

GERMAN LOSSES GREATER FOR DNIESTER FIGHTING THAN DURING PREVIOUS SIX MONTHS

Enemy Flees in Disorder, Leaving Thousands Dead on Battle Field—Thousands of Prisoners and Number of Guns Captured—Russians Lured Enemy to Destruction.

London, June 10.—Two smashing victories for Russian arms change the whole aspect of the Galician campaign, and victories are also reported in the Shavl region.

DRIVEN SOUTH OF DNIESTER The Germans are now entirely southward of the Dniester. Evidently they intended to develop in enormous force here.

VICTORY AT ZURANO

In the Dniester region the victory at Zurano, as the battle is called, from the little town which formed the centre of the enemy's position, seems to have been the result of a brilliant piece of strategy on the part of the Russians, who evidently lured the enemy to destruction.

HOLDS ENEMY IN EAST It is unlikely that the enemy will be able to continue what is understood to have been his program—namely, the transfer of large bodies of troops from this front to the west.

taking by a vigorous night attack over 500 prisoners with guns, mitrailleuses and other booty. "On the right bank of the Dniester we continued on the 9th and 10th to drive the enemy on the front between the rivers Tysmonica and Swica, capturing many prisoners, quick fliers and other booty.

Washington Optimistic; Berlin Very Pessimistic

Washington, June 12.—Official Washington to-day looked to Ambassador Gerard in Berlin for some indication of how the German government views the American note concerning her submarine warfare.

here said that the officials of the German foreign office were familiarizing themselves with the contents, and it was expected here that as soon as they had done so, the ambassador would promptly send some definite

NERLICH NOT GUILTY IS THE VERDICT

Justice Sutherland Appeals for Fair Play for Aliens in Canada.

Without offering comment upon the verdict of a jury returned after a deliberation of six hours, Mr. Justice Sutherland last night in the Criminal Assizes informed Emil Nerlich, a wealthy German wholesale dealer, charged with high treason that he was at liberty to again mingle with the public.

"Give me a mouthful of water," gasped the accused. "For a moment he keeled over, but prevented himself from falling to the floor by grabbing the railing of the prisoner's dock.

Toronto, June 11.—At 10 o'clock Mr. Justice Sutherland began his address to the jury trying Emil Nerlich on a charge of treason. He said that no one should be found guilty unless it could be shown that he had a guilty mind. The motive must be considered. No extraneous matter must influence the mind of the jurors. It was a time when passion ran high.

REQUEST ALLIES TO CHANGE

Optimistic Feeling at United States Capital With Regard to Germany's Reply.

Washington, June 12.—Optimism—more pronounced than it has been since the diplomatic correspondence with Germany over the sea zones of war began—was manifest to-day in official quarters here over the prospect for a peaceful outcome of the pending controversy between Germany and the United States.

It was officially stated to-day that a note would soon be sent to Great Britain and her allies, insisting on a change in the operation of the blockade conducted by them so as to conform with the principles of international law, forbidding interference with trade in non-contraband articles passing to and from a belligerent country. This, it was generally believed, would be an important factor in convincing the German government that the United States would maintain the same vigorous position on the fundamentals in international law with respect to the allies as has been the case in the American correspondence with Germany.

In Three Weeks, Battle Germans Lost Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Men—British Casualty Lists Were Like the Death Roll After Flodden or Agincourt.

(Special to The Courier.) Ottawa, June 12.—How the German rush at Ypres was checked by the British Army, Calais and Dunkirk saved and very probably the cause of the Allies, is here told by a British officer who was through that terrible struggle last October.

FEW RESERVES AVAILABLE That was on October 20th. Clearly the immediate posts of danger were the extreme left between Bixchoote and Dixmude and the right centre around Zandvoorde between the 7th Division and Allenby's Cavalry.

KAISER WAS THERE Next day, Friday, the 30th, the chief attack was on the Zandvoorde Ridge, Point of Byng's Cavalry. After a tremendous artillery bombardment we had to evacuate the ridge and fall back a mile to the ridge of Klien Zillebete on the north.

TURKEY TIRED OF "KILL OR CONQUER" HUN PARTNERSHIP

Has Not Declared War Against Italy and Turkish Embassy Still Remains in Rome—Likely to Divorce Herself From Teutonic Allies.

Rome, June 12.—Ever since Italy declared war against Austria, and, in a sense, war also against her ally, Germany, Turkey, the ill-starred partner of the "kill or conquer" policy of Potsdam, has realized the hopelessness of her position. Dismay has seized the governing party of young Turks in Constantinople. They feel that the hour of retribution is at hand and that they will be asked to pay to the utmost farthing the price of their ill-timed intervention on the side of Germany.

NO WAR WITH ITALY. In view of the changed attitude of the Islamic partner of the Kaiser, it is significant that Naby Bey, Turkish were used to protect the left flank of the 7th Division which was in great danger of being turned. By and by they were relieved by the second Division of Haig's first corps, and they were then brought to the right of the 7th Division to link it up with Allenby's Cavalry on the Zandvoorde Ridge.

That night Sir John French had an anxious consultation with his generals. It was now clear that all we could do was to hold the thirty miles of the Ypres salient till General Joffre could send help. For that purpose we had the 1st corps, the 7th Division of the 4th corps, three Divisions of British Cavalry, DeMitry's and French Cavalry Corps and Bidon's two divisions of French Territorials—all told perhaps a hundred thousand men, and some of the troops not of the first line. Against us we had the four German corps, at least three of the old first line corps, several reserve corps, a number of Landwehr divisions of Cavalry, in all not less than half a million men, and we knew of other corps moving up from the south. General Joffre told Sir John French that no assistance could come for three days.

Next day, Friday, the 30th, the chief attack was on the Zandvoorde Ridge, Point of Byng's Cavalry. After a tremendous artillery bombardment we had to evacuate the ridge and fall back a mile to the ridge of Klien Zillebete on the north. This was obviously our last stand, for if we were pushed off the Klien Zillebete (Continued on Page Four.)

Bryan, the Follower, —WILSON IS NEUTRAL, HE SAYS— Tells of the Difference

Washington, June 12.—Former Secretary Bryan's campaign to put before the American people his position growing out of the situation between the United States and Germany was expected to have come to an end for the present with the publication to-day of his appeal to German-Americans. In his third statement since his resignation Mr. Bryan urges German-Americans to aid in maintaining peace between the United States and Germany. He appeals to them to endeavor to influence the German

Dr. Dernberg Departs to-day From U. S.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
New York, June 12.—Dr. Bernhard Dernberg, the former German colonial secretary, who has been in this country for several months during which time he has delivered several speeches denouncing the German point of view in the war, bade farewell to friends here to-day in preparation for sailing for Bergen, Norway, on board the Norwegian-American Line Steamship Bergensjord to-night.

Dr. Dernberg will cross the ocean under an assurance of safe conduct given to the state department at Washington by the British, French and Russian embassies. No official announcement had been made as to whether he would remain in Scandinavian countries for a time or go direct to Berlin.

announcement had been made as to whether he would remain in Scandinavian countries for a time or go direct to Berlin. After Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, announced that he would discontinue interviews Dr. Dernberg was regarded as the leading exponent of German views in this country. One of his most notable utterances was a letter read at a mass meeting in Portland, Me., in which he disclaimed for his country, any ambition for world dominion, but insisted upon an open sea and a policy of free intercourse. His speeches and interviews reached a climax when he attempted to justify the sinking of the Lusitania, although expressing regret for the loss of American lives. There were intimations that through the German embassy he might be invited to leave the United States, but about a month ago the German embassy declared that he would depart on his own initiative.

THE SITUATION

The Russians once more fill first place in the war news. After days of on the run they have given the enemy a sudden jolt which has disturbed all his calculations.

The whole of Poland is to the Empire of All the Russias no more than a little finger-nail to the whole hand.

"Russia is stronger to-day in every respect than she was six months ago. Germany has lost the greater part of those specially-trained troops that were destined to conquer the world."

The Italians continue to roll back the Austrians in their drive for Trieste, Austria's most valuable seaport, for which they are making.

The Germans have not been doing much in Northern France just lately, but report is that they are now rushing a large number of troops to that region.

News from the Dardanelles is scanty. The operations there are proving just as costly and slow as predicted in the first place by Lord Charles Bessborough and others capable of forming an opinion.

UNDER THE HAMMER Stonehenge, the most famous of British ruins, dating back to the Bronze Age, is to go under the auctioneer's hammer in September next.

Paris, June 12.—2.30 p.m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities reading as follows: "There is little to add to the announcement given out last night. We have made further progress in the region of Duval, to the north of Lorette, and in the vicinity of 'The Labyrinth.'"

STONEHENGE — literally "hanging stones"—is the remains of a great prehistoric structure. It consists mainly of a circle of vast stones, nearly half of them now prostrate, averaging about fourteen feet in height.

It is probable that Stonehenge will become public property, through purchase either by the state or by some historical society. A few years ago, there was reason to fear that the stones might be sold and taken to the United States.

came of the movement. Immediately afterward, the owner, the late Sir Edmund Antrobus, had the monuments and the grounds surrounding them, fenced in with barbed wire, and collected 25 cents each from all visitors.

The state now has power, under a law passed two years ago, to intervene at any time for the protection from sale, removal, or injury, of any monument in private hands which there is reason to believe is in danger.

A TERRACE HILL SERVICE. The Courier does not wish to "butt in" on Brantford's Municipal Street Railway Board—they are doing splendidly—but this paper would like to see the street car service extended to Terrace Hill and district as speedily as possible.

NOTES AND COMMENT The war news from the standpoint of the allies, is now distinctly better, but there is still a very heavy job ahead.

THREE WEEKS

(Continued from Page One.) Three Weeks One beke Ridge, Ypres must fall. Sir Douglas Haig brought up all the reserves he could, including Cavoia's famous 4th Brigade. We know now that the Emperor was with his men and had told his Bavarians that the winning of Ypres would settle the war.

LEFT OUT OF 1,200. Next day came the crisis. Saturday the last day of October. Very early in the morning the attack developed in great force against Gheluvelt village. North of it the 1st and 3rd Brigades of the 1st Division were manning the line.

PRUSSIAN CARNAGE. On the 28th there was a lull, a dangerous lull which heralded the morning of the 29th we knew the enemy's intentions, for we managed to intercept a wireless message. It was the beginning of the sternest struggle of the campaign in the history of the world.

FRENCH LINE IS BROKEN. I pass over the next few days. We received reinforcements, a Brigade of the 1st Corps, which allowed the German guns to begin the bombardment of Ypres.

BRITISH POSITION SAVED. But the German attack was being pressed in force and once again the French came back upon the Household Cavalry, a couple of whose squadrons worked across the Canal stem the rush.

KAISER USED HIS GUARDS. Once again there came a period of ominous quietness. Then on Wednesday, November 11th, came the supreme effort. As Napoleon had used his guards for his final attack on Waterloo, so the Emperor used his for the culminating stroke of Ypres.

PRUSSIAN GUARDS FAIL. All along the line of the 1st corps there was a determinate struggle, and the 7th Division had still harder work. The British Guards were driven in, and the whole position was becoming desperately precarious.

CREW LANDED. Lowestoft, Eng. June 10.—The crew of the Lowestoft Trawler Britannia, which was sunk by a German submarine, have landed here. They were given time to leave their boat before the Germans blew up the vessel with a bomb.

HOUSEHOLD CAVALRY CHARGE

On the night of the 25th a great enveloping attack was made on the salient held by the 20th Brigade at Kruseik. The Germans broke through but a counter-attack by the 2nd Scots Guards relieved the position.

We were now on the eve of the chief struggle. Let us see how our line lay. On the extreme north of Bixchoote were the French territorialists; from Bixchoote to Zonnebeke were two divisions of the French 9th corps.

UNITS HOPELESSLY MIXED. In the salient of Ypres during the worst part of the fighting we had three divisions and some cavalry to back up the five army corps.

ENDURANCE OF BRITISH. The steady old regiments of the line revealed their ancient endurance. Allenby's Cavalry did not seem wonderful work on foot in the trenches than in their dashing charges at Mons and the Marne.

took our first line of trenches, but seemed unable to decide on their next step. Our frontal fire checked them, our flanks enfiladed them, and they fell back to the trenches they had won.

ENEMY IS EXHAUSTED. With the failure of the Prussian Guard the enemy seems to have exhausted its vitality. His tide of men had failed to swamp the thin allied lines, and wearied out, and with terrible losses, he slackened his efforts, and fell back upon trench warfare.

cal paralleled to Ypres I do not know where to look. The nearest I can think of is Davoust's performance on the French right at Austerlitz, where with 10,000 men he held between 40,000 and 50,000 Russians, while Napoleon broke the Russians centre.

ALLIES LOST 100,000. A price must be paid for great glory, and the cost of Ypres was high. The German casualties cannot have been less than 250,000 for the three weeks' battle.

LOCAL Y. M. LEADERS ARE NOW RESIGNING

After Consideration of Board—Financial Reasons Are Given.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. recently held a business meeting to discuss the financial problem which has been uppermost in their minds for some time. Owing to the existing financial stringency all over the country, the board has had to deal with a hard problem. The meeting was a long one. Finally everyone on the board saw that the only way that they could straighten affairs out for this year would be to reduce the present salary expenditure. This, of course, necessitated the resignation of some of the officers. The positions of physical director, assistant physical director and the boys' secretaries have thus become vacant. Swimming Instructor Geo. Mosley will be made assistant to the physical director as well as his own duties as swimming instructor. The resignations of Messrs A. A. Macfarlane, F. W. Thompson, G. Roper and W. Youmans were accepted, with the deepest feeling of regret on the part of every member of the board. It was felt that the local Y. M. C. A. was losing some of the best men in association work in the country, but the step had to be taken.

The resigning officers have taken part in Y. M. C. A. work in this city for some time and their work has been appreciated very greatly. They are very popular with everyone, and when they leave they will be greatly missed.

Mr. Wray Youmans has been offered and has accepted the position of physical director in the Fort William Y. M., and he is considered to be one of the coming Y. M. leaders in the country.

Since both Mr. Thompson and Mr. Macfarlane have resigned from their positions in the boys' department, leaving it without a leader, it was felt necessary by the board to engage someone to take charge of the whole department. Mr. Frank Wood of Toronto has been engaged to fill the position. He has been recommended by Mr. Statton, National Boys' Secretary, in the highest terms. He is said to be the liveliest wire that the Toronto Central has turned out. He is a leader in every phase of the work, having had an excellent education and experience. He has been a member of Upper Canada College, Toronto University, "News" staff, and in his younger days was one of the boys scouts who attended the Coronation in England. He holds many Canadian swimming records, and the world's record for back swimming.

These changes, except Mr. Macfarlane, do not go into effect until this fall. The staff is thus reduced by two officers, one in the physical department by the combining of swimming and assistant physical director, under one man and one in boys department.

NERLICH

(Continued from Page 1) the case on the facts set before you. The fact that the accused was a member of a German relief committee was held to be evidence that he was aiding enemies in a general way. "What the crown charge is that Emil Nerlich assisted the enemy by giving money to a German soldier to start him for Germany—that a trained officer might be given to the enemy. "I must add my view of the case. Notwithstanding that such intended and attempted assistance which a payment of $20 would be, even though it did not result in the object sought being carried out, nevertheless if the design is there and an overt act has been done, that would constitute a violation of the law. The mere giving of money to Zirzow to pay his debts here and thus assist him to New York to get work, if that was the real object of the accused, would not be within the scope of the section. "No man shall be convicted of treason on the evidence of one witness, unless he is corroborated in some material particular by evidence implicating the accused. Any evidence to convict of treason, must be perfectly plain and direct. "I instruct you that Zirzow is to be treated in this case practically as an accomplice of the accused and his evidence is to be scrutinized with like care and consideration. "Eight German prisoners under the escort of Orkney Territorials were brought from Kirkwall to Edinburgh recently and were lodged in the castle. The men were taken off a Norwegian barque which was proceeding from South America, and it was their intention to get to Hamburg and join the German army. "The Royal National Lifeboat Institution have sent a new lifeboat to Gourdon (Kincardineshire) to replace the one stationed there by the institution many years ago. The new lifeboat is of the self-righting type (Rubee class), 35 feet long and 8 feet 10 inches beam, and is fitted with four water ballast tanks and two drop keels. A new transporting carriage which has been specially constructed for this boat, has also been sent to the station. The fleet of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution now consists of 267 lifeboats, 45 of which are stationed on the coast of Scotland. These boats are constantly rendering invaluable service in saving life from shipwreck. Rewards have been granted by the Committee of Management of the Institution for the saving of 314 lives since the 1st January this year. SCHOOL CHILDREN

Gave Fire Cracker Money in Good Cause—A Big Response.

At a meeting of the Women's Patriotic League, on Thursday, the treasurer, Miss Hollinrake reported that, in response to the request made by inspector of teachers, that pupils in the schools contribute their fire-cracker money to the soldier's socks fund of the league, the magnificent sum of $121.92 had been collected, of this $71.92 has been received from Victoria, Dufferin, Eyrerton, Alexandra and King Edward schools, the remainder is being held by the Central school, it is understood for the establishment of a cot at Clivedon Hospital. The announcement was received with very great pleasure and a hearty clap was given for the boys and girls, who, by their self denial, made these donations possible. The president, officers and members extended to every contributor from the highest grade to the kindergarten their heartfelt thanks; they wish also, to express grateful appreciation to the inspectors and teachers for their kindly interest, and to the parents who so readily co-operated with them.

Good Work Being Done by W. P. L.

A meeting of the Women's Patriotic League was held on Thursday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A., a large attendance of ladies being present. The secretary read a report of the last general meeting and two executive meetings. The treasurer read her report showing a balance in the hand of $863.45. Money for the equipping of four beds in the Canadian hospital has been received during the last month, one from the city teachers, one from the Dufferin school children, one from Mrs. Lloyd Harris, and one from some American manufacturers, guests at Caledon Club, who kindly donated fifty dollars through Mrs. Lloyd Harris, and will be used for the equipment of a cot to be called The Caledon Club cot. Special thanks were given to the pupils of the schools for their splendid donation of $121 towards the sock fund.

The returns from Prof. Leacock's lecture were $254, of which half goes to the Belgian relief and half to the Red Cross. Thanks were expressed to all who helped to make the lecture such a success. We especially tender a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. R. H. Reville for all his work in connection with the lecture, also thanks to Mr. W. H. Whitaker, Mr. Webbing and the ushers. A letter was read from Miss McLaren Brown, secretary Canadian war contingent association, acknowledging and thanking the Brantford ladies for their many boxes of hospital supplies. A letter has also been received from Mr. P. H. Brown, Sec. Treas. Belgian Relief Association, thanking the Brantford Women's Patriotic League for the generous donation of 37 boxes of canned goods for the Belgian soldiers.

Information concerning the German attitude. It was also stated that Germany probably would not give its answer pending the arrival of Mayor Gerhard, the personal representative of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Washington. From this, it was concluded here that a reply would not be forthcoming for perhaps a fortnight.

AWAITED WITH INTEREST. Word from the ambassador as to the German attitude towards the American note was awaited with the keenest interest here, particularly in view of conflicting unofficial information from Berlin. Despatches coming direct from Berlin said that some quarters in Berlin regarded the note as more conciliatory than cable despatches had indicated. On the other hand despatches received by way of London said that Berlin was pessimistic regarding the continued maintenance of friendly relations with the United States. German opinion, it was said, was unanimously against granting the American demands for assurances that American ships and lives would not be endangered by submarine warfare.

OPTIMISTIC FEELING. The feeling in official circles in Washington, however, continued optimistic that a way would be found for a peaceful settlement of the issue before the station. The United States Hopes were based upon the friendly character of the note, which they regarded as opening the door to a satisfactory adjustment with honor to both countries. This confidence of a favorable outcome of the negotiations also was shared by diplomats here.

London, June 12.—German opinion is unanimously against granting President Wilson's demand for assurance that American ships and lives will not be endangered by submarine warfare, according to a Berlin despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. sent by way of Amsterdam.

Official circles are pessimistic, the

WASHINGTON

(Continued from Page One.) information concerning the German attitude. It was also stated that Germany probably would not give its answer pending the arrival of Mayor Gerhard, the personal representative of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Washington. From this, it was concluded here that a reply would not be forthcoming for perhaps a fortnight.

BRYAN

(Continued from Page One.) Government to take no steps that would lead in the direction of war. Mr. Bryan also tells the German-Americans first not to suspect President Wilson of not being neutral and friendly toward Germany because he is both; second, that the president is desirous of peace and that it is his duty to aid him in maintaining it, and third, not to attempt to connect the negotiations now in progress with Germany with those in progress with Great Britain because the cases are different.

With the issuance of Mr. Bryan's latest statement, interest here to-day centred in the former secretary's future course. Mr. Bryan had said that he might make an announcement on the subject to-day.

Mrs. Mary Gilbert of Talbotville, was yesterday acquitted on a charge of bigamy.

FALLEN IN BATTLE

In the House of Commons the other day, replying to Sir C. Werner (L. Lichfield) Mr. Tennant, under secretary for war, stated that the latest information with regard to the incidence of disease in the British Expeditionary Force showed that 966 cases had occurred, of which 142 occurred among men fully inoculated, and there had been ten deaths. Among men partially inoculated there had been 481 cases and 100 deaths. Among the uninoculated men there had been 481 cases and 100 deaths. Ninety per cent of the troops were inoculated voluntarily. Therefore among the 90 per cent who had been 299 cases and 20 deaths, and in the other 10 per cent 481 cases and 100 deaths.

A shell caster was summoned for drunkenness at Birmingham recently. The defendant said the cause of his trouble was that he was paid his wages in a public house. The magistrate's clerk asked if the defendant meant that the government paid wages in a public house. The magistrate replied for whom he worked did so. The magistrate's clerk pointed out that no one had any right to pay wages in a public house. That was half the cause of the trouble. The defendant had been dragged into temptation, in discharging his duties, the magistrate said it was a rotten state of things if the defendant's statement was correct. The government had asked men to keep away from drink, and in this case a man had acted up to a public-house to get his wages.

FORD FARM TRACTOR ANNOUNCED.

After months of careful try-outs under all kinds of soil and weather conditions, the Ford farm tractor has been pronounced a success by its builder, the Ford Motor Co., and it is expected to be placed on the market in December.

Like the Ford passenger car, the Ford tractor will be of such a reasonable price that practically every farmer in the country will be able to buy one. It is hoped by the company that the price will be about $300 in the States, although it may be a little more. This has not been finally decided yet, neither the quantity that will be made. But, needless to say, it will be a case of quantity, as well as quality production.

The tractor will have the typical Ford front appearance, the construction of the fore part being about identical with that of the passenger cars. The motor will be the same as used on these cars. On both sides of the motor and supported by struts, arms there will be carried two large water tanks. The frame will be considerably stronger than that of the passenger cars and the rear wheels will be 12 inches in width, with flanges and spikes added. The weight at present is 1,600 pounds, but it is hoped that this will be reduced by 100 pounds, after a few more test machines have been constructed. The tractor easily will do the work of six horses, it is stated.

Three Great Battles Fought Out

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, June 12—Although the British press has warned the public that it is too early to assert positively that the Austro-German armies in Galicia have been definitely checked and that General Von Linsinger's defeat on the Dniester has eased the pressure on Russia, it is nevertheless believed by many military commentators in London that there has been a sharp turn in the situation in Galicia which will prevent Germany transferring any considerable force of troops either to the west or to the Italian frontier.

Some German forces, it is even declared already, have been detached from the Galician armies and hurried to the Isonzo front, but it is felt that even more men will be needed there if Italy keeps pressing on toward Trieste.

The latest official announcement from Petrograd asserts that the Russians have assumed the offensive along the Dubysa river and in the Baltic provinces, and they concede the loss of ground to the westward along the Pruth in Bukovina.

Viewing the recent fighting in Galicia in perspective, it may be divided roughly into three great battles. The chief of these was fought forty miles to the southeast of Lemberg, where the forces under General Von Linsinger had not only crossed the Dniester, but had progressed some twelve miles beyond, getting astride of the Lemberg, railroad. These were the forces which the Russians apparently have forced back with heavy loss, thus placing the river in Russian hands throughout. The second great battle, or series of battles, took place in the territory between Ugarberg and Mackensan, and along this line the Russians claim to have repulsed the Germans with severe punishment.

North of both of these areas and to the east of Przemysl was the scene of the third battle. Here General Von Mackensan at the head of the main Austro-German forces was trying to penetrate due east of Lemberg through Mosciska. By Wednesday, according to the Russian contention, the German check in this locality was completed. Serbia, it appears, is continuing her systematic occupation of northern and central Albania, and she may, even now be in possession of Soutari.

A despatch to the Tribune from Innsbruck says: "The Teuton garrison of Przemysl attempted to march on the Wisznia, but were repulsed by the Russians. A German general of division and several officers were badly wounded by a shell which fell into their headquarters. The Teuton losses are estimated at six thousand."

Milan, June 12—The Austrians have evacuated and blown up Fort Pozza, and the Fugazzi plateau near Rovereto, according to a Secolo despatch. The fortress is a mile from Vallara, and has been occupied by the Italians and was one of the most formidable Austrian defences in that section of the Tyrol. It was built four years ago at a large expense.

CHOLERA MUCH WORSE Paris, June 12—A despatch from Udine, Italy, dated Friday and sent by the correspondent of the Havas Agency, says: "Bosnian deserters who have arrived here, declare that the cholera at Udine is much worse than the outbreak of last year. A great panic it is asserted, has been created in Vienna by the epidemic."

GOT SEND OFF. Rome, June 12—Several thousand Italians, who have been recalled to the colors, or who plan to volunteer for army service, arrived yesterday from Canada and the United States, and were received with outbursts of enthusiasm from the crowds. Some of the recruits, although Italian subjects according to Italian law, were born in America, and do not speak the Italian language. Others already had been here to fight in the Libyan war and are anxious to utilize the experience which they acquired there. Many more are expected.

Transport crews may shortly be placed under the naval discipline act. "In view of the evidence of the director of transports as to drunkenness among transport crews, the admiralty are now considering the advisability of putting the crews of all vessels in admiralty service under the naval discipline act," said Mr. Macnamara the other day in the House.

A young officer, on leave from the front went into a Regent street book shop the other day, put down his shilling and declining the offer to have his purchase sent home, walked away with an under the arm. The book was Mr. Patrick MacGill's "The Amateur Army." The young officer was the Prince of Wales.

The Beauty in Our Glasses is that they rather add to the dignity of one's appearance than detract from it. Some people have the idea that glasses spoil beauty. On the contrary, they rather enhance it, and suggest learning, too. But it is not of the looks of our glasses, so much as their efficiency and accuracy of adjustment to the individual sight that we want to speak. For young or old we adjust the lenses with scientific precision, and far less expensively than you might think.

Hanlon's Aggregation One of Greatest in Baseball History.

A most peculiar fact about the famous Baltimore of 1894-5 was that they were all at one time or another battery men.

Old World Notes

A novel kind of fire broke out in the city of London the other afternoon. It was a blaze of corks, or rather a smoke of corks, for its chief characteristic was immense dense clouds of yellow grey smoke.

The Royal Dublin Society's Spring Show at Ballsbridge has closed what must be regarded the popularity of the work in which the society is engaged.

A strange legacy is left in the will of the late Rev Henry Jemson Tennent, of Southwell, who died last January at the age of 78 years.

The allround increase in the trade of Dublin last year is a matter of much satisfaction to the citizens.

Many cases of what is known as black or hemorrhagic measles are being reported. Many of the deaths from measles in London last week were due to this form of the malady.

A medal for bravery was presented to a Wiltshire boy a few days ago by the R. S. P. C. A. for saving a cat's life.

TAILORS' JURISDICTIONAL SQUABBLE

At a meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor held at Washington April 19, 1914, the representatives of the United Garment Workers of America entered a complaint against the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America for using the union label of the tailors upon ready-made clothing and clothing made by the succeeding faction of the United Garment Workers of America.

It was called to the attention of the executive council that the official journal of the journeymen tailors officially confirms such improper and illegitimate use of their label by the succeeding faction of the garment workers, which is contrary to the laws of the Journeymen Tailors' Union, which forbids the use of that label by any person not a member of that organization.

This being the case, where the tailors' label has been granted by the Journeymen Tailors' Union and used by the seceders from the United Garment Workers of America in violation of the declaration and the mandates of the Philadelphia convention of the American Federation of Labor, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor has canceled and withdrawn the endorsement of the label of the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America.

President Gompers was directed to notify the general secretary of Journeymen Tailors' Union of America and all central bodies national and international unions that the endorsement heretofore Tailors' Union of America is canceled and withdrawn and shall so stand until the Journeymen Tailors' Union complies fully with the decisions of the Philadelphia convention, to wit, resume by referendum vote their former title, "The Journeymen Tailors' Union of America," and cease to trespass on the jurisdiction of any other union in the clothing industry. Upon proper compliance by the Journeymen Tailors' Union the president of the American Federation of Labor is directed to restore the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor to the label of the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America.

President Gompers was directed to meet with the United Hebrew Trades of New York for the purpose of having that body cease its harboring and supporting seceding garment workers located in New York City, and upon failure of that body to comply with the laws of the American Federation of Labor, the decisions and declarations of the Philadelphia convention of the American Federation of Labor, all international unions having locals in New York represented in the United Hebrew Trades be required to direct such local unions to withdraw from the United Hebrew Trades.—Typographical Journal.

"Receive and File" Fiend

"You have heard the reading, what's your pleasure?" "Move it be received and filed." (Barely audible voice) "Second the motion." "If there's no objection, it will take that course." Ever had this occur in your meeting? How frequently does it occur? Is there some one individual who has always this much to contribute to the interest of the meeting? Are you its perpetrator? I contend that the cure because they act directly on the kidneys and bladder—soothing and healing the inflamed tissues, and neutralizing uric acid.

In every organization there exists at least one apparently faithful one who is ever ready to dispose of a subject in this way. I wonder sometimes that such a one voice has influence. But it has. Also, I often wonder why such members attend meetings. But they are always there. And let almost any communication or report come up, and they move—to the matter and the matter sleeps. And timid, one wants to hear more of the matter, or see some action taken. But the ever faithful mover is the quicker, and more influential (?)—and the matter dies for few members bother to know that "receive and file" allows for calling up at pleasure.

What these friends think we go to the trouble to meet for, I fail to see. A great deal is said about windy, hot-air meetings. I contend that the quickest way to kill an organization for the meetings to become perfunctory.

We hear reports of committees read, which show by their reading that some have given some time and labor to the matter and sleep. And how frequently we hear requests for aid, for moral support, for assistance in educational work, for joint action, or even for information, only to see them immediately delegate to the oblivion of the average secretary's minutes.

The reading and discussion of good and positive action on all matters coming before a body should be a source of education for the membership.

Some one has said that the way to hell is paved with good intentions. If the bottom ever falls out of the labor movement it will be largely due to the fact that "receive and file" has salted down so many worthy, interesting vital communications and reports.

In the name of consistency, let us meet to transact business, to know and do something—for our local first, of course, and then for the good of any and all who may communicate with us. Let us not meet with our mind shut to matters that may need a little consideration in order to see why action should be taken.—Typographical Journal.

Industrial Canada

FROM COAST TO COAST

Non-union carpenters are working in Edmonton, Alta., for as low as 25c. per hour.

A new local branch of the Brotherhood of Carpenters has been organized in Hamilton.

The Canadian Northern Railway has put a large number of extra hands to work in the vicinity of Brockville.

Edmonton union printers have secured an increase of $2 per week in wages, the prevailing standard now being $25 per week.

A number of Cobalt miners have left for the Gold Coast Colony, Africa, having been engaged by the representative of a gold mine there.

The high price of silver is beneficially affecting the miners in the Cobalt district, as it has tended to keep the mines working at full force.

Motormen and conductors in Edmonton, Alta., have received back wages to the amount of reduction that was made last fall, without notice, in violation of an agreement.

There are now twenty-one locals of the United Mine Workers of America organized in District No. 48, which comprises the jurisdiction of Alberta and British Columbia.

In Port Arthur and Fort William Ont., all the unorganized crafts have had to stand for a reduction in wages, while all the organized trades have succeeded in maintaining their rate. This is the old story exemplified again; the union card means at all times shorter hours and higher wages. The worker only gets what he stands for.

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has chartered a new Trades and Labor Council at New Glasgow, N.S. Slowly but surely the Maritime Provinces are catching up.

The pulp factories and sawmills in the province of Quebec are all working full time, employing both day and night shifts. The industry is prospering greatly at present and the numbers of hands employed is steadily increasing.

Montreal is among the latest cities to go into the vacant lot industry. The Civic Improvement League has secured the use of hundreds of vacant lots, which the unemployed workers will be allowed to use for the growing of vegetables.

The Alberta Provincial Government has passed an adult franchise amendment to the Edmonton City Charter, which gives both men and women a vote in municipal elections. Printers are on strike, but expect to secure a favorable settlement.

It is reported from Quebec city that things were never so bright in the boot and shoe industry as at the present time. Many workers at the craft have been laid off and will be added to the ranks of the unemployed until things begin to look up again.

The Federal Department of Public Works will erect an armory in Calgary at a cost of $350,000. The intelligence that tenders have been called for will be good news to idle men in the building trades in that city, where unemployment has been rife and building operations at a standstill.

The B. C. Electric Railway has reduced fares in Vancouver to eight for 25c., the reduction to go into effect June 10. No transfers, however, will be given on these tickets, and they will be limited to the hours between 5 a. m. and midnight. It is believed that this is the cheapest fare rate on the American continent. There is a jitney problem in the city that has cut into the company's earnings, and this new innovation is in the nature of a move to placate the public and carry passengers at a lower rate than the auto buses.

The increase of the Chinese laundries in British Columbia has driven hundreds of white girls out of their jobs. They received but a pitiful wage at best, as the laundry owners refused to allow them to join a union, and many were receiving as low as four dollars per week.

A new public library is to be built on Sherbrooke St., Montreal, upon which the standard union rate of wages must be paid. The contract has just been awarded and the structure will cost close to half a million dollars before completion. It will help out the situation in the building trades.

Owing to the introduction of the jitney bus and loss of business, the

Sovereign Cure for Rheumatism

"Gin Pills, I know from personal experience, are the sovereign remedy for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble in any form. I was cured of them after months of suffering. I was helpless—had several doctors and many other remedies but all failed to cure me. Then I tried Gin Pills with the result that I am well to-day. I heartily recommend them to any person suffering from Kidney or Bladder Trouble."

Winnipeg Street Railway has taken off ten cars, placing the crews back on the extra list. The agreement between the company and the local union remains for another year the same as in 1914.

Reports from Fredericton, N.B., indicate that working conditions are improving there. The lumber mills have all started up and are busy and have placed many additional hands to work, and the lumber drives are employing many others. General conditions have improved all round and help is in larger demand than was the case last year.

The British Columbia Government is using 154 German and Austrian alien enemies to build a Government road at Vernon, having been brought down from Edgewood. They are to receive board and lodging and a remuneration of 25 cents per day of ten hours. Other aliens bring the number employed to over 300. This sort of work formerly gave employment to Canadians, who worked eight hours and received $3.00 per day. These men are now vainly searching for work, and many of them are virtually starving. The provincial authorities are thus directly accentuating the unemployment situation, while boasting that the lumber drives are employing thousands of dollars to the Province. It is one way to meet the unemployment problem, surely.

The output of shells for the British War Office is being rapidly increased all through the Dominion. Many firms that have been comparatively quiet during the past two years have started up to manufacture munitions, machinists are everywhere busy, and will be so as long as present hostilities last. Craftsmen are everywhere in demand, and in some localities there are not enough to fill the situations that are open.

The New Brunswick executive of the Government has been interviewed by a delegation from the Provincial Federation of Labor and asked to enact legislation dealing with a workman's compensation act, factory act, widows' pension act, compulsory 14 days' training for all motormen employed on street railways, free school books, and medical, optical and dental assistance to school children. The delegation was favorably received and assurance given that a workman's compensation act, based upon the lines of the Ontario measure, would be introduced at the next session of the legislature.

Civic employees of Vancouver, B.C., who for months have been working on part time, were turned down when a deputation recently waited upon the municipal authorities and asked that the full time schedule be restored. They were told that their request must be referred upon the grounds that some effort must be made to provide at least a meek ticket for as many of the unemployed as possible.

The Dominion Glass Company, which operates branches in Montreal, Toronto and Wallaceburg, Ont., will increase its plant in the latter town, where natural gas is available, and transportation facilities, both by rail and water, are exceptionally good. Forty-seven expert glassblowers have recently been brought in from Toronto, and about thirty helpers. The employees of this company are all members of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union of North America. Wallaceburg bids fair to become the largest glass manufacturing centre in Ontario, and many new houses for workmen are being erected to keep up with the increasing demand. Prospects for future activity look very bright.

Plumbers and carpenters are out in Canton, O., for an increase in wages.

Sheet metal workers have struck in Beaver, Pa., for an eight-hour day and a minimum wage of four dollars.

At Lynn, Mass., the painters, after being on strike for three days, secured an increase in wages of five cents per hour.

Carpenters at Kitsoning, Pa., have demanded from the employers an 8-hour day and minimum wage rate of $3.50 per day.

At Marshalltown, Iowa, the iron moulders have secured an increase in wages, while the retail clerks have secured a shorter work day.

After an eleven weeks' suspension of business, 3,500 granite cutters in Vermont have returned to work, having secured a 10 per cent. increase in wages.

Painters and decorators are out on strike at Plattsfield, Mass., for a four-dollar rate and eight hours per day. The unorganized workers receive from 50 to 75 cents per day less in wages than do trades unionists.

According to the latest obtainable estimates, there are now close to 675,000 members of trade unions serving at the front in the German armies.

Australia discriminates against all material entering that country that is the product of or part product of Ontario. For that reason they have resolved to purchase their lumber supplies from the United States, as the large proportion of the workers in the British Columbia lumber industry are Chinese, Japs and Hindus. This will be a serious matter for the B.C. manufacturers, who are aiming to secure a large trade in the Antipodes. They have been told there's nothing doing, as the Commonwealth supports white labor exclusively.

Last month the International Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers paid out more than $21,000 in death and disability benefits.

The City Council of Canton, Ohio, has ordered that hereafter only members of organized labor can be employed on work done by or for the municipality.

There are fifty thousand applications registered at the St. Louis branch of the Ford Automobile Company by workers who are anxious to secure employment with that firm.

Building trades are busy in South Bend, Ind. The organized craftsmen work eight and nine hours per day while non-unionists labor ten hours for a far lower rate of wages.

The British Columbia Manufacturing Co., of New Westminster has secured a contract for thirty-five thousand cases for oil tins to be shipped monthly to Australia. This order was previously supplied from American sources. The extra work entailed necessitates the running of the works continuously, and a night shift will be started immediately.

Things in railroad circles in Moncton, N. B., are in far better shape than a couple of months ago. There has been a considerable increase in traffic and a great deal of building is going on, as well as necessary work which will be gone on with forthwith. The railroad shops are also busy and a new steel bridge is being put across the Petitcodiac River at a cost of some $300,000.

The Charlottetown, P. E. I., local of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America is signing up a satisfactory agreement with the employers early in the year, which became operative on April 1st last. Hereafter a stated minimum wage rate will be in force, and many improvements in working conditions have been conceded by the employers. The painters in Charlottetown have a 90 per cent. organization.

Dr. Anna Shaw on War

When Dr. Anna Shaw was campaigning in North Dakota, a man called to her, "What does a woman know about war, anyway?" And she answered: "Take the newspaper out of your pocket and hold it up, 550,000 men already sacrificed to the war. You ask what a woman knows about war—550,000 men dead. No woman can understand the horror of the death of 550,000 men. No-body understands this. But if you were to tell me that one man lay dead in coming motherhood walked day by day with her face toward an open grave, with a courage so sublime that no man ever surpassed it. And then after her child was born that woman in her young womanhood laid aside what every human being of us has—her ambition for herself, her aspirations for herself—that she might give her life to the life which she had given. And year after year her child grew until it became a man, and the mother, looking into the face of that boy, knew herself built into him, her life wrought into his life. Then in an hour that wonderful thing, that beautiful spirit was called out and lay dead. And while that mother is looking into his dead face, some one asks, 'What does a woman know about war?'"

It is certainly restful and most refreshing to turn from the record of sin, as in the last lesson, to this record of sin forgiven and to hear the Spirit of the Lord through David tell of this great blessedness.

As to the psalms of David, see how he gives God all the glory. "The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and His word was in my tongue" (11 Sam. xxiii, 1, 2).

Oxford Brant Baptists Hold Gathering at Norwich---Full Report

(From our own Correspondent.) The Baptist church at Norwich June 8, 9 and 10, was the scene of a very enthusiastic gathering when the delegates from the forty Baptist churches in the Counties of Oxford and Brant assembled in their annual association. The hearty welcome by the local Baptists and by other churches of the village was appreciated. Principal A. T. McNeill of Woodstock College, acted as moderator and ably discharged his duties. The gatherings filled the church to overflowing and the spiritual interest in all the sessions was marked.

Rev. T. Doolittle, B.A., the pastor at Norwich, opened the devotional exercises on Wednesday with prayer. The Moderator's address dealt with "The basis of our national life," and proved a very helpful message. Rev. J. G. Brown, D.D., of Toronto, foreign missionary secretary, dealt with the problems in foreign missionary service, such as the problem of evangelism, the problem of education, and the problem of social service, moving address and the association was deeply touched by it. Four new pastors who have recently entered the association were introduced and made brief addresses.

The digest of church letters presented by Rev. James Chapman of Brantford, showed that most of the churches were in an excellent condition, and although the year was a trying one financially there was a spirit of optimism and all looked hopefully forward to the future.

Miss Ellis, principal of Moulton College, Toronto, added much to the programme by an excellent address on "Christian Education."

Rev. John Kolesnikoff, the Baptist Russian missionary of Toronto, stirred all hearts by his plea for his own people. His reference to the fact that the Russians were the Allies of the British, and his reference to the war situation made a deep impression upon the delegates.

One of the best addresses of the entire day was given by Rev. A. L. Brown of Memorial Institute, of Toronto, on the subject, "The Conquest of the Kingdom." This dealt with the duty of social service. Mr. Brown has done a great work in one of Toronto's most needy centres. His Mission is one of the best equipped in Canada and weekly passes through its hands more than 1,500 persons. Mr. Brown was the first in America to organize a factory for the up-keep of a social settlement work.

A very interesting address was given before a crowded congregation at the evening service by Prof. Reithdorf of Woodstock College. The speaker while a native born German, is a strong opponent of the "Prussian system of militarism," and made it clear to his hearers just what the system stands for.

Rev. A. L. Brown of Toronto brought to a close this day's programme with a splendid address on "Applied Christianity," illustrating his message with a set of slides which brought his work vividly before his hearers.

Thursday's programme included addresses on mission work, on the work of the Sunday school, on the war and the church, and on evangelism. Rev. A. Ward, associate pastor of the Walmer Road church, Toronto, gave the young people the closing address of the association.

Ingersoll was fixed upon as the next place of meeting for the association.

London, June 10.—The British torpedo boats were torpedoed this morning off the east coast of England by a German submarine. The boats are the No. 10 and the No. 12. Both of them went to the bottom. The survivors, 41 in number, have been brought ashore. The attack took place at a very early hour. This information was given out by the Admiralty to-day.

The torpedo boats No. 10 and No. 12 had each a complement of 35 men. No. 10 had a displacement of 244 tons, a speed of 26 knots, and was 166 feet long. No. 12 had a displacement of 235 tons, a speed of 26 knots, and was 172 feet long. Both were built in 1906.

A very pretty wedding took place last Thursday, at 12 o'clock, when Edna, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Barkwell, was united in marriage to Henry S. Mussett, of Winnipeg. Rev. Mr. Cameron performed the ceremony. The church was very prettily decorated with flowers, the work being done by the Girl's Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Pollard. Miss Sturdy, of Hamilton, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Miss Dorothy Pollard acted as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. Deayton, of Toronto. After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served at the home of the bride's parents, by Caterer Russell, of Brantford.

Mr. and Mrs. Mussett left on a short trip to Toronto and eastern points, and will return by the Great Lakes to their home in Winnipeg.

Terrace Hill

The monthly tea of the Ladies' Guild of St. James' Church was held on Thursday last in the Parish Hall. There was a large attendance and a very enjoyable time was spent. It was decided to have the next meeting in the form of a social tea to be held on the 7th of July. Mrs. Winne of North Park street has kindly offered her home and grounds for the purpose. Great interest is being taken in the City Baseball League games which take place on the fine grounds of the Grandview Athletic Club. Everybody is pulling for the Alerts to win the championship and they look the part. The attendance at the game last Saturday was most encouraging and the presence of the fair sex in large numbers shows that good clean sport is being served up. Next Saturday MacBrides play the Alerts on the latter's grounds and the largest attendance of the season is looked for. The game ought to be a hammer. The weekly meeting of the Jackson Mission Circle was held at the home of Miss Mary McWebb on Tuesday evening and there was a large attendance. Miss Ursula Willis, the president was in the chair. The feature of a varied programme was the report of the delegate to the Branch meeting in Woodstock, given by Miss Ethel Richeson. The report was a comprehensive one and much appreciated. A solo by Miss Scott of Richmond, was enjoyed by all. The young ladies arranged for a lawn social to be held on the grounds of Mr. Chas. Huffman in about two weeks. Mrs. Kerr of Stoney Creek, with her two daughters, have taken up their residence on the Hill, having purchased the house on St. George St. owned by Mr. Howling. We are sorry to note that Private Harry Potter, whose parents live on North Park street, has been wounded while serving in the cause of his country at the front. Mr. E. Brown who has been ill for some time, we regret to say is still poorly.

SCOTLAND

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dunlop of Mount Pleasant spent one day last week visiting relatives in the village.

Mr. C. Baldwin has purchased a new Dodge car.

Mr. H. McElhone and family of Tillsonburg are visiting friends here.

Mr. J. McNamara spent Sunday with his parents at La Salatte.

JERSEYVILLE

The Women's Institute will hold their annual summer meeting on the lawn at the home of Mrs. R. Woods, on the afternoon of June 14th. A good programme of instructive addresses will be given by the lady delegates. The school re-opened here Monday morning, after being closed for a couple of weeks on account of diphtheria in the vicinity.

KELVIN

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Mrs. P. Bowman has returned home from Brantford, where she has been spending a few weeks with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Wood of Norwich, were calling on friends in this section the other evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin and baby Kathleen and Mrs. J. H. Ramsay spent Sunday afternoon at Cedar Lawn.

Rev. C. Hackett was in Hamilton attending Methodist conference this week.

The remains of the late Mrs. Boyce of Windham place, a former resident of this place, were brought here and buried in the Kelvin cemetery.

Mrs. Isaac Jarvis who has been ill for some weeks past is slowly improving.

The late frosts have injured the crops in this locality quite badly.

Mr. James McConnell of Muir was in this place on business one day this week.

A German floating mine has wrecked the Grimsby team trawler Uxbridge and injured three members of the crew. The Uxbridge was fishing in the North Sea and the net was being hauled in when it was discovered that a mine had become entangled in it. As the net reached the ship's side, the mine burst with disastrous effect, the wheelhouse and bridge being wrecked and the trawler's hull stove in. The crew, who was on duty below, had his legs badly injured, but managed to crawl to the deck. The mate was flung across the deck by the explosion, and badly bruised and shaken, while the cook was injured about the arms and chest by flying fragments. All nine hands suffered from shock, but they succeeded in launching their little boat and getting clear of the Uxbridge, which sank in ten minutes after the explosion. The men were only in the boat for about half an hour, being sighted by a Boston trawler which picked them up and landed them at Boston.

The MASQUERADER

By Katherine Cecil Thurston, Author of "The Circle," Etc. Copyright, 1904, by Harper & Brothers

For a moment Eve waited. She looked at him in silence, and in that silence he read in her eyes the reflection of his own expression. "And you?" she asked in a suppressed voice. "What answer did you give?"

He watched her for an instant, taking a strange pleasure in her flushed face and brilliantly eager eyes; then the joy of conscious strength, the sense of opportunity regained, swept all other considerations out of sight. "I accepted," he said quickly. "Could any man who was merely human have done otherwise?"

That was Loder's attitude and action on the night of his jeopardy and his success, and the following day found his mood unchanged. He was one of those rare individuals who never give a promise overnight and regret it in the morning.

And it was with this conviction that he entered on the vital period of his dual career. The imminent crisis and his own share in it absorbed him absolutely. In the weeks that followed his answer to Fraide's proposal he gave himself ungrudgingly to his work. He wrote, read and planned with tireless energy.

Or Eve he saw but little in this time of high pressure. When a man touches the core of his capacities, puts his heart into the work that in his eyes stands paramount, there is little place for and no need of woman. She comes before—and after. She inspires, compensates or completes; but the achievement, the creation, is man's alone.

Eye watched the progress of his labor, and in the depth of her own heart the watching came nearer to actual living than any activity she had known. She was an onlooker—but an onlooker who stood, as it were, on the steps of the arena, who, by a single forward movement, could feel the sand under her feet, the breath of the battle on her face, and in this knowledge she rested satisfied.

There were hours when Loder seemed scarcely conscious of her existence, but on those occasions she smiled in her serene way—and went on waiting. She knew that each day before the afternoon had passed he would come into his sitting room, his face thoughtful, his hands full of books or papers, and dropping into one of the comfortable, staid chairs, would ask laconically for tea. This was her moment of triumph and recompense—for the very unconsciousness of his coming doubled its value.

On these occasions she made a perfect listener. Here and there she encouraged him with an intelligent remark, but she never interrupted. She knew when to be silent and when to speak, when to merge her own individuality and when to make it felt. In these days of stress and preparation he came to her unconsciously for rest; he treated her as he might have treated a younger brother—relying on her discretion, turning to her as by right for sympathy, comprehension and friendship.

Sometimes as they sat silent in the richly colored, homelike room Eve would pause over her embroidery and let her thoughts spin momentarily forward—spin toward the point where the brunt of his ordeal passed, he must of necessity seek something beyond mere rest. But there her thoughts would inevitably break off and the blood flame quickly into her cheek. —Meanwhile Loder worked persistently. With each day that brought the crisis of Fraide's scheme nearer his activity increased and with it an intensifying of the nervous strain. For if he had his hours of exaltation he also had his hours of black apprehension. It is all very well to exorcise a ghost by sheer strength of will, but one has also to eliminate the idea that gave it existence. Lillian Astrupp, with her unattested evidence and her ephemeral interest, gave him no real assistance, but Chilcote and Chilcote's possible summons were matters of graver consideration, and there were times when they loomed very dark and sinister. What if at the very moment of fulfillment—but invariably he snapped the thread of the supposition and turned with fiercer ardor to his work of preparation.

He rose early on the day that was to witness his great effort and dressed slowly. It was a splendid morning. The spirit of the spring seemed embodied in the air, in the pale blue sky, in the shafts of cool sunshine that danced from the mirror to the dressing table, from the dressing table to the pictures on the walls of Chilcote's vast room. Inconspicuously with its dancing rose a memory of the distant past—a memory of long forgotten days when, as a child, he had been bidden to watch the sun perform the same fantastic evolutions. The slight and unlooked-for sense of youth. He drew himself together with an added touch of decision as he passed out into the corridor, and as he walked downstairs he whistled a bar or two of an inspiring tune.

That morning room Eve was already waiting. She looked colored and smiled as he entered. Her face looked very fresh and young, and she wore a gown of the same pale blue that she had worn on his first coming. She looked up from an open letter as he came into the room, and the sun that fell through the window caught her in a shaft of light, intensifying her blue eyes, her blue gown and the bunch of violets fastened in her belt. To Loder, still under the influence of early memories, she seemed the embodiment of some youthful ideal—something lost, sought for and found again. Realization of his feeling for her almost came to him as he stood there looking at her. It hovered about him, it tipped him, as it were, with its wings; then it rose again and soared away. Men like him—men keen to grasp an opening where their careers are concerned and tenacious to hold it when once grasped—are frequently the last to look into their own hearts. He glanced at Eve, he acknowledged the stir of his feeling, but he made no attempt to define its cause. He could no more have given reasons for his sensations than he could have told the precise date upon which, coming downstairs at 8 o'clock, he had first found her waiting breakfast for him. The time when all such incidents were to stand out, each to a nicely in its appointed place, had not yet arrived.

For the moment, however, he returned to him; he possessed the knowledge of work done, the sense of present companionship in a world of agreeable things; above all, the steady, quiet conviction of his own capacity. All these things came to him in the moment of his entering the room, greeting Eve and passing to the breakfast table; then, while his eyes still rested contentedly on the delicious array of dishes and silver, while his senses were still alive to the fresh, earthy scent of Eve's violets, the blow so long dreaded—so slow in coming—fell with accumulated force.

ONONDAGA COUNCIL.

Middleport June 7—The council met in regular session in Mitchell Hall. All the members present.

Communications from Hagersville Contracting Co. and Hugh McLean, trade newspaper publishers were read and ordered filed.

On motion the council resolved into a Court of Revision. After being duly organized, the appeals of the Standard Oil Co., and the Grand River Gas Co., were heard. After considerable discussion the appeal of the Standard Oil Co., represented by Mr. Aikens, in regard to too high an assessment was allowed and reduced in regard to the pipe lines but the assessment of the wells remains the same. The appeal of the Grand River Gas Co., in regard to too high an assessment on wells was not allowed. There being no other appeals, the assessment was finally passed and certified by the clerk.

Council resumed, Mr. James Douglas made affidavit that he had a thoroughbred lamb killed by dogs which he valued at $20.00, which was a low estimate, and claimed two-thirds value. As Mr. Douglas, feeling that he had lost a valuable animal, took no chances and at once called in Mr. McBlane as one of the councilors and which the Sheep By-law demands should be done, there was no difficulty in settling and his claim was allowed.

The tenders received for building the two small concrete bridges on Brantford town line and the one on Beat No. 23, were opened. The tender of Mr. George Thompson, of $7.58 per cubic yard was accepted. He to furnish all except the reinforcing, which is to be delivered at the Onondaga Station by the Council.

Councillor Rose reported that Mr. Woodley had just finished his part of the contract of digging, laying tile and filling in within 6 in. of top of drain on Beat No. 2, and that it was expected the crushed stone would be at Canby's by Tuesday. Consequently the farmers on Blossom Avenue would be able to soon have the work completed. Mr. Rose thinks that the digging outfit made wonderful progress with very little mishap considering how they encountered logs and stumps in middle of road.

He further said that any farmer employing their work would be kept busy drawing tile to keep the machine at work. The following accounts were passed and ordered paid, namely: James Douglas, 2-3 value of 1 lamb killed, $13.33; Guarantee Co., treasurer's bond, $2; Herb Hamilton, one day on road machine, $2; C. N. Hoadley, digging drain, laying tile and filling in on beat No. 2, $50; tile for beat 2 from Ideal Brick and Tile Co., $34.50; Henry Stuarson, care of railing on Fairchild's Creek bridge, $4.00; freight on road machine, $2; Burlington Steel Co. Ltd., $27.19; Courier, printing and advertising, $3.75; Sarnia Bridge Co., 2 road drags, $30; A. Burrill, postage and stationary, $4.75; A. Burrill, balance of salary, $62.50.

Council adjourned to meet again in Middleport on July 5th at a p.m.

WHERE GERMANY DETAINS HER PRISONERS AND OTHER WAR SCENES

A MIXTURE OF PRISONERS AT THE PRISON CAMP AT ZOSEN

General von Falkenhayn, Germany's Hero for Moment

Chief of General Staff Owe Rapid Climb to Preferment to Talent for Intrigue, Although He Is Recognized as Able General and Efficient Organizer.

(Special Dispatch.) AMSTERDAM, June 12. The German hero of the moment is General von Falkenhayn, Chief of the General Staff. To reward him for bringing about the last victory over Russia the Kaiser has bestowed on him the very exceptional honor of the Black Eagle, a decoration hitherto only bestowed on princes.

Unquestionably, General von Falkenhayn is a clever general and an efficient organizer, but his military qualities would not have permitted his rapid ascension to fame had they not been coupled with his exceptional talent for intrigue.

Three years ago he was almost unknown to the German public. He was holding an obscure provincial command, when suddenly the Prussian Ministry of War that day General von Helmuth, resigned his position in consequence of ill health.

It became known that General von Falkenhayn was keeping his appointment only as a matter of form, and that he was ready to resign at any moment.

Secrecy Was Vital Factor in Drive Against Russians

(Special Dispatch.) BUDAPEST, VIA LONDON, June 12. Now that the great Austro-German offensive in the Carpathians has been checked I have been able to obtain from a reliable military source a narration of the remarkably clever preparations made for the attack.

The plan was prepared and carried through for the purpose of taking the Russians by surprise. And this it did most thoroughly. It is a most impressive argument in favor of secrecy in war, which was the most important factor in this success.

The success of the Teutonic move was the more surprising because it not only necessitated time to concentrate such large forces as were used in West Galicia, but because these movements were such in their nature that they could have been easily discovered, and it was even a surprise to the Austro-German staff that it succeeded in such abundant measure.

A GERMAN SOLDIER (LAND WEHR) AS A FRIEND OF A RUSSIAN CHILD

DECLARES "WAR EFFICIENCY" MUST BECOME BRITAIN'S ONLY SLOGAN

Old Party Systems, Ministers, "Business as Usual," Privileged Class and, in Fact, Almost Everything That Has Value in Peace Times, Must Give Way, if Necessary, Says Mr. Arnold White.

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, June 12. Mr. Arnold White, in a recent issue of the London Daily Express, writes:—

At the battle of Trafalgar the casualty list contained 1,587 names. Trafalgar gave us peace at sea for one hundred and nine years. The Crimean campaign and the great Boer war were episodes of out-of-door life. For the first time since the Black Death England is faced with the prospect of a catastrophe of magnitude.

When thinking of these mistakes let us consider facts. The marvel is that more mistakes have not been made. The government was swept into power on a programme of what is termed "social reform."

Wholesale changes having now been effected, national efficiency will increase a hundredfold, not because the party spirit at home is stunted in the poisoned atmosphere of the great war, but because party spirit in these days is incompatible with national existence.

In order to beat the Germans it is essential that those who formerly belonged to the unionist and liberal parties should both recognize the truth about their erstwhile opponents. After nine and a half years of office liberals had, not unreasonably, come to regard permanent office as an appanage of what they were wont to call the "progressive party."

Belgian Futurist Joys in Carnage of Battle

Had a Glorious Time When, Wounded in the Left Arm, He Is Attacked with Bayonet by Fallen German, Whom He Finally Strangles to Death.

(Special Dispatch.) PARIS, June 12.

While with ordinary persons war and all of its attendant abominations produce feelings of abhorrence, or at least dismay, the effect seems to be altogether different on the hybrid variety of artist-philosopher going under the name of "futurist."

"It was intoxicating! I was dirty, burnt, ragged, smeared from head to foot. In short, it was grand! Crawling through a heap of corpses, bricks and wreckage, I got hit by a fragment of a shell. I stumbled over a wounded horse, which gave me a violent kick in the back of the head. It was a good thing that it did not kill me outright, for I would not have liked to die just then. Oh, those six days and nights! They were surely the most beautiful and happiest I have spent in all my life!"

"Dirty, but Happy." "Life was most charming there," he writes, "with a wild charge on the enemy every once in a while. Sometimes I had nothing to do but for forty-eight hours, and the trenches were rather wet. But all this was forgotten when we were let loose and tore through the barbed wire entanglements in front of the German lines."

"One day," he continues, "our major called for volunteers to carry a message to another detachment. To get there one would come within twenty-five yards of the German trenches. The task was fraught with danger, and the major wanted two men for it. The first one was bound to draw the enemy's fire and eventually get killed."

Twenty-seven days this young war enthusiast dwelt in the trenches. "Life was most charming there," he writes, "with a wild charge on the enemy every once in a while. Sometimes I had nothing to do but for forty-eight hours, and the trenches were rather wet. But all this was forgotten when we were let loose and tore through the barbed wire entanglements in front of the German lines."

New Library for Louvain Being Collected in England

(Special Dispatch.) LONDON, June 12.

Hard on the publication by Lord Bryce's committee of the authentic story of the sack of Louvain comes the announcement of an endeavor, as yet modest in scope but admirable in aim and pregnant with possibilities, to raise again from its ruins one of the true temples of culture.

Chief of the treasures of Louvain always has been the library of the university, stocked as it was with some 230,000 volumes, collected by presentation, purchase and bequest in the three centuries that have elapsed since its foundation by Laurent Heylerick. Up to that fatal day of August 16, 1914, the library was the pride of the city.
