Synod of Huron committee on moral and social reform, of which Rev. Canon Davis, Sarnia, is convenor, met this morning in connection with the report and recommendations to be presented to the synod.

It was decided to bring in a resolution of approval of the prohibition measure to be brought into force in September, pledging support in the enforcement of the law.

A resolution of approval of the recent more stringent marriage regulations in Ontario will also be submitted.

CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS

Fathers Costello and Lowry To Be Gazetted at Once.

Father Costello of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in this city, and Father Lowry of St. Marys, Ont., have been chosen to proceed overseas to minister to Roman Catholic soldiers. Their appointments have not yet appeared in orders, but it is expected these will be authorized shortly.

DEFENCE CLAIMING MEMBERS OF SYNOD IN "ENEMY" CLASS

Have, Therefore, No Rights in British Courts.

AN INTERESTING CASE

German Evangelical Association Suing St. Paul's Church, London.

Claiming that persons composing the German Evangelical Synod of North America are alien enemies of His Majesty King George, and that their right to maintain action for damages upon that ground should be specifically denied, is the one principal feature in the evidence introduced at this afternoon session of the supreme court in the case of the German Evangelical Synod of North America vs. the St. Paul's United Evangelical Church of London and the Lutheran Synod of Central Canada as the joint defendants.

The claim of the trustees of the St. Paul's U. E. Church of this city is that they had attempted to sever their connection with the North America Synod and become affiliated with the Central Canada Synod because the services and business of the North America Synod required that services be conducted in German and a large portion of the business transacted similarly.

Withdrew Because of Language.

Because of this feature the members of the London congregation resolved to withdraw and join the Lutheran Synod of Central Canada rather than submit to what they termed a humiliation to be forced to listen to sermons delivered in the German language in these times.

Their spirit of loyalty and patriotism to the British crown prompted them, according to the trustees, to take this step and resolve to sever their connections with the parent synod, the G. E. Synod of North America.

The trustees of the St. Paul's Church, this city, are: Fred Hertel, John Davidson, Peter Hoffman, Fred Refoi and Austin Brill, and against all of whom action is taken to recover the sum of $3,000 which the G. E. Synod of North America claims as moneys advanced to further the cause in this city.

The defence further claims that the North America Synod is not a corporate body but only a commission acting between individual congregations, and on these grounds could not sustain the loss of a field for their labors as the plaintiff claims.

Claim $3,000 Was Advanced.

The plaintiffs, the G. E. Synod of North America, are represented by Rev. F. W. A. Eirmann of Erie, Pa., and Rev. C. Loos of Buffalo, N. Y., who claim $3,000 damages, which they will attempt to prove as having been advanced to the London congregation.

Mr. Eirmann organized the local church, and consequently claimed to be familiar with conditions.

"The Lutheran Synod of Canada had at various times agitated among the people of the London church to unite with their body, and during the summer of 1914 that synod made definite proposals to take over the church and reimbusre the North America Synod," said Mr. Eirmann, in explaining the stand taken by the plaintiffs.

"Upon the agreement being reached the plan was outlined, and an agreement reached," continued Mr. Eirmann. As soon, however, as the St. Paul's congregation had resolved to sever their connection with the North America Synod, and reimburse the parent synod, the St. Paul's congregation repudiated it, and refused to make the payment. Suit thereupon for $3,000 was entered against the trustees of the St. Paul's congregation.

A further claim is advanced by the plaintiff corporation that without the refund being made the local church could not withdraw from the parent synod. Clear provision is made for this, Mr. Eirmann stated, in the synod's constitution.

On the other hand, the other members of the congregation, as represented by the trustees, claim that the congregation will disband unless allowed to unite with the Canadian Synod, as they refuse further to be affiliated with the American Synod.

Passports as Evidence.

Rev. Mr. Eirmann, to bear out his contention that he was not an alien enemy, showed passports signed by the United States department of state, claiming him as an American citizen.

The case promises to create unusual interest, and the outcome will be closely watched, as upon the result will depend whether the congregation will disband or not.

DEATH OF ADAM McGILL.

PAISLEY, June 12.—Adam McGill, for more than 40 years a prominent businessman here, died Saturday evening in Galt General Hospital. Mr. McGill was in his 66th year, and had been in ill-health for some time. A few weeks ago he had a paralytic stroke, and was taken to Galt Hospital for treatment. He is survived by seven sons—Walter, in Thornhill; Louis, in Galt; Howard and William, Calgary, Alta.; David, in Orillia; Stanley, in Chatham, and Wilfrid, in a signal corps overseas. He was predeceased by his wife five years ago. In religion Mr. McGill was a Presbyterian and a lifelong Liberal. The funeral will be held on Tuesday, and will be in charge of the Masonic and Oddfellows' societies, of which Mr. McGill was a member. Interment will be made in Paisley Cemetery.

Will Sew While They Hear Reports

Members of Local Council of Women to Aid Red Cross at Annual Meeting.

Those attending the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women to be held all day Wednesday in the Normal School are requested to bring along their thimbles and needles. Owing to the great pressure of work to complete the supplies for the Western University Hospital Unit within the next ten days or so, the Red Cross Society is sending over a supply of handkerchiefs to be hemmed, it being felt that work of this nature will not interfere with discussions and listening to reports.

The meeting will open at 10:30 o'clock, standard time, which means 11:30, city time, and business will be conducted throughout the day on this schedule.

The forenoon program will include the annual report of the Local Council of Women, in condensed form, a report of the meeting of the national executive held in Ottawa the beginning of May, and some of the reports of affiliated societies.

Communications from Lady Aberdeen will be introduced re the holding of provincial instead of national meetings for the present, and in regard to the formation of study groups to take up the question of international relations and politics. A buffet luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, after which the reports will be resumed.

Discussions will also take place on problems of child welfare, immigration, etc. The executive of the Local Council urges as many members of affiliated societies as can possibly do so to attend.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN PRESTO-LITE CO.'S ACTION

Consideration of Evidence and Precedents Necessary, Says Chief Justice.

Chief Justice Falconbridge reserved judgment today in the case of the Presto-lite Company, Incorporated, vs. the London Engines Supplies Company. Several authorities were cited and precedents submitted, which, the chief justice explained, will require some consideration before rendering his decision.

Objects To Refills.

The action is one instituted by the Presto-lite Company asking that an injunction be granted restraining the London Engines Supplies Company from refilling gas tanks which the plaintiffs claim to be their property and patent.

The claim of the plaintiffs was to the effect that they were suffering heavy losses on account of the tanks being filled outside their own refilling stations, and as they claimed to have established an extensive service covering Canada and United States they wished their idea protected.

Mr. Pearson of Toronto, a dealer in presto-lite tanks, gave evidence of a technical character, showing how the tanks were filled and refilled, and to what extent the service was known.

Motorists On Stand.

J. R. Fletcher, an inspector of service for the company, testified to what he had discovered locally concerning the defendant's action in recharging in presto-lite tanks.

Several automobile owners in the city were called, their evidence showing that they had been supplied with gas for their presto-lite tanks by the defendants. The afternoon was taken up entirely with the evidence for the plaintiffs.

This forenoon evidence was introduced by the defendants' several witnesses, who are local auto owners, testifying that the London Engines Supplies Company had in no way attempted to deceive them, but had explicitly stated that they were filling the presto-lite tanks at their own refilling stations with their own gas and not presto-lite gas. This afternoon's session commenced at 2 o'clock, standard time.

BAYONET FIGHTING TOO HARD ON RIFLES

Fencing Sticks Are, Therefore, To Be Used In Future.

Ordinarily bayonet exercise with actual rifles has been found to so damage the weapons that the Government is issuing plain, long sticks, very much like an ordinary shovel handle, with which to carry on this work.

The 135th Battalion has 250 of these fencing sticks, which will be issued to the men shortly. In addition, it is expected that 100 spring rifles and a quantity of fencing masks, gloves and pads will be issued. Then the men can "go to it" as hard as they like, with little probability of damage either to rifles or persons.

DIED OF WOUNDS, SAYS PRIVATE CABLEGRAM

Lieut. Eric Zeigler of This City Reported Dead Now.

A personal cable to Dr. C. H. Zeigler, 312 Wolfe street, has conveyed the intelligence that his eldest son, Lieut. Eric H. Zeigler, who was officially reported wounded on June 10, has since died from his wounds.

By some means the official telegram from Ottawa, notifying Dr. Zeigler of his son's wounding, was not delivered until after the young officer's name had appeared in the casualty list, and his father's first intimation of the son's condition was conveyed by The Advertiser. Last night a private message came from Lieut. Eric Reid that announced the death of the young Londoner.

Lieut. Eric Zeigler was for some time a member of the Special Guard Company of the 7th Fusiliers, having been second in command to Capt. (now (Major) E. M. McLean when that officer was in charge. He was a native-born Londoner and a former pupil of Princess Avenue Public School, and the London Collegiate Institute. He was well known throughout the city and a popular young man.

142ND EXPLANATION

The Advertiser has been assured by the battalion officers that the impression which was given local newspapermen that they were not wanted in the lines of the 142nd Battalion was erroneous.

While the statement was made that civilians were not permitted in the lines without passes, the order, it is said, had no reference to the reporters who have been chronicling the activities of the battalion for some months. One of the non-commissioned officers regarded the order as referring to the newspapermen, but the officers claim that they are only too pleased to give any information they have and to have it published, it being a coincidence that the reporters came along at a time that the order had been given and felt that it had been given for their benefit.

MILITARY NEWS

Y. M. C. A. IS DOING MUCH FOR WELFARE OF SOLDIERS HERE

Looking After Men's Physical and Moral Condition.

OFFERS MANY COMFORTS

Daylight Saving Interfered With Movies for the First Night.

Probably no association is doing more for the welfare of the men in khaki than the Y. M. C. A. Although the battalions have been in camp such a short time, it is already beginning to get in effective work.

The main military branch is on Oxford street, nearly opposite entrance to Carling Camp. Three tents are erected here, and there is besides a substantial frame building.

One tent, 40x80 feet, is used as a canteen, and contains a board floor and a 60-foot counter, where refreshments and soft drinks are served. There are several tables here, and newspapers can be obtained at the counter. Music is furnished by a large Victrola, with a varied selection of records.

Purchased by Ticket.

The refreshments are purchased with tickets. These are worth 5 cents, and can be obtained at a small stand designed for that purpose. This makes the service much quicker, as there is no money to be handled at the counter. Postcards and views of the city can also be obtained here.

Another tent of the same dimensions furnishes a writing and reading room. There are about 36 tables here, and the boys make good use of them, the tent being crowded in off-duty hours. Stamps can be bought at the office, writing paper and envelopes are supplied free of charge, as well as the rest of the writing material. In connection with this there is a small circulation library. Books are loaned for a period of two weeks or more. Whether this will grow or not depends on the generosity of the citizens of London. Magazines in particular are in demand, and though many of the churches are helping to supply these, many more are needed.

Barber's Shop.

In the frame building is a barber shop and shoe shine parlor. The front is occupied by the offices and a store, where military supplies of all descriptions will be sold.

Entertainment is provided in the largest tent. This is 40 feet by 100 feet, and will seat about 600. Concerts for the summer months have now been fully arranged and there will be something doing every night. One night a week, parties from downtown will provide entertainments. Several church choirs have arranged to help. Amateur performers from the various battalions will also have a chance to prove their ability, as at least one evening every night will be given up to them. Prominent speakers will also address the men at various times throughout the summer.

As a rule the meetings are of a religious character, and prayer is held every afternoon.

Movies, Too.

A moving picture machine has been installed in a fireproof compartment, and it is the intention of the association to show several good reels of pictures every evening. The daylight-saving scheme with all its other advantages put the "kibosh" on these for the first evening. Darkness did not set in until it was too late to continue the performance, as a result a number of the men are spending their spare time today searching for the originator of the scheme. This, however, will not interfere for long, as special apparatus will be installed to overcome the difficulty.

Band Concert.

On Friday night a band concert will be given by the band of the 135th Battalion under the leadership of Lieut. C. C. Irwin.

Rev. Hugh McFarlane will have charge of this and other work pertaining to the religious and social work of the men.

F. W. Coyne, who will conduct personal work amongst the soldiers, and will arrange bible casses for work among the battalions.

Assistance along physical lines will also be part of the work. This is at present in charge of P. J. Lee, lately physical director of Broadview Y. M. C. A. at Toronto. Arrangements have been made to obtain the use of the swimming pool at the downtown branch for the men. Each battalion will have the use of it for a week, one company being sent down at a time.

Sports Arranged.

Fifteen baseball teams, fourteen football teams and eight lacrosse teams have been organized in the battalions, and inter-battalion leagues will be formed.

Events between two of the battalions will be played off every Wednesday afternoon, after drill hours. It is expected that arrangements will be made to admit the public to these.

Another branch has been established among the camps farther north. The work there is in charge of Capt. Pierce.

147TH DESERTERS ARE SENT BACK TO NIAGARA

Two Taken Under Military Escort From City Today.

Robert Lumbley, a deserter from the 147th Battalion, now stationed at Niagara camp, was arrested in London yesterday by Detective-Sergt. Thomas Nickle and Detective Harry Down a few moments before he was going to board the noon train for Detroit. Lumbley, who is an American, declared to the officers on his way to the police station that if he had been able to get on the train he would have left the country for good.

Lumbley and William Funston, another deserter from the 147th, were taken to Niagara-On-the-Lake for trial this morning by a military escort. Funston claimed that his mother, who is seriously ill in Owen Sound, was worrying over his being in the army, and that he thought that if he was able to get out seh would cease worrying and recover. Funston is only 17 years of age, although when enlisting he gave his age as 19.

PORT STANLEY.

PORT STANLEY, June 12.—The following were visitors on Sunday in town: Mr. and Mrs. D. Baldwin of Fingal, with Mr. and Mrs. Paterson; Mr. and Mrs. B. Cutter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robertson and Hugh Sharp, of St. Thomas, with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sharp; Miss Kate Eastman of London at the manse; Douglas Payne of Welland, with his parents; Mr. and Mrs. Mitton Bailey and Miss Summer, with C. A. and Mrs. Cromwell.

LANDING OF 99TH HISTORY-MAKING DISTRICT EVENT

First of "County Units" To Cross Overseas.

PREDICTIONS WERE FALSE

District Has Exceeded Expectations of Officers and Will Continue To Do So.

Official announcement made by the chief censor at Ottawa on Monday evening that the 99th (Essex County) Battalion had arrived safely in England marks another epoch in the history of No. 1 Military District. The 99th is the first county battalion from this district to land in the old land, and therefore it has made new history for the London division.

When the county battalion plan was launched almost a year ago, the prediction was made freely that none of the battalions recruited from the counties would ever see England as a unit. It was freely declared that it would be impossible to raise a full battalion from any of the electoral districts or even counties of the first district. The announcement made in the papers of this morning is a most effective answer to these pessimistic predictions.

Military officers and those in touch with military affairs who made the predictions did so from their knowledge of recruiting conditions that had heretofore held good. They are the first to admit their wrong estimate, and it has been a most gratifying feature to them that their predictions have been proved false.

The statement has been made, backed up by statistical figures compiled from the last census of the Dominion, that the No. 1 District has only recruited 29,000 of its 45,000 odd apportionment under the 500,000 Canadian recruiting plan. With one of its 13 county units already overseas; with another—the 91st (Elgin) Battalion now quartered in St. Thomas—ready to go; with ten of them in camp in London, and with another—the largest in point of numerical strength—waiting to come to camp here, the first military district has turned a new leaf in the recruiting record of Canada, and has entered another epoch.

With the experience gained in the recruiting of the thirteen county battalions, and this thirteen included the 142nd Battalion, which has been called "London's Own," officers are not unduly optimistic as to the raising of another thirteen units or so, to bring the district's total up to par, but they do say that it can be done. They are sure of their ground and believe that if the share of the first district is 45,000 odd, it will be raised.

MANY GIFTS FOR MEMBER OF 135TH

Wonderland resounded with its old-time mirth at a farewell party to Pte. Wilburt Weal McGillivray of the 135th Battalion, at his home by the river, when over 50 of his friends and neighbors assembled to make a number of presentations and to take an affectionate farewell prior to his going overseas.

Mrs. Frank Gilbert accompanied on the piano the singing of a number of patriotic songs. A letter was read from Rev. Geo. W. Young, pastor of Kensal Park Baptist Church, with which Mr. McGillivray is connected, regretting inability to be present, and setting forth the esteem in which the young soldier is held by all who know him.

"Pte. McGillivray is one of God's gentlemen," wrote the pastor, "and I know his influence will be felt wherever destiny takes him."

Speaking for the neighbors, Fergus Partridge says that the worst he knew of Pte. McGillivray was good, and he left his hearers to imagine what his best could be. On behalf of Mrs. Partridge and himself he then presented him with a leather pocket-book.

Miss Lizzie Milliken, on behalf of the party, then presented the young soldier with a wrist watch, and from herself a handsome bound Testament. Little Miss Muriel McGillivray then handed her brother an unbreakable mirror. Robert Garside, on behalf of the Sunday school, read a pleasing address.

Pte. McGillivray was touched by the gifts.

Music and songs were given by Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Gilbert, the Misses Milliken, the Misses MacTenere, Lloyd Scoyne, Judson Routley and Miss Louie Wood.

Following a dainty lunch, which the young soldier's mother and others had provided, a series of games were indulged in. The singing of the National Anthem and "God Save Our Splendid Men" brought the proceedings to a close at an early hour the following morning.

OUT OF BOUNDS

and we "ducked" from force of habit. A big shell exploded too near to be spectacular, and we sought shelter, and more by luck than good management we picked a winner, for although innumerable shells fell around us, none reached our retreat. In a brief lull we timidly asked the sergeant what he thought of the situation. "Out o' bounds," he replied with a good-natured grin.

Cannon on the ramparts making enthusiastic reply to the enemy made further conversation impossible, but our minds were unusually active as we crouched there in suspense. Queer isn't it, how all the unpleasant incidents in a fellow's past career, will parade before the mind in skeleton order, under such circumstances. Strange, but true.

Seizing a favorable opportunity we "beat it" for safety, and there was a look of relief on the face of the sentry, as we repassed him, bound for the highroad. But he had his joke at our expense.

In a near village we knew there was an "estaminet" where we could get a half-decent meal, and we yielded to the promptings of hunger. Fried eggs at eight cents apiece may seem extravagant, but needs must when the devil drives.

"There's not much about this shack to remind us of the Tecumseh House dining-room," remarked the sergeant, as he paid the score. "Come on, pal, let's beat it for the dugout."

And through the gathering twilight, we hit the trail together, just as happy as if we had our right senses.

186TH OFFICER REMEMBERED.

Capt. Frank Adams of the 186th (Kent) Battalion, former city engineer of Chatham, was last night presented with a well-filled purse of gold by the city council of that municipality. Ex-Mayors McCorvie and Dunn and ex-Ald. Coltart spoke on behalf of the councils of '14 and '15, while Mayor Foreman spoke for the present council.

Capt. Adams has been city engineer since 1911, and has been granted leave of absence for the duration of the war.

George Zurch has signed on with the engineers for home service.

TRANSFERRED TO HOSPITAL.

Sapper G. A. Armstrong of the Engineers' Training Depot, Ottawa, has been added to the strength of No. 10 (Western University) Stationary Hospital.

QUARTERMASTERS' PARADE

Another instructional parade of all quartermasters has been ordered for Thursday afternoon, when the quartermasters of all battalions are to attend a lecture at the supply depot.

GOING UP AGAIN.

The camp strength last night was officially placed at 9,713.

ADDED TO STAFF.

Quartermaster-Sergt. Paul Ziller of the R. C. R. has been added to the strength of the subordinate staff of the camp.

CLOTHING BOARD.

A clothing board was established this morning by the 168th Battalion. The present issue of clothes worn by the men will be inspected, and where necessary new outfits will be issued.

CHAIRS FOR HOSPITAL.

The hospital at the camp is in receipt of six folding chairs from the Personal Service Club, of which Mrs. Morley Adams is president. Major David Smith, officer commanding the hospital, expresses himself as much gratified at the gift. The chairs will probably be used in the new marquee which will be erected shortly on the hill above the hospital.

The 186th Battalion has now almost completed its camp improvements. Electric lights were installed in the officers' quarters and orderly-room tents today and little work of this nature remains to be done.

CONCERT FOR 186TH.

The band of the 186th Battalion will be given under the direction of the bandmaster, Sergt. W. Pearce.

ADDED TO 142ND.

Ptes. Frederick J. Mills and Clarence Hodgson of the 99th and Pte. G. W. Marshall of the 70th Battalion have been transferred to the strength of the 142nd.

ROUTINE APPOINTMENT.

In order to keep the militia department records straight, camp orders have been amended so far as the appointment of a medical officer of the 142nd is concerned. It is announced that Capt. A. T. Stockwell relinquished the office to be employed by the A. D. of medical service and that Capt. J. Cameron Wilson was appointed. Captain Wilson relinquished the office to become junior major of the Western University Hospital. The appointment of Capt. Fred Nelly as medical officer is dated back to May 10.

ATTACHED TO 118TH.

Lieut. Douglas Weld of this city, an officer of the 7th Regiment, has been attached to the 118th Battalion as a supernumerary lieutenant.

IS ONLY A CONCESSION.

The status of a discharge from the Canadian Expeditionary Force by purchase is set forth in camp orders today by Col. L. W. Shannon, D. O. C., and camp commandant. He says:

"A discharge by purchase is not a right, but a concession to be granted by the officers commanding units only in cases where the circumstances are exceptional, and a concession which is further conditioned upon the application being made within three months from date of attestation and on payment of $50.

CANNOT GO OVERSEAS.

To see that all supernumerary officers of the C. E. F. are fully acquainted with the terms of their appointment, orders have been issued that they are to be personally notified that the terms of their appointment do not authorize them to proceed overseas with the unit to which they are attached.

LECTURE TO SERGEANTS.

A lecture for all sergeants in camp is being held in the headquarters lecture tent this afternoon. Acting Camp Sergt.-Major Prowse is lecturing the men on "Guard Mounting."

PAY DAY REGULATIONS

Pay day regulations for the half-monthly pay of C. E. F. units are set forth as follows in orders today:

On June 15—110th and 142nd at 9 a.m; 111th and 149th at 11 a.m.; 118th and 168th at 2 p.m.

On June 16—135th and 161st at 9 a.m.; 153rd and 186th at 11 a.m.; 63rd and 64th Depot Batteries at 2 p.m.; A. M. C. Training Depot, No. 1, at 2 p.m.

The 110th, 111th, 118th, 135th and 153rd Overseas Battalions and A. M. C. Training Depot No. 1 will cash checks at the branch of the Royal Bank at Carling Camp, East Side, south of Rattle street.

The 142nd, 149th, 161st, 168th and 186th Overseas Battalions, 63rd and 64th Depot Batteries, at the branch of the Royal Bank at Grosvenor Camp on Sydenham and Grosvenor streets.

Officers commanding units will see that the company and platoon commanders are present at this parade. As each company is paid, the company commander will march his men to the bank and will, with the other officers, identify the men for the paying teller.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorn, formerly of this city, now of Quebec, left for home this morning after visiting relatives here for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Foster, Tara, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Mary Mabel, to Jarvis Edgar Henry, London, the marriage to take place the latter part of June.

AEROPLANES RAID TOWNS ON THE SUEZ CANAL

Driven Off by British Aircraft After Minor Casualties.

LONDON, June 12.—10:03 p.m.—The following official communication concerning the operations in Egypt was made public tonight:

"Hostile aeroplanes bombarded Kantara, 30 miles south of Port Said, on the Suez Canal, and with a machine gun fired on Romani yesterday. They were driven off by British aircraft with a few minor casualties at Kantara. No one was injured at Romani.

"There have been several skirmishes with patrols on the eastern border of the Quatia district."

INDICTMENT MUST STAND

Tauscher Remains Charged With Indictment to Destroy Welland.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A demurrer to the indictment charging Hans Tauscher with engaging in a conspiracy to destroy the Welland Canal in September, 1914, was overruled here today by Judge Wolverton in the federal district court.

The demurrer asserted that a few men, armed with pistols and having 600 pounds of dynamite, as set forth in the indictment, was not military enterprise, within the meaning of the federal statute. Besides T. Auscher, Wolf Von Igel and others were named as defendants in the indictment.

AMERICAN BARK DAMAGED.

BARBADOES, West Indies, June 12—The American bark Normandy, from Halifax March 14 for Melbourne, before reported arrived here leaky, has sustained some damage. The vessel's butts are seriously strained, the seams slack and the main hatch beams are broken under deck. The cargo has been discharged.

Every Stiff Joint Limbered Rheumatism Cured!

That Old Family Remedy "Nerviline" Is Guaranteed for the Worst Cases.

Cures Neuralgia, Backache, Lumbago.

Rheumatism today is unnecessary. It is so well understood and so readily curable that every day we have reports of old chronics being freed of their tormenter.

"I can speak confidently of the Nerviline treatment, for the simple reason that it cured me," writes Albert B. Cornelius, from Kingston. "You can't imagine how stiff and lame and sore I was. Nights at a time I couldn't sleep well. I followed the Nerviline directions carefully—had it rubbed into the sore regions four or five times every day. Every rubbing helped to reduce the pain. The swelling went down. I got a fair measure of relief in a week. I also took two Ferrozone Tablets with my meals. They increased my appetite and spirits, purified my blood and toned up my system generally.

"I am as well today as a man could be—in perfect good health. I give Nerviline all the credit."

A large, family-size bottle of Nerviline costs only 50 cents, or the trial size, 25 cents, and is useful in a hundred ills in the family. Whether it's toothache, eareache, headache, neuralgia, lame back or a cold, Nerviline will cure just as readily as it will cure rheumatism. For family use nothing equals Nerviline.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

DIVERS DETERMINE STR. CHAS. S. PRICE WAS IN COLLISION

Entire Port Side Ripped Out for Forty Feet.

ANOTHER WRECK NEAR?

Condition of Sunken Vessel Indicates Further Discovery Likely.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 12. — The steamer Charles S. Price, which was lost in the great storm, November 8-11, 1913, and is on the bottom about eleven miles above Port Huron, was in collision, according to a report made by divers who have examined the wrecked boat.

The entire port side of the Price for 40 feet is torn out abreast of the boiler and engineroom. The Price was apparently struck abreast of the boilers, and the big break in her side leaves the boilers and engines exposed. The examination was not thorough, but the divers are satisfied that the Price was rammed by another steamer.

That probably means there is another wreck close to where the Price went down, and this may have been what the Hamonic struck last Thursday while coming down Lake Huron. The obstruction knocked two buckets off the Hamonic's wheel.

Captain Alex Cunning, wrecking master for the Great Lakes Towing Company, who has charge of the work of floating the Price, was in the city today. Captain Cunning, who was present when the divers made their examination, says the anchors and chains are still hanging on the steamer and that her deck-house is all gone. The steamer, he says, is flattened down to the spar-deck, where she rolled over.

MILLIONS OF BUSHELS OF WHEAT IN THE WEST

Grand Trunk and C. P. R. May Help Out the C. N. R.

WINNIPEG, June 12.—At the present rate of the movement of grain on the Canadian Northern Railway, it will take until October to get the 1915 crop off, nearly three million bushels are in temporary bins, thus liable to damage in the hot weather, if not shipped, so Mr. W. H. McWilliams informed the Dominion Railway Board at its sitting here today. He stated that the Grand Trunk Pacific was willing to handle two hundred cars daily from the C. N. R., and suggested that the C. P. R. might possibly handle some also. No decision was reached on the matter today.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN IS WORRYING TORONTO

Council Thinks Confusion Would Follow Its Adoption.

TORONTO, June 12.—The daylight-saving recommendation of the board of control is temporarily held up.

This afternoon the council decided to leave the question open until Premier Borden has signified to the Government deputation, which will wait on the federal government in a few weeks how far the Government is prepared to go in ordering a Dominion-wide advancement of the country's clocks.

The general sentiment of the aldermen was that a purely local measure would entail confusion in a city so centrally located as Toronto.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT IN THE HOOGE REGION

Both Sides Engaged, Says London Official Report.

LONDON, June 13.—11:10 a.m.—The British official communication issued at midnight reads:

"There were no infantry actions in the past 24 hours. The operations were confined to artillery and mining. The most noticeable occurrence was a heavy mutual bombardment between Hill 60 and Hooge this afternoon.

"South of Locs and La Boisselle, we effectively bombarded a hostile work with heavy artillery. Mining was especially active near the Neuville-St. Vaast-Loos salient. The weather was cold and rainy.

SHOT HIS OFFICER IN MISTAKE FOR REBEL

Sergeant of Royal Fusiliers Is Charged With Murder.

DUBLIN, June 12.—An incident of the Irish rebellion, which heretofore has been kept secret, came out at a court-martial today. It concerns the shooting by a sergeant of the guard at the Guinness Brewery of his officer and an employee of the brewery, whom he took for rebels. The defendant is Sergt. Robert Flood of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers. He is charged with the murder of Lieut. A. Lucas of King Edward's Horse, and William J. Rice, who was employed at the brewery.

The prosecutor explained that Lieut. Lucas took over the command of the guard on the night of April 28. It was very dark at the time. Lucas was unknown to the sergeant, and when he opened a window, which was contrary to instructions, Flood ordered his arrest, the prosecutor said, and later his execution, as well as that of Rice.

Later Lieut. Warwick arrived at the brewery and, rushing up towards the guard, also was shot. According to the prosecutor, the guard was very "jumpy."

DRAMATIC CRITIC DEAD.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Word was received here today of the death of Acton Davies, former dramatic critic of the New York Evening Sun, and recently literary adviser to leading theatrical managers. He died shortly after midnight in the Lakeview Hospital, Chicago, where he had been undergoing treatment for an affection of the heart. Mr. Davies was born in St. John, Que., 46 years ago. He came to New York in 1887 and gained a reputation as one of the foremost members of his profession.

RESOLUTION ON KITCHENERS.

MONTREAL, June 12. — The city council today passed a resolution of regret at the death of Earl Kitchener.

BULGARIA IS SENDING MEN TO THE ITALIAN FRONT

LONDON, June 12—9:30 p.m.—The Bulgarian legation at Bucharest has received information that the Bulgar-Rumanian frontier will be temporarily closed to passengers or merchandise, says a Reuter dispatch today from the Rumanian capital.

It is believed, adds the dispatch, that Bulgaria has taken this step in order to mask important troop movements.

A dispatch to the Daily Express from Geneva today says: "Bulgarian troops are expected at Innsbruck shortly to reinforce the Isonzo front where the Austrians expect an Italian offensive."

4,000 WOMEN AT A MASS MEETING ASK FOR REGISTRATION

Demand That the Government Take Count of All Eligible.

OFFER THEIR SERVICES

Promise to Use Their Influence to Set Men Free for Enlistment.

TORONTO, June 12. — Four thousand women, representing every women's organization in Canada, gathered tonight at a mass meeting in Massey Hall to discuss woman's share and duties in the great war. Lieut.-Col. G. H. Williams, chief recruiting officer, presided.

Three resolution were unanimously passed. By the first the women present pledged themselves to do their utmost by influence and personal service to set free every man eligible for enlistment. The second resolution cited that confusion and discouragement had resulted from the present methods of recruiting, which entailed a waste of time and money, and the withdrawal of men needed in industries, causing dislocation, and called on the Federal Government to register all men of military age and to give badges to all required in home industries, including women, and also to the physically unfit, and to thoroughly organize the resources of the country.

The third resolution expressed the gratitude of the women of Canada to the soldiers at the front, a copy to be sent to Gen. Sir Julian Byng, commanding the Canadian forces.

DEMAND OF ALLIES BREAKS POWER OF GREEK GOVERNMENT

Army To Be Demobilized—New Police Chief.

ATHENS, June 12.—Noon.—Via London, 11:30 p.m.—There is a divergence of opinion here over the holding up by the Entente governments of the presentation to Greece of their conditions on which the blockade will be raised. They probably will be presented tomorrow. It is believed that the conditions will call for demobilization of the Greek army and a change in the chief of police, thus drawing the teeth of the present Government.

The American Legion is being bombarded by protests from American business representatives in all parts of Greece against the blockade. Tobacco valued at $2,500,000 belonging to American firms is being held up at Kavala.

REPORT FROM TURKS

Claim To Have Annihilated Russian Cavalry Force of 1,000.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12—Via London.—The Turkish war office today issued the following statement:

"Irak front: On May 29 Turkish calendar, we sank two gunboats and three large boats loaded with ammunition, set fire to four other boats and destroyed four large munition depots on the banks of the river by artillery fire. A camp of the enemy was destroyed.

"In an encounter with the enemy in the region of Schemdinan we annihilated a cavalry force numbering 1,000. We captured great quantities of cattle, telephone and bridge-building materials, rifles and ammunition.

"Caucasian front: There is no change. Several places on the Asia Minor coast were bombarded by hostile ships, which did no damage."

METHODISTS WOULD HAVE GOVERNMENT TAKE UP RECRUITING

Resolution Adopted by the Toronto Conference.

ASK FOR REGISTRATION

Believe Some System Necessary to Gain Complete Results.

TORONTO, June 12.—The Methodist Conference this afternoon passed a resolution calling upon the Dominion Government to establish national registration for military purposes and assume full responsibility for recruiting. The resolution, after pointing out that the best methods are inefficient, continues:

"We would respectfully request the Federal Government to assume the full responsibility for recruiting by the establishing of recruiting centres throughout the Dominion and for the ascertaining of the number of men of military age, thereby giving to us a system of registration which will enable us to ascertain and retain the men required for civil life and show the number available for military purposes, believing as we do that when full and accurate information is thus ascertained the men of Canada will respond to the full possibilities of our manhood resources."

Official Announcement Made and Parliament Adjourns.

ROME, June 12.—11:10 p.m.—Via Paris, June 12.—King Victor Emmanuel today received Antonio Salandra, the retiring premier, who presented the resignation of the cabinet. The resignation of the ministry, which was made known yesterday, was officially announced today in the senate and the Chad, upon which both Houses of Parliament adjourned.

CHARGED WITH THEFT FROM QUEBEC ESTATE

Lachine Notary Said to Have Failed to Account for $6,000.

MONTREAL, June 12.—Leon Forest, notary of Lachine, was placed under arrest this afternoon, charged with stealing $6,333.34 from the heirs of the William Trenholm estate. He was taken before Judge Lafontaine in the arraignment court and pleaded not guilty. The judge fixed his bail bond at $20,000. The witness stated that the accused had collected $10,000 and had failed to account for $6,333.34.

BRITISH LOST, SINCE THEY DID NOT CHASE GERMANS TO BASE!

Unique Explanation Offered by Teuton Officers.

DID NOT LEAVE THE FIELD

Enemy Explains That They Merely Worked Toward Their Port.

BERLIN, June 12.—(From an Associated Press Staff Correspondent by Wireless Via Sayville, N. Y.).—Officers of the German cruiser Elbing and Frauenlob, in interviews in the Frankfurter Zeitung, give additional details of the North Sea battle. The Elbing's officers declare that for a long period the Elbing was exposed to the continuous, heavy fire of British dreadnoughts and a single fair hit would have sufficed to sink her, but she was not hit once. On the other hand, according to the German officers, almost every German shell found its billet.

The officers give the duration of the battle as seventeen hours, during fourteen of which the Elbing was continuously engaged. During this period bread was distributed once, but there was no pause in the fighting in which it could be eaten. Only eight men from the Elbing were lost.

Frauenlob Sunk.

The Frauenlob was engaged from 7 p.m. until 10:30 p.m., and again entered the battle at midnight. The rescued men said that shells howled continuously over their ship while the fight was on. Finally the Frauenlob was hit fairly twice, the explosions being so terrific that virtually everything on board was swept away. At one time the cruiser was struck by a torpedo, the explosion lifting her into the air. The torpedo entered the engine-room and exploded there, the ship sinking seven minutes later. Preceding hits by shells had made it impossible to get more than a few of the rafts away. Eight survivors on three of these rafts, which were about three feet wide and six feet long floated for ten hours, sitting back to back with their legs in the water and with heavy waves washing over them continually.

Nothing to Prevent It.

The Elbing's officers characterized as silly the British allegation that the German fleet abandoned the field. They pointed out that the British ships were at least as speedy as, and many of them speedier than the German, and that nothing prevented them from following. It was but natural that the Germans should gradually have worked nearer their base, but there was no truth in the statement that they avoided a decision, the officers declared.

The cruiser Wiesbaden was struck by a shell which penetrated the engine-room and completely disabled her, and she had to be left behind. She went down finally, her men fighting to the last.

VON PAPEN NOW BUSY SPYING ON THE DUTCH

Kicked Out by U. S., He Is Sent on Special Service.

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, May 25. —(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Capt. Franz Von Papen, recalled at the request of the United States Government as military attache of the German embassy at Washington, and who has come to Holland on a secret mission, has a purpose which is three-fold, according to the Amsterdam Telegraaf. This newspaper does not mention Capt. Von Papen by name, but alludes to him as a "first-class specialist, who only recently arrived here after covering himself with world-wide fame in the exercise of functions in another neutral country."

The Telegraaf says that the "specialist" has come here, first, to obtain information of military and political nature; second, to watch foreigners residing or visiting Holland; and, third, to endeavor to influence public opinion in favor of Germany.

The German "secret information service" in Holland is being reorganized, the Telegraaf asserts, the efforts of the "specialist" along this line being the centralizing of diverse and scattered elements of the Teutonic espionage service in this country. He has established the Central Protective Service at The Hague, and progress has been made with the organization of the service at Rotterdam, according to the newspaper, which declares that similar efforts at Amsterdam have been a little backward.

In the Rotterdam branch of the service, the Telegraaf says, 142 men and 62 women have been enrolled, recruited principally among waiters, porters and other hotel and cafe employees.

KAISER MAKES BARGAIN WITH THE SOCIALISTS

[Canadian Press.]

Berne, via Paris, June 13.—The International Socialist committee has received a report from the German Socialists indicating that notwithstanding the privations, misery and consequent depression, discontent and eagerness for peace among the workers, there is now a probability of aggressive revolutionary action on their part.

It is reported that the Socialist members of the Reichstag have lately made a deal with the kaiser, who promised electoral reform as a reward for Socialist support in the war.

VENIZELOS PAPERS JEERED BY MOB

[Canadian Press.]

Athens, June 12, via London, June 13, 10:13 a.m.—The offices of the newspapers which have supported former Premier Venizelos were made the objects of a hostile demonstration today. The demonstrators were composed mainly of those who had been spectators earlier at a horse show in the Stadium, which was attended by King Constantine and the royal family.

ALLEGED BANK ROBBER.

MONTREAL, June 12.—James F. McDonald, alias James Dillon, alleged to be James F. Dinwoodie, wanted for robbing a bank messenger of $16,000 in Houston, Penn., on April 7, 1916, was arrested here this morning by Pinkerton and local detectives. He had been trailed through Canada and was taken as he got off a C. P. R. train going to Quebec. McDonald will be held here until Houston police arrive to try and identify him as Dinwoodie.

NEW ARGENTINE PRESIDENT.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres to a news agency here today says: Hipolite Irigoyen was chosen president of the Argentine Republic today by the electoral committee, being the first Radical ever to reach the Argentine presidency. Pelagia Luna was chosen for the vice-presidency. The election of Senor Irigoyen follows the bitterest political struggle in the history of the Argentine.

COULD NOT STAND

THE LEAST EXCITEMENT.

WAS SO WEAK AND RUNDOWN

Many women become rundown and wornout by their household cares and duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with shattered nerves and weak hearts.

When the heart becomes weak, and the nerves unstrung, it is impossible for a woman to look after her household or social duties. The least little exertion or excitement leaves her in an exhausted condition, and not fit to do anything.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, you will be wise if you start to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

This remedy will act directly on the disordered heart, making it beat strong and regular, and will also invigorate and strengthen the nerves, so as to make them steady and firm.

Mrs. J. A. Williams, Tillsonburg, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I suffered greatly with my nerves. I was so weak and rundown, I could not stand the least excitement of any kind. I believe your Heart and Nerve Pills to be a valuable remedy for all sufferers from nervous trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original remedy for all heart and nerve troubles. Price 50 cents per box. 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Don't use soaps and prepared shampoos that contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advt.

The New Home Treatment For Ugly, Hairy Growths

[Boudoir Secrets.]

Here is a simple, yet very effective, method for removing hair and fuzz from the face, neck and arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. Leave this on for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you are sure to get the real delatone.—Advt.

A MESSAGE TO THIN WEAK SCRAWNY FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 Pounds of Solid, Healthy Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. A splendid way of working to overcome this sinful waste of flesh-building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to try Sargol, the famous flesh-building agent that has been so widely sold in America in recent years. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal, and see if your cheeks don't quickly fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh form over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. All good druggists have Sargol or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated in the guarantee in each large package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you, send $1, money order or registered letter, to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, Que., and a complete ten days' treatment will be sent you postpaid, in plain wrapper.

NOTE.—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder, and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advt.

NUDGES CLOCK ON, WIFE ALSO NUDGES; TWO HOURS GAINED

Guelph Merchant Opens Store "With the Chickens."

ROYAL CITY ALL UPSET

Two Systems of Time Confuses Things in Home, School and Business.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, June 12.—Guelph is today dwelling in two camps, one being that of the "Stand Patters," and the other the wigwam of the "Time Changers." The salute that is the most popular today among men on the street is: "Are you coming or going?" Last night the two clocks that control the movements of the people of the agricultural hub were hustled along when it came to 9 o'clock. This morning the faithful who abided by the decree of the city fathers were abroad in the land by the new time. The men in the factories have gone against it in nearly every case. The juggling of the hour has not enamored them, and they will have none of it. So this morning the factory whistles blew for seven, while the stores opened for eight. Guelphites are at sixes and sevens in more ways than one.

The schools are running standard time, and as a result the pupils are coming home for the noon-day meal just as the door is closing on the head of the house who is operating on city time. A meeting of the school board is to be called at once to decide what shall be done.

The most laughable incident in connection with the whole proceedings occurred in the case of a man who generally opens his shop about eight. Sunday night he performed an operation on the family alarm clock, and made it say ten when it was going to say nine. His wife, who was in a neighboring house, came home a short time after, and before retiring she again speeded up the hands of the clock and added another hour. This morning, according to the clock in the shop, the merchant found that he was open for business at exactly a quarter to six, standard time.

ADMIRAL VON TIRPITZ "TAKES TO THE WOODS"

Goes to Estate in Black Forest For Permanent Retirement.

[Canadian Press.]

Amsterdam, via London, June 18.—Berlin dispatches say it is announced there that Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, former minister of marine, has given up his official residence in the imperial navy department, indicating that his retirement, which was hitherto believed to be only nominal and temporary, is to be permanent.

He will go to his country estate at St. Blasien, in the Black Forest.

SINN FINN REBEL LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

Waves Flag of the "Republic" in Streets of Dublin.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 13.—A cable to the Sun from Dublin, via London, under yesterday's date says:

A demonstration was held today outside the cathedral after requiem mass. McDermott, one of the Sinn Fein rebels, waved the flag of the Irish "republic" on the church steps while a crowd cheered and sang, "Who Fears To Speak of Easter Week?" to the tune of the song, "Who Fears To Speak of '98?"

The demonstrators were not interfered with.

ENGLAND MAY DECLARE MAXIMUM FOOD PRICES

Either That or Wage Advance Necessary, Says Daily Mail.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—The engineering trade unions have sent an appeal to Premier Asquith urging that the Government take immediate steps to limit the price of commodities, or agree to a commensurate wage advance. "On every hand," says the Daily Mail, "complaint is made of rising food prices. For months it has been a supreme topic of conversation among wives and husbands. Now they talk about the cost of a Sunday dinner as formerly they talked about the weather. Always the tendency of prices is higher, and the people see no limit. They feel that it is up to the Government to take action. Their exploitation is at the hands of whoever is making food profits. The Government, with the experience of Germany before it, appears loath to embark on the step of fixing maximum prices, but public opinion is beginning to harden in favor of vigorous action."

AMERICAN LAWYER TO DEFEND CASEMENT

Michael F. Doyle Retained To Look After Sir Roger's Interests.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—Within half an hour of his arrival in London yesterday, Michael F. Doyle, the Philadelphia lawyer retained by Sir Roger Casement's sister to look after Casement's interests, conferred with Sir Roger's lawyers. He will see his client in the Tower today.

Mr. Doyle said that he was deeply gratified by the Government's courtesy in allowing him to assist Casement, particularly as he understands that this is the first state trial in Great Britain in which a foreigner has been allowed to participate.

SLEEPERS WRECKED.

[Canadian Press.]

Owensboro, Ky., June 13.—Passenger train No. 145 on the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railroad was wrecked three blocks from the Owensboro station early today. Three sleepers left the rails, one being destroyed by fire. No one was killed, but a number of the passengers were injured.

The Kentucky delegation to the Democratic convention at St. Louis, including Governor A. O. Stanley and former Governor McCreary, were on the wrecked train. That no one was killed is remarkable, as one of the sleepers turned completely over. It was necessary to cut the vestibule of the car with axes to liberate the passengers. Spreading rails is said to have caused the wreck.

POET LAUREATE'S TRIBUTE TO KITCHENER

LONDON, June 13.—2:55 a.m.—The Times today prints a sonnet to the late Earl Kitchener written by Dr. Robert Bridges, the British poet laureate. The sonnet follows:

Unflinching hero, watchful to foresee
And face thy country's peril, wheresoe'er
Directing war and peace with equal care,
Till by long toil ennobled thou wert he Whom England called and bade "set my arm free
To obey my will and save my honor fair."
What day the foe presumed on her despair,
And she herself had trust in none but thee;
Among herculean deeds the miracle
That mass'd the labor of ten years in one
Shall be thy monument. Thy work is done
Ere we could thank thee, and the high sea swell
Surgeth unheeding where thy proud ship fell
By the lone Orkneys ere the set of sun."

GERMANS LOST 30,000 IN TAKING THE VAUX TRENCHES

Attacks Following Each Other in Rapid Succession Were Met by Terrible Machine Gun Fire of French.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 13.—The battle for Verdun has broken out with unusual violence on the east bank of the Meuse after the lull following the capture of Fort Vaux. The Germans put the respite to good use. They brought up fresh effectives, reformed their lines, and advanced their artillery to positions from which they have begun a methodical pounding of the main French defensive, and especially the powerful batteries at Tavannes and Fort Souville. At the same time the French advanced line, which was plastered with shells all day Sunday, was subjected to fierce onslaughts at Thiaumont Farm, the position on which the line pivots.

French Not Idle.

The French on their part have not been idle during the past few days. Thiaumont Farm bristles with well-placed machine guns, and the German masses, tolling up the slopes which leads to the French positions, have been driven back again and again, while their reserves have been kept copiously showered by sprays of shells from the French batteries at the rear and on the other side of the river. The fighting continues as desperately as ever, but the situation on both sides remains unmodified so far.

Fighting Is Infernal.

The fighting is characterized by eyewitnesses as infernal. It is estimated that the Germans used up 30,000 infantry in assaults on the trenches west of Fort Vaux and at Thiaumont. The attacks followed each other in quick succession.

PAPAL FLAG TO WAVE FIRST TIME ON OCEAN

Steamer Chartered To Carry Prelate Across Atlantic.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, June 13.—The white and yellow papal flag is to wave for the first time on the ocean, according to a report in circulation here. Mgr. Locatelli, the papal inter-nuncio at Buenos Ayres, having been transferred to Brussels, where he will be nuncio, desiring to insure his safety while at sea, has chartered a steamer which will be called the Nuncius, and will carry the papal colors as those of a neutral power.

The last ship which flew the papal colors was the brig Maria Immacolata, which lay in the harbor of Civita Vecchia, 37 miles northwest of Rome, in September, 1870, when the Italians took Rome. The brig, however, had never gone out into the Mediterranean flying the papal colors.

U. S. STRENGTHENS TROOPS IN MEXICO

Situation Serious In View of Washington Government.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 13.—Fifteen hundred additional troops were being mobilized today for Mexican service in view of continued reports of anti-American demonstrations in Mexico and bandit raids on Texan territory.

Ten companies of coast artillery drawn from fortifications between Portland, Me., and Sandy Hook, and a battalion of engineers from the barracks in Washington, were under orders to join Gen. Pershing's army and assist in guarding against further border raids in the region near Laredo. Officials today admitted the situation appeared serious.

ORPET MURDER TRIAL

Witness Says Testimony Before Coroner's Jury Was False.

[Canadian Press.]

Waukegan, Ill., June 13.—Josephine Davis, chum of Marion Lambert, for whose death last February Will P. Orpet is charged with murder, resumed her testimony at the continuance of the trial today.

Miss Davis, who has been referred to as the "strongest witness for the state" proved to be a better witness for the defence yesterday. She said she had testified falsely at the coroner's inquest and at the hearing before the grand jury, and that she now wished to correct her earlier statements.

The particular points that Miss Davis changed in her testimony were to the effect that she had testified that Orpet had given a capsule to Miss Lambert to relieve a supposedly delicate condition, and that she had said that Marion was in a happy frame of mind at all times.

She testified that her statements to the grand jury were influenced, as she felt "spiteful" toward the defendant on account of the death of her friend.

RUNAWAY AND AUTO ACCIDENT AT FLORENCE

Horse Is Killed—Auto Owner's Leg Is Broken—Accidents Not Coincident.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

FLORENCE, June 12.—On Saturday night Richard Bodkin had the misfortune to lose a fine bay farm horse. Mr. Bodkin had come into the town with a neighbor to attend the Walker sale and remained for the evening. His daughter was to drive in and take him home. When about a mile and a half from the town the horse his daughter was driving became frightened at some cattle on the road and ran away, breaking its neck. Miss Bodkin was thrown into a deep ditch and the buggy was smashed. Miss Bodkin was unhurt save some bruises and a nervous shock. She was taken to the home of Mr. McRoberts, where she was furnished a change of clothes. Her father was communicated with and he got a horse and rig to take his daughter home.

Mr. Leason sustained a broken leg Sunday night when an axle of his auto broke and his car turned turtle.

AMERICAN MEDICOS GATHER AT DETROIT

Thousands of Physicians and Surgeons in Annual Convention.

[Canadian Press.]

Detroit, Mich., June 13.—The American Medical Association formally opened its 67th annual convention here today with thousands of physicians and surgeons from all parts of the world in attendance. Dr. Albert Vanderveer of Albany, N. Y., president of the association, called the opening meeting to order in a local theatre.

After addresses of welcome by state and city officials, Dr. Rupert Blue, president-elect of the association, was introduced and installed in office. He delivered the principal address of the session. Other officers are to be elected Thursday.

The convention, which will continue four days, is divided into fourteen sections, each having its own daily program of papers and discussions at their various headquarters. The sectional meetings were to begin this afternoon.

In addition to the clinics, demonstrations, business meetings and addresses, many social functions will occupy the time of the delegates.

LAST OF THE GERMANS HAVE LEFT PORTUGAL

Those Who Are To Be Interned Taken to the Azores.

Lisbon, June 13.—The last of the Germans ordered expelled under the decree of the Government have left Portugal. Those to be interned are on their way to the Island of Terceira, one of the Azores group. This island has been placed under the military command of the governor of the Azores and he has adopted the measures necessary to maintain order there.

The ministry of foreign affairs and the police officers have for some days been devoting their entire attention to Germans in distress, Germans anxious to deny their Teutonic nationality, Portuguese women married to Germans and hence affected by the governmental decree, and aged German women who have for years been employed as servants in Portuguese families.

With the Germans, a great many Austrians and Turks have been expelled. Large and important firms have been forced to discontinue business and a number of factories have closed.

Discovery has been made of faulty machinery on some of the German steamships which the Government requisitioned. Machine experts and operatives have reached here from England to effect repairs, and a British naval mission and other British Government representatives have arrived.

LACERTE ACQUITTED

Montreal Man Not Guilty of Causing Woman's Death.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, June 13.—Phillip Lacerte was found not guilty yesterday in the court of King's bench of the murder of Jeanne Dorion, a woman with whom he had been living in a house in St. Dominique street. Crown Prosecutor Walsh said that he did not consider there was sufficient evidence to convict the accused, as the evidence established that the Dorion woman had on more than one occasion made attempts to end her life.

The dead body of the Dorion woman was found lying on the sidewalk in front of the house where she resided with Lacerte one night three months ago, and it was alleged to have been thrown from a gallery.

MURDER IN COURT ROOM.

Cleveland, O., June 13.—Fred Maxfield, saloon keeper, was under arrest at Linndale, a suburb, today for murder, following a sensational shooting in the court room of Mayor Linn at Linndale last night, in which Peter Cozuera, plaintiff in a suit against Maxfield, was killed.

Maxfield was on trial for assault on Cozuera and when the trial grew interesting Cozuera became excited and reached for his gun. Maxfield also drew a gun, officials says, and several shots were fired, Cozuera finally falling fatally wounded, and died later.

LT.-COL. COLQUHOUN REACHES BRANTFORD

Officer Who Left as Captain and Has D.S.O.

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION

Whole City Turns Out to Greet Hero After 22 Months' Fighting.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, June 12.—Lieut.-Col. Colquhoun, officer commanding the 4th Battalion, known as the "Mad Fourth," who has been at the front for 22 months, returned to Brantford tonight on six weeks' furlough, and was given a magnificent reception. Practically the whole city turned out and participated in the greatest demonstration that has been made here since war was declared. A great line of decorated automobiles led a parade from the station to the market square. In the auto following Col. Colquhoun were seated two sons of the colonel in uniform, and their mother.

Ald. Dowling, J. H. Ham, M.L.A., Lieut.-Col. W. F. Cockshutt, Lieut.-Col. Cutcliffe, Lieut.-Col. Harry Cockshutt, and Lieut.-Col. Labatt of Hamilton made welcoming speeches. The last named officer was for a time in the trenches with Col. Colquhoun.

The returned hero said the men from Brantford had fought as none others could have fought. He could count on his fingers the few remaining men of the "Mad Fourth."

When Col. Colquhoun left here in August, 1914, he was a captain. From Valicartier to Salisbury Plain he went as a company commander, and at Salisbury was made a major.

He was with the 4th Battalion through all the heavy fighting, and was further advanced until he commanded the unit.

This is his first respite from active service, save one, since he went into action. The exception was the time he was summoned to England to be decorated by the King with the insignia of D.S.O.

WINDSOR BUSINESSMEN ON HUNT FOR INDUSTRIES

Deputation of Forty Touring Americans Cities to Secure Branch Plants.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, June 12.—Primed with irrefutable arguments to prove Windsor is the logical site for Canadian branches of American industries, 40 members of the Windsor Board of Trade departed for Cleveland tonight. They will be entertained there Tuesday, leaving the same evening for Indianapolis. After a brief stay the deputation will proceed to Chicago, returning home Friday evening.

NOTHING IS WASTED FROM BATTLEFIELDS

Everything From Big Guns to Small Parts of Equipment Gathered Up.

On the British Front, France, April 25—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The question of what becomes of the vast number of broken implements of warfare and the discarded clothing and shoes that are commonly supposed to strew the battlefields where great armies are operating may be answered, far as the British expeditionary force is concerned, by a visit to one of the bases of the British army. All these things, from the big gun which has been shattered by a shell to the smallest part of Tommy Atkins' personal equipment which has been broken or lost, are gathered up and returned to one of the bases where they are repaired if possible. If they cannot be mended, such parts as are intact are used in renewing other implements or articles of the same kind, and in event that they are hopelessly broken or torn, they are sold as junk.

Repair Depot.

A correspondent to the Associated Press was permitted to visit one of these big repair depots. Departments of every description were busily engaged in the work of restoration. In one building was a pile of upwards of half a million pairs of worn boots—a veritable mountain of muddy foot gear. These were being disinfected, cleaned, resoled and repaired in other ways at the rate of seven thousand pairs a week by a large force of experts. As fast as they were finished they were placed in stock ready to go back to the trenches when there should be a call for more boots.

In other shops, parts of broken harness from the equipment of the army horses were being repaired, saddles were being made over, uniforms and equipments were being overhauled—in fact, every conceivable sort of thing which finds use in the army was being renovated. All unserviceable bits of metal were being stored to sell to foundries and even the tattered pieces of uniforms were being made ready for the call of dealers who buy cloth of this description for various manufacturing purposes.

Much of the work in this repair depot was being done by French girls, although a large force of men was required for the heavy work and such duties as called for skilled labor.

An officer explained that "no waste" was the motto under which the British forces were working and declared that the result was the saving of vast sums of money for the Government.

NATIVE OF ST. THOMAS IS DEAD OF WOUNDS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, June 12. — Edward H. Hall of Detroit, formerly of St. Thomas, who enlisted with the 1st Canadians, is dead from wounds received June 5. Pte. Hall was born in this city and lived here a great many years. He was a nephew of Miss M. McNulty.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH! Suffocated in Asthma Attack.

Every sufferer from asthma knows the terror, the abject fear that overcomes them when struggling for breath. The old-fashioned remedies may relieve, but never cure. Best results come from Catarrhozone, which cures asthma after hope is abandoned. It's because Catarrhozone kills the asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and labored breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system, and even old chronics experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for bronchitis, throat trouble and catarrh. The large, one-dollar outfit includes the inhaler, and lasts two months; sold by all dealers or from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

JELLICOE PAYS TRIBUTE TO WORK OF HIS MEN

Hopes Soon to Have Fuller Information of Enemy Losses.

LONDON, June 12.—In a message to the men of the British fleet, which was given out here officially tonight, Admiral Jellicoe expressed high appreciation of the manner in which the ships of the fleet had fought during the Jutland sea fight of May 31.

"At this stage, when full information is unavailable," said the admiral, "it is impossible to enter into the details, but quite sufficient is known for me to state definitely that the glorious traditions handed down to us by generations of gallant seamen were most worthily upheld.

"Weather conditions that were highly unfavorable robbed the fleet of the complete victory expected by all ranks. Our losses were heavy. We miss many most gallant comrades. But although it is difficult to obtain accurate information as to the enemy losses I have no doubt we shall find they certainly were not less than our own. Sufficient information already has been received for me to make that statement with confidence.

"I hope to give the fleet fuller information on this point at an early date. I do not wish to delay appreciation of the work of the fleet and my confidence in a full and complete victory.

"The wonderful spirit and fortitude of the wounded fills me with the greatest admiration. I am more proud than ever of the honor of commanding a fleet manned by such officers and men."

SEVERAL OF CENSORATE IN CHINA MAY RESIGN

Empire Much Stirred by Action of Chief in Quitting.

PEKING, May 1—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—China has been much stirred by the resignation of the chief of the censorate, Chuang Wen-kuan, who is to be succeeded by Chang Yuan-chi. The views of the retiring chief concerning the monarchical change are responsible for the withdrawal.

From the early days of "The Society for the Preservation of Peace," which fostered the monarchical movement, it has been known that Chuang-Wen-kuan opposed the movement and prepared a recommendation, in which many of the other censors concurred, advising that Yang-Tu and other promoters of the monarchical restoration be drastically punished. This original recommendation was ignored by the central government, and subsequent recommendations from the censorate are reported to have been similarly treated. It is now rumored that six or seven members of the censorate will also retire as the chief has done. They recently advised that the new imperial calendar be cancelled, that the republic be fully restored, and that the bureau of ceremony, which is arranging for the enthronement, be abolished.

The Chinese censors vary in number. Usually there are less than 60 members of the censorate, and ordinarily the number does not exceed forty. The functions of this body are to investigate the conduct of officials and bring charges. It has no judicial functions, but is really a critical body which is supposed to report irregularly to the Government and thus better the public service.

STILL TALK OF "SUICIDE" OF TURK HEIR-APPARENT

Rules of Etiquette Prevent Making the Details Known.

Constantinople, May 15—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Etiquette of the Turkish imperial court, and the aversion of the Ottoman to speak of his household and the female members thereof, has so far prevented the details of the suicide of the late Turkish heir-apparent, Yussof Izzedin Effendi, from becoming known generally. The Associated Press correspondent has just learned them from a dignitary of the prince's establishment.

Prince Yussof Izzedin had for several years beeen suffering from an incurable nervous affliction, a malady which caused him to visit annually the baths of Europe, including those of Baden, a suburb of Vienna, where the mineral waters are sad to have remedial effects in such cases. As the prince grew older the affliction advanced, and when the European war broke out he was generally considered a very sick man. Despite this, he evinced the keenest interest in military affairs, and undertook several tours of inspection to the Gallipoli terrain at the request of the sultan, his uncle. On one of these trips the Associated Press correspondent met him at the headquarters of Liman Von Sanders Pacha. It was plain that the prince was under some strain. His conversation was disjointed, although his remarks were in themselves entirely rational.

On the evening on which he died, Prince Yussof Izzedin had retired at his usual hour, going to the apartment of one of his wives. Here he lay down on a divan. A few minutes later the woman heard him utter a slight groan, and, looking at the man, saw he was bleeding. Upon inquiry the prince replied that the bleeding was due to a slight accident, and then asked the woman to get him a fresh shirt. When she returned with this she found that the prince had locked the door behind her. She then rushed to find one of the attendants. The two returned to the door, but the attendant confined his efforts to asking the prince whether he could enter the room. No answer came, however.

The woman and the attendant then called upon the marshal of the household, who promptly decided to force the door. This proved difficult, as the door was stout, and had been well barred from within. In the end it had to be broken down piecemeal.

Meanwhile the palace physician had been roused, and his examination disclosed that the arteries in the elbow-pit had been severed with a small sharp knife. The weapon was found between the upholstery of the divan and the wall.

BRINGS THIRD COAL CARGO.

SARNIA, June 12.—The steamer Markham has arrived at the Cleveland-Sarnia sawmills with her third cargo of fuel coal for the salt works. The steamer will continue to bring coal to this port from Toledo for some time.

ST. THOMAS SECURES NEW GLOVE FACTORY

Concern Is Looking For Staff of Employees.

MACHINERY IS COMING IN

District Baptist Convention In Port Burwell This Week.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, June 12. — Assessment Commissioner Freek, secretary of the industrial committee, has secured a new factory for St. Thomas.

The concern is a silk glove factory, of which Charles Phillips of Toronto is at the head.

Temporary quarters have been arranged for in the E. T. Wright shoe factory, and machinery is now being installed. Operations will be commenced as soon as the required number of men and women operators are secured.

The concern is capitalized at $60,000.

BAPTISTS TO MEET.

CITY OF MIDLAND'S HULL IS SUCCESSFULLY RAISED

Steamer Burned and Sank at Collingwood Last March.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

COLLINGWOOD, June 12. — The hull of the steamer City of Midland, which was burned last March and sank alongside the G. T. R. wharf here, was successfully floated Saturday evening.

It now lies by the drydock, where temporary repairs will be made, preparatory to remodeling into a towbarge or scow.

BREAD PRICE BOOSTED IN CITY OF STRATFORD

Bakers Give Reasons—Evangelical Association to Meet.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 12. — The bakers of Stratford have raised the price of bread to 7 cents. In an open letter to the citizens today they give as the reason the greatly advanced cost of materials, and also the scarcity and high costo f labor.

Evangelican Association.

The Sunday school convention of the Stratford district of the Evangelical Association will be held in Lisbon Evangelical Church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 13, 14 and 15. The district comprises Stratford, Sebringville, Fullarton, Milverton, New Hamburg, North Easthope and Blenheim. Rev. W. J. Yaker of this city is president.

GOVERNMENT TO PURCHASE "PUBS" OF CARLISLE

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 13.—The Chronicle says the Government has decided to purchase through the liquor traffic control board the whole of the breweries and public houses—the latter number some 300—in the city of Carlisle and neighborhood. It is understood over a hundred public houses will be closed. At others, state brewed beer will be sold under state control.

The Government's action may be repeated in other parts of the country as necessity arises.

MISS SILLIMAN'S ARREST.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 13.—Miss Mary Silliman, a teacher in the American School for Girls at Constantinople, who was arrested in April on suspicion of espionage, returned here today on the steamship Ryndam from Rotterdam.

Miss Silliman said that her arrest, which occurred in April, amounted to nothing more than temporary detention on a nominal charge which the Germans, in many cases, prefer against foreigners entering the country until their status can be investigated. She was on her way home from Turkey, she said, where she had been doing Red Cross work, and was soon able to clear herself of the charge.

Miss Silliman declined to discuss conditions either in Germany or Turkey.

WHALEN COUPLE TO WED.

WHALEN, June 12.—The wedding will take place in the church here at noon on Wednesday of Frank Squire, son of George Squire, to Vera Hodgson, daughter of Mrs. Nathaniel Ogden. The young couple will take a short honeymoon to various eastern cities. Rev. Mr. Findlay will perform the ceremony.

MINERS' EXECUTIVE MEETS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America met here today to administer appeals, grievances and special matters. John P. White, national president, presided at the session, which probably will continue a week. A delegation from the Pittsburg district, which has expressed dissatisfaction with the wage scale negotiated this year, is expected to appear before the board during the week. There have been reports that the Pittsburg district has threatened to withdraw from the national organization.

CLINTON LADY'S DEATH.

CLINTON, June 12.—Mrs. C. P. Tinley of Huron street died this morning. Mrs. Tinley was born in Hamilton 85 years and 1 month ago. She was twice married, her first husband being Joseph Keller. There were five children from the first marriage, one of whom survives, namely, Chas. Keller, with whom Mrs. Tinley had made her home ever since the death of her second husband, who predeceased her some twenty-five years ago. Joseph Beesley and Mrs. Sophia Springer of Hamilton are surviving brother and sister.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

How They Work

VICTORIA, B.C.

For several years I have been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble caused by uric acid and the pains caused by the intermittent stoppage of urine was very severe. For this I was taking something or other continually with but little or no relief. At last a friend handed me a sample package of your Gin Pills. The contents of this sample gave me relief that I had not experienced in a long time. Since then I have been taking Gin Pills occasionally and have had no return of my former trouble. (Name on request).

The above letter is from a popular and well-known commercial man in Victoria.

Gin Pills are 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 at all druggists. Sample sent free if requested. 27

THE CANADIAN VICTORY.

AS THE story of the Canadian resistance to the recent German drive along the Ypres-Comines Canal is unfolded the valor of the men of the maple leaf stands out more and more in bold relief. The position was one of the most difficult to hold on the entire western front. The ground was so soft that entrenching was impossible; the only defence works were parapets, an easy mark for the enemy's heavy guns. Against that position was hurled an attack similar to those against the forts of Verdun. The parapets were battered down, the oozing ground leveled and the German horde poured in, equipped with full packs prepared for a great advance. Under such circumstances a resistance of any kind would have required great bravery; to have stopped the enemy, made his full pack a useless burden and finally to have driven him back was a task that seems almost superhuman.

Thousands of Canadian families are mourning losses of brave men, but they were men whose watchword was, "No surrender." They won a great victory for the Empire. If the Germans could not break through at the easiest point on the line, what chance would they have where the natural advantages lie with the Allies? It is a question which may cause them to stop and ponder.

WORSE THAN TRAITORS.

FOR those concerned in the attempt to induce further violence in Dublin, in the hopes of gaining for themselves and their party more concessions from the Government, there can be no sympathy among patriotic people, and one stands aghast at the foolishness of these men and their utter lack of feeling, save that of self-interest.

For those who took part in the late regrettable uprising, there was some pity mixed with righteous anger. They were believed to have been misled by some fanatics, and to have joined the rebels without any real idea of what terrible results would follow their armed attempt to combat Britain.

But Ireland has now seen the fruits of listening to these lunatics and acting on their orders. Hundreds of widows and bereaved mothers listen in vain for the footsteps of loved ones who will never come again, and whose passing brought shame rather than glory. Wives of an hour became widows, with the awful knowledge to haunt them through life that their husbands had suffered death at the hands of their fellow-countrymen because they were traitors. Homes have become desolate and children suffer want because of their fathers' utter insanity.

Do the present evil-workers desire a repetition of all this? Do they want to add to the numbers of bereaved and play into the hands of the common enemy, while their brothers are fighting the nation's battles in France and Flanders? Such a fiendish scheme deserves that the people who have suffered through the former revolt should turn on the new leaders and rebuke them, showing the abhorrence with which they view the dastards' work.

If this so-called rebellion were for freedom from tyranny or for rights which were refused it could be understood and would, doubtless, draw immense support. But it is avowedly against freedom and in support of the worst system of tyranny the world has known. It is aimed to embarrass the British Government at a time when the saving of the Empire demands all the energies of every loyal subject. Of course, it is doomed to failure, but that makes the crime no whit smaller. This time no excuses will be acceptable, and the penalties will certainly not diminish in severity.

COWARDICE.

THERE is a form of cowardice common among certain people which finds its expression in the phrase: "I cannot bear to read of these terrible battles and the losses of thousands of fine men. It is too awful." This is frequently followed by the statement that the newspapers are so full of horrors that they are no longer readable.

This is not a sign of an ultra-sensitive nature, but of a nature which seeks the pleasures of life and avoids, so far as is humanly possible, all sorrows and all unpleasantness; a nature which is self-centred, refuses to be touched by the griefs of others and asks only to be allowed to drift in false happiness.

Men of Canada, many thousands of them, are engaged in these battles which are taking such fearful toll. They are not reading of them—that would be easy and comparatively pleasant—they are fighting, and are every moment in danger of meeting the suffering and the death which are on every side. They are not too sensitive to endanger their limbs and their lives for the cause or to witness the bloodshed and slaughter. What must they think of those who stay at home and cannot bring themselves to endure a fraction of the sorrow through reading of the battles others are fighting to save the nation from a fate too dreadful for words?

Every line of war news which appears in the press is of vital interest to every British or Canadian citizen. Not a word ought to be missed by anyone who is able to read. If the dispatches bring tears to the eyes and sorrow to the heart, they may also draw the hand to the pocket for the purpose of providing comforts for the wounded, bread for the starving and clothing for the naked. The person who can read the news without being moved and without experiencing something of divine pity is without soul; he is dead in heart and might as well be dead in body.

In the North Sea are thousands of bodies, with sightless eyes staring up into the heavens. These died for us and that we might live under the liberty and freedom of the British flag. Around the fateful Ypres salient lie thousands of young Canadians, the flower of this young dominion, with blood streaming from torturing wounds, or stiff and cold in death. They have gone through the fire that we may be saved from death or slavery and our lands from devastation.

It is not much to ask of us who live in the midst of material comforts at home that we eagerly read and ponder over every detail of these battles and try to realize the sacrifice that is being made for us. To refuse to do this is to confess oneself a coward and unworthy to benefit from the valor of the men in khaki or in naval blue.

MILITARY PRISONS NEEDED.

IN London jail at the present time there are over fifty soldiers serving sentence for being absent from their duties without leave. They are prisoners, held under the same conditions as a man found guilty of theft or any other crime.

There is a doubt as to whether this treatment of men guilty of military "crimes" is justifiable. Legally, no doubt, it is allowable to have them confined in common jails, prisons or on prison farms, but is it fair?

A civilian who stays away from work for a few days without leave or other justification loses pay for that time or at most is dismissed from his position. There is no legal penalty imposed for his action. Yet for the same deed a soldier may receive quite a heavy sentence.

Yes, it may be said, but the man in khaki is in a different position from all others. He comes under military law and, in this, punishment is provided for absence. He knows that, when he enlists, and by enrolling accepts it.

True, but if it is a military offense, why is he not detained in a military jail instead of being thrown in contact with real criminals? That would remove the unfairness.

A term in jail, whether common or military, would be of small consequence if it were not for the disgrace incurred, which lingers long after the imprisonment has ended. But once a man has been entered on the books of a prison as a law-breaker, that entry stands against him for life, thus laying open a soldier, who has spent a few days in jail for overstaying his leave, or visiting friends without permission, to the reproach that he was formerly a "jail-bird."

Let military law, formulated to meet the needs of the situation, be enforced. It is necessary for discipline and therefore useful. But let it be enforced in a military way, by competent military officers and let sentences be served in a military prison, when offenses are against military regulations and not against general laws.

Even desertion is, strictly speaking, just a breach of contract, yet several men have gone to prison for two years for this "crime," sharing the disgrace of those who are in the same institutions for attempted murder, manslaughter and every other serious crime. These places are not fit for the confinement of deserters. It is time a distinction was made. It would be an improvement if separate wings of prisons were set aside for military offenders in the absence of distinct buildings and if the names were not entered in the regular prison books.

Beatty upset the German plans and likewise some score of warships.

Roosevelt now adopts the attitude of watchful waiting, that is watching Hughes.

Austria's flash in the pan on the Isonzo and Carso has fizzled out, and now begins the flight.

Bismarckburg has been taken by the British. The days draw nearer when the kaiser's burg will be captured.

There must be an exciting race among the Austrians for places in the Russian prison camps. Probably the fare there is an improvement.

Another "glorious victory" such as the German navy suffered in the North Sea will just about place her alongside Switzerland as a naval power.

THE DEAD.

[Alexander Louis Fraser.]

Mothers! what if they died
Ere dew of morn
Upon their brave brows dried,
Be not forlorn.

None had a greater task
Than they—your dead!
No pity do they ask,
They say instead:

"How sweet it was to die
For something worth—
Though far from you we lie
In alien earth.

'Tis death to live below
And high tasks shirk—
Think this, as sad you go
About your work!"

EXPERT AT THAT.

"So Blank has gone west to develop his gold mine. Has he taken his wife along?"

"Yes; he says she'll be sure to find the pockets if there are any."

NOT A RELIEF, EVEN.

Spick—"Is there any cure for love aside from matrimony?"

Span—"Who told you matrimony was a cure for love? Why, it isn't even a relief."

A DIRGE.

[By Felicia Hemans.]

Rest on your battle-fields, ye brave
Let the pines murmur o'er your grave,
Your dirge be in the morning wave—
We call you back no more.

O there was mourning when ye fell,
In your own vales, a deep-toned knell,
An agony, a wild farewell—
But that hath long been o'er.

Rest with your still and solemn fame;
The hills keep record of your name,
And never can a touch of shame
Darken the buried brow.

But we on changeful days are cast
When bright names from their place fall fast;
And ye that with your glory passed
We cannot mourn you now.

WAS THE KAISER SHOT?

[Montreal Star.]

A highly sensational story has reached London from France, a circumstantial account of an attempt by a German general to assassinate the kaiser. The account is printed in the Alsacien-Lorrain de Paris. The following is a translation of part of the article:

"A compatriot who had been expelled from Alsace took refuge in the south of France. He has just received a letter from a relative in Alsace who declares that no precise fact has ever transpired as to the exact nature of the malady from which William II. is said to be suffering. However, this may be, he is quite sure that, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, the kaiser has not been seen at any front, but has remained indoors for some time. Neither cancer nor any other malady is accountable for this compulsory retirement on the part of the Prussian monarch.

"As a simple matter of fact, the kaiser was the victim of an attempt made upon his august person late in 1915 by a German general, who, as the result of a violent dispute with his sovereign, fired his revolver at the emperor and then turned the weapon against himself with deadly effect. This story is at any rate generally accepted in Germany as a true story. The ball is said to have entered his majesty's neck, which explains the hypothesis of an operation for cancer."

NO WASTE OF ENERGY.

"You never encourage mud-slinging in a campaign?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "if you're going to throw something, throw a rock."

English Pure and Undefiled

By Hope Daring.

"You know she's a widow woman and lives—"

"Oh, Jasper!"

"Eh! What is it?" Jasper Dunning asked, looking into the face of the girl who shared the road wagon seat with him.

Margaret caught her breath. It might hurt him, but what he had just said hurt her. Would it do any good? She looked reflectively along the country road that stretched away in front of them. Over it the maples, brave in their green livery of early summer, threw long, cool shadows. Her silence was so long continued that Jasper repeated, this time a little sharply:

"What is it?"

"Did you ever hear of a widow who was not a woman?"

"What an idea! I don't git you."

"Oh, please do not say 'git.' And the other is such a colloquialism! If you say a woman is a widow, that's enough."

Jasper drew up on the lines until his spirited bays reared. When he had quieted them he asked, "What is a colloqui—? I didn't git—no, get it."

Briefly, Margaret explained. "To use good English, Jasper, means so much! It's the mark of a gentleman. Strangers judge us by our language."

"See here, Margaret, before you went away to college I talked good 'nough for you," he blurted.

The girl's eyes met his; she was conscientiously honest, even with herself. "It always annoyed me a little, but I had heard people talk in that way all my life. Not until I went to Girton did I come to see just what such things mean," she said.

"I wish you'd never gone. You see, I didn't so much mind waitin', 'cause I planned to fix up the farm so it'd be good 'nough home for you. But them two years spiled you. I wish you'd never gone."

The reiteration of the wish made Margaret forget the grammatical lapses that had preceded it. Never seen Girton! Never come in contact with that scholarly, progressive phase of life which she had determined should dominate her future! Even if she did teach a primary grade in a village school, Margaret had resolved that not only her own life but all lives that touched hers, should be sweeter and stronger because of those two years at Girton!

The silence endured so long that Jasper thought the victory was his. With a superior smile he said, "It don't matter."

Why could he not have said "doesn't?" Margaret's brown eyes flashed. "It does matter to me and to all who care for really good things," she declared. "And if you cared for me, Jasper, you'd try to please me, especially when I'm wholly in the right. Why, I would be ashamed to have Prof. Larned hear you talk—sometimes."

That last word was added almost desperately when she saw the color fade from Jasper's face. Before he could reply, they were at the gate of the village home where Margaret boarded. A half dozen young men and girls who were sitting on the veranda came trooping down the walk to meet them, laughing, talking, making plans for the evening.

Those plans were so well carried out that Jasper had no opportunity for further words with his betrothed. Even when, several hours later, he bade her good-night, Alice Marr stood only a few feet away, waiting for Margaret to join her.

"Shamed to have that professor hear me talk!" Jasper said to himself as he rode home under the calm stars. "I 'spose I could do a little better, but I hain't agoin' to stand it to be nagged all the time."

At that same hour Margaret was crying softly, her head on the window sill. To go through life blushing for a husband's mistakes, ashamed to have people hear him talk—could she do it? Could she hold fast to her own ideals if she were Jasper's wife? In the years to come, if children should be theirs, how could she teach them aright if her teaching plainly put their father in the wrong?

For three days, she pondered those questions. Then she did two things—she promised the school board that she would teach another year and she wrote a note which ran:

"Dear Jasper,—There has been no change in my feelings. I love you, but I cannot be happy with a man who disregards the things I hold essential. Therefore I must take back my promise to be your wife.

Sincerely yours,

"MARGARET."

Jasper made no reply to the note, no effort to see Margaret. A month went by. The cessation of his visits proved to their friends that the engagement had been broken. He began to hear rumors of the many letters she was receiving from one of the Girton college professors. On overtaking Jane Harris, plodding along in the rain, Jasper took her home, the story was repeated to Margaret so many times that she became convinced that it was a matter of daily occurrence.

The Grange picnic came early in July. For years Jasper had taken Margaret.

"I'll not go this time," he decided. "Everybody would look and smile, even if they did not say anything. I'll work in the harvest field."

He found his task a wearisome one. Recollections of past joys crowded on him. Suddenly he strode off, resolving to go to the farm wood lot. It was there, in the shadow of a grove of birches that grew on the bank of the stream, that he had told Margaret of his love. There had been little need of words; his face and his acts had proclaimed his devotion, yet the telling and her response had been wondrously sweet. Since that day the spot under the birches had been a shrine to him.

"She never loved me, though," he thought, as entering the dim, cool woods, he slackened his pace. "If she'd really loved me, how I talked wouldn't a' made any difference."

Just then he came in sight of the birches and Margaret seated on the ground, her dark head leaning against a tree's silvery-brown trunk. A breeze stirred the branches, and the waving mosaic of light and shade that fell across her face showed that she had been crying. As if, in some vague way, aware of his presence, she lifted her eyes, and their gaze met.

It was but a moment that each looked into the other's face. Yet the fragment of time was long enough to enable each of them to glance ahead, seeing dimly what the future might hold for them estranged.

"Life devoted to an ideal might be noble and inspiring, but it would be desolate," Margaret said to herself. "Split infinitives, plural subjects with a single verb, even widow woman—why, they are nothing compared to a lonely life, and Jane Harris smirking because she has won him. I'll be proud of his real worth and think of the other as little as I can."

As for Jasper, he compressed his lips. "It don't matter; or should I say doesn't? I'm ashamed if I can tell, but maybe I can learn. It's sure I'll have to be nagged all my life, but seein' as how she will be the nagger, I'll make no fuss. And that college feller might as well know he ain't in this."

Neither of the lovers thought of the word compromise, but both were swayed by the idea the word represents. Margaret sprang to her feet, her face tender and wistful, while Jasper hurried forward to hold her in his arms.

PLEASANT THOUGHTS FOR JUNE.

For the RAIN, it raineth every day!
—Shakespeare.

The thirsty earth soaks up the RAIN,
And drinks, and gapes for drink again.
—Abraham Cowley.

In Winter, when the dismal RAIN
Comes down in slanting lines,
And Wind, that grand old harper, smote
His thunder-harp of pines.
—Alexander Smith.

Alas! how easily things go wrong;
A sigh too deep, or a kiss too long,
And then comes a mist and a weeping RAIN,
And life is never the same again.
—George MacDonald.

Nothing that is can pause or stay;
The moon will wax, the moon will wane,
The mist and cloud will turn to RAIN,
The rain to mist and cloud again,
Tomorrow be today.
—Longfellow.

It's jest as cheap and easy to rejoice—
When God sorts out the weather and sends RAIN—
W'y, RAIN'S my choice.

THOSE LITTLE FEET.

Do I remember? J. H. F., you bring tears to my eyes,
When you quote the poet's words of long ago:
Telling how "her little feet, like mice, peeped in and out,"
So that one just saw the tip of her sweet toe.

It's fine to think of that old time, we old chaps like to dream
Of the styles and of the manners of those days;
We talk with one another of the shrinking, timid maids,
Who their skirts above their insteps would not raise.

"Other times, other manners," was a truer word e'er spoke?
For we see the ladies walking on the street,
With skirts up to their ankles? No, but nearly to their knees;
They're not satisfied to show only their feet.

Still we have cause for thankfulness
—with years we've gathered strength,
And no odds the way the dames may dress—we're game.
Let them "kilt their kirtles" to the height the law allows;
We'll forgive them, and will love them just the same.
—THE OLD 'UN.

QUESTIONS.

[Toronto Telegram.]

High court judges are not all as illustrious as Sir William Meredith for their maintenance of the rights of the witness as against the pretensions of the cross-examiner.

Was Sir William Meredith right or wrong in his assumption that E. F. B. Johnston's style of cross-examinination was gratuitously offensive to General Bertram?

If Sir William Meredith were right in his criticism of Mr. Johnston's method of cross-examining General Bertram, Sir William Meredith was wrong in his own method of cross-examining Lloyd Harris.

The attempted questioning of Gen. Bertram by E. F. B. Johnston, K. C., was mild and genial compared to the actual questioning of Lloyd Harris by Sir William Meredith.

ITALIANS CONTINUE TO MAKE ADVANCE IN THREE POSITIONS

Fight Through Snow and Gales and Gain on Foe.

PURSUE WITH BAYONET

Brilliant Success Gained in Fighting on Mount Lemerle.

ROME, June 12—Via London, 8:52 p.m.—A continued advance by the Italians in the Arsa Valley, in the Pasubio sector and along the Posina-Astico line in the southern Tyrol, was announced by the war office in tonight's official statement.

The text of the statement follows:

"In the Camonica Valley and in the Giudicaria Valley there have been artillery duels and skirmishes between small detachments.

"In the Lagarina Valley the enemy strongly bombarded our positions at Coni Zugna.

"In the Val D'Arsa and Pasubio sector and along the Posina-Astico line, our infantry yesterday continued to advance, although hampered by violent artillery fire, and in the higher zone by snow and gales.

Advance on Setti Communi.

"On the plateau of Setti Communi, southwest of Asiago, our advance detachments, having passed the Canaglia Valley, pressed on towards the southeastern slopes of Monte Cengio and towards Monte Marco and Monte Bosbillo.

"Later details show a brilliant success for our arms in the fighting of June 10 on Monte Lemerle. Our valiant forty-third and forty-fourth forli infantry bravely sustained the assaults of enemy masses, which succeeded in reaching our positions, but were dispersed and pursued at the point of the bayonet.

"In the Sugana Valley we advanced toward the Maso torrent, repelling two counter-attacks near Scurelle.

"Along the remainder of the front there have been artillery duels and bombing activity.

"Enemy airmen dropped bombs on the Vicenza Military Hospital and on Thiene, Venice and Mestre, causing little damage."

CONSPICUOUS CHARACTER IS DEAD IN INGERSOLL

Arden Carroll, Aged 68, Marvellously Athletic Until Death.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

INGERSOLL, June 12. — The death today of Arden Carroll removed a citizen who was known to the majority of residents, old and young. For a number of years he had conducted a baggage transfer, but discontinued this work a few months ago. He was 68 years old. Slightly over three weeks ago he contracted a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia. He was fond of athletic sports and was probably the best fancy skater in the town.

A couple of years ago while visiting in London he took his skates—wooden rockers made three score years ago—with him, and won an interesting press notice for the skill which he displayed in the fancy "stunts" at one of the rinks. Up to a few months ago it was a common sight to see him spring from the sidewalk onto his baggage wagon, displaying activity that was remarkable.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Call it Tralee.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Here is a name for the city of Berlin. Why not call it Tralee City, after the birthplace of the great soldier, K. of K. He was the flower of Tralee.

MRS. ALVIN SYPHER.
R. R. No. 1, Brownsville.

HOME TALENT.

A man from "up-state" had gone to a theatre in New York. In an interval between the acts he turned to the metropolitan who had the seat next to him.

"Where do all them troopers come from?" he inquired.

"I don't think I understand," said the city dweller.

"I mean them actors up yonder on the stage," explained the man from afar. "Was they brought on specially for this show or do they live here?"

"I believe most of them live here in town," said the New Yorker.

"Well, they do purty blamed well for home talent," said the stranger.

OF COURSE.

"I am going to name my new store The Vortex."

"Why that?"

"People will just naturally be drawn into it."

HASTENING THE EVIL DAY.

Willie—Pa says he wishes you'd make haste and propose to sister.

Young Man (delightedly)—Then he is willing to let her marry me?

Willie—'Taint that. He says you're not likely to keep comin' here after sis hands you the mitten.

A PAGE OF GENERAL INTEREST TO WOMEN READERS

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Her Mither Tongue.

Dear Miss Grey,—How guid it made my puir heart feel to hear ma mither's tongue spoken in the circle. When last I ca'ed in, "Only a Wummin" was a' for skelpin' me, but I ken noo' that there are guid Scotch bodies we'in the nuik who wud na' aloo' it. Hey! "Twenty-One," are you Scotch, too? I saw where you said that your simmer hame had a guid Scotch name. I wud like fine to ken ye, laddie. You seem a wee bit different frae some o' the ithers. You said you knew naught o' luve. Bravo, laddie! But, you could me'er a met a guid pure Scotch lassie up there in Lunnen toon or your heart wud na' have been yours for long.

Why wull people be for sayin' England, when they should say Britain? Just the ither day, I read a bit piece, "God bless you, Mother England," an' I sighed for a wee bit verse for Bonny Scotland. Now, Miss Grey, you're a kind, good-natured lassie, will you na ask Poet Bill to just gie us a wee bit verse for auld Scotia, and no forget that little bit of heaven they ca'ed it Ireland. There are guid hearts there, ta'.

May God bless the lassie wha wants names of laddies wi'out socks. That's the kind of lassies we a' luve. I canna knit, and I am verra sorry. When I was a lassie I wud rather be readin' books than warkin wi' knitting pins and aften did ma mither tell me that I wad jest have to be marrit on a mon wi'out feet.

I oft think of you, "Mrs. Gay." An' I hope that your guid mon will come hame safe and sound after the war. I ken full well how lonely you feel betimes. God called ma guid mon hame to dwell wi' Him. But we shall meet again sometime, somewhere. Maybe 'twill na be lang.

Now, I fear I have stayed o'er lang, an 'will be wushin you all guid luck an' guid nicht. Your Scotch freend,

MEG HAMILTON.

Ans.—Sincerely glad to have you pay a return visit to the page. How is the nephew, "Meg"? Your request I have passed on to "Bill." Don't you enjoy him, though?

Summer Colleges.

Miss Cynthia Grey,—Am writing to ask through your page of The Advertiser some information, which I hope you will be able to give me:

1. Can you tell me if there are any business colleges in London which give summer courses? If so, their names and when the term opens.

2. Also, if St. Joseph's Convent gives a summer course in stenography (I mean in London). Yours sincerely,

APPLE BLOSSOM.

Ans.—So far as I have been able to ascertain, there are no summer business courses of any kind in London.

Drive Away Ants.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers,—Seeing a request for information concerning Uncle Tom's burial place, I thought I would write. Just out of the town of Dresden, to the southwest and not very far from the Sydenham River, is a rather desolate spot, called the Institution. A road lined with trees runs north and south between two cemeteries. The one on the east side is the public colored burial ground, while the other, to the west, is Henson's private colored cemetery. It is here, the older residents claim, that Thomas Henson ("Uncle Tom") is buried. I have seen this place and also read this printed in old papers. It is here also, on the banks of the river, that the colored Baptists held their baptismal services, dipping their converts under water in the river—and a curious sight it is, too.

Will close with this request: Will you please reprint directions for getting rid of ants?

Best wishes to all the readers.

NARCISSUS.

Ans.—Your information is very interesting, Narcissus. I suppose it would be even more curious if those black converts came out of the water white.

For the ants, try sprinkling gum camphor around on the shelves. It is said not to agree with their little tummies, and they run away fast as they can! Another method is to remove all food and place small saucers of water and carbolic where they frequent.

A Girl's Troubles.

A Soldier's Pal"—Am sending you four two recitations, which I chanced to have on hand, and which may help in our Red Cross affair.

Regarding your private troubles, you might either told me too much or too little. Where is you father? Can you not have a frank talk with him and get to know just where you are at. You say you own the house. Yet, it would not be possible for you to live alone. Is your stepmother so horrid that you can't see a single good quality about her? I wonder if you've tried to help her; maybe she isn't very happy, either. Honestly, my dear, I believe you're just the sort of girl who needs a good, true, motherly woman to advise you—and love you. If you'll pardon me for saying it, parts of your letter did not sound truthful; but if you care to write a more connected account of your troubles, I shall certainly be glad to advise just the best I can.

Re Rag Rugs.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come to bother you all for a few minutes. A reader was inquiring how to make the new rag rugs. I cut the rags from ¾ to 1 inch wide. A soft, cotton goods is best for knitting. Old kitchen aprons and print dresses make excellent rags. The regular number of stitches to cast on is 21, but more may be added if desired. The reader (I forget her pen name) wished to make a rug 30 inches wide, but I don't think that would be possible, as each width can be only the length of the needle. I knitted three widths for mine, and then sewed them together. The knitted rugs seem to wear well. I hope the inquirer will find this information satisfactory.

I received the flags and they were just what I wanted. Thank you so much for them.

Now for a question or so:

1. Could you publish a hat pattern (sailor preferred)? I have some nice white linen and would like to make one if possible.

2. Your opinion of my writing, please, Miss Grey.

The last time I wrote I signed myself "Fern," but as someone else has taken it also, I will take as a pen name,

CORONA.

Ans.—Much as I would like to oblige you with a hat pattern, there is not one in the pattern department, so far as I can ascertain. Wonder if among our embroidery workers there is not someone with a hat pattern? No doubt, though, you could order one through any of the fashion magazines.

2. I think you write very well.

Thank you for help re rugs. I suppose when knitted, they will require a border sewn around the edge to help them lie flat?

Lunch Causes Waste.

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a few lines in regard to "Kentucky Nell" re her awful gloomy bill. My advice to her is to let Mr. Husband keep the money and also buy what is needed for the house. I know one case in which the woman was nearly driven distracted by the same kind of a man. I'll wager he will be glad to hand over the wages in a few weeks, because he will be so tired of trying to manage on any less. I think you do all right; $36 a month is not out of the way for five of a family (at the price of goods now). I wonder if any of the readers find it more expensive to pack a lunch than to set a meal on the table. I know I have found it so; my husband carried his lunch for three years, and I certainly found a great difference when he started to come home for his meals. I think there is much waste in making up a lunch. You certainly have my sympathy, "Kentucky Nell." It seems too bad getting married, when merely a child, and then to have your life spoiled through such a paltry thing as money. Of course, we cannot get along without it, but give me peace of mind and a crust of bread, and I am satisfied. Cheer up and pray, "Nell." Prayer is one of the greatest comforts; nothing is impossible to God, and He will certainly listen to you if you pray to Him in a humble and contrite way. Please excuse this long letter, Miss Grey.

Please criticise my writing.

A HAPPY READER.

P. S.—I might add: There are four in our family; two children, my husband and myself, and my bills are never below the $35 mark any month.—A. H. R.

Ans.—"Kentucky Nell" will appreciate your words of advice. I think your writing is very good; it is neat and legible.

Wants Quilt Patterns.

Dear Miss Grey,—Reading about "Aunt Nannie's" quilt, reminded me that I must soon piece myself some quilts, as mine are getting worn. I have a lot of pieces of prints of both dark and light color which have been left over from making children's dresses that would be very suitable for piecing quilts, but would like some new patterns. Maybe "Mrs. Gay" and others would kindly send you some nice quilt patterns for me. A design or drawing, with directions and suggestions for piecing, would do, or they could piece a block and send it for a pattern just as they like. SUNNY SUSAN.

Ans.—Who can send a nice quilt design for "Susan?"

Cannot Get Free.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please forward the cure for blackheads offered by one of the readers? I cannot seem to get rid of them. I think I have tried nearly everything. RED.

Ans.—Am not sure to which one you refer. Whoever offered this, please speak up.

The Bachelor's Appeal.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I come in and have a talk with the slackers? I was talking to a young man who has just got back from England and he was describing one of the recent zeppelin raids which he witnessed from his house. The big cigar-shaped demon (can be always heard if not seen) passed over his house and he could distinctly see the trap-door open, exposing a blaze of light; then a bomb would be projected and the trap closed again; this kept on for two hours, and killed quite a few young children and women.

Do you wish to live under the authority of such cannibals whose fingers are dipped with the blood of innocents and befouled with every cruel and cowardly outrage that brutality could invoke? Just follow the footsteps of those fine fellows who are already winning glory on the field and doing their bit to bring this war to a victorious end. Hoping I have not made my letter too long, I am

A LONELY BACHELOR OF 28.

Red Cross Nurses.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please tell me a few facts concerning Red Cross nurses, or where I could write to get full particulars, as I would dearly love to train for one; what age must you be, and have you to pay for your training? Kindly tell me all you know on the subject. I have heard that you are trained free of charge, but that you have to pay all expenses for your clothes, etc., but I don't know if this is correct or not. I would love to ask what you think of my writing, but I know it is "perfectly awful." Best wishes to yourself and all readers. BABE.

Ans.—You have been informed wrongly, "Babe," for there are no special training schools for Red Cross nurses. A Red Cross nurse is a graduate nurse, who can qualify according to standards set by the military authorities, in time of war. As you can understand, experience, and endurance, are very necessary as well as a thorough knowledge of nursing. At the time when the first appeal came for Canadian nurses to go overseas, over two thousand entered their names as anxious to go. Hundreds were necessarily rejected, as only 50 were required. Since then, of course, other units have been sent, but many more qualified women are waiting to go. Sorry, I have no better encouragement to offer, "Babe," but "facts is facts."

Advises Recreation.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a reader of your page for some time and note that some business girls have written lately. As I belong to that group I would like to give my opinion re the staying home at nights and improving our minds.

Well, I think that when a girl works all day long in an office she should have some sort of recreation in the evenings, instead of coming home and going to bed. Just work, eat and sleep. The monotony would kill me. What I would advise "Just a Little Stenographer" to do is to get some congenial friends and go out for social evenings at their homes and entertain in return, and I'm sure she'll feel all the better for it, the next day at work. Of course, on rainy evenings she could stay in and improve her mind. (Don't you think she would have plenty of time for the aforesaid improvement according to all the rain?)

When I get talking I scarcely know when to stop, but you know that one unwise man once remarked: "God made the world and rested; God made man and rested; then God made woman and since then neither God nor man hath rested." But I think he got things slightly twisted. If anyone wishes to correspond with me I shall be pleased to answer.

What do you think of my writing?

DOLLY VARDEN.

Ans.—Wonder if you're a friend of "Calamity Ann," Dolly? You live in the same town—pardon me, city, anyhow. Am keeping your address "on tap." Should say that you write a very good business hand, whether your mind is in an "improved" condition or not.

Songs to Exchange.

Dear Miss Grey,—Just read where "Gentle Sea Breeze" has some cigarette flags of the animal series to part with. Would like to get some if possible.

I do feel sorry for "Blundering Betsy," "Lonely Soldier's Sister," and "Kentucky Nell." Let us happy folks utter a little prayer that they might soon become happy also.

I have a number of songs I would gladly exchange with anyone for cigarette flags, if "Gentle Sea Breeze's" are all gone. The names of some of the songs I have are: "In Dear Old Georgia," "What You Goin' to do When the Rent Comes Round?" "Down on the Farm," "When the Harvest Moon is Shining on the River," "'Tain't No Disgrace to Run if You're Skeered," "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie," "When we Were Two Little Boys," and hundreds of others. Will send any of them to anyone who sends address and postage.

JOLLY CANADIAN FARM GIRL.

Ans.—"Minerva" has also spoken for those flags, but maybe "G. S. B." will have enough for both.

He Did Not Come.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. A friend of mine made an engagement with me for a certain evening, and did not show up nor let me know why he did not come. What would you think of that?

2. Do you think white shoes are very popular?

Will send a jelly cake recipe. It sure is good: 1 egg well beaten, 1 cup of granulated sugar, 1 small piece of butter, 1 cup of sweet milk, 2 cups of flour, 1 teaspoon of soda dissolved in hot water. This never fails.

3. What would you think of a boy who pretends to be very fond of you but does not go steady?

LAUGHING NELL.

Ans.—1. I'd think him quite rude, and simply ignore any further friendliness on his part until he gives a reasonable explanation.

2. Quite, and likely to be more so as summer advances; whether they are practical is another matter.

3. He probably likes you just as a friend and shows you occasional attentions out of friendship only.

In your recipe haven't you made an error, or left something out? As a rule, soda is never used with sweet milk unless cream of tartar is added too, but maybe dissolving it in the hot water makes a difference. Please tell us.

"Mother Robin's" Chirp.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have often read "our" page with both benefit and interest, and have been tempted to write before, but lost courage. What brings me now is sympathy for "Faded Lily," if her "little" flock gets whooping-cough. My babies had it last January, one 3 years, the other nearinf 2, so were young enough to require a good bit of care, although they had it light. This mixture of oils is what I used, and hipe it may help someone: Two ounces olive oil, one ounce oil of cloves, one ounce of oil of amber; rubbed on the chest, abdomen and back, two or three times a day. I also gave cough syrup and plenty of laxative medicine. That "hang-on" cough still continues, but I am told will leave when it comes warmer.

One correspondent last winter spoke of a school doctor or someone advising her not to send children to school on account of this cough, as others would take it. My experience failed to prove such true, as our babies played with the other little ones two or three weeks after the "whoop" had left them, and they did not get it.

All kindes thoughts go out to those who have sons, brothers and husbands at the front, and hows the dear children must miss their daddy, too. The nearest of kin I have in khaki are two cousins. I have no brothers, only a sister. What has also aroused my sympathy was "Kentucky Nell's" letter of her husband's "meanness," I call it, and I think with "Faded Lily," she has done remarkably well for the size of her family. I would recommend trying "Finis II.'s" plan, also showing him the letters of advice and sympathy from this page. Perhaps he will then see the fault is his.

I am afraid my letter is now so long, but would you please answer me one question? What will clean a window-blind, white on one side, green on the other? MOTHER ROBIN.

Ans.—For the white side of the blind try rubbing with a bit of stiff dough. It is a fine cleaner for soiled blinds.

Am very glad that you ventured in, and brought your cough remedies, too.

Return His Gifts.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here is another newcomer. I do feel sorry for "Broken-Hearted Girl." I am twenty years old. I have been keeping company with a young man for about three years. About three months ago he stopped coming, but never gave any reason whatever for doing so. I feel very lonesome now, as I always thought a lot of him, and he seemed to think a lot of me. We always bid one another the time of day yet when we meet. Do you think I should return him the jewelry he gave me? They call me an old maid now, but I think Mr. Right will come yet, don't you? I have a dear and only brother at the front just now, but have no sisters at all. Do you think I should try to make up with this young man again or let him go?

2. Could you tell me what will take fly specks off a piano?

Lastly, may I call again?

AERIAL.

Ans.—After a friendship of three years it seems to me you are justified in seeking an explanation of the young man's sudden coolness. Why not write him a note saying that you feel entitled to an explanation; that in the meantime you feel you should not retain his gifts, and are returning them to him. If he does not reply—make no further effort to regain his friendship—and forget him.

2. To rub with a very soft cloth wrung out of soapy warm water, is efficacious in most cases; then polish with dry cloths, or an old silk handkerchief.

3. Certainly; should like to hear what response you receive from him.

Got Her Picture.

"Honey."—1. Address him, giving his company number, care 135th Battalion, C. E. F., London. 2. Write to him and ask for your picture again; say that you prefer for him not to retain it; if he does not answer, best to ignore the matter entirely, and cease all communication. 3. Your writing is not difficult to read, but it is irregular in formation. 4. Once in a while letters come bearing your postmark. 5. Yes, "Honey," the Mail-Box is wide open to all.

Gets No Allowance.

Dear Miss Grey,—When I saw "Lonely Soldier's Sister's" letter, it gave me a little nerve to peep into your cosy corner to let you know about my case. My husband left Quebec with the 33rd Battalion three months ago. Before he went he signed over his half-pay to me. Now, Miss Grey, I have never got one copper of that money, so I thought I would write to headquarters in Ottawa, and I did do that more than six weeks ago, and I got no answer. I have got one little baby 2 years old, and his old mother to keep, so if there is more like me I feel good and sorry for them.

ANOTHER SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Ans.—They are so busy at Ottawa, it may just be that you will have had a reply all right before you see this in print. I sincerely hope so, and that you may receive the allowance you are most certainly entitled to. I believe you should also be receiving a grant from the Patriotic Association. Apply at the offices, Richmond street, over the Huron and Erie offices. Let m know how you succeed, for it is not right if you do not receive the Government allowance, anyway.

Will Help, Too.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come again. I think "Pet's" idea is splendid about knitting socks for the soldiers. May I help also? I have a pair nearly finished, and could send them to anyone who needed them.

Now for a question: How long has the 18th Battalion been at the front?

F. E. S.

Ans.—Of course you may help with the socks. I'll send you one of the addresses received from "Twenty-One," if you wish. The 18th Battalion left London on the 16th of April, 1915; believe it was sent to the firing line sometime last November. Can anyone tell us definitely?

Rhubarb and Recitations.

Dear Miss Grey,—Saw where "Young Reader" asked for a recipe for rhubarb wine, and where "Teirrah Tenrub" asked for the piece entitled "The Midnight Express." I did not have "The Baggage Coach Ahead," but sent what I had. Could you print the song "Bonny Bunch of Roses," which one of your kind readers offered. The everlasting question. What do you think of my writing? If anyone would like parsnip wine recipe, I will send it in. I will sign myself as before. Love to all the readers.

ONE OF THE FINGER FAMILY.

Ans.—Your "fingers" seem to be very helpful indeed. The recipe is printed in the Cook Book; the poem has been forwarded; your writing is very clear and readable, and if the rose piece is sent in I shall try and print it.

Seized the Worm.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read where "Faded Lily" wanted some tobacco flags and offered in exchange to make a switch for the giver. So I have several flags, also would send a sample or two of crochet for towels, stand covers or window curtains, if she would also wish them in exchange. So if you would please send me or get for me "Faded Lily's" address and consent, I would mail flags to her along with hair combings.

Hoping I am not too late a bird for the worm, I will sign myself,

HAPPY GO LUCKY.

Ans.—The worm—or in other words, "Faded Lily's" offer—is in a fair way to be gobbled up by you alone. So far no one else has applied. "Faded Lily," please send address, as I'm not sure I have it correct.

Ask Us to Breakfast.

Dear Miss Grey,—I thank "Instructor" and "Mull Light" for the chicken pattern. Did "Brown Eyes" get the pattern of crochet border and collar? If not, if she would send me her address, I think I can help her.

Here is a recipe for coffee cake that is very much liked with coffee at breakfast: When making bread and putting it in the pans, save out a loaf; work in a large tablespoon of butter and sugar, mix good, set to rise; when bread is put in oven, roll out one inch thick, put in pans, let rise; when ready for oven, mix sweet cream, sugar and cinnamon; spread on top, sprinkle more sugar if liked on top; bake half hour.

HELPFUL.

Ans.—One's mouth waters just to read of that coffee cake. Ask us over to breakfast some day, will you, "Helpful"? Do you want to send me your address "Brown Eyes," so I may forward it?

A Flag Cushion.

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed in reading your valuable page that "A Gentle Sea Breeze" offers cigarette flags of animal series. Would like very much to get them, as I have not been able to secure any for some time.

Also could you tell me about how many flags it will take to make a cushion of oblong or square shape of moderate size? Are the flags put together with themselves, or by some other goods?

What day did August 16, 1906, come on, and also March 9, 1898?

I noticed where "A Gentle Sea Breeze" likes country girls. Perhaps she and I would make good pals, as I am a country lass.

Last, but not least, what do you think of my writing?

Am sending in address for flags, and also stamped envelope.

MINERVA.

Ans.—"Gentle Sea Breeze" is a man—my learned friend—and writes us all the way from Halifax. Your envelope awaits the flags I'm sure he'll send.

For a square cushion, eight flags each way makes a nice size; for an oblong pillow, ten one way and five the other are sufficient. The flags may be basted down to a cotton foundation, the edges of each turned under and feather-stitched, or use a narrow satin ribbon in some dainty shade, and stitch the edges down with this on the sewing machine. The back of the cushion may be of silk, satin or sateen, as preferred.

2. Thursday, Wednesday.

You write very well, "Minerva."

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

A STYLE WITH NEWEST LINES.

Waist 1603—Skirt 160—Comprising ladies' waist pattern, 1603, and Ladies' skirt pattern 1602.

Peacock blue serge, with red and gold embroidery would be nice for this. The waist is full at the shoulders beneath yoke sections of the back. A smart revers collar and tiny vest completes a charming effect. The skirt is novel and chic in its draped effect. Fawn color and blue gabardine could be combined for this model. Pompadour taffeta with matched satin facings is also nice. The sleeve in wrist length is close-fitting below the elbow. In short length it has a neat turnback cuff.

The waist pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. The skirt in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. To make the dress will require 5⅞ yards of 44-inch material for a 36-inch size. Linen, voile, crepe, satin, broadcloth and gingham are good for this style. The skirt measures about 3 1-3 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

Caution: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure you need only mark 32, 34 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 25, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from date of application.

FOODS WHICH HEAT THE BLOOD

The office of starch in food is to produce body heat. It cannot possibly be built into organs or tissues. White cereals, refined cereals are mostly starch. The makers of these are usually innocent of any intent to ruin good food. They simply aim to make foods look nice. They do not know that both richness of flavor and nutrition as well as the much-needed saline matters reside only in the dark parts of grains, and that with these refined away their foods are worthless. Dr. Jackson's Roman Meal is made after a formula worked out in the clinics of one of the largest hospitals on this continent. It's a perfect food; it nourishes better than meat, prevents indigestion and relieves constipation. It is a non-starchy, richly-flavored, nut-brown—an ideal, cooling, summer food. At grocers', 10 cents and 25 cents.

BAGGAGE COACH AHEAD.

[By Special Request.]

On a dark, stormy night, as the train rattled on,
All the passengers had gone to bed,
Except one young man, with a babe in his arms,
Who sat there with a bowed-down head.
The innocent one began crying just then,
As though its poor heart would break.
An angry man said, "Make that child stop its noise,
For it's keeping all of us awake."

"Put it out," said another. "Don't keep it in here;
We've paid for our berths, and want rest."
But never a word said the man with the child,
As he fondled it close to his breast.
"Where is its mother? Go take it to her,"
This a lady then softly said.
"I wish that I could," was the man's sad reply,
"But she's dead in the coach ahead."

Chorus.

White the train rolled onward a husband sat in tears,
Thinking of the happiness of just a few short years,
For baby's face brings pictures of a cherished hope that's dead,
But baby's cries can't wake her in the baggage coach ahead.

Every eye filled with tears as his story he told,
Of a wife who was faithful and true;
Of how he had saved all his earnings for years,
Just to build up a home for two.
How when heaven had sent them this sweet little babe
Their young, happy lives were bles'd.
His heart seemed to break when he mentioned her name,
And in tears tried to tell them the rest.

Every woman arose to assist with the child—
There were mothers and wives on that train—
And soon was the little one sleeping in peace,
With no thought of sorrow or pain.
Next morn at a station he bade all good-bye,
"God bless you," he kindly said.
Each one had a story to tell in their homes
Of the baggage coach ahead.

LONDON ADVERTISER COOK-BOOK

Recipes Supplied By Cynthia Grey's Readers.

RHUBARB WINE.

One of the Finger Family.

21 lbs. of rhubarb to 2 gallons of water. Pour the water over the rhubarb boiling. Leave it for a fortnight then strain and put in jar; add 4 lbs. of sugar to each gallon; let it work in the jar for a time, then put into bottles and tie over with brown paper.

A New One.

Take two large bunches rhubarb, cut in one-half inch pieces, put in crock or wooden pail, cover with boiling water; let stand for three days, strain, add 1 oz. ginger, 3 lbs. white sugar, let work 3 weeks; when done working bottle, keep in cool place; ready in 4 months.

In the Dust.

Chocolate Cake.—Half cup grated chocolate, half cup hot water, half cup cold water, let the hot water stand with the chocolate a few minutes, then put in the cold water; add two cups brown sugar, half cup butter, two eggs, vanilla, teaspoon soda, and two cups flour (more if needed). Put the sugar, eggs and butter in dish first then the other in after. Make two layers. Use a date filling; here it is: Half pound dates put on stove with a little water, cook until well done, add not quite a half cup white sugar. When taken off the stove, put in the white of an egg well beaten and five cents' worth of walnuts. But don't put in white of egg until the dates are cool. I hope some of the readers try this cake.

I. O. D. E. ENTERTAINS DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Miss Constance Boulton and Lieutenant-Governor Guests at Tea.

At the Lord Roberts tea house Saturday afternoon, the members of the Lord Roberts Chapter, I. O. D. E., and the executive of the Muncipal Chapter, to whom a special invitation was extended, met at the tea hour Miss Constance Boulton of Toronto and also His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Brett of Alberta, and Dr. and Mrs. Braithwaite of Edmonton, who accompanied their hostess, Mrs. Thomas Mortimer.

Col. Shannon, district commanding officer, came in with the distinguished visitors, whom he had been conducting over the camp.

Delivering a short address, Lieutenant-Governor Brett expressed his pleasure at being afforded the opportunity of meeting representatives of the Imperial Order, I. O. D. E., which is doing such a splendid work throughout Canada. He referred especially to the patriotic work being done by the order in his own province, "Sunny Alberta," and the fact that the capital, Edmonton, has no less than 24 active chapters.

Miss Boulton also made a speech, declaring she felt it an honor and a privilege to belong to the order which unites the women of Canada from coast to coast in a chain of imperial activity.

Sometimes a Success—
Sometimes a Failure.

Pupils of equally good ability should always make an equally great success with their musical study. The fact is, however, that they do not. The reason is that many students fall into the hands of incompetent teachers. The only sure way is to study at an institution such as the L. C. M., where teachers must be competent in every respect.

WHY YOU SHOULD USE "M. S. C. SHAMPOO."

It maintains healthy hair, and corrects unnatural scalp conditions.

It assists nature in restoring normal, healthy conditions by stimulating and renewing the hair-growing process. Healthy hair needs attention, and any disorder of the scalp or falling hair will grow worse by neglect.

M. S. C. Shampoo contains pure Cocoanut Oil and other hair health ingredients, which by constant use will keep the scalp and hair in perfect condition. Buy a bottle from your dealer, and follow directions carefully, and you, like thousands of others, will be convinced of our claims. PRICE 50 CENTS.

CANADIAN HORSES WIN THREE RACES AT CLEVELAND

Nat Ray Brings Two of His String Home in Front.

BY H. J. F.

Nat Ray is getting the Canadians in front with his string of trotters and pacers, and in his first start of the season teams Chilicoot and Dayspring home in front. Chilicoot won the 2.27 trot in four heats, the best time being 2.14 1-4. Dayspring took the 2.23 pace right off the reel, his best time being 2.14 -14. Both these nags were bearcats on the ice last winter, and were booked to show something on the twice arounds.

The Beaver, Mac Rochon's Winnipeg pacer, took the 2.10 pace after a strenuous six-heat struggle. This bird is in the Chamber of Commerce stake at Detroit, and is being given his preliminary work. The fastest heat was in 2.10 1-4, some going at this time of the year. Nat Ray was in the money with Tredel, getting fourth place.

Great things are expected of Spriggen, Rod MacKenzie's trotter, that Charley DeRyder is teaming.

The Canadians expect to cut a few melons at Munro this week. Some of the horses hereabouts have been showing speed and are ready.

The Toronto contingent is said to have done a nice bit of cleaning at the Cranwood ring, being down on Nat Ray's winners, and the Beaver, hook, line and sinker.

HARRIERS HOLD FIRST MEET OF SEASON

George Pelton Wins 100-Yard Handicap at Queen's Park.

The Harriers met for the first time this year at Queen's Park last night, and before a good-sized crowd pulled off three handicap events.

G. Pelton, 4 yards' handicap, won the 100-yard dash. The running broad jump was captured by J. Ferguson (4½ feet handicap) with a jump of 19 feet 5 inches. The 660-yard run went to J. Scott, a scratchman, who covered the distance in 1:38.

These meets will be held at Queen's every Monday night. Next week the three events will be 220-yard low hurdles, running high jump, and the 1-mile run.

Last night's results were:

100-Yard Dash.

G. Pelton, 4-yard handicap, 1; H. Hughes, 6 yards, 2; H. Corbett, 10 yards, 3; P. Thomas, 8 yards, 4; J. Ferguson, 10 yards, 5.

Running Broad Jump.

J. Ferguson, 4½ feet handicap, 1; A. Gillies, 3 feet, 2; A. Weir, 5 feet, 3; P. Thomas and C. Kline, tie, each 3 feet, 4.

660-Yard Run.

J. Scott, scratch, 1; J. Marshall, 10-yard handicap, 2; G. Pelton, 15 yards, 3; H. Hughes, 20 yards, 4; M. Ginsberg, 25 yards, 5.

LEONARD OUTPOINTS DUNDEE.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 13.—Benny Leonard of New York outpointed Johnny Dundee, also of this city, in a ten-round contest here last night. Leonard weighed 136 and Dundee 127 pounds.

Leonard is matched to meet Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, here on Friday night. The bout is expected to be postponed, however, as Welsh is reported to be in no condition to face a dangerous opponent.

HEAMAN'S RINK WINS AT THE THISTLE CLUB

Ten Rinks Entered In Monday Night Tournament.

A. M. Heaman skipped the winning rink at the Thistle Club last night, coming out with a score of plus 12. C. B. Laur's rink made the second highest score, having plus 8 to its credit.

Ten rinks were entered in the tournament, and two 12-end games were played. In the first twelve ends, C. E. Laur, C. K. Bluett and N. H. Keene's rink each came out with plus 6, but in the second series Keene's rink fell before F. G. Browne's, and Bluett was tied with Douglas.

In the first event Heaman was defeated by Keen, 13 to 7, but in the second he was eighteen up by defeating A. E. Barbour's rink, 22 to 4.

By defeating the Street Railway yesterday afternoon the C. P. R. took the lead in the Public Service League, and sent the Street Railway to the bottom end of the procession.

As the score, 16 to 7, would indicate, it was a lovely little slugfest. The C. P. R. had four home runs, two triples, two doubles and four singles to their credit, and just to make good and sure that there would be no mistake about them winning, the Street Railway boys handed them seven errors.

Wiley did the flinging for the C. P. R., and held the Street Railway boys to six hits, none of them being good for more than one base.

JABS AT ALL 'ROUND Sports.

George Schmidt, a Chicago semi-professional second basemen, has been signed by the Philadelphia Americans, and left with that team for Cleveland. Schmidt is a husky lad who had out-hit most of the players in the Chicago City League, which is considered one of the fastest organizations of that kind in the country.

"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity, the Giant's famous pitcher, declares that as a club owner he has lost $27,000 in Tacoma in the last three years.

Another old-timer has announced his retirement from baseball in the person of Danny Hoffman, formerly with the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics, and who has been playing with the Bridgeport team in the Eastern League this season. He is engaged in business in Bridgeport.

Yesterday was the closing day at the Louisville track.

The work of Bob Emslie is coming in for some advance criticism alleging that he can't see the plays on the bases, and guesses them wrong most of the time. Twenty years ago they made the same remarks, saying that his failing eyesight unfitted him for the duties of an umpire, and yet only a year ago an oculist told him he never saw such a sharp pair of eyes.

Miss Mollo Bjurstedt, the American Lawn Tennis Champion, won the challenge round of the Women's Lawn Tennis Tournament at Philadelphia yesterday, capturing the national singles title for the second consecutive year. She defeated Mrs. Edward Raymond of New York, 6-0 and 6-1.

Bud Sharpe, who for many years played in the International League with the Newark and Buffalo clubs under the management of George Stallings, died last week from tuberculosis. When Stallings went to Boston he secured Sharpe as first baseman, and when he was forced to give up baseball was made a scout of the Braves.

The race at Latonia opens on Wednesday.

Bill Zimmerman, the Dodger outfielder, has been purchased by the Hartford (Eastern League) team. Briggs has been released by Hartford.

Alexander held the Pirates to two singles until the ninth, when with two out, Johnson doubled and scored on Wagner's single.

The Philadelphia Americans will play an exhibition game with the Grand Rapids Central Leaguers Wednesday. The Highlanders were booked to play there, but they will play off Saturday's postponed game with Detroit.

The Wichita Club of the Western League has released Claude Rossman and William A. Stein to make room for First Baseman Morrow and Catcher Dave Griffith. Rossman was formerly first baseman for the Detroit Tigers.

MATINEE ON WEDNESDAY AT LONDON R. AND B. CLUB

Draw Will Be Made at 4 p.m. City Time.

The weekly matinee will be held Wednesday at the London Rowing and Bowling Club as usual.

Draw will be made at 4 o'clock, city time, and play will commence at 4:15. Two eight-end games will be played in the afternoon, then supper will be served on the lawn under the supervision of Jack Trebilcock, chairman of the grounds committee. (Don't forget the hot-dogs, Jack.) After supper two more eight-end games will be played.

C. BUSH SKIPS WINNING RINK AT LONDON CLUB

Charlie Bush's rink carried off the prizes at the Monday night tournament which was held at the London Rowing and Bowling Club which was held last night, with a score of 24.

Eight rinks were entered and the second high score was made by the rink skipped by J. Macpherson which had 22 points to its credit.

CUBS DEFEAT GIANTS FOR THE FIRST TIME

Wallop Anderson and Tesreau for Eighteen Hits.

PHILLIES DEFEAT PIRATES

Get Only Five Hits Off Mamant, But Make Every One Count.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Chicago batted Anderson and Tesreau for eighteen hits, totalling 26 bases here today, and defeated New York for the first time this season by a score of 8 to 2.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	8	18	2
New York	2	6	3

Packard and Archer, Fischer; Anderson, Tesreau and Rariden, Kocher.

EVERY HIT COUNTED.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Philadelphia secured only five hits off Mamaux in six innings today, but all of these figured in the scoring of runs and the home team defeated Pittsburg 2 to 1.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	1	4	3
Phila	2	5	0

Mamaux, Jacobs and Gibson; Alexander and Killifer.

GETZ'S FLY WINS.

BROOKLYN, June 12.—Brooklyn defeated St. Louis here today by a score of 3 to 1. Bescher's attempt in the 6th inning to catch Getz's long fly, which was curving across the left-field foul line, failed. Bescher was standing on fair ground as the ball grazed his finger tips, Getz getting a double and Johnston, who was on third, scoring the tying run. Hits by Cutshaw and O'Mara scored Getz. Meyers' second triple and Wheat's single added another run in the seventh.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	7	0
Brooklyn	3	12	1

Sallee and Gonzales; Cheney and Meyers.

ADVERTISER AND POLICE MEET THIS AFTERNOON

The City Police and The Advertiser will meet for the second time this afternoon in the Public Service League.

Manager Harry Archer has a new twirler, who will do the heaving for the newspaper boys. He refuses to divulge his name, but says he is not a dark horse by any means. In fact, he says he is more of a sorrel than a black in color. Bradshaw will likely go on the slab for the Police.

The game will be called at 3:30, city time, and will be played at Queen's Park.

CZERNOWITZ HAS FALLEN TO CZAR, SAYS RUSS RUMOR

Furious Counter-Attacks Have Only Temporary Effect.

LITTLE HELP FROM HUNS

Offensive Along the Northern Part of Line Only Teuton Aid.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

PETROGRAD, via London, June 12—9:15 p.m.—A rumor is in circulation here that the Russians have occupied Czernowitz, capital of the Austrian crown land of Bukowina. The rumor lacks official confirmation, but it has been given color by the capture of Dobronovtze, a commanding point ten miles to the northeast. The Russian line here extends to Okna. From both these points good roads lead direct to Czernowitz, and, according to military authorities, they are the only points in this direction capable of defence.

A telegram received from Bucharest, Rumania, says the Austrian army has evacuated Czernowitz and moved to a line four miles to the west.

Austrians Make Resistance.

The continued successes of the Russians recorded in today's official communication are the more surprising as the Austrians, after the first shock of the Russian advance, appeared to have rallied their forces and offered extremely stubborn resistance. This is indicated by the fact that they were able to mass sufficient forces in the vicinity of Kolki, north of Lutsk, to cause the Russians to retire across the Styr River.

Not only here but at other points on the Volhynian front, furious counter-attacks characterized the last twenty-four hours of fighting, but without being able to check, except momentarily, the force of the Russian advance.

Little German Help.

It is not believed here that the Germans are sending many troops to aid the Austrians. It is pointed out that only in one instance—during Russia's spectacular Carpathian campaign—did Germany send any large number of men to the relief of the Austrians. Instead, it has always been their practice to undertake an offensive on some other line in an endeavor to draw off the Russians. It is the opinion of observers here that it is not improbable the Germans are more likely to attempt an offensive on the northern section of the Russian front than to risk weakening their lines by detaching any number of men for the purpose of stiffening the Austrian defence.

CHECKING UP THE DELAY

LONDON, June 12.—Delays in the examination of mails, which are due to faults in administration, have been corrected, according to the British foreign office, which is working in conjunction with the French Government in the preparation of a reply to the American note on the subject.

The Washington Government has already received assurances that the faults in question have been corrected. At present mails taken to Kirkwall require from two to four days for examination and forwarding, while those taken to Falmouth go through the process of a shorter time.

LIKE A BOY AT 50 BUBBLING OVER WITH VITALITY—TAKING IRON DID IT

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders—Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous Folks 200 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 46 careworn and nearly all in. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only throw away patent medicines and nauseous concoctions, and take simple nuxated iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved, who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their diseases was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.—E. Sauer, M.D.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by the Standard Drug Company, Limited, and all other druggists.

CHURCH UNION TO BE ADOPTED BY WINNIPEG ASSEMBLY

Project Expected To Be Carried Today by Two to One.

DR. CLARK SUBMITS CASE

Former London Pastor Is Foremost in Support of Merger.

[Canadian Press.]

WINNIPEG, June 12.—Leaders in the Presbyterian General Assembly say that church union will be carried tomorrow by a two to one vote. Most conservative judges admit that the project will go through on a vote in the proportion of one hundred and fifty to one hundred. Universally the opinion prevails that the long struggle in the church is ended, and that the union so much discussed will be consummated in this city. The committee on church union reported this afternoon in the form of a series of resolutions. The most important resolution was:

"That this General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada do now resolve to unite with the Methodist Church of Canada; and the Congregational Church of Canada, to constitute the United Church of Canada, on the basis of the union, approved by the General Assembly of 1915, and by the majority of Presbyteries since consulted under the barrier act."

Provide for Procedure.

Other resolutions in the report provide for the procedure which is to be allowed in securing the necessary legislation, for the manner in which the work of the church is to be carried on while this legislation is being secured, and for special arrangements in Western Canada.

The debate on the issue will be continued tomorrow, and it is the expectation that it will be finished in the afternoon. It is possible that the assebmly may be willing to continue the discussion until Wednesday, but, in any case, the ultimate issue will be the same.

The speakers, in submitting the case for union, were Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark of Montreal, and Rev. Dr. M. A. McKinnon of Regina.

Dr. Clark's Argument.

Dr. Clark said with reference to the basis of the union, the Presbyterian Church in adopting it would lose little or nothing that it valued. He had been greatly surprised, he said, in the long negotiations of the past years, to find how readily the other churches yielded in the non-essentials, and he was able to say that the Presbyterians in the new organization would be able to continue everything that they valued.

He pictured what the adoption of the report would mean. It would constitute a welcome sign to the entire religious world, he said, and would be a message especially welcomed by the missionaries in foreign lands.

The Only Solution.

Rev. Dr. McKinnon of Regina, in seconding the motion, said that the proposed union constituted the only solution he knew to many of the moral, social and religious problems of the age He spoke at length of co-operation and said that such successes as co-operation had met with had been reached because it was believed that union would be finally consummated.

Rev. Dr. Ephraim Scott followed, presenting the report of the minority and had not finished when the hour of adjournment arrived.

Early in the afternoon invitations for the meeting next year were received from Montreal, Calgary and Windsor, Ont. Montreal was the choice of the assembly.

GERMAN ATTACKS EAST OF MEUSE THROUGHOUT DAY

Repeated Violent Assaults Made on French Positions.

BIG STRUGGLE COMING

Enemy Aims to Attempt to Break Second Lines East of Verdun.

PARIS, June 12.—Attack has followed attack all day with extreme violence against the French positions east of the Meuse River, but the enemy was stopped in every instance by the French fire, with very serious losses, according to the official statement issued tonight.

Around Thiaumont, Fort Vaux, Souville and Tavannes the bombardment continues heavy, portending a struggle for the French second defence lines. The fall of Fort Souville, which lies between Verdun and Fort Vaux, would compel the French to fall back upon their inner defences. This fort, however, occupies a commanding position, and will not be surrendered without exacting a heavy toll from the enemy.

Last night there was an infantry attack west of Fort Vaux, which failed entirely. Artillery action has continued since yesterday about Chattancourt on the west of the river.

Official Report.

The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"On the right bank of the Meuse, after powerful artillery preparation, the Germans directed all day successive attacks against our positions north of Thiaumont fortifications. Despite the importance of the effectiveness and the violence of the assaults, our curtain of fire and the fire of our infantry everywhere stopped the enemy, whose losses were very serious.

"The bombardment extended, besides, to the whole region west and south of Fort Vaux, and to our second lines in the South Souville-Tavannes sector.

"On the left bank an artillery action occurred in the region of Chattancourt, but no infantry action.

"The usual cannonading was carried out on the rest of the front."

Belgian communication: "There was slight activity on the Belgian front."

PETROGRAD, June 12.—Via London. —Russian troops yesterday approached the outskirts of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, the war office announced today.

The statement also says that Russian troops attacked the bridgehead at Zaleszczyky.

The number of Austrians captured by the Russians in the new offensive movement has been increased to more than 114,000. In many sectors of the front, the statement says, the Russians are still pursuing defeated Austrians.

The statement follows:

"Owing to storms in South Russia and consequent temporary rupture of telegraph communication, reports are relayed, and news of our armies is restricted. Nevertheless, it is confirmed that Gen. Brussiloff's offensive continued yesterday.

"In numerous sectors of the front we are still pursuing the defeated army, and in some places we attacked them hotly. They counter-attacked with desperation. The total of our prisoners now amounts to 1,700 officers and 113,000 men."

Take Many Germans.

The following details of the fighting have been received:

"In the course of the engagement near Rojitche (on the Styr near Lutsk), mentioned yesterday, one of our recently-formed elements captured 18 officers and 1,185 German soldiers, and 26 officers and 742 Austrian soldiers, as compared with the round figure of 2,000 given yesterday.

"South of Lutsk, on the Ikwa front, the enemy beat a hasty retreat. We are pressing closely on his heels.

"In Galicia, in the region of the villages of Gliadki and Verobievka, north of Tarnopol, the enemy attacked repeatedly and furiously, but was repulsed on the morning of the 11th. In this action our artillery distinguished itself by sustained gusts of fire, with which it met all the enemy's attacks.

Give Ground a Little.

"In the region of Bobulintze, to the north of Buczacz, the Austrians, assisted by German forces brought to this region, desperately opposed us with a series of counter-attacks, to which our troops replied by further attacks, but were forced to give ground a little at this point. The fighting continues with ever-increasing desperation.

"In the region south of the Dniester our troops were yesterday already near the Zalesczyky bridgehead, fighting for the suburbs of Czernowitz, where the heavy explosions were observed. The enemy blew up a bridge near the village of Mahaly east of Czernowitz.

"The total number of prisoners made by Gen. Lechitzky is 20,000 all belonging to Hungarian infantry and cavalry.

Germans Take Offensive.

"On the right wing of the Riga fortress, the Germans opened an offensive north of the Tirul Marsh and were repulsed, after which our troops made a fresh advance.

"On the whole front of the Jacobstadt positions on the morning of the 11th the Germans opened a sudden violent artillery and rifle fire. Enemy columns then began to advance at some places, but everywhere were driven back to their trenches by our fire.

"On the night of the 11th, strong German forces, after artillery preparation, took the offensive south of Drisviaty but in the face of our continued fire were obliged to retire.

"In the region south of Krevo the enemy on the night of the 11th opened a violent artillery fire, and then took the offensive with considerable force. South of the village of Kotchany, but under our artillery fire and hail of hand grenades, were compelled to evacuate the greater part of the wood.

"On the banks of the Jasiolda River we repulsed an enemy offensive.

"Caucasus front—The situation is unchanged."

ITCHING ECZEMA FOR 8 MONTHS

Healed by Cuticura Trial Free

"For eight months I was suffering from eczema. The trouble began by pimples on the face and hands. The pimples were in blotches and they were so itching that I could not sleep at all.

"I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and wrote for a sample. I used three large boxes of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Soap and I was healed." (Signed) Henri Lemay, 246 Craig St., East, Montreal, Quebec, Jan. 17, 1916.

Sample Each Free by Mail

With 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. J, Boston, U.S.A." Sold throughout the world.

DUNLOP AUTOMOBILE TIRES

"I was the first to make an auto tire—or any type of tire—in Canada. That's why I speak positively on the tire subject. I have always maintained that you get the same quality in a tire that you get in the maker of that tire—High Sense of Values: High Record of Results. Also, to my way of thinking, Tire-Mileage is nothing else than the ability to deliver. Notice that 'Dunlop' and 'Deliver' commence with the same letter.

"Dunlop 'Traction' and Dunlop 'Special'—and the rest of the Dunlop Tire Family—have been O.K.'d by me—the Quality Censor." —Handy Andy.

The Racking Pains of Sciatic Rheumatism

Were Well-nigh Unbearable—After Five Years of Suffering Cure Was Effected by Dr. Chase's Medicines.

For downright excruciating pain few ailments can be compared to sciatic rheumatism. Since this condition of the sciatic nerve denotes exhaustion of the nervous system, the logical cure is found in the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to nourish the starved nerves back to health and vigor.

Reports are continually coming in to us regarding the splendid results obtained in the treatment of sciatic rheumatism by using Dr Chase's Nerve Food after each meal and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills occasionally as a means of arousing the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels and thereby keeping the system freed of pain causing poisonous impurities.

Mr. W. J. Talbot, Edenwold, Sask., writes: "It is a great pleasure for me to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food as a cure for Sciatic Rheumatism. The pain I have suffered has been well-nigh unbearable. It would start in the hips and run down the legs to the toes, gradually getting worse. The nerves contract until one is practically useless. My doctor tried many different treatments, but could only afford relief for a time.

"For about five years I was subject to this trouble with severe attacks which would last about two months. The last attack I had was shortened to two weeks by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. This treatment was continued until I was satisfied that the cure was lasting."

This statement is indorsed by Mr. H. E. Wooley, J. P.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six for $2.50. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ONE HUNDRED PRESENT AT CLERICAL BREAKFAST

Rev. H. A. Wright of Amherstburg Chosen President—Address on Bishop Cranmer.

Attendance was unusually large today at the annual clerical breakfast, a function held each year at the time of the meeting of the synod of the Diocese of Huron. Over one hundred sat down this morning in the dining-room at Smallman & Ingram's.

Rev. Mr. Doherty, president, was obliged to withdraw early owing to other duties, and Archdeacon Richardson was appointed chairman. An able paper on Thomas Cranmer, Archbishop of Canterbury, was read by Rev. Canon Gunne of Christ Church, this city, Rev. J. A. Robinson, Clinton; Rev. Mr. Anderson, Harris, and Rev. F. C. Ryott, Kirkton, and others taking part in the discussion which followed.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Rev. H. A. Wright, Amherstburg; secretary-treasurer, Rev. C. W. Saunders, Brantford; committee, Rev. C. H. P. Owen, Glencoe; Rev. H. C. Light, Brantford, and Rev. J. A. Robinson, Clinton.

HEALTH BOARD MEETS

Action on Provincial Report Likely To Be Deferred.

The board of health will meet this afternoon, but there is little other than routine business to be disposed of. The reports will show that the citizens are connecting outdoor closets with the sewers. The report of the provincial board of health on sewage conditions will be presented, but it is probable that action will be deferred pending a conference with the board of works, and the board of control.

LONDON ACTRESS GAINS PRAISE FOR HER WORK

City Proud of Cora Tracy, Who Is Winning Success.

Toronto claims her Margaret Anglin, Hamilton her Julia Arthur and London may be justly proud of Cora Tracy, who was seen here recently as Alan-a-Dale in a recent revival of "Robin Hood." Miss Tracy made her return to the stage two years ago and since that time has been featured in all the criticism appearing of the opera.

Further than this, Miss Tracy has a loyal following of London admirers in other cities, and recently in Winnipeg the appearance of the opera was marked by the presence of a party of those who believe she will win her way to a great place as the possessor of a contralto of unusual power and a personality that is unusually attractive.

Miss Tracy was greeted by many of her old friends in London, and they are loud in their praise of her and certain that she will achieve a greater success than ever before.

SUPPOSED GERMAN SPY TURNS OUT A RUSSIAN

Chris Kraus May Be Released Through Efforts of Chatham Lawyer.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 12.—Chris Kraus, who was arrested in Chatham on Victoria Day on suspicion of being a German spy, and who was last week taken to an internment camp, may be released through the efforts of his counsel, R. L. Brackin.

Mr. Brackin received a letter from the chief of police of Cheboygan, Wis., where Kraus formerly lived, stating that the interned man is not a German, but a native of Russia. The birth certificate of Kraus, which had been left behind him when he came to Canada, was inclosed. It showed that he is a native of Reinwald, Russia.

When Kraus was arrested he persisted that he was a Russian, although he spoke the German language.

DIES SOON AFTER BROTHER.

CHATHAM, June 12.—Susan Mary Pike died at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday, just a week after death had claimed her brother, James A. Pike, a prominent Raleigh Township farmer. Miss Pike was 71 years of age. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of a nephew, J. M. Pike, K.C. It will be private.

FOG IS SO DENSE VESSELS ARE FORCED TO HALT FOR HOURS

Sirens Keep Residents of Sarnia Awake.

DIVER LOOKS AT PRICE

Examination Is Made Preparatory to Beginning Work of Raising Craft.

London Advertiser Branch Office, Sarnia. Charles A. Bird, Manager. Office in the Yard Building, 217 1-2 Christina street. Phone, days, 300A; Nights, 641A. Office hours, 9 to 12, 1:30 to 6 p.m. All subscriptions from this district must be paid at this office when due.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 12.—A dense fog has rested over the lower portion of Lake Huron for two days, and navigation as a result has been practically at a standstill, with the exception of the few boats that are proceeding under check and are gradually finding their way into the river.

At one time during last night the fog became so dense in the city and on the river, that one could only see a few feet ahead. The boats at this time were forced to come to a dead stop and anchor in the river, while the fog warnings of their whistles kept many a resident awake. The fog at this time lasted three hours or more, and not a boat passed this port in that time, while as a rule from 20 to 30 go by every hour.

Today the fog has left the river but reports from the lake shore state that the weather out there is still hazy, and the boats are running under check.

Detroiters In Haze.

The big steamer City of Detroit III is on her way down the lake with the Detroit Board of Commerce on board, and is expected to reach here at any time provided the weather remains somewhat clear. The boat is in touch with the Point Edward wireless station, and is reported to be making fair progress.

DIVER EXAMINES PRICE.

SARNIA, June 12.—The tug Favorite of the Great Lakes Towing Company left Port Huron this morning to make another trip to the overturned steamer Charles S. Price. The wreckers have a diving outfit with them, and the diver will be sent down to make some sort of a plan of the position of the sunken boat so that the wrecking experts will have something to work on in deciding how the big 500-footer is to be raised and turned over.

It is conceded by wrecking masters and marine men in general that the Great Lakes Towing Company has the biggest job on its hands in this task that it has ever tackled. The tug Favorite is the most powerful and best equipped tug on the lakes, being provided with a complete machine shop, and every facility for carrying on work right at the scene of the wreck. The Favorite is the tug which gave such valuable help to the wreckers when the overturned steamer Eastland was being righted in the Chicago River a few months ago.

TO SELECT WATER SCHEME.

SARNIA, June 12.—A meeting of the fire and water committee of the Sarnia City Council will be held in the council chamber of the city hall Tuesday evening when the committee will go into the matter of picking out "the solution" to the problem presented by the new waterworks of the city at Point Edward, which is complete with the exception of a good supply of water.

Four schemes have been presented to the council by the engineers, who were hired to make a report on the waterworks, and these four schemes have been presented to the council by the engineers, who were hired to make a report on the waterworks, and these four schemes have been referred to the fire and water committee to be sized up. When the committee, which is headed by Chairman MacAdams, has come to some decision, the report will be presented to the council for final approval.

FLOCK TO RESORTS.

SARNIA, June 12.—The grand rush to the summer resorts of Lake Huron and the St. Clair River has at last started and the summer houses and camp grounds are again alive.

The cold, damp weather of the spring was anything but enticing for the summer people, but the warmer weather of the past few days and the surmise that the weather will not be so watery in the future has had its effect.

Hundreds of people from the larger cities of Western Ontario and from many points in the State of Michigan or even farther afield have signified their intention of spending the summer at one of the various resorts on the St. Clair River or on the beaches of Lake Huron and the citizens of Sarnia are glad to see them arriving

As soon as the schools and colleges close in a week or so there will be a general exodus of the people of the city to the resort where many of them have erected summer homes. The resort season here and on the American side promises to be a good one.

LIGHT PETITIONS NOT IN.

SARNIA, June 12.—All the petitions that were circulated about the downtown section of the city in regards to the ornamental lighting have not as yet been returned to the city clerk so it cannot be learned whether enough names of the property owners have been secured or not.

If the proper number of names has not been secured the committee in charge of the work will make another campaign and round up enough ratepayers on these streets to carry the petition. The street lighting system for this section of the city is calculated to be a blaze of light and will be one of the best advertisements of the city.

PRESENT WEATHER RESTORING HOPES OF MANY FARMERS

Corn Will Be Big Crop This Year.

WERE PREPARED FOR IT

Scarcity of Labor Turned the Farmers to Stock Raising and Ensilage.

Two days of rainless June weather seems to be somewhat unusual in view of the prevailing weather conditions that have been the lot of this city and district for the past two months and a half. However, it has been sufficient to restore the confidence of many of the farmers of the district, and despite the fact that hundreds have yet to put their first seeds in this year, the pessimism of the past month and more is being dissipated.

Agricultural experts point to the fact that there is still sufficient time to plant corn and buckwheat and other crops of that nature. For the corn crop it is said that the scarcity of labor, that has turned so many farmers from grain-growing to stock raising, will work out with little or any hindrance.

War time conditions and the scarcity of farm laborers, due to the enlistments of Canadian battalions, caused many farmers to turn to stock-raising this spring. Those who did are now congratulating themselves on their choice. The fact that grain cannot be planted with any degree of certainty, so far as harvesting it properly is concerned, made corn the big thing in the crop line for these stock-raisers. Weather conditions have, so to speak, aided and abetted them in this regard. Corn will be one of the few crops that can still be planted, and the demand for ensilage for winter feeding will be adequately met.

Throughout the London and Western Ontario district many farmers have taken advantage of the rainy season to proceed with the construction of silos to house their corn crops this winter. Ensilage has been growing in favor year by year, and from every indication the corn acreage this year will be the largest in the history of Middlesex.

TESTING OUT OF COWS PAYS FACTORY PATRONS

Dominion Agricultural Circular Gives Concrete Examples of Advantages.

In connection with its publicity campaign, designed to improve farming conditions throughout the Dominion, the dairy division of the Federal Department of Agriculture has issued a circular on "calculating cows." This circular, appearing below in full, should prove of interest to Western Ontario readers because of the tremendous dairying field in this peninsula. It says:

In virtually any dairy district, probably among the herds supplying one factory, it is possible to find contrasts running something like this: one herd of 14 cows gives on the average 7,732 pounds milk and 248 pounds fat, while a neighbor's herd of 14 cows averages only 4,037 pounds milk and 155 pounds fat. Indeed, in looking over the records in eleven districts the average difference between the high herd averages and the low ones amounted to 4,639 pounds milk and 140 pounds fat per cow. This is certainly an extraordinary difference, and indicates that it will pay to calculate what cows can do

Take it another way: In 1914, sixty patrons of two creameries began this cow calculation, cow testing. It was found in 1915 that their herds had made a gain over their 1913 record of 71 pounds of fat per cow, a gain of 8 per cent. But on the other hand the 1915 patrons of the same two creameries who did not go in for cold calculations fell off 87 pounds of fat per cow, 17 per cent.

If the men not cow-testing had made gains with their cows in the two years as those made who were testing, it would have meant an increase in the output of 58,362 pounds of butter.

It pays to test. Record forms are furnished free of charge on application to the Dairy Division, Ottawa.

STRATHROY SOLDIER HAS FOOT AMPUTATED

Stumbled While Crossing G. T. R. Tracks at Egerton Street.

Pte. Fred Dawson of the 135th Battalion, whose home is in Strathroy, had his left foot cut off by a G. T. R. freight train at the Egerton street crossing. Dawson, in trying to get across the tracks, stumbled over a rail and fell, and before he could recover himself the wheels had gone over his foot and crushed it so badly that it had to be amputated. He was rushed to the hospital in the city ambulance.

METHODIST W. M. S. TO MEET.

SARNIA, June 12.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Central Methodist Church will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Reports will be presented from the London conference and the St. Thomas convention of the W. M. S. All members of the society are requested to be present.

WAR AND ART.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 13.—The war probably will lead to the further transfer of Europe's art treasures to the United States, in the opinion of Professor Wilhelm von Bode, general director of the Royal Museums at Berlin. Professor von Bode gives several reasons: that the war is making a great increase in the wealth of many Americans; and that the breaking up of several of the great private collections in America, including that of the late J. P. Morgan, and the acquisition of many of their choicest pictures by public art museums, will tend strongly to develop the demand for good art works. Professor Bode declares that in this way the public collections of New York, Boston, Washington, and Chicago, together with dozens of cities not yet identified with art in an international sense, will become fully equal to those of European cities.

This fresh demand for art works in the United States, Professor Bode says, will strike Europe at a time when people on this side will be forced to sell in order to get money to pay their debts. Many fine old pictures now owned by private collectors in Europe, and particularly in England, will in this way find their way across the Atlantic, he thinks.

ITS HEROIC SIDE REVEALED BY WAR, SAYS DR. RENISON

Christianity Proven as Never Before.

HURON SYNOD STARTS

Address by Hamilton Rector Feature of Opening Session Today.

The 59th session of the synod of the Diocese of Huron was opened this morning at 10:30 o'clock, standard time, at St. Paul's Cathedral, with the celebration of holy communion and a sermon by Rev. Dr. Renison, rector of the Church of the Ascension, Hamilton.

The congregation of clergymen and lay delegates was augmented by a number who joined them for the impressive service conducted by his lordship the bishop. Several clerical dignitaries of the diocese took part, including the Venerable Archdeacon Hill, Very Rev. Dean Davis, Rev. Canon Craig of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Rev. Canon G. B. Sage, St. George's Church, West London, and Rev. Canon Ardill, Owen Sound.

Message of World War.

The message of the world war to the nation and church was the theme of Dr. Renison's forceful sermon, in the course of which he voiced the idea that even as the Israelites of old were the chosen people of God, so might God have chosen the British race and empire to give freedom as a valuable possession to the sons of men.

Prominently among the things enumerated which have been learned from the war, he named the lesson that liberty is the greatest thing in the world, and coupled with this, that the missionary enterprises of the nineteenth century have been the best investment which the Anglo-Saxon world has made. The war has taught that Christianity is not a failure, but that the suffering world needs Christianity as never before.

Referring to the tendency of recent years to apologize for Christianity, to give it a place among the world's religions, "If Christianity is to be propogated after the war," said the preacher, "it must be taught as a divine, distinct religion proclaimed as a message of God Himself through Jesus."

Further, he emphasized that the war has brought about the revelationi that Christianity transcends the pacificist conception of religion and has revealed the heroic side of Christianity.

Regarding foreign missions, he called upon history for proof that the church or the nation which lives must be a missionary church or nation. In conclusion, a specific message was given to the church.

Let Ideals Be Realized.

Dr. Renison rejoiced in the splendid response made by members of the Anglican faith to the call of the Empire's need. But, he insisted, much remained to be done.

"See to it that the ideals of patriotism of the church are realized," he urged, "and let us equip ourselves for sacrifice."

The business session of the synod will open at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with the charge to the synod from the bishop.

GALT'S CASUALTIES SWOLLEN BY FOUR

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, June 12.—Galtonians, as in all other previous engagements in which Canadians took part, figured in the recent battle at Sanctuary wood, and today in the casualties of that engagement, no less than three young men who went from here with Western Ontario battalions, being reported wounded.

Pte. Albert Victoria Bailley is reported as slightly wounded in the left arm and side, and he is a patient in No. 3 Hospital at Boulogne. Mrs. F. Bailley, Chalmers street, received official notice this morning.

Pte. James Pinnegar was admitted to hospital on June 4, with a gunshot wound in the knee. He is a son of Thomas Pinnegar, Cedar street, and a brother of Charles Pinnegar, a veteran of the 1st Battalion and returned soldier. Pte. James Pinnegar is 23 years of age and single.

Pte. Charlie Welch is only 19 years of age, and received a shrapnel wound in the face. He is in No. 13 Stationary Hospital at Boulogne. Pte. Welch is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Welch, 53 Bond street.

The family of Lieut. H. H. Bourne reported missing last week have received no further particulars.

Wm. Adams, who appears among the wounded in this morning's casualty list, is a former Galtonian, and a member of the 29th Regiment. He went to the front with a draft. He is 29 years of age, a machinist by trade, a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and had lived here several years.

TWO MORE CASUALTIES FOR WOODSTOCK LIST.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 12.—Word was received here of two more casualties in the ranks of the local soldiers serving at the front. Corp Fouracre, who is reported wounded, joined the first contingent that left Woodstock and has been in France for sixteen months. He was a member of the stretcher-bearers of his battalion, and has been through most of the big battles. Some of the returned soldiers tell of the grand work done by the wounded soldier. His work was very dangerous at all times, but they claim he never shirked his duties. He has no relatives here, but has a sister employed in London.

The second name to appear today is Pte. Gordon Haliburton, who, the official notification states, is in a Canadian Hospital suffering from Shrapnel wounds in the shoulder. The wounded soldier's mother and sister live here. He went to England last fall. He has been in France for some time, and was a dispatch rider.

the Earl of Rosebery were conspicuous in front rows.

The royalties present included Princess Henry of Battenburg, Princesses Louise, Victoria and Maud, and the Princess Royal; the Duchess of Argyll, Prince Arthur of Connaught, in khaki, and Grand Duke Michael of Russia, in a uniform of the Russian army. The American embassy was represented at the service by Ambassador Page and the attaches; J. Arthur Barram represented the Pilgrims.

Flags throughout London were flown at half-mast. The stock exchange suspended operations for an hour during the services, many business places also closing ...eir doors for that period.

TWO DIE OF PNEUMONIA, ANOTHER SERIOUSLY ILL

Children of Mr. Charles Little of Pall Mall Street Are Victims.

The funeral of Norman Charles Little, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, 317 Pall Mall street, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of John Ferguson's Sons to Woodland cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Canon Craig at 2 o'clock.

This is the second death in the Little family within two weeks. Only a few days ago the ittle fellow's sister, Marporie was taken ill and died. In both cases death was due to pneumonia. Another child is in Victoria Hospital with the same illness.

ALIGHTS FROM CAR; STRUCK BY JITNEY BUS

James O'Farrell of 757 King street received a severe shaking up last evening about 11 o'clock, when he was struck by a jitney operated by Swazey & Martin, while alighting from a street car at the corner of Dundas and English streets.

Martin, who was driving the car at the time, claims that he did not think that the street car was going to stop. O'Farrell can remember nothing of the accident, having been rendered unconscious by the force of the blow. He was carried into Dr. A. S. Duncan's office, where his wounds were dressed. Dr. W. J. Tillmann, who is attending him today, states that O'Farrell will be laid up for about a week.

CHURCHES WILL ADOPT DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

The churches of the city will adopt the new time. This was decided at a meeting of the Ministerial Alliance today, when the following resolution was passed: "This Ministerial Alliance recommends to the churches of the city the adoption of the new daylight-saving time. Further, we also recommend that the present hours of all church services be continued, but according to the new time."

The alliance is, through a committee, arranging for evangelistic services during the summer to be held in the open air. Efforts will be made to have prominent speakers and musicians at these services.

MORE FROM PERTH IN CASUALTY LIST

STRATFORD, June 12—This morning word came to Alfred Riley that his son, Pte. Donald Wilson Riley, was seriously ill at Boulogne with a gunsot wound in the abdomen and thigh. He was a telephone lineman.

Robert Findlay of this city, learned by wire from Toronto of the wounding in the leg of his brother, who joined a Toronto battalion.

The name of Pte. John Watt appears among the wounded today. Pte. Watt enlisted here. His wife recently returned to England. He was born in Scotland in 1890.

Another Perth man wounded is Pte. Wilson E. Murray of Prospect Hill, son of Mr. James Murray. He enlisted at London with one of the first battalions.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

There was practically no market today, only a few loads of hay being brought in. All prices were firm, and the demand for hay was only fair. There was a good flower market and sales were brisk. During the past few days hay has been plentiful, and the demand has been well filled. Dressed hogs are steady, and sales are brisk. Live hogs are firm at $10 per hundredweight.

Vegetables have a ready sale, particularly green stuff. The small summer berries are expected to be on the market within a few weeks.

Butter and eggs are scarce, and there is a brisk demand for them. Poultry is scarce. The poultry market is quiet, although the demand is strong.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, June 12.—All grains closed down in the Winnipeg market today, except December wheat. July wheat was down 1½c; October, 1⅝c; while December was unchanged. Oats were ¼c less for July and ½c down for October. Flax was 2½c down for July, and 2¼c lower for October.

While December was the strong month in all markets, the strength of Winnipeg December was outstanding. This was the result of the spreading operations. Chicago houses were buying our December option against sales in their market. The market, in the last part of the session, saw a continuation of Saturday's weakness, and most of the pit crowd were bearish, yet cautious. The decline was due to some longs, who held over Saturday becoming disgusted and unloading.

After a desultory opening trade became rather brisk on the sharp break. A good deal of spreading went on between Chicago and innipeg in the July months. Orders for December were fairly plentiful in the local market, but brokers reported it was a hard month to trade in.

Oats were slightly easier, in spite of a good demand in the cash market. Flax saw a further decline in sympathy with the American markets.

Cash quotations—heat—No. 1 northern, $1.09⅜; No. 2 northern, $1.08⅝; No. 3 northern, $1.04⅛; No. 4, 98⅞c; No. 5, 92⅜c; No. 6, 89⅜c; feed, 83⅜.

Oats—No. 2 C, 46⅜c; No. 3 C, 44⅞c; extra No. 1 feed, 44⅞c; No. 1 feed, 43⅞c; No. 2 feed, 42⅛c.

Barley—No. 3, 64c; No. 4, 61½c; rejected, 57c; feed, 57c.

Flax—No. 1 NWC, $1.57¼; No. 2 CW, $1.54¼.

Chicago, June 13.—Strength developed in the wheat market today after an early decline that resulted from lower quotations at Liverpool and from favorable weather for the domestic crop. Buying on the part of houses with seaboard connections was responsible for the rallying.

Opening prices, which ranged from ¼@⅝c lower, with July at $1 02½@1 02¾, and September at $1 04¼@1 04⅝, were followed by an upturn to well above yesterday's finish.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 13—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The market settled down to more normal conditions at today's opening, the excitement and breadth of yesterday's early operations being altogether lacking. Initial quotations were fractionally higher for the most part, although some issues, notably Texas Company, Long Island and Denver and Rio Grande, preferred, rose a point or more. Beet Sugar and Air Brake were again conspicuous among the specialties, the former advancing to the new record of 87¾. United States Steel, yesterday's leader, was barely steady, with pronounced heaviness in Mexican Petroleum.

NEW YORK COTTON

Prices Decline Ten Points, But Regain Half Their Loss.

[Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.]

New York, June 12.

Prices declined about 10 points but regained half the loss on buying by Liverpool, spot people and shorts. The big Russian successes had more or less effect.

Shorts fear there may be more peace talk, especially as regards Austria if the big Russian drives continue. There was no pressure to sell aside from some early liquidation, supposed to be for a prominent operator here. On the other hand the weather was good and buying as a rule was not aggressive.

Liverpool, however, took in some of its straddles, and spot houses also bought. The talk is that July notices are not likely to be much over 5,000 bales.

On the rally New Orleans bought January to some extent. Stocks of raw and manufactured cotton in Europe are small and a good deal of stress is laid on this fact. Many think that prices will not decline very much in such a state of affairs. The weather map was so good that some are already beginning to predict a favorable July report by the Government which will give a statement of acreage on July 1, but the crop is late.

It is trading market and some of the most convinced bulls do not favor buying except on breaks.

LONDON BAKERS ARE GIVING BETTER WEIGHT

License Inspector Reports Conditions Now Best in Some Time.

According to the report of License Inspector McCallum at the meeting of the fire and light committee last evening, the bakers of the city are, with one exception, giving better weight in bread than they have been for some time past.

Inspector McCallum reported that he had found that in 80 loaves of this baker's bread there was a shortage of 70 ounces. Ald. J. J. Dyer urged that some action other than seizing the bread be taken the next time this offender is caught.

No further action was taken in the garbage stables question. When first it was decided to build stables City Engineer H. A. Brazier reported that the cost would be about $6,500. It has now been discovered that sheds for the wagons will be extra, and the cost is now placed at $10,000.

The committee passed the bylaw requiring that all wagons and automobiles have wide tires. The narrow rims on many light carriages are responsible for much of the damage done to the roads. Tenders for whitewashing the basement of the market house will be called for at once. It was decided that no license will be required from the tea-house of the Lord Roberts Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire.

SIX HUNDRED FORESTERS COMING HERE THIS MONTH

International Convention Next Week Will Bring Leading Members.

More than six hundred of the leading members of the Canadian Order of Foresters from all over Canada and the United States will be in London on June 20, 21, 22 and 23 attending the international convention, which will be held here this year.

Those attending will come as delegates from lodges in the United States and Canada to discuss the affairs of the Foresters, and hear reports from the leading officers of the lodges. All the high court officers will be present. Among those who will attend is High Chief Ranger J. A. Stewart of Perth. Mr. Stewart is one of the best-known lawers in the eastern townships.

SYNOD EXPRESSES ITS DEEP REGRET OVER RESIGNATION

Executive Sorry Archdeacon Young Is Leaving.

WILL FAVOR CONSCRIPTION

Huron Association To Go On Record in Support of Compulsory Service.

In preparation for the opening of the synod of the Diocese of Huron this morning a meeting of the executive, composed of some 60 members, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Bishop Williams, who presided, presented the question of the resignation, from the secretaryship of the diocese, of Ven. Archdeacon Young, expressing his deep regret at losing so valuable an assistant. Similar expressions of appreciation of the services rendered the diocese by the archdeacon, both as a priest, and in a financial capacity, were voiced on all sides, and coupled with these, regret that he has felt it necessary to withdraw from the position which he has filled with such conspicuous efficiency.

Archdeacon Young was obliged to be absent from his duties for a length of time during the past winter, because of ill health, and at the time decided to tender his resignation, feeling compelled to do so, owing to advancing years. The resignation will take effect the end of June and the archdeacon will be granted the usual superannuation allowance.

Synod Will Fill Vacancy.

The matter of filling the vacancy will be dealt with by the synod as a whole, the executive fixing the salary to be attached to the office at $1,800.

It is understood a resolution favoring conscription measures of some description will be brought in, similar to the resolution passed a few days ago by the Synod of Toronto. Many of the clergy and lay members are in favor of such a movement, particularly those who have been actively engaged in recruiting campaigns.

It is probable also that the synod will pledge its support of the new prohibition law, which goes into force in September, some resolution in regard to support in the matter of enforcement to be brought in by the committee on moral and social reform. This committee will also report on the formation of the social service council at the last General Synod of Canada held in Toronto.

The question of women voting in vestry meetings will probably be left over until after the war.

A new scheme was suggested for providing churches in new communities through a fund for the erection of church buildings, this fund to be provided by churches already established, and, in consequence, the expense to be borne by the main body.

Permission was given for the building of a mission church at Yarmouth Heights, St. Thomas, and for the erection of rectories in connection with the Church of the Redeemer, this city, and St. John's Church, Woodhouse.

Coroner Writes Advertiser—He is Dead at Cass Lake.

"Ed Heitsmans is dead in Cass Lake, Minnesota. Relatives in London. Wire at once.—E. F. Miskella, coroner."

The local directory does not contain the name and the police state that they do not know Heitsmans.

11TH ANNUAL MEETING OF JUNIOR CLERGYMEN

Anglican Ministers Discuss Sacraments of Church.

The sacraments of the church constituted the subject for discussion by the junior clergy of the Diocese of Huron at their 11th annual meeting held Monday afternoon when Rev. Thomas Hicks of Haysville, presided. Rev. E. C. Jennings, Blenheim; Rev. A. W. Richardson, Morpeth, and Rev. D. W. Collins, Windsor, each contributed to the discussion on the administration of baptism.

Capt. A. L. G. Clarke, Waterloo, gave an interesting address on holy matrimony, touching upon the views held in different countries, and emphasizing the position of the Church of England in regard to the subject.

Rev. T. B. Howard of Tillsonburg, led a round table conference on the "Burial of the Dead," in which several of the clergymen present took part.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, H. W. Snell; vice-president, C. H. P. Owen; secretary-treasurer, T. B. Howard; committee, H. C. Roly, Thomas Hicks, Stanley Macdonnell.

SUGGEST "PARKING"

Auto Owners Want System Inaugurated at Springbank Park.

Auto owners of the city are asking the parks commission to enforce "parking" of all cars at Springbank Park. The present indiscriminate manner of leaving cars anyway and anywhere, they say, is not only dangerous but causes no inconsiderable damage to machines when a "green" driver starts to leave. A number of machines have been damaged and scratched this summer, and the only manner of avoiding this is to have all machines properly "parked."

The question comes before the commission at its next meeting.

WOMEN WORK NIGHTS ON HOSPITAL SUPPLIES

More Help is Wanted by Red Cross at St. Andrew's Church.

More women workers are needed at St. Andrew's Church by the Red Cross at once in order that the supplies needed for the Western University Hospital unit may be completed in time. The Red Cross workers have been as busy as can be for some time past, but in order to get their work done in time more women are needed, and the church will be kept open evenings. It is estimated that about one-half of the supplies required are now finished. Every woman who can sew is required to come to St. Andrew's either in the day time or evening and help in the work.

DISTRICT ORANGEMEN GOING TO TILLSONBURG

Glorious 12th Will Be Celebrated There by Thousands.

The semi-annual district meeting of District No. 1, L. O. L., was held last night in their hall, Market lane. There was a large attendance, every Orange lodge in the city being represented.

Wor. Bro. Walker of Boyne Lodge No. 298 presided and, following the transaction of lodge business, disposed of arrangements for the 12th. All the city lodges will go in a body with the county to Tillsonburg for the celebration.

Accompanying the lodges will be several fife and drum bands. With Hackett Lodge, No. 805, their fife and drum band, and also bands with Langemarck and Boyne Lodges. Nassau Lodge will have the London Pipers for the day.

Everything possible is being done to make the day a success at Tillsonburg.

DR. DIXON'S LECTURE OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Will Speak on "War and the Blind" in Normal School.

The illustrated address to be given on Thursday evening in the Normal School by Dr. Dixon of Toronto, under the auspices of the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E., cannot fail to be of the greatest interest to the public, owing to the fact that his subject is "War and the Blind," and the pictures which he is showing deal with the care and education of the blind.

Dr. Dixon, who is blind himself, and naturally is deeply interested in helping the men who become blind through the war, will be accompanied by G. B. Swift, librarian of the Canadian Free Library for the Blind in Toronto. Mr. Swift is also blind. An exceptionally clever man, he is a graduate of McGill University.

Miss Cole, assistant librarian, will come with Dr. Dixon and Mr. Swift in the capacity of guide.

Writing to Mrs. Allan McLean, regent of the Princess Patricia, which has undertaken to look after the fund for the care and education of blind soldiers of No. 1 Military District, Dr. Dixon says: "I trust that your chapter realizes that it is to have the honor of instituting this new campaign for a national monument commemorating this terrible war, to be erected by the women of Canada in the form of a Canadian National Institute for the Blind."

Col. Shannon has consented to act as chairman on Thursday evening, and Miss Luta Laymon, contralto, will sing.

NURSES GIVE $200 TO AID RED CROSS WORK

Also Support Children's Shelter for Two Days and Half.

At the tenth annual meeting of Victoria Hospital Alumnae Association, reports that were most satisfactory were presented by the secretary, Miss Whiting.

It was decided to make a donation of $200 to the Red Cross Society and of $25 (two and a half days support) to the Children's Shelter.

Regrets at leaving and best wishes were extended to Miss MacDougal, the retiring president (assistant superintendent of Victoria Hospital), who is leaving for overseas service with the Western University Unit.

Miss Stanley, lady superintendent of Victoria Hospital, introduced the twenty-four 1916 graduates, who were welcomed by the president, Miss MacVicar, as members of the association.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Miss MacVicar, Hospital for Insane, London; vice-president, Miss Patterson; secretary-treasurer, Miss Forsythe, Victoria Hospital; program committee, Mrs. Josephs, Miss MacKenzie, Miss Nash; representative to Canadian Nurse, Miss B. Gilchrest, Victoria Hospital.

At the close of the meeting Miss Stanley entertained the members in the nurses' parlor.

MANY CONVENTIONS FOR LONDON THIS SUMMER

City Has Its Share of Meetings Already Booked.

London will entertain its share of conventions this year. Among those booked so far are the Canadian Order of Foresters, June 20th to 25th; the Independent Telephone Association on June 27th; the Sanitary and Heating Engineers on June 19th to 22nd, and the Masonic Grand Lodge on July 19th and 20th.

Arrangements are being made for a large number of Shriners to stop off here on their way to Buffalo on July 10th, and see London. It is expected that several excursionists will avail themselves of the privilege.

HELD JOINT MEETING

Mission Circle and Auxiliary of First Methodist Church in Session.

The Mission Circle of the First Methodist Church joined with the Auxiliary for the June meeting which was held at the residence of Mrs. Alex Harvey, Sen., 804 Talbot street, Monday afternoon. A large representation from both societies was present. The program consisted of an interesting Bible reading by Miss Gurd, a solo by Mrs. Durst, and a comprehensive and capable report of the W. M. S. convention recently held at St. Thomas, by Mrs. A. A. Langford. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting and a delightful social time was spent.

STREET RAILWAY MATTERS WERE NOT DISCUSSED

Board of Control Will Wait for Company to Move.

The board of control did not discuss street railway matters at the meeting yesterday afternoon. No word was received from the London street railway relative to the situation between the parties, and Mayor Stevenson and his colleagues refused to discuss the questions until the company did something.

City Solicitor Meredith informed the board that the council could not charge a rental to the Bell Telephone Company for poles, etc., where the company had the right to erect them, under its charter. In all other cases, the city might. An effort will be made to discover what poles are erected under the franchise, and what are not. The matter was laid over.

It has been given as an opinion that an extension of mains, lines, etc., is tantamount to an extension of the franchise of a company. The City Gas Company is extending its mains on the Hamilton road and Adelaide street, and the opinion of City Solicitor Meredith will be obtained as to whether or not this is an extension of the franchise. If it is, a vote of the people may have to be secured to legalize it.

It was decided to increase the Rectory street pavement four feet in width.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO DEPARTING MINISTERS

Methodist Parsons of District Say Goodbye to Brothers of the Cloth.

The annual farewell banquet to the Methodist ministers of London district was held in the Y. M. C. A. building at noon today under the direction of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

All the churches in the district were represented to say good-bye to the eight former pastors, who have been transferred to different charges.

Rev. Dr. C. R. Flanders of the First Methodist Church presided, and, in his address, called attention to the number leaving this district at this time, it being larger than in former years.

Rev. H. D. Moyer of Hyatt Avenue Church and Rev. Dr. Dougall of Askin Street Church delivered complimentary addresses, wishing those going to their new fields of labor success in their respective charges.

In replying, the different ministers, to whom the banquet was tendered, expressed their regret at leaving the district, and assured those present they would long remember their associations in the London district.

The ministers leaving and the charges to which they have been transferred are:

Rev. G. N. Hazen of Wellington Street to Devine Street Church, Sarnia.

Rev. T. Wesley Cousens, Empress Avenue, to Cornwall.

Rev. H. A. Graham, Centennial Church, to Walkerville.

Rev. A. E. Lloyd, Ridout Street, to Parkhill.

Rev. J. Kennedy, Hill Street, to Talbotville.

Rev. J. M. Keyes, London Junction, to Brigden.

Rev. Mr. Whaley of Siloam Church, to Dawn Mills, Kent County.

Rev. T. J. Kerr, Dorchester, to Gorrie.

PRAISES TREATMENT

Member of No. 3 Hospital Says Patients Get Great Treatment.

Mrs. F. Campbell, 114 Simcoe street, has received an official report from the Canadian Red Cross Society information department relative to a visit paid by one of its "visitors" to her son, Pte. F. Campbell of the C. A. M. C. Pte. Campbell was a member of No. 3 Stationary Hospital, and on the day that unit landed in France he injured his spine when unloading equipment. He has been in the Norfolk War Hospital ever since.

In a letter home Pte. Campbell speaks in the highest terms of the treatment accorded to him, and every other wounded and injured man in the hospital.

KEEP SCHOOL CONTRACTS IN CITY, SAY PLUMBERS

Fear Expressed That Technical School Work May Go To Some Other City.

Representatives of the plumbers and steamfitters of London last night voiced a fear that contracts for the new Technical School might be allowed to go outside the city, and pointed out that home industry should get the job if the local tenders are at all near those from other places.

The tenders for the work are to be opened today. If the bulk contract goes to some other city there is danger that the sub-contracts may go there also, and that London labor may not benefit by the civic money which is being spent.

The plumbers spoke in behalf of London contractors in general, expressing the hope that the work would be kept in the city.

PRAISES SCOTLAND.

An interesting lecture was given in St. Andrew's Hall last evening by Rev. Robert Drysdale of Rochester. He declared that the Scotch people are a wonderful race. In the industrial world James J. Hill started as a poor boy and became one of the greatest figures in the industrial world.

Rev. Drysdale is an American citizen of Scotch birth. He travels in Canada in his spare time and gives lectures for the Red Cross fund. A silver collection was taken last evening, and the people responded very generously.

The folks at home are longing for a brick of Peters' Ice Cream. Don't disappoint them. ywt that feet are no more alike than faces? The shoe should fit the foot, and the foot should not be made to fit the shoe, as is often the case in some shoe stores. We have foot-formed shoes for men, women and children. These shoes are made for comfort, and that means durability always. The leathers are strong but pliable calf, vici and gun-metal calf. The toes broad enough to be comfortable, and the heels sensible. The lasts are straight or slightly curved, as the form of the foot requires. And the prices for men's or women's range from $3 to $7. Come in some time and try a pair of our foot-formed shoes, and see what comfort you have been missing.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED
