HANS SCHMIDT

The illustration of Hans Schmidt shows the priest with a beard, and that beard makes a wonderful change in his facial appearance. Somehow it softens the lines of his face and does not make it so cruel and cynical as it really is.

BERTHA ZECH

The picture of Bertha Zech was also found in Schmidt's trunk and shows clearly that he was acquainted with the girl, who was employed by his friend, Dr. Muret, who with him is charged with counterfeiting.

Historic remark that flat on 8th St. Muret was not associated with the murder. There are no other flats of present I would to have a furnished room with Anna but she is very young.

NOTE WRITTEN TO HERALD REPORTER BY FATHER HANS SCHMIDT

They were sent out late last night after the police had heard the story of Louis Prgn, an expressman, who asserted he heard a muffled voice from the trunk which he hauled from an alley on the west side to a corner in the vicinity, where it was transferred to an automobile truck.

For Twenty-five Miles Fire Beat Its Way Across the Country.

The fire started eight miles northeast of Stirling, and R. C. Harvey, who had some difficulty in getting his sheep out of the track of the fire, says a million dollars will not cover the damage to the range.

Mr. E. N. Compton of the Department of Labor, Ottawa, arrived in the city yesterday in response to a complaint received by the Department on Sept. 15th. HARRY K. THAW FACES NEW HAMPSHIRE GOVERNOR

His Case of Extradition is Being Threshed Out Today—Crowd Watched Him Into Capitol and Then Dispersed.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 23.—Harry K. Thaw's real fight for freedom began to-day. QUITE A GIST OF CASES TO-DAY

Police Court Session—Ernest Pike is Committed for Trial This Morning.

When George Ernest Pike, the young Oakland Township farm laborer, appeared before Magistrate Livingston in police court this morning, on a charge of perjury, the accused a plea of not guilty entered and elected to be tried by a jury, and also expressed a willingness to waive examination. He was therefore bound over to appear at the next sitting of the General Sessions to be held in December. The charge against Pike arose, it will be remembered, as a result of recent police court proceedings, in which the young man was charged with the theft of a revolver from a neighbor named Porter. During the police court hearing Pike swore that he purchased the revolver, which was found among his possessions, from a Jew in Kingston, and gave the Court the names of the storekeeper, and a witness whom he said was with him when he made the purchase.

Money is Tight. Mr. David Dick, manager of the National Sack & Material Co., was charged by five employees with non-payment of wages. Mr. W. S. NEW DEVICE TO REGULATE TRAFFIC

A semaphore device has been tried in Philadelphia for regulating traffic. The idea is pronounced a complete success. Instead of the noisy whistle in use heretofore the signal shows in the illumination of a traffic light. When the arm is extended over the roadway traffic must stop. The policeman stands at the base of the signalling device and by pulling a lever pulls or starts traffic.

The word "stop" on the arm can be seen a block away. While working the lever the policeman, confident that the drivers can see it, can keep an eye on conditions about him.

Sunday at the Local Churches

Alexandra Presbyterian
Mr. Cook of Cainsville was expected to occupy the pulpit for the morning service, but owing to illness was unable to do so. Mr. Milford of Smiths Falls proved a most acceptable substitute. Mr. Milford's theme for consideration was "Sacred places and sacred memories." A solo, "Thy Will be Done," was appropriately sung by Mrs. Barton; the anthem solo was pleasingly sung by Miss Martlette. At the evening service, the Rev. Dr. McClintock concluded a series of four inspiring and profitable sermons on "Friendship," the subject was "Human and Divine Friendship," founded on the text, "Ye shall know them by their fruits." "Rock of Ages" was admirably sung by Mr. Leo Jess. Mr. W. F. Cullen in his splendid rendition of "Ora Pro Nobis," delighted all. Rally day will be observed at the morning service next Sunday. Scholars, parents and friends are asked to be present, and make the service an inspiration.

Debentures Sold.
SASKATOON, Sask., Sept. 23.—The town of Hanley, which for some months, vainly attempted to dispose of $15,000 six percent debentures, has sold them to an American banking firm at 100. The debentures bore accrued interest amounting to $200. The debentures were offered 18 months ago, but defects in the town by-law prevented the sale until after a time when the demand for debentures had slackened.

Australian's Trip

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 23.—The Australian cricketers played their final match against a Vancouver fifteen, winning easily by the score of 600 runs for the loss of eight wickets, against 139 runs by Vancouver's representatives. Heavy batting by the touring eleven featured the contest. The Australians will close their American tour with a three days' match at Victoria the last of the week.

HELPING THE WEST

Hon. Dr. Roche, Minister of Interior, in a speech made at Regina made some important announcements which will be welcome news to the western farmer.

Homestead regulations—Dr. Roche announced that there would likely be some changes in the homestead regulations this coming season.

A CHEAP SNEER OF THE LOCAL GRIT ORGAN

It is announced that Hon. Robert Rogers will lay the cornerstone of the new post-office building in this city next month.

As a matter of fact, and the editor of the Expositor knows, because he was one of them, the Liberal representatives of the Brants for many years grossly neglected the interests of this city and county.

One of the incidents was the justified need of a suitable public building for the housing of the Customs, the Inland Revenue and the Post-office departments.

Mr. C. B. Heyd, then Liberal M.P. for this Riding, was urged in this legitimate regard by The Courier and others even on his own side.

But nothing doing. Then Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, who defeated Mr. Heyd in the next general election, secured from the Laurier Government the admission that the need existed.

Once more nothing doing. Finally, Mr. Lloyd Harris became elected, and under his auspices there was an offer to put up a building if the city would give half the market square for nothing; otherwise there would be nothing doing.

That was about the cheekiest proposition that could have been put up to this community, but the Expositor supported it tooth and nail in characteristic fashion.

Finally Mr. Cockshutt won out in 1911 with a few hundreds of a majority to spare, and he commenced at once to become active on behalf of a need long overdue. There is always more or less of a delay in such matters, as the editor of the Expositor very well knows, for he tried some things when a member which never saw fruit.

Mr. C. B. Heyd and Mr. Lloyd Harris, Grit M. P.'s, admittedly didn't do anything tangible during many years. Within eighteen months of Mr. Cockshutt's acquisition of the seat, land had been acquired and ground broken for the needed new structure.

The Expositor would show far greater sense if it allowed such matters to rest in oblivion, rather than to drag the culpable shortcomings of itself and its party into the light.

The new Brantford public building is now well underway, whereas if it had rested with our cotem and its associates, not one solitary sod would have been turned up to date.

The organ should confine itself to such subjects as to how the seller can get more, and the consumer pay less.

The truth of the matter is that since the advent of the Borden government in 1911, the just needs of Brantford and Brant County have been justly recognized, whereas under the auspices of Grit members they were grossly and shamelessly neglected.

Brantford's new public building, an improved post office at Paris, rural mail delivery, additions to local public staffs in order to properly attend to public business—these and a number of necessities have been looked after by Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., and Mr. J. Fisher, M.P., and were ignored and scornfully ignored under the auspices of Grit representatives.

The Expositor ought to seek to avoid remembrance of these things instead of trying to call public attention to them.

The four Brants made no mistake whatever when they went Conservative, and they are going to stay that way.

BRANTFORD'S RECREATION AREA

Miss Julia Schoenfeld, Secretary of the Parks and Playgrounds Association of America, has prepared a report for Montreal as to the facilities of that city in this regard. Here are some of the figures advanced by her:

Table with 3 columns: City, People of Park, Pctg. of Park to Total Area. Rows include Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, St. Louis, Boston, Pittsburgh, Rochester.

Perhaps some figures, with regard to the standing of Brantford may be of interest. Thanks to the Parks Board—a board at first quite freely criticized, but whose great value to the city is now generally admitted, we have done much better than some other places of like size. Here is the list:

Table with 3 columns: Location, Acres, Pctg. of Park to Total Area. Rows include Waterworks Grounds, O. I. B. Grounds, Agricultural Park, Jubilee, Tutela Park, Jroquois Park, St. Brantford, Alexandria, St. Paul's Ave., N. Oxford St., Bell Homestead, Bell Memorial, Victoria, Gore, St. Andrews, Gilkison, South Oxford.

This makes the following splendid showing:

Table with 3 columns: Location, People of Park, Pctg. of Park to Total Area. Rows include Brantford, West Brantford.

There is nothing more important specially with the growing use of automobiles, than keeping children from playing on the streets, and the more breathing spots we have the better.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

They are having sharp frosts in the West. Let 'em come. The grain crop is safe.

Daylight will continue to shorten until December 21st, but it is a pretty safe tip that prices won't.

The official figures just published show Russell Sage left a fortune of $64,411,218. Just think of the responsibility of looking after such a sum and then be thankful that you haven't got it.

It looks as if it will be necessary to revise the national anthem with regard to a couple of lines as follows:

Happy and glorious Save for Ulsterious.

What the local Grit organ would really like to see in the matter of a public building is a little more yellow paint on the present old structure, such as it applauded just prior to the election of 1896.

Overheard on an outgoing train: "Tell you what, Brantford is a gee ahead place. Why they have the steel work erected for a department store on Dalhousie street which would do credit to Toronto." Come to think of it, that's what the structure will be—Customs, Inland Revenue and Post-office departments.

An Easy Way Professor Alfred E. Sterns, principal of the Phillips Andover academy said at the recent alumni dinner in New York:

"The easiest way in raising funds, as in other things, is the wrong way. I remember a man and his easy spelling rule.

In Orange in my childhood I once complained of the difficulties of spelling. I said that 'ei' and 'ie' in such words as 'receive' and 'believe' always stumped me.

"Then this man patted me on the head and smiled, and said: 'My boy, I will give you an infallible rule of 'ei' and 'ie', a rule that in forty-seven years has never failed me.'

"I expressed my delight and waited. The man resumed: 'The rule is simply this: Write your 'i' and 'e' exactly alike and put your 't' exactly between them.'

BANDMASTER'S COMEBACK

Brantford Sept. 23, 1913

The item in your last evening's edition relating to trouble in the 25th Brant Dragoon Band is untrue in nearly every particular. Your informant is a vindictive prevaricator. The officers of the 25th Brant Dragoons have more than kept their promises with the band and are thorough gentlemen. The debts and uniforms of the old City Band have nothing to do with the 25th Brant Dragoon Band. The utmost unity and good feeling exists among the members of the 25th Brant Dragoon Band and the band has never been in better or more efficient condition.

time, having a lot of money out, but promised that if the case was adjourned for a week everything would be arranged in the meantime.

The men objected to the adjournment strenuously, stating that their boarding house keepers were pressing them for their money.

Mr. Brewer stated that if an order was issued against the company they could not pay the money any sooner, as they did not have it, but he promised to get the money during the next week.

The case was adjourned.

No Blessing for Cop. "God bless you, sir, but not that big tall policeman," said James Fitzgerald, an aged man, when Magistrate Livingston allowed him to go on a charge of vagrancy. The police claimed that Fitzgerald had been begging, but he was indignant at the charge, and in a loud voice termed it a "story." Fitzgerald admitted that he had received charity at the hands of the city on previous occasions, and on one occasion he had been given a free ticket out of the city. At the present time he was on his way to Stratford, he said. The magistrate allowed him to go with a warning.

Does He Like Work? Alfred Austin, who was in court a few days ago, was again in the dock as a vagrant. The accused claimed that he could not get work, but the police offered to produce witnesses who had offered him work and he refused. Then Austin claimed he did not feel well, which was his second reason for not working.

He was remanded to jail for one week.

Mike Annill was charged with false pretences, but the case, which is a trivial one, was allowed to stand until to-morrow.

Archie McCoy, charged as a drunk, blamed the wet weather of yesterday for his downfall. It was pointed out to him that on many previous occasions he had been charged with a similar offence. He was allowed to go on payment of a $3 fine, and with a warning.

Worst "Bonehead" Play I Ever Saw. Recently a Chicago paper opened up a section of its columns to readers to recount bonehead plays, which had come under their observation. A great many replies were received. Some showed that many of the fans had seen extraordinary lapses on the part of the players. The following was however awarded the palm as the greatest "story of ivory work" recounted.

The worst bonehead play I ever saw was pulled off in a game at Lake Shore play-grounds. Man on second and third with none out. Batter hit to third base and was thrown out at first. Runner on third made no effort to score but man on second was off with the crack of the bat and running past man on third was out at plate, first baseman to catcher. The play was close and the fans started to kick, overlooking the fact that the runner was out for running past man on third. In the meantime the runner at third for some reason walked off that base toward home and was tagged.

CHAPTER XVII.

THREE days after the arrival of the recruiting force at the plateau Guy Oswald had organized a retreating party, commanded by Joseph, to convey Jack Meredith down to the coast. He knew enough of medicine to recognize the fact that there was no passing indisposition, but a freedom from care could repair. The work and anxiety of the last year, added to the strange disquieting breath of the simianlike grove, had brought about a serious collapse in the system which only months of rest and freedom from care could repair.

Before the retreating column was ready to march it was discovered that the hostile tribes had finally evacuated the country, which deliverance was almost a stroke through the forest, not by the desperate defense of the plateau, but by the whisper that Victor Durnovo was with them. Truly a man's reputation is a strange thing!

And this man, the mighty warrior whose name was as good as an army in central Africa, went down on his knees one night to Guy Oswald, imploring him to abandon the simianlike plateau, or at all events to allow him to go down to Loango with Meredith and Joseph.

"No," said Oswald; "Meredith held this place for us when he could have left it safely. He has held it for a year. It is our turn now. We will hold it for him. I am going to stay, and you have to stay with me."

For Jack Meredith life was at this time nothing but a constant, never ceasing fatigue. When Oswald helped him into the gough litter he had constructed for his comfort, he laid his head on the pillow, overcome with a dead sleep.

"Goodby, old chap," said Oswald, patting him on the shoulder.

"G'by," and Jack Meredith turned over on his side as if he were in bed, drew up the blanket and closed his eyes. He did not seem to know where he was, and what was worse, he did not seem to care. Oswald gave the signal to the bearers, and the march began. There is something in the spring of human muscles unlike any other motive power; the power of thought may be felt even on the pole of a litter, and one thing that modern invention can never equal is the comfort of being carried in the human shoulder.

The slow, swinging movement came to be part of Jack Meredith's life—indeed, life itself seemed to be nothing but a huge journey thus peacefully accomplished. Through the flapping curtains an endless procession of trees passed before his half-closed eyes. The unintelligible gabble of the light-hearted bearers of his litter was all that reached his ears. And ever at his side was Joseph, cheerful, indefatigable, resourceful.

There was in the mind one of the greatest happinesses of life—the sense of something satisfactorily accomplished—the peacefulness that comes when the necessity for effort is past and left behind—that lying down to rest which must surely be something like death in its kindest form.

The awe inspired by Victor Durnovo's name went before the litter caravan like a moral convoy and cleared their path. Thus, guarded by the name of a man whom he hated, Jack Meredith was enabled to pass through a savage country literally cast upon a bed of sickness.

In due course the river was reached and the gentle swing of the litter was changed for the smoother motion of the canoe. And was it this period of the journey, in the forced restfulness of body entailed, at Joseph's mild soared to higher things and he determined to write a letter to Sir John. He was, he admitted to himself, not so great a penman, and his epistolary style tended, perhaps, more to the forcible than to the finished.

"Somethin'," he reflected, "that'll just curl his back hair for 'im; that's what I'll write 'im."

Maria had been devastated, and it was within the roofless walls of Durnovo's house that Joseph finally wrote care-well he took, Master having kind friends at Loango, I have no anxiety as to the future, but honored sir, it has been a near touch in the past—just touch and go, so to speak. Not being in a position to furnish a estimate of what the matter with master, I can only respectfully mention that I take it to be a general collapse of the system, brought on, I doubt, by too long a living in the unhealthy plateau of central Africa. When I get him to Loango I shall go straight to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, where we stayed before, and with no fear that we will be received with every kindness and the greatest hospitality. Thank God, honored sir, I've kept my health and strength, wonderful and am therefore more able to look after master. When we reach Loango I shall ask Miss Gordon kindly to write to you, sir, so long as I have no great facility with my pen, I am, honored sir, your respectful servant, to command.

JOSEPH ATKINSON, Late Corporal Two Hundred and Seventeenth Regiment.

With a feeling of considerable satisfaction Joseph approached the bungalow at Loango three days later. The short sea voyage had somewhat refreshed Meredith, who had been drowsy of walking up from the beach, but after a short attempt had been compelled to enter the spring cart which Joseph had secured.

Joseph walked by the side of the cart with an erect carriage and a suppressed importance suggestive of ambulance duty in the old days.

As the somewhat melancholy cortege approached the house, Meredith drew back the dusky brown holland curtain and looked anxiously out. Nor were Joseph's eyes devoid of expectation. He thought that Jocelyn would presently emerge from the flower-bung house over and over again a neat, respectful speech, explanatory of his action in bringing a sick man to the house.

But the hanging fronds of flowers and leaf, remained motionless, and the cart drove unchallenged round to the principal door.

A black servant—a stranger—held the handle and stood back invitingly. Supported by Joseph's arm, Jack Meredith entered. The servant threw open the drawing room door. On the table lay two letters, one addressed to Guy Oswald, the other to Jack Meredith.

Jack Meredith fumbled rather feebly at his letter. It was distinctly an effort to him to tear the paper.

My Dear Meredith—Just a line to tell you that the bungalow and its contents are at your service. Jocelyn and I are off home for two months' change of air. I have been a bit seedy, I leave this at the bungalow, and we shall feel hurt if you do not make the house your home when ever you happen to come down to Loango. I have left a similar note for Oswald, in whose expedition to your relief I have all faith. Yours ever,

"For many years, I suffered torture from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited food constantly and lost 35 pounds in weight. I was afraid the disease was Cancer.

I read about "Fruit-a-lives" and the wonderful cures this fruit medicine was making, and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say every other treatment failed, and I reverently say "Thank God for 'Fruit-a-lives'!"

A WRONG PRESCRIPTION. A military bandsman complained to the surgeon of a very bad sore throat. The surgeon examined the man's throat carefully and said perhaps it would be better if he did not use it so often in any way for some time, so he wrote a certificate for a fortnight's sick leave.

At the end of a week the surgeon met the bandsman and recognizing him said: "Well, my man, how's your throat?" "Quite well now, sir, thank you." "Oh, good! You're quite fit for duty, then? By the way, what instrument do you play in the band?" "The kettle drum, sir," replied the bandsman.

Mother—Well, your fiance has sailed. It hurts one to have to part as you did last evening, doesn't it, dearie?" Engaged Daughter—Yes, mother; I ache in every rib to-day!

Some Traffic This. Complaints have reached the police department about the large number of automobiles which stand on West St. between William and Albion Sts. during a performance at the Grand Opera House. The residents state that entrance to their residences is sometimes an impossibility. During the last performance there were 32 automobiles lined up on each side of the street, in some cases two deep. It is not the desire of the police-department to cause the motorists any trouble, but it is asked that the best of judgement be used.

ROYAL ASSENT IS TO BE WITHHELD

Before Home Rule Bill Becomes Law—Statement is Made Public.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Unionist newspapers give much prominence to a statement printed in the Liverpool Courier, which claims to have the authority of a very eminent politician. The statement is to the effect that it is absolutely certain that the Home Rule Bill receives the Royal Assent.

The author of the statement does not know whether or not this consultation will take the form of a general election or a referendum, and is equally ignorant as to the date.

Much irresponsible gossip is gathering around this assertion, but there is nothing more reliable than the statement itself. The insurance market reflected the interest in the story and 25 per cent. was accepted to cover payment of a total loss in the event of a general election being held before June next, but there was not much business doing.

The Provincial Government. The attention of politicians is centred for the moment in Ulster, where important doings are scheduled for the current week. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, and Lieut-General Sir George Richardson, the "General" of the Ulster volunteers, attended meetings at Belfast yesterday preliminary to the submission to a conference at Craigavon to-day of a scheme for a provisional government at Ulster.

Practically all of the Irish Unionists will attend this week's meetings, which will culminate on Thursday in a conference of the Ulster Council. The military arrangements are being continued. It is announced that Major-General Sir William Thompson has accepted the position of Adjutant-General of the Ulster forces. He is a veteran of the war in South Africa, and a companion of his in that campaign, Colonel George William Hackett Bain, will be his chief of staff. The province, it is said, is being mapped into military commands under the superintendence of General Richardson, but it is admitted that "much remains to be done before the Ulster forces can be considered satisfactory."

Review of Volunteers. It has been claimed that the strength of the Ulster volunteers is now 35,000 out of the promised 100,000. There will be a parade of these volunteers in Belfast next Saturday, in which it is promised that 12,000 men will participate.

Belfast is outwardly very quiet, and there is nothing to show that it is on the eve of the momentous doings which the Unionist papers talk about. Meanwhile, the Radical press is busy, and predicts that it will end in universal derision.

FATHER OF ACCUSED TO COME TO NEW YORK

He Hopes That it Will Not Be His Son After All.

[Canadian Press Despatch] NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The aged father of John (Hans) Schmidt, self-confessed murderer of Anna Amuter, has decided to come to New York from his home in Aschaffenberg, Germany, according to a despatch received here from the German town last night. The parments of Hans Schmidt still hope to find that the accused priest is not their son.

Two alienists employed by District Attorney Whitman will examine Schmidt, probably to-morrow. It is understood that one of the tests of the priest's mental condition will be in taking him to the morgue and asking him to identify the recovered portions of the woman's body. Practically the entire case against Schmidt now rests on the question of his mental responsibility.

Work on the excavations for the inferior storage elevators will be commenced within a week, according to the contractors who have decided not to sublet the work, but hire teams and men and do it themselves. The material has all been ordered, and as a spur track has been laid, will be rushed to the site.

Drumbo Fair Drumbo Fair is being held to-day and to-morrow.

Lockjaw Case. A valuable pacing mare, the property of R. W. Simons, died Saturday night from lock-jaw.

The White Hopes. Mr. W. B. Preston was in attendance as President at the meeting of Young Liberals in Toronto last evening. It was announced that Sir Wilfred Laurier would make a tour of Ontario in November.

Noted Preacher Coming. A series of lectures will be given in Park Baptist Church next month by Rev. Chalmers McPherson of Fort Worth, Texas, a noted divine. He will also preach on the Sunday preceding the lectures.

Escaped Lunatics. W. J. Moore and Daniel Sky, two inmates, made their escape from the Hamilton Asylum yesterday and both are said to be violent at times. The police have been on the lookout for them, and surrounding places have been notified of the occurrence. Sky is an Indian who at one time lived on the Six Nations Reserve.

Colborne Street. Mr. A. W. Burt, principal at the Collegiate Institute was the speaker at the meeting of the Colborne St. Epworth League last night. Mr. Burt dealt with one of Dickens' works, "A Tale of Two Cities" giving an outline of the story. He dealt particularly with the hero of the tale, Sidney Carton. Misses Walton rendered an instrumental duet. The chair was taken by Mr. Russell Frayne. There was a good attendance.

At the conclusion of the speech Mr Wood proposed that the banqueters show their appreciation, by hand clapping. This was indulged in with much enthusiasm.

Mrs. Yeigh Replies. Mrs. Yeigh replied for the ladies. She hoped the banquet was but the beginning of things better. There was much affection for the old building, but she hoped the affection for the new building would be even greater. Mention was made by the speaker of the co-operation and work that would be required to make the operations in the new building a success.

Mr. Wedlake a Speaker. Mr. George Wedlake, the honorary president of the association was called and delivered a stirring address.

Mr. Wedlake at the outset expressed himself as being glad at meeting such an enthusiastic and good looking bunch, and from their appearance he drew that the workers had plenty of energy and were ready for the battle in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. Although he had been away during the summer enjoying himself he was glad that others had been busy working and preparing for the coming year. He had been told that there was not a better Y. M. C. A. building in the Dominion. This remark brought a round of applause. Now that the factory building, the equipment and staff had been secured, the raw material must now be got.

The Campaign. The securing of 1,000 members was believed by the speaker to be not reaching out far enough. It occasioned him some surprise when he learned that the directors had mortgaged the building for $25,000, believing that the citizens should have been given an opportunity to raise the amount. If others were ready he was ready to help wipe off the indebtedness.

Expressed Approval. The speaker expressed his approval of the decision made by the directors by which boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years will be admitted to the association. The boy of 15 or 16 years was filling the places to-day which the young men of 21 to 25 years old filled some years ago.

There is a great deal of enthusiasm and energy in the boy and this could not be bottled up. The Y. M. C. A. with its gymnasium and equipment was believed by the speaker to be a good place to expend the energy away from the influences of the street.

Good Influence. If it could be seen the good that would be accomplished by getting young men into the association, no one would be too great. In the Y. M. C. A. the speaker believed the young man could touch more fellows than in any other place. It was for the worker to feel that he had a commission from God. By the good work help to do away with parents with white hair, made white by brief singing, "O Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?"

Asked for Co-Operation. In his closing remarks he asked that fathers and mothers and sons all do their part in the name of God so that young men may be brought in touch with the association to the salvation of their souls.

Mr. Wood said the campaigners were going out offering value. He then called upon the Brant Mal Quartet, who rendered "Robin Adair" and as an encore, "Annie Laurie."

The speaker of the evening, Mr. George A. Warburton, general secretary of the association in Toronto, was called and delivered as fine an address as could be wished to be listened to. The heart and soul of the speaker is in his work and his enthusiasm as he spoke went out to the workers.

Toronto Problems. During his opening remarks the speaker dealt with the problems the Toronto Y. M. C. A. workers had to deal with. A campaign was held there three years ago, when sufficient money was secured to put up 4 buildings and then the population had become so much greater that six new buildings were required. The speaker believed that the Y. M. C. A. work in Ontario largely influenced the work in the west.

A New Type of "Y". The speaker was glad to see the progressive spirit locally. There was a time when such a group as gathered last night could not have been gotten together. The old type of Y. M. C. A. did not attract the young owing to old men and old young men being associated with it. The old Y. M. C. A. did a lot of good work but it did not cover the field.

The speaker dealt with the social side. He believed the workers were gathered together partly from the love of sociability. "Why is it men go to clubs?" He answered this question by stating it is for friendship but of course there are sometimes other motives. If the social element were eliminated the social evils would be removed.

The evil cannot be fought unless it is met by something social. The speaker believed that more good could be done by sociability than by prayer. The Y. M. C. A. has realized this. Before the inauguration reaches 25 years of age the course upward or downward will be set. The course is determined by the associates.

The Intellectual. The speaker then dealt with the Y. M. C. A. as an educational source. Mr. Warburton had gone to work at 14 and without the advantages of a very elaborate education. On one occasion he was asked to go in a debating which he did. It led him to study American history. The speaker believed that the boy who had had advantages and the boy who had not should be brought together.

The Y. M. C. A. declared the speaker is intended to put the ladder down and give the boy a chance. He believed the Y. M. C. A. should be equipped with a library even better than the public library. If there was a library directly across from the association, he would have one in the Y. M. C. A.

The Physical. The speaker dealt with the physical end of the Y. M. C. A. work. If the Y. M. C. A. never did anything more than keep the young men physically fit, it would be worth the worth ten times what the building cost.

What It Should Be. The Y. M. C. A., the speaker did not believe, should be a rich man's club, nor yet a place lacking refinement. It should be a place where one might come, and the boy who had not had a chance would be lifted up.

Influenced His Life. Two instances during his young life were cited by the speaker, which had an influence on his life. During his boyhood he frequently saw a gentleman who was a model physically. On one occasion, a gentleman, seeing he was in trouble, inquired the cause of the trouble. On being told by Mr. Warburton that he had lost a hatchet, he assisted him in finding it. He had been trying to live that principle out ever since.

During his closing remarks, the speaker told the workers that when they go out to canvass to remember that each man is an association and also to go out believing that the work is a commission from God.

Chairman of Work Speaks. The quartet rendered a number, after which Mr. Chas. Thompson, chairman of the membership committee, after leading in giving three cheers for Mr. Goodwin, the secretary, who has labored so zealously during the building of the association, made fitting reference to Mr. J. H. Crocker, American history. The speaker believed that the boy who had had advantages and the boy who had not should be brought together.

HURONIC IS SAFE, WIRELESS FAILED

No Occasion for Worry at All Said Captain of Big Boat.

A special despatch last night from Sault Ste. Marie, said—

The steamer Huronic, Capt. Campbell, arrived at the Soo at 10 o'clock last night, 36 hours late, owing to a terrific gale which raged on Lake Superior Saturday night and all day Sunday. When out from Port Arthur about fifteen miles, the vessel encountered the worst gale of the season, but there was no occasion for the alarm caused by false reports of the wrecking of the steamer. For some reason or other the wireless apparatus on board failed to work satisfactorily, and this communication with the Soo was cut off. Later communication was picked up with the Lakeland, as she was near Port Arthur. Owing to a snowstorm accompanying the gale it was thought wise to seek shelter rather than take the ordinary course in midlake, consequently, Capt. "Andy" Campbell took the north shore course, sailing under the lee of the shore by Thunder Cape, via Lamb Island, Battle Island and the States.

This course is usually taken during a severe storm, and it was thought better to seek shelter in the bay off Jackfish Point rather than run any risks in an endeavor to reach the Soo and remain here for an equal length of time. The Huronic is considered one of the most seaworthy boats of the Northern Navigation Company's fleet, and might have made better time, only that the boat was very light. Ten other boats took the same course and are also delayed on the trip. Among these are the Pan A., the Sahara, John Stanton, Fairmount, W. D. Matthews, the Bayfield, Lambton and Van Allan.

Apart from the inconvenience of the delay on the trip, the passengers on the Huronic were unconcerned, and were quite surprised and not a little annoyed, at reports that had been spread broadcast. During the short stay here nearly every passenger on board took time to wire relatives that everything was all right. One hundred passengers in all were on board.

MAUDE ADAMS MAKING PLANS

Maude Adams, who was on a Grand Theatre last Friday, it is understood, preparing to wind up her stage career. She has unannounced plans that will cover practically the remainder of her stage life. No actress has probably been so dearly loved on the American stage. She has lived closer to the heart of America than any of her rivals.

For the next three seasons Miss Adams will devote herself to plays by J. M. Barrie that are now in hand. After that she will appear in repertoire and we shall once more have the opportunity to see her as Lady Rabbie in "The Little Minister" as well as in a number of other roles. It is understood that the remainder of her career will be devoted exclusively to the plays of Mr. Barrie—one of which, "The Legend of Leonora," will be played in rehearsal in December, when she plays her annual New York engagement.

She Was Helpless FOR TWO YEARS

Why Mrs. Baldwin Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Could Find Nothing to Cure Her Rheumatism Till on a Neighbor's Advice She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

ST. WALBURG, Sask., Sept. 23.—(Special)—"I can truly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for any one suffering from rheumatism." These are the words of Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a highly respected resident of this place. And Mrs. Baldwin gives her reasons. "I was nearly helpless with rheumatism for two years," she states, "I got medicine from the doctor and tried several other remedies, but nothing helped me. Then one of my neighbors advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes and they helped almost from the first. I have used nearly two dozen boxes and am nearly cured."

That rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys is again shown in Mrs. Baldwin's case. She had headaches, stiffness of the joints, and backache, her sleep was broken and unrefreshing, and she was always tired and nervous. Her limbs swelled and she was always thirsty. These are all symptoms of diseased kidneys. When she cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills, the symptoms vanished—and so did the rheumatism.

CITY HOCKEY WILL BE A HUMMER THIS YEAR

Eagle Place Stars Getting Ready to Place Strong Team on the Ice.

In about two weeks a meeting will be called to organize the City Hockey League for the winter, and there is every prospect that the season will be a banner one. In fact it may be necessary this year to form the league into two sections, and there will likely be a junior series as well. The committee of the Eagle Place Stars met last night and decided to enter the city league. They are already securing players. The team will practice at Tutela Park, which will be fitted up better than ever this year for skating. The Stars will elect officers at a meeting in the near future.

Berlin Has Gone Tango Mad

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—Berlin has gone "tango mad." In cabarets, saftes, dance halls, casinos, and the "high-toned" resorts of the capital, the gay nightlife, one hears nothing but the "tango" and rag-time strains and dances. With a police proclamation interdicting the "Wackel" and "Shicbe" dances—a Germanized form of "bunny hug," "Turkey trot" and "grizzly bear"—everybody is throwing themselves into the tango. Much to the dismay not to say disgust, of the "cultured," the dance tunes are crowding out the more classical music and grand opera airs even in drawing rooms and musical teas, where it would hardly be expected.

Brahms, Beethoven, Liszt and Wagner stand no chance against "tango." Learned professors rave about the "froth" that America is introducing and musical critics may tear their long hair and write about the "degeneration of the public's musical tastes," the "peepal" continue to cry for tango and get it.

In order to get "tango" on to some of the dancing programmes in places where they would like to dance it, but fear the high society Mother Grundys, the report is being spread that the Crown Prince is learning tango. But so far the music and dances continue to be tabooed from all official and high social functions.

GRIFFITH TACKLED WRONG UMPIRE IN BILLY EVANS

Clark Griffith got after the wrong umpire a few days ago and as a result, he and Billy Evans are not on "speaking terms" these days. Billy Evans was umpiring the Washington-Philadelphia series. He rendered a close decision at second in favor of the Athletics and when the inning ended, Griffith remarked to him: "Well, I suppose you are assuring your job in the world's series by your decision here."

Quick as a flash, Evans turned and started toward the bench where Griffith was sitting. His face was flushed with anger, and his fists were clenched. "Get out of the grounds," he commanded, and Griffith got up and walked towards the gate which opens beyond the stand. Both were in angry conversation and decidedly excited. Griffith left the field and returned in about 20 minutes in citizen's clothes. Mr. Bride went over to console him, but Evans stopped the game and ordered Mr. Bride to the bench.

NOTHING IN RUMOR, SAYS L. E. & N. OFFICIAL

Port Dover Maple Leaf Hears About Operations at Port.

(Port Dover Maple Leaf)

Anything about the railways is of interest just now, and we give the following for what it is worth. It has been a source of wonder why the L. E. and N. Ry. has not purchased the right of way in the town especially as their grading gangs are as close to it as they are now.

This rumor is to the effect that the Company are about to arrange for running powers over the G. T. R. tracks from the point where the two roads would meet if the present graded line of the Lake Erie road were continued on in a straight line to meet the G. T. R. just above the school house and then use the G. T. R. tracks to the station thus having a union station and thus avoid the necessity of cutting up our streets and providing at the same time the great boon of a union station very conveniently situated.

If this rumor should prove true it should be quite satisfactory to our citizens, or at any rate the great majority of them.

The rumor comes up also more or less persistently that the Canadian Northern is quietly heading for Port Dover via the Danville, Wellandport and Beamsville road.

If that should turn out to be true there must be something good in store for us when the three greatest railroad corporations in Canada are heading for our town. If these astute and far seeing men have sufficient faith in our town as to spend a lot of money to get here to do business surely we might feel justified in having more confidence in its future than some of us appear to have now. However, time will tell.

With regard to the above, Lake Erie and Northern promoters who have questioned the accuracy of the rumors.

Church News For the Sunday

The First Baptist Church

The pastor, Rev. Llewellyn Brown, preached at both services yesterday.

The morning theme was "The Growing Church" and was based on Ephesians 2, 21, "groweth into an holy temple in the Lord." There was a large attendance in the Sunday School. Next Sunday will be a rally day and an effort is being made to pass the 500 mark. At the evening service the church was crowded and a hearty service was enjoyed. The singing of a new hymn, "The Temple Hymn" was taken up heartily by the great audience and is sure to prove a favorite.

The choir sang, "The Radiant Morn." Miss E. Phipps sang "O Lord, Correct Me," by Handel in splendid voice. This young singer is making great progress. Miss Rhea Hutchinson sang, "My Task" in a way that fitted in as excellent conclusion to the sermon which was based on the question, "What is religion?"

NO DRINKING MAN NEED DESPAIR

The Neal Cure—Greatest of All Modern Discoveries—Offers a Means of Escape from the Curse of Drink. A cure of the Drink Habit is Guaranteed in Three Days no Matter Whether the Patient is a Hard and Constant Drinker, Social Tippler or Goes on Occasional Sprees.

There was wandering in the streets of Toronto lately a homeless man, who at one time held a splendid position, but drink was his downfall. To-day his wife, a cultured woman, works out by the day, endeavoring to support herself and little family. Think of it, you wives and mothers, who have homes of comfort and all that makes life worth living, what it would be to you to be deprived of these and forced to face the wash tub for an existence, as this poor wife has to do to-day?

But this home which was made a hell on earth through strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been, made, as a result of the Neal Treatment. Three days only—the wonder of it—to effect a cure and make the victim of strong drink a new man, physically, morally and mentally.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter whether the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional spees. Are you interested in a poor fellow going down, down, through the curse of drink? Then bring your influence to bear on him and bring him to the Neal Institute for treatment, drunk or sober, and we will undertake to remove the awful appetite for strong drink and deliver him to you a new man.

Here is an opportunity for REFORMATION SOCIETIES for INEBRIATES or any institution for the reformation of the drunkard, to test our ability to change the hard drinker into a new man, physically and mentally, in THREE DAYS' treatment.

We invite these Societies or any institution interested in the poor drunkard and the problem of dealing with him, to send us for treatment any victim of the drink habit, it makes no difference how much enslaved, and we guarantee to effect a cure in each and every case. Can you spend your money to better advantage or in a way that will bring in greater returns than in redeeming these victims of strong drink and giving back to their families kind fathers, brothers, husbands, and to the country most desirable citizens?

Mack. "Each day I will fill the place of some of them with young players, until all the men have had some holidays. By the time we reach Washington next Monday I may have in an entire team of substitutes. This will depend upon whether I think the regulars will be benefited or otherwise by the jockey at that time. I intend to travel to Boston and Washington to see the world's series will be done in this city in the final series with New York.

Patching Up the Cripples. "Some of the players are badly in need of a rest, and they will now have an opportunity to take one. All those suffering with bruises or wrenched muscles should be in good condition by next week, except Danny Murphy, whose injured shoulder has not yielded to treatment as expected.

For weeks hundreds of applications have been received by Business Manager John Shibe of the Athletics for tickets for the world's series. All these however, have been returned to the senders. Now that the pennant is won, another flood of applications is expected, but all will be turned back until the National Commission meets and announces the arrangements for the big games.

Cannot Catch the Giants. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With the Giants and the Phillies storming in the west, most of last week, little or no change was made in the National League standing, so far as the leaders are concerned. In a measure the New York team profited, as Charley Doolin and his men face a harder task the nearer the end approaches. As a matter of fact the task may be called hopeless. The Phillies have made a good fight, but it is beyond the bounds of reason that they can win twelve of their last fourteen games while the Giants are winning only two of the twelve they have to play.

Giants Play Three Games in One Day With the Phillies. On the Giants' last western trip, which wound up yesterday, McGraw's platemakers played ten games, winning six and losing four, for a percentage of .600. The three games scheduled for October 2 includes the play-off of the disputed game between Giants and Phillies.

Very little interest attaches to the remaining games of the Giants owing to the fact that the pennant is to all intents and purposes already won. McGraw is grooming his team to meet the Athletics. The Giants' schedule to the end of the season is as follows:—

Sept. 24—Brooklyn, at the Polo Grounds. Sept. 25, 26, 27—At Brooklyn. Sept. 29 (2), 30—At Boston. Oct. 2 (3), 3 (2), 4—Philadelphia at Polo Grounds.

Auto Racing Classics Have Been Abandoned.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 23.—The Vanderbilt Cup and Grand Prix races have been called off, according to an announcement made by Arthur W. Solomon, secretary of the Savannah Automobile Club here last night. He declared there was a lack of interest among exhibitors as well as an insufficient number of entries.

THE GAME FOR COURIER CUP

The first game being called on account of darkness with the score one goal each. The Sons won the toss and chose to play towards the Cottage Factory with the wind in their favor. Drake started the ball rolling for the Duffs, who immediately made a determined attack on the S. O. E. citadel, but failed to score. The Duffs kept up the pressure for a time and scored two goals which were disallowed on account of outside play.

Could not Make Their Hits Count. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Though New York outbit Cleveland more than two to one yesterday, the visitors took the second game of the series by a score of 5 to 4. What Cleveland lacked in hits they made up in passes, nine of them walking to first.

Cricket. St. George's vs. Paris. The Brantford St. George's and Paris cricket teams met in what was to be the deciding game for the Brantford City League championship for this season, but unfortunately the result could not be arrived at owing to rain, which commenced to pour in Paris on Saturday afternoon soon after four, and did not let up until it had flooded the ground and spoiled any further prospects of cricket for that day.

Johnston scored for the Sons. Result—Duffs 2, S.O.E. 1. Johnston, Smith and Budd were the rick of the Sons. Mercer and Drake played well for the Duffs. Knowles, Cook and T. played a good game.

ATHLETICS PLAYED LIKE CHAMPIONS

Took Two Games From Detroit in Handy Fashion.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—Philadelphia won the pennant of the American League for this season and its fifth championship in the thirteen years' history of the organization by winning two games from Detroit yesterday. It was a day of triumphs for the home team, as the Detroit team was whitewashed in each contest, the scores being 4 to 0 and 1 to 0, not a fielding error marking the afternoon's work of Connie Mack's combination. Scores—First game, Philadelphia 4, Detroit 0; second game, Detroit 0, Philadelphia 1.

Gave Their Pitcher Miserable Support. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Washington played miserably in the field yesterday, and St. Louis had little difficulty in winning by 7 to 5. Ayres, a recruit from Richmond, started his first major-league game yesterday and pitched splendidly, while one of the mound scores: St. Louis 7, Washington 5.

A FAREWELL TO POPULAR PLAYER

A. Ormeston Was Also "Clocked" by the All Scots Club.

Mr. A. Ormeston, a popular member of the All Scots Football club, was given a "praising farewell" last night by 50 of his friends and admirers. The presentation took place at the Prince Edward Hotel, the occasion being Mr. Ormeston's departure for the home land. President MacDonald expressed the feelings of one and all when he said that the club was heartily sorry to lose Mr. Ormeston, a good player and a good all round sport. Therewith he presented him with a clock, and wished him Godspeed. Mr. Ormeston's reply was couched in terms of regret, and he wished the All Scots triumph in their future football battles. Scores were conferred by Messrs. Fogge, Cochan, McGregor, Brownlee, Malloy, Anthony and Lynn, before the proceedings came to a close.

JOE JOE KEENAN TO BE MANAGER

Although nothing definite has been decided yet, it is not unlikely that Joe Keenan will be one of the managers of the W. O. B. L. teams next year. Joe was present at the league meeting a week ago, and he was much impressed with the success the league had on its first year out. He also saw the final game at Stratford, and was surprised at the crowd of people who turned out to witness the contest despite the cold weather. "They get bigger crowds in that league than they do in some Canadian league towns," said Joe, in commenting on the game.

McInnis Will be Ready for the Big Series.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—Jack McInnis, the sensational first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, will take his place in the line-up when Connie Mack's boys take the field against the New York Giants on Oct. 6. McInnis had his arm examined under the X-ray, which showed that no bones were broken. The news was welcomed not alone to Mack and the other members of the team, but to the fans as well, for "Stuffy's" hitting ability is expected to count heavily in the game.

Umpire Says Plank Pleads His Old Age.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—A certain umpire tells this story about Eddie Plank, the Athletics veteran southpaw: "Plank is getting awfully slow and I remonstrated with him about it the other day. He came back with this excuse: 'I am nearly 40 years old. I can't go like these young fellows. I have to husband all my strength to go nine innings and I cannot hurry.'"

PHILLIES SPLIT WITH EVERS' MEN

Boston Handed Huggins' Men a Beating—The Giants Did Not Play.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Chicago and Philadelphia completed their season's series yesterday by dividing a double-header. Alexander, who was routed by the locals in the first game Sunday, was good enough to shut them out in the opener yesterday afternoon; timely batting off Humphries giving Philadelphia a 2 to 0 victory. Good control by Pierce and hard hitting gave Chicago the second game, 5 to 1. Chalmers proved ineffective. The result of the games leaves the locals still three games behind Philadelphia in the struggle for second place. The scores: First game, Philadelphia 2, Chicago 1; Second game, Philadelphia 1, Chicago 5.

THE BRAVES DEFEATED MILLER HUGGINS' MEN.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—Boston defeated St. Louis yesterday, 5 to 1. Hess was strong in all except the second inning, when St. Louis got its only run. Boston scored three times in the first inning without a hit. In this inning after two passes and an error, filled the bases, Griner gave way to Trekle, who was fairly effective, but received ragged support. The score: Boston 5, St. Louis 1.

SENATE HISSED

Labor Men Show Regard For Laurier's Supporters To-Day.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—"Irresponsible parliamentarians," was the term applied to the senate by Dr. J. G. Shearer, of Toronto, secretary of the social service council of Canada in addressing the Labor Congress to-day. Dr. Shearer made caustic comment on the action of the senate in killing certain legislative measures which the council with the co-operation of the trades and labor congress attempted to put through and succeeded in getting passed by the house. "Cries of 'rotten' and hisses for the senate greeted Dr. Shearer's statements as to what the senate had not done to obtain better protection for the employed girls and women, to save them from the 'white slavers' and prevent their seduction by their employers. Projected legislation for the improvement of industrial, economic and sanitary conditions in the larger cities of the Dominion which are now being investigated by the council were discussed briefly by the speaker. His statement that the council had declared for the initiative and referendum and other matters supported by the Socialists and Labor men was greeted with wild cheering.
