Tieling, or Tie Pass, the important strategic point from which Kuropatkin was driven on Wednesday, is marked plainly on the above map, as is also the Fan River, before which the Japanese suffered a temporary check, The abandonment of Tie Pass evidently followed a flanking movement on the west, which made it easy for the advanced Japanese forces on the south to occupy the position. The Russians probably burned the vast stores accumulated there before retreating/ Their position is now extremely critical. Even if the thousands of wounded were left to the enemy's care, the army must necessarily be hampered by much artiflery and supplies. It would be almost out of the question to entrain a hundred thousand men under the shell fire of an aggressive enemy, and unless Kuropatkin has been rushing his troops north behind the cloak of the rear-guard during the several days just passed, another disaster to Russian arms seems imminent. It is a long march of 300 miles from Tieling to Harbin; much of the route is through a wilderness, and there are no supply stations on the way. It is possible, however, should Linevitch, who is now in command, get so far in safety that he may pick up the remnants of Generals Kaulbars' and Rennenkampff's forces in the neighborhood of Kirin. It is more likely that he and his whole army

The War.

Mukden, being made supreme commander of all the Muscovite forces in the far east. While the recall or resignation of Kuropatkin was believed to be inevitable, it was not expected that | the Emperor would adopt such a harsh command at the front. The usual plan subsection 1 of section 93 applies to the method as dismissal while still in followed in such cases is to recall or new provinces, because the minority invite resignation. While Kuropatkin enjoy the right of separate schools, appears to have blundered, especially granted by the Dominion Parliament a keen-edged tool. ing movements, there is no doubt that Act. he has at times been greatly handi-capped from St. Petersburg. This was of separate schools, and of the proordered to attempt the relief of Port Spectator: Arthur with a ridiculously inadequate force. The result was a series of disastrous defeats that has culminated in the present demoralized rout.

General Linevitch is now seeking to reach Harbin with an army estimated at 250,000 men. Marshal Oyama, despite the terrific strain of the two weeks' combat, is right at his heels, and threatening to envelope him by throwing a force across his line of retreat. From Tie Pass to Harbin is 300 miles, and should the Japanese succeed in destroying the railroad the Russians would face surrender. So close is the Japanese pursuit that great B. N. A. It is of vital importance to the Japanese that the Russians be crushed is a mile farther from his base, and the Japanese chief will undoubtedly strain every nerve to end the camraign at least for the present, by annihilating the enemy or compelling

In view of the strain to which Siberian railroad has been subjected for upward of a year, they are now believed to be scarcely more than qualified to transport the supplies that are needed from day to day for consumption at the front. The conveyance of 450,000 fresh troops from European Russia to the far east would be performed very slowly at best, and would require many months. The mere mobilization would cost an immense sum and the Russian treasury is in

How could those rights and ranged for a $120,000,000 loan at 5 per cent at a conference in St. Petersburg, but before the contract could be laid before all the French underwriters for their approval, the disaster at Mukden occurred. The contract remains unsigned in consequence and the French financiers whose holdings in Russia aggregate $2,000,000,000, are strongly urging the Russian Government to consider peace proposals. It is given out from St. Petersburg that the nego. tiations have not been broken off, but have been merely adjourned. This is not the view of the Rothschilds. Baron Rothschild, of London, is quoted as saying: "There is nothing more natural than, at the present time, with the affairs of Russia in the state that they are both at home and abroad, that it should become difficult at last to find subscribers in France to another Russian loan. That is all. I think it is force of circumstances, and not pressure tending to peace on the part of the French Government. The suit the Russians. French know that to continue the war means a revolution in Russia, and that to cease it now under the present conditions means a revolution. It is difficult to say where Russia will find the money to continue the war."

It is reported that Russia would be willing to consider overtures for peace if Japan would waive an indemnity but this Japan will not do unless, like Russia, she is approaching financial exhaustion. Japan is relatively a poor country. She has too recently entered upon the path of progress to have great stores of accumulated wealth. The wants of her people are fewthey live on a primitive diet-and their earnings are small, measured in money reaching out for some of Stratford's Japan is rich in the genius of her generals, the perfection of her military organization and the patriotism and heroism of her children, but money is the sinews of war. Hitherto the culture, Nelson Monteith, declared in a campaign has been one of armies and speech Thursday night that modern grew worse and worse, till I was so conceals but it may become one of education should include domestic weak and faint that I could hardly financial endurance.

> "We do not think that the phrase "at the union" means either what Sir Wilfrid Laurier says it means, or what Mr. Haultain says it means. The phrase occurs in the British North America act, 1867. This act is self-described as being "an act of the union of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and the government thereof, and for purposes connected therewith." It is quite plain that the act applied only to Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, there being no other territory concerned in "the union."

REILLY BACK FOR BALLOT BOX CASE

Proceedings at Belleville Yesterday Largely a Legal Wrangle.

Belleville, March 17 .- Frank J. Reilly, who, on Wednesday night, left for parts unknown, returned and was arraigned in court. He came in at 2:30 from the east, accompanied by his Kingston lawyer, Mr. Ridley.

Rielly was arraigned in court and pleaded "not guilty." His counsel, Mr.

Judge McMahon said he had no objection, if the crown prosecutor was willing.

Mr. Hellmuth refused the request and Reilly was taken to the lockup. When Ruttan's 'trial started this morning, Mr. Riddell, his counsel objected to the indictment, and claimed others were re-elected. The following at the sessions last December. The crown prosecutor, he contended, had no right to try conspiracy cases at the After much legal argument the three indictments were resubmitted to the grand jury, and again true bills were

The feature of the evening was the address given by Father Aylward on Ireland and St. Patrick. In opening, he said, that while he was not born in Ireland, he was a sharer in the sorrows and joys of Erin. He loved Ireland, and read everything Irish. The people were plucky and thorough patriots, and had the sympathy of all for the manner in which they strove to maintain their rights and struggled against oppression. Their faith had been left unshaken, even though they had passed through the greatest trials. That uncrowned king. ◆

In their dealings with this comparatively new furniture store of ours, London's careful housewives have discovered two important facts, facts which account for the remarkable growth of the store in the few months of its existence.

The first fact is that they can buy anything here with perfect confidence, no seconds or goods of doubtful quality are admitted to our stock.

The second fact is that our prices are invariably below those of other stores. Are you familiar with these advantages? If not, we would like to show you through.

Mr. E. W. Goethe Quantz

Organist and choirmaster of New St. James' Church is widely and favorably known throughout Western Ontario as an organist and vocalist. Mr. Quantz comes of a highly musical family, and has devoted much attention to his art. He received his musical training under some of our best teachers and has enjoyed exceptional advantages for literary culture. He brings to his work, therefore, mature scholarship, as well as refined taste. He is very successful as a teacher of voice culture, piano and Quantz has held important positions in Ingersoll, Guelph and St. Thomas. He is on the staff and a member of the directorate of the friends of the institution last evening, tractions that may be found at this when they produced a dramatic entertainment of more than usual merit. Convocation Hall was crowded to its scenery, the hotel itself and many of utmost capacity, and every person in the special features that may be found the large assembly was pleased with the performance. The play selected was "The Rivals," Sheridan's five-act pearance of morocco leather, with a comedy, and the interpretation given it was very creditable. The cast was as follows: Sir Anthony Absolute, F. J. Grant, '07; Captain Absolute, D. J. Cornish, '06; Faulkland, H. M. Shore, '06; Acres, H. P. Westgate, '05; Sir Lucius O'Trigger, T. J. Hamilton, '07; Fag, K. M. McGoun. '05: David, G. B. Cox, '06; Thomas, F. K. Hughes, '08; Mrs. Malaprop, Miss Rowat, '06; Lydia Languish, Miss Bland; Julia, Miss Henderson, '08; Lucy, Miss Dearness, '05. . The performance will be repeated on Monday evening.

Moving to Richmond Street. Mr. Will H. Newsome, sole dealer for the new L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter, and who has had his London branch office at 741/2 Dundas street, will shortly move to 465 Richmond street. The new Richmond street office is being thoroughly renovated and when completed will be the finest typewriter and stationery office in the city. Mr. Byron C. Simmons, Western Cutario manager for Mr. Newsome, is vigorously pushing the sale of the L. Smith & Bros. Typewriter. He says: "Our machine has all the opposition simply beaten to a standstill. The name of 'L. C. Smith & Bros.' on it is a sufficient guarantee that the typewriter is up-to-date in every respect, and if there was anything better the Smiths would have it." It

OFFICER FIRED AT FLEEING MEN

. C. Probyn Uses His Revolver North End Fire Hall Project Given but Without Effect -Supposed Crooks Escape.

For refusing to obey a call to stop, two men, supposed to be burglars, were fired at about 10:30 o'clock last night in a lane which runs through the Granite block on York street. While P. C. Sam Probyn was patroling his beat, he noticed heavy marks on the door in rear of McCormick's grocery store, on Richmond street, between King and York. There was every indication that someone had tried to effect an entrance to the place, but was unsuccessful. The officer remembered this, and while he was trying other doors in the vicinity, he kept his eyes open. When he went along York the general funds, and this appears men run through the lane at the Granite block. As he approached they ran faster, and then he commanded them to halt, which they refused to do. Drawing his revolver, the officer fired in the direction of the fleeing men, but without effect. The men ran for a fence, cleared it, and disappeared in the darkness. It is supposed that the men seen in the lane were the same tional Five Thousand Dollars This Year.

The board of education appears to a greatly used public body. For several weeks now common talk in local municipal board intended to hold the city council up for sums ranging from $107,000 to $115,000 for public school purposes this year, but it now transpires that the board has no such intention, but, in fact, intends to deal very fairly by the council. From the best informabodied in a report which will be made to the board of health shortly.

A paper read by Prof. Adami, of Mc-Gill College, impressed the London delegates greatly, both Dr. English and Dr. Hutchinson pronouncing it to be most comprehensive in its relation to the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis. In Canada 8 000 theople die culosis. In Canada 8,000 Deople die dimate for 1905 shows an increase of each year of consumption, 60 of these about $5,000 as compared with the estiabout $5,000 as compared with the estimates of 1904, yet it is only $1,000 in excess of what the board was called upon to expend last year. Thus the city council need not expect the board to cut its estimates to any great extent, and if the tax rate is be kept down to 23 mills-the rate last year-the council must apply the knife still further to its own estimates. The hospital trust, which is asking for $3,000 more than a year ago, will disease by the distribution of literaalso be asked to use the knife, as will

DEATH BLOW GIVEN RACING BY BERRY BILL

Chicago, March 17. - Consternation seized the track owners, bookmakers of horse-owners and fanciers it was and horsemen in general here when word was received that the Berry bill, which deals a death blow to racing, had passed the State Senate unanimously. The passage of the bill is meant to stamp out racing entirely, and may mean that the sport in Cook County will suffer the same fate as that dealt out to Washington Park when the decree of Mayor Harrison stopped the meet last year and pracically closed the track for all time. Under the terms of the bill it will be impossible for any sheriff to suffer race tracks to run under any consideration if pool-selling is permitted, as the bill provides that a $5,000 penalty be inflicted on such an official if a race track gambling place or a poolroom is allowed in territory under his jurisdiction, provided the existence of such places is pointed out to him by any five citizens.

Heretofore it has not been considered the duty of the sheriff to raid a race track unless indictments against the bookmakers were secured before the grand jury and capiases placed in the hands of the sheriff to serve.

Race tracks in or near the vicinity of Chicago which will be effected by the new bill are Worth, Hawthorne and Harlem. It is said that the owners of the tracks, including Corrigan, Condon, the Wagner Brothers, and others will make a desperate resistance to any attempt to close their plants

A number of petitions were laid before the House, both for and against the school clause as it stands. The Postmaster-General opened the lebate on 'phones by moving the fol-

wing resolution:

"That a select committee to consist Smith (Nanaimo), Johnston (Cape Breton, south), Grant, Demers (St. John and Iberville), Monk, Maclean (York), Boyce, Roche (Marquette) and he mover, be appointed to inquire and report regarding the various public telephone systems in operation in Canada and elsewhere, as the committee shall determine; and to consider and report what changes, if any, are advisable in respect to the methods at present in force for furnishing telehone system in England." Sir William Mulock said that the wide extent to which the telephone was used demanded from Parliament considerations of the means by which ts use might be still further ex-ended. Next to the postoffice the lephone was of the greatest use to the people. In a few years the tele-phon system in England would have passed under Government control, and without prejudging the future destiny of the telephone in Canada, the result of the committee's inquiry would at least enable the House to reach the safest conclusion as to the best means of dealing with this important question. "If I were to confess to be biased upon his subject," added Sir William Mulock, "it would be this, that I cannot see why it is not as much the duty of the state to take charge of the tele-phone system as it is to conduct the naster-General moved to add the name of Mr. Zimmerman, of Hamilton.

DHYSICAL tiredness, the result of hard work, is but natural, and rest is the cure. But overpowering weariness, a never-rested feeling, or complete exhaustion is not natural. It shows that some serious disorder is undermining health. As a consequence you sleep badly, nervous forebodings fill the mind, deranged digestion and the horrors of bodily weakness add to the torture of your condition. COULDN'T EVEN WALK.

Rev. J. C. Morse, D.D. "Before taking the first box of Ferrozone," writes Mrs. Annie Jeffry, of Sandy Cove, N. S., "my condition was deplorable. Though I employed the most skilled medical aid, I grew steadily weaker. In fact, I was in such a low condition that it was impossible for me to walk across the room. My heart was very weak, and I suffered from terrible palpitations, which the doctors said were from troubles peculiar to women. Friends urged me to try Ferrozone, and I bought six boxes. When I had used the third box my old-time vigor and strength returned.

Build up the system; nourish the body back to strength by pure, wholesome blood. To accomplish this take Ferrozone, which contains the very ingredients which thin blood lacks.

Ferrozone is a marvelous appetizer-creates an instant relish for food--converts all you eat into nutriment and tissue-building material. Thus a weak body is supplied with new nerve fiber, hardy muscles and firm flesh. Lasting good health is bound to follow. FERROZONE As an invigorating tonic and rebuilder it has no equal. It restores weak, wretched, despondent people to glorious, robust health, gives them energy, vitality, buoyancy and reserve of vigor. If you really want to get strong and be always well, use the Ferrozone. It's not like ordinary medicines, because it does its work thoroughly and never fails. Try Ferrozone yourself; it's exactly FLETCHER METHOD DEMON-STRATED. The Masonic Temple was well filled last evening, the occasion being a demonstration in the Fletcher music method, given by Miss Bessie Moore, teacher of this system at the London Conservatory of Music, Miss Moore very ably presented to those present the chief aims of this system, which are to give to the children a thorough knowledge of music, and to assist them in acquiring this knowledge by teaching them in a way which is both in teresting and simple. The Fletcher method in many respects bears the same relation to music as the kinder garten does to public school work. The thorough knowledge which a pupil re-ceives in scales, chords, notation etc., is something which that pupil should forever retain. Some of Miss Moore's piano pupils at the close of the demonstration gave a short piano recital. The pupils, all of whom took the Fletcher music method, were Misses Agnes Barron, Helen Pope, Helen Weld, Lotta Hayman, Barlow Brown, Norah Moore, Ruth and Eulalie Young. Boston, March 18 .- London Punch has published a set of verses about Miss Rosa-mond Dixey, of this city, entitled "Wake Up, England," because the young woman is said to have her pet white pig sitting up beside her when she goes out in her motor car. Miss Dixey is the daughter of R. C. Dixey, of Beacon street, and last fall she made a stir at Lenox by winning honors in the "Gymkhana races" with the pig. She is now traveling abroad,

Motorman Illustrated, an English autonobile magazine, noted the fact that Miss Dixey invariably has her pet, a fat white pig, sitting up beside her in the front of her motor car, so the Punch poet Seized the opportunity and in three semi-satirical verses he calls on the ladies of Englad to "wake up," lest they lose their reputations for being up-to-date.

THE INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY GETS GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

Awarded For Its Fine Display at the World's Fair.

[Moneton Daily Transcript, March 2,

1905.] The General Traffic Manager of the Intercolonial Railway has received official notification from the President of the Superior Jury of Awards of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, to the effect that a gold medal and diploma had been awarded the Railway for the handsome display made at St

Louis last season. This is a substantial recognition of the efforts of the I. C. R. to have at the "Greatest of World's Fairs" an exhibit that would attract widespread attention. The Railway display was one of the leading features in the Forestry, Fish and Game Building, where it was viewed with great interest by ands of people and made a place of assembly by many sportsmen. The gold medal is awarded for the best collection of mounted animals and mounted fish, in which Department the Railway had certainly the best variety and finest specimens. The disploma is for the general excellence of the exhibit. Both are prizes that

"What?" gasped the farmer's wife.
"We—we've got some things to sell."
The murder was out, and the two awaited their destiny with bated breath.
The woman's face lighted up. "I should like to zee 'em," said she.
Thereupon her red tablecloth was quickly strewn with glories from London.
A shrewd bargainer was the farmer's wife, and unfortunately she wished to know the price of everything. Now, this was a detail overlooked by the hawkers, who in their confusion and forgetfulness of the original cost, marked the prices who in their confusion and forgetfulness of the original cost, marked the prices down to about one-half. The woman smiled, well pleased, and the hawkers persuaded each other that they had come off with dignity, if not with credit. In the end the woman took out the price of the meal in trinkets, and smiled as her guests departed, having secured about double the worth of her food in brooches and portraits at about half the cost price. "I think," he said, slowly, "that since you both are agreed, there is nothing to be done but to accept." Herrick fairly beamed. "I have the papers here," he cried, gaily. "I expected to see you at the club this evening. Let's sign them now and get it over with." It was characteristic of the man that he carried a fountain pen even in his evening clothes, and five minutes-later the document was signed and witnessed whereby Charlton Corson agreed, for the sum of $10,000 a year, to serve for five years to the best of his ability the interests of Henry Hamilton Herrick, as superintendent of the latter's vineyards on the other side of the continent. "There," said Herrick, cheerfully, "it's all done. Not a bad income, Bob, for a single man." "He won't have that advantage." broke in Miss Erving, sweetly: "you see, I was so interested in the matter because Mr. Corson is going to take me out with him as his wife." ### Instead of Fruit.

Fruit is a splendid tonic for stomach and liver. The active principles give fruit its medicinal value. But they occur in such minute quantities, that when fruit is taken with other food, and goes through the process of digestion, their action is lost.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the active principles of apples, oranges, figs and prunes extracted from fruit juices, combined by our own secret process, and compressed into tablets. They are the concentrated medicinal virtues of fruits and act much more effectively than any other known treatment in curing Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Torpid Liver, Biliousness and Kidney troubles. It is lacking in red corpuscles, wherein are found the life-giving principles which put snap and energy into the body.

The nerves soon become depleted when the blood fails to supply proper nourishment, and there is consequent weakness and sluggish action of the bodily organs.

The lungs lack vigor in their work of oxydizing the blood, the heart becomes feeble in action, the stomach fails to properly digest the food, the liver and kidneys do not perform their great work of filtering the blood, the bowels become sluggish and inactive, and hence the wretched, languid and depressing feelings of spring.

The whole system becomes poisoned and you fall an easy prey to lurking disease.

Put new blood into your system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you will not only avoid the dangers of disease but also escape the depressing and debilitating effects of spring.

There are certain elements of nature contained in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food which are Symptoms:

These ingredients are so combined in this great medicine as to act mildly and gently on the system, instilling new vigor and vitality into the blood and nerves, and through these mediums reaching with a beneficial influence every nook and corner of the body.

There is no reason why you should not be strong and well, healthy and happy in the spring, if you will see to it that the blood is made pure, rich and nourishing by means of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is rich blood that builds up new tissue, creates new nerve force, restores the color to the cheeks and snap and energy to the body.

The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brings about that condition of the blood which is the very foundation of good health and which enables the system to throw off disease.

Nearly everybody requires just such help in the spring as can be best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Because it is more blood, purer blood, richer blood that is necessary to the maintenance of good health and vigor during this time of year.

"San Toy," full of jingling airs that have an original ring, with an abundance of comedy, at which intelligent reople feel justified in laughing, a truly magnificent production as far as scenery and costumes are concerned, and a cast which is the strongest engaged in the presentation of musica comedy this season, will be seen at the Grand this afternoon and tonight,

The organization which Mr. John C. Fisher has employed to interpret this delightful show piece is a very large one, the membership being so numerous and the equipment so bulky that special train service is a necessity in every movement, and better still the names of the people who appea programme represent the best talent which Mr. Fisher's known willingness to pay fancy prices for could secure.

Heading the company is James T. Powers, a fun-maker of fame so farreaching that it has been perpetuated in not only every corner of America, but made itself felt in London as well. Mr. Powers was a prime favorite here in the days of the Hoyt successes and originated an important role in nearly every one of them. Later he went into comic opera, where his original talent won him instant success, and for the past ten years or nore he has been seldom seen away from New York, except when filling a

London engagement. In mounting "San Toy" Mr. Fisher has quite excelled the grandeur with which he dressed "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper." The two scenic settings of the play, one showing a street in Pynka Pong and the other a room in the Emperor's palace at Pekin, are particularly elaborate, while the costuming is easily the most magnificent that has been shown in any production of musical comedy wherein the locale was in China. Every costume used in the play was imported direct from China the past summer, through the firm of Sun Kim Lung & Co., of New

The story of "San Toy" is a simple little affair which tells how Yen How, a Mandarin, seeks to deceive his Emperor and save his beautiful daughter from the monarch's harem, by raising her as a boy. The deception is communicated to the chief executive, who summons Yen How to his presence and orders that he produce the daughter. It looks for a time as though the Mandarin was to have a brief session with the official headsman, but San Toy's charms soften the Emperor's allowed to marry her English lover.

The "San Toy" company booked for ization presenting the play, and Mr. Fisher regards it as much the best he has ever sent en tour.

TRAFFIC PROBLEMS AND POLICIES

Notable Gathering of Railroad Ticket and Passenger Men.

THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL MEETING Address by Mr. Geo. T. Bell, of the

day, March 13, 1905, a very notable gathering of transportation men-the semi-centennial meeting of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents-the men who largely initiate and direct the passenger traffic problems and policies of all transportation lines, operated steam, within the United States, Can-ada and Mexico. The association held its first convention in Pittsburg, on March 13, 1855, just fift years ago. Its purposes then, and today, is to aid in securing the best and most uniform methods of conducting passenger transportation, an object of very great value to the traveling public. A secondary purpose, but very necessary for the successful fulfilling of the first, is the educational and fraternal advantages of conferences at various and remote parts of this vast country, of very busy men, widely separated as to distance, yet intimately related in their business of cultivating the "moving" spirit, and adequately caring for the comfort of passengers, not only along their own lines, them and all sections of the country. To do this satisfactorily, it is not enough to correspond-these men must visit-must know the men they are asking to co-operate with them or who bership already of 32 lines operat may be actively competing against in Canada, against 20 lines them-must know the attractions and conditions offered by their competitors ally that the President of the Asso It is an immense saving of time for Central Railway, who presided at protest said that "all the authentic and these passenger officers, now number- banquet, understood and appreciat

We never realize that the immortal life is the real life until we lose our bravest and best. Then reason whispers how easy it is for God to continue this richly endowed soul whose building he must have found so difficult. The great question is not "Shall a beautiful mother continue to live?" but "Shall such a mother ever begin

It has been beautifully said that after God had made man he fell into a gentle reverie, and then, with a happy smile, said, "I will make a mother This was his crowning achievement. When the lifework has been done, when the harvest of influence has been sown and reaped, then he sends his messenger for release, guidance and convoy homeward. His latest, richest and crowning gift is the gift of death. At the summit of the desert palm is a single flowering bud. Why appendicitis affects one and not another, is difficult to say. It is a disease of the healthy, young and relatively infrequent over 40, though it has been observed in an infant under 2 years and in an adult over 70. It more common in men than women in the ratio of four to one. Between the ages of 10 and 30 are the years spent principally in schools, colleges and similar institutions and active labor. It is the most propitious period of life for amusements of all sorts-theaters, receptions, balls, parties and dinners, especially between 20 and 30. There is a tendency among males to abuse their stemachs, and liability to exposure to cold and violence may have some determining influence. ### WRITING 4 LETTER BUCHU

LITTLE THINGS THAT MAKE A GOOD IMPRESSION.

POINTERS REGARDING

Read all the works on letter writing and you will know as much about the practical side of the art of writing a letter as you will after reading a book on Japan's art of jiu-jitsu know about how to put into practice the Japanese system of fighting. And rubbing goose oil on the feet never responds by curing the toothache.

A letter writer of the highest order of excellence is much like a poet or an orator-born, not made.

The query has been asked, is a high school or a college education essential to the attainments of a superb writer of letters? No. A good education is not a prerequisite to the attainment of distinction in any line of human activity. It inerely furnishes you with training and knowledge in the beginning that afterwards you will have to strive for. Talent of a certain degree enforced by ambition for development and advancement are paramount.

Some of the best newspaper and nugazine contributors have not had the advantages of a college training. And so is it with the letter writer. To become a polished epistolary correspondent, or composer of letters, reulres a knowledge of human nature and practice. No person ever became an author of attractive newspaper correspondence, either as reporter or writer of original composition, without oractice. Practice in building sentences, or in conversation, or public speaking will develop a graceful, vig-orous style of sentences—and nothing Another thought worth consideration is that the recipient of your letter judges from its appearance, your demeanor, dress, habits, neatness, and takes an appreciative interest in your

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the ergan or deaden the pain—but it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well.

REASON Nº 30 WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose

Because the quality never varies.

Did you ever use a pound of good tea, and after ordering more of the same brand, find it much inferior?

The Eastern climate changes very rapidly, and for this reason tea planters find it impossible to produce the same quality from month to month-two lots from the same garden are seldom the same quality. This is probably the reason why the tea you got the second time was not as good as the first.

In Red Rose Tea this serious difficulty has been overcome by scientifically blending several teas together, so to always obtain uniform flavor and strength, and this has been one of the greatest triumphs of Red Rose Tea.

The quality never varies-you can rely on getting exactly the same quality of tea as long as you use it

A rare merlin found only in the northern part of Canada during the breeding season lays an egg worth $15 to its fortunate finder; and not only this, but the merlin usually lays some three to five eggs in every nest, so that a "set" (as the full number of eggs laid by a bird is called) may be worth a neat sum to the hawker who finds it. But it is not for money that most of these men who have the hawker who finds it. But it is not for money that most of these men who have taken up this kind of sport go out; many of them are independently rich, others are in lucrative positions, but they take it up as a means of getting out into the world of the wild, and bring home the eggs as souvenirs of their trips. In time this has grown to be a regular study, until now almost all the large museums have a department devoted exclusively to the study of the eggs of birds, living and extinct.—Los Angeles Times.

Uncorking a Bottle.

Have you ever attempted to uncork a bottle and struggled in vain until finally you have seen the cork disappear inside the bottle? The practical application of a well-known scientific principle would have made it easy to draw the cork in a few seconds. Often, no doubt, you have torn a cork into bits while endeavoring to remove it from the neck of a bottle with a corkscrew. Utilize this same principle and your temper will remain unruffled, while the cork will come out whole and good, ready to be made use of again.

The next time you have occasion to uncork a bottle, remember that glass STRENUOUS EXERCISE is expanded by heat to a marked degree, while cork is not. Then hold a lighted match under the neck of the
