Financial Notes

Since the discovery of silver in 1903 and the finding of gold Porcupine and Kirkland Lake districts in the past six years, mining companies have produced approximately $254,001,586. These figures up to the end of June, 1920.

Serious damage estimated at at least $100,000 to the Niagara Peninsula fruit crop resulted from severe rain and hail storm which swept the peninsula Saturday afternoon. The storm lasted only forty minutes, damage was very severe in the Niagara Falls district, two-thirds of fruit being estimated ruined.

Canadian National Railways' gross earnings for the nine-day period ending June 30th totalled $2,471,419, as compared with $1,811,838, an increase of $659,581. For the year to date earnings totalled $45,564,824 against 1,485,782, an increase of $4,078,952.

Boston—The president of the Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' Association says the real peak of shoe prices has been passed and that competition will inevitably bring about a reduction in footwear prices, a fact to be regarded as "desirable and necessary from every point of view." He expects no demand sufficient to put shoe facories on full time this summer and says we are coming back to old conditions where 80 per cent. of capacity can produce all the needed footwear.

Chicago—The monthly customs report shows that during the month of June 4,000,000 pounds of sugar arrived here from Canada. It was originally purchased in Cuba by English merchants, sold to Canadian consignees and resold in this country.

The Provincial Paper Mills, Ltd., has forwarded notice to the shareholders that the stock certificates of the new company are now ready and requesting the certificates of the Provincial Paper Mills Company, Limited, to be sent in to be exchanged. The exchange is on a basis of three shares of new for two shares of old. Half shares are settled for at $50, being at the rate of $100 per share.

It is stated that arrangements will shortly be made to have the securities of the Whalen Pulp and Paper Mills listed on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

MOTORIZING THE FARM

THE horse has been declared by Thomas Edison to be the most inefficient machine in the world. In return for the amount of food and care needed, the horse returns less in work than any other machine.

The average team of farm horses costs $400, a good set of double harness $100, a wagon without box $115, making a total of $615.

A Ford Truck costs $750 at Ford, Ont. A Fordson Tractor costs $850 at Dearborn Mich.

The initial cost of motorizing a farm is slightly greater than the cost of a horse outfit, but the lower cost of operation and upkeep of the tractor and truck and the greater amount of work done easily put the horse out of the running.

Government experiments have proved that the cost of feeding a horse is 8.7 cents per working hour.

A team of horses cannot plow more than two acres in a ten-hour day. At 8.7 cents per hour or 17.4 cents per acre for a team, the cost would be $1.74, or 87 cents an acre. A Fordson Tractor plows on an average of seven acres a day. The cost per acre averages not more than 75 cents per acre for gas and oil. The Fordson does three and a half times as much plowing in a day at a smaller cost per acre.

Suppose you are hauling produce to market or bringing out supplies. If the town is twenty miles away it will take you a whole day to make the return trip with horses. If you have a heavy load and the weather is hot it will take you two days. If it took you twelve hours, the cost at 17.4 cents an hour for your team would be $2.09. The average cost of running a Ford Truck, for gas and oil, is 4 1/2 cents a mile or $1.80 for the forty miles. But with the Ford Truck you can make the return trip in four hours. The truck enables you to make three times as many trips and at a lower cost per trip.

But this is not all. If you motorize your farm you can get up an hour later in the morning. You have no horses to feed, groom or harness. You start work after breakfast.

When dinner is ready you stop at the end of the field, drive your tractor direct to the house, eat your dinner, and rest till it is time to go to work again.

In the afternoon your motor works just as well though the sun is hot and the flies are bad.

And at night when work is over you are through for the day,—no horses to rub down, feed or water.

You are always free to leave your farm for picnic or vacation—no worry about horses left behind to be cared for.

Every way you look at it the motor has the advantage over the horse. It means shorter hours on the farm, more work done in less time and at less cost.

Canadian Prime Ministers.

New Premiers do not happen often in Canada. In the fifty-three years since Confederation there have been only eight, not including Mr. Meighen. Three of them, Macdonald, Laurier, and Borden, held office for 44 years. Hon. Alexander Mackenzie was Prime Minister for four years; Sir J. J. C. Abbott, who succeeded Sir John Macdonald, for a year and six months; Sir John Thompson for two years; Sir Mackenzie Bowell for a year and four months, and Sir Charles Tupper for two months and seven days. The brief tenures occurred in the troubled period between the death of Sir John Macdonald in 1891 and the victory of Sir Wilfred Laurier in 1896. As a rule, Canadian Government have been long lived, but there is every sign that the latest one may belong to the other category.

Waterloo public school board has voted all the teachers increases ranging from $150 to $300.

The claim is made that Thomas Morris who has just died at Grand Island, Nebraska, was the oldest man in the world. He claimed to be 128 and it is said that in his possession was an old family Bible with the record of his birth in North Wales January 15, 1794. Morris remembered the battle of Waterloo and the only reason for his not being in the British army at the time was because of a deformed foot. He distinctly recalled seeing the Duke of Wellington upon the latter's return following the great victory over Napoleon.

The Retort Courteous.

"Observer" in the Guelph Herald says: One of those dear creatures who are trying to make men good by stopping their smoking came at Observer the other day and proceeded to tell him what a bad thing it was for a man to be using tobacco. She hated and abhorred the vile weed herself, and she couldn't see how anyone else could touch the stuff. For awhile Observer humored this fair reformer and by a flank movement put her on the defensive, by asking if she noticed any particular reason for believing that tobacco was causing any deterioration. To this the dear lady returned in characteristic feminine fashion that even a pig would stoop to smoke. This hit Observer a solar plexus blow, where he wasn't looking for it, and it was only by a superhuman effort that he recovered enough to gasp out that neither did a pig believe in nose powder, rouge, lip stick, henna, Dutch neck, georgette sleeves and low shoes in winter, peroxide, false hair, ice cream, sundaes, round garters, beauty diets, small shoes, tight lacing, furs in summer, eating crackers in bed, cold feet and forgetting what's trump. By the time I had finished gasping out all this my anti-tobacco friend had flown. I have seen no more of her since and I'm going to keep this list of feminine frailties for future use.

EVIDENCE Of Success of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills

Wm. Fullerton, R. R. 1, Listowel: "I doctored for eight years for Stomach Trouble and Pains all through my body, got no relief until I used Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy which fixed me up all right. I used Hacking's Kidney and Liver Pills along with the Remedy."

Mrs. H. Hinchcliffe, Wingham: "I was on the point of a complete Nervous Breakdown, could not sleep or plan my household duties, suffered with my Heart and my Nerves and doctors could do little for me. After taking the first box of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy I improved so much in health that I continued with a 6 box treatment and am able to return to my work with renewed vigor."

Mr. Richard Jones, Doon, Ont.: "I have had Pains under my Heart for some time and tried all sorts of remedies and have been to four different doctors and could get no relief. I took one box of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy and felt very much better. I took another box and have been able to work again. Before I took your remedy I could not work for weeks at a time, the pain was so great."

In Glasgow they tell of a resourceful clergyman who is never at a loss for a retort. He was once called to the bedside of a very wealthy but stingy man. "If," he gasped to the clergyman, "if I leave several thousands to the church, will my salvation be assured?" whereupon the divine responded, "I wouldn't like to be too positive, but it's well worth trying."

A project is under way in Saskatchewan for the establishment of a million-dollar mill to utilize waste straw for the manufacture of paper. Close proximity to an adequate supply of cheap coal is one of the essential in the location of such a plant. The scheme is said to be backed up by large financial interests from Toronto. It has been found from experience that two tons of straw are required to make one ton of paper.

A Needed Sermon.

The preacher announced that next Sunday his sermon would be Liars, and that he would be very glad if, during the intervening week they would read the seventeenth chapter of Romans for themselves. The next Sunday the preacher commenced by reminding his congregation of the request he had made, asking those who had read the seventeenth chapter of Romans to stand up. To his astonishment half the congregation stood up. "Thank you very much," said the preacher, "now it is to you I want to speak to-day, because there is no seventeenth chapter of Romans."

Fell Out of Window

George Cousins, aged 19 years, a porter at the Royal Hotel, Kincardine fell out of the window of the third flat. He was picked up by Mr. David Gledhill, merchant, who was returning home about 1.30 Friday morning. Cousins was rushed to the hospital, but died shortly after reaching that institution. Thursday, was race day in Kincardine and the young man had had a busy day, waiting on the customers. The night was hot, and whether he was leaning out of the window to get fresh air and accidentally went over will be learned at the inquest which is being held on Wednesday. He was alone in his room and few particulars were known how the unfortunate young man lost his life.

SAVED HER LIFE

St. Catharines, Ont.:—"I was in a very miserable condition when I first started taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription sixteen years ago. I suffered and was extremely emaciated and weak. Although I was a young woman my doctor thought I was going through the critical stage of life, but after using these remedies my strength returned, another child came and from that time on my health was perfect and my weight increased. I really believe that Dr. Pierce's remedies saved my life and I shall always praise them as long as I live."—MRS. ELIZA OVERHOLT, 43 Beach St.

Favorite Prescription should have the full confidence of every woman in Canada because it contains no alcohol and no narcotic. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine were injurious, and so he always kept them out of his remedies. Hardy's Luck

By J. W. MARSHALL.

Young Dr. Hardy's long run of luck was over. He acknowledged it to himself when he awoke that morning in his room at the University Hospital.

It began the evening that he matriculated at the university, when the dean's clerk took the matriculation fee and smilingly wished him "good luck" in the course.

He had worked in one of the government departments by day, had attended lectures and done his work at the university from half past four until ten, and had studied from half past ten until—well, until he had finished.

He thought about it as he dressed that morning—the morning after the interne had made his remark. When he had finished tying his shoes he stood up. He was "sandy complexioned" and short, almost stubby.

"Well," he said to himself, "I only expected to stay two months when I came, and you can't expect such luck as I've had to last forever." As he started for the door he said aloud, "And I've got one whole day left, anyway."

He hurried off up the corridors, meeting no one except maids and scrubwomen and orderlies who were hurrying to complete the toilet of the hospital before the work of the day began. Up one flight of stairs he turned to the left, entered ward "G," and stepped directly to bed No. 41.

The little night nurse, who had not yet gone off duty, came over as he took the chart from the head of the bed. When he had read through the notes of the night, she asked a very unprofessional question.

"Dr. Hardy, what is the matter with this patient, anyway?" Dr. Hardy made an extremely unprofessional reply. "I don't know!" he said. "But it's a very interesting case. He was brought in two days ago in this semi-comatose condition from a tramp schooner down in the harbor. Every visiting staff doctor germs he'd been staining! And sleep! The night boy on the telephone switch-board says, 'No'm, Dr. Hardy, he don't never sleep!' Ouch! Just see how my ankles are swollen! I've been on duty for ten whole hours, and if I'm not rested pretty soon, I'll—Sh! Here's the head nurse!"

When Hardy's two months at the hospital were almost up, one of the two internes who had been ill with typhoid resigned, and went home to recuperate.

"Good-bye, old man!" he said to Hardy on leaving. "You sure have made good here, from what they tell me, and I wish you could have had my place."

That let the cat out of the bag! Hardy inferred that it had already been settled that the other substitute, nephew of the chief of staff, was to have the appointment. His long run of luck was over.

He hurried off up the corridors, meeting no one except maids and scrubwomen and orderlies who were hurrying to complete the toilet of the hospital before the work of the day began.

"Dr. Hardy, what is the matter with this patient, anyway?" Dr. Hardy made an extremely unprofessional reply. "I don't know!" he said. "But it's a very interesting case. He was brought in two days ago in this semi-comatose condition from a tramp schooner down in the harbor. Every visiting staff doctor and most of the city physicians who have patients here had gone over the case in these two days, and the diagnosis is still obscure. The trouble is, you see—"

He ran his eye over the meagre "history" that they had been able to get from the patient's shipmate, the obscure physical findings, the bending temperature curve, the conflicting symptoms. And then, grasping for any straw, he in turn asked an unprofessional question.

"Maybe you can make a suggestion, Miss Maynard?" The little night nurse gave one anxious glance at the semi-comatose patient. "Yes," she said, "I can. I think you'd better get busy and find out what's the matter before it's too late! If I were a doctor—" She was hurrying on indignantly, when she stopped and flushed. "Excuse me, Dr. Hardy, I—"

But Dr. Hardy was not at all insulted. He even smiled at her heat. "Doctors are pretty helpless at times, aren't they?" he said quizzically. "If medicines were only an exact science, now, like mathematics, but it isn't. The picture of any given disease is so often modified and distorted by other underlying conditions, by idiosyncrasy and temperament. Personally, I've given every extra minute I could find to this case, and wiser heads than mine have puzzled over it, and we've no nearer a diagnosis than when it came in, but we're still trying."

"I know you are, Dr. Hardy," she said contritely. Then she flared up again. "I was thinking of that chief of staff's nephew. He's on this service; why don't he do a little hard work? He's smart, they say; why doesn't he show some of it here? Not that you aren't smart, Dr. Hardy," she added with a flush, "and the nurses are all sort of crazy over the way you work. Why, when I'd relieved the day nurse last evening she said she'd bet her uniform against a roller bandage that you'd diagnose that case before you left!"

Dr. Hardy was embarrassed. "Mighty risky, wasn't it? I—I mean 'twas mighty nice in her to offer—you know what I mean. He pulled a chair to the bedside and sat down. 'I'll just sit here and study the case till breakfast time.'"

The little night nurse smiled and wrote on her order pad for the day nurse, "At 7.30 tell Dr. Hardy to go to breakfast."

At a quarter of eight the day nurse touched Dr. Hardy on the shoulder and showed him the order. He stared, mumbled something about having "clean forgotten," rose, and tramped thoughtfully back through the corridors. He sat down in his place at the doctors' table and began mechanically to eat. The talk stopped. Glances travelled from Hardy's troubled face to the nephew of the chief of staff—darkening glances; but the nephew evidently did not see them.

Should fat in the frying pan or that in the dripping pan of a gas or oil-stove become ignited, pour some milk directly on the flames. If only a tablespoonful of milk is used the blaze will be extinguished.

Lemon egg-nog is a food as well as a beverage. Make it by beating an egg yolk until it is lemon colored and thick. Gradually add a teaspoonful of sugar, and follow this with the stiffly beaten white of the egg and one cupful of milk. Add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and serve while cold.

To make sticky fly-paper, thoroughly mix sixteen ounces of resin with about six and one-half pints of castor-oil and heat until a liquid is formed. With a small brush apply thin coatings of the liquid to sheets of heavy-weight Manila paper, leaving a one-inch border around the edges. This formula is sufficient to cover sixteen sheets of paper measuring 17 x 12 inches.

Fruit which is sweet enough to be eaten without sugar can be successfully canned in its own juice, without sugar. Select one-third or one-half of the fruit which is least perfect in shape, and extract the juice as for jelly-making; that is, by simmering it. For very juicy fruit use about a cupful of water to four or five quarts of fruit, and for less juicy fruit sufficient water to cover it. Cook the fruit until tender, then drain it in a jelly-bag. Can the perfectly shaped fruit which was reserved for this purpose, filling the jars with the fruit juice instead of syrup, and follow the directions for canning by the cold-pack method. Fruit canned thus keeps its shape and has a good flavor.

DOMINION RUBBER

When many chair coverings and pillows are needed, a worth-while economy can be achieved by covering some of the pillows with the better parts of old bedspreads. The material thus obtained is dyed to harmonize with or repeat one of the colors shown in the cretonne, the woven pattern of the bedspread showing up very prettily. In order to obtain satisfactory results, select a dye intended for cotton and one which requires the material to be boiled in the dye. Experiment with a scrap of the goods and follow directions closely.

A better effect can be obtained if the pillows are uniform or harmonious in color, than if a variety of coverings is used; and if the pillows are stuffed with worn-out stockings they will cost almost nothing. Cut the stockings into small pieces if you want the pillows to be soft.

When a porch is furnished with a collection of odd pieces, they can be brought into harmony and present a neater appearance if all the pieces of furniture are painted in one color. If it harmonizes with the color of the house, a good, clear shade of gray paint is very satisfactory, for it is durable, restful to the eye, and makes an excellent background for cretonnes.

Sewing Pointers. If a child's dress is short, lengthen it with a fold of contrasting material sewed to the bottom of the skirt. It is an especially good idea for a dress that is faded so that the let-down hem shows a difference in color. Just cut off the hem and sew a fold of material to the bottom, provided, of course, it is a straight skirt. If the skirt is circular, then the band must be circular too, and the exact flare of the skirt. Folds from three to six inches wide can be used to very good advantage, but some smart little frocks have much wider bands. It is a good plan to add a touch of the contrasting material to the waist in pipings or a new collar.

If your suit is out-of-date or unbecoming, cut the coat over into an Eton jacket—that is, if you wear a youthful style. Almost any coat can be made into an Eton. All it means is cutting the coat off about three inches above the waistline. It's quite likely you can use the collar just as it is, but if you want a change make the coat collarless, cut away the front in open style, and wear it with one of the new frilly lingerie blouses. And don't forget to add a crush girdle and sash ends to your skirt. If they are Roman striped ribbon, so much the smarter.

If the skirt is tight through the hips and it happens to be a serge, tricotine or gabardine skirt, the fault can be remedied this season, and the skirt made smarter than it has ever been, with inset panels of tricolette. Of course, the tricolette must be a matching color. The width of the panels does not matter so much. Some are mere slot seams, and others are four or five inches wide. Some are just plain inset panels, and others have the tricolette laid in crosswise tucks. If it's a dress, add a collar of the tricolette too; or, if it's a suit, try cutting away the front of the coat and adding one of the new vestees.

If you have one of the old-time gored skirts in smooth material, such as serge, it too can be made up-to-date by combining it with a remnant of tricolette. Cut the gores into straight strips, and alternate them with strips of the silk, pressing the edges of the cloth over the silk, box-plate fashion. Just hang it from a belt of grosgrain belting, and wear with a tricolette outside belt and you will have as swaggy a sports skirt as one could desire.

If you are oversupplied with ordinary blouses, and want one of the new over-the-skirt blouses, try this plan. Cut off the bottom of a blouse until it hangs over the skirt just the same amount at all points. Then gather the lower edge at $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, and join fronts and back to bands of contrasting material which extend beyond the side seams for five inches and bind them. When you wear the blouse, knot the sash ends at either side and let them hang down. French blue gorgette bands on a tan gorgette blouse give a very pretty effect.

A "Can-a-Day" Canner. A home-made device that saves in more than one way is my "wee" canner. As my family is small, I often have enough vegetables or fruit to fill one jar, besides what I need for the immediate meal.

By using material at hand we made a canner to hold a quart or pint jar. I often fill a jar with the surplus, and boil it while getting a meal, thus adding to the store of good things to eat, and saving fuel and products that otherwise might go to waste.

For the container I use a gallon syrup pail, with wire rack that fits inside the pail. The rack is made of two pieces of baling wire, 22 inches long. They are crossed at centre of each, and securely tied with picture wire. Any kind of fine, pliable wire will do to tie with. The wires are bent upward at right angles, two inches from centre; the ends are bent back at top, to make ears to lift by. Two circular wires are fastened to the upright wires with the picture wire, two inches from top and bottom.

When I have more fruit or vegetables than required for a meal, I fill a jar, adjust rubber and lid, place in a rack, then in pail filled with cold water to neck of jar, boil the required minutes, and seal.

Often I cooked a large pumpkin or squash which I do not wish to use all at once. It is only a few minutes' work to fill a jar and process it, and I have pie filling ready for any emergency.

In winter I have preserved fresh meat for future use, a can or two at a time, with the same little outfit. The meat must be cooked tender, put in sterilized jar, covered with its own broth, and boiled an hour three consecutive days. It can be boiled for three hours at one time, but I think the former method is the safer one.

How To Do Things. For nothing lovelier can be found in woman, than to study household good.—Milton. When mosquitoes bite, moisten the end of a cake of common toilet soap, and rub it gently over the spot. In a few minutes all signs of irritation will have disappeared.

AutoStrop Razor

—sharpens itself

ALL safety razors seem alike because of the similarity in size and appearance. As regards the AutoStrop Razor, however, the resemblance ends there. Its peculiar and additional advantage is that, without being larger than any other safety razor, it combines within itself a self-stropping feature that enables the user to keep the blade sharp without taking anything apart. It thus prevents dull blades and the expense of buying new ones.

You may not be interested in economy of blades, but surely you want a good shave and that is only possible with a stropped blade.

Any dealer will demonstrate the AutoStrop Razor to you, guarantee satisfaction, or refund of purchase price.

Only $5.00 complete with strop and twelve blades in an attractive assortment of cases to suit any purpose.

HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A Returned Soldier Tells How He Regained Health and Strength.

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable transformation in the patient. The change is both physical and mental. The sufferer loses weight and strength, and frequently becomes irritable and fault finding. Troubles that were once thrown off without any difficulty assume exaggerated proportions. Other symptoms of this nervous condition are poor appetite, headaches, exhaustion after little effort, and frequently distress after meals.

The cause of this debility is generally starved nerves. The blood, which gives the nervous system its food and power to work efficiently, has become thin and weak, and until the blood regains its tone and strength there can be no improvement in the condition of the nerves. In cases of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found the very best medicine. They make rich, red blood which feeds and strengthens the starved nerves, and in this way restores the sufferer to full health and strength. Proof of this is found in the case of Mr. Fred Sander, London, Ont., who says: "While on service with the Imperial forces in Africa I completely lost my health through continual hardship and shock. I was sent back to the base hospital suffering, so the doctor said, from nervous debility. After spending some time in the hospital I was invalided back to England as unfit for further service. After spending a long time in Netley Hospital, I was given my discharge, but was still a weak and nervous wreck, absolutely unfit for work. I had neither the strength nor ambition to do anything. In London I doctored for three or four months with a civilian doctor, who finally advised a change of climate. I was terribly nervous, suffered from sleeplessness, smothering and sinking spells, and pains in the heart; my hands and feet were always cold and clammy. At this time I decided to come to Canada, and shortly after reaching this country was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After I had taken the pills for some weeks I found myself improving. I continued taking the pills for several months, with the result that they fully restored my health. My nerves are now as steady as a rock; my appetite the best, and my eyes and skin, which had turned yellowish, are clear and healthy looking. I feel like a new man in every way, and fit for anything. I have since recommended the pills to several friends, and know of several cases where they were beneficial in the influenza epidemic. I am of the opinion that should any of my returned soldier comrades use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for shell shock, they would be a great help to them."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mosquitoes and Colors

The anopheles mosquito, it appears, is attracted by certain colors and repelled by others. Experiments have been conducted in a gauze tent, one end of which was formed by large windows. Into these the sunlight poured on bright days. Large stone basins were placed on the floor for the mosquitoes to breed in.

It was immediately noticed that when a person entered the tent clad in dark grey clothes, the mosquitoes settled on the cloth. When the person entering was dressed in white flannel, they did not approach him.

A number of boxes lined with cloth of various colors were placed in rows upon the floor, and it was noticed that great numbers of mosquitoes entered the box lined with dark blue. Fewer of the insects sought the boxes lined with other colors, the number diminishing in this order: Dark red, brown, scarlet, black, slate gray, olive green, violet, leaf green, blue, pearl gray, pale green, light blue, ochre, white and orange. No mosquitoes whatever were found in the box lined with yellow.

The number of insects congregating in houses might therefore be easily lessened by the choice of suitable colors applied to the walls. A trap lined with something dark would attract so many insects that they could be slain in large numbers.

Velocity of Light

Physicists never tire of efforts to increase the accuracy of their knowledge of the fundamental facts of science. A redetermination of the velocity of light by the Fizeau toothed wheel method was made at Nice. These experiments were remarkable on account of the great distance over which the beam of light employed was transmitted. Previously such a beam had been caused to travel about fifteen miles, but on this occasion the reflecting mirror was so placed that the total distance traversed by the beam, going and returning, was fifty-seven miles. The mean of 1,109 observations gave the velocity of light 186,225 1/2 miles a second.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Planning Keats Memorial.

A committee has recently started in London to raise $50,000 to purchase the house called Wentworth Place, formerly known as Lawn Bank, which was the last home in England of the poet Keats. This house is situated close to Hampstead Heath. Attention was called to it when the place was offered for sale as an eligible building site. Next year is the centenary of the death of Keats.

I fell from a building and received what the doctor called a very bad sprained ankle, and told me I must not walk on it for three weeks. I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and in six days I was out to work again. I think it the best Liniment made.

Prune back the heads and long canes of blackberries and raspberries after picking is over.

Propagate black raspberries by tip-layering.

If bearing trees have not had their crops thinned before this, do it early in July. Thinning pays well in improving the quality of the fruit.

The last cultivation of the orchard trees may be made late in July. Plant a cover crop at this time consisting of rye, winter vetch, and perhaps some crimson clover if the climate is not too severe for it.

Keep the runners well pruned from the strawberry plants unless you are practicing the matted-row system.

Fight insects and disease by spraying; send to your experiment station, or call on your county representative for free literature.

BITS OF HUMOR FROM HERE & THERE

An Early Example.
Midas had just seen another ham sandwich turn to gold as his fingers touched it.
"This profiteering," he remarked sadly, "is something that can be carried entirely too far."

Era of Economy.
"Family discipline isn't what it used to be."
"No. When I was a child my parents used to take a slipper to me. No parent of the present would even put that much extra wear and tear on precious shoe leather."

The Modern Boy.
Teacher—"Now, Tom, hold your head up and your shoulders back—you'd like to have a fine carriage when you're a man, wouldn't you?"
Tom (doubtfully)—"Well, I'd rather have an aeroplane."

We often fail to recognize it, but the fact remains that to-day is trying to live up to the highest standard of yesterday's thought and determination.

Mennonites are beginning to think prairie wheat more profitable than water-melons, since their bluff to leave Canada to her fate wouldn't work.

...season of the year, and everybody is looking for a record crop.

A hailstorm story from Ohio says that two hailstones, each as large as a croquet ball, penetrated the roof of a farm house and a man is said to have picked up a hailstone that weighed eight ounces.

A Wisconsin farmer found a chicken with four legs among a recent batch of chickens. He wishes he could perpetuate the strain, thinking that four drumsticks would be popular on Sunday dinner tables.

A man named Lively lives alone on Isle Royal in Lake Superior. He did not see a single person all last winter but says he was too busy to be lonesome. He made a good many hundreds of dollars by fur-trapping.

There may be some relief come to the users of news print paper, if a hint dropped by Hon. Beniah Bowman at a meeting the other night has any real significance. He said, "As news print is so much in demand I sometimes think it would be a good thing for the Government to take it up and go in for paper making." Let's hope he does not stop there, and just think about it.

Changes in Game Act.

Some important changes have been made by the Provincial Government in the Game and Fisheries Act which became effective on June 1st. The hunting season for moose, deer or caribou, north and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers is from Oct. 28 to Nov. 30 both days inclusive. This is longer than the law previously allowed for deer.

Partridges may be shot between the 5th and 30th only and no person shall take, kill or have in his possession more than five birds in any one day and no more than ten birds in the season.

No muskrat shall be shot or speared at any time, nor shall any muskrat or beaver house or beaver dam be cut, speared, broken or destroyed at any time. No trap must be set closer than five feet from a beaver or muskrat house.

Another important change, affecting chiefly those who hunt with dogs is that those who hunt, kill, take or molest any deer or moose while in the water.

The Ontario Coal Problem

It is not too early to begin discussing the winter's coal, and the intelligent householder who has his supply already locked up in the cellar is quite ready to listen to anything that promises a reduction in next year's prices. We have been assured that the coal movement is normal, but it is difficult for the simple-minded citizen to regard the coal movement as normal which requires the payment of $17 or $18 a ton to get it moving. The Premier has assured the House of Commons that the United States will be gracious unto us, and give the most reasonable consideration in their power to the interests of this country. We believe this to be true, but it is a difficult question to say what is in their power. It is admitted that the coal supplies of our neighbors are appreciably lessening, that labor is scarce, expensive and intractable, that transportation is a most difficult problem and deliveries uncertain. The warning is sent out once more to citizens to get in their winter supplies as soon as they can. Some effort is being made by the Government to move coal in Canada and from the western and maritime pits to the central areas. Marine freight is being engaged to some extent, and as a means of hastening transport the Belleville route by lake steamer from Oswego is commended, having been found most expeditious. What is needed however is a coal mine in the north such as Alberta and Saskatchewan have in view. Western engineers are firm in their assertions that there is coal in the Hudson Bay district. They say the Ontario Government geologists never admit anything till it is shown them and that Cobalt and Porcupine would still be lying fallow had the opinion of the Government experts been followed. An Alberta expert declares that there is coal without any doubt in Northern Ontario. Perhaps the Minister of Mines will look over the situation once more.

KNECHTEL & KNECHTEL

Maryland young women at Hood College will have to be more careful of their mode of dress next term. The dean has written the parents: "The fashions in evening dress during the past year have been extreme and some of our students have shown an inclination to follow these styles rather than those that are more modest and more suitable for a college girl. On this account it will be the rule for next year that no evening dress may be worn by students of Hood College which does not have sleeves and which is lower than four inches from the neck line in front and six inches in back. All evening dresses must be shown to me before time for them to be worn and if they do not meet our requirements alterations will have to be made."

Hunt Up Participation Certificates.

The Canadian Wheat Board has decided to make an interim payment of 30 cents a bushel as soon as possible after the 15th of July, against the wheat represented by its participation certificates when such certificates are presented to the Board, says an official announcement. While the Board will be unable to determine the total value of the certificates before the business is completed, indications are that this payment represents approximately 75 per cent. Owners of participation certificates can send them either direct for payment or through any available agency. This report comes from Winnipeg as a Canadian Press Despatch.

Listowel Restaurant Robbed

While Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller and family were in Wroxeter Sunday evening, their restaurant on Main street, was broken into and a quantity of chocolates, both boxed and in bulk were stolen. Some other goods, including a quantity of cigars, were also thought to have been taken. The family reside over the restaurant, and the thieving party ascended the stairway at the street entrance, broke a lock admitting them to the living quarters and from there descended another stair-way to the interior of the store. After helping themselves to a generous supply of chocolates and other things, the thieves made their exit by way of a back door.—Listowel Banner.

A Business Man's Commandments.

- 1.— Don't lie. It wastes your time and ours. We're sure to catch you in the end, and that's the wrong end.
- 2.— Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes our faces long.
- 3.— Give us more than we expect and we will pay you more than you expect.
- 4.— You owe so much to yourself that you can't afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or out of our employ.
- 5.— Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, can't see temptation when they meet it.
- 6.— Mind your own business, and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

LORD FISHER WAS GREATEST NAVAL GENIUS SINCE NELSON

The British Navy in its Modern Form Was Undoubtedly the Creation of the First Sea Lord, Who Won an Immortal Place Among the Heroes of the Great War.

Admiral John Arbuthnot Fisher, First Baron of Kilverstone and former Lord of the Admiralty passed away on July 10. Lord Fisher had been seriously ill since early in May, when he underwent an operation.

The Late Lord Fisher.
Born, 1841; entered British Navy, 1854; lieutenant, 1860.
Served in Crimean, Chinese and Egyptian wars, 1855-1882.
Commander of the famous Inflexible, 1882.
Director of naval ordnance, 1880-1891.
Controller of the Navy and Lord of the Admiralty, 1892-1897.
Commander-in-chief North American and West Indies stations, 1897-1899.
Commander-in-chief, Mediterranean station, 1899-1902.
Second Sea Lord of Admiralty, 1902-1903.
Commander-in-chief, Portsmouth, 1903-1904.
First Sea Lord of Admiralty, 1904-1910 and 1914-1915.

Lord Fisher began his naval career in 1854, and while on active service took part in the Crimean, Chinese and Egyptian wars. He became Lord of the Admiralty in 1892, and First Sea Lord of the Admiralty in 1904, which post he held for six years.

Admiral "Jacky" Fisher

One of Britain's most famous "bulldozers," who has just passed away. He was a fearless fighter and naval reformer and lived to see the subjection of the power that threatened the supremacy of the Mistress of the Seas. He was one of the few men who saw the menace of Germany in her naval programme.

He emerged from retirement in October, 1914, to resume his post as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty and direct the naval warfare against Germany. His vigorous policy caused him to be termed "the Kitchener of the navy," and chief credit has been claimed for him in the bottling up of the German navy. Cabinet disputes led to his resignation in May, 1915, but he continued to serve the British Government in various capacities throughout the war, and was a prominent naval critic.

Lord Fisher was born on the island of Ceylon, January 25, 1841, and was the son of Captain William Fisher, of a Highland regiment stationed in the east at the time. He entered the navy when but thirteen years of age, and was commissioned a lieutenant in 1860. From this time on his rise in the service was continuous. He was married in 1865 to Miss Frances Broughton, who died in 1918. He is survived by one son and three daughters.

Britain's Idol.

Lord Fisher was for many years a popular idol in Great Britain, enjoying the affection and confidence of every rank of the people. He was known as the "father of the dreadnought," because he was the first to realize the vast power of this type of warship. During his term as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, from 1904 to 1910, he virtually revolutionized the navy. He entirely changed the old-established and worn-out strategic disposition of the fleet, and threw no less than 150 warships, from immense ironclads to light cruisers, into the scrap-heap as obsolete and out-of-date.

Being a reformer by nature, Lord Fisher's attack on September, 1919, in which he denounced the expenditures being made as "ruinous," might have been expected, but it caused a great sensation throughout the British Empire. Later Lord Fisher declared that in the submarine he saw the future seafighter and that the development of aviation had made invasion of Great Britain impracticable.

Greatest Modern Sailor.

Lord Fisher was one of the most picturesque characters the British Navy has had since Nelson. He began without friends or influence, and by sheer force of intellect and will advanced to the highest position of all, the position which is the inspiration of every officer in the service. He grew up in a rough school, and learned to take and give hard knocks. One gathers that he was not an easy man to work with; but he had sufficient brain power to have little need of collaboration, and some of the most important reforms that he brought about were the result of struggles in which he entered single handed. The dreadnought was Fisher's idea, so was the battle cruiser. He did not invent the turbine engine, but it was due to his persistent advocacy that it was generally adopted in the navy. It was also his idea to use the water-tube boiler; that is to say, to have the fire where the water was, and the water where the fire was, an improvement that made it possible to get up steam in a ship in twenty minutes, instead of seven hours. To use oil as fuel was also Fisher's idea.

"Did any other naval expert ever invent or adapt so many important improvements? Yet they are by no means all that stand to the credit of Lord Fisher." He devised the system of nucleus crews for warships, whereby a ship would always have its complement of brains aboard and could sent its extra man power wherever it was needed, or take the crude, raw article and fit it into position instantly. But perhaps the greatest stroke of all, whereby the strength of the British fleet was kept in the North Sea, was in carrying out Nelson's old maxim that your battleground should be your drill ground. Of course, the Entente with France was necessary before this revolutionary change in naval strategy could be achieved, but the Entente might have been in existence and the British fleet scattered all over the seven seas had the navy been without a man like Fisher. One does not like to imagine the Great War breaking out, the German navy at Kiel and the British ships stationed all over the Mediterranean, the China Sea, and the Pacific, as had been the immemorial practice before Fisher became First Sea Lord.

GREEKS ADVANCING FAR PAST BRUSSA

Enemy Reported Annihilated and Artillery Captured.

A despatch from Smyrna says:—An official communique issued from Army Headquarters on Thursday says that the advanced guard of the Greek forces has reached a line 15 kilometres beyond Brussa.

"We annihilated the enemy entrenched in the region of Brussa, capturing all his artillery," the statement adds.

A despatch from Constantinople says:—Major Venizelos, son of the Greek Premier, commanded the artillery of the Greek forces which recently entered Brussa.

As the Greeks approached the city the Nationalists waved a white flag, but treacherously killed a Greek who was sent to confer with them. Thereupon, Major Venizelos ordered the artillery to open fire, killing many Turks and quieting all opposition, so that the Greek flag was hoisted speedily over the Town Hall of the most historic city of the Ottomans.

PROGRESS IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION

Shown at Air Exhibition Being Held in London.

A despatch from London says:—The remarkable progress which Great Britain has made during the last year in commercial aviation was evident at the opening of the air exhibition at the Olympia, the largest air show ever staged. Speaking of what strides England has made, General Sykes, controller general of civil aviation, stated that during the last year there had been 38,954 flights covering nearly 750,000 miles, 70,000 passengers carried and more than 116,000 pounds of merchandise transported, although only 519 registered planes were used.

"We have conquered the air, and our immediate task is to exploit our victory in the interest of commercial development," General Sykes stated, adding that only one plane met with a fatal accident.

The Olympia exhibition, which has displays by all of the British airplane manufacturers, is unique in that it shows airplanes with sleeping compartments, airplane loungines and air jitneys.

Air travel is becoming so popular between here and the continent that it was suggested at the Olympia that facilities for straphangers would soon be available on the machines flying from here to Paris and Brussels.

32 CANADIAN SHIPS FINISHED

Out of 63 in Course of Construction For Mercantile Marine.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—Such satisfactory progress is being made with the construction of Canada's mercantile marine fleet that it is believed in Government circles that the whole fleet of 63 vessels will be in commission by March 31 next, the end of the current fiscal year.

Up to the present time 32 vessels have been finished, and splendid headway is being made with the other half of the fleet. Particularly good progress is being made at the Montreal, St. John, Collingwood and Port Arthur yards.

Several vessels of large tonnage being built in inland yards will be utilized in ocean-going services, and it will be necessary to bring them through the canals to the St. Lawrence in sections.

Hood is Largest of World's Battleships

A despatch from Yokohama, Japan, says:—The Japanese battleship Mutsu, recently launched here, is closely comparable with the newest American battleship, the Maryland, launched at Newport News, in March. Both warships, however, are considerably smaller and less speedy than the great British battleship cruiser Hood, launched on the Clyde, in August, 1918. The Hood, on the other hand, is armed with 15-inch guns in her main battery, while the Mutsu and the Maryland will have an equal number of 16-inch rifles.

Canada's fisheries have doubled in value since 1914.

Spa As a Health Resort.

Spa has a double interest at present for those who are seeking health after the disease of war and for health-seekers in the ordinary way, in addition to the interest it holds at the present moment as the scene of the Allied Conference.

Within ten kilometres of the German frontier, Spa, invaded on August 4, 1914, was transformed by the Germans into a huge sanatorium and convalescent station. In March, 1919, it became the abode of the German G.H. Q., and from thence, on the evening of November 9, fled William Hohenzollern, having signed his abdication at the Hotel Britannique. From November, 1918, to July, 1919, the International Armistice Commission held its sessions at Spa, and it has now been chosen for the meetings of the Supreme Council of the Allies. Spa did not escape scot-free. The Casino, occupied by the Germans, was destroyed by fire in 1917, the wonderful "Etablissement des Bains" was sacked, and its beautiful apparatus and fittings were carried off to Germany; the luxurious hotels and villas inhabited by the enemy's soldiers were mere wrecks. But by dint of hard work these disasters have been repaired, and nothing has been spared to restore the "Queen of Europe's watering-places" to the dignity she has long possessed.

TO TRAVEL 2,000 MILES TO TRY ESKIMO CASE

Canadian Government Sends Judge Into Hudson Bay Territory.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—As a stop-over on their long journey back to the land of endless ice and snow, Sergeant Douglas, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and Ouangwak, an Eskimo murderer from the regions around the North Pole, arrived in Ottawa recently and were quartered at the "mounties" headquarters at 120 Victoria street. Ouangwak is a British subject.

After his long journey from the Northland to Winnipeg, his native garments were in a sad state of disrepair, so that he comes to Ottawa in the raiment of a white man. He is in the neighborhood of 60 to 27 years of age, and has been noticeably failing since he left his native snows.

The Eskimo is charged with having murdered a brother native in order to obtain the latter's wife, whom he wanted for his own, in the region around Chesterfield Inlet. Ouangwak is going back to stand trial in his own country as a reminder to his brother natives that the law of the white man must be respected.

He will be the first native who has ever been tried in his own country. Next year the Department of Justice will send a judge on the long journey to Chesterfield, and a court will be held there for the edification of the Eskimos. This will be the first time that a judge has ever penetrated into that part of the North-west Territories.

Another murder case has been reported to the police from the same region. This will be investigated by Sergt. Douglas during the coming winter, and, if possible, the perpetrator of the second crime will stand trial with the Eskimo who is now in Ottawa.

From Ottawa the greater part of the journey to Chesterfield will be on one of the comfortable Hudson Bay Co.'s trading steamers, sailing from Montreal. Chesterfield, by the sea route, is almost 4,000 miles from Montreal.

DOMINION'S GRAIN ACREAGE IS LOWER

Bureau of Statistics Report Shows Slight Decrease From 1919.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—The acreage sown to wheat, including fall wheat, in all Canada, is now estimated at 17,186,300 acres, which compares with 19,125,968 acres, the final estimate for 1919, and represents a decrease of 10 per cent. Spring wheat according to the estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, occupies this year 16,446,000 acres, or 11 per cent. less than last year. Fall wheat acreage this year is 740,300 acres, an increase of 10 per cent. over last year. Acreage in oats has increased 4 per cent. from 14,952,114 to 15,555,400 acres. Barley is sown on 2,588,000 acres, or 2 per cent. less than last year; rye, 729,500 acres, or 3 per cent. less; peas, 2,588,000 acres, a decrease of 3 per cent.; mixed grains, 909,350 acres, an increase of 1 per cent.; hay and clover, 10,409,150 acres, decrease 2 per cent.; alfalfa, 229,300 acres, increase 1 per cent. The area in potatoes is 819,000 acres, practically the same as last year.

The Prairie Provinces have an estimated area sown to wheat of 15,771,000 acres, against 17,750,167 last year, a decrease of 10 per cent. Manitoba has 2,687,000, against 2,880,301 last year; Saskatchewan, 9,440,000 acres, against 10,587,363; Alberta, 3,644,000 acres, against 4,282,386 acres last year.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS TORONTO.

With a run of cattle in the neighborhood of 2000 head on the Union Yards yesterday, the demand for the better class of butchers, heavy weight steers and heifers was probably a shade easier but with straight loads of cattle selling at $14 and in a few cases $16.50 per cwt. there was mighty little with this class. The demand keeps consistently good, but the tone was undoubtedly easier on the lighter and comparatively ill-finished lots. Probably from 15c to 30c per cwt. would about indicate the difference. There were some who thought the decline was more marked, and in some cases this was so, and in others the lighter bunches held fully strong with last week's close. Most of the commission houses report a fair good clean-up and said they were well satisfied with the day's business.

With over 1100 sheep and lambs on the market trade held about steady, choice light sheep sold from 8 1/2c to 9 1/2c, heavy fat sheep and bucks, 7 1/2 to 8 1/2c.

choice spring lambs weighing from 70 to 80 lbs. sold from 17 1/2 to 18c. The market was well cleaned up.

With 450 calves on sale trade was about steady, choice calves 17c to 17 1/2c, with an odd one at 18c, medium 15c to 16 1/2c, common calves, 9c to 12c. Good demand for good choice veal as there are very few coming on the market now. As far as could be learned hogs are holding about steady.
